WILLIAM AND MARY STUDENT WINS FIRST PRIZE IN NATIONAL CONTEST

Irvine Elmore Jeter, graduate of John Marshall and Freshman Here, Wins With His Essay.

850,000 IN CONTEST

Prize Winning Essay to Be Engraved Upon Granite Sides of Mt. Rushmore in N. Dakota.

Irvine Elmore Jeter, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Jeter of 3126 Enslow Ave., Richmond, Va., and a freshman at William and Mary this session, has won the first prize of $1000 in a nation wide essay contest in which 850,000 high school students participated. Young Jeter was an honor student at John Marshall High School where he wrote the essay 18 months ago. He won a scholarship at John Marshall and selected William and Mary as his Alma Mater. President and Mrs. Roosevelt were among the judges of the contest. Mr. Jeter's prize winning essay which is to be engraved upon the granite sides of Mount Rushmore in North Dakota follows:

"To you of the next century, and forever of the next, we of the Twentieth Century say:

"By these steps did the United States arise:

"When the primary rights of all men—to be free and to be happy—were denied to the American nation, there remained to our forefathers no alternative save the Declaration of Independence and the American Revolution, the birth and establishment of the American principle.

"The Constitution of the United States will stand forever as a monument to the American ideal that liberty and happiness can and must be achieved without anarchy. Through all the years of our nation there has been no occasion to doubt that ideal, and we revere it and hold it to be a proved fact.

"The American nation, endowed with such ideals as never before had fired a people to success, outgrew its territory. From the coast our pioneers penetrated to the very center of the continent, carrying always with them the American principle, and there they established the American flag. By purchase the Union annexed the Louisiana territory, larger than the original colonies, fertile and productive. By purchase, also, was added the Floridas, the sun-bathed

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION RULES AND BY-LAWS DRAWN UP IN 1923

Association Founded in 1842 and Incorporated Eighty-One Years Later in 1923.

The Alumni Association which was organized in 1842 was not put on a definite business basis until 1923 when it was incorporated and received a charter from the state of Virginia.

We present herewith some of the features of the Certificate of Incorporation and of the By-laws.

Certificate of Incorporation

The incorporators of the Association were Norvelle L. Henley, '90; Channing M. Hall, '08; Judge Frank Armistead, '99; and Oscar L. Shewmake, '04.

The purposes of the Association are: "To aid, strengthen, and expand in every proper and useful way the College of William and Mary in Virginia and its work, and to develop, strengthen, and utilize the bonds of interest, sympathy, and affection existing between the said college and its alumni, and among the alumni themselves."

The president, vice president and members of the Board of Managers are elected by the Association and the president and vice president must be selected from the members of the Board. The secretary and treasurer are elected by the Board and one person may hold both positions.

The charter specifies a Board of Managers of seven but this has been changed to nine with the terms of three members expiring each June.

Vacancies on the Board occurring between annual meetings of the Association are to be filled by the Board, the replacement members serving until the next annual meeting of the Association.

The Association cannot hold more than 5000 acres of land.

Any alumnus, man or woman, who has had 240 days in residence at the College and has left the College in good standing is eligible to membership in the Association.

Twenty active members of the Association constitute a quorum for a meeting.

ALUMNI DAY JUNE 8TH

A program to celebrate Dr. Lyon G. Tyler's long service to William and Mary as president from 1888 to 1919 had been arranged for Alumni Day, June 8th, and Dr. Tyler had accepted the invitation to be with us. His untimely death on Feb. 12th necessitates a change in our program.

The exercises that will now be arranged will be a tribute to the memory of this great son of the state of Virginia whose administration at William and Mary was such a vital one in her long history.

It is hoped that every alumnus of his period here will make an effort to be here to join in this tribute to a man so greatly beloved by all who knew him.

OSCAR L. SHEWMAKE, '04, TO SPEAK ALUMNI DAY

Will Speak on Administration of Dr. Tyler, Who Died Feb. 12.

