Cover

This month's cover departs from the usual presentation of pretty coeds and ancient statues. Clarence Day's The World of Books is certainly a most appropriate introduction to the story of the Library of the College of William and Mary that begins on Page 4. Though anthropologists may grumble, we feel that Day's simple pronouncement has rarely been equalled in our literary heritage, and here we salute those individuals who believe in beauty and truth as often discovered in the written word.

Shadows

A discussion wherein a little thought is given to the merits of walking backwards.

WE noted several young citizens of Williamsburg walking backwards on the Duke of Gloucester Street yesterday afternoon. It appeared from their actions and conversation that they were far more interested in the shadows they had cast and the regions from whence they had come than where they were going.

Now let it be settled right here—we are not about to condemn walking backwards, particularly in Williamsburg. It's really a lot of fun, and an occasional go at it relieves the monotony of the continued and socially accepted form of forward motion.

But shadow-watching brings to mind a question. As an alumnus or good friend of the College, what thoughts come to your mind when someone mentions the name of the College of William and Mary? Well, first off we suspect you say, "That's where I went to school, it rains there, and when it is not raining it's getting ready to rain, and when it is not raining or getting ready to rain it is one of the most beautiful spots on earth—I wonder if dear old Dr. What's It is still living." OK, so you went there to school. Now tell me something about the College of William and Mary. "Well, it is located in Williamsburg, Virginia—that is the restored town you read so much about. It's the second oldest college in the United States, a lot of the great statesmen of this nation went to school there like Jefferson, and Marshall, and it has a list of academic priorities that includes just about everything except driver training, etc. And so it goes—the point here being that most often we describe our College like a shadow—what it has been—Shadows, our heritage, are most important and only great men and institutions have the pleasure of looking back on them. Yet in the piercing light of the high noon sun and on rainy days when we are without shadows, how do we describe our College?"

This is not an original question, it is one that thoughtful alumni and members of the faculty have been considering for some time. What is even more significant is the action President Chandler has taken in instituting a program based on a master plan of development for the College which is in effect to say what the College is, and where the College is going (See THE ALUMNI GAZETTE, December, 1958).

An accurate description of the present-day college will most certainly demand a description of the present-day alumni program, and here it is most appropriate to ask another question—"Are you proud or inclined to brag to your friends about the notable contributions made by William and Mary alumni to their Alma Mater?" True, there are many aspects of the alumni program of the College that have outstanding merits; however in the universally recognized (and appreciated) area of financial support we make a very poor showing. Why have we fallen behind in this particular area? Some say—because our College receives aid from the State of Virginia—obviously, other alumni don't feel the same way about their state-supported College. Last year Texas A & M's alumni giving program was judged best in the nation. Others say we suffer because almost half of our alumni are women, and their loyalty goes to their husbands' college. This is nonsense, and the girls themselves (God bless them) would be the first to say our College shall not be penalized because of their attendance. The majority of women's colleges in the state have a better participation than we do. Finally some say we do not find anything in the Fund objective that we feel merits our support. The Board of Directors of the Society has certainly tried to answer this and we invite you to consider the objectives presented on Page 13. Here is a program that alumni can brag about and, if each person will do his part we shall when the time comes to consider shadows have one that will be greatly admired by ourselves and by the generations yet unborn.

At Last

G. GLENWOOD Clark, head of the Department of English and member of the faculty of the College since 1920, was the speaker at the Charter Day convocation. As many of the readers of this magazine know, Mr. Clark on such occasions constructs a beautiful web of words that never fails to snare his audience. Mr. Clark spoke to his captives of the adventure that one may find in literature, and enjoined them to free their fancies in the world of books. The speaker reminded his audience that outside the fantasy of literature one's ambitions might be thwarted. He confessed that as a young man he was most desirous of growing a large, black, masculine mustache which he concluded would make him absolutely irresistible to the ladies.

Unfortunately, America was denied her Casanova for several days' growth under the young man's nose revealed not the beginning of a fine black mustache—only red fuzz. Mr. Clark reported that the discovery was unbearable. Yet this tragedy has a happy ending. Several days after his convocation talk Mr. Clark received a package in the mail; its contents—one, large, black, masculine mustache.

The Library of the College of William and Mary

"Gift of Kings . . . and Gentlemen"

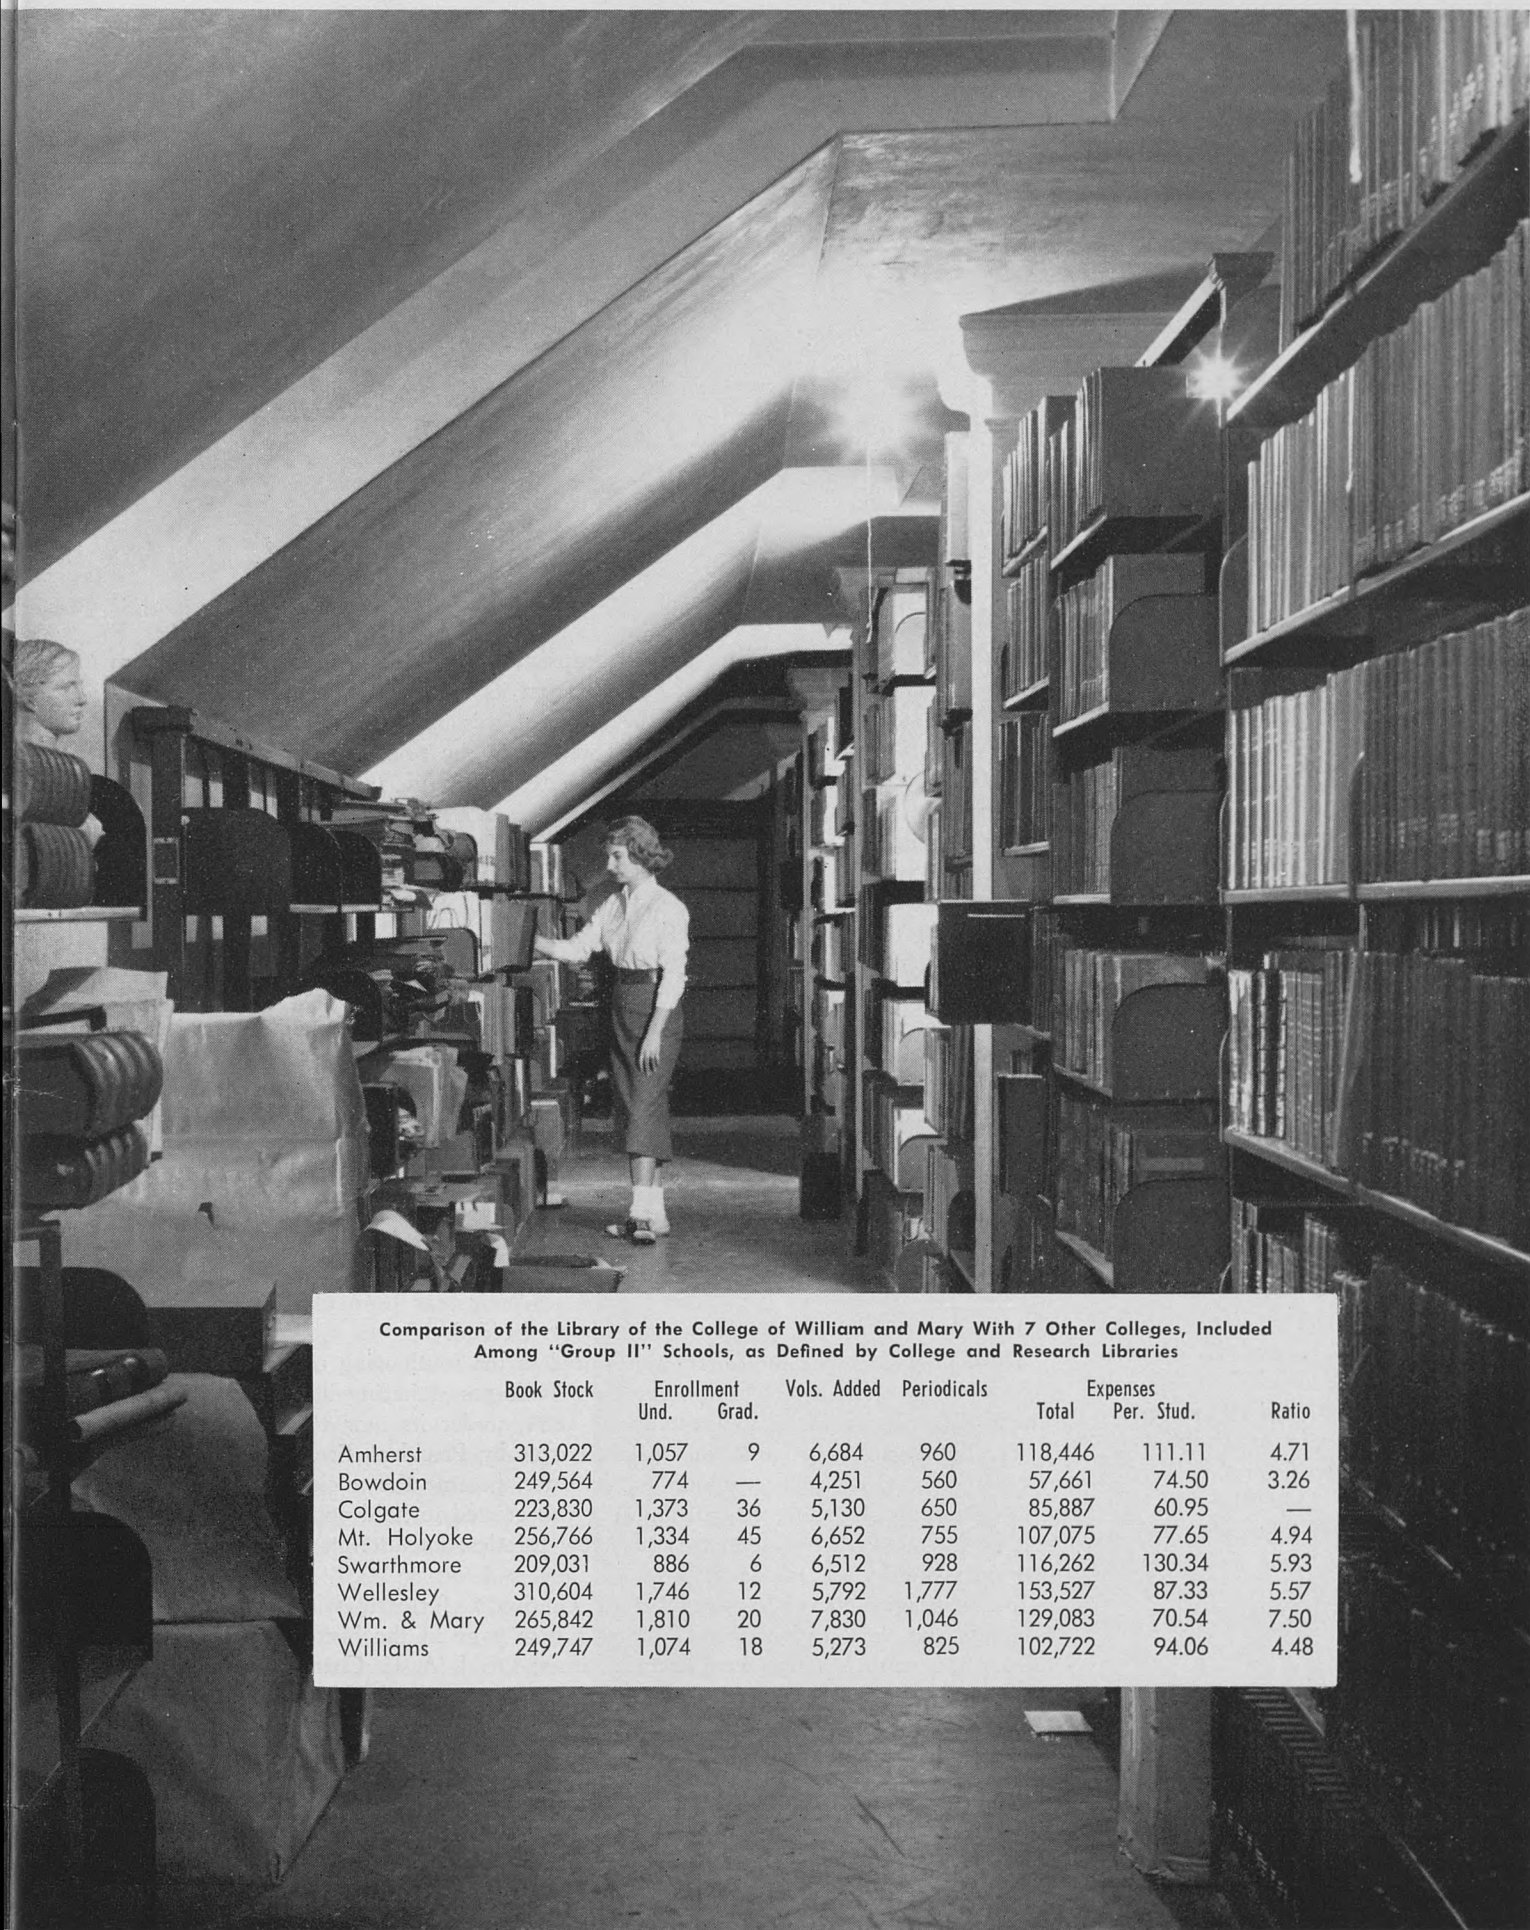

ONE hundred years ago, after the fire which destroyed the Old Main Building, the faculty bemoaned the loss of the library, which had been "in great part of the gift of kings . . . and gentlemen." This tragic event—ironically, it took place on Charter Day, February 8, 1859—resulted in the loss of almost all of William and Mary's 8,000 volume collection. Many of these books had been presented to the young College in the early part of the eighteenth century.

