WILLIAM & MARY INDIANS FACING TOUGH SCHEDULE

Squad of 30 Men Have Schedule of 11 Games: Navy, V. M. I., W. & L., and Georgetown on List.

TOM DOWLER NEW COACH

Club Concludes Season on Nov. 30th Against Richmond; Gerry Quirk Captain of Outfit.

September 1st saw the beginning of 1933 football activities ushered in at William and Mary. The thud of stout toes against the pigskin echoed over Cary Field and the sharp command of coaches started the Varsity squad on a long grind that calls for eleven games against the best teams in the State and against three teams out of the State that will be no set-ups, namely: Navy, Georgetown and Davidson. Navy, W. & L., and V. P. I., will be played on successive Saturdays beginning September 30th. Starting October 28th, the boys take on Georgetown, V. M. I., Emory and Henry and Davidson and wind up the season on Thanksgiving with our traditional rivals, Richmond University. There will be no game this year on the Saturday before Thanksgiving (Continued on page 4)

ROANOKE BEATEN BY INDIANS 7 TO 6

Close Fray Played on Muddy Field Under Lights in First Game of Season.

In the face of a threatened hurricane and on a field made slippery by deluges of rain, William and Mary eked out a one-point victory over a hard-fighting and stubborn Roanoke College team in the first game of the schedule. Sixty yards in penalties against the Indians in the first quarter put Roanoke in a scoring position and they cashed in on the opportunity.

The Indians came back strong in the second quarter and Dale Worrell on a lateral pass made a thrilling run for a touchdown. Stewart kicked the goal which meant victory.

Three times in the second and third quarters, William and Mary got within ten yards of the Roanoke goal but could not score. Roanoke has always been a tough foe for the Indians and everybody on the campus is satisfied with the one point victory.

Extracts from Old Faculty Minutes Prove to Be of Unusual Interest

These ancient records are among the most precious at William & Mary and are carefully guarded in a fire-proof vault in the College Library. The minutes that have been saved through the many fires at William and Mary cover the following periods: 1729 to 1784; 1817-1830; 1830 to 1836; 1836 to 1846; 1846 to 1883; 1888 to 1893. The minutes since 1893 are kept in the Registrar's Office. Extracts from these minutes will

ROCKEFELLER AND BRYAN ELECTED TO MEMBERSHIP IN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Given Honorary Membership for Conspicuous and Unselfish Services to College of W. & M.

ACCEPTED HONOR IN JUNE

For conspicuous and unselfish service to the College of William and Mary, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Mr. John Stewart Bryan of Richmond, Virginia, a member of the Board of Visitors of the College, were elected to Honorary Membership in the Alumni Association at a meeting last session. Their gracious letters of acceptance follow:

26 Broadway, New York, June 28, 1933.

My dear Mr. Wallace:

Your letter of May 31st, advising me of my election as an Honorary Member of the Alumni Association of the College of William and Mary, was duly received.

I deeply appreciate this honor, and only the more so because of the reasons which led to its being extended to me. In no hands will restored Williamsburg be safer than in those of the students, past, present and to come, of the College of William and Mary, nor will there be any better assurance of the safeguarding for all time of these historic shrines than the interest of the succeeding classes of students that pass through the college.

It gives me great pleasure to accept the invitation to fellowship with this goodly band of college graduates, and I would express to you and those joined with you my cordial thanks for Elaborate Plans Have Been Arranged for Outstanding Alumni Event of Year; Entire Student Body to Cooperate.

DANCE ON NOVEMBER 17

Davidson - W. & M. Football Game One of Features of 2-Day Program.

Mark this on your calendar and fix it in your mind. The most elaborate plans ever undertaken for a Home Coming Day at William and Mary will soon be under way and the full program will appear in the November 1st, Alumni Gazette.

The celebration will start Friday night, November 17th, with a dance and the big event on Saturday will be a football game with Davidson, the beginning of athletic relations with this well known North Carolina school.

Fraternities, Sororities and a number of William and Mary student organizations, the Music Department under Prof. Small, and the Dramatic Department, will all cooperate to make this Home Coming Day a memorable one.

