

William and Mary NEWS

Volume XVI, Number 28
Wednesday, April 8, 1987

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER
PUBLISHED for and about the FACULTY, STUDENTS and STAFF of the COLLEGE of WILLIAM and MARY

Non-Profit Organization
U.S. Postage PAID at Williamsburg, Va
Permit No. 26

Wiseman named ACE Fellow

Lawrence Wiseman, chairman of the biology department, has been named a 1987-88 American Council on Education Fellow.

Lawrence Wiseman

Kenan lecture set tomorrow

Ted Cohen, the William R. Kenan Jr. Distinguished Professor of Humanities, will give the second in a series of three public lectures, April 9 on "An Idea of Philosophy in America." The third lecture in the series is scheduled for April 16.

Both lectures will be given at 7:30 p.m. in the Botetourt Theatre of Swem Library.

Cohen used his first lecture, "North by Northwest: The Face of America," as an introduction and will take as the topic of his lecture tomorrow, "Inventing Philosophy." His final lecture, "The Very Idea of Art," will deal with the special character of art in philosophy, which is his research and teaching specialty.

The Fellows program, established in 1965, is designed to strengthen leadership in American higher education by identifying and preparing faculty and staff for responsible positions in college and university administration.

Thirty to 35 Fellows, nominated by their presidents or chancellors, are selected each year in a national competition. Each ACE Fellow is assigned to a college or university president and chief academic officer to participate in administrative activities.

Wiseman will begin his ACE year in September at the opening seminar of the program in Florida, Sept. 13-18. Wherever possible, Fellows will be placed at schools in areas of their choice and assigned to intern in administrative fields in which they are particularly interested.

Eminent Scholar Lecture, April 20

James C. Livingston, Walter G. Mason Professor of Religion, will give the final lecture in the current series by eminent scholars who have been named to endowed chairs this year, at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 20 in Rogers 100. A reception will be held following the program.

This is a change from the originally scheduled time of the lecture, and members of the campus community are asked to note of the change in date.

Livingston has titled his lecture 'Reflections on the Study of Religion in the University.'

Tercentenary planning

After several months of informal planning of the College's participation in the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the "Glorious Revolution," a committee has been formed to coordinate those events. The group, the American Committee for the Tercentenary of the Accession of William and Mary, is chaired by Thaddeus W. Tate Jr., Pullen Professor of History and director of the Institute of Early American History and Culture.

The Glorious Revolution was a series of events that brought the College's namesakes, King William III and Queen Mary II, to the throne of England in 1688-89 at the invitation of Parliament after the forced abdication of King James II and the adoption of a Declaration of Rights limiting the powers of the sovereigns. William and Mary chartered the colonies' second college in 1693, and the Declaration of Rights later influenced the thinking of the founders of the United States, including several College of William and Mary alumni.

The international celebration is being coordinated by the William and Mary Tercentenary Trust, a joint committee of British and Dutch officials headed by Barry Price for England and A.G.H. Bachrach for the Netherlands. The group is in the process of identifying and seeking support for a year-long celebration involving art and craft exhibits,

Continued on p. 2.

'Hothouse' opens Thursday

Kacey Camp as Roz (center) comes between her daughter, Jody, played by Linda Powell, and her husband, Jack, played by Bryan Tunnell, in a scene from "Hothouse" by Megan Terry, which will be presented by the William and Mary Theatre at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, Friday and Saturday and Sunday, April 12 at 2 p.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. Tickets are $4 and may be reserved by calling the box office at ext. 4272. The director of "Hothouse" is Bruce McConachie.

The Papers of John Marshall receives large NEH Award

By Wendy Sacket
Editorial Assistant

The Papers of John Marshall has received a two-year grant of $71,000 from the National Endowment for the Humanities for the period from July 1, 1987, through June 30, 1989.

The College and the Institute of Early American History and Culture are co-sponsors of The Papers of John Marshall, an edition of the justice's correspondence and papers, which will eventually comprise 10-12 volumes published by the University of North Carolina Press. To date four volumes have been published, covering Marshall's career from 1784 to the eve of his appointment as Chief Justice in 1801. The fifth volume, which will be published in April, is a selection of Marshall's law cases from 1784 to 1800. Subsequent volumes will document his long tenure on the bench of the Supreme Court (1801-35).

The Marshall Papers staff includes Charles F. Hobson, editor; Fredrika Teute, associate editor; Laura Gwilliam, secretary; and Mark Mastromarino, research assistant.

"The National Endowment for the Humanities has supported the project in the past, but this is the first grant we've received since I've been editor," says Hobson. "It's a highly prestigious award. The application was submitted last June and we were just notified about receiving the award recently. This grant will ensure our financial stability well into 1989. We're very pleased to receive it."

Federal funds contribute a substantial portion of the budget for the Marshall papers project. Other sources include state funding through the College and contributions from private foundations such as the Cabell Foundation of Richmond, the Gwathmey Memorial Trust of Richmond, the William Nelson Cromwell Foundation of New York City and the Earhart Foundation of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Another important theme of the volume will be Marshall's involvement in writing a five-volume biography of George Washington, which was published between 1804 and 1807. Marshall's correspondence with his Philadelphia publisher, Caleb P. Wayne, documents the details of this laborious but satisfying project. Although it seems surprising that Marshall would have had time to write a biography during this period, "it just goes to show that there weren't all that many court cases (as compared to today)," says Hobson.

"This particular grant will help us launch volume six, which is the first of the Supreme Court volumes, and work on volume seven as well," explains Hobson. "We have a lot of ground to cover. Volume six is going to deal with the first several years (1801-07) of Marshall's tenure as Chief Justice, and we will be printing selected Supreme Court decisions."

Hobson notes that many people aren't aware that Marshall "spent far more of his judicial time riding circuit, since the circuit court met twice a year whereas the Supreme Court only met once." Volume six will deal with several of Marshall's cases in the circuit courts at Raleigh and at Richmond, including the highly publicized treason trial of Aaron Burr.

NEWSMAKERS

Wildlife group honors Byrd

The Virginia Chapter of the Wildlife Society has presented its first Wildlife Professional Award to Mitchell A. Byrd, professor of biology, in recognition of "his highly productive career as an educator and researcher, with particular emphasis on his work to establish the scientific basis conservation of endangered avian species."

Byrd has been instrumental in the location of a major bald eagle feeding-and-roosting area on the Potomac River. That site has since been granted state protection as the Caledon Natural Area. Governor Robb appointed Byrd as a permanent adviser in the area.

Byrd and his students were responsible for the successful reintroduction of the peregrine falcon in Virginia. He also identified an area in Sussex County that contained habitat for the endangered red-cockaded woodpecker and was instrumental in the establishment of a 200-acre preserve by Union Camp Company.

He currently serves as a member of the Department of Interior recovery teams for the bald eagle and peregrine falcon. He has also served as chairman of the North American Osprey Committee.

Byrd has also been an active advocate for conservation. He has addressed many groups across Virginia on conservation of wildlife and has been interviewed numerous times on local, state and nation radio and TV. He received the Conservationist of the Year Award in 1985 from the Virginia Wildlife Federation.

Van Engel adds to endowment

Willard A. Van Engel, professor emeritus at the Virginia Institute of Marine Science and School of Marine Science, has made an additional commitment in his estate plans of over $200,000 to his fellowship fund for marine science research and education. Income from the permanently endowed Willard A. Van Engel Fellowship Fund, Inc., established in Dec. 1985, supports graduate students of outstanding ability in their research at VIMS/School of Marine Science located at Gloucester Point.

Van Engel began work at VIMS's predecessor, the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory, in 1946 and retired from VIMS in 1985. He is nationally recognized for his research on the blue crab.

Van Engel's recent commitment of over $200,000 in his estate plans and a gift of $100,000 are being added to his initial gift of $10,000. The Van Engel fellowship is the first in the country for a graduate student specializing in crustacean studies. Income from the fellowship is expected to support one student every three or four years.

Van Engel has expressed the hope that interest in his program will encourage other donor support and that the number of fellowships awarded may eventually be increased.

The fellowship recipient's research is expected to contribute to an understanding of the blue crab or other commercially valuable crustaceans found in the Chesapeake Bay region and to benefit the Commonwealth of Virginia in the conservation and management of crustacean resources.