But this is not to be a history of the Library, although we have in the coming pages touched on the highlights of the past and tried to point out some of its significance for the William and Mary of today. This is the story of the present condition of the Library; the story of its users and of its staff; the story of its future.

Libraries, like children, are apt to grow faster than proud alumni, or parents, are able to realize. All of us can take pride in the box score to the right, comparing our Library with several of its neighbors to the north. These figures, however true they may be, leave much to be desired since intellectual quality, like school spirit, cannot be counted or measured. But we can measure the thousands of books, magazines, documents, microfilms and archives added to the shelves each year; the many students, faculty members and visiting scholars who use them; the countless instances of exposure to recorded knowledge and experience, whether from the musty pages of Christopher Marlowe or the latest issue of Missiles and Rockets.

Gift of Kings . . . and Gentlemen

Three Fires, Two Wars

THE mythical phoenix is an appropriate symbol for the College of William and Mary. Like the bird rising from its own ashes, the story of re-birth out of tragedy has been the motif of this old College not once but several times in its 265 years. Three times the priceless intellectual heritage of the Royal College in Virginia has been destroyed by fire, twice the hazards of war have brought destruction and scattering of its records.

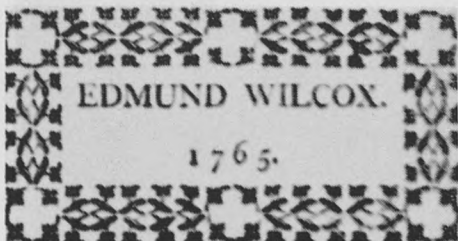

The first fire occurred October 29, 1705 and destroyed a collection estimated at between seven and eight hundred volumes; the second fire took place almost exactly one hundred years ago, on February 8, 1859, destroying the library which had developed to about 8,000 volumes, most of which indeed were "the gift of kings . . . and gentlemen." One year later, through the efforts of students, faculty, alumni and friends, the collection had been restored—in numbers, at least. But this, too, was short lived. For on September 9, 1862, the College Building was set afire while occupied by Federal troops and again irreplaceable damages were sustained.

Other troubles were to come. Early in 1865, the west doorways and windows of "Old Main" were filled with cannon behind a strong line of palisades. The Brafferton was gutted; the President's House was deserted; Lord Botetourt had been moved to Eastern State Hospital for the duration; and the Library and the scientific equipment of the College—such that survived the burning of the Main Building—was stored in several locations in Williamsburg. In the gray autumn of 1865, Colonel Benjamin ("Old Buck") Ewell returned to Williamsburg to reopen the desolate College. Little wonder that classes were suspended for the academic year 1868/69, or that a longer hiatus—between 1881 and 1888—could not be avoided.

Through these years, the library was stored in the south wing of the Main Building, adjoining the College Chapel, its 6,000 volumes gathering dust on the shelves. The College reopened in the autumn of 1888, under its new President, Lyon G. Tyler. The small dusty collection watched over by President Ewell and used by a number of local schoolboys under his guidance, became the nucleus of the present College Library. In 1908, a small building was erected to hold approximately 12,000 volumes, a number of pamphlets, and a few priceless manuscripts which had, somehow, survived the past tragedies.

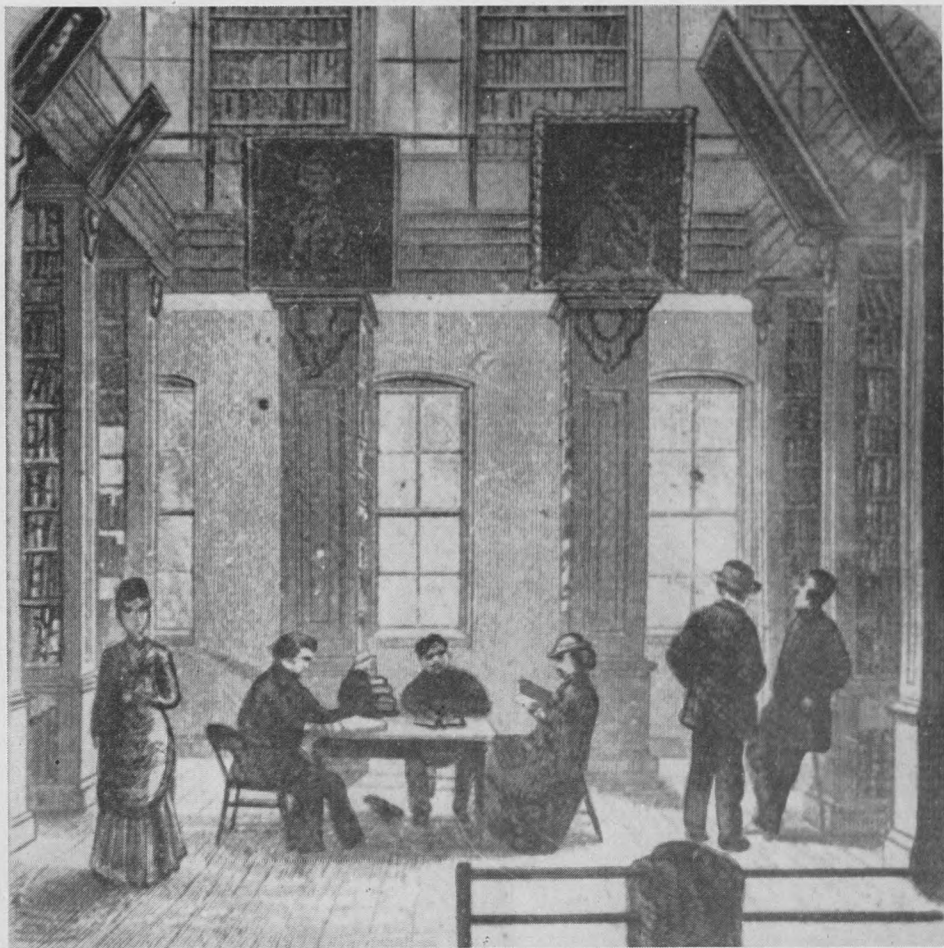

In 1920, with the appointment of E. G. Swem, formerly with the Library of Congress and the Virginia State Library, a new page in the history of the College Library was turned. These were exciting times; Dr. J. A. C. Chandler brought new blood and new ideas to the old campus. New programs, new buildings, new personnel and increased numbers of students and faculty were creating a dynamic atmosphere in the sleepy community of Williamsburg. Library resources doubled again and again from 1920, until Dr. Swem's retirement in 1945. Additions were made to the little Library building—a stack tower in 1923, a four-story structure (now the reading rooms) in 1929.

So this is the story of our Library, a story of tragedy, perseverance and dynamism which is typically William and Mary.

About 1880 the Library of the College was located in the Great Hall of the Wren Building. This print was found during the restoration of the Powder Magazine

In Their Memory

As you enter the front door of the library, you step into a small room which was formerly the old (1908) building. This unit was built from funds supplied by Andrew Carnegie and from gifts of other friends of the College. Continuing on, you step into the "Saunders Reading Room," so named in honor of Robert Saunders, the 14th President of the College. The furnishings of this room, the chairs, tables, portraits on the walls, plaques and statuary, are all gifts.

Prominent students, alumni, and friends of the College from all walks of life are represented by books on the Library shelves. Such renowned campus figures as Dean Grace Warren Landrum, Bursar Charlie Duke, and President John Stewart Bryan; and such prominent alumni as the Honorable St. George Tucker, the Honorable Schuyler Otis Bland, Colonel Joseph W. Wright, and General William B. Taliaferro may be but names to some raw freshman. But the influence of their books and those presented in their memory will extend for more lives than one.

Gift of Kings . . . and Gentlemen

The reading room is the center of student activity in the college library. Here the thoughtful visitor may always find a good portion of the student body.

Reference works are invaluable in study and the library reading room must be used by students as study hall

Faculty members need a library too, and a prime function of any college library is service given to the teacher

A Dynamic Storehouse

A GOOD student, like a good athlete, must go it alone. His ability to absorb wisdom is not limited to so many credit hours of classes, so many hours of discussion with faculty and fellow student, or so many hours of exposure to a textbook. A truly well-rounded education requires only a reflective mind viewing the beauty, the evil, the wisdom and the ignorance of mankind before him.

The library, therefore, is the memory of an academic community. Day and night, eighty hours a week, on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, this dynamic storehouse of information is at one's beck and call. The "great conversation" is free to all who would enjoy and profit from moments in the company of the great minds of the past.

Student discussions are natural and common until some neighbor chants that ancient call of libraries—"Quiet."

The card catalog records all the books and documents of the library. It is the key to an orderly system in any collection.

Just looking, great fun, and certainly profitable where good books are assembled. Open stacks make this pleasure possible.

The check-out desk is a necessary evil, yet it can be a pleasant experience—if attractively and intelligently staffed.

The research student must leave the familiar aisles of the library and search out facts in the storage vault, the basement and the attics.

The Library Today

IN order for the Library to be an intellectual center on campus, a number of pressing needs—apart from books—must be met immediately. By its very nature, the College Library is an instrument of education for all students and for all members of the academic family. Yet less than 350 chairs are available in the library building—one-sixth of the present enrollment and far below the requirements for anticipated enrollment increases. Other things are lacking: there are no individual study desks for advanced student or faculty member, no seminar rooms for small classes, no space for music listening rooms, no provision for display or exhibit of those surviving documents and artifacts which are an integral part of William and Mary's heritage.

The list of problems is endless—overloaded electrical conduits, no hot water, naked and ill-placed heat pipes, no elevators or book-lifts, cold in winter and hot in summer. But still the Library is, and will remain, the most heavily used building on campus.

This building, the least adequate structure of its kind in the Commonwealth of Virginia, holds only about one-half of the materials treasured by the College Library. The remainder are in departmental libraries (Law, Biology, Chemistry, Education, Virginia Fisheries Laboratory), basements (Wren Building), and attics (Library, Rogers Hall, Marshall-Wythe).

Select, Process and Organize

The Librarian, James A. Servies, finds that he must wear many hats during the day

THE forgotten man—or woman—on William and Mary's campus is the patient librarian recording, listing, sorting, pasting, and ferreting away the scraps of print, film and parchment which may become the germs of future ideas. A few of these people are well known to generations of students for their helpful and conscientious efforts to bring this raw material to the attention of the inveterate term-paper writer. But for every one library staff member whose work brings him in contact with the public, there are four others whose labors are less known yet of equal, if not of equally publicized, importance.

Each of these workers has a common goal—to select, process and organize the best results of modern scholarship into a useable "memory." This is a complex task, at best, and one most severely hindered by the inadequate physical circumstances in which it must be carried on. The long, dark aisles, the inaccessible basements, and tenement-like offices have become, unfortunately, a way of life humbly accepted by most employees and users of the College Library. But this must not obscure the central facts: unless proper conditions for work and study are found no great library can render satisfactory service.

The mail each morning brings in mountains of material that must be processed

The underground empire of the clerical force of the library staff is certainly not conducive to fulfilling successfully the high standard of specialized work required

Never lost, yet for all practical purposes inaccessible are many documents and books

This library is the biggest in the state, extending from Bryan to Wren Basement.

Stoop, squint, and seek—not the motto of the library but often the only procedure.

March, 1959

The library of the College is a credit to the institution. Good men and thoughtful administration have seen to this. The immediate future will know if it is to be great.

To The Future

HERE'S to the Library of the future! What it will look like, where it will be, and what it will contain are questions not yet answered. President Chandler has expressed himself forcefully about the need for modern library facilities to match in quality the excellent resources now scattered campus-wide, and Dr. William F. Swindler, Director of Development and James A. Servies, Librarian of the College, have collaborated in a detailed descriptive brochure outlining the present and future of the Library. The General Assembly has provisionally allocated $1,000,000 to the College, but an additional $2,000,000 must be raised to provide the proper conditions of Library service.

