AluminGazette

The College of William and Mary

ugust 1989 Vol. 57, No. 2

A Winning Combination Draws Top Attendance for Alumni College 1989

he Chesapeake Bay and the College of William and Mary formed a winning combination for 67 alumni, family members and friends who returned to campus June 22-25 for Alumni College 1989. "Exploring the Chesapeake Bay" attracted the largest ever crowd for this annual continuing education program sponsored by the Society of the Alumni. Participants represented 12 states and class years ranging from 1926 to 1981.

An opening seafood feast at the Alumni House on Thursday evening set the stage for a spirit of camaraderie that developed throughout the weekend. Faculty members became an integral part of small group discussions as everyone became acquainted on a relaxed, first-name basis.

On Friday, Maurice Lynch and Gene Silberhorn from the Virginia Institute of Marine Science, sociology professor Victor Ligouri, and geology professor Gerald Johnson spoke on the history, plant life, culture and geology of the Bay. On Saturday, participants saw many of the topics discussed when they boarded buses and headed for an early morning dig of a fossil pit, followed by a tour of VIMS and a boat tour of the Bay.

Joseph Maroon, executive director of the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, presented concluding comments at Sunday's luncheon. He quoted baseball manager Casey Stengel, "I hate to make predictions, especially about the future," and then added, "but I prefer to remain optimistic about the future of the Bay."

As participants said goodbye to newly made friends among the William and Mary family, they left better informed about one of our country's most treasured natural resources. They too, no doubt, preferred to remain optimistic about its future.

Teacher Rebecca Ringley Blevins '81 of Coeburn, Va. (foreground), and Eve Cooley, one of her gifted and talented students she invited to attend the program, view sea animals in the aquarium at VIMS.

Nancy Guptill Searle '43 and her husband, Bob, traveled from Bath, Maine, to attend the program.

Nyla Hashmi, a member of the Student Alumni Council, presents Diane Oakerson Fleming '57 and her husband, Bryan, with their Alumni College "diplomas" at Saturday evening's dinner.

Fig. 1. The state of the state

During a tour of VIMS, Evangeline Bunell Klug '35 (left) and Mary Hostetter Winder '49 are intrigued by a sea creature Maurice Lynch pulled from the viewing tank at Watermen's Hall.

Professor Gerald Johnson (left) helps identify and date fossils found at the pit in Grafton, Va., during Saturday's geology field trip.

Sue Gammisch, marine education specialist at VIMS, offers pointers on crabcracking to Barbara Beard (left) and Betty Wyatt. Ms. Gammisch presented a slide program on seafood prior to dinner.

A Saturday afternoon boat tour of the Chesapeake Bay offered a glimpse of life in and around the Bay.

Sue Whitehead Byars '44 of Morristown, Tenn., attended with her daughter, Barbara Beard, of Mobile, Ala. A second parent-daughter pair was John Purtill '40 and Anne Purtill O'Connor '66, both of Glastonbury, Conn.

Gazette Alumni

The College of William and Mary

August1989

Vol. 57, No. 2

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1 Another Successful Alumni College

Participants give resounding endorsement to Society of the Alumni's 1989 Alumni College

2 Spring Auction Set for the Big Apple

Christie's famous auction house will be site of March event

2 Gifts Set Record Alumni, friends give more than $13 million to College

3 Alumni Eyed for Several Judgeships

Billy Person '56 Named to Ninth Circuit; others are nominated

5 Busy Alumnus Works for William and Mary

Despite a hectic schedule, Mark McCormack '51 finds time to serve as Campaign chairman

6 Tribe Gets a Kick Out of Steve Christie

Canadian import is William and Mary's best all-time kicker

6 Wightman Attracts Top Women Players

British-American competition scheduled for William and Mary Hall Sept. 14-16

7 1989 Travel Program

Alumni Travel Program schedules trips to South America, Alaska, Europe and Egypt

8 Alumni Society Activities Noted

Theatre reunion scheduled for Homecoming; chapter meetings listed; chapters show rapid growth

Alumni Gazette and William and Mary Magazine are published eight times a year by the Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary. Address correspondence, Class Notes and Vital Statistics (Births and Marriages) to Alumni Gazette, P. O. Box GO, Williamsburg, VA 23187 (804) 229-1693.

Executive Publisher	W. Barry Adams
Editor	S. Dean Olson
Associate Editor	Virginia C. Collins '77
Design	June Skalak
Photography	C. James Gleason
Composition	Sylvia Colston
Director of Administration and Records	Ben F. Kellam III '78

and Records
Assistant Director (Society Services)
Director of Alumni Affairs
Assistant Director (Chapters)
Assistant Director (Reunions Elizabeth S. Littlefield '86 and Campus Activities)

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Society of the Alumni
A. Marshall Acuff, Jr '62, President
Harriett L. Stanley '72, Vice President
Carolyn Todd Schaubach '59, Secretary
John S. Entwisle '44, Treasurer.
Vincent T. DeVita, Jr. '57
Jane Ottaway Dow '55
Grosse Point Farms, Mich.
Joseph J. Ellis '65
J. Edward Grimsley '51
Anne Nenzel Lambert '35
Joseph W. Montgomery '74
Lucy Jones Murphy '48
Charles L. Quittmeyer '40
Ann-Meade Baskervill Simpson '65
Helen Thomson Stafford '48
Jerry Van Voorhis '63

Riverside, Conn.
New York, N.Y.
South Hadley, Mass.
Richmond, Va.
Williamsburg, Va.
Williamsburg, Va.
Williamsburg, Va.
Virginia Beach, Va.
Princeton, N. J.
Chatham, Va.

