FOREWORD

When in the coming years you turn the pages of this, the 1925 Colonial Echo, it is the sincere hope of the staff who present it that they may have so well succeeded in their task as to awaken within you tender memories of your stay at William and Mary, and that you may hark back through the speeding years and live over again those scenes and associations which made your college days the greatest of your life.

DEDICATION

To a Southern gentleman of the Old School, whose quiet dignity and gentle manner and whose sympathy and patient forbearance have endeared him to the hearts of countless students who have sat under his instruction—

To one about whose very presence, in these harsh days of modern thought and ideals, there hangs as a whisper from a vanished age the charmed atmosphere of the old William and Mary—

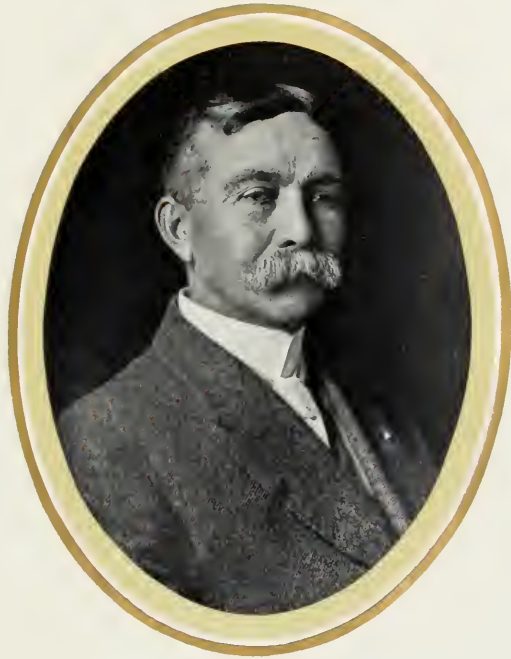

To one whose whole life has been an unbroken, unselfish service to mankind, and who preferred the obscurity of a college professorship to fame as a physician—

To

Dr. Van Franklin Garrett

Professor Emeritus of Chemistry

The Staff reverently dedicates this volume.

Alma Mater

Hark! The students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear;
Alma Mater's love they're telling,
Ringing far and near.

CHORUS:

William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark upon the gale,
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater—hail!

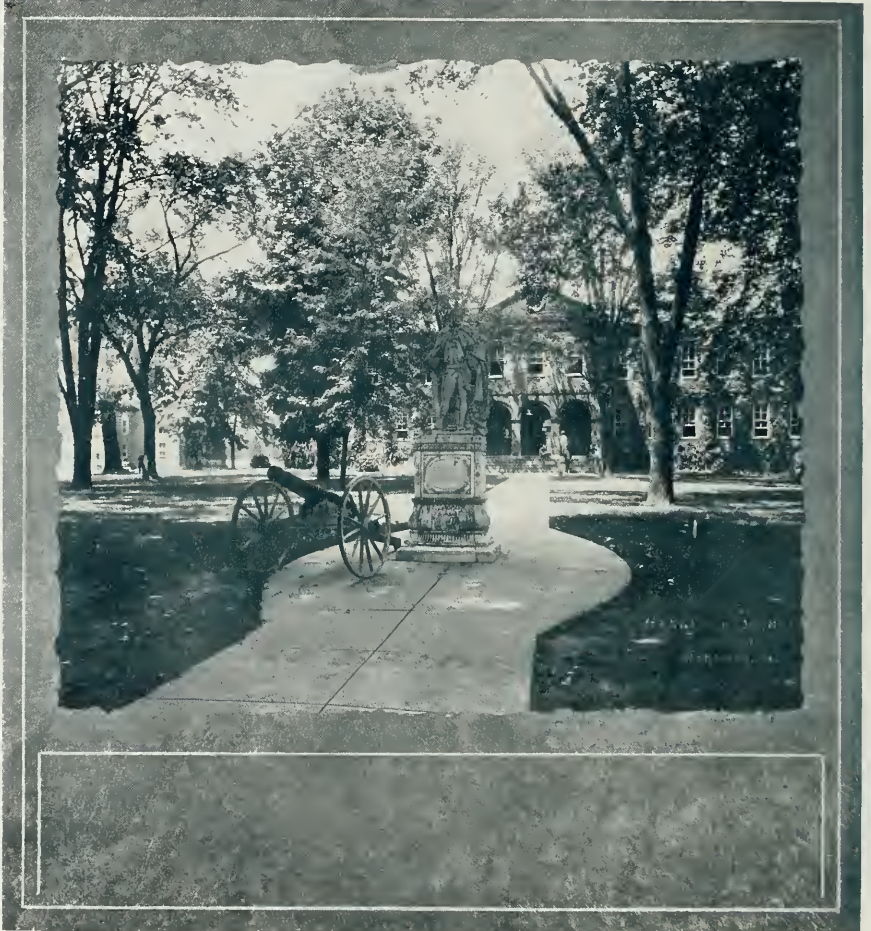

All thy sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days;
Singing loud from hearts that love thee
Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod or golden sandaled
Shall the years go by—
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
Love that cannot die.

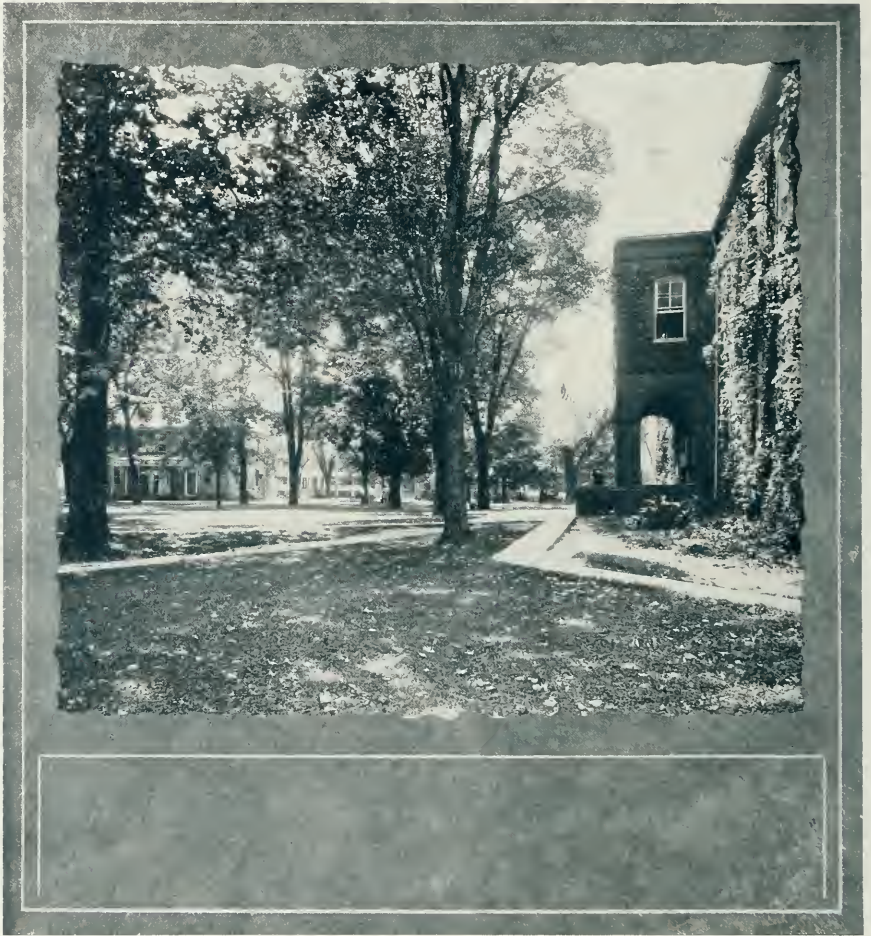

God our Father, hear our voices,
Listen to our cry—
Bless the College of our boyhood,
Let her never die.

Nocturne

By Muriel Valentine

A moon slips into the water,
 A slow and golden tone;
 Two grey gulls soar together,
 And one comes back alone.

A wind blows over a willow tree
 Wherein a harp is hung,
 The strings are supple willow wands
 Between the branches strung;
 The locust leaves are flickering
 In breathless minstrelsy,
 The aspens sing a rustling tune
 Of hushed cacophony;
 Small white moths go winging by,
 Arpeggios of the lute,
 And petals falling one by one—
 Grace-notes of a flute.

A moon slips into the water,
 A slow and golden tone;
 Two grey gulls soar together
 And one comes back alone.

Senior Class History

To justify its name, a history must be a record of dates and facts.

The first date in this unauthentic record, is September, 1921. As three hundred more or less bewildered freshmen, we were met, assisted in registering, piloted to our rooms and left to get acquainted with our roommates, unpack our brand new trunks, weep lonely tears of homesickness, and find our places in this new environment.

We come to the next date of our history, today,—June, 1925. Four years have passed, just a fleeting second in the ages of time, but more than a seven-teenth of our natural lives.

This has been a period of marvelous development in the history of our college. New buildings have sprung up, sidewalks have replaced the Indian footpaths we once waded. The enrollment of the college has almost doubled. No longer do we know by their first names our many classmates. Our college is becoming a large university, and we feel it a privilege to be a part of this phenomenal growth.

The facts of this history cannot be recorded. They can be found only in the brain-storehouses of every senior. Like thieves we have stolen from this endless fund of knowledge. Like perishing travellers we have drunk the waters of wisdom from this bottomless well. But, most valuable of all things learned are the ideals and standards which are William and Mary's gift to each departing student. The imprint of this institution is upon us. The world will know whence we came.

Our graduation robs the college of some of its strongest athletics, some of ablest student leaders, and some of its most intellectual students. But forgive the arrogance of the Lordly Senior. This is our hour, our mecca, the goal of our four years of effort. Tomorrow we will be no longer Seniors. Tomorrow we begin at the bottom of another ladder. The climb will be harder, and there will be no graduation.

Only a third of that freshman class of four years ago is here today. Those who began but could not finish have our sincerest regrets. We miss them, their empty places cast a melancholy air over this occasion.

As we come to the door leading out, there is no sadness at parting, for we are not leaving William and Mary. We will never leave William and Mary. The history of this class can never be completed, for in the dim distant ages to come, our spirits will return to hold Senior chapel at this hallowed spot, and midnight council in these silent halls while students sleep.

CHARLES PHILLIPS POLLARD, A. B.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Theta Delta Chi; Chi Beta Phi; Treasurer, Delta Pi Sigma; Phi Delta Gamma; Theta Alpha Phi; Dramatic Club; Leading man in "Kempy;" parts in "Clarence," "Wurzel-Flummery," "The Pot Boiler," and "A Good Woman." Tennis Team, 1923-24-25; Manager, Tennis, 1924; Basketball squad, 1923; Phi Beta Kappa Scholarship, 1924.

"Polly" without a doubt is the Socrates of our class. He is the kind of man whom it is a pleasure to meet, an ever-increasing joy to know, and a source of deep regret to part with. He has been interested in all phases of college activities. Besides being on the Tennis team, he has played parts in several dramatic productions, and has taken a leading part in all student activities.

ELDER L. LASH, JR., B. S.
Portsmouth, Virginia

Theta Delta Chi; Alpha Kappa Psi; Cotillion Club; Phoenix; Discipline Council, 1923-24; Captain, Freshman Basketball, 1921-22; Track team, 1922-23-24-25; Portsmouth Club, 1923-24; President, Portsmouth Club, 1924-25.

The Senior class will always remember "Slat's" because of his continuous smile and laughing talk. They all fall sooner or later, and "Slat's" is one of those who has fallen. His efforts in basketball and especially in track have won for him recognition as a diligent worker. He goes to all the dances in spite of being Superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday-school. "Slat's" is a likeable fellow, and we know he will be successful in life.

DOROTHY ADELINE SPRATT
Waterford, Virginia

Edith Baer Club; Loudoun County Club; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Secretary Clayton-Grimes Biology Club, 1925.

With the name of Dorothea Adeline and the nickname of Jack; with a major in Home Economics and a special talent in music, with a chief occupation of going to the movies and with a principal aversion of doing what other people want her to do, "Jack's" redeeming qualities are a love for fun, spontaniety, wit, and on the whole is a wonderful girl,—a creditable graduate of this ancient college.

ELIZABETH CHRISTINE GAINES
Roanoke, Virginia

German Club; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Southwest Virginia Club; Edith Baer Club; Junior Basketball, 1924; Vice-president Edith Baer Club, 1923; President Edith Baer Club, 1924; Historian Senior Class, 1925.

Yea, Cotton usually Gains what she goes after. In addition to a brilliant record in Home Economics, supported by activities, she leaves behind a host of friends who shall envy the community that shall profit by her presence in the future.

THOMAS W. EVANS, A. B.
Water View, Virginia

Theta Delta Chi, (Grand Lodge treasurer, 1924-25); F. H. C. Society; Omicron Delta Kappa, (treasurer, 1924-25); "13" Club; President, Junior Class, 1924; President, Senior Class, 1925; Discipline council, 1922-23; Football squad, 1922, 23 and 24; Photographic Editor, Colonial Echo; 1922-23-24; Business Manager, Colonial Echo, 1924-25; Baseball Squad, 1923-24; Cotillion Club; Inter-fraternity Council.

Tommy holds the record for being treasurer of organizations. That is because they all know what a first class business man he is. But that isn't all. Business is his hobby, it's true; but business hasn't kept him away from the ladies. He is what is known in the vernacular as a "dog with the women." And shall we say that the class should strive to be worthy of its president? It should, we think.

Laurie Collins Green, A. B.
Surry, Virginia

Kappa Alpha; F. H. C. Society; Omicron Delta Kappa; Sigma Upsilon; "13" Club; Interfraternity Council, 1922-23-24; B. I. C.; Cotillion Club; Short Story Prize, 1923; James Barron Hope Scholarship, 1924; Poetry Prize, 1922; Wooden Shoe Club; Phoenix; Alumni Editor, Flat Hat, 1922-23; Editor-in-Chief, Flat Hat, 1923-24; Editor-in-Chief, Colonial Echo, 1925; College Publicity Bureau, 1923.