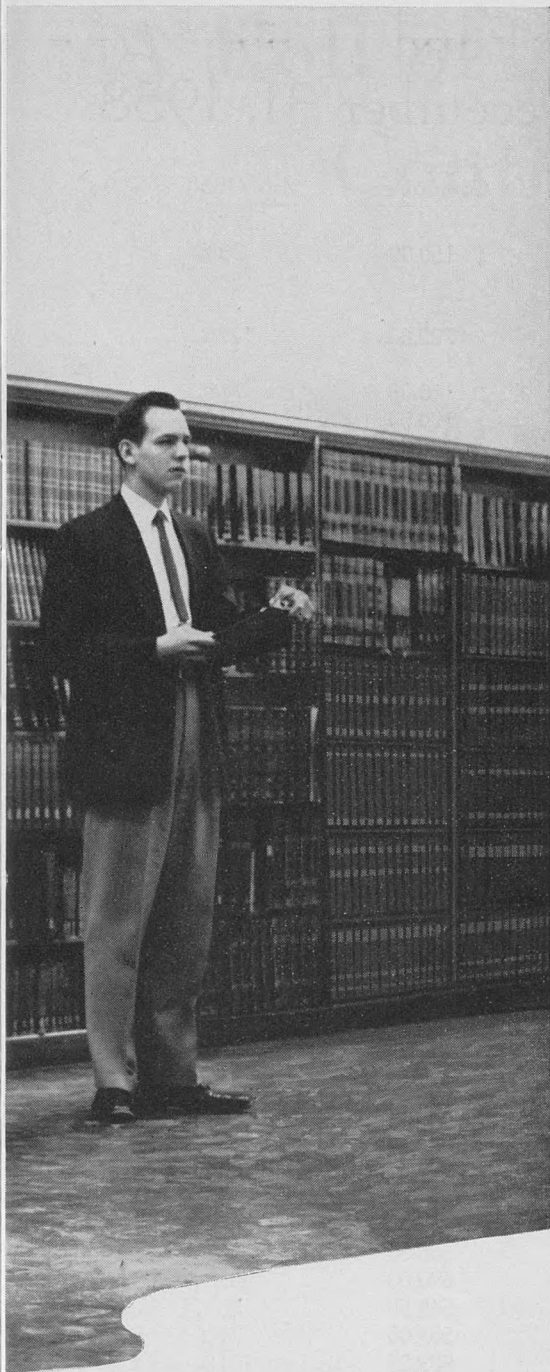

So, Phoenix-like, the Library of the College of William and Mary in Virginia is about to rise again. Not, fortunately, out of the ashes of the past, but out of its irreplaceable treasures of the present.

The William and Mary Fund

This is a report of the eighth year of annual giving to the College of William and Mary. It summarizes and records the generosity of 2,561 alumni who contributed $25,686.00 and the loyalty and unselfish service of the Class Agents and Chapter Presidents. The many alumni who are already doing their thoughtful best, whether it be the largest gift or the smallest, have our enduring thanks. We direct this appeal to many who could help and have not, feeling sure that they will do so when they are aware of the importance of the Society's annual giving program—The William and Mary Fund. This year the Fund is dedicated to continuing the program and assistance in the area of faculty salaries and research grants; and is accepting the two challenges as outlined below. To meet our obligations and to realize our objectives, the Fund must collect $50,000.00.

The William and Mary Fund Committee

TWO CHALLENGES <sup>plus</sup>

a program for

The 1959 William and Mary Fund

1. A program supported by the United States Steel Corporation designed to recognize institutions which have best demonstrated notable success or improvement in alumni giving and an organized effort to broaden the base of support. William and Mary will be competing in the large coeducational group. In this group last year the average participation figure was 20.3%; at William and Mary 21% of our alumni contributed. The average alumni gift to their respective funds was $26.85; at William and Mary our average gift was $8.82. For our effort to be competitive we must at least double our participation figure (42%) and we must double our average gift figure ($17.64).

2. With the endowment of the Jefferson Chair in government, the alumni of the College of William and Mary will restore this institution to its traditional position of leadership in the training of young people for service in an understanding of the local, state, and national areas of interest and public affairs.

Research and publication, lecture and seminar, conference and clinic on all aspects of public affairs, in their broadest sense, will contribute significantly to the scholarly reputation of the College and to the practical need for expert attention focused upon the problems of democratic processes in the context of a complicated modern society.

The alumni initiative in making possible the Jefferson Chair of Government at the College of William and Mary will bring to the College a prestige worthy of the name of its illustrious son, and a program of scholarly activity many times the financial aid the chair itself will represent.

PLUS continuing alumni programs already established, particularly the support of improved faculty salaries and faculty research grants, and maintaining alumni activities such as Alumni Day, Homecoming, class reunions, and this magazine.

Dinner on a river boat as it cruises down the Seine

AFTER graduation from William and Mary in 1937, Carl Mitson went to work with the Vick Chemical Co. as a sales trainee. For one year he called on all types of retail outlets from city department stores to country general stores.

Then Carl was given the job of taking Vaporub, Vatronol and Cough Drops to Venezuela. Before selling the stores in each town, advertising had to be nailed up on all street corner houses and samples distributed house to house. Carl and a native boy covered the country in something just short of a year by using a Chevrolet part time, river boats other times and horses and donkeys still others.

For about five years Carl continued in the Foreign Division of Vick traveling back and forth between New York and South America on special assignments to most all of the major countries.

Just prior to the War he went with Sterling Drug International and when the War started was deferred along with about half a dozen others to go to South America, set up in each country a drug business, and compete directly with the German drug interests who were using their income for propaganda and espionage purposes.

His travels took him all over South America and for the first time into Europe. After two years of export, he was transferred to the Domestic Division as Sales Manager and later moved on to

Vice-President in charge of Retail Sales.

Carl lived successively in Mexico, El Salvador, Costa Rica and lastly Venezuela again. After the War he returned to the States and went with Revlon Products Corporation to start their foreign operations.

As Europe recovered, an opportunity opened up to go into business with a partner as agents for Revlon in France, Switzerland and Italy. Early in 1954 Carl moved to Paris to begin this business.

Their agency prospered and in 1957 Carl sold out and began his own consultation and Agency business. He has offices at 15 Rue de la Paix, Paris 2eme and does business under the name of CMD—Common Market Distributeur. Carl's present clients are Lehn & Fink, who have as divisions Dorothy Gray Cosmetics, Lesquendieu Cosmetics, Tussy Cosmetics, Etiquette Deodorant, Hinds Honey & Almond Cream and Lysol Disinfectant; and Breck Hair Preparations, Corday Perfumes and Pierre Cardin Perfumes.

With the development of a stable government in France, the remarkable recovery in Germany, and good economic conditions in Benelux and Italy, the future of the Common Market seems assured. CMD stands ready to help American companies participate. The new Common Market of Europe, according to Mitson, will be as big as our United States Market of America.

Class letters

Two

William E. Henderson of Richmond, Virginia who was with E. B. Taylor Company, importers and wholesale distributors of china, glassware and home furnishings, for twenty-two years; and with the Tax Department of the City of Richmond for fifteen years retired in 1957.

Three

Recently the Staunton-Augusta County Chamber of Commerce honored Andrew Crawford Gilkeson for his outstanding contribution to education. He is a former school superintendent in that area of Virginia.

Eight

At the recent annual dinner meeting of the Staunton-Augusta County Chamber of Commerce, Mr. G. L. H. Johnson was honored for his outstanding contribution to education. He is a former school superintendent in the State of Virginia.

Ten

Mr. Joseph E. Healy was recently honored by the Staunton-Augusta County Chamber of Commerce at their annual dinner for his outstanding contribution to education.

Mr. Charles L. Ebell writes that he is now retired after serving the Methodist Church for forty-three years. He and his wife are living in Elwood, New Jersey and hope to return to the campus for his 50th reunion next year.

Twenty-four

The Reverend Carter H. Harrison has recently accepted the rectorship of Grace Church In-The-Mountains at Waynesville, North Carolina. He will remain at St. John's Episcopal Church in Hampton, Virginia through June 1.

Recently it was brought to our attention that Henry T. Moncure had written the following very appealing poem for the 1923 COLONIAL ECHO entitled "Botetourt."

The grand old keeper of the campus,
Standing upright in the lane,
Facing eastward by the compass,
Reflecting sunshine, shedding rain.

Beneath whose stare the ages
With their wars and sad complaint,
With brilliant lighted pages—
All do homage to this Saint.

He has seen the war of brothers,
Watched alike the Blue and Gray—
Pass on by to welcome others
Who have homage here to pay.

Botetourt we have requested,
As the aeons wend their way,
To leave you standing unmolested,
For they, too, must homage pay.

One of '27's most distinguished members is Dr. A. Hughlett Mason, a senior physicist with the Department of the Army, now living at 2407 North Kenmore Street, Arlington, Virginia. Hughlett was among the scientists present at Cape Canaveral last September 6 to observe the successful launching of the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, ATLAS. A biographical sketch of Hughlett recently appeared in "Who's Who in Engineering."

Nina Trevvett writes in that she is now Mrs. Howard C. Miles, and living on a farm at Bloxom, in Accomac County, Virginia. Nina worked for 21 years with the Bureau of Indian Affairs, mostly in Santa Fe and Albuquerque, New Mexico, but came back to Virginia in 1952. She has been working at the Naval Air Station, Chincoteague as superintendent of employee relations. She was married on February 23, 1958.

Samuel G. Saunders has been practicing medicine for the past 25 years and is now located in Waynesboro. He reports that he has three children, the oldest of whom, his daughter Sidney Elizabeth, graduated from William and Mary last spring and is now teaching school in Richmond. A son, Sammy, 16, attends Fishburne Military School, while Jimmy 11, attends elementary school in Waynesboro. Sam gets to Williamsburg often for football games.

Sam dug out an interesting old snapshot to remind us what teenagers were like back in 1924. It shows six William and Mary boys on a week-end hike, all sitting in an old log canoe hauled up on a creek bank somewhere near Williamsburg, and wearing the sweaters and lumber-jackets which were the fad at that time. In the photo are William H. Morrow, now at the Mount Herman School in Massachusetts; A. Scott Anderson, the distinguished mayor of Richmond; your correspondent, now American Consul for the French West Indies; Robert L. Brewer, deceased; William J. Jones; and Sam Saunders. All except Bill Jones, who was a class ahead, were members of '27.

Stella Nelson retired in January from her teaching career at Alderson High School in Alderson, West Virginia. She had been a member of the faculty for 28 years.

A. Scott Noblin of Charlottesville, Virginia is the Virginia representative for the Row, Peterson and Company, publishers of textbooks.

Ada Blair Whitmore of Staunton, Virginia is teaching English in Wilson Memorial High School in Augusta County.

Many members of our class will remember that Bob Brewer died tragically in Richmond during the depression, leaving his wife, our classmate Hyde Fowlkes, and a small son. Hyde later remarried and is now Mrs. Harvey

G. Hallum, of Evansville, Ind. She wrote me a number of years ago to tell me about her and Bob's son, who was having a most successful academic career at the University of Chicago. Bob was one of the brightest and most promising members of '27 and it is good to know that his son is carrying on the family tradition.

Had a nice Christmas message from Carl Andrews, who as all his respectful classmates know is editor of the Roanoke World-News. Carl has never failed to support William and Mary and has been the finest type of loyal alumnus. He writes, "Your class letter efforts have been fine—something we have needed all along."

Caroline Ribble Green writes, "I can't think of any news about me except that I am married to a farmer and have two children, Caroline and James R., Jr. My daughter is a freshman at William and Mary this year. When I took her there in September it made me want to start all over again. It is really beautiful, and I'm always glad it is my College." Caroline and her husband live at "Morven," Markham, Fauquier County.

As promised in the October issue, some more co-ed married names and whereabouts: Virginia McAllister is Mrs. James A. Sommer, Oakland, California; Kitty C. Myrick is Mrs. John Marshall, Warwick, Virginia; Sarah Houston Rhodes is Mrs. John Gregory Warburton, Williamsburg; Alice Trevvett is Mrs. George Washington Todd, Richmond; Genevieve Whitman is Mrs. Henry P. Simmerman, Wytheville; Llewellyn Baker is Mrs. Bernard M. Bros, Minneapolis, Minnesota. Will list some unmarried ones in near future. But how about some real news, girls?

What ever happened to Mary Fairfax Griffith, one of our most beautiful co-ed members? Last I saw Fax was in Minneapolis in the summer of 1930, with a baby playing on a blanket in the middle of her living room floor. Must have known her married name at the time, but now it completely escapes me.

In case anyone is interested, Christmas in Martinique was a beautiful tropical day, just like summer in Virginia. After a turkey dinner, took my two younger children and four French playmates for a fine swim in the Caribbean.

Twenty-eight

R. K. T. Larson has recently been appointed Associate Editor for Public Service of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot and the Ledger-Star in Norfolk, Virginia.

Dewey L. Lohr of Aroda, Virginia has just completed thirty-three years of teaching in the schools of Madison County.

John Branch Green who is affectionately known as "Mayor" of the Village Shopping Center, Westhampton, Richmond, Virginia, was selected as the Executive of the Week recently. He is Branch Manager of the Franklin Federal Savings and Loan Association, active in the Community Chest and Red Cross Drives; a charter member and on the Sponsoring Committee of the West End Kiwanis Club of Richmond.

Congratulations are due the following members of our class:

Lloyd U. Nolan, Jr., Newport News, who has been chairman of Richmond Hotels, Inc., has been given the post as president of the corporation. Lloyd is also chairman of the board of Biggs Antique Co., board chairman of Virginia Engineering Co., director of Tidewater Construction Co., and director of State-Planters Bank of Commerce & Trusts.

Bob Simpson became Princess Anne Commonwealth's Attorney in November. He will seek election to a full term in the primary in July. Bob is well qualified, having worked with the U. S. Dept. of Justice, a Norfolk law firm, U. S. District Court and since 1945 has had a law office at Virginia Beach.

Horace E. Henderson was recently appointed Deputy Assistant Secretary for International Organization Affairs in the U. S. Dept. of State.

