Stephen Panoff (r) will be guest conductor for the Hibbard Concert. Soloists will be Scott Murphy, horn; and Laurie Thornton, flute.

Hibbard Memorial Concert Spotlights College Band

Solos by two student musicians will be featured at the annual Carl Hibbard Memorial Concert by the concert band at 8:15 p.m., Friday, March 30, in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Admission is $1.50. There is no charge for children under 12 years of age.

Due to the illness of band conductor Charles R. Varner, the band will be under the direction of his assistant, Stephen Panoff '83.

The band will open its program with "Carmina Burana," by Carl Orff, arranged by John Krance. Orff's score was written in 1936. In close collaboration with the composer, Krance, an arranger, orchestrator, conductor and music consultant for radio, television and movies, has attempted to retain the spirit, feeling and overall character of the original score.

Subtitled "Profane songs for singers and vocal chorus with music and magic pictures," "Carmina Burana" is a work that calls for vocal soloists, three choirs and a large orchestra. It was inspired by an anthology of songs and poems written in medieval Latin, German and French by the "goliards," who were vagrant scholars, vagabond poets and wondering monks of 13th century Europe.

Laurie Thornton, a senior from Morrison, Colo., will play a flute solo, "Concertino," by Cecile Chaminade. Chaminade was a French composer (1857-1944) who started composing at the age of eight and at 16 embarked on a highly successful international career as a concert pianist.

Scott Murphy, a junior from Annandale, will be horn soloist for Richard Strauss's "Waldhorn Concerto," arranged by Thad Jones. The music was first performed in 1885.

The band's program will also include "Jalousie," by Jacob Hade; "Michel Legrand Medley," arranged by Tom Worrall, and "The Hounds of Spring" by Alfred Reed.

The annual band concert is a memorial to a former band student. Proceeds from the concert go to the Carl Hibbard Band Scholarship Fund, established in 1958, by Capt. and Mrs. R.C. Hibbard in memory of their son.

BALSA Conference Concludes With Forum

Members of the Black American Law Student Association, BALSA, at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law will commemorate the 30th anniversary of the landmark Brown vs. Board of Education decision at their annual spring conference, Saturday, March 24, by evaluating progress in the desegregation of housing, education and business and addressing future desegregation strategies.

The day-long conference will be held at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, beginning with registration at 8:30 a.m. Registration is $10, and the fee includes luncheon. Registration details may be obtained from Valerie Warner president of BALSA, at 253-1959, or Barbara Johnson, at 229-0247.

Keynote speaker for the conference will be Julius Chambers, senior partner of the Governor Returns Storm, Names 4 New Visitors

One member of the Board of Visitors has been reappointed and four new ones named by Governor Charles S. Robb.

Reappointed is Harriet N. Storm '64 of Hampton, a free-lance writer and a trustee of the W&M Athletic Educational Foundation. On the Board of Visitors, she is chairman of the committee on student affairs, and also serves on committees on legislative relations, athletic policy and the executive committee.

New members include Joseph R. Koons of Great Falls, James W. McGlothlin of Bristol, John W. Tucker of Norfolk, and Hays T. Watkins of Richmond.

Koons is president of J. Koons Pontiac-GMC, Inc. A 1968 graduate, he is a member of the Educational Foundation Board. He succeeds Milton L. Drewer.

McGlothlin, the founder and chairman of the board of United Coal Co., received a B.A. from the College in 1962 and a J.D. from the Marshall-Wythe School of Law in 1964. He is a member of the W&M Endowment Association and succeeds Edward B. Brickell, Jr.

Tucker, 1954, B.A., M.Ed., 1962, is a member of the W&M educational administration study group. He succeeds Herbert V. Kelly on the board.

Watkins, who received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the College in 1982, is chairman of the board and chief executive officer of CSX Corporation. He is also a director of the Business School Sponsors. He succeeds Raymond T. Waller on the board.

Historian Robert Engs Joins Faculty For 1984-85 Session

Historian Robert Francis Engs of the University of Pennsylvania, will join the faculty of the College next year as a Commonwealth Visiting Professor.

Under this state program, Gladys S. Johnston of Rutgers University will join the School of Education faculty next year.

Engs was on campus last week, conferring with Ed Crapol, chairman of the history department, and visiting his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Engs, who recently retired as a classroom teacher in the Williamsburg-James City County School Division.

