College of William

As we look back through this school year, many memories come to mind: the basketball games, hectic rushing, classes, the bull sessions, dorm life, studying for exams, the dances, coffee in the Wigwam, and all the other things that mean so much to each of us. These are the memories that will come alive again as we look at this yearbook and recall our college days.

The procession of students before us is long and many more will follow in our footsteps, but it is certain that their experiences will be much like our owner. They will have their gay moments and their sad ones. Much will be forgotten, but much more will be remembered. This college and all it means will come to be a permanent part of their lives as it has ours. We feel that in years to come an inspiring thrill will touch the hearts of all William and Mary Students when they pause to hear again the WILLIAM AND MARY HYMN.

eneath thy trees, within thy halls Dear college, we give praise to thee,

To pledge ourselves whate'er befalls-To pledge unfailing loyalty.

Our bearts are with thee, dear William and Mary, However far we stray.

Our noble college, bear us now. Tby children sing . . . to thee today.

Dedication

WAYNE FULTON GIBBS

As a token of our appreciation for his unswerving loyalty and devotion of time and energy to the furthering of the Flat Hat, Royalist, and COLONIAL ECHO, as Financial Adviser for the Student Publications from 1928 to 1956, the staff of the COLONIAL ECHO proudly dedicates the 1957 COLONIAL ECHO to Mr. Wayne Fulton Gibbs.

Dr. H. Hudnall Ware, Jr., J. D. Carneal, Jr., H. Lester Hooker, Edward P. Simpkins, Jr., Roy R. Charles, James M. Robertson, Rector of the Board; President Alvin Duke Chandler, Mrs. Philip W. Hiden T. Edward Temple, R. William Arthur, and John V. Bauserman.

The Board of Visitors

The Board of Visitors is made up of ten members plus an ex officio member, the Superintendent of Public Instruction. They are appointed by the Governor of Virginia and confirmed by the General Assembly. At least six members must be alumni of the College, and each member holds office for a term of four years with five new members being appointed every two years.

The group elects a rector who presides over the three regular meetings a year and any additional meetings deemed necessary. In 1956-57 James M. Robertson served as Rector and H. Hudnall Ware, Jr., as Vice-Rector.

Among their duties are the administration of the college, election of faculty members, approval of funds set aside for the various activities, and consideration of all matters of general policy regarding the college.

The President

Throughout this year Alvin Duke Chandler, the twenty-third President of the College of William and Mary has taken every opportunity to further the best interests of the College and to see that it took its deserved place among institutions of higher learning. Rewards to President Chandler for his work may be seen in the dedication of the new Phi Beta Kappa Hall, the College's active participation in the Jamestown Festival, and the general expansion of the College, the latest being the beginning of construction on the new women's dormitory in February.

Last year President Chandler was recognized by the University of Pennsylvania: he received an honorary doctorate degree on the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Benjamin Franklin's birth.

The receptions that President and Mrs. Chandler gave for the classes throughout the year were welcomed by the students.

Student Government and Publications

The Student Government

The Student Government at William and Mary is the only organization on campus that considers the entire student body. For this reason people should cooperate and work in unity to help further their own interests and those of fellow students. Only with harmony will students ever expect to get an opinion respected by both faculty members and the administration. Other groups drive for accomplishment in various segments of college life, but only through the Student Government, with these groups integrated, combined to, and united with it, can plans be moved in the right direction and results come forth. Therefore every student individually and every organization collectively should support, and willingly work for our Student Government. "A house divided cannot stand."

Alex Fakadej, President of the Student Body, has stated that there has been noted apathy in the interest of the students. Everyone who is a student is classified as part of the student body and the government is there for them. They should show active participation in it, and be responsible people for their own benefit.

The composition of the Student Government is divided into three main sections: the Assembly, the Senate, and the General Cooperative Committee. The Assembly is provided with forty-two members; twenty-eight representing the four classes, the Secretary of the Student Body, one graduate student, and the twelve members of the Senate. The Senate is composed of the Presidents of the classes, the President and Vice-President of the student body, Chairman of the Men's Honor Council, the Chairmen of the three segments of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association, the president of Pan-Hellenic Council, and the president of the Inter-Fraternity Council. The General Cooperative Committee has twenty-three members from the faculty, administration, and student body. Each position is to be taken seriously, not just for title or prestige. When a post is accepted, it is expected that the occupant will do his utmost to maintain concord, bear his share of the work, and encourage interest.

The purpose is well summed up in the preamble to the Constitution: "We, the students of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, believing that there are common problems that can be resolved, and common purposes that can be achieved through united effort...and desiring to assume responsibility in the management of our affairs, do hereby establish this constitution."

The activities of Alex and the student government have been varied and progressive. Taking the Assembly and removing some committees, while combining others, the Student Publicity and Public Relations Committee and the Student Services Committee were brought into action. The former conforms pretty much to its name, the latter deals with, among other things, the used book store and cafeteria problems. It is hoped the reorganization will help in successfully making the Assembly a more workable group.

During orientation, Interest Club Night was set up, not primarily to urge freshmen to join their particular group, but to have them realize, that prior to rushing, they may participate in these extracurricular activities. Statistically unmeasurable, the success of this evening was apparent in the spirit of the freshmen in the clubs.

Student Government Week, initiated last year, was combined with Mid-Winters in order to give more attention to that weekend. A new attraction was the Greek sing, whereby all fraternities, sororities, and interest groups gave serenades in competition.

Three main projects of the student government agenda included: the placement of the general manager of WCWM on the General Cooperative Committee, with the idea that he holds a position equal to that of the editor of the Flat Hat. and in that spot can communicate with the students; to set up a detailed plan of freshmen activities and requirements to carry out between September and their elections; and to re-write the Constitution, primarily so everyone will recognize that the Student Government is the governing body, will look to it for leadership, and give leaders more feeling of their responsibility and acceptance thereof.

Men's Honor Council

BRAD LESHER Chairman of Men's Honor Council

The first College Honor System in the United States was founded at William and Mary in 1779. At present, the Honor system has become an active force on it's original campus and throughout other campuses, striving to preserve honor through emphasis on the individual's responsibility.

In addition to fulfilling its primary functions of holding trials when necessary, the Honor Council also presides over student elections, and assumes responsibility for counting ballots and posting results.

The Men's Honor Council has an active part in annual student orientation programs, at which time it familiarizes the new students with the Honor System, its tradition, and high standards. Throughout the year it continues to remind the students of his rights as the accused and his limitations set up under the law.

The men serving the 1956-57 Honor Council were: Bradley Lesher, Chairman; Rodney Elliott, Vice Chairman; Richard Clay, Secretary; John Harvey, Senior Representative; James Layne and Denys Grant, Junior Representatives; Alfred Smith and John Henry, Sophomore Representatives.

Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, Dr. Dudley W. Woodbridge, is Faculty Adviser for the William and Mary Men's Honor Council.

ZONA MAE FAIRBANKS Chairman of Women's Honor Council

On the belief that every student, upon reaching college age possesses honesty and integrity, the students of the College of William and Mary founded the first Honor System in 1779. Since this date similar systems have been adopted by many other colleges and universities. The system has played an integral role in college life.

The Women's Honor Council, a branch of the Woman's Student Cooperative Government Association, investigates alleged infractions of the Honor Code, holds trials when warranted, and recommends penalties for violations committed by the women students of the College of William and Mary.

The council works in cooperation with the Men's Honor Council on matters concerning both men and women students including orientating new students, standardizing rules of procedure and definition of terms, and sitting at the polls and counting ballots of student government elections. Before the semester examinations, the members give informal talks in the women's dormitories, reminding the students of their responsibility to the Honor Code and the importance of keeping their pledge.

The Women Students' Co-operative Government Association is the means through which the women students govern themselves, providing a development in responsibility and leadership. Implicit in the intent of the W.S.C.G.A. is the assumption of co-operation, not only between the three councils, but between them and the women students as a whole. Providing for the different facets of government, the association is divided into three councils: the Executive Council, the Judicial Council, and the Honor Council.

The Judicial Council consists of a chairman, a secretary, representatives from each class and a representativeat-large. A sub-division of the council is the Dormitory Council made up of the presidents of each women's dorm which discusses and handles problems pertaining to dormitory life. The purpose of the Judicial Council is to formulate and maintain the social rules of the women students. In April the Judicial Council met with its advisors, Dr. Taylor, Dr. Guy, and Dr. Abbot to discuss rule changes and additions proposed by the students at large.

The Executive Council is the nucleus of the Association, handling all its official business. It is further responsible for the holding of the monthly business meeting in Blow Gym. Exec supervises the giving of the W.S.C.G.A. exam which must be taken by all women students; conducts the annual election of members to the three councils; and awards two $100 scholarships to deserving women students in addition to many other activities.

Student Publications

Seated: A. Fakadej, H. Zebine, K. Christian, H. Cole, Standing: Dr. Kallos, Miss Tyree, Dr. McCulley.

The members of the 1956-57 Publications Committee were Hugh Cole, Chairman of the Committee elected to the position by the Student Assembly; Katherine Christian, Editor of the COLONIAL ECHO, and acting secretary; Hillard Zebine, Editor of the Flat Hat; Virgil McKenna, Editor of the Royalist, and Alex Fakadej, President of the Student Body. Those serving as Faculty Advisors to the committee were Dr. Cecil M. McCulley, Dr. Alexander Kallos, and Miss Virginia H. Tyree.

The main function of the Publications Committee is to select competent editors for the three student supported publications from the candidates presented by the present editor, taking into consideration their qualifications and grades. In December the committee reviewed the possible candidates for the editorships of the Flat Hat. After personal interviews with each candidate, the committee elected the Editor-in-Chief, the Managing Editor, the Business Manager, the Advertising Manager and the Circulation Editor. Later in the spring the Committee elected by the same procedure the Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager of the COLONIAL ECHO, and the Editor of the Royalist.

The Publications Committee also considers all problems that a publication might be having such as personnel or technical ones. It attempts also to steer the publications so that a general and consistent standard of excellence is maintained by each, vet recognizing the rights and opinions of the editors.

Publications Committee

The Flat Hat

The position of a campus newspaper in college life is a vital and important one. To keep the student aware and interested not only in campus activities, but also activities on the national and international scene was the policy of this year's Flat Hat, the William and Mary newspaper. Under the guiding hand of Editor Hillard Zebine, the Flat Hat assumed the function of an energetic and enthusiastic journal.

As Managing Editor, Rusty Ditrich served as a general Jack-of-all-trades. Besides serving as the Editor's right hand man, she had the dubious pleasure of supervising the monetary affairs of the Flat Hat.

Sally Dallas fulfilled admirably the post of Associate Editor, spending hours pouring over the copy to make certain that it was technically right before going to the printer.

Energetic Andy Powell took good care of the news staff. The long hours spent by Andy and his staff scouring the campus for news of coming, bast and current events, paid off in the added interest of the students in campus news.

