Alumnus Voted Finest English Teacher in Virginia

Paul Lankford

Paul G. Lankford '69, an English teacher at Green Run High School in Virginia Beach, has been named the state English Teacher of the Year by the Virginia Association of Teachers of English.

To be nominated for the prestigious state honor, Lankford earlier had been selected Virginia Beach English Teacher of the Year by members of the Virginia Beach Association of Teachers of English.

Lankford's credentials for the award are many and varied: He is chairman of the school's 25-person English department, the largest department of any school in Virginia Beach. He teaches both superior and remedial English, and most of his students request assignment to his classes because of his reputation for fairness, thoroughness, and knowledge of subject. He serves as president of the school's faculty instructional advisory committee and chairman of the steering committee which will involve the entire school staff in a state accreditation review next year. He helps conduct in-service training for the division's English teachers. He is an active member of the Virginia Beach Reading Council and serves on the World Literature Committee of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Lankford holds a bachelor's degree in English from the College, and a master's degree in education from Old Dominion University (1977).

He was one of the original teachers

Fiddler Replaces Kate On Theatre Season Bill

Richard Palmer, artistic director of the William and Mary Theatre, has announced a change in the theatre season.

"Fiddler on the Roof," based on Sholem Aleichem stories will replace "Kiss Me Kate," as the musical in this year's season. Play dates will remain the same, Feb. 18, 19, 25 and 26, nightly at 8:15 p.m., and a matinee at 2 p.m., Feb. 27

Auditions, which are open to all members of the College community, will be held Dec. 4 and 5.

Palmer, in announcing the change, said that "Kiss Me Kate," is being replaced by a very popular, more contemporary play. "Given the particular strengths of our student cast, we felt we could do a better job with "Fiddler on the Roof," he added.

As in past years, the William and Mary Theatre will be holding pre-audition warm-ups for this year's musical, "Fiddler on the Roof.' continued on p.3
