*The first president of the College of William and Mary, James Blair, is this month's cover subject. The painting is by Thomas E. Thorne, head of the Department of Fine Arts, and is a part of a mural that will be presented to the new James Blair High School of James City County by the Parent-Teacher Association. ## It happens every spring

EVERY PROFESSION seems to take particular pride for one reason or another in the jargon that develops around its work. Such professional words are lingual shortcuts, the use of which generally sets the professional apart from the layman and the neophyte. Occasionally some word or phrase will find its way into general usage and it is the intention here to introduce annual giving and commend it to the vocabulary of thoughtful alumni.

Annual giving is a term, developed by the professionals in alumni work, that describes the yearly contributions of former students to their alma mater. It is the theory and practice in many cases that these yearly donations are figured into the working budget of the college and treated in the same way as revenue from endowment, the difference being that the revenue is derived from interested alumni instead of invested capital. As in the case of endowment the income may be used for a specific purpose as directed by the donor, or it may be incorporated into general operating expenses.

Ernest T. Stewart, Jr., Executive Secretary of the American Alumni Council, writing in THE ANNALS OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF POLITICAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCE, discusses the subject of annual giving in a thorough manner, and much of his thinking is reflected here.

A survey of approximately one third of the nation's colleges revealed that in 1954 these institutions received $21,619,035.00 contributed by 791,008 alumni (20.3 percent of those solicited). John A. Pollard cites this figure in his book "How to Raise Money for Higher Education" and observed, "If this annual giving were capitalized at 5 percent, it would represent roughly $430,000,000.00, or about one fourth the the aggregate endowments now possessed by all our American colleges and universities." Alumni support of colleges and universities naturally starts with the organization of the first alumni association at Williams College in 1821. In the years that followed there developed the class days, homecomings and reunions that are characteristic of all alumni programs. However, when it came time to balance the budget it was the trustees, not the alumni, that the President asked to make up the deficit. It was, by and large, an honor to be a trustee and it was considered a responsibility of the College President to get on his Board members financially able to make up this deficit. In 1870 a Yale professor, William Graham Summer, put forth the argument that college graduates might be willing to support their alma maters. He wrote, "Many can never pay the debt; a few can become munificent benefactors. There is a very large number between these two who can and would cheerfully give according to their ability in order that the college might hold the same relative position to future generations which it held to their own."

Twenty years later Yale alumni decided to test Professor Summer's thesis and established the Alumni University Fund. James E. Armstrong of Notre Dame puts it this way, "College presidents wrote all the chapters of the old testament of fund raising in the first 250 years of financing higher education in this country. Then Yale discovered the alumni." Thus was born annual giving. Yale's progress was slow in gaining recognition among its alumni; and even today, sixty-five years after taking that pioneering step according to the American Alumni Council, less than one third of our colleges and universities appear to have made a serious effort to establish and operate an alumni fund.

In tracing the history of alumni giving an interesting interlude develops following World War I—the intensive capital fund drive. The techniques for these campaigns had been perfected as a result of fund drives by the YMCA, the Salvation Army and the Liberty Loan appeals. Many institutions of higher education assisted by fund raising organizations undertook capital campaigns in an effort to establish permanent endowments. Most of these campaigns succeeded and by 1926 sixty-eight of them had raised $149,000,000.00 for higher education; yet, even before the depression it was evident that alumni were tired of paying the same old debt over and over again. The constant pressure and vicious salesmanship eventually produced a reaction of bad feeling against the high-powered efforts. "Urgency was its basis, and a constant state of emergency becomes commonplace." Gradually alumni and education leaders began to see the virtues of annual giving as a method of raising funds on a continuous basis to meet the needs of institutions without annihilating the alumni. They came to realize that in the capital gifts campaign they were trying to meet a continuing need with an intermittent technique.

In Virginia, college fund programs have been operating with varying degrees of success since 1619. That year Sir Edwin Sandys, Treasurer of the Virginia Company, under the authorization of King James I, reported that £1,500 had been collected for the University of Henrico. In 1622 the plans for a Virginia college were abandoned when local Indians massacred at least 347 persons. At the close of the century King William and Queen Mary granted a charter to our College. Their Majesties, the General Assembly and the local merchants were most generous to the new College in Williamsburg, and until the Revolution she enjoyed circumstances of being the richest institution in the Colonies.

The damages inflicted by the War of 1860 are well-known history and financially the College did not see daylight until the early 1900's.

When most colleges were undertaking sizeable fund campaigns in the '20's, William and Mary was quiet. It was not that she did not need the support; it was just that she did not have the alumni. Years later a Charter Day Gift Program was instituted and this in 1950 evolved into the William and Mary Fund.

We started this discussion by speaking of professional jargon. It is hoped that in the months ahead all alumni will take the opportunity to speak of the Alumni Society's program of annual giving—the William and Mary Fund. In so doing you will have employed a conversational short cut to describe what William and Mary alumni are doing to insure the continued quality in their Alma Mater's product. For this standard of educational quality, there can be no short cut, only the continuing effort of all members of our College's family.

The President's House---1732

History house

home of the presidents

Cindy McCalla

HOW does it feel to live in a museum? Just ask President and Mrs. Alvin Duke Chandler who bring the twentieth century into the pre-American Revolutionary house that they call home.

The President's House at William and Mary has served as the home of the presidents for more than two hundred years. Altered several times during this period, the house was restored to its colonial appearance through the generosity of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The Reverend James Blair and four members of the faculty laid the first five bricks of the foundation in 1732. Although the designer of the plans is unknown, alumnus Henry Cary contracted for the erection. The President's House, representative of the earliest type of Georgian dwelling in Virginia, is substantially a replica of the Brafferton Building just opposite.

During colonial times the campus area between the two houses was planted with small clipped trees. A journal entry dated 1777 described the front courtyard as ornamented with gravel walks, trees cut into various forms, and grass.

Following an educational custom that existed in western civilization for a thousand years, some students lived in the President's House. The placing of young boys in the homes of nobles, higher clergy and educators was expected to produce gentlemen and scholars.

When Lord Cornwallis moved the British army to Williamsburg in the spring of 1781, he occupied the President's House as his headquarters. After the Battle of Yorktown the house became a hospital for wounded French officers. During the French stay it caught fire and was badly damaged. All the library and furniture of the president of the College was destroyed. King Louis XVI appropriated enough funds to cover almost the entire cost of repairing the damage.

In 1861 the president, faculty and most students entered the Confederate Army. After the Confederate evacuation following the Battle of Williamsburg, it was arranged for Mrs. Virginia Southall and her family to occupy the house. The building was later chosen for Federal headquarters and partially damaged during this time.

The war took its toll, leaving the Wren Building damaged by fire and the Brafferton with most of the interior woodwork and the floors removed. Opening its doors again in 1865, the College decided to place the library and chemical apparatus in the President's House. In addition the house still accommodated the president and several professors.

Two more fires threatened the colonial structure. In 1879 a defective chimney led to a roof fire which was finally brought under control by a patent pump arrangement belonging to a Williamsburg resident. A fire in 1922 gutted the center hall and the third floor.

When the restoration of the city to its eighteenth century appearance began, the program included the three colonial college buildings, which comprise the oldest such group in the United States. During 1931 the President's House received a complete exterior and a partial interior restoration on the basis of the structure as rebuilt after the fire of 1781. Some minor alterations were made to adapt the house to modern living standards. Construction costs excluding landscaping and outbuildings amounted to $34,000.

According to Mrs. Chandler, the building's thick walls receive a lot of comment from visitors. The walls on the first floor are almost two feet thick. Another peculiarity of her dwelling place is the lack of chandeliers. This feature stems from insufficient funds at the time of construction.

Although opened for exhibition only on special occasions, the President's House is sometimes visited by tourists unaware that they have wandered into a private home. Feeling that such an interest should be rewarded, Mrs. Chandler tries to guide all visitors through the historic building.

During the restoration of the building, the original basement was discovered to have been greatly filled in by accumulated debris from fires and from filling added by a former occupant in an effort to keep water out. Removal of the debris uncovered the brick floors, stone drains, a fireplace and an unusual Dutch oven.

The Reverend James Blair first occupied the President's House. Blair had been sent to England by the General Assembly to secure a charter from King William and Queen Mary. The charter conferred the presidency on him for life.

During several periods of its history the house has not been occupied by the president, including some years of the presidency of Thomas R. Dew, a bachelor; of Robert Saunders (1846-1848); and the years President Benjamin Ewell served in the Confederate Army.

Today the President's House also serves as a display case for the collection of colonial portraits of the Page family. When Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother of Great Britain, visited the College in 1954, she particularly liked the portrait of John Page by Sir Peter Lely. John Page, the immigrant, was active in founding William and Mary. Portraits of King William III and Queen Mary II more than 250 years old adorn the lower hall. Experts believe that these portraits are by Sir Godfrey Kueller court painter to their majesties.

In recent years many important guests of the College have visited the President's House. Included in the list of international figures are King Paul I and Queen Frederika of the Hellenes, the Queen Mother of Great Britain, Prince Albert of Denmark, President and Mrs. Eisenhower, and the Crown Prince of Japan.

By living in the colonial museum President and Mrs. Chandler have a unique rendez-vous with history, for they share in that of the past and help mold that of the future.

True detective

Will Molineux

WITH the perseverance and thoroughness of a master detective, Dr. Richard Lee Morton, head of William and Mary's history department since 1921, has been tracking down the men of Virginia's past and the events of their times. For at least 15 years he has been working on a two volume "who-done-it" in the colonial Commonwealth, and now, about 2,000 pages later, he is nearing the completion of his search.

Working off and on—"mostly off," according to him—Dr. Morton has painstakingly gathered the threads of the state's early history, and has woven them into what will probably be its first truly comprehensive and authentic history up to the Revolutionary War.

As yet, Dr. Morton has not named his work, except, perhaps for some consideration given to the unpretentious title, "A History of Virginia Until 1763." Although the well-documented account of colonial Virginia is mainly political in its coverage of the past, it is not a drum and trumpet history. He asserted: "I have included economic and social aspects of Virginia's history for their own sake and in order to explain the political."

The historian does most of his reading, note-taking and writing in his study at home on Chandler Court, a quiet lane adjacent to the College campus. The medium-sized room—its walls lined with filled bookcases—is furnished with a desk, chairs, a sofa, cabinets and a rocking chair. It is in the rocking chair where Dr. Morton sits and works. A large plywood lap board rests across the arms of the chair and fits around him. ("My portable desk," he calls it.) His feet are propped on the rungs of another chair. Within an arm's reach is a bookcase mounted on wheels, which carries reference materials, stacks of paper, pencils and other writing supplies.

In preparing and writing his account of the Virginia colony, Dr. Morton found that the organization of material was his most difficult problem. "I try to get the general account—the big picture—of a chapter first, then outline it. Then I bring it all together.

"In the meantime I take additional notes from various materials, using symbols to indicate the sources for the footnotes." He pointed to a shelf of the movable bookcase, and said, "there are some"—a stack a foot high, just notes held together with a rubber band. "I have to go through them and sort out what I want," he said thoughtfully.

Writing with a lead pencil, Dr. Morton uses all types of paper—the reverse sides of College notices, advertising circulars, Rotary Club stationery, old letters and just about anything. He particularly favors, however, heavy mimeographing paper, because "it is strong and I can easily erase on it."

After writing the first draft of a chapter, the Virginia scholar has his wife, Estelle, read it out loud to him. "She can see the ragged edges, and is a great help," he interjected. "Sometimes I find I run into too much detail and I have to cut out much of what I have written," he explained, "but, for the most part, I try to condense as I go along."

The chapter is then revised. Afterward Dr. Morton tries out his writing on the students in his Virginia history class. "Their reactions have helped me to determine my strong and weak points," he noted.

In his style of writing, Dr. Morton, a native of Prince Edward County, seeks to effectively penetrate into the spirit of Virginia history and transmit it to the reader with enthusiasm.

Always returning to source material to obtain the true facts of the past, Dr. Morton has related the struggles of the 1607 Jamestown settlement—through the establishment of colonial government and the expansion toward the west—to the period just prior to the War for Independence. "Many historians," he said, "disagree on the interpretations of various events in Virginia's early history, mostly as a result of new light brought on the subject matter." Generally, Dr. Morton presents opposing views of a controversy, believing the facts as related will indicate the correct analysis. Then, too, he must constantly be aware of his evaluation and interpretation of the past events, not only relating them to significant historic trends, but also presenting them individually as they took place.

"The more I see of history," the 66-year-old senior faculty member said, "the more I realize that good men can differ."

Dr. Morton's two volumes—when published—will stand next to his other significant contributions to the recording of Virginia history. His study of "The Negro in Virginia Politics" was printed in 1919. He wrote "The History of Virginia Since 1861" (the third volume in a series on the history of the state) during the summer of 1924. "I want to re-write that sometime," he said. And in 1932, with M. F. Altstetter, he published "Virginia and Her Builders."

A new edition of "The Present State of Virginia" by the Rev. Hugh Jones has been prepared under the editorship of Dr. Morton for publication this spring. The illustrated volume will contain an introduction by Dr. Morton and will be supplied with footnotes and an index. (The Rev. Mr. Jones arrived in Virginia from England in 1717 and became a teacher of natural philosophy and mathematics at William and Mary.)

Dr. Morton has also contributed to several historical publications.

From 1943 to 1946 he served as managing editor of the "William and Mary Quarterly." During his term with the "Quarterly," Dr. Morton, following the ideas planned by president John Edwin Pomfret, increased the scope of the publication, making it a journal of natural interest. Besides teaching, Dr. Morton believes that serving on the staff of the "Quarterly" was "his most interesting job."

Through his many years of service—since 1919—to William and Mary and to the Commonwealth of Virginia, Dr. Morton has been seeking out the facts—like a detective—of the state's past. And through his writing and teaching he has been presenting the development and the meaning of Virginia's history and tradition.