Sunday afternoons found Alice Perry struggling with headlines. Not only must the headlines "fit," but they must also be eye-catching and original—no easy job, Alice found.

News Staff, Seated: A. Powell, D. Skelly. Standing: C. Kenon, A. D. Cooke, G. Sterner, A. Furst, S. Wandell, G. Cayward.

The feature department was headed by Marge Muller. Striving always for originality not only in writing, but also in subject matter, she and her staff beat the campus bushes for interesting sidelights to the news.

Helping to co-ordinate all three staffs was Copy Editor, Mary Jamieson.

Over in the sports office all was quite this year; there were no screeches of declared warfare between the sports staff and the rest of the paper. One of the reasons for this can be laid to the quiet, peace loving nature of Sports Editor, Al Furgeson.

Two other new editorships appeared on the Flat Hat masthead this year, in keeping with the new Flat Hat policy of providing the students with more than merely the usual campus news. Don Harris took over ably as World News Editor and kept his reporters moving at a lively pace. Kent Watkins assumed the post of Exchange News Editor, and wrote the very popular "Campus U.S.A." page.

Stu Hays paced the streets of Williamsburg selling advertisements with Ed Shaeffer, Business Manager, following in his footsteps trying to collect the money. But, come what may, Claire Vincent, Circulation Manager, kept the subscriptions moving along.

The photography this year was ably handled by Jack White, Pete Clark and Mal Powell.

The year itself was filled with numerous memorable occasions: Ads burned mysteriously or never showed up; unsigned letters were left on the editor's desk; the press at the Gazette broke down. All of this necessitated sleepless nights, cut classes, a boom in the coffee business of some of the local restaurants, and a lot of hectic but treasured memories.

Miss Virginia Tyree, the advisor of the publications, kept a critical eye open and was greatly responsible for the technical improvement of the Flat Hat.

Although occasionally hectic, the year, for the Flat Hat staff was an enjoyable and memorable one.

Colonial Echo

In this 1957 COLONIAL ECHO, the staff under the Editorship of Kathy Christian has tried to recapture all the memorable events of the past year. In planning the yearbook the staff tried to use ideas unique to them, but with a college so traditional as William and Mary nothing could be found that was as fitting as the William and Mary Hymn; therefore, in the introduction you will find that the William and Mary Hymn has been used as the theme.

In order for this yearbook to have been published there had to be a staff who was willing to work hard and long at hours not always convenient to them. Carolyn Meachum, the Associate Editor, was an invaluable aid, helping with the Introduction and anywhere else that she was needed. Herb Silverman, the Business Manager, was naturally responsible for the money matters. He will never forget the many times that the budget was made out until finally one was made that balanced and that Mr. Quinn approved of.

Cindy Sanborn, Class Editor, is another example of one who was seen constantly working on her section, alphabetizing pictures and matching names with sometimes unfamiliar faces. She'll never forget the "joy" of finding that a picture had been omitted when she thought that she was through. Much credit also goes to the Copy Editor, Gail Morgan, who took over so capably a job that is so essential, but no glory one. How she did it with all her other activities is still amazing but so is Gail herself. Read the copy and see how well she and her staff did.

Junior Editors, Seated: A. Wilson, G. Morgan, C. Scheele, C. Sanborn, Standing: A. Weaver, L. Chrisman, B. Bradley.

Photography Staff, J. White, Perry, M. Powell, MacRay, J. Little, P. Clark.

Lucy Chrisman was the Organizations Editor for the 1957 COLONIAL ECHO. She handled well a job that really kept her on the run between the photographers darkroom and the meeting places of the different organizations for their pictures. Retakes and broken appointments really put Lucy's nerves to test, but she survived and came through with a good section.

In looking through the Sports section keep in mind Al "Tiger" Weaver, Sports Editor. His know-how in sports writing was certainly invaluable. He also qualifies as a pro in picture "cropping," being as it took real talent to make some of those sports pictures fit into their assigned place. Linda Schrader is responsible for the Girl's sports section, and did a fine job also.

In the Fraternity section you will find the fingerprints of Bob Bradley, Fraternity Editor. Bob tried to make this section a little different this year, although there isn't much that can be changed in a section of this type.

For enthusiasm none can beat little Carolyn Scheele,

Feature Editor. Carolyn was filled with ideas since last summer. She never let a staff photographer slip by without giving him some more of her picture ideas for the feature section. She certainly handled the Miss William and Mary contest well, and the winner of the contest never slipped out. Her enthusiasm was certainly gratifying and resulted in an excellent feature section.

Credit for all of the pictures which are what really make a yearbook goes to Jack White, first semester Photography Editor, and to Pete Clark, second semester Photography Editor. Pete took over in the middle of the year just like a pro. Thanks go also to Mal Powell, Guy Allen, and Chiles Larson for their pictures.

The yearbook is also indebted to Mr. John S. Quinn, Advisor; to Lloyd Hicks, who drew the cartoons in the Feature Section, and to the students who waited patiently to have their pictures taken whether it was in Old Dominion lobby or the first, second, or third take of an organization picture.

The staff worked long and hard on this 1957 COLON-IAL ECHO all with the same wish that this be the best yearbook ever. We hope that you will enjoy looking through the many pages and that many memories and happy events will come to mind as you see yourself and your friends pictured throughout the book.

VIRG McKENNA, Editor; GAIL MORGAN, Assistant Editor

As the main outlet for the creative writing of the College students, the Royalist, William and Mary's literary magazine, presented two outstanding issues this year.

The Critical Staff which is chosen on the merits of their critical ability was unusually perceptive and enthusiastic this year. Since they reflect a cross section of opinions and taste, the Royalist succeeded in becoming a magazine with something of interest for each of its readers. From the Critical staff, the Editor, ably filled by Virgil McKenna, selected the members of the Editorial Board. The Editorial Board worked closely with him and the capable Associate Editor, Gail Morgan, on the final selection of manuscripts for publication.

A new emphasis was placed on the art work illustrating the prose and poetry. Art Editor, Mickey Curro, and her talented staff experimented with new ideas to catch more precisely the themes of the material which they were illustrating.

Manuscripts are submitted by the students and are criticized anonymously. This year prizes were awarded for the best prose and poetry contributions.

Phi Beta Kappa

On December 5th, 1776 the Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was founded on the campus of the College of William and Mary. This event has gone down in the annals of the college as one of its proudest heritages, for since that time, Phi Beta Kappa has risen to become foremost of all existing honor societies.

This year the 180th Anniversary Meeting was preceded by the annual initiation ceremonies held in the Apollo Room of the remains of the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. Thirteen students and one alumnus were welcomed into the society. Following the initiation ritual, the new initiates and their guests attended a banquet at the King's Arms Tavern. On the evening of December 5th the Anniversary Meeting was held in Blow Gymnasium. Dr. Detlove Bronk, internationally distinguished scientist and president of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research gave the main address. Dr. John Garland Pollard presided over the exercises. Dr. Joseph Lee, Associate Professor of mathematics welcomed the initiates and Rodney Elliott, newly-elected member of Phi Beta Kappa, delivered the responses on behalf of the new initiates.

On May 7, nine more students were initiated into the society. The initiation this time was held in the Apollo Room of the new Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, which was later dedicated on May 18, 1957.

New initiates were Virginia N. Anding, Frederick J. Asals, Jr., Nancy L. Beery, Joan S. Bevan, Brigitte L. Bradley, Richard E. Bunyan, Constance A. Carlson, Pamela D. Cartin, Katherine B. Christian, Edward D. Eanes, Rodney G. Elliott, Clifford K. Eriksen, Janet C. Fisher, Ann T. Lee, Nancy C. Ramsay, Shirley P. Richardson, Mary F. Ripley, Shirley C. Ross, Donna K. Smith, Helen E. Sprague, Janet C. Whitehead, and Barbara E.Wilson.

The President's Aides are outstanding students in the various phases of college life selected by the President and his wife to serve as personal aides to the President in receiving and entertaining guests and to escort his official party at all convocations. This practice was originated in 1935 by John Stuart Bryan, previous President of the College. President Bryan also designed a special seal bearing the college seal to be given to each aide. In 1948, in order to insure wider and more democratic representation, President John E. Pomfret included women aides in his selections, thus establishing a precedent which has carried down to today.

Ten students holding the following offices are automatically appointed as aides: President of the Student Body, Presidents of the Junior and Senior classes, Chairmen of the Men's and Women's Honor Councils, President of the Executive Committee of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association, Chairman of the Judicial Committee, President of Omicron Delta Kappa, President of Mortar Board, Editor of Flat Hat, and two members-at-large.

The aides for the 1956-57 session are: Alex Fakadej, chief aide; Janet Fisher, Katherine Christian, Martin Miler, Rodney Elliott, Zona Mae Fairbanks, Alice Matthews, Wayne Adams, Bradley Lesher, Thomas Lightner, Hillard Zebine, and Shirley Richardson.

President's Aides

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa, founded in 1914, is a national honor society whose purpose is threefold: to recognize men who have attained a high standard of leadership in collegiate activities; to bring together representative men from all phases of collegiate life in an organization which will help to mould the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate interest; to bring together members of the faculty and student body of the institution on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Active in campus affairs, Omicron Delta Kappa makes a donation semi-annually of $25 to the library for the purchase of an American biography. In the spring the society sponsors an annual Leadership Forum. All campus organizations send representatives to this forum. An annual ODK-Faculty basketball game is held each year during the Campus Chest Drive. All proceeds from the game are turned over to the Campus Chest.

Eta circle at the College of William and Mary was established in 1921. Currently, the circle is made up of the following membership: Faculty and Administration members—Dean Wilfred J. Lambert, secretary; R. Wayne Kernodle; Howard M. Smith; and John S. Quinn. Alumni member—H. Wescott Cunningham. Undergraduates— Rodney G. Elliott, president; Frederick J. Asals, vice-president; Guy F. Allen; Virgil McKenna; Alexander Fakadej; Martin C. Miler; Edward Schefer; James Layne; and Denys Grant.

Senior women who have demonstrated outstanding leadership and scholastic ability are traditionally recognized by Mortar Board. The active Virginia Gamma chapter at William and Mary moulds its program around three objectives: leadership, service and scholarship.

Led by President Kathy Christian in 1956-57, Mortar Board opened the year with its annual second-hand furniture sale in Barrett attic. Further service to the college community included supplying the large women's dorms and Ludwell with two weekly magazines. The fraternity also sponsored three concert trips to Richmond.

To encourage scholarship Mortar Board provided a tutoring service and presented a one hundred dollar scholarship to a deserving woman in the Spring.

At the Spring Honors Convocation Mortar Board conducted its annual tapping service at which the members selected the junior women who will take their place the following year. At this time an award was presented to the outstanding freshman and sophomore girl.

This year's members of Mortar Board were Kathy Christian, President; Carolyn Meachum, Secretary; Jan Fisher, Alice Matthews, Joan Ray; Zona Mae Fairbanks, Donna Kay Smith, Nancy Beery, Vice-President; Kay Wirth, Historian; Jan Charbonnet and Shirley Ross, Treasurer. Demonstrating the ability which gained them election to the fraternity, these members have merited the respect and praise which the college has always awarded to Mortar Board.