The Best of Times

By Barry Adams

his year's Homecoming theme, "The Best of Times," really describes a culminant state on a perpetual climb. While it is readily apparent that this past year has been one of the most exciting and monumental in the College's history, we've arrived at this state through 296 years of building, advocating, creating and adjusting. Academic progress and institutional initiatives today bloom only after years of cultivation among faculty, administrators, alumni and legislators. At a university, the "best of times" is made possible by a collective sense of what has transpired before us and the vision of those who are committed to the advancement of the institution in today's world.

Still, the past academic year justifies a review if only to provide us with a sort of reality pinch before we charge headlong into the 1989-90 session. After a somewhat nonspecific survey of the past six issues of the Alumni Gazette and the two annual editions of the William and Mary Magazine, I've recalled many milestones worth mentioning before we proceed. Here are a few headlines that stand out:

- Admission Applications Exceed 10,000
- College Dedicates Reves Center
- $150 Million Campaign Announced
- Princess Margriet, British Attend Charter Day
- Gifts to College Top $10 Million
- Tribe to Play in U.S.-Japan Bowl
- New Ewell Hall Opens for Music Department
- Close Draws Packed House to Commencement

Exciting? You bet! Tremendous strides? Without question! But there were other headlines that were just as important, albeit far less eyecatching, in the life of an educational institution. These headlines reflect the strength of the faculty, students and alumni, a trilateral basis for building and maintaining any great university. A few that caught my eye are listed below:

- William and Mary Senior Named Rhodes Scholar
- The East Asia Initiative
- The Big Prize! Faculty Member Wins MacArthur Prize
- New Public Policy Program Studies Contemporary Issues
- Hall of Fame Enshrines Seven Athletes
- Three Faculty Members Receive NEH Awards
- Visiting Scholars Program Attracts Named Professors
- Class of 1939 Celebrates 50 Years
- Alumni Discuss Public Service
- Reves Center Contributes to International Understanding
- · Why Foreign Students Study at the College
- Student Ambassadors Link William and Mary Generations
- College Honors Olde Guarde at Annual Reunion

Mary Bicouvaris '70 Named National Teacher of the Year
Glenn Close Lauds William and Mary Education

Even the casual reader of William and Mary publications can see that the two sets of headlines are inextricably linked. Faculty and students are attracted and remain at an institution because of an academic program that is strong nationally and philosophically. Improvements in our facilities encourage and inspire those who must utilize them — they also are often a source of great pride. Access to our resources, through scholarships and grants, provides opportunities which otherwise may have been unattainable. Public awareness, often generated through major campus events, builds support and commitment. Traditions and the creation of new ones bind us together.

These are indeed the "The Best of Times" and they are a creation of people, events, intellect and time. Come celebrate it at this year's Homecoming.

Save the Date Now! March 2-5, 1990

rom across the country, William and Mary alumni will gather next March in New York City for the William and Mary-New York Auction Weekend. The highlight of this spectacular weekend will be an auction hosted by Christie's at its famous auction house on Park Avenue.

Beginning with a champagne reception, this festive evening will feature items for live and silent auction donated by William and Mary alumni and friends throughout the nation. All of the proceeds from the sale of "lots" will go into a fund that the New York Alumni Chapter has established for a major gift to the College in honor of the 1993 Tercentenary Celebration.

On Saturday night? Broadway, of course! William and Mary has reserved seats in the orchestra section for Annie II: Miss Hannigan's Revenge. Produced by Peter Neufeld '58, Annie II will be in Preview or Opening Week on March 3!

Guests will stay at Trusthouse Forte's Westbury Hotel on Manhattan's Upper East Side only blocks from Christie's. Individually decorated rooms in this stylish British hotel will be available to alumni and friends at a special rate of $160 per night.

The Board of Sponsors for the auction includes some of William and Mary's most distinguished alumni: award-winning actresses Glenn Close '74 and Linda Lavin '59, Broadway producer Peter Neufeld '58, Wall Street's Marshall Acuff '62, artist Robert Miles Parker '61, sports executive and author Mark McCormack '51, and Dr. Vincent DeVita '57, director of the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center.

Items that will be up for bidding include the scoreboard from Blow Gymnasium, a complete women's outfit from Perry Ellis International, a weekend in an Outer Banks resort, two USAir round-trip tickets from anywhere in the United States to Williamsburg, lodging in Williamsburg for Homecoming and Christmas, and many others!

Since 1984 the New York Alumni Chapter has held four auctions at Sotheby's raising more than $15,000. The "new" auction at Christie's will be an annual event culminating in 1993 with the total gift being donated to the College by the New York Auction Weekend Committee.

This year the auction is

This year the auction is again hosted by the New York, Northern New Jersey and Southern Connecticut chapters, but it will become a national event. The Society of the

Close

Lavin

Neufeld

Acuff

Parker

DeVita

McCormack

Alumni staff is providing extensive support, and each of the 50 chapters and interest groups from across the country is being asked to donate an item for the auction.

