CHRISTMAS AT WILLIAM AND MARY BRILLIANT AND IMPRESSIVE AFFAIR

President Bryan's Party was Climax to Gayest Yuletide Season Ever Seen at the College.

1000 AT GRAND BALL

Auditorium Decorated as English Manor House and All Guests Wore Colonial or Other Costumes.

Christmas ceremonies at William and Mary and in Williamsburg this year were probably the most brilliant and impressive ever held at these ancient seats. Several days before the festivities began the Wren Building and Boxwood on the front campus were appropriately illuminated. An electric candle appeared in every window of the Wren Building; an illuminated star was suspended from the balcony and the soft glow of a cross showed over the front entrance.

Several trees on the Duke of Gloucester street were brilliantly lighted and lanterns hung in the cupolas of some of the Restoration buildings. The front windows of all these buildings were lighted with candles. A deep snow fell during Christmas week which added to this effect.

At the College the celebration began when on December 15th the Music Department presented its annual Christmas Song Service in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. This was under the supervision of Prof. George M. Small and conducted by Robert M. Griffey. One hundred young men and women took part in this service and every seat in the hall was filled.

Vesper Services were held in the College Chapel on the night of December 18th and the final musical program was rendered in front of the Wren Building on the next night. Three Christmas carols by trumpeters was a feature of this outdoor program. The Chapel Choir also took part in this service.

The Yule log ceremony, instituted last Christmas, was held at 5 p.m. on December 20th in the Great Hall. The program for this impressive event was as follows: 1. Candle bearer, (Continued on Page 3)

STUDENT REGISTRATION HERE FROM 1820 TO '23 LISTS PROMINENT MEN

Alumni Are Requested to Furnish Information Concerning Old Students.

Appearing below is a list of students at William and Mary from 1820 to 1823. This list is from the College catalogue of 1859 and it will be noted that the home addresses of a number of the students is missing. Furthermore, it is known that there were more students at the College during this period than are listed. The missing names are due to loss of records at the College. When N. Beverly Tucker came here as a law professor around 1830 he said he found that the registration rolls for a certain period had been lost or destroyed. He made up from memory a list of those he could recall as having attended the College and this list was no doubt used in compiling records for certain years for the catalogue of 1859.

The object of printing this list is to get, if possible, some information about those whose record after leaving William and Mary is unknown to the College. Dr. Earl G. Swem, Librarian of the College, is particularly eager to get for the library letters, etc., left by these alumni and which may be in the possession of their descendants. The names and addresses of descendants would also be welcomed by the College or Alumni Office.

The Alumni Gazette will carry similar lists of alumni in future issues and alumni are urged to send into the Alumni Office any information they may have or be able to secure on any names on these lists.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The attention of all members of the Alumni Association is called to the special membership campaign for January 20th to 31st. Each member will probably know some alumnus who is not a member. If you will call the attention of that alumnus to this campaign, you will be performing a real service to the Association and to the College.

MANY PREP PLAYERS AT '35 FOOTBALL BANQUET

Marino, Star Guard, Announced As Captain of the 1936 Team.

The annual football banquet held here on the night of December 11th was one of the best in years. The attendance was the largest on record. Two hundred William and Mary varsity and freshman players, alumni, and high school players were present at this function and enjoyed a sumptuous supper of turkey and Smithfield ham.

The presence of more than 60 high and prep school football players accompanied by alumni of the College was a feature of this occasion. The following schools were represented: Crewe, Newport News, Hampton, Richmond (Thos. Jefferson) Petersburg, Suffolk, Norfolk (Maury), Pittsburgh, Pa., Portsmouth (Woodrow Wilson), Richmond (Benedictine), Newport News (Apprentice School), and the Norfolk Division of William and Mary.

Some of the alumni present were R. K. T. Larson, '24, Virginian Pilot; Lloyd Williams, '29, Daily Press; J. M. Eason, '28, Crewe, Va.; "Monk" Little, '35, Hampton, Va.; Judge H. Lester Hooker, '07, Richmond, Va.; Julian Brooks, '20, Richmond, Va.; Lloyd Q. Hines, '27, Suffolk, Va.; W. G. Thompson, Jr., '27, Norfolk, Va.; Winston H. Charles, '25, Newport News, Va.; and Blake T. Newton, '10, Hague, Va. Mr. Oliver of the News Leader was also a guest.

J. E. Capps, '10, chairman of the 3-3-3 Athletic Committee, was toastmaster at the banquet and Judge Hooker made the welcoming address. Capt. "Stumpy" Bryant, just off crutches, spoke briefly expressing his love and loyalty to William and Mary and his good wishes for the team of '36.

Mr. Capps announced the election of Joe Marino, star guard, as captain of next year's team and Warne Robinson as manager. The Athletic Committee at its meeting previous to the banquet elected Ned LeGrande, star tackle of this year's team, as co-captain for 1935. LeGrande had served as acting captain after the V. P. I. game in which Captain "Stumpy" Bryant received an injury that incapacitated him for the rest of the season. This action was a recognition of LeGrande's great playing this fall and of his all round services to the team.

Athletic Director Gooch read the names of the 24 varsity men who had been awarded letters for this year. "Bill" Scott, freshman coach, read the list of freshmen who had been awarded numerals.

Coaches Dowler and Kellison attended the banquet and received hearty applause when introduced by the toastmaster.

President John Stewart Bryan was the speaker of the evening and paid a splendid tribute to the fighting and

BRANCH BOCOCK MADE HEAD FOOTBALL COACH FOR THE COMING SEASON

Coached Here Once for Three Years and Produced Team That Tied Harvard in 1930.

The 3-3-3 Athletic Committee which met here on December 21st elected Branch Bocock as head football coach. John Kellison was made assistant coach and Tommy Dowler, backfield coach. Dowler will have an all year round job as he will also coach basketball and freshman baseball. Bocock and Kellison will be here only for the football season.

Bill Scott was re-elected as freshman football coach and as coach of varsity baseball. His freshman football team this year won three games, tied the Richmond freshmen, and lost two games. The team scored 99 points and had 39 scored against it.

Charles Hamilton, Sports Editor of the News Leader, writing of Bocock's appointment said:

"Bocock is remembered as a man who gained nation-wide fame for the Indians six seasons ago through a smashing tie with Harvard.

