

WILLIAM & MARY NEWS

Non-Profit Organization
U.S. Postage PAID
Williamsburg, VA
Permit No. 26

VOLUME XXIV, NUMBER 7

A NEWSPAPER FOR FACULTY, STUDENTS AND STAFF

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1994

Collegewide Hearings Convene On Draft Strategic Plan

Robert Scholnick, dean of graduate studies and professor of English, was among some 18 members of the College community to give his reaction at the first of five hearings on the draft version of the Strategic Plan.

Photo by C.J. Gleason/VISCOM.

Americans, Japanese Come Together On Campus For Grassroots Summit

American and Japanese citizens from all walks of life will come together to discuss issues of mutual concern this weekend at the College during the fourth Japan-America Grassroots Summit.

The summit is sponsored by the Japan-Virginia Society and The Manjiro Societies of Japan and the United States. Manjiro is a nonprofit educational and cultural exchange organization based in McLean, Va.

The event is expected to attract some 200 Japanese, including government and political officials. Those scheduled to attend include: Ichiro Ozawa, one of the most important political leaders in modern Japan who is a member of the Diet Lower House and Secretary General of the Japan Renewal Party; Takekazu Kuriyama, Japanese ambassador to the United States and former vice minister of foreign affairs; and Koreshige Anami, the

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3.

More than 75 people attended the first of five collegewide meetings on the draft Strategic Plan recently proposed for the College.

Provost Gillian Cell opened Monday night's two-and-one-half-hour meeting with an explanation of the methodology used by the committee to craft the plan.

"This [process] is not a question of trying to make cuts," said Cell, "but rather of how to decide how to make the College an even better place by using the resources that we have differently."

In outlining the major components of the draft plan, Cell emphasized the overriding goal of the proposed recommendations: to make William and Mary the best small public university in the country.

At least 18 members of the College community, including two alumni, expressed their concerns about the draft plan to the 21 members of the committee present Monday. Most comments addressed the rationale behind recommendations to terminate specific programs, and the perceived lack of community input into the development of the draft plan.

Speaking on behalf of the Faculty Affairs Committee of Arts and Sciences, chairman Miles Chappell, also a member of the Strategic Planning Committee, enumerated five concerns:

- (1) The issue of defining responsibility and jurisdiction of schools, departments and committees over such matters as faculty merit, tenure, and curricula;
- (2) the need for the Strategic Planning Committee to identify key actions that must happen immediately and delay action on issues of merit, public service and the academic program until those issues can be considered by the "relevant committees";
- (3) more clear explanation of the role of "clusters"; concern about
- (4) diminished opportunities for faculty research as funds are allocated to faculty development; and
- (5) the need for appropriate committees to carefully define public service.

Dean of Graduate Studies Robert Scholnick spoke on behalf of several master's-only programs, specifically English and psychology, slated for phase-out under the draft strategic plan. Acknowledging the tight budgetary times facing the College, Scholnick offered to work with the committee to find new means of funding for the targeted programs.

Faculty from the dance, sociology and government departments, and a student from the museum education program also asked the committee to reconsider proposals to phase out programs in their departments.

Rodney Williams '80, a dance instructor at Longwood College, told the committee of his experiences as a dance minor at the College and the importance of dance to the creative arts program. "I come [to this meeting] as a testimony to what it [dance] has done for my life," he said.

One alumnus and one student also questioned members of the committee on the merit of dropping the wrestling and fencing teams.

The Strategic Planning Committee held

CONTINUED ON PAGE 3

Sullivan Briefs General Assembly On Capital Projects

Renovation and expansion of Earl Gregg Swem Library topped the list of capital improvement projects detailed by President Timothy Sullivan during a Sept. 28 joint hearing of General Assembly finance committees.

Since the construction of Swem in 1966, the College's student body has doubled and student study space has been reduced by half to make way for acquisitions. Sullivan said the estimated $26-million expansion and renovation is needed to keep up with changes in the ways information is stored and distributed.

"If this age of information is to contribute to the pursuit of knowledge, universities must continue to be at the crossroads of the information highway," said Sullivan. "Our objective is library automation that recognizes the need for 'connections as well as collections.'"

Also on the College's list were renovations to the science facilities in Millington, Small and Rogers halls. A combination of increased demand and aging laboratory and lecture spaces is driving the need for the improvements.

The renovations are estimated to cost about $9.1 million in Millington, $5.4 million in Small and $10.4 million in Rogers.

Sullivan also said that a continuing program of dormitory renovations—costing about $17.1 million over the next eight years—would improve living conditions in 17 major buildings and housing complexes. General fund revenues are not used for the renovations, but Sullivan said he still hoped for the state's support, through the issuance of revenue bonds.

