HAL KEMP TO FURNISH MUSIC FOR JUNE BALL, ALUMNI DANCE

Reservations for Dances, Lodging, and Meals to Be Made Through Alumni Office.

DANCES TO COST $5.00

Hal Kemp and his famous orchestra have been selected by the College to play for the final dances June 10th and 11th. In as much as this will be the first time that the College has ever had a name band of the prominence of Hal Kemp's, much interest is being exhibited everywhere by both alumni and students in making these dances successful and enjoyable. Hal Kemp and his orchestra have been voted the most popular dance aggregation in the country by 1,200 dancing academies and received by far the greatest number of votes in a popularity poll taken in colleges throughout the country. They have recently concluded an engagement at the Drake Hotel in Chicago and may now be heard every Tuesday evening at ten o'clock over the Columbia network.

Invitations are being extended to all alumni to attend these dances, at a cost of five dollars for the set. Others will pay seven fifty. Tickets for Alumni Dance only will be three-fifty. All alumni purchasing tickets, must do so through the alumni office, either in advance or on the date of the dances. Tickets will be sold (Continued on Page Four)

GEORGIA O'KEEFFE TO RECEIVE ART DEGREE

The degree of Doctor of Fine Arts will be conferred on Miss Georgia O'Keeffe, one of America's foremost women painters, at a special convocation of the faculty in Williamsburg on Saturday, May 7th.

A comprehensive exhibition of Miss O'Keeffe's paintings will be held in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall from May 4th to 9th, under the auspices of the Department of Fine Arts, headed by Professor Leslie Check, Jr.

Georgia O'Keeffe, ranked by eminent critics as America's foremost woman painter, lived as a young girl in Williamsburg, going from here to study Art in New York. It will be her first visit to the restored city since the Rockefeller program began.

O'Keeffe's magnificent sense of composition and subtle gradations of color on such ordinary simple subjects as leaves and bones have made her works among the most valued in America today. The paintings bring from five thousand to eight thousand each.

Lewis Mumford, art critic, who spoke at the College several months ago calls O'Keeffe, "the most original painter in America today".

Miss O'Keeffe was born in Sun Prairie, Wisconsin, in 1887,—grew up in Virginia, attended art school (Continued on Page Four)

TRIBE NINE LOSES IN CHAMPIONSHIP RACE

Virtually eliminated from state championship honors because of its recent loss to Virginia, William and Mary's varsity nine next month moves into the latter half of a schedule which lists only three additional foes within the Old Dominion.

State opponents of the Indians in the last half of the current campaign are Richmond and V. M. I., with the Spiders slated to be met twice. A six-game northern invasion by the Tribemen begins on May 4.

Inclusive of the game on April 23 with Virginia, which was lost, William and Mary has won five of its eight games. Four of the victories were turned in by Rosy Waugh, on whose pitching arm seems to rest the success of the Indian nine.

Opening its 23-game schedule March 28 at N. C. State, William and Mary scored a 5-4 triumph—thanks to a ninth-inning double by shortstop Charlie Beale. The following day, however, Wake Forest rode to a 5-1 victory over the Indians.

Returning home, the Kellison-coached nine shaded Washington and Lee, 9-8 with Bob Adams receiving credit for the pitching honors. Vermont's touring team was repulsed, 5-4 in a drizzling rain and, then, for three games thereafter, the Indians were rained out.

On April 11 V. P. I. was set back, 6-1 with Waugh in fine form. Three days later, though, at V. P. I., the Techmen lighted on Bob Adams and Larry Oliver for 16 hits and a 14-6 triumph. Waugh then hurled the Tribe to an 8-1 win over V. M. I.

BRYAN AND HALL EXTEND WELCOME

To the Alumni of William and Mary:

In the last twenty years William and Mary has seen an amazing transformation.

In 1918 the student body was 131; today it is 1299.

The Faculty of the College in 1918 numbered 19; today it is 92.

Grounds and buildings in 1918 were valued at approximately $500,000; today this asset, with improvements and equipment, represents $7,000,000.

Barrett, Jefferson, Chandler Monroe, Old Dominion and new Taliaferro halls have been built for dormitories; fraternity and sorority houses have blossomed; the great Blow Gymnasium was the gift of an Alumnus; Rogers, Washington, Marshall-Wythe buildings have been erected to house classes and the teaching work of the College.

