One of five in nation

O'Connell Receives Ayres Fellowship

William E. O'Connell Jr., associate professor of Business Administration and associate dean of graduate studies for the School of Business Administration, is one of five professors in the nation to be awarded Ayres Fellowships to attend the 1976 session of the Stonier Graduate School of Banking (SGSB).

Dean O'Connell holds degrees from Manhattan College, A.B.; Columbia University,

M.B.A.; Indiana University, D.B.A.; and the College of William and Mary, J.D.

Other recipients include faculty members from Purdue, Oregon State University, the University of Kentucky and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

First awarded in 1965, fellowships are provided by the Ayres Fund and contributed to the school in honor of the late Leonard P. Ayres, a vice president and economist of the Cleveland Trust Co. and member of the Stonier faculty.

Ayres fellow will attend SGSB's two-week session to be held June 6-18 on the campus of Rutgers University. Stonier, a three-year school for bank officers, is conducted by the American Bankers Association in cooperation with the university.

The fellowship program is designed to give college faculty members the opportunity to acquire practical banking knowledge useful in their teaching. The program also allows them to exchange views with bank officers on an informal basis.

Board Elects Johnson New Rector

Election of a new Rector of the Board of Visitors, announcement of honorary degrees to be conferred at commencement, promotions and approval of a new interdisciplinary program at Christopher Newport College occupied the meeting of the Board of Visitors here March 26 and 27.

John R. L. Johnson Jr. of Chadds Ford, Pa., was named Rector, to succeed R. Harvey Chappell, of Richmond.

See details pages 4 and 5.

The Honorable Forrest David Mathews, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and speaker for the College's Commencement convocation, will receive an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree. On leave from his post as president of the University of Alabama, Mathews is the youngest member of the Cabinet and a noted teacher and educator.

Robert Martin Coles, psychiatrist and author, will also receive an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters. Coles is research psychiatrist for the Harvard University Health Services and has lectured at William and Mary and consulted regularly with members of the College faculty and administration involved in several programs of childhood training and education.

Receiving honorary Doctor of Laws degrees will be Thomas Roy Jones of Gloucester and Henry Rosovsky, a 1949 alumnus of the College. Jones is an industrialist, consultant and leader in business circles and is immediate past chairman of the Board of Directors of the School of Business Administration Sponsors.

Rosovsky is a noted economist and dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences at Harvard College. He has also distinguished himself in the field of East Asia studies.

In other actions, the Board approved faculty promotions for 13 associate professors and 18 assistant professors, accepted the recommendation for an operating policy for the campus radio station, WCWM-FM, and issued a report on campus buildings and grounds.

Interdisciplinary major

The Board also approved a proposed Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree in Interdisciplinary Studies at Christopher Newport College, a branch of William and Mary.

Under the guidance of an adviser and a faculty committee, interdisciplinary students will draw upon existing college courses and programs. "The proposed interdisciplinary major will provide a new means by which to earn a degree rather than a new academic program, and a program of this type should help to limit the number of new degree programs which the College otherwise might need," according to the proposal.

Professors Carlson and Herbst Named Sloan Fellows

Two William and Mary scientists have been chosen Sloan Research Fellows for 1976-77, the only Virginia faculty members to be selected for the prestigious grants.

The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation announced that it has selected Carl E. Carlson, assistant professor of physics, and Eric Herbst, assistant professor of chemistry, "from among hundreds of nominees on the basis of their potential to make creative contributions to scientific knowledge in the early stages of their careers."

President Graves said the selection of two faculty members from the College "emphasizes the underlying strength of William and Mary in the sciences."

"It is especially noteworthy," said Graves, "that almost all of the other Sloan Fellows are from the nation's largest major research universities."

Sloan Fellowships totaling $1,550,900 are being awarded to scientists in 46 colleges, universities and research institutions. The Foundation began the program in 1955 as a way of stimulating advances in fundamental research by young faculty in the sciences. Candidates for fellowships are nominated by senior scientists who are familiar with their abilities. Fellows are free to use their research awards at their discretion.