But always—in writing and teaching—he has remained constant to his definition: "If it isn't fact, it isn't history."

A history lesson in oil

JAMES Blair High School, Williamsburg's new consolidated secondary school that bears the name of the founder and first president of the College of William and Mary, already has a claim to fame—a handsome mural depicting the work of its namesake.

As the school neared completion, members of the P-TA decided that a copy of James Blair's portrait would be a distinguished dedication piece for the school's entry hall. They asked Thomas E. Thorne, associate professor and head of W&M's fine arts department, to paint a copy of Blair. Thorne's reaction was that he'd much rather do a mural—it would be of greater educational value, he pointed out. He painted a small, preliminary study for the School Board to see, received an o.k. on it, and started the huge canvas last September.

By January, the job was finished; seven feet high and ten feet wide. It will very shortly be transferred to its place of honor just inside the main entrance.

The central theme for the painting is the rebuilding of the Wren Building in 1715, after fire had greatly damaged the original. In the background, the partially completed building is evident; in the foreground, indentured servants follow the building plans, and Negro Slaves help with the work. In the center of the mural stands the Rev. Dr. Blair, holding a book. Behind him is a colonial family, and the child holds a facsimile of the College charter, which provides that Virginia's youth may be "piously educated in the ways of gentlemen!"

Thorne has included the Jamestown Church in the left background, for James

Blair was rector there before he was moved to Bruton Parish Church, and eventually became president of the College. Shown also is the Palisade of palings, constructed by the colonists to seal off the lower peninsula from hostile Indians. A ship suggests supplies from England, to be used for the College. Tobacco plants represent the colony's principal crop; a chest depicts the tobacco tax levied by the Crown, part of which was used to support the College.

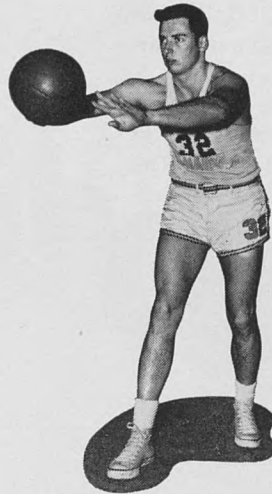

At the far left, an Indian family reminds that Dr. Blair started a school for Indians along with the College. Thorne did research at the Smithsonian Institution for accurate information on the Indians' apparel. Thorne's son, Bancroft, a 13-year-old, eighth-grader at Blair, aided during the project. He served as model for the Indian boy, and helped paint portions of the canvas.

Blair High School students will be able to study a bit of Virginia's old and honorable history as well as admire the mural dedicated to the memory of William and Mary's first president—courtesy of Thomas Thorne.

The Champions

Hugh DeSamper

SOUTHERN Conference basketball this season has provided the strangest assortment of ups and downs seen in many campaigns. For one thing, the league has seldom had a better-balanced selection of entries. Although a couple of schools have been consistently weak, the majority of teams have been knocking one another off with unusual regularity. George Washington, West Virginia and Richmond, conceded the cream of the conference in pre-season outlooks, have all had their off-nights and taken scuttlings at the hands of other league cousins. Furman and William and Mary are right on the trails of the leaders—also, incidentally, playing the same brand of unpredictable ball.

Going to press with almost a month remaining in the current season, the outlook for W&M—standing at 7-7 after 14 games—is a continued .500 performance. The Warriors should finish 12-11 or 11-12—no better and no worse. They should easily make the conference tournament March 1-3, and it is not inconceivable that they might win the championship. They have played like the best on occasion, and then again they have played like plumbers.

Boyd Baird's ballhawks have upset some favored applecarts—almost enough to give the comforting feeling that the wins weren't upsets. The team plays well together, and although the bench is a bit weak, the top reserves are capable. Basically a strong club, the Tribe needs only a greater degree of consistency to make them really tough. Captain Dick Savage is the top point-maker so far, with a 17-point average, but all of the starting five are potential 20-pointers on a good night. The team has height, but there is no "big" man—no one with exceptional height. Of the first 10 players on the varsity, only Bill Oussley is under six feet.

Baird has a basic eight players who do most of the operating until the Tribe is enjoying a fat lead. Jim Kaplan and Bob Hoitsma at forwards, Harry Cornell at the pivot, and Savage and Paul Furlong make up the starting five. Number one fireman is freshman Bob Tabscott, a real comer who plays either forward or center. Oussley gets the call as the third guard, and he is a good man to have for a possession game. Highly accomplished at dribbling and faking, he froze the ball for over a minute against Washington and Lee in Blow Gymnasium early in January—much to the delight of the partisan crowd and the consternation of the entire opposing team, none of whom could tie him up. Another top sub is freshman Roy Lange, a forward who brings smiles to Coach Baird. But who, unfortunately, will be lost for the season with a broken arm.

The hoopmen started off in impressive fashion although losing their first two games. They gave George Washington a stiff fight before succumbing 81-75, then two nights later scared the daylights out of Maryland, losing 72-71. A hint of the inconsistency that was to crop up occasionally during the season came in the Hampden-Sydney game, as the Warriors eked out a 75-69 win. Thence to the Richmond Invitational tournament over Christmas, and the Tribe got real hot and bounced Rhode Island to get to the semi-finals, then reversed and let Richmond blast them in a late rally. Seton Hall took the Tribe the next night in their final tournament appearance.

On the road after Christmas, the Tribe made its mark felt in the South, sizzling

The University of Richmond and William and Mary met in Blow Gymnasium on Saturday, February 25th. The Big Six Championship rested on the outcome of the game. In the last period, with nine seconds left, the score tied 77-77, Oussley fired from seventeen yards out. The ball never touched the rim and Coach Baird had a championship.

to a 93-83 win over the U. of Tennessee, and the next night losing to Vanderbilt in a double-overtime tilt that was a real thriller. They came home and stopped Washington and Lee and Furman with comparative ease, and appeared to be rolling. Then Quantico and Richmond stopped the Green on successive nights as they displayed poor accuracy from the floor. Wins over VPI and VMI, both on the road, set up the Indians well in the Big Six, then they lost to N. C. State, beat Davidson and dropped one to Furman and Darrell Floyd in Greenville.

The potential is there—but as any basketball coach will tell you, it's hard to keep a team "up" for every game. The Big Green has had good nights this season; it would take only a couple in the right places to upset the dope buckets when the conference tournament rolls around.

Cross-Country Champions

WHEN the current session opened in September, a little over six years had elapsed since a Southern Conference championship had fallen to athletes from Williamsburg. The last team to turn the trick was the 1949 tennis squad in the twilight of the once-mighty W&M tennis dynasty. Golf had threatened for several years since then, but never quite nailed down the elusive blue ribbon; likewise, the basketball team showed signs of strength, only to fall short.

Last fall, six freshmen entered the college—at first glance, a relatively unimportant fact. However, two short months later, these six freshmen had startled the campus, capturing the school's first conference title in the grinding, four-mile cross-country race. It was a triple explosion that was heard on Nov. 21; the Southern Conference crown . . . won by an unheralded, almost ignored team . . . dominated by freshmen.

Track Coach Bill Joyner alone expected these six freshmen to make their presence felt on the Reservation. He knew they were coming! But these youngsters, all A and B students, were being counted on to bolster the track squad in the Spring. As it turned out, they matured early, and in doing so dethroned defending champion V.M.I. with the blue chips on the line.

The scramble for the title was fierce; the score, 40-41, couldn't have been closer. Bob DeTombe of Hackensack, N. J., the team's top man all season, ran second in the race; Dick Curry of Altoona, Pa., was close behind in 5th place; bunched right behind him were Dave Youngblade of Brooklyn, N. Y., 7th, and Gil McNair of Sloatsburg, N. Y., 9th. Dave Campagna of Brookline, Mass., finished 17th, overhauling two rival runners with a devastating stretch finish which actually meant the title. All five won trophies for finishing among the top 25 runners.

scoring, as only the first five from each team score points. Three sophomores—George Royer of Williamsport, Pa., Jim Shuster of Homer City, Pa., and Dave Little of Falls Church, Va., completed the nine-man varsity squad. During the regular season, the team ran up a 5-2 record. Opening against V.M.I., they threw a scare into the defending champs before bowing, 26-30. Then followed wins against the Norfolk Division (22-47); University of Richmond (20-37); West Virginia (19-36); Washington and Lee (22-33); and a second place in a triangular meet, losing to N. C. State and upsetting Davidson. The team was showing rapid improvement.

When V.M.I. took the Big Six Meet, 40-49, over the second-place Tribe, the Keydets were established as favorites to repeat as conference champs. But the Indian runners had other ideas, particularly as they had hoped to topple V.M.I. in the Big Six. They worked even harder, and when the S. C. Meet was over at Davidson, they had pulled a stunning upset with a brilliant team effort. Head Coach Joyner and assistants Harry Groves and Leo Schutte were overjoyed. So was the W&M Athletic Association, which presented each member of the nine-man squad with a plaque commemorating the championship event.

Coach Joyner is looking forward to the track season this spring, when the freshman six are expected to help out considerably—along with some other talented freshmen—on a track team that showed vast improvement last year, and should be a serious threat in Southern Conference circles this spring.

But the most serious threats are the Reservation's six freshman long-distance greyhounds. They have three more seasons of cross-country running remaining—something that is not calculated to make things any easier for cross-country titlist prospects elsewhere in the conference.

Alumni

A NEW organization received its baptism at the College on Jan. 21.

Conceived after sincere study by members of the administration and student fraternity men, the Alumni Interfraternity Council received the 27th charter in a national association of alumni interfraternity organizations at a special installation banquet at Williamsburg Lodge. On hand for the occasion were some 50 guests—all vitally interested in furthering fraternity relations at the College.

Special guest and speaker for the evening was the Honorable Frank H. Myers, Associate Judge of the Municipal Court for the District of Columbia. Judge Myers, a fraternity man himself and a member of the Executive Committee of the National Interfraternity Conference, presented the charter to Leonard I. Silver, president of the William and Mary Interfraternity Council.

Ten alumni delegates, representing the campus fraternities, were present and held their first informal meeting. Robert S. Hornsby, '41, Pi Kappa Alpha, of Williamsburg, was elected first president of the group. Elected vice-president was John R. Chappell, Jr., '20, Sigma Nu, of Richmond; and Thomas D. Savage, '39, Kappa Alpha, of Williamsburg, treasurer.

Silver and Dean of Men Joe Farrar carried much of the burden for forming the group. Serving as master-of-ceremonies for the evening, Silver set the stage for the event in his opening remarks: "Distinguished guest, alumni, members of the administration and faculty, and fellow students—Fraternity men, one and all."

The Alumni IFC will serve as a coordinator between the fraternities and the College administration—a guidance group composed of men who understand fraternity problems and who offer their advice and service whenever needed. The hoped-for result is mutual benefit to the College and the fraternities. Each fraternity recognized by the College shall be entitled to one duly appointed representative and one alternate representative, neither of whom may be dependent upon the College for any portion of his livelihood. Both may attend and participate in council meetings, but the alternate shall have voting power only in the absence of the regular representative. Two ex-officio members without votes are provided for the council: the fraternity officer of the College, Dean Farrar, and the president of the campus IFC.

Other alumni representatives elected by their fraternities were John C. Fuller, '25X, Theta Delta Chi, of Warwick, Va.; Francis J. (Mickey) MacCoy III, '54; Kappa Sigma, of Williamsburg; W. Stirling King, '26, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, of Richmond; Jay L. Levinson, '52, Pi Lambda Phi, of Richmond; Dr. William I. Marable, '23, Sigma Pi, of Chase City, Va.; Thomas H. Hamilton, '55, Lambda Chi Alpha, of Gloucester, Va.; and Thomas

W. Athey, '48, Phi Kappa Tau, of Poquoson, Va. Dean of Students J. Wilfred Lambert introduced each representative, and noted that the fraternities had selected an excellent "cross-section of William and Mary's alumni fraternity men."

Silver's welcoming remarks reminded the members-elect that they were "hereby charged with a real responsibility—that of guidance and counsel . . . the responsibility of being mature enough to understand the immaturity of the . . . undergraduate mind . . . see our reasoning and try to point out to us our mistakes." He noted that, by the same token, undergraduate ideas would at times have merit. "And you will be able to take our beliefs higher, and with more influence than we could possibly do."

President Chandler spoke briefly, expressing the hope that the Alumni Interfraternity Council will help usher in a "new era of fraternity relations at the College." Declaring W&M to be a "fraternity college," he emphasized that, "We in the College community are working in the interest of building and improving our fraternities."

Judge Myers, who claimed 40 years of fraternity membership, traced the growth of fraternities on the campuses of this nation, and their alliances to form national affiliations. He pointed out the excellent training that they had provided for their members, calling fraternities "the greatest youth movement ever devised." That fraternities have sometimes fallen upon troubled times he attributed to their slipping from high ideals, and a resultant attempt on the part of college administrations to impose harsh rules instead of an attempt to re-instill the fraternity leaders with the values of high ideals.

Also present for the black tie occasion were a number of faculty advisers to the W&M fraternities, student IFC representatives, fraternity presidents, student body officers and special guests.

Elections

THE PRESIDENT OF the Society of the Alumni, W. Brooks George, in accordance with the bylaws of the Society has appointed a five-member nominating committee to nominate two candidates for each of the three vacancies which will occur on the Board of Directors on December 1, 1956. The Committee will meet in Williamsburg on Saturday, March 24, 1956, at 2:00 P.M.

The Committee members are J. Rawls Byrd, Harry Pennington Joslyn, Jr., Evelyn Cosby King, Edward Cotton Rawls, and Walter Darnall Vinyard.

This Committee will welcome any nomination by members of the Society. Members are invited to get in touch with the Nominating Committee, or the Alumni Office.

