COLLEGE FARM STARTED IN 1923 HAS FURNISHED VEGETABLES GALORE

Furnishes Fresh Vegetables for Dining Hall in Plentiful Quantities in All Seasons.

65 ACRES CULTIVATED

Farm Was Started by the Late Dr. J. A. C. Chandler and Is Managed by Experienced Farmer.

Back in Colonial days when William and Mary owned about 24,000 acres of land in King William, Surry, Sussex and Nottoway counties, the College was very much in the farming business. In Nottoway where the holding was around 2100 acres, the College worked the land with its own slaves laboring under an overseer. In the other counties the land was rented out mostly to tobacco farmers at an annual rental of 500 pounds of tobacco for each 100-acre plot.

It is not generally known, however, that the College still has a farm and cultivates intensely 65 acres of land. This is not a large acreage if the crops were confined to grains or hay but when this amount of land is devoted mostly to the raising of vegetables the proposition takes on a different aspect.

The variety and quantity of vegetables raised on this 65 acres, most of which are consumed in the Dining Hall of the College, run into figures that are rather interesting.

For instance it would seem that 100,000 ears of sweet corn would be subsistence for a large army for a considerable time but that is just one product of the College Farm and 10,000 ears have disappeared in one week via the Dining Hall route.

The patch of strawberries yields 6000 quarts each year and they ripen at the rate of 35 crates a day. And how about 5000 watermelons and a few thousand cantaloupes?

About 3000 bushels of Irish and sweet potatoes come out of the ground each year and go to the commissary for consumption.

One whole acre is devoted to onions and another acre to peppers, egg plants, squash and cucumbers. Four acres of string and butter beans, English peas, and a quarter of an acre of beets, carrots, parsnips and radish, furnish the variety and quantity of these vegetables consumed by the

TRACK TEAMS AT W. & M. HAVE PRODUCED MANY STARS IN EIGHTEEN YEARS

Start Heavy Schedule Soon With Good Prospects for a Successful Season.

Although William and Mary is the second oldest college in the country, track, as a sport is relatively new. Harvard, for example, became a charter member of the ICAAAA in 1879, but William and Mary never scheduled an intercollegiate track meet until 1917, which was to be held with VMI but was cancelled because of the World War. In 1920 a few meets were held but these were of little consequence. In 1921 track was coached by Bobby Gooch, a member of the faculty and former track star at U. of Va. Although W. & M. was defeated by Richmond that year 66 to 60 W. & M. took 10 first places in the fourteen events. Dietz, Chandler, Metcalf, Young, and Joynor were the main point getters. In 1923 and 1924 track was coached by Tucker Jones. There was no cinder track at that time and the meets were held at the Williamsburg Fair Grounds. VMI, Penn State and Richmond were the main collegiate opponents. These teams were very strong and had little difficulty in defeating W. & M.

Track did not get into full swing at W. & M. until 1925. A cinder track was constructed and Joseph Chandler and R. C. Siersema were appointed to coach the team. That year W. & M. defeated Richmond 67 to 59 for the first win in the history of track. This was an exciting meet as Ed Taylor and "Rats" Kahn tied for first in the High Jump to win the event and the meet for W. & M. Grove, Hooff, Yates, Winder, and Meb Davis were the stars of the meet.

In 1926 Harvard came to W. & M. for the first time and stayed a week. Their visit was a success all around as they came again in 1928 and 1930, and their presence helped stimulate interest in track.

It is impossible to give the details of all of the track meets or even to mention all of the fine performances made by W. & M. men, but it is in-

ALUMNI DAY JUNE 8TH

The program for Alumni Day, June 8th, will appear in the April issue of the Alumni Gazette. It is expected that a large number of the alumni of Dr. Lyon G. Tyler's administration will return to take part in the tribute to his memory which is to be a part of the exercises of the Alumni Association program for the day.

Alumni of the classes from 1889 to 1919 are in correspondence with each other now in reference to being here on June 8th and notices are coming into the Alumni Office every day from those who have decided to return.

In addition to the alumni of Dr. Tyler's period many of the last fifteen years will return. Indications are that the largest crowd of alumni ever to return here at one time will be present on June 8th.

Rooms in the dormitories are available for all alumni who desire them and reservations should be made through the Alumni Office.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI TO MEET ON APRIL 5TH

President John Stewart Bryan Will Address the Meeting, and Large Attendance Is Expected

The annual meeting of the William and Mary College Club of Philadelphia will be held on the night of April 5th at the Benjamin Hotel in Philadelphia. The dinner is to take place at 7 p.m. and President John Stewart Bryan has accepted the invitation of the Club to make an address. E. P. Farthing, '11, secretary of the Club, informed the Alumni Office on March 15th that already forty-six alumni had notified him that they would attend the meeting and acceptances were expected from twenty or more others. This attendance will make a record for the Philadelphia Club. Mr. Farthing's address is 630 Public Ledger Building, Philadelphia, and alumni who expect to attend the meeting and have not notified him, should get in touch with him at once.

Arrangements have been made to show moving pictures of William and Mary and Williamsburg at this meeting which should be of much interest to alumni who have not visited the College recently. Advanced publicity on the meeting has been arranged for by Mr. Farthing with Philadelphia papers.

