The Editor Receives A Few Answers

... I want to go on record in writing that the article "What's Wrong With William and Mary?" (GAZETTE, March, 1947) is potentially the most important article I have seen relative to William and Mary.

In full humility, I confess to being one of the people to whom it was aimed, but I'll also go on record as having been stirred by it and although I am not in a position to make any appreciable contribution to the alumni fund, I am willing and desirous of doing anything I can to help make William and Mary the best college in America.

E. A. DEBORDENAVE, '32.

Your article entitled "What's Wrong With William and Mary?" should stir the alumni of the College from their general attitude of indifference. I hope that you will continue these strong editorials. It is inexcusable that a college with the historical background of William and Mary should allow itself to wallow aimlessly from lack of planned and far thinking leadership.

JOHN W. YEAMAN, '33.

... I sincerely believe that every student, man or woman, veteran or non-veteran, fraternity or non-fraternity, should read this editorial, and I mean read it, and take it to heart!

I believe that this editorial is the most penetrating, understanding, critical yet absolutely accurate article that has ever been written about our Alma Mater in modern decades. . . . This editorial is cruel in its frankness, and yet the status of the College, its present student body, faculty, administration, Board of Visitors, and alumni is absolutely accurate. . . .

It is appalling to me that William and Mary, with 14,000 living alumni, could only raise $2,800 in the 1947 Charter Day Gifts Fund. Other colleges, much smaller and less renowned, raise multiples of this figure annually. Why are the William and Mary alumni so complacent about the needs and interests of Alma Mater, except for athletics?

The alumni of a college are loyal to and proud of their Alma Mater only to the extent that they were loyal to and proud of their Alma Mater while they were undergraduates, on the campus. What makes Yale or Amherst men so proud of their schools, or Vassar or Smith girls so loyal to theirs? The factor (as I see it) is their happiness and pride in their respective schools, which was inculcated in them while they were students.

It is a notorious fact that Virginia students at William and Mary have a tendency to knock the College whenever it is compared with other institutions in the State. I can assert this to be true on the basis of my own observations since I entered the College as a freshman in 1939. On the other hand, most Northern and Western students believe, as I sincerely do, that William and Mary is one of the finest coeducational institutions of its kind in the nation. . . . I also know for a fact . . . that, when I was in attendance at two other large universities (one in the "Ivy League," the other a Western state university), students and professors always told me what a fine school they considered William and Mary.

I sincerely wish there was more effort to ingrain a sense of pride in the students of William and Mary. True, the College has had many glaring difficulties as to its postwar student body, fraternities, faculty salaries and dissatisfaction, and big-time football and its problems. I think that if everyone would try to minimize these internal schisms and concentrate on building a modern academic tradition as great as William and Mary's ancient academic traditions, amazing progress could be achieved in a relatively short period.

IRA B. DWORKIN, '43.

Spreading the Gospel in Montana

Our local (Miles City, Montana) A.A. U.W. had an open house for high school seniors and showed pictures and handed out "info" on our Alma Maters to encourage college-going among Montana girls. William and Mary got a lot of interest—one girl said to me "What a thrill it must be to graduate from the most romantic spot in this country." She's heard a lot but the pictures (sent by Alumni Office) were what really sold her. How about a movie for us alumni to show at clubs, etc., where college prospects or their parents could see what a privilege it would be to go William and Mary-wards?

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE SOCIETY OF ALUMNI OF THE COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY IN VIRGINIA, INCORPORATED:

You are hereby notified that the annual meeting of the members of the Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, Incorporated, will be held on the campus, at the College of William and Mary, in Williamsburg, Virginia, on the 7th day of June, 1947, at 10:30 o'clock a.m., for the transaction of regular business, election of members of the Board of Directors, and such special business as may properly come before said meeting including disposition of the following proposed Amendment to the By-laws of the Society:

RESOLVED that that paragraph of Article IX of the Bylaws of the Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, which became effective July 1, 1939, and which is in figures and words as follows:

The Board of Trustees shall meet as soon as possible and shall elect a Chairman, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, all of whom shall be members of the said Board of Trustees. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer may be held by one person. The officers so elected shall be clothed with the usual duties and responsibilities attaching to their respective offices. The Board of Trustees shall prescribe the penalties and conditions of the bond of the Treasurer, which bond shall be payable to the Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary in Virginia for the use of The Alumni Board of Trustees of the Endowment Fund of the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

be amended to read as follows:

The Board of Trustees shall meet as soon as possible and shall elect a Chairman, a Secretary, and a Treasurer, all of whom shall be members of said Board of Trustees. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer may be held by one person. In addition to the foregoing officers, the Board of Trustees may select a bank or trust company doing business in Virginia, as custodian of the funds and securities of the Endowment Fund being administered by the Alumni Board of Trustees, and enter into a custodial agreement with such bank or trust company for such services. The officers so elected shall be clothed with the usual duties and responsibilities attaching to their respective offices. In the event no custodian is selected the Board of Trustees shall prescribe the penalties and conditions of the bond of the Treasurer, which bond shall be payable to The Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary in Virginia for use of the Alumni Board of Trustees of the Endowment Fund of the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

WITNESS my hand and seal, in the City of Williamsburg, in Virginia, this the 3d day of February, 1947.

Vernon Meredith Geddy
Secretary.

By order of the President
Williamsburg, Virginia, January 18, 1947.

A NEW PROPOSAL — What Do You Think?

The Alumni Society's Board of Directors has been playing around with an idea—discussing it, arguing it, amending it—but has not yet determined that the idea is sufficiently sound and workable to warrant its recommendation to the membership for consideration. The idea was inspired by a desire to create a greater interest in the Society itself and perhaps make it a more effective organization in the life of the College.

The idea is a proposal to make the Board of Directors more representative of all age groups in the alumni body. In the main, it proposes to guarantee that a minimum thirty-year span of age groupings of alumni shall be represented on the Board at all times.

Specifically, it has been proposed that the Board of Directors be increased from nine to twelve members; that members will be elected for terms of three years and in such manner that four Directors will be elected annually. The important feature of the proposal is the class ranking of the four members elected each year. It has been suggested that of each four elected: one shall be a member of a class not less than three nor more than ten years out of college; one shall be a member of a class not less than eleven nor more than twenty years out of college; one shall be a member of a class not less than twenty-one nor more than thirty years out of college; and, one shall be a member of a class not less than thirty-one years out of College.

It has also been proposed that not less than three members of the Board shall be women.

Otherwise, present bylaws pertaining to election and terms of Board members remain unchanged, including the limitation to two consecutive terms except for members resident in Williamsburg.

The Board of Directors has discussed these suggested changes during the past year but has deferred making a recommendation to the Society until it could feel assured that the election process was not too complicated and develop future snarls not now foreseen. The Board decided to publicize the proposal and discuss it at the next annual meeting of the Society with the possibility that action might be taken a year hence. In the meantime, the Executive Secretary has been directed to investigate election procedures in other alumni organizations and to ascertain if such a procedure as outlined above is in operation elsewhere.

What would the adoption of the proposal do? Briefly, it would mean that of each four Board members elected, four different decades of alumni would be represented on the Board. For example, if such a plan were now effective, at the annual meeting in June, 1947, one person would be elected from each of the following decades: 1937-44; 1927-36; 1917-26; 1916 or before.

What would happen if there were more than four nominations? The nominating committee would name its candidate for each of the four vacancies. Let us assume that the committee shall nominate John Jones, '35, for the vacancy in the decade not less than eleven nor more than twenty years out of college. Then, at the annual meeting, Henry Smith, '33, is nominated from the floor. The President of the Society would then announce that Mr. Smith has been placed in nomination against Mr. Jones and a ballot would be taken between those two. Mr. Smith would not oppose either of the other three candidates representing the other three decades. He would not, for example, be in competition with Charles Brown, '15, who was nominated for the oldest age group.

Why has this proposed change been suggested in the first place? It was suggested in answer to the criticism frequently heard that the Board does not have the representation nor the viewpoint of all ages of alumni; that too often the recent classes are not represented at all though their number in the Society membership is far in excess of earlier classes.

A tabulation of Board membership since 1923, when the Society was incorporated, reveals the following number of Board members from the class years indicated:

1892-1900 ...	7
1901-1910 ...	10
1911-1920 ...	8
1921-1930 ...	13
1931-1940 ...	4
1941-1947 ...	1

We see that 43 alumni have had Board

Chancellor Darden To Resign

Elected President Of University of Virginia

William and Mary's fifteenth chancellor, Colgate Whitehead Darden, Jr., '46H, will probably have served the briefest tenure in that office when he resigns this spring to accept the presidency of the University of Virginia. Named chancellor last October 12, and formally invested at Charter Day exercises on February 10, he was elected and accepted his new position on March 31. He will assume the presidency on June 23.

Mr. Darden will become the third president of the University and succeeds John Lloyd Newcomb, '00Ba-35H, who is retiring.

While Mr. Darden's official connection with William and Mary will have been short, his interest in and support of the College while Governor of the Commonwealth and as chancellor have been valuable. His most recent contribution has been his chairmanship of the Jamestown Drama Corporation which is constructing a large amphitheater on the campus on the shore of Lake Matoaka. While this theater will be used for the summer production of the pageant "The Common Glory," it will ultimately become the exclusive property of the College. The amphitheater is of permanent construction and will have many uses for student-alumni activities.

Mr. Darden, as Governor, was also instrumental in having transferred to the College the property now owned and occupied by the Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg. Just how long it will be before the hospital can be removed to its new premises cannot be determined but eventually the College may look forward to expanding to this large and valuable site.

On Mr. Darden's recommendation, the General Assembly appropriated money for the new Fine Arts-Humanity Building which will be erected on the south side of the Sunken Garden thus completing the quadrangle. This building will be erected when building costs permit.

Third Annual Fund Receives Only $3,416.50

326 Alumni; 8 Friends Contribute

William and Mary's third annual fund solicitation, the CHARTER DAY GIFTS FUND, ended February 8th, with contributions amounting to $3,416.50. Of this total, 326 alumni contributed $2,826.50. In addition, 8 friends contributed $66.00; the College branch of the Association of University Professors gave $25.00; and, the remaining $499.00 came from the Quarter-Millennium Fund established in 1940-41 but not used when the College cancelled plans for its 250th anniversary in 1943. The balance of this latter fund will go into the 1948 annual fund.

Differing from previous solicitations, alumni were this year invited to designate the recipient of their contributions and the College announced three different programs which were in need of support: Scholarships, in memory of alumni and students who were lost in the war; the Library, for the purchase of books; the Chancellor's Fund, to promote and aid faculty research.

Memorial Scholarships received the greatest favor with 41% of the total contributions going to this purpose. The Library received 26% and the Chancellor's Fund only 7%. Another 26% (including the Quarter-Millennium transfer) was not designated by the contributors and the College will apply this portion to the scholarship fund.

Of the 334 contributors to the 1947 fund, 90 of them contributed to each of the two preceding funds. These three-year contributors are starred (*) in the listing below of those who contributed to the 1947 fund. One hundred seventeen of those listed contributed for the second time. One hundred twenty-seven contributed for the first time.

Dean Landrum To Retire In June

College's Second Dean Of Women Completes 20 Years

Dr. Grace Warren Landrum, dean of women at the College for the past twenty years, will retire at the end of the present term. In recognition of her notable contributions to scholarship and the advancement of learning, the Class of 1947 is presenting as its gift to the College a portrait of Dean Landrum, painted by Greta Matson of Norfolk.

The University of Richmond will confer the Doctor of Letters degree upon Dean Landrum in June.

Dean Landrum's reputation as a scholar was firmly established before she became associated with William and Mary. She has published articles and notes covering a wide field, ranging from Middle English to American Literature, in many of the learned journals. While these have been well received by fellow scholars, Dean Landrum is regarded primarily as a Spenserian and it is on her work in this field that her ultimate fame as a scholar will undoubtedly rest. Early in her career she published an article which will probably remain her most important single work—"Spenser's Use of the Bible and his alleged Puritanism," which appeared in the Publications of the Modern Language Association XLI (1926). This article provoked some criticism and opposition but her conclusions have been and now are generally accepted. The Works of Edmund Spenser: a Variorum Edition, published by the Johns Hopkins Press

Dean Landrum's contributions to scholarship and to teaching, great as they are, will probably not be the contributions for which she will be remembered at William and Mary. This is as it should be. Her contributions to the many lives that have come within the lengthening shadow, quite out of proportion to her small but beautiful presence, is something not tabulated in the scholarly journals. It will be found in the minds and hearts of William and Mary students, past and present, who, for two full decades, received inspiration from her great character and kindness.

Of Dean Landrum we might say that she retires because of the earliness of her birth rather than of the lateness of her years. In spirit, courage, erudition and vitality she remains as stimulating today as when she first ornamented this campus twenty years ago.

In presenting to the College a portrait of Dean Landrum, the Class of 1947 speak not for themselves alone but for countless numbers. It is a long-time salute to a lovely woman.