A poor attendance on the part of the alumni is the only thing that can keep this celebration from being the best ever. So remember the date,—talk it up with your fellow alumni and look for the Alumni Gazette for the complete program.

WILLIAM & MARY ALUMNI AWARDED POSITIONS

Pres. Roosevelt Appoints Chitwood, '02, and Hutcheson, '14 to Eastern and Western U. S. District Attorneyships.

"East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet," but not so in Virginia. The Eastern and Western U. S. District Attorneyships will both be filled by William and Mary men under appointments made by President Roosevelt this summer.

Joseph H. Chitwood, '02, and C. Sterling Hutcheson, '14, are the men who merited and received these appointments.

Chitwood will serve in the Western and Hutcheson in the Eastern District. Chitwood held the same office under Wilson's administration. Both are prominent attorneys and well deserve these honors.

The Alumni Association extends congratulations to both and wishes them much success.

FIGHTING VIRGINIANS

Oh! Fight away you Indians,
Oh! Fight away Today.
The team that held the Crimson,
Will surely win the fray.
And as the ball goes over,
And the game is won,
Our voices swell,
To sing the song of Victory!

In-n-ndians! In-n-n-dinas!
Yea-n-a-a Team!
Fight 'Em!

DR. W. A. MADDOX, 1904, OF WILLIAM & MARY DIES IN ILLINOIS TRAIN CRASH

Maddox, a Member of the Class of '04, Killed when Car is Struck by Train.

RECEIVED A. B. AT W. & M.

Dr. W. A. Maddox, '04, a distinguished alumnus of William and Mary and President of Rockford College, Rockford, Ill., for 14 years, was killed instantly on August 10th, when his car was struck by a train at a crossing near Davis Junction, Ill. He was on his way at the time to see his wife, formerly Miss Susie Warner, of Essex County, Virginia, a patient in a sanatorium at Naperville, Ill., before leaving to visit her parents at Dunnsville, Virginia.

Dr. Maddox took his A. B. degree at William and Mary College, his M. A. and Ph. D., at Columbia University, and in 1926 was given an honorary LL. D. degree by his Alma Mater. He was a Mason and a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and Theta Delta Chi fraternities. He was active in the civic life of Rockford, being president of the Rotary Club at the time of his death.

His death will be mourned deeply by alumni of William and Mary and his friends. Many tributes were paid to his great intellectual power and his fine personality by prominent citizens of Rockford.

The Rockford Morning Star said of Dr. Maddox's passing: "In an instant, a mind trained for leadership, skilled in debate, a storehouse of wisdom and philosophy, versed in the intellectual guidance of youth, was rendered useless for our world. His intellectual idealism was reflected (Continued on page 3)

7000 NAMES IN NEW LIST

New Catalogue Quite Complete Regarding All Phases of Alumni Life and Membership.

Alumni catalogues at William and Mary have been few and far between. The oldest one in existence, as far as is known, was issued in 1859, under Colonel Ewell and contains a list of students from 1695 to 1859. In 1879 another catalogue was issued. 46 years later, in 1925, another one came off the press. This was edited by Dr. W. T. Hodges, '02, who did the terrific task in addition to his regular duties as a member of the William and Mary faculty.

The latest edition of the catalogue was compiled by G. W. Guy, '02, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association from 1929 - 1932 and his assistant, Mrs. Gertrude Harwood. It came off the press in June, 1933.

HUDSONS & TERRELLS AT WILLIAM & MARY

Two Families Contribute Ten Sons to Swell Alumni Ranks of William and Mary College.

From '00 to '09, there were six Terrell brothers at W. & M., five of them being in college at the same time. This seems to be a record for all time at W. & M. but the Hudson brothers of Orange county, are a close second to the Terrells.

The Alumni Secretary ran across B. H. Hudson, '22, last summer on his mother's beautiful farm near Lahore, Va., where he holds forth during the summer. In the winter he lives at Unionville, where he is principal of the High School.

B. H. states that he and his brothers, E. D., J. G., and W. R., were all at W. & M. at the same time and that during this period they also had two sisters at Fredericksburg. B. H. says this was a "pretty hard time" on his father!