Though old in years, Larry is "one of the boys." The campus knows him for his works, for during his Junior year he edited the Flat Hat, and carried it through its most successful session, and now he is Editor of the Colonial Echo. As a journalist he is just beginning his career, and his work along that line while in college bespeaks success for him. His honors listed above speak for themselves.

MARTHA STANLEY WINFREY, B. S.
Glen Allen, Virginia

Westhampton College, 1922; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Edith Baer Club; Vice-President Edith Baer Club, 1925.

A rare and pleasing combination of the practical and the ideal we have in Martha—a scholar and a dreamer, and what is more,—a cook par excellence, (as anyone who has lunched at the Practise House will testify.) Attractive, serene, dependable always, true to her ideals and loyal to her friends is she. What more could one ask?

ANNA GLADYS HUDSON, B. S.
Norfolk, Virginia

Virginia College, 1922; Y. W. C. A.; Edith Baer Club; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Art Club; German Club; Tennis Club; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Norfolk Club; Judiciary Council Student Government, 1923-24-25; Undergraduate Representative Y. W. C. A., 1924; Vice-President, 1925.

If you haven't had lunch at the Practise House, or watched while Anna concocted a box of candy that would rival Mr. Kandy Kitchen himself, or seen her escorting a group of "Little Sisters" around the campus, you've missed something.—Because this along with capability, dependability, and all the other ilties that make a leading figure on the campus, is Anna.

ARTHUR JAMES WINDER, A. B.
Norfolk, Virginia

Man of all works, an all 'round college man, a good fellow, a hard worker, a good, dependable, sincere friend—all these, and more good qualities besides, go to make up Art Winder. And don't mistake him for a grind—never! He studies, but he plays, also. And he knows how to do both to the very best advantage. Unless we're badly fooled, he has a great future before him.

THOMAS HUMPHREY CURTIS, JR., A. B.
Rushmere, Virginia

Alpha Psi.

Well, Tommie, you have been with us a long time, and we hate to see you leave. Your name has almost become a household word at William and Mary, and we hope that it will soon appear along with several other good members of our class, in our list of priorities. Oh, we forgot to mention the fact that Tommie slings a hefty line, and is a philosopher of no mean ability. Fight 'em, Tommie; we're expecting great things of you.

RUTH M. RITCHIE, A. B.
Charlottesville, Virginia

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Music Club; William Fox Scholarship at Westhampton College, 1922; Ecole Francaise, Middleburg, Vermont, Summer of 1924.

Did you ever wish you could be pretty, petite, and popular? Ruth has never had to wish for the Fates were that good to her,—and better, for they endowed her with a mind which nothing, not even Greek, German and Ethics, can trouble. We have watched her go smiling through classes which would have made us tear our hair. Ruth holds a first place easily, in her classes and in our hearts, and a roommate is supposed to know!

NANCY BELLE GARY, A. B.
Richmond, Virginia

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Y. W. C. A.

"The reason firm, the temperate will, endurance, foresight, strength and skill." All of this might be said of Nancy and still leave room for a great deal more. Although she has been with us but one year, we have had ample time to find in her an excellent student, (as the A's indicate), a deep thinker, and best of all a real friend. It is our loss that she could not have been here for the entire four years.

THOMAS PUTNAM CHAPMAN, JR., A. B.

Fairfax, Virginia

Kappa Phi Kappa; Dramatic Club; Philomathean; Piedmont Club; Honor Council, 1924-25; Business Manager, Dramatic Club, 1924-25; Flat Hat staff, 1923-24; Circulation Manager, Flat Hat, 1924-25; Summer School Dramatics, 1924.

Perhaps nature wished to compensate for the small physique she gave him when she endowed him so plentifully with the elements of character and personality. For "Put" has made his way to the heart of everyone with whom he has had contact on the campus, by his genial humor and his warmth of friendship. Unassuming and quiet, but active and efficient, he goes about the campus doing whatever task he must to advance the causes of his Alma Mater. We take off our hats to you, Chappie, and send you out to a world who needs men of mettle—and we know it will find you true.

LAWRENCE W. SHERRITT, A. B.

Norfolk, Virginia

The first thing one thinks of when seeing Lawrence is why the coach has not had him out on the football squad. Sherritt tips the scale at 210, and seems to bear up as well as the rest of us. Along with a general good nature, Lawrence has a characteristic smile that doesn't fail to attract. During his stay here Law and Accountancy seem to be his hobby, for his ambition is to be a lawyer-accountant, so we will wish him litigious fee and flowing contentions.

ALICE CREASY MOSS, B. S.

Richmond, Virginia

K. O. B.; German Club; Varsity Hockey, 1925; Captain Senior Sophomore Hockey, 1925; Varsity Basketball Squad, 1924-25; Assistant Manager Basketball 1924; Art Club; H2E Club; President H2E Club, 1924; Whitehall Literary Society; V. W. C. A.; Co-Ed Minstrel; "Jessica" in The Merchant of Venice, 1925; Richmond Club.

Alice—her very name suggests all the beauty, piquance, and sweet reserve that are hers. She is another Alice who has never quite found her way out of "Wonderland." She, whom we first know as "one of the Moss Twins," proved to be an old-fashioned girl possessed of dignity, competency, and sincerity. Despite her quaintness, she has taken a prominent part in athletics and other college activities. In short, Alice represents what is universally recognized as the finest type of college woman.

Richmond, Virginia

German Club; Secretary German Club, 19-25; Tennis Team; K. O. B.; Art Club; Co-ed Minstrels; Cheer Leader; V. W. C. A.; Richmond Club; Whitehall Literary Society.

Can't you see her deftly swinging a tennis racket, or putting all the pep she has into a long Kay for William and Mary, or pouring over a math problem, or getting a marvelous rush at the dances? That's Jane—an all-round modern American college girl. Though your erect, vivacious self will not be seen on the campus in September, a large share of our best wishes for your success and happiness go out with you who have proved a loyal true friend to us and to your Alma Mater.

PAUL ELY, A. B.
Dryden, Virginia

Paul is a very quiet and unassuming chap in a crowd, but when you get him at home on the third floor of the Institute you'd be surprised. He is a shark at studying and playing Hearts and 500. Paul is a true friend, a hard worker, a dependable cuss, and just enough of a devil to be delightfully wicked. And, as we write, a berth on the varsity pitching staff seems to be assured him.

FLOYD HUBNALL CHRISTOPHER, B. S.
Remo, Virginia

Honor Council, 1923, 1924; President, Honor Council 1924-25; President Northern Neck Club; 1923-24; Secretary-treasurer Northern Neck Club, 1924-25.

Who is that rosy-checked fellow who is always hanging around in front of Ewell? Oh, that's Cutie, from Remo, over in God's Country—he says. Seriously, though, he is what might be termed a "work of art;" besides presiding over that august body sometimes called the Honor Council, he still finds time to treat the co-eds with many glowing smiles and much fatherly advice. Cutie's ability entitles him to a place in the front rank, and is going to carry him far in the workings of the "Big Show."

MYREE HUTCHINGS, A. B.

Norfolk, Virginia

Kappa Alpha Theta; Alpha; German Club; G. G. G.; Vice-President German Club, 1920; President German Club, 1921; President Alpha, 1921; Athletic Council, 1921; Colonial Echo Staff, 1921; Pan Hellenic Council, 1923; Program Committee of Whitehall Literary Society, 1925; Manager Girl's Basket ball, 1925.

Manager Myree! This is the title that she won in basketball and that her capability has retained for her in whatever she has undertaken. "Hutch" is a natural born leader and her versatility has made her outstanding in most of the campus activities. Rushing around like mad all day with her various duties and dancing that night the gayest of the crowd, Hutch is blessed with the most precious possession of any college student—the ability to keep distinct her time for work and her time for play, and to excel in both.

JULIA DIXON, A. B.

Norfolk, Virginia

Kappa Alpha Theta; Alpha; K. O. B.; Monogram Club; Treasurer Athletic Association 1923-24; Manager Basketball 1922-23; Varsity Basketball Squad, 1922-23-24-25; Captain Basketball 1925; Student Council, 1923-24-25; Discipline Committee, 1923.

July is an all around college girl who makes us wonder how anyone could do so much in four short years. Her light bobbed head seen on the dance floor does not look as if it held so much math and physics; her years of basketball would not suggest her serious face and good work on the student Council. But perhaps her practice in throwing basketballs gives the house-president the knack of making that old bell heard all through Jefferson Hall! All of these she does with equal ease, and at the same time she doesn't know that profs give any lower mark than A.

MING PAN, A. B.
Changsha, China

College of Yale in China; Editor-in-Chief of the "Yale Extra;" Editor-in-Chief, "Yale Student," 1921; Author of the Criminal's Voice; Tsing Hua Scholarship, 1923.

Ming is one of those choice few whom good fortune has sent to us to help weld together in a better understanding this great nation and the Orient. He has brought with him a ray of Oriental sunshine; and he carries with him a faint, pleasing whisper of the balmy Far Eastern air. Government is his hobby, and we expect great things of him when he returns to his native land.

FRED CLIFTON, B. S.
Vesta, Virginia

Clayton Grimes Biology Club; Southwest Virginia Club.

Fred is a quiet, unassuming fellow; brilliant in the classroom and always busy with something. He never has much to say; but always says something worth while when he does speak. He has never looked for any pull in College, thinking perhaps that he will get enough of that when he finishes dentistry and starts pulling for himself.

M. KATHERINE KERR, A. B.
Hamilton, Virginia

Alpha; Los Quixotescos; History Club; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Vice-House-president Jefferson Hall, 1924; President Los Quixotescos, 1925; President History Club, 1925; Student Assistant in History, 1924.

Above, the worthy colleague of Dr. Martou, a mixture of common sense and pure fun. "She would not flatter Neptune for his trident." She never "curled" in all her college career, for it was never necessary; an A is still an A from any angle, and, when knowledge and intelligence back it up, even the unsteady hand of him who makes the grades cannot deny it. There is much in this girl's dark past that is unknown; however, one sin will out,—she galloped through Latin on a pony.

ELIZABETH DAVIES FRANKLIN, A. B.
Norfolk, Virginia

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society.

Benjie is unlike the Benjamin of the roll of fame, for, to begin with, she is a girl, and she has never worried and harrassed young people with seeds of sensible maxims that every one quotes and no one lives up to. Not at all. Instead of taking things seriously, she laughs at them. Guilty of being rather shy in giving to the world some of the natural loveliness of her happy soul, she is generous in all things else, often staying off starvation and assuring one more day of life for her friends by a well-timed and interestingly large piece of fudge.

M. B. REYNOLDS, A. B.
Takoma Park, D. C.

Pi Epsilon Beta; Los Quixotescos; Assistant in Accounting, 1923-25; Philomathean; Literary Critic, 1924-25; Treasurer, 1922-23; Flat Hat reporter, 1922-23; Glee Club; Northern Lights; College Band; Tennis Club; Non-Virginia Club; Y. M. C. A. Pianist, 1923-25.

"Mack"—you know him—that musical, rather serious boy, a "go-getter" and a busy business man. What, with his initiative, enthusiasm, and brains, as bear witness his formidable string of "A" credits, he should rise to the greatest heights of success. To own the largest business and play the pipe-organ are only two of his ambitions. He is always a dependable and sincere friend, an excellent student, and a man of varied and unusual ability.

WILLIAM BERNELLE MARKS, A. B.
Havelock, Virginia

Kappa Phi Kappa; Y. M. C. A.; Vice-President, Northern Neck Club, 1925; Literary Critic, Phoenix, 1925; University of Virginia summerschool, 1924; Recording secretary, Kappa Phi Kappa.

At any hour of the day or night may be heard the strains of his banjo through the halls of Ewell Annex, but far is this from unpleasant to the other students because Marks is an accomplished musician. And not only is Marks an accomplished musician, but also he is an excellent student. This may well be proved by the fact that he has got his degree in three years. William and Mary will ever welcome such students as "Bill."

MRS. FANNIE G. MOON, A. B.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Mature Minds; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Williamsburg Club.

Mrs. Moon has an attribute for herself that any parent might well be proud of,—that of not only graduating with high honors herself, but also that of having her daughter finish at the same time as herself.

THESSA MOON, A. B.
Williamsburg, Virginia

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Sargeant at Arms of J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Williamsburg Club.

Thersa came to us with an open mind and a storehouse full of youthful ambition. This ambition has commanded and served her fittingly, not only in her search for knowledge, but also in a standard participation in literary and athletic activities. Here is a scholastic career well commenced,—a brilliant mold to a wide and lasting knowledge.

RAYMOND MONTAGUE TULIN, A. B.
Norfolk, Virginia

Associate Editor, Literary Magazine, 1923-25; President of Chess Club, 1921-25; Phoenix Literary Society; Clayton Grimes Biology Club; Intercollegiate Menorah Society.

Raymond's ambition is to be an author. And some day he will write many fine things, but the truest and finest that he may write is that everybody is his friend and he is everybody's friend.

JOHN J. HOVEY, JR.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Williamsburg Club; Business Club.

He may be quiet, and not quite a sheik, but just the same he's the kind that counts. A real steady fellow on whom we can always depend to do the right thing at the right time. William and Mary expects great things of you, and wishes you good luck.

SUZANNE YEARDLEY GARRETT, A. B.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Chi Omega; Alpha; G. G. G.; Los Quixotesos; German Club; Vice-president of Y. W. C. A., 1921-23; Town Representative Woman's Student Council, 1922-23; Secretary and Treasurer of Senior Class.

As for priorities, Dunny has almost as many as the college itself. For a beginning, she started out as the youngest member of the class. By her sophomore year "Dunny's Ford" had become a part of the landscape and Dr. Hall awarded her his invisible medal as the most experienced connoisseur of soft drinks in this part of the country. The next year she took time out for a season abroad, and as a senior she has finished a term ahead of the class so she could be the first one married.

