

William and Mary NEWS

Volume XV, Number 22
Wednesday, February 5, 1986

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER
PUBLISHED for and about the FACULTY, STUDENTS and STAFF of the COLLEGE of WILLIAM and MARY.

Non-Profit Organization
U.S. Postage PAID at Williamsburg, Va.
Permit No. 26

Middle East is focus of Adams talks

Visiting scholar authority on Muslim militants

"The Middle East for a long time has been on the brink of another major blow up. It could happen at almost any time and such a war would involve the super powers."

"If the Palestine situation could be solved, these people given some kind of territory, some guarantees of their peace, that would go a long way. . . . Someone has to do something about the Palestinians, then this terrorism might stop."

These are some of the thoughts of Charles J. Adams, scholar, teacher and writer, who has spent more than 25 years as a student of religion with particular interest in Islam and the resurgence of militant groups that have been responsible for such things as the attack on the Marine barracks at Beirut, the Iranian revolution and the assassination of Egypt's Anwar Sadat.

Currently 1986 Walter G. Mason Visiting Professor of Religion at the College of William and Mary, Adams will give a series of three public lectures on the overall topic "Islam: Politics and Revolution." Feb. 11, 18 and 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Rogers Hall, room 100.

His first lecture on Feb. 11 is titled "Islamic Resurgence Movements," and will be an analysis of religiously based political activism within Islam today. In his second lecture on Feb. 18, Adams plans to consider the role of the Shi'ah, which is one of the major sects in Islam. "I want to use that lecture to trace the background of the Shi'ah and the transformation in their viewpoint which I think has occurred in recent times," says Adams.

The third lecture, "Islam and Christianity: An Opposition of Similarities," on Feb. 25, will be a fairly general lecture, says Adams. "The thesis for the lecture is that these two religions are apparently very much alike. They have a great many doctrinal traditions which are similar, the belief in one god, the one revered book and the final judgment - but when one penetrates beneath the surface there is a completely different attitude toward the meaning of human life."

Continued on p. 2

RED CROSS BLOOD DRIVE
Monday, Feb. 10
Campus Center Ballroom
10 a.m.-3:30 p.m.
Sponsored by ROTC

An idyllic setting

The College got a rave review in Newsweek this week and was described as an 'idyllic residential campus.' Diane Weathers of the Washington staff of Newsweek visited here last week and contributed to an article on education which says that "William and Mary is probably the most selective of the Public Ivys." She also commented on "a superb graduate-placement record" here. The snowy scene above was taken by student photographer Adam Beck '87.

Kerr, Smiddy to be honored at Charter Day

The College will award two honorary degrees at Charter Day, Saturday, Feb. 8. Clark Kerr, president emeritus of the University of California and a renowned scholar in higher education, will give the major address and receive an honorary doctor of humane letters degree. Charter Day ceremonies begin at 10:30 a.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

The other honorary degree recipient will be Joseph C. Smiddy, president emeritus of Clinch Valley College in Wise, Va.

A reception will be held following the Charter Day program in the lobby of Andrews Fine Arts Hall.

"A Conversation with Clark Kerr," will be held in conjunction with the Charter Day ceremonies on Friday, Feb. 7 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Dodge Room of Phi Beta Kappa.

The conversation will be moderated by James Yankovich, professor of education, and participants will include John Nagle, dean of the School of Education, professors John Thelin and Roger Baldwin, doctoral candidate Marsha Krotzeng and alumna Deborah DiCroce, provost of the Frederick campus of Tidewater Community College. A reception will follow in the Muscarelle Museum.

The events on Friday are by invitation only. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to call Mary Dean in the Office of University Relations, ext. 4600, to make reservations.

An exhibit of books by Kerr is currently on display in the lobby of Swem Library. All of the titles are from Swem's collection and focus on higher education and labor economics, the two fields in which Kerr is nationally and internationally known.