The William

THIS IS A REPORT of the fifth year of annual giving to the College of William and Mary. It summarizes and records the generosity of 1,869 alumni who contributed $15,205.80 and the loyalty and unselfish service of the Class Agents and Chapter Presidents. The many alumni who are already doing their thoughtful best, whether it be the largest gift or the smallest, have our enduring thanks. We direct this appeal to many who could help and have not, feeling sure that they will do so when they are aware of the importance of the Society's annual giving program—the William and Mary Fund. This year the Fund is dedicated to the college's scholarship program for outstanding students and library support. Our goal of $20,000 can only be realized if you do your part today.

An 'Ambassador' Gets a Briefing

Miss Elizabeth Auten, Richmond's 1958 "Ambassador to Europe," brushes up on her fund of information about Richmond, with the aid of J. Malcolm Bridges, executive manager of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, in order to be well informed when asked abroad about her home city. The daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph L. Auten, she is scheduled to drive with her parents to Montreal, Canada, for an embarkation meeting June 22 and to sail for Plymouth, England, and LeHavre, France, June 23. From there she will go to Basil, Switzerland, where she will live with a family for half the summer. The trip also will include an informal jaunt around Switzerland.

But the real touchstone to the whole questionnaire came in the last question, "Assuming taxes in order to make the changes?"

This was answered by 150 resounding noes and 64 yeses.

The survey, part of a national Jaycee program called
"Action," was run by project
chairman Charles Laughlin, under the public affairs committee headed by Angus H. Macauley.
The results will be used by the Jaycees to plan what programs they will push for.

"We haven't yet analyzed

NAACP Is Told It Must Disclose Its Membership

Ruling Favors Committee Which No Longer Exists

By Larry Weekley

The Virginia Supreme Court ruled yesterday that Virginia membership lists of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People must be turned over to the Boatwright committee.

The NAACP sought to protect the identity of its members, arguing that they would be subject to harassment.

The opinion, written by Justice Eggleston, said the Supreme Court couldn't agree that the disclosure of names "would be necessarily coercive" or a restraint on freedom of speech and right

EAGER TO GET BACK TO WORK

Looking healthy but a bit thinner, former President Herbert Hoover Saturday left the New York hospital where he had his gall bladder removed two weeks ago. These pictures were taken later in his Waldorf-Astoria Hotel suite. Mr. Hoover, 83, told newsmen he was eager to get back to his many public activities. He praised his physicians and voiced thanks for "tens of thousands" of messages sent him by well-wishers, including President Eisenhower and former President Truman. Among the activities which he plans to resume are work with the Hoover Commission on government reorganization and the Boys Clubs of America.

Class letters

The oldest living alumnus of the College is Mr. Cary Breckinridge Wilmer who is living in Tampa, Florida, and who follows with keen interest the work of the Alumni Society.

O-five

Dr. Jennings Wise Hobson, '05 X departed this life in Bluefield, West Virginia, on December 6. During 1916-49 he was the beloved Rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Bluefield. He held degrees from Virginia Military Institute and the Virginia Theological Seminary. He was a son of the late Rev. John Cannon Hobson, '76. He had been a member of the Board of Trustees of the Virginia Theological Seminary and belonged to the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He retired in 1949 because of poor health.

Seventeen

Paul Derring of Blacksburg was given "Man of the Year" Award at Virginia Polytechnic Institute on New Year's Day. The President of VPI made the presentation, lauding Paul's thirty-eight years of service on the college campus.

Twenty-four

Mrs. Helen Caldwell Cushman, the former Helen Cornell Lannigen, is now living at her home "Greentrees" in Mount Vernon, Maine, where she is writing for several newspapers, editing a newspaper of the air and delivering it, and enjoying her life there.

Twenty-five

Elder L. Lash, Jr. has recently been elected Secretary of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad. He is residing in Portsmouth, Virginia.

Twenty-seven

C. Eugene Stephenson is the co-author of a recent book, "How to Decorate and Light Your Home." Eugene has been president of the American Institute of Decorators on two occasions and is a graduate of the Parsons School of Design.

M. Carl Andrews of Roanoke recently received the award for first place in editorial writing in Virginia among the daily newspapers. This was given at the semi-annual meeting of the Virginia Press Association in Richmond.

Cotton Rawls of Stamford was recently elected President-elect of the Connecticut Society of American Board Surgeons.

Twenty-eight

Randolph N. Gladding has been elected chairman of the Virginia section of the American Chemical Society. He holds the position of research chemist for the American Tobacco Company in Richmond.

Thirty-three

Margaret Thompson Wyatt is now living in San Bernardino, California.

Thirty-four

Albert M. Orgain, III, has been elected second vice president of The Life Insurance Company of Virginia. He recently acquired a farm in Dinwiddie County where he, his wife and two children can enjoy the country.

Thirty-five

Emil O. Johnson was promoted recently to Assistant Manager of nylon production at the duPont Company in Wilmington.

Thirty-six

Margaret M. Sheahan is at present a professor and Director of Student Personnel and Public Relations at Marymount College in New York City. She is also doing some free lance writing for numerous magazines and papers. Also, she is quite a traveler having toured most of this country and many countries in Europe. This year Mexico is her destination.

Thirty-eight

Hunkey Henderson has recently been appointed a consultant to the Director of International Cooperation Administration in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. John H. Garrett, Jr.
(Frances Ann Terrell)
267 Green End Avenue
Middletown, Rhode Island

Greetings: Wouldn't it be nice if the Gazette could use pictures along with the class letter? We received some Christmas that I'm sure you'd like to see. We'll bring them to the next reunion. The second generation of the class of '40 is quite handsome. Rosa Ellis Long sent a picture of her three sons and one daughter, and Jane Brandt Wilde sent one of her three sons and a daughter. Louise Eppinger Nuernberger sent one of two sons and a daughter; Ginny Claudon Allen, one son and one daughter; Marie Harris Young, also one son and one daughter. Marie wrote that they are moving back to the east coast in '56. They hate to leave California, but it will be nice to be near enough to make the next reunion. June '60, don't forget.

Al Alley sent a picture of himself with his wife and son. His family joined him in Frankfurt, Germany in October, his car and household effects in late November. The Alleys were planning a snow frolic in Munich and the Bavarian Alps in January, and as Al pointed out, "There is always the Munich beer."

Jack Purtill wrote that the road to Hartford has been repaired now, and they can have company once more.

Lee Phillips Teasenfitz is now dietitian at the New Jersey State Hospital at Ancora. She took the job on a temporary basis, but is enjoying it so much that she plans to stay on.

Jane Magee Lillicrappe wrote that they had been busy fixing up their "new" old house. Denny Forward Pate wrote that the Pates were in the midst of moving into their new house, 1000 Chesapeake Drive, Havre de Grace. We'll be interested to see how they solved their problem of having all of their windows look out on the water. That is a good trick if you can do it.

Frank and Bobby Clawson Henderson have also moved into their dream house on a wooded knoll on Carter's Creek. Incidentally, Jack and I have bought a spot on the same creek and we have visions of retiring there in the country when the navy can use us no more.

We are still distressed to hear rumors of discontent from the college. We've tried hard to get a clear picture, but we get many conflicting reports. We shall be happy to hear from all of you so that we can get a good understanding of the class's feeling on this subject.

Forty-one

Mrs. Wallace F. Andrew
(Lillian Douglas)
Lynch Station, Va.

This short letter and the lack of a letter in the last issue are being offered with no apologies from me. Rather, you should apologize to me!

Margaret Richards Snyder is holding the fort in Alexandria while Al is in Leavenworth for a four months' school. Jane Jackson Miller and Bing are adding an addition to the house which we hope to see in the not too distant future. Jean Crist Schutt reports an addition to her family in December—Carol Louise, third child, first daughter.

Marie Cole Tettelback reports more reunions with the St. Johns and the Jack McCarthys. Some of you Connecticut folk should get in on those good times. Mary Moncure Waldron is settled in Lynchburg and hopes that classmates sent me lots of cards so that I would have lots of news to report. Sorry to disappoint you, Mary.

Art Kneip writes from Detroit that during the past year he has run into Dick Whiting, Joe Berman, Steadman Eure and Vince Lusardi. That's a pretty good average, Art. Dick Earle wrote in the fall about a lot of football activity—games, cocktail parties, etc., that sounded very interesting.

Mickey Mitchell Mollenkopf said she saw Peggy Peck Latham and spent a grand half hour catching up on 14 years. Janet and Al Chestnut are both very, very busy with their home, civic and church activities. Morehead City is lucky to have them. Christmas cards with no news from Nancy Chisholm Akers, Peg Averill Sterregaard and the Jim Davises.

Melville Kitchin recently presented a one man show of his water colors in New York. Sorry that is all. You treat me better and I'll promise to do the same to you.

Forty-two

Mrs. Edgar J. Fisher, Jr.
(Mildred Anne Hill)
P.O. Box 200
Bon Air, Va.

Edgar and I enjoyed your Christmas cards and notes so very much. Many thanks to all of you who sent them.

Joyce Mathes Malcolm sent a picture of her three attractive daughters, now 4, 6 and 8 explaining they are why she is "endlessly busy." Last September Joyce and her husband flew to Mexico for a two week vacation. Joyce learned to water ski in Acapulco, saw the bull fights, and particularly enjoyed the quaint city of Taxco.

Mary Ruth Black Dowling also sent a snapshot of her sweet little girl, Lynne, adding that her new home, yard, Lynne and the Girl Scouts keep her quite busy.

Patty Nichols Curcuro wrote on her card that she had heard from Warren Schneider last spring. Patty says he is in White Plains, N. Y., as assistant district attorney for Westchester County.

Irene Buchan Thompson sent a very interesting Christmas letter as did Pat Bankard Howard and Marx Figley Willoughby. Irene and husband Tommy camped out on the beach at Cape Hatteras last summer during their vacation to the Outer Banks of North Carolina, and "flew in a small chartered plane to a fascinating little island called Ocracoke, south of Hatteras where the people, who still have a cockney accent, have no police, no jail, and are not required to license their motor vehicles." Tommy has been very busy this past year doing residential appraisals for the Veterans Administration and Irene has been doing his secretarial work. Both of them continue to be active in the Naval Reserve.

Pat Bankard Howard and Fred went to Bermuda for their vacation while their three children, Trish, Steve and Ricky visited relatives. Pat has been trying her hand at needle-point and is looking forward to the day when her children are grown and settled-down so that she and her husband can move into that "easy-to-manage" apartment.

Marx Figley Willoughby has had a busy year doing Sunday School, Red Cross, Girl Scout, Community Chest and club work. She has started a "Marx's Back East Fund." A wonderful idea! Marx has two daughters, Robin, age 9, in the 4th grade and "Jo" who is now 6 and attends the 1st grade. Husband Jack spent the first six months of 1955 traveling all over the U. S. from Sun Valley to Florida and New York to New Orleans making movies for Greyhound and Texas Oil Co.

Barbara Anderson Cook wrote on her card that her son, almost six, started school this past year and loves it. Barbara, as well as Marx, hopes to get back to Williamsburg for a visit before long.

Sally Bet Walker Lawson sent greetings from Adak in the Aleutians and said "What a place this is—it sleets, hails, snows, blows, sun shines, and there are earthquakes to boot! Any four can happen at once—and it changes every ten minutes. But we love it. Have comfortable quarters, good school and social life for the children and us old people is terrific." Sally Bet's husband is a Naval Commander.

Roy Merritt wrote on their card that he and Mary have four children. Roy says they are "all monsters."

Theo Kelcey Dean has been busy with her two, Bruce, 3½ and Nancy, 10 months. Mickey Mitchell Mollenkopf and family came for dinner one Sunday in the fall. Theo had also seen Terry Teal Crutchfield and husband Jack when they were in New York during their visit to the states from Egypt last summer.

An announcement has just come from Doris Berg-Johnsen Kuhl telling of the arrival of John Christopher on December 30th. I usually don't put births in this column as they are recorded in the Gazette elsewhere, but since this makes six for the Kuhls, I thought it deserved special mention. And what a precious group of children they are! Doris enclosed a snapshot of the five—Karen, Doris, Walter, Kathy and Kristina welcoming baby brother.

Jim Hickey was voted Virginia college football coach of the year for 1955. Congratulations, Jim! Jim has resigned from his position as athletic director and football coach at Hampton-Sydney College, effective the end of February, after five very successful years there.

On his way to Kansas City in November, Edgar Fisher ran into Malcolm Sullivan in the Chicago airport. Sully was taking off for Miami, Haiti and other Caribbean points for a vacation. Sully had been traveling a great deal during the fall when he held a series of regional sales meetings for one of his clients, the Seven-Up Bottling Company.

In Kansas City at the meeting of the American Public Health Association, Edgar saw Frank Acosta. Frank is Information Officer for the U. S. Public Health Service in Washington, D. C. He has had an extremely busy year complicated by the controversy over the Salk polio vaccine.

Please write me a note if you forgot at Christmas time! We still have one more news column before summer vacation.

Don't forget your annual contribution to the William and Mary Fund. Let's all continue to support it and encourage others to join us. The Drive is now underway.

Barbara Durling
264 Regent St.
Hampton, Va.

No news so no letter in the December issue of the Gazette. My outside-of-work activities are beginning to simmer down so I shall try to be a better class secretary. If this letter appears in the March issue it will be because Jim Kelly granted a reprieve for my late letter.

Received a photo card of young Dorothy and Bill from Fran Pendleton Elliott. Fran said they had left Indiana when John accepted an associate professorship in the Dept. of Metallurgy at M. I. T. John loves his work and Fran is looking forward to contacts with the Boston area Alumni Chapter.

Virginia Shipley is now with the American Girl Scout Assn., Far East, with headquarters in Tokyo, Japan. This group helps provide a Girl Scout Program for the American children living in Japan, Okinawa and Formosa. Virginia was at two of the three camps operated last summer in the Far East. In the fall, most of her time was spent giving training courses so she was able to do quite a bit of traveling to all parts of Japan.

