

Education Series Slates Casteen

John T. Casteen, III, Secretary of Education for the Commonwealth of Virginia, will be guest speaker for the third annual "Higher Education and Public Policy" lecture sponsored by the Higher Education Doctoral Program.

Casteen will speak at 7:00 p.m., Thursday, April 12 in the chapel of the Wren Building. A reception in his honor will be held in the second floor gallery of the Wren Building following the lecture.

Those who plan to attend both the talk and the reception are asked to contact John Thelin, Director of the Higher Education Doctoral Program and host for the annual lecture series, at ext. 4312. Seating in the Wren Building is limited.

Casteen was appointed Secretary of Education by Gov. Charles S. Robb in January 1982. Before accepting that appointment he served as Dean of Admissions and associate professor of English at the University of Virginia. He also has taught at the University of California, Berkeley; Maryland State College; and the University of Delaware.

John Casteen

A native of Virginia, Casteen holds the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. in English from the University of Virginia. His publications include works of fiction, essays and books on American literary and historical manuscripts, essays and papers on medieval studies, and articles on education and public policy. As Secretary of Education of the Commonwealth of Virginia, Mr. Casteen advises the Governor on matters of educational policy, prepares and oversees the state's budget for educa-

Bellini Lecture Set April 5

Robert Severino, professor of Italian and member of the Graduate School Faculty, and the School of Languages and Linguistics at Georgetown University, will deliver the 1984 Bellini Lecture.

Severino will speak at 8 p.m., Thursday, April 5 in the Botetourt Theatre of Swem Library. His lecture is entitled "The Myth of America in Contemporary Italian Literature."

The College community and public are invited to the lecture and the reception which will follow at the Casa Italiana on Jamestown Road.

Severino was born in Catania (Italy) and has resided in the United States since 1964. He holds degrees from European Universities and is a Phi Kappa Phi graduate from the University of Illinois, in Champaign-Urbana. He has taught Italian language, literature, history of criticism and aesthetics and socio-cultural aspects of contemporary Italy at the University of Illinois, the University of Massachusetts, and, since 1973, at Georgetown University.

Severino is an active board member of several professional, educational and social associations of national and international scope in promoting Italian interests and cultural exchanges. Recently, with the full support of the Italian Embassy, Professor Severino promoted and co-ordinated a multi-media series of lectures entitled "Italy Today and Tomorrow" on behalf of the Resident Associate Program of the Smithsonian Institution, which hosted the series.

His research and publications have dealt mostly with 16th, 19th and 20th century Italian literary authors. Currently, he is editing a manuscript and related rare material he has discovered by the 19th-century Italian writer Alessandro Manzoni, and is co-editing also Festschriften

$100,000 For Faculty

The College has received an anonymous gift of $100,000 for unrestricted expendable purposes to be divided between the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and the School of Business Administration.

President Graves, commenting on the portion of the gift designated for the Arts and Sciences, said, "This is a timely and greatly appreciated gift from one of the College's most distinguished alumni. Since the gift is unrestricted, it will be invaluable in supporting the teaching and research functions of the faculty in Arts and Sciences." The funds, which will be available after July 1, 1984, have been placed in an account for use by the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Commenting on the portion of the gift designated for the Business School, Dean John C. Jamison said, "I am particularly pleased to receive this gift from a leading member of the business community who understands the importance of a forward-looking, adequately supported School of Business Administration. It will be put to good use."

The gift is representative of the pace-setting levels of voluntary gift support received through the second quarter of the fiscal year and reported to the Board of Visitors at their February meeting. Through December 31, 1983, receipts for the fiscal year were running 9.5 per cent ahead of the same period last year with gifts for all purposes totaling $2,136,164. This was led by a 20.2 per cent increase in gifts for current operations.

NEWSMAKERS

Hans C. von Baeyer, professor of physics and director of VARC, gave a public lecture entitled "The Forces of Nature" at the Science Museum of Virginia in Richmond on March 15. Publishers Weekly Internship
New York University Diploma Programs in Book and Magazine Publishing
Radcliffe College Publishing Procedures Course
Stanford University Publishing Course
University of Denver Publishing Institute

The deadline for application is April 30. Application forms are available at the office of Career Planning (Morton 140).

Applicants need not be admitted to a program at the time of application, but all awards are contingent upon subsequent admission as a full-time student.

Stephenson

John Stephenson '59 To Become New President of Berea College

John B. Stephenson, special assistant to the Chancellor and Director of the Appalachian Center at the University of Kentucky, will become President of Berea College in July.

Stephenson received a B.A. in sociology from the College in 1959. He received both his graduate degrees from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Stephenson joined the University of Kentucky faculty as an assistant professor of sociology in 1966. He was Dean of Undergraduate Studies at the University 1970-79 and has been Director of the Appalachian Center since 1979. He was awarded a Fulbright Senior Research Scholar to Scotland in 1981. He was a visiting assistant professor at the College the summer of 1964.

He has published widely and is the author of three books, Shiloh: A Mountain Community, Ford: A Village in the West Highlands of Scotland, and Appalachia in the Sixties: Decade of Reawakening, (with David S. Walls (eds.)). Stephenson was co-founder in 1975 of the Shakerstown Conversations on General Education, a continuing national invitational conference devoted to formulation of new thought on the uses and future of general education.

