Lectures, varied program honor birth of humorist

Through the month of November the College, like other academic institutions around the world, will observe the sesquicentennial of the birth of America's greatest humorist, Samuel L. Clemens, "Mark Twain," with some special events.

Under the title, "Mark Twain: A Sesquicentennial Celebration," the department of English will sponsor a series of public lectures on the author, a marathon public reading and, in collaboration with Swem Library, a special exhibit of Twainiana.

The lecture series will be provided by four nationally prominent scholars, three of them distinguished visitors and one a William and Mary faculty member. The lectures will be presented Nov. 14, 18, 21 and 26 in the Botetourt Theatre, Swem Library at 8 p.m.

On Nov. 14, Thomas A. Tenney of the College of Charleston, S.C., will speak on "Black Writers on Huck Finn." Tenney is the editor of The Mark Twain Journal and author of the standard research bibliography, Mark Twain: A Reference Guide, and its annual supplements.

Everett Emerson, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, will lecture Nov. 18 on "Mark Twain and 'Embarrassment.'" He is the editor of the journal, Early American Literature, and author of "The Authentic Mark Twain" A Literary Biography of Samuel L. Clemens (1984).

Louis J. Budd, Duke University, managing editor of the quarterly, American Literature and author of several works on Twain, the most recent of which is Our Mark Twain: The Making of His Public Personality (1984), will talk on Nov. 21 on "The Recomposition of Huckleberry Finn."

The series will conclude on Nov. 26 with an illustrated lecture by Carl Dolmetsch of the English department on "Mark Twain in Vienna: A Lost Chapter in Biography." This will be based on his current research for a book on Mark Twain's residence in the Austrian capital from 1897 to 1899.

The public reading will be held Nov. 22, beginning at 9 a.m., on the porch of Tucker Hall, home of the English department. Students in Dolmetsch's seminar on Twain will read aloud the complete novel, Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, in a marathon oral presentation that is expected to last about ten hours. This reading commemorates the centenary of the first American book publication of Twain's acknowledged masterpiece in February 1885, following the first English edition two months earlier.

From Nov. 20 to Dec. 6, Swem Library will mount an exhibit in the library's Zolinger Museum of rare first editions, photographs, prints and cartoons, manuscripts and Twain souvenirs under the retrospective title "Mark Twain: 1835-1985."

David Parks

Parks vies for Met contract

Tenor David Wayne Parks, lecturer in music, has won first place in the Metropolitan Opera National Council Auditions for the southeastern and southwestern Virginia districts. Parks will represent Virginia in the regional semi-finals to be held Friday, Nov. 8, in Vienna, Va., at Wolf Trap Center for the Performing Arts.

The district audition is the preliminary round in a multi-step elimination process that ends with the Metropolitan Opera's National Council Auditions, which are held annually in New York City. Top winners in the final competition will receive a performance contract at the Met and grants for repertory coaching, vocal training and other career-related expenses.

For the audition held Oct. 19 in Norfolk, Parks sang "Pour mon ame," from Donizetti's opera, "Daughter of the Regiment," and "Ecco Ridente in Cielo," from Rossini's "Barber of Seville." He will take the same repertoire, including works by Stravinsky and Mozart, to the Washington auditions.

The 1985 Met auditions represent Parks' second try for the prestigious prize. He has sung extensively with opera companies and symphonies throughout the nation, including the Lyric Opera of North Michigan, the Arizona Opera Company, Chautauqua Opera, the Interlochen Opera Theater, the Michigan Gilbert and Sullivan Society, and the Michigan Comic Opera Theatre.

Parks, 30, has appeared in productions under the direction of such notables as Gian Carlo Menotti, Carlisle

Soviet intelligence agent to give talk Nov. 13

Vladimir N. Sakharov, Soviet trained diplomat and intelligence agent whose disillusionment with the KGB led him to defect to the United States CIA, will discuss Soviet-American relations with respect to the upcoming Gorbachev-

Sakharov, who holds a doctorate in international relations, presently works with a Los Angeles organization which specializes in foreign risk management and U.S.-Soviet relations. He is the author of the book High Treason and numerous articles on intelligence and the new Soviet elite. As a Soviet diplomat and intelligence officer from 1967 to 1972

Mott reading

Michael Mott, writer-in-residence, will give a reading from his work on Tuesday, Nov. 12 at 8 p.m., in Room 120 of Tucker Hall.

Mott is a widely published poet, novelist and critic. His five volumes of poems include: "Counting the Grasses," and "Absence of Unicorns, Presence of Lions;" and his novels "Helmets and Wasps," and "The Notebooks of Susan Berry," have been published both in the United States and in England. This year Houghton Mifflin published his biography of Thomas Merton, "The Seven Mountains of Thomas Merton," which was on the best seller lists for several months and was a runner-up for the Pulitzer Prize.

Mott has taught English and creative writing at Emory University, Kenyon College, and Bowling Green State University, and was previously writer-in-residence at William and Mary in 1978-79.