Photo cards—of choir-robbed Joe, Nan and Nancy Jeanne from Nan Morrow Mangin—and of Pam, Ree and Kim from Anne Zepht Stone ('43).

Volume One of a new series of newsletters from the Booths—Peggy Horn—arrived with a photo card (eleventh of the family series) of the five children and Peg and Lin. What a wonderful family!! Peg has a Sunday School class of first graders, is Sec'y of the Jr. Ladies Society of the church and takes care of her family and big, 12-room house. Lin spent a month at the U. of Mich. taking a course on management, is Pres. of the Men's Club at church and shares in jobs in Rotary, cub scouts and community projects.

Barbara Burbank, Headquarters A.M.F.E.A., Director Supply and Services, APO 633, New York City, N. Y., is working for the Air Force and living in a hotel in Wiesbaden, Germany. Her mother said she is having a wonderful time—has been on numerous trips and tours including a flight to Paris on a long weekend and two weekends of skiing in the Bavarian Alps during the holidays. She plans to take a Mediterranean cruise this summer and will spend some time traveling with her parents when they go abroad the latter part of the summer.

Went to see Mary Dilts Dixon when I was in Cleveland during the holidays. More news from her cards—Fay Beeks and Clyde Hayes have two darling "chosen children"—Robby (3) and Betty Jean (16 mo.) and "God's Gift" Susan Dodsworth arrived on November 18, 1955.

Becky Koehler Yager went back to college last year and is now teaching third grade in a brand new school. Prickett Carter and Jim Saunders moved to New Martinsville, W. Va., in Sept. They had a grand trip to Europe last spring.

Had a nice long letter from Nancy Norton Tannebring ('45) in November. She and Bob bought a 150 year old house in Beverly, Mass., last Jan. They have a daughter Betsy and son John Norton was born last March. They are busy doing over the house and find it time consuming but fun. They saw Red and Mary Wood before they went to Ohio. Nancy said she had heard from Jane Thomas Folk who mentioned she was recovering from polio. I had a short note from Tommy, too, at Christmas in which she said she was scheduled for 2 operations at Warm Springs in January. I don't know where she is right now but know some of you will want to write to her. Here's her home address and I know Ted will be happy to forward mail: Mrs. T. E. Folk, 215 N. Lewis St., Montgomery, Alabama. Nancy also said (nee) Mardee Mahone and her husband were returning from two years abroad where he was stationed in London.

Midge Webster Hoffmeier saw Mary Wilson Carver Sale in Pittsburgh. Midge also said "the baby is growing as they do, parenthood is fun and the house is still a mess but improving and we should be done in another year."

Huldah Brown Stainback Champion returned a change-of-address card—she's a food consultant for Maytag. Husband George, formerly an economics professor at William and Mary, is working on his M. A. at the U. of Miss.—studying both medicine and theology. They have adopted a 21 year old boy from Greece and he is a student at Millsaps College in Jackson, Miss. You are a fine and generous couple and we are mighty proud of you, Huldah and George!!

Marge Fetzke Gibbs wrote such a newsy note on her card that I shall just share most of it with all of you—Maureen Gothlin was married in Oct., 1954, to Clay Putman and they reside in Washington, D. C. (1713 Eye St., NW) where Maureen is still with U. P., reporting Labor. Nancy Norris Foster has a 3rd child, 1st son, Robert Dixon. Dick Foster is now an elected official of Irvington, Va. Babbie Sanford Lewis now lives in Melbourne, Fla., where she works at Patrick A. F. Base as a mathematician (116 Ocean Terr., Indialantic, Melbourne, Fla.) for RCA in connection with guided missiles and such. Jeanie Bevans called us recently, while here visiting her sister and family at Ft. Lee. Marge Talle and Jack Merriman now have an 8-acre place in the country, are remodeling the house, have a pony for the children—address Box 47, Monkton, Md. Jean Schoenwulf Preston and family have a new home at 119 Linkhorn Dr., Virginia Beach, Va. Carol Sterner Perry and family are still in Amarillo, Texas. Last year's Christmas card from Pris Schumacker Beringer was inspiring. Among other things, Pris, herself a victim of polio, had been teaching therapeutic piano to other young polio patients. Also had made numerous TV appearances to aid March of Dimes, etc. Bill Baumann has had the honor of serving as PTA president. Wayne III is 3½ and Dave is 2—Wayne Jr. is still with Goodyear, managing their store in Petersburg."

Williamsburg, Va.

With Christmas cards came news and pictures. Bless you!!

Suzy Braude (Stutzman) and Bob live at 1509 Wogan Road, Fireside Terrace, York, Pa., and on Christmas eve added Robin Carol to their family. Bob is in insurance work and they are enjoying a smaller community after New York.

Zella Loew (Mervis) and Stan's children smiled at us on a card from 11 Nod Hill Rd., Newton Highlands, Mass. Carolyn resembles her Mother and Steven looks like Stan.

Malcolm Sullivan wrote that life in Chicago keeps him busy, but he is hoping to get back to the burg soon. 1511 Sheridan Rd., Highland Park, Ill., is the address on Tom Dingle's card.

M. J. Talle (Tilton) sent a picture of Billy-11, Talle Ann-8, and Debby-3½. She noted that Billy was confirmed in their church in July. The picture was a real teaser in that I could see just enough of the house decor to make me want to hop out to Illinois for some decorating advice.

Joyce Remsberg (Shank) may be reached by writing c/o Captain R. E. Shank, 7493rd SIW, APO 57, New York, N. Y. Pretty card; not a line of news.

Mrs. James Williams, nee Grube, wrote from 3624 Whitehaven Parkway, N.W., Washington 7, D. C. Said they have been busy getting settled and new home decorated. Promised a long letter?

Les and Pat Hooker live at 209 Melwood Lane, Richmond. Les was here for the W&M-Furman basketball game in January.

Brooksie Harper (Kopp) and John went to New York last summer and visited Sissy Hoey (Bender) and Fred in New Jersey en route. The Koppes went to the latest shows and then on to Atlantic City for a Lions Club convention.

Dottie Stevens came to see us during the holidays. Gave me a clipping from the Memphis paper which had a most attractive picture of Bob Sanderson and bride. Bob and the former Jane Cullins were married in New York on November 12. Dottie says she has seen Jerrie Healy (Clay) in Roanoke where Jerrie's husband is with General Electric.

One can certainly see how Jamie Flynn has grown from the picture in Mary Baker (Flynn's) card. Their address is 1165 Ash Street, Winnetka, Ill. They have a house there. Bob and Louise Henderson are leaving Norfolk for the deep South. Bob is going to Atlanta with Colonial Stores, and they assure us that they will see more of us now that they will be farther away. When that tunnel is completed, you Norfolk alumni will have no excuses.

Ruth Margaret Allen sent a card announcing the opening of her office at 1261 East Belvedere Avenue, Baltimore 12, Md., for the practice of obstetrics and gynecology. Congratulations, Dr. Allen.

Dee Hampton (Simpson) says they are making plans for next year's Homecoming. They will have to come back to get their son a new 18th century hat. He's worn this one constantly its purchase date, October 29th.

Patty Wattles (Spiegel) and I exchanged our annual "card-letter." Bill will probably be transferred this Spring. Scott and I saw their names on a roster of returning alumni at the Navy's Homecoming, but we couldn't track them down.

A lovely Christmas card from Greece caught us up on the whereabouts of Kay Johnson (Selton) and her Major husband. They expect Stateside duty late this summer. Until then, the address is OARMA, APO 206, New York, N. Y. Kay and Bob have travelled to Austria, Yugoslavia, and Germany in recent months. In addition to raising three children, Kay has been extra busy of late teaching a charm course.

Edna Kerin (Freeman), Marvin and 18 month Stevie are home owners. Marv works for Sperry which is quite near them. Bob and Jane Gleason are still in Germany and are planning a Williamsburg Homecoming in 1957.

Scott and I saw Betsy Page (Aldrich) in Gloucester in December. She and Bob are living in New Jersey and were here for Homecoming. Bob is with the F.B.I.

Jan Freer (Scantlebury), it was good to see your handwriting. Thank you. Jan's husband, Dick, is a sales engineer for Alcoa and they, daughter-6, and son-4, live at 937 Evergreen Street, Emmaus, Pa. Jan, Betty Lawson (Solada), Nancy Grube and Dottie Hammer saw one another in November at Marcia Levering (Balzereit's).

Betty Marie Ellett (Klugh) and Bud enjoyed Homecoming, but after coming all the way from Little Rock were surprised not to see more of you D. C., Pa., and Va. alumni around. Her description of duck hunting, horse racing, yachting and fishing in Arkansas sounds like heaven, and it appears that the Klughs do not mind being away from Virginia too much. They are moving on to Hot Springs this summer.

Carol MacNeill (Gettings), Roger and Holly sent a card with holly leaves since the daughter by that name was added to the family in October. If the baby is half as efficient as her Mother, she probably made the cards herself.

Ben and Fran (Wagener) Read answered the Marine Corps' call to California in December. Ben had leave after his return from the Far East and we enjoyed seeing them before they went West.

I am sure with Income Tax time so near, you will particularly enjoy my plug for the Alumni Fund. If you will read '46's list of contributors for last year, I am sure it will prod you into sending your check in order that your name will appear this year. When you receive Jim Kelly's call, please RESPOND.

3910 Pilots La., Apt. 6
Richmond, Va.

We have a few Christmas notes and a wonderful letter from B. J. Taylor (Hopkins): "I see Eleanor Weber (Ellis) three or four times a year when she's home (to Evansville, Ind.) to see her parents. She and Tom live in Rolla, Mo., where Tom is manager of a Sears, Roebuck catalogue store—they have three boys (Eleanor's as young-looking as she was 10 years ago.)

"Also I see Esther Daus (Hunt) each year when she's home to see her family. She and Fred live in San Francisco and have had two extensive trips abroad since they were married.

"In October Dulcie Daniels (Culbertson) was here for a visit and we had a wonderful time together. She and Reave live in Loveland, Ohio (Suburb of Cincinnati) and their Kenny is nearly nine years old. (She has run into Gloria Iden a few times.)

"I hear from Barbara Duborg (Ferrell) at Christmas—she's in Chevy Chase and expecting her third baby . . . Peggy Bubbs (Tichy) (Mrs. Joseph) has a boy and girl and a new home: 1109 Crawfoat Lane, Point Branch Farms, Silver Spring, Maryland.

"Last May on a trip to Minnesota, Honey (B. J.'s six-year-old daughter, Helen Jane) and I stopped in Chicago to spend a day with Marge Kellogg (O'Hara). She and Jay have three darling daughters and expect another baby in April. They live at 310 Merrimac, Park Forest, Ill.

"Janie Copland Upshur (Class of '50) . . . wrote . . . that Sis Shaff (Fox) ('50) and husband are in Corning, N. Y. Skippy Beecher ('50) married a fellow in the Diplomatic Corps and lives in India. Dick and Audrey Saunders live in Herndon in a lovely new home with their three children. (all this comes from Janie).

"I see Marcia MacKenzie Kirkpatrick and Jim whenever they're home to visit Marcia's family. They live in Blue Ridge Summit, Penn., and Kirk is in the regular Army. They also have two children."

Sally Phillips (Mileur): "After the first of the year Don (Sally's husband) is transferring from General Services Administration to the Justice Department where he will specialize in Appellate work with the U. S. Courts of Appeals. This will mean six or eight business trips a year to the different Courts of Appeals around the country. He is looking forward to the move . . . we have purchased a lot in the country . . . It's north of D. C. in Maryland—near Potomac, Md. We hope to start building a house on it next summer.

"Nancye Miller (Johnson) was up for a weekend visit on Dec. 3. I didn't see her . . . sick in bed with a cold . . . she stayed with Edith Horn and we did chat on the telephone. Nancye and Cabbie are in Yorktown, Va., and have three children, a son and two daughters. Edith and I get together quite often. We went out to Manassas, Va., in May to spend the night with Lucy Jones (Murphy) ('48) while Bill was away on a school trip. The Murphy's have a huge three-story house in Manassas, where Bill is principal of the high school. Lucy and her two daughters drove over in the fall and spent a Sunday with us while Bill was playing golf.

"Ann Anderson (Apperson) is up here visiting her family now and we all got together last evening (this was at Christmas).

"I am still with the Blue Cross here and like my job . . . I taught school at Charles City, Va., and then recuperated for a year or so at home—and came to D. C. and Blue Cross in April, 1951."

Betty Borenstein (Scher): "Zel and Stan Mervis visited me with the children one afternoon on their way to Portsmouth for Thanksgiving . . . Grace Kern and Bill Sachs are now building a home on Long Island."

Fran Moore (Carter): "Karen had the third cast removed from her arm a few weeks ago and has regained almost complete use of it . . . The Westinghouse strike continues . . . so Dick is still up to his ears . . . We had dinner with Jane Beatty (Tucker) and husband short time ago—also present were Nancy Hinson (Talent) and Dick . . . Dick and I were so enthusiastic over our Homecoming trip that we plan to make many more visits as soon as possible."

Trinka Robinson (Moore): "Didn't realize how I ramble on. Felt I owed it to you and the "millions of readers" to let you know the final chapter in "The Lives and Loves of Your Girl Trinka." We did sell the little gem, and we did buy the big, old monster with the beautiful azaleas and roses. Now we are engaged in our own private restoration.

"Had a big thrill in October. My "little sis," Obie, (Jane Oblender) came to visit me with her mother-in-law. She is back in the East now in Lancaster, Penn. . . . We hope to visit her and the children (three) in the Spring.

"B. J. Yoder and Roy (Peterson) came to see us in September. They have bought a new house in Allentown."

Connie Conway (Godwin): "Have just been here a couple of weeks and are still getting settled (new address: 19611 N.W. 4th Ave., No. Miami, Fla.). Have a perfectly wonderful house, and only hope we can stay a couple of years to enjoy it."