Stephenson is a member of the planning staff of the Governor's Scholars Program, a statewide summer program for gifting high school juniors from Kentucky. He is also a member of the Advisory Council of the James R. Stokely Institute for Liberal Arts Education at the University of Tennessee. Stephenson serves on the editorial board of Appalachian Journal and is a member of the board of directors of Appalachian Heritage.

George W. Grayson, professor of government, presented a paper on "Anti-Americanism in Mexico: Lessons for Latin America" at a conference on Anti-Americanism in the Third World, held March 22-24 in Philadelphia under the joint sponsorship of the University of Pennsylvania's Foreign Policy Research Institute and the Aspen Institute. Grayson also gave an invited lecture on "Recent Developments in Mexican Oil Policy," at the School of Advanced International Studies, Johns Hopkins University, on February 20.

Mario D. Zamora, professor of anthropology, has been named corresponding editor for the Philippines of Current Anthropology (the world journal of the sciences of man) and organ of the International Union of Anthropological and Ethnological Sciences.

Current Anthropology, edited by Cyril S. Belshaw, Professor of Anthropology at the University of British Columbia, Canada is sponsored by the Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research.

Margaret A. Browne, clinical psychologist at the Center for Psychological Services, has coauthored the chapter "Sport Psychology," which was published in the 1984 Annual Review of Psychology. Her coauthor is Michael J. Mahoney of Penn State University.

VIMS Series

The SeaVUE '84 underwater expo will feature Jean-Michel Cousteau as co-host of its film festival on Saturday, April 14 from 10 a.m. - 10 p.m. at the Chamberlin Hotel in Hampton.

Tickets for SeaVUE '84 are $6 for the seminar and exhibit sessions, $10 for the film festival or a combination ticket may be purchased for $12. Ticket order form and programs may be obtained by contacting SeaVUE '84, Virginia Institute of Marine Science, Gloucester Point, Virginia 23062 (804/642-2111 or 6131). Advance purchase of tickets is recommended due to seating limitations for the SeaVUE sessions.

Addendum to 82-83 Research Awards to Faculty:

Bynum, William L. and Jagdish C. Sanwal, Dept. of Math & Computer Science: "Design & Development of An Interface System to Drive the PUMA (unimation robot) Arms," NASA Task Order, $10,970 (5/27/83-9/30/83).

REGISTRAR

The College is initiating a search to fill the position of Registrar of the College on a permanent basis. Dr. G. Gary Ripple has been designated as the Chairman of the Search Committee.

The Registrar must be able to provide leadership for and work harmoniously with a staff of approximately 16 clerical and professional employees and additional student employees of the College, and must possess the skills necessary to oversee implementation of our most effective up to date methods and procedures, including data processing systems for registration and records maintenance. A master's degree in a field substantially related to the duties of the position is required. Deadline for applications is April 18, 1984, and applications should be submitted to G. Gary Ripple, Chairman, Search Committee, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, VA 23185. The position will be available July 1, 1984 or as soon thereafter as possible. Salary will be commensurate with experience. The College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Committee Set For Presidential Search

Don J. Herrmann, professor emeritus of education, has been named campus coordinator and secretary of the presidential search committee.

The committee is composed of seven members of the Board of Visitors including Jerry K. Jebo of Radford, vice rector; Henry T. Tucker, Jr., of Chicago, secretary; Robert J. Faulconer of Norfolk; Harriet N. Storm of Hampton; Colin R. Davis of Suffolk; Hays T. Watkins of Richmond; and Miss Anne Dobie Peebles, Rector.

Also named to the committee are Lt. Gov. Richard Davis; Vincent H. Sutlive, Jr., professor of anthropology, Scott

Donaldson, professor of English, representing the faculty of arts and sciences; John E. Donaldson from the Marshall-Wythe School of Law; John R. Thelin, School of Education; Charles L. Quittmeyer, School of Business Administration; and Dr. Robert J. Byrne, School of Marine Science. The student representative on the committee is David Fetter, a sophomore from Warrentonville, Ill.

The alumni will be represented by Herbert V. Kelly of Newport News, recently retired Rector, and Mrs. Aubrey L. Mason of Lynchburg.

First meeting of the committee is expected before Easter.

Students Prepare For Ph.D. Exams

Mohammed Saiful Huq will undergo the final oral examination for the Ph.D. degree at 10 a.m., Wednesday, April 4, in the conference room of Small Hall. This examination session is open to the public. His topic is "Electron Detachment in Negative Ion Molecule Collisions."

Final Oral

James M. Lindgren will defend his doctoral dissertation in History in the Blue Room of the Wren Building from 2-4 p.m. on Thursday, April 12. Members of the faculty are welcome to attend. The title of his dissertation is "The Gospel of Preservation in Virginia and New England: Historic Preservation and the Regeneration of Traditionalism."

Lindgren received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Dayton. He taught at the University of Dayton and Old Dominion University before entering the graduate program in History at The College of William and Mary.

President Named To Conference

President Graves has been elected President of the Southern University Conference.

The SUC was established in 1935, and William and Mary became a member in 1941. It consists of sixty-five private and public colleges and universities located in the southeastern region of the United States. All of the institutions are distinguished by the high quality of their educational programs and their commitment to the liberal arts and sciences as their primary educational focus and objective.

Dr. Graves has served as Vice President of the SUC during the past year, and was elected President at the Conference's Annual Meeting in Hilton Head, S.C., March 22-24. He will be responsible for planning for and presiding at the 1985 meeting of the SUC to be held in Sea Island, Ga., in March 1985.