B. H. started at William and Mary in 1914, dropped out to go into (Continued on page 2)

"Old Spottswood" Once Provided Delight de Luxe for the Students

Transported from the wilds of Brunswick county, where it once belched forth defiance to marauding Indians, to the campus of William and Mary, this noble piece of ordnance has been a familiar sight here for 32 years. It bears the following inscription:

CANNON
Taken from Fort Christanna, which was built by Governor Spottswood in Brunswick County, Va., in 1713.

Presented by Friends of the College February 19, 1901.

Little did the "friends of the college" and Dr. Tyler, who accepted the gift, know what a menace to the peace of old Williamsburg was being planted on the campus! It was not very long after February 19, 1901 that the students at William and Mary found Old Spottswood more useful than ornamental.

YOUR PAPER

With this issue, the Alumni Gazette of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, makes its bow to the alumni and friends of the college. While it is a new thing in an old atmosphere it will attempt to catch something of the spirit of that atmosphere and combining it with our college life of today give you a true picture of our Alma Mater as she is in this age.

In appearance, size and spirit, the Alumni Gazette will emulate that Journal of Colonial Virginia, the Virginia Gazette, founded in 1736, the first paper in America to publish the Declaration of Independence and for nearly half a century before the Revolution, the mouthpiece of those Colonial Virginians most of whom were alumni of William and Mary, who were fighting for liberty.

It is hoped that the Alumni Gazette will eventually find its way to every living alumnus of William and Mary and become to them and to the College "A link among the days to knit the generations each with each."

YOUR COLLEGE

On September twelfth, William and Mary opened its doors to the youth of Virginia and America for its two hundred and forty-first session. For nearly two and a half centuries our Alma Mater has been a beacon light on this continent for those who have fought the fight for political and spiritual freedom and for those who sought the lore of the ages. Through prosperity and adversity William and Mary has survived the centuries and would not die. Her soul has been enriched by the experiences of these long years and during the past fourteen years her physical appearance has been improved beyond the dreams of her most ardent lovers and well wishers. She sits in dignity today as always on that triangle of sacred ground between the Jamestown and Richmond Roads, receiving into her bosom and sharing with them her priceless heritage, the young men and women of this country, who seek here an education, some light on the mysteries of life and a solution of the hectic problems of this age.

The student body is smaller this year than usual, about 1200, but it is a more select group and therefore more homogeneous.

William and Mary is entering a new era this session. The third objective of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, one of her own sons, and who has guided her destinies for the past fourteen years, is under way. Her physical development is practically complete and a faculty of high type men and women are instructing her students in a broadened curriculum but one that still retains the spirit of the classical arts. This third step is the more careful selection of students for the college. Beginning this session freshmen must meet higher requirements in scholarship and must come well recommended for character and stability. It was a courageous thing to raise entrance requirements in times like these when all colleges are having a struggle for existence on account of reduced income but this scheme was part of Dr. Chandler's original plan in the renaissance of William and Mary and he put it into effect with characteristic courage.

It will redound to the glory of our college and alumni may contemplate with pleasure and satisfaction that William and Mary is still leading the way and keeping inviolate the principles that have made her a great institution and a joy to her sons and daughters.

The great "calico sport" of William and Mary comes into sight. Dashing, fiery young, John Earl Elliott rushes by decked in auburn hair and pride.

It is hoped that some one will relieve J. Lloyd Newcomb (now acting president, University of Virginia) of an idea which cropped out in a remark of his made to a fellow student. "Lloyd" said, that when he died he wished his body sent to a creamery to be cremated.

J. M. Button's visions recently have doubtless been very elevating. This is evidenced by the fact that while some of the boys were flying a kite, with lantern attached, over the Hotel Taliaferro one night during the early spring, he, catching a glimpse of this unusual nocturnal visitor just above his window, rushed out of the building shouting so as to be heard for squares, "Boys, run out here—here comes the old ship of Zion down on the house."

REMINISENCES

Some Pranks and Memories of Old Days

WHO REMEMBERS?

Mr. "Bob" Lee Spencer's chicken coops back of the old steward's house and the excellent roasters therein.