MARY WILSON BOHANNAN, A. B.
Surry, Virginia

Graduate of St. Mary's School; German Club; Y. W. C. A.; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Literary Magazine Representative of J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1925.

Mary is a true follower of her name. After graduating from St. Mary's in '23, she followed the lead of her fathers and came to William and Mary for her degree. Now she is planning to go to France this summer to perfect her "parlez-vousing." We who know Mary Bo find in her the perfect friend—dependable, sympathetic, and lovable, with plenty of pep and fun.

MERRILL J. EVANS, A. B.
Grandy, North Carolina

Alpha Psi; Tar Heel Club; Treasurer, Tar Heel Club, 1924; Phoenix.

Coming to us from the Old North State, Merrill's strong personality has won for him many friends and the admiration of all. Yet his records show that he has ever placed his class work above all. As to his force of character and administrative ability, many is the night he has kept two or three hundred students deathly quiet in the Library. We hold no fear as to his future success.

MALCOLM B. SKELTON, B. S.
Blackstone, Virginia

Philomathean; Piedmont Club.

The most casual observer will rightly conclude that his hobby is work. Business is his watchword, but somehow his time has not been wasted, for he has many friends. Armed with determination and that innate something they call intellect, he has built on a wide range of studies, with Business and Law as his chief cornerstones. Success to you, old man.

IRMA FRANKLIN BELL, B. S.
Fredericksburg, Virginia

Chi Omega; K. O. B.; German Club; Art Club; Whitehall Literary Society; Graduate Sargent School of Physical Education; Assistant Director of Women's Athletics, 1925.

Our regret is that Sargent didn't spare her sooner. Didn't she help coach that basket-ball team that did such wonderful playing? Then all the due girls know how hard she can be in physical Ed., and yet how really nice and sweet she can be outside of gym. In the class room, on the golf links, at dances and on the campus, we see in Irma a salient argument for co-education.

DOROTHY BAYNHAM WILKINSON, A. B.
Norfolk, Virginia

Chi Omega; Alpha, K. O. B.; German Club; Art Club; Whitehall Literary Society; Vice-president Women's Athletic Council, 1922; Chaplain Whitehall Literary Society, 1923; Secretary German Club, 1924; President German Club, 1925.

Everyone knows "Dot." Her pleasant, smiling face has been beaming on the campus during the past four years, obtaining for her a host of friends. Besides being one of the best as a dancer herself she has presided over the German Club during its most successful "dancing" year. And the amazing thing is that being one of the most popular girls on the campus has not kept Dot from making straight A's in math and physics.

EMMETT W. WRIGHT, A. B.
Fredericksburg, Virginia

Philomathean: Treasurer, Philomathean, 19-23; Secretary, Philomathean, 1923; Debate Council, 1924; Piedmont Club; Rappahannock Club; Intercollegiate Debate Team, 1922-25.

Sincerity, persistence, and a pleasing personality along with a native ability to "curl" have meant success throughout Wright's four years in college. He is considered one of our most literary students. He has represented the college twice in intercollegiate debate, and has been a leader in the Philomathean. He is a diligent student, a true friend, and an ardent supporter of William and Mary. "Titus," we wish you luck.

DEWEY LINWOOD LOHR, B. S.
Brightwood, Virginia

Kappa Phi Kappa; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Delta Pi Sigma; Philomathean; Y. M. C. A.

Quiet and serene, but with a capacity for work rarely excelled, he is one of the shining lights of the school of scientists. For four years he has been adding to his score of A credits, one of which any student may justly be proud. A real friend and companion, a diligent, sincere student, and a character of the highest type. May success crown your efforts!

DOROTHY ISABELLE ARNOLD, A. B.
Providence, Rhode Island

Student Brown University, 1922-23; Monogram Club; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Art Club; W. and M. Chapter of Life-Saving Corps; Girls Varsity Basketball, 1924-25; Swimming, 1924-25; Dramatic Coach J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1925; Y. W. C. A.

Because she always took a chance, she left Brown University to come down here; because she played guard the Indianettes had little difficulty keeping down the scores; because she couldn't decide whether or not to cut class one day she had that earnest look seen in the portrait above; because she was versatile she could move alike the faculty and the campus; and, to conclude a casual situation, the reason such a variety of things can be said is because she is Dorothy Arnold.

MURIEL BARRINGTON VALENTINE, A. B.
DeLand, Florida

Chi Omega; Chi Delta Phi; Alpha; Whitehall Literary Society Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Art Club; K. O. B.; James Barron Hope Scholarship, 1922; Pan Hellenic Council, 1924-25; Hockey, 1922; Basketball, 1922; Track, 1922-23; Archery, 1922-23; Swimming, 1922-23-24-25; W and M Chapter of Life Saving Corps; Vice-house-president, 1922; Reporter Flat Hat, 1922; Associate Editor Flat Hat, 1923-24-25; Associate Editor Literary Magazine, 1924; Associate Editor Colonial Echo, 1923-24-25; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 1923; Class Poet, 1923-24-25; Secretary Whitehall Literary Society, 1923; Literary Critic Whitehall Literary Society, 1924; Vice-president Alpha, 1924; President Alpha, 1925.

Now for Miss Muriel Barrington Valentine, who has classes once-in-a-while and A's most-of-the-time; an Epicurean verily, (though she flatly denies it); scribbling her way from the editorship of publications into the Anthology of College Verse. She not only has the honor of paying more library fines than anybody in school, but she is "the only person who never got by with one thing in her life."

CLYDE G. JOHNSON, A. B.
Windsor, Virginia

Philomathean; Treasurer, Philomathean, 1925; Debate Council, 1924-25.

Perseverance and a native scholastic ability have meant success for Clyde throughout his college career. He is proud of the work that he has accomplished in accountancy and the Department of Business Administration. A true friend, a sincere student, and possessing an unassuming nature, characterize him. We wish him success in the profession that he chooses.

HARMON J. SWINK, A. B.
McLean, Virginia

Pi Epsilon Beta; Kappa Phi Kappa; Track team, 1923-24-25; Student, Georgetown University, 1921-23.

"What Shall I do to be forever known,
And make the age to come my own?"

From under the shadow of the capitol dome came this aspirant for a degree. He is quite a sprinter, although "luck" was often against him. His scholarship makes us proud to claim him as an alumnus. His genial and pleasing personality makes him welcome as a friend. His career has not been limited to the classroom, for he has always carried additional courses in "campusstry".

MARION TAYLOR BEDWELL, A. B.

Mount Holly, New Jersey

Transferred from the University of Pennsylvania.

Though we have known her but a year, we have found in Marion a great deal of originality, a quick, keen mind, the ability (which most of us lack) of making A's without studying, a well-developed sense of humour, and that rare quality—tolerance of opinions that differ from hers. Marion's greatest charm perhaps, lies in her real interest in and sympathetic understanding of people. We regret that she has not been with us the whole four years.

MARJORIE STOLL BRULLE, A. B.

Newport News, Virginia

Have you ever read a book whose every page presented new and evermore desirable characteristics? If so, you have an idea of the pleasure derived from really knowing Marjorie. We have found in her, frankness, sincerity, friendship, in its deepest sense, loyalty, high ideals, and we are still turning pages. We give her up with reluctance.

JOSEPH SWANSON SMITH, A. B.
Hillsville, Virginia

Sigma Nu; Omicron Delta Kappa; F:H:C; Society; Beta Phi; Phi Delta Gamma; Wythe Law Club; Rough Ashler Club; President, Sophomore Class, 1921; Student Council, 1921; President Student Council, 1922; Student Council, 1923; President Phoenix, 1923; Business Manager, Colonial Echo, 1923; Manager Debate Council, 1923.

Down from the wilds of the mountains he came to us, but soon showed that he had brought none of their wildness with him; for about the campus, in the classroom, on the dance floor, or anywhere else you happen upon him, you will find both a gentleman and a jovial companion. He has the unique distinction of having been keeper in the Institute and president of the Discipline Council without making enemies; rather his sincerity and good fellowship have won a place for him in the heart of each of his fellow students.

WILLIAM EARLE BULL, A. B.
Binghamton, New York

Sigma Nu; Omicron Delta Kappa; F:H:C; Society; Cotillion Club; Pi Gamma Mu; Phi Delta Gamma; Theta Alpha Phi; Wythe Law Club; B. B. Club; T. B. T.; Phoenix; President, Dramatic Club, 1925; Interlocutor, College Minstrels, 1924-25; Final Declamation, 1923; Chairman, Senior Invitation Committee.

Behold, the man! Yes, this is Billy, the pride of New York. He wandered way down to Virginia in his travels, looked the old College over, liked it, and so stayed four years. In these four years he has won laurels as an actor, orator, scholar, gentleman of parts, and—oh, well, let the co-eds settle the rest of the argument. Bill has made his time count, and it is with a pang of regret that we have to let him go. But the world needs men, and so we send them Bill, knowing that the world will be better for his going into it.

REGINA ETTA MURRAY, A.B.
Norfolk, Virginia

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Norfolk Club; Y. W. C. A., Art Club; Poetry Society of Virginia.

"She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness". A good student as is shown by receiving her degree in three and one-half years, a loyal daughter of her Alma Mater, a good pal, a true friend loved by all who know her. May great success and happiness come to her through all her life as she goes forth from the College of William and Mary with her well-earned honors.

LUCY ANN TAYLOR, A.B.
Richmond, Virginia

Y. W. C. A.; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Monogram Club; Prentiss Scholarship, 1924; Varsity Hockey, 1923; Point Monogram, 1924; Hiking Club; Flat Hat Staff, 1925.

Not a flapper, but an admirer of flappers. Lucy Ann is peppy, yet dignified, studious, yet not a grind, efficient, yet not overbearing. She has always been an enthusiastic supporter of all athletics, and not only those who have been her team-mates, but her opponents as well, can testify to her clean sportsmanship and enviable capability. We, who have been associated with her, recognize her unusual intellectual ability and feel sure that this outstanding quality will be recognized by more capable judges.

WILLIAM HENRY GRAVELY, JR.
Martinsville, Virginia

Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; Phoenix; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 1922-24; Treasurer, Y. M. C. A. 1923; Vice-President, 1924; Vice-President Phoenix, 1922; Parliamentary and literary critic, 1923; Winner Declamation medal, final contest, 1922; Orator's medal, 1923; "Shylock" in Merchant of Venice, 1925.

Unassuming and reticent, Bill has moved about the campus for four years, admired by his fellow students for his scholarship and his gentlemanly manner. Seldom has he spoken; but when he has the whole campus has listened, for Bill early proved himself a gifted speaker. His friends learned to love him for his sincerity and truth, and those few who were unfortunate enough not to know him well respected his accomplishments.

ROBERT TANSILL MACLIN, B.S.
North Emporia, Virginia

Kappa Alpha; "13" Club; B. B. Club; Manager Track, 1924-25; Interfraternity Council, 1925; Vice-President, Cotillion Club, 1924-25; Athletic Council, 1925; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club.

The Fates decreed that "Mac" should come to William and Mary, so in time we see him listed among the great who have attained the status of seniors. He hasn't done much yelling since he cast his lot with us, but he has made up for it in good hard work. He doesn't dote on fancy titles, nor does he ape the ways of those who would have themselves called great. When anything is to be accomplished, Mac is always there. That is why we are proud to send him out as a representative William and Mary man.

MILDRED VAIDEN, A.B.
Baltimore, Maryland

Kappa Kappa Gamma; Alpha; German Club; K. O. B.; Program Chairman Y. W. C. A., J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1923-25; Dramatic Club; President Las Quixotesos, 1925; Treasurer Student Government, 1923.

We read of Napoleon's will, Jefferson's red hair, and Washington's height. But none of those known characters had Mildred Vaiden eyes. Napoleon's will could never have made him the most finished actress in college; he could never have played Portia; and Washington's height could not have won for him high honors in college. Even the red hair of Jefferson could not win for him the love of a student body.

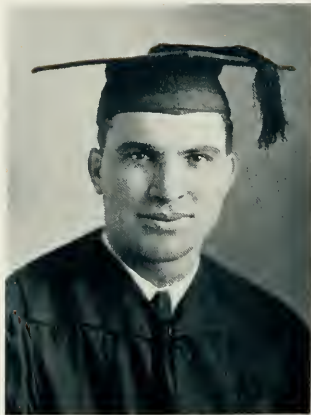

No, decidedly, the eyes have it!

MARY LYLE AMIS, A.B.
Virgilia, Virginia.

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, Piedmont Club, Y. W. C. A.

After two years at Averett College, Mary wandered down to the college of her name, where to our delight she has spent two winters. "Talker" should have been a title of Mary's, for she can and does carry on a lively conversation anytime and anywhere. We wish you the greatest success in your career of teaching in North Carolina, though we feel sure that it will be a short one because of the desirability of a home in our capital city.

EDWIN FOSTER GOULDMAN, B.S.

Colonial Beach, Virginia

Northern Neck Club; Doctors' Club; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Philomathean; Laboratory Assistant in Organic Chemistry, 1925.

Quiet and unassuming, with a capacity for work exceeded only by his ability—that's Ed. He is a real student, a true friend, and a good sport. He always has a smile and time to help for everyone. Ed seems to be a Chemistry shark, since he has been curling for straight A's during his four year's study in that field. We wish him much success as he leaves us to pursue his studies at Medical College.

MARION BROOKE DULING, A.B.

Pamplin, Virginia

After spending two years at Richmond College, he came here last year to complete his college education. He had the stuff, and started "curling" the professors right away. He persecuted the poor school kids for a couple of years, and he is going after them again when he leaves. If they don't learn it won't be his fault.

FRANKIE LOPP, A. B.
Paris, France

Chi Delta Phi; Los Quixotesos; Gibbons Club; Secretary Clayton-Grimes Biology Club, 1924; Dog Catcher of Supreme Court, 1923.