Hours for Students

President Graves' open office hours for students:

Friday, April 6 4-5 p.m.

No appointment is necessary.

Entries Sought From Journalists

Nominations are being sought for two journalism awards. Each carries a monetary award.

The Rex Smith Award was established in 1960 by friends of the distinguished alumnus of the College. A prize is presented annually to a student who demonstrates academic achievement, journalistic competence, choice of journalism as a career, and participating in the publication activities of the College.

The Charles McDowell-Kays Gary Award is made possible from the earnings of a fund established by Wilford Kale, an alumnus of the College and bureau chief of the Richmond Times-Dispatch in Williamsburg. This award is intended to honor excellence in journalistic writing at the College.

At least three but not more than five samples of work should be submitted with a short biographical sketch for committee consideration.

Entries should be received by April 20 at the William and Mary News Office, 310 James Blair Hall. For further information, please call Barbara Ball, ext. 4331.

Red Cross Course

The Williamsburg-James City County Chapter, American Red Cross, will conduct the Advanced Lifesaving course each weekday afternoon, April 10 through April 27, from 3-7 p.m.

The first aid and CPR sections will be conducted in the Red Cross Conference Room and the lifesaving section will be conducted at Adair Gym. Please call the Red Cross office at 253-0228 for exact time schedule.

There is no charge for instruction. A registration fee of $25 per person will be charged for course materials. Minimum age for registration is 15 years. Pre-registration is mandatory.

To register, send check payable to the American Red Cross, 109 Cary Street, Williamsburg, indicating name, address, telephone and date of birth of the participant.

Deadline for registration is Monday, April 9.

Mental Health

The Constance Bultman Wilson Center for Education and Psychiatry, a private non-profit residential treatment center for adolescents, offers experience for undergraduate students or recent graduates. The internship is an introduction to the mental health professions and provides an in-depth practical and clinical experience. Prospective interns need not have majored in psychology, social work, education, pre-med or the social sciences to qualify. For more information, see announcement in Internship Book 4, Mental Health section, in the Career Library, Morton 140.

Virginian-Pilot/Ledger-Star

The marketing Services Department of the Virginian-Pilot and the Ledger-Star has an opening for a summer intern. The successful candidate should possess a basic understanding of advertising/marketing principles, statistics, and sales; excellent written and verbal communication skills; and the ability to write, proofread, and edit. Application deadline is April 13. For more information, see announcement in Internship Book 3, Journalism section, in the Career Library, Morton 140.

Kayo Oil Company

Kayo Oil Company will sponsor approximately twenty-one summer internships for students in Charlotte, NC, Atlanta, GA and Chattanooga, TN. More information and applications are available on the Internship Shelf in the Career Library, or contact Mary Przypyszny in the Career Planning Office, Morton 140, ext. 4427.

Watermen's Museum

The Watermen's Museum, a small local maritime history museum in Yorktown, Va., is seeking interns for the Summer 1984 session. Interns will guide tours, assist with hands-on demonstrations for children's groups, and be actively involved in the day-to-day operations of the museum. Interns will also complete one or more individual projects in areas of interests such as research, visitor surveys, and public relations. Internships are on a volunteer basis; hours to be arranged at the mutual convenience of the intern and the museum. For further information, contact Hilarie Hicks at 220-2189.

Washington

The Institute of International Education, a private non-profit educational institute, is offering internships to students with a background and interest in international relations, cross-cultural studies, international politics and languages. For more information, see announcement in Internship Book 7, Washington area section, in the Career Library, Morton 140.

Dancing with FOAM

Circle, square, and contra dances will be called for new and experienced dancers each Wednesday evening in April, from 8-9 p.m. at the Wesley Foundation, 526 Jamestown Road. Live music will be provided by Friends of Appalachian Music (F.O.A.M.). The public is invited to attend any or all of the April evening dances. There is no admission charge.

F.O.A.M. is sponsoring these dance evenings to encourage more traditional dancing in the Williamsburg area. The dances and the fiddle tunes that accompany them were popular in the 19th century. The Virginia Reel is a good example of a contra, or line dance, that many children learn in school. The movements are simple and can be learned quickly. Circle and square dances use many of the same movements and calls.

Those who have enjoyed the upbeat rhythm and old-time tunes that F.O.A.M. has performed at the Occasion for the Arts and other local events are invited to join in the April dance evenings, beginning Wednesday, April 4, at 8 p.m.

Job Search Club

A new Job Search Club is being established to help students share both job search information and emotional support during their off campus job searches.

An organizational meeting will be held at 3:30 p.m., Monday, April 9 in Morton 102. Members of the Placement Office staff will be on hand to detail the potential benefits of the club. For more information, please call Bob Hunt, associate director of placement at ext. 4604.

Theatre Season Closes With Preston Jones Play

by Lance Humphries

The William and Mary Theatre will wrap up its 1983-1984 season with Preston Jones' "Lu Ann Hampton Laverty Oberlander" on Thursday through Sunday, April 12-15. Performances will be given at 8:15 p.m., April 12, 13, and 14 and at 2 p.m., April 15 in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Tickets are $4 and may be obtained Monday through Friday, from 1-6 p.m., at the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall box office on Jamestown Road, or by calling 253-4272 during box office hours. The box office is also open each evening before show time. A two-for-one special for students is being offered opening night, Thursday, April 12.