Governor Allen Issues Executive Order on Travel

Governor Allen has issued an executive order regarding travel on state business, effective Oct. 1. There are several changes to existing rules.

An employee who anticipates that the total cost of his or her trip will exceed $500 must receive prior approval from President Sullivan. The Office of Administration and Finance is modifying an existing form to accommodate this approval. The approval must be submitted with the request for reimbursement. The agency head must also report to the respective secretary on every out-of-country trip.

There is a limit of two employees attending any one convention or conference. This does not apply to presenters or to those people who hold an executive office in the sponsoring organization. This limit also does not apply to training sessions, although the department must investigate whether bringing a trainer on-site would be less expensive than sending state employees to a training session.

The complete copy of the executive order can be found in the offices of the deans and department chairs.

Hearings On Draft Strategic Plan Continue

Thursday, October 6

Faculty Assembly
Open Hearing
3 to 5 p.m.

University Center Auditorium

Wednesday, October 12

Campuswide Open Hearing
4 to 6 p.m.

University Center Auditorium

Thursday, October 13

Faculty Assembly
Open Hearing
3 to 5 p.m.

University Center Auditorium

All written comments should be received in the Provost's Office by Friday, Oct. 14, through campus mail or e-mail (stplan@mail.wm.edu).

NEWSMAKERS

College Honors Nagashima, Watkinson
With Prentis Awards

The College awarded two Prentis awards last Thursday in the Sir Christopher Wren Building to Shin-ichiro Nagashima (l), chairman and president of the Canon Virginia Inc., and Madelynn Watkinson (c), a Williamsburg resident. Nagashima received the Business Prentis Award while Watkinson was awarded the Community Prentis Award for her service to the College landscape staff. President Sullivan flanks the award recipients.

Photo by C. J. Gleason/VISCOM.

Society Awards Alumni Medallions

Athletic Director John Randolph is among three alumni who will be honored with the Alumni Society's highest award at this year's Homecoming Ball on Nov. 4.

In addition to Randolph, the Alumni Medallion will be presented to Austin Leonard Roberts III '69, CEO and president of the Bank of Lancaster, and Joseph R. Koons '68, owner of automobile dealerships in Virginia and Maryland.

As athletic director, Randolph has been successful at establishing a respected sports program and at fundraising for both athletics and the College. He and his development staff raised more than $25 million for athletic programs as part of the Campaign for the Fourth Century.

His commitment to the College dates to his days as a student and subsequently as a track coach. While track team captain, Randolph was named Outstanding Senior Athlete. In 1964, he was the Virginia 440 champion and helped the College win the State Outdoor Meet. Later as track coach, Randolph led the team to 45 Southern Conference and Virginia Intercollegiate titles.

One of Randolph's most important accomplishments has been maintaining the academic standards of the College's student athletes. He once told the Alumni Gazette, "Young people come to school here first of all to get a superior education. Their experiences in athletics are an extension of that, a supplement, an enrichment process that they derive from the pressure of competition."

Joe Koons is a lifetime member of the President's Council and a former two-term member of the Board of Visitors. He was the first president of the Greater Washington, D.C. alumni chapter.

Koons has shown tremendous support for College athletes through his contributions to the Athletic Educational Foundation (AEF) and past involvement in the athletic policy subcommittee.

For more than two decades, Austin Roberts has been a prominent figure in Virginia banking. At 29, he became the youngest bank president in the Commonwealth of Virginia and has continued as president and CEO at other financial institutions.

As a past member of the President's Council, Roberts has served two terms on the board of directors of the Society of the Alumni. He has also been a member of the AEF and served as that organization's president from 1980 to 1983.

The Alumni Medallion is the highest and most prestigious award given by the Society of the Alumni. It is presented to outstanding members of the alumni body for exemplary accomplishments in their professional lives; service to the community, state or nation; and loyalty and commitment to the College.

This year's recipients will be honored at the Homecoming Ball, the Friday of Homecoming weekend. Members of the College community are invited to attend. The deadline for reservations is Friday, Oct. 14. To register or for more information, call the Alumni Society at ext. 11174.

College May Be Spared Budget Ax

Virginia's public colleges and universities might escape the budget ax if their restructuring plans receive passing grades.

Last month, Gov. George Allen told many state agencies to prepare plans to reduce spending by 2, 4 and 6 percent. However, Allen said on Sept. 24 that "there will be no across-the-board cuts to higher education" if colleges and universities produce satisfactory restructuring plans.

In his statement, the governor noted that he and the General Assembly had restored more than $23.4 million for higher education earlier this year.

"This critical funding was not restored to be squandered on bloated administrative costs or indefensible overhead expenses. I will not stand for such inefficiency and the parents and students of Virginia will not stand for it either," the governor said.