The first recipient of the fellowship, Eugene J. Olmi III of Charleston, S.C., began a three-year doctoral program in fisheries science last September. A graduate of Furman University, Olmi has a master of science degree from the College of Charleston and has conducted crustacean research at the South Carolina Marine Resources Center. His research on the blue crab is being directed by Romuald N. Lipcius, who joined the VIMS staff last September as the new head of crustacean research in fisheries science.

Galano nominated for Galt Visiting Scholar

Joseph Galano, chair of the psychology department, has been nominated, along with a distinguished group of Virginia professionals, for the position of Galt Visiting Scholar in Public Mental Health for the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Before July 1, Howard M. Cullum, commissioner of mental health and mental retardation, will appoint a scholar to serve for two years as the Galt Professor of Public Mental Health. This unique position was created by the governor, the legislature and the secretary of human resources in 1981 and is funded by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

In addition to recognition and support from the executive and legislative branches of Virginia government, the Galt Professor receives the endorsement of the presidents of the Eastern Virginia Medical Authority, the University of Virginia and Virginia Commonwealth University. The Galt Professor holds a senior faculty appointment at each of these three medical schools, as well as serving on the staff of the commissioner.

The legislation encouraging the Galt Chair indicated that the primary focus of the position "is to strengthen professional ties between the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and the three universities with medical schools in Virginia."

"Although administratively located in one of the departments of psychiatry, the Galt Chair is conceptualized as interdisciplinary and is aimed at professional preparation and its application to public mental health issues, problems, opportunities, needs and programs. This program represents a unique opportunity for a scholar to examine, describe as well as stimulate cooperative interaction between the public university system and the public mental health system," says Galano.

Faculty members receive grants

Joseph L. Scott, professor of biology, has been awarded a $145,000 grant from the National Science Foundation to study comparative nuclear cytology and ultrastructure in the red algae, which will bring scientists closer to a more natural classification of this diverse group of plants.

Scott will study the two sub-classes of red algae Florideophycidae and Bangiophycidae. Until the last decade, taxonomic treatment of the more advanced sub-class Florideophycidae depended upon a number of light microscopic features, which, except for a few, well-delineated groups, are often ambiguous, difficult to locate and, in several species, can be totally absent. Therefore characters other than those traditionally used would be extremely valuable in ascertaining natural relationships within the Florideophycidae and, if those characters chosen are invariably present in all red algae, comparisons with the more primitive sub-class Bangiophycidae could be made to investigate interrelationships between these two major groups.

Scott plans to continue ultrastructural studies of approximately 10 species of red algae from both sub-classes in search of cell-division characteristics that can be used as taxonomic criteria.

Henry Krakauer, professor of physics, has been awarded a $150,000 grant from the National Science Foundation, division of advanced scientific computing, for a project touring dance performances, music and theatrical events, and re-enactments of significant historical events of the period. By virtue of Congressional action in August and President Reagan's signature in September, the College has been designated the official U.S. representative to the international celebration.

Continued on p. 8.

Public meeting on tercentenary to be held at 4 p.m. Tuesday

Continued from p. 2.

President Verkuil last fall spent several days in London and Amsterdam meeting with members of the international committee on cooperative programs, including art exchanges, scholarly events, and involvement by representatives of the British and Dutch royal families.

Among the American events currently being planned is a conference sponsored jointly with the North American Conference on British Studies and the Folger Institute on "The World of William and Mary," scheduled for Feb. 9-11, 1989. Co-ordinated by Hoak, the conference will involve leading scholars in British studies examining such topics as Constitutional foundations, changes in commercial life and ideas, the international impact of the revolution, religion and the culture of the period. Publication of the proceedings is being explored.

Several other academic events are being planned, including a lecture series by Bruce Lenman of St. Andrews University, the 1988-89 holder of the history department's Harrison Chair. Funding is being sought for faculty exchanges with British and Dutch institutions.

The committee will hold a public meeting at 4 p.m. Tuesday, April 14, in the Dodge Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall to share with the campus community the progress of its planning, and to solicit ideas from interested students and faculty.

Tate will preside at the meeting, and presenters will include President Paul R. Verkuil with a general overview; Dale Hoak, professor of history, with information on academic offerings and conferences; Mark Johnson, director of the Muscarelle Museum, on artistic activities; and Edgar Williams, associate professor of music, on musical activities.

Under the coordination of Robert Mac-cubbin, associate professor of English and editor of Eighteenth Century Life, "The World of William and Mary" will be the title of a major exhibit being planned for Dec. 1988 through Feb. 1989 by the Grolier Club of New York, focusing on the politics, religion, arts and literature after the Glorious Revolution. Items relating to the College, including several manuscripts from Swem Library, will be among the materials featured in the exhibit.

A special issue of Eighteenth Century Life, featuring the reign of King William and focusing on decorative arts, religious history, social history, and the history of publication, has been scheduled for Feb. 1989, according to Maccubbin.

Several possible exhibits for the Muscarelle Museum also are being explored for the 1988-89 academic year in connection with the celebration. The Muscarelle Museum is pursuing a collection of prints by the Dutch artist Romeyn de Hooghe tracing the movements by King William during the period of the revolution. Another exhibit, to be mounted in cooperation with Colonial Williamsburg, will focus on British and Dutch architectural influences on the College's early buildings. Negotiations are in progress with the Cooper-Hewitt Museum of New York, which is planning an exhibit of 17th- and 18th-century Dutch, English and American arts, to bring the exhibition to the College. Other possible art exhibits being explored include Dutch "Golden Age" paintings, prints and drawings and 18th-century English watercolors.

Several events are being planned by the Institute of Early American History and Culture, including a small scholarly conference in 1989 covering the impact of the Glorious Revolution on America. IEAHC will join with the Institute of Bill of Rights Law to host a July 1987 conference, co-sponsored by the Chataqua Institute, on the Constitution, as part of the celebration of the Bicentennial of the American Constitution. IEAHC and IBRL plan a March 1989 conference on the bicentennial of the U.S. Bill of Rights, and the law school plans a lecture series on that subject during the 1988-89 academic year. In March 1988, IBRL will hold a conference on the separation of powers.

Other events that have been suggested include concerts by the music department, drama productions, exhibits of Parliamentary documents, alumni activities nationwide and tours of significant places in England and the Netherlands.

In addition to those listed above, members of the committee are James Axtell, professor of history; David Holmes, professor of religion; William Walker, director of university relations; Thomas Wren, graduate student in history; the Rev. Harry E. Krauss, rector of All Saints Church in Wynnewood, Pa; and Douglas Smith of Colonial Williamsburg.

Calendar

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8

*Luncheon Lecture: "Examination and Treatment of Old Master Paintings" by Timothy Lennon, conservator of paintings, Art Institute of Chicago, Campus Center ballroom. Luncheon: noon, $12; lecture 12:45 p.m., $3.
 Cutler Lecture: "The First Amendment and the Virtue of Courage: An Appreciation of the Brandeis Opinion in Whitney v. California" by Vincent Blasi, Corliss Lamont Professor of Civil Liberties at Columbia University School of Law, Marshall-Wythe 120, 4 p.m.
 Gay Awareness Week — Movie Night: "Desert Hearts," 7 p.m.; "My Beautiful Launderette," 9 p.m., Botetourt Theatre.
 *International Seafood, Watermen's Hall, VIMS, 7:30 p.m. $22.50. For information and registration call Sue Gammisch, VIMS, 642-7169 or 722-3791.
 Music at 7:30: Student Performances, Ewell 100, 7:30 p.m.