It is with much pleasure that we announce that Oscar L. Shewmake, '04, of Richmond, Va., has accepted the invitation of the Board of Managers to make the address here before the Alumni Association on Alumni Day, June 8th.

Mr. Shewmake is an able and most pleasing speaker and an unusual treat is in store for those who will be here to hear him.

His address will be a tribute to the memory of Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, president of William and Mary for thirty-one years and whose death on February 12th is deeply mourned by hundreds of alumni of his period who were planning to greet him here in person on June 8th.

Mr. Shewmake is one of the foremost attorneys of the state and for several years during the administration of the late Dr. J. A. C. Chandler was head of the department of Citizenship and Government at William and Mary.

MILLINGTON PICTURE FOUND IN RICHMOND

PRIZED LITHOGRAPH

In the December issue of the Alumni Gazette there appeared a letter of William Barton Rogers to his brother in which he spoke of his visit to the College in 1859 and mentioned that he was sending his brother a lithograph view of the College by Millington's son.

Shortly after the appearance of this letter in the Gazette, Oscar L. Shewmake, '04, found one of the original lithographs in an old book store in Richmond and purchased it. The lithograph was in perfect condition and

CLASS REUNIONS

Reunions of all classes from 1889 to 1919 will be a part of Alumni Day program on June 8th. The return of representatives of all these classes to William and Mary on Alumni Day would be a fine tribute to the memory of Dr. Lyon G. Tyler who looked forward to being here in person to greet "his boys."

BURSAR'S OFFICE AT WILLIAM & MARY BUSIEST DEPARTMENT AT COLLEGE

DR. LYON G. TYLER, BELOVED EX-PRESIDENT, PASSES AWAY AT 82

Dies From Pneumonia at His Home, Lion's Den, in Charles City County.

Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, president of William and Mary from 1888 to 1919 and president-emeritus since his resignation 16 years ago, died in his home, "Lion's Den," Charles City County, on Feb. 12, 1935. He was born at "Sherwood Forest," Charles City County, in 1853, and was the son of John Tyler, tenth president of the United States and of Julia Gardiner Tyler, a member of a prominent New York family.

Dr. Tyler graduated at the University of Virginia with an M.A. degree in 1875 and then took up the study of law. He came to William and Mary in 1877 as professor of belles-lettres under Col. Benj. S. Ewell. After one year at William and Mary he went to Memphis, Tenn., where he spent four years as a teacher. Returning to Richmond he engaged in the practice of law and in 1887 was elected to the General Assembly of Virginia.

William and Mary had closed its doors in 1881 and there was little prospect of their being opened again. But as a member of the Virginia legislature Dr. Tyler prevailed upon his colleagues to appropriate $10,000 for the opening of the College.

He was made president and assumed his duties in 1888. His first act was to secure a faculty and the result was one of the best faculties in the history of the College.

The enrollment at William and Mary during Dr. Tyler's first year as president was 102. The second year saw 187 enrolled. The peak enrollment of his administration was for the session of 1905-06 when the registration was 244. A total of about 2500 students came to William and Mary during his administration. Hundreds of these alumni of the College are prominent today in their chosen fields.

From 1888 until 1906 Dr. Tyler secured yearly appropriations for the College from the General Assembly though the College still belonged, un-

Fifteen Men Have Held This Office Through a Period of Two Hundred and Five Years.

OLD RECORDS HERE

Office Now Handling Over Three Thousand Accounts With Four Helpers and Modern Equipment.

The office of Bursar of the College of William and Mary has been a position of honor and great responsibility throughout the long history of the College. A history of the finances of the College which have been handled through this office for nearly two and a half centuries would be a most interesting one. The amount of money handled since 1693 would make a figure to stagger the imagination. And yet in all this time there is no record of any man holding this office having violated the trust imposed in him.

