

NEWS

Wednesday, April 24, 1985
Volume XIII, Number 30

Permit No. 26
Non-Profit Organization
U.S. Postage PAID at Williamsburg, Va.

Friday is last day to give to student aid project

College determination to hike student financial aid this year got a positive boost during the first three days of the effort when 54 members of the staff and faculty of William and Mary pledged $9,172.

Vinson H. Sutlive, Jr., chairman of the advisory committee on University Advancement, expressed his pleasure at the quick response to letters which

R.O.T.C. unit is one of best in the nation

In competition against all other American colleges with R.O.T.C. programs, William and Mary's R.O.T.C. has been named one of the 15 best in the nation.

This is the first year of a program by the Army to formally recognize top units. The Army Chief of Staff noted that the William and Mary R.O.T.C. received the designation because of the quality of performance by students and instructors, the performance of graduates after entering the U.S. Army, the quality of support by the College for the R.O.T.C. program, the academic excellence and extracurricular activities of its students. Overall excellence was the criterion used for William and Mary's award.

The certificate will be presented May 11, during commissioning ceremonies at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

The outstanding record of William and Mary's and its Christopher Newport College extension center's R.O.T.C. students at summer camp last year helped win the designation for the instructor group here, according to Col. R. Robert Goodhart, professor of military science at William and Mary. The schools finished tenth out of 111 colleges on the East coast in 1984. Academic merit and the many leadership activities of R.O.T.C. students also helped focus attention on the unit, as members won honors as officers of campus organization, membership in Phi Beta Kappa, and appointments as Presidential Aides.

"I couldn't be more pleased," said Colonel Goodhart. "It's very much a reward and a personal satisfaction. And it's a good way to go out!"

He is being transferred this summer to Washington, D.C., where he will become a member of the Department of Army staff for the Assistant Secretary of Defense, for transportation and energy policy. A graduate of William and Mary in 1965, he has headed the William and Mary R.O.T.C. program for the past four years.

went out last week to College employees asking them to join in the effort. The program hopes to collect enough money and pledged payroll deductions to fund several more scholarships for incoming graduate and undergraduate students in the 1985-86 school year.

Professor Sutlive reminded employees that the effort ends Friday, April 26, and those who plan to contribute should do so by that date. On Monday, he was busy opening envelopes containing pledge cards and says he doesn't mind how much time it takes to handle all his mail. "Just keep those cards and letters coming, folks!" he declares.

William and Mary falls $1.5 million short of meeting the demonstrated need of undergraduates for financial aid, and 80 percent short of meeting the demonstrated need for financial aid to graduate students. The decision to conduct an in-house drive for funds was made after a report of the Task Force on Student Financial Aid pointed out the low level of student financial aid. Many topflight students are failing to enroll at the College because there is not enough aid for them, according to Sutlive. He

Board to consider tuition increase

The College's Board of Visitors will meet here this weekend to consider routine matters concerning budgets and appointments. A tuition rise for 1985-86 is to be discussed, to bring College charges in line with dictums established by the General Assembly. Most state-supported colleges in Virginia have already announced increases in tuition and required fees.

Tuition was raised 18.8 percent for in-state undergraduates in 1984-85, 18.9 percent for out-of-state students, with a 10.8 percent hike in the general fees, which support intercollegiate athletics, student activities, auxiliary services, academic support, and debt service.

The Board of Visitors will meet Thursday evening, and will continue all day Friday. On Saturday, members will be transported by bus to Charlottesville, where they will be feted at a luncheon at Ashlawn-Highland and will participate in ceremonies observing the 10th anniversary of ownership by the College of the historic property. They will return to Williamsburg that evening.

Rachel Walker, left, of Staunton, and Sheila Cunneen, Cinnaminson, N.J., are Governor's Fellows and will work this summer in Richmond with Gov. Charles S. Robb's Cabinet. Sheila, right, is Candlelight Commencement speaker May 11.

1985 Commencement speakers are named

Seniors Lisa L. Willis and Sheila Cunneen have been named as Commencement speakers this year.

Lisa, from Atlanta, Ga., will deliver the valedictory address at exercises on Sunday, May 12, in William and Mary Hall. Sheila, from Cinnaminson, N.J., will speak at the Candlelight Ceremony on Saturday, May 11, at 9:30 p.m.

