THE COLONIAL

ECHO 1964

FOREWORD

The purpose of this yearbook, as is that of all yearbooks, is to provide a pictorial and literary review of the previous year around campus. To the Senior the book represents a culmination of four years of work and play; to the Freshman it is a preview of what is to come; to everyone it means a little something. With this in mind the staff of the '64 COLONIAL ECHO set out to put this yearbook together. We have not attempted to show life at William and Mary in any particular light. Each individual will see in this book what he has put or intends to put into his tenure here. For this reason some will view this book critically, others favorably, and still others apathetically. It is the hope of the staff that the book accomplishes its purpose and is well received.

PROFESSOR G. GLENWOOD CLARK
Department of English

For almost forty years G. Glenwood Clark has been loved and admired by all those, students and faculty members alike, who have been privileged to associate with him. Throughout the years his great love for his work and his willingness to help have made him the model to which many of his students aspire.

Mr. Clark obtained his B.A. from the University of Richmond in 1925 and came that same year to William and Mary as an instructor in English. He rose to Professor of English in 1956 and in 1957 he became Head of the English Department. In 1958 Mr. Clark was made Chancellor Professor of English. Through these busy years Mr. Clark still found time to work directly with the students. He was faculty advisor for the Flat Hat and also worked on the William and Mary literary magazine.

A variety of interests is another one of Mr. Clark's many attributes. He is the author of historical biographies for children and among his many works are Tiny Toilers and Their Works, Century 1921; Thomas Jefferson, Friend of Liberty, 1947; and Thomas A. Edison, Friend of Mankind, 1950. In addition to writing, Mr. Clark was a book reviewer for the Richmond Times-Dispatch for a number of years. He also taught North American Literature at the National University of Brazil in 1950 and again in 1953. During this period he translated several works into Spanish.

As a reward for his many services to the College, Mr. Clark was made a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. His literary endeavours won for him an honorary membership in Chi Delta Phi.

In view of his outstanding devotion and services to the College of William and Mary and his dedication to his students, and because of his many admirable qualities, we are proud to dedicate the 1964 COLONIAL ECHO to G. Glenwood Clark.

A familiar walk for Mr. Clark.

THE BOARD OF VISITORS

First Row: C. K. Hutchens, W. G. Mason, D. Y. Paschall, C. S. Hutcheson, Rector, J. B. Woodward, Jr., Vice-Rector, W. B. George, Secretary.
Second Row: T. E. Temple, J. A. Shield, W. F. Duckworth, H. L. Hooker, J. P. Harper, F. Ernst, H. H. Ware, Jr., W. S. Robertson, M. C. Andrews

The Board of Visitors has had an unbroken line of authority for the College of William and Mary since the royal charter was first proclaimed in 1693. This ancient charter is still in effect in as far as it is harmonious with the By-Laws of the Board and the general laws of the State of Virginia. The Board is a time-established integral part of the traditions of the College of William and Mary.

The Board of Visitors is the governing body of the College of William and Mary. In addition, it establishes the policies and supervises the operation of the two-year colleges: Richard Bland College in Petersburg, and Christopher Newport College in Newport News. The Governor of the State of Virginia appoints fourteen members at large who serve without compensation. The Superintendent of Public Instruction is a member ex officio.

The members are appointed biennially and serve a term of four years. At the end of their terms they may be reappointed for one additional successive term of four years. When it is time to select new members for the Board the Society of the Alumni submits to the Governor a list of those qualified for positions on the Board. Although he is not obligated to do so, the Governor usually makes his selections from this list.

The power to elect a Rector, a Vice-Rector, a Secretary, and to appoint a President, a Faculty, a Bursar, and a Coordinator or Chancellor of the two-year colleges is one of the most important duties possessed by the Board. Meetings are held four times each year, in January, May,

September, and November, and also at the request of five members. The Rector appoints with the Board's approval seven standing committees. To keep the College running smoothly between meetings there is the Executive Committee which consists of the Rector and five members who serve for two years. The Committee on Finance is made up of not less than five members. These men regulate the budget, handle endowments and make investments. The Committee on Grounds and Buildings is also made up of not less than five members and handles all matters relating to the buildings and grounds of the College. The Committee on Two-Year Colleges handles all matters pertaining to the physical and educational properties of these schools. The Committee on Honorary Degrees is composed of seven members and selects those to receive honorary degrees from the names submitted to them by other members of the Board. The Committee on Development consults with the President on the ways and means of implementing scientific projects in the general plan of development for the College, and is empowered to perform and appropriate acts to further such implementation.

Members of the Board of Visitors are: Judge C. S. Hutcheson, Rector; J. B. Woodward, Jr., Vice-Rector; W. B. George, Secretary; W. F. Duckworth, J. P. Harper, H. L. Hooker, C. K. Hutchens, T. E. Temple, H. H. Ware, Jr., M. C. Andrews, F. Ernst, W. G. Mason, W. S. Robertson, and J. A. Shield.

THE PRESIDENT

In the four years that he has served as the President of the College of William and Mary, Dr. Davis Y. Paschall has become an important part of the lives of both the students and the faculty. To them he has been a friend, an administrator, and an advisor.

His genuine interest in them can be seen and felt by all the students. He participates actively in all phases of campus life. To see the President at football and basketball games is now a usual occurrence, and Dr. Paschall often drives to Richmond and Washington to see the teams play. He has also tried through lectures and programs to create in the students a desire to learn a subject for its own sake and not just for the grade.

Dr. Paschall came to the College after serving as State Superintendent of Public Instruction. By his deep appreciation for the values of a good education he has aided and encouraged the members of the faculty in their work.

On February 22, 1964, the Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, announced the reciprocity of the George Washington Honor Medal Award by Dr. Davis Y. Paschall, President of the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

The award was made in recognition of a public address given by President Paschall entitled, "The Challenge of Our Times," in which he declared that "Today, as in 1776, the true revolutionary doctrine is not the Communist Manifesto, but the history-shaking pronouncement . . . that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

The Freedoms Foundation honors annually those who make significant contributions toward a better understanding and a greater appreciation of "the American way of life."

Each student is treated as an individual by the President and his charming wife. To further their relationship with the students the Paschalls make an effort to meet and talk to each of them at teas given for each class. Any student wishing to call at their home will find Mrs. Paschall a gracious hostess and will be entertained as a welcome guest.

William and Mary is quite fortunate to have as its twenty-third president a man as dedicated and enthusiastic as Davis Y. Paschall.

ACADEMIC LIFE

Academic study is the very vitality of college life itself. The purpose for matriculation into any college is to learn. Each student picks for himself the college which he feels will best suit his academic needs.

William and Mary was chartered in 1693 and even at that time it was to be a place to train inquiring minds. This charter provided a variety of courses and subjects in which the student was to be trained. Graduates realized the importance of this type of "Liberal Arts" education and were constantly innovating and expanding already existing departments. Thomas Jefferson urged the addition of a law school which made William and Mary the first university. The departments of Fine Arts, Modern Languages, teacher training and even the admission of women students are all the result of the work of alumni who have an eye to the future and a firm hold on the traditions of the past.

The professor plays a great role in the academic life of any campus and must have a command of his subject. This cannot be an internal knowledge and explanation, for he must be able to present his material in such a way that the student's mind can grasp and retain it. Thus, the teacher is constantly seeking newer and more complete answers to the questions asked in class. His position is such that he may be the source of inspiration to the student and he must strive to attain the ideal seen in him.

The position of the professor is heightened by the type of school in which he teaches. Here at William and Mary the student is required to take introductory courses in many subjects. This makes the job of the teacher doubly important. He must create such an interest in the student that he will pursue the subject further and make it meaningful to himself. To stimulate this interest the teacher often assigns outside projects which the student can develop in any of several ways. Here his intellect is free to grow at its own rate of speed. By finding out what he does not know he can reach a factual basis from which to study.

The presence of the student on the campus is the moving force of the college. In an effort to keep abreast with the times, entrance requirements and the difficulty of the work are raised even higher. The classroom is but one phase of his academic life. It provides a place where the student may have his course of study channeled and his questions concerning his work or related material answered. Most of his learning, however, takes place outside the classroom.

A desk piled high with books and papers is a familiar sight to the many students who spend not a few hours each day reading or struggling with a formula that will not fit a problem. Lights burning late in one of the academic buildings is another sign of industrious students trying to prepare for classes or tests. Many get their academic stimulation from methods other than books. Visiting Scholars find their lectures crowded with students eager for a new opinion on a subject or a better explanation of one they have already formed.

The arrival of final examinations culminates each semester's work when students spend many extra hours studying, for it is the time to coordinate all they have learned in one field. They must decide what meaning this will give to their futures, and must also correlate it with the other courses which they are taking.

Some of the rewards for this academic growth are quite obvious. A shiny gold Phi Beta Kappa key denotes to all who see it the highest reward given for outstanding achievement. Another sign is the multi-colored ribbons of an honorary fraternity. To those who attain these, recognition is also due. However, for many the signs of academic growth are purely internal. For some it may be a new concept or the understanding of a new theory which makes them aware of their intellectual growth. For others it might be the ability to apply new learning to life after their thoughts are analyzed and evaluated in the light of those of their associates and professors. For all who come here the acquisition of knowledge brings to the student a self-realization and a satisfaction for himself, his associates and his college.

CLASS OF '64

"Time passes so quickly; the present is but a grain of sand amidst the sentiment of the past and the grandeur of the future."

With the fury of hurricane Donna, our Freshman Class was ushered in with a whirl that seemed to characterize our entire four years at William and Mary. No sooner had we found all the rooms of our classes, when the Sophomores accosted us demanding oral recitations of the Priorities and songs sung from the balcony in the cafe. Duc Week proved to be exciting and we rebelled with rallies in the Sunken Garden and antics in the Grand High Tribunal. With the coming of Spring, our interests increased as Rush brought many new fraternity and sorority pledges. Our spirit never ceased and the Class of 1964 became united for the first time in facing the fulfilling years that lay ahead.

The following year dawned with a grander enthusiasm that was epitomized with our awe and excitement at the Inauguration of President Paschall, who entered his office at the same time that we were beginning our college careers. As the year progressed, we began to exploit the privileges of Sophomores with our own ideas as to how Duc Week should be run. As a class, we claimed the initial use of the tunnel and the sporadic raids on Freshman dorms; as a year we will all remember the spontaneous pantie-raid during winter exams.

With the vigor and excitement of our first two years behind us, our Junior status brought us a realization of leadership and the awareness of our purpose in education in attaining our individual goals in life.

The climax of our unforgettable college days arrived all too quickly. From a Senior combo party at Lake Matoaka in the fall to Class Day in the Spring, college days were slipping away. Our Senior year, long anticipated, placed us in the leadership positions on campus; but our places would soon be the majestic Wren Building to receive our fulfilling rewards. But these four years, filled with social inspiration and academic aspiration, will never be forgotten. William and Mary was the strengthening of our potential and it shall always be here to praise our forthcoming actualization. We will always remember . . .

"William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark upon the gale,
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater, Hail!"

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

First Row: L. MEUSHAW; A. BASKERVILL.
Second Row: P. MACINTOSH;
T. VAUGHAN

CLASS OF '65

Members of the Junior class were amazed continually throughout their Junior year with the realization that they had entered the second half of their four-year college experience. Junior girls have taken desk duty numerous times while Junior boys have made countless "Deli runs." The bricks on the sidewalks and the trees of the campus seemed old familiar friends as Juniors continued their day-by-day association with the campus.

To the Juniors, deepening friendships with classmates and a deeper appreciation of the academic material of their major accompanied the feeling of thorough familiarity with the campus. President Paschall's tea for the class was an opportunity to enter the President's house and chat with Dr. and Mrs. Paschall.

Besides the President's tea, the Juniors participated in Junior Class Day at Lake Matoaka, a tradition which the class has maintained for two years. Volleyball, refreshments, and a folk-singing group helped make Junior Class Day a memorable afternoon.

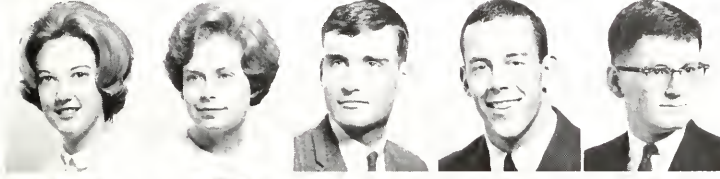

With the confidence which comes from three years at William and Mary, the Juniors look forward to a culminating Senior year.

CLASS OF '66

The Class of 1966, having completed its adjustment to college life, has become an integral part of the William and Mary student body. As members of the student body, the Sophomores have found numerous opportunities to develop their special interests and abilities. The class hosts a number of students outstanding on the campus. In addition to many Dean's List students, many Sophomores have distinguished themselves as student leaders and athletes.

In spite of its varied groups, the Class of 1966 has still retained the class spirit that characterized it last year. In fact its enthusiasm has even spread to this year's Freshman Class. During Duc Week, this spirit was evident.

To carry out the program of Duc Week, a special committee composed of ten Sophomores was appointed by the class president. Highlights of Duc Week were the car wash, proceeds of which were turned over to the Freshman Class, and the Most Exalted Grand High Tribunal at which disobedient Freshmen were "punished." The week's activities were concluded by a dance held in the Student Center.

In the early Spring many members of the class attended the Sophomore Tea at the President's house. A reception at the President's house has become a tradition for the Sophomore Class.

The final event of the year was the Sophomore Class Day. Everyone who attended thought it was an appropriate way to mark the half-way point in their college career.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

Seated: B. HERBERT; R. NEYLAND;

CLASS OF '67

It was a rainy day when we all arrived half-reluctant, half-eager to become students at William and Mary. The Class of '67 was not one to sit around though. The social life soon began with the freshman mixers and the year was under way.

For a week we were on our own, then the upper-classmen arrived to show us who was boss. Being an unusually high-spirited class, we naturally objected by holding a mass rally in the Sunken Garden. The Freshman girls' dorms were attacked en masse by the sophomore girls, but instead of retaliation, a peaceful, though effective, counterattack was launched.

Due Week was an unforgettable time. Jockey Corner, the underground tunnel, and the Caf were places to be avoided, for Sophomores waited in groups to heckle unfortunate "beanie-wearers." We learned and soon forgot the priorities, the hymn and the Alma Mater.

Before long we were a part of this school, and seeing a need for uniting our class, we chose officers. Twenty-six classmates campaigned, swamped the campus with posters, and gave speeches at the election rally. The following day Gary King was elected President, Rand Neyland, Vice President; Barbara Herbert, Secretary-Treasurer; and Cathy Crofoot, Historian.

THE DEAN and the LAW FACULTY

The Marshall-Wythe School of Law was established at William and Mary in 1779 and is the oldest law school in the country. The name comes from two of our famous forefathers—John Marshall, the renowned statesman, and George Wythe, a student and later the professor of law at the school.

Upon entrance into the school the student receives a basic course which will prepare him for a general law practice. In addition there are courses for those wishing to go into Business Law and also for graduate study in law and taxation.

One of the many and most frequently used assets of the law school is its library which contains over 31,000 volumes including the National Reporter System and the American Digest System. Each year the students have a mock trial in which the defendant and participators come from the undergraduate school. This gives the aspiring lawyers practice and also stimulates the interest of the college students. Under the able guidance and leadership of Dean Joseph Curtis the Marshall-Wythe School of Law continues to grow and increase its reputation as one of the finest law schools in the country.

Marshall-Wythe School of Law Annual Mock Trial

STUDENT BAR

The Student Bar at the College of William and Mary was created for introducing law students to the problems and responsibilities which they will incur in their profession. It acquaints them with the opportunities and obligations which they face in the legal field.

Each year the organization sponsors a "mock trial" in which the law students serve as the prosecutor and the defender, and the parties involved are portrayed by undergraduates. In addition the organization sponsors movies, and discussions and lectures in which men prominent in the legal field participate.

PHI ALPHA DELTA

The George Wythe Chapter at the College of William and Mary of Phi Alpha Delta, national honorary legal fraternity, invites outstanding law students who have achieved a 1.0 overall average into its membership.

In an effort to stimulate interest in the profession, Phi Alpha Delta sponsors competitive discussions, debates and intramural "mock trials." Also they plan several social functions throughout the year to prove that the profession is not all work.

ORGANIZATIONS

"One way to make Phi Beta"

Phi Beta Kappa was founded at William and Mary on December 5, 1776, and is the oldest Greek letter fraternity. An invitation to this honor society is the reward given for outstanding scholarship during college. The original chapter met in the Appollo Room of the Raleigh Tavern here in Williamsburg. The group consisted of many young notables; among them was John Marshall who later became Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. The approach of Cornwallis' army in 1760 forced the college to close and with it the fraternity. However, it was revived in 1851 and again in 1893 and has had a continuous existence since that time.

The initiation of new members takes place in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall on December 5 each year. The ceremony is followed by a dinner which may be attended by the public. After dinner Dr. Laurence H. Chamberlin, the Vice President of Columbia University, spoke on "Issues in Higher Education—Old and New." Another honored guest was Richard Eberhard, poet in residence at Dartmouth.

In the Spring 17 new members were added to the Phi Beta Kappa honor roll. They were Karen Back, Neota Hall, Joan H. Phillips, Frederick L. Dudley, Jennings Sharon Heywood, Sharon Z. Morris, Wilbur L. Davidson, Jr., William Jones Hutcheson, Paul Davidson Woodson, Charles Traeger, John Christopher Pollard, Mary Elizabeth Green, Mary Anita Jones, Margaret Gates Baker, Harold Anthony Gillies, John Cameron Hoppe, David Carter Hunter.

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, is composed of undergraduates and faculty members who have made outstanding contributions in the field of journalism. New members are elected twice each year from the staffs of the newspaper, the yearbook, the literary magazine, and the radio station. Membership requirements include work on one or more of the above mentioned publications for at least a year, a 1.4 academic average, and participation in other extracurricular activities.

Some of the main purposes of the fraternity are to give recognition to superior collegiate journalists, to instill in its members the desire to maintain high standards of quality and integrity in their work on publications, and to bring together members of the various publications in a common endeavor.

Each year Pi Delta Epsilon sponsors a Publications Forum in September to introduce the new freshmen to the publications on Campus, and every spring, in conjunction with the Publications Committee, the fraternity sponsors the Publications Banquet. At this latter affair student journalists are honored and the new Miss William and Mary is formally announced.

Officers of Pi Delta Epsilon are Mike Flattery, president; Bill Black, vice president; Bruce Potter, treasurer; and Kay Burdett, secretary.

This National Honorary Fraternity is made up of junior and senior men, who are found to be outstanding in scholarship, and in general campus activities. It was founded in 1914 with the chief purpose in mind to recognize high achievement and to attain cooperative student-faculty relationships.

Omicron Delta Kappa sponsors the Spring Leadership Forum, which was held on November 23 this past year. Representatives from each campus organization partake in this Forum, and discuss current leadership problems.

The fraternity, along with Mortar Board, also sponsors the Yule Log Ceremony held in December of each year. Christmas caroles ring out, as the student body participates in the age old ceremony.

ODK has and continues to be a fraternity to uphold and inspire interest in general campus activities. It adds its part to help make William and Mary acceptable socially, culturally, and morally.

The president this year is Tony Steinmeyer. He is aided by Saumy Sadler, Mr. Smith, and Dean Lambert, who are the Vice President, Secretary-Treasurer, and Alumni Advisor, respectively.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

First Row: T. Steinmeyer; D. Hunter; J. W. Lambert; S. Sadler; R. Hardy. Second Row: H. Smith; J. Quinn; R. W. Kernodle; B. Reigelman; J. Gimmel

Mortar Board, National Senior Women's Honor Society, bases its membership on outstanding leadership, scholarship, and service. One of its objectives is the encouragement of these qualities on the part of the women students of the College. Another is their continuance on the part of the members, in the effort to serve the College community.

Each year Mortar Board presents one or more scholarships to deserving women. Fund-raising activities to aid in this project include the Used-Furniture Sale during Orientation Week, the Mum Sale during Homecoming and the silver and china displays.

Co-sponsorship with Omicron Delta Kappa of the Yule Log Ceremony the week before Christmas vacation is another traditional activity.