He coached the Indians for three seasons and retired in 1931 to become associated with the restoration work in Williamsburg. His job finished there, he turned to his farm near Blackstone and now the thunder of the football wars is beckoning again.

Bocock is a seasoned campaigner. He played at Georgetown, where he was known as one of the few Protestants ever to be elected to the captaincy of the Catholic institution's eleven. His coaching experience included sojourns at V. P. I., Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and William and Mary.

His coaching methods call for use of the single wingback and punt formations but his chief weapon is his ability to drill fundamental football into his men.

Alumni Committees Will Work In Various Areas to Boost Present Inadequate Membership.

GOAL IS SET AT 2500

Membership in Association at This Time Is Less Than 7% of Total Number Living Alumni.

The Alumni Association will conduct a special drive for memberships from January 20th to 31st. This issue of the Alumni Gazette, containing a special supplement on the drive, is going to 2500 alumni. The drive will be concentrated in areas where the largest groups of alumni live. Local alumni in these areas will cooperate with the Alumni Office in this campaign.

The object of this campaign is twofold; the Alumni Association needs a larger membership to carry on regular work through the Alumni Office and it seeks at the same time to stimulate interest in the College through this membership.

The Association was founded in 1842 and Thomas Roderick Dew, then president of William and Mary and an alumnus of the College, was its first president. In 1923 it was incorporated in order that it might transact certain business for the College which as a state institution the College could not handle. The first recorded effort of the Association to help the College was its action in 1859 in soliciting funds for the restoration of the Wren Building after the fire of that year.

During the administration of the late Dr. J. A. C. Chandler it handled many financial transactions that aided Dr. Chandler in his building program.

The general purposes of the Association are "to aid, strengthen, and expand in every proper and useful way the College of William and Mary in Virginia and its work, and to develop, strengthen and utilize the bonds of interest, sympathy and affection existing between the said College and its alumni, and among the alumni themselves."

F. H. C. Society Founded Here in 1750

This society was established at the College of William and Mary in Virginia on November 11, 1750, twenty-six years prior to the establishment of the Phi Beta Kappa Society. There were a number of years during which it was inactive, but apparent revivals under some other name from time to time. It is known to have been active up to 1775. Efforts are being made to ascertain the names of members and the society's activity up to its last revival on September 30, 1920.

Six students are elected each year from the Junior class. These, with six seniors and four faculty members, comprise the active membership in any one year. There can never be over four professors engaged in teaching at the college who can at any one time be active members of the society. As professors resign, retire or die, others may be elected in their stead. All former members of the Spottswood Club, organized in 1908 and existing up to 1916, were taken into the society as an apparent connecting link. The society proposes to elect six members from each class from the date the F. H. C. Society ceased to function down to each revival. If any have predeceased then their eldest male lineal descendant, or lacking a lineal descendant, the nearest collateral to succeed to the membership. The society proposes to elect the two nearest male lineal, or if there are no lineal, the nearest collateral male descendant of each member of the society elected prior to the year when the society ceased to function during the eighteenth century. A number of such members have already been elected, among whom are: George Preston Coleman and John Stewart Bryan, as the descendants of St. George Tucker; Harold Randolph and James Randolph as the descendants of James Innes. Among those elected and initiated from the Spottswood Club are Rev. C. C. Bell, Channing M. Hall, Dr. L. C. Lindsley, Dr. W. A. Montgomery, Maj. R. M. Perkins, Prof. John Tyler, H. L. Sulfridge, Dr. Amos R. Koontz, Frank E. Graves, Chas. A. Taylor Jr., Dr. R. C. Young. Thus tying on, through blood relationship the present organization to the ancient one.

Election to the society always carries succession membership so all

HERE AND THERE

Four generations of lawyers is in the record of the Armistead family of Williamsburg.

Robert H. Armistead received his degree of Bachelor of Civil Laws from William and Mary in 1832. His son, Robert T. Armistead, received his education at William and Mary and took up law. Judge Frank Armistead, of the third generation, also came to William and Mary and then entered the law profession. At present he is judge of the fourth judicial circuit. Grandfather, father, and grandson, all had offices at the corner of Nassau and Duke of Gloucester Streets. Judge Armistead treasures his grandfather's law diploma, now one hundred and four years old and bearing the signatures of the Rev. Adam Empie, twelfth president of William and Mary, and of N. Beverly Tucker, noted law professor of that period.

And now comes Robert T. Armistead, son of Judge Frank Armistead, to carry on this worthy tradition of the family. He is a senior at William and Mary this year but passed the bar examination last June at the age of nineteen. He has made high marks in law and won several prizes offered in the School of Jurisprudence.

M. I. Armistead and C. C. Armistead, alumni of William and Mary and kinsmen of Judge Frank Armistead, are also members of the bar and are representatives of the third generation of their branch of this legal minded family to engage in this profession, which has deep roots in the traditions of William and Mary.

Salaries of the editors and business managers of campus publications were fixed recently by the Student Activities Committee. These salaries are: Flat Hat editor, $175.00; business manager, $125.00 and 10 per cent on all paid advertising in excess of $1000 for the session. Literary Magazine editor, $150.00; business manager, $75.00. The financial advisor of the Magazine will receive a salary of $200.00. Colonial Echo editor, $175.00; business manager, $150.00.

The Student Activity Fee of $8.00 for the session entitling the student to the Flat Hat, Literary Magazine and the Echo, is now collected by the College from every student and the money allocated to these three publications. This system insures the financial success of the publications.

On the morning before the annual Thanksgiving game with the University of Richmond the students of William and Mary awoke to find "U. of R." painted in huge black letters on the beautiful new stadium and on the front of Blow Gymnasium. The students took this as retaliation for the William and Mary freshman stunt of last year when they set fire to the Richmond bonfire at Westhampton and brought back to Williamsburg with them the president of the U. of R. Freshman Class and two other Freshman hostages. This escapade brought forth a classic exchange of telegrams between President John Stewart Bryan and Dr. Douglas Freeman, president of the U. of R. Board of Trustees. President Bryan and the students entertained the "captives" from Richmond in appropriate style and the matter passed off amicably and was accepted with splendid sportsmanship by the Richmond student body.

And now comes further evidence of the innate good sportsmanship of the Richmond Student body. In an editorial the Richmond Collegian deplored the painting affair and urged an apology to William and Mary. In due time Charles Ryland, president of the Richmond student government, came to Williamsburg, tendered the apology to George Mason, president of the men's student body at William and Mary, and offered to pay for the damage to the stadium and the gymnasium.