They were chosen in a competition open to all candidates for degrees in 1985. Applicants had to submit a paper, which the Commencement Committee used to select five finalists. After each of the finalists delivered an oral presentation, the committee selected Lisa as speaker, and the executive committee of the senior class chose Sheila.

The seniors have also asked W. Sam Sadler, dean of student affairs, and Dr. John F. Lavach, School of Education, to speak at the Candlelight Ceremony.

Shadow lurks over his writings

Who knows? The Shadow knows. But not even the man who wrote many of the original scripts for the classic 1940s radio show knows as much about "The Shadow" as some contemporary fans of the program.

So says Eric Arthur of Williamsburg, whose distinguished writing career also includes credits from "Gang Buster," "Counterspy" and "Grand Central Station" on radio, and "Kraft Theatre," "Armstrong Theatre" and "The Kate Smith Show" on television.

Though he hasn't written for live radio in 30 years, the popularity of the old show still brings surprises. "I got a knock at the door late at night," said Arthur, "and this guy says he's heard that I was a writer for 'The Shadow' and begs me to let him in."

The night visitor amazed Arthur by his knowledge of the program. "He knew by name every script that I had written," Arthur laughed. "I didn't even know them," he said.

Although flattered by the adulation, Arthur plays down his association with some of radio's most famous shows. "You didn't think of yourself as working in 'the golden age of radio,'" he said. "It was a way to make a buck to keep the family going."

Over the years Arthur and his wife, Mildred, have both utilized their writing talent to keep the family going. Mildred got her start with a short story sold to Ellery Queen mystery magazine. Her effort won a prize as the best first-published story that year. Later it was adapted for the popular "Lights Out" TV program by none other than Eric and won another award as the best of that series.

Mildred has gone on to author many short stories and several children's books. She also works as a senior hostess and interpreter for Colonial Williamsburg. Eric moved into documentaries and film production at Fort Eustis.

Currently they are each writing a novel, and together they are preparing to teach a "Fiction Writing Workshop" for the College of William and Mary's Office of Special Programs starting May 4.

"No one can really teach someone to be a writer," said Arthur. "However, we can teach techniques that will help those who really work at it," he said.

With 12 years of experience in teaching for Special Programs, the Arthurs have perfected their team-teaching methods. "We bounce ideas back and forth, sort of like ping pong," Eric said. "The interesting thing is that our own styles are so incredibly diverse," added Mildred.

Their goal in teaching is simple: "We want to get people so excited they'll be anxious to go home and start writing; we want to give them the impetus to move ahead," said Mildred.

Who knows? Maybe a new writer will emerge from one of their classes and scale the heights of the publishing world. Only the Shadow knows.

— Bob Jeffrey

Service Day plans cleanups

The improvement of the Matoaka Lake amphitheatre will be one of the projects planned for Saturday, April 27 when students of the College will join with more than 50 local organizations participating in Public Service Day. The public is invited to help clean up the former site of the long-running outdoor drama, "The Common Glory."

Those who are interested in helping can contact the following for further information: Sheila Cunneen, 229-7943; Liz McCloskey, 220-0425; Mike Lang, 253-4397; or Monica Tetzlaff, 253-4249.

Newsmakers

Clyde A. Haulman, associate professor of economics, has been awarded a Fulbright grant to lecture at Wuhan University, People's Republic of China for the 1985-86 academic year.

David H. Finifter, associate professor of economics, was recently awarded a grant from the U.S. Department of Labor and Westat, Inc., to complete research on methods of evaluating training programs using longitudinal data bases. Finifter attended two meetings of the Job Training Longitudinal Survey Technical Advisory Panel held in Washington, D.C., during Jan. and Feb. He served as adviser to the panel and presented his own paper, "Estimating Net Earnings Impact of Federally Subsidized Employment and Training Programs: What Have We Learned and Where Do We Go From Here?"

On March 23, Cirila Djordjevic, professor of chemistry, presented a paper at the fifth annual Seminar of Cancer Research in Virginia held in Norfolk. The paper, coauthored by G.L. Wampler, M.D., from MCV, was entitled "Antitumor Activity and Toxicity of Peroxo Heteroligand Vanadates (V)."

Using ultra-rapidly growing bacteria of a type discovered at William and Mary last fall, Sungae Cho, Susan Scharpf and Mark Franko, students in biology, determined the degree to which a gene was turned on. Their paper, written in conjunction with Carl V. Vermeulen, associate professor of biology, has been accepted for publication in the international, reviewed journal Biochemical and Biophysical Research Communication. Their article is entitled "The Effect of IPTG Concentration on Lac-expression in Steady State E. coli."

