Alumni and the College

In his always stimulating "Letter from Home" Jack Fullen, Ohio State University Monthly Editor, makes the following sage observation in his November 15 issue: "To be effectively united the alumni must be informed. Properly informed and organized, they become more than just cheerleaders for their institutions." To highlight the "more than just cheerleader" concept he quotes former Ohio State President, William Oxley Thompson who, in his 1924 annual report, wrote: "A thousand alumni united on important University ideals would be underestimated at a million dollars a year. Universities grow through the creative power and imagination and persistent influence of University sentiment and tradition. These find expression chiefly in the alumni. The problem of the future will be to emphasize to the Commonwealth the quality of the service the University continues to render to society. The future of the University is largely in the hands of the alumni." Implementation of President Thompson's idea can be achieved, Fullen points out, through the four major services which alumni can render their institutions. "They can give them," he says, "1. Interpretation, 2. Advice, 3. Money and 4. New Students."

Down the years William and Mary alumni have made valuable contributions in every one of these fields. There's still a job to be done, however. There are nine chartered alumni chapters. There could and should be 100 or 150. There are 1,450 participating members of the Society of the Alumni, which is another way of saying that through annual contributions to the William and Mary Fund 1,450 alumni have become voting members of the Society and recipients of the ALUMNI GAZETTE, the only continuing link between the College and the alumni. There could and should be 14,500 Society members. There are that many living alumni.

To achieve this important purpose is the goal of the 1953 William and Mary Fund campaign. That campaign will be waged by that ever-loyal group of alumni who have accepted appointment as Class Agents. Their names appear on the back cover of this issue of the GAZETTE. Stand by to hear from them. Back them to the limit. In doing so you will literally be buying a share in the future of William and Mary, you'll be making sure that you're more than just a cheerleader.—F.J.B.

James Edward Grimsley is the new Press and Publications Secretary in the Office of Alumni and Information and as such ALUMNI GAZETTE Managing Editor.

A Navy veteran of World War II, Ed hails from Buchanan County, Virginia. A 1951 graduate of William and Mary, he divided his time equally between the Norfolk Division and the College in Williamsburg where he was secretary of Tau Kappa Alpha and Vice-President of the Intercollegiate Debate Council. After a brief period with the Washington Evening Star he joined the staff of the United Press Association in Richmond. For the year and a half preceding his joining the staff of this office on September 8 he served as U.P. political correspondent for the State of Virginia and as such was permanently assigned to the Capitol and other state offices. He is married to Ann Neblett, a Longwood alumna.

THE COLLEGE

A Good Year

On October 11, President Alvin Duke Chandler marked his first anniversary as administrative head of the College of William and Mary.

Chandler had hoped the anniversary would pass unnoticed. But this hope vanished a few days before October 11 when the newspapers pressed him for a statement assessing his first year at William and Mary and outlining the future program of the College.

Viewed in retrospect, Chandler found that his first year had been a good one. Carefully emphasizing the cooperative roles of the administration, the Board of Visitors, the faculty, the alumni and officials of the Commonwealth of Virginia, Chandler pointed out what he considered the most notable accomplishments at William and Mary in the past 12 months.

The President listed the two most obvious developments of the year as enrollment and physical plant development. The College in Williamsburg has a full house so far as dormitory and housing space is concerned. The year brought increased enrollment at the Norfolk Division and at the Richmond Professional Institute.

In the area of physical plant development, Chandler could point with pride to the new John Stewart Bryan Memorial dormitory for men which is expected to be ready for use by next fall. Work is under way also on a new heating plant, and the Fine Arts Building and Monroe Hall have been completely renovated.

At RPI a new gymnasium has been completed and a building has been purchased for what Chandler called the "justly famous" school of social work. Appropriations have been made and plans are under way for a new science building at the Norfolk Division.

Chandler found another indication of healthy conditions at William and Mary in the "stability and devotion" of the faculty. Only four faculty members resigned last year, each to accept salaries which the College could not match. Faculty strength has been increased at the Norfolk Division and at RPI and faculty salaries throughout the William and Mary system have been raised.

The President listed several changes in administrative personnel and practice. Under a revamped method for handling student affairs, the dean of men and dean of women, under the direction of the dean of students, are taking steps to organize fraternity house and dormitory councils. According to Chandler, these student-initiated groups promise much in the way of stimulating "leadership and experience in cooperative planning, to say nothing of more wholesome living conditions."

Two other important changes in the administrative set-up were the establishment of the co-ordinator of divisions and director of extension (see page 5) and the establishment of the new office of alumni and information to interpret the College to the alumni and to the people of the State and Nation.

Other accomplishments listed by Chandler were:

1. Establishment of the laboratory conference in elementary education, conducted jointly by the College and Colonial Williamsburg to which more than 30 schools from Virginia, Missouri, Minnesota, Florida, Maine and Cuba sent representatives. Henceforth this program will be a regular part of the Summer Session.

2. The Overseas Student Center, which brought 45 selected graduate students from 16 countries to the campus for a six-week orientation program.

3. The offering of evening courses with full college credit as a service to military personnel and citizens of the Peninsula area for the first time in the history of the College. Some 200 persons are availing themselves of this service.

4. Adult education courses at the Richmond Professional Institute, fulfilling a real educational need.

5. Establishment of a single standard athletic policy.

6. Continued success of the work-study program at the College by which some 500 students supplemented their finances in the amount of more than 100-thousand dollars by part-time employment secured.

7. The nature of faculty research and publication.

8. The scholarships and other awards which have come to students at William and Mary.

In charting the future course of the College, Chandler will lean heavily on the self-evaluation study now in progress. He says the study is "expected to scrutinize every aspect of the College to assess our program in each part and as a whole."

The self-evaluation program has four purposes. It will determine the objectives of the College as a whole and of each of its parts and will ascertain how these objectives are being reached. The study will uncover the strong and weak points in the College and devise plans for making necessary changes. Finally, the study will assess the financial and physical resources, administrative organization, resources in personnel and the general policies and methods of William and Mary.

The comprehensive self-evaluation program will involve every group and individual within the college community: the Board of Visitors, administration, faculty, other staff, students and alumni. "The important thing," says Chandler, "is that we're doing the job ourselves. This approach is novel, if not unique."

Concluding his review, Chandler said: "The past year has been a busy year for all of us. From my point of view it has been a good year. I believe it can be said that the William and Mary family—all of it—whether in Williamsburg, Richmond or Norfolk—faces the future with confidence."

He continued "If I were permitted only one anniversary statement it would take the form of an expression of profound gratitude to the understanding cooperation and help of the officials of the state and members of the General Assembly, the faculty, the administration, the students, the alumni and the many loyal friends of the College.

"The degree to which all of those have rallied to the cause of William and Mary has been most inspiring to me. I am profoundly grateful."

For Closer Relations

After seven years as Director of the Summer Session at the College of William and Mary, Dr. George Oliver has been assigned new responsibilities. Under an important change in the administrative organization of the College, Oliver has been appointed Co-ordinator of Divisions and Director of Extension.

All the functions of the newly-created office have not been clearly defined. Basically, Oliver's duties, as stated by the College Board of Visitors, will be to co-ordinate the policies and procedures of the Divisions in matters pertaining to registration, fiscal management and instruction with corresponding policies in force at the College in Williamsburg.

In carrying out his duties, Oliver will work closely with the President, Dean of the Faculty, the Bursar, the Registrar and the heads of the Norfolk Division and the Richmond Professional Institute. The responsibility for co-ordinating the financial affairs of the William and Mary System will rest primarily with the Bursar.

Creation of the new position which Oliver fills in no way diminishes the authority or the responsibilities of the Director of the Norfolk Division or the Dean of the Richmond Professional Institute. According to Oliver the purpose of his office is to maintain closer relations between the three units of Greater William and Mary. This will be done through the interpretation of policies and the co-ordination of the needs and programs of the College in Williamsburg and the branch institutions.

The job that faces Oliver is in no sense an easy one. But he has a reputation for accomplishing difficult tasks. A 1931 graduate of William and Mary, he received his A.M. and Ph.D. from Columbia University. Since 1945, besides being Director of the Summer Session, Oliver has been head of the Department of Education, a position he will retain under the new set-up.

Taking over as Director of the Summer Session is Kenneth H. Cleeton who has been associated with the William and Mary Department of Education since 1946. Cleeton received his B.S. and A.M. degrees from the University of Missouri and his Ph.D. from University of Colorado.

A new venture

When a 1915 graduate of the College returns to Williamsburg for the first time since leaving school, probably the first thing he notices is the drastic change that has been made in the city's appearance. No longer is Williamsburg the sleepy little village it was thirty-seven years ago when a visitor was rare and a tourist unknown.

Today, Williamsburg is a bustling, miniature metropolis. Surrounded by well-manned military installations; flooded with tourists and populated by the many employees of the College, Eastern State Hospital and Colonial Williamsburg, the city is more active than many cities of comparable size.

Under these conditions, it is only natural that certain changes would be effected in the policies of William and Mary. This fall, the first major change in policy was made. Yielding to the pressure of demand created by military personnel and fully employed persons in the Williamsburg and Peninsula area, the College announced that it would offer evening classes for full college credit for the first time in its 260-year history.

The evening program is under the direction of Dean of the Faculty Charles F. Marsh and C. H. Anderson of the department of Jurisprudence. The program, formulated after long discussions with authorities at nearby military bases, includes courses in economics, English literature and grammar, foreign languages, history, philosophy, psychology, biology, physics, fine arts, sociology, education, physical education and government.

The response to the College's evening program was gratifying. From all over the Peninsula area, interested men and women—including some husband and wife teams—showed up to register for classes. When formal registration ended on the night of Tuesday, September 30, at least 200 persons had enrolled.

According to Marsh, the evening students will receive full college credit for their work. The credits can be transferred to other colleges or applied toward a degree at William and Mary. To prevent over-enthusiastic students from burdening themselves with too many subjects, the College limited to two the number of courses an undergraduate student could take. Graduate students were permitted to take only one course.

The evening program is limited and experimental. Whether it will be continued in future years depends upon the success of its operation during the current semester.

THE LIBRARY

Alumni too

Among the best friends a college has are its alumni. Recognizing the validity of this assertion, the College library has inaugurated a program designed to weld a closer link between William and Mary and its alumni everywhere in the nation.

Under the new program, alumni will be able to use the College library on the same terms as students. If a former William and Mary student is unable to visit the library, he can still get his book. All he has to do is write the title and name of the author on a postal card and mail it to the library. The library forwards the book by prepaid, insured parcel post.

When the user has finished the book, he returns it by parcel post.

According to Librarian William G. Harkins, the purpose of the program is to show former students that their "graduation does not end their association with the library." He said the program is almost unique. He cited Antioch College in Ohio as the only other college that to his knowledge has a similar mail-lending service.

By order of the court

Among the items of a recent display in the Library was a letter from the first Chief Justice of the United States, John Marshall, to a neighbor whose barking dog kept Mrs. Marshall awake at nights. The letter reads in part:

"Dear Sir:

"The distressed . . . disturbed situation of my wife at length forces me very reluctantly to make a direct application to you . . . The incessant barking of your dog has scarcely left her a night of quiet since summer. During the spell of hot weather she has been kept almost perpetually awake . . . If the state of things continue she cannot live.

"Rather than ask what may be disagreeable to you to do, I would not hesitate to abandon my home and have proposed it to her; but our little place in the country affords her only a confined and hot chamber in which she thinks she cannot live. She therefore insists on my communicating her situation directly to you in the hope that when it is known the cause may not be continued."

There is no record of the neighbor's reply to the Chief Justice.

THE FACULTY

A Spark of Life

Unlike some persons in the educational world today, Dr. A. Pelzer Wagener, professor of Ancient Languages at William and Mary, feels that Latin is the "core of a liberal education."