The officers of the Philadelphia Club are: James Campbell, Jr., '25, president; Rev. Reginald Davis, '22, vice president; Ernest P. Farthing, '11, secretary; Mrs. Palmer Flowers, '25, treasurer.

ALUMNI OF DANVILLE WILL HOLD MEETING IN APRIL

President Bryan to Speak at Club Organization Meeting.

William and Mary alumni of Danville, Va., Halifax, Pittsylvania and Henry Counties will meet sometime in April to organize a William and Mary Alumni Club for that section of the state. While no date for the meeting has been fixed, President John Stewart Bryan has accepted an invitation to address the meeting and

W. & M. BASEBALL TEAM STARTS WITH SCHEDULE OF TWENTY-THREE GAMES

New Stadium Necessitates Changes in Diamond Laid Out By Jimmy Driver.

With a splendid schedule of 23 games arranged by Athletic Director Gooch ahead of them, the Varsity baseball squad got down to serious practice early in March with emphasis on base running. "Bill" Scott, who is handling the varsity this spring while Tommy Dowler trains the freshmen, is optimistic in spite of a scarcity of veteran pitchers and serious losses from last year's squad. In pitching he will have to depend on Elliott who won seven and lost two last session, and Scott who won six and lost one. "Preacher" Franklin, captain of this year's basketball team and Zabel who starred at end on the football team, are being groomed for the pitching staff. Daley, from last year's freshman team, is the fifth member of the firing squad.

Waddy Stewart, captain of the team, will catch and Jester, who played outfield last year, will be moved to first base. Aubrey Marable, one of the smoothest players on the squad, will hold down his old position at second base. Charlie Shade will have his same place at short stop and Sanders will cover third.

The outfield is deserted so far as veteran material is concerned except for "Dixie" Moore who is a good one. Elliott and Zabel will play outfield when not pitching and Marino and Trueheart, both from the football squad, will fill in when needed. The schedule of 23 games calls for 11 at home, which is a good percentage.

The baseball diamond which has been standing as arranged by James G. Driver 15 years ago, will be changed around so that home plate will be at the old third base. The tennis courts on Richmond Road will be abandoned to make room for the right field. This change is necessitated by the erection of the new stadium which will encroach on the old outfield.

Herbert L. Bridges, '93, Was First Person to Hold This Important Office.

HANDLES MANY ITEMS

New Record System Was Introduced in 1933 and 30,000 Records Will Be Transferred.

The records of the College indicate that in its long and eventful history only two persons have been appointed to the position of Registrar. The bulletin of the College of William and Mary, Editor, L. G. Tyler, Volume 1, No. 1, January, 1907, page 16, carries the following notation: "The election of a Registrar of the Board at its session in June, met a want long felt in the College. It is very important to keep up with the different students and note their progress from day to day. Hence the records of the institution for the want of a proper officer have been quite imperfect. The new officer is Herbert L. Bridges, an L.I. and A.B. of the College, who was also made an assistant in American History and Politics. At the time of his election, Mr. Bridges was Superintendent of Schools for Gloucester County."

Mr. Bridges served as Registrar from that date until June, 1932. At this time he underwent a serious operation, and has not been able since to assume active duty. For twenty-five years he served the College loyally and faithfully, performing many duties other than those called for by the Registrar's office. During President Tyler's administration he was really the business head of the College. When President Chandler assumed the leadership of the institution, Mr. Bridges, because of his thorough knowledge of every phase of the College, proved an invaluable assistant to him, and continued as such until he was forced to give up his work because of illness. In addition to his duties as Registrar, Mr. Bridges was Secretary of the Faculty, Secretary to the Board of Visitors, and Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, besides serving on many committees.

Those persons who attended the College during the time that Mr. Bridges was Registrar were fortunate,

College and Campus Happenings Track Team Wins at Chapel Hill

Doctors Helseth, Weeks and Leonard attended the annual meeting of the National Education Association at Atlantic City the latter part of February.

Prof. Julian Huxley, noted scientist, author and traveler lectured here on March 9th.

U. S. Senator J. W. Bailey of North Carolina will speak here early in April. He is brought to William and Mary by Phi Delta Gamma, national honorary forensic fraternity. Senator Bailey says that one of the many reasons that brings him to William and Mary is that his father was educated here and that his grandfather was a resident of Williamsburg for a long time.

Bertram Thomas delivered an illustrated lecture here on the night of March 19th. Mr. Thomas is believed to be the first man ever to cross a certain part of the great desert in Arabia. The London Times referred to it as "one of the greatest geographical exploits of modern times." This lecture at William and Mary was made possible by Mr. Charles R. Crane.

The William and Mary Dance Orchestra has been very active this session, playing for many dances at the College and also for outside dances. They were selected for the Kappa Sigma dance at Richmond University recently. Three times a week they play at the Williamsburg Theater.