Allen said many colleges and universities had already begun implementing restructuring plans, which include reducing administrative costs. "Through this process, several institutions, because of successful and effective planning, have been able to reallocate the savings created by their restructuring efforts back into academics rather than wasteful overhead and administrative costs—a clear indication that efficiency can be achieved without any reduction to higher education," said Allen.

Among the elements in the College's restructuring plan is a commitment to reduce $2.1 million in administrative costs over three years. The savings would be returned to the academic program.

The State Council for Higher Education in Virginia is currently reviewing the restructuring plans and is expected to decide on them in November.

19 September 1994

TO: Faculty and Administration of the College

SUBJECT: Suggestions for Honorary Degree Candidates

In recent years a significant fraction of the honorary degree recipients at Commencement or Charter Day have been nominated by members of the faculty. On behalf of the Honorary Degrees Advisory Committee, I invite and encourage all members of the faculty to suggest names of possible honorary degree recipients for Charter Day and Commencement in this and upcoming years.

When considering candidates for honorary degrees, the Board of Visitors bears in mind the following guidelines. They are guidelines only—not rigorous rules. Since the Committee is especially interested in imaginative nominations, no faculty member should withhold a name simply because an otherwise deserving candidate does not precisely fit every guideline:

1. Candidates are considered without regard to sex, race, color, age, religion, national origin, sexual orientation or handicap.
2. Since they will always be associated with the College of William and Mary, honorary degree recipients must be of sufficient eminence and character to honor the College.
3. Candidates should have qualities and records of achievement that make it particularly appropriate for an institution of higher education to recognize them.
4. Ideally, but not invariably, something about them should make it especially fitting that this honor should come from the College of William and Mary in Virginia.
5. Finally, candidates should not include benefactors or prospective benefactors of the College unless they clearly meet the other criteria and are evaluated on those criteria only. In awarding honorary degrees, William and Mary should give no suggestion that it is recognizing past or prospective financial contributions.

In addition to these guidelines, the Committee has recently sought nominations of:

- persons who unquestionably deserve honorary degrees but who somehow have been overlooked.
- younger persons of great promise who have only recently arrived at the point where an honorary degree is appropriate.
- persons who would deliver a stimulating address at Commencement or Charter Day.

While it is helpful for nominations to be accompanied by a brief memo explaining why the nominee is well-suited for an honorary degree, the committee is more interested in receiving an excellent list of names. When questions arise or additional information is required, the committee will contact nominators.

The Board of Visitors will make preliminary decisions about honorary degree recipients at its November meeting. Your nominations should therefore be received no later than Monday, 31 Oct. Please submit them to the chair of the committee, Jean A. Scott, in the Provost's Office, or to any member of the committee, as follows: Joyce VanTassel-Baska, School of Education; Eugene M. Bureson, School of Marine Science; J. Ward Jones, Classical Studies; Paul Marcus, Law School; Roy L. Pearson, School of Business; and Katherine J. Przybylski, Kevin J. Turner and Gregory A. Werkheiser, students.

Gillian T. Cell
Provost

Give To The CVC
And Win A Free Parking Decal

The College is offering several incentives for College employees who give to the Combined Virginia Campaign. Three more drawings will be held each week until the end of the campaign on Oct. 21. As of Sept. 30, $74,000 in donations or 14 percent of this year's goal had been collected from College employees, with the Office of Administration and Finance having 100 percent employee participation.

Winners of the Sept. 30 drawing for a parking decal, football tickets, sweatshirt and hat, and lunch with the President include: Shirlyne Heard, computer programmer in the Computer Center; Lynnette Jenkins, buyer senior in materiel management; Diana Tennis, auxiliary services; Hans Tiefel, professor of religion; Donald Torrenti, parking and traffic services; Donna Ware, adjunct associate professor of biology; Richard Williamson, Chancellor Professor of Law, Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

Among the prizes that will be awarded in the next three drawings are:

- Oct. 7—parking decal, pair of football tickets, lunch with the President
- Oct. 14—parking decal, lunch with the President, lunch for two at the Marketplace
- Oct. 21—parking decal, lunch for two with the President, lunch for two at the University Center

For more information about CVC, call Mark Gettys at ext. 12435.

ABC News Examines Courtroom For Story On O.J. Simpson

A crew from ABC News recently videotaped a demonstration of the state-of-the-art technology used in the McGlothlin Moot Courtroom at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. Recent additions to the courtroom have added several new features, which makes it the most advanced courtroom in the country. Some of the features in the courtroom are in use in other parts of the country, and might be used as part of the murder trial involving O.J. Simpson. The ABC News story will likely air once jury selection in the Simpson case is complete.

Attention Undergraduates

Pick up and return Spring 1995 pre-registration materials Oct. 17-21, first floor lobby area of Blow Hall.

Questions should be directed to Jacquie Bell, ext. 12808.