Not only does he consider Latin the foundation for a sound knowledge of modern languages and literature, but Wagener is convinced that the lessons learned from the study of ancient Rome could help solve many of the problems facing the modern world.

Although he is an ardent believer in the study of Latin in college, Wagener readily admits that the popularity of the subject has declined considerably in recent years. There was a time when practically every college student was required to study either Latin or Greek, or both. Now

Latin is more widely taught in high schools than in college and is an elective course in college where many students avoid it.

Recognizing the need for a spark of life in the "dead" language, Wagener co-authored a textbook which his publishers and reviewers declare make the study of Latin actually enjoyable. The book is called Latin and the Romans and was prepared by Wagener and Thornton Jenkins, headmaster of Malden, Massachusetts High School. The book employs the reading method of learning languages. From prose and poetry selections on Roman history, literature and culture, students learn grammar, vocabulary and sentence structure.

When the text first appeared in 1941 a critic wrote that "the book accomplishes what has seldom been attempted; it presents elementary Latin in real subject matter units of Latin narratives of Roman life, ideals, myths and history." The book's publisher said "so compellingly interesting . . . and so clearly are the fundamentals of grammar presented that the student is actually able to read for enjoyment."

The text was written primarily for high school students, but it can be used for elementary Latin lessons in college. Wagener hopes the book will help revive interest in the once popular and still basic subject of Latin.

Physics, Philosophy and Fertility

Ten faculty members at the College of William and Mary are engaged in research projects under grants-in-aid totaling $4,963.00 from the Richmond Area University Center.

Projects range from "Prose Fiction in the English Chapbook" by W. Melville Jones, associate professor of English, to "Factors Affecting the Industrialization of Virginia" by Anthony L. Sancetta, assistant professor of Economics.

Other faculty members and their projects are:

Robert J. Hart, assistant professor of Physics, "A Proposed One-Year Sequence of Laboratory Experiments in Physics for Non-Science Majors"; John F. Kantner, assistant professor of Sociology, "The Relationship of Certain Childhood Situation to Fertility in an Urban Population"; Elizabeth A. McClure, instructor in Government, "A Re-evaluation of Bosanquet's Philosophical Theory of the State" and "Thomas Scott: Pioneer in Political Pamphleteering"; Alexander Kallos, instructor in German, "The Social Problem in the Work of Anton Wildgans"; Bruce T. McCully, associate professor of History, "A Biography of Francis Nicholson, the Man, the Soldier, the Professional Colonial Administrator"; Beatrice K. Rome, instructor in Philosophy, "A Study in the Philosophy of Malebranche"; Richard L. Morton, head of the Department of History, "History of Virginia (two volumes)" and Walter Eugene Swayze, assistant professor of English language and literature, "The Early Career of Sir William Wataon, 1858-1905."

THE STUDENTS

Four Years to Go

Early Sunday morning, September 14, four hundred and sixty-two members of the Class of 1956 arrived on the campus for the opening of the 260th session of the College.

The new students appeared to be little different from other freshmen who have entered William and Mary in past years. They were young, eager and alert to their new surroundings. But if they were the least bit frightened or homesick when they saw for the first time the historic Sir Christopher Wren building and Lord Botetourt, the old gentleman at whose feet they would be bowing and curtsying for weeks to come, they did not show it.

The College had a well-planned orientation program ready to acquaint the entering students with their new surroundings. The program began at 4:30 Sunday afternoon with a general meeting in the Phi Beta Kappa Auditorium where students got their first look at top administrative officers of the College.

After the meeting, supper was served in the Sunken Garden. After supper the new students and their parents were guests of Colonial Williamsburg for a candlelight tour of the restored Colonial Capitol. It was in this building that some of the most significant events leading to the Declaration of American Independence transpired. Many of the public figures who helped shape these events had studied at William and Mary. It was fitting, therefore, that these new Sons and Daughters of William and Mary should be reminded of this fact at the outset of their college career.

The more serious phase of orientation began Monday morning with aptitude tests, physical examinations, general meetings and tours of the campus. Registration was held Wednesday and Thursday, and on Friday, the members of the Class of 1956 attended their first lectures.

It is not possible to gaze into a crystal ball and predict what lies ahead for the Class of 1956. But one thing is certain: all those who now make up the class will not be with it when it comes to the end of its collegiate road four years hence.

There are many booby traps that pose constant threats to every College student. Typical of these booby traps are those found in too much social life, too many extracurricular activities and too much emphasis on athletics. Instead of finding a proper balance between their academic life and other campus activities, many students may become victims of these booby traps. These will be the persons who lose sight of the fact that the primary reason for coming to college is to receive an education.

Those students who are eager to learn something in their four-year stay at William and Mary will discover they have made a wise choice in schools. They will discover that few schools are as well equipped to provide a liberal education as William and Mary, with its rich traditions, its incomparable history and its able faculty. By making a wise selection in their choice of friends, their courses, and their extracurricular activities; and by planning their programs with forethought, they will accomplish much. And when they join the ranks of the alumni, most of them will go on to greater glories and honors—as every William and Mary alumnus should do.

And Their Fathers Too

There are many things to influence a prospective college student in his choice of schools. Some of the factors that help him make up his mind are the college's curriculum, its faculty, its size and its history. But for some students there is another important factor: other things being equal, many students will choose a particular college because members of their family attended that school.

At William and Mary there are more than 500 students whose relatives came here before them. And one student lists as an ancestor Benjamin S. Ewell, President of William and Mary from 1848-49 and 1854 to 1888. In this issue, the GAZETTE introduces six students who have family associations with the College. Others will be introduced in subsequent issues.

Charles Ferrell Duff, '56, is the fifth member of his family to attend William and Mary. He is the son of James Scott Duff, '22, and the brother of James S. Duff, Jr., '52. Other relatives who attended the College were Charles Duff, '25, and Lawrence Duff, '21.

Richard F. Clark, '55, is the son of John A. Clark, '31. Two of his cousins are William and Mary alumni H. J. Tardy, '28, and Richard Slaughter, '50.

Betty Ann Holladay, '55, is the daughter of Walter J. Holladay, Jr., '24, and the niece of Carlton E. Holladay, '24.

Ann R. Johnson, '53, is following the example set by her father, Clyde Johnson, '25, two aunts, Martha E. Johnson, '40, and Maggie Johnson, '29, and an uncle, Hugh Johnson, '24.

Josephine Yeardley Garrett, '56, has four relatives who are alumni of William and Mary. Besides her father, the Reverend Van F. Garrett who is a member of the Class of 1920, two of her aunts, Mrs. Harriet Garrett (Hodges), '30, and Mrs. Suzanne Yeardley Garrett (Montague), '25, and a cousin attended the College. Her grandfather, Van F. Garrett, was long-time professor of Chemistry of the College, one of the fabled "Seven Wise Men" who joined the faculty in 1888.

Lawmakers

Of the thousands of men who have received their education at the College of William and Mary in the past 259 years, many have gone on to assume prominent roles of leadership in public affairs.

The College has produced three presidents: Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler. John Marshall, first Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, was an alumnus of William and Mary as were four signers of the Declaration of Independence: Jefferson, Benjamin Harris, George Wythe and Carter Braxton. To complete the roster of William and Mary men who have become public leaders, add innumerable governors of Virginia and scores of other states, and United States Senators, congressmen and military men.

To see whether present-day alumni are keeping alive the William and Mary tradition of leadership, the GAZETTE checked one branch of the government of Virginia—the General Assembly. The investigation disclosed that of the 140 members of the General Assembly, 19 have records of attendance at either the College in Williamsburg, the old Academy, Norfolk Division or Richmond Professional Institute. The lieutenant-governor, who presides over the Senate, also studied at William and Mary.

In this issue the GAZETTE presents a brief biographical sketch of the William and Mary alumni who help shape the policies of the Commonwealth of Virginia. No attempt is made here to evaluate their records. This is something that must be left to the editorial writers and the political scientists. Our purpose is to emphasize the active and important part these alumni are taking in the public affairs of Virginia.

Lieutenant-Governor A. E. S. Stephens has a public career dating back to 1930 when he was elected to the House of Delegates. Serving in the House until 1940, he was elected in 1942 to the Senate from the Fifth Senatorial district.

A successful attorney, Stephens studied at William and Mary in 1919, 1921, 1923. He is a native of Northumberland County.

When Lieutenant-Governor L. Preston Collins died suddenly this summer, Stephens tossed his hat into the ring for the unexpired term. He received the formal support of the State Democratic Central Committee and in the general election on November 4 Stephens won by a handsome majority.

Stephens will not have long to wait before breaking in on his new job. He will preside over the Senate this month when the General Assembly meets in special session to consider legislation to reapportion the seats of the Senate and the House.

In his capacity as president of the Senate, Stephens will preside over six men who at one time or another studied at William and Mary or one of its branch institutions.

Frank P. Burton has been a member of the Senate from the 13th Senatorial district since 1948. Born in Lunenburg County, Virginia, Burton attended the Academy in 1908 and 1909.

A lawyer, Burton was for twenty years Commonwealth's attorney of Patrick County. He has served on the State Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

In the Senate, Burton serves on six committees: Roads and Internal Navigation; Privileges and Elections; Fish and Game; General Laws; Federal Relations and Executive Expenditures.

Ted Dalton was elected to the Senate from the 21st Senatorial district in 1944. Dalton received his B.A. degree at William and Mary in 1924 and his L.L.B. in 1926. He is a member of Sigma Nu and Omicron Delta Kappa.

A native of Carroll County, Dalton served as Commonwealth's attorney for the City of Radford from 1929 to 1937. A prominent republican leader, he was chosen national republican committeeman from Virginia at the 1952 National Republican Convention. In the Senate, Dalton serves on the following committees: Courts of Justice; Public Institutions and Education; Agriculture, Mining and Manufacturing; the Committee to Examine the Bonds of Public Officers.

Dalton's son, John Nichols, is a member of the 1953 graduating class and is president of the Student Body at William and Mary.

Vernon A. Etheridge served his first term in the Senate from the First Senatorial district this year. Born in Back Bay, Virginia, he attended the Norfolk Division. He is a farmer and holds high posts in several farm organizations.

Etheridge serves on the Roads and Internal Navigation Committee; Fish and Game Committee; and the committee on Counties, Cities and Towns.

district since 1932. He received his B.S. degree from William and Mary in 1920. Loyal to William and Mary, he sent his son, Major M. Hillard, Jr., '44, and his daughter Merle Cherry Hillard, '48, to his alma mater.

In the Senate, Hillard is chairman of the committee on Roads and Internal Navigation. Other committees on which he serves are: Fish and Game; General Laws; Agriculture; Mining and Manufacturing.

William M. Minter has represented the 32nd Senatorial district since 1944 in the upper house of the General Assembly. A native of Mathews County, he attended William and Mary in 1907 and 1908. He is a lawyer and a former vice-president of the Virginia State Bar Association. He also served at one time as Commonwealth's attorney of Mathews County.

Minter is a member of the following Senate committees: Roads and Internal Navigation; Courts of Justice; Fish and Game; Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns, and Enrolled Bills.

Victor P. Wilson, member of the Senate from the 33rd Senatorial district for the first time this year, is the last member of the Senate who studied at William and Mary. His period of attendance was limited to the summer session of 1923. A native of Hampton, Wilson is an attorney. He serves on Senate committees on Courts of Justice; Fish and Game and Enrolled Bills.

In the lower chamber. Fourteen members of the House of Delegates studied at William and Mary or its affiliated schools.

Robert Winston Bain has been a member of the House from Portsmouth since 1950. Born in Norfolk, he attended the Norfolk Division. He is an attorney.

Bain serves on the committee on Counties, Cities and Towns; the committee on Printing; the committee on Militia and Police and the committee on Welfare.

elected to another term last fall. A lawyer and banker, he attended William and Mary in 1892 and 1895. He is a native of Floyd County.