Kerr is being honored by the College for his lifetime of contributions to education. He is an internationally respected educator, economist, prominent leader and articulate spokesperson for higher education.

President Smiddy is being honored for his leadership at Clinch Valley College and especially his work in developing its faculty.

LADS sessions start Feb. 11

The Society of the Alumni, in conjunction with the senior class, is sponsoring the sixth annual "Life After DOG Street" (LADS) program.

Practical workshops for seniors and other interested students are scheduled for Feb. 11, 12 and 13 at 6 and 8 p.m. each night at the Alumni House.

Designed to give seniors useful information and to help them make a smooth transition into a post-graduation lifestyle, informational sessions are held with young area alumni. LADS is not career oriented, but is a program to give seniors the assistance of alumni who have successfully made the transition from campus life to business and professional lifestyles.

At each session of the program, alumni panels, representing a variety of fields including law, real estate and

Continued on p. 4.

Adams sees anger, frustration, behind acts of terrorism.

Continued from p. 1

Adams has lived in several countries in the Islamic world including Pakistan, Afghanistan and Iran. He was director of the Institute of Islamic Studies at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, from 1963 to 1982. He continues as a professor in the Institute and a member of the faculty of religious studies at McGill. As well as visiting professorships in this country at the University of California and the University of Rochester, he has been invited to teach at universities in Iran, Egypt, England and France.

Although militant Islamic groups is a topic that daily makes the headlines, Adams insists that he is not a political scientist. "I am a student of religion but Islam is that kind of religion that has always claimed that it had political implications. That is partly what attracts me to the subject, plus the fact that it is of enormous immediate interest. You can't pick up a paper without reading about Islam."

Adams suggests that ignorance both of the history of the Middle East and its geography keeps most westerners from understanding many of the motives behind the events there today. "Our education tends to be ethnocentric," he says. "We are interested in those peoples and those places and that part of history that are responsible for our formation and our culture. For most of us in this part of the world, our knowledge ends with the borders of eastern Europe. Most people don't realize that Indonesia is the largest Muslim country in the world." Most Muslims in the world live east of the border of Pakistan in areas that include, Pakistan, Bangladesh, India, Malaysia, the Philippines. There is also a large Muslim minority in China. Arabic, now an official U.N. language is one of the most important languages in the world for business and politics.

"The Muslims are a very proud people, and not so long ago they had power. More recently they have seen themselves dominated and overrun by western civilization. They have been forced to realize that something went wrong and that now they are on the bottom of the pile. Their inferiority has been pushed down their throats by circumstances so that there is a profound agonizing about how to set things right," says Adams.

"The Muslim peoples have to modernize themselves, and unlike us they have to do it very quickly. We were able to do it gradually in response to stimuli within our own civilization. They are trying to do it in a hothouse atmosphere with stimuli from outside and many things in contradiction with one another. On the one hand is their pride in their own culture and history and their desire to maintain their own identity with it, and on the other a great admiration for the success of the west . . . They have to become more like that which they resent. The psychological burdens of all of this I think must be almost unbearable.

"I have no defense of the Iranian hostage crisis; that was not only a breach of international law, but it was outrageous. But it may be attributed to the massive social upheaval in Iran caused by the tremendous pace of change that was taking place under the Shah and which the U.S. was aiding and abetting so that the Shah appeared as though he were merely a tool and instrument of the American government. There were millions of people in Iran whose lives had been completely uprooted. They were angry, frustrated, unable to do anything about their situation and suddenly there was a great uprising, which seemed to involve the whole population. There was no class that held itself aloof in this outpouring of anger aimed at the Shah. The revolution was one way of defying and venting their rage against what was happening in their society and other societies and against the people they thought responsible for it. "Their anger," says Adams, was "misdirected, but it was understandable."