Members are tapped each spring at the All College Honors Convocation.

This year's officers are Nancy Ratz, president; Karen Back, vice president; Tish Paschall, secretary; Shauncen Cruise, treasurer; Polly Bean, historian; and Cam Walker, editor.

The Queen's Guard Association is made up of members of the Queen's Guard, the precision drill team of the Reserve Officers Training Corps. In the four short years since its initiation the Queen's Guard has already established a national reputation, winning honors in several competitions throughout the east coast. Their precision work is accentuated by the smartness of their uniforms. The team is dressed in bright red and black uniforms with a baldric of pleated Stuart tartan.

The purpose of the Association is to encourage the membership of qualified students in the Queen's Guard, and to further the interest of the students and faculty in it. This year Pete Komelski served as the President of the Association and was assisted by drill Captain Don Kerr.

The stimulation of original creative writing and the promotion of interest in good literature are two main objectives of Chi Delta Phi, the national honorary literary sorority.

To achieve these purposes, the members participate in discussions of their own or others' creative works or sponsor guest speakers and writers. This year they are engaging in a creative writing contest among themselves.

Any woman may seek admission to the group by submitting three pieces of her own creative writing to be judged.

Officers for this year are Sandy Heagy, president; Susan Howard, vice president; Jeanne English, recording secretary; Judy Clark, corresponding secretary; and Doriss Dameron, treasurer. Mr. Dabney Stuart is the faculty advisor.

ETA SIGMA PHI

Eta Sigma Phi was founded at the University of Chicago in 1914 and was incorporated into a national fraternity in 1927. The purpose of the society is to further the spirit of cooperation and good will among the members of classical departments, to stimulate interest in study of the classics, and to increase knowledge of the art and literature of ancient Greece and Rome. Membership is open to both men and women who have maintained a high average in ancient languages for three semesters. New members are pledged in December and initiated in the Spring.

The club sponsors many lectures during the year given by both faculty members and outside speakers which are open to the public. Serving as president this year was Mary Anita Jones. The faculty advisor is Dr. George Ryan.

PSI CHI

Psi Chi is the National Society in Psychology and a member of the American Psychological Association, and now in its third year of operation on the William and Mary Campus. Members chosen are outstanding undergraduates, graduate students and faculty members who are chosen twice a year. The purpose of Psi Chi is "primarily to advance the science of psychology; and secondly, to encourage, stimulate, and maintain the scholarship of the individual members in all academic fields, particularly in psychology." Psi Chi sponsors varied programs of interest as well as the open house in the spring. One major undertaking is the encouragement of research projects among Psi Chi members. Psi Chi also features lecturers prominent in the fields of psychology, and shares a picnic with the Psychology Club in the spring. The faculty sponsor is Dr. Stanley B. Williams and the officers are: Nancy Mahoney, president; Linda Walker, vice president; and Diane Wilkins, secretary-treasurer.

PI DELTA PHI

First Row: S. Sawyer, H. A. Gillis, M. Bean, B. L. Smith, S. Morris. Second Row: T. McCullough, C. West, W. Deppe

Pi Delta Phi is the National French Honor Society dedicated to greater understanding of the French language and civilization.

New members are elected bi-annually into Beta Epsilon Chapter on the basis of scholarship in French and overall academic standing. Initiates must have a 2.0 average in French and a 1.8 overall average.

The society sponsors two scholarships and the annual Jules A. Verne Award, presented to the outstanding student of French in each chapter of Pi Delta Phi. The 1963 recipient of this award was Sharon Morris.

Activities this year included a faculty-student reception held in November for prospective French majors and French students.

Officers for the 1963-64 session were: Tony Gillies, president; Martha Bean, vice president; Betty Linn Smith, secretary; and Sharon Morris, treasurer. Dr. Gordon B. Ringgold served as advisor for the group.

KAPPA DELTA PI

First Row: C. Harris, K. O'Connor, V. Rosado, P. Bridges, M. Ruddel. Second Row: P. Bean, P. Hegemann, J. Norment, S. Roache, J. Lee, S. Stitt

Kappa Delta Pi grew out of the Illinois Education Club founded at the University of Illinois in 1809. Its purpose is "to encourage high professional, intellectual, and personal standards." In order to fulfill this purpose, juniors and seniors who have the necessary qualifications are elected to join this society. They must have a good scholastic average and plan to enter the teaching profession.

The club meets several times each year and members discuss new ideas and other topics relating to their field. The officers for this year were President, Val Rosado; Vice President, Barbara Bridges; Secretary, Kathy O'Connor, and Treasurer, Marion Ruddel.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta, the Freshman-Sophomore women's honorary scholastic fraternity, received its national charter on this campus in 1961. The qualification for membership is a 2.5 average for the first semester of the freshman year or a total 2.5 average for the entire freshman year.

The purpose of Alpha Lambda Delta is to encourage scholastic attainment and a higher standard of learning among underclass women. This year the William and Mary Chapter, one of over 120 national chapters, sponsored a spring banquet to honor both incoming and outgoing members.

The officers for the 1963-64 school year are Dena Kay Wade, president; Carolyn Hitt, vice president; Gladys Holland, secretary; Linda Gray, treasurer. Dean Donaldson is advisor and Miss Barksdale is a faculty sponsor.

First Row: L. Gray, D. K. Wade, P. Bean, C. Hitt, G. Holland. Second Row: S. Swarts, N. Gotwald, P. Johnstone, M. Sherman, C. Hudson, K. Carr, S. Hackney, F. Cole, D. Province

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade is the honorary military fraternity for outstanding R.O.T.C. students. Its purpose is to cultivate high standards of leadership, scholarship, and character. Members, chosen for their military and leadership ability, are elected by the existing group and are tapped at the fall and spring R.O.T.C. reviews.

Company K of the 8th Regiment was established at William and Mary in 1949. The group sponsors the John Reagen Memorial competition and tries to further student interest in the military affairs of the college and the nation.

TAU KAPPA ALPHA

First Row: L. Marinelli, D. Province, S. Reynolds, J. Harris, D. Cave. Second Row: G. Kirk, S. Mansfield, B. West, T. Steinmeyer, D. McConkey—Faculty sponsor

Tau Kappa Alpha is the honorary forensics fraternity. Its members come from the outstanding debaters of the Intercollegiate Debate Council. They must have at least two years of debating experience and be in the upper third of their class. Those who qualify are nominated and elected by their professors. Each year the chapter competes in the Virginia Regional Tau Kappa Alpha Debate Tournament.

In April, the William and Mary chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary society for dramatics, hosted a nation-wide convention. The two-day convention featured several speakers.

Theta Alpha Phi sponsors pre-show lectures on performances given by the William and Mary Theatre. This year, Dr. Nunes, Dr. Neiman, and Dr. Golden were guest speakers.

After each William and Mary Theatre performance, Theta Alpha Phi sponsors a post-dramatem session. These sessions are conducted by the sponsor of the group, Dr. Howard Scammon. The entire campus is invited to participate in both the pre-show lectures and in the post-dramatems.

The 1963-64 officers were Thomas Ward, president; Tobey Sindt, vice president; Carol Jones, secretary; Bob Gaines, treasurer, and Anne Dixon, historian.

DELTA OMICRON

The international woman's music fraternity, Delta Omicron, was founded in 1909 at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. Its purpose is to develop closer friendship among music students to develop character, leadership, and scholarship, and to encourage excellence of individual performance and appreciation of good music.

This year at William and Mary, the Delta Tau Chapter sponsored a dinner in honor of their founders' day, had a visit from their national president, and participated in a campus sing. They support the Music Aid Fund.

THE STUDENT

BILL CORLEY, President, Student Association

The Student Assembly is the legislative part of the Student Government. It is considered as the most important division of the government since it is the most representative.

The purposes of the Student Assembly are to bring the ideas of the students to the assembly for discussion, vote, and upon approval, send them to the Board of Visitors. This organization keeps the students informed on what is being done, and is always ready to listen to any suggestions at their open meetings.

There are sixty-three members in the assembly. Led by the three Student Government officers are President of IFC, President of WDA and of Pan-Hell, president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer of each class, along with fifty-seven representatives from the dormitories, fraternity row, and sorority court. The Day Students are also equally represented; these members each representing fifty students.

ASSOCIATION

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The executive branch of the Student Government has two main functions. First, it organizes the standing committees of the Student Assembly. These committees in turn may function by themselves and make their own decisions. Secondly, this council finds in its rights and duties to bring up all or any ideas that have come to its attention and to discuss them. Then it must present this legislation to the Student Assembly for further discussion and debate. Also, this council is ready to advise the President of the Student Body whenever he requests such advice.

The members of the Executive Council include the three officers of the Student Government, President and Vice President of each class, and the chairman of the standing committees.

MEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

The honor system which is used in many colleges and universities throughout the country was established at William and Mary in 1779. It is one of the most important and also one of the most cherished of the priorities of this College.

The first job of the Honor Council is to acquaint the freshmen and men transfer students with the high standards held by the College and also with the things that constitute an honor offense. Each student must pledge himself not to cheat, steal, or lie. Neither must he allow this behavior to exist in his fellow students.

The Honor Council is an active force on the campus, as it emphasizes individual responsibility. Several times during the year the students are reminded of their personal obligation, their rights, and their limitations as they are set up under the system.

The primary function of the Honor Council is to investigate honor offenses and hold trials whenever necessary. In addition, it is the duty of the Honor Council to preside over student elections, count the ballots, and post the results.

The Men's Honor Council is run entirely by the students themselves. Service on this Council gives authentic experience with the judicial system because the testimonies are heard and the verdicts are rendered by the members themselves.

WOMEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

KAREN BACK, Chairman

No society can long exist without personal honor and responsibility on the part of each of the members. At William and Mary the Honor Code places special emphasis upon the individual's role in maintaining high standards of conduct. To this end every incoming freshman must pledge to neither lie, steal, or cheat, and to report these offenses in others. To enforce the spirit of the Honor Code two Honor Councils, the Men's Honor Council and the Women's Honor Council, have been established.

The Women's Honor Council consists of eight members: Karen Back, chairman; Beth Childs, vice chairman; Kathy Wiese, secretary; Linda Walker, senior representative; Susan Roberts, and Jay Louise Weldon, junior representatives; and Cam Buchanan and Carolyn Hitt, sophomore representatives. These dedicated girls petitioned for nomination and were duly elected to their offices last spring.

The main concern of the Women's Honor Council is the investigation of honor offenses involving women students. They determine whether or not an offense has been committed and recommend a penalty. The president and deans then thoroughly review the case and make the final decision regarding the penalty.

In addition to its regular duties of administrating the Honor Code among the women students, the Women's Honor Council also participated in Orientation Week, familiarizing the Freshman Class with the system and supervising the signing of the pledge cards. In dormitory talks, members of the Women's Honor Council reminded the women of the responsibilities they assume when taking final exams under the Honor System.

WOMEN'S DORMITO

First Row: J. Clark, M. Robert, V. Jones, C. Walker, M. Milona, G. West, D. Dettmer. Second Row: J. Stern, S. Minnick, D. Delaney, P. Bean, M. Temple, B. Hopson, M. Erskine. Third Row: S. Gebhart, S. Kerby, M. Anderson, B. McDermott, S. Forstbauer

Under President Vee Jones, the WDA or Women's Dormitory Association maintains the responsibility of enforcing the social rules of the dormitories. These rules are carried out by the Dormitory Council of WDA, which is composed of the four officers of WDA and all the dormitory presidents. The Administration of the College has given the responsibility of maintaining the conduct of the women students to the Dormitory Council.

The Women's Dormitory Association is an organization which exercises influence over the great majority of the women students at William and Mary, since each woman student who lives in a College dormitory must comply with the WDA rules.

Three general meetings of WDA were held this year at Phi Beta Kappa Hall. At the fall meeting of freshmen and transfer students, Vee introduced herself, Vice President Cam Walker, Secretary Marge Robert, and Treasurer Mar-C Milona. The four officers compose the Executive Cabinet of the Woman's Dormitory Association. The officers explained to the freshmen and transfer students the dormitory rules and presided over a written test given to these new students to make sure that they understood the WDA rules.

Two meetings were held second semester; at the first of these meetings, suggestions for rule changes were taken and put to a vote of all the women students. One important change enacted last year was the lengthening of the Friday night social hours from 11 p.m. to 12 midnight. At the last meeting of the year, next year's officers were installed.

The Dormitory Council of the Women's Dormitory Association is responsible for the functioning of the Association. It is composed of the four WDA officers and the presidents of each dormitory, and has charge of the maintenance of a high standard of conduct for the women students.

In the individual dormitories, WDA rules are enforced by the House Council, consisting of the officers of the dormitory and the hall proctors.

Each woman student residing in a dormitory is given a WDA handbook at the beginning of the year, and is expected to know the rules of the dormitories. For violations of these rules, WDA has certain established penalties which are given automatically to the offenders. These penalties include signing in one hour early for one week, and being placed on strict campus for a specified number of days.

In addition to the duties connected with enforcing the social rules, WDA sends its President to the Student Association, sponsors a housemother's tea, and cooperates with the College Administration in selecting sponsors and Ludwell house presidents. Plans are being made to provide a scholarship for a deserving woman student.

DORMITORY ASSOCIATION

WDA PRESIDENT

The President of the Women's Dormitory Association is elected each year in the Spring. The Dormitory Council presents two nominations for each Dormitory Council office. Other candidates may petition and run for the offices if they qualify. The candidate must be a rising senior and must also have served a year as a member of the Dormitory Council or on a House Council. Another qualification is that she have an overall 1.0 average and 1.0 for the semester preceding election.

The President presides over all meetings of the Association and the Dormitory Council, she serves as a member of the Discipline Committee when a woman student is involved. She also sets up the Summer School WDA in cooperation with the Chairman of the Honor Council.

V. JONES, WDA President

WDA OFFICERS

In addition to the President, there are three other elected officers in the Women's Dormitory Association. The Vice President must be a rising Senior. She is in charge of the social functions and represents the WDA in orientation week. The Secretary must be a rising Junior. It is her duty to keep the minutes of all WDA and Dormitory Council meetings. The Treasurer must be a rising Sophomore. She is in charge of the collection of WDA funds and also the fines imposed on members.

DR. AND MRS. PASCHALL

Each Fall thirteen students are awarded gold medals engraved with the College Seal and designed by John S. Bryan in 1935. These medals signify that these people have been named as President's Aides by W. M. Jones, Dean of the Faculty. This honor is bestowed on students whose offices have elevated them to distinction.

By virtue of their offices the following are appointed automatically: President of the Student Body; Presidents of the Junior and Senior Classes; Chairman of the Men's and Women's Honor Councils; President of WDA; Chairman of the Judicial Council; President of ODK; President of Mortar Board, and Editor in Chief of The Flat Hat. In addition the President and his wife choose two outstanding students from the Student Body at Large.

The duties of this group range from serving as guides to distinguished visitors to acting as hosts and hostesses at the President's receptions. Also, they comprise a part of the official party at convocations. They walk with the President following the mace.

Yet, their duties are dual in that they serve as representatives of the Student Body in discussions of campus problems and objectives, while at the same time, they serve the administration.

The purpose of Orientation Week is to help freshmen become familiar with the College and College life. Each spring sponsors and group leaders, who assist the Freshmen during their orientation period and through the rest of the year, are selected on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and interest.

For several days before the freshmen arrive, the sponsors go through a training period and are acquainted with their responsibilities. Throughout the week freshmen are helped to become familiar with members of the College faculty, with the honor system, and with various organizations on campus by attending meetings, speeches, and receptions.

Each sponsor and group leader is responsible for a certain number of students, usually from five to seven. The sponsors become acquainted with the students in their groups by corresponding with them during the summer. In addition to conducting their groups around campus, the sponsors also give placement tests to the incoming freshmen. They serve as advisors and counselors and are urged to continue this job throughout the year, developing a close relationship between the sponsors and their sponsor groups.

The head sponsor for freshman women for the 1963-64 session was Susan Stevenson. Her assistant was Lyne Marcus. Bill Cleveland served as head group leader for freshman men, assisted by Scott Ferguson. Dean Lambert, with the aid of Dean Barnes and Dean Donaldson, was in charge of Orientation Week.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS COMMITTEE

First Row: B. Reigelman; G. Pierce, B. Corley. Second Row: J. Marshall, J. Saunders

The Student Publications Committee is composed of the editors of the three College publications: the COLONIAL ECHO, The Flat Hat, and The William and Mary Review. The members of the Committee this year are Jerry Saunders, editor of the COLONIAL ECHO; Bucky Reigelman, editor of The Flat Hat; and Jeff Marshall, editor of The William and Mary Review. In addition to these three are Ginnie Pierce, the Chairman, and Bill Corley, President of the Student Government. There are also two faculty advisors: Dr. Cecil McCulley, who was elected by the Student Activity Fee Committee; and Dr. Alexander Kallox, who was elected by the Committee itself.

The purpose of the Committee is to maintain high standards of journalism in the campus publications. The editors of these publications bring their problems to the bi-monthly meetings and there they are discussed and various solutions are suggested. Although the Committee acts as a coordinator, the final solution of any problem rests with the editor in charge. In this way he keeps his full authority while benefiting from the advice of the members.

This year the Committee sponsored a conference of Sigma Delta Chi, a national journalism fraternity. For this conference they set up a showcase at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall and also had a luncheon for those attending.

In the Spring each of the member editors submits his nominations for an editor to replace him. It is the job of the Committee to approve these nominations. If there is more than one nomination for an editorship, the Committee will select the editor from among the nominees. The Committee also selects the Business Managers for both the COLONIAL ECHO and The Flat Hat at this time.

Later in the season the Committee sponsors the annual Publications Banquet together with Pi Delta Epsilon, the honorary journalism fraternity. The speaker this year was Mr. Newbold Noyse, Editor of the Washington Star. At this banquet awards are made to students who have made outstanding contributions in the field of journalism. The event is also marked by the announcement of Miss William and Mary and the COLONIAL ECHO dedicatee.

To those who see the finished product, the COLONIAL Echo is a pictorial account of life at William and Mary as viewed by the students. This is, of course, the effect which the staff has worked to convey. However, to those who worked to put together the book, it represents a lot of fun and even more work.

COLONIAL

The job of publishing the COLONIAL ECO begins the previous summer. It is then that plans are made for the layout of the book. The cover is designed and the new editor, with a fresh enthusiasm, starts out to change the whole works. When his illusions die down and he gets back to earth and realizes his limitations, and those of his staff and budget, work begins on the book in earnest. With the able and very patient assistance of the printer and engraver a dummy is made of the book. Chances are this dummy will be changed many times in the next few months.

Returning to school in the fall the editor and staff are full of zeal and sure that this will be the best Echo yet. After a short span of 3 weeks at the most, the zeal has died and they'll settle for just getting a book out. Finally, the book is finished and really it's not so bad. Sure, it'll be criticized, but then what isn't?

THE FLAT HAT

The Flat Hat this year, under the leadership of Editor Bucky Reigelman, reflected a more exhaustive coverage of news and a wider editorial policy than ever before. The establishment of "News in Brief" and an administrative "beat system" facilitated an exhaustive system for gathering campus news. The editorial telescope delved into such issues as the Virginia Poll Tax, Alumni contributions, integration in Prince Edward County, and College expansion.

Through its coverage of all campus news, sports, and features the Flat Hat served to pull together the varied interests of students, faculty, and administrators each Friday at 4 p.m. The Flat Hat also provided a ready medium for student and faculty ideas in its lengthy and sometimes controversial Letters to the Editor column.

Reigelman was assisted by two other seniors, Managing Editor Bill Black and Assistant Editor Pete Crow. Other editors were Kay Burdett and Gordon Pehrson, Associate Editors; Sammy Sadler, Business Manager; Joanie Solinger, News Editor; Tom Gardo, Sports Editor; Wilford Kale, Feature Editor; Mike Flattery and Laidler Freeman, Technical Assistants; John Bell, Copy Editor; Ginny Knoop, Make-up Editor; Tony Brodie, Advertising Manager; Bob Gatten, Photography Editor; Nani Hahn, Typing Editor; Don Lefelar, Circulation Manager; Donna Munsey, Exchange Editor; and Mortimer One, Military Consultant.