(1932), the standard edition of the poet, refers repeatedly to this article. Recently she has published a series of five articles on the imagery of Spenser, four in the Shakespeare Association Bulletin, and one "Spenser's Imagery of the Sea in the Faerie Queene," in the Journal of English Literary History. These articles, too, have been favorably received. The esteem in which Dean Landrum is held by her fellow Spenserians is evidenced in part by their electing her chairman of last year's Spenser Section of the Modern Language Association.

A direct descendant of Henry Dunster, first president of Harvard College, Dean Landrum was a native of Augusta, Georgia, the daughter of Ida Louise Dunster (Landrum) and William Warren Landrum. Her father was a Baptist minister who was pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Richmond for many years. Over half of Dean Landrum's life has been spent in Virginia. She was educated at the Richmond Female Institute just before it became the Woman's College of Richmond. She was a pioneer at Radcliffe College, being the first Southern woman to graduate from that institution. She graduated magna cum laude with the A.B. degree. There was no Phi Beta Kappa chapter at the time of her graduation and she was elected later as an alumna member.

Immediately following her graduation, Miss Landrum commenced the teaching of Latin and English at the Washington Seminary in Atlanta where she remained until 1904. From 1910 until 1916, she taught English at the Kentucky Home School for Girls, at Louisville. In the meantime, she continued graduate study at the University of Chicago from which she received the M.A. degree in 1915. Her career as a college professor commenced in 1916, when she became professor of English at Tennessee College, Murfreesboro, Tennessee. She remained there two years.

JOHNNY LONG TO PLAY FOR FINALS

Dances To Be Held On Lake Matoaka Stage

The 1947 finals will probably as nearly approach the pre-1942 program as it is possible to do. All features of the old-time program are being revived, including outdoor dances, and the College will even attempt to furnish overnight accommodations for returning alumni. There will be a June Ball . . . but in a new setting. It may even be an improvement upon the Sunken Garden if such a thing is possible.

The three-day finals program will commence Friday, June 6, with the annual senior class day exercises. The class day luncheon will be the occasion for presenting to the College the class gift—a portrait of the retiring dean of women, Dr. Grace Warren Landrum. President Pomfret will receive the portrait for the College and the Society's president, Wayne C. Metcalf, '13, will welcome the graduates into the Society of Alumni.

DANCE ON LAKE MATOAKA

The June Ball, for the first time, will be held on the shore of Lake Matoaka. Dancing will be on the stage of the new amphitheater being constructed for the use of the Jamestown Drama Corporation which, commencing July 17, will give nightly presentations of the Paul Green production "The Common Glory." The stage, which is designed to care for a cast of 150 persons, is on the exact location of the old College boathouse. It is being equipped with the most modern lighting equipment available which, together with the lake background, will be as unique a setting as was the Sunken Garden.

Johnny Long and his orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. Long, a Duke graduate, is a regular performer at the Hotel New Yorker and has played at William and Mary before. The June Ball will be from 9 until 2. Alumni may purchase tickets at the Alumni Office upon registration and at the special rate of $6 for the set or $3 for the alumni dance only. In the event of rain, dances will be held in Blow Gymnasium.

Alumni Day will be Saturday, June 7. The Society will hold its annual business meeting at 10:30 a.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Three members must be elected to the Board of Directors to succeed: Wayne Carr Metcalf, '13, Roanoke; Catherine Teackle Dennis, '21, Raleigh, N. C.; and Theodore Roosevelt Dalton, '24, Radford.

Bandleader Johnny Long.

Mr. Metcalf is not eligible for reelection. A proposed amendment to the bylaws concerning the endowment trustees will be acted upon. President Pomfret will be invited to address the Society.

Following the business meeting, memorial services will be held at the grave of President Benjamin S. Ewell, in memory of alumni who have died during the year. The service will be read by Jay Wilfred Lambert, '27 and the Reverend Benjamin Rogers Bruner, '32Ba-33L.

Calkins Will Deliver Alumni Oration

Recently Named General Education Board Director

Robert DeBlois Calkins, Jr., '25Bs-42H, well-known economist and associate director of the General Education Board, will deliver the annual oration at the Alumni Day luncheon, Saturday, June 7. Dr. Calkins, one of the College's most outstanding alumni, was to have given the oration in 1943 but the Alumni Day program was cancelled because of the war.

Dr. Calkins became associate director of the General Education Board in January and will shortly become its vice president and director upon the retirement of Jackson Davis, '02Ba-31H. Prior to assuming his present position he had been dean of the School of Business at two of the largest universities in the nation—the University of California and Columbia University.

Dr. Calkins was born in Connecticut. He spent four years at the College and

ALUMNI LUNCHEON

The annual luncheon for alumni will be held in the main dining room of the College Refectory. Robert DeBlois Calkins, '25Bs, director of the General Education Board, will be the principal speaker. President Metcalf will present an honorary life membership certificate to Dean Landrum and President Pomfret will present alumni medallions to Robert Morton Hughes, Jr., '99Ba, Norfolk, and Walter Finnall Cross Ferguson, '19Ba, New York City. Mr. Hughes, son of the late rector of the Board of Visitors, Judge Robert Morton Hughes, '73Ba-20H, is a lawyer and served on the Society's board of directors for six years. Dr. Ferguson is a professor of physics at New York University and was the Society's president for two years. Tickets for the luncheon may also be purchased at the Alumni Office.

Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa will meet at 3:00 p.m. and Johnny Long will present a concert in the College Yard from 4:30 to 5:30. The alumni dance will be held on Lake Matoaka from 9:00 until 12:00.

Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises will be held on Sunday, June 7. Dr. Carl Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology will deliver the commencement address and will receive the LL.D. degree as will Colonel John Womack Wright, '96x, Washington, D. C.

QUARTERBACK CLUB ORGANIZED

Members To Receive Preference On Football Tickets

Officials of the College of William and Mary have announced organization of a Quarterback Club for alumni and friends of the Athletic Association. Membership in the club is available immediately.

At the same time the faculty committee on athletics made public a plan for the sale of season tickets with preferential purchasing allowed the Quarterback Club members and other alumni.

In establishing the Quarterback Club, it was announced that the Loyalty Fund, which has been in operation at the College for some time, has been discontinued and succeeded by the new organization.

"The Loyalty Fund created a unified interest and provided financial help during an insecure period," said Athletic Director R. N. (Rube) McCray. "This unified interest has called for organization of our new Quarterback Club. The interest in our athletic program has been such that we have had to take steps to permanently enlarge our stadium and even with the enlarged stadium we are going to find it difficult to provide adequate seats for some of our games. We feel that we have a worthy successor to the Loyalty Fund and hope that the alumni and friends of the college will help us to put this new program over."

With a membership in the Quarterback Club it is possible to be among those with "first call" on football season tickets. And with a home schedule that includes University of North Carolina and Wake Forest College, virtually certain sellouts, it is a good idea to be in on the season ticket arrangement.

Season tickets will go on sale June 15 for all alumni and former members of the Loyalty Fund. Requests from Quarterback members will be accepted immediately.

The season tickets will be available for purchase by the general public from July 15 until September 1. On September 1 individual tickets go on sale.

Anticipating record interest in Indian football, arrangements have been made to care for ticket requests within a few days of receipt of ticket orders.

"By our season ticket plan," McCray pointed out, "the purchasers will have the same seat for all home games. Naturally the better seats will be sold first. We expect both the North Carolina and Wake Forest games to attract capacity crowds to Cary Field and have reason to believe our opening game with University of Miami as well as the Homecoming game with V.M.I. will attract near-capacity attendances."

For the second consecutive year Virginia Military Institute will be the Homecoming opponent of the Braves. Originally this game was to have been played in Lexington, but was transferred to Williamsburg.

Ten games once more are on the W&M schedule. Eight of the opponents are Southern Conference rivals and the other two intersectional opponents, Miami of Ohio and Boston University, being met for the first time. Boston's Terriers will be played at Fenway Park, Boston, October 25.

That Miami, The Citadel, North Carolina, Wake Forest and V.M.I. constitute the finest home schedule ever offered by William and Mary has not been disputed. In North Carolina's Sugar Bowlers of a year ago, the Braves will meet one of America's better teams. Wake Forest, although on the short end in three games, invariably ranks with the better teams and last year surprised the nation with a stunning defeat of Tennessee.

"We have spent considerable time evolving a plan that led us to the organization of the Quarterback Club," McCray said. "Members of this club will pay annual dues of $10.00 minimum. The sky is the limit.

"Members of this club will have first opportunity to purchase season tickets for themselves and their immediate families.

"If additional tickets are wanted together for a particular game, a member can return his original tickets and in return will receive the best available seats. This naturally will mean that the tickets he will receive in the exchange will perhaps not be in quite as good location as his original seats were but his entire party can sit together.

"By this plan we will also be able to obtain preferential seats for non-home games. Members will notify us sufficiently in advance so that we can get the better tickets for the road games. Thirty-day notice is required."

McCray also pointed out that Quarterback Club members will have preference in purchasing basketball season tickets next fall.

Quarterback Club members will also have a closer insight into the Tribal activities, for they will receive frequent bulletins during the football season on the doings of the Tribe.

McCray will author the football bulletins. He will discuss each game and succeeding ones and will endeavor to bring the Quarterback members into as

ALUMNI INTEREST IN LIBRARY INCREASING

Many Contributions Made During 1946

Alumni in 1946 greatly aided in the growth of the resources of the Library. The expanding interest of alumni in the Library is reflected in significant contributions to the College and is a continuous source of encouragement to the Library staff. It is a pleasure to acknowledge this aid and it is hoped this review of alumni gifts to the Library will help to express our appreciation.

Colonel John Womack Wright, '96x, donated to the Library one of the most noteworthy gifts it has ever received. The twelve-hundred-volume collection which he presented in memory of his wife was described in the May issue of the ALUMNI GAZETTE. Another army officer, Lieutenant Colonel Richard W. Copeland, '20Bs, autographed for the Library the German edition of a history of his military government detachment (F-13, Second Military Government Battalion) in Offenbach, Germany. From the Navy, Lieutenant (junior grade) Richard J. Alfriend, III, '43Ba, stationed at Sasebo, Japan, gave the Library a copy of the Imperial Rescript of the Declaration of War on the United States and Great Britain.

James L. Carpenter, Jr., '46x, in presenting the limited edition of Wood's Brief History of Hongkong, wrote of his appreciation of the many enjoyable hours he had spent in the Library and of his feeling that it was a privilege to be able to give something to an institution which had given him so much. Lloyd Williams, '34Ba, evidenced his continued interest in the Library by the gift of several nineteenth century issues of Gleason's Pictorial Drawing-Room Companion and Harper's Weekly. Ralph K. T. Larson, '28x, gave the College two books which bore the bookplate of Chancellor Hugh Blair Grigsby. One of these, Euclid's Elements of Geometry, was written by an honorary alumnus of the College, Robert Potts, who was granted an LL.D. degree in 1872. Robert D. Calkins, Jr., '25Bs, sent the Library a total of over sixty books in the field of economics. Arthur Briggs (Tim) Hanson, '39Ba-40L, presented the Law Library with 132 volumes, largely serials of law sets. Nellie D. Greaves, '45Ba, as historian of her class placed in the archives two printed copies of the history and poem of the Class of 1945.

Other alumni who have contributed books to the Library were Kathleen Alsop, '25Ba, Oliver P. Chitwood, '99Ba, Ben F. Crowson, Jr., '39Ba, Herbert L. Ganter, '27Ba-30L, Nancy Hoyle, '33Ba, Robert M. Hughes, Jr., '99Ba, John M. Jennings, '38Ba, J. Wilfred Lambert, '27Ba, Jack E. Morpurgo, '38Ba, H. M. Stryker, '18x, Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., '17Ba, and Hensley Woodbridge, '43Ba.

For a number of years the Library has encouraged the gift of books as personal memorials. The Staff is anxious to carry out the wishes of those making the contribution. Donors select books and present them or leave their selection and acquisition entirely with the Library staff which makes a sincere effort to purchase appropriate books of lasting value. Among the large number of memorial gifts received in 1946 were those of alumni. Richard L. Bethards, '46x, gave three volumes of plays as a memorial to another alumnus, William Vose Bembow, '45x; John E. Hocutt, '35Bs, and his wife Mae Wright (Hocutt), '36Ba, Osborn's The Pacific World and Dorothy Hosford, '39Bs, Merrill's Plant Life of the Pacific World among a selection of works on the Pacific Ocean area in memory of Mrs. Carroll H. Fowlkes; Charles P. McCurdy, Jr., '33Bs, a volume each in memory of Registrar-Emeritus Herbert Lee Bridges, '93Ba, Mrs. T. F. Rogers, and Captain Henry C. Land; and Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, books as memorials to Chancellor John Stewart Bryan and Professor and Mrs. Henry Krebs. Eleanor Calkins, '27Ba, presented a gift in memory of the latter. Henry Whiting Lamb, '97x, has added to his previous gifts of papers in memory of his father, Colonel William Lamb, C.S.A. The present manuscripts relate mainly to the military career of Colonel Lamb.