Next News To Be Published Oct. 19

The next issue of the William & Mary News will be published Wednesday, Oct. 19. Items and classified ads should be submitted no later than 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 14., to the News office, Holmes House, 308 Jamestown Rd., or by e-mail to wmnews@mail.wm.edu.

Job Fair Scheduled Oct. 27 For International Students

International students who are juniors, seniors, or graduate students, who wish to return to their home countries, are invited to attend the International Student Job Fair at American University on Oct. 27. To register, sign up in the Office of Career Services, Blow Hall 123. Registration deadline is Oct. 13. Career Services will be sponsoring a bus to American University.

Sullivans Help Kick Off Child Care Center Fund-Raiser

President Timothy Sullivan and his wife Anne recently donated $1,000 to the Williamsburg Campus Child Care Center to help kick off a notecard sale to benefit the center. The notecards, which feature original color artwork by children who attended the center, are available for $5 per pack at the center. Each pack includes renderings of the Wren Building and the Campus Center. All proceeds benefit the center. For more information on the center or the notecard sale, call Marsha McLean, center director, at ext. 12121.

Japan-America Summit Features A Plethora Of Cultural Activities

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

Japanese Consul General in Atlanta whose consular district includes Virginia.

Also expected are: Clayton Yeutter, former U.S. agriculture secretary, U.S. trade representative to Japan and national chairman of the Republican Party, and Gerald Baliles, former governor of Virginia.

The College is providing a site for the summit and will host several portions of the weekend activities. Several Williamsburg officials attended last year's summit in Nagoya, Japan, and Williamsburg Mayor Trist McConnell, Colonial Williamsburg President Robert Wilburn, and President Timothy Sullivan will all welcome Japanese guests to this country.

Local residents, students and members of the College community are encouraged to attend. Registration fees of $25 for Manjiro Society members and $30 for non-members will be waived for students. A reception at the Williamsburg Lodge Friday night is an additional $50.

Former U.S. Ambassador Robert E. Fritts, senior fellow in the Thomas Jefferson Program in Public Policy, noted that the term grassroots reflects a broad yearning by many Japanese to become more international in scope. "The location of the conference in Williamsburg is particularly appropriate given the prestigious history of the city and region, the interests of the College, CW and the Chamber of Commerce in expanding relationships with Japanese institutions and visitors, and the growing role of the peninsula as a center for Japanese-American joint business ventures in Virginia," Fritts said.

Campus events begin Friday with a reception from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Williamsburg Lodge. To register, contact the Japan-Virginia Society in Richmond at 1-783-0740.

The full-day summit begins Saturday at 9 a.m. in the University Center's (UC) Commonwealth Auditorium with a welcoming fanfare played by the Seiryu Taiko Drummers of Kagoshima, Japan, and the Colonial Williamsburg Fife and Drum Corps.

Sullivan will offer welcoming remarks at the opening session at 9:30 a.m., along with Mayor McConnell, and Nobuo Matsunaga, a former Japanese ambassador to the United States and current president of the Tokyo Manjiro Center. Yeutter will give the keynote address. Kuriyama and Ozawa will also speak.

Participants will return at 11 a.m. for "Living with a Constitution." Thomas G. Krattenmaker, dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, will open the discussion with a talk on judicial review in the American constitutional system.

The afternoon will feature exchanges on such topics as violence and crime, education, working mothers, retirement lifestyles in the United States and Japan, the preservation of old cities and traditional architecture, doing business in Japan, and the role of nonprofits in the 21st century.

The UC dining room will be open for lunch at noon or box lunches can be pre-ordered and picked up in the dining room.

An informal buffet dinner emceed by Fritts will be held in the Chesapeake Room from 5 to 7 p.m. Saturday. Fritts, who is experienced in U.S.-Japan foreign relations, said the main purpose of the dinner is to match American host families with Japanese visitors for the overnight Home Stay program. Anyone in the Williamsburg area who is interested in participating in Home Stay can call 220-8046.

Sunday, the Taiko Drummers will give two free performances in Merchants Square at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

During the summit, cars can be parked in the Common Glory lot off Jamestown Road. Shuttle bus service will be available from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Buses will run at least every 30 minutes from Common Glory lot to Gooch Lane at Crim Dell.

Major corporations and organizations in Japan and Virginia are sponsoring this summit, including, in Virginia: All Nippon Airways; Arthur Andersen; Asahi Institute; Bell Atlantic, Virginia; Canon Virginia Inc.; The College of William and Mary; Colonial Williamsburg Inc.; The Christopher Wren Society; Firehole Land Corp.; hibernation software, inc.; ISIS Inc.; Phillip Morris; Vie de France Bakery; Sumitomo Machinery Corp.; Yamazaki Inc.; and Yoshitake Corp.