The statutes of the College printed in 1727 refer briefly to the office. The Bursar was "to timely and diligently gather in all the College Revenue and to keep the Money in a strong Chest." This does not give much intimation of the amount of work required of the Bursar even in Colonial days. When it is taken into consideration, however, that in those times the revenue of the College was derived from eight different sources we can easily imagine that the Bursar was a very busy man. The sources from which the Bursar had "to timely and diligently gather in all the College Revenue" were: 1st—The tax on tobacco; 2nd—Tax on liquor; 3rd—Fees from the Surveyor's general office; 4th—Tax on peddlers; 5th—Tax on furs, etc.; 6th—Rentals from College lands; 7th—Gifts for Scholarships; 8th—Income from student fees.

College records show that there have been 15 Bursars of the College since 1735. There is no record of the names of Bursars prior to 1735 but it is certain that the position was created when the College was founded. The following men, with the dates of their election, have held this position at William and Mary:

Rev. Richard Graham, 1735; John Blair, 1754; Robert Miller, 1772; John Carter, 1776; William Pierce, 1777; Rev. Robt. Andrews, 1790; William Coleman, 1807; Edmund Christian, 1807.

College and Campus Happenings; Bids on New Stadium Opened Soon

Thirty new students registered here for the second semester which started Feb. 1st. This brings the total enrollment for the session to 1180.

Dr. Bruce Curry of Union Theological Seminary, New York City, spoke to the students, faculty, and townspeople here in Phi Beta Kappa Hall Sunday night, Feb. 3rd, on "Meeting Life's New Demands." Dr. Curry came here upon the invitation of the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations of the College.

Chas. J. Duke, Jr., Bursar of the College and a faculty member of the 3-3-3 Athletic Committee, has been appointed by the committee to supervise the finances of the Athletic Department. Mr. Duke will introduce new methods and regulations that will probably save several thousand dollars annually in this department.

President John Stewart Bryan spent several weeks in Florida during February. Much rested after thousands of miles of travel in the interest of the College since last September, he returned from his vacation in time to lead the figure in a series of dances held by the Cotillion Club on Feb. 8th and 9th.

Miss Gertrude Stein spoke to a selected audience of 500 students in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on the afternoon of February 8th.

The Flat Hat, the student newspaper here, is now associated with the United Press. It is the first college

DR. LYON G. TYLER

It is seldom that an institution of learning sustains a loss of the magnitude that has come to William and Mary in less than twelve months in the deaths of two distinguished men who between them had guided her destinies for nearly half a century. One, Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, the pupil of the other, took up the banner of the College where his teacher had planted it in 1919, far ahead of the point where he himself had grasped it in those dismal days of 1888.

Dr. Lyon G. Tyler, beloved of all William and Mary alumni, went to his reward on Feb. 12th. He had outlived the Biblical allotment of three score and ten years by more than a decade. He had lived through the administration of two presidents of William and Mary, Col. Ewell and Dr. Chandler; had served thirty-one years himself and participated in the inauguration of Mr. Bryan, the fourth president of the College during his life time.

His administration at William and Mary will stand for all time as one of solid achievement. It is a chapter in the history of the College that can always be read with pride. The twenty-five hundred young men, mostly Virginians, who matriculated here during his presidency, came with a zeal for learning and they met a leader and a faculty who encouraged that zeal and satisfied it. They went forth from the College and have glorified her name and justified the leadership of Dr. Tyler, in this state and many others in the Union, by their achievements.

This was, in the main, Dr. Tyler's contribution to William and Mary, the significance of which becomes more and more apparent as time goes on and people are beginning to set their feet upon the safe and solid ground of ideals that he emphasized throughout a life time.

After leaving William and Mary in 1919 he established himself in Charles City County near his ancestral home but he did not go into retirement. The quiet roads along the James echoed the pattering of his modest little car, as he went back and forth from his "Lion's Den" to Richmond where until a month before his death he was a familiar figure at the Capitol, the library, and in the clubs of that city. No student of his days at William and Mary could observe the Indian straightness of his figure and the elasticity of his step as he walked from place to place in that city without a feeling of intense pride in his old president.