Charles E. (Mike) Stousland, Jr., '41Ba, donated one hundred dollars for the purchase of books in memory of his mother. He suggested that books on architecture and fine arts be bought. Approximately a third of that sum has been used to purchase Elmes' Memoirs of the Life and Works of Sir Christopher Wren, Cochran's Grandeur in Tennessee, Burford's Some Lesser Known Architecture of London, Congdon's Old Vermont Houses, Hitchcock's Modern Architecture in England, and Pelletreau's Early New York Houses.

• By ROBERT HUNT LAND, '34Ba*

Walter A. Bara, '40Ba, has written that he wishes to give books in the amount of one hundred dollars annually in memory of Professor John R. Fisher, late head of the Department of Modern Languages. He has proposed to select works of Spanish, Latin-American, French and French-Canadian publishers dealing for the most part with contemporary literature.

The Society of Alumni presented Harrison's A Bachelor Maid in memory of William C. L. Taliaferro, '92x, Liebman's Peace of Mind and Williams' Old American Houses and How to Restore Them in memory of Sidney Bartlett Hall, '20Ba-'40H, and Norris' Fighting Liberal and William Allen White's Autobiography in memory of Herbert Lee Bridges, '93Ba. Throughout the year, the Library staff has selected books in memory of Chancellor Bryan on the fund established for that purpose by the Class of 1945. Another Alumni group, Alpha of Virginia Chapter, Phi Beta Kappa, presented Voorhees' The History of Phi Beta Kappa.

Library donations were made by two other groups associated with the College whose membership includes alumni. The College Woman's Club, at the end of its reading program, gives to the Library the books which it purchased. The Friends of the College have supported several Library projects. Most noteworthy is the Memorial Book Shelf, a collection of recently published books of significance, selected by Professor G. Glenwood Clark of the English Department and a member of the Faculty Committee on the Library, to commemorate alumni and faculty who lost their lives in World War II. Yearly, Friends of the College also purchase albums for the large collection of musical records which the Library circulates to students and faculty. This group matched a sum from another source to enable the Library to purchase 847 volumes and 252 manuscripts last spring at the sale of "Prestwoud" in Mecklenburg County, Virginia. These volumes from the Skipwith library included some notable early American and Virginia imprints and 16

ADVANCE DOPE ON 1947 INDIANS

Spring Practice Forecasts Great Season

Reserve strength, always vital in the success of outstanding teams, will play an important role in any achievement the College of William and Mary's Indian football team may have this fall.

Although Head Coach R. N. (Rube) McCray found himself with a goodly supply of seasoned performers when the Indians had their spring practice, he nevertheless concluded drills with the idea that sufficient depth is not prevalent to adequately meet the rugged 10-game schedule.

What there is in the way of experience causes McCray not one iota of worry. But the Big Chief, frankly, is fearful he doesn't have the depth with which to do it. What with Virginia Tech, University of North Carolina, Boston University and Wake Forest College to be met on successive Saturdays, and with V.M.I. (Homecoming game) and Washington and Lee coming up the next two week ends, there is a strong feeling that depth, and the ability of the depth, will have a lot to do with the outcome.

Facing eight Southern Conference opponents and two intersectional foes in Boston University and Miami of Ohio, which incidentally is considered the most difficult opening game in W&M's history, will mean that the Braves should have skilled players, at least four deep in every position.

Man for man William and Mary's starting lineup will compare with any opponent. That may hold good for the first substitutes, too, but once beyond the second team the caliber—particularly the experience—of the reserves is questionable.

All except one, Bob Longacre, the wingback, will return from last year's starting team which rocked eight of its foes and rolled to 347 points while yielding only 71. Also missing will be Mel Wright, who played lots of tackle; Jackie Freeman, reserve tailback; Henry Schutz, reserve end; and Regis Brown, reserve guard.

As a pretty fair starting team McCray once more can call upon the veterans Bob Steckroth and Lou Hoitsma at ends; Ralph Sazio and Harry Caughron, tackles; Knox Ramsey and Jim McDowell, guards, and Tommy Thompson, center. Running behind them will be Tommy Korczowski, tailback; Henry Blanc, wingback; Tom Mikula, blocking back; and Jack Cloud, fullback.

This is a combination with power, speed and deception. Of the eleven, only three are rising seniors. Steckroth and Sazio, two of the prewar stars who picked up after the war right where they had left off, will graduate along with Knox Ramsey, who started playing regularly in 1944, made All-State in 1945 and was honored with All-Southern selection in 1946 together with third team All-American selection by the Associated Press.

Steckroth and Sazio, a pair of burly, aggressive linemen, have been named co-captains, succeeding Denver Mills, who led the '46 Braves. Mills is back and together with Marvin Graham, another prewar player, will give the Tribe first reserve ends comparable with the starters. Truth is, Steckroth and Hoitsma might well be considered offensive ends with Mills and Graham the defensive flankmen.

Earl Massey, another veteran and twice letterman, will find himself paired at tackle with 235-pound Louis Creekmur, back this fall from the wars. Bill Safka, a hell-for-leather guard injured last September in University of Miami (Florida) game, sat out eight games last fall, had light drills this spring and is expected to go with George Hughes, Norfolk's promising freshman, at guard. Frank O'Pella, lacking nothing in experience, will back Thompson up at center.

One of the brightest factors in spring practice was the additional speed available at wingback. New Jersey's Nick Seamak, here as a frosh in '42, returned to school in February, took up as second team wingback and ran the reverses like a veteran.

Co-Captain Sazio.

With Seamak in the backfield were Jack Bruce, tailback; Jock Hoey, blocking back, and Bob Rienenrth, fullback, the latter, a 190-pounder, like Cloud comes from Norfolk. A badly twisted ankle kept Rienenrth out most of last season, but he has shown promise of becoming a powerful fullback.

Just as last year Stan Magdziak, the brilliant passer and punter, will be used in "spots." Standout Stan, an exponent of long passes, has a knack of being able to turn a close game into a rout. He has a "dead eye" on his receives, throws with amazing ease and is never rushed.

Magdziak, Korczowski, the 19-year-old rising junior whose 156 pounds have wrought havoc to many a foe, and Cloud, All-Southern Conference fullback, are three backs capable of taking over complete control of a ball game.

Tommy The Kid led the nation in rushing average last fall, netting 19.7 yards per try. His runs completely wrecked six opponents and although badly injured against Washington and Lee he was not sidelined entirely. Given a season free from hurts, the little triple threat will

Jackson Davis Dies Suddenly

One of College's Greatest Sons of this Century

William and Mary lost one of her most distinguished graduates in the sudden death of Henry Jackson Davis, '02Ba-31H, on April 15, at his home in Cartersville. One of the nation's most well-known educators, he was anticipating his retirement in June from the directorship of the General Education Board with which he had been connected since 1915. He became nationally known for his outstanding work in the field of Southern education and was recognized as a specialist in interracial problems in this country. He was president of the Phelps-Stokes Fund as well as of the New York Colonization Society and of the Booker T. Washington Institute of Liberia. In 1935 he served as a "Carnegie visitor" to Africa.

Born in Cumberland County, Dr. Davis entered the College in 1897 and remained five years. He was President of the Class of 1902. In 1908 he received the master of arts degree from Columbia University. Immediately following his graduation from William and Mary he commenced teaching in the local school and was superintendent of Williamsburg schools before becoming superintendent of Henrico County Schools in 1905 where he remained until 1909. From 1910 until 1915 he was State agent for Negro rural schools in Virginia.

He was first named a general field agent for the Rockefeller-financed General Education Board and in 1937 was named associated director. More recently he has been director and vice president and his successor upon his retirement had already been named before his death, Robert DeBlois Calkins, '25Bs-42H (see page 6).

In his early thirties, Dr. Davis was appointed to the Board of Visitors of the College in July, 1914, by Governor Stuart. He served on the Board until March, 1920 and, at the time of his appointment, was probably one of the youngest Board members ever appointed. He also served one term, 1912-13, as president of the Alumni Society and from 1923 until 1945, he was a trustee of the alumni endowment. He received the alumni medalion in 1934.

William and Mary conferred the LL.D.

degree on Dr. Davis in 1931 and he was similarly honored by University of Richmond in 1930. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha of Virginia, in 1906. He was a member of Theta Delta Chi.

Among his survivors is a daughter, Helen Mansfield Davis (Lynch), '34Ba.

TUCK NAMES ALUMNI TO STATE COMMISSIONS

Governor William Munford Tuck, '19x, has recently named several alumni to various State commissions, the most important of which is the Governor's special commission to study reorganization of the State government looking toward new economies and improvements in efficiency of the Commonwealth's business. To this important commission he named: Dr. Robert Henry Tucker, '93Ba-97M-26H, retired dean of Washington and Lee University and an authority on State government; John Garland Pollard, Jr., '23Ba, Somers, and Guy Washington Capps (A), Creeds, both of whom will represent agricultural and rural industrial enterprises; and, Charles Joseph Duke, Jr., '23Bs, bursar of the College, who will speak for educational administration.

William Tayloe Murphy, '21x, Emmerston, has been appointed to the Virginia-Maryland joint study commission on Potomac River fishery problems. He was formerly State Treasurer.

George Jeffries Oliver, '31Ba, chairman of the College's education department and director of the summer session, has been named to a commission authorized by the General Assembly to study public school finances with emphasis on the possibility of having a State sales tax.

William Henry Irvine, '24Ba, Evington, has also been named to the school commission, representing the House of Delegates of which he has been a member since 1934.

Paul Whittington Crockett (S), Yorktown, has been named to the Newport News memorial museum commission, also representing the House of Delegates in which he has served since 1942.

KATHERINE MORAN IS COMMAND HOSTESS IN BERLIN

A former William and Mary Theater participant, Katherine Frances Moran, '38Ba, was recently assigned as Command Hostess with headquarters, Berlin District, Office of U. S. Military Government. As an army hostess she will have an important part in the extensive program planned by Theater Special Services which is responsible for the entertainment and recreation of U. S. occupation troops in the European theater. Athletics, libraries, motion pictures, manual art shops and soldier shows are a few of the many Theater Special Services activities.

A GREAT EDUCATOR PASSES

Dr. Jackson Davis experienced a tribute awarded few men in their lifetime: He witnessed his own monuments, his own memorials, before his death at Cartersville. . . . He was an educator, one of the great educators of our time and our region. By endless patience, he lifted the level of Negro and white education to a point where less enlightened men could carry on the fight. Steadfastly he held to the belief that public education for white children was at its lowest level wherever Negro children were left in the dark. For more than 45 years, he lit lamps in this darkness of the mind. Scores of new schools, thousands of new hopes and ambitions, developed in the light he created. Dr. Davis was a familiar figure to Richmonders. Before his assignment to New York in 1937 as associate director of the General Education Board, he had worked for 21 years with Richmond as his headquarters. Men and women of both races will mourn his death. In a world where tolerance, sympathy and understanding are needed sorely, he will be grievously missed.

—Richmond News Leader.

Miss Moran, who has been in the European Theater since August, 1945, was previously assigned as Command Hostess with Chanor Base Section, Brussels, Belgium and later at Headquarters, Western Base Section, Paris. In Berlin, she is in charge of all Army Service Clubs which attempt to provide military personnel with homelike surroundings. She has recently completed a tour of Holland, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia.

Before coming to William and Mary, Miss Moran received a degree in Liberal Arts from Brenau College, Gainesville, Georgia. At William and Mary she majored in the theater division of Fine Arts and later received a master's degree in the theater arts from the University of North Carolina. Before going overseas she directed theater departments in several colleges in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Virginia. She also appeared with the "Lost Colony" Company at Manteo, North Carolina.

SAVAGE NAMED DEAN AT FARMVILLE

William Woodrow Savage, '37Ba, has been appointed to the newly created office of dean of Farmville State Teachers' College. Savage was one of the organizers of the State Consultation Service in 1939 and, at the time of his recent appointment, was its assistant supervisor. This service has offered free counseling to individuals of all ages who are no longer in school and who need help in making plans or solving problems regarding employment and training. It also provides consultant service to Virginia schools and conducts a research bureau.

At William and Mary, Savage specialized in debating activities while majoring in education. In June, 1946, he received the M.A. degree in education at the University of Chicago.

Chapter Activities Reach New High

President Pomfret Addresses Northern Groups

William and Mary's six northern alumni chapters held spring meetings on successive evenings, March 24-29. An all-time high in attendance was recorded at Boston and probably at Philadelphia. President Pomfret, who was accompanied by the alumni secretary, addressed each group except in Philadelphia where a cocktail party was arranged rather than a formal meeting. At the conclusion of his remarks at each meeting, Mr. Pomfret was bombarded with questions about the College and its program, questions on everything from fraternities, college financing, faculty and Henry Billups to the long-proposed student union building, the Jamestown Drama, the football team and how to get a prospective student admitted.