The nonprofit Manjiro Society was formed in 1990 in honor of a young Japanese boy who was rescued from a shipwreck in the Pacific in the early 1840s, raised by an American in Boston, and grew up to become influential in bridging cultural gaps between Japan and the United States. Today, the society functions as a vehicle for communication and increased understanding between the two countries.

BOV To Vote On Draft Plan In November

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The Strategic Planning Committee held a second hearing for students last night. A hearing for the Faculty Assembly is scheduled for tomorrow from 3 to 5 p.m. in the University Center Auditorium. The committee will hold two more meetings next week (see schedule), and will conclude its comment period Oct. 14.

A revised version of the draft plan will be submitted to President Sullivan, and the Faculty Assembly will also have the opportunity to discuss the document. The Board of Visitors will vote on the Strategic Plan in November.

Departments & Schools

Biology

A review article by Sir Cyril A. Clarke '92 Sc.D. Honoris Causa, Professor Bruce Grant, Lady Frieda M. M. Clarke, and Dr. Takahiro Asami titled "A Long Term Assessment of Biston betularia (L.) in One UK Locality (Caldy Common Near West Kirby, Wirral), 1959-1993, and Glimpses Elsewhere" appeared in the summer issue of The Linnean 10:18-26.

Chemistry

Gary C. DeFotis, Garrett-Robb-Guy Professor of Chemistry, presented the following papers at the International Conference on Magnetism, held in Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 22-26: "Magnetism and Spin Glass Behavior of $FeCl_2 \cdot H_2O$," co-authored with former undergraduates Craig Cinquina, Kate Beers and William Jarvis; and "Heat-Capacity of $Fe[Se_2CN(C_2H_5)_2]_2Cl$ and XY Ferromagnet," co-authored with former undergraduates Robert Wiese and with S. Simizu and S.A. Friedberg of Carnegie-Mellon University.

Geology

The Eastern Section of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists recently honored Professor Gerald Johnson with their 1994 Outstanding Educator Award. The award cited Johnson for his "outstanding teaching of geology at William and Mary and his tireless, enthusiastic devotion to geologic education at all levels." Johnson received the Thomas Jefferson Teaching Award in 1974, and an Outstanding Faculty Award from the Virginia Council of Higher Education in 1991.

Modern Languages and Literatures

Ann Marie Stock, assistant professor, recently participated in the International Conference on Exile, Censorship and Marginality in Hispanic Literature in London. She presented the results of her current research in a paper titled "Estrellas & Bandidos on the Border: The Discourse of Exile and Cinematic Conventions in Hispanic Theater."

Physics

Professor John L. McKnight presented a paper titled "What the Printed Eighteenth-Century Lectures Leave Out: Reconstructing a Lecture Demonstration" at the XIII Scientific Instrument Symposium of the International Scientific Instrument Commission, meeting in Leiden, The Netherlands, Sept. 11-16.

Theatre & Speech

Tamara L. Burk and Lorelee Clark, instructors, co-presented a paper at the 18th Annual Virginia Speech Communication Association Conference in Richmond, Sept. 23-24. The paper, titled "Developing a Comprehensive and Efficient Oral Communication Program at the College of William and Mary," dealt with issues surrounding the recent FFE grant given to Arts and Sciences and the Department of Theatre and Speech.

School of Education

Gail McEachron-Hirsch, assistant professor, was among 150 teachers and administrators from across the country who attended the summer Teacher Institute at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. Teachers of all subjects from kindergarten through 12th grade participated in this sixth annual program, which centered on the study of modern art from 1900 to 1940.

Harcum Considers Significance Of Freedom And Dignity

E. Rae Harcum, professor emeritus of psychology, recently had published A Psychology of Freedom and Dignity: The Last Train to Survival. Harcum maintains that proper assumptions about human nature are established by their relative utility in solving existing human problems. In order to facilitate solutions to familiar problems of daily living, the author advocates a definition of the science of psychology that includes the concepts of human freedom and intrinsic dignity. The author emphasizes the importance of the free will concept to behavioral scientists and practitioners as well as to citizens of the general population who, perhaps without realizing it, are forced users of behavioral science. The author's intention is to show that cherished beliefs in the concepts of freedom and dignity are consistent with scientific principles and thus will become a vital part of a scientifically designed culture.

E. Rae Harcum

Photo by C. J. Gleason/VISCOM.

CALENDAR

SPECIAL EVENTS

Oct. 7-9. The fourth Japan-America Grassroots Summit will convene on campus. For information, call 1-783-0740.

Oct. 14. The Marshall-Wythe School of Law inaugurates a series of public lectures by distinguished judges from around the world, beginning with a talk by Lord Harry Woolf, one of 12 English "law lords," in the McGlothlin Moot Courtroom at the law school at 1 p.m. For information, call ext. 13849.