"Lu Ann Hampton Laverty Oberlander" is the central play in Jones' A Texas Trilogy. When this comedy-drama first appeared in 1973, it was extremely popular, and a hit in regional theatres long before it went to Broadway.

The action in "Lu Ann" takes place in the small west Texas town of Bradleyville. The play opens in 1953 with Lu Ann Hampton, a young girl about to graduate from high school. This scene sets the stage for the rest of the play, as Lu Ann goes through 20 years and two husbands, hence the name Lu Ann Hampton Laverty Oberlander.

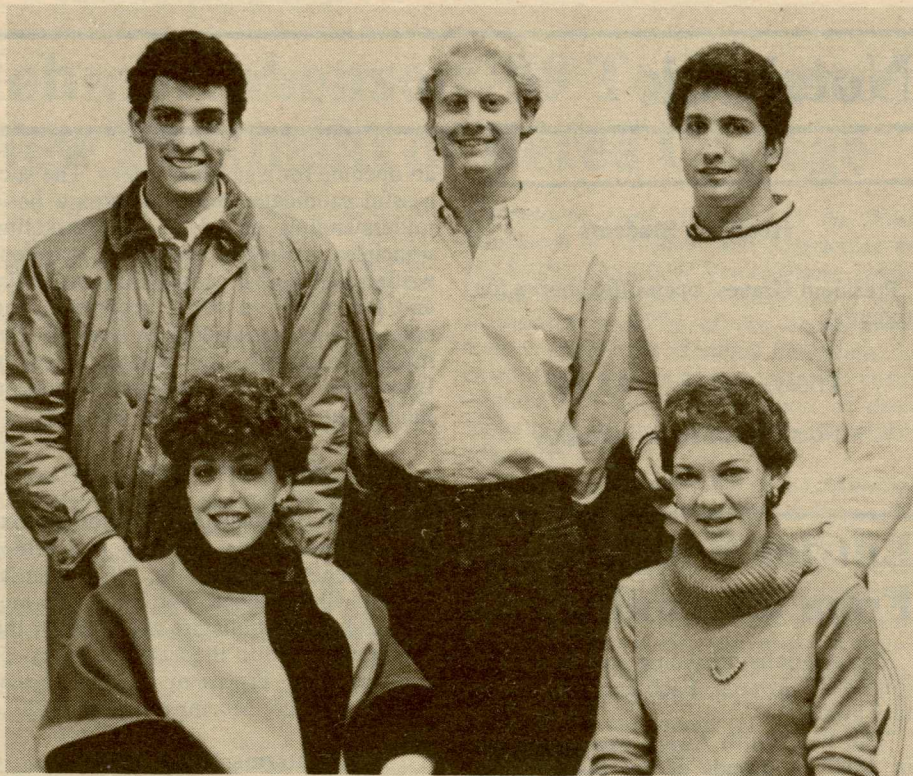

Playing a prominent role in Lu Ann's life, and also the play, is her brother Skip Hampton. Skip is a veteran of the Korean War, and is the type who is always looking for that great deal that is going to make him lots of money. As the play progresses, Skip becomes a pitiful character, who has allowed himself to succumb to his own weaknesses and total degradation of the spirit.

The title role of Lu Ann will be played by Sutton Stephens, a sophomore, making her mainstage debut. The part of Skip Hampton will be portrayed by Jamieson

Price, an actor who has had considerable experience on the William and Mary stage including Michael James in "Playboy of the Western World," Stanley in "A Streetcar Named Desire," Carlson in "Of Mice and Men," and Ross in "The Elephant Man."

The cast will also include Cara Newman as Claudine Hampton, Lu Ann's mother, and Keith Stone as Billy Bob Wortman, Lu Ann's high school boyfriend. Raymond Rector will play Dale Laverty, and Matt Ryan will portray Corky Oberlander, the first and second husbands of Lu Ann. Townspeople Rufe Phelps, Olin Potts, Red Grover, and Milo Crawford will be played by Howard Brooks, George Jack, Jim Hurt and Kurt Halow. Lucia Durrett will portray Lu Ann's daughter Charmaine.

"Lu Ann Hampton Laverty Oberlander" replaces the earlier announced "Amadeus" in the William and Mary season. Due to the tremendous commercial success of "Amadeus," the rights to produce the play are still unavailable.

The music department will present a program of Baroque music by five students at 8 p.m., Friday, April 6, in Bruton Parish Church. Musicians participating include standing (l-r) Bradley Staubes, Lance Humphries and Douglas B. Walter. Seated (l-r) Kristen R. Miller and Janice Trammell.

Amnesty Days Feature Of Library Week

Amnesty days for delinquent borrowers, classic films, and a number of guest lecturers will highlight a week of activities sponsored by the Classified Staff Association at Swem Library in honor of National Library Week, April 8-14.

The Celebration program also includes an evening of classical guitar music, a presentation of "bad" poetry readings accompanied by bagpipes, a storytelling hour and a week-long exhibit of student book collections.

episode. "Incredible Jewel Robbery," a Marx Brothers movie and a 13 minute film, "Trip to the Moon," made in 1902 will be shown April 13. Other programs are to be announced.

Thomas Edward Belvin, local historian, will speak on "Williamsburg History Since 1900," at 7:30 p.m., April 10 in the Botetourt Theatre.

