In the News

The School of Education and the Virginia Chapter of the Council for Children with Behavioral Disorders will present a series of four conferences that focus on "Managing Disruptive Behavior," on campus beginning October 2.

Each session will be conducted by a prominent scholar who will present a strategy for teaching the disruptive child. The question and answer period following the presentation will be led by someone from Virginia, experienced in the problem under consideration.

Patricia Gallagher, associate professor of special education, University of Kansas, will address the first conference, October 2. The question and answer period will be led by William Herr, program director, DeJarnettes Center, Staunton. Gallagher has done a great deal of work in curriculum organization and the actual physical arrangement of classrooms to solve behavioral problems.

All conference sessions will be held on campus in Hugh Jones Hall from 9:30 a.m. until noon. Participants may attend any or all of the conferences. Inquiries concerning fees and schedules should be addressed to Professor Bloom at the School of Education.

William and Mary is one of nine schools in the nation chosen by the National Student Volunteer Program as the site for two seminars on volunteerism.

About 40 participants from Virginia and neighboring states are anticipated for the first training seminar, Oct. 5-7, for high school teachers and administrators involved in planning or managing a student volunteer or service-learning program.

In mid-November, a second training seminar will be held on campus for college volunteer service programs.

William and Mary's volunteer program is one of the most active in the state. Last year the College was chosen to serve as a model for the "Volunteer Virginia" plan initiated as part of the state's Bicentennial program.

Ken Smith, associate dean for student activities and organizations, administers the College's student volunteer network, with the assistance of a part-time student coordinator, Joey Jacoby '78, of Hamilton, Ohio.

Smith, Jacoby and Teresa Warf, activities coordinator, are making arrangements for the upcoming NSVP seminars.

Board Authorizes New Dorm Complex

At its Sept. 23-25 meeting on campus, the Board of Visitors approved the College's proposal for constructing a new student residence complex on campus by August 1980.

The new complex is expected to house 270 students in small units that would be adaptable to a variety of student needs, including single sex and coed undergraduate and graduate student housing and apartments for married students. Tentative location for the project is on Campus Drive next to Yates Hall and across from the Commons.

The College will seek $3 million in revenue bonds for the project. Student rents would be used to retire the bonds.

Three projects to improve the campus environment were approved.

The Board accepted a proposal by the Williamsburg Council of Garden Clubs to beautify the corner bounded by Richmond Road and Boundary Street, in memory of the late John T. Baldwin, professor emeritus of biology.

The Council has recommended a landscape plan which includes planting a Pistache tree, a crapemyrtle and two Lona Baldwin peach trees, in addition to boxwood and holly. The Garden Clubs will provide the materials and finance their planting, and they plan to install an appropriate memorial plaque in Baldwin's honor at the site.

The Visitors designated a ravine area on the new campus as a natural Wild Flower Refuge site. The site is expected to serve the community as an educational area devoted to the collection and study of native Virginia plants in a natural habitat.

The area, that bounded by the old fraternity lodges and the Student Health Services Center, Old Campus Road and Crim Dell Pond, Botetourt Drive, New Campus Drive and Yates Drive, is not regarded as a potential building construction site within the foreseeable future and will be maintained in its present natural state.

Although financial conditions at the College preclude elaborate and expensive maintenance of the area, the College hopes to encourage interested groups to assist in the maintenance, development and improvement of the area. Walkways and a lighting system already exist in the refuge.

The Board also approved the permanent closing of Old Campus Road at Crim Dell Pond and ordered that a permanent landscaping plan be designed to relate the area to adjacent Crim Dell and the newly designated

Scholarships Established

Two memorial scholarships were established and an additional contribution was made to a third fund for William and Mary students, during last week's meetings of the Board of Visitors.

An endowment of more than $10,000 has been established in memory of Dr. Garrett Dalton by his widow, Madeleine M. Dalton of Radford, and by his brothers, Judge Ted Dalton, Radford, and T.S. Dalton, Pulaski.

Funds from the endowment will provide annual financial assistance to a William and Mary student who has successfully completed his or her sophomore year and is pursuing pre-medical study at the College.