In 1972 Carlson, in collaboration with Peter Freund at the University of Chicago's Enrico Fermi Institute, wrote a paper calculating some of the properties of a then undiscovered particle, Psi/J. They were convinced that the particle should exist, even though it had not been experimentally found.

They calculated some of its properties, and when the particle was found in the fall of 1974 by experimental scientists, the calculated predictions of Carlson and Freund were found to be "pretty close." Carlson received his Ph.D. from Columbia University in 1968 and was a research associate at Stanford University and the University of Chicago before joining the William and Mary faculty in 1972.

Herbst has developed schemes for the genesis of some of the complex molecules in dense clouds in interstellar space, and has published widely and lectured both here and abroad. A graduate of Harvard University, Herbst joined the William and Mary faculty in 1974, coming to Williamsburg from the Joint Institute for Laboratory Astrophysics in Boulder, Colo. Herbst has given invited lectures at major universities across the country and for the Canadian Association of Physicists in Toronto and at the Observatoire de Meudon, Meudon, France.

Herbst was a National Science Foundation Pre-doctoral Fellow, 1966-71, and a Woodrow Wilson Fellow in 1966.

In Annual Raft Debate

Professors Vie For Survival

The question is not "to be, or not to be" but rather "to sink, or to swim" at the 14th Annual Raft Debate.

The answer is up to the audience at the debate, which begins at 8 p.m. March 31 in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

Four professors, sole survivors of a shipwreck, will vie for the right to the raft that is only large enough to support one person. Representatives of the Humanities, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences and a Devil's Advocate will argue the merits of their discipline and its value to society to earn the single place on the raft. Each will also be given a chance later at rebuttal, and the audience may pose questions to the "survivors" before making its decision.

Professor Alex Kallos of the modern languages department will defend the Humanities. Professor Peter O'Neil of mathematics will defend the Natural Sciences, and Professor Allen Sanderson of economics will argue in behalf of the Social Sciences. Professor Tom Finn of the religion department will take the role of the Devil's Advocate, while government professor Roger Smith will moderate.

The debate, which is sponsored by the Philosophy Club at the College, was initiated by Professor John Lachs, a former member of the philosophy department.

Monroe Letter Acquired

Swem Library has recently acquired a significant letter written by James Monroe concerning Ash Lawn, Monroe's home in Albemarle County from 1799 to 1823. Ash Lawn is owned and operated by William and Mary, having been bequeathed to the College by the late Jay Johns. In the letter purchased by the library, Monroe discusses his affection for his home and the possible sale of "The Highlands" (known later as Ash Lawn) to liquidate his debts. The letter states in part:

I gave Mr. Taylor a power to sell my land in Albemarle, on certain conditions as to price, being resolved not to sell it, unless they be obtained . . . I should indeed sell the tract in Albemarle with great reluctance. I have considered that county my home 26 years past; have bestow'd much labour, even personal in that tract, & otherwise done much to improve it. The site for a house is in my opinion one of the handsomest in the State . . . But I owe much money which I cannot . . . longer delay the payment of; and it is important to enjoy peace the balance of my days, and to improve residence whenever it may be so, so as to make it comfortable. . .

As it turned out Monroe did not receive his asking price; consequently, Ash Lawn was not sold until 1825.

This letter will be added to the library's collection of Monroe Papers which numbers some 184 items of correspondence. The letter was purchased with funds bequeathed to the library by John M. Presson, class of 1916, for the purchase of rare materials relating to the history of Virginia through 1865.

D.C. Program Participants Talk With Political Experts

Students who just returned from the first session of "The Washington Program" are spreading the word--there's a lot to learn from political forecasters and journalists in Washington that can't be found in textbooks.

During two hectic days of round-table discussions with both conservative and liberal leaders, the 20 students heard a variety of viewpoints.

Howard Phillips, director of the Conservative Caucus, predicted that the Republican Party was doomed to extinction if Ford loses the presidential election. But less than an hour later, James Sundquist of the Brookings Institution retorted that Phillips "was living in a dream world." He said the Republicans have been left for dead a number of times and survived to regain control of the nation.