This example of fine spirit is worthy of our traditional rivals and will bear fruit in an increase in the respect that both institutions feel for each other.

The Flat Hat Society founded at William and Mary on November 11, 1750, and of which Thomas Jefferson was a member, has embarked upon a very definite program for the future.

At a recent meeting of the Society it was decided to secure a room on the campus as permanent headquarters, to hold annual public meetings on its birthday anniversaries to be addressed by lineal descendants of former members and to make a study of the history and traditions of the College which will be reported on at each monthly meeting.

This Society ante-dates Phi Beta Kappa by more than a quarter of a century and is therefore the oldest collegiate society in America. Membership is limited to six senior men, six juniors, four members of the faculty, and former members of the old Spottwood Club founded here in 1907.

The next issue of the Alumni Gazette will carry items from the story of William and Mary by Dr. Herbert B. Adams, an eminent historian who occupied the chair of history at Johns Hopkins for a long time. The story was printed in pamphlet form of about 100 pages by the Federal Government in 1887. It contains several illustrations and is one of the most interesting accounts ever written about William and Mary.

CAMPUS HAPPENINGS

The Cutler lecture on the Constitution of the United States for this session was delivered in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, November 21st, by Ethelbert Warfield, New York attorney.

The William and Mary Players presented Somerset Maugham's "The Unattainable" in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on December 2nd and 3rd. The performance was excellent and well attended.

William Lanier Hunt, a specialist in Southern flora-culture from Chapel Hill, N. C., spoke to the students here on the afternoon of November 26th. Arthur W. James, '13, State Commissioner of Welfare, spoke that night on "Virginia and the Social Security Program."

The German Club formal co-ed dance was held in Blow Gymnasium on December 6th, with the Hampden-Sidney Collegians furnishing the music.

One of the greatest football rallies ever held at William and Mary was staged in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on the night of November 26th as a preparation for the Thanksgiving game. The team and coaches were seated on the stage with Chas. J. Duke, Jr., presiding over the ceremonies. The College band and cheer leader whooped it up. Songs, cheers and speeches were indulged in for nearly an hour. The hall was crowded and the spirit of the students ran high. No doubt this great expression of loyalty inspired the team to give its very best in the Thanksgiving game.

A very handsome engraving, published in 1831, of the Capitol Building in Richmond has been presented to the College Library by President John Stewart Bryan. It is a line engraving and the picture shows very clearly what the historic old building was like before 1905 when it was remodeled.

Another print presented was a lithographic reproduction in color of the first map made of Virginia. Jamestown Island and the York and James rivers are shown very clearly. The original of this map, made in 1608, is now in the British Museum in London.

A copy of the laws of Virginia, presumably edited by Robert Beverly and published in 1722, was also presented by President Bryan. Only two copies of this rare work are known to be in existence, the second copy being in the Huntington Library in Los Angeles, Calif. The book was donated from President Bryan's own library.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, noted author, editor and lecturer, of Richmond, Va., has been giving monthly lectures here this fall on current political topics. Dr. Freeman gave a series of lectures last year on the world powers.

The William and Mary men's debate team opened its program for the session on December 16th when it met the Penn State debaters here on the question of the powers of the Supreme Court.

The schedule for the year includes George Washington University, here March 16th; Yale, here March 24th; and U. of Maryland, here April 6th. Dates for Harvard and Princeton have not been determined.

The team will leave March 10th for a northern trip during which they will meet U. of Maryland, U. of Pennsylvania, Rutgers, Columbia, Boston U., Holy Cross, Yale, Rhode Island State, Harvard and Princeton.

The French Club of William and Mary sponsored the showing of "La Maturielle," a French talking picture, at the Williamsburg Theatre on December 14th. The picture had a very successful run in Paris.

Zable, left end; Le Grande, tackle; and Otis Bunch, halfback, made the All State football team, selected by football fans in a contest conducted by the Times Dispatch of Richmond. Marino, star guard, found a place on Dartmouth's All Opponent team.

William Thomas, sports editor of the Flat Hat, was chosen president of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association at the ninth annual convention of the Association in Lynchburg.

All outside woodwork on the Wren Building, President's House, Brafferton and the Alumni Office, received a fresh coat of paint recently. This work was done by the Restoration which assumed the upkeep of these buildings when they were restored.

Notice of a lien of $460.04 has been filed in the Clerk of the Court's office here by the Federal collector of internal revenue. The lien covers taxes on sugar, flour and hogs in the possession of the College when the process tax laws were passed. The College has refused to pay the tax on the grounds that the Federal Government has no right to tax a state institution.

FRATERNITY RUSHING

The fraternity rushing season at William and Mary this session was confined as usual to one week.

When the smoke of the battle waged by thirteen fraternities cleared up 126 freshmen found themselves wearing pledge pins. Thirteen states, the District of Columbia, and the Philippine Islands were represented among the total pledges, Virginia leading with about 70 men out of the 126.

According to all reports it was a hectic week for both the fraternity men and the freshmen. Practically all of the fraternities held banquets, dances and smokers, to which most of the freshmen under consideration were invited. Thus some freshmen found themselves at a banquet in one fraternity house, a smoker in another and winding up at a dance in a third house all in the same night.

No initiations can take place until after February 1st and the pledges must have made the scholastic requirements to be eligible for initiation.

The number of pledges secured by each fraternity was as follows: Theta Delta Chi, 18; Phi Kappa Tau, 17; Pi Kappa Alpha, 16; Kappa Alpha, 13; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 11; Phi Alpha, 11; Alpha Phi Delta, 10; Lambda Chi Alpha, 8; Sigma Nu, 6; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 5; Sigma Pi, 4; Kappa Sigma, 4; Pi Lambda Phi, 3.

PBK SOCIETY CELEBRATES

The one hundred and fifty-ninth anniversary of the founding of Phi Beta Kappa was celebrated here on the night of December 5th.

Dr. Jackson Davis, '02, president of the Chapter at William and Mary, presided and introduced President John Stewart Bryan who made the address of welcome.

Dr. Howard Washington Odum, Professor of Sociology at the University of North Carolina was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "The Possible Contribution of the South to American Culture of the Next Period."