Some time this spring the orchestra will play for Mr. Philip Boone of Boston and if approved by him will re-

PROFESSOR MORRISON ON THE FIRE OF 1859

(Extracts from the Faculty Minutes for November 22, 1859)

The following paper, read by Professor Morrison before the Faculty of the College, was, with his permission, directed to be placed on record:

"On the thirteenth day of October, 1859, (eighteen hundred, and fifty-nine) the lectures were resumed in the renewed College edifice. The fire that occurred on the eight of February previous did not seriously injure the walls, and consequently they were not taken down. These walls, denuded by the late fire, exhibited evidences not to be mistaken of having before withstood a general conflagration. The only destructive fire except the late one, known to the history of the College, occurred in the year seventeen hundred & five. The impression, therefore, that the site of the College building was changed after the fire in 1705 must be erroneous. This conclusion is rendered certain by the following extracts from a volume entitled "The Present State of Virginia," by Hugh Jones, A.M., Chaplain of the Honorable Assembly and lately minister of Jamestown & C., in Virginia. "The building is beautiful and commodious, being first modelled by Sir Christopher Wren, adapted to the nature of the country by the Gentlemen there; and since it was burnt down it has been rebuilt, nicely contrived, altered & adorned by the ingenious direction of Governor Spotswood." The author of this volume was Professor of Mathematics in the College before the date of the transfer. This statement in regard to alteration was confirmed by traces of many changes of doors & windows brought to light by the late fire.

The exterior of the present differs materially from that of the late Building. The Points of difference may be seen by comparing it with the representation of the old Building, which may be seen in the background of the large Portrait of the Rev. James Blair, still in possession of the College.

The Interior has been much changed. The ground plans of the Chapel, of the Lecture room on the right as you enter the present hall from the city front, and of the Lecture Room in the North-east corner of the Building upon the first floor, have not been altered.

The Library now fills the space formerly occupied by a lecture room & the southern end of the piazza. This Piazza extended the whole length of the Building. It has been converted in part into offices for the Professors & a room for the Faculty next adjoining the Library. A portion of the Lecture-room on the left as you enter the Hall was formerly occupied by the main staircase. The old Society Halls were not so large as the present. Their ceilings were vaulted. The "Blue Room" was on the second floor, and was a part of the present Lecture-room on the north of the Central Hall. The wainscot extended from floor to ceiling and was of a blue color. The Faculty met in this room from seventeen hundred and twenty-three (the year of the completion of the College after the fire of 1705), until eighteen hundred & fifty-nine, and here were hung the Paintings belonging to the College. These were saved from the fire, and are as follows: A Large Portrait of the Rev. James Blair: a smaller Portrait of the same & one of his wife corresponding in size; a large Portrait of the Hon. Robert Boyle, the gift of the Earl of Burlington, a large Portrait of Professor Dew and one of Bishop Johns. From this room the College seal and charter were saved.

The north wing of the original structure, before the old chapel was built (which was first used for service on the 28th June, 1732) contained the grand Hall of the College. The colonial clergy held their conventions in it. Later the Grammar-School was held there. When the last fire occurred, the first floor of this wing was appropriated to the Chemical Laboratory and to the Department of Natural Philosophy. Among the Instruments were some constructed by Nairne more than a hundred years ago. The second floor contained the rare old Library, in great part the gift of Kings, Archbishops, Bishops, Nobles, Colonial Governors & Gentlemen. With the exception of a few volumes in the hands of Professors and Students at the time of the recent fire this curious collection was consumed. The illuminated copy of the Transfer and an autograph letter of Gen. Washington, accepting the chancellorship of the College, were also burnt.

While the ground plan has not been altered, some changes have been made in the Chapel worthy of note.

The ceiling was formerly vaulted. The window-sills were much higher from the floor, and there was a gallery opposite the present rostrum.

The only one of the chapel vaults injured by the fire was that which contains the body of Peyton Randolph, the President of the first American congress, and this was only sufficiently broken to show the coffin of this distinguished Patriot in an excellent state of preservation. It may not be out of place here to designate the vaults of the chapel & the resting place of the dead who slumber within them. Under the rostrum there are three vaults. That in the north-east corner of the Chapel contains the bodies of Sir John Randolph, and we have every reason to believe, of Lord Botetourt. That in the south-east corner, the remains of Peyton Randolph & his wife, and that between these two, the body of John, son of Sir John Randolph, & Father of Edmund Randolph, a member of Gen. Washington's cabinet. He was Attorney-General of the crown for the colony of Virginia. He died in London.

Near the north-west corner of the chapel is the vault in which repose the ashes of James Madison, the first Bishop of Virginia, and his wife, and on the same side, a few feet farther east, is the grave of Chancellor Nelson.

Near the vault of Sir John Randolph on the north side was a magnificent mural monument erected to his memory. The inscription upon it was in Latin, and the only copy of it known to be in existence, was preserved by Hugh Blair Grigsby, LL.D., a noble benefactor of the College, a distinguished scholar and a liberal patron of Letters and of art. Near the vault of Bishop Madison there was a mural tablet erected to his memory by the College. A heap of calcined marble is all that remains of these monuments.

Note:— A few years before the fire of 1859 the College Building was replastered; under the old plastering there were extensive traces of a general conflagration. The walls were more injured by the fire of 1705 than by that of 1859. (Dr. Lyon G. Tyler).

ALUMNI DEATHS

Dr. Frank Waring Lewis, Jr., '09, died at his home in Richmond March 2nd after an illness of about two months. He was the son of the late Dr. F. W. Lewis and Mrs. Jennie M. Lewis of Lancaster County.