I spent a delightful afternoon late in January with Jane Robertson (Litzenberg) in Elkton, Md. Before, during and following a delicious luncheon "Bobbie" and I really talked Williamsburg and William & Mary items. We both wish there were more of the Class of 1938 near so we could get together more often.

All of us send our heartfelt sympathy to Jane Speakman (MacPherson) after the sudden loss of her husband in December.

Time has been very full for me the past few weeks—I am chairman of the volunteer program for the ladies' auxiliary of the Harford (Co.) Memorial Hospital. There are close to one hundred women who are volunteering three to eight hours several times a month and I am very proud of the success we have had in organizing them.

Were it not for one letter from Jim Kelly and notes on some of our Christmas cards, I fear I'd have hardly anything to report in this issue.

Commander Arthur C. Cason is now Commanding Officer of Patrol Squadron Five at the Jacksonville, Florida Naval Air Station. Congratulations Caldwell!

Since he was commissioned in the Navy in '41 Caldwell's travels have taken him to many parts of the world including the Far East, Europe, Africa and recently he returned from Argentina, Newfoundland where his squadron was employed in anti-submarine operations and long-range aerial ice reconnaissance in support of summer resupply of our arctic defense installations.

Caldwell's present home address is: 2274 Lakeshore Blvd., Jacksonville. It's good to hear of you after all these many years.

Ann (Terrell) Garrett writes the most wonderful letters from Guantanamo. Her last to us was in January and she described the revolution down there. That must've been a frightening experience, to say the least. If I were a better correspondent I'd have answered that letter and no doubt heard how things are going down there now. The side of things the newspapers tell us is sometimes very biased.

A card from Deede (Eastlack) and Howard Gray says that they've moved into their new home which they built in Thalia Acres, a suburb of Norfolk and Virginia Beach. Their address is Rt. 2, Box 94-B, Lynnhaven. We hope to come see you soon, Deede.

We heard from my roommate, Jean (Clarahan) Bratton, and she said she dreams of Virginia when their thermometer stays between zero and 2° in Cincinnati. Well—now we're seeing signs of Spring outdoors. Crocuses are blooming and our tulips and daffodils are up 2 or 3 inches. Spring can't come too soon to suit me, even after a Virginia winter.

A note from Jane (Brandt) Wild in Winchester, Mass. says they thoroughly enjoy all the sports, from one season to another. In winter they are great curling enthusiasts and in fall and spring it's football and baseball respectively. Having 2 boys in athletics and a 3rd coming along I can imagine the interest. Scott, their oldest boy, is at Exeter for his first year. At the time she wrote she said they were in a terrible mess, putting an addition on their house—a larger kitchen and a 30 x 16 family room which they and their 4 children will surely enjoy.

Sally (Bell) Wainwright wrote that she had seen Marge (Hoskins) and Red Bloxom, Bill Green and his wife and Do (Herbst) Chick at Ruth Ann (Holzmueller) Chancellor's in Alexandria last summer. The Bloxoms are now in Japan where Red is a Capt. in the Navy.

Ann (Sherman) Smith and Bill and their 3 children are living in Arizona, having built their new house in Scottsdale last year. Bill's in the Real Estate business and they love Arizona and its climate.

John E. Dillard of Richmond, Virginia recently was named Assistant Branch Manager of the American Tobacco Company in that city.

Hearing from Charlotte (Bogot) White was like hearing a voice from the past. Char's now living in Kansas City where her husband is with National Gypsum Co. They have 2 sons and 2 daughters ranging in age from 9 to 2 years. Their new address is 6400 W. 83rd St., Overland Park, Kansas.

Jim Kelly tells me that the College is now making an all-out effort to obtain funds for what should be one of the truly outstanding libraries in the Country. I hope that many of us can have a part in all this progress.

I do hope that you have been thinking about next Spring and our 20th Reunion. It's not too soon to start planning and it would be wonderful to have an even bigger turn out than we had for our 15th. That was a bang-up weekend and our next scheduled reunion should be even better, so start working on it and spread the word.

Please help us have a column by letting us hear from you. I don't think we need wait for momentous happenings in our lives—we're all interested in the everyday things and just like to know who's where doing what.

Thanks to a long letter from Kay Hoover (Dew) we have some news from Homecoming. The Dews, with Kay Britton Norton and husband Larry, enjoyed the day together and managed to talk with many from our class who were there. The Nortons, with two boys and a girl have recently moved to Richmond. Marion and John Barba drove down from New Jersey for the week-end—guess they must have an unbroken record for Homecoming attendance. Others they ran into were Nancy Chisholm, Harry Barr and his lovely wife who caused quite a stir with tales of their eight children, Cormick Lapolla, Dave Senft and Bob Stainton. There were others from our class there, but Kay didn't get a chance to do more than just wave a greeting.

During the past summer Betty Boyd Parsons, Bob and their two children visited the Dews. While the Parsons were with them the Merritt Fosters, Nancy Norris and Dixon Foster and Jo and Buddy Clark came over for a W and M reunion. At another time Hope Toulon Byrne, husband Ding, and their six wonderful children were with them. Jean Cox Phillips, Bill and their three girls came over from Virginia to be with the group. There were thirteen youngsters, ranging in age from 23 months (Coxie's) to Hope's fifteen year old twin boys. The adults marveled at the speed with which all the kids became acquainted and how well they got along. Kitty and Larry were supposed to have been there too, but had been unable to make it. Betty and her family are living in Wallingford, Penn. Congratulations to both Bob Hornsby and Pat Harper for their election to the Board of Directors of our Alumni Society.

A note from Seymour Simerman brings the news that he is Chief of the Medical Service, VA Center, Dayton, Ohio, which is an affiliate of the Ohio State University College of Medicine. He is also an Assistant Professor of Medicine at Ohio State and a Diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine.

Hattie Abbitt (McKinney) writes that she and Dean moved to Benton Harbor, Michigan last spring after having lived in Erie, Penn. for 14 years. Dean's new position is Personnel Manager of Watervliet Paper Co., a subsidiary of Hammermill Paper Co. They like the new area very much, especially since they are only 90 miles from Chicago.

From Cliff Kreps comes word of his appointment as one of four members to a special subcommittee of the American Bankers Association to plan a nationwide study of banking education. He is now at the University of North Carolina School of Business Administration, holding the position of Wachovia Associate Professor of Banking. Married (since 1944) to the former Juanita Morris, they have three children, ages 7, 5, and 4. Cliff received his Ph.D. at Duke in 1948 and was, for a number of years, with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. His wife, also a Ph.D. is Assistant Professor of Economics at Duke.

The answer to a class secretary's prayer came the other day—a nice newsy letter from Roy B. Merritt '42, telling of himself, his wife, Mary Elliott Henderson '42, and their family. They live at 6 Alwington Road, Chestnut Hill 67, Mass. Roy writes, "There are six of us now—three girls 15, 14, and 11, and one boy, who is 6. This adds up to a rugged home life, as all honest parents will admit; yet we feel that we are over the hump now, with the two oldest thinking about college! At this time, after 15 years in athletics, 7 of them as Ass't Athletic Director, Baseball, Wrestling, and Swimming Coach at M.I.T., I am a Guidance Counselor in the Quincy, Mass., school system, with 400 eleventh graders under my wing. I resigned from M.I.T. in 1956 to complete my Master's Degree at Boston University and am now deeply involved in working there for my doctorate in education. Completion of this will probably be the ultimate factor in my professional status."

Roy says in closing, "Incidentally, if you print any of this, please include our invitation to old crony, Spike Moore, to revisit his home away from home with us in Chestnut Hill. He may decide more quickly that way." Wasn't that a good letter? I wish many of you would be inspired to send us any and all news of you and your families.

Again this year the Christmas mail included a fascinating account of the travels of Terry (Teal) and Jack Crutchfield during the past year. They are still living in Tripoli, Libya. Last fall Jack and Terry left their four children with their "fine Egyptian nanny" for a month and vacationed in Southern Europe and Mallorca. Soon after that wonderful trip, Terry was presented to the Queen of Libya. In passing Terry mentioned that during the year they also had visited Beirut and Cairo. What a life! I hope Ray and I will catch at least a glimpse of the Crutchfields when they are stateside this spring.

Ann (Fitz Hugh) Ostrander is now teaching art to third through sixth grades and is planning to go on with her studies to complete a Master's degree. And that besides maintaining a home for a growing family!

Jeanne (Reindollar) Boertzel also is teaching school. She and Harry live in Sterling, Virginia, and have two boys.

I heard a rumor that Nat (Nichols) Pearson is "running" the Board of Education out in Palo Alto, Calif. Nat, please tell us more! I do know that Nat and Jay think California is the best possible place to live and bring up their three children.

We had a news bulletin from Drury College, Springfield, Missouri, announcing that "Dr. Richard Mears, formerly associate professor of English at Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C., will assume a like position at Drury in September (1958)." Professor Mears, besides his B.A. from Wm. & M., holds an M.A. from University of Pennsylvania, a certificate from the University of London, and a Ph.D. from the University of North Carolina. He is married and has two children.

Elizabeth (M. Douglas) Conwell (Mrs. E. L.) lives in Swarthmore, Penna., and has five children. She writes she saw Eleanor (Graham) Foster, who leaves soon for two years in Manila.

From Norfolk, Va., Nancy Jordan Parker writes, "Just back from California after visiting my sister Carol (Parker) Shafer ('46) and meeting my new nephew (4th child, 2nd son). Saw Betsy (Wakeman) Serbell and the youngest of her three girls. Betsy has an olive tree and has learned how to process them. She is planning to take some education courses this year and start teaching next year."

Regina E. Williams, who also lives in Norfolk, is a dental assistant and was president of Tidewater Dental Assistants Society for 1957-58.

I talked much too briefly on the phone last fall to Mildred Ann (Hill) and Ed Fisher, who were visiting in Short Hills, N. J. They had had lunch with Patty (Nichols) Curcuru (who incidentally wrote on her Christmas card that she had so enjoyed visiting with the Fishers and seeing photographs of their daughter, Betty, and their new home). Patty is evidently very busy in P.T.A. work and is doing some substitute teaching. Patty had a nice note from Gilmer Fitchett, who is now living in Dunellen, N. J. Patty and I are New Jersey neighbors, and by the next newsletter I hope to heaven I have gotten the Deans and Curcurus together for a visit. We seem to keep very busy around here, especially with our youngest (Barbara) just a few months old, but things are bound to get easier!

Lucille Jennings spent Thanksgiving in Williamsburg. I wish you would come up New York way again soon, Wogs.

Here we are again with news and notes from '44. Hope you had a happy holiday season and are making plans to come back for our twentieth class reunion in June. It's the weekend of June 6th. This will be our biggest and best reunion if YOU are there! A personal note from a good friend can get results. Why don't you drop notes to your roommates and fraternity or sorority classmates and plan to meet them in Williamsburg? Perhaps you have addresses we don't have. Your letters will assure you that YOUR special friends have been notified!

Congratulations to John M. Hollis and Jerome E. Hyman on their significant achievements in the legal world. John was appointed U. S. attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia and was sworn in on Jan. 5th. Jerry was admitted to partnership in the legal firm of Cleary, Gottlieb, Friendly and Hamilton on Jan. 1. Best wishes to both of you from the Class of '44. John and Louise (Spaulding) live in Norfolk with their four children.

Jean Boyd McIntyre and family spent their vacation at Va. Beach last summer. Marge Retzke Gibbs and Nat Sanford Hill joined them with their kids and all had a grand beach day together. "Then, Marge had a dessert bridge get-together at her house and the following came to gab about the 'good ole days at W&M': Natalie Sanford Hill, Sunny Trumbo Williams, Jane Welton Anderson, Lucy Tyler (Mrs. Lyon), Louise Spaulding Hollis, Lou Kanoles and Jean." Jean also said, "We catch at least one W&M game a year and notice that more and more there is less spirit and the cheerleaders give fewer cheers. It makes an old grad's heart bleed! Can't we arrange a get-together after games. . . ?" Thanks, Jean, for voicing your sentiments. If anyone else wants after-game parties or has other suggestions, please let Jim Kelly know. I feel sure that he will welcome your ideas.

Frances F. Smith noted on her Fund envelope that she has lived in Fla., Philadelphia and, for the past eight years, in suburban Pittsburgh. Her husband is a Sales Engineer. They have one child, Nancy, 4½, and were expecting another in January.

Mrs. R. P. Cocke wrote a note on her Christmas card. She saw Dave and Lillian Roush Urquhart in Cochrane, Ga., in September. They are both teaching.

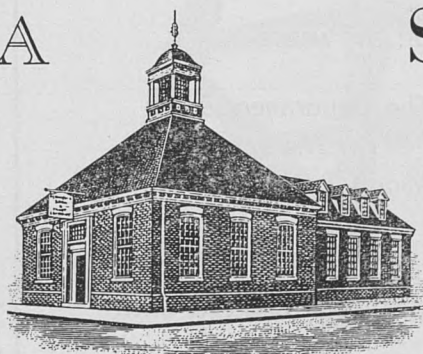

We were sorry to hear of the death of Prickett Carter Saunder's father. She said her boys are "big, noisy and fun." She keeps busy with boy-type activities, gardening, bridge, reading and the old standby, cooking. Mary Wilson Carver Sale stopped to see her recently. They are all hoping to attend the reunion. Marion Ross Karrick, her husband and three daughters spent an evening with the Saunders in August.