Steven L. Schooner, a third-year student at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, recently published "The Davis-Bacon Act: Controversial Implementation of the Fifty-Percent Rule," in The Construction Lawyer 5, no. 3 (Jan. 1985). An abridged version of the same article appeared in The Employee Relations Law Journal 10, no. 4 (Spring 1985).

Robert D. Newman, professor of English, has an article entitled "The Visual Nature of Skelton's 'The Tunnyng of Elynour Rummyng'" in the current issue of College Literature and a review of Inverted Volumes Improperly Arranged: James Joyce's Trieste Library by Michael Gillespie in the current issue of Irish Literary Supplement.

A book by James C. Livingston, Department of Religion, entitled Religion and Government in Other Countries was recently published by the University of North Carolina Press. The book is one of four published by the University as part of a program on Church, State, and the First Amendment: A North Carolina Dialogue. The project is supported by a major grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. Mr. Livingston's book is a comparative study of church-state relations in a number of European and Middle Eastern countries, including England, Germany, France, Russia, Israel, and Iran. The study uses a typology of church-state relations from theocracy to radical separationism.

Bruce A. McConachie, associate professor of theatre and speech, presented a paper on "Popular Drama as Ritual Experience" at the American Culture Association Convention this spring. He also accepted the ACA's invitation to serve as chairman of the "Drama" area for forthcoming conventions.

Portia Payne, a second-year student in the Psychology Department's predoctoral M.A. program recently presented a paper entitled, "Multiple causes and the principle of discounting: A linear or nonlinear function?" in a session on Attribution Processes at the meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association in Boston. Another second-year student, Nalini Ambady, also presented a paper, entitled "Attitudes toward insanity, subject gender, and perceptions of two insanity defenses," in a session on Forensic Issues at the same meeting. Travel expenses for both students were supported in part by the College's newly created fund for student participation in professional meetings. Ms. Payne will continue her training in psychological in a doctoral program at Lehigh University in the fall; Ms. Ambady will continue her studies in a doctoral program at Harvard University. Professor of psychology Kelly G. Shaver was a co-author on both papers, and on a poster entitled "Initial position, personal control, and attributional augmentation of persuasive communication on nuclear disarmament," presented at the same meeting by John H. Fleming, a former William and Mary undergraduate student now in the social psychology doctoral program at Princeton University.

Four faculty members attended the meeting of the Southeastern Nineteenth Century Studies Association April 11-13 in Atlanta and presented papers. Theme of the conference was "Utopian Idealism in the Nineteenth Century: Visions of the Better Life." Margaret Freeman, music, had as her topic, "Butler's Handel and Italy: The Gentle Utopia of Alps and Sanctuaries." James Kornwolf, fine arts, spoke on "Tuxedo Park as a Manifestation of Utopian Idealism Through the Aesthetic Movement;" Elsa Nettles, English, on "Thwarted Utopians: The Shakers in Nineteenth Century American Fiction;" and Robert Scholnick, English, on "Edward Livingston Youmans: Apostle of Science."

Miles Chappell, professor of fine arts, gave a paper, "Seventeenth Century Florentine Portraiture: from Alessandro Allori to Carlo Dolce" at the "Approaches to Portraiture" symposium held April 13 at the Wadsworth Atheneum, Hartford, in conjunction with the exhibition, Baroque Portraiture in Italy. Chappell also gave a paper, "Perino del Vaga and Michelangelo," at the Virginia Art Historians Symposium at Longwood College, March 23. He attended the "Age of Caravaggio" symposium held March 31-April 1 at the Metropolitan Museum in conjunction with the exhibition of the same name.

From May 5-12, Professor Bob Maidment, School of Education, will direct accreditation visits to American schools in San Jose, Costa Rica and in Managua, Nicaragua. Maidment is serving as a representative for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, Atlanta.

Members of the department of sociology participated in the 48th annual meetings of the Southern Sociological Society in Charlotte, N.C.: Lawrence Beckhouse organized and presided over the section on marriage and the Family. Gary Kreps presented a paper on "Classical Themes, Structural Sociology, and Disaster Research." David Aday delivered a paper on "Inter-rater Reliability in Organizational Surveys." Satoshi Ito presided as chairman of the Committee on Racial and Ethnic Minorities. Wayne Kernodle was involved as a member of the Site Selection Committee and Elaine Themo was active in the Katherine Jocher Award Committee sponsored by the Sociologists for Women in Society.