Much of contemporary terrorism, suggests Adams is rooted in the ills that Palestinians have suffered at the hands of Israel and others." The Palestinians are a group of people who have been run out of their own country. When they tried to organize some kind of resistance they were bombed, or dealt with in other kinds of harsh terms, and it is not just the Israelis who are responsible; others, including the Arabs, bear part of the guilt.

"Israel ran them out of Israel, Jordan ran them out of Jordan into Lebanon. The Israelis invaded Lebanon and ran them out of Lebanon. What are they to do, lie down and die?"

"Among the Palestinians now are two generations of young people who have never known any peace; they have only known violence. Someone has to do something about the Palestinians, then his terrorism might stop.

"One may drop bombs on them but one is never sure whom the bombs are killing. One may blow up some people in Libya, but what good does that do?" Adams suggests that the United States should bring pressure to bear on Israel to halt more settlements on the West Bank and enter into meaningful negotiations with the Palestinians for a long-term settlement of their differences. Such a move would have to include a rapprochement with the PLO.

The complexities of Islamic militancy have occupied the attention of Adams since 1954 when he was awarded a Ford Foundation Foreign Training and Research Fellowship and spent two and a half years in the Muslim world, most of it in Pakistan. Upon his return he joined the Institute for Islamic Studies and the Faculty of Divinity at McGill University in Montreal, Canada. He was appointed director of the Institute in 1963, a post he held until 1982.

He is a consultant to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, one of the editors of Religion Studies Review and the editor responsible for Islam and History of Religions, in the forthcoming Encyclopaedia of Religion to be published this year by Macmillan.

During 1974-75 Adams was a member of the UNESCO Commission for the Establishment of an Institute of Higher Education in the Arab Countries.

Adams is regularly asked to speak on the Middle East to business groups and has a yearly commitment with the National Defense College of Canada. He is frequently called upon for his expertise on the Middle East by the Canadian Broadcasting System.

A native Texan from Houston, Adams set out to be a Baptist minister. After four years of military service, though still interested in religion he did not want to be a minister. He received an A.B. from Baylor as a ministerial student and went to the University of Chicago for graduate work. There he studied for his doctorate under Joachim Wach, the best-known historian of religion at the time, and it was Wach who urged him to specialize. He taught at Princeton for one year before going overseas.

Charles J. Adams

P.O. operations under study

The mail service on campus is taking its lumps these days, along with the weather.

But unlike the old saw about everyone talking about the weather and never doing anything about it, something is being done about the mail service; the weather remains an enigma.

Chuck Lombardo, director of operations in the Office of Administration and Finance, is supervising the campus post office since Hal Holcomb, assistant director of auxiliary enterprises left in Dec. While Lombardo works to improve mail service, he asks the patience of the College community and is willing to take calls, both from disgruntled customers and anyone with useful ideas.

Currently Lombardo is working in three areas. He has asked John Bond, director of Buildings and Grounds, to redesign the work area at the post office to better suit the needs of the staff there. New shelving and work tables will be arranged to take optimum advantage of the space allotment.

Donald Wood, an MBA intern, is in the process of analyzing current procedures and will make recommendations for time-saving and effective ways to deal with the volume of business.

Lombardo is working with the personnel office to reallocate a vacant position at the post office into a top-management level slot. He is looking for someone with post office experience to come in and coordinate the various activities at the post office.

One of the major reasons for the changes, says Lombardo, is to up-date the staffing needs of the post office to the growing demands upon it. According to Herbert Kenyon, Williamsburg Postmaster, who is working closely with Lombardo in an advisory capacity, the College's mail business has increased 20 percent in the past year.

Continued on p. 4

DIRECTOR OF AUXILIARY ENTERPRISES

The Director of Auxiliary Enterprises will have direct operational and supervisory responsibilities including but not limited to the following areas: campus postal service, student bus system, telecommunications, central copying service, William and Mary Hall and Ash Lawn (historical/retail operation located in Charlottesville, Va.). In addition, the director will have the fiscal responsibility for developing and monitoring these and other auxiliary budgets. The incumbent might also be called on to provide assistance with the Bookstore, Food Service and other operations within the office.