William and Mary Choir

Officers: Merritt Terley, Ellen Ann Hunter, John Hart, Aggie Vassos, Mal Anderson, Anne Gilbert.

Another "Choir" year began early in September when members from far and near returned during Orientation Week to entertain the newly-arrived freshmen with a sample of their music. Numbers from last spring's concert tour were performed in the informal setting of the Matoaka Lake Picnic Area.

In October, several members represented the Choir at the College Choir Clinic in Richmond. They joined choristers from eight other Virginia colleges to present a concert for the Virginia Education Association and the general public. The Clinic Choir was directed this year by a noted tree-lance director from New York.

The Yuletide season was celebrated on campus with the traditional Christmas Choir Concert. To full houses of eager and appreciative listeners, the Choir again performed with the skill and precision that has made it famous throughout the country. The high point of the program was Bach's Christmas Cantata, "For Us a Child Is Born." Rounding out the concert were the traditional hymns and carols, all done with the same touch of showmanship that has characterized all concerts in the past.

The spring concert gave the Choir its first opportunity to sing in the newly completed Phi Beta Kappa Hall. With its usual excellence the Choir rendered a program of varied music to one of the largest crowds ever to attend a concert on the campus. Filling out its spring schedule, the Choir presented several other concerts, singing in many cities throughout the state.

This year saw another first for the choir—organization under student leadership. Agamemnon Vassos, the president, and John Hart, the business manager, served faithfully in maintaining the standards of the group. The other hard-working officers were: Anne Gilbert, secretary-treasurer; Ellen Ann Hunter, librarian-historian; Sybil Wrenn, wardrobe manager; Malcolm Anderson, concert manager; and Merritt Ierley, publicity manager.

William and Mary is justly proud of its well-known Choir. Since 1945 it has been under the direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr, better known as "Pappy," who is at present the acting Head of the Department of Music. He believes the Choir should develop a sense of group accomplishment, of discipline, and a feeling of achievement, all of which will be of value not only in choral work, but in whatever field its members should eventually find themselves. To anyone who has heard a concert by the Choir, it is obvious that he has accomplished his aims.

The Choir, composed of sixty carefully selected and trained voices, has made numerous tours, appearing in such cities as Washington, D.C., Richmond, Norfolk, Lynchburg, and Bristol. In addition it has performed over several national radio networks and has made a long-playing record, pressed by RCA Victor.

On the invitation of the Jamestown Festival, the Choir participated in the premiere of a new choral-symphonic work by the distinguished American composer, Randall Thompson. The Choir joined the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra and Civic Chorus in presenting the work, "Ode to a Virginian Voyage," in Williamsburg in the new Phi Beta Kappa Hall on April 1 before an audience of notable people attending the opening of the Festival. Among those present were the Governor of Virginia and Mr. Thompson.

One week later, the Choir journeyed to Norfolk where it presented the same program with the Norfolk Symphony, as part of the Symphony's regular concert program.

For its splendid precision, its many achievements, and its service to the college, the Choir will still be remembered long after the last faint strain of The William and Mary Hymn has drifted from the campus.

William and Mary Chorus

The William and Mary Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr, better known to all the college as "Pappy," adds a great deal to musical life on the campus. Not only do the girls sing at many Convocations and Wednesday night chapel services each year, but they also give concerts each Christmas and Spring, They occasionally perform at other services, such as the annual Phi Beta Kappa initiations.

This year the Chorus joined the William and Mary Choir in its Christmas Concert in the singing of Christmas songs from around the world. On the program the girls, accompanied by Elizabeth Evans, gave a beautiful performance of Benjamin Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols." This was the first time in several years that the Choir and Chorus have presented a concert together.

The Christmas Chapel Service presented by the Chorus was held in the Methodist Church this year to accomodate the large congregation. The listeners were well pleased with the faultless renditions of familiar Christmas music.

The annual Spring Concert included music to please every listener. The girls sang several classical numbers, then quite a few folk songs, both familiar and unfamiliar, and lighter songs. Their versatility in successfully presenting such a varied program was apparent, and the evening was one which will not be soon forgotten by the college students and visitors who heard it.

William and Mary's Chorus is composed of about sixty-five girls. On any Tuesday and Thursday afternoons they can be heard in Phi Beta Kappa Hall diligently rehearsing. The concerts and programs which they presented this year have proven without doubt that all the hours of rehearsal are well-worth it, both to the Chorus itself and to the audiences who enjoy good music faultlessly presented.

William and Mary Band

The strains of a Souza march wafting through the air about four o'clock on a fall afternoon mean many things: school's started, it's football season, and the William and Mary Band is on the march again. Showing the vast improvement which its director, Mr. Charles Varner, has wrought in the past few years, the sixty gleaming pieces in the marching band inspired the William and Mary students as it marched through its skillful half-time formations. The formations were worked out and directed by Mr. Varner. Highlighting the football season for members of the band were the trips made to Annapolis and Lexington and the memorable weekend in New York for the Rutgers game.

In addition to the marching band, William and Marv boasts a concert band and dance band. The dance band which appeared at numerous functions, is interested mainly in providing a means of experience for students interested in that field. The concert band demonstrated its diverse talents in the annual Spring Concert.

Band scholarships were again awarded to attract top Virginia musicians to William and Mary. Not satisfied with his already superior band, Mr. Varner intends to increase and improve its membership.

William and Mary Theater

Model for Romeo and Juliet set.

Rehearsing for Romeo and Juliet.

Four times this year a bright spotlight cut through the scholarly college atmosphere and the air was charged with the excitement of show business. Again, as in previous years, the William and Mary Theater group entertained the college community with a remarkable display of talent and skill. Only the actors, stage crew, and technicians knew the hard work that went into the final presentation, but the ovation which they were awarded was a tribute to their efforts.

The season opened with a smash hit, Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke." Unusually fine performances were given by the stars, Jeanne Tracy and Bruce Leslie, both of whom are newcomers to the campus. So well was the play received that it played two extra nights to standing room audiences.

The second presentation was a dual one, Moliere's "The Highbrow Young Lady" and G. B. Shaw's "The Village Wooing." "The Highbrow Young Lady" was a farcial satire on courtly love, fops and the superficial salons of the seventeenth century. Pat Hatcher, Nancy Obert and Josie Toth gave excellent displays of talent in their starring roles.

"The Village Wooing" presented essentially the same situation with the usual Shaw reversal in that the woman was the pursuer and the man, the pursued. The biting humor of Shaw lost none of its effect in the performances of Jeanne Ventura and Archer Goodwin.

As usual the Theater rounded off another outstanding year with one of the classic masterpieces of William Shakespeare. This year they presented "Romeo and Juliet." Linda Lavin and Don Smith were cast as the ill-fated lovers and were supported by Jeanne Tracy, Joan Ray, Archer Goodwin, Martin Reymert, and David Weston.

Under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt and Howard Scammon, the William and Mary Theater has again added outstanding performances to its lengthening roster of hits.

The Backdrop Club

This year the Backdrop Club celebrated its twentieth year of activity on the William and Mary campus. The club is devoted to the task of producing, annually, an original musical comedy. This show is produced completely by the students. They write it, act in it, and design the sets and costumes.

For this twentieth production which was performed in the new Phi Beta Kappa Hall, the club selected a show concerned with a subject that was close to the hearts of all the members. It was a show about the theater. In particular it dealt with the lives of Laura and Nicholas Manning, two of the brightest musical comedy stars on Broadway. The show abounded with the atmosphere of the theatre, its locale being theaters in New York and Boston. The show's plot revolved around events happening to Laura and Nicky in the last moments of their life, and what happens to them after they die and are allowed to return to life in the theater for a limited engagement.

The two-act musical is entitled Theatre is a Lady. The dialogue, lyrics and music were written by Peter Neufeld.

The club was headed by the author who was also Producer-President, and Rogers Hamilton who directed the entire production. Nancy Obert served as secretary while Bill Wingat was treasurer and Ann Daingerfield was the business manager. Over one hundred students participated in the organization's activities.

The sets were designed by Mary Frances Curro, while Peter Rowe, the technical director, saw to their construction. Robert Mackey supervised the lighting of the show and Clare Vincent was responsible for designing and executing the costumes. The musical arrangements were the work of Lum Lumsden and Tracy Russell.

Orientation Group Leaders

A successful Orientation Week in the fall depends a great deal on the Sponsors and Group Leaders. Each one is assigned a group of Freshmen for whom they act as friends, advisors, guides, and authorities on William and Mary tradition. Their job does not end after Orientation Week however, but continues throughout the year.

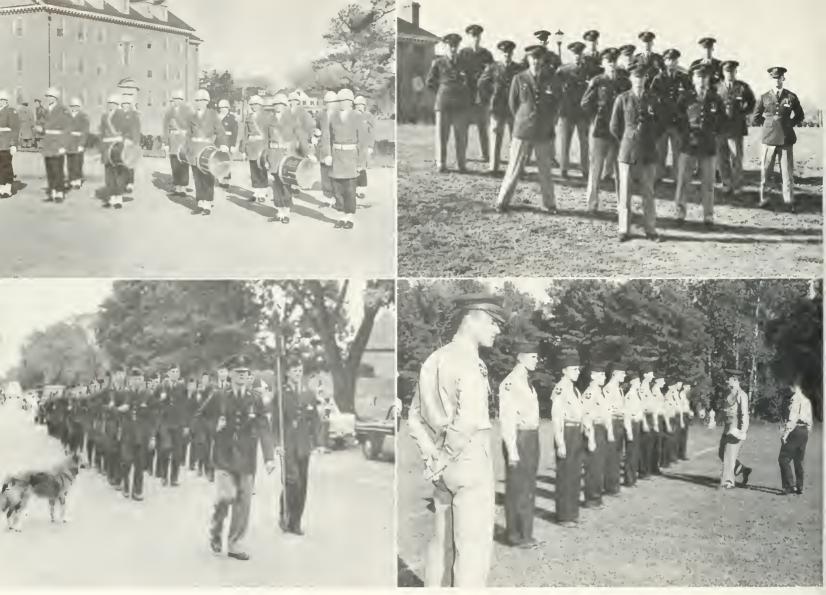

Each year the Sponsors are selected by the Dean of Women and a committee of student leaders on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character and interest in people. The Group Leaders are chosen on much the same basis from those who have volunteered to be Group Leaders. Both groups undergo an extensive training program in the spring to prepare them for their duties in the fall. This program includes a thorough indoctrination in the various aspects of Student Government, campus activities, distribution requirements, study habits, counciling available to students, and the role of the Sponsor and Group Leader in helping the freshman adjust to college life.

At the end of Orientation Week, the Sponsors and Group Leaders, along with some freshmen fill out sheets evaluating the Orientation Program, and it is on these evaluations that the following year's Program is largely based.