Seven seniors and juniors served as Editorial Assistants: Sandy Heagy, Bill Hutchinson, Bobbi McDermott, JoAnne Taylor, Diana Weisbrod, Viki Williams, and Carol Anne Wylie.

Fifteen members of the staff travelled to New York City in the autumn to receive an All-American trophy presented to the Flat Hat by the Associated Collegiate Press. The group took part in workshops and listened to the leading journalists in the country.

Such an award reflects the Flat Hat's distinctly outstanding qualities of writing and composition, in addition to its complete wide range news coverage.

The academic year of 1963-64 marked the third and fourth issues of The William and Mary Review, published for the first time in 1962-63. The magazine, incorporating Royalist, the former William and Mary literary magazine, and Seminar, an academic journal published at the college, was headed by Jeffrey Marshall. The William and Mary Review, while it attempts to recognize and stimulate original literary and artistic activity on the campus, represents a vital force in perpetuating and in striving to re-establish creative excellence and provocative insights synonymous with the past heritage of the College of William and Mary. It aims at both student and to a lesser extent faculty participation within the college environment, and in a widening scope outside the campus at the participation of outstanding individuals who are in any way connected with William and Mary. The Editor of 1963-64 interviewed Richard Eberhart, distinguished American poet, poet in residence and Prof. of English at Dartmouth College; and he also invited Pamela Hansford Johnson, noted British authoress and literary critic, to write for the magazine. Contents of the Review included short stories, poetry, and essays as well as photography and art work, contributed by members of both the faculty and student body. The second spring issue was in part a commemoration of the 400th birthday of William Shakespeare's birth.

in modern radio broadcasting techniques. This non-commercial, educational station maintains its studios in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

The staff of WCWM is composed of student volunteers under the able guidance of Mr. James Sawyer, who assumed his duties as director of radio and TV this past summer. This year also marks the addition of the first full-time radio-TV engineer to the staff, Mr. James W. Slate.

The regular broadcasting schedule satisfies a wide variety of listening preferences. Programs range from "Cue," a show of popular music, to "Encore," featuring classical sounds. In addition to the regularly scheduled programming WCWM broadcasts special programs periodically. Due to the success of a rock and roll marathon last June, four have been included in this year's schedule. The radio station has recently had the telephone company install new equipment which greatly improves the quality of remote broadcasting. Consequently, an increased number of remote broadcasts have been planned. These remote shows include live hootenannies and shows from the campus center lobby during Campus Chest Week. In addition, WCWM technicians are on hand to tape such campus events as the concert series, recitals, special lectures, and basketball games.

Completing its fourth full year of operation, the Campus Center has served increasingly as the meeting place for students of the College in offering a variety of educational and recreational programs as well as facilities for music listening, television, billiards, table tennis, shuffleboard, bridge, dancing, moving pictures, meetings, lectures, and musical events. It has provided space, as well, for the offices of the three student publications, COLONIAL Echo, Flat Hat, and The William and Mary Review; Student Government, Pep Club, and "The Wigwam," the popular campus snack bar.

Functioning primarily under the guidance of Activities Supervisors, Student Assistants, and five Student Committees, namely Program, Publicity, Film, Exhibits, and Poster, the Center has offered opportunities for student participation in the organization, publicity, and presentation of its various programs in addition to rendering assistance to academic departments utilizing its facilities. the Center this year has been an expanded Foreign Film Series of seven films representing six different countries, weekly Sunday afternoon and evening moving pictures, movie cartoons during mid-term examinations, week-end dances for freshmen, hootenannies and jazz concerts. Several art exhibits have been featured including paintings and etchings on loan from the Twentieth Century Art Gallery, works by the students of the College, 19th Century toys from the Abby Aldrich Rockefeller Folk Art Collection, and a display of items related to the Art of Falconry.

Over-all programming has been under the able leadership of Kay Bonner, Chairman of the Program Committee with assistance from Beverly Titchel in charge of Publicity, John Saile and Pete Davidson, who were responsible for the selection of domestic and foreign film features, respectively, John Howell who headed the Exhibits Committee and Sharon Bieler, Chairman of the Poster Committee.

THE WILLIAM AND MARY

"Our Town—Wedding Scene."

The 1963-64 season was the 38th year of the William and Mary Theatre. Four superior plays were presented, offering excellent entertainment to the College community. All students of William and Mary were able to audition for parts in any of the plays. Participants in the performances were competitively chosen on the basis of their qualification for the public enactment of the plays.

Our Town, given in October, opened the Theatre's season. Thornton Wilder said about his play that it was "an attempt to find a value above all price for the smallest events in our daily lives." The stage setting was notable in that it was very simple, serving to enforce the importance of the theme: to live life to its utmost.

The production of Lola was an especially exciting event in that it was written by two students of William and Mary, Richard Westlake and Arden Bing, Jr. The play was based on the life of Lola Montez, an aspiring dancer and dramatist, who came to this country in the 1850's. The script portrays her failures, her travels, and her relationships with the people she met.

The third play of the William and Mary Theatre season was Death of a Salesman, by Arthur Miller. Centering around a salesman who felt that his life would best be over, the story of his life and death was told tenderly, with consideration for the dignity of the declining man.

Commemorating the 400th anniversary of the birth of Shakespeare, the season closed with the Theatre's production of Richard III. An intriguing tragedy, the drama concerned Richard's forceful climb to power and his eventual decline.

The William and Mary Theatre sponsored other activities along with the production of four plays. During Orientation Week, an open house was held for the freshmen, acquainting them with the facilities of Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, "the best equipped non-professional theatre in the world." In November the famous Canadian Players were presented in Henry IV, Part I. This play also served as a celebration of Shakespeare's birth; and the players excellently portrayed the theme of Henry's battle against rebel forces. In March the National Players were presented at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall in Oedipus Rex, a classic Greek tragedy.

Assisting the students as invaluable faculty advisors in the presentation of the plays were Mr. Howard Scammon, Director; Mr. Russell T. Hastings, Designer; Mr. Frank Staroba, Playwright; and Mr. Albert Haak, Technical Director.

THE BACKDROP CLUB

First Row: M. Underwood, S. Stitt, J. Davis, C. Jones, L. Blandford. Second Row: B. Mullis, T. Ward, B. Newton, E. Johnson, J. Perry

The Backdrop Club originated at William and Mary in 1938 as a club devoted to the production of a musical comedy each year in May. In its first years, the club produced original plays, but since 1958 has turned to Broadway musicals. This year's production was "Once Upon a Mattress," directed by Jim Perry. The comedy is a ribald staging of the well-known medieval fairy tale, ruled over by a mute king and a talkative queen. All couples in the kingdom are forbidden to marry until the Queen found a suitable mate for her son, Prince Dauntless. Twelve candidates have failed to meet the Queen's strict requirements when the heroine, Princess Winnifred enters the castle by swimming the moat, determined to marry Dauntless.

All directing, acting and production work on the show was done by undergraduate students at the college. The officers for this year's production were: Judy Davis, president, Jimmy Perry, director, Carol Jones, treasurer, Susan Stitt, secretary, and Ed Johnson, publicity business manager. Tom Ward, Blake Newton and Bob Mullis handled the technical aspects of the show, Lucy Blandford and Margaret Underwood were responsible for costumes, and the student advisor was Russell Hastings.

DR. CARL FEHR

On the evening of September the twentieth, the William and Mary Choir began its nineteenth season with an introductory concert to demonstrate to the initiates the standards of musical diversity, choral precision, and tonal quality which have made the Choir nationally famous. This night was a prelude to another session of hard work which is required if difficult music is to be memorized and executed with the precision demanded by Dr. Fehr.

Dr. Carl A. Fehr, or as he is known to his students, "Pappy," has directed the Choir since its beginning in 1945, and it is through his knowledge and perseverance that the Choir has risen to its present renowned position. "Pappy's" aim is to strive constantly for the artistic presentation of a wide range of music so that the audience and the choir members themselves can acquire an appreciation of this cultural aspect. That he has been successful is discernible in the attitudes of all his Choir members, present and past, and in the prestige that the organization has acquired.

The demanding rehearsals allow Dr. Fehr to give the members extensive instruction in dynamics, diction, and tonal quality which erases heterogeneity from the Choir's some sixty members, and yields in its place a blending of what appears to be one voice singing in harmony with itself. The variety of music is keyed to concert recital with Baroque, Classicist, Romantic, Contemporary, and other modes of music—all employed as there is no room for stagnated sameness in an organization of this character.

In December, the Choir, assisted by the Chamber Players, presented Buxtehude's "The Infant Jesus" and "In Dulci Jubilo" in the opening part of the program. Next came Gianinni's motet "Joy to the World," an American folk tune "The Cherry Tree Carol" and other contemporary selections. The concert was concluded with the Choir processing into the audience where, joined by a Brass ensemble and the audience, a number of Christmas carols was sung ending with the Choir returning to the stage singing "Silent Night."

For the Spring concerts a larger contemporary work, "The Duruffe Requiem" was performed with distinctness and quality which surpassed the expectations of the Choir members themselves. The concert also included works of Wagner, Bizet, and other composers, contemporary and classical, and ended with a series of operatic selections.

Aside from the annual Winter and Spring campus concerts, the Choir performs for many College and community-sponsored programs. In addition to this, the Choir represents the College in many of the nation's major eastern cities. The touring Choir consists of forty members chosen competitively on a basis of musical qualifications, character, and personality. The annual tour is credited with developing a great deal of enthusiasm for the College among those who attend the concerts and who assist the Choir in making the necessary arrangements.

While the basic purpose of the William and Mary Choir is the artistic performance of choral compositions, it provides far more than an exposure to culture for the members. It is a combination of pride in one's achievements, the friends one makes, the sharing of disappointment and happiness. Indeed to the members of this organization it is, and shall remain, an integral portion of their lives.

Twice every week Ewell 100 is filled with the voices of 60 women who, under the direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr compose the William and Mary Chorus. The goal of the Chorus is to acquaint the women on campus with various types of musical arrangements and to provide them with an opportunity for musical expression with extensive training.

The driving force in the Chorus is "Pappy" Fehr who through his expert tutelage and vast experience molds the assorted voices into the melodic strains so well received by the audiences. "Pappy" makes the long and arduous rehearsals pass quickly and pleasantly by providing a challenging but interesting respite from the college rigors.

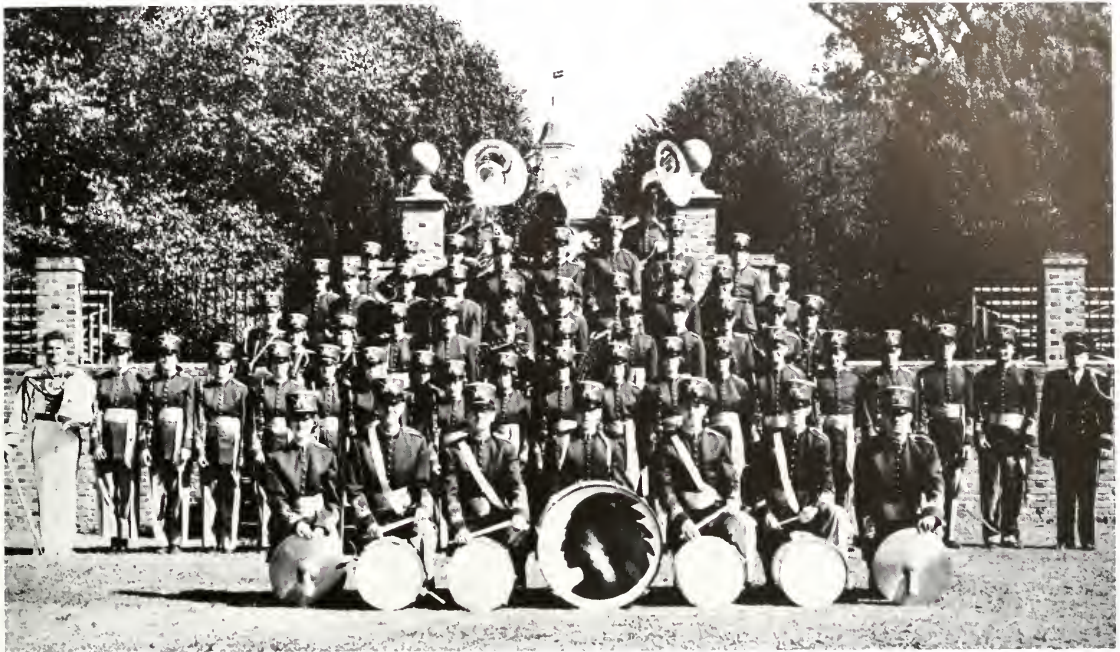

The Chorus joins with the Choir in the presentation of the annual Christmas and Spring concerts and also participates in the outdoor spring concerts and the convocation ceremonies. Dr. Fehr attempts to present programs drawn from a varied spectrum of musical modes so as to acquaint the Chorus and the audience with a broad range of music.

For Christmas the Chorus presented a selection of Polish Christmas Carols and other seasonal arrangements. "The Birth of Our Lord" by the contemporary composer Martinu with a violin accompaniment by Andre Harres, and "Christmas Dance of the Shepherd" by Kodaly accompanied on the piccolo by Scott Hershey were praised by all for the coordination of the voices and the instruments. For the Spring concert the Chorus presented "Missa Brevis" by Britten, a famed contemporary composer.

The work is often hectic and the memory schedules difficult, but the personal satisfaction associated with the knowledge of overcoming the pitfalls of a varied program and presenting an expert rendition of difficult music makes the adventure for each girl a worthwhile and fulfilling experience.

Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon during the Fall, the sound of the William and Mary drill band is heard drifting across the campus from the Phi Beta field. The many hours spent at these practices can be seen by all during the pre-game and the half-time shows at the football games. The pre-game show had the band form the letters of each school and play their fight song. The half-time show featured the songs of Hogy Carmichael. The band in a wheel form played "Up the Lazy River" and then changed to "Georgia." One of the highlights was "Stardust" played by the band in a star form and featuring Jeff Kelly as the trumpet soloist.

After the close of football season, thoughts turned to more serious matters and practices began for the concert season. In addition to the annual concert presented each Spring in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, the band takes a Spring concert tour. Once again this year, the band crossed the Mason-Dixon line and toured through New York, New Jersey, and Delaware. The trip provided the band members with a chance to prove themselves before a strange audience and also gave them a chance to enjoy themselves and make use of the intellectual and education resources to be found in these new cities.

Informal concerts held during the Spring in the Wren Courtyard were a very important part of the band's schedule. These concerts provided an hour of relaxation for students and eased the strain of studying for exams. The band was joined by the Chorus and Choir for these concerts.

The music featured this year was the "1812 Overture," as well as Handel in the "Strand and Crown Imperial." This year, a piano concerto was presented featuring a student soloist. In a lighter vein was the music from the Broadway production, Brigadoon.

Director of the William and Mary band was Mr. Charles Varner, a graduate of Northwestern University. Now in his tenth year as director, his able guidance has caused an increasing interest in the band. His knowledge and advice have increased the quality of the band and therefore, he has increased the pride of the students. All the students and band members admire and respect him for the work he has done.

Serving as President of the band this year was Robert Lent.

The Intercollegiate Debate Council is a member of a national organization of similar councils. This national quality gives the organization the opportunity to encounter intercollegiate academic competition with other councils from different colleges and universities throughout the nation. In addition to this, the Council offers students the opportunity to acquaint themselves with public speaking, current topics, and the views of others. Each year the Council takes part in several contests along the East Coast and sponsors the Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament here at William and Mary.

For each of these debates a predetermined question was decided by representatives from every participating school. The purpose of this is to make certain that all the debates are of the same nature.

The members of the Council are chosen according to their ability to express their ideas as clearly and concisely as possible. Much research is necessary to prepare for forthcoming debates, and often the members write to outside sources for further information in order to establish a better delivery of the subject material. The subject remains unchanged throughout the year.

The Council which was led this year by Tony Steinmeyer, is composed of about 16 members who are divided into several two-man teams. These teams compete with similarly constructed teams from other schools. The team is divided in half with one half taking the negative viewpoint and the other arguing from a positive standpoint.

William and Mary's Student Education Association is one of eighteen active chapters in Virginia of the national Student Education. This organization is the student counterpart of the National Education Association. It endeavors to acquaint prospective teachers with all the different aspects of the field of education and to inspire high standards of excellence in the profession of teaching.

This year there are seventy-five students participating in the Student Education. Membership in the Association is open to every student desiring to enter the field of education. Each member receives the monthly publications of the National Education Association and the Virginia Education Association. These magazines supply current information and opinions on the newest teaching techniques and methods.

The officers of this chapter are headed by Gene Birdsong, president; Val Rosado, vice president; Sharon Eggan, secretary; Mary Grafton Landon, treasurer; Marynell Roberts, membership chairman; Barbara Anderson, publicity chairman; Pam Cooke, social chairman. Dr. Richard Copeland of the Education Department is the advisor. Gene Birdsong served the 1963-1964 term as Student Virginia Education Association Member-at-Large. She was elected to this position at the Virginia State Convention last fall.

The Association meets on the first Tuesday of each month. The meetings consist of a short business session and some special program. The group sponsors panel discussions, movies, guest speakers, interviews, and skits on various aspects of teaching. The members are informed on such topics as the teacher's role in the Parent Teacher Association and requirements for teaching certification. Guest speakers come from all over the State of Virginia and the nation. Refreshments are served after each meeting, enabling the members to talk with the guests on matters of significance to them.

In addition to the regularly scheduled meetings the Association sponsors campus lectures and, with Kappa Delta Pi, the National Honor Society for Education, gives superintendent teas once a month for Virginia school superintendents from this area. In March they gave a supervisors' tea. Also with Kappa Delta Pi the Student Education Association sponsors an Easter Egg Hunt for the children at Eastern State Hospital.

Annual events include a banquet at which the coming year's officers are installed. The high point of the organization's yearly activities is the Virginia State Convention, held this year at Mary Washington. Each participating chapter sponsors a candidate. As many members as desire may attend this convention.

RESERVE OFFICERS

R.O.T.C. was established at William and Mary July 1, 1947. Its purpose is to train young men for leadership in times of national emergency and includes courses in general military science.

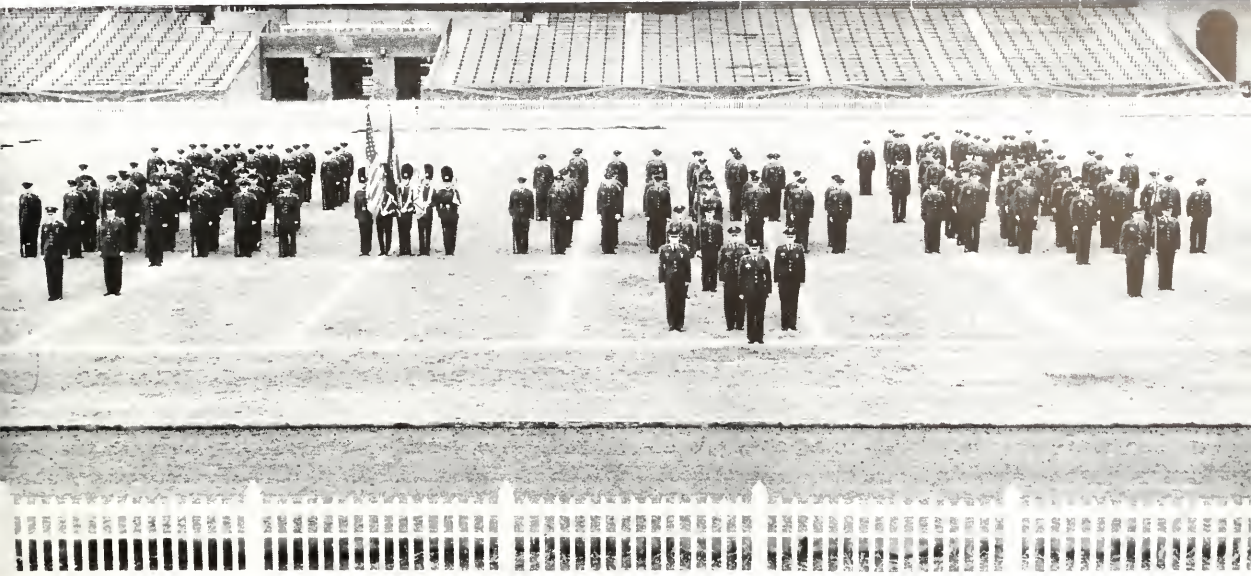

The Corps at present has 365 members. They are organized as a brigade; this is subdivided into two battalions; the battalions are further divided into three companies each. Anthony J. Steinmeyer, Cadet Colonel, is the Brigade Commander. Other officers are: Lt. Colonel William E. Corley, Brigade Executive Officer; Major James R. Bennett, Brigade Adjutant; and Major William J. Stewart, Brigade Operations Officer. Individual battalion commanders are: Lt. Colonel Stewart P. Davis, Lt. Colonel William V. Cleveland, and Major Alfred W. Dequoy, who is commander of the Queen's Guard. Lt. Colonel Julian L. Hogan, a member of the artillery branch of the Army, is Professor of Military Science.

