

ALUMNI GAZETTE

of the College of William and Mary

President Forecasts Austere Future

The new academic year at William and Mary will focus on seventeen major areas of special attention, with a tight budget and continued inflation tending to override all of them.

This is the forecast in the 1973-74 annual report of President Thomas A.

President Graves

Graves, Jr., which will be mailed to alumni this month.

Dr. Graves outlined in his report the key accomplishments and concerns of the past academic year, repeatedly noting that tight money affected almost every decision that was made. In addition, he noted, the State Council of Higher Education and the General Assembly took on new responsibilities for governance, coordination and control of higher education.

He expressed pleasure, however, that the State Council of Higher Education has approved William and Mary's continued role as a "highly selective, coeducational, full-time residential university, with primary emphasis on a liberal education in depth and breadth at the undergraduate level," with appropriate graduate and professional offerings. Further study, he suggested, is necessary in order to improve graduate offerings despite limited funds.

The seventeen areas of major concern for the coming year, he suggests, are these:

--Long-range planning, related to the implementation of the Self-Study Report completed last year, to include the establishment of institutional priorities and a systematic effort to move the goals and mission of the College forward within consistent educational values.

--Issues relating to governing roles of the Board of Visitors, the State Council of Higher Education and the General Assembly, and how decisions are made at the State level including the use of controls and formulae.

--Inflation, cost control, budget control, and choices of expenditures which must be made.

--Use of resources, including space, time, people and money.

--Determination on the best use of automated data processing resources and facilities, development of a College data base, and cost control over this activity.

--Efforts to improve the financial picture through outside giving.

--The need for more funds for faculty salaries, faculty research and student aid, while trying to avoid future tuition increases.

--Reorganization of the administration, as the result of the resignation September 1 of the Executive Vice President.

--A Faculty Senate to provide improved communications and consideration of important issues.

--Faculty tenure questions, and procedures on evaluation, retention and promotion of faculty.

--Review and delineation of the role and purpose of graduate studies in arts and sciences.

continued on page 11

What is 450 feet long, gooey, and makes the mouth of 1500 students at William and Mary water? Would you believe a banana split in the middle of the Sunken Garden. The Society of the Alumni and the Student Association put up $450 to pay for the giant goodie at the beginning of the school year -- for the purpose of "putting some fun back into college," according to Sharon Pandak, SA president. The recipe included 1696 ice cream bars, 220 pounds of bananas, three gallons each of pineapple, strawberry, and chocolate sauce, one and one-half gallons of walnuts and cherries, and 24 quarts of whipped topping. If it wasn't the longest split in history, it was the longest of the year on a college campus. At the head of the table, Gordon Vliet, executive vice president of the Society of the Alumni, offered his wife, Lee, the first bite while Andrew Graves, son of President and Mrs. Graves, represented the first family. Next project: a mile-long hotdog at a home football game.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

Alumni, parents, faculty and staff and friends of the College will have a one-time opportunity this fall to subscribe to a distinguished collector's limited edition of the book on William and Mary's early years being completed by Jack E. Morpurgo '38.

The book, titled "Their Majesties' Royall Colledge," with the sub-title "William and Mary in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries," is due to be published on February 8, 1976, the 284th anniversary of the College's Royal Charter.

The collector's limited edition will be bound in choice calfskins, each dyed in green, and embossed with gold. Appearance of this edition marks a return to the ancient craft of fine book-making. Each one of the limited edition will be unique. Copies will be serially numbered and autographed by the author. The collector's edition will feature marbled end-papers and parchment-like book papers, and will have a colorful, distinctive slip case for permanent protection.

The collector's edition is being made available only to those within the College family. The opportunity to subscribe will be presented by mail within the next few weeks. Once the subscription deadline is past, no additional orders will be accepted for the edition and its production will be limited to the number of subscriptions.

As a Bicentennial keepsake, and because of its special quality and workmanship, the collector's edition is certain to appreciate in value in the years ahead. Each copy of the edition will cost $200, payable in advance or in four equal installments.

"Their Majesties' Royall Colledge" is written with the great wit and warm style that typifies Dr. Morpurgo's other books, and it also manifests his scholarly instincts.

(Those who wish to subscribe to the collector's edition, but who have not received subscription material by direct mail by November 10, 1974, should notify the Alumni Office immediately.)

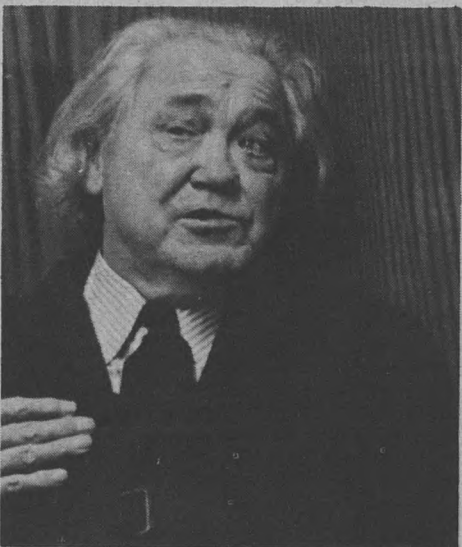

Richard Lee Morton-- Gentleman, Teacher, Scholar

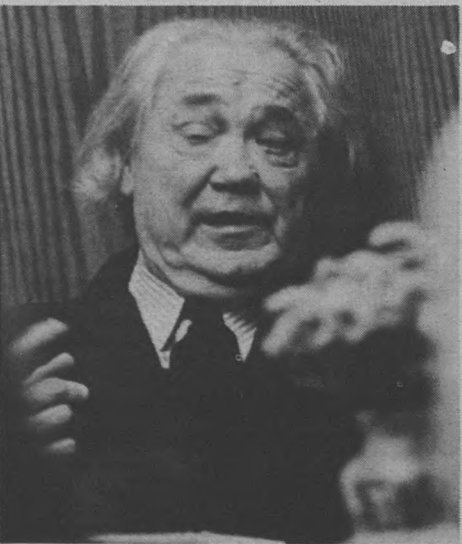

Dr. Richard Lee Morton was a careful, precise scholar. His writings and his lectures on the history of Virginia were fully researched, documented, footnoted. To him, Virginia had a special history, one that needed to be recorded and told with great accuracy. "If it isn't fact," he used to say, "it isn't history."

Dr. Morton, who died September 8, taught for 40 years at William and Mary and was one of a handful of true academicians who helped the college achieve modern recognition as an institution of higher education. He established the college's history department -- now known nationally for its scholarship in colonial history -- and he was instrumental in the founding of the prestigious Institute of Early American History and Culture. And for three years he edited the first issues of the third (and current) series of the William and Mary Quarterly, the Institute's magazine of early American history.

Perhaps his crowning achievement is his two volume history, "Colonial Virginia." The book, published just after his retirement in 1959, takes the Virginia story up to 1763 and is the single definitive study of early Virginia. Dr.

The many expressions of the great historian Henry Steele Commager came to life recently in a Project Plus seminar with students at the College of William and Mary. Dr. Commager, a faculty member at Amherst College, delivered the opening lecture of the Project Plus Forum which will bring distinguished speakers to campus during the year to discuss "The State of the American Dream." He spoke to individual groups of students while on campus.

Morton, who spent more than 15 years working on the book, had wanted to continue the work, bringing it up to, or perhaps through, the American Revolution, but poor health prevented him.

He often worked on his manuscripts and his lectures in his study at home near the college campus. He'd write in longhand and rewrite and rewrite again.

Richard Lee Morton

Balancing a large plywood lapboard ("My portable desk," he'd call it.) on his knees he would write with a lead pencil on the backs of college memos and notices, Rotary Club bulletins, advertising circulars -- scraps of paper. His wife Estelle, who he met when she was a research librarian, would read his manuscripts out loud and make suggestions before typing out the pages.

Occasionally the Mortons would invite history students to the house and -- as a rare treat -- Dr. Morton would sometimes play the guitar and sing tunes he learned as a boy in Prince Edward County. It wasn't the kind of music for group singing; it was ballads for listening.

The Mortons lived, since 1923, on Chandler Court and years ago, Dr. Earl Gregg Swem, the college librarian and great bibliographer, lived across the street and their friendship complemented their scholarship. They last collaborated on the publication of historical booklets in 1957 for the observance of Jamestown's 350th anniversary.

As a teacher, Dr. Morton was kindly, considerate and formal. Although he took pride in being the first William and Mary professor to lecture in his shirtsleeves (unheard of in the 1920s), he was always courtly, a gentleman of the old school. He was demanding, in a polite way; his humor was as monotone as his Southside ballads.

He would admonish his students:

"Make the most of the talents with which you are endowed; make integrity -- the finest of virtues -- the foundation of your life and work. Use patience, one of the least appreciated virtues, to set the right pace in your life and work, your own peace of mind and the considerate treatment of others."

Dr. Morton left his mark on William and Mary -- and generations of students -- and on professional scholarship. At the College, he will not be forgotten, for William and Mary has named a new academic hall, one that houses the history department, in his honor. Appropriately, Morton Hall is just across the lawn from Swem Library.

Will Molineux '56

J. T. Baldwin, Jr. -- A Legacy of Beauty

Dr. John T. Baldwin, class of '32, had just begun his 30th year on the William and Mary faculty when he died suddenly on September 3 of this year. A former chairman of the Department of Biology and a well-known botanist, Dr. Baldwin spent most of his years at William and Mary grooming the campus into the beautiful tree-shaded and flower-covered grounds that it is today.

A bachelor, Dr. Baldwin could often be seen around the campus, babying his cryptomeria, metasequoia, camellia sasanquz, and eurya shrubs -- trees and plants so exotic that only Dr. Baldwin knew their real names.

To "J.T." trees and plants were real people, real individualists. "Perhaps to the untrained eye, they look much the same," he once told a newspaperman, "but to me they are as individualistic as people."

Dr. Baldwin could reel off the history of nearly every green plant on the campus, many of which he had brought to William and Mary from faraway lands. Perhaps his favorite was the cryptomeria, a lovely evergreen tree he first brought to William and Mary from Japan in 1947. The beautiful tree became so popular after Dr. Baldwin introduced it to Williamsburg that the colonial city became, according to Dr. Baldwin, "the cryptomeria capital of America."

Dr. Baldwin was well-qualified to perform such a service to William and Mary. A friendly outgoing, yet modest man, he was a world-wide traveler who had visited and studied on four continents. He brought plantings to William and Mary from such distant locations as China, Switzerland, the Himalayas and Mexico.

A memorial service will be held for Dr. Baldwin in Wren Chapel at 11 a.m., on Friday, December 6.

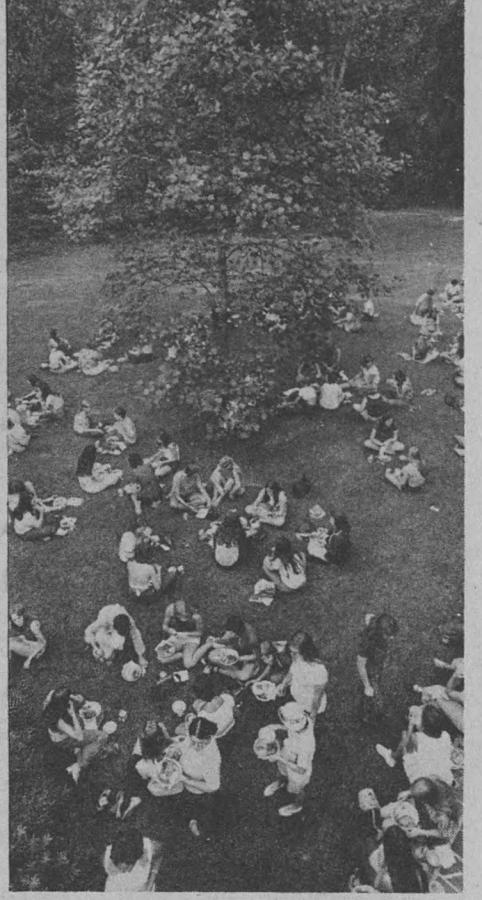

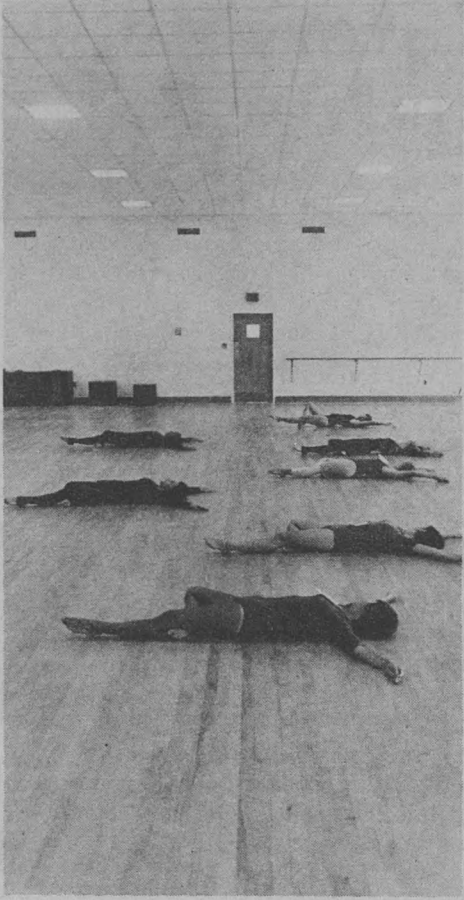

Dr. J. T. Baldwin, Jr.

Dr. Baldwin was a cyto-geneticist whose primary interest was the chromosomes of plants. Before he became permanently settled at William and Mary, he conducted a two-year research project on rubber in the Great Amazon Valley in South America. Subsequently, at the behest of the State Department, he twice went to Africa, where he made perhaps his most significant discovery -- that of the plant strophanthus which produces compounds that synthesize into the medical miracle of Cortisone, the pain-relieving drug that wrote a new chapter in the treatment of arthritis.

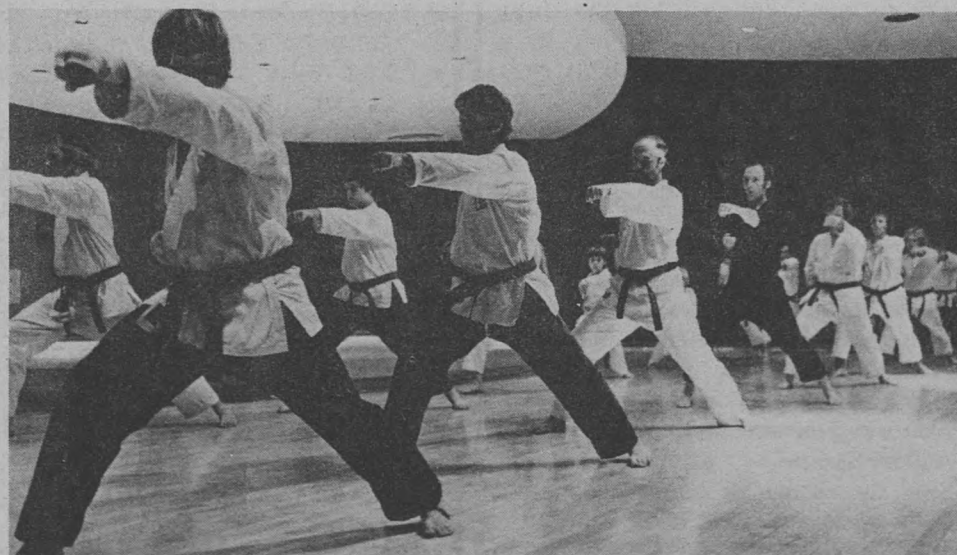

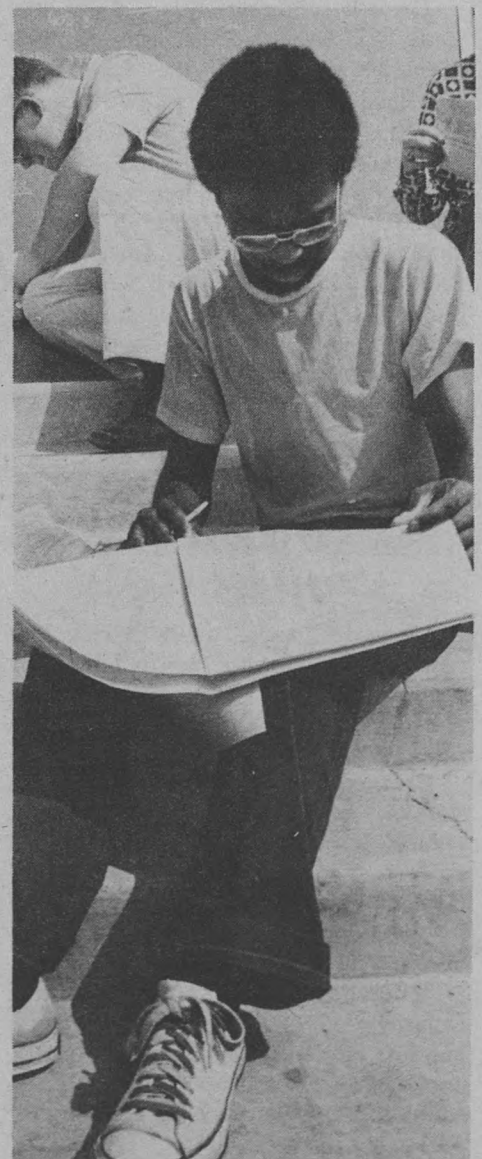

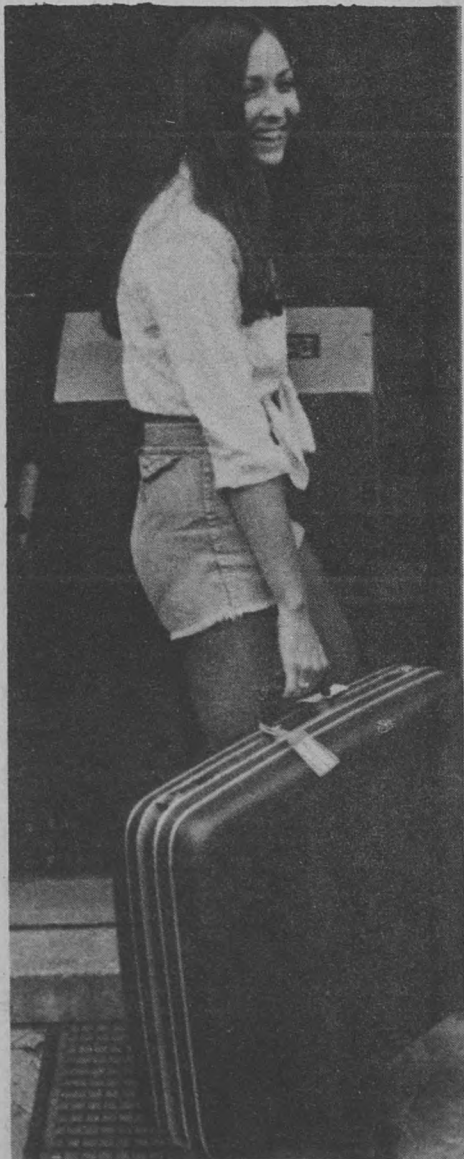

Despite his significant accomplishments -- reflected in later years by his selection by Who's Who in the World -- Dr. Baldwin was happiest walking among his beloved plants in Williamsburg. To countless members of garden clubs, to whom he gave inspiring walking tours of the campus, "J.T." was an encyclopedia of botanical information.