The annual initiation of undergraduates, alumni and honorary members, preceded the public meeting and was held in the Apollo Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Twelve undergraduates received the key.

The alumnus honored on this occasion was Dr. Lawrence M. Dickerson, B. S. of 1924, and now with the National Park Service at Atlanta, Ga.

Mrs. Martha Woodrum Hiden, of Newport News, Va., was the honorary member initiated.

Mrs. Sally Bruce Kinsolving of Baltimore and a member of the Alpha of Virginia, read a poem written for

ALUMNI DEATHS

James Brown McCaw, '91

James Brown McCaw, '91, of Norfolk, Virginia, died suddenly on November 26th. He was widely known in Norfolk and for thirty-nine years had been manager of the brokerage-firm of Post and Flag.

Mr. McCaw was a native of Richmond, Virginia, and was a grandson of the late Dr. J. B. McCaw of that city.

He entered William and Mary in 1888 when the College was reopened and moved to Norfolk after leaving here in 1891.

Mr. McCaw is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter, and also by two sisters, Mrs. Tazewell Taylor of Norfolk and Mrs. Robert S. Bright of Frederick, Md.

William Ammonette Terrell, '19

The death of William A. Terrell, '19, at his home in Richmond on Jan. 2nd, came as a great shock to his wide circle of friends. He was born at Frederick Hall, Va., on May 16, 1897, and was a son of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Terrell of that place and came of a well-known and widely connected family.

During the World War he served in the Naval Aviation Corps and at the close of the war entered business in Richmond where he became associated with P. Meriwether Fry, Jr., '18, who was killed in an airplane accident in 1931.

Mr. Terrell was active in the civic and social affairs of Richmond and was a member of the Lions Club of that city and was also a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Virginia Fry; a son and two daughters; his mother and father, a brother and two sisters.

OLD PAPERS TO LIBRARY

The College Library has acquired, during the past few days, the collection of papers known as the John Marshall Papers from the estate of the great granddaughter of John Marshall, who died recently in Richmond. This collection comprises letters of Marshall to his wife as early as 1797, and copies of letters to many of his friends. There are many drafts of his letters, which are interesting in showing how he corrected and improved the original manuscript of the letter. There are a number of letters from Judge Story and Timothy Reckering to Marshall on political and legal questions; also from John Quincy Adams.

In this collection, also, is an original letter of George Washington and also some letters of Bushrod Washington, which he wrote to John Marshall at the time that the latter was preparing his Life of General Washington. In this letter of Bushrod Washington all the papers of General Washington, which had been preserved, are enumerated. These were all sent to Marshall for his study and use in preparing the Life of General Washington. The library has been, indeed, very fortunate to acquire such an outstanding collection of original manuscript material just a week or two after we acquired the Carter papers.

The library of the College has recently acquired one of the most valuable collections of private papers in Virginia. This collection is known as the Carter Family Collection and has been preserved at Sabine hall for a century and a half. There are hundreds of letters, accounts of the plantation, diaries, and all kinds of papers that relate to the life of this remarkable family for nearly 200 years. The total number of pieces is about 4,500. They have been brought to the College and placed with the other valuable manuscripts in the vault of the library.

This anniversary occasion. The meeting was followed by a reception in the foyer of Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

With football out of the way attention is now being centered on basketball which will hold the board until March 1st. Coach Tommy Dowler is counting on five letter men from last year's team and some material from the freshman team of '35 that was undefeated during the season.

The letter men back are Blaker, Capt., Flickinger, Crist, Cassagrande and Elmore. All of these men are small but exceptionally fast. In height they average about 5 ft. 7 in. For height Dowler will have to look to the sophomore material containing Harper, 6 ft. 2 in., Oliver, 6 ft. 1 in., George and Otis Bunch, 6 ft., and Sherrill, a junior, 6 ft.

"Preacher" Franklin, one of the mainstays of last year's team which took second place among the state teams, has played his allotted time.

Dowler will continue to use a modified Pitt system calling for quick breaks to the basket and much passing of the ball. This system is well adapted to small, fast men.

Dowler says that his team this year is the smallest but one of the fastest in the country.

The schedule calls for eighteen games. New opponents for this year are Wake Forest, Hampden-Sydney and Maryland.

W. & M. 44—Roanoke 27

In the first game of the season William and Mary put a fast and flashy team on the floor that swamped Roanoke College here on December 14th by a score of 44 to 27. Blaker, of the Indians, and Dengate, of Roanoke, tied for honors on points, each scoring eleven.

W. & M. 58—Med. Col. of Va. 25

The Medical College of Virginia five went down before the Indians by a score of 58 to 25 in the Blow Gymnasium on Dec. 18th. Crist, Flickinger, Cassagrande, Elmore and Blaker, the diminutive but fast varsity five for W. & M. swept the Medicos off their feet in the first part of the first half. When the score was 19 to 4 the Indian second five went in and the Medicos got busy with the result that at the half the score was W. & M. 21—Medical College 19. After the half the varsity went in again and ran the score up to a very safe margin when the third string took up the battle.

Flickinger with 13 points, Blaker with 11 and Crist with 10 were the high scorers for the Indians.

W. & M. 32—Virginia 24

William and Mary defeated Virginia 32 to 24 at Charlottesville on January 8th, without making a substitution. After ten minutes of play Virginia was leading 9 to 4 but at the end of the half the Indians were on top 19 to 11. William and Mary regularly converted fouls on Virginia into goals, making 14 points in this way.

The goal shooting of Flickinger was brilliant. He scored 11 points while Elmore was a close second with 10.

Their Majesties

KING WILLIAM & QUEEN MARY

on February the eighth, sixteen hundred and ninety-three, granted a charter, establishing the College of WILLIAM and MARY in VIRGINIA "to the end that the CHURCH of VIRGINIA may be furnished with a Seminary of Ministers of the Gospel, and that the Youth may be piously educated in good Letters and Manners, and that the Christian Faith may be propagated amongst the Western Indians,

TO THE GLORY of ALMIGHTY GOD."

The LORD BISHOP of LONDON was the first Chancellor of the College, and the Reverend Doctor JAMES BLAIR, Commissary of the Bishop of London, was FIRST PRESIDENT, serving in this office until his death in 1743.