This girl is American, she has all the wit, the good nature the savoir faire of a Frenchwoman. Frankie's wings have been clipped and fate has kicked her but rising above these sorrows, Frankie still had the strength to drag to class albeit often late e'en found the strength to wheedle a degree from the college authorities. We late to lose this foreign article, our only one.

MABEL ANGELA DAVIS, B.S.
Richmond, Virginia

Monogram Club; H:E Club; Intra Mural Committee; Fire Captain Tyler Hall, 1924; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Manager Indoor Baseball, 1924; Manager Hockey, 1924; Honorary Hockey Varsity, 1924; Honorary Baseball Varsity, 1924.

In Mabel we have the makings of a future coach. She is one of our best athletes, participating in all the college sports. In 1924 she was chosen as the third best all-round athlete. She is also an excellent student. With her natural ability we have high expectations of her being a great success in life, and when she leaves us, we have every reason to believe that William and Mary has sent forth another who is capable of holding her own place in the world.

JOHN BUXTON TODD, B. S.
Newport News, Virginia

Pi Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; F: 1923; President Y. W. C. A.: 1924; Chaplain H: C: Society; Monogram Club; Cotillion Club; Kesbids; Football team, 1921-25; Captain football team, 1923-24, and 1924-25; track team, 1924, 1925; Baseball, 1923, 24, 25; Secretary Athletic Committee, 1924; Basketball team, 1923, 24, 25; vice-president, athletic council, 1923-24; Vice-president, Honor Council, 1923, 24; Secretary-treasurer, Freshman class, 1921-22; President, Sophomore Class, 1922-23; Vice-president, Senior Class, 1925.

"Are you ready, Captain Todd?" has been a familiar question for the past two years, and John has always been ready. Coming from Newport News in 1921, his popularity has increased until he is without a rival. A member of everything of importance on the campus, John has been a safe bet in whatever he undertook. The only four-letter man on the campus, he rates with the best in all the sports. Two most successful football seasons with two victories over Richmond are evidences of his ability as a leader.

JAMES CAMPBELL, JR., B. S.
Upper Darby, Pennsylvania

Pi Kappa Alpha; Omicron Delta Kappa; Chi Beta Phi; Cotillion Club; Robert W. Hughes Scholarship, 1924-25; Pi Kappa Alpha Scholarship, 1924-25; Business Manager, Literary Magazine, 1925; Instructor in Mathematics and Physics, 1924-25; Cheer leader, 1925.

To know "Red" is to like him. A sincere friend, an excellent student, a good sport and an ardent admirer of the fair sex. "Red" is a native of Glasgow, Scotland, but came to the United States when he was ten years old, and did his preparatory work in Philadelphia. He is a hard worker and does well everything that he attempts, which accounts for his degree in less than four years. Not only is he a good student, but also a good teacher. He is instructor in Physics and Math., and as a cheer leader is hard to beat.

ANNA BELL DENNIS, A. B.
Norfolk, Virginia

Kappa Kappa Gamma; German Club; Alpha; G. G. G.; Whitehall Literary Society; Hiking Club; Nansemond County Club; Y. W. C. A.; Norfolk Club.

Edgar Allen's Anna Bell had nothing on ours. For our Anna Bell lives with the thoughts of many by whom she is loved and all of whom she loves in return. And thoughts of love, however, are not the only ones. She is a peach of a dancer, a student of Ethics, and a feature of the beauty section. It doesn't take the spring to make her a young man's fancy and neither does it take need to make her a friend.

ANITA RUCKER, A. B.
Bedford, Virginia

Kappa Kappa Gamma; Alpha; K. O. B.; Art Club; German Club; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet 1922, 23, 24, 25; Whitehall Literary Society; Secretary Southwest Virginia Club, 1924; Hiking Club; Hockey Squad, 1924.

Anita X-X for that quality of Anita unknown in others. No, she's not the most popular girl, the most brilliant, nor the best dancer. But she's the one who emerges from behind her innocent look and sidecurls to make the season's cleverest remark. Looks easy? Well, so she is until a worth-while subject is struck, then she could argue Socrates to a finish. Her following rivals the Pied Piper of Hamelin's; but she needs no pipe. Neither does she need a baton to keep her many friends in perfect tune with her.

PAUL A. MOORE, A. B.
Concord, New Hampshire

General Winfield Scott Scholarship, 1921-25; Student, Clark College, 1918; Los Quixotescos; Phoenix; Northern Lights; Business Mens' Club; Rifle Team.

We shouldn't say that Dinty stepped out of the comic sheet; but we will say that you may find his counterpart there. A more intelligent, a more friendly, a more resourceful man we have seldom seen in room 227 Monroe Hall.

He has frightened the Ducs because he sometimes give grades; he has delighted the professors because he always gets grades. And his honor—oh, My! Don't offend him; he will wait and wait; but like every other grandson of Ireland, he will obtain his apology. Innumerable women checker his otherwise quiet career, but he is all man.

HENRY IRVING WILLETT, A. B.
Gloucester, Virginia

Kappa Phi Kappa; President Gloucester Club, 1924; Treasurer Phoenix, 1925; Assistant Circulation Manager, Flat Hat, 1925.

Some high school can indeed consider itself fortunate that it will have Irving as its principal next year. The only trouble he can possibly have will be with the girls. This happens to be a special weakness. Well, some girl will be fortunate. Irving has done much for the college during his four years here, and it is with regret that we bid him adieu. In a few years we will greet him as Dr. Willett.

EDNA MOOMAW GIBBONS, A. B.
Roanoke, Virginia

Kappa Kappa Gamma; K. O. B.; Whitehall Literary Society; Edith Baer Club; Alumnae Secretary Edith Baer Club, 1925; Secretary Junior Class; Basketball, 1923-24-25; Monogram Club; Captain Junior Class Basket Ball Team.

Pause a-while friend—lamp another of the Gibbons tribe. You will remember the Cardinal, and so forth. Above, and by no means one of the least of these, is Eddie. Eddie went to church once herself; she also passed Dr. Morton's history, and, speaking of athletics, well, a William and Mary basketball monogram is not to be sneezed at. Now, the cynics will say that honors fade away, perhaps they do, but listen, Eddie, we hate to see you go.

JOSEPHINE CARTER BARNEY, A. B.
Fredericksburg, Virginia

Kappa Kappa Gamma; Alpha; Chi Delta Phi; Tau Kappa Alpha; Los Quixoteseos, Dramatic Club; Art Club; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Hiking Club; German Club; K. O. B.; Music Committee Student Government, 1925; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 1924-25; Reporter J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1924; Vice-President J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1925; Assistant Circulation Manager of Flat Hat, 1925; Associate Editor Literary Magazine, 1925; Wit Editor Colonial Echo, 1925; Debate Team, 1925; President Rappahannock Club, 1924; Leader Co-Ed Orchestra, 1925; Secretary Shenandoah Valley Club, 1925; Treasurer Rappahannock Club, 1925; President Music Club, 1925.

Can one girl do as much for her college in two years as any other has done in four? Can the finest of music and dramatic talent lie in one individual? Can the best woman debater also be on the staff of every publication on the campus? Finally, can one have as much personality as any Co-Ed in school, and be universally popular from Dr. Chandler to Dammit? Jo, its all you!

JAMES MALCOLM BRIDGES, A. B.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Kappa Sigma; F: H: C: Society; Kes-
bids: S. O. S.; B. B. Club; Cotillion Club;
President, Williamsburg, Club; Tidewater
Club; Editor-in-chief, Flat Hat, 1924-25; Interfraternity Council; football squad, 1920.

This exhibit is known as Mac, but not the one who sells canes. This is the one who piloted the Flat Hat through a successful year, and who has been an outstanding figure in Senior activities, as well. Mac isn't a curler, nor does he try to be one; but he does lots of things, and does them well. He possesses a personality that is going to carry him far, and we predict a great success for him whatever his choice of a career.

BAILEY L. TUCKER, A. B.
Advance, North Carolina

Alpha Phi Epsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa;
Alpha Kappa Psi; Sigma Upsilon; "13" Club;
F: H: C: Society; Circulation manager, Literary Magazine, 1923; Assistant Editor, 1924;
Editor-in-Chief, 1924-25; Laboratory assistant in Accounting, 1922-25; Extension Instructor in Accounting, 1924-25; Vice-president, Student Body, 1925.

A poet, a scholar, a business man, a Southern Gentleman—if you know of a better combination, say so. And Bailey—(we call him
"Pop" here, but we're not going to tell you why)—is all of them and then some. He was right in the midst of the Big Scrap, and, like many others, decided after it was over that he needed an education. And no one who knows him regrets that he came to William and Mary to get it.

MARY OTTLEY PARKER, B. S.
Norfolk, Virginia

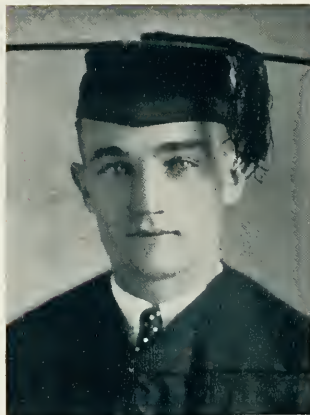

German Club; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; H2E Club; Y. W. C. A.; Social Committee Y. W. C. A. 1924; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 1925; Y. W. C. A. Representative to Blue Ridge, North Carolina, 1924; Vice-president and historian H2E Club, 1925; Norfolk Club; Secretary and Treasurer of the Norfolk Club, 1923-24-25; the First May Queen, 1924; Assistant manager of Basketball, 1925; Tennis Manager, 1925.

A mass of curly chestnut hair, a pair of twinkling hazel eyes, a bewitching smile;—these combined are but a part of "Mary's O's" attractiveness. Many homesick Dues have been cheered by her smile, and comforted by her help. To Mary O. Falls the honor of being our first May Queen. She is also one of our best students, finishing her B. S. work in three years. An active participant in many campus activities, her's will be a hard place to fill when she graduates.

VIRGINIA LUCILLE BEASLEY, A. B.
Newport News, Virginia

We are proud of Virginia because of the innumerable A's she has made in three years. And you may consider yourself luck if Virginia is your friend, for she knows how to be a real friend—and once your friend she is always your friend. Such sincere loyalty combine with a sense of humor makes this idealistic devotee of the mystical, this ardent seeker for the beautiful in life, the unusual person that she is.

DURWOOD E. DENTON, A. B.
Greenville, North Carolina

Sigma Phi Epsilon; Chi Beta Phi; Photo Editor, Colonial Echo, 1925; Monogram Club; Varsity baseball, 1923-24-25; Varsity basketball squad; Cotillion Club; T. N. T.; Interfraternity Council, 1925; Phoenix; Coach, Freshman baseball, 1925; Southside Virginia Club.

"Ducky," the miniature male member of the senior class, has carved his name high and lasting in William and Mary's hall of fame. For the past four years he has been an outstanding part of the college in spite of his size. He has mixed classes and activities in such a manner as to derive the best from each. We feel that we are safe in predicting that this sunny youngster will continue to smile his way through life and meet with unqualified success in all his undertakings.

ROBERT D. CALKINS, JR., B. S.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa; Alpha Kappa Psi; Williamsburg Club.

Having been born in the north, but raised in the south, Bob is practically speaking, a Southerner. He is steady, unassuming, and dependable in all his activities. He puts work before pleasure, but has a good time. He is a real "curler," especially in Business, which is his long suit. We expect him to be president of something some day.

HATTIE V. JOHNSON, A. B.
Ashland, Virginia

Graduate of Blackstone College for Girls, 1921; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1924-25; Y. W. C. A.; Corcoran Scholarship, 1925.

A small brown blur is often seen streaking across the campus from the Practice House to the Dining Hall or Lecture Room. To reach wherever she is going in the quickest time possible seems to be the prime object in life of H. V. J., who apparently means to make up in speed what she lacks in size. We hope her speed will not be limited to walking.

CHARLOTTE M. BEST, B. S.
Round Hill, Virginia

Clayton Grimes Biology Club, J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Monogram Club; H2E Club; Basket Ball Varsity, 1922, 23, 24, 25; Captain Tyler Basket Ball Team, 1922; Hockey 1922, 23, 24-25; President Clayton Grimes Biology Club, 1924; Second Leading Athlete, 1924.

Conscientious, honest, and funloving is Charlotte. Look at her and see for yourself the qualities of a typical athlete. Always ready for whatever may come up and always doing her big part of everything, she works while she works and she plays while she plays. And best of all, Charlotte is a good buddie, a true pal, and an honest-to-goodness friend.

C. D. DUFF, B. S.
Ruckersville, Virginia

Piedmont Club; Phoenix; Kappa Phi Kappa.

What? You don't know Charles? Well, you have missed a lot. He is a real student, a true friend, and a regular curler. Charles has the determination to accomplish what ever he sets out to do. His pleasing personality makes friends for him where ever he goes, especially with the fair sex. Well, Charles, we predict for you a bright future with a cozy little cottage in—?

WILSON EMMETTE WESTBROOK, A. B.
Waverly, Virginia

Monogram Club; Varsity Baseball, 1921-22-23-24-25; Phoenix; Southside Club.

"Andy's" sincerity and pleasing personality have won for him many friends and through his determination and hard work he has maintained the position as one of our surrest baseball players. It was he who hit the first home run on the new Athletic field. He is a strong believer in dancing as a form of recreation. History is his long suit, and especially is he familiar with the namesakes of Jefferson and Tyler. May the new Jamestown ferry bring us more Andys.

CLARA WALKER, A. B.
LaCrosse, Virginia

Y. W. C. A.; Secretary, Whitehall Literary Society, 1925; Southside Club; German Club.

Perhaps the best way to inform you, Reader, of the intricacies of the brain mechanism of this prodigy is just to tell you this—she has obtained her degree from the powers that be at William and Mary after a sojourn of only three years among us. And in spite of all this she has not been a grind or picker of dills, but the best of sports, the truest of friends, and the gayest and most lovable of companions.