Joseph Hone, Writer-in-Residence, will read from his works at 7 p.m., April 11 in the Botetourt Theatre. Hone's latest storytelling of folktales for all ages by Julia Oxrieder, Marshall-Wythe Law Librarian, at 10 a.m.; readings from James Thurber and Stephen Leacock by Howard Scammon, Professor Emeritus of theatre and speech at 11 a.m., and games to challenge the intellect by Ellen Cloyed of the library staff at 11:30 a.m. These games require no video equipment, boards or other modern or traditional game pieces, but rely instead on imagination and knowledge.

ACM Chapter Holds Contest

The William and Mary Student Chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) held a programming contest for the students of the College on Saturday, March 24.

The contest followed ACM Regional contest rules, and ran for three and a half hours. During this time, sixteen 2-person teams attempted to solve three programming problems. Four teams each solved one problem, with the winners being determined by the amount of time needed to complete the problem.

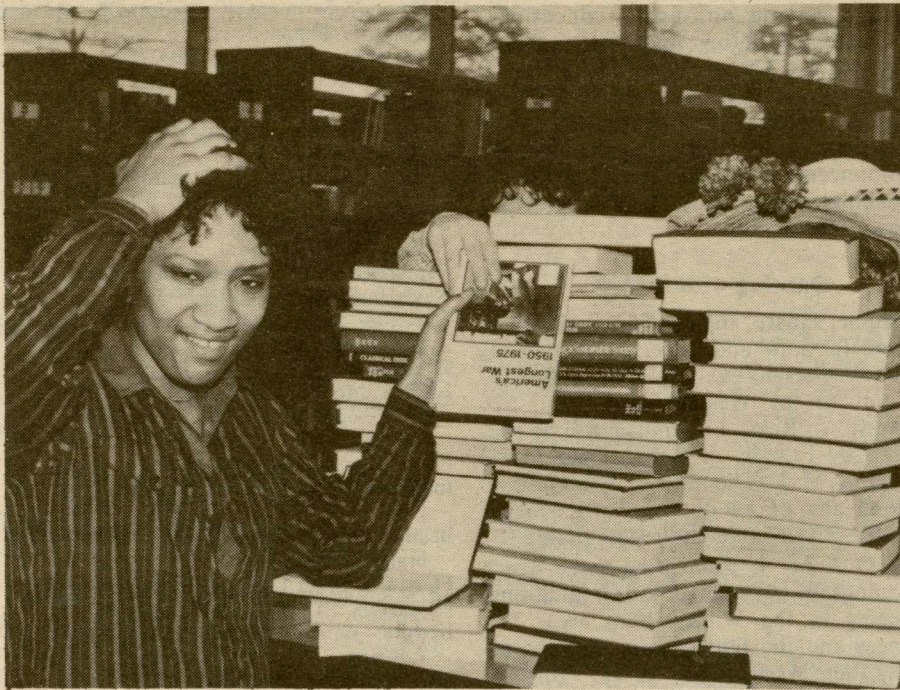

First place was awarded to the team of Joanne Atlee and Pam Krulitz, second place to Carol Walyko and Mike Fulagan, and third place to Liz White and Jim Stanley.

The Student Chapter of the ACM has sponsored programming teams to regional and national competition for several years, but this is the first time it has held a contest for its own students. They plan to make this an annual event. Results will be used to select the four-person team which will represent the College at Regional competition in October.

Correction

The names of three students who have been honored as recipients of Ranking Scholar awards were inadvertently omitted from the listing in The News last week.

The list should have included James Alan Meese, Amy Sue McDiffett and Paul Reid Cabe. These students were absent when the picture of the scholars was taken and the cutline did not indicate this.

Sheila Brown of the Circulation Department staff wonders how much the fines would have amounted to, had these two anonymous borrowers not taken advantage of Amnesty Days.

In an effort to clear out overdue files and to reclaim some valuable state property, the circulation department of the Library will grant all delinquent borrowers a three-day reprieve. Overdue books returned between 8 a.m., Thursday, April 12 and 6 p.m., April 14, will not be subject to fines. Local residents, William and Mary students and College personnel are encouraged to return any overdue books they may have.

A number of classic films from the College's Educational Media department will be shown at noon, Monday through Friday, April 9-13 in the Botetourt Theatre on the ground floor of the library. On April 10 "Bambi Meets Godzilla," "Bambi's Revenge," two shorts, and "Nosferatu," the first movie adaptation of Bram Stoker's "Dracula," will be shown. The program for April 12 will include "Shoreleave," and a Star Trek novel, "The Valley of the Fox," was published by St. Martin's Press in March.

Merle Kimball, Serials Librarian at Swem, will talk on "Genealogical Resources at Swem Library," at 4 p.m., April 12 in the Botetourt Theatre.

To the accompaniment of bagpipe music, A.Z. Freeman of the history department, Tom Heacox of the English department, David Holmes of the religion department and Bruce Grant, biology, will present a program of "Bad Poetry Readings," at 7 p.m., April 13, in Botetourt Theatre. The presenters have announced "bad refreshments to follow."

An afternoon concert of classical guitar music will be presented at 4 p.m., April 11, in the Botetourt Gallery by Tim Olbrych, lecturer in guitar, and two students, Ken Vickery and David Hart.