Jock likes 18th century music

Jock Darling

Campus Spotlight

Every Saturday at 11 a.m., without fail, the 18th-century organ in the Sir Christopher Wren Chapel at the College of William and Mary peals forth its 18th-century music. It is one of the longest-running free organ recitals in the country.

Organist James S. "Jock" Darling, instructor in organ at the College, is usually the organist. Music for the half-hour concert is 18th century, the type that would've been known in colonial America, and consists of works by Stanley, Handel, Boyce, Scarlotti, and Arne. Sometimes Brahms' preludes are performed, to show off the beauty of the instrument.

The organ dates from 1760, and is ascribed to John Snetzler, a prominent organ builder in England in the mid-18th century. He built several instruments for the colonies, but this one came out of Kimberly Hall, in Norfolk, England, and was restored by Douglas Brown, of the Charles Fisk Company. It has been in the Wren Chapel since 1970. Many parts of the organ are original. There is only one keyboard, typical of organs of the colonial era, and the colors of the keys are reversed, or "skunktailed," Darling says, "the sharps

TWO COACHES NEEDED

The College is looking for two coaches for the 1985-86 season. One is for the men's varsity tennis team, the other for the men's varsity baseball team. Applicants should have a baccalaureate degree and teaching or coaching experience in the sports.

Each coach will be responsible for all aspects of the two programs, including scheduling, organizing and conducting practices, matches, and conditioning; teaching skills, techniques, tactics and strategy; recruiting prospective student athletes; and discipline.

Application deadline is May 10. Applications should be sent to Jim Copeland, Director of Men's Athletics, College of William and Mary, P.O. Box 399, Williamsburg, Va. 23187.

Employment

The following positions at the College are open to all qualified individuals. Call 229-JOBS for further information or visit the Personnel Office, 201 James Blair Hall, for information and application forms between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday-Friday. An EEO/AA employer.

LABORATORY MECHANIC B (Grade 6)--Salary range $12,644 to $17,273 per year. This is a restricted appointment. Location: VIMS (Physical are white, the keys are black; Darling explains this was a way of saving the cost of putting ivory on a lot of keys vs. just a few. There are 293 pipes, almost all original, an original wind chest holding them, but an electrically powered blower to provide the wind. There is no pedal keyboard, so Darling can't play Bach compositions on it. But neither could the 18th-century English musicians, who weren't familiar anyway with Bach's music requiring pedals.

The organ is owned by Colonial Williamsburg, which sponsors the concerts.

Response to the free musicals is good, Darling asserts. Audiences have consisted of anywhere from three or four persons to an overflow crowd at Christmastime.

Usually there are around 30 to 40 people present, nearly all from out of town. Darling chats with them informally about the instrument and the selections and after the concert invites them to come upstairs and see the ancient organ.

One Saturday in the winter of 1980, Darling recalls, the snow was eight inches deep. It looked like more would fall any second, and the temperature was in the low 'teens. He told himself that absolutely nobody would come to a concert on a day like that. However, he did inch his car out of the icy driveway at home and drove to the College. At 11 a.m., there was nobody else in the Chapel except Darling. He thought as long as he was there, he'd play one piece just to give the organ a workout. In the middle of it, five tourists from New England strode in, shaking the snow from their boots. A few moments later, six sailors on a weekend pass from Norfolk showed up, and by the time Darling completed the first number, there were several benches full of appreciative music-lovers.

Darling says it's good for the organ to be played. Using it keeps the instrument from getting stiff and keeps it in shape. Just like a person, the organ needs exercise to keep it healthy, and it pays off. The instrument has had to be tuned only several times in the past 15 years.

There are many weddings held in the Chapel each year, and a list is available of approved organists to play the valuable old instrument. The age and antiquity of the organ dictate that only those familiar with it are able to operate it.

Darling wears three hats in Williamsburg, or rather, three wigs. He is not only a teacher of music at the College, but is organist and choirmaster for Bruton Parish Church, built in 1715, and is music consultant for Colonial Williamsburg. He plays about 100 organ concerts by candlelight during the year, and is a member of the ensemble which performs by candlelight in the spring and fall in the ballroom of the Governor's Palace at Colonial Williamsburg. He has been active in the music recording program of Colonial Williamsburg and has made radio tapes of colonial music for public broadcasting use by the Foundation.