The diversity and quality of the auction lots are what make an auction dynamic and profitable. Travel and resort packages, major sports events tickets, and unique items of historical or nostalgic value will all be featured at the New York Auction. If you or your corporation has access to an exciting item that you would like to donate to your alma mater, please contact Acquisitions Committee Chairman Leslie Fouts at (212) 982-7002.

Gene Galusha'63, who planned the first New York chapter auctions and is on the steering committee of the New York Auction Weekend, said, "This year's auction will be the most spectacular ever. We hope alumni and friends of the College from around the world will join us for this exciting William and Mary reunion in New York."

The auction will provide attendees with a unique exportunity.

The auction will provide attendees with a unique opportunity to enjoy a spectacular weekend in New York City, including a private function at the renowned Christie's auction house, fantastic seats at a brand new Broadway play, in addition to allowing plenty of time to enjoy the shopping, sights and sounds of the city that never sleeps. If you are interested in attending or need more information on the New York Auction Weekend, call Auction Chair Barbara Johnson at (212) 734-8152 or call the Society of the Alumni at (804) 229-1693.

Private Gifts Top Record

The College received a record $13,362,371 in private gifts during the 1988-89 fiscal year, a 32.7 percent increase over the previous year's $10,066,394 and the highest total ever given in one year.

President Verkuil attributed the record to growing enthusiasm in support of the College's $150 million Campaign for the Fourth Century. "There is no doubt that the momentum generated by the campaign has had a positive impact on our success in attracting private support," said Verkuil. "We are grateful for that support and confident that it will continue throughout the campaign."

"It is especially gratifying to see this kind of enthusiasm so early in the campaign," said Edward T. Allenby, vice president for university advancement. "We owe a great deal of our success to the dedication of volunteers, who have taken leadership positions in the campaign and will continue to boost our efforts in regions throughout the country."

This year's $13 million total, which reflects gifts received from all sources for all purposes from July 1, 1988, through June 30, 1989, showed increases in every category.

Alumni, parents and friends made gifts totaling $9,438,664 in 1988-89, up from $6,704,430 the previous year. Foundations contributed $1,646,153, compared with $1,479,689 in 1987-88. Corporations set an all-time record with $2,224,491, compared with a 1987-88 total of $1,882,020.

Billy Person '56, who had served as Commonwealth Attorney for Virginia's Williamsburg and James City County, was elevated to judge of the Ninth Circuit Court of Virginia this summer.

Person Elevated to Bench of Virginia's Ninth Circuit

By Charles M. Holloway

Margaret P. Spencer (above), a faculty member at Marshall-Wythe School of Law, and J.R. Zepkin '63 J.D. are both candidates for a vacancy on the Court of Appeals.

When he donned the symbolic black robe the first week in July. Person became the latest in a series of distinguished William and Mary alumni and faculty carrying on the legacy of leadership in public services begun by Thomas Jefferson and George Wythe.

ommonwealth Attorney William L. Person Jr. '56 finished cleaning out his desk on his last day in office after 25 years as Commonwealth Attorney, wound his way through the warren of offices under renovation and walked into a Williamsburg courtroom to be sworn in as judge of Virginia's 9th Circuit.

When he donned the symbolic black robe the first week in July, Person became the latest in a series of distinguished William and Mary alumni and faculty carrying on the legacy of leadership in public services begun by Thomas Jefferson and George Wythe.

Person's assistant, George C. Fairbanks IV '69, '71 M.Ed., '75 J.D., was named to succeed him as acting commonwealth attorney for the area, and on July 12, President George Bush nominated U.S. Magistrate Rebecca Beach Smith '71, '79 J.D. to become the first woman ever to sit on the federal bench in Virginia.

On Aug. 3, J. R. Zepkin '63 J.D., judge in the 9th Judicial District for the past 16 years, was identified as a preeminent candidate for a vacancy on the Court of Appeals. Zepkin has the backing of many professional groups in the state

Margaret P. Spencer, a faculty member at Marshall-Wythe School of Law, was also listed as one of the most highly qualified candidates. Spencer served as an assistant U.S. attorney before joining the faculty.

Mrs. Smith demonstrated her outstanding abilities early by graduating Phi Beta Kappa from the College and then moving on to earn a master's degree in city planning and public administration at the University of Virginia, where she was first in her class.

After an interlude of work at the National Academy of Sciences, she entered Marshall-Wythe School of Law and graduated first in her class in 1979.

Senator John Warner said upon her nomination, "In the 11 years that I have been providing recommendation for the federal judiciary, I have never experienced a candidate who garnered wider or more genuine endorsements from his or her professional peers."

In July, Judge Person interrupted the steady flow of hearings and meetings to find an inner sanctum in the courtroom building and relaxed at an oval conference table to talk about his 25 years as Commonwealth Attorney and about growing up in Williamsburg.

"Billy" Person is a Sam Nunn look-alike with a high forehead and horn-rimmed glasses. A lean and angular 6' 4", he moves with the grace of a former athlete, and did, in fact, play basketball at William and Mary in the era of Blow Gym, which he describes as "an intimate arena that really brought the fans into the games — and sometimes took the players into the crowd, too.

"We had a pretty good team," he recalls. "We won the Big Six title one year. But, "he adds with a smile, "I wasn't all that tall, even in those days; I didn't dominate. I was just an average player."