Reserve Officers Training Corps

Proposing to prepare college men as commissioned second lieutenants in the Regular Army and Army Reserve, the Reserve Officers Training Corps at William and Mary is functioning very successfully. Established here in 1947, the enrollment and activities of the group have shown marked increase.

Originally founded as a field artillery unit, the Department of Military Science and Tactics has now incorporated a general military curriculum, allowing cadets to choose the branch of army service they desire.

A Certificate of Completion is presented to a cadet who has finished four years, and signifies his ability, having passed the two phases offered. The first stage is for freshmen and sophomores, providing them with a basic background, the second part, advanced, is for juniors and seniors who have demonstrated scholastic ability.

Classes are held twice a week and a two hour drill period is executed Wednesday afternoons. Reviews were held throughout the year in the Sunken Gardens.

The Corps spirit and morale had been improved by the inauguration of monthly selections of the best platoon and a weekly recognition of the best cadet.

The Annual Military Ball and participation in the Homecoming Parade are two of the outstanding activities of the Corps. The dance was held April 26 this year. The spring season also saw the drill team and the drum and bugle corps at the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester. The rifle team held matches with Richmond, VPI, and other institutions. Six weeks of summer camp is available to advanced course students.

The Corps is formed in companies A, B, and C. Captains of the respective units were John Brantley, Brad Lesher, and Jack Yohe. Headquarters Company, composed of the drum and bugle corps and the drill team, was led by Captain John Dietz. The Battalion Staff had Larry Babcock as Commander; Battalion Executive, Dino Costas; Battalion Adjutant, Bob Baumann; and Battalion SR, John Diez. Tau Kappa Alpha is a national honorary speech and debate society which selects its members from the upper third of the class and preferably those students with two years of debating experience. The society is designed to honor students who have attained outstanding achievements both academically and in the fields of oral expression and argumentation.

The society's activities include close coordination with the Debate Council in sponsoring the Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament and the organization of campus debates and programs throughout Virginia,

Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament

Every year during the second semester the William and Mary Debate Council serves as host to debate teams from various major colleges and universities along the eastern seaboard who congregate on the campus to participate in the Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament. This year saw teams representing twenty-four colleges taking part in the Tournament. For its handling of the question under debate, Resolved: That the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries, Princeton University left the campus with first honors. In a three way tie for second place were Dartmouth College, George Washington University and the University of Pittsburgh.

During their three days' stay, the agenda for the visiting teams was kept well-filled with receptions, banquets and group meetings. The high point of the visit fell on the second night in the halls of the Capitol when the William and Mary Debate Council gave a skilled costume re-enactment of the historically famous Stamp Act Debate, "A Moment of Decision."

This year the Inter-Collegiate Debate Council of the College of Willim and Mary added numerous activities and many honors to its already long list of credits.

One of its greatest honors came at the National Convention of the National Speech Association of America in Chicago where the Council was requested to present "A Moment of Decision," a costumed re-enactment of the Stamp Act Debate. The debate was again given at the Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament with Jim Mounie taking the role of Patrick Henry.

The next honors fell on Patrick Riley, president of the Council, and Jim Mounie, active member of the organization. While debating in national competition, these two displayed such forensic prowess that the judges awarded them the title of "1956 Champions of the East" which in turn entitled them to attend debates in Florida, West Virginia, Washington, New York, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio and an invitational to the National Invitational Tournament.

One of the yearly features of the Debate Council is the Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament which was sponsored during the second semester. The Council is privileged to serve as hosts to colleges which come from all over the country to compete. This year won by Princeton University, the contest is rated among the top five debate tournaments in the nation.

In addition to these activities, the Council actively engages in a program of debates on television, radio and before various civic groups.

Membership in the Future Teachers of America club is composed of the numerous William and Mary students who have an interest in the field of education. These members are acutely aware that they will soon be performing a necessary function in creating the future through their work with the youth of America. Undaunted by the enormity of their task, they have set about tackling problems which are fundamental to the teaching profession. During their monthly meetings they have analyzed and discussed problems which arise in the classroom.

Realizing that methods and philosophies of teaching are constantly in the process of change, the group has endeavored to prepare themselves adequately. To do this, several speakers were invited to speak to the group on various phases and methods of teaching. Interested in helping themselves, the group has further organized panel discussions among the members on topics pertinent and vital to their interests.

The members of FTA feel that they are better able to serve the teaching profession through the program and activities of the club.

The Seminar

One year ago, a new publication, Seminar, An Academic Journal, appeared on the William and Mary literary scene. At that time, a group of students dedicated to stimulating the intellectual growth of the college community combined their talents to publish the first issue. They were guided by a need at William and Mary for an outlet for serious nonfiction writing.

This year, Jack White served as Editor-in-Chief, while Malcolm Anderson was Managing Editor, and John Hart, Business Manager. The Editorial Board, whose chief responsibility was the selecting of all material to be published in the journal, consisted of Dee Alexander, Jay Andrews, Steve Babcock, Norwood Boone, Lyda Daggett, Jan Fisher, Marion Funk, Don Harris, and Willard Morris.

As a special feature, the Fall issue included a "seminar on science" in which Dean George Harrison of M.I.T., and Professor Warner Moss discussed the effects of technology on Man's future. The Spring issue featured Dr. Julian Boyd's convocation address, "The Smooth Handle," in which the practical nature of Thomas Jefferson's philosophy was offered as a challenge to the modern college student.

Growing larger with each of the three issues, Seminar has published twenty-seven student articles ranging in subject matter from "The Newspapers of Confederate Virginia," to "The Search for Unity in Nature," to "The Plight of Modern Higher Education."

Membership in Pi Delta Phi, National Honorary French Fraternity, is determined by scholarship in French. The purpose of the fraternity is to discuss and study French culture and particularly French literature. This year commenced with an analysis and critical appraisal of Bonjour Tristesse by Francoise Sagan. A number of the faculty members have lived in France and often lead enthusiastic discussions on contemporary French politics, both national and international.

The fraternity initiates new members twice a year. In the Spring a banquet is held with typically French cuisine and French customs and manners.

Delta Omicron, National Protessional Music Fraternity, is composed of women students who are music majors or minors. In December a musicale is given to promote music on the campus. Members usher for recitals and concerts throughout the year and participate in band, choir, chorus, and orchestra. They are available for tutoring in music to all students. In the spring a final musicale is given with each girl participating in some way. Delta Omicron aims to provide a foundation for music after college.

Several professors in the Music Department serve as Patrons for the fraternity.

The purpose of Theta Alpha Phi, the national honorary dramatic fraternity, is to recognize outstanding work in every phase of the theater, and membership is awarded to those rendering service to the William and Mary theater group,

Monthly meetings are held in the Wren Kitchen to plan field trips and service projects. One of the most prominent projects this year was the renovation of the back hall of Phi Beta Kappa Hall, where the William and Mary Theater is temporarily housed. Theta Alpha Phi was founded at William and Mary in 1925.

Last year the Clayton-Grimes Biology Club and the Pre-Medical Club merged and the result was the Biology Medical Club. The present organization outlined programs suitable to both interests. By having various persons read their major papers, the group promoted student participation. Programs also consisted of excellent speakers presenting topics ranging from flowers to snakes, and the vocational prospects for biology majors; field trips and discussions. Their activities also included sponsoring the Audubon Screen Tours.

The aim of the club is to help pre-med and biology students take an interest in these fields outside the classroom,

The Spanish and French clubs propose to create in their members a greater interest in the respective countries and their languages. Accordingly the programs are built on various aspects of Spanish and French life. During the year the Spanish club enjoyed Janet Day's presentation of several Spanish dances and Dr. Moore's exhibition of various relics and souvenirs collected in Mexico and other Spanishspeaking countries. Top events for the French club were the masquerade Mardi Gras Ball, and the annual picnic in the Spring.

The clubs celebrated Christmas with a joint party.

The Interfraternity Council is composed of the president and a second representative from each of the ten fraternities on campus. Officers of the Council are elected from these second representatives for a term of one year.

The purposes of the Council are to encourage interest in scholarship, athletics, and intellectual attainment; to promote cordial relationships among the member fraternities by providing a common medium through which they may act; and to provide an organized means for integrating fraternity life with the general program of student life on the campus. The Council is responsible for establishing rules governing both general fraternity activities and rushing, including pledging and initiation. The rushing rules cover the dates of rushing, formal rushing regulations, eligibility, pledging, and initiation.

In order to aid all entering men students in understanding and observing the rushing rules, a general meeting was held during orientation week of the fall semester to explain the fraternity system.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan Hellenic Council acts as a forum for the discussion of questions of interest to the sororities as members of the college community and the fraternity world. Nationally, Pan Hellenic is represented by the National Pan Hellenic Conference which in turn is made up of representatives of all the national sororities and which emphasizes a program encouraging high scholastic achievement and good inter-sorority relations. The major function of the Pan Hellenic Council is to regulate fall and spring rushing as well as the pledging and initiation of sorority women.

This year steps were taken to form a local city Pan Hellenic which will advise the college Pan Hellenic group. Other activities of the Council include a yearly scholarship to a deserving woman student, not necessarily a sorority woman, and the publication of our annual information booklet, "Greek Notes." In order to finance these activities the Pan Hellenic Council sponsors the pledge skits, sells blazers, and is in charge of the pastry booth at the Colonial Festival.

Head football Coach and Athletic Director Jackie Freeman has been assigned the job of elevating the William and Mary athletic picture to one of respect. Freeman, who started and finished his fifth year at W&M, was plagued by a powerful schedule and low budget and his team succumbed to a winless season. The result of the 1956 season brought Freeman's five year record as a coach to 14 wins, 29 losses, and four draws.

Freeman is a native of Windber, Pennsylvania. He attended Windber High School where he was a three sport star and then came to William and Mary as a quarterback under Carl Voyles in 1942. He left for naval duties and returned to the Reservation in 1946, when he starred in football, basketball, and track.

His coaching experience began at McKeesport High School and then to Williamsport High. He returned to William and Mary as assistant to Marvin Bass and in 1952 was named athletic director and head football coach.

Eric Tipton, a former All-American for Duke University, came to W&M in 1939. Tipton played professional baseball for fifteen years, five spent in the major leagues. One of the most popular members of the athletic department, Coach Tipton is the backfield coach for football and head baseball mentor.

William S. Gooch, better called "Pappy" by those who know him, was the former four-sport star at the University of Virginia. He has been with the W&M athletic department for 29 years. He has been a coach, athletic director, chief fund-raiser, and is now the Business Manager.

Coach Boyd Baird has been head basketball coach and freshman football coach for the last five years. Before coming to W&M, Baird served as basketball coach for Davidson. He served in the Pacific in World War II and is a native of Delaware, Ohio.

Three newcomers were on the William and Mary staff this year: Joe Mark, Bob Gill, and Harry Groves. Mark was the co-captain of the 1950 W&M football team. He played two years of service ball for Fort Eustis and was an assistant under "Tex" Warrington. He is the line coach and golf mentor for W&M.

