FAREWELL TO BE SOON

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Cherney Making Preparations to go to West China

TWO MONTHS TO START

Will Require Three Months to Reach Destination—Five Months in All

Rev. J. A. Cherney, pastor of the Baptist church, returned Wednesday from New York, where he purchased household goods and an outfit to be sent by freight to West China, preparatory to a start the other way around the world to the same point, to become a missionary. Mr. Cherney will be here but two Sundays more, leaving Monday a week, the 16th inst., to visit in Cleveland and Rochester.

During the week of September 6 to 13 he and Mrs. Cherney will attend a missionary conference in Boston, after which they will come back to Cleveland for a farewell service that will be held at the First Baptist church, where Mr. Cherney was baptized. On the 24th of September the party of Baptist missionaries will meet in Chicago, where other farewell services will be held. There will be about 30 in the party leaving this fall.

It is the custom of the church to send a delegation every fall into the foreign missionary field. This party will sail October 5 from San Francisco on the "Monoglia." It will require three weeks to make the ocean trip to Japan, where a stop of a week or two will be made to visit missionary posts. From that point they will go to Shanghai, China, and remain a week before starting up the Yangsi river to West China, which will take six weeks.

It will be after the first of the year before their final destination is reached. But six of the number will go this far, others dropping off enroute at other places. The point to which Rev. and Mrs. Cherney are going is near Tibet and the city will be perhaps one of 100,000 inhabitants.

Mr. Cherney has one college friend and two seminary friends in the same section, so they will not be entirely alone.

MISSIONARY DIES OF SMALLPOX

Rev. J. A. Cherney on Field but Short Time. Safety of Wife and Baby in Doubt.

Word has been received here of the death of Rev. John Anthony Cherney, a missionary in China. For some time Mr. Cherney had been assisting in the famine district some distance from Shanghai, and it is supposed that while there he contracted smallpox, of which he died last Sunday afternoon. Much anxiety is felt for Mrs. Cherney and her baby, as it is feared one or both may also have contracted the disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Cherney had been in the mission field two and one half years, and were located in Suifu, West China, until the uprising last fall, when they were obliged to flee for their lives. Since then they have been quartered in Shanghai.

Mr. and Mrs. Cherney are well known in Rochester, as Mr. Cherney was a graduate of the Rochester Theological Seminary, class of '08 and Mrs. Cherney is a graduate nurse of the Hahnemann Hospital, class of '09. Mr. Cherney was 30 years old and was born in Cleveland. In his studies in the foreign field he had accomplished four years' work in the two years that he had been there. His wife whom he married three years ago, May 14, 1909, was Miss Julia Wilson, of Churchville.

Besides his wife and young son, Paul Russell, the deceased leaves his father and two brothers, all of Cleveland. Three weeks ago Mrs. Cherney's father, James R. Wilson, of Churchville, died.

WEDDINGS

BATEMAN—CHERNEY

Batavia, March 14.—The marriage of Mrs. Julia Wilson Cherney to Rev. Thomas W. Bateman, of West China, took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Willis. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. Walker, of Batavia M. E. Church. Mrs. Willis, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mr. Willis was best man. Paul R. Cherner, son of the bride, was flower bearer.

Rev. and Mrs. Bateman left for New York, where they will study evangelistic work. In the fall they will return to the mission field in China.

ADVICE, DIPLOMAS, DANCING

These, Mingled to Make Exercises Interesting. Held Last night at Powers Hotel—Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin Makes Address

Advice of more than ordinary excellence and an unusual amount of humor was the portion of the young women who last night received their diplomas from the Hahnemann Hospital Training School, at exercises held in the banquet hall of Powers Hotel. Flags and hospital pennants were in evidence, while the hall was filled with friends of the nurses and of their institution. Mrs. W. H. H. Rogers, president of the Board of Managers, and Mrs. Mary B. Curtice, superintendent of the hospital, led the procession of nurses who entered clad in their tasteful uniforms, cap and apron, complete, as they will enter the many sick rooms to which their vocation will take them. Dr. Volney A. Hoard, chief of the medical staff, presided, introducing the others who were on the programme. The opening prayer was offered by Herbert W. Gates, superintendent of the Brick Church Institute. Members of Dossenbach's Orchestra played three selections with their usual finish.

In the address to the nurses, Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, told that he wished to dwell on the sentiment expressed by the great physician, S. Weir Mitchell, when he said, "Tis not the body but man who is ill."

"As the body affects the soul, so the soul affects the body," continued the speaker. "The Great Physician said He came to 'heal the broken in heart.' You more than anyone else make the atmosphere of the sick room. What you are affects the sick fully as much as what you do. Your work in its very nature calls you to deal with the abnormal. If you are mere hirelings you will run as long as any other machine, but if you are real trained nurses you will give of your vital energies to the degree that they will tire, and you will need replenishing.

"Sympathy has in it a healing force. True sympathy is the noblest quality of the heart and of all the qualities which center into a personality it is the finest. Don't let your profession rob you of this. The laws of health are the laws of God. We are not living in a finished world, as some have supposed, but in a world which God is expecting man to help Him finish. Sympathy is more than a mere expression. It is not shown merely by saying, 'I am sorry for you.' It comes from a Greek word which means to suf-

Graduation of Nurses.