Asked if he feels as if he is coming home, Engs laughs, "The longest I have ever lived here at one time has been three months, but I really like the area." The Engs family moved to Williamsburg in 1961 and the next summer Engs was a guide for Colonial Williamsburg at the Robertson Windmill. Engs' brother Michael graduated from the College in 1969. His mother is well known in the Williamsburg area for her long association with the schools. She taught at Bruton Heights School from 1961-66 and then moved to Rawls Byrd where she taught until she retired earlier this year. She was also active with the Headstart summer program.

Engs will teach two courses next year, a survey of Afro-American history, a two-semester course, and an upper-level undergraduate course entitled "History is Biography." This is a course Engs originated at the University of Pennsylvania. He has students choose a personality of the Civil War and do research on that person, comparing lifestyles and attitudes before and after the war. Students are also required to write a paper.

Engs has a special interest in the Civil War because he is currently working on a

Debaters Going To National

The College will be represented at the 1984 National Debate Tournament March 30-April 2 at the University of Tennessee, for the first time in ten years.

The team of Kevin Gough, a senior from Hauppauge, N.Y., and Rob Johnson, a junior from Blacksburg, Va., have earned a berth in the tournament. The College was last represented in the tournament in 1974.

"Going to the NDT is a mark of a successful debate season and William and Mary has had a successful year in debate," says coach Cathy Hennen. Traveling to eight tournaments, including Wake Forest, Northwestern, United States Naval Academy, George Mason and James Madison Universities, the Johnson-Gough team participated in two octofinal rounds, four quarterfinals and two semi-final rounds. Johnson has been the top speaker at two tournaments this year and both he and Gough were frequently in the top ten speakers out of fields as large as 80.

In addition, William and Mary debaters have participated in two parliamentary in Farmville. The three lawyers will give historical perspectives on the Brown decision.

Jessie Rattley, Newport News city councilwoman, and Antonio Monroig, assistant secretary of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity, HUD, Washington, D.C., will discuss desegregation in housing.

The discussion on desegregation in education will be led by Richard C. Hunter, superintendent, Richmond Public Schools; attorney Muriel Vaughan, National Black Child Development Institute, Washington, D.C.; Dr. Boyd Bosma, National Education Association; and attorney Theodore Shaw, NAACP Legal Defense Fund, New York City.

Charles Reynolds, president of Atlantic National Bank, Norfolk; Myla Williams, deputy assistant director for market development, Office of Minority Business Enterprises, Richmond; and Larry P. Mitchell, account executive, Thomas, McKinnon Securities, Inc., Charlottesville, will discuss desegregation in business.

The final session of the conference will be an open forum at 3 p.m. on the topic, "Is Color Conscious Interpretation of the Constitution Consistent with 'Brown'?"

The forum will feature a debate between Jay Parker and Kenneth Tollett. Parker serves as president of the Lincoln Institute for Research and Education, Inc., a nonprofit, independent, non-partisan public policy organization in Washington, D.C. The Lincoln Institute was founded in 1978 to study public policy issues that impact on the lives of black middle-America, and to make findings available to elected officials and the public. Parker also acts as editor of Institute publications.

Tollett is chairman of the National Advisory Board and Director of the Institute for the Study of Educational Policy (ISEP) at Howard University in Washington, D.C. He serves on numerous committees and has authored over 44 major papers for civic or professional meetings and conferences and has published over 40 articles in books and periodicals.

Summer Fellowship - 1984

The State Council of Higher Education for Virginia is sponsoring a summer program for undergraduate non-minority Virginians now completing their junior year of study. The program is designed to interest qualified students in graduate work and academic careers, thereby encouraging their entry into graduate programs, and to increase the number of white Virginians who pursue graduate education at Virginia's traditionally black institutions.

Funds for tuition, books, room, board, and other fees will be paid by the Council of Higher Education. Each student will receive a stipend of $90 per week for the 6-week program. Deadline is April 2, 1984. For more information, contact the Office of Minority Affairs, ext. 4247.

style tournaments at Harvard and Princeton, several cross examination tournaments and have hosted a series of on-campus debates, sometimes intrasquad and sometimes with invited guests. Guests have included the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond. Two juniors, Harry Austin of Earlyville, Va., and Jill Pryor of Etters, Pa., have participated in several public debates in Pennsylvania high schools.

