New Dean Named in Business

Lennis C. "Bud" Ackerman, former chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, and a long time friend of the School of Business Administration, has been named associate dean of the School with responsibility for the external affairs of the School.

Ackerman was a charter member of the School's Sponsors, Inc. board and served as its first chairman, 1970-73.

Ackerman was chief executive officer of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company from 1969-73 when he became automotive group vice president of Questor Corporation.

While Ackerman's prime responsibility will be in the area of fundraising, he will also serve as advisor to the M.B.A. Alumni Association and will coordinate its activities.

For much of his business career, Ackerman has been associated with the Walker Manufacturing Company of Racine, Wis., which he joined in 1952. In 1966, after a number of executive positions, he became president of the company. He was general manager of the Canadian subsidiary from 1958-62 and vice president and general manager of the international group for Walker, 1962-65. Just before becoming president he served one year as vice president for international operations and marketing.

During his tenure as president of Walker, the company was acquired by Tenneco, Inc., of Houston, Texas. Ackerman was transferred by Tenneco, the shipyard's parent company, to Newport News and he served concurrently as executive vice president of Tenneco.

'Our Future in the Cosmos' Opens

Donald K. "Deke" Slayton, one of the original seven astronauts selected for the first manned space effort, Project Mercury, will give the opening lecture of the William and Mary/NASA lecture series "Our Future in the Cosmos," on October 5 in Hampton Coliseum at 8 p.m.

Slayton, who is the only one of the original seven astronauts who is still active in the U.S. space program, will speak on "Manned Space Flights: Past Triumphs - Future Challenges," marking the 20th anniversary of the founding of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, NASA, on Oct. 1, 1958.

There is no admission charge for the lecture but tickets are required and may be obtained by calling the Office of Special Programs in Newport News, telephone 877-9231. Tickets will also be available at the Coliseum box office and those who request tickets after Oct. 1 will be directed to the box office.

Slayton was a member of the U.S. crew of the joint U.S.-Soviet Apollo-Soyuz docking mission in July, 1975. His other responsibilities with NASA have included being head of the Astronaut Office, Director of Flight Crew Operations, and Manager of Approach and Landing Test for the Space Shuttle.

Prior to his NASA career, Slayton was in the U.S. Air Force from 1943-1963 as a pilot and test pilot. He is currently manager of Orbital Flight Test for the Space Shuttle Project Office at the NASA Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas.

Slayton will present an astronaut's perspective of the U.S. Manned space programs. Starting with the Mercury Project to orbit the earth, begun at the NASA Langley Research Center in 1958, he will trace the manned space programs through Gemini, Apollo, Skylab, and Apollo-Soyuz. Finally, he will discuss the development of the Space Shuttle and the manned space programs projected for the next 20 years. Color slides will be used to illustrate the presentation.

Slayton's talk opens the sixth series of unique and popular public forum initiated in 1974 as a joint venture by the College and NASA. The series will again consist of four free lectures designed to stimulate the consciousness and thoughts of the community regarding problems and solutions facing mankind in a rapidly changing world. The speakers will cover a wide range of topics relating to mankind, modern society, and the universe.

Report of the Committee on Planning and Priorities

This is a periodic report on the work of the Committee on Planning and Priorities. After its first meeting in March 1977, the Committee has met infrequently while it waited for information which is needed for better planning.

Prior to the 1977-78 session, President Graves appointed a Task Force on Information to collect and analyze material for the Committee on Planning and Priorities. The report of the Task Force last April traced some of the expenditure patterns at the College since 1971. With this report as background, the Committee on Planning and Priorities approved several recommendations of the Task Force. They are as follows:

1. Priorities

The major goal of the Committee on Planning and Priorities is to increase the percentage of both state and private support allocated for direct use by the instructional program. Because the educational programs within the university are in various stages of development, the manner in which resources are used within the departments and schools may necessarily vary.