Wearing a natty tan gabardine suit, yellow button-down shirt and pastel tie, Person reflects on the life and times of his new jurisdiction. Few people know the manners, mores and transgressions of Williamsburg and James City County better than he does. He literally grew up on the streets of Colonial Williamsburg. He went through all 12 grades at Matthew Whaley School, and his father's Exxon station became a landmark in Merchants Square. The family's roots extend back to the turn of the century, when his grandfather left New Jersey to settle in the sleepy little town.

After graduation from William and Mary in 1956, Person moved temporarily to Charlottesville to attend the University of Virginia Law School, subsequently returning to become Commonwealth Attorney in Williamsburg in 1964.

"People tend to think that the crime rate has accelerated in recent years," Person says. "Actually, there are more crimes now, but that's basically because of steady growth in population. There is no doubt in my mind that drugs have played a role in exacerbating the overall crime problem."

As he looks back on his years as Commonwealth Attorney, Person has no hesitation in naming his most difficult cases. Both were capital punishment crimes — murders — involving Michael Marnell Smith (eventually executed after several years on Death Row) and Sylvester Poyner.

Because of his professionalism and objectivity, Person is widely respected in the Tidewater area. He seems eminently prepared to take on his new responsibilities as judge of the 9th circuit, which encompasses a diverse geographical and demographic area reaching from Charles City to New Kent to York, Gloucester, King and Queen, King William, Middlesex and the populous James City County-Williamsburg.

In addition to his solid background in the law, Person also works actively on a variety of local community programs including Kiwanis and College alumni activities.

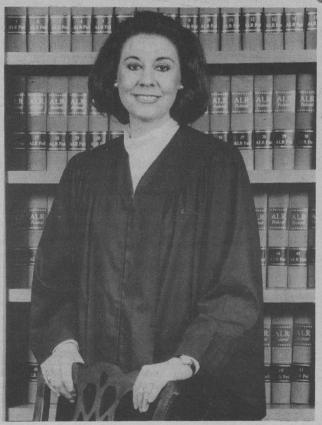

Person contemplates the general course of the legal process and comments on the role and nature of juries and the jury selection process. "We must continue to have good representation — a cross-section of the population — on juries," he says. "That's vitally important." He notes that in recent years the legislature has tightened up on the many exemptions from jury service, and he feels this is a positive change. "Everyone should participate in the system, and understand how it works."

In this vein, he takes a philosophical, almost whimsical view of TV portrayals of lawyers and courts in such dramas as L.A. Law and Matlock. "Well, some of them are good entertainment," he allows. "But they are not necessarily good or accurate examples of how the profession really works, and they're certainly not typical of what we see and do here in Williamsburg. I think that for understandable reasons, TV tends to seek extremes for the sake of drama. In jury cases, for example, their shows lead people to expect lots of surprises and unexpected turns due to the skill of the prosecutor (or defender). It usually doesn't happen that way in real life - an everyday trial tends to follow a logical course based on known evidence."

As for using cameras in the courtroom, Person points out that they are presently unlawful in Virginia, although some pilot programs are underway to help determine the potential usefulness of such coverage. "I think it may turn out to be a good idea — cameras could help expand public understanding and knowledge of how the courts work, and it certainly would broaden public access to trials and courts — there simply isn't enough room for audiences in many cases."

The growing number and percentage of women in the law strikes Person as a most positive development. "I believe that the figure nationally is approaching 40 percent," he says. "That's a dramatic change from the early 1960s. I clearly remember that my own law school class at U.Va. only had three women in it. But I also remember that all three of them graduated in the top 10 percent of the class."

The recent news about Rebecca Smith is a perfect case in point. "It would be hard to imagine a better-qualified person for the judgeship," Person says. "She was number one in her class, and typifies the high quality of women entering the profession now."

On July 12, President George Bush nominated U.S. Magistrate Rebecca Beach Smith '71, '79 J.D. to become the first woman ever to sit on the federal bench in Virginia.

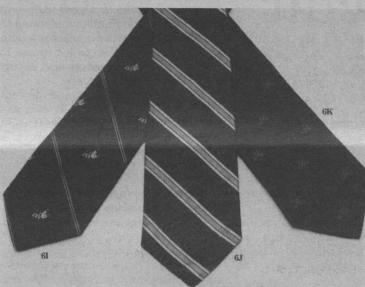

Society of the Alumni Gift Shoppe

Offering items of quality to add to your William and Mary collection.

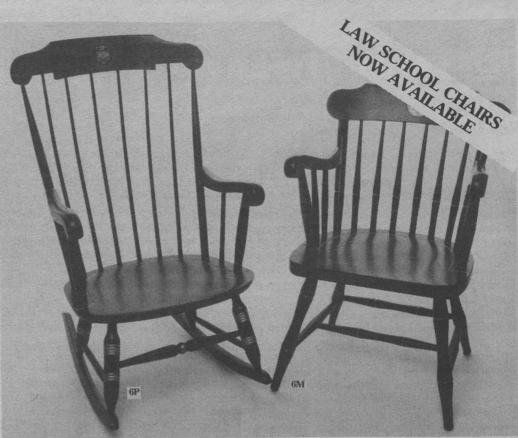

CLASSIC 24KT GOLD-PLATED JEWELRY by Jardine features a high quality reproduction of the coat of arms outlined in gold with a recessed smoke-colored background.