Athletic fields have been laid out, and a splendid stadium built; Lake Mataoka has been made a thing of beauty and usefulness, the College Park has been traversed with paths, riding has become a popular sport; some thirty-odd tennis courts are in daily operation, archery, hockey, golf all interest and attract the student body and add greatly to their happiness, health and joy.

In the Library, in the development of Phi Beta Kappa Hall for dramatics and other gatherings, in the astounding development of the Fine Arts department, which not only directs beautiful performances for the College at large, but has so interested the student body that The Backdrop Club produced a show this Spring that was a brilliant example of what a college production can be when designed, written and planned entirely by the students, William and Mary has shown gratifying and unusual progress.

We who live and work at William and Mary are rather proud of these achievements, and we would be most happy if our Alumni, to whom we look with confidence and satisfaction, would make a special effort to come back to the Campus during the 1938 Finals, take account of what has been accomplished, and by your presence at the Alumni meeting encourage and inspire the entire College with the (Continued on page 2)

ASSOCIATION MEETING JUNE 11, SPRATLEY ADDRESSES GRADUATES

Bridges to Deliver Oration; Lipscomb, Wager, Long, Robinson, Brooks and Barksdale to Receive Medallions; Memorial Services at Ewell Grave; Eleven Classes to Meet.

The 1938 finals program will get under way Friday, June 10th, with every indication pointing to it being one of the most interesting to take place on the campus in many years. June 10th has been set aside for the activities of the Class of 1938, including the class luncheon, restricted to members of the graduating class. On Friday evening the third annual June Ball and senior class dance will be held in the sunken garden from nine-thirty until two-thirty. As reported elsewhere, Hal Kemp and his famous band will furnish the music. It is expected that a particularly large group of the younger alumni will return for this dance and a special invitation is being extended to members of the last five classes.

Saturday, June 11th, is the date for the annual Alumni Day celebration. The Alumni Office will open at eight-thirty in the morning for registration of all alumni who return. The annual meeting of the Alumni Association will take place in Phi Beta Kappa Hall at ten-thirty rather than at eleven as heretofore so that ample time may be allowed for the business that may come before the meeting. Dr. Sidney B. Hall, '20, President of the Association will preside, and will present a report of the activities of the Board of Managers showing the progress made during the past year. As part of the old business to come before the meeting will be a report on the present status of the Quarter-Millennium Program, recommended by Hon. Schuyler Otis Bland, at the annual meeting in 1936. Likewise a report will be given on the action taken to have alumni of the College appointed to the Board of Visitors when vacancies occur, pursuant to a resolution adopted at the annual meeting in 1937.

Terms of four members of the Board of Managers will expire and their successors must be elected at the meeting. Dr. Amos R. Koontz '10, Baltimore, Md.; Robert M. Newton, '16, Hampton; and Miss Cornelia S. Adair, '23, Richmond, are the members whose regular three year terms expire. The term of Ernest W. Goodrich, '35, Washington D. C., who was elected by the Board of Managers last October to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles P. McCurdy, Jr., '33, also expires. Under the law, the Board is authorized to elect an alumnus to fill a vacancy until the next annual meeting of the Association, at which time a regular election will take place to fill out the unexpired term which in this case will be for one year.

An alumnus must also be elected to a three year term on the Athletic Committee. The term of Dr. H. M. Stryker, '16, expires.

The President and Vice President of the Association must also be elected, and the newly elected Board will name the Secretary and Treasurer.

The memorial services at the grave of Col. Benjamin S. Ewell, in memory of alumni who have died in the last year, will be held at twelve o'clock noon, and will be under the direction of Dr. Donald W. Davis, representing the Phi Beta Kappa Society. Mr. Archie (Continued on page 4)

COLONIAL SEMINAR TO BEGIN JUNE 19

William and Mary's second Seminar on Colonial Life—a week's observation and study of life and society in the colonial capitol of Virginia—will be held here June 19th.

Last summer the unique plan—providing at an all expense fee of $25 per person a full week of life among the shrines of Williamsburg, Jamestown and Yorktown, with guide service and instruction furnished by co-operating agencies of the Williamsburg Restoration, the College of William and Mary, National Park Service, the Mariners Museum, and the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities,—drew a capacity crowd to this restored city.