Dr. Baldwin once said he was fortunate to have spent his years at William and Mary which, in his words, "allowed me the privilege of putting out plants pretty much as I pleased."

William and Mary was fortunate to have known him -- and if the plants looked a little wilted on September 3, they had good reason. They, like the rest of the College, had lost a good and dear friend. - SDO

Orientation week is a busy time for freshmen. It's their first introduction to college, and William and Mary puts together an intensive five days, from Saturday evening through Wednesday, to tell them about the College. It includes, as depicted by these photos taken especially for the Alumni Gazette by alumnus Lyle Rosbotham '71, sessions with advisors, interest night sponsored by the Student Association, displays by the modern dance group the Orchesis and by a karate team, a picnic by Adair women's gymnasium. The College also finds ways to say welcome to the students who arrive carrying suitcases and boxes which sometimes look a little too large. This year the Society of the Alumni helped with financial arrangements for orientation week by sponsoring entertainment at the opening Saturday night session.

Homecoming Schedule

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17

6:00 p.m. Order of the White Jacket Reception Campus Center
8:00 Order of the White Jacket Banquet Campus Center

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18

9:00 a.m. Registration and Ticket Pickup until 5:00 p.m. Alumni House
Coffee and Doughnuts
10:00 Golf Tournament for Alumni and Spouses Golden Horseshoe Course
11:00 Campus Re-orientation and Bus Tour of New Campus Alumni House
2:00 p.m. Alumni - Varsity Tennis match Adair Courts
3:00 Alumni vs. Varsity Soccer Match James Blair Terrace
5:00 Sunset Parade - Queen's Guard and Colonial Militia Sunken Garden
6:15 Class Cocktail Parties, Cash Bar Williamsburg Lodge
7:30 Alumni Banquet Williamsburg Lodge
9:15 Annual Meeting of the Society Williamsburg Lodge
Presentation of Alumni Medallions, Address by President Graves

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19

8:00 a.m. President's Reception and Continental Breakfast for Alumni President's House
9:00 Registration and Ticket Pickup until 2:00 p.m. Alumni House
Law School Registration until 11:30 Marshall-Wythe School of Law
10:00 Homecoming Parade Duke of Gloucester Street
10:30 Alumni Band Practice Ewell Hall
11:00 Alumni Board of Directors open meeting Alumni House
11:30 Luncheon on the Lawn until Kick-off Alumni House Lawn
12:00 Law School Association Luncheon Campus Center
2:00 Football Game - W&M vs. Rutgers Cary Field
4:30 "Fifth" Quarter Social Hour Hospitality House
*7:45 Alumni Dinner Williamsburg Lodge
9:00 Alumni Dance - BYOL - until 1:00 a.m. Williamsburg Lodge

Note: Times and locations subject to change.

Salmagundi

Alf Mapp Marks Unusual Milestone

Alf J. Mapp Jr. '45 marks an unusual milestone in his writing career in October. Two of his books will be published, both by the Open Court Publishing Co.

One book is freshly written. Mapp, on the faculty of Old Dominion University, is the author of "The Golden Dragon: Alfred the Great and his Times," a biography.

The other is a new edition of an earlier work, "The Virginia Experiment--The Old Dominion's Role in the Making of America," being issued now in both hardbound and paperback versions.

Mapp's writings, circulated in nine languages, have earned him a Freedoms Foundation Honor Medal, a Pulitzer nomination, and numerous American and British citations. He has written on history, biography, literature, art, architecture, and government for numerous periodicals.

Alumnus Publishes Poetry Collection

"Selected Poems," a new collection of poems and fables, has been published by Ennis S. Rees, Jr. '46, a member of the faculty at the University of South Carolina.

Rees, who recently donated to the Alumni House a complete set of his published works for use in the Paschall Library, is known for his translations of Homer's Iliad and Odyssey, both adopted by the Modern Library. He is the author of several books of verse for children.

The new collection, under the University of South Carolina Press imprint, contains poems from an earlier book plus selections from Homer. In addition, there is a large selection of new poems.

Walter G. Mason Receives Honor

Walter G. Mason of Lynchburg, a member of the College's Board of Visitors from 1962 until 1970, and its Rector in 1968-70, was recipient this year of a National Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The founder of Mason and Lee, Inc., a stock and brokerage firm, he has been especially active in his Lynchburg church. His religious convictions also have led him to establishment of a fund to assist development of William and Mary's Department of Religion, which was organized partly at his inspiration.

YEARBOOKS WANTED

Requests have been received from two alumni who wish to get copies of yearbooks lost or destroyed. If any alumnus has an extra copy, he is requested to get in touch with the Alumni Office, Box GO, Williamsburg, Virginia 23185.

Mrs. Ruth Cashion Hundley wishes a copy of the 1921 Colonial Echo, and Mrs. Francis Riley Denton would like a copy of the 1927 Colonial Echo.

The Alumni Office is particularly interested in receiving copies of 1900, 1901, 1902, 1906, 1907, 1909, 1911, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1918, 1919, 1922, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, and 1935.

Any alumni who have copies of any Colonial Echos which they no longer have a need for, are asked to forward them to the Alumni Office.

PLANNING ON MOVING?

Please let us know your new address as soon as you know, preferably a month in advance of the move, so we can change your address on the mailing list.

That way you won't miss an issue of the Alumni Gazette.

Send the change of address to PO Box GO Williamsburg, Va. 23185

Oral History Project Underway

As a part of its Bicentennial observance, the College of William and Mary will begin this fall to develop an oral history of its contemporary development.

The project, funded in part by a grant from the recently retired Chancellor of the College, Dr. Alvin D. Chandler '22, will be carried out over two years. The oral history project also has the support of William and Mary's Society of the Alumni.

Miss Emily Jane Williams, a candidate for the Master of Arts degree in history at the College, will undertake the project under the direction of Dr. John Selby, professor of history and Graduate Dean of Arts and Sciences. He is chairman of a special committee which is responsible for the effort.

Key persons who have been associated with the College will be interviewed on correspondence with friends. The advent of modern communications and transportation has changed the decision-making process, so that written records largely bear only the most necessary details. The development of a contemporary oral history for the College is one way of making it possible in the future to provide background for a written history of the College as well as a resource for Virginia historians.

Miss Williams, a native of Greensboro, N.C., has her Bachelor of Arts degree, magna cum laude, from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and until recently, was an editorial apprentice for the Institute of Early American History and Culture and the William and Mary Quarterly. Her master's thesis, in preparation, concerns French and English political thought during the French Wars of Religion.

Third Physician Added to Health Staff

A third physician has been added to the staff of the Student Health Center at William and Mary.

Dr. Juliette Seelye Karow has joined the Health Center staff as a general practitioner, according to Dr. Richard D. Cilley, director of the Center.

Dr. Karow comes to William and Mary from Sarasota, Fla., where she has had a private practice in general family medicine for the past ten years. A graduate of the College of Wooster in Ohio, she received her M.D. degree from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1951 and completed her internship at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

She was in private practice in Royal Oak, Mich., during 1953-54 and served as Medical Clinic Doctor at four Planned Parenthood Clinics in Oakland County, Mich., from 1953-60. She holds membership in the Florida and Sarasota County Medical Associations.

Platters to Play for Dance

In the nostalgic theme of the "Good Old Days" for Homecoming Weekend, the Student Association Dance on Friday evening, October 18, will feature the musical group "The Platters," popular during the late '50s and early '60s.

Alvin Duke Chandler

tape in order to obtain their recollections of significant events and changes affecting the College. The recordings will be transcribed, edited by those who are interviewed, and then stored in the College Archives for use on terms specified by the interviewees. The materials will be maintained in the same fashion the library treats private papers which it receives.

Oral history as a technique has become more and more prominent, as a means of obtaining the type of perspective and detail which, in earlier days, would have been included in one's personal diary or

ALUMNI GAZETTE of the College of William and Mary

October, 1974: Volume 42, No. 4

EDITOR/ Ross Weeks, Jr.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR/ S. Dean Olson
ART DIRECTOR/ George A. Crawford, Jr.
CLASS NEWS/ Mrs. Trudy Neese
VITAL STATISTICS/ Miss Mary T. Branch
TYPESETTING/ Mrs. Sylvia Holmes

Established June 10, 1933, by the Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary, Inc., P. O. Box GO, Williamsburg, Va. 23185; published ten times a year. Second class postage paid at Williamsburg. Subscription rate $5.00 a year. Officers of the Society are: President, Colin R. Davis, '50; Vice President, Glen E. McCaskey, '63; Secretary-Treasurer, Jean Canoles Bruce, '49; Executive Vice President, Gordon C. Vliet, '54. Board of Directors: To December 1976: Harold M. Bates, '52, Roanoke; Marjorie Retzke Gibbs, '44, Bay Village, Ohio; Elane Elias Kappel, '55, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Raymond T. Waller, '40, Richmond; Hillsman V. Wilson, '51, Lutherville-Timonium, Maryland. To December 1975: Jean Canoles Bruce, '49, Norfolk; Colin R. Davis, '50, Suffolk; Fred L. Frechette, '46, Richmond; J. W. Hornsby, Jr., '50, Newport News; Harriet Nachman Storm, '64, Hampton. To December 1974: Dan H. Edmonson, '38, Glen Ellyn, Illinois; Jane Harden Hanson, '42, Potomac, Maryland; Glen E. McCaskey, '63, Hilton Head Island, South Carolina; John F. Morton, Jr., '58, New Orleans, Louisiana; William L. Person, '24, Williamsburg.

Soccer Coach Optimistic About 1974 Season

Last season marked the first time in four years William and Mary's soccer team failed to advance to the Southern Conference Championship game. The Indians were eliminated by arch-rival East Carolina (2-0) for the right to advance to the title game. The Indians finished with a 6-5-1 record.

Al Albert will be entering his fourth year as head coach of the Tribe and he viewed the '74 season more optimistically than any he has approached in the past. "Last year we had four players named to the first team All-Division, three of them were sophomores and one was a freshman. Two made the All-State team and they will be back this year, so I have to feel this could be our best squad ever."

Coach Albert

Leading the returnees is junior Trevor Smith, a first team All-State forward selection. He is a native of Alexandria, Va., and will be joined by All-Conference Steve Proscino (Back), Jim Fox (Midfield) and Tad Minkler (Midfield).

Re-enforcing Alberts' optimism is the return of all 11 starters, a situation most pleasing to any coach. "The squad is a year older and they have played together as a team for a full season so there shouldn't be much question we have a lot of plus factors going for us."

The 11 veterans returning are Forwards Mark Healy, Scott Satterfield, Trevor Smith, Midfielders, Jim Fox, Allen Beasley, Scott MacLaren, Tad Minkler, Backs, Ridge deWitt, Heldur Luvak, and Steve Proscino, and Goalkeeper Casey Todd.

Albert feels the toughest competition will come from Appalachian State, the defending conference champs. The 12 game schedule features always rugged UVA and Madison. The Tribe will have seven home games as Albert and his squad go after the Southern Conference crown.

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP
MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULATION
(Act of August 12, 1970; Section 3685, Title 39, U.S. Code) Title of Publication:
The Alumni Gazette of the College of William and Mary. Date of Filing:
September 25, 1974. Frequency of issue: Monthly, except January, June, August. Office of Publication: College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va.,
23185. Office address: Alumni House,
College of William and Mary,
Williamsburg, Va. 23185. Publisher:
Society of the Alumni Box GO,
Williamsburg, Va. 23185. Editor: Ross
Weeks, Jr., Owner: Society of the Alumni, Inc., Box GO, Williamsburg, Va.
23185. Average no. copies printed each issue during preceding 12 months:
30,500. Actual no. copies of single issue published nearest to filing date: 31,000.
Mail subscriptions: 29,600 average;
30,100 actual; Total paid circulation:
same. Free distribution: 800 average;
800 actual. Total distribution: 30,400
average; 30,900 actual. Office use, leftover, unaccounted, spoiled after printing: 100 average; 100 actual. Total:
30,500 average; 31,000 actual. I certify that the statements made by me above are correct and complete. (Signed) Ross Weeks, Jr.

Tribe Football Retains Offensive Explosiveness

Four games into the season, the results at best are ambivalent: better perhaps than expected but not as good as they could have been.

In its opener, the Tribe football team ventured to Jackson, Mississippi, where a strong Mississippi State team, which two weeks later blasted Georgia 38-14, demolished the Indians 49-7.

A week later, William and Mary played its second away game against Wake Forest, with little expectation from many supporters that the Indians could recover from the Mississippi loss. But Jim Root's players surprised everyone in more than one way -- they not only beat Wake Forest for the second straight year, 17-6, but turned in a solid defensive performance as well.

The following week the Indians traveled to Scott Stadium in Charlottesville for a showdown with Sonny Randle's University of Virginia Cavaliers. In a game packed with offensive thrills, the Cavaliers defeated William and Mary 38-28.

Against Furman on Sept. 28, however, the Indian offense went flat. William and Mary rushed for only 156 yards, failed to complete a single pass, and Deery threw four interceptions and fumbled twice in a 10-0 loss.

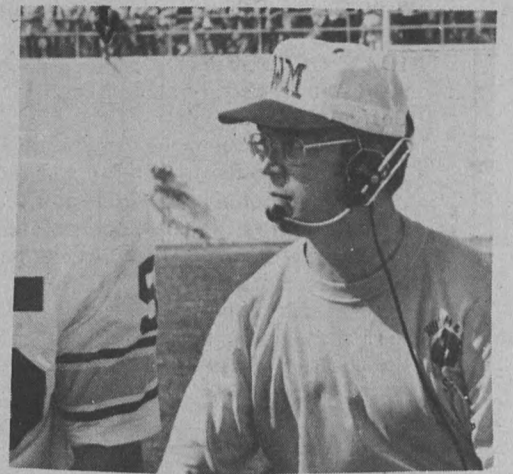

On the plus side, the Indians seem as potent offensively as they have in past years. And despite the high number of points scored against them by Mississippi State and Virginia, most observers feel they have improved defensively -- at least against the run.

Pass defense, however, still seems to plague the Indians. After the Virginia game in which Cavalier quarterback Scott Gardner threw for 344 yards, Root called the Indian pass defense "a total disgrace." It's an area where the Indians will be working hard for the rest of the season.

Despite the loss, Indian fans came away feeling they had seen their money's worth. Quarterback Billy Deery, who uncorked a long touchdown run against Left quarterback Billy Deery slips the grasp of an opponent; top right, assistant coach Lou Tepper talks on the headphones, and lower right, Coach Jim Root counsels a player.

Mississippi State, threw touchdown passes of 58 and 39 yards against Virginia and reeled off a 78-yard run himself. Deery even outdid Gardner's prolific yardage count -- accounting for 357 yards in total offense to Gardner's 344.

Additionally, skilled end Dick Pawlewicz ran 102 yards on a kickoff return in the second half for a William and Mary record.

Root's young defensive corps continued its fine efforts in stopping the run. The Tribe yielded only about three yards a carry to the Cavalier runners and stopped a final UVA drive on downs inside the five yard line.

That sort of play was reminiscent of its play a week earlier when William and Mary downed Wake Forest. Root singled out his linebackers, particularly Craig McCurdy and Jeff Hosmer, for their excellent play, and his nose guard, Bob Booth, who won a starting assignment after the Mississippi State game.

Perhaps as encouraging for the remainder of the season was the lack of serious injuries. Through the Virginia game, the Tribe had its all senior backfield -- Deery, fullback John Gerdleman, and tailback Doug Gerhart -- in tact. All three sustained painful injuries at one point or another last season.

Cross-country Team Promises Another Sterling Season

William and Mary's cross-country team headed into the 1974 season with a three-year dual meet winning streak in tact, an NCAA district championship to defend, and a fourth place finish to its credit in last year's NCAA championship at Spokane, Wash.

But the Tribe also began the season with two of its top stars from last year gone -- Ron Martin, the sub-four-minute miler, and All-American Bill Louv.

But the prospects aren't at all bleak, despite the loss of the two co-captains from last year. In fact, Coach John Randolph has so much good young talent, in addition to several good veterans, that he cautiously admits, "On paper, it may look like we're loaded."

Randolph qualified that statement by recalling he has lost his two best runners, Martin and Louv, and that the W&M faces one of its toughest schedules in history. So what are the prospects? Good, if the team develops as Randolph hopes.

"We've got four guys coming back from last year's team," says Randolph, "but we've got to develop some front-runners who can run with anybody in the country. We've also got to get the leadership that we got last year from Louv and Martin."

Randolph hopes to find it in two of the men back from last year's team, Reggie Clark, the NCAA indoor half-mile champion, and Tim Cook, and in newcomer Gene Schultz. The three are tri-captains for the cross-country team.