THURSDAY, APRIL 9

Town and Gown Luncheon: "Thomas Jefferson the Lawyer" by Frank Dewey, author and lawyer, Campus Center ballroom, noon.
 Lunch with Pres. Verkuil, President's House (garden if weather permits), noon. Reservations required; call ext. 4213.
WRITERS' FESTIVAL
 Gay Awareness Week — Lecture: "Homosexuality and the Judeo-Christian Tradition" by George Greenia, modern languages, Morton 20, 7 p.m.
 Lecture: "Finding the History in the 'History of Religions': Buddhist Scriptures Meet the Archaeological World" by Gregory Schopen, Indiana University, Rogers 100, 7:30 p.m.
 Kenan Lecture — An Idea of Philosophy in America: "Inventing Philosophy" by Ted Cohen, William R. Kenan Jr. Distinguished Professor in Humanities, Botetourt Theatre, 7:30 p.m.
 *W&M Theatre Performance: "Hothouse" by Megan Terry, PBK, 8:15 p.m. $5.
 DANCETERA: "A Change of Pace," Tazewell, 9 p.m.

FRIDAY, APRIL 10

WRITERS' FESTIVAL
 Olde Guard Day
 60th Reunion (Through April 11)
 *Fashion show sponsored by Zeta Phi Beta, Tazewell Hall, 8 p.m. $2.
 Men's tennis v. Lynchburg, W&M Hall courts, 2:30 p.m.
 Lecture: "A Practical Understanding of Chapter 11 Business Reorganizations" by William Trencher, administrative office of U.S. Courts, bankruptcy division, Chancellors 102, 3 p.m.
 1987 Rockefeller Memorial Concert: "The Creation" by Haydn; Chorus, soloists and orchestra directed by James S. Darling, Bruton Parish Church, 8 p.m.
 *W&M Theatre Performance: "Hothouse," PBK, 8:15 p.m.
 Gay Awareness Week — "The Superior Dance," Campus Center Little Theatre, 9 p.m.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11

WRITERS' FESTIVAL
 Wren Chapel organ recital, 11 a.m.
 Men's tennis v. Navy, W&M Hall courts, TBA
 *Zeta Phi Beta luncheon — Speaker: Yvonne Miller, professor of education, Norfolk State Univ., and Democratic candidate for Virginia Senate, Campus Center ballroom, noon. General public, $10; students, $8.
 STUDENT RECITAL: Caroline Hooper, soprano, Wmsbg. Regl. Lib. Aud., 8 p.m.
 1987 Rockefeller Memorial Concert: "The Creation" by Haydn; Chorus, soloists and orchestra directed by James S. Darling, Bruton Parish Church, 8 p.m.
 *W&M Theatre Performance: "Hothouse," PBK, 8:15 p.m.
 *Zeta Phi Beta ball, Campus Center ballroom, 9 p.m. $4, single; $7, couple.

SUNDAY, APRIL 12

Men's tennis v. Virginia, W&M Hall courts, 1 p.m.
 *W&M Theatre Performance: "Hothouse," PBK, 2 p.m.
 STUDENT RECITAL: Cynthia Parsons, soprano, Ewell 100, 3 p.m.
 Music at the Muscarelle: W&M Chamber Players, Muscarelle Museum, 3 p.m.
 *At Ash Lawn-Highland (Charlottesville): "Palm Sunday Concerts" by Botetourt Chamber Singers of the Choir, 4:30 and 5:30 p.m. Adults, $5; children under 12, $2.

MONDAY, APRIL 13

CEBAF Seminar: "The 4π Detector Diogene: Perspective for Future Use at the Saturne II Facility" by Regis Babinet, Saclay, CEBAF 47, 1:30 p.m.
 *Passover Sedar: Jeff Poelvoorde, leader, Campus Center ballroom, 6 p.m. Students, $3; faculty and community, $8. Contact Bob Scholnick, 229-8795.
 French Film Series: "Etat de Siege" (1970), Botetourt Theatre, 7 p.m.
 ROTC Spring Awards Ceremony

TUESDAY, APRIL 14

*Forum of Williamsburg: "A Personal Perspective on Changing the System" by Betty Diener, professor of marketing, ODU (former Virginia Secretary of Commerce), Cascades Restaurant, noon. $8.
 Women's tennis v. Richmond, Adair courts, 3 p.m.
 CURRENTS: "Pierrot Lunaire" and other short works, PBK, 3 p.m.
 W&M Choir, Bruton Parish Church, 8 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15

Lunch with Pres. Verkuil, President's House (garden if weather permits), noon. Reservations required; call ext. 4213.
 *College Women's Club Luncheon/Fashion Show, Kingsmill clubhouse, 11:30 a.m. $9.50.
 Honors Program: "The Streetwalking Muse" by Hugh Kenner, Johns Hopkins University, Tucker 120, 7:30 p.m.
 Kenan Lecture — An Idea of Philosophy in America: "The Very Idea of Art" by Ted Cohen, William R. Kenan Jr. Distinguished Professor in Humanities, Botetourt Theatre, 7:30 p.m.
 *International Seafood, Watermen's Hall, VIMS, 7:30 p.m. $22.50. For information and registration call Sue Gammisch, VIMS, 642-7169 or 722-3791.
 *Concert Series: William Brown, tenor, PBK, 8:15 p.m. $5.
 STUDENT RECITAL: Carol Fox and Martha Giffin, voice, Wren Chapel, 8:15 p.m.

THURSDAY, APRIL 16

Town and Gown Luncheon: "Campus Plants: Walking-Tour of the College Greenhouse" by Martin Mathes, biology, Campus Center ballroom, noon.
 W&M Concert Band, PBK, 8 p.m.

FRIDAY, APRIL 17

Women's tennis: CAA CHAMPIONSHIPS, Adair courts, 8 a.m.
 Music at 1: Student Performances, Ewell 100, 1 p.m.
 Faculty Seminar, School of Business Administration: "Asset Writedowns: Managerial Incentives and Security Returns" by John Strong, School of Business, Chancellors 213, 2:30 p.m.
 Physics Colloquium: "Scaling Phenomena in Nuclei" by Jim McCarthy, University of Virginia, Small 109, 4 p.m. (Coffee, conference room, 3:30 p.m.)
 Exhibit Opening. Reception, Muscarelle Museum, 5:30-7:30 p.m.
 Lecture: The Music of Dan Gutwein, Wmsbg. Regl. Lib. Aud., 8 p.m.

SATURDAY, APRIL 18

Women's tennis: CAA CHAMPIONSHIPS, Adair courts, 8 a.m.
 Wren Chapel organ recital, 11 a.m.

SUNDAY, APRIL 19

Women's tennis: CAA CHAMPIONSHIPS, Adair courts, 8 a.m.

MONDAY, APRIL 20

Eminent Scholar Lecture: "Reflections on the Study of Homo Religiosus" by James C. Livingston, Walter G. Mason Professor of Religion, Rogers 100, 7:30 p.m. Reception to follow. (Note: Date changed from previous announcements.)

EXHIBITS

MUSCARELLE MUSEUM: "Steiner Collection of Old Master Drawings" (Through April 12)

ANDREWS GALLERIES: "Student Show" (March 30 through April 17)

ZOLLINGER MUSEUM: "Five Generations: The Tucker-Coleman Women and their Times"

Hillel to hold Sedar, April 13

Hillel will hold a Passover Sedar at 6 p.m., Monday, April 13 in the Campus Center ballroom. The Sedar will be led by Jeff Poelvoorde, a former William and Mary faculty member now teaching at Converse College.

Cost for the program is $3 for students, $8 for members of the faculty and community. Reservations may be made by calling Bob Scholnick, 229-8795.

Guitar ensemble plans concert in Wren Chapel

The William and Mary Guitar Ensemble will present a concert in the chapel of the Wren Building at 8 p.m., Monday, April 13. There is no admission charge.

The ensemble consists of four guitarists, Jack Sharmon, Matthew Bolster, Mike Gasporovich and Director Tim Olbrych; William E. Phenix, recorders and baroque flute; and Rusty Burgener, flute. All members of the ensemble, with the exception of Olbrych, are students. Olbrych is a lecturer in music.

The program for the Monday concert will include a Telemann Quartet, arranged for four guitars; two overtures from operas, arranged for two guitars by Giuliani; "Allemande" by William Byrd, for two guitars; and Sonata in C Major by Bach and Concerto in G minor by Vivaldi, for recorder and guitar.

Copper coins to be topic of talk to Library Friends

Robert S. Archer of the numismatic firm of Stack's in New York City will give an illustrated lecture for the Friends of the Library at 7:30 p.m., Friday, April 24 in the Botetourt Theatre of the Earl Gregg Swem Library.