The all-inclusive fee was one of the interesting features of the program, giving board and room at the college, tickets of admission to all exhibition buildings, transportation, and a boat trip up the James River to view the famous river plantations.

Emphasis is naturally placed upon the educational value of the project, although the seminar offers instruction in its more attractive forms. There is no compulsory attendance upon lectures, no rigid program, except as the problem of transportation dictates, (Continued on page 4)

HERBERT LEE BRIDGES, A. B.

About once in an academic generation a man appears in every college community whose enthusiasm and reverence for his alma mater compel him to remain attached to her in some capacity. He may not know just why the allurements of some other profession are not strong enough to wean him away, but he feels an all-embracing urge to continue the affiliations which his under-graduate experience wove about him so tenaciously. It is unfortunate that such students appear so far apart.

There came to the College in 1888 just that sort of man. Remaining here five years, he was one of two to graduate in 1893. He strayed away for a few years but in 1906 he returned to his alma mater to become its first registrar, which position he held for twenty-six years.

A man who loved the College even before he came here, he increased that love during student days and carried it with him on through the years. And as, through his association with the College, his love became more deeply rooted, so other students, through their association with him, came to love and respect him for his simple honesty, sincerity, helpfulness and old-time friendliness. Never a man to look for praise or honor, he received both unknowingly, and when in 1932, he was forced to retire, students past and present, far and near, regretted his loss. In unanimous voice they decried 'a job well done', and hoped that he might have many years of well deserved rest and happiness.

Today we rejoice that he, representing the true spirit of William and Mary, is with us and that we shall again sit about him and hear inspiring words. Whatever he tells us, we shall remember it and revere him more than ever. He is Herbert Lee Bridges.

EIGHTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

On May 12th, 1938, Epsilon Charge of Theta Delta Chi Fraternity will celebrate the eighty-fifth anniversary of its founding on the campus of William and Mary. Since that day in 1853 when Austin A. Neel transferred from the University of Vermont and founded a new chapter, the fraternity has always maintained a position of prominence and honor. The oldest social fraternity on the campus, it is to be hoped that the celebration of this anniversary will be but a stepping stone in her continual service to alma mater.

ALUMNI DAY OPPORTUNITIES

There are only two occasions in the course of a year when the alumni of the College have an opportunity to return to the campus for a few hours with the 'old gang.' In the fall, HOMECOMING DAY is a time of carefree excitement when the alumni join the students in what has been called a melee of parading, singing, yelling, back-slapping, and ends in a survival of the fittest contest.

ALUMNI DAY comes in for its share of 'hell-raising' too. But it has more serious and constructive motives. On this day the Alumni Association of the College of William and Mary holds its annual business meeting. On this day the interested members of the Association return to take a personal survey of the College; to hear reports of the activities of the Association during the past year; to lay plans for the future; and finally to express their approval or criticism of what has been done or left undone. Here, then, is the opportunity for truly interested alumni to contribute to the welfare of their alma mater.

With the business concluded for the day—and for the year; the remainder of the day will be spent in happy reunion with old friends and classmates, and remembering again those immortal lines:

"A LINK AMONG THE DAYS TO KNIT
THE GENERATIONS EACH WITH EACH."

Carol McCoy Named
W. - M. May Queen

Carol McCoy, Bronxville, New York, was crowned Queen of the May, at the annual campus ceremonies held today. Miss McCoy's court, all seniors, consisted of two princesses: Jane Speakman, and Margaret Woodland; and six attendants: Hilda Hase, Beverly Bridge, Nita Ligon, Martha Davis, Jean Pollard, Marian Bradshaw. The Queen and her court were elected by secret ballot by the women students, the decision being kept secret until the actual crowning ceremonies which were held in the sunken garden. Jane Lewis, '37, Queen Regent, crowned Miss McCoy.