The National Debate Tournament began at the United States Military Academy in 1947. Some 62 of the nation's best debate teams attend the annual event. The William and Mary team qualified through district competition held recently at St. Vincent College in Latrobe, Pa. Johnson and Gough qualified second out of a field of 24. Other qualifiers from the district include Georgetown University, George Mason University and James Madison University.

Hennen said she wasn't prepared to say how the debaters would finish at the tournament in Tennessee but predicted they would do well.

Employee Interviews

TO: STATE EMPLOYEES IN THE PENINSULA AREA

(Includes the counties of Charles City, New Kent, York and James City and the cities of Williamsburg, Hampton, Newport News, Yorktown and Poquoson)

The Office of Employee Relations Counselors was established to assist employees in the resolution of work-related problems, concerns and grievances. As a separate and independent agency, we provide assistance to employees where confidentiality can be maintained if so desired.

Most of our counseling takes place by telephone which provides an effective and prompt means of service to you. In addition, members of our staff are scheduled for periodic visits to various geographic locations throughout the state to give employees an opportunity for personal interviews to discuss problems or grievances.

I am pleased to inform you that one of our Senior Counselors will be visiting your area on Thursday, March 22, and Friday, March 23. Eastern State Hospital has made one of its buildings available to us, and interviews will be scheduled in Room 104 of Building #3 on the Eastern State Hospital grounds. From Route 60 West (Richmond Road) on the west side of Williamsburg, turn on to Ironbound Road (adjacent to the West Park hotel), follow Ironbound Road to the hospital entrance. Follow the entrance road until it ends, turn left, and Building #3 is on the right. There is ample parking adjacent to the building.

We have attempted to be available at times which will accommodate varying employee work schedules. Interview times will be as follows:

Thursday, March 22, 1984	2:00 p.m. - 9:30 p.m.
Friday, March 23, 1984	9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon

If you wish to see a Counselor, please call our Office on the toll-free number (1-800-552-9720) or SCATS 786-7994, for an appointment and any additional directions needed. You should allow approximately 45 minutes for an interview.

We look forward to our visit on March 22 and 23.

Two Special Performances Follow TASHI On Series

TASHI, a chamber music ensemble that has been hailed for its unusual programs and joyous programs for clarinet and string quartet before international audiences, will close out the Concert Series with a performance at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, March 29 in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Single admission tickets ($5, $4 for members of the College community) will be available at the office of the Director of the Series, Ken Smith, in the Campus Center, 253-4775 and will also be on sale at the Phi Beta Kappa box office the evening of performance.

While TASHI concludes the current season, two special performances are scheduled in April. The New-Orleans Ragtime Orchestra is scheduled for a concert at 8:15 p.m., Monday, April 16, and Mummenschanz will be in performance at 8:15 p.m., Monday, April 23.

Tickets for the New Orleans Ragtime Orchestra will be $8.50 for the general public; $7 for holders of concert series season tickets; $6 for faculty, staff and students of the College.

Ticket prices for Mummenschanz will be $7.50 for the general public; $6 for season ticket holders and $5 for faculty, staff and students of the College.

While most chamber music ensembles specialize in either traditional or contemporary repertoire, one of the hallmarks of TASHI's success has been their ability to perform all types of music as if it had been written for them. They have introduced 20th century masterpieces to standing ovations and drawn cheers for Mozart and Brahms from college audiences much more familiar with rock.

Initially formed to perform Messiaen's "Quartet for the End of Time," TASHI has since inspired compositions by Bill Douglas, Peter Lieberon, Toru Takemitsu and Charles Wuorinen. In

Lisa Middleton Directs 'Blithe Spirit' For Library Stage

Lisa Rose Middleton, a senior theatre major, will direct a student cast in Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," for three performances, March 29, 30 and 31.

Performances will be given nightly at 8:15 p.m., in the Arts Center Theatre at the Williamsburg Regional Library. Admission is $2. Tickets will be on sale at the door the evenings of the play and will also be available from the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall box office from 3-6 p.m., March 26-30 or by phone during box office hours by calling 253-4272.

Holders of William and Mary Theatre season tickets may obtain tickets to "Blithe Spirit," without charge.

Lisa, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Norris Middleton of Woodbridge, Va., is completing a senior directorial project with Louis E. Catron, professor of theatre and speech, as her advisor.