Oceanography and Environmental Engineering). Deadline May 4.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR OF INTRAMURALS AND CAMPUS RECREATION (12-month appointment with full benefits)--Salary range $15,000 to $17,000 per year. Location: Department of Intramural and Campus Recreation. Deadline May 17.

The newly appointed director of the Muscarelle Museum of Art, Mark M. Johnson, and Mrs. Johnson were on campus recently. Johnson, now assistant director of the Krannert Art Museum at the University of Illinois, will assume his new job in June. He and Mrs. Johnson, expecting their first child in July, will live at the Oaks on Henry.

Publick Advices

The Marshall-Wythe School of Law will join with the Williamsburg-James City County Chapter of the American Red Cross to sponsor a bloodmobile visit to the National Center for State Courts, 300 Newport Ave., Tuesday, April 30, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Appointments may be scheduled by calling the Red Cross at 253-0228.

The Inter-Faith Council at the College is sponsoring a fast this weekend to raise money to help with famine relief efforts in Third World Countries. The fast will start Friday, April 26, after breakfast, and will end Saturday, April 27, with donuts and juice at Bruton Parish House. Participants will obtain sponsors to pledge money for every hour fasted. A benefit concert for famine victims in Africa took place last Saturday, April 20, to raise money through the musical talent of eight groups.

The Flat Hat, William and Mary's student newspaper, has been named the best weekly student paper in the nation by the Society of Collegiate Journalists. The group also chose the William and Mary Review as the second best literary magazine in the competition.

The journalism society has over 100 active chapters, and is the oldest collegiate journalism society in the country.

Nineteenth-century German drawings from the Frederick and Lucy S. Herman Foundation are opening Wednesday, April 24, at the Spigel Gallery in the Muscarelle Museum of Art. A preview is scheduled from 5-7 p.m., April 24.

There will be 28 drawings in the exhibition. They are on view Monday-Friday from 10 a.m. til 4:45 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, from noon til 4 p.m. The public is invited.

The Student Association and Jem International are looking for a person to be refrigerator director next year. Hours are flexible and pay is $4 per hour, plus 50 cents per rented refrigerator, plus use of a refrigerator. No heavy lifting required. The S.A. is looking for someone who is able to manage people and coordinate dropoff and delivery of refrigerators. Applications are due May 1 in the S.A. office.

Bicycles left on college property during the summer session will be considered abandoned property and will be confiscated.

For additional information, please call the Campus Police Department at ext. 4596.

Students seeking postgraduation employment can take advantage of some new information available through the Office of Placement.

Surveys completed by 1984 graduates enabled the office to compile a list of companies that do not interview on campus, but hire William and Mary graduates. When questioned about employment opportunities, many companies expressed an interest in reviewing resumes of 1985 graduates.

Announcements regarding these companies and deadline dates to submit resumes are posted on the bulletin board outside the Office of Placement. Companies interested in interviewing individual students have the option of contacting them directly or arranging meetings through the Placement Office.

Jill A. Pryor, a senior from Etters, Pa., has been awarded an Exceptional Student Fellowship Award from the State Farm Companies Foundation. She is one of only 20 in the nation chosen for the honor.

The award carries a fellowship of $2,000 for graduate study next year for her, plus $250 to the College of William and Mary, and $500 to the college she will attend, which is Yale Law School.

Triathlon raises $1,200 for aid

The Karen Dudley Memorial Triathlon held Saturday, April 20, was an unqualified success, says Marc Magnes-Sharpe, president of the sponsoring Physical Education Majors Club. There were 130 entrants, and a $1,200 check will be presented this week to Samuel Sadler, dean of student affairs, for the Karen Dudley Memorial Scholarship. The proceeds are $400 more than was raised last year.

Winners were: men's division: first, Glenn Eyler, NWS, Yorktown; women's first, Jennifer Jones, a freshman from Columbus, Ohio; first in the fraternity division, Pi Lambda Phi, Chris Hagin, Greg DiNoia and Jim McCarthy; first in the sorority division, Chi Omega, Cathleen Caputo, Michelle Duffy, and Christine Kelton.

Winners of the team event were sponsored by Bikesmith and included Tom Sobel, Erich Smith and Tom Moriarity. They racked up a time of 50 minutes, 28 seconds, beating last year's winning time by nine minutes.

Co-sponsors of the triathlon included United Virginia Bank, Bikesmith, and McDonald's.