We believe that a specific goal of the College should be to increase faculty compensation from the present ranking to at least the 30th percentile in AAUP category 1. This goal should be attained no later than July 1, 1982. We further recommend that the increased resources for faculty compensation be allocated primarily on the basis of merit and not as an across the board allocation.

2. Development Office--Alumni Office--Public Relations

1. The College should place primary emphasis on raising funds which are unrestricted and those restricted funds which support the highest priority needs of the institution. The Development Office should devote the major portion of its resources toward achieving the College's highest priority needs. The College should allocate personnel and fund raising resources based on these priorities. The level of achievement should be measured in the overall ability of fund raising activities to meet a priority list of needs. A critical component of this recommendation is that the Planning and Priorities Committee present a clear set of priorities to the Development Office for Annual Fund Drives and Capital Campaigns.

2. The College should maintain endowment and annual giving records which reflect the extent to which the College, through private funds, is meeting the priority list of its financial needs. Annual reports should be available to the College community on the extent to which College-wide priorities were met through the allocation of endowment income and annual giving. As in item 1, emphasis should be placed on the extent to which the list of priority needs has been met. In addition, annual gifts in the form of personal property, real property, gifts to the endowment, expendable gifts, and money raised through private and federal grants should be separately reported. Similarly, the allocation and restrictions on endowment income should be reported.

3. The College has an obligation to fund the major portion of the Alumni Office budget. However, these expenses should not be funded primarily through the William and Mary Fund. The budget of the Alumni Office should be treated as College-operating expense, supported by non-state funds. The fund raising emphasis of the William and Mary Fund should continue to be the College's undergraduate program and the major portion of the income so raised should be used for this purpose. A portion of the income raised in each fund drive should be allocated to cover expenses for the College's overall fund raising efforts.

4. Recognizing that they are competing for available funds allocated to the College's total development program, the budgets of the Development, Alumni and Public Relations Offices should be reviewed together, particularly in light of the tasks they perform and the priorities of the College. They should be funded through a combination of State money, endowment income, and an allocation from the income of each fund.

3. Subcommittee on Private Funds

A Subcommittee on Private Funds, reporting to the Committee on Planning and Priorities, should be appointed. Those who are not on the full Committee, as well as those who are members of the Committee, are eligible to serve on the Subcommittee. The President, acting on the recommendation of the Chairman of the Planning and Priorities Committee, appoints the members of the Subcommittee from among members of the College community.

The Committee on Planning and Priorities, upon the recommendation of the Subcommittee on Private Funds, will advise those officers who are responsible for the utilization of private funds. Subcommittee jurisdiction is limited to policy rather than administrative matters. The President or his delegate should inform the Subcommittee prior to the time when a policy decision is to be made. The Subcommittee may also initiate efforts to reconsider existing policy. In all matters, the intention is to broaden the base of support for decisions concerning the effective utilization of private funds.

The Committee on Planning and Priorities will be informed as soon as the Subcommittee makes a formal recommendation. If a member of the Committee so requests, the Committee will meet to discuss the recommendation and may add any comments it wants. If the Committee does not consider the matter, the recommendation of the Subcommittee stands by itself.

4. Subcommittee to Coordinate Information for Planning

A Subcommittee to Coordinate Information for Planning should be appointed. It is charged with gathering, coordinating and analyzing information used for planning. The Subcommittee reports to the Committee on Planning and Priorities, serves as a service committee for other subcommittees such as the Subcommittee on Private Funds and works with officials of the College charged with administrative planning objectives approved by the Planning and Priorities Committee and the President.

The Subcommittee shall on a yearly basis update the April 6 Task Force Report on the allocation of College resources. The Subcommittee should indicate how State and private funds were expended during the past fiscal year and the budgeted amounts for the current fiscal year. This annual report may include conclusions and recommendations to the Planning and Priorities Committee.