Dr. Lewis took his medical education at the Medical College of Virginia and had practiced in Richmond for a number of years, specializing in children's diseases.

While at William and Mary he was a star pitcher on the baseball team and captain of the team of '08. He was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Dr. Lewis is survived by his widow, Mrs. Patricia Wickline Lewis, one son, F. W. Lewis, III; two young daughters, a sister and a brother. Interment was in Hollywood cemetery.

EASTER DANCES

The Cotillion Club has secured Dan Gregory and his Columbia Orchestra for the Easter Dances here. The dances will be held Friday, April 26th; Saturday afternoon, and Saturday night, April 27th.

RESTORATION ALMANACK FREE TO ALUMNI MEMBERS

Colonial Williamsburg, Incorporated, the business name for the Restoration, has just issued a quaint Almanack for the year 1935 which is receiving much favorable comment.

It is about 6¼ inches by 4¼ and in appearance emulates the Almanacks published in Williamsburg two hundred years ago.

It is printed in old English type and stitched instead of bound in the modern way.

The outside cover page gives an indication of what may be found within its pages:

THE VIRGINIA ALMANACK

For The Year Of Our Lord God 1935
Being The THIRD After Bissextile, or Leap-Year Wherein Are Contained

The Lunations, Eclipses; the Increase, Decrease and Length of the Days and Nights, the Sun and Moon's Rising and Setting, Calculated According to Art and referred to the Horizon of Thirty-Eight Degrees North Latitude and a Meridian Fitting Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, etc. Members of the General Assembly of Virginia; Weather; Cure of a Fatal Disease; a Method of Making a Liquor of Indian Corn, Etc., Etc.

To Which Is Added An Appendix; Containing profitable Observations and Notes for the Months of the Year, Directions to Make Red Sealing Wax, a Collection of Approved Maxims, Entertaining Epigrams, Curious Verses, Etc., Etc., Etc. Calculated for Instruction and Amusement.

By Theophilus Wreg-Philomath
A two-fold gift in this My Volume lies,
It makes you merry and it makes you wise.

Some of the curious verses are:
"They are ill horsed and worse wived that ride on young colts and marry young gidgets."

"Sal hastes to Church with godly Airs,

To meet good company at Prayers;
Where she devoutly plays her Fan,
Looks up to Heav'n, but thinks on Man."

The Alumni Office has been sending the etching of the Wren Building to all new and renewal members of the Alumni Association for the past two years with the result that nearly all members have received one or more of these etchings. In the future the Restoration Almanack will be mailed to all members renewing their membership.

Additional copies of the Almanack may be secured from the Alumni Office at twenty-five cents each.

ALUMNI SECRETARIES MEET IN WASHINGTON

The American Alumni Council with a membership of over 250 alumni associations will hold its 21st annual convention at the Wardman Park Hotel in Washington, D. C., April 3rd to 6th, inclusive.

Over 400 alumni secretaries, alumni office workers, college officials and alumni association presidents are expected to attend this convention.

Major C. E. Lovejoy, alumni secretary at Columbia University, is chairman of the convention and has put a tremendous amount of work on the program and details. Every phase of alumni work will be discussed and many college officials and men of note now residing in Washington will be on the program.

William and Mary will be represented at the meeting by Chas. J. Duke, Jr., Bursar of the College and by the Alumni Secretary. President Bryan has been invited to appear as a speaker at one of the banquets of the convention.

DR. LYON G. TYLER, AN APPRECIATION

To have been born over eighty years ago,
And having been growing in knowledge both in mind and will,
And yet unselfish to the end,
Lyon G. Tyler, through all these years
Never lost his identity.

He gave and left,
To his nation untold wealth.
On every historical book-shelf
May be found,
Treasures from his great mind.
When there was any great issue at hand,

He freely gave his views
To the newspapers of his State.
To have been a student in his class
Is a memory to be cherished.
Far more than can ever be taught from books

He did impart!
Having been his only guest
At his lodge for a three days hunt,
The game we killed
Counts for naught.
But his manners and actions
I can boast.

For anyone who visited Lyon G. Tyler
Had a true Virginia Gentleman for a host.

He lived his last years in his home on the James
And his body lies in Hollywood.
Overlooking the falls of the James River,

But yet he will
Forever live, both in History and Name.

The second oldest College
In America

Was kept alive by this great man
And will forever stand.

It was Tyler's forethought
That William and Mary
Should be second

To none in our land.
He followed the tradition of a few,
"Not to be the first to give up the old Nor the last to take up the new."

TRACK TEAMS AT WILLIAM AND MARY HAVE PRODUCED MANY STARS IN 18 YEARS

 teresting to point out a few of the highlights.

On May 2, 1928 Ed Justis threw the javelin 201 feet 10 inches against Catholic U. and his record still stands. Crawford Syer did 199 feet against the Navy at Annapolis in 1931. April 5, 1930 W. & M. defeated VPI 68½ to 67½ this being the first time any W. & M. team ever defeated VPI. That year and 1931 were record breaking years with "Wink" Johnson, "Moon" Smither, Bill Scott, John Clarke, Zabel, Renn, Doane, Baggett, Trice, Horton, Swentzel, Syer, Baldacci, and Levin, the outstanding men, making up a wonderful team.