The Boston Chapter, reviving with somewhat unanticipated fervor after a six year dormancy, continues under the presidency of George L. Weinbaum, '35, 51 Cheney Street, Boston 21, and elected as secretary, Helen Perkins (Biddle), '35x, 24 Aspen Avenue, Auburndale, Mass. Preliminary plans were formulated for a fall meeting the night before the William and Mary-Boston University game which will be played October 25th.

In New York, well over a hundred people turned out for a dinner at the Columbia University Club. A new secretary of this chapter was elected, Genevieve Hofmann (Sherlock), '29, 4 Wallace Place, White Plains, N. Y. The need for more frequent gatherings of alumni on a less formal basis was discussed and concluded with plans for two monthly luncheons, one to be held in the uptown area and the other down in the Wall Street area.

The Philadelphia Chapter has become one of the best organized chapters the College has had. Spearheaded by its president, Dr. George Payne Glauner, '37, The Mermont, Bryn Mawr, Pa., the chapter developed the most up to date roster of any chapter, purging all names which could not be verified and adding many new ones which had not hitherto been reported in the Philadelphia area. The result has been seen in two well-attended meetings during the current session. New secretary of the chapter is Helene Adelaide Donnelly, '34, 5038 Spruce Street, Philadelphia.

Wilmington, the youngest of the College's alumni groups, continues an active organization very much on the alert to develop the College's interest in Delaware. In addition to the alumni on hand, the chapter invited a number of prospective students and their parents. Despite the present situation whereby the College has many more applicants for admission than it can possibly accommodate, this effort on the part of alumni to send desirable students to the College is of inestimable value and will, of course, be even more effective in a few years when the present enrollment problem becomes less acute.

The Baltimore Chapter opened its meeting with the announcement that it had undertaken as one of its projects the raising of money to purchase books on the history of Maryland for presentation of the College library. Thomas Granville Pullen, Jr., '17, retiring president of the chapter announced that $300 has been raised for this purpose and would be transmitted to the College librarian. Plans were also discussed for separating the eastern shore of Maryland from the Baltimore chapter and inaugurating a new group, possibly in Crisfield. Milton Gustavus White, '30, 117 East Isabella Street, Salisbury, Md., will attempt this new organization. Alva Ray Simmons, '27, 4413 Norwood Road, Baltimore 18, was elected president of the Baltimore chapter for the ensuing year and Evelyn Blackwell Robinson (Edberg), '40, 1601 Northwick Road, Baltimore 18, was continued as secretary.

Washington alumni, as usual, turned out in large number for the dinner meeting held at the Sheraton Hotel. Here, the questions on the College program were more extensive than elsewhere and developed into a lively exchange of ideas as to the needs of the College. A more active general alumni program was advocated and the alumni secretary suggested the imperative need for a larger dues-paying membership in the Society if an expanded program is to be developed. Local plans for a spring program, including a picnic or boat ride, were discussed.

The Norfolk chapter held a business meeting February 6th and agreed to sponsor a concert by the famed William and Mary College Choir. The performance will be given at Blair Junior High School at 8:00 p.m. on May 7.

Alumni Interest

The Friends made further contributions to the Library in donating funds for the purchase of a series of 282 newspapers published in Richmond, 1861-65, and also of appropriately designed cards bearing the College seal which are used in the exhibition of manuscripts and rare books.

Some alumni have aided the Library through their efforts to interest others in making donations. The following have solicited the gift of manuscripts or books for the Library: George R. Brunk, '46Ba, George P. Coleman, '92x-42H, Dewey L. Curtis, '46x, Jackson Davis, '02Ba-31H, Harold M. Gouldman, '37Ba and Reginald A. Kenney, '24Ba.

As mentioned above there were a number of alumni in whose memory books were donated in 1946. Among those thus honored, but by non-alumni, were Meriwether I. Armistead, '15x, by Miss Pearl Jones and Mrs. Frank Armistead; Andrew Thomas Thornton, Jr., '47x, by his parents who annually make additions to their memorial gift; and Captain James M. Watkins, U. S. A., '38Ba-48L, by Dean Theodore S. Cox who presented the seventeen-volume set of Scott's Translations of Civil Law.

Not a memorial gift, but an important alumni item was given to the Library by Mrs. B. E. Moncure. She presented the manuscript copy of the address, "Alexander Hamilton" which Frank H. Alfriend delivered before the Philomatheon Society on July 4, 1859.

This account mentions the contributions of thirty-eight individual alumni and five alumni groups. A representative of the Baltimore Alumni Chapter has indicated that it might be interested in acquiring volumes on Maryland history for the Library.

Librarian-Emeritus E. G. Swem and Herbert L. Ganter have discussed the organization among the alumni of a Library Friends group. The December ALUMNI GAZETTE announced that alumni for the first time, in 1947, could select the Library among three alternatives to benefit from the Charter Day Gift Fund.

The increased interest of alumni greatly encourages all of us who have a part in the administration of the College Library.

Dean Landrum

Returning to Radcliffe for her doctor's degree, she wrote her dissertation on Chaucer's Use of the Vulgate and received the Ph.D. degree in 1921. In the fall of that year she became associate professor of English at Westhampton College of the University of Richmond. She remained there until 1927 when the late President Chandler asked her to come to William and Mary to become professor of English and Dean of Women. Dean Landrum is the second woman to hold the latter title at William and Mary. She succeeded Miss Anne Marrion Powell who resigned when she married Dr. William Thomas Hodges, '02Ba, who was the Dean of Men.

While devoting most of her time to administration and teaching, Dean Landrum continued various researches and writing. Frequently, she has written articles on Chaucer, Spenser and Keats which have appeared in the Publications of the Modern Language Association. Two articles: "Sir Walter Scott and the South" and "A Note on the Reading of the Old South" appeared in American Literature. She wrote "A Freshman's Reading" which was published in College English, and two articles on Hugh Jones, author of the Present State of Virginia, which were printed in the William and Mary Quarterly.

A wide range of extracurricular activities have enjoyed Dean Landrum's support and influence. She has been particularly active in Phi Beta Kappa affairs and has served as vice-president of Alpha of Virginia Chapter. She has held offices in the Virginia division of the AAUW, and is a member of the Virginia Education Association and the College English Association. She is also a member of Delta Kappa Gamma and Mortar Board.

Dean Landrum will attain her seventy-first birthday on July 18. Her portrait will be officially presented to the College at Class Day exercises, June 6, an appropriate time in view of her long-time sponsorship of the annual Class Day program. The gift was made possible through contributions of the graduating class and the following former students and associates of Dean Landrum:

Dr. Kathleen Bruce, Dean and Mrs. Theodore Sullivan Cox, Dr. and Mrs. William George Guy, Althea Hunt, Dr. Earl Gregg Swem, Dr. Edwin E. Willoughby and Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts.

close contact as possible with the William and Mary program.

HOME SCHEDULE

September 20—Miami of Ohio—($2.50).

October 4—The Citadel—($2.50).

October 18—Univ. of North Carolina—($3.00).

November 1—Wake Forest—($3.00).

November 8—V.M.I. (Homecoming) ($2.50).

"We want to bring the alumni and friends of the College as close to the athletic picture as it is humanly possible to bring them," McCray pointed out. "We want alumni to feel that they are a part of the program. And we think this club will go a long way toward achieving this goal. It is a program that has been worked out with a lot of time and thought. We expect it to be well received."

TAYLOR ACTS AS SOLE LABOR ARBITRATOR

Dr. Albion Guilford Taylor, head of the department of economics, was named to act as sole arbitrator in a labor case between the Fairchild Aircraft Corporation and the United Auto Workers (CIO), at Hagerstown, Maryland, March 24. Although Dr. Taylor has served as a member of panels hearing disputed cases, this was the first time he has acted as sole arbitrator.

Dr. Taylor joined the faculty of William and Mary in 1927. He was granted a leave of absence in 1942 to go to Washington where he served in a dual capacity with the federal government. He was chief of the labor office of the war food administration and secretary of the essential industrial committee of the war manpower commission.

Author of a widely used text, Labor Problems and Labor Law, Dr. Taylor is regarded as an outstanding economist. He has written other articles pertaining to labor, among them "Labor Policies of The National Association of Manufacturers."

A native of Potton, Quebec, Canada, he graduated from Des Moines University with the bachelor of arts degree in 1915, was awarded the master of arts degree at University of Nebraska in 1920, and received the Ph.D. from University of Illinois in 1927.

TUTHILL AIDE TO MARSHALL AT MOSCOW

John Willis Tuthill, '32Bs, a career foreign service officer, is filling an important role in the American delegation to the Council of Foreign Ministers meeting in Moscow where he serves as an economic adviser on the staff of Secretary of State George C. Marshall, '41H.

Tuthill has previously served in a number of important European posts. He entered foreign service in 1940. In December, 1944, he was assigned to London as member of the staff of Ambassador Robert Murphy who had been named political adviser to General Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff. In July, 1945, Tuthill attended the Potsdam conference, also as an economic adviser.

His regular post is Berlin, but he served for a time as chief of the financial branch of AMG at Munich. He was a political adviser at the recent conference of Foreign Ministers' deputies at London, where preparatory work was done for the Moscow conference.

Tuthill is looking forward to returning to the United States when the Moscow meeting ends. He expects to be assigned to the Office of Transport and Communications, Department of State. This office deals with problems of international waterways, such as the Danube, Rhine, and St. Lawrence rivers.

After leaving William and Mary, Tuthill took graduate work in economics at Harvard and his first assignment in foreign service was at the U. S. Consulate, Windsor, Canada.

W. E. PULLEN NAMED OFFICIAL OF U.S.F.&G.

William Edward Pullen, '23x, on April 1, became vice president-agency director of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, Baltimore. He had been an assistant agency director. Mr. Pullen was first employed by the U.S.F.&G. in 1926 as an adjuster in the Philadelphia claim department and was later claim superintendent at Charleston, West Virginia and Pittsburgh. From 1934 to 1942 he was assistant to the vice president in the home office claim department.

A veteran of World War I, he entered the Army in 1942 as a major and became lieutenant colonel, Finance Division, attached to the War Department as chief, claim section, contract insurance department. Later he became chief of the contract insurance branch. He rejoined the U.S.F.&G. in 1946 as assistant agency director.

Mr. Pullen spent one year at the Academy and one year at the College. He took a law degree at the University of Indiana.

NEW HOTEL OWNED AND MANAGED BY TWO ALUMNI

The Tides Inn, a new resort hotel under construction at Irvington, in Lancaster County, is owned by one alumnus and will be operated by another. Ennalls Eugene Albert Stephens, '18Bs, New Orleans, Louisiana, is the owner of the new Chesapeake Bay resort hotel which is to have 50 rooms and such facilities as tennis courts, swimming pool, fishing and boating. He is one of five brothers, all of whom attended the College.

George Bland Hoke, '35x, will take over as manager on May 10 and prepare the new hotel for opening in July. He has been resident manager of Williamsburg Inn and executive assistant manager of hotel properties of Williamsburg Restoration, Inc.

A native of Williamsburg, Hoke is the son of the late Kremer J. Hoke, dean of the College. He was first employed by the Restoration as desk clerk in the old Colonial Inn on Duke of Gloucester Street. He assisted with the original opening of the Inn in 1937 and has served with it and other hotel operations including the Lodge, Travis House and Chowning's Tavern, over the intervening years with the exception of several years' service as a lieutenant in the Navy. He has taken training and refresher courses in food preparation and management at the Center restaurants in New York's Rockefeller Center and also at the Waldorf and Hotel Pennsylvania.

VETERAN LAW STUDENT FATHER OF TWINS

The so-called "postwar problems of readjustment" do not weigh heavily with James Joseph (Jim) Ward, Jr., '43Ba . . . if for no other reason than that he has not had much spare time to think about them—not since last December 6th anyway! On that eventful date he became the father of twin girls, subsequently named Judith Anne and Janet Mary and, more recently, become two of the most popular girls on campus.

There are 136 married veterans at William and Mary this session. Approximately fifteen of them have children. Jim Ward is the only one of them to have had two at once. In his spare time he studies law and expects to complete his work for the law degree in February, 1948.

Mrs. Ward is the former Edith Helen McCusker. They were married in New York City in July, 1945, while Jim was in the Navy. Jim was ordered to Midshipmen's School two months before graduation in 1943. After receiving his commission he was ordered to air-sea rescue duty in the Pacific. Jim's home is in Ridgely Park, New Jersey and he entered the College in 1940 as a transfer from the University of Washington. He won his letter in basketball.

Mac Trotter Wins Art Prize

Receives Annual Pepsi-Cola $1,500 Award

McKie Massenburg Trotter, III, '40Ba, Georgia artist, has been awarded the $1,500 Fellowship for his entered work in the Pepsi-Cola annual art competition, "Paintings of the Year."

Trotter, who hails from LaGrange, Ga., and a University of Georgia graduate art student, received the award at the formal presentation ceremonies at the National Academy of Design in New York. He was selected as first-place winner from the Southeastern Region.