BRIGADE STAFF

J. Bennett, T. Steinmeyer, B. Stewart

TRAINING CORPS

The College program is divided into two phases: A basic course for freshmen and sophomores and a more advanced course for juniors and seniors. The basic course includes training in map reading and aerial photography, small arms, introduction to basic tactics, courses in American Military History and National Security, and drill practices. There is in the advanced course orientation to the Army's different branches, instruction in logistics and military law, orientation to the United States' world position, and the position of the Army in international relations.

After completing four years of R.O.T.C., a cadet is eligible for a commission as Second Lieutenant in the United States Army.

William and Mary's R.O.T.C. branch has received high Army ratings and has exceeded the Army's quota and standard of excellence.

MEN'S DORMITORY ASSOCIATION

The Men's Dormitory Association functions as a separate unit in each men's residence hall. It is composed of a dormitory council, elected within each hall, a dormitory manager, and a residence counselor.

The dormitory council is composed mainly of students who are elected from each floor and usually contains six members.

As head of the dormitory council, the dormitory manager helps in organizing open houses and intra-mural activities, especially in the freshman dormitories.

The residence counselor heads the organization of each dormitory. He informs Dean Squatriglia on all matters concerning the students in his dormitory, serves as an advisor to the residents and to the dormitory council, and maintains order.

GERMAN CLUB

Promoting interest in the life and language of Germany is accomplished through various ways by the German club. This year the club gave a reception for German folk singer Karl Wolfram following his concert here. Programs have included faculty and student lectures, films, and German Christmas caroling at Christmas. In the spring the club sponsored their annual picnic.

In charge of the German Club's activities for the year 1963-64 are Jean Stern and Bonnie Engle, co-chairmen, assisted by Thomas Trewin, treasurer, and Ann Cook, secretary. Mrs. Berry is the faculty advisor of the group.

The Spanish Club is under the leadership this year of Margie Jensen of the Dominican Republic. The organization is preparing several major activities this year focused principally on Hispanic culture. Among these are Spanish language movies each semester, a pinata party at Christmas, slides and lectures on music, customs, especially dating and social customs, and this year the Spanish luncheon table. La Mesa Espanola is having the best year ever. Spanish is spoken exclusively here and at the regular meetings of the Club.

Officers are Dick Woodhouse, vice president; Suzy Forsthauer, secretary; Louise Marrow, treasurer, and the advisor is Senor Gonzalez-Aboin.

FRENCH CLUB

FRENCH CLUB

First Row: P. Mayhew, G. Scherer, S. Morris, D. Vess, D. Bradley, R. Otis, T. Jimson, U. Riddick. Second Row: N. Hall, T. Morris, S. Ward, M. Largen, C. Hitt, E. Dickens, J. Lowry, S. Hackney, K. Membership in "Le Cercle Francais" is open to any student interested in the French language and civilization. Members meet each month to enjoy a varied program—conducted in French—which includes faculty talks, movies, songs, and slides.

The annual Christmas Fete, the Mardi Gras Festival, and the play, "Arlequin Poli Par L'Amour," presented March 8-9, 1963, are past programs which proved highly successful and very enjoyable.

Officers for the 1963-1964 session were: David Bradley, president, Douglas Vess, vice president, and Sharon Morris, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Richard Otis served as advisor.

KEPLAR

First Row: G. Herland, B. Lambert, W. Vinyard, L. Orr, M. Sestrie. Second Row: K. Walters, C. Schlichting, D. Neily, B. McIntosh, L. Stableford, W. Joyner. Third Row: S. Eastman, J. Pace, M. Watson, B. Newton, P. Boynton, H. Litchfield. Absent from picture: J. Pollard, D. Cave, C. Griffith, S. Murray, V. Bary, J. Howard, and J. Tudor

Keplar is an unique organization at William and Mary. Its field of interest includes just about every other organization's stated purpose.

We field intramural teams, have dances, discuss topics from "The Raven" to intellectual impotency with faculty members, and often invite disapproval from the administration.

Founded two years ago, Keplar at times seems ludicrous and at others, successful in its aims. We stress scholarship; our academic average is below Phi Beta Kappa's, but above that of most other men's organizations.

This year, our faculty lecture series included Messrs. Frank MacDonald, Alexander Kallos, John Laeks, and Donald Numes. Members of Keplar participate in a diversity of activities from the Backdrop Club to the swimming team.

Officers this year in Keplar were Walter Vinyard, President; Charlie Griffith, Vice President; Bill Lambert, Secretary; George Herland, Treasurer; and Blake Newton, Historian.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

First Row: B. Burnett, J. Angell, A. Mahoney, G. VanDyck, S. Stevenson, L. Freeman, D. Wilson, S. Williams. Second Row: G. Sutherland, G. Hines, J. Kirssin, R. Henderson, D. Wilkins, L. Walker, R. The Psychology Club is organized to further and to express interest in psychology among students and faculty and its programs are designed to broaden the students' understanding and to promote closer student-faculty relationships. This purpose is expressed in the monthly meetings with a speaker, among whom the most recent have been Dr. Herbert Friedman of the Psychology Department and Dr. Zeno Paclisanu of the Dunbar hospital. Members of the Psychology Club worked at the patient gift shop at Dunbar during the Christmas season. They also sponsor a picnic with Psi Chi, the psychology honor society and co-sponsor with that organization the psychology open house in the spring. The faculty sponsors are Mr. Virgil V. McKenna and Miss Dorothy Dyer. Officers are: Bart Barbee, President; Ralph Heisner, Vice President; Nancy Mahoney, Secretary; and Bill Redd, Treasurer.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club is an affiliate organization of the American Chemical Society. It offers professional as well as educational information in chemistry through various lectures and films. The affiliate members of the club are members of the ACS and have special advantages due to this membership.

To become an affiliate member of the club, a student must be in the two hundred courses of chemistry or higher. These members receive unemployment benefits from the ACS as aid in finding related jobs; they also receive a weekly chemistry journal. Any interested student may become an associate member if he is taking some science course of equivalent level.

The meetings are held every other Monday night. Following the business is either a lecture or a film. Each year the club sponsors an annual picnic for its members. This year the officers are president, Gary Workman, secretary, Karen Caufield, and members-at-large, Wayne Price and John Pollard.

First Row: G. Workman, K. Caufield, J. Pollard. Second Row: W. G. Guy, J. MacQueen, C. Johnson; E. Katz

CLAYTON-GRIMES BIOLOGICAL CLUB

The Clayton-Grimes Biological Club offers those interested in the biological sciences and medicine the opportunity to increase the breadth and depth of their experience in these areas. Stressing activities which would not be included in the academic curriculum, it arranges for lectures, field trips and movies on various topics. With the absence of any courses directly involving medicine or dentistry, this has special interest for pre-med students.

During the past year weekend camping trips and field trips were made to state parks and nature centers as well as to neighboring scientific and medical institutions. Other of its activities include sponsoring the Audubon Wildlife Film series and participation in the biology department seminars.

The officers for the year were Brian Chabor, president; Diane Lemke, vice president; Dee Boren, secretary; and Bob Mentzer, treasurer. Dr. Mitchell Byrd and Dr. Garnett Brooks were the faculty advisors.

First Row: M. Fisher, D. Lemke, B. Chabor, D. Boren, A. Harrison. Second Row: J. Nexins, J. Newbill, M. Dalton, P. Korty, L. Lane, E. Baptist, S. Hayes

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MAJORS CLUB

Physical Education majors at William and Mary may participate in the P.E. Majors Club, which attempts to provide, through lectures and discussions, various programs of interest to those who wish to acquaint themselves with the necessary skills and techniques employed in the fields of physical education, health and general recreational activities. This active club not only strives to stimulate interest in physical fitness among its members, but also among the rest of the campus. Each spring the club sponsors the appearance of an organization of general appeal, such as the Danish gymnasts. Officers this year are Ron Jones, president; Al Insley, vice president; Sam Miller, secretary-treasurer; and Charley Weaver, program chairman.

First Row: W. Johnson, J. Groves, D. Hemming, A. Insley, R. Jones, P. Parker, C. Weaver, H. Smith. Second Row: R. Bennett, L. Smoot, D. Maddrey, J. LoFrese, F. Meyer, J. Kuotts, J. Slika, D. Jensen. Third Row: W. Hurley, J. Ward, P. Mattox, J. Jester, G. Brodie, J. Dick, J. Moyer, B. Wallace

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PHYSICS

The American Institute of Physics was established at the College of William and Mary in January of 1963. It is the student subdivision of the General Society of American Physicists. The purpose of the organization is to promote student and faculty interest in physics, and to acquaint the student with research in physics beyond the undergraduate level. To achieve this purpose, the club under the guidance of faculty advisor Dr. Lawrence, had programs at which papers were presented by both faculty members and graduate students. One of these presentations featured Dr. McLennan who spoke on the "Special Theory of Relativity."

The officers for this year were: Pete Lima, president; Teddy Fecteu, vice president; Betty Bright, secretary, and Betty Orrick, treasurer.

CIRCLE K CLUB

First Row: B. Mann, E. Holland, J. Roy, D. Korpi, J. Riecks, D. M. Jensen—sponsor.
Second Row: R. Holmes, J. Becker, P. Hoyle, K. Ley, L. Bradshaw. Third Row: R. Williams,
 J. Piland, J. Watts, R. Gatten

Circle K is the William and Mary chapter of Kiwanis International recently organized on the campus in 1959. This service organization for college men holds service purposes far above social ones. The members strive to help the community as well as the College.

Some of the projects Circle K undertook this year were a guided tour for visitors and prospective students; joint work with the Kiwanis on Kiwanis Day and other times; helping the administration with odd jobs; setting up a scholarship for a new student; helping with the lecture and concert series; having car washes in the spring; and sponsoring a Christmas party for the children at Dumbar.

President David Korpi had under him this year Vice President John Roy, Secretary Charles Riecks, Treasurer Everett Holland, Membership Chairman Bob Gatten and Educational Chairman Pete Hoyle.

WAYNE F. GIBBS ACCOUNTING CLUB

First Row: W. T. Reece, B. Anker, B. Morrison, R. Thomasch, J. Schuler, H. Miller, G. Kent.
Second Row: J. S. Quinn, R. Lent, T. Hollowell, J. Breeden, S. Lawson, R. Woerle, N. Pinney.
Third Row: A. Henderson, R. Burlage, R. Morrison, H. Busbee, R. Andrialis, T. Ewart,
 H. Davis, P. Cole

The purpose of the Accounting Club is to supplement accounting theory as learned in the classroom with examples of its application in the world of business. This is achieved through a program of field trips and speakers representing both local and national accounting firms. Each spring the club's activities culminate in a dinner with the Virginia Society of Certified Public Accountants, at which an award is presented to the most outstanding accounting student in the graduating class.

The club is named for a retired William and Mary professor who taught here for over thirty years. This year's officers were: President, Roger Thomasch; Vice President, William Morrison; Treasurer, Bert Anker. Mr. William Reece serves as faculty advisor.

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT

First Row: S. Blankenship, N. Burrow, J. Saile, R. Manuel, T. Ewig. Second Row: T. Smith, M. Deigiannia, C. Johnson, J. Breeden, S. Warder

The Society for the Advancement of Management is a national professional organization which correlates campus interest with functional projects. Its objectives are to bring together students with the opportunity to join in organizing, planning, directing, and controlling the activities of organizations devoted to promoting the advancement of the art of science in management. To accomplish these purposes, S.A.M. works in a close relationship with local and national merchants and business firms.

S.A.M. encourages and welcomes all students interested in business, economics, and government. Every fall they conduct a membership drive, during which future activities and programs are presented to prospective members so that their interest may be secured. Lectures, panel meetings, round table discussions, plant visits, management conferences, essays, newsletters, and community activities offer sources for program materials. This year, led by Robert Manuel, president, and Arthur D. Austin, faculty advisor, the group made an earnest effort to go beyond classroom materials and into more realistic preparation.

ORCHESIS

First Row: M. Skillen, S. Thibeault, F. Piskur, P. Hartleben, S. Forsthaner, P. Patterson, C. Forsythe. Second Row: M. Eaton, N. Sprague, M. Ruddel, B. Cheshire, K. Power, S. Boliek, B. Lewis, G. Hudgins, D. Fays, P. Peacock, D. Brooks. Third Row: C. Cortner, B. Myatt, M. Fisher, K. Burdett, S. Griswold, S. Weigard, B. Parson, G. Whitener, E. Abbott

Each year, Orchesis, William and Mary's modern dance group sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, provides an opportunity to study the techniques of dance at advanced level. Its talented members work together throughout the year to express themselves through the creative experience of modern dance.

Tryouts are held annually in the fall. General meetings are held once a week, until Thanksgiving, to review the fundamentals of dance. After this time, the girls rehearse their individual numbers twice a week in preparation for their annual spring presentation, "An Evening of Dance." This year's concert was composed of a variety of dances ranging from the dramatic to jazz, and is choreographed, produced and performed entirely by the members of Orchesis.

The year has been an especially good one for Orchesis. The new dance studio at Adair Gym provides far better facilities for practice than have been existing in the past. In February, the members traveled to Richmond for a Dance Symposium under the direction of Norman Walker, one of the nation's foremost choreographers and performers.

MERMETTES

One of the highlights of the spring semester at William and Mary is the annual water show put on by the Mermettes, the College synchronized swimming club. Membership in the club is determined in fall try-outs for freshmen and upperclassmen. Meetings are held weekly at the Adair gymnasium pool, where the members practice stroking, stunts, and float formations. The spring water show gives the Mermettes the opportunity to exhibit their skills.

In addition to the spring show, this year the Mermettes put on a performance for the dedication of Adair gym, hosted the Longwood and Mary Washington synchronized clubs at a clinic, and attended various workshops and performances given by other clubs in Virginia.

Officers of Mermettes are Gretchen Ernst, director; Gene Ayers, assistant director; Linda Dorset, secretary; Lynne Marcus, treasurer; Vicki Nuckols, historian; and Patsy Riley, publicity. Miss Mildred Barrett is advisor to the organization.

Standing: M. Barrett. Seated: G. Ernst, J. Mallinson, G. Ayers, M. Weinholt, V. Nuckols, K. Bonner, P. Riley, D. Taylor, V. Williams

MAJORETTES

The William and Mary majorette corps for the 1963 football season was composed of five "veterans": Susie Collins, Joyce Hoskins, Margie Kelly, Jo Ann Smith, and Maynard Williams. These five were joined by three "rookies," Bonnie Cheshire, Marty Miller, and Pat Patterson. The new members were chosen by the older ones in the spring of 1963. Maynard Williams was elected head majorette by the other members of the squad.

Practice sessions were held in the spring. Also, the girls designed new white uniforms to be made during the summer and to be used in conjunction with the older green uniforms for various performances.

The activities of the majorettes in the fall included participation in the Student Activities Night during orientation week, and performances with the band at most of the fall pep rallies and at each home football game. In addition, the majorettes traveled with the band to games at Navy, the University of Virginia, and the University of Richmond.

PEP CLUB

School spirit plus was the main purpose and goal of the William and Mary Pep Club during this year. With this goal in mind the members and officers of the Pep Club worked to publicize all athletic events sponsored by the College, promote pep rallies, and provide transportation for the student body to away games.

Also the responsibility of the Pep Club was the William and Mary Indian, Alan Jacobus. Working with Alan, the Pep Club provided transportation for him and the new WAMPO, Feather, to all home games and three away games.

Serving as officers in the Pep Club this year were Bill Lambert, president; Deedle Rowland, vice president; Mickie Leef, secretary; and Lloyd Stableford, treasurer. Dr. Robert Pedigo was the advisor of the club.

STUDENT RELIGIOUS UNION

The Student Religious Union is a group composed of a representative from each of the religious fellowship groups on campus. The purpose of this organization is to promote cooperation and understanding among the various religions on campus. In an effort to reach this goal the Union sponsors Wednesday night chapel services in the Wren Chapel and Religious Emphasis Week during the winter.

The Union meets every other week and presents a variety of programs designed to bring the group closer together by getting the religions to work together. Business meetings are held to discuss problems which the representatives bring from their respective religious associations. The Union also sponsors programs featuring nationally known speakers which are open to the public.

Officers of the Student Religious Union for this year were: Janet Beers, president; Glen Skaggs, vice president; Sandy Dail, secretary; and Richard Wegner, treasurer.

First Row: R. Wegner, S. Dail, J. Beers, G. Skaggs, F. Snider. Second Row: R. Camp, L. Bolton, L. Youngblood, B. Sessoms, R. Gill, K. Olshansky. Third Row: R. Huntley, B. Rudman, S. Mansfield

BALFOUR-HILLEL CLUB

First Row: L. Diamant, J. Stern, K. Olshansky, C. Kresch, E. Farb, M. Sater. Second Row: J. Berman, R. Schonfeld, S. Goldstein, B. Popkin

Balfour-Hillel Club had a variety of innovations during the year to enrich the understanding of religious as well as secular concepts of the Jewish students as related to the college community. The club sponsored various speakers, including Mr. H. Bar-On of the Israeli Embassy, who held discussions with the group. In addition to celebrating various religious holidays and enjoying socials with neighboring Hillel Chapters, the Club joined the local Beth El Congregation for services each Friday in the Wren Chapel.

Guiding the year's activities were President Kenny Olshansky, Vice President Charlie Kresch, Secretaries Jean Stern and Leslie Diamant, Treasurer Ed Farb, Chaplain Dave Blumenthal, Student Religious Union Representative B. J. Rudman, Faculty Advisor Mr. S. Salsberg.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

First Row: D. Williams, M. Enright, C. Corbell, R. Gilt, S. Dail, C. Perry, K. Davis. Second Row: S. Heflington, S. Harkess, J. Sheets, J. Waldrep, J. E. Blankinship, M. Moore, B. Stephenson, E. Akins. Third Row: G. Skaggs, E. Brown, L. Harrell, B. Baldwin, B. Lucas, C. Hardy, C. Cahoon

The Baptist Student Union serves as the link between the college campus and the local church. It is open to any student who is a member of or interested in the Baptist denomination. Sunday evening meetings include supper, devotions and programs oriented to the development of an intellectually responsible Christian faith. Informal Monday night suppers give members an opportunity to discuss anything of interest from world affairs to Sunday's sermon.

Social and service projects are scheduled frequently. Service projects this year have included assistance to a Goodwill Center in Newport News, collection of clothes for the James City County Welfare Department, weekly services at Dumbar, and contributions to a program of Student Missionary work at home and abroad.

Officers this year were: Russel Gill, president; Sandy Dail, vice president; Cheryl Corbell, secretary; and Maury Enright, treasurer.

CANTERBURY CLUB

First Row: P. Hall, H. Rountree, L. Wales, J. Carter, W. Vinyard, D. Baldwin, E. Bannerman, B. Robertson. Second Row: D. Girardi, C. Tucker, L. Owre, M. Robert, S. Stitt, J. Camp, H. Krauss, H. Casey. Third Row: A. Barwick, C. Joy, B. Lott, J. Teal, A. Lyon

Canterbury is a loose association of Episcopal students, and of anyone else with an altruistic or religious bent. The association enables students and faculty to meet on an informal basis for discussion or lectures. As little organization as possible is maintained to allow the individual freedom to come and go as he chooses.

