

The thermometer had climbed UP to zero Jan. 21 by the time students were going to class. A six-inch snow and winds straight from the Arctic gave Williamsburg its coldest day since the Stone Age. Only snowmen were pleased.

Snow ices Open House, rescheduled for Sunday

The coldest weather anybody could remember for awhile hit the College and the Commonwealth over the weekend,

Muscarelle sets kids' programs

The Muscarelle Museum of Art at the College of William and Mary is inaugurating a new program for school children of the area, to introduce them to changing exhibits of art.

Muriel B. Christison, interim director of the Museum, points out that, "Museum visits provide a form of curriculum enrichment. They develop the students' visual awareness as well as their appreciation of individual creativity or originality. Personal capacities are expanded; curiosity is stimulated; interests are broadened."

She believes that elementary, intermediate and secondary school students will enjoy visits to the Museum, and says the staff is ready to help them explore the changing exhibitions at the Museum.

Trained docents will be available to meet school classes at the Museum, by reservation, during the following days and hours: Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9-10 a.m. and 10-11 a.m.; Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1-2 p.m. Commentaries by docents will be adapted to the learning levels of the visiting classes.

Teachers wishing to schedule a school visit should write for reservations, with the Appointment Secretary, Muscarelle Museum of Art, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, or telephone her at 253-4650.

Until the new addition to the Museum building is completed, Museum visits will be based on the loan exhibitions. When the new galleries have been finished, it will be possible to install permanent collections that can be used as a resource for a structured field trip program.

APARTHEID PROGRAM

The Marshall-Wythe chapter of the National Lawyers Guild will present the film, "Last Grave at Dimbaza," a documentary on apartheid in South Africa, Wednesday, Jan. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in room 119 of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. Following the film, John Dommissie and Shirley Richardson, from the Coalition Against Racism and Apartheid, will respond to any questions on apartheid. This event is free and open to the public.

ruining plans for the Jefferson Hall Open House on Jan. 20. It's been rescheduled for this Sunday, Jan. 27, between 1:30 and 3 p.m.

The event is being sponsored by the Residence Hall Council of Jefferson Hall, just two years and one week after a disastrous fire which almost destroyed the residence hall Jan. 20, 1983. The building has been completely renovated, and students moved in this semester to new everything — furniture, carpeting, study lounges, microwaves, a handicapped ramp, and state-of-the-art fire protection.

Special guests at the Open House will be Williamsburg Fire Marshal Bob Bailey and the fire department members, who worked for hours to fight the fire in 1983 and to evacuate all students without an injury. A commemorative plaque will be dedicated at 2 p.m.

All four stories of the building will be open and students will be on hand to welcome visitors. Refreshments will be served in the lounge located on the ground floor.

The public is invited.

Capital attracts W&M students

A group of 20 graduate and undergraduate students will be selected next week to participate in the Washington Program, set for Feb. 5-7 in the nation's capital.

Emphasis this year is on the arts and the creative process.

Among activities scheduled are a tour of the Kennedy Center theaters and a rehearsal of the National Symphony Orchestra there; a rehearsal of "Camille" at the Source Theater, dialogue with the company and staff, plus a tour of the theater; attendance at "Much Ado About Nothing" by the Royal Shakespeare Company; and attendance at "Man and Superman" at the Arena Stage, a dialogue with the company and tour of the theater.

Cost is $105, which includes transportation, hotel, lunch each day and tickets to performances.

Applications by students for the program and faculty recommendations will be submitted to the office of the Dean of Student Affairs, James Blair 203B by 5 p.m. on Jan. 28.

WILLIAM AND MARY News

Wednesday, January 23, 1985
Volume XIII, Number 18

Permit No. 26
Non-Profit Organization
U.S. Postage PAID at Williamsburg, Va.

Renowned musician performs here with chamber orchestra

Over a 16-year history, the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra has earned a reputation as one of the world's finest chamber orchestras, recognized internationally for versatility and excellence in performing, programming and recording.