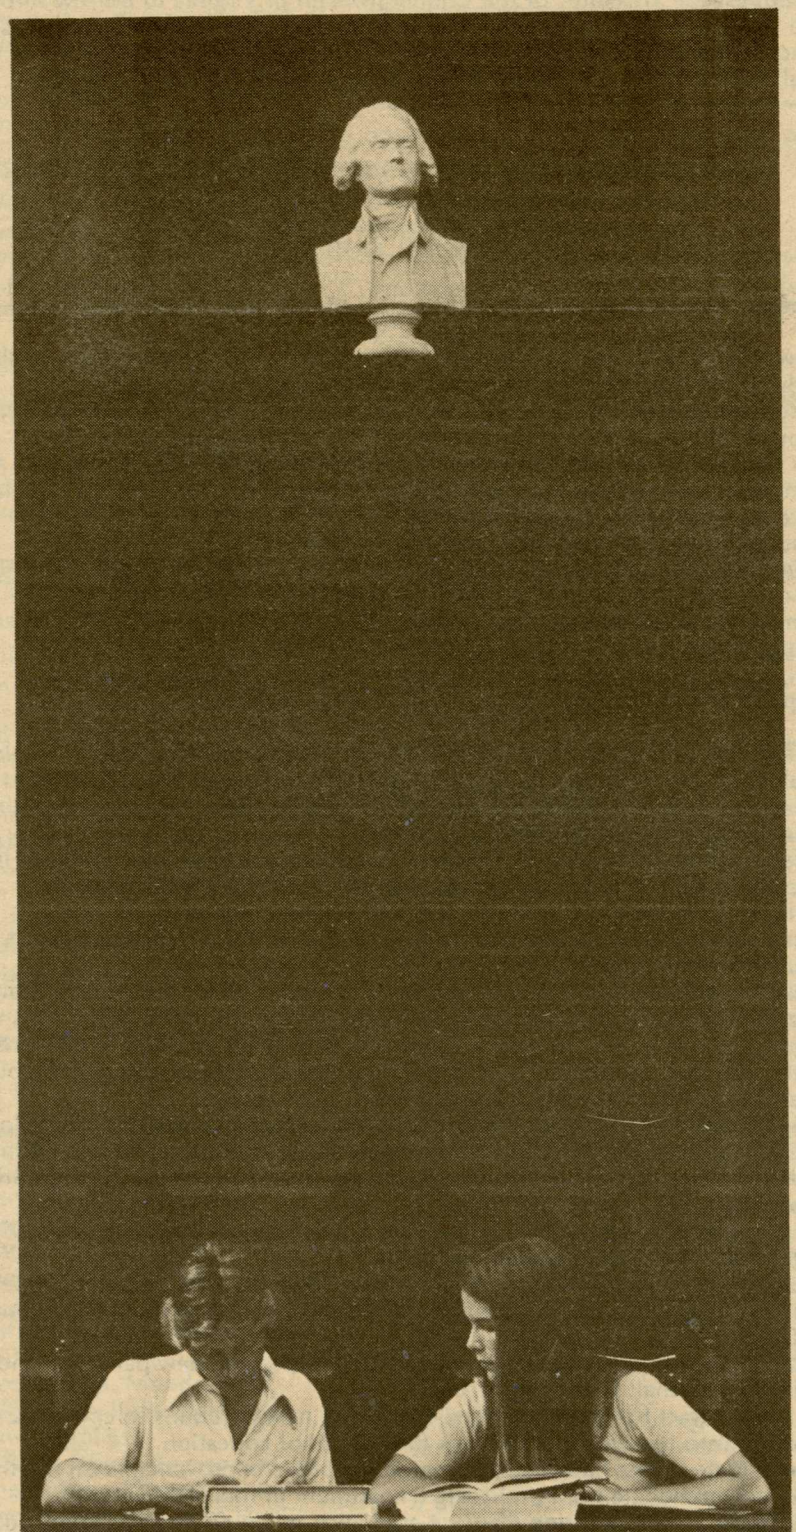

Dr. Dalton was a member of the Board of Visitors and a 1925 graduate of the College.

Students, faculty and others have contributed funds to establish an annual scholarship award of $100 in memory of Dierdre Jo Gerda, who was a member of the Class of 1978.

The fund will provide financial assistance to deserving students attending William and Mary.

A third scholarship has been increased by its donor, Mrs. Celia M. Somers, and at her request redesignated as the Grover T. and Celia M. Somers Scholarship Fund. Mrs. Somers first established the scholarship in 1970 as the William and Mary Memorial Scholarship Fund in honor and memory of her husband, a member of the class of 1907.

