Feb. 20. 1876.

My dear friend,

May I not send to you who were so kind as to send to me a year ago, a word of sympathy in your great loss? It can be only an expression of sympathy for it would be folly in me to try to point out a way of relief to me of your deep Grief!

How well I remember Mrs.
Garrison, years ago, when we were first in Boston, & so many times enjoyed your cordial hospitality! We were impressed with the happiness of your family, & spoke of it to my Mother who thought it the result of a rule which guided you. What it was I do not quite remember, but think it was something to this effect: that every child should have full freedom of opinion.

With affectionate remembrance to you all,

Yours sincerely

Elizabeth S. Miller.