In the House, Proffit serves on the following committees: Executive Expenditures; Interstate Cooperation; Public Instructions; Retrenchment and Economy.

Theodore G. Walton completes the list of Virginia legislators who studied at William and Mary. He has represented Norfolk County and the City of South Norfolk since 1944. A native of Norfolk County, he attended William and Mary in 1917-1918 and 1919-1920.

Walton serves on the committees on Manufactures and Mechanic Arts; Chesapeake and Its Tributaries; Agriculture; Finance.

Rector's Assistant

sistant. For the assistant, Reverend Herbert N. Tucker, Jr., the assignment in Williamsburg meant a return to familiar surroundings. Tucker received his B.A. degree from the College of William and Mary in 1948.

Tucker was born in Boydton in 1925 where his father was minister in charge of St. James' Church. The following year his father became rector of St. Paul's Church in Suffolk.

After his graduation from William and Mary, Tucker studied for his bachelor of divinity degree at the Virginia Seminary at Alexandria where he was president of the Middler Class. He was ordained to the diaconate at St. Paul's in Suffolk in 1951 by the Rt. Rev. H. St. George Tucker, former presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church and uncle of the young clergyman. After his ordination, Tucker was named minister in charge of the Appomattox-Buckingham-Cumberland cure.

Tucker was ordained to the priesthood in Johns Memorial Church, Farmville by the Rt. Rev. George P. Gunn, bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, in June of this year.

While at William and Mary, Tucker was national president of Eta Sigma Phi, local president of the Canterbury Club and a member of the College and Bruton Choirs.

Pedodontist

A man with the dual idea that the dread should be taken out of a visit to the dentist, and that the place to achieve that is with children, is Dr. G. A. C. (Skeeter) Jennings, '22X. It is probably true that Jennings did not originate the idea, but the fact that he recognized the validity of the theory and that he had the technical competence, the personality and the perseverance to put it over, is the reason why he has earned the title "pioneer pedodontist." Dr. George Alvin Chapman Jennings, '22X, has been practicing in Richmond, Virginia since 1925, and has loved every minute of it. A generation of youngsters-become-grownups bear willing testimony that they've loved it too, a fact which, in itself, proves Jennings' thesis.

Jennings was born in Toano in January 1897. His father owned the small "Way-side Inn" and Jennings became head porter, bell hop, shoeshine boy and errand boy. He was a typical country lad who liked music but hated to practice and liked school but hated to study. Amiable and lively, he admits in retrospect that he tried to get along on his personality rather than on his scholarly abilities.

JENNINGS AND PATIENT

Open wide.

After his graduation from Toano High School in 1916, Jennings entered the College of William and Mary. His brother Nathaniel Hall Jennings, was an honor student in the class of 1916 and all the professors thought, naturally enough, that the younger Jennings would be a brilliant student also. But according to Jennings his slogan was "all over 80 is lost." When he had attained that mark, he coasted. Looking back over his college career, Jennings says he would not recommend this policy to anyone else.

Jennings entered the Army in 1917 but he doesn't say too much about his Army career. At Camp Lee he was his company's song leader and comedian as well as clerk. He boasts that he is the only surviving private of World War I.

After his hitch with the Army, Jennings re-entered William and Mary to pursue his pre-dental studies. While at William and Mary he was initiated in Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity. He joined the Glee Club, was a cheerleader and made the German Club.

By the time he entered the Medical College of Virginia in 1920, Jennings was more mature and had begun to recognize that the information contained in textbooks and lectures was information that he would have to know to be a successful dentist. At the Medical College he settled down and became a serious student. He was accepted to the Xi Psi Phi dental fraternity, became president of the German Club and held the highest office a dental student can hold at that institution—that of vice-president of the Student Body.

Jennings received his D.D.S. degree in 1924 and shortly thereafter went to work with the Virginia State Board of Health as a dental Clinician in the public schools of the state. Experience gained on this job served as an internship for his chosen field of pedodontics.

Jennings worked for the state one year before he opened his office in the Medical Arts Building in Richmond. At the same time he accepted a teaching position at the Medical College. He has kept his contract with the Medical College for 27 years and is now an assistant professor.

Evidence of the recognition accorded Jennings by professional colleagues is found in the fact that he has served as president of the Richmond Dental Society and President of the Virginia Society of Dentistry for children and is a sought-after participant in professional programs, local, state and national. He is a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, the Phi Beta Kappa of Dentistry and is a fellow in the American College of Dentistry. In addition to his professional affiliations Jennings holds membership in and has been an officeholder in the Alumni groups of the College of William and Mary, the Medical College of Virginia, and Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, as well as the American Legion and several other civic and service organizations.

THE SOCIETY

HOMECOMING

Elections, Awards and Coffee

Coming earlier in the year than usual, Homecoming Day, October 25, was a complete success. Mother Nature provided a beautiful Indian Summer day for the festivities; more than 335 alumni registered with the Alumni office in The Brafterton and many, many more failed to register; the parade was colorful, the Homecoming Queen beautiful, and the Indians walloped the University of Richmond Spiders 42 to 13.

On the business side of Homecoming, the Society of the Alumni held its annual meeting Saturday morning following the parade. At the meeting it was announced that the voting members of the Society had (1) turned down a proposed amendment to the Society's By-laws changing the date for the annual meeting; and (2) re-elected J. Wilfred Lambert, '27, to the Society's Board of Directors and elected two new members: Robert DeBlois Calkins, Jr., '25, and Margaret Hull Mitchell (Mollenkopf), '42.

Following the elections, the Society received a portrait of Henry "Doc" Billups (see cover) which was painted by Thomas Thorne, head of the department of Fine Arts. The portrait will hang in the office of the Executive Secretary in The Brafterton.

Before bringing its annual meeting to a close, the Society awarded Alumni Medallions to two distinguished alumni who have served the College of William and Mary well (see pictures on page 15).

Homecoming would not be Homecoming without the gala parade down Duke of Gloucester Street. The parade became a regular feature of Homecoming while Charles A. Taylor was Executive Secretary of the Alumni Society. Taylor gives all the credit to Lloyd H. Williams, '34, who fostered the idea. At right Taylor registers with the Alumni office. He is now in the hardware business in Urbanna.

In keeping with the annual custom, the Homecoming festivities began with a huge bonfire and pep rally. Here students and townspeople gather around the awesome blaze near the College tennis courts. From an inspirational point of view, the pep rally was a success. The Indians defeated Richmond 42 to 13.

The Alumni office set up a long table just outside The Brafferton for the purpose of registering returning alumni. More than 335 registered Saturday morning and many more failed to register. Observers estimated that approximately one thousand alumni visited the College for the parade, the luncheon and the football game.

The biggest event Saturday morning, of course, was the colorful parade. Alvin Duke Chandler, President of the College, and Charles Malcolm Sullivan, Jr., President of the Society of the Alumni, led the bands, the floats, and the marching ROTC unit down Duke of Gloucester street.

Beautiful is the only word to describe Homecoming Queen Dorothy Bailey and her attendants who rode on the Pep Club float. Dorothy was crowned Friday night at the intermission of the formal dance in Blow Gymnasium. Her attendants were Beverly Simonton, Pamela Hall, Ann Angle, Ann Savage, Lou Biggs and Barbara Regan.

Henry Billups looked as chipper as a man half his age as he rode royally down the street in his chauffeured convertible. Bellringer, janitor, handyman and "student advisor" since 1888, Billups rides in every Homecoming parade. Billups started working for William and Mary when the famous "Seven Wise Men" constituted the faculty.

Following the parade, the Alumni Society held its annual meeting. After disposing of routine business, the Society presented Alumni Medallions to two distinguished alumni. At left, President Chandler presents a Medallion to Dudley R. Cowles, '95.

The second medallion award winner was John Garland Pollard, Jr. Pollard was unable to attend the meeting and the medallion was accepted by his daughter, Mary Lloyd. The Alumni Medallions are usually awarded annually to alumni who have a record of service and devotion to the College of William and Mary.

After the meeting, the alumni attended a luncheon on the North Terrace of Trinkle Refectory. Several hundred alumni gathered to eat and talk. Four persons who obviously enjoyed the luncheon were University of Richmond President George Modlin, President Chandler, Dudley Cowles and Mrs. Modlin.

Between halves of the William and Mary-University of Richmond football, Homecoming Queen Dot Bailey stepped forward to receive a trophy and a buss from Lieutenant-Governor A. E. S. Stephens. Looking on, with envy we suspect, is John Dalton, President of the William and Mary student body.

After the football game, the alumni returned to The Brafferton where coffee was served. This was an added feature in the Homecoming Day program and judging from all the favorable comments, it was a wise addition and may become a permanent event. At left, Society President Sullivan chats with the Homecoming Queen and three companions.

CHAPTERS

Norfolk

The Norfolk Club of the Society of the Alumni met at the Hague Club on Tuesday, October 7. R. Stanley Hudgins, '43, was elected president to succeed Donald Griffin, '42. Samuel Crosswhite, '49, was elected first vice-president; Vincent Gilikin, '50, second vice-president; and DeWitt Boyd, '50, treasurer.

Sam Banks, executive secretary of the William and Mary Educational Foundation, gave a resumé of activities at the College and showed films of the William and Mary-V.M.I. football game.

Petersburg

The Petersburg Alumni Club held its fall meeting in the recreation room of the First Baptist Church of Petersburg on October 9. The College was represented by the Executive Secretary and the GAZETTE Managing Editor. A special committee on College contacts reported plans for sponsorship of an appearance by the William and Mary Choir to be followed by a reception for graduating high school seniors, their parents and friends; and a bus trip to the College for graduating high school seniors, among other things.

The following new officers were elected: Ashton Wiley, '49, president; Elizabeth W. Lanier, '30, first vice-president; Preston Wilson, '49, second vice-president; William Greer, '49, third vice-president; Margaret Langfitt (McCann), '43, secretary; Harry Hartman, '43, treasurer. Members of the board of directors: Russell Gill, '31; Mary Marable Land (Gill), '28; Gordon Winfield, '32, Charley Comer Robertson (Williams), '41; Ruth Almira Weeks (Harvey), '35X; and E. Clinton Jones, '26.

The program, which was climaxed by a social hour, was arranged by Mary Marable Land (Gill).

Southside Virginia

Honor guest at the October 14 meeting of the Southside Virginia Alumni Chapter held at the Hotel Danville on October 14 was President Alvin Duke Chandler who climaxed his review of College affairs by presenting the charter which marks the group as an official chapter of the Society of the Alumni. Other guests from the College were the Executive Secretary and the GAZETTE Managing Editor. New officers elected were: George Gibbs, '49, president; H. Mason Sizemore, '35, vice-president; W. E. Harding, '46, second vice-president; Horace G. Dyer, '38, third vice-president; and Alice Tudor, '30, secretary-treasurer.

Roanoke

Some thirty alumni attended the fall meeting of the Roanoke Chapter held at the Elks Club on October 14. The Executive Secretary brought the group up to date on affairs at the College and presented the chapter's new charter, following which pictures of the 1952 Wake Forest football game were shown. At the business meeting Charles Stephens Frost, '35X, was re-elected president.

Philadelphia

The fall dinner-meeting of the Philadelphia Chapter was held at Kugler's Restaurant on Friday, October 17. Pictures of the 1951 University of Pennsylvania football game were shown.

New York

Robert J. Kern of the Bergen County, New Jersey alumni group writes from Chile that he will be back in Bergen County in November and that the Bergen Affiliate Club will hold its fall and winter meetings as usual. Any alumnus living in the Bergen-Hudson County area should contact Kern at 90 Arcadia Road, Hackensack, N. J., for date and time of the next meeting. At the spring meeting of this group Kern was elected president, John Cardillo, '35, vice-president and Mary A. Colpitts, '41, secretary-treasurer.