This year, Canterbury services have experimented with liturgies. The Rev. Al Shands, priest from Washington, D. C., lectured on the liturgical reform and celebrated a "Communion Facing the People."

A Medieval Festival replaced the traditional Christmas service. Highlighting this were three plays from the fourteenth century York and Wakefield miracle cycles.

In social action, Canterbury maintained a project at Eastern State Hospital. Lectures, such as the one by the Rt. Rev. William H. Marrison, have called our attention to responsibility in other areas such as race relations.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

First Row: D. Root, R. Wegner, F. Snider, T. Fry, S. Pond. Second Row: C. Sievers, S. Reynolds, Lois Hornsby—advisor, Keith Plummer—lecturer

The purpose of the Christian Science organization is to present the tenets of Christian Science and to fairly represent this religion on campus. The organization holds services every Thursday evening at 6:15 in the Wren Chapel. Students and faculty members are invited to attend these services. At these services testimonies of how various members of the Organization have used Christian Science are given.

During the year the Organization sponsors and authorizes Christian Science lectures which are open to the public. This year the officers were: President and Secretary, Francine Snider; Treasurer, Frances Fry; SRU Representative, Richard Wegner; and Advisor, Mrs. Lois Hornsby.

NEWMAN CLUB

Under the guidance of Father Joseph Zung, Newman Club took on a new look this year. Registered membership doubled, and headquarters had to be moved from the "upper room" at St. Bede's Rectory to the Campus Center.

About 100 students participated in the dialogue Mass every Sunday in the Little Theatre. A breakfast of coffee, juice and rolls followed Mass and guest lecturers spoke on pertinent topics. Talks on courtship and marriage were highlighted during the first semester, while ecumenicity and contemporary moral and social problems were discussed during second semester. New officers were installed at a spring buffet-hootenanny.

Active in an advisory capacity were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tarleton while Dr. Holland and Mr. Riley of the Education Department also assisted. Officers for the year were: President Laura Youngblood, Vice President Bob Audley, Secretary Sue Daffron and Membership Chairman Lynn Meushaw.

First Row: J. Murray, R. Audley, C. Youngblood, P. Heath, A. Jett, L. Youngblood, K. Carr, M. Furey, G. Olley, B. J. Spencer, Second Row: M. Kelly, J. Leuzie, J. Lusardi, G. Morgan, K. Ingram, S. WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation, the student youth organization of the Methodist Church, began the college year by moving into its new house on Jamestown Road.

Utilizing the house to its fullest capacity, Wesley held worship services on Sunday mornings, foundation meetings on Sunday evenings which included supper, worship, and a program, and discussion groups during the week.

Also a part of the work of the foundation were the Sunday afternoon services held at Eastern State Hospital which also included over 30 parties given by various ladies' organizations of the Methodist churches in the area.

In an effort to improve the student-faculty relations at the College, Wesley has a coffee hour every Friday night to which members of the faculty are invited to speak.

Officers this year are Steve Mansfield, president; Janet Beers, vice president; Judy Weathersbee, secretary; and Steve Mosier, treasurer.

First Row: A. Boone, D. Beyer, M. Carter, S. Mosier, S. Mansfield, J. Beers, L. Hay, V. Jones, R. Benesh, Second Row: G. Goolsby, R. Venable, J. Jones, N. McNairy, M. Blandford, S. Perkins, M. Smith, C. Jones, Third Row: B. Lambert, E. Godshall, W. Heins, J. Hughes, E. Holland, C. Rieks, G. Williams.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Through study, lecture, and discussions the Lutheran Student Association strives to make the Christian faith a dynamic and useful force in the everyday life of the College student. Suppers and informal meetings are held weekly at St. Stephen's Church. Topics range widely from contemporary morality to the Communist view of religion. This year several faculty members, including Dr. Nathan Altschuler and Dr. Anthony Esler, presented programs.

Special projects included the sponsorship of a Reformation Day speech by Dr. Anderson of Southern Theological Seminary, plus the presentation of a new and unusual worship service during the regular Sunday service.

Officers this year were: Larry Bolton, president; Linda Dorset, vice president, and Trilby Busch, secretary-treasurer. Acting in an advisory capacity were Dr. Dietrich Orlow and Pastor John F. Byerly.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The officers of the Inter-Fraternity Council for this year are Bob Buckley, president; Charlie Weaver, vice-president; Charlie Jones, secretary; Clyde Culp, treasurer; and Tom Vaughan, social chairman. These officers are elected from the representatives to the IFC with the exception of the vice-president. This officer is chosen from among the fraternity presidents and in addition is chairman of the House and Grounds Committee. As chairman, the IFC Vice-President is in charge of discipline and general policing of the lodge area. The secretary is chairman of the Fraternity Housing Committee. Since each fraternity has one representative plus its president on the Council, the membership is twenty-two members.

The purposes of the Inter-Fraternity Council include acting as a liaison between the administration and the fraternity system. It is the co-ordinating body for all general fraternity activities. In addition, IFC promotes closer inter-fraternity relationship and provides rules and regulations governing all activities in which the fraternities are involved. The IFC also furnishes guiding policies for the individual fraternities. Another purpose of the IFC is to maintain good relations between students and the residents of Williamsburg. This year the IFC is preparing a report in regard to the possibility of fraternity housing.

During the year the Inter-Fraternity Council participates in numerous activities. The IFC supports an orphan under the foster parents program and gives parties for orphans during the Christmas season through the individual fraternities. In the fall, the IFC sponsored receptions after the William and Mary Concert Series. The IFC's major activity in the spring is Greek Weekend which is sponsored and organized in conjunction with Pan Hel. The weekend includes a formal dance Friday night, a fraternity-sorority field day and block party Saturday, and a Lake Matoaka party on Sunday.

GREEK WEEKEND

Study Hall on a Saturday night

Greek Weekend affords members of all fraternities and sororities a chance to socialize together. Two dances and an afternoon of competition and games highlight this fun-filled weekend in which the Greeks get to know one another better.

A Friday night combo party kicks off the festivities, and this is followed the next afternoon by the field day. Fraternities and sororities vie for prizes in such events as the dizzy-izzy race, the tug-of-war, the coaster race, and the egg throw.

Saturday night is the traditional block party held in the street between the fraternities. This is the high point of the weekend and serves to bring the fun fest to a happy close.

Kappa Alpha Order was founded at Washington and Lee University in 1865 under the watchful eye of its spiritual founder, Robert E. Lee of Virginia. Alpha Zeta chapter, which was founded at William and Mary in 1890, prides itself as being the longest active social fraternity on campus. Although steeped in Southern heritage and tradition, KA takes men from both the North and the South who possess the characteristics of a Southern Gentleman as exemplified by Lee.

We pride ourselves as a brotherhood that has men who are active in a variety of campus activities. KA contributes many to the field of athletics. T. W. Alley, Dennis Haglan, Dan Armour, Scott Swan, Rodney Schmidt, Bill Wellons and Dennis Maddrey participate in football; Mike Griffin and Lee Smoot in baseball. John Randolph and Dick Savage are co-captains of the track team. Along with them are Scott Ferguson, Dennis Haglan, and Jim Johnson, a record-breaking sophomore.

Don Beck, ROTC company commander, and Steve Merrill were elected to membership in Scabbard and Blade, the national honorary military fraternity. KA also has members who participate in academic fraternities, the COLONIAL ECHO, Student Association, and musical and theatrical groups.

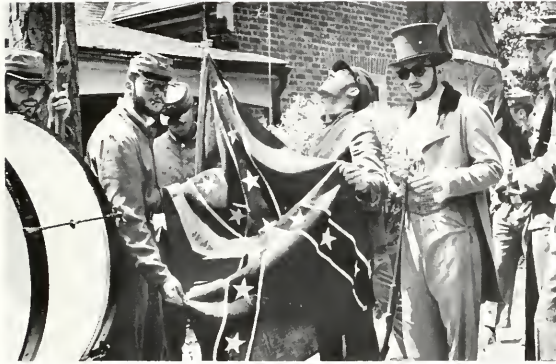

KA has many community activities including orphan parties and an annual Eastern State Christmas party. Last year the chapter won the annual Red Cross Blood Donors drive with unprecedented 100% participation.

KA's social calendar is filled with many parties throughout the year. The Christmas season is highlighted by the formal Black and White Ball. The climax of the College social year comes in the spring when KA holds its infamous Southern Ball. In between these special events, sun-filled parties are held at the legendary Gloucester Beach House.

Kappa Alpha's officers for this year were John Randolph, No. 1; Barry Tinsley, No. 2; and Billy Wellons, No. 3.

BILL STEWART, President

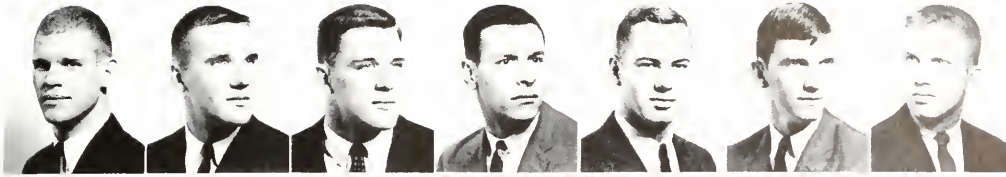

Party, party . . . This means Kappa Sigma. From the forty-seventh annual Menthol Hop or shaving cream party to the moonlit Virginia Beach weekend, Kappa Sig had parties. Kappa Sig highlighted its year with many other social events such as the Sweet-heart Dance and sorority parties.

But Kappa Sig means much more than social events. This year the Brothers of Nu chapter proudly found themselves first among the fraternities scholastically. Brother Steinmeyer was tapped for Phi Beta Kappa, and Brother Breeden was selected as a Merit Scholar. In the athletic realm, Kappa Sigma also was a leader. Bob Soleau, the team captain, and many other brothers contributed heavily to the varsity football effort. Also, the basketball, swimming, track, tennis, and baseball teams relied upon the brothers of Kappa Sigma.

Kappa Sig provided other leadership to the student body. The brothers held various positions as president of student body, president of the senior class, commander of ROTC, president of ODK, President's Aides, president of the Accounting Club, Honor Council member, and several others. Also noteworthy was Sam, Kappa Sig's pedigreed mascot, who was awarded the American Kennel Club award as the Italian Collie of the year.

The brotherhood performed several services to the community during the school year. The Kappa-Kappa Sigma clothing drive and Christmas party for underprivileged children were held again this year.

Thus, it is evident that this year has been another successful one for the Kappa Sigma fraternity. It has been evidenced by excellence in all realms of college life and from this enrichment each Kappa Sig himself has gained a brotherhood strong and true.

PETE MCINTOSH, PRESIDENT

It is exceedingly difficult to adequately describe the strong bond of brotherhood that is prevalent in the Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha. The diverse brotherhood is very rich in all areas of campus life: campus leadership, athletics, and scholarship. The richness has been shown in the past by the winning of the Alumni Interfraternity Council Best Fraternity Award for the past three years in a row, and 1963 looks like another banner year.

1963-64 finds the brothers leading the student body by holding positions as student association representatives, dorm managers, freshmen group leaders, vice president of the student body and of the junior class, a ROTC company commander, secretary of the IFC, copy editor of the Flat Hat, Head Usher of the College, head manager of the basketball team, Men's Honor Council Member, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Head Group Leader, Advertising Manager of the COLONIAL ECHO, and presidents of SAM, the Political Science Forum, the Scabbard and Blade and Sigma Pi Sigma.

The men of Lambda Chi also led the way in athletics by participating in varsity track, swimming, basketball, baseball, rifle, and cricket teams. In intramurals the cross-country track and tennis champs are Lambda Chi's.

The brotherhood also endeavors to give time to unfortunates. Highlighting the year for the brothers is the annual Orphan Party and Picnic.

Last, but certainly not least, the brotherhood always sets the social pace on the row. The Christmas Formal, Virginia Beach Weekend, the Gaza Strip Party with Pi Lambda Phi, our next-door neighbor, and the Roaring Twenties Party are our biggest annual affairs, not to mention our numerous weekend orgies.

Leading this active brotherhood are our officers: Doug Berryman, president; Pete McIntosh, vice president; Bob White, secretary; and Jim Bennett, treasurer.

PHIL VAN KIRK, President

Phi Kappa Tau was founded at Miami University in Ohio in 1906 and Alpha Theta Chapter was established in 1927.

The first semester saw Phil VanKirk as President lead Phi Tau to success academically, athletically, and socially. The social calendar was highlighted by combo parties, sorority parties, and the annual Christmas Party. Second semester Phi Taus opened with The Jamaica Party, the Founders' Day Banquet, and closed the year with another big Virginia Beach weekend.

Socially, Phi Tau had a fine year but the wide range of campus activities showed the fraternity's diversity. Roger Hardy was the Chairman of the Honor Council and a standout on the baseball team. Toby Sindt and Lee Smith were active in the theatre. Bill Hutchinson wrote editorials for the Flat Hat. Wally Benbenista and Denny Shea played for the tennis team while Joe Greene was an outstanding shot putter for the track team and Bob Audley played for the cricket team. On the intramural level Phi Tau was also outstanding, rising to a position high in the fraternity standings.

Thus the year was a big success as the Phi Taus combined academic achievement with outstanding athletic and social accomplishments.

TOM YERKES, President

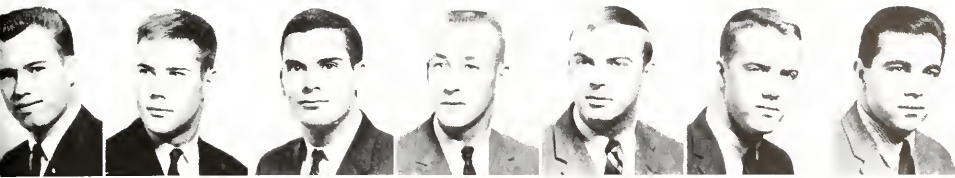

Pi Kappa Alpha, the fifth ranked fraternity in the nation, was founded at the University of Virginia in 1868. Gamma Chapter was founded at William and Mary three years later.

Gamma began the 1963-64 school year under the leadership of Bill Pippin and Vice President Tom Yerkes. No time was wasted upon returning from summer vacation with full weekends beginning at once. October saw the "Hobo Party" and, of course, Homecoming weekend with the annual reception for alumni. The PiKA "Corn-fuse the Mountaineers" float won first place in the Homecoming Parade for the second consecutive year. December witnessed the Christmas party and the visit of Santa Claus and his memorable gifts. PiKA aided the community with its Christmas Seals Campaign. Closing out the semester was the annual Playboy Party, which the whole campus looks forward to and enjoys. Combos were frequent at the PiKA lodge and "Weasel and the Whippers" provided most unusual entertainment for the District Convention which was held at Williamsburg.

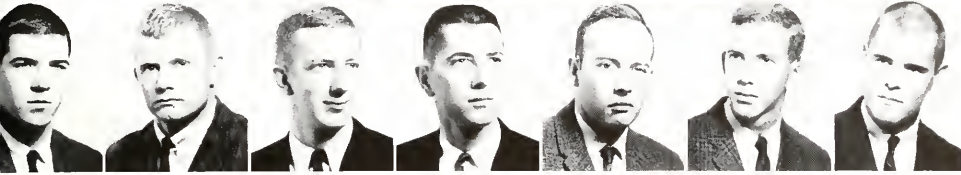

Athletically, PiKA had a fine year, taking a very substantial first place lead in their strong bid for the all-points trophy. In Varsity competition PiKA is very ably represented by Dick Kern and Bill Lott on the football team, Jim Coyle and Lew Ollice on the basketball squad, Gordon Baskerville on the swimming team and Bob Sizemore, Ken Williams, Tom Yerkes, and Keith Dauer on the baseball team.

The second semester got underway under the leadership of Tom Yerkes who guided the fraternity through a fine rush program and annual schedule, such as the Founder's Day Banquet and Dance, Prehistoric Party and Virginia Beach weekend.

BOB PAVEY, President

The brothers of Pi Lambda Phi have a sincere belief in the ultimate value of the individual and take advantage of the non-sectarian nature of their fraternity to benefit from a variety of backgrounds, ideas, capabilities, and personalities.

Pi Lamb was founded at Yale University in 1895 and the Virginia Psi Chapter was established at the College of William and Mary in 1929.

A great interest in campus activities is taken by the brothers. Publications feel the influence of Pi Lambs strongly. Bill Black, Tony Brodie, Gordon Pehrson, and Sammy Sadler are managing editor, advertising manager, associate editor, and business manager respectively of the Flat Hat. Jerry Saunders is editor-in-chief and Joel Zaba is fraternity editor of the COLONIAL ECHO.

Tony Brodie and Charlie Kresch were elected representatives from their dorms to the Student Association.

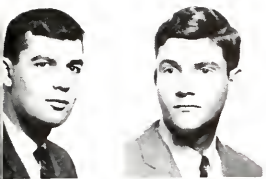

On the sports scene, Paul Bernstein is a valuable harrier on the Cross-Country team. Gordon Pehrson is captain of the newly formed Cricket Team. Tom Pavey and Jerry Saunders are other Cricketers.

Pi Lambs take an active part in intramural sports posing a threat to volleyball and basketball crowns.

Pi Lambda Phi is a social fraternity which goes about the social in a big way. Annually the fraternity has a week-end party at Virginia Beach, a Halloween party, Christmas formal, and now famous Gaza Strip party. This does not include the numerous combo parties and sorority parties.

Community projects each year lend a helping hand to Williamsburg. For example, at Christmas a party is given for underprivileged children with Kappa Kappa Gamma.

This is only a listing of events which are by no means representative of the true Pi Lambda Phi. The brotherhood draws from the spirit of the individual personality to form what it is proud to call the true spirit of fraternity.

S.A.E. was the first social fraternity founded in the South and one of the first to establish a chapter at William and Mary. Today, S.A.E. is the largest national social fraternity with chapters in 48 of the 50 states.

As a social fraternity S.A.E. enjoys many functions, including its annual Virginia Beach week end, smoke ring and sweetheart dances, Founder's Day as well as the many sorority and beach parties throughout the year.

As a brotherhood, S.A.E. is active in the William and Mary community. Pete Stout is a member of the national military honor fraternity, Scabbard and Blade and a member of the track team. Dick Carling is a member of Eta Sigma Phi, national honorary classics fraternity and the track team. Dick Wentz and Colt Wooster are members of the rifle team and swimming team respectively. Clyde Culp is treasurer of the I.F.C. S.A.E. is also the proud winner of the intramural football trophy for the year 1963-64. Frequent contributors to the red cross, Christmas brings S.A.E. to Dunbar to entertain and sing carols.

CHARLIE WEAVER, President

Fraternities are larger or smaller, older or younger. They have distinctive Greek letters and each one had a badge of different shape. Yet, too much of the outside world thinks they're all alike—college clubs for boys.

How would you single out Sigma Nu from this crowd?

Sigma Nu is an Honor fraternity. It has been from the beginning. When James Frank Hopkins started gathering material at VMI for the Legion of Honor, which was to become Sigma Nu, he had one towering standard:

He sought men who could govern each act by a high sense of honor.

He welded them into a fraternity, not a club.

Sigma Nu is a group of men—selected from those of similar historical and cultural background, as in a family, organized to govern themselves with the high ideals and noble purposes of fraternity, seeking individually and collectively to use honor as a goal and test for every action.

This year's Epsilon Iota officers are: president, Charles Weaver; vice president, John Sapinsky; secretary, Steph Gordon; and treasurer, Alek Bergman.

Sigma Nu's Sweetheart is Anne Piddington.

Inside the red door at number 10 Fraternity Row is Virginia Delta chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon. One of the largest fraternities on the row, Sig Ep tries to maintain a balanced program of activities. Realizing the importance of scholarship we continually stress the academic side of school life with the result that we have consistently been among the highest ranked in the scholastic standings of the fraternities. Scholarship opportunities and awards exist to add incentive.