Gene Hutton Lentz is now living in Las Vegas, Nev. She said they don't do any gambling but do take in quite a few of the shows. Nancy Morrow Mangin is in Las Vegas, too, but she didn't write a note.

Dorothy deVaughn Dent's card was from Sid, Dev, Debbie and Doug. Another greeting came from Marion Commeroy Boyce and Walt. Mary Dilts Dixon wants to come back for our reunion. She and Bob are busy parents with David in kindergarten and Debbie trailing mama.

Marge Retzke Gibbs said she and Wayne attended Homecomings in Oct. They saw many old friends, but the only ones from our class that they saw were Louise and John Hollis and John C. Marshall and his wife, Barbara. The Marshalls are living in Bronxville, N. Y. Marge also mentions having seen the McIntyres, Hannah Leonard Merrick, Bill Anderson and Sunny Trumbo Williams in and about Norfolk in 1958.

Jane Thomas Folk and Ted are still in Dayton, Ohio. Mary Raney Begor and Roland are in the Philippines. She said, "'58, as past years, has been a year of moves—two of them though only one was a change in base. We had 8 delightful months in that lil paradise, Baguio, where the climate is ideal and the scenery beautiful. In July we moved down to Clark Field in the lowlands. The tropical heat was hard to take but eventually we became acclimated. Life at Clark, the largest A.F. Base in the Far East, is quite different from that at Baguio, a rest and recreation center. The kids adjusted overnight and are loving the activities and playmates. Diggs is a Cub Scout, Rob takes swimming lessons and both are avid Little League Football fans. Judy can hardly wait to enter kindergarten next year. Roland is busy with his work. He gave me a 3-week trip up to Japan, Taipei and Hong Kong in April. Had a good time. Recently he was at Hickham AFB, Hawaii, for a week for Uncle Sam."

Prickett is working on reunion plans and Jim Kelly told me today that directories are being prepared. You'll receive a letter when final plans are completed. In the meantime, write to your "special" classmates and save the weekend of June 6th for your reunion.

Christmas brought greetings from classmates from near and far so I do have a few items of interest this time. Dinny Lee McAlinden wrote that she and Joe had a wonderful trip to Europe last year. Joe got a pilot's license recently and Dinny has been taking flying lessons. Jean Boyle Herbert, who lives in Philadelphia, sent a note too. Tom travels quite a bit so she is rather tied down caring for their three sons. The youngest is just four months old. Floss Metius Johnson had looked forward to this year, the year when all of her children would be in school, when she would have time for her long neglected hobbies. She has learned it doesn't work that way. The children are so busy with cub scouting, music, etc. that she is constantly playing chauffeur. She must not mind too much though—says she loves her "profession." Marion Lang VanDam, Ted and their four had a wonderful Christmas. It was the first for their only daughter and they think Santa was mighty surprised to finally see a Raggedy Ann doll. Marion must have been mighty good during the year. Santa brought her a piano. Marion also wrote that Betsy Yow Pearce, husband Bob and their three children are living in Arlington, Va., and she sent news of Martha Macklin Smith. Martha and Herb have three boys, one in school, one in play-school and one just beginning to walk.

Martha plays golf frequently. Last summer she won the first flight in the State Amateur at Hot Springs. Herb is an architect and is at present President of the Virginia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects. They live in London Bridge, Va.

Betty Lyons Lascara ('43) and Vince ('42) and their three children live here in Springfield, and although we don't see them very often, we do visit on the phone occasionally. Vince is a Commander in the Navy and has been on Admiral Rickover's staff for the past six years. He accompanied Admiral Rickover when he officially greeted the Skate in Boston after its Polar voyage. Vince was recently honored with the Secretary of the Navy Commendation Award for his work with Admiral Rickover.

Willie Anne Boschen Wright and Jack visited us at my parents home in Charles City, Va. during the Christmas holidays. It was wonderful seeing them. We also went to a party at their house and saw Lois Spratley Donald ('44) and Doug, and Marion Pate Macon and Jimmy. It was grand renewing old acquaintances. Lois and Doug have just moved to Richmond from New York and bought a house a block from the Wrights. The Macons are neighbors too.

Items gathered here and there: Annis McLean Fluharth and Tom, their daughter and two sons are back in St. Petersburg, Florida after having lived in Michigan for several years. They are planning to build soon. Nan Hochstrasser and Bill Lichliter are living in Winchester, Va. They have a son and a daughter. Nan is librarian at Handley High School. Dr. William Ditto, Anne and their four children have a new home in Greensboro, N. C. and Bill has a new title, President of Kiwanis Club. Mary Raney Begor had a wonderful trip all over the Far East last spring. She and her family still live at Clark Field, Philippines. Scott and Betty Morency and their three children live in Northbrook, Ill. Millie Foster Lewis and Bill and their four children are living in Mt. Pleasant, S. C. Betty Motley Glore and Scott and their first grader, Elizabeth, live in Louisville, Ky.

The W&M fund envelopes brought several items in time for my newsletter. Nancy Outland Chandler, Webster and their daughter and two sons live in Norfolk, Va. where Webster is a consulting engineer. Jack Marshall Gulley is now Claims Superintendent of State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company in Charlottesville, Va. In November Margetta Hirsch Doyle and her husband, Joe, moved to Toronto. They have found the Canadians very hospitable and they are pleased with their new surroundings. Their little girls, Kathy and Laurie, love the snow and ice skating. Mary Elizabeth (Slizie) Jones Price and Tommy are not only busy with their new home and their three children, but Tommy is in the process of going in to the paper business for himself. Midge Webster Hoffmeier ('44), who lives in Ohio, visited the Prices last summer, and they had a good time attending baseball games between their rival teams, the Orioles and Indians. Slizie sees Doris Brandt Baure ('46) frequently.

I recently found that June Neff Williams and Edward live in McLean, Va. which isn't too far from us. When I called June she was busy with a brand new baby girl just days old. She also has a two year old son.

Had such a grand letter from Joyce Remsberg Shank that I will start out with the news she sent. Here's what she wrote. "The Shanks returned to the States in July after being stationed with the Air Force in Germany for three years. We thoroughly enjoyed our tour there—were at Rhein Main AFB near Frankfurt for two years and at Wiesbaden for one year." Al Alley was one of the chaplains at Rhein Main. Janet Campbell is married to his brother and they are in Germany now. "After spending three weeks at home in Maryland we made a leisurely trip west to New Mexico. Tim is in the office of the Judge Advocate here at Walker AFB, just outside of Roswell." Joyce's new address is 20B Street, Roswell, New Mexico. They have four children, Sharon 7, Sally 5, Susan 3, and Timmy 1. Joyce manages to find time for singing in the Base Chapel Choir, and does volunteer work one day a week.

At home this summer she saw Jacy Bormann Stroup and Helen Robinson Zeigler. Jacy and Ellis live in Annapolis, Maryland and have a new son their third, Lynn Martin, born January 10. Robbie lives in Middletown, Maryland and teaches in the high school there. She has two children, Ricky 10 and Marda 9.

B. J. Relph Crockett and Clint are living in Fort Worth, Texas. B. J. teaches piano and is also soloist at the downtown Episcopal Church. Clint coached a Pee Wee football team last fall. Their own two boys are active in sports, playing football and little league softball. Joyce talked to Grubie Williams on the phone when home and learned that she and Jim bought a house in Bethesda, Maryland in September. Their two boys are now 2½ and 1 year.

Tas Mitchell Holliday and George have a new daughter, their second, Cary Catharine. She was born in June. George is practicing civil engineering in Richmond, Virginia. They went to a William and Mary picnic with Willie Ann Boschen Wright and her family and enjoyed it very much.

Bev Bose Deans and her family had a trip to Florida last summer. While there she saw Jean Morgan McGarry. Bev says Jean has two darling little girls. Bobby Black Brown, husband, Jack, and their family of three boys and a girl will be moving to Monohans, Texas this spring—twenty-three miles away. Jan Freer Scantlebury saw Marcia Levering Baleereit and Dottie Hammer at the shore last summer (New Jersey), and they manage to get together now and then. She and Debby Davis Carlton and children spent a day this fall at Betty Lawson Sallada's farm in Bucks County, Pennsylvania. Jan and Dick's children are Mark 7, Alice 10, and Todd 1½ and they live in Emmaus near Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Daphne and John Crum wrote that they enjoyed the William and Mary Glee Club when they were in Wilmington, Delaware in the spring. John is still with DuPont and Daphne keeps busy with a bowling league. PIA, and a part-time job. Nicky Nycum Moore wrote that her daughter Pam is quite taken with her piano lessons and Kathy with her dancing. Daughter Nancy is still a bit too young for either. Henzie Kapler Margraf reports on her children, "Joe is eleven and has just graduated from Cubs to Boy Scouts, so I am now active in the mother's association. Nancy is 8 and a Brownie—I am a troop leader—Nancy also takes dancing lessons." "Two bridge clubs, PTA and young Tommy who is 3 take up the slack time."

Betty Marie Ellett Klugh came from Hot Springs, Arkansas to Virginia for Christmas, for the first time in thirteen years. Their children are Carole who is 9 and Gray who was two on Christmas Eve.

A note on the Fund envelope from John McSherry says he is now an Engineering Supervisor in the Pilotless Aircraft Division of the Boeing Airplane Company. He lives at 7822 Fauntleroy Avenue, Seattle 16, Washington.

Thank you all for your news, and to all you others—won't you please send me a card?

News is once again scarce this month, and there would be no column at all if some of you hadn't been kind enough to add a note on the back of the W. and M. Fund envelopes. Special thanks, therefore, to the following correspondents: Pauline Chakeres (Damas) who lives in Adelphi, Maryland with husband Nicky, and two live-wire sons—John, 2½, and Stephen, 10 months. Pauline also tells of seeing Joanne Jonscher (Scofield) and Dick, with daughter Sharon on their way to Homecoming. The Scofields are now living in Cleveland where Dick is with Alcoa. Another voice heard from Baltimore: that of Eleanor Abell (Adams). She and Charles, plus three children live in the suburb of Ruxton, and she keeps busy with painting, needlepoint design, and regular civic activities.

Harvey Levine writes from Woodmere, New York, where he has been a practicing attorney since 1951. He is currently engaged in real estate syndication in N.Y.C., and has two children—Steven 7, and Carolyn, 4.

Walter Sheppe has been awarded an M.A. degree from the University of British Columbia, in addition to the Ph.D. in Zoology which he already holds. Dr. Earl Alluisi, engineering psychologist, has joined the staff of Stanford Research Institute to develop an experimental human engineering program. Under this program the Institute will investigate ways to increase the efficiency and reliability of industrial man-machine systems. Prior to joining SRI, Earl was a senior engineering psychologist with Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

We'll start with two items from the press. The Courier-Journal in Louisville, Ky. has many nice things to say about their new staff cartoonist, who is none other than Hugh Haynie. I'll quote—"Haynie has been hailed as the most talented and promising of the young crop of American cartoonists." In case you haven't been following his career in your local paper, here is a résumé. His first post was with the Richmond Times-Dispatch in 1950. The Coast Guard interrupted this job for two years. In 1953 he became cartoonist for the Greensboro Daily News, and there he has been, except for one year with the Atlanta Journal in 1955, until joining the Courier-Journal staff. Hugh's cartoons have appeared in numerous newspapers around the country and in other impressive places too, to name a few—Saturday Evening Post, Democratic Digest, U. S. News and World Report, Encyclopedia Britannica, Encyclopedia Americana, and they have also been distributed abroad by the United States Information Agency. As for home type statistics, Hugh is married to the former Lois Cooper of Norfolk and they have a small son.

Robert Cook campaigned on the pledge that "I'm the only candidate in this district that can give you a free Cook's tour of the Capitol." He won and now his constituents are descending in droves for the free tour. Robert has been elected to the House of Representatives by the Democrats from around Rootstown, Ohio. His wife finds living in Washington like "living in a fish bowl."

Anyone needing a lawyer in Point Pleasant, N. J. may contact Richard W. Withington, Jr. He has just opened his own law office.

This news should have been in the last issue. Shirley Lyons (Hardwick) and her young daughter visited in New Orleans last summer. Shirley left Elizabeth with her fond grandparents and spent a weekend at Fort Benning with Marcia MacKenzie (Kirkpatrick) and Kirk. Your reporter buzzed down for the day to reminisce, but naturally forgot to take notes on all the interesting things that were said. I do remember that we talked about Sue Green (Ulander), who lives not too far from Shirley. Sue has the most wonderful address—Close House, Chinthurst Hill, Womersley, Surrey. At Christmas Sue wrote that they have really had a busy year fixing up their house. At the time she was busy trying to show her parents the wonders of England and was being slightly hampered by the traditional fog. Sue enclosed a picture of Geoff, aged two, who couldn't be cuter.

Edward D. Brown, Jr. who is living in New York City writes that his profession is advertising. He is with Ted Bates and Company, an agency. There he supervises the radio and television activities of their tobacco product accounts, which includes those 'thinking man' commercials.

band's face get longer as W&M proceeded to beat his school especially when he was so sure they were going to win! I didn't see anyone that I knew there. Jim Kelly wrote that he and his family attended also.