The Director of Auxiliary Enterprises must place particular emphasis on ensuring that these services and programs are responsive to their respective constituencies.

The successful candidate should possess significant knowledge of auxiliary service operations and demonstrate superior communication, general management and interpersonal skills to permit effective working relationships. Resumes must be received by March 15, with an immediate starting date. Salary plus a comprehensive benefit package.

Submit letter of interest and resume to: Charles J. Lombardo, Director of Operations, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, VA 23185.

Calendar

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5

Nuclear Disarmament Study Group, Rogers 100, 6 p.m.
 Honors Program Forum: "The Divine Comedy as Political Propaganda," by Joan Ferrante, Columbia University, Campus Center Little Theatre, 7:30 p.m.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6

Illustrated Lecture: "St. Basil's and Other Curiosities of Russian Architecture in the Time of Ivan the Terrible," by William Craft Brumfield, Tulane University, Botetourt Theatre, Swem Lib., 7 p.m.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7

Concert in the Galleries, Muscalle Museum, noon.
 Women's swimming and diving, v. American University, Adair pool, 4 p.m.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 8

CHARTER DAY
 Society of the Alumni Board Meeting
 Wren Chapel organ recital, 11 a.m.
 Gymnastics v. N.C. State, W&M Hall, 2 p.m.
 Women's basketball v. UNC-Wilmington, W&M Hall, 7:30 p.m.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 9

Public Lecture: Randall Robinson, director of TransAfrica, Campus Center Ballroom, 2 p.m. Sponsored by the Black Student Organization and the Student Association.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 10

Bloodmobile, Trinkle Hall, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.
 Women's basketball v. East Carolina, W&M Hall, 7:30 p.m.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11

Science and the American Imagination: "Are We Alone? The Idea of Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence in the Universe in Literature and Philosophy from Copernicus to H. G. Wells," by Karl S. Guthke, Kuno Francke Professor of Germanic Languages and Literatures, Harvard University, Botetourt Theatre, Swem Lib., 8 p.m.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11

Lecture: "Islam: Politics and Revolution - Islamic Resurgence Movements," by Charles J. Adams, Walter G. Mason Visiting Professor of Religion, Rogers 100, 7:30 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12

Science and the American Imagination: "The Password Primeval: Whitman's Use of Science in 'Song of Myself,'" by Robert J. Scholnick, Tucker 215, 2 p.m.
 "The Systems Destroyers: American Literature and the Problem of Knowledge," by Ronald Martin, University of Delaware, Tucker Hall, Moot Court Room, 4 p.m.
 "Benjamin Franklin: The Fusion of Science and Letters," by A. Owen Aldridge, University of Illinois, Botetourt Theatre, Swem Lib., 8 p.m.
 Honors Program Forum: "The Treacherous Siren and the Despoiled Madonna: How to Read Machiavelli's Prince," by Joel Schwartz, associate professor of government, Campus Center Little Theatre, 7:30 p.m.
 Lecture: "Virginia in Black and White I: Freeman and Bondmen, 1619-1832," by Edgar A. Toppin, James Pinckney Harrison Professor of History, Dodge Room, 8 p.m.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13

Summer Camp Placement Day, Campus Center Atrium, 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

Science and the American Imagination:

"Writing in the Servo-Mechanical Loop: Cybernetics and the New American Mythology," by David Porush, RPI, Tucker Hall, Moot Court Room, 4 p.m.
 PLENARY SESSION, Campus Center A & B, 7:30 p.m.
 "Literature Is Not Enough: The Value and Limitations of Literary Approaches to American Science and Technology," by Howard P. Segal, Harvard University
 Panel Discussion: "The Impact of Science on the American Literary Imagination." Panelists: Aldridge, Martin, Porush. Moderator: Scholnick

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14

Superdance, Campus Center, Ballroom, 6 p.m. (through February 15, 7 p.m.)
 Greater Williamsburg Chapter of the Archaeological Society of Virginia: "The York County Project," Kevin P. Kelly, Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, Bruton Parish House, 7:30 p.m.