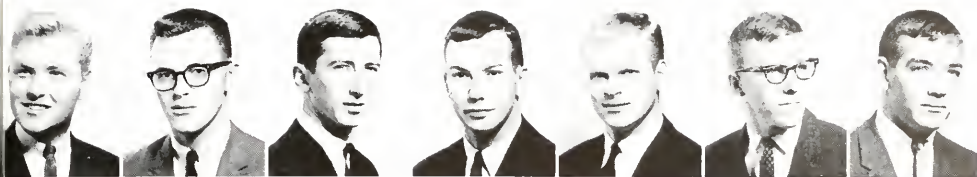

Believing in sound bodies also, Sig Ep encourages its members to participate in both varsity and intramural athletics. During this year we had members on the football, basketball, track, golf, baseball teams, and the Southern Conference Championship cross-country team. In the intramural competition we fielded some fine teams and made a good overall showing.

Social events play a large part in our lives too. The Founder's Day Dance in November and the Golden Hearts Ball in May are events which we look forward to each semester. The annual Mardi Gras Masquerade Party, theme parties, combo parties, and sorority parties also liven up the calendar. Serenades, stag parties, and other events round out our social life.

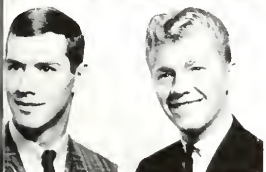

Helping others is another of our goals. Parties for underprivileged kids at Christmas complete with a Santa Claus and at Easter with Easter eggs turn out to be as much fun for us as for them. We further serve the community by assisting in the Kiwanis Day Parade and in the Polio Vaccine Clinic.

Our brothers are found in many places of leadership about the campus. Jerry Ward is Senior Class Vice President; Gary Chocklett is Sophomore Class President; Art Brown is Sophomore Class Vice President, and Mike Sopleak, Bob Weeks and Bob Moore are on the Honor Council. The fraternity is justifiably proud of the contribution they are making to the college community.

The officers of Sigma Phi Epsilon this year are Jerry Gimmel, president; Bill Morrison, vice president; Kent Stevens, recorder; Pete Olson, secretary; and Jerry Stettler, controller. Our Sweetheart this year is Carol Boyson.

JOHN JOPLIN, President

Through its nationally known system of slow and exclusive expansion, Sigma Pi Fraternity has achieved a small but excellent brotherhood consisting of 75 chapters across the country. Ever since the first chapter was established at Vincennes University in 1897, an amazing amount of brotherhood has been evident. Because of the mystical heritage they share, all the chapters are bound very closely together and one can always expect a warm and generous reception wherever he goes.

The single word which best describes the brotherhood here at Alpha Eta Chapter is diversity. All types of men—athletes, intellectuals, politicians, studs, artists, and even those exhibiting nothing special—all learn to get along well together while at the same time retaining their own identity. Sigma Pi, then, consists of many distinct individuals, working together with and for each other to produce the bonds of friendship which are its most precious possessions.

Among its many contributions to the community, Sigma Pi throws a Christmas Party for orphans and donates to other charities. Also around Christmas is the spirited serenade of the girls' dorms and the Christmas formal. The brothers try to be studious, but can always spare some time to raise hell. Among the annual events are the unbelievable Orchid Ball week end at Virginia Beach, the famous Toga Party, the West Side Story Party, and the Horror Show in October.

Sigma Pi's live by the famous adage, "Work Hard, Play Hard."

CRAIG CARLSON, President

The cornerstone of any fraternity is, of course, brotherhood. To a greater extent, variety and even mutability are of primary importance. It is in this respect that the brothers of Theta Delta Chi take the most pride.

This spirit can be seen in all areas of fraternal life. In sports, both intercollegiate and intramural, Theta Deltas are prominently displayed. No major varsity sport was without a Theta Delt this year. This includes baseball, basketball, football, and track as well as tennis. Scholastically, last year the Theta Deltas claimed the President's Cup for highest fraternity average, Phi Beta Kappa Tom McCullough leading the way. Also last year fraternity president Craig Carlson was named sophomore of the year.

As a fraternity, Theta Delta Chi might rightly be expected to abound in tradition. The 11th oldest secret fraternity, Theta Delta Chi in 1853, was the first to arrive on the William and Mary campus. Other fraternal firsts include the adaption of a pledge pin, fraternity colors and an official flag. More recently, this year the brothers resumed their traditionally popular supper club.

This semester, headed by President Craig Carlson, Vice President Joe Ellis, Secretary Paul Shultz, and Treasurer Tom McCullough, the Theta Deltas are already headed for a year full of achievements. Parties such as our annual pajama party, the Christmas Party and such favorites as the Pledge Brother Beer party and the annual Boat weekend insure social success. Once again Theta Delt will be a leader in the various campus activities.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

The Panhellenic Council is a representative body consisting of two delegates and the President from each sorority on the campus of William and Mary. The College Panhellenic Council is guided in its operation by the National Panhellenic Conference which consists of delegates from each of the thirty-one national sororities. Each sorority maintains its right to operate within the limits of its own constitution. This autonomy is guarded by the National Panhellenic Conference. Only those agreements accepted by all sororities are considered binding by NPC.

The delegates to the College Panhellenic Council meet twice monthly to discuss mutual problems, promote inter-sorority cooperation, coordinate common interests and activities, and foster an "All Greek" spirit. This is the meaning of Panhellenic. Officers for this year were Susan Roache, president; Beth Childes, vice president; Poppy McDermott, secretary; Doris Williams, treasurer. Dean Sandra Kay Snidow, Assistant Dean of Women is the advisor.

The council is the governing body which makes and administers rushing rules. Speeches, discussions, panels, skits and a tea are held to familiarize freshman women with Greek life at William and Mary. This rush orientation program is carried out during the first semester. Delegates are available to answer questions at any time. In connection with the orientation program, an information publication entitled "Greek Notes" is edited and distributed by the council.

To encourage and promote the College ideal of academic achievement a trophy is awarded to the sorority with the highest academic average. A plaque is presented to the sorority showing greatest improvement over the previous semester. In addition two $100 scholarships are awarded each year to deserving women students.

Major accomplishments this year included improvements in the rushing procedure and bid delivery, rebudgeting to allow reducing the rush fee, and strengthening the foothold of sororities on the William and Mary Campus.

ACTIVITIES

Fall activities of the Panhellenic Council included a tea for the freshman women and skits presented by the junior Panhellenic delegates. This year for the first time, the Panhellenic Council in conjunction with IFC and the Student Lecture and Concert Series sponsored a reception for the audience attending the Grace Bumbry concert. At Christmas the Panhellenic Council worked with the Junior Chamber of Commerce which sponsored a Christmas Gift Shop for patients at Eastern State Hospital. Donations and gifts were given through the joint sorority effort.

February brought Rush Week and a flurry of activity in the Panhellenic Office. Delegates acted as guides, sources of information and liaisons between freshmen and sororities. Bids were matched by a Faculty Committee and were delivered by delegates to the girls in the dormitories. Acceptance Day and the excited welcome for new pledges was the culmination of a hectic week of activity.

In the Spring the scholarship trophy and plaque were presented as well as two $100 scholarships. A faculty tea was organized through the council with the cooperation of several sororities. Greek Week-End with all of the field events, dances, and parties was sponsored in conjunction with IFC.

Alpha Chi Omega is on trial! Are the Alpha Chis devils or angels? This is the question to be answered by close investigation of the sorority's activities for the year 1963-64.

The altruistic projects of the year included a Thanksgiving party for some of the women patients at Eastern State Hospital and the annual Alpha Chi-Kappa Sig Christmas party for underprivileged children. Scholastically, Alpha Chi is well represented on the Dean's list with approximately eight members achieving this honor.

In the social world, Alpha Chi has entertained faculty and campus guests, the freshman men with a fall tea, and its sorority members with the Founder's Day Banquet, October 15, and the Senior Banquet in the Spring. Crowning the social season were the Fall Dance, held at the Motor House Lodge, and the Pledge Presentation Dance.

As far as campus leadership is concerned, Alpha Chi tallies high with Vee Jones, Women's Dormitory Association President; Beth Chiles, senior member of the Women's Honor Council and vice president of the Panhellenic Council; Nancy Hahn, president of the Young Republicans; Joan Solinger, news and associate editor of the Flat Hat; Alois Tinsman, sweetheart of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity; Lynn Kerby, Barbara Hopson, Marcia Anderson, Bobbi McDermott, and Jo Ellen Kirsin, counselors of Jefferson and Ludwell, the Freshman women's dormitories.

Alpha Chi Omega distinguished itself in the Homecoming parade with "The Little Injun That Could," pulling in a second place float prize. The sorority also won a stereo for the house in the Marlboro contest.

Gaining exceptional pledges both in formal and informal rush, our pledge classes have added much to the sorority as a whole.

The Beta Deltas initiated a new housemother this year, Mrs. Amy Stevens from Cape Charles, Virginia. Mrs. Stevens was an Alpha Chi at Brenau College, Gainesville, Georgia.

Alpha Chi was led by the outstanding abilities of these officers: President, Judy Parker; Vice President, Alois Tinsman; Secretary, Vee Jones; Treasurer, Val Rosedo.

With this enumeration of Alpha Chis campus participation in altruistic projects, scholastic abilities, social activities, and campus leadership, the question remains, are the Alpha Chis devils or angels?—

The verdict is yours!

CHI OMEGA CAPERS

The Chi Omega horseshoe brought a year full of good luck and happiness. Our kitchen was redone, Maynard Williams captured the title of Homecoming Queen, and three of our members were finalists in the Miss William and Mary contest (Carol Boysen, Maynard Williams and Dabney Delaney). Three of us were fraternity sweethearts; Carol Boysen, Sig Ep; Gerry Fitzgerald, Kappa Sig; and Sandy Dixon Bowen, KA. Some of the most enjoyable events of the year were our desserts and parties with other Greeks and our dinners at the house for members of the administration and faculty. Two dances were the highlights of the social year, the Winter Semi-formal in January and the Senior Banquet and Pledge Presentation Dance in the Spring. Around Christmas we had an early morning visit from Santa and played Santa ourselves for our foster child in Viet Nam and the patients at Eastern State.

Our Chi Omega capers were matched with hard work. "Willy the Pig" was an energy-consuming project, but we finished him in time for the Homecoming parade, and he won fourth place in the float competition. With a great deal of determination and a little bit of help from the Chi Omega horseshoe, our scholastic average rose to 1.65 this year over last year's 1.47. Linda Lawrence was the pride of the sorority when she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Alpha Mu celebrated Delta Delta Delta's 75th anniversary all year long, reflecting the pride and enthusiasm of all 109 Tri Delta chapters in the United States.

In the fall Tri Delta placed four girls on the Homecoming court and hoped to spur William and Mary on to victory with their float "There's a Mountaineer Alp Size, But We've Got His Scalp-Size." We won the tennis intramurals, pledged three girls, partied with Lambda Chi, entertained Phi Mu and Chi Omega for dessert and charades, played bridge with the Housemothers, received the Concert Series award for having the most subscribers and helped Phi Tau collect for the United Fund. Winter brought the Founder's Day Banquet and Christmas dance at the Heritage Inn, giving food baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas, the annual orphan party with Sigma Pi, carolling with PiKA, and a serenade-reception for Sigma Pi's and sweetheart, Jeanne English, Second semester ushered in rush, the Pledge Dance, the Work Day, and a second spaghetti dinner. In the spring we awarded our annual scholarship to a William and Mary coed, entertained the faculty at our garden party at the home of Doctor and Mrs. Guy, and honored our seniors and mothers at the Pansy Breakfast. The year ended as happily as it began with enthusiasm and more joyous memories of Delta love.

The officers for the year were: Tish Paschall, president; Kay Bonner, vice president; Ann Piddington, secretary; Keven Farley, treasurer.

Autumn 1963 found the Gamma Phis returning full of plans and spirit, ready to make this year the best ever. Our officers were, Trisha Lee, president; Fran Oliver, vice president; Janice Gerry, secretary; and Mary Grafton London, treasurer.

To begin the year, Homecoming found us working on our float and planning an open-house for visiting alums. Quickly following Homecoming was the opening of fall rush, and when it was over we had five new pledges in addition to our spring pledge. Wearing crescent pledge pins and big smiles were Joan McKann, Dottie Gilbert, Marjorie Rankin, Melinda Sproul, Chris Hunt, and Betty Bright.

November simultaneously ushered in Founder's Day and a visit from our Province Director. And then came Christmas with all the fun and parties. We had a tree-trimming party with the Law school students, a chapter party, and remembering those less fortunate than we, held a party with Sig Ep for a group of orphans. Initiation of our pledges and the Christmas Presentation Dance highlighted the season.

Second semester found us busy with formal rush, at the end of which we had a wonderful new group of pledges. This semester, like first, we had our spaghetti dinners, took part in intramurals, and enjoyed partying on "the Row." We also awarded a scholarship to a music major. Before we knew it, it was spring, and with it came initiation, our Presentation dinner-dance honoring our pledges, and the chapter picnic.

As the semester drew to an end, we bade fond farewell to our seniors. It had been the best year ever, and they, as we, will always "Remember Gamma Phi Beta . . ."

JOANNE ARNETT, President

... and suddenly it was fall, and time for Theta's annual back-to-school luncheon. However, reminiscing soon gave way to anticipation as Thetas watched a first place float taking shape. Our officers for 1963-64 Joanne Arnett, president; Nancy Ratz, vice president; Ginnie Pierce, secretary; and Sharon Spooner, treasurer, proud of "Lulu's" success, experienced a second thrill when Theta got two new fall pledges. A busy schedule of social activities, including fraternity parties and many Happy Hours, was highlighted by the fall dance.

Arrival of winter and the approach of the Christmas season found Thetas continuing their philanthropic program with the distribution of gifts for underprivileged children and carolling at Dunbar.

Back to school and the excitement of rush, culminating on that special day when the black and gold ribbons were pinned on our pledges. The splendor of long white dresses and yellow chrysanthemum bouquets were topped only by the sparkling smiles of the pledges at their presentation dance.

The advent of warm spring days lured us outside for the annual kite flying contest and the senior picnic at Lake Matoaka where we bid a sad but fond farewell to the seniors.

Another year has passed. As summer approaches and we prepare to depart, the memories of our fall, winter, and spring Theta activities are revived. Much lay behind us, but as ever, ours is too, the pleasure of looking ahead to new seasons of Thetahood.

SUSAN STITT, President

"Try to remember the kind of September . . ." like this past one, with the back-to-school buffet for the Alpha Pi's, where we excitedly gathered to discuss our summer and plan for the new year. Officers for the year were Susan Stitt, president; Diane Wilson, vice president; Gretchen Ernst, secretary; and Margaret Underwood, treasurer.

"When autumn leaves start to fall . . ." Kappa Delta was caught up in the bustle of homecoming float preparations. Highlighting October was our Founders' Day ceremony and reception, a visit from our delightful Province President, and a Halloween party for the children at Eastern State Hospital.

"As the days dwindle down to a precious few . . ." the end of mid-semesters finally came, celebrated by a gaga pajama party. Keeping us busy in November were the Benefit Bridge with the faculty wives and housemothers, and a memorable dinner and reception with concert pianist John Browning who enchanted us all.

"I'll be home for Christmas . . ." was the main theme running through the KD house in December. In the flurry of pre-holiday activity Alpha Pi enjoyed a festive evening at its Diamond Ball. Following the dance was our annual pajama party, with a visit from a lively "Saint Nick," who brought gifts for all. Initiation of our two fall pledges Judy Mallison and Mary Lou Mays was also conducted.

"Happy New Year" to KD and off we started into the Rush activities, culminating with a wonderful group of girls donning our green and white ribbons. "Spring is here . . ." at last, with our pledges being initiated after a fun White Rose Week, the Parents' Day Tea, and Senior Banquet. And that was the wonderful year that was!

MARILYN KRIDER, President

A refurbished living room and a new housemother, Mrs. Lawrence, welcomed 45 KKG's back to the house on the corner for the fall semester. Our fall pledges, Susan Bunch and Margie Kelly, helped us boast about the trophies for intramural sports and for highest and most improved scholarship. Phi Beta Kappas Shauneen Cruise and Priscilla Hegeman were of great assistance in the scholarship department.

Volunteer work at Eastern State kept us busy, as did planning our Homecoming float, "From Mountaineers to Molehills." Dressed as Indians in bright orange and brown burlap, we were a ludicrous contrast to our lovely princess, Betty Linn Smith.

In November, the emphasis turned to social life when we entertained our alums at a tea and partied with the Theta Deltas and the Sigma PIs. The seniors' Second Annual Father-Daughter weekend was even more fun than the first.

December brought more parties—one for underprivileged children with Pi Lamb, a caroling date with the Kappa Sigs, the Christmas slumber party for the chapter, and the Monmouth Duo with Pi Phi.

Second semester meant new rush skits and a flurry of blue-and-blue ribbons for the new pledges. They joined us in philanthropy projects, fraternity parties, and then made their debuts as Kappas at their pledge dance. This was followed by initiation in April and big sisters' keys. Before long, we were singing goodbye to the seniors at the Senior Banquet. With the Fleur-de-lis Party just before exams, we wrote "finis" to another chapter in Gamma Kappa's history.

Officers for the year were: President, Marilyn Kriker; Vice President, Shauneen Cruise; Secretary, Cynthia Harris; Treasurer, Laura Youngblood.

Autumn holds for the Gamma Alpha Chapter of Phi Mu the memory of initiation of four pledges by our National President. It was not long until we were busily rounding up horses, wagons, stills and other mountaineer-type "paraphernalia" for our Homecoming float entitled "Still the Mountaineers." At Halloween the Great Pumpkin himself honored us with his attendance at a party. With the coming of Thanksgiving and Christmas, the Phi Mu's were busy preparing baskets of food for needy families in Williamsburg. A tree decorating party was held before Christmas, putting our house in a festive mood. Later at a Christmas party, we all exchanged gifts.

Second semester brought the flurry of Formal Rush, in which twelve girls were added to our sisterhood. The rest of second semester was filled with big-little sister parties and service projects, such as the orphanage picnic given by the pledges. The profits from other service projects were used in support of our National philanthropic project, the SS Hope, which travels to underdeveloped countries, giving food, clothing, and medical aid to the needy.

Card parties and open houses were held throughout the semester. On March 4, 1964, Founders' Day was celebrated, marking the 112th birthday of Phi Mu Fraternity, the second oldest women's secret organization in the United States. At this time a dessert was held for our chapter and all local alumnae. In March also came the event long awaited by the pledges—the Presentation Dance, with long white gowns and arm bouquets of pink carnations. In June, the Senior Banquet was held to honor our seniors as they stepped into the role of Phi Mu alumnae.

Our officers for the year were: President, Randy Venable; Vice President, Sharon Perkins; Corresponding Secretary, Kris Fortson; Recording Secretary, Nancy Baumgardner.

Fall found the Pi Phis building a tremendous pink octopus in anticipation of the Homecoming Parade. The chapter was well represented in the festivities as Lesley McAneny was in the Court, Marie Fridenstine and Cathy Carr cheered for the Indians, Joyce Hoskins and Pat Patterson served as majorettes, and our float won third prize. Deedle Rowland and Miki Leef, Vice President and Secretary of the PEP CLUB, found fall a busy season.

Our officers, Polly Mayhew, president; Joyce House, vice president; Mary Jane Mitchell, secretary; and Sandy Tolbert, treasurer, greeted us back to school with a "welcome" luncheon. Informal Rush brought the excited pledging of two new Pi Phis, Betty Kent Swayne and Patricia Patterson.

The Pi Phis discovered many activities about the campus to satisfy their interests. Margie Jensen was elected President of the Spanish Club, Mary Erskine was a Ludwell House President, Susan Stevenson was Head Sponsor, and Sue Roache was selected to serve as a President's Aide as well as being President of the Pan-Hellenic Council. Celebrations were in order when Sandy Tolbert and Shelia Sawyer were tapped into Phi Beta Kappa.

Christmas brought the annual Settlement School Sale, intramural hockey and volley ball championships, Christmas caroling at Eastern State, our Christmas Open House, the chapter "Santa Party," and the Monmouth Duo with KKG.