ADDIE FRANCES SANDERS, A. B.
White Stone, Virginia

Rappahannock Club; Northern Neck Club; German Club; Monogram Club; Varsity basketball, 1920-21-22-23.

"Hello, Frances." "Hey, there, Sally!" comes from one direction or another. The answer is always a cheery laugh of some spicy bit of repartee. For Frances is usually in a good humor, and her happy disposition makes her a pleasant companion just as her loyalty makes her a worth-while friend. We must not forget in speaking of her good qualities to acknowledge that she is "plenty good" as an athletic and a student. William and Mary is proud of her.

RUSSELL ALLEN STUART, A. B.

Hampton, Virginia

Kappa Sigma; Omicron Delta Kappa; Kappa; Koshbits; Interfraternity Council, 1923-25; President, Cotillion Club, 1923-24; Assistant Manager Football, 1923; Manager Football, 1924; Athletic Council, 1923-24; Monogram Club.

"Russ" has been outstanding in varied fields of college activity since he bade adieu to the fair town of Hampton and shouldered the responsibility of a college student. He has found time to mix studies and pleasure in a manner to derive the most from both. "Russ" holds the distinction of having managed the most successful football team ever placed on the gridiron by this college, and they are many, including John Nelson, who will vouch for his managerial ability.

FRANK NATHANIEL WATKINS, A. B.

Farmville, Virginia

Chi Phi (Hampton Sidney); Omicron Delta Kappa; F; H; C; Society; Alpha Kappa Psi; "13" Club; Monogram Club; President Honor Council, 1923-24; Vice-President Cotillion Club, 1923-24; President, Cotillion Club, 1924-25; Assistant Business Manager Flat Hat, 1923-24; Business Manager Flat Hat, 1924-25; President Student Body, 1924-25; Wythe Law Club; B. B. Club; Athletic Council, 1922-23; Coach, Freshman basketball team, 1923-25.

When a fellow can arrange to stay around a college for four years and not make a single enemy, he must be some "guy." Frank Nat has done that very thing, and in addition, we venture to say, made more friends than any one man in school. We can't tell here all he's done. Look at his honors. They tell the tale. The girls "sorter" like him, too, we hear.

MATHILDA ELY CRAWFORD, B. S.

Blue Ridge Summit, Pennsylvania

Iota Mu Pi; Northern Lights, 1922; Pan Hellenic, 1923; Soutter Scholarship, 1924; Discipline Council, 1924; Secretary Scholarship committee, 1925.

Just a friend. A charm that is delightful, the companionableness so necessary for friendship, enough of change and spice to prevent boredom, an appreciation of the beautiful, a sense of humour, a ready store of sympathy and encouragement, possessing wit and intelligence with enough of humanness not to be perfect. This is Mathilda, an epitome of all that one wishes to find in a friend.

ELIZABETH NICHOLSON, A. B.

Petersburg, Virginia

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; German Club; Debate Commission, Art Club; Finance Committee of Y. W. C. A., 1925; Secretary Petersburg Club, 1924; President J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1925.

"Nick" is one of those very rare people who come to William and Mary and receive their degree in three years, with much credit to themselves. By no means daunted by practice teaching in the fall, or by Senior work, she has creditably filled the office of president of a literary society. We are proud of her, and confident that when she takes her place in the world she will fill it with as much credit as she did her place at William and Mary.

KATHLEEN ALSOP, A. B.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Secretary to the President of the College, 1921-25; Instructor in Shorthand and Typewriting, 1921-25; Secretary, Williamsburg Club.

To win credits consistently, to teach classes in shorthand and typewriting, and to handle all the secretarial work of the President of the College, all "in the same breath" is no easy task. But Miss Alsop has done all these, and besides, has taken "time out" to win friends. We expect some day to see her confidential secretary to the President of the United States, —or perhaps, President herself, who knows?

GLADYS CALKINS, A. B.
Williamsburg, Virginia

Wanted—A course that this lady can't conquer with an "A." Her instructors respect her, and her friends love her because she is frank, generous, and jolly. Gladys, if you are ever in need of a reference just come back to your old classmates.

ETHEL CLARK BUCKMAN, A. B.
Willows Fall, Vermont

Pi Gamma Mu; Mature Minds; Graduate of State Normal School, Randolph, Vermont; Summer Sessions at Simmons College; University of Virginia; Columbia University; Harvard.

Miss Buckman has finished off her list of schools quite fittingly with William and Mary; fittingly for us anyway, for in the short time she has been here she has won the friendship of a great many and made us wish that she had tried ye ancient college sooner.

THELMA OMOHUNDRO, A. B.
Farmers Fork, Virginia

Equal parts of intelligence and capability, sprinkled well with pleasing personality, molded in the form of true friendship is Thelma our little Northern Neck (er), who does not jut out into the Chesapeake but we hope will some-day rest serenely on the shoulder "Jack" O' lantern points out. Best of luck to you, Thelma.

EDITH MARIE STONE, A. B.
Quincy, Florida

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; German Club; Non-Virginia Club; Hiking Club; Y. W. C. A.; Glee Club, Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Track; Basketball; Archery; Treasurer, J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1923; President J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1924; Literary Critic, J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1925; Constitution Committee for Athletic Association; Assistant Circulation Manager of Flat Hat, 1925.

"Proud" Stone, with blue eyes that talk, we hate to lose you. Independent, intelligent, reliable, true to girls (but watch her, man, she's got one in every state,) witty, good humoured, Ole Virginny always welcomes you. Loyal Alligator though you be.

KATHERINE ARMSTEONG, B. S.
Farmville, Virginia

Iota Mu Pi; Alpha; Graduate State Teacher's College, Farmville, Va.; Women's Athletic Association; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Monogram Club; German Club; K. O. B.; Whitehall Literary Society; H2E Club; Art Club; President Women's Athletic Association, 1925; Chairman Intra-Mural Committee, 1924; Hockey Varsity, 1924-25; Captain Senior basketball; Manager Hiking Club, 1924; Varsity Baseball, 1924; Varsity Basketball, 1925; Y. C. A. Cabinet, 1925; Vice-President Whitehall Literary Society, 1925.

Do you know her? Of course. Everyone does. She's that peppy, happy, good-natured blonde that trips around the campus, you know, the one that always has a million things to do, and does them. "Kat" has only been with us for two years, but in that time she has made herself dear to all of us. Here's to a darn good sport, an all-around college girl. May she conquer the world!

THOMAS BLAND, A. B.

Newport News, Virginia

Kappa Kappa Gamma; Alpha; German Club; K. O. B.; Secretary Y. W. C. A., 1923; Finance Chairman, 1924; Secretary J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1923; Parliamentary Critic, 1924; Representative Student Council, 1924; President Student Gov't 1925; Treasurer Intercollegiate Association Student Gov't, 1925; Treasurer Intercollegiate Association, Student Gov't 1925; Cheer Leader, 1923; Captain Hockey, 1923-24; Captain Junior Basketball, 1923; Secretary Dramatic Club, 1925.

It's been Tommy this, and Tommy that, and Tommy has the say—Now we'll need a score to take her place when Tommy goes away. Mr. Bridges tried to assign her to one of the men's dormitories when she applied for entrance four years ago, and, as far as we can see, with this exception, and the Men's Debate Council, she has been at the head of everything in college. Where we have acquaintances, Tommy has friends.

VIRGINIA PEARL ADDISON, A. B.

Baltimore, Maryland

Music Club; German Club; Tennis Club; Art Club; Los Quioxotescos; Clayton Grimes Biology Club; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Cosmopolitan Club; Thomas Jefferson Scholarship, Daughters of the Cincinnati; Chaplain J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1924; Secretary J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, 1925; Royal Translator of Los Quioxotescos, 1925; Assistant Circulation Manager Flat Hat, 1925; Program Chairman Y. W. C. A., 1924; Secretary, Y. W. C. A., 1925; Treasurer Cosmopolitan Club, 1925.

 Sweet lavender and old lace,
Clarity of manner, speech, and face,
Auburn hair and eyes of green,
Summer sunshines' silvery sheen;
Loyal, loving, kindly, true,
Little songbird, fresh as dew
Forget us not— for we won't you. **

ESTHER LUCILE SHIFFLETT, A. B.

Mission Home, Virginia

Los Quixotescos; J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Vice House-President, 1922-23-24-25; Student Assistant in Spanish, 1924-25.

Four years ago there entered the College of William and Mary one who has shown a true, dependable, sound, and wholesome background,—the heritage of a mountain girl. Not only her friends but professors and their records, too, can tell us something, for many a A has been placed by Esther's name. Lady Rumour whispers two secrets, one that Esther is going to Mexico to hear the charming Senoritos play their love songs, and the other,—well, here's wishing her success on whichever path she chooses.

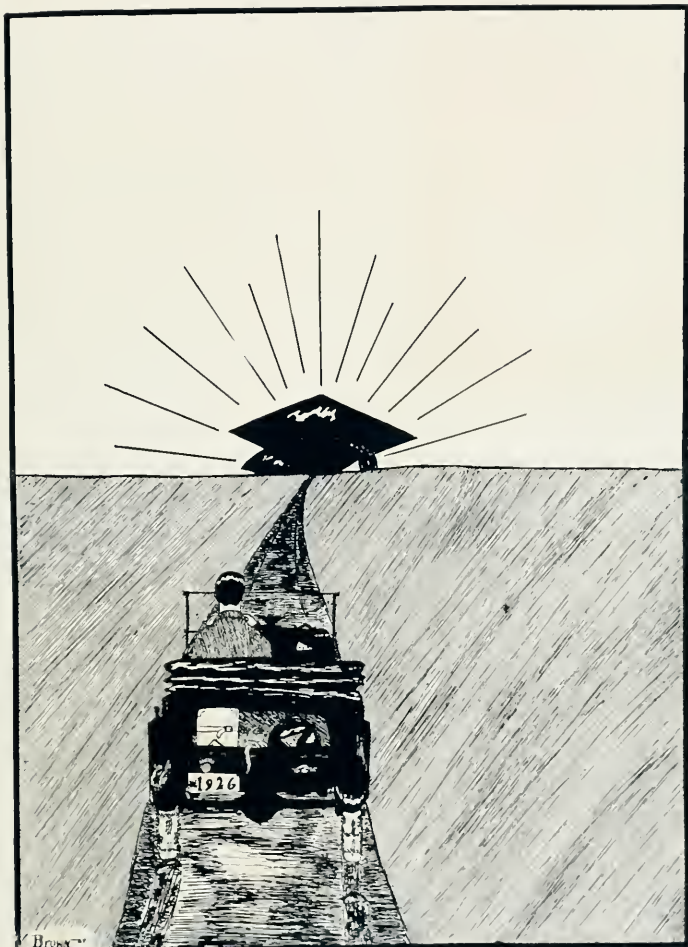

MARY GILLIAM, B. S.

Chuckatuck, Virginia

Whitehall Literary Society; Clayton-Grimes Biology Club; Nausemond Club; Treasurer Clayton-Grimes Biology Club, 1924; Secretary Nausemond Club, 1923.

You all know Chuck from Chuckatuck, or perhaps you know her better as Noisy or Baby Face. Here she comes, there she goes, with an answer for everyone and malice toward none. Full of the joy of loving, she has laughed her way through her college course. But under the happy-go-lucky surface there is a heart of gold and a more serious Mary who drowns her sorrows with song and laughs at you.

A Clown's Reprieve

BY SAMUEL G. STAPLES

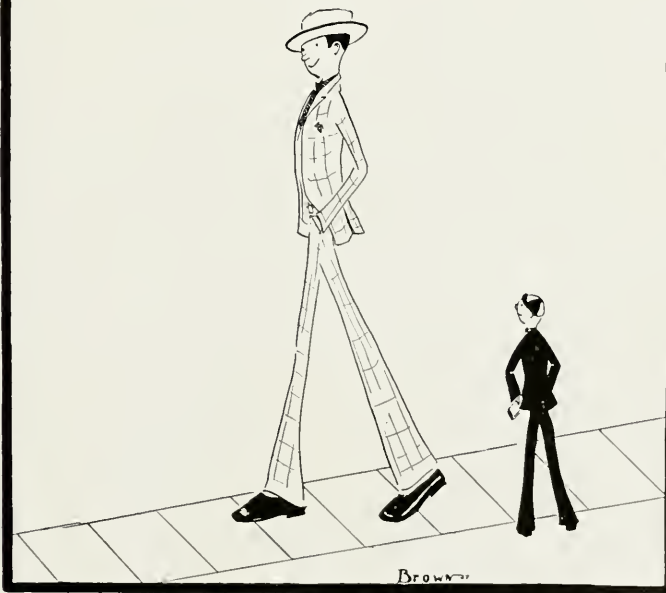

A clown was seated alone in his tent,
His head was bowed, his back was bent;
His old frame shook, it seemed he sobbed;
His life of its only joy was robbed.
He'd wanted to die with his make-up on,
The hope and goal of every clown;
But now they'd turned him loose to roam
With never a wife nor a child nor a home.
This day was his last in the sawdust ring
Where for many a year he had been its king.
Ah, what's so sad as a hero past
Or the sign of a power that's crumbling fast?
The old clown smiled, for into the room
Came a wisp of a girl, brightening its gloom.
"Poor Pete! My father has told me all;"
She leaned her back on the canvas wall,
"He says you are old, not fit for the ring,
But I don't believe it any such thing.
The old clown smiled as he looked at the girl,
"Why, you are the only thing left in this world
To a man like me," and the old clown sighed
"But I tell you, Nora, I'd liked to have died
With the clapping crowd and the folks around,
I'd liked to have died with my make-up on."
They sat on a trunk, this girl and man;
He was the last of a famous band;
She was the only joy of his life,
She took the place of child and wife.
She, whose father bade him go,
Came to cheer and ease his woe.
"Come," she laughed, "our act tonight
Will cheer us up and make us right."