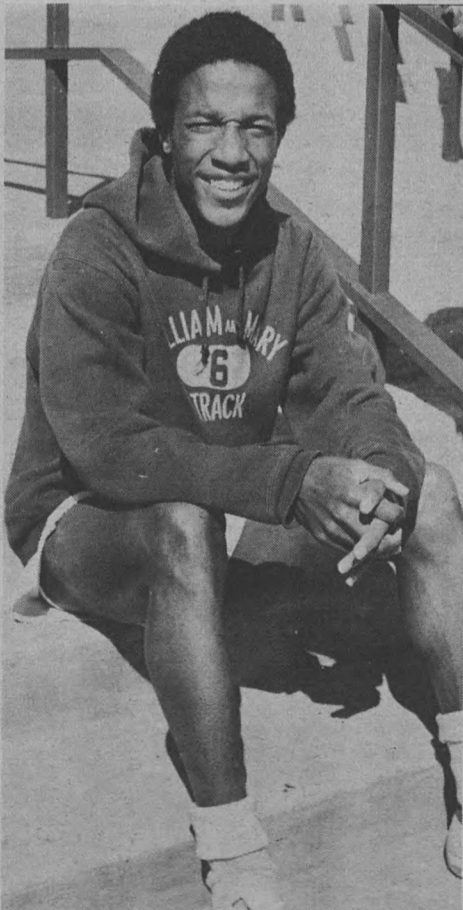

"Reggie's really excited about cross country and he can potentially run with anybody if he sets his mind to it," says Randolph.

Randolph also looks for great things from two other members from last year's squad -- juniors John Greenplate and Mac Collins. Both ran in the NCAA championships last year, and Collins finished 39th among hundreds of the most talented runners in the country.

The Tribe has two fine sophomore prospects in Gregg Miller, an all IC4A selection in 1973, and George Moore, a 4:09 miler. Both will have to mature, says Randolph, but both have great potential.

Two other strong runners are juniors Chris Tulou, who ran 13:38 for three miles last year, and Brendan Gallaher. In addition, Randolph has two outstanding freshmen, Mike Hagon, a Penn Relays and Eastern States two-mile champion, and Virginia High School Cross Country champion Kevin Cropp.

The Tribe has already been cited as a national contender, ranking number eight in a pre-season poll.

Reggie Clark

THE UMBECK TENNIS TEAMS - THEY WERE THE GREATEST

Fred Kovaleski and Tut Bartzten (rear)

Superlatives come easily to people who remember the tennis teams at William and Mary from 1945 through 1949. Assembled by Dr. Sharvy Umbeck, chairman of the Department of Sociology and later Dean of the Faculty, the teams were undoubtedly the greatest in William and Mary history, perhaps the finest in the history of Virginia, and certainly one of the finest groups of tennis players ever on a college campus.

Consider the record:

*From 1945, the teams put together nearly a hundred consecutive dual meet victories against the finest collegiate competition in the country. For many years, the string constituted an NCAA record.

*In 1947 and 1948, William and Mary won the national intercollegiate tennis championship.

*In 1946, Gardner Larned, perhaps William and Mary's greatest tennis player, reached the finals of the national intercollegiate singles competition; in 1947, he won the national title.

*In 1945, Tut Bartzten and Bren Macken went to the National intercollegiate doubles finals; in 1946 Bartzten and Larned reached the finals.

*In 1948, Bartzten and Fred Kovaleski won the national doubles title.

*In 1947, Larned and Bartzten beat the best doubles team in the world -- the legendary Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder.

The 1947 Colonial Echo tells what it was like for the opposition who had to face Bartzten and Larned.

"Right behind Larned came Bartzten, who also hung up a brilliant string of victories. William and Mary's competitors were in the same spot as the unfortunate pitchers who had to face the Yankees of yesteryear. After they were hammered by Babe Ruth, they had to endure the same thing at the hands of Lou Gehrig."

The teams coached by Umbeck were so good, in fact, that at one time or another, eight members had held national junior titles. Two members of the team, Bren and Jim Macken, were one and two on the Canadian Davis Cup team and the Canadian doubles champions; yet Bren played No. 3 for William and Mary in the singles and the brothers as a doubles team were only No. 2. "That's how good we were," remembers a close observer of the Umbeck era.

Umbeck reached out across the country and into Canada to bring the players to William and Mary. A tennis pro at the Hinsdale Country Club in Chicago both before and after he came to William and Mary, Umbeck kept a close watch on some of the nation's finest young junior players in the clay court tournaments held at the club and in the surrounding area.

Sharvy Umbeck

In Chicago, Umbeck first saw Gardner Larned play as a young high school player before the war. When Larned went into the service, Umbeck kept track of him and after the war years contacted him in an army hospital where Larned was recovering from a severe case of trenchfoot and wounds inflicted by the war.

"I had been pretty badly shot up," recalls Larned, a vice president for the Berry Bearing Company in Chicago. "With the trenchfoot, I had given up on tennis permanently." But Umbeck wouldn't hear of it. He told Larned to get on his feet and come to William and Mary. Larned and his wife responded, arriving in Williamsburg dusty and tired after a long car trip. Umbeck and his wife Elsie put them up overnight, got them situated at William and Mary, and Umbeck placed Larned on a rugged physical schedule. In a year, Larned was back in shape, recovered enough to reach the finals of the NCAA singles tournament.

Umbeck discovered Kovaleski in Michigan before the war too, through a tennis contact who had organized a public parks tennis program. Dr. Wayne Kernodle, now a professor and formerly chairman of the Department of Sociology at William and Mary, but then a young instructor and an assistant to Coach Umbeck, remembers how Kovaleski came to Umbeck's attention.

Umbeck's contact, an outspoken and blunt woman named Jean Hoxie, called Umbeck and told him she was sending him Kovaleski.

"I'm sending Fred to William and Mary, Umbeck, and he's a G... damn nice boy. I want him to come back the same way. Do you understand, Umbeck." To which the nation's best tennis coach responded mildly, "Yes Ma'am."

The war interrupted Kovaleski's arrival at William and Mary too, but he did come after the service, during which he served as a paratrooper. A particularly brilliant doubles player, Kovaleski won the NCAA doubles title with Bartzten in 1948.

A former member of the State Department, Kovaleski today lives in New York where he is vice president for international business operations of Carter-Wallace, a toiletries and pharmaceutical company.

"Many people," says Kovaleski, "believe the Umbeck teams were the strongest in the history of collegiate

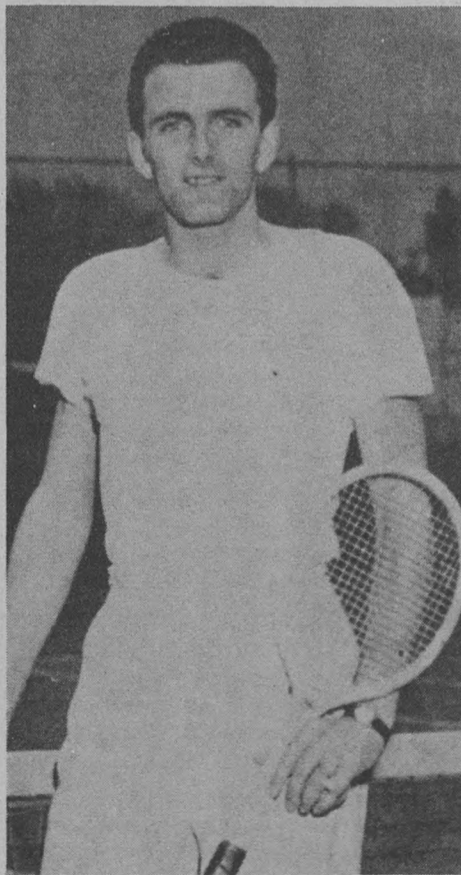

Tut Bartzten

The 1946 Record (17-0)
-- A Typical Season --

Date	Opponent	Score
April 5	- Kalamazoo College	.8-1
April 13	- Duke	.7-2
April 17	- Richmond	.9-0
April 20	- Virginia	.9-0
April 22	- North Carolina	.7-2
April 27	- Navy	.8-1
April 29	- Army	.9-0
April 30	- King's Point	.9-0
May 1	- Princeton	.8-1
May 6	- Miami	.8-1
May 8	- Penn	.9-0
May 9	- Swarthmore	.9-0
May 17	- Duke	.9-0
May 18	- N. C. State	.9-0
May 19	- Country Club of Virginia	.8-1
May 22	- Richmond	.9-0
May 23	- Virginia	.9-0

tennis." Like the other players, Kovaleski credits Umbeck with their success. "He deserves all of the credit."

Umbeck discovered Bartzten in Michigan also where he had come from San Angelo, Texas, to play in the national juniors tournament. Bartzten was a runner up twice in the tournament in both the singles and doubles competition. He had no idea of going out of state to play collegiate tennis until he met Umbeck, who persuaded him to come to William and Mary. "I went into orbit when I met Umbeck," remembers Bartzten.

Gardner Larned

Umbeck was equally impressed by Bartzten, whom he called "the saint" because of his pleasant and kindly ways. Moreover, Bartzten came to William and Mary as a fuzzy faced high school graduate, unspoiled and responsive to Umbeck's grooming.

A brilliant recruiter, Umbeck was equally accomplished as a coach and father to the players. He got each of them jobs and followed their progress both on the courts and in the classroom.

"He was a fabulous guy," remembers Kernodle. "As a coach he had an uncanny sense of knowing who had potential and how to really maximize and bring to fruition each player's ability. In keeping records, he was a scientist. He had a computer brain, would chart each player's match and then graphically show them how to improve."

"Off the court, he paid a lot of attention to the personal lives of each of the players. He and his wife Elsie spent gobs of time giving them advice, helping them when they needed help."

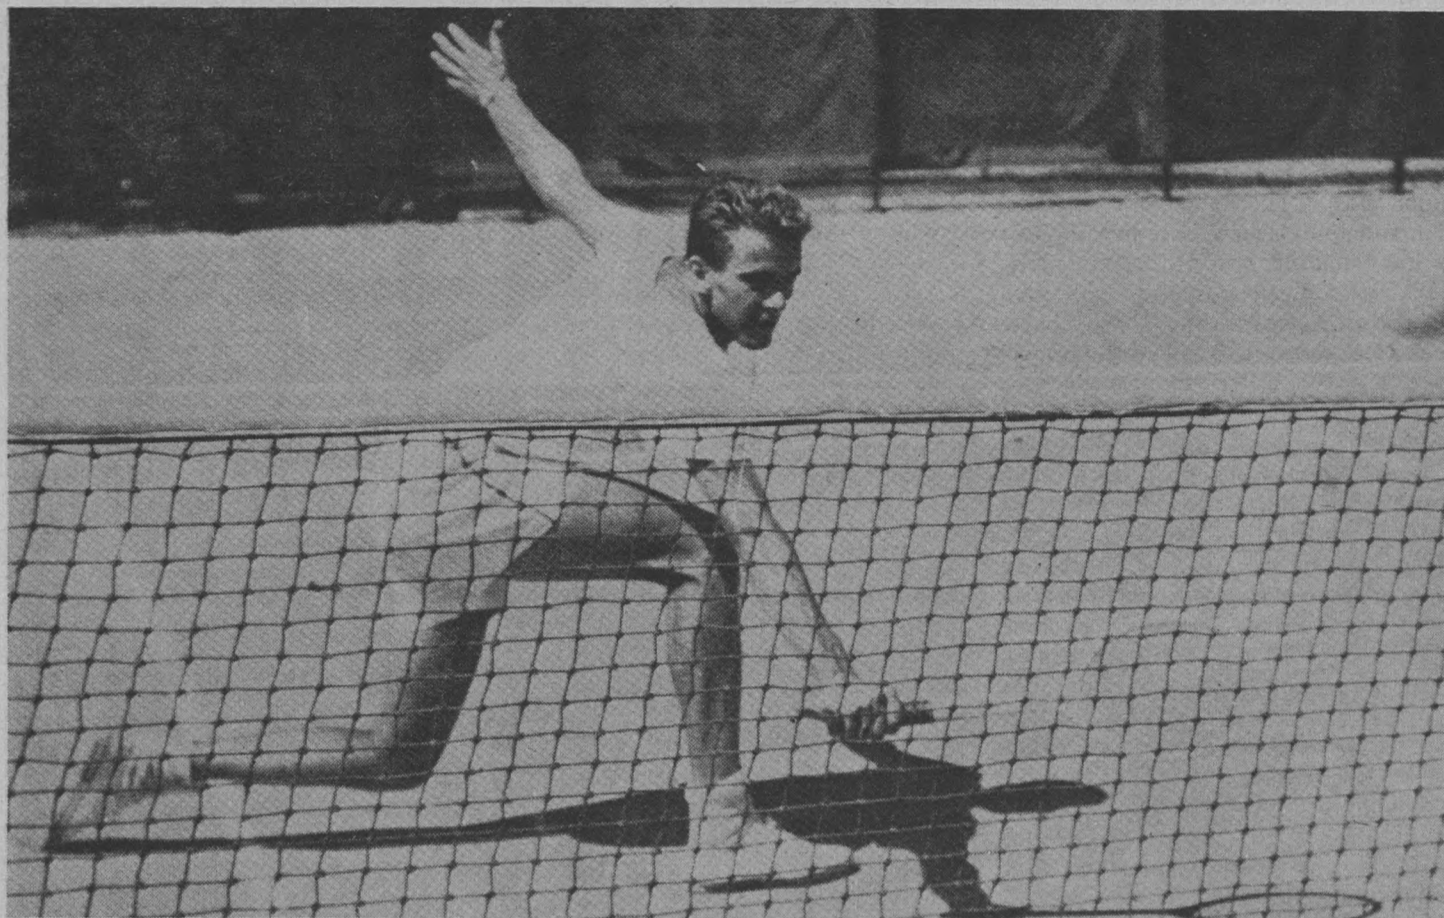

Umbeck left William and Mary after the 1949 season. The following year, the team's string of consecutive victories came to an end, although it stood for many years as an NCAA record.

The influence of Umbeck on the players followed them long after they left William and Mary. All of the members of his great teams went on to distinguished careers - in business, law, coaching, and other fields.

Dr. Kernodle seems to pinpoint the reason well.

"It was one of the finest examples of blending academics and athletics that I have ever witnessed."

KOVALESKI, BARTZEN, LARNED STILL PLAYING LIKE CHAMPIONS

Gardie Larned whacks a tennis ball back

With the assistance of the Society of the Alumni, Steve Haynie, coach of the William and Mary tennis team, was a prime force in convincing members of the 1945-48 championship teams to return to the College for a match at Homecoming. Haynie's tennis team will be on the courts against the former greats, and after it's over, he may wish he had reconsidered the whole idea.

At least six members of the Sharvy Umbeck era teams have agreed to return. They are Bob Galloway, Bob Doll, Howe Atwater, and the three powers of the team -- Gardner Larned, Tut Bartzen, and Fred Kovaleski. Only Larned may not play because he "threw something out of place" in playing himself back into condition in Chicago recently.

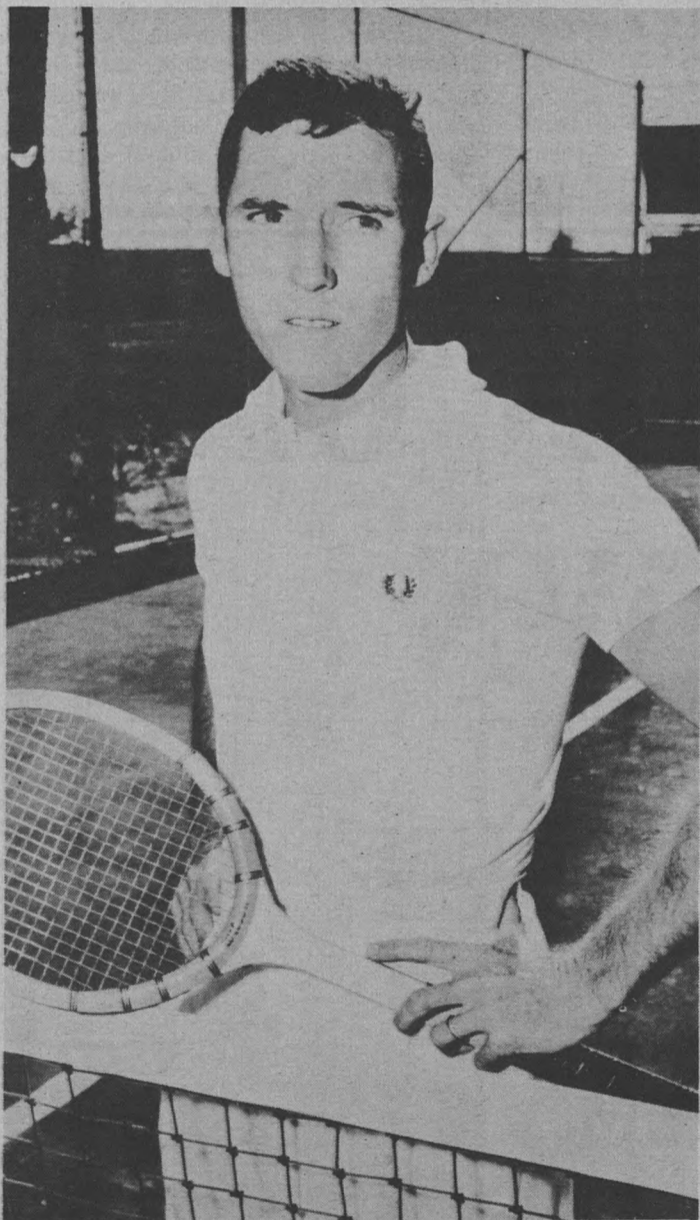

Kovaleski and Bartzen, however, still retain much of the form they displayed when they were at William and Mary. In fact, even today they are still winning tennis championships.

After they left William and Mary, both Kovaleski and Bartzen continued as active players. Sponsored by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association, Kovaleski played in tournaments around the world, including Wimbledon, for nearly two years. At Wimbledon in 1950, he was seeded 12th, equivalent to a world ranking. He reached the quarterfinals that year, losing to the great Frank Sedgeman.

Kovaleski left active tennis after a couple of years, figuring he wouldn't reach the level of one of the two best players in the world, which was necessary to make any money. He joined the State Department, then worked for Pepsi Cola, and lived around the world until 1971 when he returned to America.

Today a business executive residing in New York, Kovaleski continues to play tennis for pleasure -- for his pleasure, not others: in the past two years, he and Bob Howe, an outstanding Australian player, have won the U.S. Senior Open doubles title at Forest Hills. He will bring that kind of talent to William and Mary, an experience he is looking forward to as being "great fun."