Oct. 14. An opening reception will be held at 5:30 p.m. for two new exhibitions at the Muscarelle Museum, which open Oct. 15. They are "Howard Finster" and "Drawn on the Spot: Perceptions and Views." Call ext. 12703.

Oct. 20-21. Veteran observers of the U.S. Supreme Court will gather at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, under the sponsorship of the Institute of Bill of Rights Law, for the seventh annual "Supreme Court Preview: What to Expect from the New Term." Registration is required. Call ext. 13810.

Oct. 22. HACE is sponsoring a trip to Ash Lawn-Highland, the home of James Monroe, and historic Michie Tavern. For information, call ext. 11993.

COLLOQUIA & SEMINARS

Oct. 14. The Office of Career Services will present a seminar on careers in government and the state department. Dave Fetter of the state department will speak. Students interested in this field are encouraged to attend. For information, call ext. 13240.

Oct. 14. Sidney Coleman, from Harvard University, will speak at a physics colloquium in Small 109 at 4 p.m. His subject will be "Quantum Mechanics In Your Face," originally given as the 1993 Dirac Memorial Lecture at Cambridge University. Coffee will be served in Small 123 at 3:30 p.m.

Oct. 20-21. The Office of Career Services is sponsoring a seminar on publishing in the University Center. Representatives from Grosset Books, Greenwood Publishing Group, G.P. Putnam Sons, Pocket Books, Naval Institute Press, Sagalyn Literary Agency, Clarion Books, Macmillan Reference and the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation will speak on different aspects of book publishing. Admission is limited to 100. Graduate students, seniors and juniors will be given first priority. Deadline for registration and payment of $5 registration fee is Oct. 14. Call ext. 13240.

FILMS

Oct. 5, 11-12. The University Center activities board fall movie selections are shown in the University Center auditorium at 8 p.m. Currently showing are "In the Name of the Father" (Oct. 5) and "Christopher Columbus: The Discovery" (Oct. 11-12). Tickets are $2 for students, $3 for non-students. For information, call ext. 12132.

MEETINGS

Oct. 6, 12 and 13. The Faculty Assembly will hold hearings on the Strategic Plan on Oct 6 and 13 from 3 to 5 p.m. On Oct. 12 there will be a campuswide hearing from 4 to 6 p.m. All meetings are in the University Center Auditorium.

Oct. 18, Nov. 9 and 30. President Sullivan is available for 10-minute meetings with students from 3 to 4 p.m. on Oct. 18, and from 4 to 5 p.m. on Nov. 9 and 30. Students may make appointments by calling Gail Sears at ext. 11693 or via e-mail at gbsear@mail.wm.edu.

PERFORMANCES

Oct. 6. Cellist James Wilson and pianist Joanne Kong will present a recital for the Ewell Concert Series in the Ewell Recital Hall at 8 p.m. (See featured event at top of page.) Tickets are $2 at the door; W&M students with ID admitted free.

Oct. 6-8, 13-16. The William & Mary Theatre opens its 1994-95 season with "Chicago." Performances will be in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall at 8 p.m., except for the Oct. 16 performance, which is at 2 p.m. Tickets are $7 and may be

Cellist, Pianist Perform Tomorrow For Ewell Concert Series

Cellist James Wilson and pianist Joanne Kong will present a recital for the Ewell Concert Series on Thursday, Oct. 6 in the Ewell Recital Hall at 8 p.m.

Wilson is known to audiences in North American and Europe as the cellist of the critically acclaimed Shanghai Quartet.

Kong, a former adjunct assistant professor of piano at the College, is known for her versatility as a keyboardist and chamber musician. She has performed at the American Academy of the Arts in Europe, the Los Angeles Bach Festival, Orgeon Mozart Festival, Richmond International Festival of Music and the Third Coast New Music Festival.

purchased at the PBK ticket office. Call ext. 12674.

Oct. 18. The Chamber Music Society of Lincoln Center is first on the schedule for the 1994-95 William & Mary Concert Series. Appearing with the Lincoln Center's permanent resident chamber orchestra will be Ransom Wilson on flute, Ani Kavafian on violin, Paul Neubayer on viola and Nancy Allen on harp. General admission tickets are $20. If tickets are available, students with valid College ID may purchase one tickets for $10 at the door beginning at 7 p.m. the evening of the performance. Season tickets are still available for $30 for William and Mary students, $50 for College faculty and staff and $70 to the general public. For information and reservations, call ext. 13276.

General admission tickets, if available, go on sale Oct. 10 for the Newport Jazz Festival Tour, 40th Anniversary performance which will be given Oct. 31.