The time to enter had all but passed;
The clown must enter, this night, his last.
He entered the ring with a homely grace,
A painted smile on a painted face.

The girl beside him in shimmering blue
Knew what she was supposed to do;
She grasped a rope with a little spring,
He pulled her high to a flying ring.
There she hung in the fetid air,
A thing of grace, lithesome, fair.
He watched her close with anxious eyes
Yet ran a fire of tart replies.
He walked beneath and chaffed her swing,
Called her the dunce of the sawdust ring.
She replied to his running chaff
With twinkling eye and blithesome laugh.
The crowd was clapping, cheering, too.
At the silly clown and the girl in blue.
Here again he was living the life
Midst thunderous laughter and squeak of fife.
Then there started a chariot race;
The horses had set a terrific pace;
'Round and 'round the track they flew.
But what of the clown and the girl in blue?
The girl was swinging high aloft.
Tears had made his eyes grow soft;
The chatter from his lips had died;
Even through his paint he sighed.
He stopped a moment, catching his breath.
There was facing him imminent death:
A rope had broken in two it seemed,
Up in the air the girl had screamed.
There was a streak of falling blue,
Onto the track the old clown flew;
With his body he covered the girl.
His dearest possession in all the world:
The chariots, racing, tried to swerve.
His body as buffer he made to serve.
He'd saved the girl. What to receive?
'Twas a wild applause, a clown's reprieve:
The dearest goal was what he'd won—
For the clown had died with his make-up on.

(The above poem was awarded the James Barron Hope Scholarship for the session 1923-24.)

The Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall

The United Chapters of the Phi Beta Kappa Society are erecting at the College of William and Mary, the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, commemorative of the founding of this society at the College in 1776. This hall, when completed, will provide an auditorium seating approximately 1200 persons. The Apollo Room of the old Raleigh Tavern, in which the society was founded, will be reproduced, and in this room future ceremonies of initiation will be held. Several rooms will be provided on the second floor as guest rooms for the entertainment of visiting members of Phi Beta Kappa. It is hoped that a large organ may be secured for the Hall. It will be dedicated on December 26, 1926, the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Society.

The William and Mary Minstrels

F. R. Elliott..... Director
L. Quinby Hines..... Business Manager

The Minstrels troupe of 1924-25—as in former years, proved itself worthy of the consideration of the best audiences. Not only did it play to capacity houses in Williamsburg, but was enthusiastically received in Norfolk, Dendron, Surry, Newport News, and other cities and towns of the State where performances were held.

Girls' Minstrel Troupe

Miss Kate M. Cannon
F. R. Elliott and Jane Moss, Directors

For the first time since girls were admitted to the College, a minstrel troupe composed entirely of girls was organized and proved a great success. The entire show was high class in every particular, and considerable credit is due those who made it possible.

William and Mary College Quarterly Magazine

The William and Mary College Quarterly Historical Magazine was founded by Dr. Lyon Gardiner Tyler as a private enterprise in 1902, and as such continued until 1920, when the Magazine was taken over by the College. Since that time the Quarterly has been published by the College, and has been the medium through which many valuable and hitherto unpublished documents of historical significance have been presented to the public.

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the College, and Mr. E. G. Swem, the College librarian, are the editors of the quarterly.

The Honor System

William and Mary has always cherished its Honor System as one of its most treasured possessions. It had its birth at this College, and through the years has been an indispensable part of the life of the students. It has suffered changes from time to time, and has even been thought at times to be obsolete, but the principles upon which it is founded have endured, and it is today one of the strongest factors in the success and development of the College.

ATHLETICS

J. WILDER TASKER

Tasker was appointed director of Athletics at William and Mary in the spring of 1923. For the last two years he has produced two of the best football teams that the college has ever had. By obtaining the class B championship of Virginia in football during the season of 1924, William and Mary gained the recognition of the Southern Athletic Council. Also the fine stand that his team made against both Navy and Syracuse won for the team the title of "The Fighting Virginians."

In basketball and baseball his teams have likewise met with the same success that was obtained in football.

A student at Syracuse University from 1907-'11, Coach Tasker won his monogram in football and baseball. From 1912-'13 he played football and baseball at Union University. From then until 1923 he played professional baseball and coached.

Game With Harvard Is Third Inter-Sectional

Had an 11-0 Victory Over the Blue Devils of East's Region
 Taken in 1915

William and Mary has broken down the record of a national grid by 1-0 and has triumphed on both ends of the football field at Cambridge on October 15, 1915. The game has broken the record of a game against the Harvard, Princeton and Harvard, in its history. William and Mary has almost as much as in the past season.

The Harvard Daily speaks of the game as a "great success." "William and Mary has made an excellent record in the United States, having been ranked in 1915. This game has made great strides in football during the past year, and the team is now ranked No. 10 in the United States. A football team with a spirit of the highest school of football. Under the leadership of the team captain, who was formerly associated with the Harvard and many other colleges, the team has shown a great deal of skill and has been able to win the game with a convincing margin."

Rockne Football School Success

William and Mary is Here One of the Schools in 1915

Rockne, the famous football coach of Notre Dame University and one of the best in the United States, has for the past few years conducted a well known football school at the University of Notre Dame. In the past few years, many of the best football players in the United States have been trained at this school and returned home from it with 100 per cent of the best training of the best coach.

THE VARSITY SQUAD

CAPTAIN JOHN TODD

For the past two years John has captained two of the greatest teams ever produced at William and Mary. In his position at center he has won favorable mention as All-South Atlantic selection. Without exception, Todd has been the greatest center that has ever played on an Indian Team.
Weight 189.

“SNUCK” ELLIOTT
CAPTAIN-ELECT

Elliott was selected by his team-mates to direct the Indian team on the gridiron for the next season. In his position at left tackle “Snuck” won the recognition of many of the leading sport writers of the state and he is considered one of the best tackles in Virginia.
Weight 180.

“ART” MATSU
QUARTERBACK

In the quarterback position Matsu has demonstrated his ability as one of the cleverest field generals ever at William and Mary. Aside from his precision and direction of the team on the field, “Art” is a sensation in the passing medium. Along with his kicking, Matsu may be easily considered a triple threat man.
Weight 145.

“WINCE” IRWIN
HALFBACK

Irwin, the speedy little halfback, could usually be depended upon to tear off a substantial gain around the ends of the opposing team. He is also exceptionally dependable as a defensive player. “Wince” has made his letter in football for the last three seasons and his presence in the line-up next year will be of great value to the team.
Weight 147.

“MAISON” HOUSE

GUARD

House's varied attack on the offensive and his consistent playing on the defense has won for him the reputation as an almost impregnable opponent. As right guard he clearly out-fought and outplayed any of the men that were pitted against him last season. He is the most dreaded of all the Indian players.

Weight 180.

“LES” PARSON

GUARD

Parson, whose ability was first brought to light by Coach Ingram, is an able mate to House. For the past two seasons he has shown remarkable ability on both the offense and defense and has the reputation as being one of the most reliable men on the varsity. His presence in the lineup next year will go a long way towards the retaining of the “stone wall” defense that was displayed by the line during the past season.

Weight 180.

“DICKIE” CHARLES

HALFBACK

Charles was the third highest scoring man in the state and the foremost point maker on the varsity. During the season his spectacular swiftness and power to hit his opponents' line contributed greatly in making “Dicky” one of the most valuable players on the Indian team.

Weight 150.

“DUCKY” WEBER

Weber was the only freshman member of the varsity squad to win a monogram during the past season. His superb drive and power to break up the attacks on the opposite side of the line soon made him a most valuable man for the team. Due to his weight and alacrity, “Ducky” was capable of smashing a hole so that the backs could go through for a substantial gain.

Weight 195.

“CHESTY” CAIN
FULLBACK

Cain is the brilliant battering ram on the eleven and whenever there were a few yards to be made, “Chesty” could always be depended upon to hit the line for the needed gain. Besides being a stellar performer on the offense, Cain excelled in the art of backing up the line on the defense and always being where most needed.
Weight 175.

LEE TODD
END

A hard fighter, a fast end, and a steady player are the three most important qualities possessed by Lee. During the entire past season Lee was always on hand wherever the ball happened to be. Usually after the punt he was one of the first men to be down under it and few escaped the effects of his tackle. Lee is a product of Newport News High, where he played four years and made all-state eleven.
Weight 195.

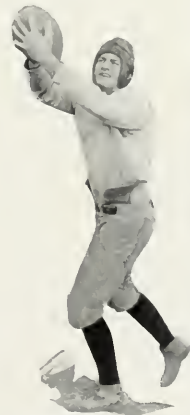

PAUL KEISTER
END

Paul has completed his last year of college football and his grit and determination have obtained for him the praise of all those who have come in contact with him on the field. Ever since he came to William and Mary four years ago, Keister has displayed all the qualities that go to the making of a grid-iron warrior, except for the fact that his weight was not sufficient to allow him to play in the line where he was accustomed to be.
Weight 151.

“MEB” DAVIS
END

Davis is a rangy wingman playing his first year on the varsity eleven. He is the greatest receiver of forward passes that ever donned an Indian uniform. In both the Navy and Syracuse games his exceptional line receiving was commented upon by many of the Northern papers.
Weight 175.

The Season

With the initial gathering of the Indian gridiron warriors early last September, high hopes of a most successful season were entertained by the supporters of the Green, Gold and Silver. All but three of last year's letter men were back and there was also present a large supply of material that contained innumerable hopes for the future. During the first two weeks of September, Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame football coach, conducted a successful coaching school at William and Mary and this allowed Tasker's squad the opportunity of becoming familiar with the system employed by one of the greatest of all football mentors. Soon after the training season had fairly been under way the entire squad began to show exceptional promise that later was to carry them through the greatest football season ever experienced by a William and Mary team.

The first practice game of the season ended with a victory for the Taskerites over the Fort Eustis eleven by a score of 27-0. This game and the Norfolk Fire Department game which ended in a decisive victory for the Williamsburg team, 47-0, gave Coach Tasker ample opportunity to test out his reserve strength and perfect plays that were to be used later in the season.

On October 4th the season was opened with the Navy game at Annapolis. Led by Captain John Todd twenty one men left Williamsburg with the determination to wipe out the defeat administered to them last season by the Midshipmen. Though outweighed twenty pounds to the man the Indian attack was so powerful that the Navy team was scarcely capable of finally edging out a victory by the score of 14-7. It was a game in which the ability to develop the necessary punch at the opportune time so dominated over a well exploited aerial attack. The Matsu-Davis combination completely dazzled the Navy eleven and so remarkable was the over head attack that nine of the thirteen passes were completed. The Indian line withstood the Navy's plunging backs time and again breaking through to throw the Middies for a loss behind their own line of scrimmage. During the first quarter Matsu received the Navy's kick and returned the ball fifteen yards before he was finally downed. Failing to hit the Blue and Gold's line for any great gain Matsu punted. The Midshipmen then attempted to penetrate the William and Mary line, but failed to make any headway and on the third down were thrown for a three yard loss, which necessitated a kick. After see-sawing back and forth in mid-field the first quarter ended with no team having any decided advantage. In the second quarter the Annapolis eleven, by a series of line bucks and end runs registered the first score of the game. Flippen scored a pass from Shockley. Baker scored the extra point. After the touchdown Todd kicked to Navy who failed to advance the ball. The Middies then attempted a pass, that was intercepted by Collier, who ran fifteen yards before being downed. William and Mary then opened up their over head game and when the whistle sounded they had gained forty six yards on passes alone. In the third quarter a long pass from Matsu to Davis and a line buck by Cain accounted for a touchdown. A pass added the extra point. The score then tallied 7-7. In the final quarter a series of line plunges soon began to tell on the Indian team and the excessive onramp of the Navy began to show. In the attempt to stem the onrushing sailors the whole team began to offer such plucky resistance that the spectators were brought to their feet. Finally Shapley went over for the last touchdown and a kick added the extra point. Undaunted by their opponents lead and the few minutes left to play the "Fighting Virginians" rallied and a pass from Matsu to Davis netted thirty seven yards. But before the next signal could be called the final whistle blew and the game ended. The Indians gained 293 yards to 174 by the Navy.

Following the encounter with the Middies Coach Tasker on the following Saturday led his players against Syracuse, one of the most powerful teams in the east this season. Although defeated by the score 24-7 so valiant a struggle did the William and Mary team display that they won the title of "Those Fighting Virginians" from the Northern press. During the first half both teams scored seven points and so spectacular was the resistance offered by the Indians that the 20,000 spectators were constantly on their feet. As in the Navy game the aerial attack of Tasker's team was responsible for a great deal of the ground gaining, although at times the New York eleven found it impossible to check the line plunges the backfield men.

"Meb" Davis in pulling down the perfect passes from Matsu covered himself with glory as he did in the Navy game a week previous. During the second half Syracuse began to concentrate on the method of attack and after plucky resistance the Indians were forced to bow to a superior team. The final score Syracuse 24 William and Mary 7. Immediately after the game arrangements were made for both teams to meet next season.

After returning from Syracuse the team went through a strenuous week in preparation for the Randolph-Macon game that was to be played at Williamsburg, this being the first scheduled home game of the season. This gave the students and alumni the opportunity to view the team that had covered itself with glory in its two northern encounters. The Yellow Jackets from Ashland had little opportunity to show any amount of football skill against the Indians. From the whistle that announced the kick-off until the final blast Coach Tasker's mighty aggregation plunged through the opposing line with the marked precision of a well oiled machine. The light and speedy backs of William and Mary ripped jagged holes in the visitors' line, registering thirty-six first downs during the game. No observer of the game could help comment on the wonderful strength of the Indian's line for never once was the goal line of the home team in danger. During the greater part of the game Tasker's second team was in action and gave a good account of itself, registering fourteen of the total twenty-seven points collected. Irwin furnished the greatest thrill of the game when he snatched a pass and clipped of thirty yards in a sensational run. Also Brassner playing quarterback with the second team displayed startling ability as a line plunger and field general, for he ran the team with the skill of a veteran. The final score was William and Mary 27 Randolph-Macon 0.