In 1980, Pinchas Zukerman, the renowned violinist, violist and conductor, accepted the post of music director of the orchestra. He will bring the group to Williamsburg Feb. 3 for a William and Mary Concert Series performance in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall at 8:15 p.m.

The program will feature music by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart and Franz Schubert. Included in the repertoire will be Schubert's Rondo in A for Violin and Strings, D. 438, and Mozart's Serenade in E-Flat, K 375 plus Symphony No. 41 in C, K. 555, the "Jupiter" symphony.

The Chamber Orchestra is located in the twin cities of Minneapolis and Saint Paul, Minn., in a new building, the Ordway Music Theatre. It is touring the South and Southeast this month and next, appearing in March at the Palm Beach Music Festival in Florida.

Pinchas Zukerman is acclaimed internationally as a recitalist and as a soloist with the major orchestras of the world. His 1984-5 season includes engagements throughout Europe and the United States, and appearances with orchestras of Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Chicago, Edmonton, and with the National Symphony.

His role as conductor began in 1970 with the English Chamber Orchestra and in the decade following, he conducted such orchestras as the New York Philharmonic, the Philadelphia and Boston Symphony Orchestras, the Los Angeles and Israel Philharmonics, and the orchestras of San Francisco, Vancouver and Toronto. From 1978-80, he was Music Director of the Southbank Festival in London and of the June Festival at Carnegie Hall, New York. In December 1984, he conducted the Berlin Philharmonic.

Born in Tel Aviv in 1948, Zukerman began his musical studies with his father, and at the age of eight began studying at the Israel Conservatory and the Academy of Music in Tel Aviv. With the guidance of Isaac Stern and Pablo Casals, the support of the American-Israel Cultural Foundation and scholarships from Juilliard and the Helena Rubenstein Foundation, he came to America in 1962 to study with Ivan Galamian at the Juilliard School. In 1967, he won first prize in the 25th Leventritt International Competition, launching a brilliant world-wide career.

Zukerman has also appeared in a number of television specials, "Live From Lincoln Center," "Tonight at Carnegie Hall," a PBS "Creativity" program with Bill Moyers, and most recently, "My Father Stravinsky," a PBS special in honor of Stravinsky's hundredth birthday. He also starred in a series of TV specials on his life and music, aired on PBS for two consecutive seasons. In 1983, Zukerman was awarded a national medal by President Reagan, honoring leaders in the arts.

His extensive catalogue of recordings for Angel, Deutsche Grammophon, RCA, and CBS Masterworks is known for its musical diversity and has won praise from critics around the world. In 1982, he won his third Grammy Award. Zukerman has made six recordings on the CBS Masterworks and RCA labels with the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra. The group's first recording under the Philips label came out last November.

The Williamsburg performance of the Orchestra will be for holders of season tickets to the W&M Concert Series. Some 300 tickets will be available to the public at the box office for $5 each, on the evening of the concert, or reservations may be made at 253-4557.

Pinchas Zukerman, music director of the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra

Newsmakers

The Applied Probability Interest Group of The Institute of Management Science held a meeting in Williamsburg Jan. 7-9. Jon Drew, Rex Kincaid and Margo Scnaefer, all of the department of mathematics, attended the conference. The department also co-hosted a party for attendees at the Alumni House.

Gary Kreps, associate professor of sociology, recently attended the American Sociological Association meeting in San Antonio and presented a paper entitled "Disaster and the Social Order: Definition and Taxonomy."

Dr. Frank O. Perkins, dean/director of the Virginia Institute of Marine Science of The College of William and Mary and Dr. Maurice P. Lynch, assistant director and head, Division of Marine Resources Management at VIMS, were recently appointed by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Chesapeake Executive Council to serve a two-year term on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Committee. The Council created the committee, composed of representatives of major Bay research institutes, to provide a communication link between the Implementation Committee and the scientific community. The committee is mandated to offer scientific and technical advice on the Chesapeake Bay Program implementation and cleanup initiatives.