Bartzen has remained active in tennis since he left William and Mary. From 1952-61, he won all 15 of his matches as a member of the U.S. Davis Cup team, but that was only a part of his accomplishments. In one year, he ranked as the No. 2 singles player in the country, and in 1954, 58, 59, and 61, he won the National Clay Court Tennis title.

Tut Bartzen in his playing days after leaving W&M.

Bartzen, too, is a Wimbledon veteran. In 1953, he lost in the second round to the top European player.

For many years, Bartzen worked for the Wilson Sporting Goods Company in sales and promotion. He left that job in 1962 to become the pro at a country club in Fort Worth. This year, he became the tennis coach at Texas Christian University. He continues to operate a tennis shop on the TCU campus.

Larned left active tennis when he graduated from college -- "to go out and get a job," he says. He still regrets that he left William and Mary after his sophomore year to transfer to Rollins College in Florida, a move prompted by economics.

A vice president for the Berry Bearing Company in Chicago where he makes his home, Larned is considered by both Kovaleski and Bartzen as the finest tennis player during the Umbeck era, which would make him the finest in William and Mary history. Larned, known as "Gardie" to his friends Bartzen and Kovaleski, remembers both men with a great deal of affection.

After college, Bartzen came to Chicago to play in the clay court championships. One of his opponents was Vic Seixas, one of the great American players, whom Bartzen had been unable to defeat. Bartzen called Larned for advice and it was so good that Bartzen beat Seixas for the title. "And you know what that guy did," says Larned speaking of Bartzen, "he gave me all of the credit in the press and on the radio."

Another time, Larned and Kovaleski were flying to California to play for William and Mary in the national intercollegiate tournament. Both war veterans, the men were approaching their destination when Larned noticed an uneasiness about Kovaleski.

"What's wrong," asked Larned, "You've flown before."

"Yes," said Kovaleski, a paratrooper in World War II, "but I've never landed."

Fred Kovaleski in a recent picture after he and two colleagues won the Stevens Cup, the seniors equivalent of the Davis Cup for tennis players over 45.

Even if he can't play, Larned will be present to give advice from the sidelines to his old comrades in the Homecoming competition. Learning of the injury while Larned was gearing back into shape for the event, the Alumni office called Larned and insisted that he come even if he couldn't play.

He plans on coaching and keeping track of the towels, and we suspect he'll be back on the courts with his old friends soon.

Ten Prominent Alumni Are Candidates for Board

Ten prominent alumni, including four incumbent board members, are candidates for five positions on the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni.

Ballots have been mailed to all contributing members of the Alumni Society. They must be returned to the Alumni House at William and Mary by October 16, and the results will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society scheduled for the Friday evening of Homecoming weekend of October 18-19.

Only one member of the current Board of Directors is retiring. She is Jane Harden Hanson '42 of Potomac, Maryland, who has served the maximum of two consecutive terms of three years each.

Running for re-election for a second term are William L. Person '24, a Williamsburg businessman; Dan H. Edmonson '38, an executive for an Illinois manufacturing firm; Glen E. McCaskey, '63, an executive for a South Carolina land development firm, and John F. Morton, Jr., '58, an architect from Louisiana.

New candidates for the Board of Directors are Patricia King Sell '58 of La Jolla, California; Dr. Robert T. Sessions '52 of Marietta, Georgia; James C. Sutherland '48 of Lansing, Michigan; Roberta Shaw Thomas '57 of Alexandria, Virginia; William F. Miller '68 of Williamsburg, and Norman Moomjian '55 of New York.

Dan H. Edmonson is executive vice president, corporate development, of the Kroehler Manufacturing Company near Chicago. Edmonson served for 42 months in the Navy during World War II, after which he rose rapidly in the business world to his current position. A current member of the Board of Directors of the Society, he is on the Alumni Relations Committee. For sometime, he has been an active alumnus, serving as President of the Chicago Alumni Chapter and as a class agent and was elected to the Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary Hall of Fame in 1961.

William F. Miller is a 1974 graduate of Marshall-Wythe School of Law; he is now a partner in the Williamsburg law firm of Loring and Miller. He was active in extracurricular activities as an undergraduate and later served as an Army officer in Vietnam. He served as the Student Bar Association alumni relations director and as fund chairman for his law school class.

Norman Moomjian owns a prominent New York restaurant, the Copain, which has been a frequent gathering spot for alumni in the New York area where he has been an officer in the local alumni chapter. A business administration graduate of William and Mary, he worked his way through school as a waiter in Williamsburg restaurants. He is a frequent consultant in the restaurant business and active in a number of trade associations.

Glen E. McCaskey is executive vice president of Sea Pines Park Company, a subsidiary of Sea Pines Company of Hilton Head Island, South Carolina.

Currently vice president of the Board of Directors of the Society, McCaskey received a masters degree from the Annenberg School of Communications at the University of Pennsylvania. A writer and photographer, McCaskey is widely traveled and active in the areas of tourism and the environment. In 1970, he was named to a list of "Outstanding Young Men of America."

John F. Morton, Jr., heads his own architectural firm in New Orleans where he has been president three times of the alumni chapter in that area. A current member of the Board of Directors and a member of the Alumni Relations Committee, he served as architect for the recently completed Alumni House. He received his architecture degree from Tulane where he studied as a Henry Adams Fund Scholar. He is active in national architectural society circles.

William L. Person is president of Person Ford, Inc., in Williamsburg. A current member of the Board of Directors of the Society, he is chairman of the Fiscal Planning and Personnel Committee. He is active in business and community circles in the Williamsburg area. In addition, he has served on the Board of the William and Mary Educational Foundation, and he is currently a member of the Endowment Association and the President's Council.

Patricia King Sell is a widely traveled alumna who lives in La Jolla, California, with her husband Stewart '56, a professor at the University of California at San Diego, and their four children. She has been active in alumni chapters in Boston, Washington, Pittsburgh, and in San Diego. She serves in a number of volunteer organizations in the San Diego area.

Robert T. Sessions is a thoracic and cardiovascular surgeon residing in Marietta, Georgia. He earned his medical degree at Northwestern University, interned in Seattle, and did his residency at Vanderbilt where he was an instructor in surgery. Widely traveled and a frequent contributor to medical journals, he has served on the Board of Directors of the Georgia alumni chapter.

James C. Sutherland has been associated with the Ford Motor Company for 24 years. A resident of Lansing, Michigan, he is currently a district sales manager for Ford. He has lived in Richmond, Miami and Washington while working for Ford. Sutherland is active in community circles in Lansing. At William and Mary, he was president of his sophomore class.

Roberta Shaw Thomas has continued active in volunteer and community circles since she graduated in 1957. Currently a resident of Alexandria, she is past president of the Law Wives Association of her husband's law school, T.C. Williams in Richmond, and is a past president and board member of the Alexandria lawyers wives organization. She was a co-founder and past president of the Virginia lawyers wives organization and served as a member of the board of the national organization.

LUNCHEON ON THE LAWN

AT THE ALUMNI HOUSE

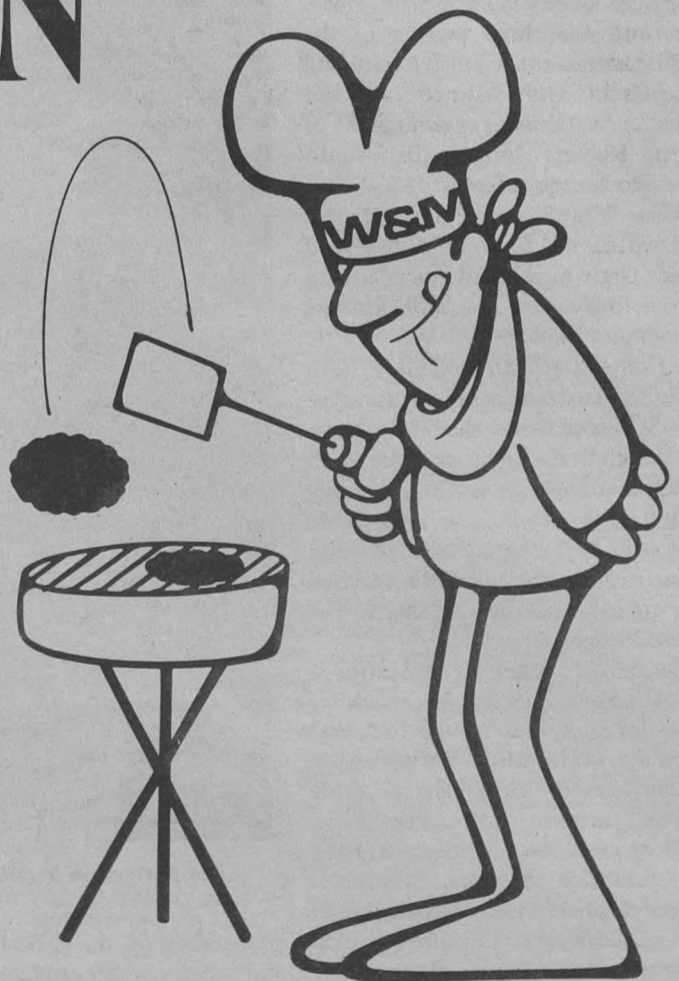

11:30 AM TO KICKOFF

(weather permitting)

ALL HOME GAMES

ALL ALUMNI AND BIG GREEN FANS ARE WELCOME

Park your car early, beat the rush, have lunch, meet your friends, walk across the street to the game.

Freshest Advice

Three members of the class of '39 presented a Steinway piano to the Alumni House recently on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the 1939 class. Presenting the piano were (left to right) Herbert Krueger, Powhatan, Virginia; Janet (Billet) Kennedy, Mannakin; and Elbert Slaughter, Norfolk. All three are members of the Funtime Committee of the class. Mrs. Kennedy formerly owned the piano.

Chapter Activity Listed

OCT. 7 Dallas, Texas. Reception for President Graves at the Twenty-One Turtle Club, 3883 Turtle Creek Boulevard. Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres beginning at 6:00 P.M., with President Graves remarks at approximately 7:15 P.M. Cost is $3.50 per person with drinks on a cash bar basis. Send reservations and check to: Robert W. Corstaphney, Jr., 5328 Del Roy, Dallas, Texas, 75229.

OCT. 8 Houston, Texas. Reception for President Graves at the home of Bill Wilde, '55, 8 Woodsedge Lane. Cocktails beginning at 7:00 with remarks by President Graves at approximately 8:00. Cost is $2.00 per person. Send reservation and check to Steve Oaks, '59, 1100 Esperson Building, Houston, Texas, 77008.

OCT. 9 San Diego, California. Cocktails and dinner at the Reuben E. Lee restaurant on Harbor Island with President Graves. Cocktails begin at 6:30 P.M. with drinks on cash bar basis at $1.20 each. Dinner at 7:30 followed by President Graves' remarks. Dinner is $6.00 per person. Send reservation and check to Carol Prewitt, 3851 G Miramar Road, La Jolla, Calif., 92037.

OCT. 11 San Francisco, California. Reception for President Graves at the Magic Pan Restaurant, 341 Sutter Street, from 5:15 to 7:00 P.M., with remarks by the President at approximately 6:15. Cost is $1.00 per person to cover the room and hors d'oeuvres charge, and drinks will be on a cash bar basis at $1.00 each. Send reservation and checks for $1.00 per person to Pete Giblin, 172 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo, California, 94960.

OCT. 12 Boston, Massachusetts. Social hour preceding Boston College football game. Cocktails and buffet, beginning at 5:30 P.M. in McGuinn Hall, 3rd floor faculty lounge, right across from the stadium. Cost is $3.50 per person for the deli buffet, and drinks will be on a cash bar basis at $1.25 each. Send reservation and checks for buffet if desired to William C. Allison, One Boston Place, Boston, Mass., 02108.

OCT. 26 Lexington, Virginia. Social hour immediately following the W&M-VMI football game at the Cadet General Motel in Lexington, located 1 mile from stadium on Rt. 11. Cost is $2.00 per person to cover room and set-ups and drinks are $0.75 each.

OCT. 27 St. Louis, Missouri. Reception for President Graves at the home of Ken Kranzberg, 135 North Forsyth Boulevard, from 3:00-5:00 P.M. Cost is $1.00 per person to cover refreshments. Send reservation and check to Ken Kranzberg, 135 North Forsyth Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri, 63105.

NOV. 7 Atlanta, Georgia. "An Evening of Dinner and Theater" at the Barn Dinner Theater, 1690 Terrell Mill Road, Marietta, Georgia. Cocktails at 6:30 P.M., buffet dinner from 7:00-8:00, followed by the play "Everybody Loves Opal" at 8:30. Cost is $8.50 per person, which includes dinner, play and gratuity. Drinks on a cash bar basis at $1.25 each. Send reservation and check to Mrs. Lynn Bradley, 200 Franklin Road No. R3, Atlanta, Georgia, 30342 before NOV. 1. Make check payable to William and Mary Alumni Club.

NOV. 23 Richmond, Virginia. Social hour immediately following the W&M-University of Richmond football game. Details to follow in later issue of the Alumni Gazette.

11

Elliott E. West and his wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary this year. They are living at the South Roanoke Nursing Home on Franklin Road, Southwest, in Roanoke, Va. We wish them much happiness.

23

William Irvine "Buck Marable" has retired as a faculty member at Chowan College, Murfreesboro, N.C. He was created Professor Emeritus of Latin.

27

A Hughlett Mason's last book, History of Steam Navigation to the Eastern Shore of Virginia, was published by the Dietz Press in Richmond, October 1973. Hughlett passed away in January of this year.

29

Macon C. Sammons
Box 206
Shawsville, Va. 24162

We hope this letter may reach you before Homecoming. You have received a Class letter from our President, Edward T. Justis, and detailed information in the Homecoming Schedule sent out from the Alumni Office. We know many of you are planning to come back for our 45th Class Reunion and we hope this will be our largest one ever. We have a great program coming up and we hope as many of you as possible will be with us to enjoy it. It will certainly be great to see you all.

Oscar Wilkinson will be flying in from Laguna Niguel, Calif., and will be meeting Harry Blair who will be coming in from Dallas.

Lucile and Armstrong Smith are meeting Joe and Eleanor James in Williamsburg.

Many of our our classmates are getting together this way and we surely hope you will be among them.

Charles F. Harper, Portsmouth, has been elected Chairman of the Board of Homestead Mutual Building & Loan Association. He had previously served for four years as vice president.

I saw Page Vaughan Wright at our last alumni dinner in Roanoke and she hopes to be back for the reunion.

From the "grapevine" comes news that our secretary-treasurer, John B. Hozier, Hilton Head Island, S.C., whom we have not seen since WMII Navy days in Boston, will be back for the reunion. It surely will be good to see you, John.

Give us some news about yourselves and be sure to put us on your Christmas card list.

31

Hampton W. Richardson
600 Lafayette, NE
Albuquerque, N.M. 87106

After graduating from William and Mary, Mitchell Mozeleski worked for two years at Dr. Blair Spencer's private school for boys in Gloucester, Va. He then accepted a position as teacher, coach of basketball, and assistant coach of football at Camden High School in Camden N.J. Later he taught, coached football and track, and was Athletic Director at Woodrow Wilson High School, also in Camden.

In 1936, Mitchell married Jean Simmons, Class of '33, in Smith's Grove, Kentucky. In 1942 he was commissioned a Lieutenant in the U.S. Naval Reserve and attended Harvard Officer Training School. After further training in Chicago, he was assigned to the Naval Air Station at Oakland, Calif., which was later moved to Livermore, Calif., where their son Jan was born.

After the war, Mitchell returned to Camden and continued teaching and coaching there. He also continued to be active in the Naval Reserve. In 1965 he had the pleasure of commissioning his son, Jan, as Ensign USNR at his graduation in Williamsburg, the only Navy man in his R.O.T.C. class.

In 1972 Mitchell was selected for induction in the William and Mary Hall of Fame.

Jean and Mitchell now divide their time between New Jersey and Florida and are proud grandparents of a charming young lady named Christy in Liverpool, N.Y. In New Jersey they live at 128 Stokes Road, Medford Lakes.

After 16 years in Colonial Williamsburg's consultation service for historic places and travel destinations, Thomas G. McCaskey left the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation and establish his own agency for consulting on travel development. He is a former director of Colonial Williamsburg's development staff, a pioneer in the growth of Colonial Williamsburg, and a specialist in the field of travel promotion. In recent years Tom has been active in working with many historic places around the nation on visitation and promotional programs. He has advised or consulted with a dozen or more cities and counties in Virginia and others in eight states, as well as in the Caribbean area. One of his major programs concerned a visitation plan for the Historic Mall area in the nation's capital. He also has been active as a lecturer on travel promotion and development in many parts of this country and abroad.

A native of Norfolk, Va., and a former newspaper reporter, Tom began his association with Colonial Williamsburg as a student of the College, serving as manager of the Williamsburg Theatre. He has held many posts in the Colonial Williamsburg organization, and since 1948 has directed its advertising and promotional aspects of Colonial Williamsburg. He became Director of Development and Vice President in 1957.

Currently, he is a member of the Governor's Travel Advisory Council, Chairman of the American Revolution Bicentennial Committee of the Discover America Travel Organizations, and chairman of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce committee on environment.

During World War II, Tom was a commissioned officer in the U.S. Naval Reserve. Other past activities include president of Virginia Travel Council, chairman of the State Travel Coordinating Committee, and president of the Williamsburg Chamber of Commerce. He was an elected member of the national board of directors of DATO, and a director of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce. He has served as a board member of the Virginia Travel Council, the St. Luke's Restoration, the Jamestown Corporation, the Historic Lexington Foundation, the War Memorial Museum of Newport News, Keep Virginia Beautiful, Inc., and the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. He has been active in community campaigns such as the United Fund, and has served as vestryman, senior warden, and now trustee of Bruton Parish Church, and member of the Diocesan Executive Committee.

In January, 1948, Tom received the Virginia Travel Council's highest award-- the Virginia Travel Award--for his work as one of the originators of Colonial Williamsburg's cultural conference programs. In 1968, the Virginia Beach Innkeeper's Association selected him to receive the Robert F. Nelson Travel Award for contributions to the Virginia travel industry. In 1972, Tom was one of five to receive the William and Mary Alumni Medallion, his most prized citation.