The annual income from the fund is awarded to an undergraduate from the Eastern Shore, based on financial need.

WATCHFUL EYE--A bust of the College's most celebrated alumnus, Thomas Jefferson, seemingly keeps an eye on two modern-day students studying in the Great Hall of the Sir Christopher Wren Building.

RESOLUTION OF FINANCING PROPOSED NEW STUDENT RESIDENCE COMPLEX

The Board of Visitors, at its meeting on January 22-24, 1976, approved the initiation of a study to determine the financial feasibility of constructing a new student residence facility by August, 1980.

This study, now completed, reflects several major assumptions:

1. The College is and should continue to be primarily a residential College.
2. There should be no absolute decrease in the undergraduate housing space, and the College should attempt to house 78-80% of its undergraduates.
3. There should be an increase in graduate housing space with an attempt to house 20-25% of the graduate student population.

Based on these considerations, the study was completed to determine the type and magnitude of facility the College could afford.

Given the current level of bonded indebtedness and a conservatively projected level of operating revenue, the maximum additional debt the College can reasonably afford is $3 million. Assuming, therefore, that $500,000 could be financed through renewal and replacement funds by 1980, a $3.5 million building could be built. Given projected construction costs of $13,000 per space for a new student residence complex offering multiple living styles, a facility housing 270 students would be financially feasible. Further, the cost of operating this new facility including inflation projected at 6% annually would require only a 6% annual increase.

By constructing this new facility and by retiring the use of Tyler Hall as a student residence, the College should be able to meet by 1980 its desired housing goals. The study assumes, however, that the two student residences presently leased by the College (James Blair Terrace and Ludwell Apartments) will continue to be available for lease beyond 1980. The inability to renew either or both of these leases will not jeopardize the financial feasibility of the new student residence complex. However, the housing goals of the College would be adversely affected by the loss of these facilities.

RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary in Virginia approves the concept of the new student residence complex as described above and the assumption of $3,000,000 in additional debt, to support the construction of a new Student Residence Complex by August 1980, subject to the approval of the appropriate offices of the Governor; and FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Vice President for Business Affairs is authorized to request the Treasurer of the Commonwealth of Virginia to borrow through the sale of Revenue Bonds an amount not to exceed $3 million, subject to his concurrence as to the financial feasibility of this project in the context of the total student residence complex and the auxiliary enterprises complex.

REPORT ON BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS AT WILLIAM AND MARY CAMPUS AND BUILDINGS IMPROVEMENTS (Including Space Reassignment Projects) AND CAPITAL OUTLAY PROJECTS

Swem Library Masonry and Deck Repairs - This work is in progress and is scheduled for completion in the early fall.

William and Mary Hall - A contract has been awarded for the construction of crowd control barriers and ticket booths for the two lobby areas. This work is approximately 90% complete. Contracts have been awarded to make repairs to the exterior foundation waterproofing at the northeast corner of the building and to re-lay and refinish the basketball gymnasium.

Hugh Jones Hall - Alterations to second floor spaces vacated by the Philosophy Department have been made to provide facilities for the School of Education. Additional offices and testing/observation rooms were constructed during the summer.

Spaces were remodeled to provide 6 offices and 1 teaching assistant's station for School of Business Administration.

Renovations have been completed to subdivide the Computer Center library into offices, conference room, Xerox room and storage for the Computer Center.

A contract has been awarded to provide new partitions to convert a study room into placement offices for the School of Education.

James Blair - Plans have been prepared for office improvements on the third floor to accommodate the Purchasing Department in their new location.

Trinkle Hall - Old Heating Plant - A study was made of these buildings to determine the possibility of providing space for the ceramics studio of the Fine Arts Department. It was found that the proposed location in Trinkle Hall was economically unfeasible; however, the Old Heating Plant location was acceptable. Plans are in progress for minor renovation work to do be done this fall.

Millington Hall - Physiology Laboratory - A study of room 24 was made to determine the acceptability of the space for use as an operating room. It was found not acceptable if ether is used as an anesthesia. It was decided to use a non-inflammable anesthesia in the future and the space will be ventilated to eliminate any health hazard. Plans are in progress.

Survey to Provide Accessibility and Usability of Major Campus Facilities for the Handicapped - This survey has been conducted and the report including review to determine the schedule and cost of implementation has been received.