While interned as a seven-months prisoner of war in Poland and Germany, the young artist did sketches when he could find material with which to work. His sketches of refugees, which he later made into an oil entitled "The Refugees," was one of a few of his drawings he was able to save.

This is the one he submitted in the elimination contest conducted by Pepsi-Cola. He plans to do extensive traveling before resuming his studies and completing requirements for the master of arts degree at the University of Georgia.

Lamar Dodd, head of the art department at the University of Georgia, in commenting on Trotter's award, says, "This is a most distinctive honor for a promising young artist, a recognition which comes once in a lifetime. Not only will it help Mr. Trotter in building his name as an artist, but it is also a great boost for the University of Georgia art department."

LET ME LIE, by James Branch Cabell, '98Ba. New York: Farrar, Straus & Co., 1947. 286 pp.

In Let Me Lie, James Branch Cabell shoots needles into what he calls the inaptitude of Virginia—the Mother of Presidents—to deliver its share of offspring outstanding in the creative arts. In speaking of the College of William and Mary, Mr. Cabell, an illustrious alumnus, says that its failure in the same way over so long a time "is not surprising but miraculous." The one exception, says Mr. Cabell, is the production of the author of the "once famous brief romance, the Declaration of Independence (which) is debarred from consideration nowadays, through its ugly and unconcealed tinge of anti-British sentiments."

The book is a series of essays pertaining to Virginia, and although Mr. Cabell writes of his native state in a spirit of warmth and affection, his pen has a sharp point and he is not above inditing with a jabbing stroke. Although a large portion of his essays deal with Virginia history, a not inconsiderable part of Let Me Lie deals lovingly, almost gently, with certain individuals who have stood large in the niceties of his life's background.

Mr. Cabell, who may or may not endeavor himself to his fellow Virginians with this book, certainly does nothing to detract from his literary fame. Most of the love he shows in the book is lavished on the English language. One may not like his tendency toward overpunctuation, but one must still admire the author who can write a six-word sentence, using four commas and a period!

Nevertheless, the reviewer recommends Let Me Lie for an evening's pleasure in language and thought.

Very little news this time—very few responses to my request for news. This is the last issue of the GAZETTE this session so now you have all summer to send me those post cards telling me where you are and what you are doing. I am expecting lots of news for the Fall issue!

Thanks George Glauner for your card—wonderful to hear from you and wish I could have attended the meeting of the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter. Congratulations on being its new president. George, were any of our silent 1937 class members at the meeting? Glad to hear that you are back in Bryn Mawr practicing dentistry after five years in the Navy.

Clover Johnson writes that Carol Gouldman (Keiter) is busy keeping house and bringing up Davy. Clover saw Jane Ayers (Davis) for a few minutes at the airport one day recently when Jane was en route to Milwaukee from Williamsburg.

Hatsuye Yamasaki (Kajiwara) writes that she has a second son born March 15 weighing 8-14. His name is Jon.

Harold Moore Gouldman has been appointed trial justice of King George County.

Hope to see many of you at our 10th reunion this June.

Edward Nelson MacConomy is with the Library of Congress. His home address is 3315 20th Street, N.E., Washington, D. C.

At this moment, all I can bring forth in the way of greeting is a feeble "hello." The rush in a department store personnel office just before the big Easter season is all they say it is—it's the same feeling I had when I had managed to struggle through a biology exam.

Thanks to Beverly Boone (Jones), '41, for a grand letter—the one in fact. She writes that Peg Stigall (Chapin), '41, is in Huntington, West Virginia, while her husband continues his studies. Jane Brandt (Wild), '40, her husband and two boys are living in Winchester, Massachusetts. Bebe Ward (Eaton) and her husband are living in Margate, New Jersey, spending lots of time admiring their new daughter, born in January. Prue Searle (Hultzer) and her husband (U.S. Army Captain) are in Germany—military government. Bev, on bended knees I thank you for your letter and for saving the day for me.

I did hear from Arthur Dale Williams, '41, ages ago—but he never talks about himself or the Europeans. Anyway, he's still in Germany—and some of you should write him since his letter was full of questions about W & M people (and the Joseph Horne Company, where he and I began our careers). Captain A. D. Williams, 573 Qm. Rhd. Co., APO 800, U.S.

Army, c/o P.M. New York, N. Y.

Elbert Goodwin Slaughter has a new position with the State Auditor of Public Accounts, located in Bedford.

Maybe I'll see some of you at finals. That Williamsburg yen becomes stronger this time of year and too, I'd like to go back there before I go, in my old age, for the "cure."

Our Regular Navy, Class President crashed through with a letter dated March 30 . . . from Jacksonville, Florida. The grapevine had the news right but the Navy changed it again and now the latest is the Lt. John Henry Garrett's should be quartered at Cherry Point, N. C., by May 1. As soon as Jack finished his school at Bayonne, he was sent to another school in Jacksonville, but he and Ann Terrell (Garrett) and their three children plan to be settled in their home soon. Jack writes that William and Mary has quite a good representation in the Navy Supply Corps. Five were in Supply School at Bayonne at the same time. Sam Griffin and Vincent Lascova, were in the class just behind him. "Red" Bloxom and Johnny Coiner arrived just before Jack left. Vance Fowler is in Hawaii and George Harper is in Panama. Jack remarks that he and Ann probably will not be able to make Finals this year, "you just cannot up and leave three children to run away for a weekend!"

A long-lost classmate checked in March 26, Harry Lockwood Gebauer. Harry and his wife recently moved to Cleveland (Address: 1469 E. 256th St.) and he is working for Kaiser Aluminum. They are anxious to hear from any of the old gang around Cleveland; so, call him when you are in Ohio. Only two of our class lived in that State prewar. No telling who is there now.

Kitty Edge (Bryant) dropped us a note along with the news of her new son's arrival but said most of her news was baby, baby, baby. Ann Terrell (Garrett) had her hands full when her daughter was born in March. Just before "Terry's" arrival, Ann fell and broke her foot; then while she was in the hospital the other two came down with measles; and the maid left. . . . Life, isn't it wonderful.

"Tsingtao, China, 20 February 1947" is the dateline on the letter we have from Lt. Comdr. Paul James Post. He arrived there on January 11 to make an inspection tour to detachments in Tsingtao and Shanghai "via the sky route which was a frigidly cold trip." Paul writes, "the temperature was twenty degrees and the water freezing so the boats are inoperative and we sit out in the bay within sight of the city, not missing too much at that. There are two Officers' Clubs and one Enlisted Men's Club available and a city full of innumerable Chinese and a few Whites who have never returned to their mother countries in Europe."

"Tsingtao is quite a picturesque city, especially when viewing it from the bay. Everywhere you see red tiled roofs and brick structures and lofty mountains jutting into the sky surrounding the town and the bay. We understand that it was founded by the Germans soon after 1900. It was developed accordingly by them as a very thriving seaport. Its harbor and anchorage facilities are good. The city itself evidences a Bavarian perspective from a standpoint of design. After World War II the German influence must have definitely declined." Enjoyed your letter Paul. Keep them coming. Paul's address: Staff, Fleet Air Wing One, c/o F.P.O., San Francisco.

Virginia Brown Lester, Lieutenant, Army Nursing Corps, has returned to Korea.

Palmer D. Farrington is practicing law at 92 Washington Avenue, Cedarhurst, New York.

Helen May Bloedorn was recently elected vice president of the Women's Bar Association of Baltimore.

In June, Charles Loreaux Quittmeyer expects to finish work for his Master of Business Administration degree at Harvard University.

At last your Class Secretary has definite plans for a trip back to Virginia, but it will be in April and too late to gather news for this year's GAZETTE. By next fall the news will be history; so, I am still dependent on you to write me about yourselves. The next issue will be October, deadline one month before.

At the date of writing, I am anxiously anticipating a cross-country hop to the old alma mater for our class reunion! I'm really thrilled to be coming back. My young daughter, Robin, is accompanying me while poor husband, Jack, '40x, remains here "breadwinning."

Let me thank all of you most sincerely for your contributions for the class gift and for sending in your questionnaires. It's not too late for some of the rest of you to send a couple pieces of silver Sully's way—don't forget any amount is appreciated!

Before I start on the news, let me say that the class gift is still undetermined, and that the money for my fund is for stamps, paper, post cards and the like

(and in no way goes toward paying my way back there—ha! !).

Much news was gleaned from the questionnaires, some old, but most new.

Phyllis Hile (McCarthy) and her husband returned home to Virginia in August after being stationed in Bermuda for nine months where her husband was Grand Safety Officer for the army. Phyllis is kept busy taking care of her seven month old son, Jack, Jr.

Annie Bruce (Irwin) and husband are still living in Richmond.

Sam Ellenson is now in his third year at Harvard Law School. Sam said that he gets to the alumni meetings in Boston occasionally.

Hunter Andrews is a law student at the University of Virginia.

Forrest Sinclair is working in an accounting office for the French Mission in Washington.

Myrtle Biele is the assistant general manager of the G. W. Dodge Corp., a direct mail advertising business, in New York City.

Claire Hulcher is working as a laboratory technician at the Veterans Administration Hospital (McGuire) in Richmond. Harlie Masters and Terry Teal are also working there.

Eleanor Ely (Mackey) is assistant registrar of the School of Speech at Northwestern University and a housewife. Her husband, Dave, is working on his M.A. in radio there at Northwestern.

Mary Triplett (Garland) is a housewife living in Detroit, Michigan.

Margaret Mary Polatty was heard to be an Ensign living in Washington, D. C.

Cleo Tweedy has joined the Wm & Maryites in Washington since she has become a physical therapist with the Kabot-Kaiser Institute.

Patricia Nichols (Curcuro) said that she and her family are hoping to be back east for June Week at West Point, so her husband can get in on his class reunion, and then possibly head south for her class reunion. (You'd better, Pat!) Pat also said that Barb Anderson was about to settle out there in Detroit.

Richard Cline writes that he has been going to Indiana University in Bloomington since Feb. '46, and expects to stay a couple more years to get his PhD in Chemistry.

Guy Horsley, Jr. attended the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy in Massachusetts, after which he emerged into the temporary position he is now holding as instructor in World Politics at Dartmouth College. Guy intends to return to Fletcher in the fall.

Christel Ammer (Marton) wrote to say how happy she was that her husband, George, got home from Germany in time for the arrival of their young son. George is at Ft. Bragg while Chris is staying at home in Hampton until they can find an apartment.

Many thanks to Beverly Boone (Jones), '41, for writing in to give me the whereabouts of one—Jim Longley. Jim and his wife, Dot Chick, '41, and daughter live at 3351 Wiscasset Rd., Dearborn, Michigan. Sounds as though you really have your hands full with two small youngsters, ages 1 and 2, Beverly! !

Our President, Malcolm Sullivan, left Philadelphia the middle of April to become associated with the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Company in Chicago where he hopes, eventually, to enter upon copy writing or account work. Sully has had the advertising "bug" for a long time.

Annette Warren has been promoted to the principal child welfare worker with the Dept. of Public Welfare of Roanoke. Annette is also working on her thesis for her M.S. degree in social work.

Louise Wallace is back in Virginia as a chemist for the Institute of Textile Technology in Charlottesville after having spent three years as a chemist for Eastman Kodak in Rochester, N. Y. Louise said that she and Dick Davis eat at the same boarding place. Dick is in law school there at the U. of Virginia. Louise also gave news on the following: Gilmer Fitchett is doing graduate work at the Cobb Lab. of the University in organic chemistry; Edgar Darden, '41, is working on his PhD in biology there; Eleanor Davis is a secretary to a law firm in Washington, D. C.; Mary Morgan (Cokely) is in Oswego, N. Y. while her husband is in school; Alice Walton (Swift) is still with Paramount News and lives in White Plains, N. Y.; Nancy Nason (Willard) is up in Hebron, Maine, her husband being an instructor at the academy there. Thanks so much for all the news, Louise.

Margaret Everhart has become a nun in a convent in Putnam, Connecticut.

Audrey Wallace (Bass) took a trip down to Florida to visit Buster and Betsy Ramsey.

Edith Rathbun (Bell) and family are living in Ithaca, N. Y. while her husband attends school at Cornell. Edie said that they bought a new house last year with a nice big yard for her two children to play in. They have a boy, age four, and a little girl, age eleven months. Edie wrote that Lucille (Wogs) Jennings was in the real estate business in Kingsport, Tennessee.

Jean Ross (O'Brien)—"keeping house—can't think of any fancy name for it!"

Had a phone call from Pat Howard (Parry), '44x. Pat said that she, Bill, and two daughters moved out here last fall. Soon we'll have enough Wm & Maryites to start a good Alumni Chapter!

Guess that about winds it up from sunny (?) California, so until June then, when I'm hoping to see as many of you as possible, best of luck!