Efforts of Robert J. Klein, '40, to form a William and Mary Alumni Club of Essex County, New Jersey, are beginning to pay off. On October 29 a steering committee meeting was held at the Montclair home of Gloria Hanners (Peters), '45. In attendance, in addition to Gloria, were Marion Lounsbury (Dean), '45; Jane Gross, '52; Edna Young (Kennedy), '37; Robert J. Klein, '40; Mabel Apgar (Mathis), '33; Eustelle Ryan, '49; and Carol Achenbach (Taylor), '49.

Plans were laid for holding a Christmas Party to which undergraduates as well as alumni will be invited and a committee was appointed to contact alumni of Union and Bergen Counties regarding the possibility of making it a joint affair. A spring function for prospective William and Mary students was also discussed. Essex County alumni should contact Bob Klein at 12 Marshall Street, Irvington 11, New Jersey. Telephone 4-3697.

Central New Jersey

The Central New Jersey Alumni Club (Princeton) held its fall meeting on November 13. Margaret H. Mitchell (Mollekopf), '41, newly elected member of the Society's board of directors reported on the annual meeting of the Society and Homecoming, which she attended. Plans were laid for the spring dinner-meeting which will be attended by a representative of the College. All alumni in the Princeton, N. J., area are requested to contact club secretary M. Virginia Lee, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey.

Washington

New officers of the Washington Alumni Chapter are: Ronald King, '46Ba, president; Roy Fillmore Ash, Jr., '48Ba, vice-president; Nancy Noble, '49Ba, secretary; Raymond H. O'Connor, '48Ba, treasurer.

Delaware

The October 23 meeting of the Delaware Chapter was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Dallett. The following chapter officers were elected: Joseph D. Dallett, '48Ba, president; Mrs. Carolyn Kelly (Brewster), '24Ba, vice-president; Robert S. Downs, '34Bs, secretary-treasurer.

The Wilmington Chapter holds monthly luncheons in the Coffee Shop of the Di Sabatino Building located at 9th and Orange Streets, Wilmington, Delaware, on the first Thursday of each month at 12:15 P.M. All William and Mary alumni living in that area have been urged to attend the luncheons. (The Wilmington Chapter appears to be the only one which holds regular midday luncheons. Are there others? Its an idea well worth promoting.—ED.)

NOTICE

Law graduates of the College of William and Mary who are interested in joining the William and Mary Law School Association are urged to contact Harvey Chappell, Jr., 929 Kent Road, #1, Richmond, Virginia.

The organization has received a charter from the State Corporation Commission and at meetings held on the campus of William and Mary, a constitution was adopted and permanent officers were elected. The purpose of the organization is to promote the interests of the William and Mary Law School. The Association will be allied with the regular Society of the Alumni.

CORRECTION

In the financial statement of the Society of the Alumni published in the October issue of the GAZETTE, the amount of the State Appropriation should have been listed as $10,191.02 instead of $10,101.02.

THE INDIANS

10 LETTERMEN

With 10 lettermen returning for action, headed by co-captains Bill Chambers from Lynchburg and Jerry Harris from Portsmouth, head basketball coach Boydson H. Baird inherits a cage squad capable of contending for top honors in the Southern Conference. Only Joe Agee of Norfolk will be missed from last year's outfit which won 15 out of 28 and earned a berth in the Conference tourney at Raleigh.

Baird, for three years cage mentor at Davidson College, started drills on November 1 in preparation for the '52-'53 season which opened December 3 in Washington at Uline Arena where the George Washington Colonials were met.

A 22-game slate is on tap for the Indians this Winter, with games against West Virginia and Duke topping the Williamsburg card and contests set for Norfolk against N. C. State and Wake Forest. Richmond will be the site of the annual clash with Hampden-Sydney, a perennially strong contender for Virginia honors.

Chambers, an All-Tournament selection two years running, goes into his Senior year with an enviable record. Last season he grabbed 504 rebounds to finish in the top five in the nation in this valuable department. He averaged 16.4 points per game to bring his two-year scoring total to 991 points. His shooting is near phenomenal with a percentage of .470 from the floor on 377 two-pointers in 781 attempts over the past two years.

Harris, a 6'5" forward, boasted an average of better than 10 points per game last year and is rated as one of the most promising cagers in the South. He, along with sophomore Johnny Mahoney and Chambers, give the Indians three first rate backboard men.

At guards, little Joe Hume and Len "Ducky" Drake are in the Bunting-McMillan tradition. With help from experienced Pete Markos of Newport News and Dick Savage of Portsmouth, the guards should set a fast pattern for the over-all offense.

Freshman Mike Conte of Newark, N. J., is the most promising of the newcomers, with Tam Stubbs of Williamsburg also a comer. Freddie Allen, a senior last year, will handle the Junior Varsity and Freshman squads and is expected to uncover other talented darkhorses on those units.

Baird, the father of three children—two of them twins born just after his appointment to the Indian staff, has handled the jayvee football squad this past Fall, leading them to a successful season which included a 14-6 win over hitherto unbeaten North Carolina's junior varsity.

Coach Everett Case of N. C. State, describing Baird's coaching ability, stated that the likeable native of Delaware, Ohio, ". . . always prepared Davidson better than any other team we faced in the same category. He never had much material there but always did a remarkable job with what he had." State took Davidson twice last year, but by three points on one occasion and by two on another.

Baird admits the material at W & M looks pretty good, much better than anything Davidson had while he was there. He has yet to become familiar with all the boys' abilities and shortcomings but is enthusiastic about his squad's chances. Somewhat of a possession-minded coach he nevertheless agrees that in order to score you have to shoot.

This could be the finest Tribe team since the days of Chester Giermak, according to the experts. The two chief aims are, of course, the Big Six championship—something that has become a habit in Williamsburg, and a bid to the Conference tourney in March.

THE CLASSES

1917 Z. T. Kyle has been named supervisor of the school libraries and textbooks division of the State Department of Education. Kyle, formerly an associate supervisor of the division, assumed his new duties November 1. Kyle has been with the Department of Education for several years and is a former principal of Andrew Lewis High School in Salem and a past president of the Virginia Education Association.

1925 H. I. Willett, superintendent of public schools in Richmond, has been named one of three candidates for the office of president-elect of the American Association of School Administrators for the year beginning March 15, 1953. Willett was recently offered the position of superintendent of schools in New Orleans but did not accept.

1930 Estelle J. Foreman is traveling through Scotland and apparently enjoying the tour. She arrived in Scotland around the first of September and has sent the Alumni office several interesting photographs.

1932 W. Brooks George has been elected chairman of the executive committee of the Associated Tobacco Manufacturers. George is assistant to the president of Larus and Brother Company in Richmond and is a director of the Bank of Virginia and of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

1939 Arthur Briggs Hanson has been elected president of Old Boys Association of Episcopal High School in Alexandria. He is the youngest person ever to be elected to that office. Hanson is a retiring member of the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni.

1940 Secretary,
WILLETTE CHAMBERS (ROGERS)
2315 Pioneer Road
Evanston, Illinois

My eight year old daughter, Sarah, read recently that Thomas Jefferson went to William and Mary. When she asked me if he was there when I was, I aged, and one of these crazy thoughts flashed through my mind, "this could be and that's why they are so quiet." But Charles Frey sent me the report on Homecoming. I welcomed it more than I would a letter from T. J.

Staying at the Lodge and enjoying a full week end of activity were: Otto Boysen, Charles Roberts, Charles Frey and wives, Carolyn Moses (Lusardi) and Vincent, Marion Milne (Barba) and John, Grace Eliot (St. John) and William and Jack Geddes. Most of this group went to the dance Friday night, the parade and the game the next day. The weather was perfect; the game was won.

Charlie's letter "Met Rudy Tucker while dining at the Inn also saw Merritt Foster, Catherine Edge (Bryant), Barbara Clauson Henderson and Kay Hoover (Dew) at the game. They and their husbands are in the hardware business in Kilmarnock, Va. (I believe)—also saw Bobby Taylor who is in the hardware business with his father in Urbanna, Va. Met Joseph T. Lawler who had been called back into the Navy sometime ago and now expects to stay in. He is a Lt. Commander, at present—stationed in Norfolk."

Thanks to all those who help keep "the spirit of '40" alive by returning faithfully to Williamsburg and to Charles Frey who came through with the news.

Had a lengthy phone conversation with Lillian Waymack Amburguy in an effort to plot some Homecoming plans, and while they didn't work out, we did come up with a definite plan to meet in New York in the spring for some girl-type fun. Hope at this time to meet those of you who never listened to Greely.

1941 Secretary,
LILLIAN DOUGLAS (ANDREW)
Lynch Station, Virginia

When I consented to take over this job, I was a bit skeptical, but your response has been most encouraging and I am enjoying every minute of it.

Mickey Mitchell (Mollenkopf), Nancy Chisholm (Akers) and Bill Edwards reported to me about Homecoming, which we hated to miss. Mickey saw Jimmy Elliott (St. John) and Bill, who are living outside of Hartford and have three children. Bill is a salesman. Also Jane Scofield (Middleton) whose husband is with the Restoration and as a second job does some work with the Episcopalian churches. He has a morning service at Bruton, a service in the college chapel and a small parish in Toano. They have two children.

Congratulations to you, Mickey, for being elected to the Alumni Board of Directors. Our class is proud of both you and Jim Davis. Mickey's husband, Bill, is on the faculty at Princeton and is with the Educational Testing Service. Mickey, Virginia Lee and Dot Whitfield started a Central Jersey Alumni Group which "still has growing pains but at least is still flourishing."

Bill Edwards, who is a Sales Representative for the Texas Co., lives in Richmond and has two daughters, ages 9 and 7. In spite of a broken leg, cast and crutches Bill and Jo Lee managed to make Homecoming and he sent me lots of news. He saw Billy Wyatt and his wife who live in Hampton. Billy is in the clothing business and has two daughters.

Sam Hedgecock and his wife from Martinsville were in Williamsburg for the week end. Sam has two sons and is in the contracting business. Bill Bishop is conducting general practice of medicine in Lawrence. He has one daughter.

Kitty Edge (Bryant) and Tweety are farming outside of Richmond. They have two boys and 11,000 chickens! Raymond Lee Haynie, Jr., is President of the Reedville Oil and Guano Co. He has a boy and a girl.

Louis Rives and his wife were enjoying the occasion. Louis is a lawyer for the government in Washington, D. C. Bob Hornsby, who lives in Williamsburg, is President of the Hornsby Oil Co.

Claude Kelly is practicing medicine in Richmond. Layne Phillips is with the American Furniture Company.

Nancy Chisholm (Akers) and Connie have a new home in Richmond where Connie is with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. Nancy saw many of the same people Bill and Mickey did. Also Herb Kelly, Sid Brooks, Houston Ashworth, Marion Milne (Barba) and John. Marion and John live in Westfield, N. J., and come to Williamsburg quite often. They told Nancy that Frances Seymour (Cooper) had visited Williamsburg in September. She lives in Maplewood, N. J., has three children and the Barbas see them often.

Houston Ashworth, after four years in the army, returned to Norfolk to work with Colonial Stores. He is now Sales Manager of the Eastern Division of the Company. He married a "New Jersey Yankee" in 1946 and has a daughter 21½ years old. Hookie would enjoy having coffee with anyone from school who visits Norfolk. His telephone is 4-7711.

Kay Hoover (Dew) and Bob were also at Homecoming. They have moved to Kilmarnock where Bob and Frank Henderson, '38X, bought a hardware store. Bob and Frank are having the time of their lives and so are Kay and Bobby who love the small town life. Betty Boyd (Parsons) and Bob paid them a visit several months ago on their way home from Florida. They live in Wallingford, Pa. Bud Wooley and family (4 children) stopped by Dew and Henderson's recently. They were moving to Long Island. Kay and Bob hope that other visitors to the Northern Neck will do the same.