"This Building, beautiful and commodious, being first modelled by SIR CHRISTOPHER WREN," the Surveyor General of Their Majesties, and "adapted to the Nature of the Country by the Gentlemen there," was erected in 1695. After the removal of the Seat of Government from Jamestown to Williamsburg in 1699, the General Assembly met in the Great Hall until the Completion of the Capitol in 1704, and again its Sessions were held from 1747 to 1752, after the burning of the Capitol in 1747. In the Great Hall the Convocations of the Clergy were also Convened.

Burned in 1705, it was, before 1716, partially redesigned, "rebuilt and nicely contrived and adorned by the ingenious Direction of Governor ALEXANDER SPOTSWOOD" the original walls being preserved. The Chapel Wing was added in 1732. There lie interred the Remains of LORD BOTE-TOURT, SIR JOHN RANDOLPH, BISHOP JAMES MADISON, and of other honored Dead.

Here GEORGE WASHINGTON, subsequently Chancellor of the College, received his Surveyor's Commission in 1749; BENJAMIN FRANKLIN the Honorary Degree of Master of Arts in 1756; and the Chevalier de Chastellux and THOMAS JEFFERSON in 1782 the Degree of Doctor of Civil Law.

During the Yorktown Campaign this Building was used as a Hospital for the Sick and Wounded of the French and American Armies. In the War of 1812 it served as barracks for the Militia. Burned again in 1859, it was rebuilt on the old walls and used until May 1861. In the War Between the States it was occupied by the Confederate and later by the Federal Army. In 1862, for the third time, it became the prey to devastating flames. With Revenues exhausted by the Ravages of War, the College was not able to complete its Rebuilding until 1868. From 1880 to 1888 the College Bell rung by Colonel BENJAMIN S. EWELL, then President, echoed through the Silent Halls, deserted save for several students whose solicited attendance kept alive the Royal Charter.

The Ancient Walls, scarred by fire, weakened by time, and hallowed by Noble Tradition, made potent Appeal for a Restoration of the Building that would recall the vanished Symmetry and Beauty of its former Architectural Design. To this Appeal JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., made response and graciously included in the Plan for the Restoration of Colonial Williamsburg, which was the fulfilment of the Cherished Dream of the Reverend Doctor WILLIAM A. R. GOODWIN, Rector of BRUTON PARISH CHURCH, the Restoration of this Building to the known 1732 Form and Design.

This Tablet is Erected to bear Witness to the Continuity of this Building through the Centuries of Service and to record the grateful appreciation of the BOARD of VISITORS and of Doctor J. A. C. CHANDLER, President of the College, for the Assurance which the Restoration gives that this Shrine of Learning and Inspiration, associated with the Memory of Scholars, Patriots and Statesmen, will now endure.

"A LINK AMONG THE DAYS TO KNIT THE GENERATIONS EACH WITH EACH."

pitcher for Gettysburg was none other than one Eddie Plank, destined to achieve fame as a pitcher with Connie Mack and the Athletics. The final score of the game was 7 to 1 in favor of Gettysburg but that one run for William and Mary was a thriller which A. B. still remembers. J. B. Pollard, '00, later a star football player at Virginia and now a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy, was the first man up for the Indians and he hit a home run. Mr. Plank tightened up after that and yielded only two more hits, one by Marchant and one by F. S. McCandlish, now deceased.

Plank had been slated to pitch against Richmond College the day before, but rain broke up the game and so William and Mary became his victim.

dents, faculty, and administration employees, on Friday night was a brilliant climax to this great Christmas pageant.

For weeks a number of committees had worked on the details of this affair. Every seat had been taken out of Phi Beta Kappa auditorium and the floors highly polished for the Grand Ball, a feature of the entertainment. The entire auditorium was decorated to resemble the interior of an old English manor house. Evergreens were banked in profusion and tiers of candles decorated the walls. Special electric lighting systems had been installed that gave a brilliant effect to the different features of the program. The stage had been especially decorated and equipped for President John Stewart Bryan and his party and a broad avenue of steps placed in front of it. The foyer, Apollo room and Dodge room had been similarly decorated and a raised platform placed in the foyer from which refreshments were served.

At 9:45 the guests began to assemble. All members of the faculty and administration and guests from Williamsburg wore Colonial costumes. Every student wore a costume of some kind and more than one hundred different characters were represented by the students.

Mr. Bryan's student aides wore the brilliant English military uniforms of the 18th century.

At 10:15 p.m., when more than 1000 guests had assembled and were mingling together, transported in spirit to the 18th century by the brilliant costumes and decorations, the blare of trumpets announced the arrival of President Bryan and his party. This scene as they approached the stage was almost breath-taking. It was easy to imagine and almost to believe that the old Cavaliers of Virginia and their ladies had actually come back to life. It was a picture of supreme quality and dignity which we dream of today as we read of the days of Colonial Virginia. Charles J. Duke, Jr., master of ceremonies, standing on the stage, announced each member of the party from a scroll in his hands as Lord or Lady so and so. Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin, a member of the party, was announced as the Commissary of the Bishop of London, a position held by many of his predecessors, rectors of Bruton Parish Church.

A program from the floor then started which consisted of pageants, etc., presented by various student organizations. These representations were unusual for their uniqueness, color and beauty. Prizes had been offered and were won by the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority presenting "Santa Claus and His Toys"; the Alpha Phi Delta Fraternity presenting "Ethiopia," a take-off on Mussolini and Haile Selassie; and by the Sigma Pi fraternity presenting "Lady Godiva."

The Grand Ball with music by the College orchestra followed the pageants. It was a happy crowd, immersed in the spirit of Colonial days, that danced until 2 a.m., and carried home with them grateful remembrances of Mr. Bryan's generosity and a sincere appreciation of his gracious hospitality.

1936 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

William and Mary's football schedule for 1936 is the best all-round one in years. Only two out-of-state teams appear on it. They are Navy and Guilford. Washington and Lee is back after a year's absence and the Indians will be playing for the first time in history all of the so-called Big Four—Virginia, V. P. I., V. M. I., and W. & L., in one season.

Hampden-Sydney replaces Emory and Henry on the schedule. Renewal of relations with this fine little school will be welcomed by the alumni and students of William and Mary. The last game with Hampden-Sydney was played in 1930.

members elected subsequent to the years when the society ceased to function are entitled to succession membership of two.