Spring has sprung and the Old Dominion is about to blossom forth. Yes, I'm back in Virginia having bid farewell to Texas the end of January. I miss the cowboy boots and other things typical of that locality, but it is grand to be nearer home and, of course, nearer Williamsburg. We spent a weekend there in February and had a wonderful visit—we also took in the Charter Day Convocation at that time and heard Lord Inverchapel and saw former Governor Darden installed as Chancellor. I didn't see too many familiar faces, but was particularly interested in certain physical changes; chiefly, the outdoor theater on the edge of Lake Matoaka where the Jamestown Drama will be produced during the summer. It will be a reenactment of the landing at Jamestown, similar to the production that has been staged at Roanoke Island, North Carolina, for some years. I understand that final dances will probably be held on the new stage down on the lake. At least, Mr. Darden told the students that this was their plan.

GEORGE P. COLEMAN, '92

Jack and I are now well settled in our little apartment in Charlottesville and Jack is entertaining himself with his Law books these days. We were lucky people to get our furnished apartment. I've been busy with slip covers and all the other little things one finds to do in setting up house-keeping, but now I'm finding that I have time on my hands so have begun a part-time job as secretary in the office of College Topics, the University paper. It's a grand way to keep up with what's what on the campus, and I particularly enjoy the comments that the "Virginia Gentlemen" make about other schools in the state, and William and Mary seems to be a "favorite!"

Having been on the move for the past month or six weeks, I haven't gleaned much news, but I'll pass on to you what I do have.

Marion Smith drops us a card from Delray Beach, Florida, saying that her second winter in the South has spoiled her for the ice and snow back home in Pennsylvania. She has been kept busy with two part-time jobs—taking care of a two-year old girl and working in a dress shop. Marion and her mother planned to leave Florida in March, and from there were to take a motor trip through the West, going out the southern route (New Orleans, Houston, San Antonio, the Grand Canyon to Los Angeles) and returning by the middle of June to Towanda via Chicago.

I had a note recently from Cecy Waddell (Cunningham) with news of her and Scotty. They were out of town the weekend we were down there, so we missed seeing them. Cecy says that they have one of the Bozarth apartments out on Richmond Road in the vicinity of the old KA house. She reported that Mid-winters, with Bobby Byrne's orchestra, was better than dances before the war even. Scotty stays busy with interviewing of prospective students and is enjoying his work.

Kitty Brown (Harris) wrote in January, but her letter missed the March issue deadline. Kitty is in Chicago, you know—1940 North Lincoln Avenue, Chicago 14. She has frequent talks with B. J. Jones and discovered by accident one day that Joan Shutter (Sholty) was living only one block away from her. Kitty saw Mary Lou Taylor (McGoodwin) when she and her family came through Chicago in October on their way to Portland, Oregon. They now have a furnished house (!!) and a great liking for Oregon—they chose it, sight unseen, as the place they'd like to settle in. What courage! Kitty's letter had lots of news of members of other classes too which I shall try to pass along. She, Jim, and young Mike (now 15 months) still have their apartment in Chicago, which is just a block from Lincoln Park and the zoo, and a few more blocks from the beach and the lake, so no doubt she finds no trouble with entertaining the young son.

I can't believe it, but it's true—we've found "Pogo," pardon, Cecil Allan Brown. After three long years, trailing him even to Chile, I now find him back in the States. Mr. Brown is still in the Air Corps, having entered in February, '43, and received three campaign ribbons, the Air Medal and six clusters, the DFC, and the Presidential Unit Citation with one cluster. He has just returned from an interesting six months stay at Santiago, Chile, where he was an instructor. He's married, you know, and has a little daughter, born in September. "Pogo's" address is Lt. C. A. Brown, Box 278, Shaw Field, South Carolina.

A recent headline in one of the Richmond papers caught my eye: "Irwin, Hickey Named To Jayem Football, Basketball Positions." Yes, that's our boy Newell (Red) Irwin, who has been named head football coach at John Marshall High School, having been given unanimous approval by the Richmond School Board. Jim Hickey will be head basketball coach. I'd like to quote the following from the article in the paper: "Both have been tremendously popular with the student body since coming to John Marshall. During the School Board meeting, it was revealed a petition from John Marshall students had been presented asking both men be named officially to the positions they have held unofficially since former Coach Hope left. In making the nominations, Superintendent Willett said, 'These are two young men who have done an excellent job. Both are of very fine caliber.'" Anne Bruce (Irwin), Red's wife, writes that they have bought a G. I. house at 3002 Krouse Street, Richmond 24, and are having the time of their lives painting and redecorating. Jim and Pat Foss (Hickey) and little Jill live next door to Anne and Red, so it looks as if the two coaches have a wonderful set-up.

We had a long letter from Pernie Weeks (Callahan), who thereby broke a four-year silence. If you all knew how overjoyed I am when I get letters such as this, perhaps you too would give me a thrill and write—even after four long years. Pernie married Flinton Callahan, a Georgia Tech transfer to W. & M. in in Danville, Virginia, where Flinton is in business with his Father (dry cleaning and fur storage). Pernie is busy these days too with their ten months old son, Flinton II. They have extended a cordial "welcome" to any William and Mary people who may be in the Danville area. Their address is 113 Manchester Drive, Danville.

That concludes the news I have by way of letters and cards. I've seen a few people, however. I ran into Anne Armitage in Miller & Rhoads last week. Anne is out of the WAVES now, you know, and she's now undertaking a course in business school in Richmond. She says that Carolyn is fine. Jack and I have gotten together with Bob and Betty Buntin (Matthews) on several occasions. Bob is in Law School here at the University of Virginia too. We've seen Nat and Micky Riddick (Coleman) several times—Nat's another Law student. Bob Hornsby and C. J. Claudon are up here too but I haven't seen them yet. I did yell at Dick Alfriend yesterday and I saw in the College Topics last week that Dr. Harry Cox played a knockout role in the comedy presented in Cabell Hall by the interns, I believe, at the University Hospital. Now that I'm settled, however, I hope to have some real get-togethers with some of the old gang. My address in Charlottesville is 1827 Fendall Avenue.

I thought you might like to know that the following people have completed the work on their degree and have been added to our list as '43 graduates: Henry Edwin Bridgers, Jr., Francis Eastman Clark, Milton Greenblatt, and Robert Douglas Spalding Marshall. Let me remind you to write me if you know of the whereabouts of any of the members of our class who were listed as "Lost" in the March issue of the GAZETTE.

Joseph Herman Solomon is President of the Centre Gardens Florist Shop, 53 Langley Road, Newton Centre, Massachusetts.

There won't be any more GAZETTES until the fall now, so you have several months to get a letter off to me. Please, please do sit yourself down and scribble off a note. Let's keep our class together. Have a wonderful summer—mine will be really fine if I get lots of mail and don't have to ponder over what I'll write when October rolls around. Don't delay—write today (that's an awful pun, but it's oh so applicable!). Best wishes to all of you.

1944

ELIZABETH GOOCH SEAY
Secretary

4120 Stuart Avenue, Richmond 21, Virginia

With the second issue for 1947, your secretary is staging a comeback, but her resolutions will all be for naught without class cooperation.

For this reason it might be well for us to steal some thunder from the Class of 1945 and quote a statement made in their column several issues ago, "Please write to me by the middle of January, March, August and October, so that I can assemble the material and send it off before the beginning of February, April, September and November. The Alumni Office has to get it to the printer so that he can meet his deadlines—October, December, March and May."

OK? Now to get down to business:

Nancy Throckmorton is the source of "revenue" for 50% of this column; hence we'll let her head the list. Truckie has been made Training Instructor at Miller and Rhoads in Richmond, and is making plans for her wedding in May. She tells us that Jean Richardson (Geiser) is living with Bob's parents in Cincinnati, where he has an assistant professorship and she's taking life easy.

Another lazy W and M alum, Virginia Partrea (Bateman) is relaxing in Fritzlah, Germany where her husband, Jimmy, is stationed.

Also in Germany, Martha Eddy, is seeing Europe on her vacations from the State Department in Hamburg. Her last communication was from St. Moritz, complete with pictures, enough to turn a would-be-globe-trotter green with envy.

Ruth Cowen sends us her address with the Red Cross—62037 ARC, Hq. E.A.M.C., APO 66 c/o PM, New York, New York.

In another direction, Nancy Hale is making plans to go to Japan with the Red Cross.

Peggy Moore received her discharge from ARC last June, and returned to New York in October where she's working with the American Petroleum Institute.

Mary Wilson Carver is actively representing us on our Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni and makes frequent non-stop visits to the College. She would like to have your ideas and suggestions. Send them to her at 1710 Virginia Street, Charleston 1, West Virginia.

We have had a note from Katie Rutherford (Watson) who is living in Los Angeles where she and Jack have been fortunate enough to obtain a duplex apartment. Jack is working for the Henry J. Kaiser Aluminum Co. and their address is: 955 Venango Avenue.

From Iowa, Marge Talle (Merriman)

and Jack write of plans to return East in June. At present Jack is attending Luther College in Decorah; will enter Law School in Baltimore after his graduation in June. As to be expected, Jack is proving himself a BMOG again and is taking a lead in campus debating. Marge is kept pretty busy with little Jack who was a mighty active little fellow when I saw him in early fall.

Coming to the East we know that Fran Pendleton (Elliott) is living at Apt. 330, Westgate West, M.I.T. Cambridge, Massachusetts. Her husband John, is doing graduate work at M.I.T. and she's working for two law professors at Harvard.

Among other students are our members of the William and Mary Colony at Charlottesville. There are Ann Burton (Dudley) and Lane Dudley, Matilda Gentile (Lewis) and Charles Lewis, Mickie Riddick (Coleman) and Nat Coleman. Any additions or corrections to this list will be appreciated. Really, we do have a legitimate claim on another couple: Betty Buntin (Matthews) and Bob Matthews even if he did accelerate.

We have not offered our official best wishes to Barbara Bevans (Burns) and Bob Burns. Looks like another William and Mary romance.

She and Bob were at Homecoming, and though that was a long, long time ago we should like to mention the names of others who were there, too: Jack Bellis, Ann Ray, Jean Lockridge, Dave Glucksmann, Debby Davis, Lucille Fizer, Kate Lee (Marshall), Ken McGinn, and Howard Harkavy. Of these, I know Jack is back in school. So are many others whom I saw. Please do not feel left out if you were not mentioned; it is just that one has a nostalgic desire to feel that "we are together again." We understand that Prickett Carter (Saunders) has her CPA; hopes to come East soon.

Hallie Vaughan Rennie is back at W and M taking a Fine Arts course; just returned from a trip North.

Speaking of the North, Barbara Gray makes monthly buying trips to New York; so you Yankees be on the lookout for calls from her. I guess you might be seeing Emily Snyder up that way too as she has recently been made Buyer at Strawbridge and Clothier, Philadelphia.

You air minded people will be delighted to know that Midge Webster is working in reservations at the National Airport in Washington. Let me know if this is right, Midge. I heard it from pretty reliable grapevine sources.

Here in Richmond I see Norma Rolf-

sen and Dorothy Campbell frequently. Norma is a caseworker with the Social Service Bureau and Dot is completing work on her master's at the Richmond School of Social Work. Yours truly continues at the same job.

Attention all W and M alums in Chicago area! Our loyal correspondent, Marjorie Jean Retske, writes that W and M population is taking over the windy city and she's hoping someone will offer to take the responsibility for organizing a reunion. Are there any takers? There should be; for there are 27 people, among whom she mentions:

Bob Wing who is married, living in Prospect Heights; Betty Kirst (Baumann) and husband Bill, living in Oak Park (Bill works for Western Electric); Marilyn Wood (Cushman); Marge Kellogg who is attending Loyola Law School; Don Hahne, on Chicago Times staff; Betty Jones, Sales Promotion Department at radio station WGN—Mutual.

Also Betty Moore (Meiklejohn) and husband, our former professor, Donald Meiklejohn, now on faculty at University of Chicago, Jackie Adams, Fran Tompkins (Fletcher), Gloria Murphy (Cunningham), Ed Svetke, Betty Harris (Heath), Barbara Foster and two students—Ruth Barnes and Dick Randall.

Our next letter comes from Julius Trousdale Sadler, Jr. who says he is now working for Cameron Clark, Architect in New York. His present address is 237 East 19th Street.

I have had visits from several of our colleagues. Lucy Fizer, who was recently elected president of the Sweet Briar chapter of the American Association of University Women, was in town during the latter part of March. She continues at the library at Sweet Briar and plans to return there next year.

Bill Ditto made a surprise visit to my office some few weeks ago. He was in Richmond to make application for Dental School at the Medical College of Virginia, and haply enough their buildings are located across the street from mine. He tells the same story as so many; that he has wanted to write news to the column but just never got around to it. Somehow the spirit finally moved him and he promises to keep in touch with the GAZETTE. Perhaps there are others who might do likewise; we would appreciate it. Bill has been teaching at a Junior High School in Charleston since last fall and coaches at the same school.

Another of us has taken to the airlines: Eleanor Ramsdell, Address: 420 S. Clinton Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois. She is associated with the American Airlines.