The public is invited; there is no admission charge.

Archer will take as his topic "A Survey of State Coppers: Copper Coinage Issued by the State during the Articles of Confederation Period, 1781-1788." He will base his remarks on the Charles T. Lark Coin Collection, which the Library received by bequest in 1983. He will discuss the design, circumstances of issuance and the monetary function of the coinage both prior and subsequent to the establishment of the Federal Mint in 1792.

Archer is a member of the American Numismatic Society, the New York Numismatic Club and the American Numismatic Association.

Miller to speak at Zeta Phi Beta luncheon

Yvonne Miller, professor of education at Norfolk State University and Democratic candidate for the Virginia Senate, will be guest speaker at a luncheon Saturday in the Campus Center ballroom in celebration of the fifth anniversary of Zeta Phi Beta chapter of Zeta Phi Beta sorority.

Fee for the luncheon is $10; students, $8. Reservations are required and should be made by calling either Sheila Williams at 229-6978 or Janice Johnson at ext. 5511.

A fashion show will be held at 8 p.m., Friday, in Tazewell Hall. Admission is $2.

DANCETERA to provide "Change of Pace," Thursday

Members of DANCETERA, the apprentice company for Orchesis, will present a program of original dances for "Change of Pace," at 9 p.m., Thursday, April 9 in Tazewell Hall.

Members of DANCETERA include Josselin Appelboom, Brooke Davis, Nancy Golike, Susan Kapp, Rosanna Korin, Godfrey Simmons, Marcia Weidenmeier and Kin Welch.

Schopen to speak on Buddhism, April 9

The second in a series of public lectures on Buddhism, sponsored by the religion department, will be held at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 9 in Rogers 100.

Gregory Schopen of Indiana University will talk on "Finding the History in the 'History of Religions': Buddhist Scriptures Meet the Archaeological World."

The East Asian Studies Association will sponsor a reception following the talk in Rogers 107.

Women's Club

The College Women's Club will hold its annual luncheon/fashion show April 15 at the Kingsmill clubhouse.

A wine reception will begin at 11:30 a.m., with luncheon at noon, followed by a fashion show with clothes from Casey's.

All members and their guests are invited to attend. Cost of the luncheon is $9.50. Reservations should be made by sending a check, payable to the College Women's Club, to Linda Vahala, 138 Nina Lane, Williamsburg, VA, by April 10.

Requisition Deadline Announced

The cutoff date for receipt in Richmond of requisitions to be funded in this fiscal year is April 30. Requisitions affected are those exceeding $5,000 for supplies and equipment or requisitions for printing that exceed $1,200, which must be processed by Richmond.

In order to comply with this regulation, says Chandler "we are asking that requisitions be submitted to the college purchasing office no later than April 10.

Any questions regarding these regulations should be referred to the college purchasing office, exts. 4215, 4279 and 4373.

The Arts at William & Mary

Eleventh Annual Writers' Festival

Thursday, April 9

8 p.m. Poetry Reading by A. R. Ammons Tucker 120

Friday, April 10

8 a.m. Lecture by Dana Gioia Tucker 215
4 p.m. Fiction Reading by Bobby Jack Nelson Tucker 120
8 p.m. Poetry Reading by Dana Gioia Tucker 120

Saturday, April 11

10:30 a.m. Fiction Workshop by Padgett Powell Honors Center
2 p.m. Poetry Workshop by Dana Gioia Honors Center
4 p.m. Poetry Reading by Caroline Finkelstein Tucker 120
8 p.m. Fiction Reading by Padgett Powell Tucker 120

Funded by the Committee on Lectures, the BSA Finance Committee, the Society for Collegiate Journalists, the Publication Council and the English department.

William Brown

Brown next on Concert Series

William Brown, tenor, will give the final performance in the 1986-87 William and Mary Concert Series at 8:15 p.m., Wednesday, April 15 in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

A limited number of individual tickets will be available. Inquiries should be made to the office of the series director, Ken Smith, at ext. 4557.

Brown will cover great distances of time and space in a varied program which will include "Care selve" from "Atalanta" by Handel, "Per Pietra, Non Ricercate," K. 420 by Mozart and "Lord Thou Knowest" by Undine Smith Moore, written in memory of Martin Luther King Jr.

Brown's program will also include "Meine Liebe ist grun" and "Kein Haus, Keine Heimat" by Brahms; "Breit uber mein Haupt" and "Cacilie" by Richard Strauss, and three songs by Henri Dupac, "Soupir," "Chanson triste" and "Phidyle."

He will open the second half of his performance with two songs by William Grant Still, "What Does He Know of Dreams" and "You're Wonderful Mary" from "Highway 1, U.S.A." He will also sing American, African and Jamaican folk songs.

Brown is professor of voice at the University of North Florida in Jacksonville and maintains a busy performance schedule. He made his New York solo recital debut at Carnegie Hall in 1982. He was chosen to be the University of Pennsylvania's first Martin Luther King Commemorative Concert Artist in 1986.

In 1983 he performed in Sir Peter Pears' 75th birthday concert at the Aldeburgh Festival. He also appeared at Carnegie Hall for the 85th birthday celebration for Virgil Thomson during the 1981-82 season.

Brown has performed with many of the major symphony orchestras across the country as well as the London Royal Philharmonic Orchestra and the Helsinki Orchestra. He made his operatic debut with the Baltimore Opera Company.

Brown's recording of "Carmina Burana," with Robert Shaw conducting the Atlanta Symphony, has met with critical acclaim.

Claudia Stevens to perform with CURRENTS

CURRENTS, the new resident music ensemble at the University of Richmond will present Arnold Schoenberg's "Pierrot Lunaire" featuring soprano/performance artist Claudia Stevens in the title role, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 14 in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. There is no admission charge.

"Pierrot Lunaire" (Op. 21), a seminal work by an important 20th-century composer was written in 1912 and based upon German translations of a set of 21 poems by the Belgian symbolist poet Albert Giraud. It is a dream-like, often frightening, and always fascinating work for instrumentalists and a singer/actress.

Appearing with Miss Stevens will be Patricia Werrell, flute; David Niethamer, clarinet; Bruno Nasta, violin; William Comita, cello; and Suzanne Bunting, piano. Miss Stevens lives in Richmond and is a lecturer in the department of music.

CURRENTS will also perform several other contemporary works, including "Five Mementos" by Richmond composer Richard Becker.

Miss Stevens is a classically trained pianist, singer and actress who combines her skills in the performance of innovative, interdisciplinary compositions, many written for and in collaboration with her. She has given world premieres of over 30 compositions, performing contemporary works on

Claudia Stevens

American music on program for orchestra

The William and Mary Orchestra and the William and Mary Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Joel Suben of the music faculty, will feature the work of two well-known American composers, Virgil Thomson and Aaron Copland, in a concert at 8:15 p.m., Tuesday, April 21 in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Tickets are $1.50 each and may be obtained at the music department office or the box office the evening of the performance.

The full orchestra will perform a suite from "The River" by Virgil Thomson. "The River" is a complete musical score written for a 1939 documentary film of the same name about conservation along the Mississippi.

As an introduction to this music, the film will be shown at 4 p.m., Wednesday, April 15 in Tucker 120. Dale Cockrell of the music faculty, who specializes in indigenous American music, will give a brief preview of the film and the score, which is taken predominantly from Baptist hymn tunes. There is no admission charge for this program.

The Chamber orchestra will play the original version of the suite from "Appalachian Spring," a ballet Copland wrote for another well-known American artist, dancer Martha Graham.

The April 21 concert will also showcase the winners of concerto competitions. Christy Wells of Alexandria, Va., violin, will play "Rondo for Violin and String Orchestra" by Franz Schubert. Elizabeth Bley of Reston, Va., clarinet, and Kathryn Hart, of Fairfax, Va., flute, will play "Concertino for Flute and Clarinet and Orchestra" by Ernest Bloch. Caroline Hooper of Beckly, W. Va., coloratura soprano, will sing an aria from Mozart's opera "The Marriage of Figaro."

Two cellists, Diane La Rosa of Dix Hills, Long Island, and Susanna Surface of Dyersburg, Tenn., will perform "Concerto for Two Cellos and Orchestra" by Vivaldi at a concert the Chamber Orchestra will give April 5 in Richmond and Westminster-Canterbury.