Other speakers, including Pulitzer-Prize winning journalists Clark Mollenhoff and Haynes Johnson, fielded student questions that ranged from the durability of Jimmy Carter to the lasting effects of Watergate.

The success of the first session of "The Washington Program" may well be surpassed by the second session, scheduled for April 12-14. Students will discuss "The Character of American Presidential Leadership" with a number of interesting personalities, including Senator Hubert H. Humphrey and New York Times correspondent James Reston. Other scheduled discussion leaders are Stephen Hess of the Brookings Institution; Dr. Forrest C. Pogue of the Smithsonian Institute; Milton Friedman, special assistant to the president; and John Osborn of New Republic Magazine.

President Thomas A. Graves, Jr. will also participate in a segment of the program.

Applications for the second session must be returned to the Office of the Dean of Students, James Blair 211, by 12 noon on Monday, April 5.

Dissertation Defense

Sponsored by the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures and the German House, the exhibition is based on Holcomb's year-long travels and observation in Germany. Holcomb was commissioned by the German airlines Lufthansa to communicate an impression of Germany's culture, land, history and people.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., the photographer has exhibited widely in the United States and Germany.

S. Stuart Flanagan

Flanagan Is Elected VCTM Head

Associate Professor of Education S. Stuart Flanagan was elected charter president of the newly incorporated Virginia Council of Teachers of Mathematics at its organizational meeting in Richmond, March 18-19.

The VCTM will function as an umbrella group, uniting the local affiliates of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics that already exist.

Flanagan anticipates that the new organization can have a profound impact on mathematics education in the state. He sees the Council as a forum for math instructors to exchange ideas; as a voice to express the concerns of mathematics teachers statewide; and as a means to bring together teachers, teacher-trainers and practicing professionals.

Eugene Nichols of Florida State University addressed the 350 Council members who met at the Richmond Hyatt House. His topic was "Mathematics Education—Motivation and Needs."

Report on Buildings and Grounds

CAMPUS AND BUILDINGS IMPROVEMENTS (Including Space Reassignment Projects) AND CAPITAL OUTLAY PROJECTS

The following projects are in process:

Campus Landscaping -

New Rogers Hall Area - Landscaping plans have been completed and bids were opened on March 18, 1976 to permit spring planting.

Phi Beta Kappa Hall Areas - Preliminary plans have been completed and reviewed for the oval plaza in front of Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Further development of the plans will permit late spring planting. The area to the east is also under study.

Crim Dell Area - Plans are in progress.

Alterations to Old Western Union Building - Working drawings have been completed for alterations to the present building to provide facilities for the Center for Psychological Services, now in the basement of old Rogers Hall. Bids have been received, a contract for construction awarded in March, 1976 and is scheduled for completion in May, 1976.

Alterations to Old Fraternity Lodges - Working drawings have been completed for building alterations and will be sent to bidders on March 30, 1976 with bids to be received on April 20, 1976. Construction is scheduled to start on May 24, 1976 with completion August 16, 1976.

Alterations will provide student resident space in five buildings for a total of 30 students.

Swem Library Masonry and Deck Repairs - A survey has been made of the exterior and interior of the building and it has been determined that there is no apparent settlement as reported in the Flat Hat. Interior areas are remarkably free of cracks; however, exterior stone masonry and decks require maintenance repairs consisting of stone joint replacement, crack and chip repairs, painting of steel, deck recoating and bridge re-waterproofing. Specifications have been prepared for receiving quotations on this work so that it may be performed in the early spring.

William and Mary Hall - A Contract has been awarded for the construction of crowd control barriers and ticket booths for the two lobby areas. These are necessary to meet requirements of the State Fire Marshal for full use of the facilities. Completion is planned for April, 1976.

Morton Hall - Since the contractor performed corrective work on basement water-proofing, all areas have been free of moisture. The architect is continuing to make regular inspections to assure that the problem has been eliminated.

Survey to Provide Accessibility and Usability of Major Campus Facilities for the Handicapped - This survey has been conducted and the report including review to determine the schedule and cost of implementation has been received. Plans are in progress for modifications to make dormitory facilities on the floor of Landrum Hall and in five old lodge buildings accessible and usable by the physically handicapped.