He worked diligently at his research work and at his writings until his death. Occasionally he would sally forth into the open forum of the daily papers to defend the principles of the Lost Cause. He was not willing to sugar coat facts, no matter how disagreeable they might be to the other side. He exposed these matters to the merciless light of truth and stood as immovable as Gibraltar when assailed by those who through a mistaken sense of generosity were willing to forget them.

Dr. Tyler's place in the history of William and Mary and of his native state is secure and "his boys," as he called the alumni of his period, will always remember him with affection and pride.

WINTER ATHLETICS

Starting in January, William and Mary Varsity and Freshman athletic teams have engaged in 37 contests up to Feb. 28th, of which 27 were victories for our teams.

The Varsity basketball team got off to a poor start but developed into one of the best teams in the state. Sports writers give them third place but this team was undoubtedly the second best in Virginia. They won 8 out of 12 games and 2 of the 4 lost went to the wonder team of Richmond University that won 20 straight games and lost none. Out of 7 games with the Big Four, William and Mary won 5, winning from each one but losing once each to V. P. I. and to Virginia.

The Freshman basketball team covered itself with glory, winning 13 games and losing none. Among these victories are two against the Freshmen of Richmond University, the only two they have lost in three years.

Coaches Dowler (Varsity) and Scott (Freshmen) deserve much credit for these excellent records.

One more basketball game remains on the Varsity schedule and that is with the Naval Academy team to be played here on the night of March 9th. "Buzz," Borrie of the Navy will be seen in action here in that game.

BOARD OF MANAGERS HOLD MEETING HERE

Several matters of importance were passed by the Board of Managers of the Alumni Association at a meeting held here on Feb. 8th. Present at the meeting were Joseph E. Healy, president of the Association; Robert P. Wallace, secretary-treasurer; Miss Cornelia Adair, Judge H. Lester Hooker, Robt. M. Newton, and Dr. Amos R. Koontz.

As the income from annual dues to the Association is not sufficient to carry on the work of the Alumni Office, a campaign to secure more Life Memberships was inaugurated in which individual members of the Board will participate. Life Memberships are $50, one half of which goes to the Endowment Fund of the Association and one half into the treasury for operating expenses.

Membership dues in the Alumni Association to members of each graduating class at the College were reduced to $2.00. The custom of inducting the entire Senior Class into the Alumni Association on Alumni Day is discontinued and only those who actually pay their dues will take part in this annual ceremony.

Probably the most important business of the meeting was the adoption of a plan for organized alumni help in contacting prospective students for William and Mary. Many institutions of learning have adopted such a plan and are profiting by it.

Ten alumni were elected to receive the Alumni Medallion here on Alumni Day. The list appears in another column of this issue of the Gazette.

peninsula of the South.

"Americans, with faces turned westward, penetrated into Texas and met there the Old World, personified by Mexico. Unable to suffer conditions inimical to liberty, they freed themselves, and immediately requested admission into the Union. Because she was a sister State, linked by blood, and bound to us by common ideals, she was admitted, and another step had been made toward ultimate completion of the American nation.

"Old World government and principles were doomed to pass away from the American continent. California and adjacent territories next took up the cause, and freed themselves while Mexico was involved in war. They sought admission, and, like Texas, were admitted to enter the Union, for they, too, had vindicated faithfully the American ideals.

"With our northern neighbors, Canada, whose freedom existed as much in spirit as did ours, we determined the forty-ninth parallel as our northern boundary, the only one not fixed by nature.

"Alaska, Queen of the North in gold and fish, the only non-independent American land not subscribing to the cause of liberty was purchased in 1867, and has paid us many times over for the gift of American ideals and American freedom.

"Then, when the American nation had spread across the continent, when it had drawn seekers of liberty from the four corners of the earth, there arose before our fathers a need to unite by some definite and tangible means the widely separated shores of our land. So that a nation united by a principle might be welded firmly together economically, Theodore Roosevelt caused the Panama Canal to be built.