Chuck Gondak is still with the Telephone Co. and has recently been transferred from San Francisco to the A.T.&T. office in New York. He married a California girl and has one daughter. Chuck would like to hear from some of the New York City alumni. His address is 149 Friar Lane, Clifton, N. J., and his business address is 195 Broadway, Room 2038, Telephone Exchange 3-9800, Ext. 2718. He was a member of the San Francisco Alumni Association. In N. Y. he has seen Vic Carbonaro, who is still single and in the legal and real estate business on Long Island, and Henry Polumbo, who is first vice-pres. of his dad's Lumber Co. at Paterson, N. J. Pigeon married a Florida girl and is "still a boogie-woogie boy." Chuck has heard that Steve Lenzi is married, has 2 children, lives in New Haven and is with the State Vehicle Department. Chuck is serving as Co-Agent with Jim Davis for the Alumni Fund. Good luck to you both.

Dick Earle writes that he travels southern Wisconsin for Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Co. He and Nancy have three children, ages 8, 5, and 2. Dick says that they are rabid football fans and that his added poundage hasn't hurt his golf game.

Peg Apperly (Knowlton) writes that her third child, second daughter was born in Richmond in July. They spent the summer in Virginia. They live in Plainfield, N. J., where a house, husband and three children keep Peg busy. She reported that Peggy Ford is teaching at Endicott Junior College in Beverly, Mass. and that Mildred Wiltshire (Owens) has just moved to Huntington, W. Va., where her husband is with the C&O. They have two sons.

Josephine Hubbell has a graduate scholarship for this year at New York University. This is beyond her M.A. which she got at Iowa in 1948.

The Detroit Chapter of the Systems & Procedures Association of America has announced the appointment of A. B. Kneip as an Associate Editor of the National Systems and Procedures Quarterly for the period 1952-1953. Art is the Supervisor of Organizational Planning and Procedures at Bull Dog Electric Products Co., Detroit, Michigan.

Sonny Almond is practicing law in Towson, Baltimore County, Md., with Jenifer and Jenifer, with whom he has been associated since 1948 after graduating from the University of Maryland Law School. In 1947 he married Margaret T. Jenifer and in 1950 they built a home four miles north of Towson on several acres of ground. In January 1952 a little blonde girl was born, who was named Jenifer and looks like her pappy! Sonny would like to have calls from any W & M friends passing through.

Both Bob Kern and his father wrote me; Mr. Kern to tell me that Bob was on another of those interesting trips to Chile that were written up in the last issue of the GAZETTE. Bob is back in the U. S. now. He is married and has two daughters and is President of the Bergen County Chapter of the N. Y. Alumni. Mary Colpitts is also active with this group and they both attend N. Y. Alumni meetings, also. Bob lives in Hackensack, N. J.

I wish it were possible to print Ellen Lindsay (Miller) and Kemp Boot's letters entirely. They were most interesting. Ellen and Bill were in Japan from July 1949 until October 1951. Ellen says they saw a lot of beautiful things there, but so much poverty that took away from the traditional beauties of the Far East. Their third child, second son, was born in Yokohama. They are now living in Newport News. Ellen reports that Frances Paul (Bryne) is in Sacramento with her two sons. Her husband was sent to Korea. Mildred Russell is working in the Library of Congress.

Kemp is again serving Uncle Sam—in Korea this time—and will be until 1954 and perhaps longer. Jane and the two boys, ages 4 years and 10 mos., will leave for Japan as soon as possible. Major Winfred L. Hasty is Adjutant of the Group under which Kemp's company operates and he sees him often. Kemp served as National Secretary for Theta Delta Chi in 1946-47 while he was back in Williamsburg finishing his education that the war interrupted. While Kemp and Jane were in Chicago prior to Korea, he was with the U. S. Gypsum Co. in the Controller's Department as a Financial Analyst. They saw Margaret, Brad and Larry Pettet quite regularly. Larry is located in Indianapolis, according to Mike Stousland, who saw him in New York. Mike was vacationing and Larry was on a buying trip. Mike also saw Ed Legum on 5th Avenue but didn't have a chance to talk to him.

Had a nice note from Forrest Murden. As you know from the last issue of the GAZETTE, he is with the U. S. Mission to the U. N.

Margaret Richards (Snyder) and Al are in Edinburg, Ind. Al is a Lt. Col. with the 31st Division at Camp Atterbury. Margaret has seen Cleo Tweedy who is a nurse there. Margaret and her son and daughter spent a week end with us in May when she was on her way to join Al and we really enjoyed reliving the old days.

Betty Wood (Bradley) and Dan returned to W & M in the fall of 1950 and received law degrees in June 1952. They were both admitted to the Virginia Bar in February 1952 and now they both work in the law office of Dan's dad in Westport, Conn. Betty keeps house and Dan is a "genuine volunteer assistant fire-engine driver" and shoots on the rifle team. Dan is also on the Board of Tax Review.

Ann Mitchell (Reeves) writes that her two children, boy and girl, and her house keep her well occupied.

Marie Cole (Tettelbach) lives in East Hartford, Conn. and has three children, ages 5, 4 and 10 mos. She and Jack bought a home there two years ago. She is active in the PTA, Ladies' Guild, Cemetery Board, a bowling league and a volleyball league in the summer. Jack is with United Aircraft, as is Gene Ellis, whom Marie has seen several times. Her brother, Harold Cole, is with Bell Aircraft Co., has two daughters and a home on a canal that leads to Long Island Sound.

Margaret Jahnke (Brennan) and John moved to Hillsdale, N. J., in May. They have three children, Mary 8, Johnny 6, and Jimmy 2. John works in the Pa. Exchange Bank. They see Kitty Britton (Morton) occasionally. Kitty lives in Ridgewood.

Jane Barham (Flinn) and Harvey, '34X, are in Alberta. He is with a local lumber company and they have two girls and a boy, 7, 6, and 3. They bought a home three years ago. Jane is doing some substitute teaching this year and says they stay pretty close to home except for football games in the fall. She has seen Idell Baker (Hundley) at games.

Wallace and I have been in our new home for about a year. He is a real estate and general insurance agent in Altavista. In response to many questions of "Where, pray tell, is Lynch Station?", let me try to explain. We are three miles out of Altavista which is between Lynchburg and Danville on US 29. Know now? We have a daughter who is five and a son who is three. I'm too busy with children, housework, Woman's Club, Little Theatre, etc., but love it all—especially this job! Hope you'll continue to be as cooperative. I wish I could answer every letter but it's impossible. Thanks so much for the very entertaining letters and keep 'em coming.

I am in the midst of last minute preparations for a week's stay in New York. Do hope I'll be successful in getting news of some of our classmates in the New York area for you.

Ed and I were among the few from our class to get back to Williamsburg for Homecoming. It was a perfect Indian Summer day, warm and sunny! Charlotte Mooers (Stevens) drove down from Richmond with us and we arrived just in time for the gala parade. There was an outdoor luncheon for all alums served on the terrace outside what was the Freshman dining hall during our student days. After the football game, we were invited to the alumni building (Brafferton) for coffee and doughnuts. It was grand to see Dinny Forwood (Pate) and Margaret Mitchell (Mollenkopf) as we were reaching for a doughnut! From our class we saw Malcolm Sullivan, Marion Pate (Macon), Ray Duke, Jimmy Howard, Chester Baker and Tom Smith.

Jimmy Howard is general manager for Schlitz Beer Distributors in Richmond.

Tom Smith is a general practitioner at Hayes in Gloucester County, Va.

"Ginger" Sterne (Herndon) and husband Dick visited Charlotte Mooers (Stevens) during July. They had just returned to the States after 4 years in Japan. Charlotte says they told her many interesting things about the Orient. Dick is in the diplomatic service.

Sally Bet Walker (Lawson) and her husband Dunbar, who is a lieutenant commander in the Navy, were transferred in July from Oak Harbor, Washington to Newport, Rhode Island, where Dunbar is attending the War College. Sally and her two children, "Dee" and Susan visited her parents at Mobjack, Virginia during the summer.

I visited Edith Rathbun (Bell) in August while she was at the Medical College Hospital in Richmond following the birth of her son Richard. I saw pictures of her other 3 children. What a fine family! Edie says they are happily situated at Meredithville, Virginia on a 400 acre farm.

Oliver Foster with his wife and little daughter, Christy, are now living in Louisville, Kentucky. He was transferred there November 1st from New Haven, Connecticut. He is with the Security Group Insurance Company.

Ed and I would like to wish all of you a Merry Christmas and please let us hear from you during the holidays so that the first GAZETTE of 1953 will be bulging with news of the class of '42.

Homecoming: Depending on my feeble memory—I got a glimpse of Ginny and Earle Chesson, Ceci and Scotty Cunningham, Lila and Buck Bradford. There were others, too, but I'm hoping many more of you are planning to get back to Williamsburg in June. You know it will be our tenth reunion, so keep it in mind and there'll be more word about that later.

For the several news items: From a newspaper account we have learned that Joe Ridder and family have bought another daily newspaper in California, and I assume that he has moved out there. He has been in Duluth, Minn.

Korn have written a book, Electronic Analog Computers, which was published recently by McGraw-Hill Book Company.

Lester Hooker is now associated with the coaching staff at the University of Richmond.

Scotty Cunningham has less than a year to go with the Navy. He has been a briefer ever since his assignment to the Pentagon in January.

Since there's no other news I'll fill in with a few personal items. Our little Rick is still ruling the roost and running me ragged. Realizing that he couldn't be other than the active, all-boy, type, I gave up on taming him down to a "walker" so that my chasing could be at a slower pace; and so from necessity my extra-curricular activities have been curtailed for a while. The past six weeks have been devoted as much as possible to campaigning for IKE—we had a real job to do in Democratic Virginia. The month of November will be busy with preparations for the Christmas Bazaar at church. And so it goes. My outside interests are largely monthly affairs rather than the three-ring-circus situation that I tried to conduct all last winter. What do you do when you have more than one child?

Please let me hear from you via Christmas card notes. I can't urge you strongly enough to keep in touch with William and Mary. I trust that you will also urge others who have gone astray to come back and join with us.

1944 Secretary,
MARJORIE RETZKE (GIBBS)
504 Cameron Avenue
Colonial Heights, Virginia

This will be a disappointing letter from a disappointed secretary. The news gets less and less, and I get fewer letters and answers to my postal inquiries all the time. I really feel deserted! I do have a few interesting items:

Louise Spaulding (Hollis) and John have moved from Portsmouth to Norfolk. Johnny has a new position as Assistant U. S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia.

Marge

Recent newspaper reports stated that Dixon L. Foster was chosen to lead the "Democrats for Eisenhower" organization in Lancaster County, Va.

A card from the R. C. Williamsons tells they spent sometime in Atlantic City, N. J., recently, conventioning.

Mary Atkinson (Hoenshel) brings us up to date with this issue. She and Bob were married in Sept. 1942. She finished her work for her degree at Boston U. and Columbia. She traveled all over with her husband during the war, after which they settled down in Huntington, N. Y. They have two children— Sally, 6, and Rob, 3½. They bought their home in Huntington (8 Severin Pl.) 3 years ago. Bob commutes to N. Y. every day to work in the advertising end of textiles. Mary says she'd love to hear from some old friends.

We had a recent interesting letter from Lt. Bill Remick, commanding officer of U.S.S. L.S.T. 692, who, at the time, was at sea on his way back to the states after about a year of police action in the Pacific, namely off Korea. His ship completed a secret operation against the Communists in Wonsan Harbor, making an amphibious landing in the North Korean harbor ringed on three sides by coastal defense guns of the Reds. Protected by the 16" rifles of the battleship Iowa and the guns of other allied warships, LTS 692 accomplished her mission and escaped with no casualties, although shrapnel from near misses sprayed her decks.

