Social Psychiatrist Robert Coles Next On Cosmos Lecture Series

The "Our Future in the Cosmos" lecture series, co-sponsored by the College and NASA, since 1974 continues this spring with the appearance of Dr. Robert Coles, Harvard University social psychiatrist and Pulitzer-prize winning author. Dr. Coles will speak on "Education: the Role of Family and Community" at the Hampton Coliseum on Monday, May 7 at 8 p.m. Admission is free, and tickets can be obtained by phoning William and Mary's Office of Special Programs at 253-4084 and 253-4047.

Dr. Coles has devoted years of research and field work to the problems of children and adolescents, focusing on the effects of poverty, school desegregation, and parental neglect and overexpectation. His many published works, including the multi-volume series Children of Crisis, have earned the praise of academics and laymen alike.

Coles' lecture, the first of three planned this year on the theme of education, will be followed by a question and answer period moderated by Dr. Jack Nagle, dean of the School of Education at W&M.

The "Cosmos" series is designed to raise issues of wide public interest, and to present speakers of international renown to the Peninsula at no charge. Past lecturers have included Isaac Asimov, Alex Haley, Jacques Cousteau, James Michener, and Mary Leakey.

Procedures Detailed For Wren Building

The Wren Building, the oldest academic building in America in continuous use, is a very special and unique facility. It is a constant reminder of our long illustrious history. Because of its historical significance, every attempt possible will be made to preserve the building. As a functioning College facility, the building is in constant use for classes and special events and this policy of use will continue. Because of the possibilities of extreme abuse and damage that can occur as a result of some activities, its use must be restricted to certain types of functions.

The Wren Chapel is available for use by College organizations for special programs, ceremonies, concerts, and services. The Chapel may also be reserved for weddings, christenings, bar mitzvahs and memorial services by students, faculty, staff, alumni, and immediate family members of faculty and staff, or persons who have a very special relationship to the institution.

The Great Hall and President's Gallery may be used for special meetings and programs. Food and beverage service will be restricted to events that are unique, are not recurring, and are functions of the College. All requests for the use of the Wren Building must be made in writing to Kenneth E. Smith, Jr., Associate Dean of Students, for approval. The Wren Building is not designed or equipped to handle food service without the risk of permanent damage to the building. Those limited special events which will be approved for the Great Hall and Gallery will incur extra costs associated with the special precautions required to protect the building.

Faculty Meeting Set

To: All Members of the Faculty and Administration
SUBJECT: College-wide Faculty Meeting

The Annual College-wide Faculty Meeting will be held on Tuesday, September 4, 1984, in Millington Auditorium at 3:30 p.m.

On that occasion we shall be introducing new members of the Faculty of the College to their colleagues. Deans and Department Chairmen are invited to extend special invitations to their new colleagues to attend this meeting.

A listing of new members of the Faculty will be distributed in advance of the meeting, containing brief biographical and professional information about each individual, to reduce the time of introductions. Mr. George R. Healy, as Provost of the College, will introduce all new members of the Faculty.

The meeting, which should be over by 4:30 p.m., will be followed by an informal reception in Andrews Hall Foyer, to which you are all invited.

I look forward to seeing you on Tuesday, September 4.

Zoe and I also look forward to welcoming you to the President's House for an informal brunch on Sunday, September 9, at 12:30 p.m.

I will be sending you another notice later in the summer, but I hope you will place this important meeting on your calendars now.

Young Wins Truman Award

Nancy N. Young, sophomore, Kansas City, Mo., has been awarded a Harry S. Truman Scholarship for the 1984-85 and 1985-86 academic years. Each year, one Truman Scholar is selected from each of the fifty states and U.S. Territories. Nancy is this year's scholar from Missouri.

Each Truman Scholarship covers tuition, fees, books, and room and board to a maximum of $5,000 annually for the junior and senior years of undergraduate study, and for up to two academic years of graduate study. This year's awards were made on the basis of merit to students who will be college juniors in September, 1984, and who have shown both a demonstrated interest in public service and an outstanding potential for leadership in government.

Ms. Young is a graduate of the Capitol Page School where she was valedictorian of her class, senior class president, and president of the National Honorary Society. Since enrolling at the College of William and Mary, she has been very active in school and community activities. She has served as a CENTEX volunteer, and has been elected to membership in two freshman academic and honorary societies. This summer, Ms. Young will serve as Youth Coordinator for Congressman E. Thomas Coleman's re-election campaign in Missouri's 6th District (Kansas City). A concentrator in sociology, Nancy plans to attend law school after graduation and looks ahead to a career as a judge.