Active both as an actress and director during her four years at William and Mary, Lisa hopes to pursue a career in theatre after graduation, first as an actress and later as a director. She says she enjoys both on-stage and off-stage work. "When I watch a performance, I'll think to myself 'If I were directing I would have done it differently' and when I see someone on stage I think about how I would love to be up there doing the part," she says.

Performing has been a factor in Lisa's life since she was a toddler. She laughs as she recalls her first part as a triangle in a third grade production. In seventh grade she was a lady barber in "The Belle of the West." In high school in Leavenworth, KN, she was the Leading Player in "Pippin," and the headmistress in "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie." She also performed in two originals, "82nd Street Park," and a musical, "Nazera."

One of three sisters, Lisa gets together and sings with her sister Vickie, a student at Hampton Institute. Her youngest sister Michele, 11, is at home in Woodbridge.

Her freshman year at William and Mary she acted in "God's Favorite," produced by the Covenant Players and also "Oedipus Rex," a mainstage production.

The next year she was cast in the musical "Cabaret," and appeared in a Second Season production entitled "Rats," by Israel Horowitz. Most recently, Lisa was cast in "The Good Woman of Setzuan," a William and Mary Theatre production.

Lisa was assistant director for the William and Mary Theatre production of "Playboy of the Western World," earlier this season and has directed Premiere Theatre and Directors Workshop productions also.

The director says she is happy with her cast and delighted with the opportunity to do "Blithe Spirit." "I read the play over the summer, fell in love with Noel Coward and wanted to do a true comedy."

It will cost approximately $1,200 to stage "Blithe Spirit," and the director is responsible for finding the funds. Lisa is getting assistance in the form of a small grant and has also applied to the Williamsburg Arts Commission for funds.

One of the challenges of the show, says Lisa, is dealing with a cast member who is invisible on stage to all but one other actor. Another is coping with being boss to other students and making sure that all aspects of the production are being taken care of. It's a lot easier being an actor, she concedes.

Yale Russian Chorus To Sing At Bruton

The Yale Russian Chorus will make a return visit to Williamsburg in a concert at 8 p.m., March 23 at Bruton Parish Church.

Tickets are $2.50 for the general public; $2 for faculty, staff and students. They will be on sale at the door.

Composed of Yale students, faculty, graduates and members of the New Haven community, the chorus is an all-male acapella group with a repertoire that covers over 500 years of Russian music including army tunes, sacred works and folksongs. The size of the chorus varies with the availability of singers to work performances into their schedule and will range between 15 and 30.

Founded in 1954, the Chorus has become a new Yale tradition. Its founder, Denis Mickiewicz, a Latvian music student, brought together colleagues like himself who shared an intense interest in Russian culture and a desire to communicate their enthusiasm through song.

Since 1958, when they first toured the U.S.S.R., they have participated in both formal and informal cultural exchange programs. The Chorus has sung on Soviet radio and television, at the famed Tchaikovsky Music Conservatory, at the ancient Kiev-Pechersky Monastery in Kiev as well as at numerous international festivals, including the Second International Festival de Chant Choral in Lille, where they won first prize for male chorus.

VSF Junior Guild Presents Bard's 'Comedy of Errors'

The Junior Guild of the Virginia Shakespeare Festival will present Shakespeare's play The Comedy of Errors this weekend.

Performances are at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 23, and on Saturday, March 24 and Sunday, March 25 at 2 p.m., Ewell 100.

The Junior Guild is a group of children 8 to 15 years old who study different aspects of medieval and Elizabethan life, including literature and the arts. To increase their understanding of Shakespeare's works, they perform his plays and serve as a support group for the Festival during the summer. Director of the group is Mrs. Cheryl Homatidis.

Tickets for the play are $2 and can be purchased at the door.

For more information call 229-5256 or 220-0295.

Richard Bland College Notes

Inspiration from old, rotted pine trees reproduced by means of black wide chisel point marker pens has produced the new series of art works at the Richard Bland College Library.

Created in the past three weeks by Susan Brown, a member of the college faculty since 1963, the collection includes 13 images plus an additional 25 smaller drawings and is entitled "Rituals: Pits and Fences."

The current show will remain in the library through April 8 when the annual Student Show will be hung. Visitors are welcome from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m., Monday through Thursday; from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Friday and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Also on view in the library cases is James Dodd's extensive collection illustrating the art of origami, "paper folding," fountain pens from the collection of Professor Lee Woodruff, and Pre-Columbian artifacts.