The medal of the society is of silver and an exact replica, except that it is somewhat thicker and numbered with the serial number of the member on the unmilled edge, of one of the ancient medals now in possession of one of the members. It is suspended by a ribbon of green, silver and gold from a narrow silver bar bearing upon its face the word "Sabilitas et Fides," which medal is worn by all members at formal meetings of the society and on occasions of College ceremony upon the left breast. It can under no circumstances be worn without the bar or ribbon on any other occasion. A certificate of membership, in which is incorporated, as is shown in George P. Coleman's "The Flat Club and the Phi Beta Kappa Society," Richmond, 1916, the ancient certificate of the society, bearing the serial number of the member and the ancient seal of the society, and signed by the President and Permanent Secretary, is issued to each member. The red rose, being the flower shown upon the reverse of the ancient medal, is the flower of the society.

All succession members of those elected after 1920 are entitled to the medal and certificate of their ancestors.

Unlike the Phi Beta Kappa Society, the F. H. C. is purely local and its membership limited to students and professors of the College of William and Mary in Virginia. The society is opposed to national expansion.

While the society is generally known as the "Flat Hat Club," it has no connection with the student publication by that name. It is claimed by some that the letters F. H. C. are the first letters of the words, "Faith, Hope and Charity," but this is merely an assumption unverified. Among the members of the 18th century were Thomas Jefferson, St. George Tucker, James Innes, Robert Baylor (1772), Thomas Davis Jr. (1775), George Wythe, Edmund Randolph.

The original objects of the society were social, literary, and educational advancement. Its members are now selected on the basis of outstanding ability, attainment, and prospective leadership. The juniors elected this year were Warne Robinson, Monongahelia, Pa.; Harold Gouldman, Dahlgren, Va.; Roger Child, Boston, Mass.; Carl Mitson, Arlington, N. J.; Peter Hansen, White Plains, N. Y.; John Truehart, Petersburg, Va. The officers are: William Fitch, president; P. P. Peebles, permanent secretary; John F. Simpson, student active secretary, and A. R. Brown, treasurer. The active members are: Students—Wm. C. Fitch, James N. Savedge, John A. McManus, Addison R. Brown, Wm. P. Gove, and John F. Simpson; Professors—Dr. R. C. Young, P. P. Peebles, Joe C. Chandler; Inactive—Chas. A. Taylor, Jr., Yelverton Kent, John Stewart Bryan, of the administration. In the city—Channing M. Hall and Rutherford Goodwin.

The society meets once each month at the home of one of its professorial members or at the fraternity house of a student member. An hour is devoted to the business of the society, and then a program arranged by the host of the evening, is proceeded with, in the way of entertainment and discussion of college problems, and projects sponsored by the society.

BRANCH BOCOCK HEAD FOOTBALL COACH FOR THE COMING SEASON

Bocock is known as one of the strictest disciplinarians in the coaching ranks. However, he combines this with an inspirational type of leadership. He has the faculty of keying his players to a high emotional pitch.

Quiet, modest, he has a gift for making friends in public appearances. In addition to his football background he gained poise through working in the department of justice under President Wilson.

Following his resignation at William and Mary, Bocock was succeeded by John Kellison. "Honest John," previously well-known to Virginia fans through his work as line coach at Virginia, was at the helm for three seasons.

In 1933 Tommy Dowler, of Colgate fame, was obtained as Kellison's assistant. Dowler handled the backfield. In 1934 they were made coordinate coaches, the scheme calling for them to have equal authority. However, the team did not produce the desired record and this year Dowler was placed in the driver's seat.

Injuries and an exceedingly tough schedule worked against the youthful mentor."

NEWS OF W. & M. ALUMNI

Chas. P. McCurdy, '33, visited here on December 7th. He was enroute to Newport News, Va., to attend the marriage of Donald Douglas, '33, and Miss Edna Bland Hall, '34. Both Mr. McCurdy and Mr. Douglas are members of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

Harry Lindsey Grubbs, Jr., of Dendron, Va., a B.S. of 1932, and Miss Miriam E. Mohler of Waynesboro, Va., were married on September 21st at Martinsburg, W. Va. For the past three years Mr. Grubbs has been a member of the faculty of Wilson High School, Waynesboro, Va., and coach of the football team.

Donald S. Douglass, '33, of Cata-sauqua, Pa., and Miss Edna Bland Hall, B.S. of 1934, were married in Newport News, Va., on December 7th.

A. H. Stainback, '30, is a Methodist Minister at Penhook, Patrick County, Va. He wrote the Alumni Office recently inquiring about membership in the Alumni Association. Someone had just told him of the Alumni Gazette. The Alumni Office was mighty glad to learn of his whereabouts and to give him the required information.

Dr. George G. Hankins, '07, president of the Warwick County Medical Society, was host to the Society at a dinner held at the James River Country Club on December 9th.

Paul N. Derring, '17, has been in charge of the Y. M. C. A. at V.P.I. for several years where he is doing very successful work. W. B. Coggin, '04, has been a professor in the same institution for a number of years.

Miss Mary Wilson Bohannon, A.B. of 1925, is teaching this session at Quantico, Va. She was at the William and Mary summer school last summer working on an M. A. in French. Miss Bohannon is a daughter of A. W. Bohannon, '98, of Surry, Virginia.

Paul Rea Thomas, '26, who has been doing educational work in the Near East for several years has been transferred to Ashraf Basrah, Iraq. His sister, Mrs. Habib Kurami (Esther Thomas, '26) is stationed at Beirut. The following very interesting letter was received from Mr. Thomas recently by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Thomas of York County:

"Dear Folks at Home:

How is this for a surprise? I have been transferred to the school here, and left Baghdad Sunday. It took 12 hours and cost two dinars (ten dollars). I like the transfer except it will be more difficult to spend Easter vacation at Beirut with Esther.

The mud is just as deep as in Baghdad but there are no dust storms as there were there. Basrah is really the crossroads of the civilizations. Some day I shall get someone to go to Ur with me. It is not far from here. Basrah is older than Baghdad. There has always been a city here from the earliest time. It is much more cosmopolitan than Baghdad, being closer to Persia, India and South Africa; and also being quite a seaport. The big ships come right up to the wharves. There are ten wharves with very modern equipment such as traveling cranes for unloading.

Today I saw a mashouf (boat like my boy gave me last year) loaded with women and dry goods starting off up the river. I asked where and was told they were from Amarrh about 120 miles up river against the terrific current. They bring butter and eggs down and trade for dry goods to take back.