Jon R. Tnelin, associate professor of education, serves on the editorial board of Education Studies and Higher Education Abstracts. He also served as a panelist for the State Council of Higher Education Conference on the Liberal Arts and Sciences in Richmond, Virginia, Dec. 13, 1984.

FREE COMPUTER CLASSES

The William and Mary Computer Center has scheduled a number of free, non-credit short courses for the spring semester. Space is limited, so registration in advance should be made with Lenora Rodgers at 253-4547. Classes are in Morton 244 except the Apple course, which will be in Swem G5.

Included are courses on Introduction to the PRIME and Text Processing, Feb. 7, 8, 11, 12, 14, 15, 18, and 19; Introduction to the Apple Microcomputer, Feb. 13 and 27; the PRIME Editor EMACS, Feb. 21; SPSSX, Feb. 26; and QUICKPLAN, Feb. 28.

For more information on prerequisites, call Mrs. Rodgers.

Publick Advices

Professor Edgar Williams of the music department will give a presentation on "Music and Art at the Turn of the Century," Monday, Jan. 28, at 7 p.m. at the Creative Arts House. An ice cream party will follow. Everyone is welcome.

Contractors' bids for a 6,000 square foot addition to William Small Hall were too high when opened last week. The College is seeking up to $48,000 more from state funds in order to construct the addition, which is to contain ten more offices and a physics department library. The project is designed to ease overcrowding and enhance the College's contributions to CEBAF in Newport News. There is $480,000 in the biennial budget for the addition.

Madame Suzanne Oswald of Paris, a member of the National Trust for Historic Monuments in France, will lecture Jan. 24 at 8 p.m. at the French House on "L'Histoire du Louvre." The lecture will be in French, and the public is invited. A reception will follow. She teaches art and architecture for the Sweetbriar College Junior Program Abroad.

A number of new courses have been added to the spring schedule of Special Programs at William and Mary. Some of these include elementary Hebrew, beginning conversational Russian, bicycle repair, appreciation of poetry, commodities and market trading, small craft sailing, stress reduction, and a comprehensive symposium on 17th and 18th century antiques and decorative arts. The symposium will have eight sessions led by eight experts on silver, porcelain, architecture, painting and glassware.

SELF-STUDY NOTES

In preparation for the reaccreditation visit by a committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools April 8-10, the 1984 Self-Study Report is now being finished for publication. As announced previously, the final draft will be available to the public for inspection. From Monday, Jan. 28, through Friday, Feb. 8, two copies will be held on reserve in Swem Library. Members of the College community are invited to read it prior to printing. The Steering Committee would be grateful if you would communicate typographical errors to the editor, Ted Rinehart, department of anthropology, ext. 4369. Factual errors and other matters should be brought to my attention.

Hans C. von Baeyer,
Director of the 1984 Self Study
Ext. 4471

Charltons say goodbye to W&M

One of the College's popular young couples will be leaving next week for a new life and new opportunities in northern Virginia. David and Wendy Charlton will move to Alexandria, where he will become chief business officer for the Virginia Theological Seminary on Feb. 1.

At William and Mary, he has been Assistant Vice-President for Business Affairs, and Wendy was coordinator of recruitment for the Office of Placement.

For Dave, the position at the Seminary is probably the only one which would cause him to leave Williamsburg, but the job seems to be made in heaven for him. Son of the Episcopalian Bishop of Texas, Dave once lived at the Seminary when his father was assistant dean there. While growing up, Dave moved every three years or so as his father changed parishes. The Charlton family lived in Alaska before it was a state, in Delaware, Mexico City, Connecticut, and finally, Virginia. Dave went to three high schools in four years, so was glad to settle down in Alexandria while his dad was chief academic officer at the Episcopal school. After Dave came to William and Mary as a student, his father was appointed dean of the Seminary of the Southwest, Austin, Texas, then subsequently was elected Bishop.

At the Seminary Dave and Wendy and two-year-old Wesley will be provided with on-campus housing, a definite advantage. Their house here is up for sale.