IN THE NEWS

Television reporters found a lot going on at William and Mary on Friday, April 12, as the College's campus-wide fundraising effort for financial aid was featured in two reports. Jim McClure, with WAVY TV 10, interviewed two students, along with Vinson Sutlive, professor of anthropology and an organizer of the fund drive, and Ed McCormick, director of student financial aid. Kathy Barnstorff, with WVEC TV 13, did a similar report and also interviewed McCormick. Ms. Barnstorff also covered the School of Business Administration's annual Executive Forum, interviewing businessmen who were guests and panelists for the two-day event and a number of students as well.

As the 10th anniversary of the College's ownership of Ash Lawn-Highland in Charlottesville approaches, we're seeing items about James Monroe's homeplace in the news. In the April 21 edition of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, a feature appeared about a new exhibit on the life of Monroe at Ash Lawn, and it acknowledged William and Mary as the owner of the historic place. The 10th anniversary will be observed Saturday, April 27.

And good news for the William and Mary Athletic Educational Foundation (AEF) — it has received an anonymous contribution of $25 for each graduating senior athlete. An April 20 Virginia Gazette clip announced that the athletes in whose names the contributions are made will be eligible for membership in the AEF. Said Barry Fratkin, director of development for athletics, "the intent of the gift is to encourage each athlete to support his or her sport on an annual basis, so that each sport can develop a substantial base of financial assistance."

Official Memoranda

POSTAL RULES

1. All outgoing mail must have a correct return address in order to be sent from the Campus Post Office. In addition to the "College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia 23185," the department name, or person plus the department name is needed. Should mail be returned to the College, it will facilitate returning it to the originator if the proper return address is appropriately affixed.
2. Departmental/Campus mail must have the following to be delivered:

Name of person being sent to Department
Building
3. Departments can assist the Post Office and help to expedite mail by separating and banding mail by overseas air mail, domestic mail and campus mail. Do not mix mail together. This can result in incorrect postage being applied, mail returned, and delay in service.
4. Departments can save the College money by sending mail bulk rate, $.06 as opposed to $.22 first class. Advance planning is necessary since bulk mail is slower and more preparation is involved. Two hundred (200) identical pieces of mail (each piece same size and weight) or 50 pounds qualifies for bulk rate, and the mail needs to be separated by zip code.

Your cooperation by following these reminders will help improve mail service and also help keep the cost down. Please call Robert Canaday, Postal Supervisor, (est. 4491) or myself (ext. 5516) if you have questions or need advice about your mailings.

Harold L. Holcomb
Assistant Director
Auxiliary Enterprises

TELEPHONE RULES

In the April 3 issue of the William and Mary News, there was a listing of the various types of directory assistance and operator-placed calls and the applicable rates for each. I also advised that should directory assistance and operator-placed calls be necessary, local telephone lines (dial 9) should be used instead of using the SCATS network in order to avoid being charged for using the SCATS line plus paying the applicable rate for directory assistance or operator-placed calls.

During the month of January, there were a total of 1,808 local assistance calls, 165 intrastate and 235 interstate assistance calls totaling $689.67. I cannot over-emphasize the suggestions we made in the April 3 News to minimize these charges.

You will notice on your SCATS Billing Report a new listing — the number of minutes called via SCATS and the times called (i.e., day, evening and night). SCATS is less expensive during normal working hours (8 a.m.-5 p.m.) at approximately $.27 per minute. If you are calling long distance after 5 p.m., outside Virginia, it is generally cheaper to use local lines (dial 9), if you are talking for more than one minute. Long distance calls made on local lines (dial 9) frequently cost more for the first minute but are cheaper for each succeeding minute between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 a.m.

A reminder: calling card calls placed from College telephones are operator-assisted and subject to an operator placed call charge.

Please call Pam Owen or myself at ext. 5516, should there be any questions on these telephone usage items or other telephone matters.

Harold L. Holcomb
Assistant Director
Auxiliary Enterprises

Classifieds

WANTED

Charming, well-mannered, classical-music listening undergraduate is looking for a room to rent in C.W. area. Graduating in December. Need to rent beginning late August. "Bumped" from campus! Help! Call Mitch, x5508 or 229-2572. 5/8

Graduate student working on PhD would like to rent quiet apt. or small house. Relatively close to W&M campus. Please write: c/o P.O. Box 532, Williamsburg, VA 23187-0532.