Ms. Young's nomination for the Truman Scholarship was supported and coordinated by her academic advisor, Associate Professor of Sociology David P. Aday, Jr., and William L. Morrow, Professor of Government, who serves as the Faculty Representative of the Truman Scholarship Program.

Graduate Students Win History Awards

Two graduate students enrolled in the master's program in history, were awarded best paper prizes at the Eastern Virginia regional meeting of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary society in history, held at Virginia State University, March 31.

Mark Mastromarino, Londonderry, N.H., currently an apprentice in the archives and manuscript collection program at Swem Library, won an award for his paper entitled "Cry Havoc and Let Loose the Dogs of War: The Military Use of Dogs in Colonial New England and Virginia." Mastromarino received his undergraduate degree from Boston College, 1983.

Linda Sturtz of San Jose, Ca., a 1983 graduate of Carleton College, received her award for a paper entitled "The Declining Status of Women in the Burgundian Code." She is in the first year of the two-year museum management program which is offered by the College in cooperation with the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation.

Each winner received recently published historical books.

Nominees Sought For Writing Prizes

Competition for four major writing awards at the College is now open: Glenwood Clark Prize for the best piece of fiction; Goronwy Owen Prize for the best poem or sequence of poems; Howard Scammon Prize for the best play; and Tiberius Gracchus Jones Literary Prize for the best piece of writing regardless of type. Essays, orations, and other sorts of writing will be considered, as well as the genres named in the other prizes.

Each award consists of $50 and a certificate. Every entry will be judged in its appropriate class or classes.

Students may submit one or several pieces to Cecil McCulley, Tucker 303, by the deadline date, April 30. Awards will be announced at Commencement or sooner.

College Hosts CAMWS Members

The College is currently host to the 18th annual meeting of the Classical Association of the Middle West and South which is meeting in Williamsburg.

John H. Oakley, assistant professor of classical studies, is chairman of the committee on local arrangements. Other members of the classical department who have assisted with arrangements include James R. Baron, Carol C. Esler, J. Ward Jones, Lewis Leadbeater and Linda Collins Reilly.

Several hundred classics scholars are expected to attend the three days of meetings which open April 26. Registration will begin at 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 25. All events, with the exception of a reception hosted by the Mediterranean Society of America in the Great Hall of the Wren Building, will be held at the Hospitality House on Richmond Road.

Paul Helfrich, associate professor of fine arts, has had two of his tempera collages accepted into the 1984 Irene Leache Memorial Exhibition at the Chrysler Museum in Norfolk.

The Leache Show is a bi-annual competitive exhibition of regional contemporary art, sponsored by the Chrysler Museum. The juror this year was William Olander, acting director of the Allen Memorial Art Museum of Oberlin College. Olander selected 53 works from over 1200 entered in the competition.

Helfrich's tempera collages are part of a series of color collages he has been working on for the past four years. Work on this current series will continue this summer with support from a College Summer Research Grant.

The Irene Leache exhibit will open April 26 and close June 3.

Thad W. Tate's article, "The Discovery and Development of the Southern Colonial Landscape: Six Commentators," has recently appeared in The Proceedings of the American Antiquarian Society, Vol. 93, part 2. It was originally read at the annual meeting of the Society in Worcester, Massachusetts, on October 19, 1983.

Fire Alarm Newsletter

APRIL 12 Meeting

The Fire Alarm Task Force welcomed Mr. Jim Roberts, electrical engineer and consultant, at its meeting today.

The Campus has experienced 12 alarms since the last meeting. There have, thus far, been no alarms due to cooking or to vandalism. This is a welcomed improvement. All 12 alarms were designated as unknown (5) or other causes (7). Other causes included two alarms in Prince George caused by a nesting spider.

Chief Cumbee's department has printed five posters to remind residents of the primary causes of our many alarms. The posters will be placed in appropriate locations around the campus.

Mr. Roberts, the consultant, worked with Mr. Connolly and Mr. Kershner during the last week to investigate the fire alarm problem. He is presently in the process of writing his formal report, but has indicated to the Task Force many of the recommendations he will make. Some of Mr. Robert's observations were:

- The College did a good job of choosing and installing the fire alarm system. However, some problems are evident and some changes and upgrading need to be made.
- The detector heads used by the College are very good, but are possibly too sensitive for institutional use in certain kinds of units. Newer technology has made possible a detector which meets code requirements and at the same time raises the sensitivity threshold to a level more appropriate for institutional living environments.