Gill, a W&M graduate of 1948, has served as Physical Education director at two high schools and was assistant trainer here while an undergradute. He is the W&M trainer and tennis coach.

Groves takes over the position formerly held by Gil Joyner, as head cross country and track coach. He has compiled a successful cross country record thus far.

Pete Kalison, a high powered student publicity director. is a veteran of his job for two years. He plans to go to journalism school upon his graduation.

FOM SECULES back

The William and Mary Indians opened the 1956 football season against the Wake Forest Demon Deacons in Cary Stadium and came out with the short end of a 39-0 deal. Wake Forest's Bill Barnes, an All-American choice later in the year, rambled 65 yards with the opening play from scrimmage to set the Indians back on their heels.

In another burst, Barnes carried for 78 yards to a touchdown and Wake Forest was never headed. The Indians were unable to muster a sustained drive through-out the whole game, but showed that they had some backfield punch in halfback Charlie Sidwell.

Pre-season worries about filling the vacated tackle slots developed into a full-fledged problem. Half of the problem was solved when freshman Mike Lashley proved to be an outstanding performer, both blocking and tackling.

Sidwell accounted for 60 yards in 14 carries for a respectable 4.3 yards per carry average. Halfback Dave Edmunds notched 43 yards in 10 carries to also gain a 4.3 average.

Stellar End Walt Brodie showed signs of a good season although hampered by an injury received in pre-season scrimmages. Center Tommy Martin, replacing injured Bill Rush, played creditable football. William and Mary's Big Green eleven traveled to Thompson Stadium in Annapolis to meet the Navy in its opening game and went down under the Middie barrage, 39-14.

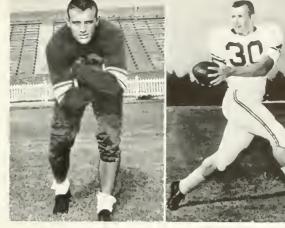

But the Indians went down with a fight. After Navy had driven 81 yards to its first touchdown, W&M unleashed a dazzling passing attack that made Navy Mentor Eddie Erdalatz take notice. With three straight passes from quarterback Tom Secules to Walt Brodie being the key plays, the Indians moved 73 yards in eight plays. A Secules pitchout to Charlie Sidwell who passed to Larry Peccatiello annexed the touchdown. Brown Oliver's successful conversion put W&M in the lead 7-6.

But it was a short-lived glory as Navy stormed back hard and rolled up a half-time score of 19-7. Navy came back in the second half to notch three more touchdowns before W&M could get rolling. Vince Monto, Navy fullback, and Tom Forrestal, quarterback, were the guns that sank the W&M cause. Both figured prominently in two of the Navy touchdowns.

The Indians were down, but not defeated. After taking the Navy kickoff in the last quarter and running it to the W&M 24, Bob Thomas tossed a pass to Charlie Sidwell who legged it through the Navy secondary to a touchdown. The play covered 76 yards.

With Charlie Sidwell pacing the offensive punch, the William and Mary Big Green slam-banged their way to an 18-18 tie with the Boston College Terriers in the second contest held at Cary Stadium.

Sidwell rambled for 100 yards rushing, a feat that annexed for him the Back of the Week honor. In addition to his rushing yardage, Sidwell crashed for two touchdowns, one on a thrilling 65 yard punt return behind some very sharp blocking.

Tom Secules came into his own in the Terrier contest as he showed signs of recovering from the back injury that had plagued him thus far. Secules scored the third touchdown on a quarterback sneak, and did an admirable job of quarterbacking.

Boston University drew the first blood in the game on a 14 yard pass play, climaxing a series of plays beginning on the W&M 45 as the result of a W&M fumble. With the score 6-0, the Indians roared back to take a 12-6 lead.

The Big Green kept the pressure on and rolled to 18-6. However, the Terriers unleashed a strong pass offense and knotted the score in the fourth quarter on a completed desperation pass.

The Big Green had one called back in the second quarter. Al "Smokey" Sherman intercepted a pass on the Boston University 15 yard line and out-ran Terrier defenders to the end-zone. However, a W&M holding penalty cost the Tribe the TD and gave the Terriers a second chance.

William and Mary 7 V.P.I. 34

The William and Mary Indians marched 79 yards with the opening kick-off to take an early 7-0 lead over the Hookies of VPI, but fell before the offensive might of their opponents, 34-7.

On the first play from scrimmage, fullback Jay Sanner carried for 12 yards. This was the first time in the season that a W&M fullback carried the ball. Then Charlie Sidwell smashed the VPI line seven times for 30 yards, and two passes to Walt Brodie added another 25 yards. Tom Secules climaxed the drive with a one-foot sneak into the end zone. Sidwell added the extra point.

But the VPI Gobblers with a five touchdown barrage that swept the William and Mary team off its feet. But worse than the statistical beating was the injuries to key men in the W&M attack. Sidwell, Walt Brodie, Mike Lashley, and Dave Edmunds were all felled by injury. And West Virginia next on the schedule.

Brown Oliver showed an apptitude for offensive power as he gained 30 yards in four carries. Sidwell accounted for 37 yards in 11 carries before he was injured.

The William and Mary passing attack was fair, hitting on 9 of 14 attempted passes, but the Indians could not muster these into one effective drive. They never pierced the VPI 45 yard line after the opening kick-off touchdown march.

The VPI Gobblers appear to be picking up the "jinx" where W&M left it last season when they lost for the first time in 17 years 14-7.

CHARLIE SIDWELL Halfback

BOB HARDAGE Quarterback

A fired-up William and Mary eleven thrilled a homecoming crowd of 10,000 with a hard fought 20-13 loss to the heavily favored West Virginia Mountaineers.

On the opening series of play, it appeared that the experts were right in their choice of West Virginia as a three touchdown favorite as WVU's Noel Whipkey ran 67 yards to the W&M eight. WVU scored on the next play.

But W&M retaliated in short order. A WVU punt was taken by Brown Oliver who handed off the pigskin to Charlie Sidwell. Sidwell raced 65 yards behind crunching blocks for a score. The first half ended 7-6 for WVU.

The Mountaineers came back strongly in the third quarter but could only struggle to one touchdown. They struck for another early in the third quarter to take a 20-6 lead.

But W&M came back again. With little Bob Hardage taking over the quarterback slot and Lennie Rubal replacing the injured Sidwell, W&M began its drive. A snapped ball bounced off the helmet of the WVU punter and Walt Brodie nailed him on the WVU 13 yard line. Rubal smashed across for the score and Oliver converted.

W&M pushed into WVU territory on two other occasions, once to the 21 and once to the 11, before the Mountaineer defense contained them. Also, a 43 yard Tom Secules-Sidwell pass play was nullified by a penalty costing another offensive threat.

One observer remarked, "I have not seen a Big Green team hit so hard since the days of the Iron Indians."

Rubal smashes W.V.U.

The Big Green almost pulled an upset for the second week in a row, but succumbed to the Colonials of George Washington, 16-14. The Colonials amassed all 16 points in the first half and a first quarter field goal proved to be the undoing of the Tribe.

The Big Green played such powerful ball in the second half, that GW could not muster up a first down. The spirited quarterbacking of Bob Hardage was the key to the 14 point second half punch of the Tribe.

Walt Brodie caught a Hardage pass in the end zone after a GW fumble deep in their own territory gave the Big Green a break. Bill Rush recovered the GW bobble on the Colonial 16 yard line. Hardage then pitched to Brown Oliver who passed to Brodie in the end zone. Oliver's conversion was good.

After making two more bids at the Colonial goal, the Tribe attack shifted into high gear. Starting on their own 40 yard line, they rambled 60 yards for a TD. The passing of Hardage accounted for the Lion's share of the yardage gained, and a Hardage aerial to Brodie in the end zone accounted for the score.

Charlie Sidwell carried the ball 17 times for 88 yards, a nifty 5.1 rushing average. The Indians utilized only 16 men against the two-platooned Colonials, but out-gained them in total offense, 193 yards to 145 yards.

The VMI Keydets showed a strong offense and swamped the battle-weary Indians, 20-6 at Lynchburg. The Keydets racked up a total offense of 385 yards while running of 78 plays as compared to the Tribe's total of 203 and 48 plays.

The big gun for the Keydets was fullback Sam Woolwine. He accounted for two of the three touchdowns and rushed for 87 yards. W&M presented only one constant offensive threat—Charlie Sidwell. Sidwell scored the lone William and Mary touchdown on a breath-taking 86 yard kick-off return to give the Indians a brief 6-6 first quarter tie.

But W&M defenses just did not have it. Mike Lashley, freshman tackle, and Denys Grant, guard, did yeoman jobs on defense, but were not enough to quell the flashy VMI attack.

The Keydets scored their points on marches of 76, 40 and 90 yards in their successful conquest of the Tribe. It was sweet VMI revenge for the 20-13 pasting they took last year against the Indians.

Quarterback Bob Hardage continued to impress W&M football fans with his lightning-like passing and he connected for six of 11 attempts to account for most of W&M's yardage.

A VMI man "scored" a touchdown that was ruled no good. The officials detected his knee striking the ground on the one-foot line and W&M squelched this bid for another TD on the next play. The Black Knights of the Hudson, better known as Army, conquered a surprisingly strong William and Mary eleven. W&M's Bob Hardage unleashed a razzle-dazzle passing attack that stunned Army throughout the first half, but they rebounded in the second stretch to prevail 34-6.

A team of Hardage and Larry Peccatiello baffled the Army defenses and left the field with a 13-6 score favoring an Army team that was supposed to romp easily. Peccatiello caught seven passes, including the touchdown toss of Lennie Rubal.

Hardage continued his third straight week of passing wizardry, completing 16 of 29 passes for 126 yards. A surprise performance in the W&M defense was that of senior tackle Phil Colclough who stopped many an Army thrust through his slot.

But W&M was doomed before the crushing power running of Bob Kyasky and Dave Bourland and the crushing force of the Army line led by Stan Slater, an All-America candidate guard. The five touchdown assault swept W&M down to its seventh defeat this season.

This contest was the second in history between these two schools. Army holds the edge in the brief series, 2-0. The defeat this year was not as ignoble as the lopsided score might indicate. W&M held the heavily favored Black Knights to 13 points in the first half and succumbed only to superiority in numbers rather than superiority in spirit and determination.

Before a slim crowd of 3,000 in New Brunswick, New Jersey, the W&M Indians tasted defeat for the eighth time this season, 20-6, at the hands of the Scarlet Knights of Rutgers.

The Rutgers scored 13 points in the first half, one as the result of a situation developing from a blocked punt on the W&M 47. Although the Scarlet Knights broke the ice first, the Indians roared right back into contention. Tom Secules hit Charlie Sidwell with a screen pass and the W&M halfback weaved his way across the field and down the sidelines for the score.

The Rutgers team bounced back with a second quarter score. A 30 yard pass put the ball on the W&M one yard line and from there their fullback bulled into the end zone.