I am sorry to report I was unable to get to Williamsburg for Homecoming, nor have I heard any news of classmates who attended. Wayne was out-of-town in Akron, O., attending a 2-week Good-year Merchandising School.

And that's it. If you know of an alumnus of 1944, or any other year, who is not a member of the society and therefore doesn't receive the ALUMNI GAZETTE, pass your copy along and urge him to "join up" and contribute to the William and Mary Fund. The College values the interest of its alumni, and surely there must be more loyal alumni than the percentage of those contributing would indicate!

It's time for me to "solicit" Christmas cards from you again. And news of the sender will be the nicest "greeting" I could receive. Add my name to your list now. My sincere best wishes for happy holidays to all of you too.

Surprise! Your "ancienne" (for the non-French-speaking, that refers to my former state, not my age) secretary is guest-scribing for a guest scribe. News is rather sparse from 'way out here, but it's more or less what one who doesn't write letters herself deserves.

the moment very, very cold, exasperatingly windy, but beguilingly sunny withal. May you all have thirteen desserts Christmas Eve (an old Provençal custom)—if you want them, that is.

There was a big picture article about Edie in the Washington Post a few weeks ago, with an article about her being one of the several persons assigned by Point Four to administer a locust control program ranging from Africa through the Near East and into India. In cooperation with governments of several nations, she and her colleagues will work to reduce the eight-million-dollar damage caused annually by the hungry pests. Edie is in charge of the Beirut office of the program. She is looking forward to seeing the sights of that lovely town and already has a nice apartment with the Mediterranean view. Edie had been working for several months on the locust-control program in Washington before leaving for points East. En route she enjoyed sprees in New York and Rome. Last summer she vacationed in Canada, as well as in California, where the biennial convention of Gamma Phi Beta was held.

Last winter and spring Edie visited several of our classmates and gave us the word on their health and happiness. Mary Jane Chamberlain (Howard), her husband Vaughan, and boys Vaughan Henry and Christopher live in a lovely house-with-farm just outside of Roanoke. Edie saw GINNY Baureithel (Leopold) and Bill and Ginny's parents in Pennsylvania. Ginny has been taking singing lessons and doing wonderful Christmas recordings with a choir of 13. Our locust-girl also saw Rachel Lyne (Jorgensen), Bill, the Lyne parents, and Rachel's sister Rosemary, but the star of that visit was young Carl William Jorgensen, a handsome newcomer. Bill has a job with Westinghouse. They have moved to 5110 Greenwich Ave., Baltimore 29 (Apt. d-6).

Speaking of Rachel, she wrote some time ago that she had had a nice reunion with Mary Ellen MacLean (Hall) and Bob in Baltimore.

Antoinette Robinson visited the Bartletts (Catharine Tomlinson) last year. Kay now has a girl and a boy. Bart called me in Marseille a few months ago, when his ship put in at Cannes, and I was hoping to see him here, but he didn't get this far. He was doing his Naval Reserve duty with the Sixth Fleet (Mediterranean).

Jean Ferebee (Reynolds) now lives at 3815 Valley Ridge Road, Dallas 9, Texas, with her doctor-husband Bill, their son and daughter. They like Dallas, where Jean is Vice-President of the Gamma Phi alumnae, and have been visited by Jean's Army Nurse sister, Connie.

I just received word of my former roommate's wedding on 13 September at the Universalist Church in Washington: Janet Staebner to Richard Austin.

A wonderfully newsy letter from the Carters gives us their new address; please note it at the end of this column, as it's they who need your letters for the next issue. Joan Worstell (Carter) and the Rev. J. P. Carter moved to 1710 Mohle Drive, Austin, Texas, with Christine, 1, and Steve, 4. Jack is Episcopal student chaplain at the University of Texas and has nearly as many Episcopalians in his fold as there were students at W & M in our day—1,200 strong. Ever energetic, he is now planning construction of a new parish house. The non-credit course Jack is teaching sounds most interesting, a broad survey of anthropology, philosophy, economics, etc., in the light of the Christian faith, entitled, "Christianity and the Modern World." His lectures range from Democritus to Sartre, which is quite a span. Next year Jack will take up some studies at the University, including languages, with a possible European study-tour as a result.

Ernest Priest was ordained priest early this fall in the Church of England in Canada. He is serving in Thamesville, Ontario, a progressive industrial community near Detroit. Most of the congregation is comprised of young war veterans and their wives. Ernest likes Canada and his work.

R. C. Williamson and his father-in-law own a bottled gas and appliance works in Richmond, which gives R. C. a pleasurable opportunity of meeting the public frequently. He and his wife have one child.

Howard Douglass lives in Berea, Ohio, near Cleveland, and works as a research scientist specializing in the study of high-energy rocket propellants for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. He lectures to visiting Army officers. His wife, Lois, is studying music at Baldwin-Wallace College. On the side Howard runs a commercial photography business, doing work for a publisher who puts out institutional literature. In his spare time Howard leads a 14-piece dance band that hires out for $50 an hour!

Sumner Rand is the drama-literary-celebrity editor for an Orlando, Florida, newspaper.

Charles Harrington spent several years working with one of the U. S. educational missions in Central America, but is now back in the States. At last word, he was working on a doctorate in Latin American studies at the University of New Mexico.

The Rev. William Clancy Heffner is continuing his steadily growing work as one of the two American missionaries on Okinawa. He is the first from the Episcopal Church to go there. He would appreciate hearing from classmates. Write to Box 47, Uaha Central Post Office, Uaha, Okinawa.

Dick Owen, living in Clewiston, Florida, has been doing a lot of little theatre work and sees Sumner Rand occasionally.

Jack Carter has recently seen two of our former professors, Dr. Royall Embree, who is in the Department of Educational Psychology at the University of Texas, and Dr. Charles Harrison, who is Professor of English at Sewanee and has just become Dean of the Faculty.

All these tidbits came from your next correspondents, who are really working overtime to help me so much. Joan wound up saying that church bazaars are keeping her busy, that it's nice to be so close to the University and enjoy the events there, the football especially now, and that Austin is a lovely place to be.

Both the Alumni Office and your correspondent-in-absentia compliment and congratulate the guest writers for their very excellent class letters. The hard work in ferreting out news and presenting it so readably is greatly appreciated. And good for the class members in general for supporting them so well!

Please be sure to write to Joan and Jack Carter (The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Carter), at 1710 Mohle Drive, Austin, Texas, with a word of latest developments with you for the next GAZETTE. Deadline: they should have your letters before the end of January without fail. Make it one of your New Year's resolutions.

I forgot to say that I have just had a delightful week in Copenhagen and another in Italy. Last spring I drove my parents around France, into Italy a bit, and through part of England. Prime object of interest at the moment, of course, Election news, keeps me glued to my little box of static most of my free time.

A happy, peaceful Christmas and health and happiness in the Year of Our Lord 1953 to the Class of '45.

1946 Secretary,
SUZANNE FLORENCE MCGEACHIN
113 Delancey Avenue
Mamaroneck, New York

By the time this issue of the GAZETTE is in your hands the new President of the United States will have been elected; however, at the time of this deadline, I am about to "die" of suspense wondering as to the outcome of the voting. Poor nerves are all but shattered!! Add to that an increasing lack of correspondence from the '46'ers, and I now find that I am forced to type with my knuckles. Well, such is life!

Sue

At least we have more news from Shen Kressler (Henricks), '47. Seems unbelievable, but Shen actually won that trip abroad. It was a two weeks trip by Air, hitting London, Dublin and Paris. Imagine, Shen was notified a week after she was married that she had won this trip on a $1.00 chance she took. Such excitement! However, wonderful as it was, Shen admits that it is awfully nice to be home with Bob again. Bob is working for Strawbridges in Philadelphia, and they are still in the process of fixing up their apartment.

Joan Kelley (Condell), '48, and Bill went to Sea Island, Georgia on their honeymoon, and are setting up house-keeping at—219 Lynnwood St., Alexandria, Va., Apt. 204.

Haven't quite caught up with Shirley Ostemeyer (Clark), '48, and Barney since their return, but understand that they were going to Miami and then perhaps from there fly to Nassau and Havana. Shirley and Barney will be living at 2700 Grand Concourse, Bronx, N. Y.

Carol MacNeil (Gettings) and Roger are living at 1 Sycamore St., Worcester, Mass.

Had a very nice letter from Jinx Stephens (Daniel). Jinx and Dan have a recent addition to the family—a son—Robert Edmond (Bobby). She wrote that Phyl Lasky (Renick) and Chuck are building a home in Bon Air, Richmond. Phyl and Chuck now have two little girls—Suzie and Karen. Karen was born June 13th.

Discovered another W & M Alumnus in this part of the country, Gene Hanofee—Gene was originally in the Class of '44, I believe, and returned to W & M after the war. Gene is now in White Plains, New York, practicing law.

It may seem a bit abrupt—but—that's all! Just to be repetitious, may I urge you all, once again—please write.

And, with the future in mind, I would like to wish you all a very Merry Christmas, and all of the best in the New Year!

Fall weather brings thoughts of home-coming, but like many of you I was not able to make it this year. Thanks to those of you who wrote to me while in the "old friends, old places" mood.

Nellie Jackson was here in New York for a brief visit. Ruth Sinclair and I were lucky enough to kidnap her for one evening. Over dinner, Nell told us that she was finishing up her job at the Duke Hospital and that she would return home to Alabama for a short visit, before tackling the job hunt. She hopes to find something nearer home for a change since she has been away either in Spain or Durham ever since graduation.

Marilyn Woodberry (Brown) and her husband and daughter have settled in Gainesville, Georgia, where Pep is setting up his medical practice. After a long stretch in the Army, this is the first time the Brown's have really had a "home."

Barbara Davidson (Winston) and Ralph announce that their family is now three, with the addition of daughter Elizabeth Ann.

This past summer, Mary Stuart Mason took time out on her long trip in the far west, to visit with Susie Seay (Henzie) in Los Angeles.

Louise Elder (Gillispe) and Marshall have purchased a home in Chicago where Marshall is employed by International Harvester.

Jo Hubbell is working on her doctorate in physical education at New York University.

Lou Bailey, Norm Martin and Jim Vickers initiated a get-together for some of the New York alumni several weeks ago. About 30 of us turned out for a two hour session and news and beer at P. J. Clark's. I'm not sure but what Lou wasn't prompted by his earnest desire to find an apartment for he canvassed the entire group for leads. Dot Ferenbaugh, who recently settled at 13 Christopher Place, was there and regaled us with her stories including those about her encounter with Maggie Higgins.

The October 28th papers announced the engagement of Ruth Sinclair to Decius Veasey. After a spring wedding, Ruth will be leaving New York for Haverhill, Mass.

Liz Milander (Bowman) and Jim have settled in Harrisonburg, Virginia.

Woody Wayland writes that he is now working for U. S. Steel as a field auditor. His territory includes the area from Pennsylvania to California and South Texas to Saskatchewan. Anywhere that there is oil.

Joan Kelly (Garrison) and Ernie announce the arrival of a daughter Amy Lee. The entire Garrison family were in Plainfield, New Jersey, for the event.

The New York Alumni are looking forward to the visit the college choir will make the latter part of November or early December. The plans include a television appearance.

Janet Campbell (Alley) is holding down the home front while husband Lof-ton is on duty with the Quartermaster Corp., 2nd Infantry Division, in Japan and Korea.

Katherine Settle (Wright) tells me that she and Fred have been bitten by the European bug and are thinking about applying for a Fulbright scholarship when Fred finishes at the University of Chicago in June. They have their eyes on the University of Dijon in Burgundy.

This is going in ahead of schedule so that I can take off for a long week end visit with Jill Stauf (Elliott) and Owen down in Maryland. I don't think they'll do it again—but that confusion with the pictures in the last issue brought me some mail from those observing souls who noticed the change.