Graduating exercises of the Hahnemann Hospital will be held to-morrow night at 8:15 o'clock at the Powers Hotel. Two seniors will be guests of the women managers of the hospital at a dinner at the hotel, previous to the exercises. Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will make the address. Judge Arthur E. Sutherland, president of the trustees, will preside. Mrs. W. H. H. Rogers is president of the managers. The programme will be followed by dancing. Dr. James S. Barnard will give the young women a theater party at the Lyceum to-night.

NURSES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Class Leaves Hahnemann Hospital with Honors.

Democrat and Chronicle, May 4, 1909.

Diplomas awarded to the nine young women graduated last night from the Hahnemann Training School for Nurses were evidences of three years' of hard work. When they were presented by Mrs. W. S. Dewey, a member of the Board of Managers, she said that the red ribbon with which they were tied was not only the hospital's color but was a mark of honor. Each young woman also received a handsome gold pin bearing her name. The exercises were held in the Mechanics Institute.

Rev. James Faulds, assistant pastor of Brick Presbyterian Church, offered the invocation and Mrs. William F. Rampe sang. Justice Arthur E. Sutherland, a member of the Board of Trustees, presided. He presented as the speaker of the evening, Rev. Dr. R. M. West, of Park Avenue Baptist Church.

On Saturday night the graduating class was entertained at a dinner at the Hotel Seneca, given in its honor by the Board of Women Managers. After the dinner, the graduates attended the Lyceum Theater as guests of Dr. J. S. Barnard.

Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Hermance have invited the class to a dinner at their home, which will be given some day this week.

Those who graduated were: Helen Louise Hawkins, Martha Dena Vyvenberg, Julia Salome Wilson, Ella Janette Cooper, Emeline Lavisa Wescott, Esther Ann Siddell, Ethel Marie Bacon, Caroline McDonnell and Helen Augusta Rice.

So Successful Was Dinner of Hahnemann Alumnae It Will Become An Annual.

Very enjoyable from every point of view was the first dinner of the Hahnemann Hospital Alumnae Association, given in the Hotel Rochester last evening, and because of the events success it will become an annual.

The tables were handsomely appointed, red and white, the hospital's colors forming the color scheme. White chrysanthemums and red carnations in profusion were sent by the woman's board of managers and used for the purpose.

Miss Nellie I. Crowley acted as toastmistress, and the address of welcome was given by Mrs. M. I. Hodgson. The following made the list of toasts: "To Our Younger Nurses," Mrs. E. L. Hawkswell; "Our Older Nurses," Miss Caroline E. Schram; "Our Alumnae," Miss Celia Staub; "To Our Married and Unmarried, Our Engaged and Unengaged Nurses," Miss Maud E. Schaeffer. The banquet was followed by dancing, Dossenbach's Orchestra furnishing the music.

Hahnemann Alumnae Enjoy Delightful Evening at Hotel Rochester.

The second annual dinner of the Hahnemann Hospital Training School Alumnae Association held last evening at the Hotel Rochester goes on record as one of the most successful affairs of the kind in the annals of the society. Twenty-five were present.

Miss Celia Staub was the toastmistress. She was presented by the president of the alumnae, Mrs. Margaret Hodgson. From the menus which had covers artistically decorated in water colors, the nurses each read a toast as her name was called.

After the dinner dancing and cards started, Dossenbach's Orchestra furnishing the music. The following nurses assisted. Mrs. Hodgson and Miss Staub, who were the committee for the event: Miss Emma Kehrig, Miss Elma Clark, Miss Eva Easton and Miss Bess Messeth.

NURSING SERVICE.

One of the most important duties devolving upon the Red Cross is to provide nurses in time of war and calamity. The National Committee on Red Cross Nursing Service, appointed by the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, and consisting of fifteen members, nine of whom are selected by the American Nurses' Association, is responsible for maintaining uniform qualifications to govern the enrollment of nurses and for the organization of an adequate Red Cross nursing personnel. State and Local Red Cross Committees of nurses have also been appointed throughout the country to whom application for enrollment should be made.

The Red Cross does not conduct a training school for nurses, but enrolls through its local committees graduate nurses who fulfill the requirements prescribed by the National Committee.

INFORMATION FOR APPLICANTS.

Training:

To be eligible for enrollment, an applicant must have had at least a two years' course of training received in a general hospital which includes the care of men and has a daily average of at least fifty patients during the applicant's training. Upon recommendation of the local committee, subsequent hospital experience or post-graduate work which seems to supply deficiencies of training, may be accepted as an equivalent by the National Committee. Graduates of Hospitals for the Insane are not eligible for enrollment unless their experience includes at least nine months' training in a general hospital, either during their course of training or subsequent thereto.

Registration:

In States where registration is provided for by law, an applicant, to be eligible for enrollment, must be registered.

Age Limits:

Applicants must be at least twenty-five and not over forty years of age.

Personal Interview:

An applicant may at the discretion of a Local Committee be required to give a personal interview with a member of the Committee or someone appointed by them.

Essay:

An applicant is also required to send in with her application paper an essay on a blank form furnished by the Local Committee for this purpose.