William and Mary, facing a single wing attack for the first time this year, kept in contention, thanks to the fine running of Al "Smokey" Sherman and Lennie Rubal. Larry Peccatiello, playing before his home town, turned in a fine performance. However, quarterback Bob Hardage suffered a broken leg to dim Tribe hopes.

The Rutgers eleven finally put the game on ice with a fourth period tally stemming from an interception and a 43 yard drive climaxed with a 20 yard run.

Walt Brodie kicked off to the Rutgers team to open the third period and the Indians piled on the ball at the Rutgers 34 yard line. The Big Green smashed their way to the 24 before the Rutger defenses stiffened and squelched the bid.

Complete to Peccatiello (WVU)

The final game of the season saw the Indians lose their 17 year strangle hold on the Richmond Spiders as they dropped a 6-0 decision. The big blow of the afternoon came when Mickey Marinkov, Richmond halfback, took a Brown Oliver punt 84 yards for the only score of the afternoon.

Charlie Sidwell, W&M's one man task force blasted away at the Richmond defenses in a great effort to put the Indians into the scoring column, but it was a futile try. Sidwell accounted for 135 of the Indians 166 total rushing yardage bag.

A W&M touchdown pass was nullified when the officials discovered an illegal man down field. Tom Secules, showing no effects of an injury in this game, pitched out to Oliver, who lobbed a perfect pass to Walt Brodie in the end zone. But then came the penalty call.

The Big Green made several bids for the Richmond goal line, but fell short each time. After Richmond had been penalized to their one foot line, they kicked to their 23 yard marker. Oliver and Sidwell drove to the 19. Secules, then threw a pass to Larry Peccatiello, who made an astounding catch on the Richmond 14. Sidwell netted the first down on the 11.

After losing nine yards, Secules passed to Brodie on the eight yard line, but it was not enough and this stirring last minute bid died.

Co-Captains, Brodie and Yohe

With the completion of one of the worst W&M football years, topped off with a 6-0 loss to Richmond who had not beaten a Big Green team in 17 years, the football team gave Jackie Freeman, the coach, a vote of confidence. However, in March, Freeman resigned his position as Athletic Director and Head Football Coach.

Although the 1956 football season was not as fruitful in its harvest of William and Mary victories as preseason experts had anticipated, Coach Jackie Freeman could claim the unique distinction of having two All-America players on his squad. Walt Brodie, end, was elected to the second AP A-A team, and Charlie Sidwell netted an honorable mention at the halfback slot.

What W&M missed in wins, Sidwell and Brodie made up in honors. Brodie was named the Southern Conference Most Outstanding Lineman, elected to the All-SC team, the All-Big Six eleven, and named captain of the Big Six Honorary team. Sidwell was elected to the All-Southern Conference and Big Six teams and enjoys the honor of having been drafted by the Cleveland Browns.

Other honors were dealt to the Big Green. Freshman tackle Mike Lashley received runner-up votes in the balloting for SC Freshman of the Year; Larry Peccatiello received honorable mention All-Southern Conference and the All Big-Six team.

Sidwell was elected Old Dominion's Star Back of The Week for his sterling performance in the Boston University contest, while Brodie received Old Dominion's Star Lineman of the Week for an outstanding performance against the West Virginia Mountaineers.

Co-captain of the Indians, along with Brodie, Jack Yohe was plagued with a broken hand and when complications set in, he was lost for the season. The Big Green will lose the services of Junior Duff, Brown Oliver, Walt Brodie, Phil Colclough, Ray Chiesa, John Brantley, Bill Hammack, and Phil Secules via the graduation route: and Jack Yohe may also be lost to the Big Green next year.

Basketball Season, 1956-57

The William and Mary Basketball team started the 1956-57 season at a torrid pace—winning four of the first five games—but slumped as the season went on and wound up with a 9-18 log. Coach Boyd Baird's cagers finished sixth in the Southern Conference regular standings, and were eliminated by VPI in the sudden death Southern Conference Tournament in Richmond.

Things looked very bright at the beginning of the season, especially with the return of guard Don Engelken to replace the graduated Dick Savage. Engelken finished the season with a 14.1 points per game average. His most notable achievement was his brilliant guarding of Lennie Rosenbluth in the contest with the University of North Carolina cagers. Rosenbluth, who averaged over 23 points per game for the season left the game with only 9 points to his credit.

Captain Jim Kaplan finished his last season with the William and Mary Hoopsters, and chalked up a 13.6 points per game average. His best effort was against Virginia Military Institute when he hit for 35 points to help a faltering William and Mary squeeze by, 65-58. This accomplishment gave him the year's individual high score for anyone on the W&M team.

Six foot three Bob Hoitsma was the Tribe's top rebounder. He captured 272 rebounds, averaged about 10 rebounds a game, and was over 100 rebound ahead of the next member of the W&M team's rebounding total. Hoitsma also laid claim to the William and Mary highest shooting percentage, 54.2%. Hoitsma, who will graduate, ended his last season with the W&M cagers, with a 13.8 points per game average.

Although Hoitsma holds the team high in total rebounds, the team high in rebounds garnered in one game belongs to six foot ten inch freshman Charles "Chuck" Sanders. Sanders pulled down 31 rebounds against VPI and chucked in 22 points to help William and Mary edge VPI, 72-70 in Blow Gymnasium. Sanders, who saw limited service in 19 games, had a 5.8 points per game average, and had a total of 118 rebounds for the season.

The best foul shooter on the 1956-57 basketball squad was Sophomore Roy Lange. Lange claimed a 75.4 foul shooting percentage. Lange is a promising Sophomore prospect who has the only hook shot on the William and Mary team. He collected a 8.9 points per game shooting average. His best point output in a single game was a 25 point effort against VPI, but VPI prevailed in that contest, 94-83. The lanky sophomore forward ranked third on the W&M team in total rebounds with 127. Against Hampden-Sydney, Lange dumped in 14 of 15 foul tries to gain the individual high mark among the W&M varsity players in free throws scored.

Miniature guard, Bill Ouseley, better known as "Fumbo" also completed his last season with the William and Marv cagers. Ousley posessed one of the best set shots on the team. Combined with Engelken, W&M had two of the better guards in the Southern Conference. Ouseley completed the season with a 7.3 points per game average.

Harry Cornell, a six-four center and forward ranked second as a rebounder for the Tribe. He totaled 160 for the season. Cornell chalked up a 6.5 points per contest

Miller captured 43 rebounds, while Goldstein grabbed 39 during their limited tenure of play. McCray and Varga were two of the best hustlers on the squad. Varga netted 2.8 points per game, and McCray bagged 2.0 points per contest.

The William and Mary basketball team collected a total of 1912 points for the season, which came out to a 73.2 points per game average by the team. However, their opponents chucked 2007 points through the hoops and that came to a 77.1 point per tilt average. These figures do not include the Southern Conference Tourney game with VPI.

Probably the greatest loss to the basketball team will be Anatole "Ajax" Zachs. Ajax managed the team for three years and had been a stand-out figure on the W&M bench. Ajax, a native of Brooklyn, New York, is an avid sports fan.

Cross Country Team Undefeated

Under the tutelage of Harry Groves, the William and Mary Cross Country team copped five dual meets, one triangular meet, the Big Six Title and the Southern Conference Cross Country Championships, in compiling one of the most outstanding team records on the Reservation.

Coach Groves' team placed four men on an 11 man All-Southern Conference Cross Country team picked by coaches of SC teams. Bob DeTombe, Bill McCuen, Tom Quitko, and Dave Youngblade received the honors.

Bob DeTombe lead the Harriers to their victories, winning all but two of the competitions this year. DeTombe broke the VMI course record in the opening meet for W&M, running the 4.2 mile course in 21:50.0 as compared to the old standard of 23:01. However, DeTombe was to lose one of races to N.C. State's Mike Shea who shattered the W&M home course record, running 21:47.9. The old record was 22:01.

The William and Mary Harriers won meets from VMI, 2-39; Davidson, 18-49; Richmond, 19-49; N.C. State, 20-47; Washington and Lee, 15-55. The triangular meet score was W&M, 15; Delaware, 61; Washington College, 80.

The Harriers captured the Big Six title with 43 points beating VPI, 56, and VMI, 86, the top threats. Their 34 points was low score in the Southern Conference meet and defeated VMI, 60, and VPI, 86. Other teams were running, but VMI and VPI were the chief rivals.

The W&M Harriers consisted entirely of freshmen and sophomore runners. Tom Quitko, was the only freshman to make the All-SC Cross Country team. The young runners amassed 11 of the 27 trophies offered at the SC Meet.

Swimming Team Post 2-8 Record

The Mermen of William and Mary completed a tough season with a two win, eight lost record, but retained a note of seasonal glory when Don Dew copped the Big Six diving championship honors.

The Reservation swimmers opened their season against Catholic University, a swimming powerhouse, and dropped a close 45-51 decision. They continued the schedule with a meet against VPI swimmers held in the Blow Pool. VPI prevailed in a lop-sided contest, 59-27.

Christmas vacation interrupted the schedule, but the team resumed action on January 7 against East Carolina College. East Carolina was the toughest school W&M had listed on their schedule and they won by the largest margin, 64-22.

The W&M mermen next ran aground against Virginia, coming out on the short end of a 52-36 point total. However, the Reservation swimmers notched their first victory in the following meet against Lynchburg College, 48-37. To open the month of February, W&M met and fell victim to the Virginia Military Institute splashers, 63-23. The VMI team garnered the second highest mark made against the W&M aggregation all season. Washington and Lee University piled on the fading William and Mary team by adding a 59-27 win to their swimming record.

Georgetown University invaded the confines of Blow Pool to take the measure of the Indians, 59-27. However, the fighting Mermen closed out their season on the right foot by dumping the William and Marv (Norfolk Division) splashers in a close 45-41 decision.

The William and Mary swimmers were under the tutelage of Intramural Director and Swimming Coach Dudley Jensen. Jensen received able assistance from Felix Costa who handled the divers of the W&M squad. The William and Mary splashers were captained by Fritz Trindler who swims in the 100 vard free-style, 60 vard free-style, and the 400 yard free-style relay as anchor man.

Baseball Squad Stronger in Pitching

Coach Eric Tipton shook himself loose from Spring Football Practice duties to whip up a good baseball team. Thirtynine men practiced steadily and after March 16th the squad reached full strength when the football players reported for duty.

Returning stalwarts of the mound staff were Ron Gardner,

Terry Slaughter, Bill Becker, and Bob Brown. Gardner was the hardest throwing pitcher on the squad, while Slaughter had the best control. A bevy of promising freshmen added strength to the pitching corps. Dennis Murphy, a lefty, Joachim Wirth, a lanky right-handed chucker, and Joe Maxim received uniforms. Coach Tipton said, "The pitching could be the best I've had since I've been here. We also think we'll get help from some of the others, like Murphy and Wirth." Brown and Becker received mainly relief duty throughout the season.