The Catholic faculty of the College is sponsoring an informal discussion and wine and cheese reception with Michael Mott, author of The Seven Mountains of Thomas Merton, 4-6 p.m., Friday, Feb. 14 in Washington 100.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15

FACULTY CLUB DANCE

Trinkle Hall, 9 p.m.-12 a.m.

D.J. music.
 BYOB, Set-ups and snacks provided.
 $5 per couple.
 Basketball fans enjoy post-game dancing. Tickets available in advance or at the door.
 Informal attire.

Work of Women Symposium (through Feb. 21)
 Wren Chapel organ recital, 11 a.m.
 Men's basketball v. JMU, W&M Hall, 7:30 p.m.

Library amnesty

In an effort to retrieve as many overdue books as possible and to clear up accumulated paperwork before entering the age of automated circulation, the Williamsburg Regional Library has declared a month's amnesty on all overdue fines.
 During the month of Feb. any books returned to the library, no matter what vintage due date, will be gratefully received without prejudice. Books may be returned to any of the library's book drops.

New Chameleon Group replaces Backdrop Club

The Backdrop Club, which was active here at William and Mary for over 30 years, has been reorganized under the new name of the Chameleon Group and will promote all-student theatre projects on an annual basis. The premiere production of the new group is a student-written play, Walpurgisnacht, which will be performed Feb. 23-27 in the Studio Theatre at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. Tickets are $3.50 and go on sale at the Campus Center and the Commons Feb. 17.

Following the opening-night performance, there will be a reception open to the public to celebrate the premiere of both the new group and the play itself. Walpurgisnacht is a psychological drama

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 16

Concert in the Galleries, Muscalle Museum, 3 p.m.

College Bowl set for March

The Association of College Unions-International (ACU-I) College Bowl Program will return to campus this spring. Tournament play is scheduled for the end of March in the Campus Center ballroom.

College Bowl, "the varsity sport of the mind," is an all-campus event. It recognizes intellectual achievement and helps students learn the value of group participation, gamesmanship, and more. It successfully combines entertainment and academics into a popular game. The players, the organizers and the audience all benefit from the College Bowl program.

Planners are enlisting the aid of any interested members of the College community to serve as team coaches, judges and moderators during tournament week.

Those interested in participating in the College Bowl program are asked to contact Lisa H. Rogers, Campus Center 110, ext. 4133, by Friday, Feb. 14.

Role of governors' aides discussed.

The Marshall-Wythe School of Law will provide a closer look at the powers and problems of Virginia's governors at a panel discussion titled, "Advising the Governor," at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 13, at the law school.

The panel consists of high-ranking staff members who have served every Virginia governor since Lindsay Almond. They include: Carter O. Lowance, executive assistant to governors beginning with Lindsay Almond and continuing through Gov. Mills Godwin's first and second terms; Staige Blackford, former press secretary and speech writer for Gov. Linwood Holton; Jennifer Joy Manson, senior executive assistant to Gov. John N. Dalton; and David K. McCloud, chief of staff to Gov. Charles Robb and Gov. Gerald L. Baliles.

Columnist and author Guy Friddell of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot will be moderator.

"The gubernatorial office in Virginia has been identified in many studies as among the most powerful in the nation," according to Timothy J. Sullivan, dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law and former executive assistant for policy and planning under Governor Robb.

"Those who serve on the governor's staff gain a unique perspective on the realities of gubernatorial power," says Sullivan. "However, it's very rare for those who serve governors in policy making positions to speak publicly about their experiences."

Library concert features Feldman, pianist Kypros

Pianist Christopher Kypros will join the Feldman String Quartet to perform the Shostakovich Piano Quintet, Opus 57, at the Williamsburg Regional Library's Arts Center Theatre, Tuesday, Feb. 18 at 8 p.m.