Janet Campbell (Alley): "Landed in Frisco in Aug. of 1954. Flew home during air line strike—18 hours from L. A. via Salt Lake City, Milwaukee, Detroit. Was bushed but glad to see Virginia again. Lofton in G-3 at Fort Lee. Bought here in Hopewell in Jan., 1955. Lofton, Jr., more commonly known as "Jimmy," arrived in February. Quite a handful, but an absolute doll. Robbie, now almost seven, thrives on school in between mumps, tonsillitis and chicken pox. Had all three since Thanksgiving.

"Wallie Sinclair (Veasey) and her mother were here for a very short visit in April—Heard

Forty-eight

Mrs. Paul T. Eitel
(Mary Minton Cregor)
1970 Deer Park Avenue
Louisville, Ky.

We hit the jackpot Christmas. Lots of cards and lots of news. I thank you one and all. There are several letters to be attended to first. They were one day late for the last issue. This wealth of news is almost overwhelming. I must have hit just the right note in the October issue. My "agonized cry for news" brought forth a letter from the Rev. William Norgren, Christ Church, Oxford. Here's part of his letter. "Last spring I finished my appointment as a Fellow and Tutor of General Seminary in NYC, spent the summer in the same hot place, and in September boarded the Queen Mary (Tourist Class) for Southampton. I am now well settled in Christ Church College, Oxford University, doing research on some of the writings of the church fathers in the third century. And it's really much more interesting than it sounds at first. This will eventually lead to the degree of D.Phil. I plan to stay two years to complete the project. After that, heaven knows what but it will be back to the other side of the Atlantic. I've also been appointed a Chaplain of Christ Church Cathedral for the time I'm to be here." Bill also adds that if anyone chances to be in England, he will be more than delighted to entertain them in a style appropriate to the great Oxonian tradition.

"Your plea for news practically had me in tears. . . ." wrote Mary Elizabeth Watson Walker. This is getting better and better. Maybe writes "And, after that choice remark, I have to confess that I really have no news either." But she does, so here goes. "Tom and I have been married a little over eight years now. In that time, we've struggled along while he served his four years at San Diego State College. He came out of State with a degree in Journalism and an SAE pin. These naturally qualified him to be a banker, so that's what he is . . . with the Bank of America, of course. While he was studying, I was doing an odd assortment of things . . . advertising copywriting for a department store, writing a newspaper column, trying to ride herd on a troupe of teen-age Mariner Scouts who were always at least three jumps ahead of me and, at present, I am also with the Bank of America as a sort of glorified receptionist. Our family has had only one addition—a beautiful blue parakeet—age 2½ who really does talk. Knows about 50 words. Our one hobby is sailing. At present, we have a 24' "110" class racing sloop. Next year it will probably be something different as this is our fifth boat in six years. My one extra-curricular chore is that of being Historian for the Coronado Yacht Club."

Our star in the tennis world put in his appearance for the first time—first hand, that is. Tut Bartzten wrote that since 1950 he has been working for Wilson Sporting Goods Co., except for two years spent in the Army. He has been working out of Dallas since '53 where he is in charge of tennis sales and promotion. Last June he was married to Sara Jane Ledbetter, a native Oklahoman. She had been teaching in Chickasha, Oklahoma for four years when they were married. Last summer was taken up with his playing the tournaments but they actually had their honeymoon in Europe where they spent about 5 weeks. "It turned into more of a honeymoon than I thought as I got shin splints the second week over there so the last three weeks contained much more sightseeing than tennis. I don't see many from W & M. When I play at Forest Hills I generally see a few and I correspond fairly regularly with Ed Griffin. If anyone comes thru Dallas, we are in the phone book and would welcome a chance to see them. Thanks a million, Tut, for the news—and the invitation.

Now to hear from Ed Griffin. "Being a miser for about six months enabled me to spend the last part of June and first of July in Britain. Had five days in Scotland and eleven in England. The much-maligned English weather was lovely. Saw Tiger at the Gates and The Lark for the modest outlay of about $1.50 each. Makes me feel smug whenever I note the mammoth Broadway prices. Asked the Wimbledon people if they had a spare ticket for a newspaperman on a busman's holiday and they came through with one for the center court." It's never too late for a report on a summer vacation, especially when it's as interesting as that one.

Now for Christmas. . . . Nancy Noyes Saffko and Bill got as much news on a card as most people do in a letter. They are living in Waynesboro, Va., have two boys, Ricky 4½ and Chuck 18 months. Bill teaches Biology at the high school and coaches football and track. They built their house three years ago and love it there. Last summer they went to Canada to see Rose and Ralph Sazio and their year-old son Mark. Ralph sells insurance and coaches a pro football team. Jerry Sazio was there trying out for the team and raving over his new daughter. Margo Ross Tubbs and Fred live in Portsmouth, Va., with their four children. Becky Bechtol Garrison and Bill and their two live in Norfolk. Bill teaches in junior high. Steve Chipok has two boys. They live in Portsmouth where Steve coaches and teaches.

Joan Kelley Condell wrote that they are still in D. C., or Alexandria to be exact, with a new address—3501 Martha Custis Drive. They hope the new year will see the completion of Bill's thesis for his doctorate. Joan keeps busy with substitute teaching in the public schools and loves it. "As for news, the year was really overshadowed by Shirley Ostermeyer Clark's death in August which I'm sure you've already had word about. (I hadn't). We'd planned a visit with the Clarke's in September in Cleveland but went on anyway and visited with her husband Barney. As for the brighter side, we had a wonderful time visiting with Nancy Jackson Gosselin and Jack in Joliet, Ill. They have built a home there and have two girls. Returning from a scientific meeting that Bill attended in Schenectady last fall, we stopped in NYC for a day. Rather hasty but had time for lunch with Sue McGeachin and later a short visit with Sue Earls Carr. Most of my visits with friends seem to be of the same type, achieved in a mad rush as we pass on our way to some other point. On the way to Boston in November we stopped for a few hours with Sunny Sunstrom Taylor in Mamaroneck. They have two children, a boy and a girl. Going way back to last July we had a nice visit from Audrey and Lou Hoitsma and hope we'll be seeing them this Christmas when we go up to Massachusetts for the holidays." I hope all of you will excuse these direct quotes from cards and letters. My feeble brain just isn't working today and I'm too lazy to do otherwise. Have just finished my annual stint at the Polio office and I'm weary. We had a hectic month but the final results were over last year's so it was worth it. To continue. . . . .

Received a card from Nora and Bob Chandler announcing the arrival of Frederick Duke on October 17, and with the note that "I really think four is enough. I'm about as busy as you can get and hope I can keep laughing."

Helen Thomson Stafford and Paul hope they are permanently settled. Last May Paul joined Ashton Dunn Associates, an executive recruitment firm in New York, and a few months ago they bought an old farmhouse in Rye—7 Highland Park Place.

I agree with Betty Littlefield Dallet that Florida is a sure cure for anything. The children were sick a lot last winter so Betty took them down to Florida for a month and all was fine. That, plus a week in Ocean City, N. J., three weeks in Eaglesmere (Danny likes the fishing there) and living at the pool the rest of the summer they remained black as the ace of spades till fall. Lou Hoitsma stopped off to see them during the summer.

Mary Belford Engler's project for 1955 was Kathryn Louise—born September 8th. Their other daughter Molly looked like she was ready to jump out of the Christmas card. As Mary said, they were lucky to have her still long enough to take it. They used up four rolls to get the one picture. Eric is in the 1st grade and loves it.

Weezy McNabb Doerner wrote that they had a little girl now—and were real settled in their new house. They had had a big party to let everyone know they were "at home." She sees Laurie Pritchard Andrews right often.

The following note from Sunny Sunstrom Taylor: "Hi—no news—just two children and a dog—a house and supreme contentment." Sounds pretty perfect.

Jack Fritz is enjoying Culver Military Academy greatly. He was down at Ft. Knox the end of August for some training. We were on our vacation then so we missed connections.

We also missed connections with Nancy Holland Blanford and George when they came through Louisville in June. George has taken a new job in Gainesville with the National Gypsum Co. They were going first to Virginia and then to Nashville for the Holidays.

Harriet Hinman Eubank and Hal wrote of a busy Christmas. Porter is now 3 years old and in nursery school, which, Harriet says, is a help to both of them. He loves it. Chuck was 8 months old and now a full-fledged member of the house wrecking committee.

George and Ann Andrews Snead moved into their new house in August. They're still in Salem.

Jo and Dusty Ash were going east for the Holidays—Washington, Petersburg and Williamsburg.

Such good results from that last plea for news that I'm tempted to repeat it but I don't want to overdo a good thing—but I still want to hear from you. It seems to me my letter for the next issue is always rather meager so do write.

The appearance of an issue of the GAZETTE has many pleasant effects, among them the letter it inspires you to send me, which I can herewith share with everyone.

Ginger Hawkins (Smith) writes from Dallas, where she and family have been living for the past three years. To accommodate their need for more room, with growing youngsters Priscilla (3½) and Leslie Ellen (10 months), the Smiths have bought a house way out of town and spend most of their waking hours on home-making projects. Hight is a field engineer with Allis-Chalmers and must do quite a bit of traveling, so Ginger has joined a garden club to occupy any spare (?) time. They'd love to see any alumni who might be living in, or traveling through Dallas.

Other news from Ginger's letter includes the following facts: Joan Stout (Neighbors) is the mother of a little girl, Sue, and is expecting another baby in May; Chub Hopkins who is currently staying with her folks in Arlington while her husband is overseas, has two children, Laura and Bob; Janet Pierce is working in Washington, D. C. and taking vacations in Europe; Frances Robb ('48) is also working in Washington and living in a big Georgetown apartment; and Anne Hirsch, who we tried to track down via the last issue, is married and has a new son.

Our second, and also greatly appreciated letter came from Eegie Grant (Hart). She and Ed own a home in Cranford, New Jersey and have two children, Stevie (4) and Barbara (2), who keep them more than busy. (How well I

CUBIC RESEARCH AIDS IN AIR WEAPONS DEVELOPMENT

- Provides accurate test data

CUBIC RESEARCH IN ELECTRONIC PROBLEMS—IN FREQUENCIES FROM D.C. TO MICROWAVE—AIDS GOVERNMENT AIRCRAFT AND AIR ARMAMENT TESTING

Latest CUBIC designs provide vector position coordinate data in non-ambiguous digital form. Simplified portions of the system permit recording of slant range or miss distance on a special phase meter. Multiple station arrangement with a standard telemetering transmitter, or a single station with a miniature transponder enable automatic storage of position data suited for digital computer use. New engineering features in the system correct automatically for variable phase errors that have plagued this type of equipment for the past decade. The simplified analogue-to-digital converter permits a low inertia system with a degree of accuracy and reliability heretofore unobtainable.

CUBIC is proud of its contributions to the armed forces which provide them with a factual basis for armament selection, and to the national air armament industry in support of their growth, and will continue to devote itself to the advancement of new techniques and their application for increasing support of the National Defense Effort.

can sympathize!) Eegie hears from Jeanne Ann Harrup (Cogle) who is a happy resident of Williamsburg. The Cogles have a new house, a two-year old daughter and Dennis still sings at Chownings.

Diana Wedel (Riley) sent the glad tidings of the arrival of little Ann Carol on December 8th, and "Tuga" Wilson (Clements) tells us that their new home is at 2865 Torito Road, Santa Barbara, California. Her husband, Bob, is still with the Pittsburgh and Hollywood baseball clubs.

During the course of our most recent visit with Claire Brinley (Berner) we searched for additional news in her numerous Christmas cards, and came up with the following: Gene Griffin (Wilson) and husband Kent are currently in Enid, Oklahoma, where Gene is active in Tri Delt alumni work, and had recently played the lead in the Little Theater production of "The Late Christopher Bean." Among new home owners are Gretchen Erb (Brown) and Gus, in Richmond; and Rosemary Relph (Overton) and Spence in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

And now adieu again until the next time—incidentally, if any of you are ever in this part of the country, be sure to give us a call, or better yet, drop in for a visit. All of you can, of course, visit via a nice, long letter any time.

Hi, class of '50—this is your new secretary, Nancy Rigg, reporting. Since graduating I've lived in Fort Worth, Tex., Raleigh, N. C., Jupiter, Fla., and finally settled in Atlanta. For the past two years I've been a correspondent for Employers Mutuals of Wausau in the workmen's compensation claim department. Vacationed in Mexico last summer and fell in love with all things Spanish including the bullfights. Finances permitting, this summer will find me in Spain. Now, back to earth and on to the news.

The manual for class secretaries states that adjectives should be left out whenever possible, but considering Jeannette's outstanding job, a string of superlatives seems in order. Thanks, Jeannette, for all of us.

Shirley Lyons (Hardwick) reports a record number of people visited England last summer.

Richard Lechoux, who works for the Export Department of the Paint Branch of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., has to content himself with writing letters to his overseas customers, but confesses he'd prefer making personal calls in Europe, Africa, Australia and Mexico. As a side line he translates everything from technical reports and contracts to thank you notes. Just for fun he collects records and books and is a spare time sculptor. Richard would like to get together with any classmates in Pittsburgh. His address is 701 South Aiken Ave.

Tom Banks writes that his work for Columbia Pictures is quite satisfying, especially when he is asked to publicize such stars as Kim Novak. Tom has applauded Gene Crow in two off-Broadway productions—Macbeth and The Last Love of Don Juan. Gene is scheduled to appear next in a play with Nina Foch.

vania and is now Assistant Secretary of Upper Darby Township School District. Maurice was married in June 1950 to Mary Lu Heath. No children reported, but they have a hybrid dog—name of George.

Anyone in Warwick looking for a house or lot? If so, contact Harry Wason of Rawls, Le Hew and Wason. Kitty Allen (Wason) writes that she and Harry are proud of daughter Sandra Carol and a brick ranch style house—both over a year old now.