William and Mary formerly had some difficulties in the batting department, but that was expected to clear up also. With the return of Phil Secules, a .300 hitter, and the recovery of Ed Shine from a separated shoulder injury, the offensive prospects looked good.

In the outfield, were Junior Duff, the third highest hitter on the team one season ago, Larry Peccatiello, John Cayward, and newcomer Norm Kaplan.

The Tribe infield was a good fielding unit but lacked offensive power at the plate. The catching department was the strongest on the club. Heading the list of prospects were Bob Blase, Tommy Martin. and returning letterman, Ed Jones.

At first base, Tom Secules played in the starting line-up.

However, Tom Legg and freshman Larry Schlack hotly contested with Secules for the starting honors. Legg and Schlack showed great promise at the plate during practice sessions.

In the battle for the second base position Joe Dodd edged out miniature Wayne Lowry. Dodd, a tall, lanky freshman, won the starting assignments because of his potential at the plate. Bob Hardage nailed down a starting assignment at short stop. Hardage, a junior, was a veteran of two years on the William and Mary squad.

The infield situation looked good except for third base. Coach Tipton summed up the situation, "I'm not worried about anything now but third base." A close battle for the starting assignment was between Doug Henley, a converted catcher, and Pete Stockwell, a converted pitcher.

Tipton had men enough to fill seven of the starting nine with lettermen, and a winning season was in sight for the first time in four years. Tipton pointed out that "we only lost two regulars and have all our pitchers back."

The William and Mary diamond nine opened their season with an away contest with Virginia. Then they returned home for a nine game home stand, including a double header with Furman. However, the last eight of the final games were scheduled for enemy territory.

The William and Mary Baseball team received pre-season predictions to finish with a winning log, and many fans saw a possibility of the best season for a Tipton team in the last four years. Some predicted that the Tribe would be the "spoilers" in the Southern Conference. They prepared for the season opener with Virginia with a well-played intersquad game.

William and Mary power hitters.

Coach Harry Groves. in his freshman year as track mentor at William and Mary, produced one of the finest track squads ever seen upon the Reservation. Groves entered the 1957 outdoor season after a very successful indoor performance.

The William and Marv Thinclads scapped with VMI for Big Six honors, but fell short, 35-31 points. The following week, the thinclads regained their composure to nail down the Southern Conference Championship, $39\frac{1}{2}$ as against VMI and VPI who tied at $30\frac{1}{2}$. But the closest meet won by the indoor speedsters was the one-half point victory over VMI in the AAU Track Meet held in Richmond. The scores were 44 5/6 and $44\frac{1}{3}$ respectively.

The top man on the 1957 outdoor squad is ace dashman and captain Walt "Shane" Fillman. Fillman was the SC indoor champion in the 60 yard dash and 70 yard low hurdles in 1955-56-57. He holds the college record for the 220 yard dash (21.2 seconds) and the 220 low hurdles (23.2 seconds). He also finished fourth in the 60 yard dash event of the Knights of Columbus Track Meet.

His teammate Bales captured the Indoor high jump title in the Southern Conference in 1957. McCuen and Schuster were two of the best 880 yard runners in the SC competitions last year.

The weight divisions of Track and Field were bolstered by Charlie Sidwell, Lloyd Hicks and freshman prospects, Dick Greenwood and Lloyd Feld. Ray Varga and Dave Youngblade saw service in the javelin events.

Other returnees were: Dave Campana, Ron Dusek. Neil Hock, Gil McNair, George Foyer, Al Sherman, Al Stringer, Jack Yohe, and Jack Lundelius.

Promising new candidates for Coach Grove's squad were Warren Joblin, Dale Bickert, Nick St. George, Stan Mack, Dan Newland, Bob Bassett, Jerry Quandt, Mike Smoller, and Mike Colleton.

The Track team unofficially opened their season with an inter-squad competition held at the half of the Varsity-Alumni game. In a 100 yard handicap dash, Walt Fillman, running from the scratch position, won with a 9.8 time. Al Stringer, running with a two yard handicap, finished second and Neil Hock captured third. He ran with a one yard handicap.

COACH HARRY GROVES

A distince medley relay was also featured starring a Green, White, and Yellow team. The Green team copped the event with a 10:58.8 time to set a new school record. The Green team consisted of Frank Barnes, Dan Newland, Dave Campana, and Jerry Quandt.

Tennis Team Looks Strong

The William and Mary tennis team was the third team to get a new coach for the 1957 season. Coach Bob Gill, a graduate of W&M in 1948, took over Dr. Wayne Kernoodle's vacated post. Gill received his Masters degree from W&M in 1952. He was Physical Education director at Blackstone high school and Maury High School in Norfolk.

Captaining the netmen squad was Eddie Phillips, the top seeded man on the team, who notched second in the 1956 Southern Conference tourney. Phillips was predicted to lead the Tribe netmen to a winning season.

The tennis team suffered the loss of its number two and three men last season, and had to scramble to replace them. Toby Perry, a Cleveland, Ohio, racket-wielder and Tom Swann, a Navy veteran just turned eligible were on hand to fill the vacant positions.

Jeff Dixon, Irv Blacher, and John Peterson, player-manager of the team, were all lettermen returnees who were expected to add strength to the 4, 5 and 6 positions. Michael Heims and Jerry King were newcomers to the squad's list.

Coach Gill, in pre-season predicting, stated that George Washington would be tough in the conference and that Navy, Cornell, and Williams should be formidable opponents.

The Indian netmen opened their season with a home contest against Williams College, which was the start of an eight match home stand. In that stand, they battled Haverford, Cornell, Brown, Virginia Military Institute, Citadel, Virginia Tech, and Colgate. Then the netmen traveled to Norfolk to compete with West Virginia and returned to home courts to meet Washington and Lee. They ended the season with a four day away jaunt into enemy territory, vying with Navy, George Washington, playing the Southern Conference tourney, meeting Richmond, and invading Virginia.

Coach Mark, Lawrence, Aucamp, Rice, Bickler, Hamilton, Schribber, Accomando, Stone.

Golf Team Improves Record

The Reservation golfers started a fresh 1957 slate with a new Coach—Joe Mark. Mark was the former Co-captain of the William and Mary football team in 1950 and played service ball with Fort Eustis. He saw coaching duties under "Tex" Warrington at Vero Beach (Florida) High School. Mark is also an assistant line coach of the W&M football team.

Mark welcomed the return of lettermen Walter Lawrence, Dud Connors, Dan Wood, Charles Cloud. The lettermen group was bolstered by the return of Fred Aucamp, a letterman three years ago. Mark intended to use Lawrence and Aucamp as his number one and number two men in seasonal matches.

A field of eight candidates reported to try for a berth on the 1957 version of the William and Mary linksmen. Ken Rice and Charles Dudley headed the list and were counted on for future service with their war clubs. Bill Bickler, Bill Accomando, Nelson Hopkins, Roger Knorre, Jerry Levine, and Jay Schribber gave Coach Mark an ample field from which to select his top six men.

The linksmen demonstrated a need for strength in the 4, 5, and 6 positions. Lawrence and Aucamp created a solid nucleus around which Mark could mould his team. The linksmen looked stronger this season than they had for several years past.

The Reservation linksmen opened their 1957 season against Furman on W&M home territory as they started out on a 12 game schedule. Following that contest, they took on George Washington at Washington and then returned home for a four game home stand against Virginia, Richmond, West Virginia, and Washington-Lee University. Virginia Tech and Virginia Military Institute accepted the invasion of their home course by the W&M linksmen, after which the William and Mary linksmen returned to the Williamsburg course to meet George Washington in their second meeting. The W&M team traveled to Danville to meet Citadel and closed out the season with two tournaments, the Big Six and Southern Conference.

The William and Mary linksmen practiced on the Williamsburg golf course and welcomed all spectators who attended either practices or scheduled matches with other schools.

Fraternity Basketball action

The Kappa Sigma fraternity touchdown copped the fraternity league title in an exciting 12-6 play-off contest with a heavily favored PiKA six. Wayne Lowrry and Dick "Possum" Sanders accounted for the Kappa Sig scoring. In the Independent League, the US football crew won the Independent League Championship with a clean 7-0 slate. Monroe third finished second with a 6-1 log.

The US and Kappa Sig teams met for the school championship in one of the most exciting games of the year. Behind with a score 6-4 in the final stages of the game, Kappa Sig scored a long aerial from Lowry to Pete High and added the extra point to prevail, 11-6. The first four points for the Fraternity champs were as the results of two safeties.

The Kappa Sig continued its conquest of the intramural competitions by winning the swimming meet. A strong Montoe team, composed of independents, took second and SAE notched the third position. The relay team of Lowry, Tim Cochran, Stu Duncan; and John Ottoway turned the trick for the Kappa Sigs.

and his winning of the Place-Kicking Championship. He tallied 50-50 in the third round to down all commers. Bob Northcott was second with 49-50; Jim Rosenbaum (SAE) botted 48-50; and Sid Pauls (SAE) with 46 of 50 attempts.

KA also swept the wrestling tournament by placing four champions in eight classes. Dave Edmunds (147); Scampy Oldaker (137); Rod Elliott (157); and Tom Morton (131) dominated the lighted weight divisions for the Kappa Alpha team.

Sigmu placed two men on the Championship role. Tom Kanas, alleged to be the best wrestler in school, cropped the 177 pound class, while fraternity brother Ray Chiesa notched the victory in the Unlimited class. Irv Blacher of Phi Tau toppled his opponent in the finals to capture the 167 pound class title, while Norman Moore, representing the Independents, took the 191 pound class title.

PiKA revived its hopes for the Fraternity Trophy by winning the bowling tournament. Phi Tau placed second and SAE finished in third place. Kappa Sig and KA, battling nip-and-tuck for the lead in total fraternity points finished fifth and sixth, respectively.

Nate Withers of Sigma Nu gained the laurels in the free throw contest, while Bill Carver, an independent, nailed down the horse-shoe championship by defeating KA's Bob Hoitsma.

Sigma Pi applied the pressure to the leaders by capturing the Volleyball title. Phi Tau sneaked into second place, while Theta Delt, still hopeful but fading fast, eaked out a third place position. With all the results tabulated through the free-throw event, Kappa Sig lead the league in total points with 322. KA was second with 315, and PiKA was third with 272. Sigma Pi, a dark-horse, was fourth with 250 points.

However, when the wrestling results were figured and added to the tabulations, KA had moved into the lead with a whopping 503¹₂ points. Kappa Sigma claimed second place with 447¹₂ markers. Sigma Nu and Sigma Pi moved into challenging positions with 400 and 398¹/₂ points, respectively.

Sigma Pi neared the Basketball crown with a 7-0 log as Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sig faltered. However, Kappa Sig had Tow Swann in the handball tournament and badminton tournament, and retained its winning track team from last year. Swann, who copped the tennis title, was also a threat in the Badminton tourney. Sigma Nu had Nate Withers and Bill Hammack in ping-pong and handball, and their individual abilities made Sigma Nu a threat to move up. However, the final outcome of the Fraternity Trophy Race depended upon the results of the Softball competition.