Old Jim Galt and his place on Duke of Gloucester Street where the denizens of many a hennery in Williamsburg were served up the night after the raids.

The night the C. & O. frame depot burned to the ground and the whole college turned out. The gasoline engine of the Volunteer Fire Department refused to function and the students had to drag the fire hose out of danger. And students carefully removed and appropriated to themselves, jug shipments of spiritus frumenti consigned to citizens of Williamsburg.

When attendance at Chapel Service was compulsory and during the football season players ambled in singly to receive the applause of their fellow students.

The night some vandal painted old Botetourt red.

The night that students took possession of the belfry on Wren building and Dr. Tyler and other members of the faculty besieged them, remaining until dawn and having coffee served to them during the night.

J. P. Gayle, '00, knows a great deal about the details of this episode.

When "Bull" A. R. W. Mackreth, '04 (now an editor of the Literary Digest and during the World War a member of the Royal Canadian Artillery) was soliciting members for the College Y. M. C. A., and urged the students to join by saying "It is a d— fine thing."

The water throwing brigade in the Brafferton and the night Dr. W. T. Hodges, '02, kneeling at his devotions, arrayed in a long tailed right shirt, was doused with a bucket of water from the rear and rising from his knees, interrupted his prayers long enough to express in profanity suitable to the occasion his contempt for the rascally water thrower.

The little brick building, a 'la Chick Sale, that stood at the extreme rear of the campus and was said to have been gazed upon by Thomas Jefferson, and the night in 1906 when it was burned and Thomas G. Jones, '08, made a great oration on the occasion.

The duel with pistols carefully loaded with blanks by G. O. Ferguson, '07, et als, between Walter L. Hopkins, '11 and F. B. Wilkinson, '11.

When the Wren Building was heated with stoves.

When Dr. Stubbs used to sit on his lecture platform with his back to the blackboard and drew geometrical figures over his shoulder on the board.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HISTORY DATES BACK TO THE NINETIES

Prior to 1923 an Alumni Association had existed at William and Mary for nearly 40 years but there was no Alumni Officer domiciled at the College to direct its affairs until in 1919 when Dr. W. T. Hodges, '02, joined the W. & M. faculty when Dr. Chandler became president of the College. From 1919 to 1929, Dr. Hodges conducted the affairs of the Alumni Office in addition to his duties at the College, being assisted a part of one session by J. Malcolm Bridges, '25. During this period, Dr. Hodges issued an Alumni Catalogue and kept the membership up to a very fair average.

In the spring of 1923 it was decided to incorporate the Association so that it could handle business matters of importance to both itself and the College.

The incorporators were: Judge Frank Armistead, '99; Oscar L. Shewmake, '04; Channing M. Hall, '08; and Norvell L. Henley, '90. Mr. Henley died March 13, 1923.

The Association was duly chartered and incorporated on March 5th, 1923.

The Charter provided for a Board of Managers of seven members which has since been increased to nine. It provided for a "Board of Trustees of the Endowment Fund of the College of William and Mary in Virginia."

Since its incorporation the Association has assisted the College in its expansion program as follows:

1923—Bought the Institute Property ($20,000.) for the College.

1927—Borrowed $75,000 for the College for the completion of Old Dominion and Barrett Halls.

The College has practically completed payment of the above debts to the Association.

In the summer of 1930 the Board of Managers elected George W. Guy, '02, Executive Secretary, who served until September, 1932, when he resigned to enter public school work. Mr. Guy prepared the material for the new Alumni Catalogue and raised the number of Alumni Clubs to 22, extending from New York to North Carolina.

Chas. A. Taylor, Jr., '09, was selected to succeed Mr. Guy and is still serving.

Last June at its Annual Meeting the Association authorized the publication of the Alumni Gazette and adopted the Meritorious Award System for alumni of the college, a plan that will be explained in the October 31st issue of the Alumni Gazette.

The Board of Managers is backing the campaign for 2000 members in the Association. To carry on alumni work at W. & M. in an efficient manner and in keeping with the prestige of the College, requires an annual budget of $6,000. The College is making a small appropriation for alumni work but the remainder of the budget must come from the alumni for which they will get value received in both a material and spiritual way.