Alice Stirewalt (Davis) catches us up on her activities since last July when she left her work with the Army Signal Corps

NELLIE D. GREAVES
Secretary

2803 Ridge Road Drive, Alexandria, Virginia

It hardly seems possible that it has been two years since Forty-Five bade fond adieu to our beloved old college. But it actually has been almost that long, and that reminds us—it is almost time to begin paying our alumni dues. Most of our Society Memberships expire in July, so let's all send in our dues by then and strive for one hundred per cent representation for our class in the Society of the Alumni. "Four dollars a year for membership," in the words of Charlie McCurdy on the occasion of the Washington Alumni Chapter banquet, "is cheap to contribute to the Society even if you live to be a hundred." There are a lot of us around with those sentiments, too, so let's try to make it unanimous.

Speaking of the Washington Alumni banquet, that is as good a place to begin on this quarter's news as any. Members of our class present were Janie Raymond, Mary Gladah Jones, Janet Staebner, and your correspondent. We were honored by the presence of Mr. Pomfret as principal speaker.

Class news circulating that night included several items of interest to us all. In June Jane Raymond will join the rest of her family in Germany. Her address, and Dorothy's, will be: care of Colonel J. E. Raymond, 0-12814 ECIS, APO 172, c/o Postmaster, New York City.

We haven't heard from Mac Kaemerle for ages, but understand that she is still enjoying her work at Freedom House in New York City. Shirley Lanham is in the advertising business in California. Now, how did you get 'way out there, Shirley? The last time we saw you, you were right here in Washington.

Although Mary Jean Caldwell graduated from Purdue, she has joined the Boston Chapter of William and Mary Alumni! Hers is the kind of spirit which we are so happy to see when we can point to a friend with pride and say, "I went to William and Mary with him/her." It should be an inspiration to some of you who have not yet gotten around to signing up with the local W and M groups. Believe us who belong, it is the best way to keep in touch with the college.

We also picked up a bit of news at a party given in honor of Ginny Craddock. There will be more about Ginny in the next issue, but let's look at the offerings of the grapevine we gathered at the tea. It seems that Jeanne Boyle is enjoying a wealth of Florida sunshine right now. She and Edie Burkhart work for the public education system in Philadelphia, according to Joey Armstrong. We also heard that Kay Johnson is teaching dancing at Arthur Murray's.

So much for hearsay, except for one item: Bill Lazell was listed last time as "lost." He can be contacted at this address: 424 Franklin Street, Denver, Colorado. As far as we know, he is married and attending the University of Colorado.

Now, the letters: Rachel Lyne (Jorgensen) writes that Shirley Kopp (Deringer) and her husband are living in New York City on Riverside Drive.

Marion Lang, one of my most faithful news-collectors has "found" her former roommate for us—Lucille Roy (Zoll), who is living in Texas with her Army husband, Buddy, and their six-month old son. Address: 8130 Garland Road, Dallas, Texas.

Another "lost" classmate, Ruth Schmitz Kerns is still in California with Jim and the baby, according to Marion, but we haven't the exact address.

Gloria Gruber (Blakelock) writes that, after her husband received his long-awaited discharge, they settled down in the middle west. They have a brand new five-room house, colonial style. They have furnished it in early American and—you guessed it!—with a predominant Williamsburg influence, even to the oil painting of Bruton Church over the mantel. Ralph is an engineer in the commercial sales department of air-conditioning at the Frigidaire Corporation. The baby is now sixteen months old (how time flies!). The only person from William and Mary Gloria has seen lately is Dottie Agurk Edmunds. If any of you live in or pass through Dayton, Gloria says she would love to see you. Her present address is: Sunrise Drive, Trotwood, Ohio (three miles out of Dayton.)

Catharine Tomlinson (Bartlett) and her husband have discovered that they are living next door to a naval chaplain who was stationed at William and Mary our junior year. Small world, isn't it? Aside from a weekend at home every now and then, Cath has kept busy arranging her new apartment. She recently went to Connie Cooley's wedding, which turned out to be quite a William and Mary reunion. Cath saw Peggy Moore and Gussie Williams (Fischer). Elinor Clayton (Wright) was there, too. She and Bob have bought a home in Tenafly, New Jersey, where they are now living with their little boy. Sorry I haven't the Wrights' address in Tenafly.

Catharine bumped into Betsy Yow (Pearce), who lives a few blocks from her, at an Officers' Club Valentine dance.

"Norma K." Bradshaw (Carmines) has changed schools and is teaching advanced English, two freshman English classes, and three physical education classes.

In October Jean Clark (Ford) and Virgil moved to 1307 West Woodlawn Avenue, Norfolk 2, Virginia, to make more room for the baby. He is named after Virgil, but they call him "Taylor." Bill Covington spent several evenings at the Ford home recently before returning to dental school in Detroit. Jean ran into Sunny Trumbo in downtown Norfolk the day before Sunny became Mrs. Williams. Jean added a PS to say that their living room sports a beautiful oil painting of the Wren Building and a huge William and Mary pennant!

Remember that bridal bouquet we told you about in the last issue which Mary Jane Chamberlain caught at Matilda O'Brien (Chamberlain)'s wedding? Well, that magic spell they talk about really works! Or maybe it was Mary Jane's own brand of magic. Anyway, she was married on April 12.

Edna Kerin came across again with a newsy letter. She's one girl you can always count on to lend a helping hand to our struggling cause. She wrote of her and Dinny Lee's weekend in Cambridge with Willie Anne Boschen (Wright) and Jackie. The Wrights have a modern apartment in a converted Navy barracks a block from the Charles River. Willie Anne showed Edna and Dinny the sights of Boston and Cambridge. They ran into Jeanne Bolton (Cressy) and Fran Pendleton, '44, and Edie Harwood, '46, had Sunday dinner with them. After Jackie's graduation in June, he and Willie Anne will spend the summer in Richmond.

Lucille McCormick planned a big get-together for a weekend in Mountain Lakes, but blizzards kept everyone (including Taffy Taylor of our class) away—that is, all except Edna and Alice White. Lucille is dietitian in White Plains. Not long ago she had lunch with Mabel Pederson (Melervey), one of our freshman classmates, of Mamaroneck. "Pete" and her roommate, Marjorie Westcott (Rathbone), after going to Katherine Gibbs together, now are living near each other and meet frequently.

Dinny Lee has left the Lab, according to Edna, and is now studying at Berkeley Institute. (Write us about it, Dinny.) She and Edna recently ran across Marion Lang in a theater. Ricky Struminger is currently busy with the Annual Red Cross Drive. "Lynn" Helen Struminger (Ostrow) and Jerry are living in Pittsburgh and have written Edna glowing descriptions of their five-month-old Billy. Edna often sees Thelma Levine (Miller), who holds a research job with the government while Chuck finishes school. They have an apartment, which Edna frequently visits. Thelma and Chuck spent Christmas with Jane Saltzman, Jim, and Peter Glassman in Maine, which is now the Glassmans' home.

Of her own work Edna says that it provides fascinating contacts. She has recently met Clifton Fadiman, Amalee Jacoby (author of "Thunder Out of China"), and the children of such celebrities as Vincent Youmans and Lawrence Tibbett.

And Mrs. Tyrone Power is among her correspondents. Edna has done some lecturing at PTA groups.

An unexpected but very welcome letter from Vivian Foltz located one of our "lost" classmates. Elizabeth Anne Plummer (Ferguson), after her sophomore year at Drake University, joined the war effort instead of returning to college. (She had a WAVE sister, a Marine brother, an Army father, and a Red Cross mother!) So, she applied her wonderful sense of humor and mathematical mind to becoming a GE cadet, training at Michigan and graduating high in her class. She took a job in the drafting room of a defense plant in Dayton, where she met Bob Ferguson and married him. After a honeymoon in Williamsburg (naturally!) they went to Boston, where Bob did research work for the government at MIT. The Fergusons' present address is: 3433 North Central Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Jeanne Krause (Thompson) majored in nutrition at Cornell University, graduating from there in 1944. She married Jack Thompson, from her home town and from Cornell. When Jack was in the Navy, Jeanne had to do a lot of traveling to keep up with him, until he went overseas. Her present address is: 2287 Denington Drive, Cleveland Heights 6, Ohio.

Justine Rodney (Soloman) after leaving William and Mary lived at home in New York City and went to a school that trained secretaries for doctors. After working a while with a baby doctor, she married Jeff Soloman. After a honeymoon in Cuba they settled in Jeff's home town, Lima, Ohio. Address: 951 State Street, Lima, Ohio.

As for herself, Viv says that after graduating from Cornell in the fall of '44 with a degree in history, she entered Western Reserve School of Library Science in Cleveland and graduated in June, 1945. She worked for a year at Great Lakes Naval Hospital and then transferred to the naval air station at Quonset Point, Rhode Island. In January this year she accepted a position at Cornell, where she is enjoying a second co-ed life, this time from an adult standpoint, she says. Vivian's address is: Librarian, College of Architecture, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

Vivian had two names for the lost list: June Neff and Elizabeth Parsons (Grimm). The last we have heard of June is that she is still in York. I am sure that she could be reached at: 54 South Richland Avenue, York, Pennsylvania. And for Libby our latest address is: Charlotte Court House, Virginia.

It seems that saying people are "lost" is a good way to get them to write to the class. Anyway, Cary Hughes (Opitz) came across with a nice fat epistle with a still different address for herself and news of people we know. Another request for the deadline list was voiced in Cary's letter. Here they are: I want to hear from you (all of you) before the end of August, October, January and March. For instance, for the May issue my deadline is the beginning of April, so that I have to have your letters sometime in March. So, classmates, please keep those four months in mind and let us hear from you each time one of them flits by. Incidentally, this department has received quite a few requests to hear from the men in our class. It would be wonderful to find out where that scattered number is now and what they are doing. Remember, we are anxious to hear from all our Forty-Fivers, whether or not they graduated.

. . . But we were talking about Cary, weren't we? Cary's new address is: 3847 A Folsom Avenue, St. Louis 10, Missouri. It is an apartment which she and Paul found after much searching, but Cary says they will move again in June. Paul is working at the Monsanto Chemical Company in Illinois, across the river from St. Louis. Cary writes amusingly about "The Heap," the family car, which is a 1929 Model "A" Ford and the only car they could latch onto. Cary hears from Sheila Keane, Lorrie Weir, and Getta Hirsch every now and then. Getta is still in the advertising business and Sheila is studying at Columbia for her MA. Cary expects to be in this part of the country in the spring, when Paul goes on his annual Naval Reserve Cruise.

Jeanne Bolton (Cressy) was another contributor of news about Forty-Five this time. She wrote that Ghislaine Lovell had been maid-of-honor in her wedding. Jeanne and Cheever had a trip in the Pocono Mountains and now have an apartment at 334 Beacon Street, Apt. 10, Boston, Massachusetts. Cheever is instructor in history at MIT. Jeanne corresponds with Virginia Naille, who is studying library science in New York. Connie Anninos is in New York, too, working for the Greek Information Office. Bobbie Manly, who graduated from the University of North Carolina, is married now and living in Chicago. Jeanne said that Ghislaine is now completing her thesis for her second graduate degree from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy (the same school from which Jeanne received her MA), and is contemplating coming to Washington to be employed in the State Department.

Ginny Baureithel has been keeping quite busy with her singing and teaching swimming at the YWCA. She manages to go home to Wyomissing almost every weekend, in addition to the laboratory job she holds down at Dupont! Rachel Lyne (Jorgensen) is the Dean's secretary at Shepherd College, and is enjoying college life once again, while her husband is studying there. Peggy Johnson also is secretary to a dean—the Dean of the English Department at Boston University. She is also secretary for Student Activities there.

Eleanor Heyer is getting her Master's at Columbia. Dorothy Hoadley (Burnett) is connected with the Maryland Trust Company now, while Jack is at Johns Hopkins.

Edie McChesney is hard to keep up with, traveling from New York to Williamsburg and all around this part of the country. Not even her office stays in one place! Her particular branch of the State Department has been shifted to a different part of Washington.

Betty Bradley's new address is: 1915 Claremont Avenue, Norfolk 7. Bettymay Becan (Gaston) has accepted a position as artist-illustrator with the Army Ground Forces Headquarters at Fort Monroe. It is her job to diagram plans sent to Washington.

John Mason Buchanan is an applicant for the Master's degree at the California Institute of Technology.

Robert Jules Maisonnier is with the Texas Company, Hong Kong Building, P.O. Box 399, Saigon (F.I.) China.

a reminder about the Alumni meeting at 10:30 A.M. on Alumni Day. Remember, we are all stockholders in the Society and it's up to each member who is in Williamsburg for the weekend to try to attend the one business meeting of the organization. We can demonstrate our interest in the Alumni and in the college by seeing to it that there is more than a bare quorum present at this important annual function. Hope a lot of you can make it to finals, so that we can have a grand reunion! And I hope that a lot of us will meet again in July, when Mr. Paul Green's play will be presented.

Have a wonderful summer, everyone, and by August let's have at least forty-five letters from Forty-Five!