Third person to split house in Skipwith Farms: no undergraduates. $200 month plus one-fourth of utilities, available mid-May. Call 253-4759, or 229-7620 evenings. 5/8

Light housecleaning. Need help two hours, MWF until mid-May. Any two hours before 2 p.m. Also 10 hours/week, now until Aug. 1. Call Betsy, 229-3591. 4/24

Charming, well-mannered, classical music-listening undergraduate is looking for a room to rent in C.W. area. Graduating in December. Need to rent beginning late August. "Bumped" from campus! Help!!! 5/1

Quiet, non-smoking housemate wanted to share 3-bedroom townhouse with young married couple starting Aug. '85. Fully furnished, 5 miles from campus, full run of house. 253-4208. Ask for Robyn. 5/1

Furnished house or apartment for British visiting faculty and his college-age son. This gentleman has been here on previous occasions and has proven very reliable. Need 2 BR, June 1-July 31. Contact Paul Clem, School of Education, 253-4467. 4/24.

Volunteers needed to work as counselor aides at Camp Holiday Trails for children with medical inconveniences in Charlottesville. Minimum stay 1 week from June 9 to Aug. 10. See Sylvia Shirley, PE Dept., ext. 4360 for more information.

LOST

LOST: one beloved purple wool cap. Call Professor Elizabeth King, 220-0816.

PULSAR WATCH - Gold and silver, analog and digital face, inscribed "Congratulations Craig 1982" on back. Please call Craig, ext. 4220. 4/24

MISCELLANEOUS

Part-time child care avail. Toddlers pref. Near campus. Ref. avail. 220-1327. 5/1

Summer jobs - experienced manager & life guards wanted for Seasons Trace pool. Call 565-1515 or 565-0594 evenings or weekends. 4/24

FOR SALE

House - 4BR, 2BA. 10 minutes from campus. Fenced yard. Flexible financing, no down payment is a possibility. $64,000. 112 King William Dr. 565-2842. 4/24

Bedroom suite, like new, 4-piece, $325; living room suite, 6-piece, $500; bed frame & mattress (full size) $200; bed frame and mattress (twin size) $150. Call 220-2238. 4/24

Indigo Park, by owner, 2BR + den, new kitchen, formal DR, tiled basement with laundry, workroom, new furnace. One acre, orchard. $72,000. Call 220-2260, evenings. 5/8

One 9 x 10 light green shag rug, recently cleaned, $60, can be seen MWF between 8 a.m.-2 p.m. Also wheelchair without foot rests, $300; one back rest, $15. College Apartments No. 2, 112 N. Boundary Street, A.N. Jones. 5/1

For sale by owner, 3 BR ranch in Nelson Park, 2 mi. to campus, 1/3 acre, redecorated, convenient, refrig., stove, new furnace, new water heater, $49,000. Call 229-4503. 4/24

FOR RENT

Two-bedroom cottage on James River Estates, 30 minutes from Williamsburg, $300 plus utilities. Use of pool included - but care of pool required. References. Available now. Box 677, Richmond, VA 23206.

Summer sublet. June 1-August 15 (negotiable). 2 females seeking a third to share furnished 3-bedroom apartment 2 miles from campus. Air conditioned, 1 1/2 bathrooms, $165/month, 220-2545. 4/24

2 rooms in townhouse, carpeted, pool, A/C, part furnished. Available mid-May-August. $158/month + 1/3 util. 220-0194. 4/24

Apartment to sublet: CHARLOTTESVILLE. Available June 1 - mid-August. $100 per month total expense. Call Carol Epling, 253-4066.

Two-bedroom condo available Aug. 27. Deposit will hold. Washer, dryer, dishwasher. Close to campus, $475 per month. Call 229-3438 after 4 p.m. 5/1

2BR furnished condo with all appliances, $575 per month and electric. Year's lease. Call 229-2430 after 6 p.m. 4/24

Sublet condominium, 1 yr. old, Jamestown Condominiums. 2 BR, AC, washer-dryer, dishwasher, wall-to-wall. Available May 7 thru Aug. 27. Open for next school year as well. Rent $475/month. Call Jon, 220-3464. 4/24

Female roommate needed to share 2 BR apt. at Colonial Towne. Available May. Call 220-1085 after 6, or ext. 4748 during day. 4/24

Summer sublet. Furnished house, one block from campus. AC, washer/dryer. Responsible couple preferred for master BR with bath and full use of house. $350/mo. + all electricity. Also avail., single BR with kitchen privileges at $275/mo. Call 229-6257. 5/8

4 BR house for rent; easy walk to campus and restored area. Call 253-0850.

W&M professor has a 2-BR townhouse, A-C, available for lease in May at $515/mo. plus utilities. Refrigerator and twin beds provided, if desired. Please call 229-4321 after 5 p.m. 5/8

Free room in private Wmsbg. residence avail. over the summer in exchange for occasional babysitting. Must be free morn. and have access to car. Call 229-8819 after 5:30 p.m. 5/8

COMMITTEE ON DEGREES PETITIONERS!