The officers of the Association, headed by Dr. Amos R. Koontz, '10, President, are devoted to the interests of the Association and the College and together with a few hundred members of the Association have carried the work on from year to year, hoping for a response from a larger number of alumni.

The College is entering a new era if its history by adopting a policy of a very careful selection of students for the future. A rally of the alumni at this time in behalf of the College, through membership in the Alumni Association, would be a most heartening thing to the College and to those who have been keeping the Alumni Association alive and active.

JOIN THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

This issue of the Alumni Gazette, the first, is going to nearly 6000 William and Mary alumni, scattered over the entire United States and several foreign countries. This whole page is devoted to the Alumni Association which is at present being kept alive by a mere hand-ful of loyal alumni, who know that a college without alumni support, particularly moral support, is like a ship without a rudder and that William and Mary above any college in the country, deserves the support of its alumni.

Alumni support can be given most effectively through the Alumni Association. It is the main point of contact between the alumni and their Alma Mater. Through it can be crystallized the sentiment of the alumni, and their efforts in behalf of the College coordinated.

The peak of the Alumni Membership in the Association last year was about 500. Two thousand members are needed to carry on alumni work effectively. We should have that number out of 6000 alumni and this is an appeal to those who get this message to join with the loyal little group of alumni who have kept alumni work going at William and Mary to put new impetus and spirit into the cause and to give William and Mary a backing and support that she so richly deserves.

Alumni dues in the Association are $3.00 and Life Memberships, $50.00. With your membership you get a Membership card, a beautiful etching of the Sir Christopher Wren Building, restored, the new Alumni Catalogue and the Alumni Gazette each month of the year.

Put your loyalty to William and Mary, which is not questioned, into concrete form. Join the Alumni Association, keep in touch with the Alumni Office and know what is going on back at your old Alma Mater.

subtly in the life of the city and of the city's larger community without the walls. No man of the genius of Dr. Maddox can live in a city without imparting to it a great measure of his inspiration. His lively mind was a continuous source of aliveness to his friends, and through them it was given reflection in the thought and action of the community."

"OLD SPOTTSWOOD" ONCE PROVIDED DELIGHT DE LUXE FOR THE STUDENTS

Fortunately, or unfortunately, Spottswood was a muzzle-loading cannon. The students found no difficulty, however, in ramming down its throat good healthy charges of black powder and then igniting the same through the fuse hole at the other end.

In five years many true legends grew up around Spottswood and being passed to each succeeding yearly group of students, inspired each group to out do former groups and to add new prestige to the noble gun.

During the first five years of Old Spottswood's domicile on the campus there are two well known incidents connected with it. The first is when ambitious students one night loaded it with a double charge of powder. The result of this blast was many shattered windows in President Tyler's house and the Brafferton.

The other incident occurred during a rather noisy jollification by night on the campus when Spottswood's thunderous voice brought "Pompey" Lawson, the town policeman and now a shade on some ghostly patrol, up to the campus to investigate. Some student yelled at him to "duck" because Old Spottswood was carrying a goodly charge of bricks. The story is that "Pompey" did not again that night disturb the celebration.

During the fall of 1906 Dr. Tyler decided that something had to be done to curb the students' playfulness with this old Indian tamer and the students soon learned that it was to be taken to a blacksmith shop and spiked. There was considerable depression on the campus at losing such a dear old friend, and one that the students truly loved and would have fought for. There were many long faces on the campus and many a secret conference. The result was that one morning when Dr. Tyler walked out on his front porch and looked across the campus he found this ancient relic gone. It was whispered among the students that Old Spottswood had had been spirited away by a group of loyal students and was hidden in the woods somewhere between Williamsburg and Jamestown.

For more than a month it remained hidden and so well hidden that the majority of the students themselves did not know its secret hiding place. The campus that month seemed as lonely as Goldsmith's village. And then one morning there it was again, its muzzle pointed down Duke of Gloucester Street. The students were happy and thought that Dr. Tyler would forget his intention of having it spiked and that after an armistice of a reasonable time they could celebrate again. But unfortunately this was one thing that Dr. Tyler did not forget and the students awoke one morning to find their familiar old friend absent. During the day it was traced to a blacksmith shop and there it was found that the damage had already been done.