Since 1969, and except for two years when he worked at Franklin and Marshall College, Pa., Dave has lived here, so he says he feels it's his hometown. He has been a student at the College for all of those years, too, first being awarded a B.A. degree, then a master's in education. If he completes his dissertation this spring, he'll get his doctorate in higher education administration.

"I've done it the hard way," he notes, "one class at a time at night."

Calendar

THURSDAY, JANUARY 24

Town and Gown Luncheon, PBK Dodge Room, 12:15 p.m., speaker, Gilbert H. McArthur, "Arms Control and the Soviets."

Sinfonicon presents "Patience," by Gilbert and Sullivan, PBK, 8:15 p.m.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 25

Artists Reception for Gene Davis and Michael Singer, Muscarelle Museum, 5 p.m.

Sinfonicon presents "Patience," PBK, 8:15 p.m.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 26

Organ Recital, Wren Chapel, 11 a.m.
W&M v. James Madison University, women's basketball, W&M Hall, 3 p.m.
W&M v. University of Richmond, men's basketball, W&M Hall, 7:30 p.m.

Sinfonicon presents "Patience," PBK, 8:15 p.m.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 29

Women's basketball, Longwood College, 7:30 p.m., W&M Hall

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30

Men's basketball, Delaware, 7:30 p.m., W&M Hall
Guitar Ensemble, Great Hall, Wren Building, 8 p.m.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 31

Town and Gown Luncheon, PBK Dodge Room, 12:15 p.m., Amy Clampitt, writer-in-residence, reading poetry.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2

Charter Day Convocation, PBK, 10:30 a.m., speaker Dr. Donald W. Pritchard.

His dissertation, by the way, is on College food service, a topic he has become very familiar with at W&M. His paper will provide a historical emphasis on the "collegiate way," or the experience favored by the College for students to live together in W&M housing and to eat together in a College commons.

"I've spent a lot of time in the archives," he explains, "and am becoming particularly knowledgeable about the period between 1919 and 1934 when Dr. J.A.C. Chandler was president."

He also knows a lot about the present food service, since it has been one of his areas of supervision.

Dave began employment with the College as an area coordinator for Sam Sadler, Dean of Student Affairs, then was a Residence Hall assistant here. At Franklin and Marshall, a small private college in Lancaster, Pa., he was assistant dean of students, 1978-80, and responsible primarily for housing and food services. While there, he met and married Wendy, who was assistant director of admissions. When he came back to W&M, he was director of auxiliary enterprises, overseeing the self-supporting College facilities such as the Bookstore, Health Center, student residence halls, Ashlawn, etc. Then he added buildings and grounds and purchasing to his duties, and his title was changed to Director of University Services. Later, his job was increased again as he became Assistant Vice-President for Business Affairs.

"I'm going to miss Williamsburg," he says nostalgically. "Almost all of my adult life has been spent here. I have been given the opportunity to take on many challenges at W&M, and it's difficult to leave. But I am looking forward to serving the Seminary; this is the kind of job I've been pointing to."

Wendy Charlton too hates to leave Williamsburg and wonders how she'll like being a stay-at-home mother to young Wesley instead of going to an office every day. "I've worked all my life and have some trepidation about being a fulltime mom," she smiles, "but I'm sure it's going to be great." She has been a part of the W&M staff for almost four years, rounding up recruiters to match with students and graduates seeking jobs, and doing career counseling for the College.

DR. BETTY REED DIES

Dr. Elizabeth S. Reed, professor emerita of philosophy, died Jan. 17. A memorial service was held for her Jan. 19 at the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church.

She taught at the College 26 years, retiring for health reasons in 1981. In 1955 she was the first woman to get a doctorate in philosophy from Duke University. Her A.B. was from Butler University, her master's degree from Florida State University. She had taught at Butler University and the University of Minnesota before coming to William and Mary.

Dr. Reed served on major faculty committees and was active in her professional field. She served as president, vice-president and secretary of the Virginia Philosophical Association, and was a member of the Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology, the American Philosophical Association, the Medieval Academy of America and the Southeastern Medieval Association.