"Freedom through the years, the cause has been kept alive in the hearts and acts of the American nation. Originated by George Washington and Thomas Jefferson and the Colonies, finally established and vindicated by Abraham Lincoln and the Union, we deliver it, improved and reaffirmed in our every act, to you of the future ages.

"May the future ever assert that the past was right."

MR. BRYAN PRESENTS OLD BOOK TO LIBRARY

The Students and Faculty of the College, as well as the Library, have been most fortunate in the receipt of the First Edition of THE PRESENT STATE OF VIRGINIA by Reverend Hugh Jones, printed in London, 1724. This is a very rare item in Virginia and one of the most important source books of information on the early history of William and Mary. It was secured at auction in New York and was presented to the Library by President John Stewart Bryan.

The Library is now the owner of the only First Edition of this in Virginia, and the owner of one of four or five copies in the United States.

It is in this book that the Main Building of the College is referred to as the Wren Building.

Reverend Hugh Jones was appointed professor of Natural Philosophy and Mathematics at the College in 1719. He served as Master of the Grammar School for a short time during the same year.

This copy of THE PRESENT STATE OF VIRGINIA is bound in half-blue calf. It is believed to have been originally owned by Henry C. Murphy, born in Brooklyn, Long Island, in 1810. He graduated from Columbia in 1830, and began practicing law. He was outstanding in the public life of our country. At one time he served as Minister to the Netherlands.

This copy of THE PRESENT STATE OF VIRGINIA is one of the most valuable items in the Library collection. The Library already had the Sabin reprint of this, which is available for use by students in the Library.

der the old charter, to the president and professors. In 1906 it was deeded to the State of Virginia by Dr. Tyler and his faculty.

During Dr. Tyler's administration he was constantly working to improve the physical plant of the College. Approximately $300,000 worth of buildings were erected through his efforts. These included a gymnasium, a science hall, library, Tyler and Taliaferro dormitories.

During his term as president of William and Mary Dr. Tyler devoted much time to the study of its history and of local Virginia history. In 1892 he founded the William and Mary Quarterly which is today the greatest book available on the history of the College and on Virginia generally. Some of his other publications are: "The Cradle of the Republic," "Letters and Times of the Tylers," "The English in America," and "Tyler's Quarterly Historical and Genealogical Magazine," established after he left William and Mary as president.

While practicing law in Richmond in the '80's Dr. Tyler was instrumental in the revival of the Virginia Mechanics Institute.

For his age Dr. Tyler was probably one of the most active men in the country. His funeral was held on the very day he was to have started a series of lectures at William and Mary.

He received honorary degrees from Brown University, University of Pittsburgh, and Trinity (Hartford).

He was a member of the Virginia Historical Society, Massachusetts Historical Society, American Historical Society, the Society for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, of Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Sigma.

Dr. Tyler was laid to rest in Hollywood, Richmond, near the graves of his father and mother.

He is survived by his second wife, formerly Miss Sue Ruffin, and two young sons by that marriage, Lyon G., Jr., and Harrison Ruffin Tyler. By his first marriage he is survived by a son, John Tyler, an alumnus of declared by art experts in Richmond to be an outstanding specimen of this art.

The subject of the picture is "William and Mary College at Williamsburg, Va." and under this is the following inscription: "This view is respectively inscribed to the President and Faculty, the Visitors, Alumni and Students of that venerable Institution by their very obedient Servant"—Thomas Ch. Millington.

This view of the College shows the Wren Building, the Brafferton and the President's house. Several men in high top hats are also shown, one of whom is President Dew. Several cows graze leisurely on the campus.

The lithograph is about 14 x 13 inches and was made in 1840.

Thomas Charles Millington was a son of John Millington, a noted scientist and a professor at William and Mary. He lived in the old Wythe House and Mr. Shewmake's maternal grandfather, G. L. C. Salter who took his B.L. degree at William and Mary in 1837, boarded with him while at College.

The Dramatic Club will present the "Jealous Wife" here on the night of March 14th.