My boat hasn't come, but it has rained every day since I came. Can't go swimming because the waters are infested with sharks. People don't even think of going in. They won't even let their dog go in if they think anything of the dog.

My friend Ahe says he will visit you soon after Christmas. He leaves Beirut, Nov. 30. He is on his way to Michigan. He is a good fellow and is Turkish. I have learned to like him a lot. We were roommates last year. I would like for some of my friends to meet him.

Lots of love to you all,
Pete"

George A. Downing, '25, is with the legal department of the HOLC at 114 Marietta Street, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Downing passed the Florida Bar Examination in 1926 and practiced law at Tampa until 1933 when he went with the HOLC. He was transferred to Atlanta in February, 1935.

He was married in 1929 to Miss Lucia Mae Ingerson of Chautauqua, N. Y. They have two sons, George Alan, age 5, and John Marshall, age 2.

J. Douglas Hubbard, '33, and Mrs. Hubbard, formerly Miss Ann Price, '33, announce the arrival of James Douglas Hubbard, Jr., who was christened at St. Paul's Church, Norfolk, Va., on December 15th.

Thomas W. Bennet, '11, who entered here in 1907 from Philadelphia with C. H. Long, '11, is rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit at Missoula, Montana. Both he and the Rev. Long are members of the Alumni Association and have been for a number of years.

Miss Mary Frances Snead, '29, daughter of Dr. W. S. Snead, '06, of Newport News, Va., was married on New Year's Day to William Donald Robinson. He is a member of Beta Chapter, Kappa Sigma fraternity. They will live at 6404 Huntington Ave., Newport News, Va.

Calkins, '26, teacher at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., and E. Eleanor Calkins, '27, Instructor in Mathematics at the College of William and Mary. R. D. and his sisters are members of Phi Beta Kappa.

sportsmanship qualities of the team. He said nothing had ever given him greater pleasure or made him prouder of William and Mary than the splendid spirit shown by the team and student body in the Thanksgiving game. The banquet ended with the singing of "Alma Mater" led by Lloyd Williams, '29.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
MEMBERSHIP DRIVE FROM JANUARY 20TH TO 31ST

When Dr. W. T. Hodges, '02, joined the William and Mary faculty in 1920 he was made Secretary of the Association and began a systematic campaign for new members and in 1923 issued the first alumni catalogue since 1874.

In 1929 an executive secretary was employed and an office established on the campus. Since then an attempt has been made to do systematic alumni work. This work consists chiefly of keeping up contact between the alumni and the College. Other important phases of the work are establishing local alumni organizations in the various areas where William and Mary alumni are concentrated and to establish a card record system in the Alumni Office of all alumni and alumnae of the College. The office has at present several card record systems of more than 9000 living alumni.

The chief point of contact at present between alumni and the College is the Alumni Gazette, established in June 1933. Since then approximately 70,000 copies of this publication have been mailed to William and Mary alumni.

The membership of the Association at this time is 577. This is the highest in the history of the Association but the number represents only 6½ per cent of the total number of living alumni. Some colleges have a membership as high as 20 per cent.

Officers of the Association are:

Joseph E. Healy, '10, Norfolk, Va., President.
Admiral Cary T. Grayson, '99, Washington, D. C., Vice-President.
R. P. Wallace, '20, Williamsburg, Va., Secretary-Treasurer.

Board of Managers

Joseph E. Healy, '10, Norfolk, Va.
Admiral Cary T. Grayson, '99, Washington, D. C.
Robert P. Wallace, '20, Williamsburg, Va.
Robert M. Newton, '16, Hampton, Virginia.
Dr. Amos R. Koontz, '10 Baltimore, Maryland.
Miss Cornelia S. Adair, '16, Richmond, Va.
Judge H. Lester Hooker, '07, Richmond, Va.
Dr. W. T. Hodges, '02, Norfolk, Va.

NEW ELECTRIC WIRING

A complete new underground electrical wiring system is now being installed at William and Mary by the Richardson-Wayland Electric Company of Roanoke, Va., at a cost of $23,895. The contract calls for 7500 feet, or nearly one and a half miles, of new high tension lead covered cable of 5000 volt capacity. The cable is pulled through a fibre duct and the whole thing embedded in a concrete envelope.

The old wiring system ran through steam tunnels on the campus where insulation rapidly depreciated making work on the lines very hazardous.

The new system, called the loop system, has three main circuits so arranged that they are interchangeable in case of trouble with any one of the three.

The system now being installed will be practically a permanent one as the material will not depreciate. It is also water proof.

The College plant has a capacity of approximately 3500 kilowatts per month but on account of the extra load of buildings erected during the past two years the College has to buy around 600 kilowatts a month.

The new system will enable the College to furnish lights at the stadium and also to take care of campus lights on both sides of the sunken garden.

L. C. Willoughby, chief engineer at the College, is very much pleased that the College is making these improvements. Mr. Willoughby came here in 1928 after seven years with the General Electric Company and a number of years with municipalities,

SPECIAL MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

William and Mary Alumni Association
JANUARY 20th-31st, 1936

To the Class of 1933:

It is with a sense of regret that I must call attention to the meager interest which our Class has shown in the general Alumni work of our Alma Mater.

When this concentrated drive for membership is completed, it is to be hoped that one of the largest—certainly the best Class to leave the College will be on top of all others in the number of its members who have joined the Alumni Association.

Should there be any doubt as to the value of the Alumni Association, it should be noted that above all else, the Association has but one purpose, and that is in the interest of making our Alma Mater a stronger and more influential College. Every University of any importance has a great alumni organization, which in many cases is a source of support to the school. This is the plan of the William and Mary Alumni Association and in recent years it has gone far toward this end.

There is little else that an Alumnus can do to help his beloved Alma Mater. THE CLASS OF '33 WILL NOT LET HER DOWN.

CHAS. P. McCURDY, Jr.
 President

I heartily approve of the membership drive to be put on by the Alumni Association during the period from January 20th to 31st. There are many reasons why every alumnus should belong to the Association, and no good reason, as far as I can see, for not belonging.

First: It keeps one in touch with the College and with his old friends.

Second: It aids one in keeping up the old college spirit, which is contagious.

Third: It helps to make it possible to maintain an efficient Alumni Secretary and to publish a thoroughly enjoyable Alumni publication.