Tom and his wife, the former Leah Miller of Williamsburg and an alumnus of William and Mary, live at 332 Burns Lane, Williamsburg, Va. They have one son, Glen Edward of Hilton Head, S.C., who is Vice President of the Seapines Company. He is also a graduate of William and Mary and a member of the Board of the Society of Alumni. The McCaskeys are an all William and Mary Family.

Anyone acquainted with the short-lived William and Mary Glider Club of 1930 and its only president, Upshur T. Joyner, should have known where he would go after graduating from William and Mary. Yes, to NACA at Langley Field, where in February 1931 he became an assistant scientific aid assigned to wind tunnel investigation of airfoils. He deserted Langley during the period 1934-35 to assist in the development of the Norden bomb sight at the Naval Proving Grounds (now Naval Weapons Laboratory) at Dahlgren, Va. But he was back at Langley before the end of 1935 and conducted research on aircraft cowling and heat transfer for a number of years. During this time he developed a very useful mathematical analysis of aircraft intercoller design. In 1953 he was selected for the position of Head, Ground Loads Branch in Langley's Dynamic Load Division. Under his leadership, the Branch made major progress in providing industry the information required to improve the design of aircraft landing gear. Upshur retired in 1965, but was employed by NASA for several years on special assignments related to the ground performance of aircraft and on landing systems for manned re-entry space craft.

Upshur is the author or co-author of a number of NACA-NASA technical publications, and represented the Langley Laboratory at many technical conferences related to his work. He was a member of the Langley supersonic transport evaluation team.

In January 1963, Upshur presented a paper in Paris, France to the Advisory Group for Aeronautical Research and Development, a subsidiary of NATO, on his work at Langley Field. Upon request, he repeated the presentation in Hamburg and Frankfurt, Germany. On several occasions he presented papers on work at Langley to the International Air Transport Association in Montreal, Canada. In March 1967, he addressed the Utilities Exchange Group of the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council, receiving many compliments on his presentation as well as requests for copies of his paper and the supporting film.

Upshur was presented the Arch T. Colwell Merit Award at an SAE luncheon in Detroit in June 1966 for work described in a paper co-authored with Walter B. Horne of Langley on the subject of "Pneumatic Tire Hydroplaning and Some Effects on Vehicle Performance".

At a meeting of the Southern Safety Conference in Richmond, Va., in March 1967, the National Safety Council Metropolitan Life Awards for Research and Accident Prevention presented Upshur a Certificate of Commendation "for advancing the general cause of safety through participation in a study of pneumatic tire hydroplaning—facts, implications, and remedies".

In 1968 Upshur was elected an Associate Fellow of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, following a meeting of the AIAA in Los Angeles, Calif. at which he presented two papers on work done at Langley. His biographical sketch will appear in the 38th Edition of Who's Who in America.

Upshur is married to the former Kitty O'Brien, who after two years at Sweet Briar, became the only woman then enrolled in the Engineering School of the University of Virginia and graduated with a B.S. degree in Engineering (electrical) in 1939. She worked at this profession for 31 years at Langley and retired in 1971. They have one son, Sam, who attended William and Mary for three years in physics and graduated from Ottawa University, Kansas in 1967. Their daughter, Kate, attended the University of Strasbourg, France, during the summer after high school graduation, and is now a Junior at Sweet Briar College, majoring in biology.

Recreationally, boating will continue to be a major pastime for Upshur. He is a member of the Hampton Yacht Club and was Commodore of the Club in 1959. He has cruised the east coast from Narragansett Bay to the Florida Keys, and for the past 24 years has owned a "venerable old Cruiser built in 1928". Another longtime interest is genealogy. He and Kitty are busy trying to extend their family trees and find it "more fun than jigsaw puzzles". Upshur is "brushing up" on college German in anticipation of spending some time in rural Germany. The O'Brien in Kitty is pulling for a trip to Ireland also, but not in the "old cruiser". They plan to visit Rome in November with the William and Mary Alumni Group.

Community wise, Upshur has served as chairman of the United Fund Drive at Langley Research Center. He is a member of the Engineer's Club of the Virginia Peninsula and was team captain in the successful campaign to raise funds for the Dixie Hospital. He has also been a troop leader with the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts of America.

Upshur and Kitty reside at 209 Emmaus Road, Poquoson, Va. 23362.

Waller B. Smith as Director of Insurance of United Air Lines was awarded the President's Award of the American Society of Insurance Management. This is an award which is given not annually, but as merited, to the outstanding Insurance Risk Manager in the United States and Canada, for "outstanding service to the profession of risk management, and invaluable contribution to the profession and the American Society of Insurance Management".

Marion Cheyne (Mrs. Felton) spent the school year after leaving William and Mary in graduate school at Pennsylvania State University and at the same time served as Graduate Counselor for the then new chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. It was here that she met a civil engineer, George F. Felton, whom she married in 1935. They have two children, a son, George Jr., who lives in Chadds Ford, Penn.; a daughter, Suzanne Cheyne Weyland, who lives in San Antonio, Tex.; and four grandchildren—George III and Marcie Lynne Felton; and Stephanie and Timothy Weyland. During the 1932-36 period, Marion worked for the State Emergency Relief of Pennsylvania as a social worker.

For the past 35 years, she and her husband have lived in the beautiful, rolling, hill country of south-east Pennsylvania, about 25 miles south of Philadelphia, at a whistle stop called Darling. While growing up, their children enjoyed the pleasures associated with a one-horse farm, raising Irish setters, geese, ducks, rabbits, a pony, and a horse.

Now that her husband is semi-retired, they are busily engaged in various civic activities, including charity fund raising, church missions, Garden Club work, and volunteer work at the home for the indigent. When not engaged in some local action they are visiting their children and grandchildren. Their daughter's husband is in the U.S. Air Force, which accounts for their frequent excursions around the USA. They have also enjoyed visits of adventure in the Middle East, Mexico, and Europe. George is a history buff, and both are interested in archaeology, which accounts for their visits being adventures. They are planning a trip to Spain this fall.

Alma (Pat) Clarke writes: We, Robert L. Fontaine ("Bo") and I were fortunate to live in the heady atmosphere of Evanston, Ill. for 12 years after our marriage. I studied radio writing at Northwestern University during this period.

During World War II, while Bo was in the Navy in the South Pacific, my children and I moved to St. Augustine, the place of my birth. While there I wrote a weekly book review column for the local paper.

After the war, we built a home in a small suburb of Chicago, and there followed the 12 most interesting years of my life: four terms on two school boards, two on grade school and two on high school boards in separate districts. I was the first woman on the grade school board and the second one on the high school board. We built almost a school a year for which bond issues were voted. The grade school district has grown to more than 50,000 people: the high school district contains 17,500 students and seven high schools.

After the school boards, came 11 years with Marshall Field and Carson Price Scott in the bridal business where I learned considerable about home furnishings, more about brides, and a great deal more about that unique species, the mother of the bride.

Before Bo retired, he was Director of Advertising for the Continental Assurance Company of Chicago, now a part of CNA Financial. After he retired, we moved back to St. Augustine, which is full of interesting and stimulating people, hailing literally from A (Australia) to Z (Zanzibar). I am on the county Emergency School Assistance Program Committee set up by the Federal government following integration. We have a new college, Flagler, where I hope to take graduate work in English when I get "squared away". In the meantime, its read, read, read.

Our son and daughter, James and Roberta, are graduates of Ohio University, and we have five simply delightful, but utterly different grandchildren.

I've been abroad several times and am planning to go again: can't get enough of England. Bo and I live at 16 Lake Shore Drive, St. Augustine, Fla.

On 21 August, 1972, Professor Joseph W. Shoemaker retired from the position of College Librarian at Mount Saint Mary's College after 16 years of service in this capacity at the second oldest Catholic College in the nation. Dean Bernard S. Kaliss praised Professor Shoemaker for his dedicated service and noted that the library has grown from 38,000 to 100,000 volumes during his tenure. In October the Board of Trustees appointed him Librarian Emeritus of the Mount Saint Mary's College.

In retrospect, Joseph received the bachelor of Library Science degree from Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh, Pa., and in 1964 he received the Master of Liberal Arts degree from Johns Hopkins University.

Joseph served in the U.S. Navy during World War II, and spent the succeeding eight years working and traveling in the Far East: China, Korea, Japan, and the Philippines. With UNRA in Peking, China, he served as Transportation Officer and as Displaced Persons Officer. In Korea and Japan he served as Japanese Affairs Specialist and Acting Director, Office of Foreign Affairs under the U.S. Army Military Government in Korea; later he became the Executive Officer for the Division of Industry and Mining under the Marshall plan. In September 1956 he joined the staff of Mount Saint Mary's College. He is a member of the American Association of University Professor and the American Library Association.

Joseph is married to the former Jessie Hamilton Steele of Lexington. They live in Emmitsburg, Md. 21727 (P.O. Box 371).

Elizabeth Erwin Higbee retired in 1969 from a career of teaching mathematics in both public and private schools, beginning with Harcum Junior College in Bryn Mawr, and ending in Neshaminy Senior High School in Langhorne, Bucks County, Pa. The decision to give up teaching was not an easy one for her to make, but her retirement activities have been so interesting and exciting that now she regrets the delay.

Elizabeth married Charles M. Higbee. They have no children. Also in 1969, Charles retired from the position of Chief of Rehabilitations and Education for Pennsylvania, Delaware, and part of New Jersey in the Veterans Administration. Thus they are free to travel, which both enjoy. They have been to Europe many times and have also visited the Orient and South Pacific areas. Now they are planning a trip to South Africa by ship.

Participation in the activities of several organizations occupy some of Elizabeth's time. In Kappa Delta Sorority, she served as a National Officer from 1955 to 1959, was President of the Philadelphia Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta, and now is its treasurer. In Alpha Delta Kappa, an International Honorary Society for Women Educators, she is Vice President and Program Chairman, and Chairman of this organization's booth at the Emergency Aid Bazaar, which is the largest Christmas Bazaar in Philadelphia. She is also a member of the Board of the A.A.U.W. She and Charles are members of the Episcopal Church. For many years she has been President of the Women of All Saints in Torresdale, and in charge of the Altar Guild. Charles was Rector's Warden from 1946 to 1971.

For recreation, Elizabeth enjoys bridge. Although she plays with many groups, she still works at improving her game by attending bridge classes at the Torresdale Country Club. Elizabeth and Charles live at 10805 Ellicott Road, Crestmont Farms, Torresdale, Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.

After graduating from William and Mary, Virginia Crawford married Everett Kozlay of West Orange, N.J., where they made their home. Everett owned a home there and owned and operated a printing plant in Brooklyn that had been in the family for three generations. He spent a life time commuting to Brooklyn and making a good living for his family from the printing shop. Twice a year he and Virginia attended national printing conventions. Everette died five years ago.

Virginia has two children, Douglas and Susan. Douglas graduated from Union College in Schenectady, N.Y., and went to work for I.B.M. Shortly afterwards he was called to the Army for two years, after which he accepted employment with the Department of Defense, and is now working at Fort Meade, Md. He is also establishing a business of his own in the manufacturing and selling of small computers of his design. He is married and has two children. Susan graduated from junior college, and after working for a while, decided to complete the work for a four-year degree. She is now attending the University of Miami.

For many years, while her children were small, Virginia wrote and sold magazine articles. Then, one summer she attended a writers conference at the nearby Fairleigh Dickenson University and became interested in writing poetry. She spent six years "playing with poetry" and wrote one book of poetry. Recently she wrote and submitted for publication another book, which almost made the grade. It took the publisher a year to decide to return it to her. She hopes to get it ready for the return trip soon.

After her husband's death, Virginia sold the family home and moved into an apartment in Chatham, N.J. Since then she has joined a singles group and become acquainted with a number of men and women whom she has found interesting and good company. She has received several offers of marriage, but she has preferred to remain single.

A few years ago, Virginia attended a class reunion at William and Mary and enjoyed a real reunion with her Kappa Delta sisters, as well as seeing President Paschall and his wife, her sorority sister, Agnes Wynne. Virginia says that "Williamsburg is a fascinating place now, and the College has grown so. I enjoy getting any news of William and Mary people." Her address is Apt. 2B, 575 Main Street, Chatham, N.J. 07928.

35

Mrs. J. Paul Kent
(Eleanor A. Martin)
616 Campbell Avenue
Altavista, Va. 24517

A. Addison Roberts

A. Addison Roberts, a Philadelphia insurance executive, civic leader, and President of Reliance Insurance Company, has been elected Chairman of Temple University Board of Trustees. An alumnus of Temple's School of Law, he has served as a board member since December of 1971.

Roland B. Hall of Easton, Penn., is an employee of Bethlehem Steel. His daughter was graduated in the Class of 1964 and he visited the college frequently during her stay there. His son is a graduate of Presbyterian College and Marshall University. He is interested to note that there still remains almost four hundred of the Class of '35 who have known addresses.

R.V. Richardson is a member of the law firm, James, Richardson, James, Sawyer and Quinn, which opened an office in Williamsburg, Va., in August of this year.

Will you please send a note with some news of yourself and your family? Thanks.

37

T. Edward Temple of Richmond, Va., has been selected as Vice President for Development and University Relations and Professor of Urban Studies at Virginia Commonwealth University. He also was appointed to the committee of three to direct the University until a new President is appointed inasmuch as the former President resigned as of October 1.

Betty Phillips Warner and Jim are "house sitting" in a fabulous house on the ocean at 3030 N. Ocean Blvd. Delray Beach, Fla., and will live on their boat when they leave this address until they move to Stuart, Fla., where they plan to retire. Betty has two daughters, one of whom has her doctorate (as does her husband) and is located in Princeton, N.J., where she works for the Johnson Mellon Foundation. Her other daughter is an X-Ray technician and lives with her husband in Charleston, S.C., where he is associated with Kimberly-Clark. Both of her sons live near the Warners in Florida. Jim Warner has a married son in Syracuse and a daughter in Fort Lauderdale.

S. Warne Robinson of Pittsburgh, Penn., this past summer was elected as Chairman of the Board of G. C. Murphy Company.

Allen S. Carpenter of Cape Coral, Fla., and his wife, Louise, have retired (11/73) and are enjoying Florida.

Marguerite (Daisy) McMenamin of Hampton, Va., is a social worker having received her MSW at the Univ. of Penn. School of Social Work in 1950. She lived in Philadelphia from 1948 until 1971. She is presently employed as Director of the Peninsula Gerontology Services in Newport News.

39

Frances L. Grodecoeur
810 Howard Street
Monongahela, Pa. 15063

It's been a good summer, despite a golf score which appears to be in keeping with today's cost of living - soaring. Regardless, it was fun playing golf in East Aurora, N.Y., with Barbara Westcoat and Charles Carter and their friends during July 4 weeks and later renewing old acquaintance with Eva Cobey Warden. She, Barbara and I had a splendid afternoon together before I tore myself away for the trip back to Monongahela.

Eva and husband, Arch, have a thriving garden of tomatoes, Swiss chard, Chinese Snow Peas, all kinds of herbs, and other goodies, not to mention the fact that their lovely home overlooks a lake from which bass may be caught just in time for dinner. Oh yes, fruit everywhere - grapes, strawberries, cherries, etc. Son Pete lives nearby in his own old farmhouse. What a memory! I can't remember where their married son Brian, is located - I just know that they're tres good-looking, interesting young men. In addition to all her gardening Eva paints and, for the time being, is concentrating on tiles for their Fort Lauderdale apartment. She and Arch will stop off for Homecoming on their way South. Guess we'll see Arch during the evening sessions since he's an avid golfer (and a good one!).

Barbara and Charles Carter also plan on attending our big reunion. Their son, David, was graduated from college in June, has his pilot's license and drops in occasionally when he has a plane available. He called while I was there and may decide to begin his business career in New Hampshire, where he attended school.

Dr. James H. Bailey has recently become an assistant to the Director of Tourism for the City of Petersburg, Va. Preceding this post. Jim was professor and chairman of the History Department of Brenau College, Gainesville, Ga. His further study after graduating in our class was at the Univ. of Va. for his MA and then his PhD from Georgetown. Jim has also done considerable writing. His home was featured on a spring Homes and Gardens Tour. It is rich in antiques with many interesting stories about their history or acquisition. One modern note is the kitchen, complete with skylight - and to carry through the graceful antiquity of Jim's handsome home, a banner on the wall which is of the Society of Descendants of Francis Epes I of Virginia. The treasures are too numerous to mention but maybe Jim will join us at Homecoming and tell us about his furnishings and his brick duplex residence at 134-A S. Adams Street. It was built in 1832.

Maurine Stuart Dulin writes that she read an article in "Americana" (part of American Heritage Magazine and which I saw for the first time in Eva Cobey Warden's home) by Gilbert Crandall, who is Director of Tourism for the State of Maryland. His article is about Maryland's First Regiment. Maurine keeps in touch and sees on occasion Jean Warren Stewart, Beale Sale Thomas and Frances Eels Martin. The Dulin's older daughter, Jacquelyn

Dulin Wilson ('68 PBK and Pi Beta Phi), has finished her second year of Law at Loyola of Los Angeles. Second daughter, Patricia, is working for her MBA at Columbia University and son, Stuart, his third year at University of Maryland Dental School. Naturally, the Dulin's will be back to celebrate Homecoming. Maurine says "It's better all the time."

So, come one and all to celebrate our 35th!

41

Mrs. Robert G. S. Dew, Jr.
(Kay Hoover)
"Plainfield"
White Stone, Va. 22578

Arthur B. Kneip has been named director, business research and development for I-TE Imperial Corporation, multi-national manufacturer of electrical and electronic equipment and fluid power products. Announcement of the appointment was made by Stanley I. Joselson, executive vice president, who said, "Kneip will propose, develop and coordinate market, economic and business research activities." Kneip joined the Company in 1950 and has held several management positions, most recently, manager, marketing services and planning for the Company's Distribution and Controls Group. He holds a B.A. degree in economics from the College and is a member of the North American Society for Corporate Planning, National Association of Business Economists and World Future Society. Art and his wife, Caroline, reside in Lower Merion Township, Pa.