Miss McCoy is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT
GIVEN O'KEEFFE PAINTING
BY MRS. ROCKEFELLER

The Department of Fine Arts of the College of William and Mary announced today that Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had presented a painting by the famed American artist Georgia O'Keeffe to the Department. The gift was appropriately made at this time in connection with the events leading up to the conferring of the degree of Doctor of Fine Arts on Miss O'Keeffe by the College on May 7. The painting presented by Mrs. Rockefeller, "Magnolia Blossom", is a typical example of the renowned flower pieces by this artist; and will be placed in the special Fine Arts Library of the Department. This room, designed with modern simplicity, will furnish an appropriate setting for the O'Keeffe painting, representing as it does the product of a distinguished modern artist and a former resident of Williamsburg.

example of your interest and your support.

No college is stronger than its alumni, and the strength of the alumni can be made manifest and effective only by their interest and support.

Come back, and come in force.
John Stewart Bryan, President.

April 11, 1938

To the Alumni of
The College of William and Mary:

I wish to take this opportunity to extend a very cordial invitation to one and all to return to the campus for the annual Alumni Day celebration on Saturday, June 11th. An interesting program covering the entire day is being arranged and I think it will be well worth your while to come back for those few hours on the campus in which to take stock and study the progress of our Alma Mater and renew old friendships.

While I want every alumnus to make an especial effort to return I am particularly hopeful that the members of the Alumni Association will be here for the annual meeting and take part in the important discussions that will develop at that time. I believe that definite progress has been made along all lines during the past twelve months and we urge you to return and assist us in developing a program for the coming year.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,
Sidney B. Hall, '20
President.

George Walter Mapp Heads Department

George Walter Mapp, '94, of Accomac, former State Senator and twice a candidate for Governor, has been appointed commissioner of fisheries by Governor Price. He took his oath of office March 21st, before the judge of the Accomac circuit court. The appointment of a commissioner of fisheries does not require confirmation by the general assembly. The commissioner and commission members serve at the pleasure of the governor.

Mr. Mapp has been active in Virginia politics since prior to 1912 when he was elected to the senate. Serving twelve years in the upper branch of the legislature, he was the leader in the fight for prohibition and woman suffrage, and was the author of Virginia's quart-a-month liquor limit law. In 1925, Mapp opposed Harry Flood Byrd for the Democratic nomination for governor. He announced for governor again in 1929 and ran second in a three-cornered race in which the late dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, Dr. John Garland Pollard, was successful.

Mr. Mapp has been a member of the Board of Visitors of the College for a number of years and is at present its vice rector.

STUDENT NEWS

The Backdrop Club, recently organized on the campus, gave its first performance April 7th and 8th. Titled "Spring Cleaning", it was an all student production from beginning to end, and received an enthusiastic reception from the student body.

The musical scores were written by Bill Greene and Carl Buffington, and were considered so fine as to make it desired that they be put on the market. In addition to the music the show was popular for its localism of sets, using such scenes as the College Shop, The June Ball in the Sunken Garden, and the statue of Lord Botetourt, all to advantage. Another added feature to William and Mary show was the loud speaker set-up in the lobby to enable faculty and students to say a few words to the audience as they entered the theatre.

This was the first show of its kind since the spring of 1930 when Mrs. Katherine Hipp, of the music department, staged a successful performance. It is hoped that the present venture will be repeated next year.

Alpha of Virginia, Phi Beta Kappa, will hold its annual Spring initiation early in May. Four men and six women of the senior class have been elected to the fraternity. Those named are: Cecil Clay Abbott, Jr., Norfolk; Letitia G. Armistead, Williamsburg; Charles F. Ceresnak, West New York, N. J.; Elizabeth B. Bowden, Norfolk; Edward N. MacConomy, Jr., St. Mary's City, Md.; George William Scott, Cape Charles; Jane M. Speakman, Wilmington, Del.; Marian Elizabeth Spelman, Rochelle Park, N. J.; and Mollie E. Waters, Germantown, Md., and Mollie Yavner, Norfolk.

The Marshall-Wythe Seminar under the direction of Dean A. G. Taylor, started February 17, when Dr. E. Johnston Coll, director of the National Social Planning Board, delivered the first lecture. Mr. Coll has served as economist for the Mississippi Valley Committee, the National Resources Committee, and the Rural Electrification Administration, and was a member of President Roosevelt's Committee to study Cooperatives in Europe.