This fourth concert in the Feldman series will also feature Haydn's String Quartet in D Major, Opus 64, No. 5, and String Quartet No. 2, in D Major, by Alexander Borodin.

Kypros has appeared with the Feldman String Quartet for the past four seasons. He is a graduate of Old Dominion University and completed graduate studies at the Juilliard School of Music where he studied with Sacha Gorodnitsky. He is presently on the music faculty of Norfolk Academy.

Quartet members include Eric Hosler and Lawrence Lasson, first and second violins, Ronald Marshall, viola, and Janet Kriner, cello.

The final concert of this year's season will be April 15. Tickets for the concerts are available for $5 at the Auxiliary Services desk of the library.

Many gubernatorial staff assistants remain active in public life throughout their careers. Carter Lowance also served as acting secretary of education and executive vice president of William and Mary. His role in state government during his many years of service was so significant that he was known as "the little governor."

In addition to his duties as chief of staff, McCloud has also served as secretary of administration and was executive assistant to Lieutenant Governor Robb.

Blackford, a Rhodes Scholar and journalist prior to joining Governor Holton's staff, is editor of the Virginia Quarterly Review and a special assistant to the president of the University of Virginia.

Ms. Manson has been a senior legislative assistant to U.S. Senator John Warner and is assistant administrator for external affairs of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Summer camps

Representatives of various summer camps will be available to meet with interested students between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 13 in the Atrium of the Campus Center. This Summer Camp Placement Day is sponsored by the placement office.
 sport fisherman forum

Continued on p. 4

DIRECTORIES AVAILABLE

Office personnel may pick up copies of the new Williamsburg area telephone directories from the campus post office. They will be distributed on a first-come first-served basis.

Employment

The following positions at the College are open to all qualified individuals. Call 229-JOBS for further information, or visit the Employee Relations Office in Thiemes on Richmond Road, for information and application forms, Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4 p.m. An EE0/AA employer.

CLERK TYPIST C (Grade 4) - Salary range $11,222 to $15,321 per year. Location: Minority Affairs Office. Deadline Feb. '7.

ADMINISTRATIVE SECRETARY - Court-related organization seeks responsible, mature applicants with excellent office experience to fill the full-time position of secretary to the publications department. Duties include compiling, editing and distributing a bulletin on court-related vacancies; processing purchase orders and vouchers; maintaining a news media list; handling correspondence and telephone calls for a nine-person department; and preparing visual aids. Incumbent must possess excellent grammar and spelling skills and work with a minimum of supervision. Word processing and machine transcription skills desirable. Minimum typing 60 WPM. Salary range $13,849 to $15,269, depending on experience and background, with excellent fringe benefits. Submit resume by Feb. 7 to National Center for State Courts, Dept. PD, 300 Newport Ave., Williamsburg, VA 23185. EOE/AA.

SA Notes

JAM(s) NIGHT

The SA is sponsoring a Dance Night on Saturday, Feb. 8 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., in the Campus Center Little Theatre. Beach music will be emphasized, and appropriate beach wear is encouraged. Tickets at the door will be $1 per person after 10 p.m. - the first hour is free!

WINTERGREEN SHUTTLE

The SA is offering FREE shuttle van transportation to Wintergreen on Feb. 8. The van will depart PBK Hall at 6:30 a.m. and leave the ski resort at 4:30 p.m. to return to the College at 8 p.m. At Wintergreen, costs include $14 equipment rental, $28 lift tickets, and snack and lunch. Register Feb. 3-7 in the SA office.

TUTOR DIRECTOR

A director is being sought for the Tutorial Center. This supervisory position offers a salary and involves a time commitment. Applications may be picked up in the SA office, Monday-Friday, 1-5 p.m., and are due back by 5 p.m., Feb. 12. Any questions concerning this position should be addressed to Heidi Carr at ext. 4350.