We had dinner with Grace Flavell Macklin and Frank at the Tides Inn last Spring and are looking forward to their retirement in Lancaster County in a few years.

I am always happy for an excuse to go to Williamsburg so I met Gervais Wallace Brekke there early last spring for a delightful day of sight-seeing and chatter. In late July, I met Jean Cox Phillips and a mutual friend from Atlanta for lunch at the Williamsburg Inn. Early in August, Bob and I went to Richmond to a party given by Kitty Britton Norton and Larry's children, then back a few days later to a luncheon given by Hope Toulon Bryne and Dorothy Toulon Smith for Kitty. The Byrnes are beginning to develop their property in the Northern Neck and we hope to entice the Nortons back to Virginia in a few years.

I have just received a note from Margaret Mitchell Mollenkopf from her summer home in Maine telling about their trip in May to Weston, Colo., for the wedding of their different-one of the informal out-of-doors ceremonies one reads about. A mountain lake different one of the informal-out-of-doors ceremonies one reads about. A mountain lake was the setting and fifty to seventy-five young people were in attendance with a party afterwards. Everyone supplied part of the food and barbecued goat was the highlight of the meal and delicious! My parents flew out with us and coped magnificently with the tremendous generation gap." Margaret is still busy running a hospital gift shop but hopes to relinquish that very time-consuming volunteer job by the first of the year. She and Bill had thought about taking the William and Mary charter flight to London in the fall, but will be having friends from Norway visiting at that time so gave up on the England trip.

Please, please let me hear from you and let's not forget we will be having another big reunion in two years - it is not too soon to begin to plan for our thirty-fifth!

43

Mrs. Joseph Patterson, Jr.
(Virginia Curtis)
P.O. Box 162
Williamsburg, Va. 23185

continued from page 1

President Foresees Austere Times

--Athletic policy review, relating it to educational policy and the financial commitments involved.

--Review of Summer Session and Evening College in their relationship to other educational programs and resources.

--Review of problems and issues involving the Swem Library.

--Increased effort to seek opportunities for the College to be of public service to citizens of the Tidewater area.

--Affirmative Action, with special attention to questions of possible discrimination.

--A resolution of the future role of Richard Bland College, Petersburg.

Greetings from the Gentle City.

Congratulations to Buster Ramsey on being voted into the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame. Buster helped make our autumns at William and Mary more golden back in the Forties.

George Holmes is the Director of Administrative Services with the firm of Moore, Gardner and Associates, Inc., a consulting engineering firm in Asheboro, N.C. He is also an Episcopal clergyman. His daughter, Rosemary, is married to a med student and is a psychiatric nurse at Duke Hospital. Jane is a senior at U. of N.C. and was married in May. Rachel is a junior at U. of N.C. George, Jr., is married and working on a government construction job at Virginia Beach.

45

Mrs. T. Cato Tillar
(Ruth Weimer)
703 Peachtree Street
Emporia, Va. 23847

Summer months brought several to the Emporia area, who certainly helped to contribute news for this issue. Jeanne Schoenewolf Preston and Page have been in Emporia several times, and it was nice to hear about their trip to Europe earlier in the summer. Daughter, Jeanne Page, and son, Bill, were with them when they visited Eng., the Neth., Ger., Aus., Switz., and Liech. Bill is a senior at Randolph-Macon. Jeanne also visited their daughter and son-in-law, Merle and Kenny Arnesen '71 in Plainfield, N.J., in July. Peggy Preston Fannery '69 and Rob now live at Va. Beach, so the Prestons are enjoying seeing more of their grandson, Robbie. Jeanne also mentioned that a second daughter of Louise Thomas Cooley and Dr. Cooley was married in Houston recently. The Cooleys have five daughters.

In July I had a visit with Marion Lee Owen Mine, husband Edward, and their son when they were in nearby Jarratt. The Mines live in Kilmarnock, Va. In August Ann Hitch Kilgore '44 and her two daughters, who are both married, were in Emporia. It is wonderful news about Ann being mayor of Hampton again. She is also second vice president of the Virginia Municipal League. An Emporia relative of Katie Rutherford Watson '44 reports that her daughter Margaret is a William and Mary freshman. The Watsons live in Piedmont, Calif., and have four children.

Joyce Remsberg Shank '46 and her husband, who is an Air Force Col., live in Fairfield, Calif., and have three daughters. Two of the girls are currently William and Mary students, and the oldest daughter graduated in June. Shari '74 is a Tri Delt and was '73 Editor of the Colonial Echo which won a national award; Sally, a senior, is a Pi Phi, and Susan is in the sophomore class. Their daughter Shari's marriage to Reggie Kidd '73 took place in June at St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Williamsburg. Kay Tillar '74, also a Tri Delt, was the organist for the ceremony. She reported that William and Mary was well represented at this wedding through the bride, groom, best man, several attendants and the mother of the bride. Kay's parents, Dr. Vernon Tillar '32 and Frances of Emporia, continue to look forward to frequent trips to Williamsburg to visit Kay, as she is teaching there this year.

Nancy Speakes Tibbetts writes from Manhasset, N.Y., that she and Colby have had several trips recently. Among them were visits to Denver to visit daughter Nancy who is in college there, Salt Lake City to visit son Bill and his wife Cherie, who have since moved to San Francisco, and their annual vacation trip to Maine. Nancy also visited her parents in Clearwater, Fla. Their oldest son Mike has completed his masters and is teaching in Cornwall, N.Y.

Hope to see many of you during Homecoming weekend!!!

47

Mrs. Clarence E. Clarke, Jr.
(Jean McCreight)
4817 Rodney Road
Richmond, Va. 23230

Ruth Paul Katherman writes that she continues teaching at York College as assistant professor of psychology and doing clinical work with agencies. Remember I have written that your class is concerned and continues higher education? Dotty Baitzell O'Connor received her master of science in May from Univ. of Miami, Fla.

From Doraville, Ga., comes news from Peg Walker Marlatt that she has been into the baseball card collecting syndrome with her youngest, Andy. Not the greatest way to expand the intellect, she figures. She and Pete have tickets for the game for Homecoming and expect to be at the Hilton on Richmond Rd.

This is Clarke's 25th and we plan to be on hand to swap nostalgia with all the '49ers who make the scene Oct. 18 & 19.

Edie McChesney Kerr Kenya, Africa, made her biannual trip to this country and Richmond in May. Visiting Mary Jane Howard way up near Beaverdam, I joined Nellie Greaves and Edie Horn, who drove down from Northern Va. to make it a Gamma Phi reunion.

More news from Kate Caffrey Toller in Wembley, Middlesex, England, says that her son Owen will enter Cambridge in October. Kate expects her second book "The Mayflower" to appear here in late '74. Planning a future trip to the States would certainly include battlefields of Gettysburg and Chattanooga, "naturally San Francisco and Los Angeles for their fame, beauty and squalor" and surely sunlit, golden, beautiful Williamsburg!

Now that I have in hand an up-to-date class roster watch out! I am probably the greatest nostalgia freak abroad (would you believe this typing on a '44 Smith-Corona??) so expect to see or hear from me anytime. Always willing to go out of the way to renew old memories.....

49

Mrs. Charles Anthony, Jr.
(Alice Baxley)
53 Hickory Place
Livingston, N.J. 07039

Bernard C. Swann, President of Progressive Engineering Co. in Richmond, Va., has been named to the Averett College Board of Trustees.

1951

Mrs. Beverley F. Carson
(Anne Reese)
111 Shell Drive
Roanoke Rapids, N.C. 27870

Irma Vinson is still employed as a social studies teacher in the Virginia Beach Public School System.

Joan Kohler Fahey has been appointed Acting Head of the Reference Department at the library at Indiana University South Bend, Ind. It's a part-time job, and she finds it very interesting working with both the students and faculty.

Bettie Pace '48 and Bernie Mikula live in Defiance, Ohio, where Bernie continues as professor in the Natural Systems Department at the Defiance College. In addition to corn genetics work, he conducts class field trips with the geologist to the Southwest and elsewhere. He was recently in Mexico and during the summer there was a planned trip to Alaska. Bettie writes that alumni and alum kids are welcomed, and you can contact the college to find them. In the spring, Bernie was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha of Virginia, at the College.

Bob Myers, a Democrat, was recently installed as the new senator from the 31st District, which consists of portions of Cumberland and York counties in Pennsylvania. He was elected in a special election with the May 21 primaries to the serve and unexpired term of a Camp Hill, Pa., Republican who died in January and who long had been a party power in the Senate. I am told that this was quite a political victory in Bob's area. Bob, his wife Polly, and their three children, Robert L. IV, 14; Katherine, 12, and William, 9, live in Camp Hill, Pa.

Bob Hendrich has been named president of Berkley-Small, Inc., Mobile, Ala., largest U.S. supplier of newspaper circulation products, equipment, and promotions. Berkley-Small was acquired by the Newspaper Enterprise Association in 1969. Bob joined NEA's sales department in 1959 and became Great Lakes division manager and later, manager of the Midwest division. He was named director of marketing of Berkley-Small when he joined that company in 1969. In 1972 he became vice president and general manager. Prior to joining NEA, he was president of the Wire Coating & Manufacturing Co., Cleveland, O. He and his wife Betty are the parents of six children, and they make their home in Mobile.

James B. Sawyer, Jr., is a member of the law firm James, Richardson, James, Sawyer, and Quinn, which opened a branch office in Williamsburg, Va. in August of this year.

Since I am an avid newspaper reader, and we live about a ten minute drive from the line of our home state of Virginia, we take a Richmond newspaper every day. I have several clippings about Paul Webb who is the basketball coach of Randolph-Macon College in Ashland, Va. He was named the Virginia College Athletic Association coach of the year. His Yellow Jackets won the VCAA's Eastern Division and then defeated Western Division champion, Madison College, in a playoff for the title. Paul's son Eddie was a 6-2 junior on the Yellow Jackets team. The state of Virginia joined the Partners of the Americas, a good-neighbor effort between the U.S. and Latin America in 1967. A series of exchange visits have taken place between Virginia and Santa Catarina, Virginia's sister state in Brazil. So far, the exchange visits have been largely confined to medicine and sports. Paul visited there last year and has been invited back again this year.

I was saddened, as I know you will be, to learn of the death of our classmate, Nancy Ramseur, who was the dean of admissions at Christopher Newport College in Newport News, Va. She was killed in an automobile accident while vacationing in England. I still remember the long chat I had with Nancy at our 20th Reunion. She joined the staff at Christopher Newport in 1961 when the college was founded, and served as registrar and admissions officer. She was named dean in 1972.

Do you remember Pete de Witt who was in our freshman class? Well, several years ago as a Class Agent for the William and Mary Fund, I had to write to him, and I included a personal note reminding him of our being in Dr. Jackson's freshman English class together. How happy and surprised I was to get an interesting and informative letter in July from this "resurrected" (his words) classmate! After he left the College, he attended and graduated from North Carolina State University. After four years in the Air Force, he became associated with the Thomas and Howard Company, Wholesale Distributors, a food distributing company in Charlotte, N.C. They were located in Salem, Va., for their first three years, and then in 1959, they moved back to Charlotte. They have three locations in western Virginia, and he travels up there quite frequently. He and Frannie have four children, two boys and two girls. The children are all teen-agers now, and the oldest two are in college. Their son, Ridge, is a junior at the College of William and Mary where he plays soccer and lettered his freshman year. Their daughter, Dana, goes to Agnes Scott in Atlanta.

In May our family attended the Fehr-Well Fest at the College. This was a farewell get-together of the William and Mary Choir members (old and present) with "Pappy" Fehr who retired from teaching at the College in June. We had such a great time! We registered in the new Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Auditorium that morning, Saturday, May 4. For two hours about 170 of the old members of The Choir rehearsed together under "Pappy's" direction. He thought our voices had matured so, and how much we enjoyed singing and working with him again. We had a social hour later that afternoon, a banquet that night, and at the concert later that night we listened to the present choir sing some of their spring concert numbers; then we sang; and finally all of the old and present choir members sang together. After this, there was a reception for "Pappy" and Mrs. Fehr. I saw so many old friends. I may not have all of the names correct, but I will try to list some of the people I saw. They were: Gordon Mason and wife, Ralph Hart, Ollie Amon, Phoebe Martin Harcum and Rae, Anne Dunn Nock and Claude, Jean Anne Harrup Cogle and Denise, Ginny Northcott Brinkley and Joe, Dot Franklin Eckles and Russ, Gwen Batten Perkins and Perk, Jackie Jones Myers and Averette, Warren and Kay Sprouse, Peggy Helms Fisher and husband, Elliott Wilkins, Joyce Springer Darnton, John Warner and wife, Freddie Ann Bailey Clark and Wendell, Kathryn Gray Bradshaw and Bob, June Compton Merkle, Diane Weed Renninger, Ethel Messick Rhodes and husband, Fred Tubbs, Barbara Schwartz Smith and Jim, Nan Evans Scott, Carmen Romeo, and my sister and her husband, Sue Reese Glasco and Gene.

I recently read where Vito Ragazzo's son will be freshman football player at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where Vito is on the football coaching staff.

I will bring you up to date on us. Our son Tom entered the College as a freshman in September. Our girls, Beverly, 14, and Mary, 13, are in the ninth and eighth grades at Roanoke Rapids High School where I also teach eighth grade English. Bev. is still working as a pharmacist at the Rosemary Drug Co. here.

Now why don't you bring us up to date on you by writing to me? The class would love to hear from you. Don't forget to contribute to The William and Mary Fund.

55

Mrs. H. L. Harrell, Jr.
(Yolanda Grant)
823 Dorian Road
Westfield, N.J. 07090

E. Ralph James, Jr. is a member of the law firm, James, Richardson, James, Sawyer, and Quinn, which opened a branch office in Williamsburg, Va., in August of this year.

59

Patty Jo Divers
2131 Observatory Place, NW
Washington, DC 20007

News is brief at this writing; however, our 15th reunion at Homecoming this year should give me a chance to make up for all my short columns in the past.

Bill Henderson, Assistant Professor of History at Richard Bland College in Petersburg, Va., has been recently elected a Fellow of the Company of Military Historians. Bill was cited for his outstanding work in organizing a course in Civil War History; for his consulting work in military history for Fort Lee and the National Parks Service; and for his column on Civil War History which appears every six weeks in the Petersburg newspaper. Bill is obviously a very busy person.

Congratulations to Bill Davidson who has been elected to Superintendent of Schools for the City of Pottsville, Pa.; and to John Tarver for his recent victory in the Hampton, Va. councilmanic elections.

Beverly Harris Jenkins and Ed are living on the same street in Portsmouth, Va., as is Phyllis Garris Powers. Ed is with Weaver Brothers, a mortgage firm, and Bev is teaching art at the Tidewater Community College. This summer she entered graduate school at Old Dominion University.

Anne Brown Lanman and George have recently returned to the States from a fabulous tour with the Navy to London. They are in their West Coast home in Coronado, Calif., now.

My news is that I have recently been made an administrative operations manager with IBM in the Washington Market Support Center.

61

Mrs. J. Steirling Gunn
(Margie Barnhart)
2040 Leovey Lane
Midlothian, Va. 23113

It was a treat to receive a call during the summer from Don Farrell, who is with the law division of United Airlines in Chicago. In case anyone is trying to look him up, his office is in the executive office building. At a party in the spring Don talked with Nancy Espey Bradford and Charles, who live in Glencoe, Ill.

Fran and John, '60, Pforr are back in Alexandria, Va., with Cameron and Robyn. John's current Secret Service assignment is teaching in the S. S. School. We have enjoyed several visits together during the summer.

Allan Brownfield and Solveig have bought a home in Old Town Alexandria. Scheduled for publication soon is a book Allan wrote with J. A. Parker, associate director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Dave Heenan has been named vice president at First National City Bank of New York. He supervises manpower planning for the total Citicorp work force.

David Diehr was recently honored by Region I.Y.M.C.A. (Indiana-Illinois) as Y.M.C.A., Physical Director of the Year. From 1968 to 1974 he served the Joliet, Ill., Y.M.C.A. as physical director. Now David is executive director of the Northwest Y.M.C.A., San Antonio, Tex.

At this writing the Gunns are spending a few days of our vacation in Springfield with Jane and Paul Bahn, both '63. Last night we welcomed Dick and Carol Noble Braun back from Albany, Ga., with a traditional Gary Street party. The Brauns are stationed at Quantico where Marine Lt. Col. Dick is attending the advanced school.

63

Mrs. Donald Snook
(Judy Murdock)
1029 Sanderling Circle
Audubon, Pa. 19407

Sarah Larkin (Williams) and Tom recently moved to Miami, Fla. Sarah will be doing substitute teaching at daughter Kerry's pre-school this fall. Sons Chris and Jon are involved in Scouts and football. Anna Byrd Mays visited Williamses and toured Florida.

Steven Segal received his MBA degree from the University of Miami in Florida after graduation from William and Mary. He married Phyllis Lapon and worked in D.C. as a CPA for three years. In 1971 he received his J.D. degree from the Law school at the University of Houston, having served as Editor-in-Chief of the Houston Law Review. Since then Steven has been practicing law in Houston with Fulbright and Crooker. In December 1973 their first child, Jessica, was born. Steven mentions that a surprisingly large number of William and Mary graduates belong to the Houston Alumni Chapter.

Sherry Parrish (Sullivan) and Paul and family moved to Highland Park, outside of Chicago. Sherry would love to see some William and Mary people in her area. Paul is now Director of Marketing for the international division of Baxter Laboratories. Sherry is again involved with cub scouts and Newcomers Club and redecorating their 50 year old home.

Kathy Dudley (Okada) and Dave are in Cincinnati now and spent the night in their basement during the tornadoes that struck the area last spring, fortunately escaping damage. Dave is Director of Preliminary Design at Kenner. Kathy has been creative by making metric visual aids for their twins school and also did art work for the PTA carnival.

Sandy Ingle married Robert Hansford last year and is living in Newport News now.

Pat Thomas (Ogren) and Ken ('73) are still in Williamsburg where Ken just became controller at Patrick Henry Hospital for the Chronically Ill in Newport News.

Robert Butler has been named Vice President-Investment Officer of Wheat First Securities in Richmond, Va. He has been with that firm since 1969 after being with Exxon International. He has also served as Special Gifts Chairman of the Richmond Unit of the American Cancer Society and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Rotunda Club.