The mid-winter dances sponsored by the Cotillion Club and held here Feb. 8th, 9th and 10th, proved successful financially and socially. The famous Bert Lown Orchestra furnished the music. At the opening dance, President John Stewart Bryan and Miss Kitty Chiswell, president of the Women's Student Body, led the Cotillion Club figure. A midnight supper was served at the first dance and the College Trio, Stumpy Bryant of football fame, Preacher Franklin, captain of basketball, and Jud Sherrill rendered popular selections.

Through the courtesy of President Bryan a series of Sunday afternoon concerts will be held here beginning February 17th. Richmond talent has been secured for the performances.

A testimonial dinner to the Rev. Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, "Father of the Restoration," was given by his friends in the College Dining Hall on the night of Feb. 15th. Three hundred people, including Gov. Peery, attended the dinner at which President John Stewart Bryan was toastmaster.

The Boot and Spur Club of William and Mary now numbers about 40 members with President Bryan as an honorary member. A stable of fine riding horses is maintained near Lake Matoaka. The development of Matoaka Park with its many bridle paths has been a big incentive to this organization.

Madame Tatiana Tchernavina, Russian authoress who wrote "Escape from the Soviets," lectured in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on Feb. 26th. Madame Pchernavina was brought to William and Mary by Mr. Charles R. Crane who has sponsored several lectures at William and Mary.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, '99, who was chairman of the Inaugural Committee at the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt as President of the United States in 1933, has presented the College with two medals struck for that occasion. P. Manship, sculptor, designed the medals which are very handsome ones. On the obverse is the bust of Roosevelt, his name and that of Garner as vice president. On the reverse is "Old Ironsides," and the quotation from Longfellow, "Thou, too, sail on, O Ship of State! Sail on, O Union, strong and great!"

BURSAR'S OFFICE AT WM. AND MARY IS BUSIEST DEPARTMENT AT COLLEGE

The average term of office served by these men was 14 years but 9 of the 15 served an average term of 20 years.

The late Col. L. W. Lane, Jr., had the longest term of office, 27 years. Edmund Christian, elected in 1824, served 26 years and Tazewell Taylor, elected in 1850, served 25 years.

When the College was reopened in 1888 after seven years of inactivity, the term Bursar was dropped and Treasurer substituted therefore. But when Chas. J. Duke, Jr., was elected last year the old term was resurrected and put back into use.

The College Library contains the following Bursars' Records of the Colonial period: Bursars' Books—1763-1770 and 1770-1777. Account Books—1755-1771.

Tazewell Taylor's accounts from 1850 to 1875 are also preserved in the Library. An interesting item appears in his Bursar's Book at the beginning of his term. The Capital Fund of the College was $132,133.87. Of this amount $28,500 was invested in stocks and bonds and the balance of over a hundred thousand dollars was loaned out to individuals at interest. Other listed assets of the College at this time were 309 acres of land in King William County and 738 acres in Sussex, appraised at a total value of $2403.00. 24,000 acres of land owned by the College in Colonial days had dwindled to a bare 1000 or more and by 1888 were to be reduced to less than 20 acres.

If the Rev. Richard Graham, elected Bursar of the College 200 years ago (1735), could walk into the office of Bursar Chas. J. Duke, Jr., today and see how the duties of this department at William and Mary have been multiplied since his demise he would no doubt wonder what it was all about.

The Office Today

With the increase in size of the student body and enlargement of the physical plant of the College, a larger and up-to-date method of accounting has become necessary. The records of the College are now kept in an efficient and detailed way, and the methods in use are being followed by all of the other Institutions in the State. The operating expenditures of all the various departments are carried separately, and accurate estimates may be made of the actual and proportionate cost of each department. By reason of this, many savings have been effected at certain points, and increased expenditures authorized at others. The annual expenditures of the College for maintenance and operation approximate three-quarters of a million dollars annually. The present sources of revenue are from student fees and State appropriation, although the College enjoys a substantial income from private endowment. The endowment funds of the College are steadily increasing.