In the Harvard meet of 1930 W. & M. javelin throwers made a clean sweep in that event. Swentzel and Syer tied for first place with 179 feet 10 inches and Baldacci placed third. In 1931 the team had unusual success by winning from Lynchburg, VMI, W. & L., Richmond, Haverford, Maryland, and were Virginia Conference winners, but lost one meet, that to the Navy. The score of the Richmond meet was 109 to 17. Crawford Syer placed third in the javelin in the Intercollegiate meet at Philadelphia. Little, Bullard, Plummer, Smeltzer, Hart, Bralley, Murray and others made up the team of 1934. All of these outstanding performers will compete this year. Hart was lost by graduation. W. & M. should have a strong team but the competition will be hard with North Carolina, Duke, Navy, Penn Relays, VMI, Maryland, and Richmond, and then the ICAAAA in Boston.

At the present time W. & M.'s track team is among the best in the south. In the past ten years out of 73 dual meets, 50 have been won and 23 lost with W. & M. competing against such teams as Harvard, Dartmouth, Navy, Duke, Maryland, VMI, VPI, U. of N.C., and W. & L. and our old rivals, Richmond.

In the past ten years W. & M. has defeated U. of Richmond 9 out of ten dual meets and has won the last 8 meets straight.

When the new stadium is completed it is to be hoped that even more interest will be taken in track and still better track teams will be developed.

ALUMNI OF DANVILLE WILL HOLD MEETING IN APRIL

 the date will be fixed in the near future.

John C. Swanson, '30, with other William and Mary alumni in Danville, is making arrangements for the meeting. Mr. Swanson, whose address is Box 906, Danville, Va., writes the Alumni Office that "we have plans under way for a big meeting and we expect a number of outstanding alumni here for the occasion."

The records of the Alumni Office show that about 170 William and Mary men and women are now residing in Danville and the counties mentioned above. With this number to draw from the Danville meeting will undoubtedly draw a large attendance and the Club when organized should be one of the most effective in the state.

Mr. Bryan has a message on William and Mary that is a most interesting one and his presence at other meetings this session has brought out unusually large attendances at alumni meetings.

William and Mary broke even on the first two baseball games of the season. They routed Washington and Lee 8 to 2 in the first and lost 2 to 1 in the second. Elliott pitched the opening game and held W. & L. to 6 hits while his team mates were gathering 14 and playing heady baseball.

Daly, sophomore, pitched the second game for W. & M., and while he held W. & L. to 6 hits, two errors and 2 hits in one inning gave W. & L. the game. William and Mary had several opportunities to score and win the game but Dickman, the W. & L. star pitcher, bore down and the chances faded away.

Last fall the College used over 200 barrels of kale, all raised on this farm. One acre of tomatoes is thrown in for good measure.

Aside from all these vegetables, enough land is put in field corn to take care of the requirements of 5 mules, the motive power of the enterprise.

The late Dr. J. A. C. Chandler was responsible for this venture, established about 12 years ago. Since that date this farm has furnished thousands of dollars worth of food stuff to the College and the students have enjoyed the freshest of fresh vegetables.

Mr. H. U. Mason, a successful farmer of Eastern Shore, Virginia, has been manager of the farm for eleven years and during that time the College has more than broken even on the operations.

DR. DAVIS, '02, IN AFRICA

Dr. Jackson Davis, '02, of Richmond, Va., associate director of the General Education Board and southern field representative for that organization, sailed for Africa on February 28th. He has been commissioned by his board to make a complete survey of the educational outlook in Africa, with special reference to the situation in Liberia.

This will be the longest tour ever undertaken for such a purpose and probably no survey of education in Africa as complete as that being undertaken by Dr. Davis, has ever been made.

His first stop will be in Liberia and he will then proceed state by state on the west coast to Cape Town. He expects to visit the Union of South Africa and then go up the east coast returning to America by way of the Suez Canal.

 ceive an engagement to play this summer on a ship plying between New York and Europe.

William and Mary women students may now walk with their escorts down the Duke of Gloucester Street, around the Capitol and to the Governor's Palace by way of Palace Green at any time during social hours, before supper, without special permission.

Moncure "Monk" Little, William & Mary's star track athlete and member of Phi Beta Kappa, lost the broad jump championship won last year, in a meet at Madison Square Garden, New York, recently. Little took second place with a jump of 23 feet 6 and ¼ inches. First place went to Columbia University's negro athlete, Ben Johnson, with a jump of 23 feet 11 and 11-16 inches.

After defeating Duke University the night before, the Navy basketball squad of about twenty men headed by "Buzz" Borries, floated into harbor here on March 9th and added another victory to their long list for the season. The William and Mary team put up a creditable showing but lost by the score of 46 to 28. The Middies stayed over for the dance after the game and from all reports enjoyed their visit here very much.

The William and Mary Choral Union consisting of the College Choir, the Men's Glee Club and the Women's Glee Club, assisted by clubs from Newport News, Hampton and several other points, will present a program of "Old Virginia Folk Hymns" some time this spring. The combined chorus will number about 300 voices. These folk hymns have been handed down in Virginia from generation to generation since Colonial days and were edited by John Powell, noted pianist of Richmond, Va.