The program for the final day of the celebration, April 14, will include

UVA Singers Plan Concert

The Collegium Musicum of the University of Virginia will perform a program of Medieval and Renaissance music on Saturday, April 7 at 8 p.m. in the Wren Chapel. Featured vocal soloist in the concert will be the countertenor David Quitmeyer, son of Charles L. Quitmeyer, Professor and Eminent Scholar, School of Business Administrator and Mrs. Quitmeyer.

The Collegium Musicum specializes in the authentic performance of music of the Medieval, Renaissance and Baroque periods. Authenticity is achieved through the use of reproductions of original early instruments and through the application of historical performance techniques. Instruments to be used Saturday evening include viols, vielle, recorders and lute. The director of the twelve musicians is Barbara Barclay, who is on the music faculty at the University of Virginia.

David Quitmeyer, countertenor soloist, is a native of Williamsburg and a law student at the University of Virginia. The countertenor, or male alto, voice was very popular through the Renaissance and Baroque periods but fell from fashion thereafter and has only recently, with the growing public awareness of the issues of historic authenticity, achieved renewed popularity.

The program will include two 13th century English monophonic songs, a Petrarch sonnet set to music by the 15th century composer Guillaume Dufay, 16th century Italian songs, Elizabethan consort songs, and a large scale Easter anthem by William Byrd scored for four viols, two vocal soloists, and six-part chorus.

The program is sponsored by the music department. The concert is free and open to the public.

Loan Authorized

The Board authorized a $3,000 loan at 8 percent from the bookstore renewal and replacement fund to Ash Lawn, to be repaid over a ten-year period.

The money will be used to renovate for use a rental property, a log cabin on Ash Lawn property.

The College received Ash Lawn through the estate of Jay W. Johns. It had been the home of President James Monroe and is located outside Charlottesville. By agreement with the state, Ash Lawn was established as a self-supporting entity. Some renovations have been made from income generated by admissions and sales. Since the College Bookstore does not project a need for additional space until the year 2000, reserves accumulating for that proposal in the bookstore renewal and replacement fund can be loaned to Ash Lawn. Tenants in the log cabin, it was suggested, would improve security on the estate as well as generate revenue.

Action was taken to include the faculty of Richard Bland College in the plans for dental insurance established at the College.

The Board agreed to the employment of a registered architect to assess the practicality and economic feasibility of the proposed gift of the Colonial Williamsburg Publications office building to the College by the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation. The building construction dates from the late 1920's, is three stories in height, of Georgian colonial design in appearance with Flemish bond brick, and contains over 2,900 square feet of usable space, exclusive of the attic or basement.

Exploratory talks with Colonial Williamsburg Foundation personnel and an inspection of the building indicates that this may prove to be an attractive offer, Board members were told.

The gift could benefit the College since the building is in good to excellent condition with respect to its structural, mechanical and electrical systems. Once

Executive Forum Panel

Mortar Board Seeks Scholarship Nominations

Mortar Board, the senior leadership honor society is currently seeking nominations from faculty and administrators for two awards to outstanding women.

The Laurie Lucker Blount Memorial Awards honors Laurie Bount '78. The guidelines specify that the recipient must be a candidate for graduation, have contributed both to her community and campus in the area of service, have demonstrated high academic achievement, and have been a member of a women's athletic team and displayed sportsmanship and team spirit.

The Outstanding Sophomore Award "must be goes to a student who has earned a qualifying 3.0 grade point average; has high intellect as demonstrated by stimulating ideas, curiosity, and perceptiveness; has served the College community in a capacity that was exemplary to her peers; and has conveyed a positive attitude in her academic service, and leadership endeavors."

Letters of nomination must be received at Dean Jarmon's office (James Blair 210) by April 13.

African Festival Set April 12

'The Friends of Africa' at the College are organizing the second ALL AFRICA FESTIVAL DAY on April 12 in the Ballroom, Campus Center. The festivities include exhibition of African art, textiles, sculpture, African musical instruments and sampling of African exotic foods. The main attraction of the Festival is, however, the drumming performance by an internationally renowned African musician Ms. Terri Quaye of Ghana, sponsored by the Departments of International Programs (WM) and International Programs (Old Dominion University), Committee on Lectures, Office of Minority Students and History. Admission is free.

Professors Slate 'Bad Poetry' Reading For Friday The 13th

Tom Heacox and David Holmes of the English Department, assisted by A. Z. Freeman of History, will give their occasional program of "Wretched Poetry" in the Botetourt Gallery (by the statue) of Swem Library on Friday, April 13.

This is a reading of the worst poetry ever written in the English language. It culminates with the simultaneous reading of three poems about disasters by a dreadful Scots bard. The audience substitutes mutterings of "wretched, wretched" for applause.

This year it is sponsored by the Library and is part of National Library week. Introductory music will be bagpipes, bongos, or both. Ellen Cloyd of Swem is in charge of the arrangements and those selections.

Gallery Named For President and Mrs. Graves

Mrs. Jeanne Kinnamon, a member of the Board of Visitors (l), with President and Mrs. Graves and their son Andrew and daughter Eliza, enjoy the applause of friends who gathered at the Kinnamon home last week for a surprise celebration honoring Mr. and Mrs. Graves. It was announced at the gathering that funds had been raised for a new gallery in the Phase II addition to the Joseph and Margaret Muscarelle Museum which will be named in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Graves.

Anchor Splash Slated April 7

Delta Gamma will host the second annual Anchor Splash April 7, from 1-4 at Adair Gym pool. Admission is $1. Door prizes will be awarded. All proceeds will go to the Delta Gamma Foundation, which is an international philanthropy providing aid to the blind and funding for sight preservation.