The following projects will be accomplished as funding permits:

Jamestown Road Parking Area - Project complete with the exception of landscaping, which will be done as funds become available.

James Blair Terrace Basement - Studies have been made and schematic plans with cost estimates prepared for alterations which would provide student housing facilities for 56.

Campus Center Parking - A study has been made of possible temporary parking facilities in the area adjacent to the Campus Center. Schematic drawings have been completed for use when funds become available.

Hugh Jones Hall - Alterations to second floor spaces vacated by the Philosophy Department have been made to provide facilities for the School of Education. Additional phases will be undertaken as available funds permit.

The Commons Dining Hall -

Exterior Improvements - Plans have been prepared for improvements of the plaza area in front of the Commons and for extending gravel walks along paths developed by pedestrian traffic. The gravel walks have been constructed and other works will be performed as funds become available.

Interior Improvements - The entrance lobby, corridors, serving lines and dining rooms have been repainted, using colorful graphics. Installations of new baseboards, window draperies, new ceilings in the lobby and corridors and a music system have been completed. Specifications have been prepared for new chairs and some new two-person tables. These will be purchased following review of samples now on hand. Other phases to follow when funds are available include dining room salad bars, beverage stations, additional serving line equipment and floor treatment.

Moves of Departments:

The schedule of moves of departments to the old and new Rogers Hall, as previously reported to the Board of Visitors, has been completed. Additional departments scheduled to move into Rogers Hall are the Department of English and the Office of Information Services. The English Department will move from the lodges, which will be renovated for student housing, in May, 1976. The Office of Information Services has already moved.

Psychological Counseling Services will move from Rogers Hall into the Western Union Building after its renovation in May, 1976.

Working drawings were approved by the Art Commission on February 6, 1976. The plans were reviewed by the Law School Advisory Committee on December 13, 1974.

Plans for Renovation of Physical Plant Services Complex - The preliminary plans and specifications have been completed and approved by the Division of Engineering and Buildings along with a revised quantitative estimate. The working drawings phase was terminated by directive from the Governor's office due to shortage of funds. Remaining funds were reverted to the State.

Additional Campus Lighting for Security

Installation of over 100 new light poles with mercury vapor lamps, which provide twice the illumination and operate at half the cost of incandescent lamps, has been accomplished. The second phase of the project included the conversion of all existing light poles on campus to mercury vapor lamps. The third phase included reinstallation of several existing light poles elsewhere on campus to provide poles of traditional or contemporary design in the appropriate campus areas. This project is now complete.

Installation of Storm Drainage

This project provided a means of receiving and controlling all storm water run-off from buildings in the old campus area to correct the surface water erosion problem created in 1962, when the City of Williamsburg required the College to disconnect all building drains from the storm drains and sanitary system of the City because of health hazards.

Installation of an aeration system will maintain the level of oxygen conducive to growth of animal and plant life. Energy dissipators have been built to reduce the velocity of the drain-off water and will minimize the erosion of land and situation of Crim Dell Pond. This project is now complete, except for reseeding of areas disturbed by construction and grading.

Planning For Renovation of Rogers Hall

Preliminary plans and outline specifications are complete and have been approved by the Division of Engineering and Buildings. Planning beyond the preliminary stage must be controlled within the limit of the existing appropriation. Working drawings have been completed within this limit.

Special Project - National Center for State Courts Headquarters Building

Working drawings are complete and have been approved. It is expected that the project will be advertised for bids in March, 1976.

Recommendation for WCWM Operating Policy

On January 6, 1976, Mr. George L. Hall, Director of the Virginia Public Telecommunications Council, advised the governing board of each state-supported institution that it should "take all necessary steps to guarantee that... (the) institution's non-commercial FM radio station is directly under their day-to-day policy control". This advice was discussed by the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary at its January 23 meeting.