I had a long letter from Doris Hamilton (Jones) in November telling about her busy life as housewife, mother, and club woman. She is vice-president of her local woman's club and president of the women's work in her church plus participating in numerous other outside activities. She sounded about as loaded down with club work as I am.

I received so many Christmas cards and pictures of adorable children, and only wish that each of you could see the latter. Cards came from the following people and their families: Jane Waters (Nielsen), Sarah Enos (Brown), Ella Tuck '52, Phoebe Martin (Harcum) and Rae, Doris Hamilton (Jones), Teddy Nicas (Maddox), Anne Hall (Witt) '52, Carol Gardner (Lorenz) and Roy, Betty Cox (Scott), Jackie Jones (Myers) '52, Sidna Chockley (Rizzo), Gwen Batten (Perkins) and Perk, Lois Short (Raymond) '50, Sally and Jim Rehlaender, and Katherine Bell (Martin) and Tommy.

Mary Earhart (Jenkins) and Bob wrote on their card about their working on their home, her job as church secretary which she does at home, his nine graduate students, and their little son Brian.

Betty Bailey (Bizier) and Jean Paul sent a card from Winter Haven, Florida, where they have recently purchased a new home with all of the most modern conveniences plus a swimming pool.

Helen Mason (Boyle) and Bob are still living in Kilgore, Texas. She has stopped teaching, and they are busy with house plans.

Virginia Gallaher (Sharp) wrote that "Chubby" was due to go to the VA Hospital in Baltimore for six months beginning January first for chest surgery and then back to Johns Hopkins Hospital for more study.

Jane Dill (Gleason), Bob, and their two children are living in Baltimore, Maryland. Bobby is in kindergarten, Kathy is in nursery school, and Jane is working for the Baltimore City Welfare Department Adoption Division. She visited Anne English (Kiley) and her family at Chapel Hill this summer. Jim is studying medicine there. Jane also wrote of visiting Arden Kirkby (Perkins) and family in Richmond and of seeing Ellie Seiler (Flagg) recently in Baltimore.

Milly Johnson (Woodling) wrote that she, Pete, Kerry, and Jo moved into their new home last May in Newport News, Va., and love it there. They got up to a couple of W&M football games this year.

Kathryn Gray (Bradshaw) '52, Bob Bill, and Brad are now living in Norfolk. She took a job as church choir director in May.

Anne Dunn (Nock) and Claude left their children with her parents this summer for a week and visited her sister in Minnesota. They have been doing a great deal of work on their home lately.

Maggie Slayton (Glauber) and Jim are now living near Hilton Village while Jim is stationed at Ft. Eustis to go to the Advanced Course at the T-School. They hope to be there for three years. Their "door is open to fifty-ones and especially for those who have green thumbs. I still only know a rose when I see it!"

Toni Gilman (Reynolds) and family are now living in Alabama where her husband is a Periodontist and on the staff at the U. of Alabama. They have four children: Drew 6; Antionette 4; John Randolph 2; and Richard Stanley born on June 19th, 1958. She wrote also that Kathy Lowe (Knapp) is living in New Mexico and had her first child on July 12, 1958. Ellie Kivett (O'Bannon) now lives in Culpeper, Virginia.

Connie Carhart (Stamm) '50 wrote her usual long letter on the card from her, Walt, and Bobby. Walt is a salesman in the china business, and they have had a very successful year. Bobby was four in November. Through Scotty Petrequin, Connie did a lot of soloing at his church in Northfield, Ohio, during the summer and became the choir director in the fall. Walt is the Chairman of the W&M Fund drive in their area. She also said that Barbara Campbell who already has a set of twins had a daughter, Barbara Allison, in August.

A note to the Alumni Office from Betty Hicks (Wagner) told of the arrival of their third child, second girl, Susan Alison, on September 21, 1958. They already have Allan 4 and Beth 2 and a half. Al has been transferred to photoproducts sales and is awaiting assignment. She wrote that she had read that Joe Potts and Konna Berl Potts had a daughter on Christmas Day. Stevie and Walt St. Clair had a son, Bruce Bartlett, in October. He is their third child, second son.

From Chase City, Virginia, came a letter from Bolly Conner (Carter) who wrote that they now have their own home, and she has stopped teaching to devote her whole time to the care of their four months old son, R. B. Jr., who was born on September 15, 1958. This is their first child. Katherine Bell (Martin), Tommy, and Tom stopped by to see them at Christmas. Ferne Doss (Barron) came to visit them, too, and brought her son who is about the same age of Bolly's and Katherine's boys. Katherine and Tommy are buying a home in New York. Bolly's husband is still teaching Agriculture in the high school in Chase City.

Mary Cappon (Muller) wrote on her W&M Fund envelope that her husband, Paul, is on the Paramus, New Jersey, Board of Education. They have two children, Jennie 5, and Peggie Ann 2. They are active in the P.T.A. now that their oldest is a school girl.

of articles in the Richmond Times-Dispatch by him and another reporter, Larry Weekley, won first prizes in both national and state 1958 newspaper competitions. The articles told of political, social, and economic problems caused in the Richmond area by population growth. It was the second consecutive year that the team of Grimsley and Weekley had won the first prize in the Virginia Press Association series of articles competition.

Jean Murphy (Meili) wrote a long and interesting letter from Paramus, New Jersey, and included a picture of her two attractive little boys. "We have seen Jean Black (Oakley) and Tom down in Ship Bottom, New Jersey. Tom is the president of the town council of Ship Bottom and in umpteen organizations there aside from his business in the bank. They have a lovely new home and three pretty girls, Debbie, Patty, and Lynn. Jean was in the class of '48 but Tom did graduate work and was at W&M longer. Pat Daversa (Landers) lives near me in Teaneck, N. J. where her husband practices obstetrics and gynecology—they have three children." Jean also wrote that Harry Wenning '50 went to MIT to study further in architecture after graduating from W&M, and she had seen him while she was at Wellesley. He worked in South America after he received his degree, then the service got him, and they lost touch. Last summer while she was looking at the real estate page of the "New York Herald Tribune" she saw a picture of a new house and underneath was written that it was designed by Harry Wenning of Laurence Loeb Architects. He previously had a big write-up in the Bloomfield, N. J. papers when he designed a stadium for the high school for nothing and had the satisfaction of seeing it built where he had gone to high school. One day while ironing she saw Vince Pirrie win a mink coat and a trip to Europe for him and his wife on "The Big Payoff." A few nights later she saw Lyon G. Tyler, Jr., a graduate of W&M who now lives in Richmond, on "I've Got A Secret." She also sees Susie Strong quite frequently doing television commercials. Edee Moser (Buzzell) lives in Worthington, Ohio, where her husband is teaching at the University. They have a girl and a new boy. Evie Gardner (King) with her two girls is now living in Arlington while Jim is in Saudi Arabia. Tita Cecil (Myers), Clark, and little girl and boy are in Munich, Germany, around the corner from Walt Raymond and Vi Marsland Raymond and two children. Sis Shoff '50 (Fox) and John are in Corning, N. Y. He is Manager of the Corning Glass Museum. She is soon to come to N.Y.C. for a course as she is hostess for Corning in the Welcome Wagon organization. They have a son, Danny. Sarah Anne Dozier (Morehead) lives with husband Ralph and son, Chip, in Baltimore, Maryland, where Ralph is with Westinghouse since his hitch in the Navy during which they did a great deal of traveling. Mary Ann Woodhouse (Waugh) lives in Anderson, Indiana, with Ron and two boys. Jean has two boys, Bill 5 in kindergarten, and Steve 2 and a half "in trouble." Her husband Jack is an engineer with Westinghouse in Newark. About the only other W&M person they see regularly is Betty Hicks (Wagner) and family. They spent their vacation last year with the Wagners and had a fine time.

How about all of you writing me a newsy letter like this one of Jean's before my next letter to the "Alumni Gazette" is due in April?

Much news flows in on the Spring breezes to these parts, so here is the latest about us.

A newspaper clipping reveals that Marvin West has now graduated from the school of Dentistry of M.C.V. and is planning to open offices in Williamsburg. We wish you lots of success in your new venture, Marvin.

Janet Buckner pens from New Orleans that she is now in the Navy Recruiting & Officer Procurement business in that region. She arrived there after spending 2 years in Puerto Rico and 6 months in Monterey. If any of you New Orleans area alums know of interested and eligible young women, please get in touch with Janet (our alumni office can supply the address).

Here's news of the "roving Raymonds," Walt and Vi (Marsland). Based now near Munich, they have toured to England, Italy, France, and many other European spots. A visit from sister Barbara and her husband Joe (Hantin) was expected at the Raymond household last Fall. Another "expectation" was realized on March 11th, 1958 when Kathryn Patricia joined the family.

Our fair Garden State boasts the addition of the Ray sisters to its citizenry. "Chip" and husband Vincent (Mahoney) reside at Pines Lake in Wayne, while Stanley ('54) and her spouse Eddie Watts ('51) live in nearby Oakland. Chip's husband is in his fifth year of teaching electronics at RCA Institutes in New York, while Ed teaches math at Ramapo Regional H. S.

Last September 22nd, Frederick Will Sherman joined brother Wray and proud parents Hilda (Beckh) & Wray in their Newport News home. Hilda's card also mentioned that Audrey (Doll) & Hal Bates are now living in Lexington where Hal is in law school at W&L. Little Linda Bates was also expecting a new brother or sister this past January. Hilda had also been in touch with Laura (Mickler) Bentley when Laura and Lee made a recent trip to New York.

Dianne (Evans) Conwell of the Class of '53 was kind enough to pass on to us the following news about our classmates. Lee (Cooper) Gregg and husband Bill have bought a home in Silver Spring, Maryland, while Peggy (Brice) and Charlie Brown now live in West Chester, Pa. Dianne noted that the Browns were awaiting a new playmate for their two daughters sometime in March.

Anyone interested in the whereabouts of Dick Forbes and family will find them living in Denbigh, Va. these days.

After much tracking-down, we have traced Andy Anderson to St. Louis where she works at two jobs—that of occupational therapist and as Mrs. Donald U. Beimdick, whom she married June 7, 1958. Don, a graduate of Northwestern, is an attorney.

Sibby Scott reports from the U. of North Carolina that she and a few other W&M-ites are still in the throes of learning. Nancy Johnson and Ginny O'Sullivan are two of her fellow students there.

Postmarked Bryan, Texas, an interesting letter comes to tell us of the doings of Capt. Ernest V. Cooke, U. S. Air Force. Following graduation, he received an Air Force commission and was assigned to Penn State where he got his B.S. in Meteorology. In August of '53 Ernest was married to Miss Beverly Turner (a Mary Washington grad). Then, in November 1955, at Pepperrell AFB, St. John's, Newfoundland, Susan Lee Cooke joined the family. August of '56 found them in Forestville, Maryland, where Ernest did weather research for the Air Force in downtown Washington. This past summer, another transfer brought the Cookes to Bryan which meant a chance for him to work toward his M.S. in Meteorology at Texas A&M.

Another classmate of whom we're proud is the Rev. Layton P. Zimmer, who has just become rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in Swarthmore, Pa. Previous to that, Layton has been curate at St. Andrew Episcopal Church in Wilmington, Del., during which time he was active on several committees in the Diocese of Delaware. We wish you and Nan (Child) much happiness in your new assignment, Layton.

Liz (Beard) Patterson writes that Jerry is now interning at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, Michigan, although they will be heading back to Ann Arbor in July for a three year residency at the University Hospital in Dermatology. Just before Christmas, Liz had the unique experience of assisting one of her neighbors in the birth of a baby (the husband came looking for Doctor Jerry and Liz dashed to the rescue). During the year, Liz has seen Peggy Hughes and June (Compton) Merkle. Other W&M news she related was that Claudia (Richmond) Harman and Bill are now living in Arlington where Bill is a lawyer, and that Alice (Williams) Phillips and family have returned to Virginy after being stationed in Germany.

"Rusty" (Davis) Schumacher and family have just returned home from a 3 week sojourn in Madrid and Paris (lucky gal!).

This column's last news bit is the arrival of John Terrell Ferebee, Jr. on February 11th to Meredith (Stewart) and John. Needless to say, all concerned are quite proud and happy.

We Smiths are still enjoying life. At this writing, we're eagerly awaiting a "Treasure Chest of Toys" that Heidi won on a Children's TV show—first thing we've ever won out of the many contests that have lured us to the store for Crunchy Munchies and the like. Don't forget to keep the letters coming—those of you from whom we haven't heard in almost SEVEN years, especially!

I received a very nice letter from Ann Johnson Harris who told of Homecoming in November. Her letter just missed the December GAZETTE. For those of us who were unable to attend, some of our class there were: Clyde and Jeanne Carmody Witt, Betty Ann Wills Wallace, '54, Dot Bailey Sazio, "Jerry" Seelinger Knight, Mary Lou Curry Hawkins, Jim and "Tink" Bell Rehlaender, "Sonny" Cowling and his wife, Al and Joann Lore Kersey, Dick and Martha Parker Stanley, Lois Smith Clark, "Arch" Haycox, '54, Marvin West, '52, Jim Campbell, '52, Annie Mae Rector and her husband, Bev and Jim Kelly, and of course Ann and Jerry Harris. Ann mentioned that Barbara Bennett Muller, husband, and their two children live in Springfield, Virginia. Peggy Bunting Mitchell and husband still are in California; Joann Mitchell Holmes, husband, and son are in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. The Harris family, including son, Scott, are living in Lynchburg where Jerry is a building contractor.