She was a charter member and president of the local Pilot International. She also served as a ruling elder in the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church, chairman of the Christian Education committee for eight years, and taught an adult Sunday School class for four years. She published widely in philosophical journals and presented professional papers on numbers of college campuses.

A son, Allan Reed, survives. Memorials may be made to the College or to the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church.

Rapturous maidens and a group of gentlemanly dragoons surround Bunthorne, played by Brad Staubes, in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience," to be presented Jan. 24-27, by the Sinfonicron Opera Company. For tickets and information, call 253-4272.

After 20 years of performing, Sinfonicron has "Patience"

"Patience," the popular Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, will be presented Jan. 24, 25, and 26 at 8:15 p.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

The production, run entirely by students, marks the 20th anniversary of the organization. It began in the fall of 1965 under the instigation of Bill Hinz. Phi Mu Alpha, a musical honorary fraternity here, was looking for a project and decided on a Gilbert and Sullivan revue. The idea soon expanded to include an entire production of one of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. The Delta Omicron women's musical fraternity joined Phi Mu Alpha, and the name Sinfonicron was forged from the words Sinfonia and Omicron. In businesslike fashion, the group sold shares in the Sinfonicron Light Opera Company and priced them at $5 each.

Once the necessary funds were raised, casting got under way. There was such a low turnout for the first production that the director ended up playing the lead because he didn't feel any other candidate could do it properly.

After the show, the investors in the company divided the profits, and from that time on, the two fraternities have put aside money for the annual show. They split any profits and leave a sum for the next production.

Sinfonicron is recognized by the original chapter of Phi Mu Alpha and is the only organization of its kind in the country. Sinfonicron is a light opera company, not limited to Gilbert and Sullivan, although they are the favorites.

Admission to "Patience" is $5 for the public, $4 for students, faculty and staff. Tickets are available at the PBK box office, or reservations may be made at 253-4272 for one of the three performances.

Elizabeth Clancy of Reston has the title role, while other principal cast members include Brad Staubes and Mark Aldrich, both of McLean, and Elizabeth Moliter of Falls Church. Director is Zoe Trollope, West Chester, Pa.

Employment

The following positions at the College are open to all qualified individuals. Call 229-JOBS for further information or visit the Personnel Office, 201 James Blair Hall for information and application forms between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday-Friday. An EEO/AA employer.

DATA ENTRY OPERATOR -- Unclassified, $5.09 per hour, part-time, about 35 hours per week. Location: Development Services. Deadline, 1-25-85.

CLERK TYPIST C -- Unclassified, part-time, $5.09 per hour, about 35 hours per week. Location: Swem Library. Deadline, 1-25-85.

MOTOR VEHICLE OPERATOR B (Grade 4) -- Salary range $10,587 to $14,454 per year. Location: Buildings and Grounds. Deadline, 1-25-85.

PRODUCTION CONTROL TECHNICIAN (Grade 6) -- Salary range $12,644 to $17,273 per year. Location: Computer Center. Deadline, 1-31-85.

HOUSEKEEPING SUPERVISOR A -- Unclassified, $4.26 per hour, weekends only, up to 16 hours. Location: Buildings and Grounds. Deadline, 1-31-85.

PERSONNEL ASSISTANT (Grade 7) -- Salary range $13,826 to $18,86 per year. Location: Employee Relations Office. Deadline, 2-01-85.

Meetings booklet is published

Two professors in the School of Education, Bob Maidment and Bill Bullock, have written a 50-page booklet, "Meetings! — Accomplishing More With Better and Fewer" for the National Association of Secondary School Principals. More than 35,000 copies of the attractive, pocket-sized publication have been distributed to date by the national organization.

The booklet, written in pithy style, gives 40 rules for holding successful meetings, the first being, "Meet only when it's absolutely necessary!" Suggestions for the publication resulted from a brainstorming session with advanced graduate students in education at the College, who have been professional meeting-attenders, including Robert Abdo, Marsha Krotseng, Kelli Mansel and Robert Richardson.