James Blair Terrace Ground Floor - Renovations have been completed to house 8 graduate students.

Campus Center Parking - A study has been made of possible temporary parking facilities in the area adjacent to the Campus Center. Schematic drawings have been completed for use when funds become available.

The Commons Dining Hall -

Exterior Improvements - Plans have been prepared for improvements of the plaza area in front of the Commons. The scope of work envisions a brick plaza, installation of benches and plantings. The work will be done as funds become available.

Interior Improvements - Specifications have been prepared for new chairs and some new two-person tables. Purchase order has been issued. Other phases to follow when funds are available include dining room salad bars, beverage stations, additional serving line equipment and floor treatment.

CAPITAL OUTLAY PROJECTS: 1974-76

The plans were reviewed by the Law School Advisory Committee on December 13, 1974. $5.1 million will be requested from the 1977 General Assembly.

Plans for Renovation of Physical Plant Services Complex - The preliminary plans and specifications have been completed and approved by the Division of Engineering and Buildings along with a revised quantitative estimate. The working drawings phase was terminated by directive from the Governor's Office due to shortage of funds. Remaining funds were reverted to the State.

Additional Campus Lighting for Security - Project complete.

Installation of Storm Drainage - Project complete.

Planning for Renovation of Rogers Hall for the School of Business - Preliminary plans and outline specifications are complete and have been approved by the Division of Engineering and Buildings. Planning beyond the preliminary stage must be controlled within the limit of the existing appropriation. Working drawings have been completed within this limit.

Special Project - National Center for State Courts Headquarters Building - Project under construction. Completion scheduled for January 6, 1978.

CAPITAL OUTLAY PROJECTS: 1976-78

Utilities and Site Work for New Law School Building - An appropriation of $486,150 provided for site work and the installation of utility lines to the future building. Bids were received from eight contractors and the low bid was $179,000. This covers all work that can practically be done prior to actual building construction. The low bidder will require 120 days for completion. The second phase of this appropriation cannot be undertaken until the final phase of actual construction has been completed.

Installation of Storm Drainage System, Final Phase - Plans and specifications for this project are now being prepared by a consulting engineer. This appropriation of $96,600 will provide for the connection of remaining storm drainage collection lines into the recently completed storm drainage system. The construction of a basin to be located in the area behind Swem Library will collect debris before the storm water flows into Lake Matoaka. Detailed planning is being undertaken so that a contract may be awarded in the near future.

Replacement of Aged Steam and Condensate Lines - Colonial Campus - Funding authorization for this project has been received. The work will be performed by a welding contractor working under the supervision of College personnel. The College will supply all piping, valves and traps for the welding contractor to install as a replacement of the present pipelines, which have exceeded their expected life usage and have been in almost constant need of repair.

OTHER CAPITAL OUTLAY PROJECTS:

Installation of Additional Tennis Courts - A $150,000 gift from the Anheuser-Busch Foundation has made it possible to plan the construction of eight tennis courts which will be located in the area behind William and Mary Hall designated on the master plan for physical education facility development. Provision for installation of lights in the future has been made but the available funds are not sufficient to include $30,000 in lighting at this time. Assuming the approval of the Governor's Offices within the next four to six weeks, these tennis courts should be under construction by November and completed by early spring. The site will accommodate six additional courts and a multi-purpose playing field as funds become available. Further development of the Adair site for additional tennis courts will await the availability of additional funds.

RESOLUTION ON THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE FOUNDING OF COLONIAL WILLIAMSBURG

As one looks back through the long history of the College of William and Mary, few events have been so richly memorable and significant to the twentieth century College as the dream nurtured by the Reverend W.A.R. Goodwin, then a professor at the College, and later the decision by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. in 1926 to begin the restoration of the eighteenth century city of Williamsburg.

The College remembers with deep pride and satisfaction the many years of friendship and close association that have marked its relationship with Colonial Williamsburg to the mutual benefit of both institutions.

The College notes with gratitude that the first step in this historic project was the restoration of the Sir Christopher Wren Building to the original seventeenth century structure--this noble building, the oldest standing college building in continuous use in America, was described by Mr. Rockefeller in 1931 as "the only monument on American soil to one of the greatest architects. . ." and "an abiding reminder of those great men who received. . . that intellectual training and development of character which so well prepared them for the work of later years."