The Anchor Splash events begin with the "Ms. Beautiful Eyes" contest. Photographs of the eyes of representatives of thirteen sororities will be on display in the Campus Center. Penny votes will determine the winner.

A Pre-Splash Bash at William and Mary Hall will be held April 6. Nine fraternity contestants are scheduled to compete in the 1984 "Mr. Anchor Splash" contest. A panel of sorority judges will determine a winner.

On Saturday, April 7, the Anchor Splash competition itself begins. Among this year's scheduled events are the Hangover Relay, The Kiddy Pool Caper, Push me/Pull me, Brew Thru, Go Bananas and the Surf n Turf competition. A trophy will be awarded to the fraternity team which has accumulated the most points during the competition.

Delta Gamma invites all members of the College and the community to come and enjoy the events of Anchor Splash weekend.

Senior Music Students Set April Recitals At Regional Library

Three music students at the College of William and Mary have planned senior recitals in early April at the Williamsburg Regional Library auditorium.

Cynthia Rae Fisher, a student of Sandra Vernon, lecturer in music, will give a piano recital at 3 p.m., Saturday, April 7.

Debra S. Young will perform at 3 p.m., Sunday, April 8, presenting a voice recital.

Charlotte Maureen Giles of Danville will present a piano recital at 4 p.m., Sunday, April 15.

All recitals are open to the public. There is no admission charge.

Miss Fisher is a member of Delta Omicron music fraternity and the Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship.

Her program will include Sonata in B major by Scarlatti; Prelude and Fugue in D minor No. VI by Bach; Sonata in A minor by Schubert; Intermezzo Op. 117, No. 2 by Brahms; Nocturne Op. 15, No. 2 by Chopin; and Sonata No. III, Op. 46, by Dimitri Kabalevsky.

Miss Young, a student of Mary Lou Fletcher, lecturer in music, has been a member of the William and Mary Orchestra, the William and Mary Chorus and is currently a member of the William and Mary Choir. She is a member of Delta Omicron music honorary and chairperson of the CSA Liturgy committee.

Her program will include "Solitudine Avenue" by Scarlatti with flute accompaniment by Jan Trammell; "Der Hirt auf dem Felsen," by Schubert with Colleen Cooke, clarinet; two selections from "Airs Chantes," by Poulenc; "Le Colibri," Op. 2, No. 7 and "La Cigale," Op. 13, No. 4 by Chausson; and "Songs About Spring," by Argento.

Miss Giles, a student of Claudia Stephens, lecturer in music, is recipient of Aurelia Walford and Gladys I. Clark music scholarships. An active participant in projects undertaken by the Baptist Student Union, Miss Giles has been pianist at the Walnut Hills Baptist Church of Williamsburg for the past two years. She will be assistant director of performing arts at the YMCA Blue Ridge Assembly, Black Mountain, N.C., this summer, and next year she plans to study church music at in Honor of Rocco Montano, scheduled for publication this coming Fall. His most recent contributions are in the form of a series of articles-essays for the critical survey on European drama and poetry published by the Salem Press Publications.

The Bellini Lecture Series, initiated in 1981, is named for Carlo Bellini of Florence who was named by Thomas Jefferson to the first American chair of Modern Languages at the College in 1779.

Remembrance Day Recalls Holocaust

Holocaust Remembrance Day will be observed at the College of William and Mary with a program entitled "The Survivors Among Us," at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 12 in Rogers 100.

Two Norfolk area Holocaust survivors, Stefan Grunwald and Esther Goldman, will share their wartime experiences. They will be joined by Ruth Fekete, chairman of the Holocaust Commission of the United Jewish Federation of Tidewater.

This program is sponsored by the Campus Ministries United and the Ecumenical Council.

Bowman On 'Star Wars' One Of Visiting Speakers

Robert M. Bowman, president of the Institute for Space and Securities Studies, Potomac, Md., will give a talk on "The Truth About the 'Star Wars' Proposals," at 5 p.m., Thursday, April 12, in Rogers Hall, room 100.

Bowman's visit to the campus is sponsored by the William and Mary Nuclear Disarmament Study Group.

Until July, 1982, Bowman was a vice president of Space Communications Company, which owns and operates the Tracking and Data Relay Satellite System (TDRSS). Before that, he was manager of Advance Space Programs at General Dynamics, Convair, San Diego.

Culminating a 22-year Air Force career in 1978, Bowman was director of Advanced Space Programs Development for what is now the Air Force Space Division. In that capacity he controlled about half a billion dollars worth of space programs for the Air Force. Included in his responsibilities were all the high-energy laser developments for space, the development of advanced surveillance spacecraft, including radar and infrared satellite systems and the development of advanced space vehicles.

Bowman is the author of dozens of publications in a wide variety of fields and is the recipient of numerous awards and honors. He recently wrote of his opposition to the "Star Wars" proposal in the New York Times in an article entitled

"Star Wars - Pie in the Sky," and has been interviewed by the Wall Street Journal on his views. He was recently in Richmond, speaking at the Richmond Peace Education Center.

Government Department Sponsors Talks

Darald Thomas of the George Washington University will speak on "The Spiral of Deadly Sophistication: American Arms Sales to the Middle East," at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 9 in Rogers 100.

Thomas, a former Senate aide, is an expert on military technology in the Middle East.