Michael Essman has been promoted to assistant Vice President of Alexander and Alexander, Inc., and has been named to head their Virginia offices.

Phyllis Atwood '62 (Gauker) and John are in Spain where John is a contractor and also a painter and a writer. Phyllis is busy with toddler, John Gregory, and living a much more primitive life than we might be used to. After spending several years teaching and working for Antilles Airboats, a seaplane, she is happy with "peasant motherhood", making soap, clothes, furniture, etc.

Douglas Hinkel is presently doing the systems analysis and programming of the loan system for the new on-line computer system they are installing at the Pentagon Federal Credit Union. He heard from Gene Grace who was vacationing in the Virgin Islands and was teaching around Dover, Del.

Carole Steiner (Sund) and Jeff lived for three years in Illinois and are now in the Boston area where Jeff is Business and Economics editor for the College Department of Houghton Mifflin, Inc. Carole heard from Joyce Stansell Seiger whose husband is district manager for Coke in Houston. Also, Janice Royson Dellagero and Tom live in Long Island where he teaches math.

Lee Williams (McBride) and Mike spent a year in the U.S. before taking off again, this time to Paris. Mike will be working at the embassy there.

Judy Williams (Cooter) and John ('61) are finishing building their lake house and finishing the basement of their Greenville, S.C., home. They enjoy boating, water skiing, and tennis. John is a partner in Elliott-Davis Co., a CPA firm, and Judy has her eye on doing something in the landscape design field.

Last year I taught with Jane Ridout (Metts) ('61). I'll miss her as she and Bill and their two children moved to Houston where Bill works for Exxon.

I will be teaching nursery school again, teaching Sunday School, volunteering one afternoon to our daughters' school, co-chairing the Room Mothers, and likely getting involved with the Brownies. Don ('61) changed jobs this June and is now working for American Medicorps, Inc., as the Administrator for St. Mary Hospital in Philadelphia. He really enjoys it, plus playing squash and tennis, continuing with the Army Reserves, and continuing his education.

65

Mrs. Andrew E. Landis, Jr.
(Susan M. Stevenson)
527 Lilly Drive
Beckley, W. Va. 25801

I am writing this enroute to our new home in Bremerton, Wash., where my husband will be stationed for the next three years. He will be a member of the orthopedic staff at Bremerton Naval Hospital, and I will be job hunting. Please send class news to the above address until we get a permanent address.

Mary Erskine Jackson will be a neighbor when we get to Washington. The Jacksons live in Seattle. Mary recently received her master's degree from the University of Washington and is currently looking for a job as a school psychologist.

Rhys Llewellyn, his wife Carol, and two sons live in Falls Church, Va. Rhys works as a research analyst for the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics. Spare time activities include traveling in the southwestern U.S. and remodeling their home.

Betty White Suchar is in a Ph.D. program at NYU in public administration. She is employed as an Associate Director of the College Board; editor of "Financial Aid News," a newsletter, and other publications for the College Scholarship Service.

Brax Garriss was reunited with the Alumni Gazette through a fellow missionary Lorelei Bank, '69. After graduation Brax spent three years in the Navy aboard a ship homeported in Norfolk and cruising the Mediterranean and Caribbean. Afterwards he received his Master of Divinity degree at Union Theological Seminary and was ordained as a minister in the Presbyterian Church. He married Martha Kay Fletcher in 1971. Brax and Martha Kay are now northeast of Brazil after completing a ten-month course in Portugese in Sao Paulo, Brasil. They will return to the U.S. in 1976 when Braxton will finish his Doctor of Ministry Degree and set his instrument rating on his pilot's license.

Ann Singleton and Matt Beebe's activities sound exhausting. Ann is still working for a social service agency and has added meetings such as the National Conference on Child Welfare to her responsibilities. Matt is now doing free lance consulting work, and the Beebes have opened their own plant shop in Albuquerque, called Fancy Plants. They are active in the Sports Car Club of America, race their Porsche 911-E and are restoring a 1969 Datsun 1600 Roadster.

Jack Allison has joined the marketing staff of Cruise International of Norfolk, Va. He formerly was with Hospital Data Center of Virginia.

67

Mrs. Robert L. White
(Bonnie Hamlet)
100 Wilson Court
Charlottesville, Va. 22901

As we write this column, Larry, Bob McIvor, and I are preparing for a party honoring Larry Sartoris and Faith Davidson. Larry and Faith are being married on September 14, 1974, in the Wren Chapel with a reception at the Alumni House.

Marriage and the family seem to be the theme of most of this column. We received a letter from Sue Galvin Girolami from Borgo, France. She was married on July 6, 1974, to French electronics engineer, Gerard Girolami. Sue has been in France since 1970. After receiving her M.A. in French from Middlebury College, she began her present work, teaching English as a foreign language to adults. Gerard is working on a doctorate in electrical engineering.

The class of '67 doesn't mess around when it comes to having families. We proudly announce the birth of two sets of twins. Carol Ann Harlow Rafter and Tay are the parents of twin boys, Keith Tayman and Kyle Steven who were born on January 14, 1974. Jane Brower Terry and Luke are the parents of twin girls, Katie and Beth, who were born on October 18, 1973.

Cindy Skogen Van Zant wrote to tell us what she had been doing for the last seven years. After graduation, Cindy taught in Alexandria, Va., for a year. She and Dale were married in September of 1968. While Dale was in the Air Force, they lived in Tucson, Ariz. where Cindy taught school and earned her M.Ed degree. Dale left the Air Force in 1971 and last year earned his M.B.A. degree. Their daughter Kirsten was born on April 24, 1973. The Van Zants are now living in Royal Oak, Mich.

Sharyn Domagalski Kuhn and Richard are now living at 2129 Admiral Drive W., Virginia Beach, Va. From July 1972 until this fall, Sharyn and Richard have been living in Poole, England. Rich is a lieutenant in the U.S. Navy and was participating in an officer's exchange program with Britain's Royal Marine Commandos. Now Rich is the executive officer of Seal Team Two in Little Creek.

Steve Levenberg has just finished his internship for his Ph.D. degree in clinical psychology. He and his family have moved to Middlesboro, Ky. where Steve will be with a community mental health center. His wife, Mary Jane, is expecting their third child in December.

Steve wrote that he ran into Tom Cory at a convention in Miami Beach in May. Tom was finishing his internship for his Ph.D. at Milledgeville Hospital in Georgia and was job hunting at the time.

Joseph Sever wrote that he received his M.S. degree in Audiology from Central Michigan University in 1973 and is currently pursuing a doctorate in audiology at the University of Iowa. He is married to the former Joanne McGinn.

Bob Sheeran, formerly assistant sports information director at William and Mary, has been appointed Director of Sports Information for William and Mary.

Janey Cooke Bembenista wrote that she and Wally are living in a brownstone in New York. Janey is working as a health planner for New York City and Wally is working in the tax field.

69

Mrs. John D. Wintermute
(R. Donnan Chancellor)
502 Wolfe Street
Alexandria, Va. 22314

Kay Pullia Driscoll w. that she and Larry were married in August of 1969, and then moved to Columbus, Ohio, where Larry attended Ohio State University. Larry received his M.S. in 'cs, and er his M.B.A. Meanwhile,) worke .. a bank in Columbus. After Larry graduated in June 1973, he accepted a position with R.C.A. and is now permanently assigned to Camden, N.J., as a Corporate Marketing Associate. Kay and Larry are living in a suburb of Philadelphia, Camden, where Kay has been working for a bank since January.

Fran Pollock Grochmal writes that after having worked for the City of Virginia Beach for 2½ years, she is now retired and is a fulltime housewife and mother. Fran and her husband, David, have a son, Neil, who was born in Aug. 1973. Fran is also a delegate to the City's Arts and Humanities Commission. David, a '69 graduate of Wake Forest, is Assistant Real Estate Agent for Virginia Beach. Fran added that she is writing a Kappa Alpha Theta newsletter, and requests all '69 Thetas to write her at the following address: 4972 Blackfoot Crescent-Virginia Beach, Va. 23462.

Scott and Bobbi King Hart are living in Williamsburg, where Bobbi is working at Eastern State Hospital and Scott is in law school at W&M.

Barbara Moriarty was married in October '73 to Peter Fleming and is now living in Massachusetts.

Nancy Harkrader Hargrave was married in August '73 and is living in Miami.

Sally James Andrews graduated from Marshall Wythe School of Law in 1973 and is with a law firm in Richmond.

Lynda Whitlow King, who transferred after our sophomore year, is living in Seattle and is working on her Master's while her husband, Danny, is completing his doctorate.

Terry Waters Whibley writes that after being stationed in N.C., Rod resigned from the USMC in Feb. '73. To celebrate they took a three-month jaunt through Europe and Greece. Terry says the highlight of the trip was visiting for two weeks with Rick and Jane Youngblood Spurling in Oxford. Terry and Rod moved to Norfolk where they both enrolled in graduate school - Rod for his MBA and Terry in Reading. Terry is now a reading specialist in Va. Beach and Rod will complete his studies in December.

Mike and Barbara Crissey Eberhardt have been living in N.Y. City, but will move to Miami in October. Mike graduated from UNC Law School and works for the Justice Dept. in the Organized Crime Division. Barbara received her Masters at UNC and has been teaching in a private school.

In Williamsburg are Bob and Marian Beers Fitzgerald and daughter, Erin. Bob is in his last year of law school at W&M.

Bill and Judy Algatt Singleton live in Washington, where Bill is with a D.C. stock brokerage company. Judy completed her masters degree in Learning Disabilities in August, and is teaching this fall in Fairfax.

Dianne Denny Spearman and her husband Roger and daughter Allison live in Williamsburg. Dianne teaches high school history.

Living in Williamsburg are Andy and Missy Galloway Parker. Their daughter Lara is now in school and Missy is taking graduate courses in Special Ed.

Living in Va. Beach are Bob and Linda Freeman Holmes. Linda commutes to Newport News to teach, and Bob is practicing law as a well as teaching a business law course at an extension of George Washington Univ. in Norfolk.

Mary Masters Dickinson writes that following Dick's completion of graduate school at Emory University they moved to Dearborn, Michigan, where Dick accepted an offer with the Ford Motor Company. Dick started work in Ford's glass division cost accounting section and has progressed to supervisor of the cost analysis section. In December '73, Mary and Dick had an addition to the family, Enders Dickinson V, nicknamed Quint. Mary says she's enjoying not working and keeps busy with crafts, Newcomers and a Delta Alum group.

Peggy Merritt Thornton who transferred our junior year to SMU is now settled in Dallas after a Navy stint in the Phillippines with her dentist husband.

Living in Hartford are Rick and Susan Mallory Wiggins.

Brian Brennan writes that Prentice-Hall Inc. is sending him to Sydney, Australia to help launch a local publishing program. Brian's work will include all facets of college textbook publishing as well as extensive travel to all the major universities in Australia.

Mike Joyce is living in Midland, Texas, where he is a supervisor for Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. Mike and his wife have two children.

Lorelei Bonck writes that from Sept. '69 to June '72 she was employed by the Petersburg Public Schools. After an orientation program at Montreat, N.C., during the summer of '72, she went to Garanhuns, Brazil, to work as an educational missionary with the Presbyterian Church. In June '73, Lorelei moved to Dourados, Mt., Brazil, where she is now teaching seven students ranging in grade levels from first to tenth.

David and Mary Woods Harris became the parents of Rebecca Marie last March 27th.

Ric and Ann Hamilton McKittrick had their second son in January, and are living in Maine.

In June Frances Herring Reynolds moved for six months to Birmingham, Alabama, where her husband Melvin is doing consulting work for Bechtel Co. with Southern Services.

Liz Ramsey took a year's leave of absence from her teaching duties in Lexington in order to complete her Masters in history from W&M.

Mary Chris Schmitz writes that on April 27, 1974, she married Hal (Harold E., Jr.) Williams. Hal was graduated from Elon College, and is currently in sales at Hewlett-Packard Co. Mary Chris is now the Data Processing Educator with Reynolds in Richmond, and is responsible for teaching, coordinating, and advising on the educational program for the 250 persons in Management Information Systems.

Reed Hunt, having completed his Ph.D. in psychology at the Univ. of New Mexico, moved to Hanover, N.H., last June with his wife Beth Bromley ('68), sons Reed, age 5, and Brandon, age 1, and St. Bernard. Reed is currently a professor at Dartmouth College. They had spent three years in Albuquerque while Reed was a student and Beth was a systems analyst at UNM's Data Processing Center.

Barb Johnson is with Lan Chile Airlines in Boston, however may likely be transferred to New York City.

Also in Boston is Marty McGuire who is working for Hale and Dorr law firm. On October 12th in the Wren Chapel Marty will marry Michael Keating who is a Boston lawyer and an avid sailor.

Susie Smith Stewart writes that she taught at Walsingham and finished her Masters while Ron ('70) was stationed at Ft. Eustis. They are now in Aschaffenburg, Germany, where Ron is assigned to the 9th Engineer Bn. Susie is working as a substitute teacher and hopes to have a regular position in the fall.

Wynne Whitehurst is counseling at Tidewater Community College. Once again, Wynne has provided me with much Chi O news, half of which I'll include in this class letter and the other half the next issue (due to Gazette space limitations).

Jim and Linda Marsh Stewart are living in Reston where Jim is practicing law and Linda is teaching math in the Fairfax County school system.

Bob and Judy Chase Kahn and son Nathan are living in California where Bob is practicing law.

Living in Alexandria and teaching in Fairfax is Kaye Pitts. Kaye completed her masters at UVA in August '73.

Eddie and Mary Ruth Price Oates have moved to an old farm house in Stanley. Eddie finished his masters at UVA in Guidance and Administration, and is the assistant principal/athletic director of a local school.

Living in Goochland Co. are Joe and Linda Kalen Trice and son Shannon.

Ann Nelms is working for Xerox Corp. in D.C. in a management level position.

Kathy Friedman Bright is living in D.C. where her husband Tom is writing speeches for Sen. Percy. Kathy "retired" last year from her position on the Hill.

Glenn and Jan Ernstmeier Brodie and son Chris have returned from Hawaii and are living in San Francisco where Glenn is an instructor.

Living in Blacksburg are Randy and Ellen Cooper Mathena and son Mark. Ellen is working half-day for the P.E. Dept. at VPI.

Sal and Lydia Bulynko Jeseule in Fall '73 toured Scandinavia, Russia, Bulgaria, and Romania. Sal has opened a new office in Englewood Cliffs, N.J., and Lydia is a senior probation officer.

Living in Lynchburg are Mike and Carolyn Lawhorne Parker, Mike is practicing dentistry and Carolyn is substitute teaching.

Susu Williams Villarosa and husband Ray completed law school last spring at W&M.

Billy and Hope Skillman Skinner recently became the parents of a second son.

John and Ginny Matish and daughter Beth are living in Newport News where John is assistant director of court services in Newport News. Ginny has retired from teaching and is enrolled in the W&M masters program in education.

Bart Theberge writes that he received a Juris Doctorate from Marshall-Wythe School of Law in 1973. In June 1974 Bart completed a year's study at the Univ. of Miami Graduate School of Law where he obtained an LL.M. in Ocean and Coastal Law.

In July Lynn Howell accepted a position as an Assistant County Attorney for Fairfax County.

I have been a City Planner for Alexandria for the past four years, but am about to change this status as we're expecting a little Wintermute the end of September. Will inform you of the results in the next class letter! Doug is still the Director of Federal Marketing of Compress in Washington.

Looking forward to hearing from you!

Ray Alie and his wife Mary Brennan are now living in Portage, Mich. He is Vice President of Nazareth College at Kalamazoo. Formerly he was associated with Longwood College in Farmville, Va.

On a lazy Sunday morning during their recent Washington visit, San Franciscans Sarah Mays and Greyson Pannill got on the phone and ferreted out a fantastic array of William and Mary folk, beckoning them to a get-together at the Dupont Circle-area home of Skip Stiles and Barbara Pratt, Perle Mestas of the D.C. alumni set. The evening of merry-making started with grilled frankforts (prepared by Greyson using the secret method committed to memory during her years with Howard Johnsons) and homemade vanilla ice cream. Taking a turn at the crank were: Donna Ireland '72, Jim Salton '70, Vince Garrington, Andrea Gibbs '72, Cindy Viau '72, and Doug Franks '70 (sporting his famous "cow's udder hat"). The scoop from '71 alumni on hand: Al Kahan is a Graphic Designer for Wicum and Associates. Bruce Hockman is a Bekins "furniture transfer technician" darting about from job to job in a Jaguar. Bev and Steve "Diggie-Krod" Knoll were up from Gainsville, Va., where Steve is Production Control Manager at Atlas Ironworks. At Arlington City Social Services, Skip Stiles wheels and deals with food stamp recipients. Still sorting mail in Rockville, Md., Tom "Sak" Rees speaks mainly in Zip Code now. Of his chances of being assigned to the coveted Santa Claus mail division at Xmas, he comments "22067." Having decided "to leech onto Uncle Sam" Joe Darragan is fast becoming the Milo Minderbinder of the Government Services Administration. He is on the staff of the division that salvages and repairs old gov't. property such as jeeps and sleeping bags. In his spare time, Joe is learning to electrostatically paint typewriters. "It's a correspondence course I saw advertised on a matchbook cover." After a 4 a.m. call from a client who had slashed her wrists, Jeff Kibler has forsaken the tensions of Social Work for the regular hours of the insurance business. Now a claims coordinator for C.U.I.C., he's still living in Old Town and enjoys walking his English sheepdog and sailing. As for the party's guests of honor, paramedic Sarah Mays does pelvic exams at a San Francisco clinic, and is now learning to assist in colostomies at an affiliated hospital. Besides being a part-time macrame consultant, Greyson Pannill works at the University of California Hospital as a "venipuncturist" (scientific lingo for "vampire": she draws blood) and is taking courses at U.C. in Midwifery.