When it was brought back to the campus every student in college at one time or another stood in silence beside it and mourned in his heart that its noble voice had been silenced forever. Their spirits were crushed and there was no "balm in Gilead."

But when did a college administration ever get ahead of a group of ingenious students in a matter like this? Came a day in the spring of 1907 when the William and Mary baseball team, winding up a tour in Virginia, defeated Richmond College 7 to 6 in a dramatic 9th inning rally and thereby won the championship.

The team was due home the next day and a great celebration was planned for that night. For years Old Spottswood had had a prominent part in celebrating football and baseball victories. On these occasions a shot had been fired for each point of the score. But how could a spiked cannon be fired once much less seven times, for those runs scored against Richmond College the day before? It was a great crisis and a challenge to the entire student body. But there is always one genius in a group of college students and when the students gathered that night for the celebration, "Speedy" Terrell, '07, had solved the problem. His invention was a fuse the same length of the cannon which could be shoved down the throat of Old Spottswood after it had been loaded and ignited from the muzzle end. Archie Kirkmyer, '07, was a patient in the old Infirmary and out of respect for him it was decided to hold the celebration on the House of Burgesses ground. The parade formed on the campus, two students carried the seven fuses laid out on a plank and loving hands hauled Old Spottswood down the Duke of Gloucester Street. The seven shots were fired and Dr. Tyler's ears told him that he had been circumvented.

The last appearance of Old Spottswood before its muzzle end was finally solidly plugged in the summer of 1907 when the students were on vacation and therefore unable to snatch it from its final death, was a very notable one.

It was the occasion of the unveiling of the Confederate Monument on Palace Green. Colonel Lamb, '53, of Norfolk and Captain Lamb of Richmond were the speakers and there was a great concourse of the gentry of Williamsburg, students and Confederate veterans present. The Confederates had with them a small howitzer with which a round of shots were fired after the unveiling. These echoes had hardly died away when there was a great booming at the other end of Palace Green. Investigation revealed that Joe Brent, '09, and his cohorts had pressed Old Spottswood into service for the occasion to answer the salutes of the Confederate howitzer. But Joe had had another inspiration. He had decided to kill two birds with one stone. In addition to saluting the Confederates, which required only blank charges, he had expressed his contempt of the Matthew Whaley Model School, where he had done his Practice Teaching under duress that spring, by throwing a peck of Irish potatoes into Old Spottswood after each charge of powder! The walls of Matthew Whaley were a sad spectacle indeed.

Note: If you were a student here during the active days of Old Spottswood send in your yarns about it for the next issue of this paper.

WILLIAM AND MARY INDIANS FACING TOUGH SCHEDULE

thus giving our team a better break against Richmond. The game with Davidson is the beginning of athletic relations with that institution.

The prospects are rather bright and hopeful. J. S. Kellison, with 14 years coaching experience is back as head coach. Kellison has had 2 years at W. Va., Wesleyan, his Alma Mater, one year at Marietta, 2 years at W. & J., where he coached the team into the Rose Bowl competition in 1921, 6 years at Virginia and is now entering his 5th year at William and Mary.

Kellison will be ably assisted by Thomas Dowler of Colgate, whom Ripley made the subject of one of his "Believe It or Not" cartoons based on Dowler's extraordinary feat of having scored a touchdown in the first five minutes of every game he played. Dowler has charge of the backfield and alumni may look forward to seeing some fast work against any team on the schedule. Varsity backfield men back for this session are: Charlie Shade, a heady and fast little quarterback; Paless, who scored the touchdown to win against the Navy last year; "Junie" Smith, Spack, Chalko, Bergin, Young, Worrell. Up from the Freshmen of last year, are three fast stepping backs in Yerkes, Atkins and Bryant.

In the Varsity line from last year will be found stalwarts like Gerald Quirk, Captain; Waddy Stewart, Joe Bridges, Johnson, Henderson, Sorenson, Darden and Meyers. The Troyana twins and Murray from last year's Freshmen line are also back.