Mr. Edward Berman, senior economist for the Works Progress Administration, gave the second lecture of the seminar on March 3rd. Mr. Berman received his Ph. D. from Columbia, and taught fifteen years at the University of Illinois before being called to Washington by the New Deal. Mr. Berman prefaced his remarks by describing the labor situation from -930, to 1933, and followed with an outline of the responsibility we have and must assume for taking care of the unemployed.

Wilbur C. Hall, Chairman of the State Conservation Commission, addressed the third meeting on March 17th.

C. H. Morrisett, State Tax Commissioner of Virginia, delivered the fourth lecture on March 29th, his subject being "Taxation, With Special Reference to Virginia."

The fifth lecture in the seminar was made April 7th, when Frank Bane, Executive Director of the Social Security Board spoke on the "Social Security Act as a means of making our democracy work by setting up safeguards against the vicissitudes of life." John S. Battle, Chairman Virginia Advisory Legislative Council addressed the sixth meeting, April 21st.

W.-M. To Have Colonial Seminar

and no academic credits. The name seminar, indicating study by a special group of a special problem under competent guidance, has been selected as best representing the purposes in mind. This project is quite different from the usual type of seminar, familiar to advanced students in University work—the plan being one primarily of study by observation.

The sponsors of the seminar believe that history can live only to the extent of our ability to recreate the atmosphere, the spirit of a by-gone day. And unless the men and events of a given age can be placed in an environment in which they moved and had their being, these sponsors feel that even the most imaginative will fall short of that touch of life so important to the historical period.

For Americans no area is more rich in historic associations than the Virginia Peninsula, where the English established their first permanent settlement in America, where stood the capital city of colonial Virginia, and where ended the war by which our national independence was established. Here, of recent years, special efforts, through the medium of various private and governmental agencies, have been made to preserve and restore the landmarks and other relics of the highly significant society that for the first century and a half of our history had its metropolis there.

The City of Williamsburg, through the generous agency of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has been restored to its eighteenth century character. It offers an unparalleled opportunity to view the landscaping, architecture, furnishings and other interior decorations of a community that ranked among the more important in colonial America.

The Colonial National Historical Park, embracing Jamestown, Yorktown, parts of the city of Williamsburg, and a parkway connecting the three areas, has been established for the preservation and development, as a project of the National Park Service of the historical sites and structures within its boundaries. The Mariners' Museum, located between Williamsburg and Newport News, a modern shipping center, has gathered together, through the interest and subvention of Mr. Archer M. Huntington, a most interesting collection illustrative of the maritime activities so prominently associated with the history of the area.

The Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities is preserving, as a shrine for the American people, that part of Jamestown Island, whereon stood the church in which met in 1619, the first representative assembly in the new world. The College of William and Mary, second oldest institution of higher learning in the United States, and the school of Thomas Jefferson, John Marshall, James Monroe, John Tyler, and other famous statesmen, has continued its role of encouraging investigation and interpretation of the colonial society in which it held a distinguished place.

The combined efforts of these institutions, cooperative sponsors of this seminar, provides an avenue into the past of colonial times unique in the opportunities afforded for observing life as it was lived then.

rained out, but the Indians hastened home and on the following day humiliated University of Maryland, 4-1. Waugh allowed the Terps only one hit, a clean single in the sixth inning.

Then came the Virginia game, which was lost, 7-4. The defeat was the third for the season for the Tribemen and the first of the season for pitcher Rosy Waugh.

Coach Scrap Chandler's William and Mary track team, weakest to represent the Tri-Color in more than a decade, has won only a single dual meet in four attempts this season.

Two more dual meets and participation in the state meet are scheduled for the Indian runners. Virginia and Richmond are yet to be met in dual competition, and although the Tribemen are conceded a good chance to whip Richmond, little hope is held against Virginia.

The Chandlermen opened their season by dropping a 69 1-2 to 56 1-2 decision to V. M. I. The Tribemen showed up well in running events but appeared weak in the field, a situation that since has been reversed.

Hampden-Sydney, next foe for the Tri-Color, was repulsed by a 74-52 margin, but on successive Saturdays the Indian harriers were badly beaten by both Washington and Lee and Maryland. The Terps won 80 3-4 to 45 1-4, while the Generals fell just a little short of this imposing score.