1948 Secretary,
MARY MINTON CREGOR (EITEL)

Sunny Sunstrom (Taylor) called me shortly after the October GAZETTE came out to say she and her husband, an Army officer, were also stationed at Monmouth. They were living about a mile from us but by the time this appears in print, Bud should be discharged and back at his law practice in New York City. Sunny gave me their Army itinerary for the past two years. It included Washington, Camp Atterbury, and now Monmouth, with a year's tour of duty in Korea for Bud. We have certainly enjoyed seeing them.

Fred Tubbs returned from overseas in August and now he and Margo and the two girls are settled in Gainesville, Florida, where Fred is working on his Masters in Education at the University of Florida. While they were in Norfolk on a visit they saw Bill and Evelyn Armstrong Harper, and Bill and Becky Bechtol (Garrison) who are now living in Norfolk with the addition of Raymond Ernest—all 9 lbs. 9 oz. of him.

Jim Sutherland was graduated from the Ford Motor Company's Merchandizing

School last June at company headquarters in Dearborn, Michigan. He's in the truck and fleet sales department of the Virginia Sales District. Jim took an intensified training course in sales, service, business management and other phases of company-dealer relations. He joined the Ford Company two years ago when the Virginia Ford District offices were located in Norfolk and worked for 18 months in the district service department.

Lois Willis Vorhis sent a card announcing the arrival of David Allen in Yokohama. She says he now has scads of official papers to prove his U. S. citizenship. She is still enjoying Japan and hopes to stay on another year or so. Says there are still so many things to see and do. Her husband is with the State Department.

Martha Ann Adams received her Master of Arts degree from the University of Iowa last June.

Harry Wenning wrote a most interesting letter in October. After graduation, he entered M.I.T. and combined the course in Architecture with the course in Building Engineering and Construction and received his degree in Architecture last June. He now has a good position as Architectural Engineer with one of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey subsidiaries—The International Petroleum Co., Ltd. with offices in Coral Gables, Florida. At the time of his letter, Harry was working on a house in Miami and as soon as it was completed he was to leave for Talara, Peru, where his company is erecting a modern city. His job is to see that the buildings he designs are put up correctly. He said that Frank Deierhoi had just arrived from serving in the armed forces over in Germany. Incidentally, Frank's architectural leanings are contemporary. Sounds like Williamsburg failed to rub off.

Jeannie Bevans wrote that she had a perfect flight over to Japan. The plane was a lush 2 decker stratorcruiser complete with cocktail lounge on the lower deck. A couple of days after her arrival, she spent some time at Atami, a resort town on the Japanese "Riviera." There she was introduced to sukiyaki and sake, both of which she enjoyed thoroughly. She is now in Tokyo in the middle of a Japanese community—due to the scarcity of Government quarters. To quote: "The house is a rare object. It was built by a Japanese who thinks it is Western style. It's not. It's not Japanese either." Although they are lacking many comforts and necessities she says she is seeing things she would never have seen had they gone straight into one of the housing areas. Some of the women in the neighborhood have brought over various rice dishes and flowers from time to time—her closest neighbor even made her a summer kimona. The "camping out" is due to end soon, however, as she will be moving to Yokohama as soon as quarters are available. She is with her sister and brother-in-law who is in the Army.

We had a delightful Saturday not long ago at Princeton. Jack Fritz was the perfect host and showed us the school and environs. It really is a beautiful place. The new modern library is something out of this world. It certainly does not resemble any library we were ever in. It should be most conducive to study. We went to the football game and were joined later on by Ken Scott, who is working on his Doctors in Politics. Got a glimpse of Dick Quinn at the game but he didn't see us.

THE WORLD GOES AROUND AND WE SEEM TO GO WITH IT . . . Joan Kelley (Condell) has returned to Virginia. After her marriage this fall, she and Bill moved to Alexandria. Frank Emmerson has left Virginia and moved to West Palm Beach, Florida. Margaret Alphin is now at Madison College in Harrisonburg. Franklin Bon has left Virginia for sunny California and is now living in Long Beach. Robert and Mary Lou Sagnette Steckroth are in Warwick City. Bob is with Warwick High School. Anna Margaret Shaw (Chandler) has moved from Dillingham, Alaska, to Ketchikan, Alaska. Tom Athey is living back in the Burg now. Charley and Jane Coleman Teach are back in Pittsburgh after a year or so in Indianapolis. Billy May has moved from Newport News to Hilton Village.

When you send out your Christmas cards, please send me one, too. Better still, how about a note on it with some news. In the meantime, a Merry, Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all of you.

1949 Secretary,
BARBARA E. SEIFERT
1224 Cleveland Street
Baltimore 30, Maryland

Well, how-de-do once more. Before the Christmas rush gets upon you, how about putting me on your card list—any added messages will be appreciated.

An especially newsy letter from Bobbie Stoltz (Swann) is responsible for most of the items following. The Swanns are planning to move to Cleveland in December and are anxious to contact W&M-ites in that area.

Barbara

Bernie and Bobbie Swann had a kind of going-away party and quite a few of our friends were there. Cal Coghill is working for the State Corporation Commission; Spiz Davis and Baxter Bell are currently junior med students at MCV. Wesley Thompson has a new daughter; also Norris Moses and Elaine Akehurst (Moses) are parents of Virginia Lane (Ginger). Lyle Thornhill works for Richmond Life Insurance, and Bobbie Brink (Whitehurst) and Stu have a two year old boy. Sounds like quite a party.

Seen and heard at the Wake Forest game were: Tom Athey who is back for law school; Dody Thomas who is coaching at Bowling Green; Snake Drake who is coaching in the Hampton Roads area; Frank Scott who is in real estate in Petersburg; also Dick Maddox, Ann Litts, and Jimmy Freeman.

Harry Wenning down in Carol Gables, Florida contributed a fine long letter. He is an architect-engineer with International Petroleum (a part of Standard Oil) and by now should be in Peru where the company is constructing a brand new city of 25,000 in brick and reinforced concrete. Harry spent three years at M.I.T. and received a degree this past June. While up there Harry played on the rugby team; he wound up as high scorer, chief ground gainer, punter and extra point and field goal kicker. Thanks to Mr. Kocher at W & M, Harry had one of the top theses and top models. Thanks to Harry for your grand letter.

Here are some odds and ends. Mary Berger and dentist-husband and young son are in Harrisonburg. Frances Charlton (Dingman) and her West Point husband are having a fine time traveling around the U. S. for the Army. El Pendleton (Monahan) is living in a trailer in Alaska. Ed Griffin has completed marine boot training.

That's all for now. Be good and write to me.

1950 Secretary,
JEANNETTE KEIMLING
Apt. 9, 20 Christopher Street
New York 14, N. Y.

Martha, Jane and I have moved to Greenwich Village where we have a courtyard, fireplace, and a real mouse, and I'm the chief candidate for Village idiot. Jane has just finished shaking her bells as we played Cask-of-Amontillado while walling up the mouse with wood putty. Hope I can get her off that chair before sundown.

Jeannette

But we're deliciously happy and we did it all ourselves—painted the living-room Pepto-Bismol pink, bedrooms bilious blue and grisly green, and are now doing up the kitchen in Dorian Gray.

About a month ago the coterie decided to invite people for a beer. And before you can say "big green" we had 20 relatively new grads in P. J. Clark's. That's where they filmed the interesting scenes in "Lost Weekend." Nobody got misplaced and we found out that Joe Clark is taking some courses at N.Y.U. and Jeep Friedman is taking his masters to the tune of 17 hours and working on some acts on the side. Elaine Diehm is with Altman's and her roommate Pat Hitchcock is with Cunningham and Walsh. Both live near us in this terrible Bohemian district. Ed Brown is now with Ted Bates Agency and taking Psychoceamics (the study of crackpots) in his spare time. Lou Baily went to a convention in Miami and is now an editor for Fairchild.

But the real bonanza was Homecoming. I finally located Lee Renander (Shubert) and Al. They live about two doors away from my parents in Norfolk. Al expects to be out of the Navy in about six months. Also in Norfolk are Ensign Bob and Liz Daniels Shuman (Bob's on the destroyer Fox), Skippy Beacher, Nicky Dillard Dewing, and Nancy Kurtz Falk. Also saw Sue Hines (Davis) and Randy with their son.

Sure risks are Jack Gully, an adjuster for State Farm Mutual in Lynchburg, and Dick Duncan, a Marine Special Agent for Aetna Fire Insurance in Bridgeport, Conn.

Dave Saunders is also in Conn. pursuing piano and sustaining life as a part-time psychologist.

Lt. Cary (Buddy) and Virginia Moore Willcox have a daughter, Linda Lee. Buddy is in Korea with the 45th Infantry Division.

Ensign Leo Bliley of the Coast Guard is on the USCG Cutter Iriquios now stationed at Honolulu, T. H.

Elly Seiler (Flagg) says that husband Jay is studying law at the U. of Md. and in the same class is Roy Lorenz.

In a new house in Silver Spring, Md. live Jean "Pete" Peter (Beckett) and Don. They also have a new little boy, Stephen Donald, to keep his big two-year-old brother, Eddie, company. Don is with CIA in Washington.

Pat Stringham said goodbye to us about two months ago and has taken her 28 panda bears to live in Frankfurt, Germany. She's going to enjoy touring for a while and then perhaps work for the government. Apparently, Bill Jackson and George Hamill are on their way back from Europe—Bill from Rome, but just for a vacation.

Just promoted to Traffic and Sales Representative for Eastern Air Lines in Atlanta is Henry Boschen.

It's a joy to this old ex-schoolteacher to hear about so many people doing graduate work. Jesse Wilson is back at Columbia for the fall session; Ludy Hoover is in her third year at MCV and leading her class; Bob Jenkins is doing biological research on the rose at Hyattsville, Md.; Ray Harcum, with wife Phoebe Martin in tow, is working in psychology at Michigan; and Rod LaMontagne is at Harvard.

More people with the government are Harry Robison in Norfolk and Ed Marsh in Washington.

Hugh Haynie has left the Coast Guard and is back with the Richmond Times-Dispatch. I understand that he does the main cartoon two or three times a week. Glenn Garrison is free-lancing in Rochester, N. Y.

Ralph Floyd and Knox Ramsey have stayed with football. Ralph is coaching at the University of Richmond, and Knox and wife Betty Lu Brand are in Philadelphia where Knox is with the Eagles.

Marcia MacKenzie (Kirkpatrick) and Jim have left Fort Benning, Ga. for Fort Knox, Ky.

Unfortunately, most of my information is word-of-gossip, so if I have misrepresented, I hope I'll hear about it. I just hope I'll hear. As a bribe, I have about forty new addresses I'll exchange for news. Merry Christmas.

1951 Secretary,
BETTY LEE HICKS
204 Church Street
Martinsville, Virginia

I've been traveling here, there, and everywhere for the last ten days on a much needed vacation. Just realized that my letter was due, so I'll have to stay put tonight and try to collect my thoughts and bits of news. Got an awful feeling that it will be a pretty feeble attempt.

Betty

Way back the latter part of September, Joyce Miller and I went on a safari up to Washington to attend Evie Gardner (King's) wedding. Before I get involved and forget to mention it, Joyce is teaching first grade in a county school outside Danville.

There were many William and Mary people there. We saw Vi Marsland who is doing hush-hush work for the government and Walt Raymond who is still in the Army and stationed in Washington.

Peg Harman came from Emporia where she's again teaching school. She had just finished some education courses in summer school. Stevie Bartlett (St. Clair) and Walt were up from Norfolk where he's still putting in time. Stevie is teaching again this year.