- An Alarm Verification Circuits could be attached to the control units and ought to be considered.
- Grease traps in most of the units are filthy and a couple are missing. These ought to be cleaned and replaced. Ventilation units are made ineffective if the passageway for smoke is blocked.
- Panels could be constructed in kitchens and near fireplaces to redirect the movement of smoke.
- Some ventilation systems, such as those already being studied by Mr. John Bond, may also help.

The report from Mr. Cumbee and the recommendations and analysis of the fire alarm system by Mr. Roberts are encouraging indications that the excessive alarm problem will be lessened in the near future. The campus engineers, Mr. Kershner, Mr. Connolly, and Mr. Bond are working very hard to do all they can to help. It is obvious that many students are also doing what they can to help. Officials of the College are aware and appreciative of that effort.

VIMS Series

A slide-illustrated program on the life cycle of the blue crab will be presented at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 2, in the Byrd Hall Conference Room in the VIMS' campus at Gloucester Point.

Mike Oesterling, marine advisory specialist, will review the catching, cleaning and preparing of hard crabs.

This program is one in a series of "Oceanography and Landlubbers" presented the first Wednesday of each month.

For further information contact Ms. Mary Sparrow 642-2111 extension 298.

Pirg Recycling To Aid Charity

VaPirg is undertaking a recycling fundraiser.

Glass jars and bottles (no lids please), aluminum cans and newspapers (tied in bundles) are being collected from 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday, May 6 in the Common Glory Parking lot on Jamestown Road, adjacent to Morton-PBK complex.

Another collection is planned for May 27.

Funds from the collection will be donated to charity.

Seniors Select Honorary Marshals

The senior class has selected W. Sam Sadler, Dean of Students; David L. Holmes, professor of religion; and John R. Matthews, Jr., professor of economics to serve as honorary marshals for commencement.

Selected for their contributions to the class, the honorary marshals lead the procession of graduates from the Wren Building to William and Mary Hall for commencement exercises, Sunday, May 13.

Personnel Office Sponsors Workshop

The Personnel Office is sponsoring a workshop on Office Skills for interested employees on May 14-15. This workshop is part of a continuing series intended to provide opportunity for individuals to further enhance their work skills.

The "Office Skills" workshop is designed to further develop the management skills necessary to make the office run smoothly and efficiently. Participants will learn how to:

- prioritize
- plan their time effectively and avoid time wasting
- cope with difficult people in the office
- plan effective memos and letters
- understand the "Inner Face" of their organization

Dr. Carol Garrard will be the facilitator for this workshop. Dr. Garrard is currently a faculty member at the University of Virginia, School of Continuing Education. She has taught numerous courses on management skills and communication skills.

The class will begin each day at 9:00 a.m. in the Sit 'N Bull Room of the Campus Center. Cost is $10 per participant. Early registration is encouraged as space is limited. For further information and/or registration, please contact Charla Cordle at X4214.

Assn. For Gifted To Meet April 30

The Spring meeting of the Williamsburg Area Association for the Gifted and Talented will be held on Monday, April 30, at 7:30 p.m. in Kiva 226 of Lafayette High School. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The program will include a film, "Who are These People?," which explores the issue of appropriate educational programs for gifted students, and a panel discussion. Charles Matthews, Douglas Prillman, and Joan Byrne will react to the film from their perspectives as counselor, educator, and program administrator.

The Williamsburg Area Association for the Gifted and Talented is an organization of parents and others especially interested in the education of students identified as gifted or talented. In addition to the program, a brief business meeting will include the election of officers and school representatives for 1984-1985.

Red Cross Course

The Williamsburg-James City County Chapter, American Red Cross, will conduct the Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care Course, to include training and certification in CPR-Basic Life Support, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, April 30 through June 18, from 7-10 p.m. in the Red Cross Conference Room, 109 Cary Street.

Pre-registration is mandatory. There is no charge for instruction. Course texts and materials fee is $15 per person.

To register, send check payable to the American Red Cross, 109 Cary Street, Williamsburg, VA 23185. Registration will close at noon, April 30.

For further information, please call 253-0228.