Jack Payne recently received his PhD from the University of Tennessee and has been appointed to the staff of the Department of Bacteriology at the University of Georgia. This is to correct an announcement made in the October issue.

Nicky Dillard (Dewing) and Jay are expecting new orders, but are hoping to keep their Connecticut address a while longer. A playmate for young Clark was due around the first of January.

That's all, but remember that you too can see your name in print, so please write.

How You Can Help Reduce the Teacher Shortage

ALL OF YOU have read and heard so much about the national teacher shortage that you may feel you want to hear no more unless you can do something about it. I should like to outline briefly what you, as a college graduate, can do by participating in an action program recommended by the Committee on New Teachers for the Nation's Classrooms. The program resulted from a joint conference of educators and citizens called by the Office of Education and the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor.

The idea is simple: to recruit and give special intensive training for teaching to college graduates, possibly including you, if you are personally qualified for teaching, if you live in a community where there is a shortage or will be one, and if you are available for employment, perhaps because your own children are in school.

Yet for this program to succeed, community action will be needed in the many localities where there is a shortage. Action will be required:

1. On the part of the local school authorities, to estimate the size and nature of the local shortage now and for the next few years and to assess the supply of qualified teachers that will be available from the usual sources—the young men and women graduating from teachers colleges and schools of education. We know that this supply will not be adequate in most communities because our new young teachers for the next five years must be drawn from those who were born some 18 to 23 years ago when the birthrate was very low. The children needing teachers, on the other hand, have been born since World War II, during a period of high birthrate. Do you know what the outlook for your community is? How many children will need teaching? How many teachers from the usual sources will be available to teach them?

2. On the part of local teacher training institutions to work out intensive training programs that prepare you and your fellow college alumnae for the standard State certificate for teaching by completing study and supervised teaching requirements. Do you know if anything is being done along these lines in your community, as it is being done, for instance, in Detroit, San Diego and a number of communities in Connecticut?

3. On the part of college graduates not now working but available for work. Have you checked to see if teachers are needed locally? To learn what teaching today is like? To see if you have the basic qualifications for making a successful teacher and if you can complete the training for teaching on a standard certificate?

4. On the part of teachers already at work, whose only hope to relieve the increased pressure on them is to help recruit and train other college women who would make successful teachers. Those of you who are teachers can inform others about your work, and offer to take on supervisory responsibilities in training new teachers in cooperation with local school authorities and teacher training institutions.

If you want to know more about the idea, I shall be glad to send you a leaflet entitled, "New Teachers for the Nation's Children." It was published by the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor (Washington 25, D. C.) in cooperation with the Office of Education.

Meanwhile, if you find your community does have a successful program along these lines, let us know. We should like to share the information with other women college graduates interested in doing their share to relieve the teacher shortage, one of the critical hazards to our Nation's future.

Mrs. Allan S. Wagner
(Betty Hicks)
1436 Randolph Road
Plainfield, N. J.

Sit back and get comfortable, because with news from Homecoming, our Christmas greetings, and a few meaty letters, I feel like I can rattle on for quite a while.

We'll go back to Homecoming first, before the memory becomes any more dim and confused. The first familiar face we saw upon arriving in Billsburg was that of Phil Denman. He was helping support the corner Greeks and looking very much like a student, and we found that he is. After Phil was released from the service he came back to Law School.

On our way to Chowning's garden for lunch on Friday we were stopped by Carol Raymond (DeSamper) and Hugh. They had just returned from their wedding trip—Bermuda, I think. Al says, "No, it was New York." It was probably Florida. I'm having a rough time already. I should have written this last Nov. while it was still fresh in my mind. Anyway, they're living in one of those wonderful kitchens in the Burg and Hugh is back in the writing game.

We spent the afternoon visiting third floor Wren and the members of the psych department. Learned that Ernie Cox had not only taught summer school, but had taken over Dr. Wolin's classes when he left at mid-term to go with Remington.

Then we saw Vi Marsland (Raymond) and Walt. They're still settled in Washington. Burt and Charlotte Walker (Hill) were up from Newport News too.

Milly Johnson (Woodling) and Pete came up from Hampton. Their family has expanded by leaps and bounds. A year ago they just had Winkie, the parakeet. He had been joined by Tillie, the dachshund. Since then we've had word of the arrival of Kerry Ann, a real live little girl.

Saw Hilda Beckh (Sherman) and Wray. All is well in the dentist business, except they don't like people who break appointments.

Margie Brown was there too. She's still busy teaching in the Urbanna school system.

B. J. Bennett (Stewart) was down visiting her family from Wilmington. She had her little daughter along and Number Two is probably arriving right about now.

Talked briefly with Ellie Siler (Flagg) and learned that they were living not far from us.

While I was at the Alumni Meeting, Al met Susan Rose (Pirkle) and Allen. I spent the rest of the weekend looking for them, but never did see them. Allen is still with the Public Health Service in Norfolk and Sue is busy with their young son.

I haven't been to a William and Mary function since graduation without seeing George Ritzel. He was down from Richmond.

Saw Betsy Graves (Hornesby) in town and learned that they are living in Williamsburg. If I'm correct, B. G. has two little boys now.

Hal and Audrey Doll (Bates) arrived from Belleville, N. J. during the game. It's so close to Plainfield that we vowed we wouldn't travel 400 miles to get together the next time, and they came down a few Saturday nights ago. Audrey has stopped work and is finding out what fun it is to keep house and have coffee breaks with her neighbors. Hal is with the FBI in New York. He promised to bring his gun on their next visit and be a real hero for Allan.

Audrey said Mary Stanton Willis (Doll) and Bobby are still settled in Louisville. Bobby is practicing with a law firm and Mary Stanton is kept hopping with the endless social life of that wonderful southern town.

Dee Isle (Johnson) and Carl were down from New Jersey. They left their four month old twins at home.

Saw "Bullet" Lawson in the distance at the game. Didn't get a chance to talk with him, but understand he is athletic director for a school system in the Tidewater area.

Jim and Janice Quick (Pickrell) came back for the festivities. Jim is practicing law and Janice is a busy mother.

Betty Roberts (Ragazzo) and Vito were back for the game. They boast a little girl now.

Jim and Yvette Hickey (Anthony) are living in the Burg, and if my memory doesn't fail me, Jim is an insurance representative and they have two daughters.

Saw Gwen Batten (Perkins) and Perk after the game. Perk is waiting to get out of the Navy, and by now they have a little one.

Thomas G. Harris, Jr., editor of THE PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE, put a quiz to Quaker Alumni that might interest you. In an effort to test the "literary background" of the average college graduate, Dr. Gallup asked the authors of twelve well-known books.

Here they are: AN AMERICAN TRAGEDY, BABBITT, THE CANTERBURY TALES, GULLIVER'S TRAVELS, LEAVES OF GRASS, THE OLD WIVES' TALE, UTOPIA, VANITY FAIR, THE ORIGIN OF SPECIES, THE WEALTH OF NATIONS, THE RUBAIYAT, and TOM JONES. Take the test yourself and look on the next page for the answers.

Also saw Sue Hines (Mallory) and Randy. Sue has three pre-schoolers, two boys and a girl.

Carolyn Burt (Hume) and Joe are living right in town. Joe is working in the College Pharmacy.

Jean Madsen came down from New York City. She's still very happy with her job at the bank.

After the game there were many fine parties and to make the weekend perfect, Jim Kelly had arranged an alumni dinner dance in the Lodge ballroom. It was wonderful to have everyone you wanted to see all together in one place.

Found M. A. Hogshire (Lex) and Buddy there. Also Billie Potts (Place) and Jack, and Anne Menefee (Schroeder) and Bill.

Just as we were leaving, we saw Martha Schilt (Stewart) and Bob. Bob is still in the Marines and is planning to practice law when he is released. They were on their way to visit Carolyn Jones (Wiley) and Ash in Petersburg. Ash is in the insurance business.

Even ran into people Sunday morning before we left town. Saw Carolyn Williams (Pollin) who was in from Ft. Sill, Okla. and visiting her family in town while her husband took a special course at one of the nearby army camps.

Saw Bruce Henderson and Dave Wakefield in the Greeks having breakfast. They had left their wives and daughters sleep late, so we didn't meet the rest of their families. Understand that Bruce and Camille have left this area for South America where Bruce is handling a job for his Wall Street firm.

Carol Gardner (Lorenz) and Roy were down from Baltimore. Roy is still with Revere Copper and Brass and is soloist with one of the large Baltimore church choirs.

Before I go on, let me say that if I've credited anyone with the wrong number or model of children, I'm sorry. We saw an awful lot of people in a few short hours and my statistics may not be accurate. Just let me know if I've made any mistakes.

Now to Christmas cards. Joan Carpenter (Dollard) and Mark flew to Williamsburg to spend Christmas with her family. Their "old home" in Westerville, N. Y. is progressing nicely and they've at last reached the "relax and enjoy it" stage.

JOE MEGALE '52

Carolyn Berl (Potts) and Joe have moved to Cranford, N. J. They're living on Indian Springs Road—shades of the Burg!

Mary-Jo Finn (Aarestad) wrote that as soon as they were sure of going to Stuttgart, they were ordered to Butzbach. Jim commands a company there, and they only have 14 months of their tour of duty left.

Received an announcement of the arrival of Ina Saville (Pitt's) third little girl. They left Frankfurt the 15th of June and spent till mid-July in D. C. with her family. They're out at Fort Lewis, Wash. now, living in Tacoma, and are enjoying the great Northwest.

Audre Barthold (Vogler) and Bill are all settled in a new home in Bethlehem. Bill opened his office right in their house in Sept. and is very happy with his general practice.

Greetings came from Katie Olinger (Mac-Millan) from down Norfolk way. Her husband is a lawyer and they have two sons (2½ and 16½ mos.) and a daughter (2½ mos.). She claims to be busy and rarely has time to reflect upon how happy she is. I wonder why?

A card came from Peg Harmon from Mar-rakech, Maroc. She'll be there until June and loves her work. She said the summer was a bit rough, with all the rioting, but all is calm now. She got away in Oct. for a vacation in the Middle East. Peg liked Egypt and the Holy Land best of all. As for Gibraltar—what a rock! She plans to tour Europe for three or four months before she comes home.

Talked to Stevie Bartlett (St. Clair) while I was home during the Christmas holidays. Walt

The average college graduate did not score impressively on Dr. Gallup's poll. Nine percent could not name one of the authors; thirty-nine percent could not name more than three; more than half identified no more than four. Should you make a perfect score, don't bother to write Dr. Jackson, head of the Department of English. It is doubtful that he would be impressed.

The authors: Theodore Dreiser, Sinclair Lewis, Chaucer, Jonathan Swift, Walt Whitman, Arnold Bennett, Sir Thomas More, Thackeray, Charles Darwin, Adam Smith, Omar Khayyám and Henry Fielding.

is working with the Federal Reserve Bank in Phila. while attending Wharton School. Stevie says Walt has really changed—he studies so hard.

Heard from Lucille Gerber (King) and Ronnie up in Stamford, Conn.

Nancy Walton (Fricke) wrote that George finishes up his residency in 18 mos. and then they'll head west—to the suburbs of Chicago, to practice. They're living in an apartment near the hospital now, and she says its best aspect is that it's convenient and that there're eleven medical families in their building, which provides plenty of companionship and just oodles of children for their two to fight with.

Charlie Jett has shed his uniform and is in the Foreign Service down in Mexico.

Joyce Miller (Tipton) says Phil is trying hard to get their house finished before the baby arrives the end of the month. She claims do-it-yourself should be more aptly named do-it-the-hard-way.

Phyl Wilt (Grimes) and Dan left St. Louis and came back to Norfolk this summer. Dan has a position with Sears Roebuck and they expect to be living in their new home for at least five years more. Becky is three now and has just been joined by another little one.

Marie Philips (Jacobsen) and Jake just returned to Norfolk from Florida and Texas where Jake was in on the decommissioning of the USS Lamoille River. Their next duty is on the staff of Comtransphibian Six aboard the USS Moniovia operating out of Norfolk.

Heard from Ann Babock (Beam) from down in Alice, Texas. She taught English and history in the junior high school last year and is doing the same this year. Harold is the principal of the high school, is a graduate of SMU, and hails from North Texas. Harold had never been East, so they spent part of their wedding trip in Williamsburg and took the grand tour.

Hunter deMurguiondo (Stevens) and Foots are living in Clinton, N. C. (60 miles from Raleigh) where he is a Fisheries Biologist with the N. C. Wildlife Comm. They have two little girls now, 2½ and 9 mos.

Had a letter from Evie Gardner (King) telling all about their little cherub. They expected to come East to Maxwell AFB in Montgomery in Jan. for four months while Jim attends Squadron Officers School.

We'll pick up Dick Carter back in 1951 and bring you up to date. After a two year stint in the Marine Corps he did graduate study in sales management at Indiana Univ. Then he went with Republic Steel as a marketing analyst, following which he took an extensive 18 month sales training course, which took him from Chicago to Youngstown, Ohio, and on down to Gadsden, Ala. Now he's a salesman in the Birmingham office. Dick married Nan Cannell in Cleveland this past Sept.

Last fall Dick saw Bob Cook, Bob Saba, Barbara Smith, and Scot Petrequin at a W & M function in Cleveland.

Dick has seen Sonny Strong in Birmingham and says Bill Bowman is in the service.

I got a real puzzle postmarked Clarksville, Tenn. and signed Dave the other day. I'm going to make a wild guess and say it's from Dave Klinger. After graduating, Dave started a career as a regular Army officer. He went to Fort Sill, then to Fort Carson, Col., and from there to Korea. After 15½ months in Japan and Korea he returned home in July, '53. Dave then went to Fort Carson and took command of "A" Battery, 4th Field Artillery Battalion. It was one of the last mule outfits in the Army. In Jan. '54 he went to school at Fort Sill and found Lew Lepper in the same class. Then Dave went to Fort Campbell, Ky. and became a paratrooper. He completed his assignment as commander of "A" Battery, 457th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion in December, was married in New York to Jan Trout Pierce on the 23rd, and left for Iceland and the 2nd Battalion Combat Team.