John A. Mapp and John C. Shepherd, seniors at William and Mary, have returned from a two weeks debating trip in the middle west. They debated at eight colleges and universities and were victorious in the only two decisions rendered, Ohio University and Ohio Wesleyan.

Early in March the Flat Hat, student paper here, asked all men students who wished to see a famous high priced orchestra brought here for the Easter dances to sign a pledge that they would buy tickets for the set of dances at $7.50 per ticket. Not a single pledge came back to the Flat Hat. A high priced orchestra played for the mid-winter dances here and the Cotillion Club actually came out ahead financially. Evidently those who pay the "fiddlers" are willing to let that record stand. This may be financial acumen of the highest order.

"Scrap" Chandler's foot racers captured the non-conference championship at the Southern Conference indoor meet at the University of North Carolina on March 9th.

"Monk" Little set a new record of 6.5 seconds for the 60-yd. dash with Zabel taking second place. Mingee of the Freshman team won the 60-yd. dash against his competitors in the fast time of 6.6 seconds. The varsity relay team won first place and established a record time of 3:36.6. The varsity placed in every event of the meet.

William and Mary took first place with 21 points. Richmond University took 9; Davidson 8; Georgetown 3; and Wake Forest 2.

In the Freshman division Georgetown took first place with 14 points; Washington and Lee and William and Mary tied with 10 points each; University of North Carolina 6; Duke 6; N. C. State 4; V.P.I. 3; Virginia 2.

102 men and women at William and Mary made scholastic averages of 85 or better for the first semester.

Members of the William and Mary players were guests of President John Stewart Bryan to see Eva Le Galliene in "L'Aiglon" at the Lyric Theater in Richmond on March 16th.

More brick walks will be laid on the campus. These will connect up with the new Marshall-Wythe Building. Another extension will connect Phi Beta Kappa and Washington Halls.

The library has received the following books this month: "A System of Moral Philosophy in Three Books" by Francis Hutchinson and published in 1755. Presented by Mr. John Stewart Bryan. "A New Achievement of the Law, By a Gentleman of the Middle Temple," published in 1736 and presented by Arthur W. Johnson, '21. "Tarleton's History of the Campaigns of 1780-81," published in 1787 and presented by Mr. Robert M. Hughes, '73. "Robert Taylor's Note Book," presented by Mr. Robert B. Tunstall of Richmond. Robert B. Taylor of Norfolk, Va., was a student at William and Mary in 1793 and was a general in the War of 1812.

Mrs. Frank Rahm of Danville, Va., visited the College recently and while in the Alumni Office stated that she was under the impression that her grandfather, John H. Dillard of North Carolina, studied law at William and Mary. The alumni records revealed that he took his B.L. degree here in 1840. Mrs. Rahm sent the Alumni Office a newspaper story on her grandfather which stated that he was a prominent jurist in his native state and for a long time was a member of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. In 1878 he established the famous Greensboro Law School which turned out many prominent lawyers. Judge Dillard died in 1896.

There is much talk of two impending events in athletics in Virginia that ought by all means be adopted. One is a college baseball league. This would undoubtedly create more interest in college baseball which has suffered much in loss of interest in the past decade. The other proposition is an annual track meet for all colleges in the state. Both should be put into effect as soon as possible.

Bids for the construction of the new stadium at William and Mary were opened in Richmond on March 20th. The John T. Wilson Company of Richmond was the successful bidder with a price of $138,395. It is expected that work on the new stadium will start in the near future and that two shifts of workmen will be used to insure completion of the work by September 1st.

REGISTRAR'S OFFICE
ESTABLISHED AT W-M IN 1906

indeed. To know him was a privilege. President Chandler once alluded to him as the most beloved person on the campus. Because of his genial and lovable disposition, this statement is most true.

On July 1, 1933, Mr. Bridges was made Registrar Emeritus of the College, and Miss Kathleen Alsop, an alumna, was appointed by the late President Chandler as Registrar.

The Registrar's office, and its organization, affects the whole life of the College. Through this office every student is admitted. The first request from prospective students for information about the College comes to the Registrar. Upon receipt of such request, the Registrar's office sends a catalog, and a courteous note, asking the prospective student to examine the catalog carefully, and, if interested, and will make his wishes known, further information and application blanks will be sent. A card file is kept of all requests for information, and is of valuable assistance in follow-up work. A conservative estimate of daily requests for information about the College is forty. From about February up until the opening of College in September, these requests are much heavier, however. Many people wonder why there should be work to do in a college, when college is not actually in session. So far as the Registrar's office is concerned, this is the busiest time, because all preparation for the coming session is being made, in addition to the work incident to the two terms of summer school.

Information regarding every scholarship, student position, and student loan is kept in this office. This refers to the regular session as well as to the summer session.

In February, 1933, a new system of keeping all records was introduced, and the Records office became a division of the Registrar's office. All records are taken care of by this office. The individual faculty members report the student grades to this office, where they are recorded on the individual scholarship cards, which cards are kept in a visible file, and are accessible at all times. At the end of each semester the individual student's grade is transferred to his permanent record card, which card is also kept in a visible file, so long as the student remains in the College. When he graduates, or withdraws, his card is then transferred to the permanent file. In this way the record of every student who has attended the College is worked into the permanent file. Before the visible system of record keeping was introduced, a student's record was put on a ledger sheet and eventually bound. Under this system, unless very great care was used, there was the possibility of all grades received by a student not being recorded on his record sheet. This is particularly true in regard to summer school and extension students. When a request comes in for a transcript from a student who attended the College prior to 1933, the person making the transcript has to search several books. All of this will be obviated when the system now used can be put into effect for every student who has attended the College since 1906. An approximate estimate of the records to be transferred is 30,000. Before 1906 no accurate record was kept of a student's record. No one was designated as Registrar. For information regarding students who attended the College before this date, reference is made to the faculty minutes, where certain information is available.