6A Blazer Button Set (3 large, 6 small)	$43.00
6B Men's Cuff Links
6C Women's Cuff Links	$17.00
6D Keychain (not pictured)	$13.00
6E Stickpin	$11.00
6F Earrings (dangle) (not pictured)	$15.00
6G Necklace w/herringbone chain (not pictured)	$25.00
6H Lapel Pin	$11.00

NECKTIES by Wm. Chelsea Ltd. in 100 percent silk available in three designs to add some school spirit to the wardrobe of any student, recent graduate or executive.

6I Feather Logo (green or navy)	$23.50
6J Rep (green with gold and silver stripe)	$23.50
6K Royal Cipher (green)	$23.50

CHAIRS AND ROCKERS by Nichols & Stone are finished in black lacquer with handpainted gold trim. Captain's chairs have cherry arms. The College's coat of arms is depicted on the header of each chair either in skillfully applied gold leaf or on an inset bronze medallion. We are pleased to announce availability of chairs specifically designed for the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. Any chair may be personalized with a brass plate for an additional charge.

Shipping information: UPS charges are included in the price of captain's chairs. Rockers ship freight collect with an average charge of $30.00. Freight to the Alumni House is $20.00. Please allow 8-10 weeks for delivery. CHRISTMAS ORDERS SHOULD BE PLACED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

6L	Captain's chair w/gold leaf coat of arms	$195.00
6M	Captain's chair w/College medallion	$250.00
6N	Captain's chair w/LAW SCHOOL medallion	$250.00
60	Boston Rocker w/gold leaf coat of arms
	(freight collect)	$165.00
6P	Boston Rocker w/College medallion (freight collect)	$195.00
6Q	Boston Rocker w/LAW SCHOOL medallion
	(freight collect)	$195.00
6R	Child's Rocker w/gold leaf coat of arms	$100.00
6S	Chair cushion (green w/black trim)	$ 17.00
6T	Personalization Plate
	(1-3 lines engraved - see order form)	$ 18.00
6U	College medallion bronze paperweight, 3" diameter	$ 23.00
6V	Law School medallion bronze paperweight,
	3" diameter	$ 23.00

WATCH FOR OUR FOUR PAGE INSERT IN THE OCTOBER ISSUE!

DETACH ORDER FORM HERE

Mail to: Society of the Alumni Gift Shoppe P.O. Box GO Williamsburg, VA 23187 Phone: (804) 229-1693 (804) 253-4302

AUG/89

Quantity Item No. and Description Total Virginia Residents, add 4.5% sales tax Add $1.50 for each item shipped west of the Mississippi ($6.00 for Captain's Chairs) Total Amount Enclosed

Personalization Instructions (Limited to three lines for chairs and rockers)

MAKE CHECKS PAYABLE TO "SOCIETY OF THE ALUMNI" Most orders shipped within 7 days of receipt.

Class Your Name

Street Address

City, State, Zip

Daytime Phone No. (Please charge to my MasterCard VISA

Card No. _ Interbank No. Exp. Date (MC only)

 $\hfill \square$ These items are gifts and should have gift card enclosed and be shipped to person indicated in order blank.

If different from above address:

Ship To

Address

Despite a Hectic Schedule McCormack Serves W&M

By Melissa Gill '82

ark McCormack'51 has a reputation of squeezing 70 seconds out of every minute. As president of International Management Group (IMG), which has 21 offices in 14 countries, McCormack is always on the go, directing a sports and entertainment empire that generates revenues of over $500 million a year.

The roster of McCormack's clients speaks for his success. In 1982, McCormack signed on one of his most prestigious clients — the Pope. The Vatican gave its blessing for Mark to sell the merchandising rights during the Pontiff's visit to England. His current clients include sports figures Arnold Palmer, Martina Navratilova, Herschel Walker, Curtis Strange and Jim Rice, as well as opera singer Dame Kiri Te Although IMG now represents leading figures in many fields, sports are McCormack's specialty, and golf is where it all began. As a child growing up on Chicago's south shore, McCormack suffered a skull fracture in a car accident. The injury ruled out contact sports, and Mark's father handed him a golf club to keep him active.

McCormack won the Chicago prep school title and then went on to William and Mary, where he played No. 1 on the golf team and participated in 11 other student activities. After receiving an A.B. degree in French from the College in 1951, McCormack went on to Yale Law School. He spent two years teaching military law in Augusta, Ga., and then joined Arter & Hadden, a Cleveland law firm.

"I didn't find law all that thrilling," says McCormack. "There were all these 80-year-old guys shuffling around the halls, and when someone died everyone moved offices. It was as if my whole life was programmed. All I was really interested in was playing golf." And he continued to play the game, qualifying for four U.S. Amateur Championships, three British Amateurs and one U.S. Open.

In 1959, McCormack decided to formally combine his law career with his love of golf. He and a partner formed a company that booked exhibitions for professional golfers. Soon players were seeking McCormack's advice on contracts and endorsements. "I was appalled by the one-sidedness of the contracts," he recalls. "It seemed to me that someone should be representing the interests of the golfers. Athletes had been ripped off for so long that I felt like Robin Hood.

McCormack was interested in representing rising golf star Arnold Palmer, whom he had met in his days on the William and Mary golf team during a match with Wake Forest. In again."

1960, Palmer asked McCormack to represent him exclusively. In that year, Palmer's income was about $60,000. Within two years, he was grossing over $500,000 annually. Through McCormack-negotiated licensing arrangements, books, articles, radio and TV shows, golf exhibitions and other related activities, Arnold Palmer became a household name.