Carr, Sullivan nominees sought

The Committee on Prizes and Awards will meet shortly to select the recipients of the major College awards, the Carr Cup and the Sullivan Awards.

Nominations for these two awards may be made by any member of the College community. Criteria for the awards are as follows:

The Carr Cup — "awarded (to a graduating senior) on the basis of character, scholarship and leadership. The aim is to find a well-rounded student, having a good standing in all three of these respects and withal carrying within the spirit of willingness to sacrifice and give oneself to a cause. ..."

The Sullivan Awards — awarded annually "to not more than one man and one woman in the graduating class, and to one other person who has a close relationship to the College. In the selection of the recipients, nothing is considered except the possession of characteristics of heart, mind and conduct as evince a spirit of love for and helpfulness to other men and women."

Nominations and supporting materials must be received by April 10 in the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs, James Blair 203B.

Youngsters visit orchestra rehearsal

"Maybe I'll be a cello player . . ."

"May I try? ..."

"Wonder what they keep in these?"

Bonnie Lambert to sing benefit for music club

Bonnie Lambert, soprano, a freshman, will give a benefit recital at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, April 18 at the Williamsburg Regional Library Arts Center, 515 Scotland St., under the sponsorship of the Wednesday Morning Music Club of Williamsburg. Her accompanist will be Ruth Easterling Winters, pianist.

Tickets are $5 and $3 for students and may be obtained at the door the evening of the recital or reserved by calling either 229-3398 or 220-3181.

Funds raised by the concert will be used by the club to continue its program of offering financial support to young musicians and to musical organizations in the Williamsburg area.

Miss Lambert's program will include the following music:

"Vergin, tutto amor" by Francesco Durante; "Che fiero costume" by Giovanni Legrenzi; "O del mio dolce ardor" by Christoph W. Gluck; "Le violette" by Alessandro Scarlatti; four songs by Gabriel Fauré, "Les roses d'Ispahan," "Clair de lune," "Après un rêve" and "Notre amour"; and a motet by Mozart.

In the second half of her program, Miss Lambert will sing four works by Brahms: "Ständchen," "Wir wandelten," "Meine Liebe ist grün" and "Vergebliches Ständchen" and "Ah! je veux vivre" by Charles Gounod. She will conclude her program with a medley of tunes by George and Ira Gershwin.

Miss Lambert has received many honors for her music. As a sophomore in high school she was the state winner of the James Bland Memorial Scholarship Competition, sponsored by the Lions Club of Virginia. She has been a member of both the children's and adult choruses of the Virginia Opera Company and her senior year in high school sang a small role in "The Merry Widow."

Last summer she received the exceptional honor of being included in the Wolf Trap Opera Company in the special capacity of auditor/apprentice, an honor not bestowed on such a young singer for over 10 years. She won the highest honors in the annual state auditions of the National Association of Teachers of Singing in both her junior and senior years in high school.

Miss Lambert was hired as soprano/section leader at the Larchmont United Methodist Church in Norfolk when she was 15 years old. She continues her church work as soloist at the Williamsburg Presbyterian Church. Because of her extensive background in piano, she is employed by the music department to accompany voice lessons and juries.

Bonnie Lambert

She has been studying with Genevieve McGiffert for the past six years and wishes to pursue a career in opera.

Deadline April 17

Applications are due no later than April 17 for the Rex Smith and Charles McDowell-Kays Gary journalism awards.

The Rex Smith Award was established in 1960 by friends of this alumnus. The earnings of an endowment are presented annually to a student who demonstrates academic achievement, journalistic competence, choice of journalism as a career and participation in the publication activities of the College.

The Charles McDowell-Kays Gary Award is intended to honor excellence in journalistic writing at the College. The award is made from a fund established by Wilford Kale of Williamsburg, a journalist and alumnus of the College.

Up to three samples of writing and a statement covering the applicant's accomplishments and plans must be in the office of the William and Mary News, James Blair 310 by 5 p.m. on April 17.

Publishing prizes

The Committee on Training in Publishing Procedures offers two grants up to $1,500 each, depending on need and the availability of funds, to graduating seniors or recent graduates of the College who are admitted to one of the following programs this summer: Howard University Book Publishing Program, Publishers Weekly Internship, New York University Diploma Programs in Book and Magazine Publishing, Radcliffe College Publishing Procedures Course, Stanford University Publishing

Continued on p. 8.

Presswomen offer Cooke scholarship

The Virginia Press Women are seeking applicants for the 1987 Agnes Cooke Scholarship Award in the amount of $550.

The competition is open to any college student, regardless of grade level, or graduate student who plans a career in journalism. The student need not be enrolled in a journalism degree program to qualify.

Applications should be submitted in letter form to Louis Kilpatrick, P.O. Box 3695, Fredericksburg, VA 22402. Students should include a statement expressing the reason they have chosen the field of journalism. All applicants should indicate their need for financial assistance and how they would spend the scholarship award. Tear sheets of published work should accompany all applications.

Holmes wins HACE award

Mary Holmes, senior secretary in the buildings and grounds department has been named the employee of the month for March by the Association of Hourly and Classified Employees.

Mary has been an employee of the College for eight years. Prior to joining the College staff she was secretary in the counselor's office at New Kent High School for four years and before that was a dental assistant in Saluda, Middlesex County.

Her job involves a variety of assignments including evaluations, attendance records, payroll, moving, hauling and storage and accident reports.

"She is a treasure," says Shirley Baker, executive housekeeper. "She is tops, very efficient in everything she does, and she has a glowing personality." These compliments were echoed by Evelyn Kilmon, executive housekeeper, who described Mrs. Holmes as "the backbone" of the three offices of the department.

A native of Middlesex County, Mary and her husband have one daughter, Cheryl, 15, a student at New Kent High School. Mr. Holmes works for the Newport News Shipbuilding Company.

Mary characterizes herself as a "homebody." She likes to read and is a good cook; coconut pie and pound cake are her specialties.

Mary Holmes

Affirmative Action at William & Mary

A recent Office of Civil Rights (OCR) draft report on black student recruitment and retention and black employment in Virginia's colleges and universities pointed out that the College of William and Mary "has an exemplary program of administering financial aid to black students, meeting 100 percent of the financial need of entering black Virginia students."

That observation was one of several in the March 27 report describing progress in William and Mary's affirmative action program, according to Dale B. Robinson, director of affirmative action.

OCR created the report as a result of its visits to 39 campuses across the Commonwealth between Nov. 1985 and April 1986 to assess implementation of student and employee affirmative action plans. According to Robinson, the 101-page draft report represents OCR's "assessment of what's going on statewide and at each institution." Robinson said the report will serve as a basis of recommendation on whether Virginia should be relieved from current affirmative action litigation.

There is a 60-day period during which Virginia and its institutions are asked to comment on the facts presented in the report, said Robinson. OCR will collect those comments and produce a final report, which Robinson finds "unusual in that it's the first time they've issued a draft report. This is the first time we've been asked to comment."

Robinson is pleased with the report's statements on the College's black student recruitment and retention plan. "I believe they recognize the strong commitment we have to student retention," he said. "Although it's not cited in the report, the retention rate of black students at William and Mary is 88 percent, one of the highest in the Commonwealth."

According to the Office of Admission, the College has made offers of admission to approximately 130 black freshmen for the fall of 1987. Currently there are about 250 black undergraduates enrolled at William and Mary.

The report also recognizes the College's "increased success in enrolling black graduate students, especially in law," Robinson said. "Particularly significant was the action taken to increase the amount of financial aid available for black law students," the report stated, noting that financial aid to black law students increased dramatically between 1983-84 and 1985-86. "During this period, black enrollment in the law school more than doubled," said the report, noting that first-time black law enrollees increased from seven in 1983-84 to 15 in 1985-86. The report also said the College "did not develop coordination agreements with local community colleges" as a means of recruiting black students, but Robinson said one is being developed now. He noted similar coordination efforts that have existed with Richard Bland College.