Marie Philips (Jacobson) and Jake came down from Annapolis. They had to return right after the wedding to take their "monster" off the baby sitter's hands. Ann Cleaver (Marsh) and Ed, B. J. Somerville, and Marty Holland represented the Washington area. Jane Kyle (Mead) and Bob are also settled in D. C.

The Army wives were there in force—Ina Saville (Pitts) who is awaiting transportation to Germany, Mary Zimmerman (Polberg) who is waiting for Don to return from Korea, and Joan Howard.

Nancy Kurtz (Palck) and George came up from Virginia Beach. Nancy is teaching while George serves in the Coast Guard. Jan Dickerson is working in the office of an insurance firm in Richmond.

Also saw Edie Moser. After the reception the more lively guests went on to the 823 Club and when it closed, migrated to Edie's home in Arlington.

Sometime ago the Danville Chapter of the Alumni Association had a very successful dinner meeting. President Chandler and Jimmy Barnes came over to speak and answer questions. Ed Grimsley came along too. In case you haven't noticed, he's now managing editor of the GAZETTE.

Arnold Petty and George Ingram also attended the meeting. George is teaching at Hargrave. Nancy Leigh Hall (Gibbs) said she was teaching in Danville, but felt like most of her time was devoted to football.

From all indications Homecoming was a most successful week end. My news is rather sparse because I couldn't make it to Billsburg until game time. I know we beat Richmond, but I spent most of the game searching through the crowd for familiar faces. Saw George Lyon and Bernie Nolan still in Marine green. Talked to Stevie Bartlett (St. Clair) on the phone. Sarah Enos and Virginia Gallaher appeared out of nowhere. Sarah and Sidna Chockley are still teaching in Lynchburg, as is Ginny outside Richmond.

Virginia Cottrell (Linkenauer) and Mont took time from their busy schedule to enjoy the week end. Ginny is teaching in Richmond and Mont is interning in physiotherapy. Charlotte Walker came up from Norfolk where she's working for the government. Vi Marsland and Bobbie Lamont came down with the troops from Washington.

Ran into Jack Ulrich after the game. He has picked up where he left off several years ago and is back in school. Also saw Bill Nixon. He's working toward his B.C.L. and had been doing some vigorous political campaigning in connection with the national election. Rusty Davis was down from graduate school at Michigan.

Found Carol Gardner (Lorenz) and Roy at the Alumni reception in The Braferton. They're living in Baltimore; Roy is still with Revere Copper. Chuck Redding appeared on the scene too, still doing well with the telephone company in Washington.

Bummed a ride north with Jack Outcault. He's managing the restaurant at the airport in D. C. Unkie McKean rode along with us. He's teaching ancient history and biology and coaching football at a private boys school in the District.

Now for slim bits of news. I got an anonymous post card from Paris. Am I right in guessing that Connie O'Connor took a four-month leave of absence from G. E. to tour Europe?

Carolyn Hooper (Extract) writes that after a short sojourn at Fort Sill Artillery School, Ed received his overseas orders and is now in Korea. His address is Lt. Edwin M. Extract, 02004143, C Battery, 49th FA Battalion, APO 7, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.

Janice Quick (Pickrell) and Jim are out in Kansas City. Jim is a special agent for the F.B.I. and they're kept on the move. She said Billie Jo Hickman was still with the Federal Reserve in Washington which gave her an opportunity to travel.

Anne Staples has completed her lab technicians' course at the University of Virginia and is now working in the hospital there.

Joan Padden is out in Kansas City now too. She transferred to the midwest so she could fly to either coast and is hoping to soon have enough seniority to fly international. TWA provides free passage for their employees which resulted in a trip to Bermuda last May. Now Joan's laying plans to go to Canada and Mexico. And every now and then she takes a flight into New York City to keep a luncheon date with Martha Wood, Jane Waters and Jeannette Keimling. Sounds wonderful.

Billie Potts (Place) and Jack are living in Williamsburg while he is back in school after 4 years active duty with the Marine Corps.

Joan Kohler is now working in the reference department of the Lakewood Public Library. After getting her masters she took a 10 day vacation in Georgia. She ran into Betty Oliver in Macon and Thelma Franklin in Atlanta.

Joan said Bev Brauer is working in Rocky Mount, N. C., for the Social Security Board.

Lee Renander (Shubert) is working for the Office of Industrial Relations in Norfolk. She says the place is loaded with W & M people—Jack Saunders, Henley Brewbaker, and John Jesse. Phil Machen is with the same outfit in Florida. Lee also says living in Norfolk is not much different from Williamsburg with Don and Katherine Grey, Mac McCoy, Jim Sutherland, Jack Gulley, Claude and Dundy Nock, and Jan Laskey (Smith) and Gordon around. They even saw Nancilyn Miller (Parker) and Joe when they were east on vacation from California. Nuff said.

Last, but not least—I hope, comes '52. With Homecoming long past (sure was good to see you), it's again time for more news. Many thanks to '51-er Betty Hicks, who welcomed us in with the last issue.

Doris

And a hearty hello to all the rest of her class. Getting down to the letter pile, Camille Grimes writes that she has recuperated from her polio attack enough to make wedding plans for November. Fiancé Bruce Henderson is now in the Army. Lots of luck to you both.

A long, lengthy letter from another serviceman brought some news from Fort Bragg, N. C. Lt. Jim Anthony and wife Yvette Hickey, '51, reported running into Arden Hennig (Madison) and her husband Jack, also stationed at Bragg. As we go to press, Jim and Yvette are awaiting the birth of another dependent. Pass the cigars!

Some of our classmates just couldn't leave the scholastic atmosphere. Edward Peeples is working on his M.A. at the U. of Virginia. He added in his letter that Ginny Gall has started her job at Langley Field. Bernie Wittcamp and Jim "Rocky" O'Grady are both studying at MCV in Richmond, while Bob Landen is at the U. of Michigan for his graduate work. Dr. Woodbridge and the department of Jurisprudence have lured back Jack Buchheit, Del Eure, Bruce Lester, Pete Shebell, Bill Nixon, and Allen Gordon for study on their B.C.L.'s. Fred Allen is also continuing work on his masters. A card from Gene Gurlitz states that he is studying scene design at the Yale Department of Drama. This past summer Gene was doing backstage work at a summer-stock theatre in Conn.

The Sociology department should be proud of its progeny—"Johnny" Braun is doing social work in Portsmouth and "Sibby" Scott is doing likewise in Petersburg. "Sibby" reports that Anne Grimes is having a bang-up time teaching school in Arlington.

After making like a tourist in England this summer, Phil Denman has started working for the Continental Insurance Co. in New York—claims the subway "Rush" is lots worse than a Saturday 8 o'clock any time. Phil said that Fort Sill has accumulated a lot of W & M brass. Lt's. Bob Griffin and wife, Cammie Spotts, Dickie Lewis and wife, Peggy Derring, George Zupko and wife, Helen, Jim Baber, and Ralph Francis are part of our contingent out that-a way.

Little Miss Ann Mason writes that she's working in the medical library of MCV. Ann really hit the vacation spots last summer—Bermuda, New York, Virginia Beach! She said in her letter that Mary Rogers King and her brand-new husband are now living in Chicago. Mary Alyce Harvey (Tuska) writes that friends can get in touch with her and Jim at P. O. Box 77, Dutch Neck, New Jersey.

In his letter, Aviation Cadet John Leslie said that he's studying hard to become a radar observer. He hopes to get his commission sometime in March. John reports that Bob Parker, '51, is on the Korean front at Heartbreak Ridge. In case some of you would like to write Bob, his address is: 2nd Lt. Robert E. Parker, Jr., US-1813371, Battery A, 64th Field Art. Bn., APO 25 c/o Postmaster, San Francisco, California. And I know that John would appreciate getting some letters, too. You can write him A/C John W. Leslie, Jr., AD24260045, 3565th Student Sqn.,

Class 5311, James Connally AFB, Waco, Texas.

A letter from Ann McGraw reveals that she is "accounting" for General Electric in Schenectady, N. Y. Says she ran across Dick Hildick—right in the next office! Ann's only complaint was of the cold "damnyankee weather"—it really snows up there!

Another "student," Roy Anderson, writes that he's doing his masters work in art at the U. of Alabama. Roy said he appreciated the Alabaman hospitality—that they're extremely friendly down there.

Stopping in at the National Airport in Washington for an interview one day, I met up with Jack Outcalt. Jack's managing the cute cafeteria-dining room there at the airport and likes his job a lot. P.S. I still haven't heard from those airlines!

More news in the next issue. How about some of the rest of you? Write and let me know what you're doing now. O.K.?

Merry Christmas and the best of New Years to you all—wherever you may be!!!

1905

Harry Lewis Yowell, '05X, is reported deceased at Pocahontas, Virginia.

1915

Gardiner Tyler Brooks, '15X, October 15, at Richmond following several weeks illness. Mr. Brooks had been in the real estate and insurance business in Williamsburg for nearly 40 years; the agency which he operated was founded by his father and the oldest in Williamsburg. He was a veteran of World War I, serving overseas with the McGuire Unit in France. He was active in local civic and political affairs. Among his survivors are his wife, the former Miss Charlotte Miles Shipman, '23Ba, a brother, Julian Arlington, '20Bs, and three sisters, Bertha, '23X, Kathryn (Toone), '28Ba, and Claudia, formerly of College Staff.

1917

Vernon Meredith Geddy, '17Ba, died unexpectedly at his home in Williamsburg October 18 at the age of 54. Geddy had been associated with Colonial Williamsburg as a counsel and trustee for 23 years. He was a former judge, city councilman, school board member and Commonwealth's Attorney for Williamsburg and James City County.

While attending William and Mary, Geddy was a member of the varsity football, basketball and baseball teams. He held membership in Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Kappa Sigma fraternities.

A devoted alumnus, Geddy served as a member of the board of directors of the Society of Alumni of the College of William and Mary from 1940 until 1949 and as its president from 1947. He was awarded the alumni medallion by the Society in 1951 in recognition of his contributions and service to the College since his graduation.

Geddy was the son of Thomas Henley

Geddy, '79X; the brother of George Ben Geddy, '17X, Thomas Henley Geddy, Jr., '12, and the nephew of John M. Geddy, '80. His wife, the former Miss Carrie Cole Lane, attended William and Mary as a special student. Geddy's daughter, Caroline Cole Geddy (Frechette) received her B. A. degree in 1950.

Gerould McLean Rumble, '17X, October 2, at Plymouth, North Carolina. He graduated from the law school at the University of Virginia and had practiced law in Norfolk until his death. He was a member of Kappa Alpha.

William T. Francis, '25X, is reported deceased at Salem, Virginia.

1934

J. M. Anderson, '34X, October 11, at Detroit, Michigan. Dr. Anderson received his medical degree from the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond and had practiced medicine in Detroit since that time.

1946

Clifford Earsel Smith, '46X, reported deceased at Norton, Virginia.

1950

Frederick Edgar Hummel, Jr., '50X, September 3, at Las Vegas, Nevada. Second Lieutenant Hummel was piloting his F-80 Shooting Star when it crashed 80 miles northeast of Las Vegas. He was on a routine flying mission when the crash occurred near the Indian Springs Gunnery and Bombing range. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

When's the best time to plug a leak?

Anybody can answer that one: as soon as you notice it. For drops lead to trickles, trickles to torrents—and you've got a whole roof to replace instead of a patch.

It's the same way with socialism, which has grown to such a real threat to our way of life. It's crept into the electric light and power business, for example. The first "drops" were "special cases where the planners decided the federal government ought to take over." But that leak has grown and grown.

The whole electric business is threatened by the people who are trying to drive America into socialism. And the first drops are appearing in other industries and services, too.

When socialism spreads, it isn't a roof you lose—it's your rights and freedoms. And they're much harder to replace than shingles.

"MEET CORLISS ARCHER" will be heard on a new night—FRIDAY—at a new time—9:30 P.M., Eastern Time—over ABC.