Spring seems to have put Edie Harwood all in a dither, what with moving into a new apartment, working hard, announcing her engagement, and a half-dozen other things, she found it impossible to write the class letter this time and asked if I would pinch-hit for her. Edie has done a grand job and is about due for a vacation so I'll try to do my best in relaying all the news I know about our great class of '46. I'm ever so pleased to have this opportunity to write to and about all of you. Hardly seems possible that in June we will have been out of College a whole year, and that calls for a reunion—but more about that later.

I was glad to hear that so many of you were able to attend the recent Alumni meetings at which Dr. Pomfret and Charlie McCurdy were present. It was mighty good news to hear from Charlie that members of our class were much in evidence at all of the meetings. We had a fine get-together here in Washington and it was good to hear all about what is going on back at school. Those '46-ers who attended the dinner here were Ann Vineyard, Pam Pauly, Joyce Nichols, Kay Callahan, Jean Beazley (Clary) and yours truly.

I was back at school for Mid-Winters Week End. The dance was super—Bobby Byrne's orchestra. It was fun seeing everyone again, tho' there were very few alumni back. Saw Al Appell at the dance but didn't get much chance to talk with him. He's still around in Williamsburg—lucky guy. Also talked with Daphne Andrews (Crum), Martha Humbert (Riley), Dottie Hope (Baum), Bev Bose, and Pat Slosson (Clark). They are all still enjoying college life while their "better-halves" finish their schooling. Betty Jane Relph (Crockett) is there instructing Statistics, Adina Allen is in the Psychology department, and Sharon McCloskey in the Physics department. Polly Krotts' is still with the Restoration as are Fred Frechette and Shirley Davis.

You'll be interested in knowing that Bobbie Volkert was a maid in the court of Momus at Mardi Gras in New Orleans! Bobbie is working in the personnel department of the Times-Picayne Publishing Company. Ellie Herman took some time off from her job with Sheffield Dairies to go down for the Mardi Gras festivities.

And we now have among our number a "man of distinction" in the person of Tommy Smith. He recently started working for Calvert Distilleries. He's still going to G.W. at night and learning the distilling business during the day. Tommy just bought a car which facilitates his frequent travels to the 'burg. He and I have many long telephone conversations about all the latest news of school.

Marilyn Patton (Green) wrote a nice letter and said that she and her husband and young daughter, Kyle Ann are living in Fredonia, N. Y. and planning to get to Williamsburg soon. Betty Marie Ellett (Klugh) writes that they are looking for another apartment again and she is planning to see Pam and Ann in Missouri in May.

Ann Vineyard recently started a new job as Assistant to the Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives. She finds it quite interesting to be in on the "Hill" activities. Pam Pauly is still doing psychological work at Andrews Field. Joyce Remsberg is teaching here in Washington and busy planning her wedding in June. Donnie Lepper has quit her job with the insurance company in N. Y. and took a short vacation back at school. Ann Singer is still with Sears.

After Barbara Nycum has finished teaching for this term in Surry, Va., she plans to spend some time in Florida. I also saw her at Mid-Winters. Patty Wheelan has been wintering in Florida and having a gay time—nice work if you can get it! Marian Webb (Foster) has been in California with her husband, Jack, making arrangements for him to enter U.C.L.A.

Jean Beazley (Clary) is teaching school while Grayson continues at the Seminary in Alexandria. Red and Mary Devol (Wood) are also there. Mary recently had an appendectomy and the flu but is now back to normal and working in the book store at the Seminary. Henzie Kapler (Margraf) reports that they have a house in Tuckerton, N. J. and she is kept quite busy with her housekeeping chores. Pat Martin (Beal) and Frank are now living off Jamestown Road. She is working for the Restoration while Frank finishes school.

Kay Callahan loves her work as teacher-librarian at the Barrie and Peter Pan

Nursery School here in D. C. She teaches the 2½-3 year olds. I learned from Kay that Frances Rowe is a student dietician at Fort Sam Houston Army Hospital in Texas. Joyce Nichols has an interesting job with the telephone company here. Jacy Bormann is also with the telephone company in N. Y. She said she saw lots of the crowd at the N. Y. Alumni meeting, including Betty Evans, Donnie Lepper, Joan Lefevre, Alice White, Dick Bicks, Helen Louise Robinson, and Versie Rae Brown. Helen and Versie Rae are finding the work at Altman's quite interesting.

Deeks Phipps has a new job as secretary to the Public Relations Manager of the Commercial Credit Company in Baltimore. She's pleased with the work and has joined the College Club there. She saw Dot Green (Rainey) recently. Deeks visited Jan Ginsburg (Waisbrot) some time ago in Phila, and says that Jan has a job teaching histology at Temple Med. School. Jerrie Healy writes that she frequently sees GINNY RATCLIFFE and PRIS FULLER in Richmond.

Keith Ann (Tex) Gamble is now located in D. C., working in the Legislative Reference Division of the Library of Congress. It sure is nice to have Tex back in the East again. Ran into Glo Iden not so long ago at the Army and Navy Country Club. She is teaching French at the Warrenton Country School, Warrenton, Va. Honey Maguire is working in Philly.

Dick Baker is now on his way to becoming a big Philadelphia lawyer as he started at Penn Law School the first of April and says he is really knocking himself out. I'll bet my last pay-check he'd rather be back at Wm. and Mary. Speaking of lawyers, Ed Lindsley and Pete Quynn are still at W-M in the Law School. Edie wrote that she saw many familiar faces at the Boston Alumni meeting, including Jerry Hyman and Dick MacCracken, both of whom are now at Harvard.

Dottie Hammer is in the Dept. of Agriculture lab in Philly and says it never becomes monotonous. She's working with soaps now. Marcia Levering continues with the Air Lines in Philly and just got back from a weekend in the 'burg. Dottie wrote that she, Marcia, Betty Lawson, and Dick Baker went to the Alumni meeting and saw Sally Stevenson, Honey Maguire, Jan Ginsburg (Waisbrot) from our class. Betty Lawson is also in a lab and planning a wedding this summer.

Our good ol' "prexy" Fritz Zepht finally came through with a letter and says he is now in the appliance business with his uncle in Cleveland. He likes it immensely, but I think he is nostalgic for W-M. He plans to make June Finals for sure. Janet O'Donohue is taking graduate work at Iowa and will be married in August. Cherry Whitehurst is a P.C.A. air hostess and loves this flying around. Bobbie Black (Brown) is now living in Midland, Texas and plans to be in D. C. during the month of August while her husband takes some courses here for the Naval Reserve. I understand that Fran Buttler (Parsons) is now in Texas with her husband.

Saw Hugh Watson, '42, about a month ago while he was in Penna. building up the Coca-Cola business, and he told me that Larry and Gladys Goldsmith are now living in Schenectady, N. Y., but I've forgotten what he is doing. Let us hear from you, Larry, as we like to have you on our list.

As for myself, I've been having a grand time in D. C. Have a wonderful job with the Division of Policy Research and Analysis, Department of State. It's very interesting work and I plan to start my Master's at G. W. in the near future. The best part of being in Washington is that I'm close to the 'burg and get down there quite frequently.

In a short time you will all be receiving letters about our first reunion back at school over the weekend of June 6-7. Finals will really be something to see this year and it promises to be a fabulous weekend—providing you will all be there! Please try to make it 'cause we can't let another year go by without getting together. Will be looking for all of you then! !

This is the last issue of the GAZETTE 'til next fall which means that it's time to renew your membership in the Society. Don't forget to do it, please, and do let us hear from you soon and often. Either write to Edie or to me, even if only a card. This is the only way we have to keep in contact with each other and we should be glad that we have the GAZETTE for this purpose: so do let's make use of it.

Hope you will all have enjoyable summers and will be on hand for Alumni Day and our reunion on June 7. 'Til then, my best wishes to each and all!

provide many a reason for war whoops on the Reservation. Korcowski, whose ability to pick up his blockers has stamped him among the greatest offensive backs, has that certain something that stands a player out above the others.

Only North Carolina's Charlie Justice, on the strength of three touchdowns in the season's finale against University of Virginia, led Cloud in Southern Conference scoring. As a freshman, the 200-pound Brave fullback indicated he would surpass Harvey Johnson, of the '42 piledrivers, for all-time honors. On more than one occasion Cloud proved himself a "one-man gang."

Ramsey, third All-American choice last fall, has recovered from the left arm fracture he suffered in last fall's George Washington University game and once more is ready to gear a line that will average slightly over 200 pounds per man. The six-foot-two-inch 200-pounder from Maryville, Tenn., whips from his squad with such speed he has no difficulty leading interference. As an offensive guard he has few, if any, peers. On defense he is equally outstanding.

Given additional reserves capable of playing topflight football, William and Mary may make more than a dent in the Southern Conference. A record of seven wins against one loss stood the Braves second only to North Carolina last fall. The last two seasons the burly Braves have lost one conference game each. They're hopeful that they can break the charm. Certainly they're picking on no weak sisters with which to do it. They open with Miami of Ohio, perennially one of the better small squads in the midwest (small only by comparison with Big Ten teams). The Buckeyes scared Purdue last fall be-

Deceased

1879

Robert Jones Barksdale, '79x, February 25, at Richmond. He was 90 years old and probably the second or third alumnus of the College at the time of his death. A native of Campbell County, Mr. Barksdale spent the session 1875-76 at the College and later attended VMI. Associating himself with coal interests in West Virginia, he later was connected with the C&O and Norfolk and Western Railroads. He was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha.

1892

William Walter Christian, '92x, March 15, at Wilmington, North Carolina. He was a brother of the late Miss Emily Christian, associate librarian at the College for many years.

1894

Virgil Stuart Deitrick, '94x, March 25, at Parksley. He attended the College for two sessions beginning in 1890.

1895

James Van Allen Bickford, '95x, April 14, at Hampton. Mr. Bickford spent his entire life in Hampton and had been mayor of the city from 1919 until his resignation last October because of declining health. Always prominent in the civic life of the Peninsula, he gained State recognition due to his connection with the Virginia League of Municipalities. He was a charter member and early president of the Hampton Rotary Club. He was a Mason, Shriner, Elk, Eagle and Red Man. He was a proponent of the city manager type of government and under his mayoralty tenure many municipal improvements were made in Hampton.

Mr. Bickford only attended the College during the session 1891-92. He transferred to and graduated from V.M.I.

Following his graduation he was appointed research assistant in the Food Research Institute at Stanford University and later became a junior research associate, university fellow and teaching assistant and instructor. He took his M.A. degree in 1930 and his Ph.D. in 1933, both at Stanford.

He first became affiliated with the University of California in 1932 when he was appointed lecturer in economics. His rise through the ranks to full professor, chairman of the department and, finally, dean of the College of Commerce, was rapid. He served as dean from 1937 to 1941 when he became dean of the School of Business at Columbia.

While in California, Dr. Calkins served on various labor boards and committees. In 1934 he was vice chairman of the San Francisco Regional Labor Board and, a year later, was public representative on the board. From 1935 until 1940 he was an arbitrator of labor disputes. In the early days of the New Deal he served as a temporary representative on the staff of NRA and also on AAA. Since coming to New York he has been a member of the Railway Labor Panel and, from 1942 to 1945, was mediator on the War Labor Board.

Dr. Calkins is now a director of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, a director of the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company and a member of the Research Advisory Board of the Committee for Economic Development. At various times he has been a consultant with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation, the National Resources Planning Board, OPA and the War Department. He was chairman of the Pacific Coast Regional Committee of the Social Science Research Council.

William and Mary continues to hold close ties with Dr. Calkins. After conferring upon him its highest honor, the LL.D. degree, in 1942, he was elected president of Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, an office he still holds. He has served on the nominating committee for the Society of Alumni for three years and is its chairman this year.

Dr. Calkins' two sisters and a brother are also alumni of the College. Gladys Ethel Calkins (Cook), '25Ba-26M, is a professor at Bucknell University; Emily Eleanor Calkins, '27Ba, is an assistant professor of mathematics at William and Mary; and, Frank Seymour Calkins, '21Ba, is a certified public accountant in Richmond.

service since 1923. Of this number, all but five are of classes before 1930. Of the five elected from classes since 1930, only one has served longer than three years. While it is a normal procedure that Board service of younger alumni is in the future, the fact remains that since 1930, approximately 10,000 students have been in attendance at the College with five of their number elected to the Board of Directors, whereas between 1890 and 1930, a period more than twice as long, less than 6,000 were in attendance, and they have had 38 representatives on the Board.

At the present time five Board members are from classes 1921 to 1927. The classes from 1928 through 1943 are not represented. There is one member from the class of 1944. Three members are from classes 30 or more years out of college.

Is a Board of twelve members too large? Should not the Society elect the best available men and women to the Board regardless of their class or age? These are two of the questions which the Board has been pondering and which the Society should consider.

Are there any alternates to the present policy and the proposed change? One that is in general use in most alumni organizations is to allow balloting by mail, thus permitting the entire membership to participate in elections even though the majority cannot return to the campus for