Qadir Amiryar, former professor of law, University of Kabul, will speak on "Islam, Nationalism and Political Opposition in Afghanistan," at 7:30 p.m., Friday, April 13 in Rogers 100.

Amiryar was a member of the committee which drafted the democratic constitution of Afghanistan in 1963/64. He taught at the University of Kabul for a number of years and is currently finishing a research project on Afghan politics.

Both speakers are being brought to campus as part of the current Middle East Speakers Series, sponsored by the Department of Government.

Anthropologist To Talk On Hinduism

Agehananda Bharati, professor of anthropology at Syracuse University, will give a public lecture on "Indian Religion in Transition: The Modernization of Hinduism," at 8 p.m., April 5 in Rogers Hall 100 under the sponsorship of the department of religion.

Agehananda Bharati identifies himself with the Hindu swami tradition but he is also one of the most controversial analysts of religion and especially Hinduism. He is Austrian by birth, Hindu by choice (he was one of the first Westerners to become fully ordained as a Hindu holy man), and scholar by profession. His many works include the following books: The Ochre Robe: An Autobiography, Hindu Views and Ways and the Hindu Muslim Interface, The Tantric Tradition, and The Light at the Center: Context and Pretext of Modern Mysticism.

Physics Speakers

Arch Thiessen of Los Alamos National Laboratory, LAMPF, will give an update on LAMPF II at the April 6 physics colloquium which will be held at 4 p.m. in Small 109. Coffee will be served at 3:30 p.m.

Robert E. Wilson, department of astronomy, University of Florida, will speak on "The Consequences of Large Scale Mass Exchange in Binary Star," Friday, April 13.

Speaker for the April 20 colloquium will be Stephen Bodner, head of the laser-fusion branch, U.S. Naval Research Lab. His topic will be "The Physics of High-Gain Laser Fusion."

Forum Luncheon

Dr. Jessie Brown, President, Virginia Foundation for the Humanities and Public Policy and Professor Emeritus, Hampton Institute, will speak on "The Women's Cultural History Project in Virginia," at a luncheon meeting of the Forum of Williamsburg at the President's House, Tuesday, April 10.

Advance reservations and payment are required. For details, please call either Julie Leverenz or Margaret Ward at ext. 4286.

Coming April 9

Novelist Ann Beattie, who had to postpone her Writers' Festival appearances due to illness, was unable to complete her make-up schedule due to the storm last week which disrupted air travel.

Ms. Beattie now plans to present a program at 8 p.m., Monday, April 9 in the Campus Center ballroom. Her workshop session will be held at 10 a.m., April 10.

Share-A-Ride

A representative from the James City County Transit will be on Campus to distribute information concerning Share-A-Ride service with interested employees.

The information booth will be located on the 3rd floor of James Blair Hall from the hours of 10:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., on Monday, April 16.

Women Propose Day Care Center

A group of William and Mary women have been working towards establishing an infant/toddler day care center on or near campus. The center would operate as a non-profit educational institution and would provide full or part-time care for children from six weeks to 2½ years old. Preference would be given to children of William and Mary faculty, staff, and students although some spaces would be available to the Williamsburg community.

A proposal requesting college space for the center has been submitted to the Space Allocation Committee. The group is in the process of creating a formal organizational structure and of investigating licensing procedures and requirements. They are also gathering curriculum and program ideas and are exploring possibilities for obtaining equipment and start-up money.

Anyone who would like to help with any phase of the planning or who would like more information should call Carolyn Helfrich (Muscarelle Museum, x4071; or 565-1663).

Increased Personal Automobile Mileage Rate

Effective March 10, 1984, the user rate for personal automobile mileage rate has increased from 20 cents to 20.5 cents per mile for all personal automobiles used in the discharging of official duties.

This increase in mileage rate for personal automobiles is in compliance with Section 4-5.06 of Chapter 622 of the Acts of Assembly of 1983, which has been amended to increase the mileage rate as directed in the Commonwealth of Virginia by Comptroller Edward J. Mazur's memorandum dated March 22, 1984.

tion, and serves as chief spokesman for education before the Virginia General Assembly. In 1982 he presented a major address on educational policy to the nation's governors. He also serves as a Commissioner of the Education Commission of the States, a member of the Board of Control of the Southern Regional Education Board, and a Trustee of the College Board.

The 1984 "Higher Education and Public Policy" lecture is made possible by a grant from the College's Committee on Lectures.

The series was inaugurated in 1982 to bring to the campus prominent spokesmen, administrators and researchers to talk on aspects of the general theme "Policy Issues in Higher Education." Speaker for the initial lecture was Arthur Levine, Senior Fellow of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. Last year's speaker was Robert M. Rosenweig, president of the Association of American Universities.

John Thelin, associate professor of education, serves as program coordinator for the series.

Employment

The following positions are open to all qualified individuals.

Admissions Office May Get New Quarters

Tyler Hall has been demolished, the building can be moved to that site. Two options are under consideration. One is to connect it to the Conservatory Apartment of Tyler Hall, and the other is to add a new wing.

The Office of Admissions has been experiencing difficulties adequately meeting with students and parents with its limited space in Ewell Hall and clearly needs additional space, separate counseling rooms, a large meeting area and more parking for its visitors. The use of the donated building and the readaptive use of the conservatory apartment, or added wing, could solve the space needs of the Admissions Office.