The new system of permanent record forms will permit of a photostatic transcript. The furnishing of transcripts and information to the State Department of Education for certification of previous students, statements of graduation, etc., constitutes a large part of the work in the Record's office. From the close of school in June to the opening in September, this work is particularly heavy. At times there are as many as seventy-five requests for various types of information on the desk at one time. This gives some idea of this phase of the work in the Registrar's office. Every applicant for admission to the regular session of the College is now required to submit a small photograph of himself. This becomes a part of his permanent record, and is of great assistance in furnishing information about a student after he leaves the College.

All applicants for degrees file their applications with the Registrar. The Registrar's office checks these applications with the degree requirements. After being checked, the applications are submitted to the Degree Committee of the Faculty. The Degree Committee examines each application, and turns them back to the Registrar's office with the correct notation. The Registrar's office then notifies the individual applicant whether or not his application is acceptable, and the date on which he may expect to receive his degree.

To a large extent, the arrangements for Commencement in June and September are made by the Registrar's office. All diplomas are prepared through this office, all academic costumes arranged for, etc. Including the June and September Commencements in 1934, the College awarded 296 degrees, distributed as follows: (This includes diplomas awarded by the Richmond Division)

A.B., 140; B.S., 107; M.A., 9; B.L. 1; B.S. in Social Work, 23; M.S. in Social Work, 12; B.S. in Nursing, 1; Bachelor of Fine Arts, 1; Total, 296.

The enrollment for the present session has been as follows: (at Williamsburg)

Sophomore	343
Junior	188
Senior	180
Graduate	6
Special	11
Unclassified	26
Total	1205

The geographical distribution of the enrollment is as follows:

Virginia 691; New Jersey 125; New York 125; Pennsylvania 56; Massachusetts 51; District of Columbia 31; Maryland 27; Ohio 15; Connecticut 13; Delaware 10; West Virginia 10; North Carolina 6; Illinois 5; Kentucky 5; Michigan 5; Florida 4; California 3; Rhode Island 3; Indiana 2; Nebraska 2; Vermont 2; Alabama 1; Georgia 1; Kansas 1; Maine 1; North Dakota 1; South Carolina 1; Tennessee 1; Washington 1; Wisconsin 1; CANAL ZONE 1; CHINA 1; COSTA RICA 1; FRANCE 1; PHILIPPINE ISLANDS 1; Total 1205.

The enrollment is gratifying when one takes into consideration that admission requirements to the College have been definitely raised since September, 1933. For the session 1935-1936 the enrollment also is encouraging. The Committee on Admissions is going very carefully into the qualifications of each applicant. Already it has been necessary to decline a number of applicants because they did not meet the requirements.

The student body has been very stable during the present session, only twenty-nine students having withdrawn to date. A number of these have had to withdraw because of illness. This does not include sixteen students who completed work for their degrees in February.

It is impossible to enumerate the various activities of the College carried on through the Registrar's office. It is the clearing house for many phases of the College work and life, having contact with the individual student and the individual faculty member. The service to be rendered is ever widening and interesting.

The personnel of the Registrar's office is as follows:

Kathleen Alsop, Registrar, A.B. William and Mary; Mary Barr, A.B.,

Winthrop College; Elizabeth Capataine, A.B., Westhampton College; Wilma Clark, graduate of Blackstone College for Girls; Thelma Lanier, Graduate of Matthew Whaley High School.

Note: The Gazette is indebted to Miss Alsop, Registrar of the College, for this very interesting account of the work of the Registrar's Office.

NEWS OF W-M ALUMNI,
E. C. JOHNSON LEAVES
SAMOA FOR U. S. A.

the class of 1928.

J. Gordon Bohannon, '02, will preside at the exercises on April 12th when the historic Rolfe House across the James River from Jamestown will be opened. The house has been restored by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and presented to the A.P.V.A.

Oscar E. Cordle, '29, is now practicing law in Norfolk, Va., with offices in the Royster Building. After leaving William and Mary, Mr. Cordle was in railroad work for nearly two years and then joined the forces of the Restoration in Williamsburg where he was a junior executive in the Administration Department of the Restoration architects. He has practiced law since 1932. Mr. Cordle says, "William and Mary occupies a very tender spot in my heart, which instead of diminishing with the years, seems to expand and become more embracing."

Edward C. Johnson, '24, Chief Justice of American Samoa, writes the Alumni Office that he will be back in the States sometime this spring. He and Mrs. Johnson have planned a long itinerary for their return trip. Mr. Johnson will be a member of the law faculty of Southwestern University this summer.

Rev. J. Jacquelin Ambler, '25, is Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Fredericksburg, Va. He graduated from the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Virginia in 1928 and has had a most active career since. In 1927 he toured England, studying the Cathedrals of that country.