Those who are not on the full Committee, as well as those who are members of the Committee, are eligible to serve on the Subcommittee. The President, acting on the recommendation of the Chairman of the Planning and Priorities Committee, appoints the members of the Subcommittee from among members of the College community.

5. Administrative Expenses

In its April 6 report the Task Force notes a large increase in administrative costs during the 1971-74 period relative to instructional costs. The report also points out that the College is now allocating a significant portion of its endowment income and of annual giving revenues to administrative personnel and M & O expenditures in the Development and Alumni Offices. These concerns have become more serious since the State has left unfunded a number of faculty equivalent and classified positions in administrative and library personnel expenditures beginning in July.

Given the current situation and the uncertain fiscal outlook for the future, the College should review its administrative needs, the productivity of administrative offices, and administrative expenditures. The review should include a thorough analysis of which administrative services are essential for the College's mission. It should determine which administrative services or areas, if reduced or eliminated, would least affect the College's ability to fulfill its mission. The review should also determine those services or areas which if expanded or added would have the greatest impact on enhancing the College's ability to fulfill its mission. In addressing these two questions, emphasis should be placed on personnel expenses and positions, including those which are privately funded as well as classified and faculty equivalent.

In view of the complexity and urgency of this task, we recommend that the President undertake the development and implementation of a plan to reduce wherever realistically possible administrative expense. It is recommended that the plan place special emphasis on identifying and reducing those services which have the least impact on the College's ability to fulfill its mission and that the plan focus on administrative personnel including privately funded, classified and faculty equivalent positions.

The President has approved these recommendations. In the next few weeks, he will be announcing appointments to the Subcommittee on Private Funds and the Subcommittee to Coordinate Information for Planning.

Business Dean

Under Ackerman's leadership, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company increased sales from $300 million to over $400 million. Employment rose from 18,000 people in 1969 to 27,000 in 1973. He directed the administration of over one billion dollars in government contracts for nuclear-powered naval ships.

He established Newport News Industries, a subsidiary of Newport News Shipbuilding, which marketed nuclear components and construction services to electrical power companies.

He became automotive group vice president of Questor Corporation in 1973. While with Questor he improved operations from a $14 million loss in 1974 to a $5.5 million profit in 1976. He essentially reorganized the business in all activities.

Deadline for Fulbrights Oct. 20

The 1979-80 competition for grants for graduate study abroad offered under the Educational Exchange Program (Fulbright) and by foreign governments, universities and private donors will close shortly. Only a few more weeks remain in which qualified graduate students and bachelor's degree candidates may apply for one of the 505 awards which are available to 52 countries.

In many countries, preference will be given to advanced graduate students, who, in most cases, will be conducting research for the Ph.D. dissertation.

For bachelor's and master's degree candidates, however, opportunities exist particularly in the following countries: Afghanistan, Australia, Belgium, Cameroon, Colombia, France, Germany, Italy, Lesotho, New Zealand, Portugal, Senegal, Sudan, Sweden, Switzerland, Tanzania, the U.S.S.R., and Yugoslavia.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Fulbright Program adviser on campus, Gary Smith, modern languages department, Washington Hall 106C.

The deadline for filing applications is Oct. 20.

Most of the grants offered provide round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year; a few provide international travel only or a stipend intended as a partial grant-in-aid.

Candidates must be U.S. citizens at the time of application; hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the beginning date of the grant, or in a few cases at the time of application; have language ability commensurate with the demands of the proposed study projects; and be in good health.

Monty Griffith-Mair

A British Import Monty Enlivens the Airways; WCWM's Own Mike Wallace

Eavesdrop on a conversation with Monty Griffith-Mair and you're liable to raise an eyebrow at the way he drops names of the famous in an animated Oxonian accent.

But Monty has met the important people of public life he talks about and has tangible proof - on tape.

A graduate student in sociology, he is best known on campus for his "Linkup Hour," over WCWM, interviews with interesting people that he has snared with his tape recorder.