David Potts is a Diplomatic Courier in the State Department and at present is assigned in Manila.

"Bebe" Fisher Arbuckle wrote of her husband's new position as partner in a large firm of architects and engineers in Hutchinson, Kansas. "Bebe" said that Ann Rixey Boyd is in Alexandria, Virginia; Jim and Barbie Schwartz Smith are in Johnson City, New York; "Bebe" Hammond Brown is living in Ponce, Puerto Rico. Mary Ellen Romney Baude and husband have a new daughter.

George Southwell is employed as Manager of the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company in Elmira, New York.

Was so glad to hear from Bob and "Bumpy" Bozarth Davis. The twins arrived in November which rapidly increases their family to four—two of each. Bob is instructing in the Marine Engineering Department at the Naval Academy; they are living at Hickory Ridge Farm in Edgewater, Maryland. After one or possibly two years they will head for foreign shore duty.

Ann Hines is working in Washington, D. C.

I received a welcome note on "Randy" Hoe's Christmas card. He is working at Raytheon Manufacturing Company in Wayland, Mass., after finishing up at M.I.T. He and his wife occasionally see Bill and "Bobbie" Bowman Allison who are in Wellesly, the Bob Schauf's, and Johnny Kris.

John and Lee Granger Munger hope to be located permanently in Tinley Park, Illinois, where John is working for the George M. Pullman Foundation in Chicago. He interviews high school seniors desiring college scholarships and helps decide who should receive them. The four Mungers now live in a brand new ranch house. Lee added on her Christmas card that Dan and Emmy Ketterson Smith are in Wilton, Connecticut, where Dan teaches Science. Marjorie Lee Shuler, husband, and son live in Atlanta, Georgia.

"Cadsie" Forman Moe, '52, wrote that Chris has his Ph.D. from Cornell and now is Assistant Professor in the Theatre Department at Southern Illinois University. "Cadsie," Chris, and their sons, Eric and Keith, are living in Carbondale, Illinois.

A Christmas card from Eddy and John Dalton from Radford, Virginia, stated that the three Daltons—now four—are happily settled in the house Johnny was raised in.

Nan Evans Scott wrote that Bob and Nancy Corden Hedelt have bought a home in Richmond; they were hoping to move in late January. The Scotts also are in Richmond.

Ginny Campbell Furst wrote that she and "T" Marston Taylor visited, complete with children, Beata Swanson Mansfield and her new daughter. Welton and Beata have a home in Deerfield, Illinois; Welton is with Chrysler Corporation.

"Rite" Oldfield sent a most interesting letter from Bangkok, Thailand, where she is with the American Embassy. She and her roommate recently took a trip to Japan with a two day stop-off in the Philippines. After two years away from home, Rite is most anxious to reach the Western World again. Her time in Bangkok is finished this May.

Jay and I have bought a new split-level home in another community of King of Prussia. We hope to move by late March; you can imagine how busy we are right now.

Springtime again and time to report on the notes received over the Christmas holidays.

Ours were very busy with a brand new baby, born December 11th, a little girl named Kathy.

Ann Lockwood Phillips and husband Bob, U.N.C. '54, are living in Greensboro, N. C. where Bob is with Wachovia Bank and Trust. They are eagerly awaiting the arrival of their first offspring the last of June. Ann reports that Betty Bodley Dunker, husband Bill, and three year old Jani are in Greensboro also.

News came from Williamsburg from Betty Henley Barber, who was married last May 24 to Dick Barber, a psychologist at Eastern State Hospital. Betty had news of Andy Walker who is attending Tulane Graduate School, preparing to be a social worker. Also Sue Joerndt Reveille and husband, Bob, have a new baby boy, born in October. They, too, incidentally are residents of Williamsburg.

Carol Myers Mifflin wrote that her husband, Tom, finished his thesis, passed the oral, and is now a Ph.D. They are looking forward to the arrival of a new little Mifflin in April. That will be the second child.

From Greensboro, North Carolina, comes word from Bette Bodley Dunker, who likes that old southern 'town'; said she was in Roanoke during the fall and saw Tanky Fichtenger Stephenson and Ann Ingoe Miller. She heard from Mary Knabb Blake who is now in El Paso, Texas where husband, Bob, has a seven-month tour of duty.

We went to visit Charlotte Henderson Lewis and husband, Jim, who are now living in Bethesda, Maryland, but expect to move to Fairfax, Virginia late in the summer. They are buying a home there.

Bud and Shirley Jay sound as if Raleigh, North Carolina is to be their permanent home. They were to move into their new house early in January. Bud went to the convention of the 100% Club in San Francisco, right after the first of the year. Shirley talked to Betty Ann Wills Wallace when she was visiting her family down that way. They have a little boy, Robert Perry, Jr., born last July. We hear that Bill Patton is a dentist in the Army at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Betsy and Ronnie Barnes ambitiously got out another of their famous newsletters. Among the new homeowners are Ron & Betsy who moved into theirs in September. Ron is now Assistant to the Dean of Students at the University of Colorado. He is playing basketball with a team in the City League and in January was to be recommended for restoration to his amateur status in the USLTA. Through the Foster Parents, Betsy and Ron are 'adopting' a foreign child. A second (real) family addition is expected in July.

Greetings one and all! Sorry to have missed the last issue, but I just plain didn't have any news! However, Christmas cards treated us well so we are off to a good start in the New Year.

Jane (Dougherty) Marfizo writes that she and Bill are the proud parents of a baby girl, Carolyn Jane, born last October. Jane and Bill are living in Harrisburg, Pa., while Bill attends Dental School at Temple in Philadelphia.

Word from the Alumni Office tells us that Jackie (Jackman) and Dave Harrison are living in Sunnyside, Calif. where Dave is a buyer with the Sperry Gyroscope Co. and Jackie is teaching second grade. Eugene Grubb, working as a chemist for the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., is now in Liberia, Africa doing research with the Company's Plantation Division. Virginia von Breitenfeld was married last June to David G. Ferre. David attended Syracuse U. and is now studying electronics at RCA Institutes in Manhattan. The Ferrer's are living in Staten Island, N. Y. Jerry Kornblum received his Master's last June from NYU. Jane Siefert is teaching junior high school homemaking in Schenectady, N. Y.

A note from Gail (Mulcahy) Richards tells us her family has been increased by one Miss Holly Richards, born a year ago last January. The Richards have purchased a house and are making their home in Gloucester Point, Va.

Margaret Anne Graves (or rather, Mrs. Shannon D. Heyward) wrote shortly before Christmas giving us the news of the west coast before she left it. Margaret Anne became engaged last summer to a Naval Academy graduate, Shannon Heyward. They were married in Richmond in December, and are now living in New London, Conn. where Shannon is going to Submarine School. The news from California centers mainly around Coronado. Margot Katchem has returned from her trip to Europe and is contemplating more schooling at UCLA. Ginny Fleshman ('57) is teaching in San Diego, but came back east long enough last December to be married. Julie (Collins) Emerich ('57) and Kay Wirth ('57) are also teaching near Coronado. Nina (Bowman) Olander ('55) and husband, Roland, have bought a new home outside Los Angeles. Barbara (Massie) Kurek and Dick come visiting from Hermosa Beach every so often where Barbara is teaching and Dick is Production Manager with a sign company plus attending UCLA at night.

A letter from "Jake" Jacobs tells us that she and Jack Heffernan were married last August in Riverhead, L. I. After a honeymoon in Bermuda, they are residing in Cleveland where "Jake" has resumed her teaching career. She tells us Micky Scandalios graduated from Mannes School of Music and is teaching piano. She is engaged to John Frankendorf, a graduate student at MIT, and planning a June wedding. Natalie Lane was married in December to Allen MacWright. Marcia Page, after a trip to Europe last summer, is teaching in Long Beach, Calif.

Received a very newsy letter from Arline Johnson just before Christmas and just before she left Pittsburgh for Atlanta, Ga. Arline has a new job with Rich's Department Store (biggest and bestest department store in the Southland, says Arline) as a fashion trainer-consultant. She planned to stop and visit Betsey (Davis) and Bruce Hathaway in High Point, N. C. on her way to Atlanta. Betsey is teaching in High Point and Bruce is employed by the Henley Paper Co. Arline said she had a chat with Charlie Sumner last November after the Steeler-Bear game. Charlie's wife, Barbara Regan, was home in Chicago keeping house while Charlie played ball till the end of the Bear's season. At that time he plans to go into the advertising field. Mary Anne (Pickett) Wilbourne had her first baby, Douglas Kirk, last November. Arline ran into Sally Jett on the ski slopes last season and says she is working in Baltimore after graduating from Duke U. Arline sees Pat (King) Sell ('57) and Stu every so often. Stu is in Pitt Medical School and Pat is a secretary at Pitt. She also sees Ginny Wachob ('57) quite often and says Ginny plans to marry Ed Shine ('57) in February. Mary (Knabb) Blake ('54) has returned from Okinawa where her husband, Bob, was stationed for a year. They are in Texas at present and will leave for Alabama in May.

Now for the Christmas cards. One that was a pleasant surprise was from Nancy Lou (Mink) and Tom Kenyon ('54), catching up on life with the Kenyons. Nancy Lou taught school while Tom was in Korea, but managed to join him in Japan and Hong Kong for a few weeks during the summer of '56. After that they were in North Carolina until Tom became a civilian. Now they are living outside Philadelphia in Elkins Park, where Tom is in management with Bell Telephone of Penna. They have a daughter, Barbara Ann, just a little over a year old. Nancy Lou said they went to Homecoming last November and had a FABULOUS time and are looking forward to the next one! A note from Laura Lou (Lawson) Struthers tells us that she and husband, Tom, are still living in Pittsburgh. Laura Lou is continuing her work with Capital Airlines and Tom, having finished at Carnegie Tech in June, is a set designer with the Pittsburgh Playhouse. Shelia (Eddy) and Buddy Baker stopped by to see the Struthers last October on their way back to Chicago after vacationing in Virginia. A note from Paulette (Yates) Giove tells us that she was married to Frank Giove last June and is living in Niagara Falls where Frank is a chemical engineer at Olin Mathieson. They are looking forward to the arrival of their first child in April. Cards and notes from Doralie Hultquist and Barbara Mitchell tell us they have an apartment together and are both teaching in Arlington this year. They see Lois (Vill) and Charlie Carter quite often. Also see something of Jim McInnes, Bill Miller and Don Seiler. A card from Betty (Schindler) and Bill Howser tells us they are still in Arlington and looking forward to Bill becoming a civilian again. Betty is working for the Navy as a mathematician at the David Taylor Model Basin. The Howsers also see Jim McInnes now and then and also Brad Lesher ('57) who comes down from Baltimore occasionally. Otto Lowe ('55) is in Alexandria, Va. teaching high school English and coaching football. Chris Montgomery is attending Catholic U. for her Ph.D. in anthropology. Barbara (Luhring) Miler was in Washington over Thanksgiving and had great fun seeing Jo Napolino, Dot Chapman (who was up from Richmond), Patty (Speltz) Roby and Jean (Wyckoff) Mercker. Patty and Al Roby have moved from D. C. to Hartford, Conn. as of last January, where Al is working with Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. Elaine (Pratt) Carlin and husband, Jack, are living in Lexington Park, Md. where Jack is a pilot with the Navy and Elaine is teaching fourth grade. They have seen Mason Swann, who is also stationed there, as is Fred Malvin ('55).

A letter from Mario Pena tells us he is serving three years with the Army and is stationed outside Frankfurt, Germany. He plans to be in Germany with the Army until July of '60, but is taking a month's leave and a trip to the U. S. and South America this summer. Carolyn Smith is off to Africa! She and a friend from Arlington left last August for Port Lyautey, Morocco, where Carolyn is teaching junior high mathematics at the U. S. Naval Air Station. She loves both the teaching and the opportunity for travel. She spent the Christmas holidays in London and Frankfurt and hopes to get to parts of Spain and Italy over Spring vacation. Bud Paskert was stationed at the base until last January when he was transferred to the Navy Base at Rota, Spain. Sarah Gray (Wallace) Bonnaville and husband, Jack, are in East Haven, Conn. for a year as Jack won a fellowship to Yale after his graduation from V.P.I. Last November their son, Billy, acquired a new brother, James Ralph. The Bonnavilles are enjoying their New England visit but are looking forward to returning to Virginia in June and making their home in Richmond. Sally Ives was married in February to Kenelm W. Coons, a Harvard graduate. After a Bermuda honeymoon, Sally and Ken returned to Greenwich, Conn. where Sally resumed her teaching. Ken is employed with the Vick Chemical Company Co. in NYC.