SPEAKERS

Oct. 6, 13. Vinson Sutlive, professor of anthropology, will speak at the Oct. 6 Town & Gown luncheon on "Human Rights: East and West." The Oct. 13 speaker will be Bruce McConachie, professor of theatre and speech. His topic will be "Poland in Transition, With an Emphasis on Polish Theatre."

Town & Gown luncheons are held in the Chesapeake Room, University Center, at 12:15 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling ext. 12640 before noon on the Tuesday preceding the luncheon. Since this is an automated message line, leave a message, spelling the first and last names of all persons wishing reservations. The luncheon is $7 for the public and $5 for faculty and staff, payable on the day of the luncheon. Parking is available in the W&M Hall parking lot near the bus shelter. Shuttle buses will run between the shelter and the University Center from noon to 12:30 p.m. and from 1:30 to 2 p.m.

Oct. 6. Robert Reid-Pharr, Department of English, Johns Hopkins University, will speak on "The Spectacle of Dissimulation: William Wells Brown and the (Un)Remarkable Transvestism of 'Clotel.'" His talk, sponsored by the Commonwealth Center for the Study of American Culture, will be given in the Botetourt Theater, Swem Library, at 5 p.m.

Oct. 6. Former Congressman and ABC correspondent Bill Whitehurst will offer his observations on "The New World Order," as part of the International Relations Club lecture series in Rogers 100 at 7:30 p.m.

Oct. 7. Marshall Coleman, independent candidate for the U.S. Senate, will offer his views about the Senate race in Tyler 102 at 10 and 11 a.m. His talk is free and open to the public.

Oct. 7. Elijah ("Vusi") Nkosi, an attorney with the Community Law Center Inc. in Durban, South Africa, will speak at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law about current issues confronting lawyers in South Africa. Nkosi, whose practice at the Law Center has involved human rights issues, criminal cases, eviction cases and labor cases, will speak in the McGlothlin Moot Courtroom at 10 a.m. His appearance, sponsored by the Law School Speakers' Forum, is open to the public. The Community Law Center Inc. was created in 1989 to empower rural communities and provide community-based and human rights legal education, individual legal assistance and enforcement of rights.

Oct. 12. The International Relations Club lecture series continues with Tomoko Hamada, associate professor of anthropology, and Robert Fritts, Senior Fellow in the Thomas Jefferson Program in Public Policy, sharing insights into the different ways individuals experience East Asian-American relations. The lecture, which is free and open to the public, will be in Rogers 100 at 7:30 p.m.

Oct. 13. Jerome M. Culp Jr., professor of law at Duke University, will speak in Marshall-Wythe 119, at 4:30 p.m. His topic will be "Anti-Gay Ballot Initiatives." The program, with reception following, is sponsored by the Lesbian and Gay Law Association and the College Speakers Fund.

Oct. 18. The Brown Bag Lunch Series continues with Frederika Teute speaking on "Thrice-Told Tale: Margaret Bayard Smith and Her Censors," in the Commonwealth Center Seminar Room, College Apts., at 12:30 p.m. For information, call ext. 11274.

Oct. 19. Professor Alan Hoffman of the Thomas J. Watson IBM Research Center will give the fall installment of the Cissy Patterson Lecture in Mathematics, "Spouse-avoiding Mixed Doubles Round Robins," at 2 p.m. in Chesapeake Room B of the University Center. Hoffman's talk will interest a broad range of students, especially those who are studying mathematics. This talk has no mathematical prerequisites and is open to all undergraduates. A reception will follow the lecture.

RECSports

Oct. 6. Sign-up for flag football at the Rec Center from 1 to 5 p.m. For information, call ext. 13314.

Oct. 15. Women's soccer vs. Longwood, Busch Field, 1 p.m.

Oct. 15. Women's lacrosse, Busch Field, 3:30 p.m.

Oct. 16. Men's rugby vs. Univ. of Richmond, Intramural Field, 9:45 a.m.

Oct. 17-21. Rec Sports is participating in Timex Fitness Week, an event held at 300 colleges nationwide. The event offers body fat testing ($1 fee), a swim stroke analysis clinic and free aerobic classes on Oct. 20. Timex sport watches, T-shirts, food and beverages will be awarded or distributed at events. Call ext. 13319.

Nov. 11. Rec Sports is sponsoring a trip to see the Hampton Roads Admirals play Greensboro at Norfolk Scope. Ticket, bus and pizza are $20. For reservations and information, call ext. 13318.

SPORTS

Oct. 5. Field hockey: W&M vs. Richmond, Busch Field, 7 p.m.

Oct. 7. Women's soccer: W&M vs. Berry College, Barksdale Field, 2 p.m.

Oct. 8. Football: W&M vs. Northeastern, Zable Stadium, 1 p.m. For ticket information, call ext. 13368.

Oct. 12. Men's soccer: W&M vs. Duke, Busch Field, 7:30 p.m.