The report also pointed out that despite the increased numbers of black undergraduates enrolled, the College had not appointed black individuals as resident advisers. The situation has changed since the April 1986 site visit, said Robinson, noting that the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs has taken steps to employ black resident advisers.

In the area of employment, the report notes the College's efforts to recruit academic personnel and makes reference to William and Mary's internal monitoring procedures, which Robinson says have actually been enhanced since last year. On Oct. 8, 1986, Provost Melvyn D. Schiavelli issued new procedures for recruitment and selection, which stated: "The recruitment and appointment of minorities and women is of particular concern to the provost."

"This stated concern from the administration means that that additional progress is both a planned and expected part of faculty recruiting efforts," said Robinson. He added that the College expects to employ up to

Continued on p. 8

HACE seeks campuswide membership

If you are an hourly or classified employee and you don't have a date for lunch tomorrow, bring a bag lunch to work and plan to join the monthly meeting of the William and Mary Hourly and Classified Employee Association (HACE) at noon in the Campus Center Little Theatre. Membership is HACE's first priority — you will be warmly welcomed.

Membership is $3. Members are being asked to bring a non-member but if you haven't received a personal invitation, come anyway. You're invited.

HACE's "godmother" and first president is Doris Underwood, secretary to the law librarian at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. Doris enjoyed the benefits of a similar organization when she worked on the staff of St. Mary's University in San Antonio, Texas. That group, she recalls, had a varied program that included everything from short courses to an oyster bake and many opportunities for people on campus to get together.

Underwood envisions the same kind of program for HACE. Plans are currently underway for a W&M Day at Busch with special ticket prices. She would also like to see HACE involved in many aspects of campus life such as sponsoring a Red Cross blood drive.

Doris Underwood

It is also a goal of HACE to have representation on search committees for administrative posts that affect employee matters and to have a liaison with administrators when policies affecting employees are implemented.

Things are happening slowly, says Underwood. "We're doing a lot of hard work to get started and get our credentials. We are building from the ground up; we need people to come out and support us."

Underwood was on the staff of the Employee Relations Office for a short time before going to the law school, and she knows the variety of questions she fielded from employees about their benefits as state employees. HACE, she says, will be affiliated with the Virginia Government Employees group.

One of the things that HACE has already implemented is the employee-of-the-month award to promote professionalism among employees, to recognize contributions by individuals and to encourage the spirit of unity among employees.

Nominations come from supervisors and should be sent to the secretary of HACE, Ruth Graff in the President's Office. The nominating letter is the only criteria used by HACE officers to make the award. Winners are recognized at a HACE meeting, presented with a plaque for their office, and Marriott offers dinner for two at the MARKET-PLACE.

Underwood says that because only one award is given each month, nominations should be re-submitted for further consideration.

HACE meets at noon, the second Thursday of each month in the Campus Center Little Theatre.

For information concerning the organization, call Underwood at ext. 4515.

Debate team in top 10

The debate team is back from the largest Collegiate National Tournament ever held and can claim to be sixth in the nation with a novice team that is second in the country. Over 230 teams competed in the tournament held at LSU in Baton Rouge, La.

The team of Scott Stawski and Doug Clark made it to the round of 32 before losing to Missouri State.

Rod Satterwhite and Jon Wilson lost in the round of 64 to Sacramento State University.

Rod Satterwhite was named 19th-place speaker and William and Mary also placed Larrette Chaney, Lora Forester and Scott Stawski in the top 25. There were 464 debaters at the tournament.

The novice team of Sean Reilly and Terry Tracy tied for second place with a team from Marist College. The number-one team was from Cornell.

After placing 26th last year, the debaters are excited about their good showing this year. Wayne Kraemer admits they would like to have held on to the No. 2 rating they had a couple of weeks ago but No. 6 not only gives them a high national rating, it also puts them at the top of the northeast region.

Joanie Walker joins RBC staff

Joanie (Solinger) Walker '65, got printer's ink in her veins when she was working for the Flat Hat and after several career moves, including a tour in Europe, is back in the writing business, this time as director of public relations and publications for Richard Bland College.

Walker joined the newly created development office last July as assistant to the director, and since Marge Solenberger had recently retired, also assumed the public relations duties. She is taking an active part in campus life as adviser to the student newspaper and writer of news releases about college activities.

As an English major, Walker brought to college an enthusiasm for writing and has warm memories of being on the Flat Hat staff with H. Mason Sizemore, Sam Sadler and W. Wilford Kale. She had been editor of Arlington County's Wakefield High School newspaper when she came to William and Mary, and is delighted that the tradition continues with her daughter Lisa, 18, who is now news editor for the Goochland High School paper. Her son Philip, 15, is also interested in writing. "So much of what we did with the Flat Hat — the joy of creating it — is coming back; I feel very much at home," says Walker of her work with the Richard Bland students.

Another ambition Walker brought to college with her was to visit Europe. That she did, right after graduation, and imagine her amazement when she encountered her English department adviser, Frazer Neiman, and his family while touring in southern Bavaria.

She worked in Nuremburg, Germany, as a civilian for the Department of the Army's recreation program for families. Here again Walker maybe started a family tradition for travel; her daughter was an exchange student in France last year, and her son hopes to go to Germany next summer from the Rotary exchange program.

Before joining the RBC staff, Walker had been successful in a number of different fields. For four years she created patchwork designs for her own business called Byrd Farm Crafts. She also managed a county branch library and served as administrative assistant to the president of an agricultural corporation.

Joanie Walker

Walker and her husband, Lewis, live on his grain farm in Dinwiddie County, which happens to be adjacent to RBC. They enjoy traveling and sailing, and recently combined the two by cruising through the Virgin Island on a chartered sailboat.

Live oak planted for Zeigler

A tree planting ceremony was held March 31 on the campus of the Virginia Institute of Marine Science in memory of John M. Zeigler, professor emeritus of marine science, who died Jan. 2.

Frank O. Perkins, dean/director, planted a live oak tree in Dr. Zeigler's memory. "John loved trees and plants of all kind," said Perkins, "but especially the live oak, which is a native of his home state of Florida, and which we plant here today in his memory. On the occasion of John's retirement I promised that a tree would be planted in the spring on the grounds of VIMS in his name, and we are gathered here today to fulfill that promise."

Attending the ceremony was Zeigler's widow, Marilyn, his daughter Anne Hogge and grandson Peter and many colleagues and friends.

Representing the General Assembly of Virginia were delegates George W. Grayson and Harvey B. Morgan who presented Mrs. Zeigler with a framed resolution recognizing Zeigler's many accomplishments and contributions to science and the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Economics

"Hildebrand, Helfferding and Schumpeter on Economic Development and Financial Institutions" by Clyde Haulman and Richard Fritz, has been accepted for publication in the International Review of the History of Banking. Haulman's paper, "Assessing the Role of the Job Service as an Unrestricted Access Labor Market Intermediary," co-authored with F. A. Raffa and B. Runge-ling, appeared in the Winter 1987 issue of Growth and Change.

David Finifter presented a paper, co-authored with Henrick Harwood of Research Triangle Institute, at the Eastern Economic Association Conference on March 7 in Washington, D.C. The paper was titled "Net Impact Analysis of the Emergency Veterans' Job Training Act."

Three members of the department participated in the Virginia Social Science Association conference held in Williamsburg, March 21. Clyde Haulman presented a paper "From Moral Philosophy to Economic Science: The Teaching of Economics at Virginia Colleges." David Finifter presented a paper co-authored with Mamoru Ishikawa of the U.S. Department of Labor on "Indians and Native Americans: An Isolated Minority." Berhanu Abegaz was the chair of the session on the teaching and application of economics.

Berhanu Abegaz was a panelist in the selection of minority graduate fellowship recipients conducted by the National Research Council for the Ford Foundation March 17-19.

Geology

R. Heather Macdonald presented a paper on "A Comparison of Carbonate Concretions from Two Marine Shales" at the meeting of the southeastern section, Geological Society of America, in Norfolk, March 26. Gerald H. Johnson and Jennifer L. Burmester, a senior geology major, presented a paper on "Distribution and Origin of Sinkholes in the Atlantic Coastal Plain of Southeastern Virginia."