Both professors, both former principals or superintendents of schools before coming to William and Mary, have written previous books. Dr. Maidment's publications include "Robert's Rules of Disorder - A Guide to Mismanagement;" "Straight Talk - A Guide to Saying More with Less;" "Tuning-In — A Guide to Effective Listening." Dr. Bullock is co-author of "Management: Perspectives from the Social Sciences."

Official Memoranda

PLAN FOR SNOW AND ICE REMOVAL

In accordance with past practices, should snow and/or ice occur, the following plan for removal will be followed. Priorities listed in this plan will not be altered without compelling reason.

Students, faculty and staff are urged to exercise extreme caution when there is snow or ice on the ground, and to use primary (brick) pathways and main entrances to buildings during such periods.

Priorities are as follows:

1. Campus streets are given first priority with emphasis on intersections, DuPont bridge and the steeper inclines.
2. Entrances to student residences and academic buildings are given second priority when classes are in session. Primary walkways and access areas for handicapped residents (as identified by the Dean of Students) also are given second priority. Priority for individual buildings is based on the numbers served by those buildings.
3. Side entrances and secondary walkways will be cleared as manpower becomes available. These areas will continue to be "worked" as long as hazardous conditions exist.
4. Parking lots will be plowed when both manpower and equipment are available.
5. Unpaved pathways will not receive snow removal attention. Use of the pathways during adverse weather conditions should be avoided.

The method of snow removal (melting agents versus broom, shovel, or plow blade, etc.) will be determined by the Superintendent of Landscaping.

The cooperation of the entire College community is essential during periods when snow and ice are on the ground. Prime concern must be for the safety of students, faculty and staff. Accordingly, we will appreciate your concerned cooperation.

Lawrence W. Broomall
Vice President for Business Affairs

VALIDATION OF PERSONNEL RECORDS

By the end of January 1985, a completed form will be printed by the Department of Personnel and Training and sent to state agencies for distribution to all employees whose employment records are housed in the Personnel Management Information System (PMIS) data base. Instructions on the form will advise employees to verify the information on the form and contact their personnel office if any errors are detected. This process will allow the employee to assist in validating data which is part of the permanent state record.

Employees are requested to verify and send the forms to the Employee Relations Office as soon as possible. Employee participation in this project is extremely important, particularly since employees seldom have a chance to review this information. This data serves as a basis for many of the state's management reports, as well as reports required by the federal government. Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

If you have any questions or need any help in this important project, please call Mrs. Earleen Cook, ext. 4214.

J. H. Robitshek
Director of Employee Relations

MANDATORY STATE CONTRACT FOR AUTOMOBILE RENTAL SERVICES

The state has reached agreements with several car rental firms for discounts to state employees traveling on official business or for organizational use.

The College is using the identification card system. The identification card merely enables employees to receive the state discount. An employee may pay in cash or charge to his personal credit card and submit to state agency on Travel Expense Reimbursement Voucher. These cards are available upon request from the College purchasing office.

The mandatory contract indicates one primary vendor and two alternate contractors. The College shall use the primary contractor's automobiles for the size group listed, if available, when and where required. The primary contractor is American International Rent-a-Car. Otherwise, the first alternate contractor, Dollar Rent-a-Car, shall be used if the required vehicle can be made available. The second alternate contractor, Avis Rent-a-Car Systems, Inc., shall be used if the primary and first alternate contractor cannot make vehicles available.

Only automobiles of the following size groups are available under this contract: (1) subcompact w/ A/C & AT, (2) compact, (3) mid-size or intermediate, (4) full-size 2-door, (5) full-size 4-door.

Rentals under this contract are only for local use (returned to the renting city) and include unlimited mileage but do not include gasoline. The option to purchase additional collision insurance to cover the deductible amount should be declined. The state will accept liability for the deductible coverage.

Identification cards, directories, and copy of this contract are available in the College Purchasing Office, Old Plant Administration Building, extensions 4279 and 4215.

Sam Whitaker
Comptroller

1985 TELEPHONE BOOKS AVAILABLE

The 1985 Williamsburg telephone directories are available and may be picked up at the Campus Post Office.