TELEPHONE CONTROVERSY

Students should not use 411, the information number. The College must pay whenever this number is used. In addition, the Administration is considering taking away the privilege of making seven-digit local calls on Campus telephones. The SA suggests that students use a pay phone for calls to information, since that method will have no cost to the student or the College.

CLERK TYPIST C (unclassified) - $5.40 per hour, part time, approximately 20 hours per week. Location: Swem Library (Circulation). Deadline Feb. 7.

AUDIO VISUAL EDUCATION SPECIALIST (Grade 11) - Salary range $20,932 to $28,591. Location: Swem Library (Educational Media). Deadline Feb. 28.

Post Office

Continued from p. 2

Every day, says Kenyon, the College receives two to three large hampers of parcel post, which could include 20 to 60 parcels each. On any weekend, he adds, the College gets about 20 sacks of mail. Monday through Friday it averages four to five sacks. Kenyon describes the enormous amount of third-class mail the College receives as "atrocious," and adds that he expects the sheer volume of the mail will someday outpace the present facility.

Kenyon suggests that careful attention to addresses for student mail will help speed delivery and cut down on work at the Williamsburg Post Office.

Because of the large volume of mail being handled on campus, Lombardo is also looking into providing for the loss of student help during exams and vacations. Student help comprises two thirds of the station's staff, and their absence during some of the heavy mail periods, including Christmas, presents a problem for the full-time staff.

Lombardo is working closely with Postmaster Kenyon, who is anxious to have the college station run as smoothly as possible because its activities affect the area postal business of the Williamsburg Post Office, which is also growing at a healthy pace.

Review call

The William and Mary Review is now accepting submissions for the next issue. Poetry, fiction, non-fiction and visual art can be submitted at the Campus Center desk or at the Review office in Trinkle Hall.

Superdance to raise MDA funds

Superdance VI, a 25-hour dance marathon to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association, will be held from 6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14 through 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 15, in the Campus Center Ballroom. Money raised is used to support research, patient services, camps and professional and public education programs supported by the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

This year, organizers are seeking contributions from faculty and staff members (see coupon) and will recognize the department that contributes most.

Classifieds

FOR SALE

1972 Datsun 510, 4-door, AM/FM radio, radial tires, AC. Needs work. $500. Call 229-7511. (2/19)

Casio keyboard, MT-45, $75, very good condition, 49 keys, 8 voices, 8 rhythms, auto chords, call 229-5294 after 3:15 p.m. 2/12

1968 Mustang, 5,000 on rebuilt engine. 4 new tires, new power steering, 6-month-old front end, new front brakes. $1,300. Call 564-3180 after 6 p.m. 2/5.

Head graphite Director tennis racquet. Excellent condition. New string job. Includes brand new thermo bag. $125 or best offer. Call Mike at ext. 4412. 2/5

1979 Datsun 280Z. 5 spd., A/C, AM/FM stereo, reg. gas, brand new Imron paint (gold), very nice car, price negotiable, ask for Aaron, ext. 4277. 2/5.

Belgian oak shrunk/wall unit. Good condition, $700, negotiable. Call Anita Spilker at ext. 4366 or 4368. 2/5

Olds, 1970, Delta 88, 4-door sedan, 55,000 miles, original motor, PS, PB, AM radio with rear speaker, well maintained. $1,950 or best offer. Call 253-4203 or, evenings, 253-0033. (2/19)

HELP WANTED

Kingswood pool is looking for summer lifeguards. Please call Steve Knudson at ext. 4672 or 220-0051. 2/5

LADS programs

Continued from p. 1.

banking, will discuss practical solutions to many problems seniors may face after graduation. They will address such questions as how to obtain credit, how to invest, how and why to buy insurance, what to watch out for in contracts, what are the rights of an individual in a patient/doctor relationship and what are the services of a lawyer.