The final deadline to submit petitions to the Committee on Degrees is 5 p.m., April 24 in 112 James Blair Hall. All students who wish to receive permission to take Summer Session elsewhere must petition if the course is shorter than 4 weeks and/or has fewer than 37.5 contact hours or if the course lasts longer than four weeks or has fewer than 32.5 contact hours. The Committee on Degrees does not meet during the summer.

Theron P. Bell, Jr., '33 had an Australian dogwood planted in his memory this week at the Alumni House. Bell, of Machipungo, lived in the building when it was the Kappa Alpha fraternity house. Accepting the tree are, left, John W. Phillips, director of alumni affairs. With him are Mrs. Bell and Dr. George J. Oliver, Jr., of Williamsburg, Bell's nephew.

Calendar

THURSDAY, APRIL 25

Graduation, Adult Skills Program, PBK, 9 a.m.

Town and Gown Luncheon, CC Ballroom, 12:15 p.m., speaker Hans O. Tiefel, professor of religion, "Abortion and Baby Doe."

FRIDAY, APRIL 26

Board of Visitors
Mathematics Colloquium: "Symmetries on Bounded Surfaces and Three-Dimensional Handlebodies," by Andrew Miller, Dept. of Mathematics, University of Oklahoma, Norman, 302 Jones Hall, 3 p.m.

SATURDAY, APRIL 27

Jefferson Meeting on the Constitution, CC, 8:30 a.m.-2 p.m.
Organ Recital, Wren Chapel, 11 a.m.

SUNDAY, APRIL 28

Chamber Ballet, PBK, 8:15 p.m.

MONDAY, APRIL 29

Exams start

TUESDAY, APRIL 30

Bloodmobile, National Center for State Courts, 10 a.m.-3 p.m., sponsored by the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

THURSDAY, MAY 2

Town and Gown Luncheon, CC Ballroom, 12:15 p.m., speaker Miles L. Chappell, professor of fine arts, "Cristofano Allori: A Florentine Painter."

FRIDAY, MAY 3

Physics Colloquium; 109 Small Physical Laboratory, 4 p.m., speaker J. Aichelin, Oak Ridge National Laboratory, "Pictures of Heavy Ion Collisions."

SATURDAY, MAY 4

Jefferson Meeting on the Constitution, CC, 8:30 a.m.-2 p.m.
Organ Recital, Wren Chapel, 11 a.m.

Forum to meet

The May meeting of the Forum of Williamsburg will take place Wednesday, May 8, at the Cascades Restaurant, with a cash bar beginning at 6 p.m. and dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Julia Heffernan, director of Commonwealth College, will speak on "Focus on the Future: Career Growth in the Williamsburg Area." Panelists will include Cindy Johnston, executive director of the Williamsburg Hotel/Motel Association, Carol Luckam, personnel director for James City County, and Paula Powell, supervisor of employee relations with the Badische Corporation.

Cost for the evening is $14 per person. Paid reservations must be received by May 3. Send reservations to Julia B. Leverenz, Women in Business, P.O. Box JD, Williamsburg, VA 23187.

Colonial Echoes needed for Archives

The College Archives has need of the following issues of the Colonial Echo:

1899	1927
1906	1928
1907	1934
1909	1935
1912	1973
1913	1974
1916	1978
1918	1979
1919

A few of these are for other campus offices and one is needed by an alumna whose puppy ate hers. Any issues we can get will be greatly appreciated. Please send them to Kay J. Domine, College Archivist, in Swem Library. Call ext. 4550 if there are any questions.

WILLIAM AND MARY

NEWS

The William and Mary News is published weekly by the Office of University Communications during the academic year, except when the College is in recess, and twice each month in June, July and August.

Tina Jeffrey, editor
Publications Office, production
News deadline: Fridays, 5 p.m.