SEARCH COMMITTEE FOR LIBRARIAN OF THE SWEM LIBRARY

Subsequent to the retirement of Clifford Currie effective 1 September 1985, John D. Haskell has agreed to serve as Acting Librarian of the Earl Gregg Swem Library for the remainder of the current academic year.

To the end that a permanent replacement as Librarian may be identified and appointed as expeditiously as is consistent with a thorough national search, at the President's request, I have appointed a search committee which is charged with recommending to me by 1 March if possible not less than two and not more than four candidates who are acceptable to the Committee, for the President's consideration and his recommendation to the Board of Visitors.

The Committee Membership is:

Edmund P. Edmonds, Law Librarian
Teresa D. Edwards, Automation Librarian, Swem Library
Robert J. Faulconer, Chairman, Academic Affairs Committee,
Board of Visitors
Berna L. Heyman, Head, Bibliographic Services, Swem Library
Donald C. Johnson, Head, Reader Services, Swem Library
William F. Losito, Associate Professor of Education
Terry L. Meyers, Associate Professor of English (Chairman)
Robert A. Orwoll, Professor of Chemistry
Ronald B. Rapoport, Associate Professor of Government

The Committee will shortly advertise the vacancy and invite nominations and applications.

Magazine internship

The Chronicle of the Horse, is a weekly news magazine that covers English riding and horse sports. Internships on the editorial staff offer assignments to cover equestrian events, to learn layout, design and production of a magazine, as well as editing skills.

For further information and application forms for any of the three programs listed above, please contact the Office of Career Planning, Morton Hall.

Honeywell awards

1985 Honeywell Futurist Award Competition requires entrants to imagine the future, 25 years from now, then to write three short essays describing this vision. Ten winners will be selected to earn cash, as well as the offer of a paid 1986 Honeywell Summer Internship. Deadline for submissions is Dec. 31.

Pre-retirement Seminar

The field Services Department of the Virginia Supplemental Retirement System will conduct a pre-retirement seminar on Nov. 25 at 1 p.m. in the Sit'n Bull room of the Campus Center.

The program is designed to provide information for potential retirees and will include representatives from the Virginia Supplemental Retirement System, Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Deferred Compensation and Social Security. All employees nearing age 55 or older who have begun planning for retirement are urged to attend.

To register, contact Lila Roberts or Earleen Cook at ext. 4214 no later than Nov. 15.

Informational session Nov. 12

A second information session on the benefits and differences between TIAA/CREF and VSRS will be held on Nov. 12 at 3:30 p.m. in Millington auditorium. Participation in the Optional Retirement Program requires a faculty rank or "faculty equivalent" rank.

Faculty members and persons employed as William and Mary professionals are invited to attend to enable them to determine if they wish to remain with the Virginia Supplemental Retirement System or to switch to the Optional Retirement Program offered by TIAA/CREF. The College's contribution to either program is 12.68% of gross salary.

Application packets will be available at the Nov. 12 meeting or from the Office of Employee Relations and Affirmative Action.

Official Memoranda

Award of Typewriter Service/Maintenance Contract

This is to notify you that the Typewriter Service/Maintenance Contract has been awarded to Colonial Typewriters, Inc., with several price reductions. This contract covers the period from Nov. 1, 1985 through Oct. 31, 1986.

The annual price for each type of machine is as follows:

1. Standard and Selectric and Correcting Selectric $38
2. Executive $38
3. Decimal Tabulating $38
4. Manuals and Portables $25
5. Scheduled Inspection/Cleaning N/C (Included in above prices).

This custom service by Colonial Typewriters, Inc., includes corrective maintenance in which all service calls due to machine malfunction will be taken care of during their regular business hours (8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday - except holidays); all parts necessary for proper operation of the machine will be replaced with the exception of platens and power rollers. If you decide to participate in this contract as before, a one-time charge for the above amounts per machine for the year will be charged to your departmental budget account code.

Colonial Typewriters, Inc., offers the same maintenance/service coverage for the following brands: IBM, Royal, Olivetti, Underwood, Remington, Smith-Corona and Olympia. If you wish to have any of these brands covered by a service agreement, please submit a standard requisition form (DP-1) listing each typewriter (not under new machine warranty) that you want included in this contract. The following information must be given: model, serial no., building and room no./location. Your requisition for all the machines to be covered should be submitted to this office no later than Nov. 6. Additions and deletions may be made during the contract period on a pro-rated basis. All new typewriters carry a 180-day warranty which automatically covers this service, but we recommend that these machines be added after the warranty expires.

All repair calls for any office machine repair, whether it is covered by a maintenance service contract or not, should be placed through the College Purchasing Office. This Office is responsible for maintaining service records on all office machines.

Please call the Purchasing Office, exts. 4215, 4279 and 4373 for additional information.

Parks

Floyd, Whitfield Lloyd, Cynthia Auerbach and Luchino Visconti. Conductors he has worked under have included John DeMain, Peter Leonard, Joseph Rescigno and Richard Weitach.