He had a busy summer, travelling and interviewing and begins his program series on Oct. 1, with an impressive lineup of shows to follow.

He will open his season with an usual "travelog," of interviews with a variety of passengers on the Washington-Montreal Express.

Among those he interviewed were Yuri Kerenski, a Russian emigre who talks about Soviet Labor Camps and the operations of the KGB; Douglas E. Hall, program director for Billboard magazine; Dr. Susan Cass, a Boston psychopharmacologist on violent and psychotic children; Gary Fagan, a music director at the Yale Drama School; Lady Judith Chambers, chatting about her travels; a military policeman from Fort Bragg; and John Roberts a New England folksinger who plays the concertina, banjo, and harmonica.

His other programs in October include one entitled "American Hobo," which includes Monty's visit to the Hobo Foundation in Vermont as well as a review of the lifestyle of a unique American's phenomenon "the hobo."

His October 15 program is one of the first interviews that Sherman Adams has granted in almost a decade. Chief of Staff under President Eisenhower he was forced out of office. Monty said he tried whenever possible to steer the questions to Adam's fall from power but was not always successful. He provides interesting listening though for his knowledge of Washington during the 50's.

John G. Kemeny, president of Dartmouth College and the man who introduced co-education to the campus in 1972, is featured on his Oct. 22 program. A mathematician, he worked with Einstein.

His Grace, The Most Reverend John H. Perry-Hooker, Primate of the Anglican Church in America is the focus of his Oct. 29 program.

The opening "Linkup Hour" program will be heard over WCWM Sunday at 8 p.m.

Monty himself would make a good tape. He is a "Limey" from the Midlands of England. He was a copy boy in the newroom of the London Daily Mirror after high school. He taught English in Spain.

He is particularly interested in juvenile delinquency and youth and the law and is currently researching the trials of juvenile offenders from the late 18th century to the middle of the 20th century.

As a result of a series of articles he wrote on institutions and institutionalization in England, he was one of five chosen to visit and observe similar institutions and programs in Europe and the United States.

While in New England he fell in love with the area and came back to get a baccalaureate degree at Franconia College. He received his degree in 27 months, the shortest time on record for a degree candidate.

Monty began interviewing seriously about six years ago and is amassing an impressive portfolio which includes interviews with Alger Hiss, Alistair Cooke, Barbara Jordan, John Denver, and Howard K. Smith.

He isn't saying much about how his is going to do it or who his contacts are but he hopes later this year to interview the Russian author Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn.

Film of Koestler Will Highlight Tomorrow's Forum

Noted writer and creative thinker, Arthur Koestler, author of "Darkness at Noon," and many other works, will be the focus of the Project Plus Forum, tomorrow, Sept. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in Millington Hall.

Koestler will be interviewed in a Time-Life film on the subject of "Creativity," a study to which he has contributed a great deal. In 1964 he published a major reflective and scientific study on creativity in his work "The Act of Creation."

Peter Derks, psychology, will be commentator for the film program.

The Forum on September 27 will feature guest speaker Garret Epps, author of "The Shad Treatment," a novel about Virginia politics.

Asia House Program Scheduled Thursday

Sally Benson of the Washington based Clergy and Laity Concerned will be guest speaker at a program in Asia House, September 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Ms. Benson will give a slide, lecture presentation on "Women in Vietnam." The public is invited to attend.

Visiting Sculptor New Appointments Announced

Robert M. Engman, co-chairman of the Department of Fine Arts, the University of Pennsylvania, a sculptor who has exhibited internationally and whose commissions include the City of Jerusalem and the City of New York, will be sculptor in residence at the College for the second semester, second semester.

Engman holds fine arts degrees from the Rhode Island School of Design and Yale University. He has been a guest lecturer at major universities across the country and is represented in major public and private collections.

He was Commissioner of Fine Arts for the City of Philadelphia from 1968-72 and is on the senior advisory committee on international exchange of persons for the Fulbright Commission. He received the Morse Traveling Fellowship from Yale University in 1962.