Being well primed for the Trinity Blue-Devils and anything that Howard Jones' men might try to pull off, William and Mary invaded Norfolk October 25th and returned home that night with a 21-3 victory. The entire team "Did its stuff" and brought the fans of Norfolk to their feet by the dazzling and flashing attack. Especially brilliant in this game was the aerial method which brought gain after gain, and which the North Carolina aggregation seemed for a time powerless to break up. Only once did Trinity threaten to score a touchdown, and that was when Lagerstadt plunged through the Indian line for several substantial gains. When the savage onrush of this Trinity back was finally checked the Blue-Devils took advantage of the proximity of the William and Mary line and registered their only score by dropping a field goal across the Indian goal post. During the entire game the constant playing of the Williamburg eleven accounted for the marked superiority over their rivals from Durham. The Matsu-Davis combination as usual accounted for a percentage of the score, two of the three touchdowns being registered by the aerial offense. Cain accounted for the third counter, while the toe of Matsu was responsible for the extra point after each of the field tallies. The final score: William and Mary 21 Trinity 3.

Perhaps the game that caused more speculation to the alumni and the students of William and Mary than any other on the schedule was the King College game that was set for November 1st. Little was known of the "Mountain Tornado" and from reports that had been circulated things did not indicate that the Indians would be capable of annexing another scalp. During the past two seasons the Bristol team had run up a high score on the gridiron than any other college team in the country, and they had a reputation of being a powerful and scrappy outfit. Expectations ran high and when the whistle sounded for the game to commence many of the William and Mary supporters that filled the stands at Mayo Island Park were preparing themselves for the worst. For the first few minutes of play it seemed that the rumors that had been circulating had been well founded. Suddenly, however, the Indian team seemed to brace and three minutes after King College had punted the ball because they could effect no gain, the pig-skin was decisively placed behind the King goal line by an Indian warrior. After this the far famed "Mountain Hurricane" seemed to diminish to a slight breeze and the result was obvious when the final score was registered, William and Mary 27, King College 0. The stinging defeat administered to the King College eleven soon aroused the sport writers of the state to the realization that the Indian team was to be ranked as one of the foremost teams of the state.

Albright swept down out of the North the following Saturday but the invaders were turned back by a defeat of 27 to 0. The Pennsylvania team heavily outweighed the locals, but the agility and machine like cooperation of the Indian warriors soon overcame the handicap of weight. Charles of William and Mary had another big day scoring twenty of the twenty seven points made. Lee Todd accounted for the other touchdown and Matsu added all but one of the extra points allowed for after the score. Gross of Albright was one of the outstanding players of the day, and his punting was the best that has been seen on Carey Field this year. Captain John Todd for the last time led his team onto the field for a home game.

On November 15th Roanoke College met the Indian team at the Stadium in Newport News. The entire game was played in a sea of mud and water. Conditions were so unfavorable that neither team seemed to display any great amount of football tactics that would give them the edge over the opponents. Both teams were well primed for the struggle, since it meant the collegiate championship of the state. During the first quarter neither side appeared to have a decided advantage and both seemed to be wanting for the breaks that were bound to appear under the adverse conditions that were on hand. Presumably both teams would have done well to have opened up in this period for the next three periods were played in a continuous deluge that made it impossible for the water soaked spectators to even follow the ball or recognize their own team. It was during the first quarter that both teams registered seven points, and try as they might neither was able to break the tie during the remainder of the game.

Numerous penalties that were inflicted on both sides tended to slow the game up considerably, and it was due to one of these that the Roanoke score was really accounted for. The Indian-Maroon game was undecisive in every particular, leaving very little idea of the actual strength of either of the teams. It was a highly disappointing affair, and if the weather had been of favorable disposition a greater gridiron battle would have taken place between the contenders for the State championship. As the situation then stood the question of the class B leader was undecided and much depended on the Indian-Spider game that was ten days off. The final score was William and Mary 7, Roanoke 7.

Twelve days now remained till William and Mary was to meet its ancient rival, Richmond University, on Thanksgiving day. On this game the entire success of the season really depended, for if the Spider team was to be sent down to defeat by a large score it would necessitate William and Mary's being attributed the title of Class B champions of the state. The entire squad got down to the hardest work and daily the team was rapidly developing itself into the finest shape. Secret practice was the order of these workouts and none but the coaches and squad had any conception of what might occur November 27th.

Turkey Day dawned and presented an ideal day for the various football encounters that were to take place throughout the country. Shortly after two o'clock on this same day about eight thousand spectators were jammed into Mayo Island Park to watch the annual clash between two rivals that have furnished thrill galore each year for the pig-skin followers of Richmond. William and Mary by virtue of a magnificent record during the season was slightly favored over the Richmond eleven. Never though has the outcome of these encounters been certain till the final whistle announced the end of the struggle. Both sides of the field resounded with the cheers of the anxious students and when the Blue and Red uniforms of the Baptists appeared on the scene the air was rent with cheer after cheer from the Richmond stands. Not long after the arrival of the Spider the Indian team came on the field and their ovation was beyond equal. At two-thirty the game was on.

Richmond won the toss and elected to kick defending the east goal. Goode's kick was received by Lee Todd who returned the ball to his own twenty yard line. The Indians then began to march down the field with Davis and Cain slicing off most of the substantial gains:

but on their twenty yard line the Spiders braced and held the Indians for downs. Miller of Richmond then punted to mid-field. After several exchanges of punts Collier went off tackle for twenty yards and then followed up by a run of twelve yards around right end. Several passes were tried but none were completed and the ball went to Richmond on their twenty-five yard line. Richmond kicked and the ball was returned into the Spiders territory by a fifty-five yard punt by Davis, the ball being returned by Miller to his own twenty-five yard line. Richmond was then penalized fifteen yards and a poor punt placed the ball on Richmond's own twenty yard line. Charles and Irwin replaced Cook and Collier. Charles gained four yards around end and the quarter ended.

Matsu's attempt to drop-kick failed and the Spiders recovered the ball on their own five yard line. Miller then punted to William and Mary's thirty-six yard line. The ball was carried down the field mostly by the plunges of Irwin and Cain and when within striking distance of the opponents' goal it was carried over by Davis who made a spectacular run around Richmond's right end. Matsu made the extra point. Goode kicked off. Davis ran the ball back to the Spiders' thirty-seven yard line. On a fumble by Matsu, Bentley of Richmond recovered the ball on his thirty-six yard line. A forward pass from Miller to Sharpe netted thirty-five yards before the runner was downed from behind by Cain. Here the Spiders began to open up a series of passes that completely baffled the Indian team and before the William and Mary team could cope with the mode of attack the Spiders had crossed the goal for six points. They failed however to gain the extra point. An exchange of punts then occurred, until finally by the work of Davis and Irwin the ball was brought down to within twenty yards of the Richmond goal. Matsu failed to make a field goal and the ball went over as the half ended.

During the next half the success of the Indian team was more apparent. Todd kicked off and Miller ran the ball outside on his own twenty-five yard line. Richmond failed to gain and punted. Matsu was downed on the fifty yard line. Irwin went off tackle for fifteen yards and Davis off guard for four yards. On the next play the runner was thrown for a loss and Matsu was carried off the field with a torn shoulder, Brasseur substituting for him. Fiek intercepted an Indian pass. After a series of punts several passes by Miller to Sharpe placed the ball on William and Mary's six yard line. Charles intercepted a pass on his own three yard line. Brasseur punted to his own thirty-five yard line. Irwin then snatched a Spider pass and ran the ball down to the Richmond forty-three yard line in one of the most spectacular plays of the game. A series of line plays by Irwin and Cain placed the ball on Richmond's nineteen yard line and the quarter ended.

Behind beautiful interference Brasseur ran the ball over for the second Indian score. John Todd kicked over the Spider goal line. William and Mary elected to kick off. After receiving the ball Richmond attempted another attack by the aerial route, but it was soon broken up when John Todd caught a pass and ran to the opponents' eighteen yard line before he was halted. The next play netted five yards to the Indians, but a fumble gave the ball to Richmond on her own eighteen yard line. A blocked punt gave the ball to William and Mary on Richmond's ten yard line. Goetz replaced Brasseur in the quarter-back position. Davis went off tackle for four yards and Cain for three more. Charles carried it over for a touchdown, Goetz failed to make the extra point. After the kick the Spiders opened a new over-head attack, but the final whistle blew just as they had the ball about mid-field.

William and Mary's season was now over, but the greatest success that had ever crowned an Indian eleven was the final substance of it. Time and time again Tasker's chargers had battled against odds that would have overwhelmed them had it not been for the spirit and grit that goes towards the culmination of the richly deserved victories that won the recognition of the sport fans of both the state and country at large. There is little hesitancy in predicting a greater future season for the next team that will carry the colors of our college on the gridiron; but above all the men and women that have William and Mary at heart cannot but be justly proud and boastful of that glorious 1924 team.

The Freshman Squad

After four weeks of hard training those freshmen who were too light for the varsity were placed under the guiding hand of Coach Nilsson who soon rounded the team into good shape. As the season progressed, Coach Tasker began to draw on this team to fill the places on the varsity that had been made vacant by numerous injuries. This constant loss of men accounts for the poor scores, but the closeness of them shows that the Freshmen gave a good account of themselves even though out-weighted in every game.

Too much credit cannot be given Coach Nilsson for producing a team that made the showing that his did this year. Playing every game on a foreign field and against heavier opponents, the men fought and held every game to a close score. Those men that were not transferred to the varsity this season will find it easier next, for Coach Nilsson has developed them and given them an idea of Coach Tasker's system.

Coach Tasker began his 1925 season under the severe handicap of having only two of last year's veterans on which to build up a quint, these being Capt. Sexton and John Todd. Nevertheless, while working under these unfavorable conditions, Tasker soon began to mold a team that carried out an entirely favorable season. Kahn who came here from John Marshall High, soon settled himself in a forward position, while Brasseur of Fork Union was assigned the other forward. Capt. Sexton held his position at center, while J. Todd and Marshall were guards.

Due to the fact that the team was practically new, Mgr. Wesson arranged a light schedule, having only a one-week trip. There were seventeen games on the schedule, the Indians winning eleven out of this total; while they registered 531 points against their opponents' 403. Kahn won the distinction of being the highest scorer in the state, having a more than sixty point lead on his nearest rival. His total number of points made during the season was 242.

Randolph-Macon was the first collegiate team to face the Indians. The exceptionally fine caging ability of Kahn and Brasseur made it possible for the William and Mary quint to dispose of the visitors with apparent ease.

The three next games were played with Newport News "Y," Va. Boat Club, and Richmond Blues. In the first two of these encounters Tasker's men added two more games to their victories, but the Richmond Blues handed out the first defeat of the year to the William and Mary team, losing to them by two points.

Traveling up to Richmond, the Indians dropped a game to our old rivals, Richmond Univ., by the score of 42 to 33. The next night Randolph-Macon was again taken on and was trounced to the tune of 32 to 18.

Indian basketball team. Little difficulty was to be found in disposing of the "Medicos." Three days later the Stevens Tech. team from New Jersey took the locals into camp after a thrilling game that ended with William and Mary on the short end of the score of 31 to 25.

The next three games with Guilford, Elon and Duke were tucked away by the Indian team by safe margins.

On the week trip through North Carolina the team split even on the victories and defeats, losing to Wake Forest and Duke, while victories were scored against Guilford and Elon.

The much heralded Bridgewater team was taken on after the Indian five returned home and was easily disposed of by the count of 43 to 20.

The final game with Richmond was to mark the close of the season for both institutions and a victory by the Indians would have given us a strong claim to the title of State championship. But before a crowd of fifteen hundred students and spectators in the Blow Gymnasium the William and Mary team was forced to bow in defeat to the Richmond University team. The game was without a doubt the fastest and best played on the court this season, and it was not until the sharp bark of the timer's pistol sounded that the game was won. John Todd started off with a rush scoring two field goals from near the center of the floor before the game had been in progress three minutes. Sexton and Kahn then added three more points and for a time it seemed as though the Indians would have an easy time of it. Soon the Baptists rallied and when the first half of the game ended the local team was leading by 16 to 14.

In the second half the game see-sawed back and forth, the lead changing three times. With thirty seconds left to play and William and Mary leading by the margin of one point, Peterson, the Spider forward, rang an uncanny field goal, placing the visitors in the lead by one point. Before the ball could be brought out for the next jump the game had ended, and along with it the hope of the State Championship for 1925.

Although next year the team will be without the aid of Sexton and J. Todd, it is felt that in L. Todd, Matsu, Davis, Newman and Metcalf, Tasker will have material of needed quality to develop a fast and scoring team.

The Freshman Squad

For the first time William and Mary this year has a regularly coached and organized Freshman baseball team. The team this year under the direction of Coach "Ducky" Denton has experienced an altogether successful season, and many of its stars will no doubt find berths on the Varsity before they leave College. The Freshman Schedule included games with such teams as John Marshall, Newport News High, Benedictine and St. Christopher's, Maury High, Wilson High, and many others.