Lee's Retreat

Reservations are being accepted at the Petersburg National Battlefield for the 14th annual bus tour April 7 retracing General Robert E. Lee's retreat from Petersburg to Appomattox. There the surrender took place April 9, 1865.

Co-sponsored by the National Park and Richard Bland College's history department, the tour will begin at the campus with an 8 a.m. departure. Following the route taken by Lee's troops, the buses will stop at Saylor's Creek battlefield where preparations for the annual enactment of the last conflict of the Civil War will be well underway. There will be a buffet lunch at Maude's before a visit to the old

Robert Parker Featured

The January/February issue of Americana magazine spotlights the talents of Robert Miles Parker '61 who "combines artistry with a passion for preservation."

"In the outside world, Robert Miles Parker does not enjoy anything like the renown of fellow San Diegans Elton John, Jonas Salk and Ted 'Dr. Seuss' Geisel - not to mention the First Fleet. To local residents, however, Parker is a celebrity. Hardly a month goes by without fresh news of his daring deeds in behalf of old buildings and other important structures," writes Roger Rapoport.

After leaving William and Mary, Parker received a master's degree from San Diego State University in 1963. He taught art and art history in the San Diego area until 1974 when he decided to devote himself full time to his own art.

"Parker's long-standing campaign to rescue Queen Anne row houses, Greek Revival residences, barrio apartments, commercial blocks and other endangered structures is documented in his 1981 book, Images of American Architecture. . . he specializes in pinning down treasures for communities that do not realize what they have." He has a new book on Los Angeles to be published by Harcourt Brace Jovanovich this year.

Memorandum

To: Deans, Department Heads and Supervisors
 From: David H. Charlton
 Director of University Services and Auxiliary Enterprises
 Subject: Requisitioning Cutoff Date

Date: March 13, 1984

As stated in the memorandum dated February 27, 1984 from the Division of Purchases and Supply, April 30th is the cutoff date for receipt in Richmond of requisitions to be funded in this fiscal year. Requisitions affected are those exceeding $5,000 for supplies and equipment which must be processed by that office, or requisitions for printing which exceed $500.

After April 30th only emergency requisitions will be considered as an exception and must be approved by the Budget Office here and the Division of Purchases and Supply in Richmond.

In order to comply with the above, we ask that your requisition be submitted to the College Purchasing Office not later than April 6, 1984. Hopefully this will allow enough administrative lead time, production and delivery time to insure procurement, delivery and payment prior to June 30, 1984.

Urgent purchases of day-to-day supplies involving dollar values of up to $5,000 will be processed as necessary through April 30, 1984, if delivery is assured before June 15, 1984.

We trust that the schedules noted above will relieve a "log jam" of requisitions at the end of this fiscal year and prevent a reversion of funds because of undelivered supplies and equipment.

Any questions regarding these procedures should be referred to the College Purchasing Office, extensions 4215, 4279 and 4373.

book about Samuel Chapman Armstrong, founder of Hampton Institute. The son of missionaries to Hawaii, Armstrong was educated at Williams College, fought in the Civil War and rose to become a Union General. He was made director of the Freeman's Bureau in Hampton after the war and when that closed he went on to found Hampton Institute and turn his energies to education. One of the reasons for accepting the post here next year was the opportunity to continue his work on the Armstrong biography.

This will be the first Armstrong biography since 1912. Armstrong requested in his will that no one write a biography of him, said Engs, and people respected that request. "But he is much too interesting a person to let him get away with that," adds Eng.

Engs has laid the groundwork for his book with an earlier work "Freedom's First Generation: Black Hampton, Virginia - 1861-1890," a monograph on the evolution of one of America's most important post bellum black communities. It was published by the University of Pennsylvania Press, 1979.

Engs wrote his first work as a Fellow at the Robert Russa Moton Center for Independent Studies in Gloucester County. He began his current project as a John Simon Guggenheim Fellow, 1981-82.

His publications also include "Red, Black and White: A Study in Intellectual Inequality." Engs was one of ten chosen to write for a commemorative volume which was presented to his mentor, C. Vann Woodward, the dean of southern historians, upon his retirement. Engs received his doctorate from Yale in 1972 and studied under Woodward. Engs graduated cum laude from Princeton University, Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, 1965.