Dave said that Lew Lepper is now at Fort Bragg, N. C. He saw Bob and Jessie Parker when he was in Richmond this summer. And the last time he checked, Ben Hamel was down at Ga. Tech.

Had a wonderful letter from Mary Anne Woodhouse (Waugh). They're civilians now. Ron left the Navy the beginning of August and began work as an engineer with the Delco-Remy Co., Div. of General Motors in Anderson, Ind.

He's doing research on a new gismo in the automotive field with six other engineers in the research lab. They're comfortably established and are having a great time with church suppers, square dances, bazaars, and rummage sales.

Woody joined the AAUW and had a big surprise when she found that Peggy Blair (Hackler) was in town. Bob is also employed at Delco-Remy. The Hacklers have a new baby.

Had a real beaut of a letter from Jim Baker. He and Elaine have a real rambunctious boy, Jimmy, born in July. Elaine left her job with the Social Security Administration and now spends 16 hours a day taking care of him, instead of the 8 she used to put in for the government. Jim is still with the Richmond News Leader, covering the city school system and Henrico Co.

Teddy Nicas has taken a new job as director of services in Thalhimers' restaurant.

Charlie Craig is a group representative with Equitable Life Assurance Society in Richmond. Bill Burnett is an Equitable agent. He and Ann are living in Warwick.

More about Bob Parker. He and Jessie have two little girls and one big boxer dog. They're living in Richmond's West End and Bob is selling World Book encyclopedias.

Mr. and Mrs. Hank Kashouty recently moved from Richmond to Phoebus where Hank is practicing law.

Bill Marlowe is working toward his master's

Ed Crutchfield and Ruth are in Norfolk where he is in the accounting department of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Co. They have one child.

Ed and Ann Grimsley and their two children, Penny, 3, and Jim, 10 months, are living in Richmond. Ed is city hall reporter for the Times-Dispatch and teaches two classes in journalism at RPI. He recently went to Atlanta to do a series of articles on metropolitan problems and learned that Jack Riggan is there working for the Seaboard RR. Hugh Haynie is there too, as editorial cartoonist for the Atlanta Journal.

Ann Lewis (Laughlin) and Chuck are in Richmond, where he is practicing law. Dick Mattox and family are also there, and likewise, practicing law.

Unkie McKean and Ruth are living on the Cornell campus. He got his master's degree in Sept. and is now working on his doctorate in a new program at Cornell for training future college deans.

Ralph Floyd was freshman football coach at the Univ. of N. C. and is on his way to becoming Jack Gulley lives in Richmond and works in Petersburg and Lynchburg with the State Farm Mutual auto insurance company.

Times-Dispatch reporter Bud Jones and Paula have their first little girl, Mellie Wyatt, aged six months.

The time has come to put in a plug for the W & M Fund Drive being held this month. Many of you have written and said how much The Gazette means to you. It takes money to publish it, and it cannot do without your support. Beyond that, I doubt if any of us will ever be able to repay the College for the years we spent there. We've been out almost five years now and should be pretty well established by this time. Give a thought to increasing your contribution this year so that the present students may benefit by better facilities at the College.

It's with a good bit of reluctance that I end this column. When I was asked at graduation to be your class secretary, I said I would do my best for five years. My time is up now and while I hate to turn the task over to someone else, I feel that for the best interest of the column, it will be good for someone with a fresh approach to try their hand at it. Many thanks to all of you who have answered my frantic pleas for news and the very best of luck to my successor.

Actually, I'm being relieved of my duties one column early. Al says it's time off for good behavior, but I think Jim is just being thoughtful. He knows that in a couple more weeks I'm to be a mother all over again and I guess he figures that with two little ones in diapers, I'll have enough to do this spring without trying to put another column together.

Let me extend a last invitation to any of you in this area, or anyone passing through, to come see us. Our mat always says "Welcome" to W & M people. And finally—see you at the W & M-Rutgers game in New Brunswick next October?

Hi, one and all! With Springtime just around the corner, this electrifying thought hit me—come this June most of us will have been out of school for 4 (count 'em—four) years! And I'm still waiting to hear from some of you! Get out those pencils you busy rascals and help fill up our Summer column with data & chatta. And awa-a-ay we go!

We received a "bit" from the Army Home Town News Center featuring the latest on Corporal (if you please) Bruce Lester who was selected the outstanding student of his graduating class at the Military Police Training Center at Camp Gordon, Ga. Just about a year ago, Bruce took his "basic" at Fort Carson, Colo., and was scheduled for reassignment at Camp Chaffee, Ark. Prior to that, Bruce was an attorney with his father's law firm in Fort Thomas, Kentucky. The news brief mentions his wife Madge (fill us in on details, Bruce) who lives with his parents in Ft. Thomas.

Dave and Lee Bradley Wakefield are busy in Hyattsville, Md., taking care of little Ellen. Dave's note says he is a salesman for Procter & Gamble.

Claudia Richmond Harmon's letter was chock full o' news. She and Bill (and Susan Carol) are living in the Burg. Bill graduates from Law School in June and meanwhile is teaching accounting to undergrads. Claudia writes that Dot Urban Wright & Bill have Stephen Harding Wright to crow about now. Dot is in her senior year at M.C.V. Also bragging about future alums are June Compton Merkle with baby Bruce; Camile (Grimes) & Bruce Henderson and Miss Leslie H.; and Peggy (Blair) & Bob Hackler announcing their Stephen. Claudia & Bill see Nancy (Waggoner) & Bob Roeder when they come a-visitin' from Richmond. Bob's with the Army there and plans to return to Harvard this fall.

The Air Force Postal Service brought me a letter from Joanne (Eardley) Janega who wants to know what has become of Julie (Youngquist) Fisher and Kathleen (Smith) Hilmo. (Me, too, Joanne!) So in case those two gals need her address, it's: Mrs. Victor A. Janega, 7405th Support Sqn., APO 633, New York, N. Y. Vic is now a 1st Lieut. and they're stationed in Wiesbaden, Germany. He plans to make the A. F. his career, Joanne added. 3 year old Steven and 1 year old Becky help make their life overseas just that much more fun. Joanne says Becky (Roche) White and family (3 daughters now) are living in Bon Air, Va., and Marie (Newcomb) & Jim Baber are still in Richmond.

From Schenectady, N. Y. there comes a cute little announcement of the September 17th arrival of Robin Elizabeth into the household of Mr. & Mrs. Dick Hildick. Congrat!

Layton & Nan (Child) Zimmer's family has two additions—"Churchy" (black-type cat) and "Deaconness" (a piebald English bulldog)! These four compose the Zimmer household in Wilmington, Del., where Layton is curate at St. Andrews Church. He was ordained last June 4th and on June 5th assumed his duties. His tasks consist mainly of working with the young people of the parish, but he has also had his share of study groups, counselling, calling, preaching and all the many other activities that ministers encounter. Layton says he & Nan are very enthusiastic and pleased about their first assignment. He also added that the "Rectory # 2" has a guest room to accommodate visiting alums and friends who pass by that way.

Had a Christmas card from "Sibby" Scott, who's doing child welfare work in Petersburg.

Margie Lloyd & Nancy Johnson are both in Sibby's office, while "Tillie" Prichard, who used to work there, too, is now a resident counsellor at the U. of Florida. Sibby sees a lot of W & M-ites from time to time. She cites Nan Evans, Carolyn Ash, Mary Speight, Betty Johnson, and Joanne Spittler (the old Barrett gang) for a few. Some of our athletically minded alums stationed at nearby Fort Lee get mentioned on the sports pages of the paper Sibby reads. She also heard that Roy Anderson hurt his back in a fall recently (nothing serious, we hope).

Midway between Paris, France and Basel, Switzerland is the French town of Chaumont and stationed therein is Dave Smith. Dave spent 2½ years after graduation at Scott AFB in Illinois. From there he was sent to Chaumont. Wife Lib joined him last June and they've been having a great time touring Europe. (Perhaps they'll bump into the Janegas one of these sight-seeing days.) This July it's back to the States for discharge and an as-yet unplanned future. Dave's overseas address for you letter writers is: S/Sgt. Charles D. Smith, Hq. Sq. 48th Air Base Gp., APO 119, New York, N. Y.

Do-it-yourself ingenuity has hit Katie (Byers) & Bob Hoffman. Their hand-fashioned Yuletide greeting was a red typewritten Xmas tree informing the recipient of their year's accomplishments. A June wedding was the primary occasion for '55, followed by two months spent at a woodsy Wisconsin summer camp. Bob is now a med student at State U. of Iowa (he got his degree from Illinois). Katie loves Iowa City, but says the wintry winds get mighty cold for that Virginia gal. She ran into Tina Bass awhile ago. Tina was out there doing research work. Katie postscrips that Connie Carhart was married to a G. E. engineer and is living in Schenectady.

A close-by neighbor to Connie is Frances Anne (Brown) Stocking living in Buffalo. Some time ago, Frances Anne was a social case worker at the Welfare Dept. in Norfolk. She continued doing case work after moving to Rochester, N. Y., but became "just a housewife" when she and Don migrated to Buffalo last August. By the way, October 30, 1954 was the hitching-up date for these two. Frances Anne says she hears from Ginny "Juggo" Gall regularly. Juggo related the news that Harry Jr. was born to Avery (Leavitt) Manning on Nov. 3rd, joining an older sister.

A pre-holiday shopping spree in New York gave me the opportunity to stop in and chat with Elaine Diehm at B. Altman's. She still loves her job (who can blame her?) and has a nifty apartment on West 11th St. It was real good reviewing some happy memories and "did you know that. . ."'s.

Am clicking my heels over the as-we-go-to-press announcement of the engagement of my old roommate, Ann Lockwood ('54) to Lt. Robert Phillips. Couldn't happen to a nicer gal!

Hope this edition finds everyone in good health and jolly spirits. My not-so-little-anymore Heidi keeps me hopping all the time. To watch a child learn and become more aware from day to day is really the greatest. And you should have seen Wendel when that first tooth came in! We are really enjoying this state known as parenthood, as must be the rest of you '52 mommas and poppas.

Again the request for cards and letters to inform us on the progress of your lives on this big ol' sphere. See ya' next issue.

Company's management training program in Baltimore for four months but now is enrolled at Columbia's Business Graduate School. Personnel Administration is his major. "Wally" Wilsey, "Buddy" Barker and Carmen share an apartment in New York City. "Wally" attends Columbia also and majors in Accounting; "Buddy" is an accountant with Price, Waterhouse. His work entails much traveling but he was able to join Carmen and "Wally" at the Wilsey home in Long Island for Thanksgiving dinner.

Dr. I-Kua Chou is at Columbia doing research under a Ford Foundation Grant. Charles Quittmeyer, our former professor of Business Administration, is teaching at the University of Buffalo but is completing requirements for his doctorate at Columbia. The Coco brothers, '55, first year law students at St. John's University, are frequent visitors at the Romeo-Barker-Wilsey apartment. Warren Weiss, '54, and Bill Abelow, '55, also are on Columbia's campus.

"Tommy" Helfrich is secretary for a firm in Baltimore.

Joann Mitchell will be Mrs. Holmes in February.

Congratulations are in order for Dick Dallas, newly elected Secretary of Philadelphia's Alumni Chapter, and Scott and Caroline Young Petrequin, President and Recording Secretary, respectively, of Northeastern Ohio's Chapter.

Speaking of the Petrequins, their last letter told me all about their new home in Northfield, Ohio. It sounds similar to ours. Caroline wrote of "Donnie" Spotts Gilbert's baby girl. Carey Petrequin and our Mary Lou would have a grand time together since they are just about the same age.

Dave and Barbara Alabaster Rittenhouse now have daughter, Lynn. Barbara hopes to join Dave who is stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Nancy Jane Lovell sent her Christmas card from Greece. She is living in Athens and working for the U. S. Army in the American Military Mission. She writes that "Stevie" Johnson Neal and her husband are living in Germany.

From Hawaii Dan and Emmy Ketterson Smith's card arrived. Emmy said they have bought a piano—no further explanation! She also added that Beth Forester and her husband are at last in Norway and that Joanie Alleman was married in New York recently.

Jackie and Vince Pirri sent a card including a note of explanation about Vince's position with Phillips Petroleum Company as a patent attorney. They hope to be heading eastward within a year.

Dot Hagberg Bower wrote that Dick is teaching economics at Alfred University. Their daughter, Gari, is walking; all three are waiting the second little Bower due in March.

George Ritzel is special agent for the State of Virginia with the Marine Office of America. He writes that "Howie" McCallen now is out of the service and is continuing his work with the same insurance company in New York. George Vakos is attending George Washington Law School; Ed Aubin is working in Connecticut; Jack Timmis is out of the service. Dwight Babcock, recently married, is with an insurance firm in New York. "M. A." Poindexter Hatcher and husband, Bob, are living in Richmond as are Carol Kavanagh and Hardy and Ruth Hase-meyer Cofer and son. George saw Shirley Lyons, who teaches in D. C., at a party given by Carey Scates, '54. "Moe" Maddox and George met at the Tobacco Bowl Game; "Moe" is attending T. C. Williams Law School in Richmond.

Joann Lore Kersey, Al, and son are in Hyattsville, Maryland.

Dick and Martha Parker Stanley in December were in Norfolk.

Ed, Ginnie Gary Lupton, and Gary had a new addition, Debra, arrived on December 22nd in time for the holidays. Ginnie spent her Christmas in Dahlgren, Virginia, but now is in Richmond with the children. Ed is overseas; all hope to be together within a matter of months.

From Chevy Chase, Maryland, Howard and Boots Crovo Wickham, '54, write that they enjoyed having dinner at Jim and Betsy Booth Devitt's apartment. Jim is attending law school. They plan to stay in that vicinity until summer.