Oct. 14. Women's soccer: W&M vs. Colgate, Busch Field, 7:30 p.m.

Oct. 15. Football: W&M vs. Massachusetts, Zable Stadium, 1 p.m. For ticket information, call ext. 13368.

Oct. 15. Field hockey: W&M vs. Wake Forest, Busch Field, 1 p.m.

Oct. 16. Field hockey: W&M vs. Ursinus, Busch Field, 1 p.m.

Oct. 16. Women's soccer: W&M vs. George Mason, Barksdale Field, 2 p.m.

MISCELLANEOUS

Oct. 7-12. Marriott Dining Services will maintain the following schedule over fall break:

- Oct. 7. Normal operating hours for all dining facilities.
- Oct. 8. University Center open, 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. All other facilities closed.
- Oct. 9. University Center open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. All other facilities closed.
- Oct. 10. University Center open, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. All other facilities closed.
- Oct. 11. University Center open, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Dining Commons open 4:30 to 7 p.m. Marketplace closed.
- Oct. 12. All facilities resume regular operating hours.

Oct. 14-15, 17-18. The William & Mary Theatre will hold auditions for "The Matchmaker," on Oct. 14-15. On Oct. 17-18, auditions will be held for the Fall Directors' Workshop (student-directed one-act plays). Sign-up lists and additional information will be posted on the callboard in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Oct. 16. The University Center Activities Board is sponsoring "Come Along for the Ride" with Velocity Girl in the University Center Chesapeake Room at 9 p.m. Tickets at the door are $5 for students, $10 for all others. For information, call ext. 12132.

DEADLINES

Oct. 13. Deadline for submission of applications for semester research grants (faculty only). Applications are available on the WAMI system and from the Grants Office, 314 Jamestown Rd. Deadline strictly enforced.

Oct. 20. Deadline for submission of applications for summer research grants (faculty only). Applications are available on the WAMI system and from the Grants Office, 314 Jamestown Rd. Deadline strictly enforced.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Classified ads are included as a service to members of the College community and will be accepted from faculty, staff, students and alumni only. Only one ad per person per issue is permitted and should be no longer than 40 words. Ads must be submitted no later than 5 p.m. on the Friday preceding News publication. Send ads in writing to the William and Mary News office or via electronic mail to wmnews@mail.wm.edu. Ads will run one week only with an option to renew for one additional week. No ads or requests for renewal will be accepted over the phone. For more information, call the News office at ext. 12639.

FOR SALE

1973 Triumph Spitfire, red. Runs well, many extras - fun car! $1,800. Call 565-0851 after 6 p.m.

1982 VW Vanagon, camper package, 4-speed, AM-FM cassette. Very clean, 86K on '83 diesel engine, 96K on van. Best offer. Call 229-7457.

1991 Toyota Corolla DX, 4-door, red, automatic trans., AC, power sunroof, AM-FM cassette stereo. Great condition. $6,500. Call 229-6246 or ext. 13245.

'93 Saturn SC2 coupe; power windows, door-locks, right-hand side mirror; AC; stereo; cruise control; sun roof; low mileage; manual transmission. $14,500 negotiable. Call ext. 11523 or 229-6894.

Macintosh Power Book 170. 68030 CPU with FPU, 33Mhz, 8 mb RAM, 80 mb HD, backlit active matrix screen, internal fax/modem. Reads and writes PC files, 2 batteries, AC adapter. Complete with carrying case and charger. Asking $2,500 or best offer. Call Phillip at ext. 15898.

Sony V701 Hi8 camcorder. Many features. Includes bag and other accessories. Leave message for David at 258-5907. $750 neg.

FOR RENT

Large, fully furnished faculty house available spring semester, Jan. 1 to July 1. Master BR with jacuzzi and study, 3 additional BRs, library, formal dining room, eat-in kitchen/dining room, family room with fireplace and grand piano, laundry room, deck, garage, gardens, wooded back yard with playground. Convenient location 7 min. from campus. Call Bob at ext. 13906 or Martha at 229-7620.

WANTED

Campus staff worker looking for student to live in and help care for two elementary school age children. Terms, hours negotiable. Own room in suburban Williamsburg beginning Jan. Call 229-0757.

SERVICES

Housecleaners: a team of two female students offer services cleaning a home in Williamsburg area once a week or once every two weeks. Will do an excellent job. Day and pay negotiable. Call Loren, 220-0728 or Beth, ext. 15703.

October is W&M's Month.

Every time you buy a sundae...

we'll give 50¢ to Friends of the Library Endowment

Please help!
BEN & JERRY'S
VERMONT'S FINEST ALL NATURAL ICE CREAM.
3044 Richmond Road • Patriot Plaza
Williamsburg • 565-3800