The New Year heralded promises of more rewards and excitement . . . rush, fraternity parties, the Presentation Dance for the pledges, and Polly representing W&M at the Apple Blossom Festival. This year has been a great one, and we leave it with pleasant memories of pink octopi, ribbons of wine and blue, and strains of "Gee, I'm glad I'm a Pi Phi!"

Athletic Director—LES HOOKER

The 1963-64 school term was marked by two significant changes in the William and Mary Athletic Department. Les Hooker's return to his alma mater marks the first time since 1952 that the position of Athletic Director has been separated from that of Head Football Coach.

1963 also marked the formal retirement of one of the most loved sports figures of the State. Mr. William and Mary, William S. "Pappy" Gooch. "Pappy" was born about the time that the Tribe was forming its first football team. He graduated from the University of Virginia as a four sport star. "Pappy" has spent 36 of his 70 years here on the reservation where he has coached all the sports and has served as Athletic Director. He has been Business Manager since 1939.

Business Manager—ED DERRINGE

Our football team, which compiled a 4-6 record, was directed again this year by Milt Drewyer, in his seventh year at Williamsburg. He was assisted by offensive and defensive coach Lou Holtz, in his fourth year. Larry Peccatiello completed his second year as end coach. August Tammariello concluded his second year as center and guard coach. Our freshman team was directed by Roger Neilson, in his second year.

The varsity basketball team, which compiled a disappointing 9-12 record, was again under the able direction of former William and Mary great Bill Chambers. This is Bill's seventh year with the Tribe as a coach. He was assisted for the second year by Charlie Woolum. Joe Agee had what he considers as one of the best overall freshman basketball teams in his career. Mr. Agee doubles as baseball coach during the spring season.

Harry Groves, after a tour with the United States track stars overseas, returned to the reservation to direct the cross-country and track and field teams. Dudley Jensen guided his mermen to their best season ever with a 7-4 record.

Undergraduate Barry Fratkin concluded his third season as Director of Sports Publicity at the College. When "Pappy" got sick Ed Derringe moved in to take over the position, eventually to assume full responsibility at the beginning of this year. Last but not least, Mont Linkenauer remained for his fourth year as head trainer for all sports and assistant track coach.

"Wampo leads the Big Green onto the field"

"T-E-A-M, yah TEAM!" With this cheer and many others the William and Mary Cheerleaders followed the tribe warriors in pursuit of victories on the battlefields.

This year the cheerleaders tried a new administrative arrangement having co-head cheerleaders, Sammy Sadler representing the boys, and Carol Evans representing the girls.

The 1963-64 edition of the tribe cheerleading squad started the year in September, with hard work for Interest Night and the first game. The members pooled their ideas to obtain new chants and motions for cheers. The boys worked on introducing acrobatics and a routine off of the minitramp. Ideas were presented for acrobatic cheers including both the boys and girls. Such stunts as knee stands and shoulder lifts were introduced.

During the year the squad made as many away trips as were possible. The squad traveled to Navy, Virginia, and Richmond during the football season and Newport News, Richmond, and Norfolk during basketball. During each appearance the cheerleaders did their utmost to disconcert the opponent teams and cheering sections. At the Navy game the cheerleaders suddenly appeared in the midst of the Middies yelling "Beat Navy." And what opponent wouldn't become disconcerted in our own Blow Gym?

This year a new Indian and a new horse were initiated to the ways of the reservation. Alan Jacobus and Wampo Feather both added to the color of the occasion with their pre-game and half-time appearances.

William and Mary had a rather disappointing football season and compiled a record of 4 wins and 6 losses. But this mediocre record saw many fine individual performances against very tough teams. These fine performances merited the members of the team, coached by Milt Drewer, many honors at the conclusion of the season as well as during it.

One of the highlights of the season was the naming of Charlie "The Little Rat" Weaver as "Back of the Week" in the Southern Conference after his record-breaking performance against Davidson. In this game he set a new Southern Conference record for passes caught in one game.

Dan Henning, the Indian quarterback, also turned in good work for the Indian cause with his finest day, the last game of the season against Richmond. William and Mary's greatest passer set three new season records with his outstanding performance.

Much deserved recognition came to the Indians at the end of the season with both Weaver and Soleau on the Big Five All Stars first team. The duo was backed up by Dan Henning, Bill Corley, and T. W. Alley on the second team.

The naming of outstanding players in the Southern Conference saw six Indians receive notice. Bob Soleau was named for the second year to the first team while T. W. Alley and Charlie Weaver were voted on the second team. Receiving honorable mention were standouts John Sapinsky, Mike Lesniak, and Dan Henning.

Perhaps the finest tribute to the quality of football players here at William and Mary came at the pro-football drafts. Competing against the best players in the country three of the Indians, T. W. Alley, Bob Soleau, and John Sapinsky were early round draft choices.

All in all, the entire football team is to be congratulated for a fine effort with special tribute to Milt Drewer, his assistants, and the fifteen Seniors on the squad.

Dan Henning in a rare moment. Soleau, Alley and Swan are too late to assist.

William and Mary opened the season with a hard-fought 7-0 victory over the Citadel on September 21. The tribe relied almost entirely on the belly series with only a few passes by Dan Henning to keep the "military men" loose. The Indians' senior quarterback also accounted for the only score of the evening with an eight-yard TD run.

The majority of the Tribe's attack was credited to the running of Charlie Weaver and Scott Swan who together amassed 163 yards of the total rushing yardage.

The fine showing by the defensive backfield gave rise to hopes that the weak spot of last year was corrected.

William and Mary bows to nation's second best team, Navy, led by Roger Staubach.

The next weekend saw the Tribe facing what was ultimately the number two team in the country. Led by "Jolly" Roger Staubach's record-breaking performance, Navy scored a 28-0 victory. Throughout the day, Staubach, everyone's All-American, escaped the outstretched arms of the charging Indians to register large gains.

The game which saw the Navy quarterback break his school's one-man total offense record also saw the knee injury of big John Sapinsky.

William and Mary's quarterback Dan Henning was also potent as he completed 15 out of 22 passes for a total of 134 yards.

The Indians led Furman's Paladins to the slaughtering block in a well-deserved win.

October 5 saw the Tribe defeat Furman 27-17 and take over the lead in the Southern Conference. The game, featuring the third successive fine performance of Dan Henning, spotlighted future stars Dennis Haglan and Dick Kern. The victory over the previously undefeated Paladins supported early forecasts that William and Mary would be a major threat in the SC.

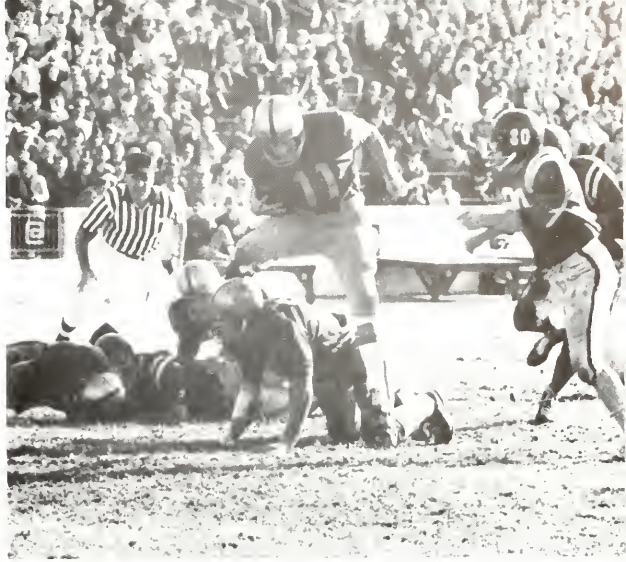

The Paladins led by QB Danny Donovan scored first but the Indians came right back with an 80-yard drive capped with a three-yard run by Scott Swan for the score. Sure-footed Sam Miller, who also led the rushers with a total of 74 yards, kicked the extra point.

William and Mary's usually tough line gave up yardage, but in the clutch stopped the drives of Furman.

West Virginia disappoints the William and Mary Homecoming crowd.

William and Mary's next game, October 12, threw all early forecasts that the Tribe would be a major threat in the Southern Conference to the winds. Leading at the half before a fine Homecoming crowd of about 3,000 by a score of 12 to 6, the Indians looked as if they had the game fairly well in hand. Quarterback Dan Henning had completed 6 out of 8 passes to halfback Charlie Weaver. But then the Mountaineers came on strong and after a growling second half the Indians went down to defeat 18 to 21. This launched the Tribe into a five-game losing streak which was to shatter all hopes of Southern Conference dominance.

"Charlie Weaver picks up yardage against G.W."

"Tribe rush defense lives up to its reputation."

The Indians' losing streak continued here with the V.P.I. encounter.

October 19 proved to be another agonizing defeat for William and Mary, this time at the hands of V. P. I. Boasting a strong aerial attack, the Tech team very quickly scored within the first 8 minutes of the game and remained ahead throughout the first half.

After the half, William and Mary looked as if Drewer's talk in the lockers might have done some good because they tightened their pass defense and came up with a consistent ground attack. But this did not last long and the Indians went to defeat 25 to 16. And so even with the excellent playing of Southern Conference standouts Alley and Soleau the Tribe continued its losing ways.

Underdog George Washington whips William and Mary in their first win of the season.

William and Mary entered the game against George Washington University with hopes of regaining winning form. These hopes were soon shattered as the previously winless Colonials posted a 32-14 victory at Cary Field.

Dan Henning continued on his way to being the best passer in W & M's history, but the Tribe lacked a potent running game. In the game Henning set three individual passing marks, but this was not enough.

Coach Drewer later reflected that "It was our worst game of the season."

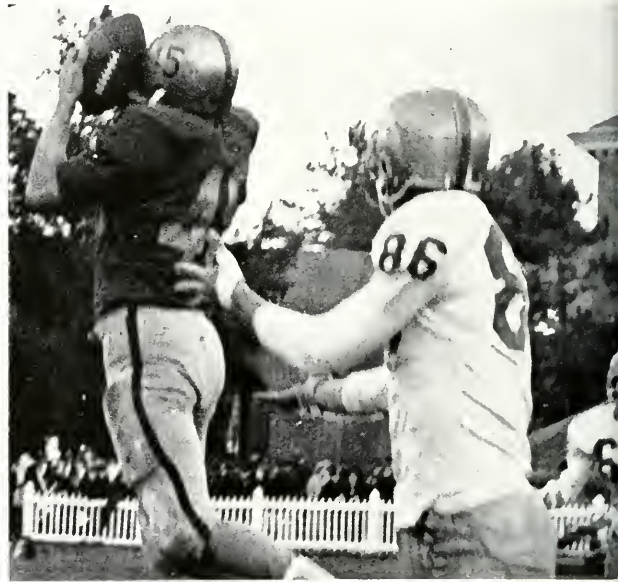

Injuries greatly hampered the Tribe as halfback Scott Swan and tackle John Sapinsky were unable to play.

The Cadets of VMI show the Indians a good light here as their line becomes a brick wall

On November 2nd, the Indians attempted to snap their string of losses, but Virginia Military Institute turned back the Tribe 26 to 6. Again the lack of a consistent ground attack and a strong pass defense hindered the team. Because of the weak defense V. M. I. threw the ball 41 times.

Numerous injuries contributed to the Tribe's fourth straight defeat as several of the Seniors were unable to play. Sophomores were thus forced into the game and made a creditable showing with outstanding play by Dennis Haglan and sophomore end George Pearce.

The only score of the Indians was a two-yard line buck by fullback Sam Miller.

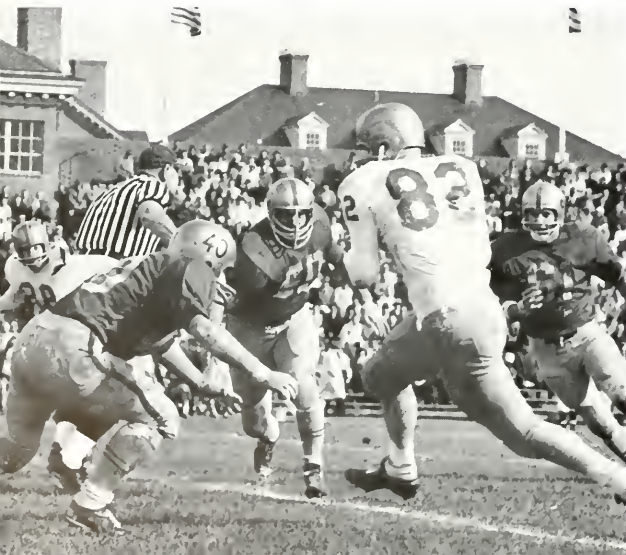

Again William and Mary dumps a close one.

William and Mary suffered its most frustrating defeat at the hands of the University of Virginia. The score, 9 to 7, gave no indication that nine times the Tribe drove within the 25-yard line only to be stopped, once on the six-inch line.

The doom of the Indians was spelled by pass interceptions as stolen aerials led to both Cavalier scores.

In losing to UVa, the Tribe thoroughly outplayed them, nearly tripling their total yardage, and having 16 more first downs.

W&M scored its only touchdown as Charlie Weaver caught a Henning "bomb" at midfield and raced to the end zone.

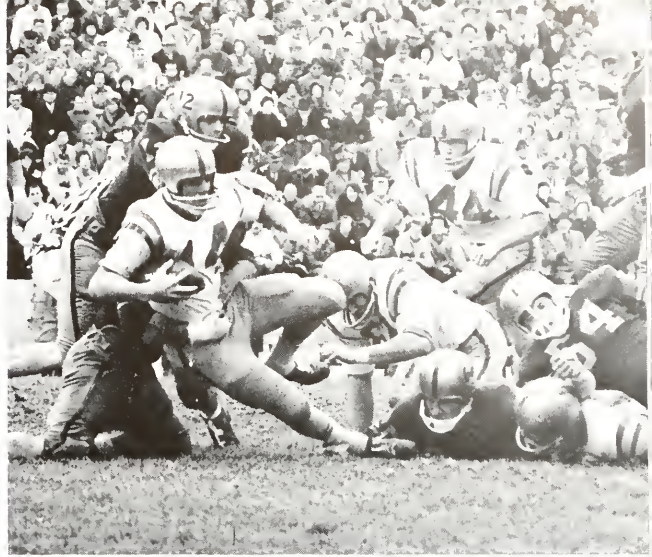

The Indians bounce back and have a fine day against Davidson.

The Indians tried to make up for a rather disappointing season by trampling the Davidson Cats 34-5.

The Cats scored first on a field goal and a safety. They held the Tribe scoreless in the first period but from then on it was the Indians' ball game. Winning their first game at home this season the Indians almost completely dominated the game.

The day was highlighted by the setting of a Southern Conference record by Charlie Weaver. The "Rat" who was voted "conference back of the week" caught ten passes for a total of 142 yards.

Dan Henning also had a fine day with 12 completes out of 21 for a total of 199 yards.

William and Mary finishes out a discouraging season with a deserving win.

The Thanksgiving Festival in Richmond saw the finest hour of William and Mary's revitalized football game. The Tribe led by captain Bob Soleau demolished the University of Richmond Spiders 29-6 in the last game of the 15 seniors on the squad.

Senior Dan Henning became W&M's greatest passer as he completed 16 out of 21 passes. This game gave him a season total of 100 completions in 183 attempts for a total yardage gain of 1133 yards, thus breaking the record held by Buddy Lex since 1949.

Fine pass catching by Bill Corley and Charlie Weaver led to the Tribe scores. The final victory gave the Indians a Southern Conference record of 4-4 and an over-all record of 4 wins and 6 losses.

William and Mary's Cross-Country Team was one of the bright spots of the athletic department. The team, coached by Senior physics major Jim Holdren while regular Coach Harry Groves was on European tour, captured for the first time both the State and the Southern Conference crowns.

Led by sophomore standout Jimmy Johnson the team p led up a 5-2 record on the way to the dual crown. In the process they conquered first place titles in the Mt. St. Mary's Invitational, the State Meet, and the Southern Conference Championships.

The team was invited for the first time in seven years to the Cross-Country contingent in the NCAA championship in East Lansing, Michigan.

There, the Indians competing against the top 45 schools in the country placed a remarkable and respectable 17th. William and Mary's barriers were the highest finishers among all of the schools in the South with Bob Lawson 60th, Jimmy Johnson 68th, Tom Ryan 132nd, John Randolph 153rd, and Frank Brown 157th. More than 250 runners finished the race.

In their fine season showing the Indians set many individual records. Jimmy Johnson, considered one of the best Cross-Country runners in the nation, was beat only once and at the Empire Harriers' Run averaged 4 minutes 54 seconds per mile over a 9.5 mile course!

In capturing the SC championship both Johnson and his running mate, Junior, Bob Lawson, bettered the old course record as they finished 1 and 2.

This season's fine showing by the Indians may be just the start of a fine string of winning seasons as the nucleus of the team is young and Coach Groves is looking forward to more winning seasons in the future.

The William and Mary Cricket Club ended a successful campaign this fall with an impressive 4-2 record. The club was helped to this fine record by the Exeter Exchange student, Bill Maltby and Australian Greg Harvey.

The club greeted for the fall campaign several veterans. Among these were Seniors Gordon Pehrson, Jerry Saunders, Lloyd Stableford, and Mike Flattery. Also returning were Juniors Bob Audley and Tom Kirkup and Sophomore John Tudor. In addition the club greeted several freshmen.

"Well, we'll win a few and we'll lose a few." With these words Coach Bill Chambers launched his warriors on the warpath. With but four seniors and one returning regular things looked bleak. While the eternal optimists proclaimed great things, the pessimists proved more accurate in their predictions as the Tribe five managed but a meager 9-12 season having to fight its way into the tournament by winning a must game with Richmond.

This year's team saw the play of Hugh Miller as center, Martin Morris at one forward position and Dave Hunter at one guard position. The other forward and guard positions were up for grabs with Larry Paffrath and Walter Wenk seeing a good deal of action in these positions respectively.

The Tribe cage team started off the season with three straight victories over Hampden-Sydney, V.M.I., and Furman. Then, as things began to look up, our eagers lost a close one to West Virginia 73-78. With this loss the team adjourned to the holidays and appearances at tournaments in Jonesboro, Arkansas, and Johnson City, Tennessee. December 20, we met and defeated Arkansas State. The next night we lost to a superb West Texas team in a good 51-61 showing. After Christmas Day we traveled to the Watauga Invitational Tournament where we lost the East Kentucky the first night and beat East Tennessee the second night. The New Year began with a victory over Furman on the loser's home court. Then we lost two close games to Citadel and Richmond, 60-63 and 52-53. Returning to friendlier confines we beat East Carolina before losing to a good Virginia Tech team. The mid-year exams slowed things up until the Tribe returned to action against Citadel at Newport News' new Julie Conn Gym. The team moved on to Norfolk where "Lefty" Driesell's fourth ranked Wildeats put on a real show in outdistancing the William and Mary team 111-84. The losses to Citadel and Davidson marked the beginning of what was to become a seven-game losing streak. The Tribe lost some close ones in a last shot loss to Virginia 54-56 and a double overtime heartbreaker to Virginia Tech on the winner's home court. But the Tech loss demonstrated that the Tribe was not dead yet. We lost to V.M.I. on our home court in another close one before blasting our last two opponents by a total of 46 points. Against George Washington Martin Morris and Dave Hunter combined for 48 points in shellaeking the Colonials 82-67. Against Richmond the Tribe had all five starters in double figures as the Green, Gold, and Silver soundly trounced the Spiders 84-53, to earn a Southern Conference Tournament Berth at Charlotte, N. C., February 27-29. The final game had been a must game even though the Indians were seventh in the conference entering the skirmish. The victory earned the Indians the seventh place in the tourney, meeting West Virginia, a team that had sneaked by them earlier in the year.

The Tribe ended their season with a 5-9 conference record (.357) and a 9-12 overall (.428).

The Indians definitely had more than their share of difficulties this basketball season. Manned as they were with mostly inexperienced but talented men like Sophomore Curly Coyle and first year Senior Hugh Miller, the tribe managed to come out with a good season record. Experienced players Marty Morris and Dave Hunter contributed greatly to the tally.

