

Senate chamber April 24. 1830

Dear Sir:

I have sought to comply with your request in procuring for you a copy of the report in the case of Gale and Seaton. But since the subject has been definitively disposed of, and I know that the ~~disposition~~ ^{disposition} which you will experience will not be great - ^{regarding the} ~~the~~ ^{of Mr. Pinnel} ~~petition~~ ^{your letter} ~~concerning~~ ^{the petition} was duly rec^d. and the petition accordingly presented. & address'd letters, covering those which you forwarded to the persons for whom they were designed and two days since seized affidavits made out in proper form from two of the gentlemen living in Hampton - The proof appears to me to be satisfactory altho' from the tenor of the day at which the claim is void I fear that we shall not be able to act definitively upon ~~the case~~ ^{it} this year - What ever can be done however I will cheerfully do -

We are debating the Indian question as it is called. with the prospect of terminating the discussion to day - This removal beyond the Mississippi is called for by considerations not only of great public policy - but out of regard to the Indians themselves - Their extinction is inevitable when they grow so -

The Constitution has taken much better than I had apprehended. The small counties of my late district go for it by large majorities, all, with the exception of little Warwick - Her course is natural enough - Nothing is more natural than that she should seek to avoid political annihilation - I sincerely hope that the new gov^t may be found to act well when it shall have been put into operation. The low-country will very soon find it to be its interests to foster a friendly feeling ^{with} by cherishing the interests of your region of the State. For myself I am a Virginian, and my affections are not limited to the cis- or the trans Alleghany country. Nothing short of all Virginia will satisfy my affections. Heaven grant that this may be the feeling of all of our fellow Citizens. That they are yours I am entirely satisfied -

I tender the assurance of ~~my~~ ^{friendship} ~~and~~ ~~respect~~

I am, in haste but truly Wth L^y

John Tyler

W. Morgan -

P. S. An impeachment is ordered by the H. of R.
Judge Peck - The decision took place to day since the above was written - The Senate will be notified of it on Monday - Whether the case will be tried during this session or not is doubtful - His witnesses are said to be in Missouri and this may cause a postponement of the case until the next session - The impeachment is voted by 123 - to 41 - or 2 - We have but this moment passed the Judicial Bill to its 3^d reading by a vote of 28 - to 19 - Should the H. of R. act expeditiously on this subject we may adjourn on the 17 of May - all depends on that -