Over the years, IMG has become a publisher, a literary agency, an international modeling agency, and a manager of classical musicians. IMG is also one of the world's largest independent television sports producers, putting on programs including "Challenge of the Sexes" and "Battle of the Network Stars." McCormack himself has written several books, including the bestsellers What They Don't Teach You in Harvard Business School and The Terrible Truth About Lawyers.

McCormack still personally participates in sports, but he no longer plays much golf. Divorced and remarried to tennis professional Betsy Nagelsen, McCormack has taken up tennis. His wife's involvement is only one reason Mark took up the sport. Another is his tight schedule.

"Tennis takes less time," he says. And to someone who travels over 225,000 miles a year, keeping in touch with clients, business associates, and employees by phone and memos, time is truly a major concern.

Despite his hectic schedule, McCormack has remained close to William and Mary. In 1969, he was named to the William and Mary Athletic Hall of Fame, and he continues to support men and women's sports at the College. His other alumni activities include past chairmanship of and honorary lifetime membership in the President's Council and trustee emeritus of the Endowment Association Board. He received the Alumni Medallion for achievement and service to the College in

He is quick to acknowledge the importance of his William and Mary education: "William and Mary teaches you to examine things, to ask why and why not. I founded a business that had never existed before. The education I had received at William and Mary made me ask: Why shouldn't it exist? Why won't it work?

"The key to my success," says McCormack, "is that I truly love what I do. When you're enthusiastic about your work, the energy just comes to you naturally. I can't wait to get up in the morning and start over McCormack has extended that spirit to his new position as Chairman of William and Mary's Campaign for the Fourth Century.

When I was approached with the opportunity to serve as Chairman of the Campaign for the Fourth Century, I accepted with enthusiasm," he says. "I was struck by this unique opportunity to leave an imprint on William and Mary that will last forever. The mark that William and Mary left on me has endured. I expect that most William and Mary graduates feel the same. It is now our turn to leave a mark on William and Mary.'

Despite his hectic schedule, McCormack, who is serving as chairman of the Campaign for the Fourth Century, has remained close to William and Mary. He received the Alumni Medallion for service and loyalty to the College in 1981.

Profiles in Giving

Donor:

Bertha Mae Thompson Taylor '27 Leesburg, Virginia

Objective:

To establish the C. Russell Taylor Scholarship Endowment for deserving students in memory of her husband

Financial Objective: Gift Plan: Benefits:

Retirement income

Charitable Remainder Unitrust

- · income for life
 - immediate income tax savings
 - reduction of estate taxes
 - no investment or management
 - satisfaction of making a significant and enduring gift to William and mary while meeting important financial needs

Quote:

"I'm so pleased that the College suggested this plan for me. It was exactly the right choice in my situation."

For over a decade, Mark McCormack has been a leader in support of William and Mary's athletic programs. His gifts have provided athletic grants-in-aid for student athletes in the tennis and golf programs. Currently, McCormack's gifts are supporting student athletes in tennis. "His generosity has made it possible for William and Mary to recruit some fine students, who have added greatly to the strength of the College's athletic program," says associate athletic director Millie West.

1	21-15	×
1	V ZIMME
H	20	1
		'n
10		3
	50

Robert S. Dutro, Esq. Director for Estate Planning College of William and Mary Development Office Williamsburg, VA 23185

I may be interested in a Charitable Remainder Unitrust. Please send

Name _	Class

City	State	Zip

Year

Tribe Gets A Kick Out Of Steve Christie

By Bob Jeffrey '74

Kicker Steve Christie

WILLIAM AND MARY FOOTBALL

SEPT. 9	COLGATE	1:00 pm
16	at Virginia Military	1:00 pm
23	at Princeton	1:00 pm
30	at Virginia	7:00 pm
OCT. 7	DELAWARE	1:00 pm
14	at Oyster Bowl/Norfolk	1:30 pm
	Boston University
21	at Villanova	1:00 pm
28	at Lehigh	1:00 pm
NOV. 4	EASTTENNESSEE	1:00 pm
	ST.(HC)
11	JAMES MADISON	1-00 pm

18 RICHMOND

hen Steve Christie comes on to the football field this fall, William and Mary will have a leg up on its opponents. The senior from Oakville, Ont., has provided a winning edge for the Tribe gridders in each of his previous three seasons, demonstrating an ability to dominate games with the flick of his foot. After earning honorable mention All-American honors last fall, Christie looms again as an authentic All-American candidate as a placekicker and punter.

The soccer-style booter has already earned numerous honors while eclipsing almost every William and Mary record for kicking. Last season Christie nailed 15 of 22 field goal attempts and 24 for 27 points-after-touchdown, extending his career school records to 36 field goals and 78 PATs. In addition, he punted 66 times for a 42.4 yards per kick average, ranking him 4th in the nation among I-AA punters.

"He could be the difference between us being a good team and being a great team," said assistant coach Matt Kelchner, who has worked closely with Christie. "He makes the whole team more confident, because everybody knows when he goes out on the field something good is going to happen."

And all this success has come to a fellow who never kicked a football until his next-tolast year of high school. "I didn't start out to be a place kicker," Christie said.