Baseball, 1925

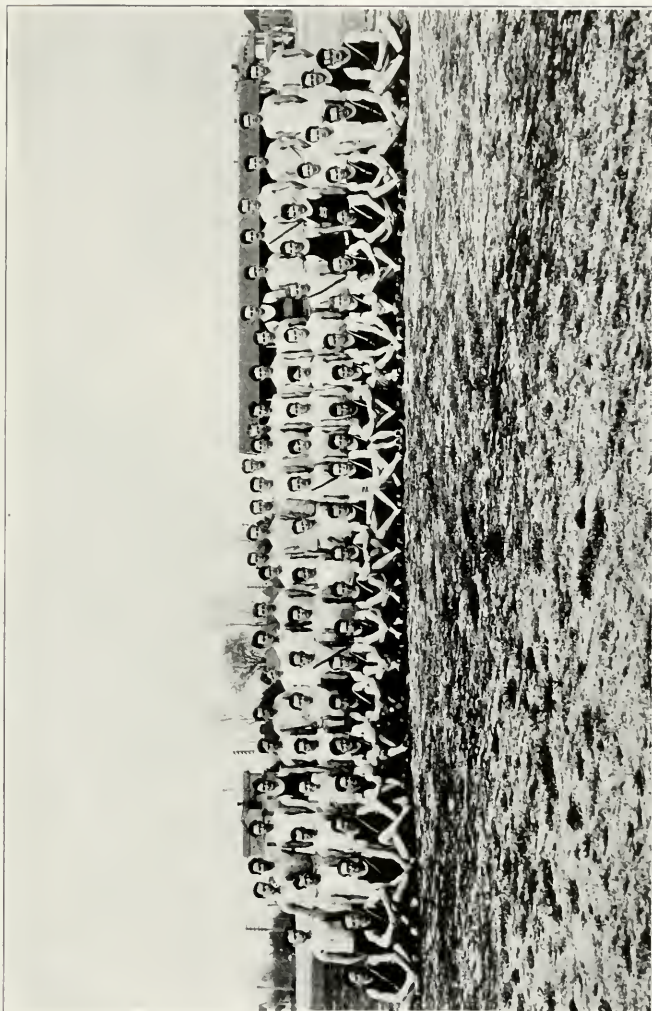

With several places left vacant by members of the 1924 varsity squad, Coach Tasker faced the difficult task of getting together a nine that will have to meet with some of the very best teams in the East. The men who returned from last year's squad were: Moss, Parson, Todd, Delk, Taylor, Westbrook and Saffelle.

Early in February the call for candidates for the team was issued and about forty-five men responded. For the first three weeks practice was mainly confined to the gymnasium, and this was especially for that who were intending to try out for battery places. Later along when the weather would permit Coach Tasker gave the squad outdoor work, confining most of the work to batting and fielding practice. About the first of March regular outdoor work was begun on the new field. Many of those trying out for varsity positions were freshmen, but the out-field would probably be made up from last year's regulars. Since the contemplated schedule called for a strenuous season, Coach Tasker began to rapidly assimilate the men, and to assign them to their various positions. The squad was reduced from forty-five men to twenty-two and each man that remained was given a trial at the position for which he might be most suited. It soon began to develop that in the infield there would be three places held down by freshmen. Kahn of John Marshall High, soon settled himself at short, while Brasseur, of Fork Union, and Lister, of Randolph-Macon, both began to struggle for second base. Drewry clinched his position on first with little opposition. On third, Ayers of Williamsburg High was running Thompson of last year's Freshman Team a close race. In the outfield last year's varsity men cinched all of the positions. Parson, Westbrook, Moss and Todd being the men that attended to the gardening of all the hits that were to go past the infield. The failure of Chalkey to return to college for the spring session left the catcher's position open. Delk, who is playing his third year on the team, cinched the position. In the pitching staff was to be found the greatest weakness. Only two of last year's regulars were back in college, these being Taylor and Saffelle. Both these men had proved their worth the previous year, but it was exceedingly necessary that two or more hurlers be uprooted in order to meet the demand that presented itself with such a formidable schedule. After some time Coach Tasker produced two men that appear to have all the facilities that go towards the making of fine twirlers. Eley, though it is his fourth year in college, has never been thought of as a hurler, until Coach Tasker gave him a chance in one of the practice games in the early season. Like Eley, Gregory shows promises of lending a great help to the completion of a successful season by the Indian team.

For the first time in three years a William and Mary baseball team will make an extensive northern trip. Manager Baker has arranged for a week's trip through New England where the Indian team will meet the cream of the Eastern College teams. Games have been scheduled with Holy Cross, Boston College, Yale, Tufts, and Providence College. The games with Holy Cross, Boston College, and Yale are return ones for those that are to be played at Williamsburg earlier in the season.

The followers of the Green Gold and Silver feel confident that in this year's team there will be a repetition of the mighty feats that were performed by the 1923 Indian team. Although the Colonial Echo will go to press some time before the full results of our baseball season will be known, we feel certain that the outcome will warrant the recognition of William and Mary's team as one of the very best in Virginia, if not in the South.

The Cinder Season

No longer handicapped with the lack of a track, and with a considerable amount of material on hand, Coaches Siersman and Chandler are contemplating one of the most successful track seasons in the history of the college. The new quarter mile cinder path that has recently been completed will undoubtedly prove to be one of the very best in the state. During the early fall season the new track had not been fully finished and daily work outs were given to the squad in the capacity of road work. A cross country team was organized mainly for the purpose of strengthening the material for the distance events that come in the spring. Coach Siersman mapped out a five mile course about the college and succeeded in obtaining two meets for the Indian harriers: one with Maryland University at College Park, and the other with Randolph-Macon at home. While neither of these meets ended with William and Mary as victor, it is undoubtedly to be realized that the training obtained in these runs will go a long ways towards the development of milers and two milers.

Shortly after the return from Christmas vacation indoor work for the relay squad was inaugurated in the new Blow Memorial Gymnasium. The track in the gym provided excellent opportunity for the development of a strong and fast relay team. Several meets were scheduled with Richmond University, Johns Hopkins Invitation Meet held in Baltimore and an invitation meet in Washington, D. C. Sproker, Winder, Charles, Shields and Yates were the relay men selected by the coaches to be the carriers of the Green, Gold and Silver in all of these meets and very favorable results were obtained from the starts made by these men. Captain Hooff also participated in several events outside of those entered by the relay team, and in the Richmond meet he succeeded in annexing a second place in the dashes.

With the arrival of spring and the completion of the cinder track, the call for track men was issued. Over sixty men responded and work for the development of a strong team was begun in earnest. Such men as Grove, Smith, Taylor, Davis, L. Todd, Matsu, Lash, and Wesson, soon showed their ability of holding up the field events of the team. In the dashes, Cap. Hooff, Yates, Charles, and Spraker are showing up well and it is expected that they will furnish their rivals with keen competition. Along in the half mile, mile and two-mile, the following men are expected to hold down positions on the squad: Wells, Winder, Noresworthy, Mapp, Baker and Van Laer. Numerous freshmen who have answered the call for candidates are showing up exceptionally well. In the high and low hurdles, Davis and Charles intend to uphold their part in the meets.

Coaches Siersema and Chandler have, along with the development of a regular varsity squad, undertaken for the first time the task of producing a freshman team that is to be made up entirely of representatives of the class of '28. By this means the coaches plan to keep at work all those who at the present time are not entirely capable enough to qualify for the varsity in order to develop them into good enough material so that in a year to come they may step into those places left vacant by men leaving the varsity squad.

The annual clash with Richmond University this year will for the first time be held in Williamsburg. This change will allow the William and Mary student body the opportunity of witnessing the most thrilling of all the track meets that William and Mary enters. For the past three years the Spiders have nosed out the Indian spike men, and it is hoped that along with the change of location there will also be a decided change in the final outcome of the meet in favor of the Indians.

The Basketball Season

The Girls' Basketball Team started training and hard practice after Christmas this year as their first collegiate game was not until February 14.

Only three of last year's letter men were available for this year as F. Gibbons, L. and C. Sinclair, Hastings, and Townsend were not in college. Coach Brown also did not return. Coach Barksdale had to develop entirely new defensive material, though Love's return to college added tremendously to the offensive strength. Captain Dixon, Chase, Love, and Best formed the nucleus for the strong team that started the season by beating Sweet Briar 35-25. This was revenge for last year's defeat.

After this flying start toward a successful season, the co-eds defeated University of South Carolina, George Washington, and Adelphi in rapid succession. This was the first time that William and Mary College had ever engaged in an athletic contest with the University of South Carolina. The Indian sextet had no difficulty in doubling the score on the Southerners, winning with 31 points to the visitor's 15. The George Washington game was hard and fast, William and Mary winning by eight points, the score ending 45-37. An interesting feature of this game was the fact that Elizabeth Hastings, who won her W & M as guard on last year's team, played a star game for George Washington. The Adelphi girls received their second defeat from the Indians, taking the small end of a 51-32 score.

The climax of the season came on February 28 when William and Mary met their greatest rivals, Westhampton College in the George Preston Blow Memorial Gymnasium. This was the most exciting game of the season, ending in a disputed score and a 31-31 tie.

The season closed with a five game northern trip on which they played and lost three games, Fredericksburg Normal, Temple University, and George Washington University. At Fredericksburg the Indian co-eds met a formidable enemy and came out of the fray beaten by a score of 35-18. In the following game with Temple they were completely outclassed, losing by 23 points. The last game, played with George Washington, was equally as hard as the one played on the home field and George Washington won by only two points.

Summing up the season, out of eight games, William and Mary won four, lost three, and tied one.

Louise Love's stellar shooting was the outstanding feature of the season. Her record for points stands at 160 for the eight games.

Monograms were awarded Captain Dixon, Love, Chase, Best, Wilkens, Gibbons, Arnold, and Armstrong, and Manager Hutchings.

Only two members of the team will be back next year, Love and Wilkens. Captain Dixon graduates with a monogram and three stars, having made the team all three years. Best and Chase have two stars, while Gibbons, Arnold, and Armstrong have made their first monograms their senior year.

This season was characterized by a new feature, co-ed cheer leaders and cheers, which proved so successful that we hope it has become an established custom.

Hockey

Hockey as a major sport is still in its infancy at William and Mary. However, under the guidance of competent coaches, the team is developing, and bids fair to offer close competition in intercollegiate meets to be held later on.

It is hoped that next year a schedule including colleges elsewhere can be arranged and that this very important sport can be placed on the same footing as basketball.

Octogenarians' Club

An organization composed of those antiquated and ancient fossils at the College of William and Mary who, for the past four or five years (or more—ad infinitum) have paraded themselves before the world in the guise of boys of tender age.

Jokes

The whole campus was aroused about one-thirty one morning by Lew Irby, under a certain window in Tyler Hall singing "Oh, Lady, be good to me!"

Anna Withers: "My, what a pretty nose!"

Buck Richardson: "Oh, its a pretty good nose, as noses run."

Frank Woodall: "Jane told me she worshipped her figure."

Payne: Terry: "What did you say then?"

Frank: "Nothing; I just embraced her religion."

Mr. Babcock: "Miss Mundy, you were unprepared today and must remain after class."

Aleen Mundy: "Not with you, teacher!"

E. Clement

The Modern Child: "Mother, would it be too naive if I believed in Santa Claus just one more time?"

Mae Bridges: "Doc King tells me its eating sugar that makes me so lazy."

Willie Shelton: "What kind do you eat?"

Mae: "Loaf-sugar."

Mr. Babcock: "Who will volunteer to report on a poem tomorrow?"

Sallie Cogle: "Please sir, may I report on Whitman's Sampler?"

First Cannibal: "Our chief has hay-fever!"

Second Cannibal: "What brought it on?"

First Cannibal: "He ate a grass-widow."

Old Gentleman: "Well, Willie, how is your dear grandpa standing the heat?"

Willie: "Ain't heard yet, he's only been dead a week."

Caino: "So Miss Kitty is your oldest sister. Who comes after her?"

Little Brooks: "Nobody ain't come yet, but pa says first fellow who comes can have her."

Her name was Dorothy (Watkins) but she was so slow everyone called her Polky-Dot.

"Stop! There's a principal at stake," shouted the cowboy as he rushed upon the Indian about to burn up a school teacher.

Wince Irwin: "Say Red, hear you've been sick."

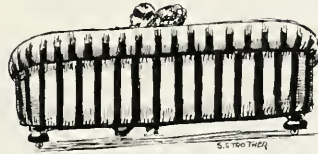

Red Campbell: "Yeth, I've had the Clothing ditheath, I had a coat on my tongue and my breath came in short panths."

Herbert Gaunter: "What's the most nervous thing, next to a girl?"
Bill Gravely: "Me."

Miles: "Do you mind if I tempt you to give me a kiss?"
Lil Easley: "Get thee behind me satan, and I'll sit on your lap."

Betty Kneeland: "I suppose you travelled in Europe last summer to satisfy your thirst for knowledge?"
Rus. Stuart: "No, just my thirst."

Virginia Alpha Chapter of M. V. V.

The Mexican War Veterans have granted a chapter to William and Mary, and announce the following pledges: Laurance Green, Frank Nathaniel Watkins, Alva Hobson Cooke, Bailey St, George Tucker and John Chalkley.

The flower of the lodge is the century plant; Patron Saint, Methuselah.

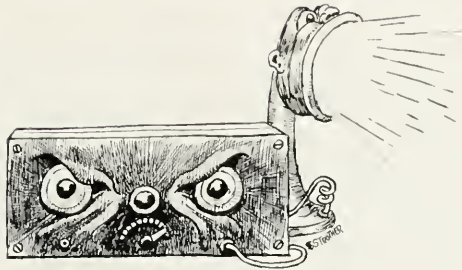

A kiss is a peculiar proposition;
To a young girl—Faith
To a married woman—Hope
To an old maid—Charity

Snuck Elliot: "Is it true about the ass disguising himself with a lion's skin?"
Jack Chalkley: "So the fable goes, but now the colleges do it with a sheep skin."

Dr. Jacob: "Dauba, what are the two genders?"

Dauba Green: "Masculine and feminine. The masculine are divided into temperate and intemperate, the feminine into frigid and torrid."

MEMOIRS FROM BRUTON

A young lover and his love were at Bruton. When the collection plate was passed, the young man, after frantically searching his pockets, whispered to his sugar-pie: "I haven't a red cent, I changed my pants!" The dainty flapper, who had been searching her hand bag in vain, blushed a rosy red and said, "same here!"

Dr. Morton: "What was the Era of Good Feeling?"

Al Hoozier: "The Whisky Rebellion, Sir!"

Mr. Bridges: "Don't you think we should have more clubs for women here?"

Dr. J. A. C. C.: "No, lets try kindness a little bit longer."