At Matoka Lake early in September, the Women's Athletic Association opened the 1956-57 season with its annual freshman orientation picnic. Included in the afternoon's activities were softball and volleyball games and short talks concerning women's sports. From the time of the picnic to the close of the year, women engaged in various activities, ranging from hockey to ping-pong.

Journeying to Delaware and other states for games and tournaments, the Varsity teams learned to improve their skills in bridge as well as in their respective sports. The Squaws were not consistently on the winning side, but they always showed enthusiasm and team spirit, which enabled

As soon as a woman enters William and Mary, she automatically becomes a member of the W.A.A. This entitles her to play varsity or intramural sports as she chooses. The W.A.A. is governed by the Joint Committee, a group composed of faculty and student members, whose duty is to take care of all financial matters, determine policies of the association and exercise supervision over all its departments.

Presiding over the W.A.A. this year was Mary Talmadge, an efficient executive and capable athlete. Working with Mary on the Joint Committee were Ginny Wachob, Jane Boorman, Kathy Hamilton, and Hloy Patsalides.

Despite a poor record, the Squaws gained much experience in basketball this season. Judy Fruland, Captain, June Roberts, and Evelyn Avery were returning veterans. Trips were made to Sweetbriar, Westhampton, and Longwood, while Ursinus, R.P.I., and Notre Dame were met on the home court.

In the spring, the Squaws turned to Lacrosse with Cammie Day, Gretchen Grunenfelder, Judy Short, and Manu Layne returning members. They met competition from Westhampton, Sweetbriar, Hollins, and Longwood. In the Virginia Women's Lacrosse Tournament, they met Southern Seminary.

Also in the spring, the women's tennis team engaged against Sweetbriar, Westhampton, Swarthmore, R.P.I.,

Also in this catagory was the bowling tournament under Pat Clark's management. The women entered the National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Bowling Tournament three times.

Basketball managers, Yvonne Beattie and Lucy Chrisman, set up a round-robin tournament with Barrett emerging victorious and Jefferson in second. The Pan-Hellenic team and Chandler were tied for third place.

Orchesis, the modern dance group of William and Mary, provides a means through which students may further their interest in the dance on a more advanced level than offered in the gym classes. Early in the fall the group held tryouts for new members, Prior to the tryouts they presented a number of dances selected from the concert of the previous year for the prospective members. The following week a reception was held for the new members at the home of Miss Gladys Warren, the faculty director.

Throughout the year, the club's meetings were devoted to preparation for their annual concert which was presented in April. The dances composing the concert were directed, choreographed and danced by the members of orchesis. Following no central theme, the concert contained suites of dances falling under three main sections: ballads, preclassical music and poetry. For the first time the club drew from the gym classes those non-members who showed outstanding ability, Several of the dances were duo numbers while several members starred in solo numbers.

In attempting to form in its members a sense of appreciation of dance as an art form, Orchesis provides valuable experience in the development of their abilities in, and feeling for the dance.

Mermettes -

Mermettes is an organization composed of women students chosen for their interest in, and ability for, swimming. Tryouts are held in the Fall, at which time the new members are selected. Then the members begin practicing. They practice all year to perfect the water show which they present each March.

Not only do the girls practice for months working with water skills and synchronized swimming, but they also plan the entire show themselves. It takes a great deal of practice and patience to learn to work together in the water, and the cooperation of each girl is essential. The girls, in this manner, learn to put together a show from beginning to end. They become acquainted with the ways and means of lighting a water show and the techniques involved in nautigraphing each number.

This year's show had "Seasons" as its theme. The girls performed various numbers associating different seasons of the year with each ballet scheme and reflecting the mood each season seemed to suggest. Beginning with a number representing summer, the Mermettes swam through the calendar of seasons in one of the most enjoyable shows in Mermette history.

The assistance rendered by the newly established technical crew was invaluable. These non-swimming Mermette members took charge of backdrops, lighting, props, and costumes for the show.

Pep rallies on College Corner, bonfires, and snakedances were led by the Cheerleaders to promote school spirit and support by the students for the football and basketball teams. Led by Captain Tim Cochran, the cheerleaders did a magnificent job of keeping spirits high. They cheered at all the home football games and at four away games: Army, Rutgers, Navy, and Virginia Military Institute. Added to their strenuous duties was the planning of half-time entertainment, which was always a success. The squad also led the stands in cheers and yells at most of the basketball games.

Try-outs are held each spring in order to make replacements for the graduating members. Although at present the squad itself holds these tryouts and makes the final choice, they feel that a more fair and impartial judging could be held by a faculty committee. This year the cheerleaders will lose all four of the girls, one of whom—Kay Wirth—is a four-year member.

This year's team was composed of Captain Tim Cochran, Kay Wirth, Alice Matthews, Jane Hutton, Faye Jones, Tom Hamilton, Jack Herring, Art Perry, and Bruiser Camp. The Indian Squaws were Pat King and Karen Thomas. John Hart was the Indian Chief. The Chief had been a part of the squad in previous years, but had not been seen by the students recently. The Varsity Club, under the leadership of its president, Jack Yohe, expanded in 1956-57 and has taken its place among the more important and thriving organizations on the William and Mary campus.

The club, founded in 1914, is composed solely of boys who have won their varsity letters in any college-sanctioned intercollegiate sport, and had over fifty members this year, with every team represented in the membership. Its purpose is to further the interests of athletics, to promote sportsman-like conduct on and off the campus and to encourage intramural athletics in the college.

The past year has been an active one for Varsity Club members. Following the Richmond-William and Mary game on Thanksgiving Day they threw a football party in Richmond attended both by the members and numerous alumni who attended the game. They sponsored top events during the basketball season with their annual selection of a basketball queen and a basketball dance. Spring found them at a beach party at Yorktown.

Among the Varstiy Club's plans for the coming year is an attempt to obtain its own room in which to hold meetings and recreation as soon as possible.

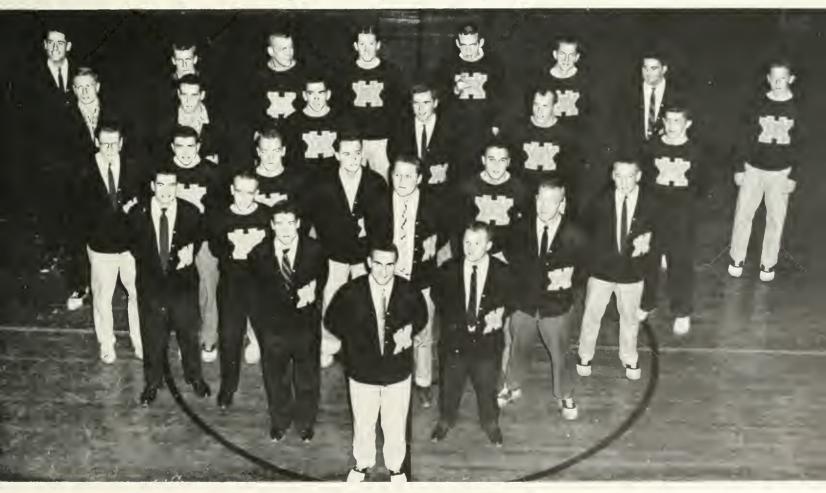

Officers for the year were Jack Yohe, President; Ray Chiesa, Vice-President; Don Dew, Secretary; Mike Miller, Treasurer, and Pete Kalison, Historian.

In Memoriam

DR. JESS HAMILTON JACKSON Chairman of the Department of English Professor of English

DR. JAMES ERNEST PATE Professor of Political Science The Christopher Wren Building 4695~1931

Their Majesties KING WILLIAM & QUEEN MARY

on February the eighth, system hundred and ninety-three, granted a charter, establishing the College of Will IAM and MARY in VIRGINIA "to the end that the CHURCH of VIRGINIA may be furnished with a Seminary of Ministers of the Gospel, and that the Youth may be piously educated in good Letters and Manners, and that the Christian faith may be propagated amongst the Western Indians.

TO THE GLORY of ALMIGHTY GOD"

The LORD BISHOP of LONDON was the first Chancellor of the College and the Reverend Doctor JAMES BLAIR, Commissary of the Bishop of London was FIRST PRESIDENT, serving in this office until his death in 1743.

This Building beautiful and commodious being first modelled by SIR CHRISTOPHER WREN" the Surveyor General to Their Majesties, and "adapted to the Nature of the Country by the Gentlemen there" was erected in 1995 After the removal of the Seat of Government from Jamestown to Williamsburg in 1999, the General Assembly met in the Great Hall until the Completion of the Capitol in 1704 and again its Sessions were there held from 1717 to 1752 after the burning of the Capitol in 1717. In the Great Hall the Convocations of the Clergy were also Convened.

Burned in 1705 - It was, before 1716, partially redesigned, "rebuilt and nicely contrived and adorned by the ingenious Direction of Governor ALEXANDER SPOTSWOOD" the original walls being preserved. The Chapel Wing was added in 1732 There be interred the Remains of LORD BOTETOURT. SIR JOHN RANDOLPH, his Sons PEYTON RANDOLPH and JOHN RANDOLPH, BISHOP JAMES MADISON, and of other honored Dead.

Here GEORGE WASHINGTON, subsequently Chancellor of the College, received his Surveyor's Commission in 1749: BENJAMIN FRANKLIN the Honorary Degree of Master of Arts in 1750; and the Chevalier de Chastellux and THOMAS JEFFERSON in 1782 the Degree of Doctor of Civil Law.

During the Yorktown Campaign this Building was used as a Hospital for the Sick and Wounded of the French and American Armies. In the War of 1812 it served as barracks for the Militia Burned again in 1830, it was rebuilt on the old walls and used until May 1861. In the War between the States it was occupied by the Confederate and later by the Federal Army In 1862, for the third time, it became the prest to devastating flames With Revenues Cahausted by the Ravages of War, the College was not able to complete its Rebuilding until 1868. From 1880 to 1888 the College Bell rung by Colonel BENJAMIN'S EWELL, then President, echoed through the Silent Halls, deserted save for several students whose solicited attendance kept alive the Royal Charter

The Ancient Walls, scarred by fire weakened by time and ballowed by Noble Tradition, made potent Appe-I for a Restoration of the Building that would recall the vanished Symmetry and Beauty of its former Architectural Design. To this Appeal JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., made response and graciouslincluded in the Plan for the Restoration of Colonial Williamshurg, which was the fulfilment of the Cherished Dream of the Reverend Doctor WILLIAM A.R.GOODWIN. Rector of BRUTON PARISH CHURCH, the Restoration of this Building to the known 1732 Form and Design to bear Witness to the Continuity of this Building through Centuries of Service and to record the grateful appreciation of the BOARD of VISITORS and of Doctor J.A.C. CHANDLER. President of the College, for the Assurance which the Restoration gives that this Shrine of Learning and Inspiration, associated with the Memory of Scholars, Patriots and Statesmen will now endure

This Tablet is Erected