The handling of three quarters of a million dollars a year at William and Mary necessitates a tremendous amount of bookkeeping. For instance the total number of individual accounts kept in the Bursar's office is well over 3000. These include the individual accounts of around 1200 students, laundry, loan funds, infirmary and rental accounts. In addition to these accounts the general accounts of the various extension school of the College are also taken care of.

A big item in this department is the number of requisitions issued and invoices checked during a year. They amount to over 3300 a year.

To expedite the handling of all these accounts a bookkeeping machine, electrically operated, was installed a few years ago. This machine records the entries on loose leaf sheets for five different ledgers. In actual charge of the bookkeeping of the College is Vernon L. Nunn, a graduate of William and Mary and most courteous and efficient in his services to the students and others who have dealings with him. He is assisted by five helpers. His present title is auditor of the College

Miss Glenn is head of the Commercial Department of the Falls Church High School and teaches short hand at Strayer's Business College in Washington at night.

The wonders of the radio will never cease. C. L. Turnipseed, '05, of Georgiana, Ala., writes that he listened in at the program here last October 20th when Mr. Bryan was inaugurated as president, and heard the college bell being rung by Henry Billups which he had not heard for 29 years. He says, "To catch the sound of the old College bell was more than I ever hoped to realize. Hope to see you and the boys in June."

Melvin (Meb) C. Davis, '28, who starred in football, basketball and track at William and Mary and was captain of the 1927 football team, has signed up to play basketball with the Old Mansion team in the Capital City League in Richmond.

J. Claybrook Harper, '23, was married Jan. 26th to Miss Dorothy McKann of Middlesex County. Miss McKann is a sister of H. A. McKann, an alumnus of William and Mary, Class of 1929. Mr. Harper recently took over the management of the mercantile business of his father, the late L. F. Harper, at Urbanna, Va.

Harold G. Ashby, a graduate of the Class of 1930, recently joined the Alumni Association and informed us that he has been with the Prudential Life Insurance Company at Newark, N. J., since his graduation.

Miss Katy V. Anthony, an A.B. of the Class of '21, was a recent visitor to the Alumni Office. Miss Anthony, whose home is in Hampton, teaches English in the Binford Junior High School, Richmond, Va., and rarely fails to visit W. & M. when enroute to her Hampton home.

Bailey J. Locher, '08, was recently appointed Construction Superintendent of the Seashore State Park at Cape Henry, Va. The Alumni Catalogue published in 1924 showed him as a resident of Oklahoma and the catalogue of 1933 placed him in Tampa, Florida. We welcome him back to Virginia where he started from.

Dr. M. D. Foster, '21, is now practicing medicine at Elkton, Va. He took a B.S. degree here and went into school work. During this period he received his Master's degree from Columbia University. In 1929 he entered the Medical College of Virginia and graduated in 1933. Dr. Foster is a brother of T. D. Foster, '16, Superintendent of Schools for Sussex County.

A. Earle Garrett, '29, an associate member of the firm of Harris, Harvey and Brown, is practicing law at Danville, Va. After taking his A.B. degree here he went into the tobacco business but entered the University of North Carolina in 1931 where he received the J.D. degree in 1933. He was an editor of the Law Review at the U. of N. C.

In 1929 he married Miss Evelyn Hall Steele of Emory, Va. On July 3, Albert Earle Garrett, III was born and Mr. Garrett says, "His mother and father both believe he will make a good 'duc' for Alma Mater."

Carl C. Gillespie, '30, who took his A.B. here, is practicing law at Bluefield, Va. He has been Attorney for the town of Bluefield since September 1, 1932, but at this time is a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of Tazewell County.

No part of the principal of such funds can be spent without the consent of the donors and the Alumni Association. This Board of Trustees may also hold any Endowment Funds belonging to the Association and at present does hold such a fund ($3500 from Life Memberships). The Board of Trustees is required to meet annually in June on the day preceding the meeting of the Board of Visitors of the College. The members of the Board are: R. M. Hughes, '73; John Weymouth, '94; Jackson Davis, '02; Carroll Pierce, '92; and A. H. Foreman, '99.