I had lunch with Sue (Whaley) Howard and Suzanne (Hunter) Groscup the other day and caught up on some more news. Sue and Roland are leaving Providence the end of March and moving to Corning, N. Y. where Roland is employed by the Corning Glass Co. They are expecting the first addition to their family in June. Suzanne (Hunter) Groscup is living just outside Providence as her husband, Bill, is stationed at the Quonset Naval Air Station. They have a darling daughter, Kathy, a little over a year old. Judy Buckert was married last May to Philip T. White, a graduate of Boston U. They have a new home just outside Washington, as Phil is employed by the Government. They are expecting their "first" in May. Faye (Baker) Lowe and Warren ('54) are living in Chevey Chase, Md. where Warren is practicing law. They have a year and a half old daughter, Russanne Dorothy. Lois (MacKenzie) Borden and husband, Howard, are living in Asbury Park, N. J. where Howard is practicing law and Lois is busy taking care of their eight month old son, Eric.

Thus ends my accumulation of news to date. Must rush this off to the Post Office so it will make the deadline. Let me hear from you!

Must apologize for no letter in the last issue, but NO NEWS! No one wrote—so—Let's get on the ball and write; someone else is interested in what you're doing.

By the time you read this, the Easter Bunny will have already left his "goodies" and we'll all be making plans for those gay summer vacations—all of us except those of us who are so-o-o tied down with little gremlins. Many more additions have appeared on the scene and the months ahead look quite productive. I talked to Nancy (Ramsey) Thompson when Ed and I were in N. Y. in January and they are most excited about getting a playmate for Laurie in Aug. Nancy reports that Laurie is walking and into everything, so she's wondering what she'll do with two. The Thompsons' other news is that John has received a wonderful promotion, so they will be in N. Y. indefinitely except for an exciting trip to England in Sept. to visit John's family.

Ann (Vaughn) and Rick Riggerbach will become proud parents in July and the Crockers will join them for the second round. Our little girl is 10 mos. now and quite a little devil, but it will be wonderful to have another—our biggest hope being that they will amuse each other.

If you've been having a problem keeping up with the Allens, they are now settled in Norfolk and should be there a couple of years—but, who can depend on the Navy! Bob was sent to a school at Ft. Lee when they returned from Naples and Liz kept busy at her family's home in Falls Church taking care of Robbie. For Robbie's first birthday in July, Liz and Bob are hoping to surprise him with a little sister, but I'm sure that a little brother would be fun too.

Many heads are still buried in the books.

Stu Wood is studying at the Princeton Theological Seminary, and Ann (Wilson) has her hands full with their son, Mark Alden, born last July 18. Ann writes that they see Fred Gibbs, who is also at the seminary there. Libby (Craig) and Mac Miller are having a fabulous time at the University College in London. Ann Carlson is the ambitious one these days. She is in Baltimore working as a Jr. Engineer for the Westinghouse Ordnance Dept. and at the same time going to Johns Hopkins night school to get a B.S. in electrical engineering. Last January she was sent on a 4 week business trip to Key West, Fla., so I can see why Ann says she is having a "ball." Sue Fryer entered the McGill University of Social Work this fall for a 2 yr. course to acquire her Masters. Two days a week she does field work in the Foster Home Dept. of the Children's Service Center in Montreal. Sue says it's hard work, but she is loving every minute of it.

Diane Oakerson received her M.S. degree and is working as a Research Assistant in the Microbiology Dept. at Johns Hopkins. Wedding bells will ring on Mar. 14 for her and Bill Fleming, who is a student at Johns Hopkins. Also in March Alice Matthews will make the trip down the aisle to become Mrs. Wayne Ericson. Wayne graduated from the U. of Michigan and earned his M.A. at M.I.T. Now he is doing research at Langley Field, but they will return to Michigan to live. I never thought I'd see the day when that "died in the wool Rebel" Alice would succumb to Yankeeland. Lee (Hammer) Scott will join the maternal bandwagon in March and Donna Kay Smith took the first step by marrying a fellow in her advertising dept. in N. Y. last fall. JoAnn (Abbott) and Rufus Gordon are now in Indian Head, Md., for 2 yrs. and in Feb. they saw their first addition arrived. Kathy Christian was married in January.

It's good to hear about all those who left us before June 10, 1957. Joyce (Mitchell) Mulligan and her husband are boasting proudly about their little boy, Jeffrey Brooke, born Dec. 14. Nancy Romwebber married Walter Grote in Cincinnati on Jan. 3. Ann (Baird) and Bill Millard and young Billy are settled in Shaker Heights and are so pleased to find so many W&M grads there. Marion Peltier is still working at the U. of Kansas and she loves her work there. Barbara (Greene) is in New Haven, Conn. while husband, Ted is in the Yale Law School. Between school and a rangy Labrador Retriever pup, Bonnie says they are quite busy and stay close to home. Betty Ann Jones is living in Georgia. Last summer she toured Europe for a couple of months and ran into Dee Alexander in Lisbon. Dee is still over there.

Received a long letter from Faye (Jones) Burke. She and Tom and Kathy are in Euclid, Ohio where Tom has started his first course in BTC with G.E. With Tom in BTC are Doug Brockman and Wayne Jones, '54. Doug is marrying a Cleveland girl in June. Living in Chesterland not too far from the Burkes are Judy (Carling) and Bill Althans and their 8 week old son. Bill is a salesman for Piper Cub and has his own plane! Faye says Boo and Fred Bane are getting out of the service in March but don't have any definite plans. Sue (Journee) and Lowe Lunsford will be coming home from Germany in March. Pam (Cartin) and Luddy Johnson are still in Williamsburg.

After receiving a graduate assistantship Bobbie Lynn started her graduate work at Long Island Univ. last fall. She expects to get her M.A. in physiology in June. Presently she's employed as a technical secretary in the Chemical Research division of Charles Pfizer & Co., a pharmaceutical house in N. Y. Betsey (Davis) and Bruce Hathaway are in High Point, N. C. where Bruce is a salesman for the Henley Paper Co. travelling Va. & N. C. Betsey is teaching 2nd grade.

Jeri Robinson became Mrs. Charles L. Callahan, but it sounds like her pre-marriage life was really a whirlwind. Last summer she toured Europe and had an emergency appendectomy in Oslo, Norway, and ended up sharing a hospital room with the daughter of Yugoslavia's ambassador to Norway. Last Sept. Jeri starting working for the Dayton Journal Herald where she wrote a daily social column—complete with by-line! Finally she concluded her transcontinental romance with Chuck Callahan, U. of Wash., '54, and now reports that she has gratefully settled down to married bliss in Seattle. Nevertheless, Journalism still plays an important part in Jeri's life, for she is a Jr. Editor and does public information work at the U. of Washington.

Received a long letter from Jack White last fall. After 6 mos. sojourn with Uncle Sam, he decided to stick with journalism and became the Associated Press Correspondent in Bluefield, W. Va. He says he's out in the mountains all by his lonely (a bureau of one). No prospects for the Class of '75 for Jack yet, so he's batching it in a little apt. Though no one will believe that the 40 lbs. he has lost didn't come from malnutrition at his own hands (it was Uncle Sam's doings); Jack says he's become a pretty good cook. Don't get too good, Jack; give a good-looking wife a chance!

Chuck Dix is roaming around the Pacific with Okinawa as his base. Ben Field is in N. J. working for Johns Mansville. Bill Herdmann deserves congratulations, for he is now teaching accounting at the Wharton School. Anne Gilbert is also teaching in Philly and loves it. Aside from teaching, she stays quite active coaching hockey and working for the W&M alum association in Philly, which is sponsoring a choir trip to the area. Jim Mooney was married in Dec. and George Hall is still working for Uncle Sam. Walt Brodie is married and is coaching football in Richmond along with Warren Rutledge. Ann Walker and Rod Elliott were married and are living in Richmond while Rod is in Med school. The Clarks, Bob and Gini, are also in Richmond. Bob is with the telephone Co. and Gini is teaching French, English, and Spanish, and is sponsoring the French Club. Ann Dodds married Tom Shaw and they are living in D. C. where Tom is in Med School. Janet Whitehead and DeeDee Daniels are still in N.Y.C. fighting the subways, but they love their jobs. DeeDee is working in the president's office of IBM, so she is quite delighted. Jan Fisher was married to Dr. David Dunkle and now she is teaching 35 7th graders in Harrisburg. Dru Cox is now Mrs. A. D. Felder. Her husband is a naval aviator and they are now stationed in the Pacific and expecting an addition in March.

Guess that about sums up all the bits of news. Do Write Soon. Another issue will be out before the summer.

Washington 7, D. C.

Before I do anything I want to thank all of you who have written in these last few months. It is hard to keep in touch and rumors are not exactly valid—so please keep writing.

I saw Don Dew last January; he is now stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C. after being at Ft. Benning, Ga. for around 3 months. While I'm on the topic of Ft. Benning, Chad Henry informed me that Frank Lane is now stationed there, as well as John and Jean Zwicker Durant who have set up housekeeping on the post. Kent Watkins has joined the group at Ft. Knox after a summer as research guide in the Library of Congress here in D. C. and word has it that Pete Neufeld is also in the army.

Bill Kennedy wrote that he is soaking up the California climate and loving it. He is living at home in Glendora, near LA, and working as public relations assistant to Aerojet—General Corporation. He said he alternates his recreation between the beach and the mountains, and has even developed a "Kennedy System" to beat the roulette wheel at Las Vegas.

Carl Merrill is in Georgetown med. school now, and has recently accepted a Public Health Service Fellowship for neurochemical studies on cerebrospinal fluid. He is kept plenty busy and so plans to do the main part of his research work in the summer.

Jan Walker was married on July 11 to Bob Pogue (SAE, U. Va., '56) and is living in Cincinnati, Ohio. Bob works with her father and Jan teaches 3rd grade. She wrote that Joe ('53) and Pat Amole Megale and their son Larry, who was born last May 11th, have a new home in North Merrick, N. Y. Joe is a JV football coach and wrestling coach at Uniondale High School. She also said that Ginny Fleshman was married last Dec. 27. Received a note that Jerry Sparks is working with his father in the insurance business and is living in Rockford, Ill. Also heard that Edward Ansti has taken a position in the soki industry in Kobi, Japan.

John Popular wrote that he is a graduate assistant at Cornell University working on his MA in industrial and labor relations. Graduation date is set for June 1960. He, Tissy, and their 2½ year old daughter are living in Ithaca, N. Y., and making plans for a 4th in August.

Robert Vaughn has been appointed Group Pension Representative in Hartford for the Hartford General Life Insurance Co. He will work on planning, sales, and administration of employee retirement programs for all types of business and industrial firms. He is presently living in Bloomfield, Conn.

Hewlett Hunt Barnes married Carl Barnes, Jr. (Phi Gam, W&M, '57) last March 30 and lived in Lexington, Va. until June. They spent their "delayed honeymoon" that summer in Europe, and last September went to New York where Carl is doing graduate work for a Ph.D. in Fine Arts at Columbia. Hew has a job at the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism as executive assistant (she has already been promoted from a position as secretary) to the Secretary of the Advisory Board of Pulitzer Prizes, so all the Pulitzer entries are sent to her. If this doesn't keep her busy enough, she has another full time job rearing her son Carl Franklin III (born Nov. 15). Also at Columbia is Carole Rebman teaching and working on the neurosurgical aspect of Cancer research. While working she is also taking courses toward a Ph.D.

Liz Mitchell dropped a card telling of her teaching experiences with her brood of 31. She is planning a small wedding in June at Bowling Green University chapel where Phil went to school. She said she had heard from Barbi Holcomb who is in N.Y.—and who is having a blast.

Rusty Dietrich is still in Anchorage, Alaska and wrote a fascinating letter on her skiing and skating expeditions. It sounded like loads of fun—though plenty cold. She said they have, among other things, moose in their back yard, snow everywhere, and days only 6 hours long.

Saw Va. Holsinger in the Department of Agriculture building where she is an analytical chemist for Meat and Dairy Division. She reported that Alice Ech is teaching history in Ohio.

Among the newly engaged we find Muffie Funk and Ralph Northrop planning a June wedding. Those married are Jean Schindler and Lt. John Eoff, Norma Marshall and Del Wilson. Jean and John were married December 5, lived here until he was out of the army in January and then moved to Oklahoma where John is completing a master's degree requirements. Norma and Del ('57) were married Jan. 10th here in DC and are now living in Arlington.

Shirley Smith Shoquist wrote a long letter telling me all the events since she transferred to Denison University in 1955. She was married last December 19 to Bruce Shoquist, another Denisoian. Sue Watlington Breaden was her matron of honor. Shirley is teaching speech in the Upper Arlington Jr. High School in Columbus, along with Barbara Ennis MacMahon. Bobbie has been married about 3 years. She transferred from W&M to Ohio State University in 1955 also, and graduated just last June. Shirley said that she and Bruce will be moving to this area in July when Bruce goes into the marines at Quantico—so we'll have another William and Maryite in the crew.

Barbie Doan Stout is working in public relations for a Hartford insurance company. Jim and Nan Maurer Rosenbaum have been stationed at Fort Myer and so are back in this area now. Jay Schreiber has been running around all over the nation in his job. Sounds pretty rough.

David Scott Bennett, now a 2nd Lt. recently graduated first in his class of 23 officers in AAA Officers Basic 1-A at US Army Air Defense School, Fort Bliss, Texas.

Robert C. Vaughan of Bloomfield, Connecticut has been appointed as Group Pension Representative in Hartford for the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co.

Guess that does it for news. Please keep writing and telling me what is happening. Can't say that enough!