Joanne Stengel's Christmas card told of her new job with the Asia Foundation in San Francisco and how much she likes the city. She and sister Louise went skiing during the holidays.

Received Mary Ellen Romney's card from Cincinnati and presume her work with Procter and Gamble still claims her. "Bobbie" Castle's card was postmarked College Park, Maryland; she still must be attending the University.

Lee Munger wrote that Johnny is with the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team and will be at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, in February. The Mungers enjoyed a visit with Bev and Jim Kelly in Williamsburg during Johnny's last leave.

Please don't forget your contributions for the Fund Drive—and also let me hear from you in time for our next issue.

There's been very little in the way of news coming in these past two months. I did run into some people. One was Pearle Ray Key who is not planning to be a Key much longer. Her parents have announced her engagement to Lt. (jg) Edward A. Morris of Havertown, Pennsylvania. He is a textile engineer, having graduated from the Philadelphia Textile Institute. They are to be married in June. Ed is now at the Pentagon Building.

Pearle Ray heard the news that Barbara Smith is working in Cleveland, and that Andy Howard is now studying at George Washington University in Washington after a short stay at Columbia University.

Joann Eversole has been studying at the Harvard University Graduate School of Design from which she is to receive a master's degree in City Planning in June.

Sandy Bettiger Crenier and Pete have a little daughter, born last July 5th, named Kim Alexandra.

Betty Ann and Bob Wallace are at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, Betty and Jim Powell are still at Fort Sill, but not for long now. Jim will be out of the army around May.

At the lovely new home of Cary and Betty Scates, several William and Maryites were present last November. Some were Penny and Del Eure, now living in Arlington, Tish and Shorty Herrman, Hal Posey, and Harry Carver and Betty Wright. The Herrmans and Eures were

Fifty-five

Elaine Thomas
847 Harcourt
Grosse Pointe, Michigan

Writing this column can lead to dangerous threats. One letter I received last week warned, "if you breathe it, Michigan is going to lose a correspondent and someone named Thomas is going to get a little spread on the back page under, 'deceased—'55'." Being sort of cowardly by nature, I won't reveal the big secret, but I will record what else Glenn Pearce had to say. Glenn missed the Homecoming events because he was grading mid semester Logic tests at Duke where he is working on his masters in philosophy. His future plans include either the service or Harvard for a Ph. D. Also pursuing an M. A. in the philosophic area is Bill Mathes, but at present he is working for California Ink as a chemist until the Army calls. When that stretch is over, he's going back to Stanford Grad School to continue the work he started there last summer. Seems Glenn and Bill are collaborating to put Verdi and Puccini out of vogue, by their forthcoming opera . . . tell me, how do you guys manage to while away all your leisure

Two others on the ladder to higher learning are Bob Forrest and Steve Hamilton. Bob is at Ohio State, an assistant in the math department, while Steve is in chemistry at Northwestern.

Sarah Fann Deibert Painter and her husband, Dick, are living in Blacksburg where he is a senior in public administration at Tech. They were married in September in Clifton Forge, and reside now about one block from campus with 19 other couples. They'll remain in their economy apartment until June, and plans after that are uncertain.

Howie Cline proclaimed he can't miss a chance to see his name in print, so here's the word from him. Howie is in Law School at Colorado University, and will probably finish in June of '57. He sees Joyce Mitchell and Shirley Stevenson occasionally, and they all have nothing but praise for Colorado.

Elaine Elias states, with emphasis, that teaching at Hampton School in Allison Park, Pennsylvania, and taking courses at the University of Pittsburgh has really kept her busy. Elaine made it to the Princeton game last fall, and it seemed like a W and M reunion. Cheering for Princeton were John Alden, Bob Landin, Marcia Seffrin, Alison Sandlass, Pat Perkins, Don Berryman and Charles Cottrell, and lonesome Earl Palmer was there supporting Yale, his present Alma Mater.

"Over hill, over dale" has just about become the theme song of Cynthia Frye Howes and husband Hal. Immediately after their summer wedding in Florida they reported back to Greenville, Mississippi. After a brief stay they sojourned for two and a half months in San Antonio, squeezing in a delayed honeymoon in Mexico. They now have a new apartment in Waco where they will stay until June. Hmm! Be an Army wife and see the world.

Most of us will remember Ether Mae Bowman Caudle. She was a member of the Class of '55 for one year and two weeks, and at that time she left school to marry Bob Caudle who graduated from V.M.I. in 1951. After a tour of duty in the States and Korea, he returned to work for the Norfolk and Western Railway out of Norfolk. Bobby Ray Jr. joined the family in July of 1955, and the threesome is moving to Lancaster, Pennsylvania where Bob will be a Sales Engineer for Armstrong Cork Co. Their home after that is uncertain (along with many others) until they learn where they will be sent. But, after all, what would life be without suspense!

Ron Drake still has some of that long yellow lined paper we used to use to scribble notes on, and he still does. But believe me, I'd welcome news from all of you, even on paper napkins. Ron's big news is that he was married on September 7th to Carole Ann Lawler, '57, of Clifton Forge. Ron is working for the Champion Paper and Fiber Co. in Hamilton in a Sales Training program (which is, according to him, more of an office-boy type thing,) but he really enjoys it. March 26, however, Ft. Sill greets him.

Hasting "Speedy" Hartt is now a private in Uncle Sam's fighting force. At present he is stationed in Baltimore attending CIC school. Ron Drake says, as a joke for Speedy's benefit, that Speedy is going to be Regular Army since he comes from such a long line of military men. (I don't get it, but I guess someone will.)

Bill White is in Scranton, Pennsylvania, selling insurance, until July, when he joins Uncle Sam. Bill Butler is back in Saratoga Springs after working in Toledo, Ohio. He worked for General Mills shooting cereal from guns. Seems Bill is always making trips to Billsburg. Could the attraction be school spirit?

Rusty Engram is now teaching English at Warwick High School, and enjoys it. Carolyn Crouch was married to Bill Maxey of Richmond, and they visited Cape Cod for their honeymoon. Hopewell is home now for them, and Bill is working with his father as a builder. Another to join the classification of "couples" was Shan Duis, who married Dave Carico in December. The wedding took place in Portsmouth, and Shan and Dave are living now at Ft. Sill where he is stationed.

Betty Holladay is doing social work in Suffolk, and is very enthused about it. Sharing an apartment in Hampton are Joan Evans, Nan Humes, Betsy James and Joan Showalter. All are working for NACA except Joan S. who is Juvenile Probation Officer for the city. From all news, the crew is having a ball, and furnishes Joan with all the delinquents she can handle. Barb Solomon is engaged to Hank Dressel, '56, and is working as a secretary for Merrill-Lynch in New York. Gail Wannan is engaged to Dick Mosher, who's in the army now. She is at home working as an accountant for her father. Nancy Butler Standish is living in Cambridge, Mass., with husband Myles, and is working as a receptionist in a law firm. And last, Bernie Macgruder (my informant for this whole paragraph) is finishing a training course at United Air Lines Stewardess School in Cheyenne, and complains the studying has her down. By now she is probably stationed somewhere on the East coast, if her plans worked out.

Ginny Broadus is still a student, this time at the school of Physical Therapy of the Medical College of Virginia . . . whew! Though studies have kept Ginny busy, she did find time to become engaged over Christmas to Al Glover, Don's brother, who will soon be a Captain in the air force, but is also doing graduate work in Civil Engineering at the U. of Illinois as a student officer. They met at Don and Alice's wedding last June, and hope to get married this June themselves, and then go back to Champaign to live.

Don and Alice Knight Glover in Australia are really living it up. Sight-seeing tours, parties, much time at the beach, and occasional studying helps to fill their summer days. (It's summer there now, and the Glovers live 2 blocks from the water. . . grrr!) They bought a 1926 Fiat (car), which manages to get them around.

Cynthia Kimbrough Barlowe and Bob live in Richmond now. C. K. goes to secretarial school and works and Bob goes to dental school. The "Executive Training Program" at Thalhimer's furnishes Tommy Grinnan with work, and the rest of the Richmond crowd helps out on entertainment.

Another ambitious soul in graduate school is Pearl Frayser, who is studying Library Science at L.S.U. in Baton Rouge, La. Mary Jane Stoneberg is studying the same thing at the University of Michigan. Caroline Handy is working for the E. I. DuPont Co. in Wilmington in the Export Advertising Department. Harriett Collins is attending business school in Washington.

Another soul who still wanted more school after four years at W. and M. was Jerry Clulow. He is doing graduate work in Applied Psychology at McGill. Cosmopolitan Montreal is a far cry from colonial Williamsburg, but Jerry likes Canada. Jerry and Jean Shepard were in the wedding of Ginny Hungerford Moore in September. Ginny is now personnel director for Jacobson's, a large department store, in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Jerry's work right now includes working in hospitals and schools giving I. Q. tests, and learning Rorschach administration. He interns for three months next summer, and also completes some complex major project.

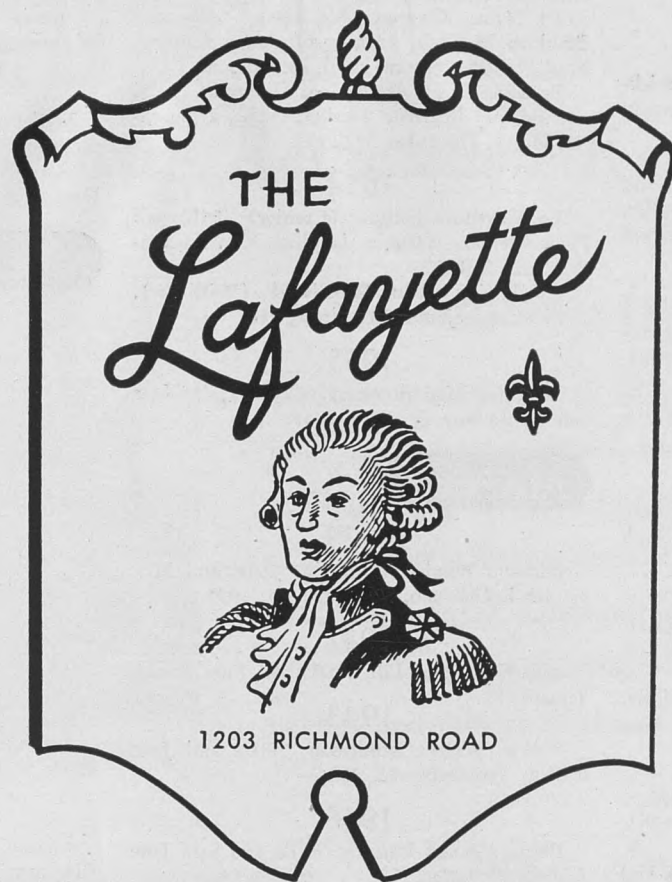

Sally Dahm Elfelt and Jim are stationed now at Long Beach, California. They have an apartment in a section called Naples right on the beach. Naples is built just like Venice with little canals and bridges and the Elfelts love it. Sally proclaims you have to eat Wheaties to keep up with the Navy crowd! She and Jim will be in California until August when they will go to Japan for four months, and hope to be stationed in Europe after that tour of duty.

Alison Sandlass' big news is her wedding on February 11 at the Naval Academy chapel to Lt (jg) Nevin Carr. Alison is leaving the advertising world, where she worked as a commercial artist for a paper products company and Johns Hopkins U., for a home with Nevin in Rhode Island for four years, and then they plan to settle in Tennessee. Chaos reigns now, but the thought of a honeymoon at Lake Placid keeps Alison going.

Also swamped in wedding preparations is Jean Woodfield. February 25 is the day, and Steven Dod of Lexington, Virginia, is the man. The "buy our furniture, rugs, can openers, diapers, rolling pins" people are really giving Jean a time.

Marcia Seffrin got married New Years in British Columbia to Anders Wennberg of Sweden. Patty Perkins Berryman and Don are soaking up Florida sunshine prior to USMC assignments, either to Puerto Rico or Cherry Point, N. C.

For the moment this is all. I'm hoping to hear from all of you.

Deceased

1874

It is with deep sorrow that we record the death of our oldest alumnus, John Peyton Little. He had been living for the past year with a daughter in Cedar Key, Florida. Until that time his home had been in Clearwater where he was believed to be the oldest resident. He often spoke of being a playmate of the children of Jefferson Davis and seeing General Robert E. Lee and other Confederate leaders.

Honorary

The Reverend Dr. John Jacob Scherer, Jr. of Richmond, Virginia, died on January 14th. He received an honorary L. D. degree from William and Mary in 1954. Dr. Scherer was an internationally known Lutheran leader and had been pastor of the Richmond First English Evangelical Lutheran Church since 1906. He was a leader in mental hygiene activities, an arbitrator in labor disputes, and a substitute judge for Richmond's Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court.

A Cordial Welcome
Awaits You at the
Williamsburg Restoration Restaurants

Williamsburg Inn and Lodge

Students and alumni of William and Mary will find traditional southern hospitality at both the Williamsburg Inn and Lodge. The dining rooms of these hotels feature distinctive cuisine and beautifully appointed surroundings. The Coffee Shop at the Lodge offers complete fountain service, sandwiches, and minute steaks.

King's Arms Tavern

In intimate candlelight dining rooms costumed waiters serve Virginia ham, fried chicken, Sally Lunn bread, peanut soup, escalloped oysters, green gage ice cream, and other colonial favorites. Traditional eighteenth-century three-foot square napkins are one of the many unusual features of this reconstructed tavern. . . . .

Chowning's Tavern

You'll enjoy eating in an atmosphere of colonial times at this reconstructed eighteenth-century ale house. Specialties include Welsh rabbit, pecan waffles, tavern sandwiches, cheeses, wines, beer and ale on draft from the wicket bar, and charcoal grilled steaks.

The income derived from these operations is used to maintain and develop Colonial Williamsburg, Incorporated and to carry forward its educational program.