Again, one remembers that late in 1943 the College and Colonial Williamsburg, in full understanding and friendly cooperation, conceived the Institute of Early American History and Culture by joining the resources for historical research and publication of both institutions to achieve in 1945 and subsequently a center for the study of early American and Colonial history which has attained worldwide reputation.

And still further, in 1966 the growing friendship and continuing spirit of cooperation between the two institutions were signally demonstrated in the agreement to open the Sir Christopher Wren Building to the many visitors to Williamsburg by including a section of the refurbished ancient structure in the exhibition tours of Colonial Williamsburg, thus providing a means by which the history of this historic college is interpreted to the thousands of visitors to Williamsburg each year. This gesture of the friendly relationship, involving a considerable financial outlay by Colonial Williamsburg, was described by Mr. Carlisle Humelsine in 1966 as "enabling the Wren Building to continue in the years ahead to symbolize. . . the early dedication of our forebears to education so exemplified by some of its illustrious alumni--Jefferson, Monroe, Marshall, and many others."

We cite these significant examples of the developing spirit of friendly endeavor between our two institutions, but the College is also mindful of innumerable other instances of sympathetic and productive cooperation over the past half-century, and as a result the two institutions have grown and expanded together with respect and mutual interest for each other's achievements.

On November 26, 1976, Colonial Williamsburg will mark the fiftieth anniversary of its founding, and in recognition of the distinguished contribution Colonial Williamsburg has made to our knowledge of the formative years of our history, the lasting impressions it has made on millions of visitors, and the resounding fame it has brought to the Commonwealth of Virginia and the community of Williamsburg,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary in Virginia sends warm congratulations to our neighbor and sister institution on this anniversary, and expresses its appreciation for the friendly relationship that exists between our two institutions, and extends sincere best wishes for the future prosperity and continued growth of the vision first seen and nurtured in Williamsburg fifty years ago, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this resolution be spread on the minutes of the Board of Visitors and a copy transmitted to the President and Trustees of the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation.

Wild Flower Refuge.

In other actions, the Board named John MacConnell, a candidate for the Master of Law and Taxation degree in the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, as the recipient of the J.D. Carneal Jr. Scholarship for 1976-77.

A graduate of the University of Virginia, MacConnell received his J.D. degree from Marshall-Wythe, where he ranked in the upper 15 per cent of his class.

The scholarship was established by the late J.D. Carneal Jr., of Richmond, for students interested in earning the M.L.T. degree at William and Mary.

The Visitors voted to accept a bronze plaque from the Society of the Alumni to recognize the location of the College camp for the Virginia Militia during the period 1775-1781. The plaque will be dedicated as part of Homecoming Weekend festivities, Oct. 9-10.

The Board also granted approval for initiating the first of three phases to develop Ash Lawn as a major historical, educational attraction.

Once the home of U.S. President James Monroe, Ash Lawn was bequeathed to the College by the late J. Winston Johns of Charlottesville.

The first phase of improvements, scheduled for completion within the next two years, includes construction of public restroom facilities and a ticket office-gift shop, construction of a new parking lot, and repairs to the roofs of two existing out-buildings located in the kitchen courtyard.

The projected cost of $75,000 will be financed by the proceeds of the sale of property bequeathed to the College by Johns.

nize the different age groups within the play.

The two major parts to be cast by older men are those of Gloucester and Kent. Gloucester is a superstitious old man who misinterprets the virtue of an honorable son and commends the vice of a bad one. Kent is a nobleman of the kingdom who remains loyal to Lear even after he has been exiled.

Auditions will be held Sunday, Oct. 3, from 1 to 3:30 p.m. and Tuesday, Oct. 5, from 4:30 to 6 p.m. and 8 to 10 p.m. in the Laboratory Theatre in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. If needed, callbacks will be held Thursday, Oct. 7, from 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Moss has requested that those auditioning come prepared with a two to three minute memorized soliloquy from "King Lear" or any other play of Shakespeare's. A memorized Shakespearean scene with another actor will also be acceptable.

Copies of scenes from "King Lear" will be available for study from the department of theatre and speech office in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Perusal copies of the complete script of the play are available in the Reserve Room of Swem Library.

A final cast list will be posted outside the department office Saturday, Oct. 9. Rehearsals will begin October 10 and will be scheduled every day of the week, including Saturdays and Sundays, until the play opens.