Fourth: It pays fine dividends in friendship, in that you will now and then get a letter from some old sidekick who might have forgotten you, but for seeing something about you in the Alumni Gazette.

JOHN WEYMOUTH, '94

Inclosed you will find a check for $3.00 which I am sending you for a year's dues to the William and Mary Alumni Association. I am sorry that I waited so long to join the Association but up until now it has been impossible for me to join. However, I am a member now and I hope I'll be one from now on.

ROBERT G. NUGENT, '34

Allow me to first say that I have enjoyed your alumni papers during 1935 and shall look forward to getting them in 1936. My wish for the Association in 1936 is that, through your untiring efforts, it will continue to grow and develop as in past years. We alumni of William and Mary appreciate what you are doing with the Association.

I am glad to learn that the Alumni Association will put on a special membership drive in the near future. Certainly there is no better way to prove our love and appreciation for dear old William and Mary and at the same time express our gratitude for the privilege that was afforded us of drinking at her fountain of learning. There is no event in the year that I look forward to with more pleasure than Alumni Day at William and Mary, and no place that I go brings to my mind sweeter memories. Naturally there is a feeling of sadness comes over me when I think of the absence of Dr. Chandler who did so much for the College, and yet his efforts speak for themselves, and cannot fail to inspire the heart and make us glad. Men like him, Dr. Tyler, Hall, Stubbs, and Garrett have left an inspiration that can never die. Under the leadership of President Bryan we can look forward to still greater things and I am sure your appeal will meet the approval of hundreds of men who will be glad to answer your earnest call. With best wishes for the new year, and a glorious success.

JOHN P. WAGER, '92

Ever since I left the campus of William and Mary College, it has been my pleasure to carry a membership in the Alumni Association. Finally I reached the point where I wanted to keep in touch with the College and the Alumni Association all the time, and therefore took out a life membership. It occurred to me that this was one of the best ways of showing my loyalty to my Alma Mater and my desire to keep in contact with its life and activities.

Receiving the Alumni Gazette, from time to time, tends to keep me in contact with the real life of the institution and all that it is doing. I know of no way of keeping in closer touch with the alumni than by taking out a membership and thereby indicating interest in the Association and the College.

SIDNEY B. HALL, '16
 Supt. of Public Instruction in Virginia

Allow me to take this occasion to say that I hope that your membership drive will be more than successful. Actually, if all of our alumni could once get the pleasant satisfaction and thrill out of just reading the Gazette,—its references to the old College in the ancient days—its expression of the plans for the future—and above all its stories of the comings and goings of those hundreds one knew so well a few years ago and has now lost track of—if they could all once experience the warmth of this contact as I do, you would have a hundred per cent enrollment.

I deem it a heritage to have lived in the atmosphere of the old campus. Membership in the Alumni Association constantly brings me back to that atmosphere.

C. M. (Spike) SMITH, '27

I am enclosing herewith check for membership (alumni). It has been a great pleasure recently to note the more frequent and generous press references which are being given to the College and President Bryan, and likewise in connection with Alumni activities, and in connection with which latter, the Alumni and all those interested in the College should appreciate the efforts of yourself and the Alumni staff.

C. DUDLEY SHREVE, '03

I feel that the Alumni Association performs an invaluable service in keeping the alumni in touch with the College and with each other. Its publications, the catalogue and the Gazette, are most interesting; while the Homecoming and Alumni Days, sponsored by the Association are invariably enjoyable.

MELBA GRAVELY FINCH, '28

Replying to yours of January 1st, I think that all it is necessary to say is "I keep my membership in the Alumni Association because of my loyalty to the old College and my desire to keep in touch with what takes place at the College and among the Alumni."

JOSEPH H. SAUNDERS, '96

Anyone may be proud of being an alumnus of William and Mary and should consider it an honor and a privilege to belong to its Association.

E. H. TERRELL, '97

Every loyal alumnus and alumna wants to help Alma Mater. This assistance can be rendered by becoming members of the Alumni Association. All are cognizant of the importance to a college of a large and active alumni association. I trust that all who are not members of the Alumni Association will show their love, loyalty and true William and Mary spirit by joining without further delay.

A. H. FOREMAN, '99

Of course I am thoroughly sympathetic with any and all efforts to increase the membership of the Alumni Association, and I am enclosing my check in the sum of three dollars to cover my dues for the year 1936 as evidence of my best wishes for the success of your drive. A large, well organized alumni group is essential to intelligent cooperation of the alumni and college affairs.

JAMES M. ROBERTSON, '29

The William and Mary Club of Richmond has received with considerable interest the announcement of your special campaign to be conducted January 20th to January 31st. We are very much interested in seeing this campaign made a success, especially in view of the fact that the College needs more than ever before the active support of its alumni.

J. MALCOLM BRIDGES, '25
 President William and Mary
 Club of Richmond

MESSAGE FROM JOSEPH E. HEALY, PRESIDENT OF THE ASSOCIATION

If there is such a thing as being surfeited of good things, the alumni of our ancient institution must be in that predicament. For of nine thousand living alumni, there are only about five hundred who have taken the time to affiliate themselves with the alumni association of the college. It would be impossible to convince me that our former students are lacking in loyalty and devotion to the college of their boyhood, but realizing as we do that ours is an institution which is rapidly attracting nation-wide attention we have been perfectly satisfied to sit still and take no part in its wonderful development. This is the wrong attitude and I hope that the alumni will set this condition aright by a most generous response to our membership campaign which begins on January 20th. By the time that the college attains its two hundred and forty-third birthday on February 8, 1936, the membership of our association should exceed twenty-five hundred active affiliates. Such an achievement would warm the heart of our president, John Stewart Bryan, and would encourage him in his labor of love.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT JOHN STEWART BRYAN OF THE COLLEGE

I trust that the Alumni of William and Mary will evidence their interest and loyalty in their Alma Mater by becoming members of her Alumni Association. We cannot hope to insure a present and a future comparable with our past except through the united effort, the unswerving loyalty and the sympathetic cooperation of Alumni, students and faculty, alike. I earnestly feel that we have an opportunity and a duty to Virginia and to America. Through our combined efforts "May Virginia be awakened to the value of an Institution, to which she is indebted for almost all that makes her name honorable in the world; and may our venerable Alma Mater continue to advance in usefulness and renown, until all the ends of this vast continent shall call her blessed."

Members of the Alumni Association As of December 31, 1935