Billy Gooch, entering his 6th year as Athletic Manager at William and Mary, has every thing in ship-shape and under his direction we may look for another successful year in athletics.

Freshman athletics will be handled by Bill Scott, head Freshman coach, assisted by Otis Douglas, an outstanding tackle here two years ago, and whose father was a star player here in the nineties. Halligan, last year's captain and a star end here for 3 years, will also assist in Freshman athletics.

Joseph Chandler, who has put William and Mary out in the front in Track is head coach in this department again and his "foot racers" will show their heels to many a rival this session.

Fontaine; The Rev. Mr. William Dawson, Mr. Alexander Irvine and Mr. Joshua Fry.

It was agreed that they should qualify themselves as the statutes of the said college direct, by subscribing their assent to the Thirty Nine Articles of the Church of England. And by taking the Oath De Fidei Administration etc., which they did in the words following: (here follows the oath in Latin which we omit.)

Upon consideration of the great trouble Mr. John Randolph has been at in drawing and negotiating the transferr of the College, both in Virginia and England, it is agreed that over and above his acct. of Disbursements upon that acct. (which we expect) a Present be made him of Fifty Guineas. And the President is desired forthwith to pay the same to him, with our Thanks for his Good Services to the College.

Colonel William Ball, Surveyor of Lancaster and Northumberland, having applied to Mr. President for a new Commission of Surveyour from the College, it is agreed that two Commissions be prepared for him under the College Seal, to be Signed by the President and Masters, or the Major part of them.

Meeting of February 29, 1729-30

To prevent waste being committed on the College land it is ordered by the President and Masters that if Mistress Stith tends the grounds lately broke up in the Pasture with corn, the old cornfield be all burned out, except that part of it which is already sowed with wheat; and that the said part be teded this year only; and that no more ground be broken up for the future without leave ob-

States, and 26 in foreign countries.

An analysis of the classes and certain periods since 1865, reveals some very interesting facts. For instance: as far as is known, there are only 37 living alumni who were at the College under Colonel Ewell. Mr. Robert M. Hughes is the oldest graduate of the College. Graduating in 1873, 63 years later, in June, 1933, he delivered the graduating address at the College.

From '89, when the College opened after a silence of 8 years, to '99, there are 415 living alumni with known addresses; from '00 to '09, 508; from '10 to '20, 619; and from '21 to '32, 4064.

132 or 20 per cent of William and Mary living alumni are listed in the catalogue with "Addresses Unknown." This is the result of a lack of funds to carry on Alumni work at William and Mary as it is done at institutions of similar size. This lack of funds can be remedied only by a big increase in the membership of the Alumni Association. Colleges that have a properly financed Alumni Office never lose sight of more than 5 per cent of their living alumni. Harvard, for instance, with more than 60,000 living alumni, scattered over the entire world, reports only about 3500 with addresses unknown.

Since 1783, the College has awarded 2809 degrees, not including the Class of '33, to students. 21 were awarded from 1783 to 1799; 496 from 1802 to 1861; 462 from 1866 to 1919 and 1930 from 1920 to 1932.

More degrees have been awarded since 1919 than in the entire history of William and Mary.

Our new Alumni Catalogue is a great delight to the members of the Alumni Association who received it this summer. It is the first authentic record of the whereabouts of their classmates they have had since leaving College.

And also for the better preservation of the College woods, it is ordered that no trees be cut down for fencing stuff without leave; and that none be used for fire wood, except the bodies of the trees already cut down.

June 2, 1732—The College Chapel was opened. Mr. President preached on Proverbs 22.6.

July 31, 1732—The foundation of the President's house at the College was laid, the President, Mr. Dawson, Mr. Fry, Mr. Stith and Mr. Fox laying the first five bricks in order, one after another. The reason of the foundation being laid that day was that Mr. Henry Cary had appointed his bricklayers to be ready that day and that they could not proceed till the foundation was laid.

Meeting of July 31, 1741.

Mr. James Murray is elected usher of the Grammar School pro tempore in the room of Mr. Francis Robinson, deceased. Mr. President is desired to write Mr. Fothergil at Oxford to acquaint him of Mr. Robinson's death and to pray him to commend another.