In 1928 he became Associate to the Dean of the Associate Mission Field in Southwest Virginia and held that position until going to Fredericksburg where he is president of the Ministerial Association of that city. He married Miss Cynthia Brewster of Montrose, Pa., in 1931.

Mr. Ambler is a Life Member of the Alumni Association.

Russell A. Collins, who took his A.B. here in 1932, is practicing law in Newport News, Va. He is associated with Hon. S. Otis Bland, '96.

William G. Talton, Jr., '32' 2603 Wickham Ave., Newport News, Va., is now with the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. Mr. Talton is a member of the Alumni Association and writes the Alumni Office as follows: "First of all I want to say how much I enjoy reading the Alumni Gazette. Any member of any class of William and Mary who is not an active Alumni member is missing a lot. I was not enrolled my first year after leaving College, but I hope to always be a member from now on."

Arthur D. Wright, '04, president of the Jeans Fund, Washington, D. C., sailed for South America on February 16th. Mr. Wright will spend most of his time in the Argentina studying educational problems.

Edward P. Simpkins, Jr., an A.B. of the Class of 1928 and member of Phi Beta Kappa, has entered the race for the office of commonwealth's attorney of Hanover County. Mr. Simpkins took graduate work in law at Harvard and at present is a member of the law firm of Parrish and Butcher, Mutual Building, Richmond.

Dr. William McK. Bickers, '21, who has been associated with the medical staff of the Boston City Hospital for the past 18 months, has been promoted to the position of obstetrical house surgeon. Dr. Bickers is a native of Richmond, Va.

Dr. L. M. Dickerson, '24, who has been Professor of Biology at Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tennessee, has just accepted a position as Wild Life Technician with State Park Camp No. 3, Pickett County State Park, Jamestown, Tennessee. Dr. Dickerson is a Life Member of the Alumni Association.

Senator A. E. Shumate, '99, of Pearisburg, Va., is a member of a state commission that is now touring Virginia on a study of highways and highway policies. The commission will report to the General Assembly of 1936. William R. Shands, '15, director of the division of legislative research and drafting of the state, is secretary of this commission. A member of the State Highway Commission that will carry out the findings of the commission that are adopted by the General Assembly, is Sol. W. Rawls, '10, of Franklin, Va.

A. Wigfall Green, '25, for several years an instructor at Yale, is now a professor at the University of Mississippi. The winter number of the William and Mary Literary Magazine carried an article entitled, "Phi Beta Kappa and Learning," by Professor Green.

Larry C. Green, a B.A., of 1925 and who followed newspaper work from his graduation until just recently, is now a special investigator on the staff of the Attorney General of Ohio. He resigned from the Associated Press Bureau in 1934 to become publicity director for the campaign of John W. Bricker for the Attorney General's Office of Ohio.

While in newspaper work in Virginia, Mr. Green got a world scoop on the crack-up of Commander Davis and his "American Legion" plane at Langley Field. His present address is 1560 E. Broad St., Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hardy Waters, Jr., Norfolk, Va., both graduates of the Class of 1930, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, John H. Waters, III. Mrs. Waters was formerly Miss Frances Parker Griffin. John H., III, will be expected at William and Mary about 1952.

Miss Julia Y. Dixon, Norfolk, Va., an A.B. of the class of 1925 and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, was married on March 6th to Mr. Rudolph Sanders of San Francisco, Cal.

Otis C. Southern, president of the Class of 1934, writes us that he is now connected with a firm in his native city, St. Petersburg, Fla., and while he has been too far away to visit William and Mary this session he constantly thinks of his Alma Mater. And he showed that he meant it by joining the Alumni Association.

Lawrence Shaffer, '32, star center on the basketball team several years ago, was here to witness the game with the Navy on the night of March 9th. He is living at Cumberland, Maryland.

Miss Alice Trevvett, an A.B. of 1927 recently became a Life Member of the Alumni Association. Miss Trevvett, who was an instructor in Secretarial Science at William and Mary several years ago is now with the U. S. Department of Labor in the Richmond, Virginia, office.

Joseph R. Turner, B.S. of the Class of 1934 is now with the Lincoln National Bank of Washington, D. C.

J. Willard Owen, B.A., of '34, is at Columbia University where he is majoring in English.

Charles H. Dunker, '32, is a chemical textile salesman for the Watson-Park Company of Boston, Mass.

J. Harmon Swink, an A.B. of the Class of '25, is with the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C., and is living at 921 Rock Spring Road, Clarendon, Va. He recently joined the Alumni Association.

Leonard H. Warren, '22, was a visitor here for several days this month. Mr. Warren is with the Shell Refining Company and has been located in Honolulu for several years. This was his first visit to William and Mary since he left here in 1922 and he was much impressed with the changes on the Campus and in Williamsburg. He will return to Honolulu about May 1st.

Robert E. Henley, '06, vice-president and general counsel of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia and Slater C. Blackiston, '05, vice-president of the Bush Terminal Company in New York were the two half-backs on the William and Mary football team of 1904 that gave the Richmond College team its first defeat in football from a William and Mary team.

This session each has a son at St. Christopher's School in Richmond and these two boys are the ends on that school's team. Both are expected at William and Mary in due time.