Seniors have received invitations to one of the LADS sessions and are asked to respond promptly. RSVP drop-off boxes are located around campus at the post office, Chancellors Hall, the Commons and Campus Center. Seniors may also RSVP by calling the Alumni House at ext. 4302.

All faculty and staff are invited to come by during the dance and participate in the games, entertainment and concerts that will be held throughout the 25 hours. Faculty and staff members are especially encouraged to attend during the special "staff/faculty hours," 12:30-2:30 p.m., Saturday. An hour and a half of square dancing with the music of F.O.A.M. (Friends of Appalachian Music) is scheduled from 2:30 to 4 p.m., Saturday.

Co-chairmen of the Superdance VI Committee are Jennifer Pleier and Lisa Glitzenstein. G. Gary Ripple, dean of admissions, serves as on-campus chairman.

FOR RENT

APARTMENT furnished for single occupant, 902 Jamestown Road, near College, no pets, lease and deposit required. $300 includes utilities. Also, furnished BEACH HOUSE in Mathews for $350 per month. Call 253-4084 or 229-4461, after 5 p.m. (2/19)

Furnished, two-bedroom condo for rent, three miles from campus off Richmond Road. Two baths, fireplace, w/w carpeting, washer and dryer, AC, $550/month plus utilities. Call Chris Smith (703) 864-5600, ext. 1233, daytime; or Linda, 253-4314. (2/19)

Room for rent in quiet apartment - 2 miles from campus - share bath - kitchen privileges - female graduate student - non-smoker - $190 per month. Call M. Dean at ext. 4600. 2/5.

Half of 2-BR, 1 1/2-bath apartment (Woodshire) to share with female law student. $217.50/mo. plus 1/2 utilities (cable if desired). Gas heat/stove free. Only need bedroom furniture. Female only, non-smoker, grad-aged. Available March 1. Call 253-1967. (2/12)

For rent to faculty or graduate students: 2-BR cottage, with use of swimming pool, on grounds of 18th-century James River farm, Charles City County, approximately 25 minutes from Williamsburg. $300 per month, plus utilities. Tel: (804) 643-6611. 2/12

WANTED

Roommate to share fully furnished apartment one mile from campus. $207.50 per month. Prefer non-smoker and graduate student, but not a must. Please call 220-0867 or 253-2831. 2/5

MISCELLANEOUS

Carpool. Anyone interested in a daily carpool from central Richmond to Williamsburg please call Robert Waterland, physics department, ext. 4471.

Chameleon Group

Continued from p. 3

chance to take risks and experiment, every facet of the production is managed by students, including the fund-raising necessary to put on such a full production. Stephanie Wright and Laurie Maxwell are assistant directors, and Jeff Williams is the technical director. In addition, Beth Clancy is designing costumes. Lighting design is by Leslie Barry and Martha Mountain.

Cast members include Gordon Wachsmann, Kacey Camp, Matt DeLuca, Colleen Costello, Bob Brinkerhoff, Mark Aldrich, Sherry Adams and Robert Brittain. Also appearing will be Mike Holtz, Lee Katman, Laura Martin, Andrew Pang and Barry Sillery.

For more information and/or details on how to join the Chameleon Group, call season coordinators, Drew, 229-5323, and Stephanie, ext. 4039.

WILLIAM AND MARY

NEWS

The WILLIAM AND MARY NEWS is issued weekly during the school year for faculty, staff and students of the College and distributed on campus Wednesday afternoons.

News items and notices for the calendar should be delivered to the News Office, James Blair Hall 310A, no later than 5 p.m. the Friday before publication.

Yes, I would like to help William and Mary's SuperDance VI raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Enclosed is a check (made payable to "The Muscular Dystrophy Association") for $

Name _____

Department/Office _____

Please send donations to Jennifer Pleier/Lisa Glitzenstein, Superdance Co-chairmen, Campus Station Box 7187, Williamsburg, VA 23186.