Actually Christie was doing quite well in that other sport the Canadians call football, playing center-back on the Canadian youth soccer team. When he decided he wanted to attend college on a scholarship, however, football appeared to be the best bet. During the summer before his junior year, Christie practiced his kicking and was soon booming field goals and PATs for the Oakville team.

Fate took a hand in bringing Christie to William and Mary in the person of Bill Watson 79, a former All-American soccer star at the College. Watson saw Christie practicing and alerted W&M soccer coach Al Albert '69. The word reached head coach Jimmye Laycock '70 that Christie was interested in football, and presto, Christie was headed south.

With top punter Rod Lawrence and place kicker Brian Morris having graduated in '86, Christie stepped right in as a freshman and exceeded everyone's expectations, making 12 of 17 field goals and 36 to 38 PATs. He booted 49 punts for a 40.6 average. Christie also connected on six field goals from 40 yards or further, including a 51 yarder against Delaware that tied the school record at that time.

Christie extended the long-range field goal threat for the Tribe offense with a 53-yarder against East Tennessee State in his sophomore year, then equalled that effort in last fall's opener at Virginia. Without a doubt he is recognized as the finest place-kicker in William and Mary's gridiron history and has established himself as a real pro prospect.

"There's no question but that he can be a pro kicker," said Laycock. "The pros will give him a look because he can kick and punt and with the limits on roster size that's a big plus."

Kelchner, who also serves as the football staff's liaison with pro scouts, thinks that Christie's ultimate destiny in the pros may be as a punter. "Right now he's more consistent as a kicker, but he might have more potential to be a great punter. He has periods in practice when he will consistently be kicking the ball 60 yards or more on every punt. When he gets into a groove, it can be phenomenal," Kelchner said.

The big challenge for every kicker in the college ranks this fall, however, will be adjusting to kicking without a tee. The NCAA football rules committee voted in January to prohibit the use of tees on field goal and pointsafter-touchdown attempts.

Christie may be less affected than most because with his soccer background he's used to kicking the ball off the ground. The lower trajectory of the ball coming off the ground may result in new strategies for defenders against the field goal. "I would expect most of the teams to go for the block the season," said Kelchner, "utilizing their tallest players in the middle of the line to jump up and try to get a hand on the ball."

But Christie doesn't mind the change. "It seems comfortable to me now (kicking without a tee), but when I first started it was a bit of a

Perhaps Christie's biggest advantage is his attitude. He lives for the pressure of the big kicks. "When it's the last minute of the game and we've got a chance to win it with a field goal, then I tell myself 'This is my chance to win the game,' That to me is why I kick," he

Last season in the New Hampshire game Christie got just that chance. With the Tribe trailing 31-30 and only two minutes to play, he split the uprights from 42 yards out to give W&M a 33-31 win. "I had to make that one," Christie said with a chuckle, "because I'd missed the PAT right before. That one saved

Christie will be just one weapon in coach Laycock's potent arsenal this fall. Coming off a 7-4-1 record, the Tribe will return 32 lettermen and 13 starters, including key players at the skilled positions. "I feel comfortable with our quarterback and backfield. We have a good nucleus there," Laycock said.

Senior quarterback and co-captain Craig Argo will guide the offense, and running backs Robert Green, Tyrone Shelton and Alan Williams will give the Tribe its best rushing attack since the days of Michael Clemons. Green, a sophomore tailback, led the Tribe with 642 yards rushing last season and pulled in 29 pass receptions for 268 yards.

The corps of receivers is not as experienced as in recent years, but Chris Hogarth, Ray Kingsfield and Mark Compher have all had plenty of playing time. Tight end Matt Shiffler will start for the third consecutive season.

The Tribe defense, which held opponents without a touchdown for 10 consecutive quarters last season, hopes for an encore performance. Senior co-captain Greg Kimball and Shawn Davis anchor the secondary at the safeties. Aurelius Henderson, who led the team in interceptions with three, and J.D. Gibbs complete the defensive backfield.

The main area of concern is at the inside linebacker slot, where returning starters Kevin Forester and Brad Uhl both underwent knee surgery during the off-season. "Forester seems on track to be 100 per cent, but Uhl is about 50/50," said Kelchner. Mark Hughes, Jeff Nielsen or Jim Koutsos are all waiting in the wings should Uhl not be able to play.

Enthusiasm about the upcoming season has been running high ever since the Epsom Japan Bowl in January. The Tribe mauled a team of Japanese All-Stars 73-3 at Yokohama Stadium. The game has served as a bridge between one season and the next.

"The additional time we were together as a team, both in practice and the time spent over in Japan, really brought a lot of the players close together," Laycock said. "It helped spring practice because there wasn't that big a time difference between when we finished the Japan game and when we started spring ball. I think the players have gotten excited because they believe we might have a good football team if things fall into place."

And with Christie waiting on the sidelines to do his thing, Tribe fans will definitely get a big kick out of his football season.

Chapters Host Away-Game Celebrations

In addition to the tailgater celebrations that will follow home football games this fall, alumni chapters are hosting pre- and postgame events at away games. All alumni and their friends are invited to join in the fun with fellow William and Mary fans. For further details, check the Chapter Notes listing on page 8 of this issue.

Past, Present Meet in Wightman Cup

By Marty Benson

the 66-year-old "royal tradition" of the BASF Wightman Cup is renewed in Williamsburg, Sept. 14-16. The "future" will be the main attraction of the standard format, while the "past" is part of a new wave of activity which could make Wightman week 1989 the most widely appealing since the event was first held at William and Mary in 1983.