William and Mary's mermen came through in very fine, if not quite tremendous, style this year to compile an 8-4-0 record and came very close to taking the Southern Conference Title. This season gives Coach Jensen a cumulative 48-48-1 record in all the years he has been at William and Mary.

The men got off to a good start and despite having to practice in an outmoded pool and then having the meet in a newer and larger one, they gave Old Dominion a beating and set up a 63-32 win. Backstroker Colt Worcester stood out in this meet.

The team then took a close one from American University, 48-47, and followed that up with a sound defeat of highly rated Galludet University, 56-39. A losing streak of 3 began at the next meet when Catholic University gave the men a big setback, 55-40.

Moving into the Southern Conference, UVa. gave us a beating, 56-39, and underdog Wake Forest took us to task, 52-43.

William and Mary bounced back with some really great swimming on the parts of Dick Franklin and Gordon Baskerville and won over Roanoke, 60-35, but they lapsed again at the next meet and VPI defeated them 59-45.

The end of the season turned out much better than everyone expected after all those losses. The tremendous efforts of swimmers like Jack Walstad pushed us on to win our last three meets, Georgetown, 64-31, Citadel, a big win, 54-50, and Davidson, 56-40.

The boys are definitely looking forward to a very good season next year, with most of the team returning as Juniors and Seniors and with many talented Freshmen moving up. It looks like a good year ahead.

THE RIFLE TEAM

William and Mary is at the present time sponsoring three separate rifle teams; varsity freshman, and R.O.T.C. The teams coached by Sgt. First Class Raymond Patrick under the direction of Capt. M. R. Wofford are rapidly coming of age. Almost every year from the team's conception in 1954, they have improved. The slight disappointment this season is due to the fact that the rifle range was closed for over two months while the backstop was being replaced. The lack of practice of this extended period of time greatly hindered the team's chances for a really good season.

Even under these adverse conditions the Varsity has compiled a record of five wins and five losses.

The team at present has five lettermen with one place undecided. The top gun is Joe Turner, followed by Jim Chambers, Bob Kennedy, Dennis Peacock, and Jim Watts. Turner, the team's outstanding shot holds the school record of a high of 290 out of a possible 300 in a match against Washington and Lee.

The team, supported by the United States Army which supplies rifles, targets, and ammo, is a member of the Southern Conference. Last year the team tied for fifth with VPI, an excellent showing for a young team. This year's performance is not expected to be as good because of the lack of practice.

Besides firing in the Southern Conference the rifle team travels up and down the East Coast for matches. In addition to the shoulder to shoulder matches the team also fires postal matches with schools beyond traveling distance. In a postal match each team member fires a total of 30 shots in 36 minutes from the three positions, standing, kneeling, and prone, and the results are mailed to the other school.

Next year the team will be coached by Sgt. Louis Romero and the outlook is bright with the majority of the team returning.

This year's baseball team hopes to improve on last year's 2-14 record. Last year's team beat only Furman and Virginia.

The William and Mary Indians opened their season on the road at East Carolina. The Pirates were not in a receptive mood and beat our warriors 2-1. This was the beginning of a nine-game victory drought. Our next game was again on the road at Atlantic Christian where the hosts walked off with a 10-9 victory. The Indians returned home to play the visitors' role this time but again our opponents were not in a favorable mood as we lost to Elon 8-2 in a game where the visitors scored six runs in the fourth inning. Again venturing out to hostile grounds the Indians were ambushed by the Gobblers as Tech won at Blacksburg in a close high-scoring game, 7-8. The Tribe warriors remained on the road to travel to Lexington where the Keydets showed the same unfriendly spirit in bushwhacking our charges, 3-6. The diamonds stayed away from home and traveled to Elon to try to avenge an earlier defeat, but fell, this time 4-5. In hopes of stemming the tide the Indians returned to the reservation to try and halt the high-flying Techmen, but the boys from Blacksburg turned the tide and routed our team 4-8. Steaming from a seven-game losing streak the William and Mary boys set their sights on an upset as always tough University of Pittsburgh Panthers came to the reservation. But the Panthers jumped off to a five run first inning lead increasing this by four in the third and thirteen in the last three innings to soundly trounce our hopes in a humiliating defeat 3-23. Still reeling from the lopsided defeat the Indians went into the Richmond game at Williamsburg vainly seeking their first taste of victory. But the Spiders were in no more hospitable mood than the rest of the teams and again our diamonds fell 3-6. On April twenty-seventh the Furman Paladins came to the reservation. This time victory did not escape our clutches and the Tribe diamonds beat the Paladins in the first half of a double header 5-3. But in the second game the Purple and White won 4-3.

Traveling to Morgantown, the Indians sought their second victory against a tough conference foe. But the Mountaineers were too much for us as they beat the Tribe in both games of a double header, 4-3 and 6-4. On the way back from the hills of West Virginia our team stopped off in Charlottesville to play the Cavaliers. This time their search for a second victory was not to be denied them as they triumphed over the Orange and Blue 6-5. Returning again to the reservation the Tribe faced the Keydets again and again the Red, White, and Yellow triumphed 6-5. The season concluded as it began as we lost to the Spiders of Richmond in a rout, 2-11.

TRACK AND FIELD

William and Mary's team of thinclads piled up a fine record under the astute coaching of Harry Groves. The team started the season with a Southern Tour facing a strong Army team from Fort Lee, and teams from Emory University, Brown, South Carolina, and a fine field at the South Carolina State Record Relays.

The team, getting a lot of help from some of the Sophomores, soon lived up to Groves' forecast of a "fine team."

The season also saw the start of a new track meet here at the College. On April 13, the first annual Colonial Relays were held with a fine field of teams entered. The new meet saw the setting of a College two-mile relay record with the fine running of Hurley, Gimmel, Randolph, and anchor-man Raihofer.

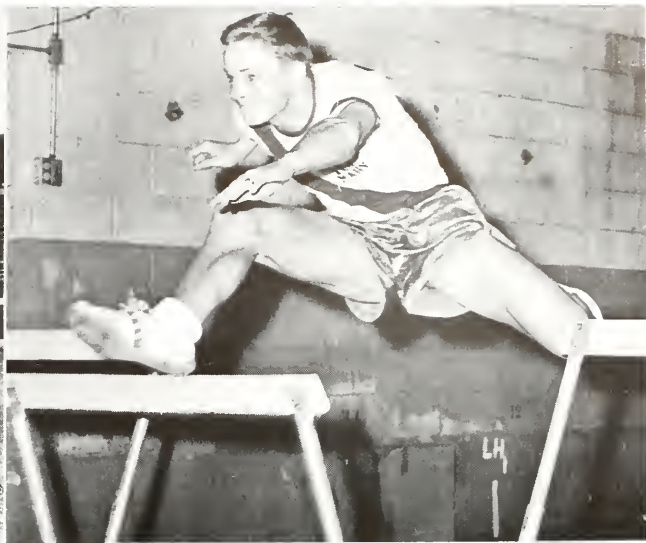

Three days later with a fine display of depth and balance, the Indians crushed arch-rivals Virginia Tech, 96 to 44. The Gobblers were never in the meet as the Indians took eleven first places.

The following Monday saw another William and Mary victory, this time over the Keydets of VMI. Led by a fine showing by sophomore sprinter, Scott Ferguson, who had a first in both the 100 and 220 dashes and a second in the broad jump, the Indians whipped the men from VMI 83 to 57.

The final dual meet of the season was held with the Spiders from the University of Richmond. A conclusive victory in this meet gave the thinelads an enviable record of 6 wins and 1 loss in dual meets. Led by co-captains Bill Jeffries and Dale Thomas the team won 15 out of 16 events.

The State Intercollegiate Track Meet saw the Indians finish a strong second.

The final meet of the season against very strong foes from the rest of the Southern Conference at Charleston, West Virginia, saw the Indians finish a very respectable third.

All in all, 1963 was a fine season for the thinelad Indians of William and Mary.

Jim Cuddihy showing his form on the green

Last year's golf team unhappily fulfilled Coach Lou Holtz's statement that the team's prospects were not too good. He predicted an "average" team and that was the consensus of the experts at the end of the season. The loss of three of the top four golfers was believed to be responsible for the dull season.

The team started the season impressively with victories over teams from Alma College of Alma, Michigan, Richmond, and George Washington.

After four straight victories the golf teams dropped three matches in a row to VMI, Virginia Tech, and the University of Virginia.

With a record of four wins and three losses the team surged upward with the ranking of second place in the State Collegiate Golf Tourney. The fine finish was the result of excellent golfing by Joe Cunningham, Jim Cuddihy, Dan Dickerson, and Terry Lady. Also aiding the cause was Bill Houck and Ed Simon.

Throughout the season the team was helped by the fact that they played on the toughest course in the league, the difficult Williamsburg Country Club.

The final and most important match of the season was the Southern Conference Tourney held at the Dunes Golf and Beach Club in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina. Against a very tough field of entrants and a difficult and unfamiliar course, the team finished a fairly respectable fifth. Coach Holtz stated that "William and Mary didn't lose the Southern Conference Golf Tournament, VPI won it."

Although disappointed with the conference record Coach Holtz was pleased with the regular season play and the fine golfing of the men on the team.

TENNIS

Last year's tennis hopes saw the team with three veterans in Steve Parker, Chico Herriek and Jim Delaney. The three players held down positions one, two and three respectively. Dave Hunter returned to the squad from a year's absence and helped round out the squad along with senior Doug Wood and sophomore initiates Mickey Taylor and Craig Carlson.

With captain Steve Parker leading the way the William and Mary net men were figured to end up in the same Conference position as the previous year. Hopes of improving on the previous year's 8-5 record were dim. Our opponents presented formidable opposition allowing us to emerge with only a 3-7 record.

Tennis began on March 25 when a good Williams team invaded the Indian courts. Williams came prepared and ran off with the victory 0-9. Three days later Colgate ventured to our courts and managed to sneak out with a 4-5 victory. Our next game saw us venturing to Lexington where we played VMI, the latter managing to slip by us with another 4-5 victory. Again the story was repeated as Tech beat us 4-5. Finally, the Indians were able to lure Old Dominion to our own courts where we took their measure in defeating them 6-3. Our next action saw us entered in the Fort Eustis Tournament where we emerged with a meager 1-8. Traveling to Washington, D. C., we lost to both Georgetown and George Washington on two successive days.

On May first we ventured home to earn our second taste of victory as we beat Richmond on our home courts. Two days later the Mountainers ventured on to our courts and the Indians, having had a sweet taste of victory sent the invaders back to the hills with a sound thrashing 9-0. The victory over concluded our season (3-7) on a high note, VICTORY!

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

Tom Pavey and Andy Jacobs of Pi Lam chase Ken Williams of PiKA

Men's intramural got off to a fast start as fraternities and independents gathered forces for football. PiKA came through, as expected, and won consistently, going through six games without ever being scored upon. Perennial powerhouse SAE matched PiKA until the playoff when they completely smashed them 14-6. Last year's all-intramural champions Sigma Pi hung right in there all season, but could never make more than a third place showing. SAE came out on top, however, and beat the independent champions, YATES 2, to win the traditional fraternity-independent championship. In place kicking, Yerkes, led the PiKAs to an overwhelming win.

Intramural swimming was highlighted by several fine swimmers, notably Nord Johnson and Pete McPhee, both of Sigma Pi, who set records in freestyle and the 440 relay. PiKA again won this sport by about 20 points.

The horseshoe competition this year was very rugged and matches were long and difficult. PiKA again won the sport with Sigma Pi taking a close second. This order was the same as in overall point standings at this time with KA taking a close third.

Attention next turned to volleyball where all eyes were on Sigma Pi and PiKA. Both were near the top in the battle for intramural champs and both had a 4-0 record on their crucial meeting. PiKA beat Sigma Pi and took the lead. The faculty completely dominated the independent league for the third straight year, compiling a perfect 8-0 record.

Theta Delta beat the favored bowling power, Sigma Pi, in a very close last match to take the bowling crown.

Next came the best attended intramural sport, wrestling. Sigma Pi's Fred Everett won his third straight victory in the 157-pound class while Kappa Sig's Ash Woolridge finished out his four years of competition in the 177-pound class undefeated. Sigma Nu won the sport with some really fine wrestling.

PiKA's consistent winning all year long placed them a long way out in front in points standings with Sigma Pi and KA pulling up behind them.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MANAGER'S BOARD

First Row: S. Frayser, P. Riley, M. A. Dalton, P. Heath, C. Tucker. Second Row: S. Wells, B. Wampler, B. Edel, C. A. Wylie

The Women's Athletic Association organizes all the varsity and intramural sports activities for women at William and Mary.

Heading the Women's Athletic Association is the Joint Board, which is composed of the student officers, the faculty head of intramural sports and four faculty members from the Athletic department. Each fall the board plans a picnic for the freshmen where they are able to become acquainted with the WAA officers. In the spring the board also plans a Spring Awards Dessert. At this time awards are given for individual participation on teams. Awards are given on the basis of the number of points a player has accumulated throughout the year. Points are given for participation in varsity and intramural sports. In addition to planning these activities the Joint Board keeps the student body informed on the sports program and what is going on around the campus.

Other bodies of the WAA are the Manager's Board and the Intramural Representatives. The intramural representatives are composed of members from each sorority and each dorm on campus. This Board plans the intramural sports events and set up the rules and policies of play. The Managers from the four varsity sports and eleven intramural sports meet each fall to acquaint the new members with their duties.

The officers for the 1963-64 year included the following: President, Carole Ann Wylie; Secretary, Margaret Temple; Point Recorder, Mar-C Milona; Student Head of Intramurals, Kathy Wiese; Secretary of Manager's Board, Bruce Edel.

The Women's Athletic Association also presents a trophy to the team which participates in the most sports, and an award for the most outstanding intramural representative.

This year's hockey team, coached by Miss Fran Rucker, exhibited its strength throughout the season. Their opening game set a precedent for victory with a 3-0 victory over Petersburg Club. The only game the squaws lost was a tight battle with Longwood. Losing 2-0 at the half, the girls were able to gain only 3 goals while Longwood tallied 2 more. The Varsity continued its season with the defeat of Roanoke, Old Dominion, and Mary Washington, and a marginal triumph over the little colonels. Westhampton and Richmond Club held the William and Mary team to even scores.

Senior members of the Varsity formed a nucleus of team power this season. Judy Bryan, Rose Wilbur, and Alois Tinsman spearheaded the offense. The defense was led by Kevin Farley, Jo Anne Bode, and Beth Chiles.

The Hockey team hosted the Tidewater Tournament this fall. Two days of intercollegiate play were culminated by an exhibition game played by those chosen to represent this area in the Southeastern Tournament. Miss Fran Rucker (coach), and Judy Bryan (co-captain) were selected from the William and Mary team as members of the All-Tidewater team.

The girls' basketball team began practice in late November and officially opened the season on January 10 with a game at Bridgewater College. The rest of the 1964 season included games with Lynchburg, Longwood, Westhampton, Notre Dame, R. P. I., and Mary Washington.

L. Marcus, Captain; J. McKann, Manager

The lacrosse team for 1964 is coached by Miss Fran Rucker. William and Mary is one of the few Virginia schools putting a varsity lacrosse team into intercollegiate competition. Last year after being defeated by Westhampton and Hollins, the team travelled to Goucher to bow once more to their opponents.

This year the squad is looking forward to a more successful season. The squaws, characterized by their effort and teamwork, are working to improve individual skills as the team gradually gains the depth in experience necessary to a winning club. This season should give an opportunity for development, since it has been possible to schedule games with several colleges.

Last year's Captain Judy Bryan will be followed this year by Lynne Marcus. Judy McKann will replace Polly Bean as manager.

The team will attend a lacrosse clinic at Sweet Briar College in May and will be represented at the annual National Lacrosse Tournament in June.

TENNIS

First Row: M. Duke, L. McAueny, S. Wells, J. Holdren, S. M. Smith, G. Blount, B. Wampler. Second Row: P. Cullen, S. Tuck, C. Skogen, B. Morgan, M. Neurenberger, L. Trice, S. Fouts, V. Rubin, M. Barksdale

The 1964 Women's Tennis team, Coached by Miss Martha Barksdale, is composed of nine returning varsity players and ten new members.

Last year, the team defeated Mary Washington, Longwood, West Hampton, Lynchburg, and R. P. I. Their single loss in intercollegiate play was to Sweet Briar. Practice matches were held with the Williamsburg Tennis Club, and the Suffolk Recreation Association.

William and Mary sent Liz Hotchkins and Joan Brame to Philadelphia to participate in the Middle States Tournament at Bryn Mawr College. Liz also represented the squad at the Middle Atlantic Tournament at Mary Baldwin College. Plans are being made to send players to these tournaments and others in Florida and North Carolina this year.

Sally Wells and Barbara Wampler, last year's number one doubles team, are co-managing the Squaws this year as well as defending their playing position. Singles positions are "up for grabs." Promising possibilities are Betsy Morgan, Viv Rubin, and Mary Neurenberger. Among the several strong varsity players who will also be making bids for positions are Ginny Blount, Sally MacSmith, and Leslie McAueny. The girls are ranked finally by a ladder arranged according to the results of practice play-offs.

The spring schedule includes the same colleges, and the tennis team anticipates an even more successful season than that of 1963.

FENCING

Miss Reeder, Coach; M. Steinbach, Captain

The William and Mary fencing team draws its members largely from the group of girls who have developed an interest in the sport through physical education classes. A lack of experience handicapped the team last year in their matches with Madison and Mary Washington.

This year, under the able coaching of Miss Reeder, the girls are practicing hard and looking forward with enthusiasm to their scheduled matches with Madison and Mary Washington. Veteran Maxine Steinbach is the team's outstanding member and will be its leader for the 1964 season.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

The Women's Athletic Association of William and Mary sponsors a varied intramural program which is co-ordinated by Mrs. Reeve. The intramural champion, which is announced at the Women's Athletic Association Dessert each spring is presently Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The first sport of the year, hockey, had over 100 participants. Competition was close as the three-way tie for third place between Jefferson, Chi Omega and Kappa indicates. Pi Phi led by Linda Helfrisch and Cindy McCleary, carried away the honors. Gamma Phi fielded a spirited team that captured second place.

National hockey clubs from Ireland and the Netherlands gave an exhibition game this fall, demonstrating a perfected technique for our intramural players.

Delta Delta Delta secured first place in tennis intramurals by winning all five matches. The team was led by experienced players Sally Wells and Barbara Wampler. Gamma Phi grabbed a close second with four wins and only one loss. The interest and ability shown in this sport are evidenced by the tie for third place between five teams with a 3-2 record.

The swimming meet held in November, which included 58 events was won by Kappa Kappa Gamma. Kappa's Dede Day rated first place in the individual medley with a time of 1:08.6 seconds. Ann Tomlinson of Pi Phi took first in the 25-yard freestyle race. Ludwell's Donna Smith placed first in the diving competition. Freshman swimmers such as Mary Neuremberger, Alice Respass, and Chris Coggins, illustrating the ability of the Jefferson and Ludwell teams, prompted suggestions for competitive swimming in the future.

INTRAMURALS

Volleyball season this fall was dominated by the Gamma Phi team who pushed last year's champ, Pi Phi, down to second place. Jefferson and Kappa deadlocked for third.

Last year's bowling champion Betty White led Kappa to first place with the help of teammates Shaunceen Cruise and Kathy Weise. Alpha Chi tallied the second place score and Gamma Phi, third. Bowling for 1964 will see the return of many of last year's champions.

The Basketball teams seem to show a shift in strength this spring. Last spring, the Pi Phi team snatched the final victory from Kappa Delta in a close and hard-fought game. This year, Gamma Phi, Kappa Delta, and Theta show promise.

Jefferson placed first in softball competition last spring. Pi Phi and Kappa followed in second and third place respectively. The softball title for 1964 has not yet been claimed.

Dear Miss Smith,

Thank you for asking me to judge the winner of the Miss William and Mary contest. It was a pleasure to do so, even though I had a difficult time trying to choose only one winner from among six lovely girls.

My final decision for the contest winner is Miss Jean Freeman.

Kindest regards.