Gerald H. Johnson and Bruce K. Goodwin presented a paper at the annual meeting of the northeastern section, Geological Society of America, in Pittsburgh, March 5. The title of the paper was "The 'R' Street Exposure: A Marine and Fluvial Sedimentary Sequence Near the Fall Zone at Richmond, Virginia."

Also Johnson and Goodwin, along with two other authors, wrote a 57-page guidebook titled "Tertiary and Quaternary Stratigraphy across the Fall Zone and Western Coastal Plain, Southwestern Virginia," which appears in Geological Excursions in Virginia and North Carolina. This was published for field trips of the southeastern section of the Geological Society of America. The authors also served as field trip leaders for the field excursions on March 25. Johnson also co-authored a 30-page guidebook, "Stratigraphy and Paleontology of Pliocene and Pleistocene Deposits of Southeastern Virginia," and served as a leader of that trip.

Goodwin also presented a paper on "The Fall Zone of the James River" at a symposium on earth science field techniques for teachers and students at the national meeting of the National Science Teachers Association in Washington, D.C., March 27.

Chemistry

Gary C. DeFotis, associate professor of chemistry, presented a paper, "Magnetic Behavior of the Mixed Magnetic Insulating System $Fe[S_{2x}Se_{2(1-x)}CN(C_2H_5)_2]_2Cl$ " at the national meeting of the American Physical Society in New York, March 15-20. Robert S. Wiese, an undergraduate honors student, was co-author.

School of Education

Louis P. Messier, associate professor of special education, has been invited by the Atlantic office of the Educational Testing Service to participate in the second phase of development of the National Teachers Examination for teachers of the learning disabled. While the first phase of development involved generating a pool of potential examination items for the NTE, the second phase will be a review of the pool for clarity, accuracy and appropriateness. The finished examination will be included as part of the National Teachers Examinations in the southeastern region.

Patsy R. Joyner, a doctoral candidate in higher education and director of community and continuing education at Paul D. Camp Community College, has been appointed to the National Council for Community Services and Continuing Education. The NCCSCE was formed in 1969 as a part of a community services project funded by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. When the structure of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges was reorganized in 1972, NCCSCE became one of its operating councils, and today is one of the most active community college councils involving over 1,000 members in the U.S. and Canada.

School of Business

Henry E. Mallue Jr., associate dean for administration and external affairs, presented a paper titled "Current Issues in Defining 'Trade Secrets': Protecting Intellectual Property" at the 1987 meeting of the Mid-Atlantic Regional Business Law Association in Annapolis, Md.

Mallue's paper dealt with the issue of defining computer programs as trade secrets under the Restatement of Torts (1939) and the Uniform Trade Secrets Act (1980), and with case law discussing the relationship between federal patent and copyright law and state trade secret law.

"A Stochastic, Psychometric Model for the Valuation of Personnel Selection Systems" by Jean Wyer, has been accepted for publication by Decision Sciences.

Ned Waxman recently delivered an academic presentation on "The Bankruptcy Judges, U.S. Trustees and Family Farmer Bankruptcy Act of 1986" at the Mid-Atlantic regional Business Law Association conference in Annapolis, Md.

Frank O. Perkins, dean/director of the Virginia Institute of Marine Science, looks on as Marilyn Zeigler, her daughter Anne Hogge and grandson Peter, receive a framed resolution from the General Assembly of Virginia, presented by Delegates George W. Grayson and Harvey B. Morgan, recognizing Dr. Zeigler's many accomplishments and contributions to science and the Commonwealth of Virginia.

Marilyn Zeigler, widow of John M. Zeigler, professor emeritus of marine science and Frank O. Perkins, dean/director of VIMS, ceremoniously plant a live oak tree on the grounds of the Institute in memory of Dr. Zeigler.

Modern Languages and Literatures

R. Merritt Cox, professor of Spanish, recently chaired a section on 19th-century Spanish literature at the annual meeting of the Louisiana Conference on Hispanic Languages and Literatures held in New Orleans.

History

Richard B. Sherman's article, "The President and the People: Presidential Protection Procedures, 1901-1933," has been published in the Winter 1986 issue of Prologue: The Journal of the National Archives.

Philosophy

James Harris recently delivered a paper titled "An Empirical Understanding of Eternity" to the annual meeting of the Society for the Philosophy of Religion in Tallahassee, Fla. The paper has also been accepted for publication by the International Journal for the Philosophy of Religion.

Classical Studies

John H. Oakley recently published an article titled "Reflections of Nichomachos" in the Bulletin Stichting Antieke Beschaving (Dutch Journal of Classical Archaeology) 61 (1987): 71-77. Oakley has also given two papers: "A Classical Dining Deposit from the Agora in Athens" on Feb. 25 to the Archaeologisches Seminar of the University of Wurzburg, Germany, and "Three Mantled Ladies: An Iconographical Rarity" on March 17 at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens, Greece.

Lewis W. Leadbeater, has published an article titled "Amphitryon, Casina, and the Disappearance of Jupiter" in vol. 4 (1986) of Studies in Latin Literature and Roman History (of the Collection Latomus).

English

"From Nightmare to Reverie: Continuity in Our Mutual Friend" by Mary Ann Kelly, instructor in English, was published in the Dec. 1986 issue of Durham University Review.

Employment Classified Advertisements

The following positions at the College are open to all qualified individuals. Call 229-JOBS for further information, or visit the Employee Relations Office in Thiemes on Richmond Road for information and application forms, Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-4 p.m. An EEO/AA employer.

Informational interviews will be held from 9 a.m. to noon, Thursday, April 9 in the Office of Personnel Services for persons wishing to learn more about employment opportunities at the College and VIMS. Interviews will be held on a first-come, first-served basis.

The deadline for applications for the following positions is 5 p.m., April 10, unless otherwise noted.

LIBRARY ASSISTANT (Grade 7) — Entry salary $15,326. No. 513. Location: Marshall-Wythe Law Library.

ANIMAL CARE TECHNICIAN (Grade 3) — Entry salary $10,727. Will work alternating weekends. No. 185. Location: Psychology.

OFFICE SERVICES ASSISTANT (Grade 4) — Entry salary $11,735. No. 407. Location: History Department.

EMPLOYEE RELATIONS DIRECTOR C — Director of Personnel Services (Grade 16) — Entry salary $34,183. No. 120. Location: Office of Personnel Services. Deadline April 17.

MARINE SCIENTIST B — Chesapeake Bay Instructor (unclassified) — Salary range $11.51 to $15.71 per hour, part time approximately 35 hours per week for 40 weeks, Aug. 16-June 15. Location: VIMS (Advisory Services). Deadline May 15.

OCR report

Continued from p. 6

tive new tenure-eligible black faculty members by the start of the 1987-88 academic year.

The report noted that the College needs to put forth additional effort in the appointment of professional and skilled-craft employees, a conclusion with which Robinson agrees.

Overall, Robinson was pleased that the OCR report recognizes the College's efforts to attract black students and employees. "These comments are more reflective of the quality of what we're doing than anything else," he said.

"The Commonwealth's agreement with OCR expired on June 30, 1986. Since that time we at William and Mary have adopted voluntary affirmative action plans to continue our progress," said Robinson. "This represents a new direction in our commitment to affirmative action."

CURRENTS

Continued from p. 4.

major concert series and festivals throughout the United States, including Carnegie Recital Hall, the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood and the National Gallery.

She has recorded for Perspectives of New Music and has been heard nationally in several recital broadcasts on National Public Radio and live in performance on WCVE TV. Miss Stevens also performs widely as a piano soloist in recitals, chamber music groups and with orchestras.

Classifieds are carried as a service to members of the College community only. There is a charge of $3 for an advertisement of 40 words or less in three consecutive issues. Copy changes constitute a new advertisement. Copy and payment should reach the News Office (James Blair 310A) no later than 5 p.m. the Friday preceding the first insertion.