Harold L. Holcomb
Assistant Director
Auxiliary Enterprises and University Services

Classifieds

FOR RENT

Housesitters wanted to share country estate. Private suite; share kitchen. Mature couple (fac./staff) preferred. Waterfront, outdoor space. 30 minutes from campus. $250 per month plus util. & deposit. Contact Dr. Cole, Chanc. 120 or 229-7883. 1/23

In Richmond, share my comfortable, furnished home while I go to school in Williamsburg. Near Byrd Park. $250, some utilities. Inquire evenings, 353-0859.

Townhouse for rent; Shellis Square; 3 bedrooms; 1½ bath plus lavatory; range; refrigerator; dishwasher; disposal. Call 253-4395 or 229-3696.

3 bedroom house in Nelson Park. Central air, new furnace. Stove, refrigerator. Fenced yard. Closed garage. 1 yr lease. $450/mo. Call 220-1581, 6-10 p.m. 2/6

FOR SALE

CALCULATOR, printing, electric, office size. $20.00 Call 253-0033, after 5 p.m. 2/6

Well-maintained 1973 Buick Le Sabre; 455 cu in.; full power; $750 firm. Call Lance Harrington, 220-2893.

Lab puppy, AKC reg., black female, wormed and shots. Beautiful dog! $150. Telephone 229-5268. 1/23

LOST

SEIKO white gold lady's watch with yellow gold stripes. Lost near James Blair Hall. 1/23

Gold bracelet with three-color gold lost Thursday night in either Bryan or frat area. Great sentimental value. REWARD being offered for return. If found, contact Lisa, 220-3882.

FOUND

A woman's watch in front of Old Dominion Hall. Call or see Jamie to claim, ext. 4254, OD 335.

MISCELLANEOUS

Need your house or apartment cleaned on a weekly or every other week basis? Call 877-3840 and ask for Joan. References available. 1/30.

Spend a wonderful vacation (end of May to beginning of June) in sunny Greece this spring. Visit several historical sites on a 4-day guided classical tour and enjoy Athens and picturesque Greek islands including Crete and Rhodes. Total cost: $1450. Details, call Julia Ruzicki after 6 p.m., 229-7886.

WANTED

CEBAF needs a secretary-technical typist for general office chores and to operate a scientific word processor. Send resumes to Anne Stewart, CEBAF, 12070 Jefferson Ave., Newport News, VA 23606 by 1/31/85. 1/30

CUSTODIANS ARE RECOGNIZED

Four custodians at the College of William and Mary have been honored as Housekeepers, three for October, November and December 1984, and one for the entire Fall 1984 semester. The awards were presented during a brief ceremony Jan. 18 at the offices of Buildings and Grounds.

Pictured with Sam Whitaker (left), College Comptroller, and Roy Williams (right), assistant director of Buildings and Grounds, are from left: Eleanor V. Johnson, who works at the Wren Building and the Brafferton, is supervised by Josephine Strong, has been employed at the College since June, 1969, and was honored for December; Edmonia Partlow, who works at Ewell Hall, is supervised by Lillian McCoy and has been employed at the College since October 1971, honored for October; Ilona L. Wilkins, who works at Sorority Court, Brown Hall and the College Apartments, supervised by Joyce Butler, employed at the College since March 1983, and honored for the Fall, 1984, semester; and Saxton Ashlock Sr., who works at William and Mary Hall, is supervised by Philip Williams and has been employed at the College since March 1984, honored for November.

Mrs. Wilkins received a $50 award along with her certificate. She has won awards twice before for her work, in June 1983, and August 1984. Mrs. Partlow was previously honored in March 1980, and Mrs. Johnson received an award for her work in July 1983.

INTERNSHIPS OPEN

The Office of Career Planning has new internships for spring with these organizations: Child Development Resources, Williamsburg Task Force on Battered Women, The National Center for State Courts, Colonial National Historical Park, Williamsburg Chamber of Commerce, Wheat First Securities, and the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation.

