

LIBRARY
COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY
FOUNDED IN 1693
WILLIAMSBURG, VIRGINIA

E. G. SWEM,
LIBRARIAN

Grove-brook July 3<sup>d</sup> 1805

Amid the amiable circle by which your friend is encompassed she is continually reminded of you-- The approaching post-day affords a delightful anticipation- and I hasten to have a letter deposited in the office- from me, you can only expect the unadorned effusions of grateful affection-- The friendly sentiments demonstrated by Mr. Johnston and yourself have deeply impressed my heart--wou'd to heaven I cou'd convey to you both, an adequate idea of the emotions excited by your attentions--they soothed a Mind which has been tortured beyond description--the harmony reigning in your family, and in this, is calculated to suspend all suffering in those who are susceptible of it's benign influence-- Yet, alas!- my wounds have been so frequently probed, they do not now admit of more than temporary relief-- Oh! that recent charge, vibrated so discordantly on my ear that I am incapacitated even for the use of my needle--- Humility, might have shielded me from such an accusation--in the house of Bizarre I never presumed to take many liberties--Gracious heaven! why did I exist sufficiently long to be stunned by such a blow--believe me the recurrence of that event deprives me of power to proceed-- My cordial love awaits Mr. Johnston and the sweet boys-- Your unalterably affectionate A: C: R:

Grove-brook July 3<sup>d</sup> 1805

Amid the amiable circle by which your friend is encompassed she is continually reminded of you - the approaching post-day affords a delightful anticipation - and I hasten to have a letter deposited in the office - from me, you can only expect the unadorned effusions of grateful affection - the friendly sentiments demonstrated by Mr. Johnston and yourself have deeply impressed my heart - would to heaven I could convey to you both, an adequate idea of the emotions excited by your attentions - they soothed a mind which has been tortured beyond description - the harmony reigning in your family, and in this, is calculated to suspend all suffering in those who are susceptible of its benign influence - yet, alas! my wounds have been so frequently probed, they do not now admit of more than temporary relief - Oh! that recent charge, vibrates so discordantly on my ear that I am incapacitated even for the use of <sup>my</sup> needle - Humility, might have shielded me from such an accusation - in the house at Bizarre I never presumed to take many liberties - Gracious heaven! why did I exist sufficiently long to be stunned by such a blow - believe me the recurrence of that event deprives me of power to proceed - My cordial love awaits Mr. Johnston and the sweet boys - Your unalterably affectionate A. B. N.

Summit Bridge Va
3 July 1868

M<sup>rs</sup> Mary Johnston near

From

Frank Edward

11