

~~It cannot be that all men who~~ ~~remember what shall come.~~ Just think of it. Can you not picture to yourself the severe dignity that would clothe the <sup>Grand</sup> form of the elder Adams as he would turn from this abomination as from a serpent in his path.
 Can ~~one~~ not see the lip of Webster <sup>curling</sup> quivering with a sovereign contempt too bitter for language & the eagle eye of Henry Clay withering these knaves & traitors with a glance. And oh, if the ashes of those generations that have gone - who once bore the old ship banner thro' triumph & defeat answering with bold shouts to the rallying cries of educated wise & mag-nanimous statesmen could again be clothed with the living raiment of mortality how they would hold back & shudder with disgust & shrink away from the contemplation of such a presence.

Now let us sum up & make a practical application of what we have written.
 We do not address ourselves particularly to Democrats. Every man who have a substantial stake in the Institutions of the Country - who would wish to check all Democratic Tendencies in the Community - & who above all things would desire to see the blessings of the Union transmitted to their posterity - we believe there are many such men who belonged to the old Whig Party but who are disposed to turn their backs on the vagabondism & fanatic-ism of the <sup>Prote</sup> Association

 - which has now usurped the title of Whiggery. And it is to such as these we would now especially speak a few words. Can any man of intelligence affect to be blind to the fact that on a National point of view the present Whig Party is a man almost altogether
 - a man of the free States - & essentially alien to the Union.