Full job descriptions and applications are available in the Career Planning Office, 140 Morton Hall. Students from all majors are encouraged to apply for job requirements vary. Several sponsors are seeking students with strong writing skills to assist with in-house newsletters. The Colonial National Historical Park needs someone to research and prepare guided walking tours of Jamestown and Yorktown. There are also opportunities for students to participate in fundraising campaigns, work with the media, do corporate research for private foundations, and help develop educational training programs. Wheat First Securities is looking for a senior interested in a career in the securities field to work with their administrative staff and brokers.

For more information call Sharon Thelin at ext. 4329. Application deadline is Monday, Jan. 28.

AUDITIONS SET

Auditions for the French play "Cinemasacre" will be held on Tues. and Wed., Jan. 22-23, in Washington 313. Crew members are also needed. For more information, contact Professor Clare Mather, x4293, or stop by Washington 315. Previous theatre experience is not required.

He eats often at the College

Gary Hochstetler is Shamrock Food Service's new food service director at the College, but he isn't a stranger to the campus. He has been in the area for about three years, serving as a regional representative for the large food service organization, so he's been around Williamsburg a lot.

He began his career as a student, working in the college cafeteria. He became student manager in 1974. When he graduated with a B.S. degree in 1975 from Eastern Mennonite College in Harrisonburg, he entered Shamrock's manager trainee program, receiving training in all aspects of food service management, particularly quality control. After his training period, he managed Shamrock units at a retirement facility in Iowa and at a college. He was then given additional responsibilities for other accounts where he gave technical and management support.

Gary Hochstetler

Gary developed a system of computerized financial controls for clients he supervised, and developed and administered regional competitive purchasing contracts. He had additional marketing responsibilities which involved surveys and proposal presentations.

He has definite plans to improve the food and the service at William and Mary. Some of the things he has in mind will be conversion of the grill line to a short order line for a greater variety of quick foods, and the addition of the sandwich of the day to offer specialties. He'd like to have more participation by faculty and students in the food service at the college. Less than half the students are on the meal plans, or around 2,300.

Gary is interested, too, in hearing complaints. "We try to provide a good variety of foods," he says. "If certain items are unpopular, we'll take them off the menu."

He feels today's students are more nutritionally attuned to meals than were their parents, and they particularly desire healthy foods. He meets with the Food Committee, a group of students, faculty, and administrators, once a month to work out food preferences.

Campus Spotlight

Another project he proposes is to increase his employees' job knowledge, and to "increase their joy in working, and their morale," he notes. "What I want are changes for the better, not changes for change's sake."

The Shamrock Corporation serves five colleges among its clients: Birmingham-Southern, Florida Southern, Rhinehart, Eastern Mennonite and William and Mary.

He hears that the president-elect of the College, Dr. Paul R. Verkuil, and Mrs. Verkuil, are very interested in and used to fine food, and says he is looking forward to working with them.

A bachelor, he eats a lot of his meals at the College. "I try to sample the different facilities, the Wig, The Commons and the Colony Room, to see what's going on."

How does he like the College food?

"I think it's pretty good," he grins, "but I may be prejudiced."

EXHIBITIONS

Sheridan Gallery, Muscarelle Museum of Art, "Environmental Installation" by Michael Singer, Jan. 24-March 18. Reception Jan. 25, 5 p.m.

Spigel Gallery, Muscarelle Museum of Art, "Child and Man," by Gene Davis, through Feb. 25. Reception Jan. 25, 5 p.m.

Andrews Gallery, "Wall Constructions" by Keith Long, through Feb. 15.

Andrews Foyer, paintings by Ross Weber, through Feb. 15. Lecture by artist, Jan. 29, 4 p.m., Reception 5 p.m.

Andrews Hallway, sculptures by students, Fine Arts Department, through Feb. 15.

WILLIAM AND MARY News

The William and Mary News is published weekly by the Office of University Communications during the academic year, except when the College is in recess, and twice each month in June, July and August.

Tina Jeffrey, editor
Publications Office, production
News deadline: Fridays, 5 p.m.