Engman began his teaching career at the Rhode Island School of Design in 1951 and joined the faculty of Yale University in 1954. He was director of the graduate studies in sculpture at Yale, 1960-64. He became director of graduate studies in sculpture at the University of Pennsylvania in 1964 and continues to hold that post concurrently with his chairmanship of the fine arts department.

Gary R. Pike has been appointed instructor and debate coach in the department of theatre and speech. He holds a master of arts in speech and theatre from Southwest Missouri State University. He was a graduate assistant in forensics last year at Southwest Missouri State University and was instructor for high school debate workshops there.

Paul A. Grayson has been appointed a clinical psychologist in the Center for Psychological Services at the College this year. He is a graduate of Union College, Schenectady, N.Y., and New York University and expects to receive his doctorate in December from the University of North Carolina.

Thomas A. Zang has joined the mathematics and computer science department as an assistant professor.

Zang received his B.S. degree from the University of Notre Dame and his doctorate in applied mathematics from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He began work at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, Berkeley, California in 1970 and since 1976 has been at the Institute for Computer Applications in Science and Engineering in Hampton, Va.

Carnevale Names New Baseball Coach

Athletic Director Ben Carnevale has announced that Mo Weber, Williamsburg stockbroker, will be the Tribe's baseball coach this spring.

Weber, who coached William and Mary's baseball team in 1965, has managed and supervised baseball at just about every level. He is a native of Great Neck, N.Y. Most recently Weber has assisted Billy Cardwell and Duke Burroughs with the highly successful Newport News Post 25 Legion team. In 1976 the team captured the state title and in 1977 was runnerup.

Weber replaces Ed Jones who has stepped down to devote full time to the intramural program and teaching.

Theatre Wants Antique Clothing for the Cast of Musical 'Carousel'

Do you have stuck away in your closet some century-old clothing or costume accessories? If so, The William and Mary Theatre would be delighted to accept your donations. Or, as The Theatre's costumer says, "We wouldn't just be delighted, we'd be very excited."

The Theatre currently is preparing its first production of the season, the musical "Carousel." The Rodgers and Hammerstein classic takes place in 1873-1888, and costumer Ms. Bambi Stoll is eager to find accessories and clothing of the period.

"Carousel" will be presented in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall six nights, Oct. 12-14 and Oct. 19-21. The director is Dr. Louis E. Catron of the Theatre Department. Dr. Ed Godshall, of the College's Music Department, is musical director. Margaret Vincent, a senior theatre concentrator, is the show's choreographer.

For further information, donors are asked to contact Ms. Stoll at the Department of Theatre and Speech, at the College of William and Mary. The telephone number is 253-4395 or 253-4273.

An SA Wingding Indian Summer Weekend

A used bike auction, a cookout, bluegrass music and a giant banana split (bring your own spoon) will be part of an "Indian Summer Weekend," being planned by the Student Association for September 29-Oct. 1.

The weekend will open Friday with a concert by the Original Drifters in William and Mary Hall beginning at 9 p.m. Tickets are $2 for students and guests.

The bike auction will be held Saturday in front of the Campus Center at 10 a.m. Over 150 bikes will be auctioned.

The cookout will be held at the Commons with folk music for dining, then comes the giant banana split which will be served in the Sunken Garden at 2 p.m. There is no charge but each participant is asked to bring a spoon.

A bluegrass band will perform in the Sunken Garden Saturday afternoon from 2 - 5 p.m., and the movies, "Goodbye Girl" and "Silver Streak" will be shown in William and Mary Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m. Admission is by pass only.

Steve Bassett and Robbin Thompson with the Andrew Lewis Band will give a concert in the Sunken Garden Sunday beginning at 1:30 p.m. There is no admission charge for students, $3 for all others. Proceeds will go to the John Kratzer Memorial Scholarship Fund. Donations will be accepted.