After two years of law school at Duke, Allan Hecht took leave and moved to Greenwich Village to become an Associate Editor of the Alexander Hamilton Legal Papers at Columbia Law School. He is now finishing up his legal studies at Columbia. Wife Irene Diamant Hecht '72, with her M.A. in History from Duke, is Ass't Editor of the Alexander Hamilton Papers for Columbia University Press. They were visited last Xmas by David Silver, now married to Teresa Miller '72 and living in Chapel Hill. He's in his third year of medical school at UNC.

Some quickies: Mike Horrom graduated from the University of Baltimore School of Law last spring and is now studying for his bar exams with the help of spouse Nancy Joyner Horrom '72. Wendy Seaman Wilson does volunteer work for the Thrift Shop at Fort Meyer, Va. Ginnie Klemkowski Lavcock and Jim enjoy life in Charleston, S.C. Ginnie teaches, and Jim is a coach at the Citadel. Kathy Shirley Micken works at the William and Mary Library. Now married and living in Canada is Karen Van Houten. Pete Tyree is also married and working in Williamsburg. And Linda Rae Gordon Stag teaches school near Richmond.

Pat and Mark Shriver send "greetings from Dixie" (Atlanta, to be exact). Mark received an M.B.A. from Emory Univ. in 1973 and last spring landed a job with Scientific Testing, Inc., a firm "that administers employee attitude surveys to companies like bakeries, banks, and chicken-processing plants." In off hours, Mark surveys the attitude of a small white spheroid as a player with the Atlanta Lacrosse Club and serves as president of the local William and Mary Alumni chapter.

An anonymous report on members of "Tyler 3rd and its Consortium, Jefferson 2nd West ('68-'69)"; John Griffin, recent graduate of Parsons, lives in N.Y. and "freelances." In Charlottesville, Tom LeBack works toward a Masters "in some sort of Design." Susanne Dula is Headmistress of a Free School in D.C. Three are Richmond-area teachers: Joel Dexter, married to Margie Eklund '73, teaches Special Education, Julia Lemon teaches fourth grade while working on her M.Ed. in Early Childhood Education, and Linda Rowan Leftwich "teaches art to kiddies in Public Schools" whilst studying for her Masters in Art Education at V.C.U. Jerry and Anne Coleman Drye reside in Blacksburg, where Jerry is a resource teacher with Pearisburg Schools. Annie is employed by a bank as a "Girl Friday."

I am informed that, in addition to taking courses at the University of Richmond towards an M.B.A., Margie Brown has become "the first woman ever to go into commercial lending in the Richmond United Virginia Bank system." Of this distinction she writes, "yea! Women's Lib!"

Down Williamsburg way, Lyle Rosbotham is a photographer for the Anthropology Dept. and is currently making a movie of the C.W. windmill (rated R). Judy Nauman works at the Drug Action Center. And Julian Fitch, fulfilling a childhood ambition, is now a lineman for the telephone company. Brian Festa surfaced at the Miller Brewery in Milwaukee long enough to send a picture postcard stating that he is indeed alive and is presently employed as a high school math teacher.

Bumped into my Uncle Percy Soper from Olney, Md., the other day, and he told me that a young whippersnapper, name of Larry Durrett, is the new Assistant Minister of the Oakdale-Emory United Methodist Church. Larry has two more years of theological study to go at Wesley Seminary in D.C., where his courses include "Homiletics (or How to Keep 'Em Awake Sunday Morning)." Out in Olney, Larry assists in services, works with the young-uns, and reportedly sets the town a-swaying Sunday nights with his popular hymn-sings. That's it 'til December, gang.

73 Peter L. Fitzgerald
203 Prince George Street
Annapolis, Md. 21401

Alan G. Katz of Atlanta, Ga. has completed his training to become a steward with Delta Airlines.

GRAD

Mrs. E. D. Etter
(Mary R. Spitzer)
486 West Market St.
Harrisonburg, Va. 22801

David O. Williams, Jr., has been promoted from the position of senior tax attorney to tax counsel for the Bethlehem Steel Corporation. He received his bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Richmond in 1950 and the BCL in 1955 and master of law and taxation in 1956 from the Marshall-Wythe School of Law at the College. While he was studying at William and Mary, David wrote for the College's Law Review and in 1954 received an award for the most meritorious contribution to that journal. He later served as president and on the board of directors of the William and Mary Law School Association.

Dr. Victor G. Burrell, Jr. has been named Director of the South Carolina Wildlife and Marine Resources Department's Marine Research Institute in Charleston, S.C. His BS degree was earned at the College of Charleston, MA in 1968 and PhD in 1972, both from the College.

Richard W. Besnier has been promoted to the position of sales manager with Combined Insurance Company of America. He joined the company in May. His outstanding sales record enabled him to earn the Sapphire Award in the W. Clement Stone International Sales and Achievement Club. Richard, whose home is in Newport News, was a graduate student of the College where he served as head wrestling coach.

Vital Statistics

BORN

To: James Nicholas Savedge, Jr., '63, a daughter, Anne Chappell, May 26. First child.

To: Gordon Martin Kent, '64, a daughter, Anne Leigh, June 7.

To: Melinda Catherine Duke (Ball), '65, a daughter, Jennifer Emily, July 1. Second child.

To: Joyce Faye Hoskins (Walk), '65, and Lawrence Edward Walk, '66, a daughter, Mary Lyons, April 19. First child.

To: Sharon Kay Hall (de'ur), '72, and Peter Lee de'ur, '72, a daughter, Erica Lee, April 24. First child.

MARRIAGES

Helen Browne Bennett (Langdon), '39, and David Sanders Clark, June 16, 1973.

Karen Helene Van Houten, '71, and Ravinder Lal Oberoi, December 15, 1973.

Cheryl Lynn Clark, '72, and John Ruston Pagan, '73, August 3.

Susana America Hernandez, '72, and Ibrahim Sevki Kurtulus, August 10.

Jane Elvira Huntington, '72, and Christopher Snyder, III, July 27.

Karen Dodd Lerohl, '72, and Alan Wayne Richardson, '72, August 24.

Kathryn Susanne Powell, '72, and Robert Arthur Keough, '73, August 25, 1973.

Hilda Delcarmen Cruet, '73, and Dennis

Charles C. Malitz, III, has been promoted to the newly created position of Product Manager-Golf Apparel for the AMF Ben Hogan Company in Fort Worth, Tex. Charles graduated from Texas A & M University and holds a MBA degree from the College (1970). He is a former professional baseball player and a native of Beaumont, Tex.

Paul J. Bimler, business manager of Norwich Hospital, Norwich, Conn., has been named a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators, a professional society considered to represent the elite of the hospital managerial field. The society is one of the groups comprising the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Paul received his BS in business administration from the University of Arizona in 1961 and his master's degree in that field in 1968 from the College.

U.S. Air Force Major Laurence N. Grimard received the Meritorious Service Medal at the Armed Forces Staff College, Norfolk, Va. He earned the award for his outstanding duty performance as an F-111 aircraft maintenance staff officer at Langley AFB, Va. Laurence received his BS degree in economics in 1963 from Boston College and his MA degree in 1972 from the College.

Joseph S. Padgett, formerly a teacher and administrator in the Hampton, Va., schools, has been named Assistant Superintendent of the Fluvanna County Schools. A graduate of East Carolina University with a BS degree and the college with a Med degree, Mr. Padgett is in the advanced certificate of school administration program at the University of Virginia.

Dr. Nancy Herr Fallen, a member of the Virginia Commonwealth University special education faculty since 1967, has been working on a research project involving instructional materials used for teaching retarded children. Dr. Fallen received her MEd. from the College in 1966 and a doctorate in Special Education and Human Development from the University of Maryland.

Robert S. Emerson has been promoted to assistant vice president in the national banking department of Marine Midland Bank-New York. Previously a commercial banking officer, Robert holds a BS degree (1964) from the University of North Carolina and an MBA degree from the College (1968). He lives in Darien, Conn.

Dr. Roger M. Tarpy, a member of the faculty at Williams College for the past seven years, has been appointed associate professor of psychology at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa. Dr. Tarpy, who came to Williams College as an assistant professor in 1967 and was promoted to associate professor last year, is a specialist in learning and physiological psychology and is author or co-author of 16 articles published in scholarly journals. He is the recipient of a BA degree from Amherst College in 1963, MA degrees from the College and Princeton University in 1965 and 1966, and PhD. degree from Princeton in 1967.

Mrs. Martha Allen Turnage has been selected as dean of community development at J. Sargeant Reynolds Community College, Richmond, Va. In June 1970 Martha received her master's degree in sociology from the College and has worked statewide as well as nationally in the community college movement. Prior to coming to Richmond, she had been with Virginia Highlands Community College in Abingdon, Va., and Mountain Empire Community College at Big Stone Gap, Va.

Lee Flippen, August 18, 1973.

Katherine Elizabeth Hooper, '73, and Stephen Edward McGregor, Grad., June 10, 1973.

Mary Lou Conklin, '74, and James S. Matthews, July 6.

Susan Eileen Stephens, '74, and John Thomas Greenplate, '76, August 24.

DEATHS

Hugh Vernon White, '22 A.B., April 4, in Holland, Virginia.

Dudley Payne Terry, '27 B.S., April 28, in Kinston, North Carolina.

Logan Corbin Harding, '28, March 26, in Hopewell, Virginia.

Janice Anita Johnson, '28, July 20, in Valley City, North Dakota.

Linda Mae Wilson (Westphal), '30 A.B., June 8, in Hampton, Virginia.

Dr. John Thomas Baldwin, Jr., '32 A.B., September 3, in Williamsburg, Virginia.

William Maybee Connelly, '33 B.S., August 30, in Richmond, Virginia.

William Arthur Dize, '35, September 13, 1971, in Kilmarnock, Virginia.

James Nicholas Savedge, Jr., '63, August 23, in Wakefield, Virginia.

Floyd Sheals Sumner, Special, June 11, in Norfolk, Virginia.

71 Craig Windham
12 Hesketh Street
Chevy Chase, Md. 20015

TAKE A "TIME OUT" FOR A FUN TIME JOIN THE CROWD

HOMECOMING '74

HOMECOMING RESERVATIONS FORM

MAIL AT ONCE TO:
ALUMNI OFFICE
P. O. BOX GO
WILLIAMSBURG, VA. 23185

Make Checks to:
SOCIETY OF THE ALUMNI
Enclose with your Reservations

Please make the 1974 Homecoming reservations for me at the class motel _____

Other _____ (Specify) There will be _____ persons in my party

Arrival date _____ Departure date _____
 Reservations confirmations will be mailed direct.

Please reserve _____ places at Friday Alumni Banquet @ $11.00 (Free 25th and 50th Anniversary Dinner, compliments of the Society for class member and one guest.)

Please reserve _____ places at Saturday Dinner Dance @ $13.00
 Reservations will be closed on October 11, 1974. Tickets for these dinners may be picked up at the Alumni House during registration.

NAME _____ Class _____
 (please print)

Street _____ Phone _____

City _____ State _____ Zip Code _____

* Please enclose check for dinner reservations payable to: Society of the Alumni

HOMECOMING 1974 - OCTOBER 18 & 19

RESERVATIONS

Because demand for Alumni Banquet and Alumni Dinner Dance accommodations has been exceeding space availability, it will be necessary again this year to accept ONLY PREPAID RESERVATIONS for those two occasions, in order of receipt. Please pick up tickets at the Alumni House upon registration. There will be space available at the Banquet and the Dinner Dance for those who wish to attend the program only, at the conclusion of dining. Classes will be seated together as much as possible. If special tables are desired, please notify the Alumni Office with full listing of the ten persons involved. The Alumni Office will forward your name and address for room reservations to the motel and they will confirm directly to you.

ORDER NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

William & Mary Chairs

These popular chairs are available in several styles to help furnish homes or offices of William & Mary alumni.

The coat of arms of the College is reproduced on a bronze medallion embedded in the back, with the name of the College and the date 1693.
 Armchair, all ebony $79.00
 Armchair, cherry arms $79.00

The coat of arms of the College is reproduced in gold on the back.
 Armchair, red cherry arms $64.00
 Straight chair $49.00
 Boston rocker-All Ebony $59.00

Cushion for Adult Chair
 2" deep latex foam rubber covered with Naugahyde in William and Mary Green with black trim $11.00

The comfortable Boston rocker has the bronze medallion with the coat of arms, imbedded in the back.
 Boston rocker, all ebony $72.00
 Children' rocker, all ebony $42.00

All chairs are SHIPPED FREIGHT COLLECT from The Manufacturer. Allow approximately 10 weeks for delivery. CHRISTMAS ORDERS MUST BE RECEIVED BY 1 OCTOBER 1974

William and Mary Men Show the Colors... Great Gifts!

- Solid green necktie with W&M Coat of Arms $8.50
- Four-color blazer crest $15.00
- Set of blazer buttons $15.00

Please send me _____ crest neckties _____ blazer crests _____ button sets
 Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____
 State _____ Zip _____

The Society still has copies available of this hand finished pottery plate, suitable for wall hanging or flat decoration. It is finished in dark green and depicts the coat of arms. The cost is $16.00 plus $1.50 for shipping.

Cipher on Sale

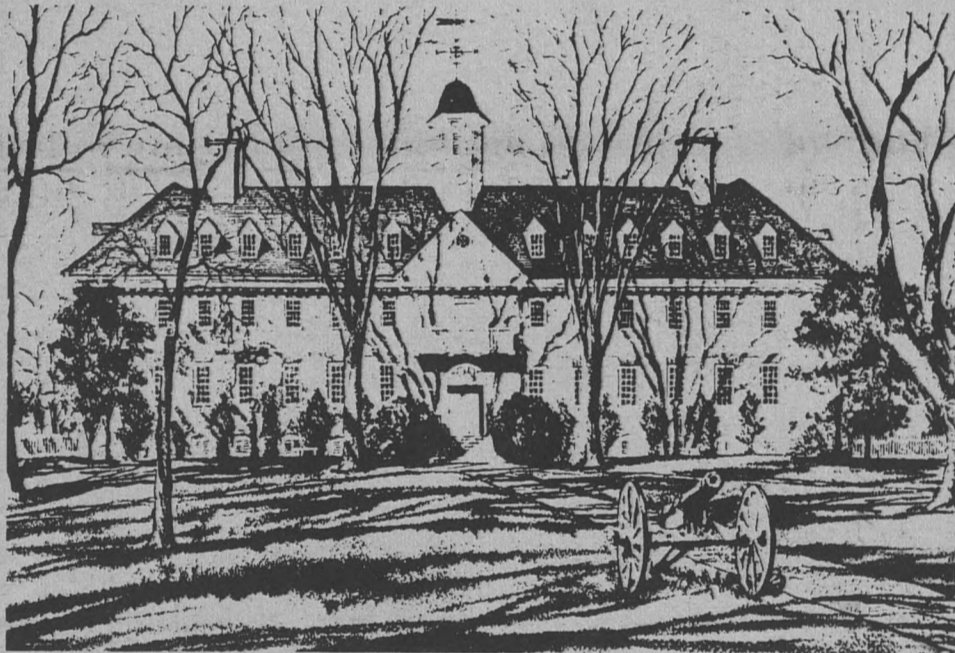

A handcrafted sterling silver W&M cipher is available as either a necklace or pin from the society. Designed and produced by Mike Stousland, '41, it is available in either form for only $10.

limited number of copies available

AMERICAN EXCURSION Jack E. Morpurgo, '38 $14.95

This collectors volume, now out of print, recalls the authors first visit to America, his years at William and Mary, and his impressions of the United States. Morpurgo is the first British graduate of this century, has received the Alumni Medallion and an Honorary Degree, and is currently authoring the HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE, to be published in 1975.

For those who wish a ready reminder of the pleasant days spent on the campus, there is now obtainable a striking watercolor painting of the Wren Building. The artist was Kenneth Harris, and the actual size of the picture, unframed, is 22" x 14 1/2". Just the thing for the office, the den, or looking ahead, for Junior's room as an inspiration and a goal. Available from the Alumni Office, Box 60, Williamsburg, at $6.00, an attractive price for discerning alumni and art lovers.

William & Mary Coat-of-Arms Needlepoint Kit $20.00

Includes
 Instruction Sheet,
 Clearly Marked
 Reference Lines
 Blueprint, Needle
 Tapestry Wool for 14" x 14"
 finished piece.

NEW...

17" x 18" CREWEL KIT of the COLLEGE COAT OF ARMS. Design is hand silkscreened on the finest Belgian linen, with imported English wool, needle, complete instructions, $15.00.

ORDER FROM
 THE ALUMNI OFFICE, BOX 60, WILLIAMSBURG, VIRGINIA 23185

MAKE CHECKS PAYABLE TO
 Society of the Alumni

POSTMASTER: Send Form 3579 to
P. O. Box 1693, Williamsburg, Va. 23185

Second-class postage paid at Williamsburg, Va.

CHECK YOUR ADDRESS! If it is incorrect in any way, please fill in below, then tear out this entire block including old address and send to Box 1693, Williamsburg, Virginia 23185.

Name _____
Street _____
City _____
State _____ Zip Code _____

ALUMNI GAZETTE

of the College of William and Mary

VOL. 42, NO. 4

WILLIAMSBURG, VA. 23185

OCTOBER 1974

HOMECOMING '74

'OWJ' Celebrates Anniversary

The Order of the White Jacket (OWJ) was founded in 1972 by former W&M waiters. Its third Homecoming Dinner meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 17, in the Campus Center Ballroom. So far, 193 men who worked as regular (or regular substitute) waiters, or headwaiters, in College dining halls have enrolled to help emphasize the value and dignity of working through College, to establish fraternal ties, and to initiate service programs for W&M. The form should be completed by those eligible to obtain further information on the OWJ, headed by M. Carl Andrews '27 of Roanoke.

'WAITER' SERVICE REGISTRATION FORM (For eligible former students not now members of OWJ.)

You are hereby advised that the undersigned, a former W&M student performed services as a regular waiter, head waiter, etc., (or regular substitute waiter etc.) in the College Dining Hall or Cafeteria during the year (s)

Name..... Class

Address

() I am interested in information regarding OWJ.

Send to: Dwight C. Brown, Sec.-Treas., 5712 N. 20th St.,
Arlington, Va. 22205

"I thought it was me, but maybe the school's no damn good."

DRAWING BY CHAS. ADDAMS. © 1974 THE NEW YORKER MAGAZINE, INC.

Homecoming -- Oct. 18-19