FOR SALE

Choice three-story luxury townhouse at the Oaks on Hen v. Quiet new end unit, 2 fireplaces, 2 decks overlooking woods and water. Two bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths, all appliances. $104,600. Call 229-6345. (4/8)

Bicycle, Schwinn Le Tour, 12-speed. Chrome-moly frame, Araya rims, Shimano 600 shifters, Shimano Altus derailleurs, Sugino crank, quick-release front and rear wheels, toe clips. Stored indoors, like new. $140, negotiable. Call 253-5515, ask for Todd, or come by Jefferson, room 331. (4/22)

1985 Honda Accord, 5-speed, hatchback. Excellent condition, many extras, one owner. Still under transferrable extended warranty. $7,600. Call 253-1425, evenings and weekends. (4/22)

Women's 10-speed world tourist Schwinn bicycle. Needs new rim, otherwise in good condition. $150, negotiable. Call 229-0880 evenings. (4/15)

King size waterbed, dark pine, 4-poster with canopy. Ultrawaveless mattress. 8 mos. old. Sheets, spread, pad included. Originally $1,999. Moving, must sell. $900, negotiable. Mattress and sheet alone, $175. Call Brenda, ext. 4028 days, 565-0288 evenings. (4/8)

Cream and green sofa, attractive, comfortable. $75. Call Carol, 229-6254, evenings; 229-1607, work. (4/8)

1974 Super Beetle: New brakes, good heat, runs great. $900 negotiable. Also, new super-single waterbed with sheets, railings and heater. $75. Call 566-2258 after 5 p.m. (4/8)

FOR RENT

Across street from law school. Sublet for summer. Brand new 2-BR, 2-bath apt. Fully furnished with new furniture including wide-screen TV, stereo, dishes, etc., if desired. Call 220-0703. (4/22)

Summer sublet. One to two bedrooms are available in beautiful 2-BR apartments, May 1 through summer. Private bath for each room, air conditioned. Laundry facilities in building. Pool, new carpeting. 1.5 miles from campus. $235 per room. Call Benita at 220-9504 or 1-270-5223, weekends. (4/22)

Available in Aug. Deposit will hold 2-BR Jamestown Commons condo. One mile from campus. Carpeted; washer and dryer. $495 per month + utilities. Call 229-3438. (4/22)

Apartment close to Williamsburg. Attached to private home, quiet neighborhood. Hand-somely furnished: large studio, bedroom, bath, large LR and kitchen downstairs. Wall-to-wall carpeting throughout, large closets, private entrance with foyer. Wooded lot, share deck. $425 + utilities. Single occupancy, no pets. Available June 1. Call 564-0480 after 5:30 p.m. and on weekends. (4/22)

Furnished house in Walnut Hills, near campus, Aug. 1987-Aug. 1988 (dates flexible). Large brick colonial house, nicely furnished, central air conditioning. 4 bedrooms, 3 1/2 baths, living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, playroom. 3,400 sq. ft. in all. Ideal for visiting professor and family. Rent negotiable. Call 229-9329 after 5 p.m. or Margo Schaefer, ext. 4481, or Elmer Schaefer, ext. 4348, days. (4/22)

WANTED

Frantically seeking very mature, responsible person to sublet my place this summer. Rent $260 per month. Must love cats and plants, be a non-smoker and very trustworthy. Be willing to move in by April 26. Phone Cathy, 220-0317. (4/22)

Mature young lady (non-smoker) to share nice large home with family of three. Furnished, private room, sunny and quiet, large bathroom and partial kitchen privileges. Four miles from campus. $180 per month. Call 229-7886. (4/22)

Babysitter in my home, 7:30 p.m.-12:30 a.m. One child, six months old. Norge area. Transportation needed. Salary negotiable. Call ext. 4648, days; or 564-0249. (4/22)

Person to clean 2-BR apartment once a week until the end of the semester. Walking distance to campus. Call 220-0703. (4/22)

Wanted to sub-lease, one room in apartment from June 1 to Aug. 30. Contact Vickie Garrett, 800C Holiday Dr., Greensboro, N.C., 27403, (919) 273-1436. (4/22)

Racing sailboat crew wanted. To race on J-24 (last year's high-point winner) in Chesapeake Bay, York River and Hampton Roads. Previous sailing/racing experience helpful but less important than dedication, compatibility, and willingness to learn. Our season begins in April; we're now in training. Races are Wednesday nights and Sundays. If interested contact Louis E. Catron in PBK, ext. 4395, or at home, 229-3696. (4/15)

Two responsible graduating female students desire to housesit or to rent a 2-bedroom apartment after graduation. Call Caroline at 220-0984 or Paula at 253-1417. (4/15)

Leaving Williamsburg for the summer or part of the summer? Two responsible rising juniors are willing to housesit for you. We attend summer school. Contact Casey at ext. 4378. (4/15)

House to rent. Graduate student and senior citizen mother, with three well-behaved cats, wish to rent 3- to 4-BR unfurnished house with at least one bedroom and bath on first floor. Desire one-year lease with occupancy beginning June, July or Aug. Please call Mary Ann, 229-8934, and leave message. (4/8)

MISCELLANEOUS

We have horse manure galore, but loading's a job I abhor. Help yourself to this filth, improve your soil's tilth and come back next fall for more. S. Clement, Forge Road, Toano, 566-1110 or ext. 4204. (4/22)

Calligraphy — certificates, envelopes, invitations, placecards, letterheads, poetry — reasonable rates. Call Ann Oliver or Molly Curtin at 229-6936. (4/15)

Faculty grants

Continued from p. 2

titled "Electronic Structure, Geometry, Equation-of-State and Structural Transitions of d-band Surfaces and Solids and f-band Metals and Compounds."

This award allows 150 hours of time on a supercomputer at the Illinois Center to carry out research for this project.

David Kranbuehl, professor of chemistry has received two recent grants from Dupont and General Electric.

A grant of $5,000 from the DuPont Company will be used for research on frequency dependent electromagnetic measurements of polymers. The purpose of this research is to establish the ability of frequency dependent electromagnetic sensing to monitor onset of flow, point of minimum viscosity and maximum flow, gel point, evolution of volatiles (MEK and H₂O) and extent of reaction and completion.

A grant of $4,500 from General Electric for work in the field of dielectric cure monitoring will be used in research to establish the ability of frequency dependent electromagnetic sensing to monitor the polymerization reaction and the rheology of PMR-15 resin.

INSTRUCTION

READING, WRITING AND MATH ENRICHMENT (6- to 12-year-olds). Computer-assisted course to improve/enrich academic skills and knowledge of computer use and handling. Thursdays, 5-6 p.m., $6. Learning Resources, 502 Strawberry Plains Rd., 220-1882. (4/15)

Piano lessons: Experienced teacher with master's degree from Peabody Conservatory offers piano and music theory lessons for all ages and levels. Reasonable rates — Lafayette Manor location. Gayle Pougher, 565-0563, evenings. (4/8)

FOUND

Debbie Mitchell at ext. 4100 has a pair of prescription glasses that were left in the business school sometime in January. Please call to identify and claim. (4/1)

LOST

Canon AE-1 with Canon 35-70mm lens, in Andrews foyer, Sat., March 21. Big reward. Call 220-4794. (4/15)

Ring of keys near Sunken Gardens and Washington Hall. Reward. Please return to campus police. (4/22)

Publishing award

Continued from p. 5

Course and the University of Denver Publishing Institute.

Applicants should submit an application for the scholarship concurrently with their application for admission to the publishing program of their choice. Applications for scholarship awards are due April 15.

Application forms and information about the summer programs are available at the Office of Career Services. Application forms are also available in Swem Library.

At the time of the award, recipients must be a candidate for a degree in May or must have graduated within the previous three years.

All awards are contingent upon the recipient presenting a letter of admission as a full-time student or intern in one of the programs listed above.

Awards will not exceed $1,500 or the full-time tuition of the program that the student attends, whichever is less.

In the case of a student admitted to the Publishers Weekly program, an award will not exceed $500 a month or a prorated fraction thereof or $1,500, whichever is less.

WILLIAM AND MARY

NEWS

The William and Mary News is issued weekly during the school year for faculty, staff and students of the College and distributed on campus Wednesday afternoons.

News items and advertisements should be delivered to the News Office, James Blair 310A, no later than 5 p.m. the Friday before publication. Notices for the calendar should be delivered to the News Office no later than 5 p.m. the Wednesday before publication.

Barbara Ball, editor
Publications Office, production
News deadline: Fridays, 5 p.m.