Chief point-winners for William and Mary have been Sammy Walker in the shot and discus; Torsten Peterson in the javelin; Captain George Roller in the mile; Bill Marsh in the two-mile; Ranny Duke in the 440; Phillips and Winston in the dashes; and Coiner in the pole vault.

William and Mary's varsity tennis team, coached by John Lewis, a former Indian net star, has been making a good showing on the courts this season and thus far has lost only one of five matches.

The lone defeat was a 7-0 shut-out at the hands of Maryland. The Indian netters opened with a 4-3 victory over a seven-man Furman team and followed this up with a 7-2 triumph over St. John's College of Annapolis.

Maryland then blanked the Tribemen, but on two successive home stands the Indians easily turned back St. John's for a second time, 8-1 and subdued V. P. I. 7-2.

Carrying the Indian hopes on the court this season are Captain Jimmy Ryder, Bill Reynolds, Lorimer Walker, Sidney Jaffe, John Teal, Al Allen, Carl Steublen, and Ben Letson.

The newly organized William and Mary golf team has not fared so well and so far this season has turned in anything but an impressive record on the links.

An opening match of the season was lost to Wake Forest and one-sided defeats also were suffered at the hands of University of Virginia, Washington and Lee and the James River Country Club. Last week, however, the Indian clubmen defeated the Newport News Apprentice School, 14-4.

Playing on the team are Palmer Farrington, Robert Hornesby, Bob Newton, Bill Murphy, and Ellison Parry.

The William and Mary Women's Tennis season got underway with a tournament for Virginia colleges held at Williamsburg on the thirtieth of April. Those colleges taking part were Sweetbriar, Farmville, Fredericksburg, and William and Mary. The tentative schedule as it is at present includes a northern trip in the middle of May. On this trip William and Mary plays Swarthmore May 13th, Bryn Mawr the 14th, and Manhattanville on the 15th. The members of the regular team are Lisa Bloede, Becky Timberlake, Phyllis King, Sally Holliday, Betty Wilkins, and Claudia Torrence, manager.

On April 8th and 9th William and Mary was host to the Seventh Annual Women's Intercollegiate Fencing Tournament. Of the six colleges taking part, New York University copped first place with Hunter, Brooklyn, Cornell, Hofstra and William and Mary trailing in order.

Carrie Massenberg, Madge Dunn and Doris Locke fenced for William and Mary. The greatest surprise and upset of the meet was the 5-1 victory of Carrie Massenberg, W.-M. over Jo Mancinelli N. Y. U., who is one of the finest women fencers in the country. The directors and judges of the tournament were selected from the highest ranking fencing officials in America, there being present nine of the twenty members of the Amateur Fencers League of America. Mr. Van Buskirk, President of the A. F. L. A., and other visiting authorities including coaches of the competing teams said of the William and Mary tournament that it was the finest organized and conducted intercollegiate meet that has ever been held. Last year the tournament was held at N. Y. U., and next year it will be held at Brooklyn.

In basketball, the William and Mary Varsity sextet closed a successful season with a record of five wins and four losses. The season officially opened on January 15 with the annual tri-game series in which the Varsity team defeated the Alumnae, the Reserve team defeated the Richmond division, and the Freshman team lost to Norfolk division. Alumnae who returned to play were Pearle Young Reynolds, Carrie Curle Sinclair, Caroline Sinclair, Kitty Cubberly Beamon, Margaret Holman, Lucille Lowry, Virginia Dix Sterling, Dorothy Chamings, Dorothy Ford, and Lois Roberts.

INTER-RELIGIOUS COUNCIL SPONSORS UNIQUE PROGRAM

The inter-religious Council will present a speaking team on May 9th, when a Catholic Priest, Jewish Rabbi, and a Baptist Minister will speak on the campus. Those who will speak are Rabbi Morris Lazarus, Baltimore; Father Edward Stephens, Richmond; and Dr. Theodore Miller, First Baptist Church, Baltimore.

Minutes of the Alumni Association meetings prior to 1889 do not exist in the files of the College though it is known that orations were given in the early days of the Association. In the minutes from 1889 to date, alumni orators are not mentioned for the years: 1894, 1897, 1905, and 1909. The office will appreciate any information that anyone can give on these years, particularly any copies of commencement programs or alumni programs for these particular years or before 1889.