Subsequent to this meeting, the administration of the College has reviewed with the staff of the Virginia Public Telecommunications Council the policy and legal questions suggested by Mr. Hall's January 6 letter with intent to develop a statement of policy reflective of the Council's concerns. The proposed policy statement, recommended by the administration, has been reviewed and endorsed by the Chairman of the Publications Council of the College; the Station Manager of Radio Station WCWM; Mr. George L. Hall of the Virginia Public Telecommunications Council; and Mr. Richard Marks, special legal counsel to the VPTC on FCC matters.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary approves the attached statement of operating policy of its FM radio station, WCWM and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors directs the administration of the College to transmit notice of this action and a copy of the resolution with enclosure to the VPTC.

WCWM-FM Operating Policy

In consideration of the fact that a license for the operation of a non-commercial FM radio station has been granted to The College of William and Mary in Virginia by the Federal Communications Commission, the following operating procedures are established to insure that the Board of Visitors maintains control over the station and its operation.

The Board of Visitors of The College of William and Mary wishes to encourage the freedom of expression and the adoption of these policies is in no way designed to infringe on that freedom, but rather is intended to insure that the responsibilities of the Board as licensee, are fully met, and that the highest standards of broadcasting are maintained.

The President of the College, as the agent of the Board of Visitors responsible for the operation of the station, shall submit to the Board of Visitors a semiannual report and such other reports as may be necessary on the status of the station to include but not limited to:

- 1) financial status (operation funds as well as equipment replacement funds)
- 2) implementation of day-to-day operation
- 3) evaluation of program philosophy (scheduling and content consistent with the quality of the educational experience, which is William and Mary's mission)
- 4) technical and engineering performance
- 5) direction and organization.

The President shall also keep the Board of Visitors informed of changes or proposed changes in the status of the station or its license.

The actual day-to-day operation of the station as directed by the President is under the purview of the Publications Council. The Council established by the President on September 8, 1971, shall:

- 1) Oversee all funds and resources available to WCWM-FM, using such procedures and supervisions as deemed appropriate.
- 2) Establish standards and policies to insure
  - a. Editorial freedom of expression
  - b. Adherence to the canons of journalism, which are attached, and good taste. (See Attachment A)
- 3) Support the efforts and activities of the radio station and in so doing, provide the opportunity for advisory services in all areas of concern, including finance, programming, personnel, Journalistic standards, etc.
- 4) Appoint the Manager of the station and establish disciplinary procedures for breaches of applicable standards.
- 5) Maintain a continuing review of the station, recommending improvements and changes.

The station shall also be monitored by the Director of Student Activities. As the advisor to all student organizations and ex officio member of the Publications Council s/he shall do all in his/her power to insure the integrity of the station is maintained in compliance with the Statement of Rights and Responsibilities and any other regulations of the College. Since the Director of Student Activities is the financial advisor for the Board of Student Affairs and is responsible for the dispersing of the allocated funds of the Board, s/he will maintain continuing supervision of the finances of the station.

Board of Visitors Actions, March 26-27

In addition, the station, in compliance with all applicable legal requirements and, specifically, with the rules of the FCC, will hire a licensed First Class Engineer on a part-time basis to insure the technical excellence of the station.

The station manager, to insure the quality of programming, shall appoint each year a Program Director, whose responsibility it will be to plan and supervise all broadcasts with the specific intention of providing well rounded, comprehensive, and coherent programming.

To insure the highest caliber of announcing, an extensive training program will be required of all announcers, as is the present situation, before they are allowed on the air. This training will be under the supervision of experienced station management personnel selected by the station manager. For successful completion of the training program the person must be issued a radio-telephone 3rd class operator permit with broadcast endorsement from the FCC and have been approved for on-the-air announcing by a review committee before s/he may be allowed to assume announcing duties. An on-going evaluation of all announcers will be conducted by this review committee.

The station manager will submit annually an evaluation of the station to the Publications Council, The Director of Student Activities, and the President. This evaluation together with an annual review from the Director of Student Activities and the Publications Council will aid the President in the preparation of his report for the Board of Visitors.

In addition to the specific requirements above stated, the President, acting personally or through his subordinates, will exercise such supervision as may be necessary to insure that station WCWM-FM operates at all times in compliance with these policy guidelines.