Although he has performed 37 opera roles and over 40 oratorio roles in his career thus far, Parks says he still considers himself "an entry-level singer." A member of the College's music faculty since 1983, Parks gives individual studio voice instructions. He sees the ties between his own performing activities and his teaching of future performers to be of utmost importance.

"Performing should be a major part of a voice teacher's responsibilities to the College and the students," says Parks. "When a studio voice teacher is also a performer, everyone benefits. Students have a local performing role model and the performing teacher is stimulated from the exchange of information and association with other actively performing artists."

In December Parks will sing the tenor solos in the Christmas Oratorio by Johann Sebastian Bach with the Williamsburg Choral Guild, and next spring he will appear with the Virginia Opera in its production of Lehar's "The Merry Widow." He will also sing with the Delaware Opera Company in "Die Fledermaus" in May.

Students enliven Bloodmobile

When the Red Cross Bloodmobile came on campus on Halloween, Dracula decided to give instead of take but not before first frightening the volunteers on hand. Andrew V. Jewell as Renfield accompanied his master, Dracula, portrayed by Matthew Gelven, and surprised Mrs. Cyrilla Schweickardt of Williamsburg (center) and Board of Visitors member Carole Egelhoff. The next visit of the Bloodmobile will be Thursday, Nov. 14 at the National Center for State Courts from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Please call 253-0228 to make an appointment.

Faculty Club plans party Friday

The Faculty Club will hold its second social event of the year in the Alumni House from 5:30 - 7:30 p.m., Friday, Nov. 8.

The fee for membership this year is $14. The payment of this fee entitles the holder to reduced rates at all parties. Paid-up members are charged $4 per person per party while non-members are charged $7. Non-drinking, non-members are charged $6 per person, while non-drinking members pay only $3.

The Faculty Club is open to all members of the faculty and administration of the College. Individuals who join the club on Nov. 8 at the door, or who pay their membership between the present date and the date of the party, will be admitted to this party along with a spouse or one guest at no extra charge. Membership fees may be paid to Norman Fashing, department of biology, treasurer.

Red Cross course

The Williamsburg-James City County Chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct the CPR-Basic Life Support Course the evenings of Nov. 18, 20, and 22, from 6 - 9 p.m., in the Red Cross Conference Room, 109 Cary Street. All sessions must be attended for certification.

There is no charge for instruction. A course materials/text fee of $7.50 will be charged each student. PRE-REGISTRATION IS MANDATORY. To register, please send check payable to the American Red Cross, 109 Cary Street. Registration will close on Nov. 15.

For further information, please call the Red Cross office, Monday through Friday, 5 - 5, at 253-0228.

A Warning

Students are reminded that bicycles which are going to be used at night must be installed with proper lights. A student was recently involved in an accident while riding his bicycle at night, without lights.

Hochstetler resigns

Gary Hochstetler, who has been the food service director for Shamrock Food Services, has announced his resignation effective Friday, Nov. 1, to pursue other business ventures. Hochstetler served as regional director for Shamrock prior to becoming the food service director a year and a half ago during which time many improvements were made to the quality of the program here.

Dennis Farmer has been named the new director of campus dining services and began his new responsibilities last week. Farmer has been assistant director for Shamrock for the past five years.

Debate team brings home win

Two College debate teams competed in a tournament at Bloomsburg State University over the weekend and added some more trophies to their growing collection. There were 21 two-man teams in competition.

The William and Mary team of Tim Domin, a freshman from Hanrahan, S.C., and Jim Bolin, a sophomore from Winston-Salem, N.C., compiled a 5-1 record in the preliminaries and went on to become tournament champions by defeating St. John's University of New York in the quarterfinals on a 3-0 decision, beating Clarion University of Pennsylvania in the semifinals, 2-1 and by defeating another Clarion team in the finals, also on a 2-1 decision.

The second William and Mary team, Jerry Bowers, a freshman from Northumberland, Pa., and Jon Wilson, a sophomore from Quakertown, Pa., had a perfect 6-0 in the preliminaries and then defeated another St. John's team, in the quarterfinals, 2-1. They lost in the semi-finals to the St. John's team that lost to Domin and Bolin in the final round.

Bowers, Bolin and Wilson were the top three speakers in the tournament.

The William and Mary debaters have attended five tournaments this year, winning two (Bloomsburg and the Junior Division at the University of Tennessee), placing second at another (Northern Illinois University) and making the elimination rounds of all but one. The squad has a record of 45-25, is at the top of the Northeastern Region and is highly ranked in the National Sweepstakes competition.

Program on Klan

The Marshall-Wythe Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild will present "88 Seconds at Greensboro," a PBS film about the Klan riots that resulted in several deaths in Greensboro, N.C., a few years ago, on Thursday, Nov. 14 at 7 p.m. in Room 119 at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

This program is open to the public. There is no admission charge.

The Klan members involved were found not guilty of murder, but the families of the victims subsequently filed wrongful death suits in civil court.

Following the film, Lewis Pitts an attorney and a member of the NLG, who represented the estates of the deceased victims in the civil trials, will speak.