Mary Joe Fernandez, an 18-year-old who defeated Gabriella Sabatini at this summer's French Open, and Jennifer Capriati, a 13-year-old who is one of tennis' upcoming stars, will be joined by Lori McNeil, who returns for her third Wightman, Patty Fendick and Betsy Nagelsen to form the U.S. squad.

"This is an excellent team," says tournament director Millie West. "It is apt to produce betterbalanced competition, and people will want to see Capriati and Fernandez, since they are both rising stars and have never been in the area."

The U.S., which will be coached by former men's standout Marty Riessen, will face a Great Britain team that will consist of five of the following: Sara Gomer, Jo Durie, Amanda Grunfeld, Anne Hobbs, Sarah Loosenmore and Clare Wood.

The best-of-seven tournament opens on Thursday, Sept. 13, with the draw, which will be held in Merchants Square in Colonial Williamsburg, and is open to the public. Actual play begins the ennis' future and past will meet when will play an exhibition doubles match. Their be Capriati and a young British player. On Saturday, Riessen will conduct a tennis clinic for ticket holders on Anheuser Busch courts adjacent to William and Mary Hall, the tournament site.

On Friday night, tennis' past will steal the spotlight, as Billie Jean King and Virginia Wade

"This year it really should be called 'the Wightman Cup and more," West says.

The "more" kicked off during a July 24 Williamsburg press conference, which featured the recently retired Wade, who won three Grand Slam singles titles during her career and holds the record for Wightman Cup appearances. The 1977 Wimbledon winner said that she would like to see Williamsburg become the permanent U.S. site for the Cup, which alternates between the United States and Great Britain each year.

"In the old days, the tournament used to be moved around to so many different venues in the states, and it's difficult to promote an event.when you only get it once in a while," Wade says.

Historically, the U.S. has dominated, winning all but 10 Wightmans. All tradition aside, it would seem to the casual observer that Great Britain might tire of losing, but as past history has shone. the competition isn't the key to the event — the emphasis is on pomp and circumstance, friendship and entertainment.

In addition to providing outstanding tennis, the BASF Wightman Cup benefits William and Mary women's athletics, Riverside Cancer Services, Williamsburg Community Hospital and Central Virginia Food Bank.

Send to: Tribe Tailgaters, P.O. Box 521, Williamsburg, VA 23187

The 1990 Alumni Travel Program

The Society of the Alumni is pleased to announce an exciting line-up of travel destinations for 1990. To learn more about any of these tours, please return the form below. If you have specific questions, call the Society at (804) 229-1693 Monday-Friday, 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (EST).

PERU

February 6-18, 1990 (13 days)

The Bruning Museum in Peru is home to the famous Tomb of Sipan. The October 1988 issue of National Geographic documented this find as the "Richest New World Unlooted Tomb," rivaling that of Tutankhamen in cultural and historical value. Your stay in Chiclayo will include a visit to this museum and the archeological complex of Sipan guided by the very discoverers of the tomb, Dr. Walter Alva, director of the museum, and Mr. Luis Chero. After this experience you can view ongoing excavations at Cerro la Raya directed by Thor Heyerdahl of Kon Tiki fame.

Before Chiclayo, your three days in Lima include a city tour with visits to San Francisco Monastery and the National Cathedral, stops at Lima's unique public and private museums of Colonial, Incan and Moche art, archaeology and anthropology, and the Mujica Gold Museum.

Arequipa is the site of the Santa Catalina Convent and La Compania Cloisters, while the beautiful views of the Misti and Chanchani volcanoes, cave paintings and the Condor's Sanctuary of the Colca Valley are scenes that will be long remembered.

A night in Cuzco embraces an evening folklore show. Fill the day with a visit to Incan archaeological sites and a scenic motorail ride to Machu Picchu, "The Lost City of the Incas."

Cost: Approximately $2,465 from Virginia.

OBERAMMERGAU PASSION PLAY

August 1990 (12 Days)

In 1634 the village of Oberammergau was spared from a plague that had ravaged the rest of the Bavarian countryside. In gratitude for this, they vowed to present a play portraying Christ's Passion. Every 10 years since then, they have offered this performance.

The trip begins east of Oberammergau in Budapest, Hungary. There you'll lodge high above the Danube in the historic section of Old Buda. You'll admire the statues of Heroe's Square, the majesty of Castle Vajdahunyad and St. Stephen's Basilica, and perhaps even dine with gypsy entertainment.

Next, hydrofoil along the Danube past Brataslavia and Czechoslovakia to Vienna. The Vienna city tour starts down the Ringstrasse past the State Opera House. After a visit to the Imperial Rooms of Schoenbrunn Palace and St. Stephen's Cathedral, you may dine in Grinzing amid strolling musicians.

On the way to Munich you'll enjoy lunch in Salzburg, Mozart's birthplace. The town is guarded by a 12th-century fortress, the Festung Hohensalzburg. Four days in Munich include views of the prestigious Maximillianstrasse, the Triumphal Arch, and the Marienplatz with its famous Glockenspiel. The grand finale lies a short ride beyond Munich near the Black Forest in Oberammergau, the highlight of your adventure.

Cost: Approximately $3,000 from gateway city.

CARIBBEAN CRUISE

June 2-9, 1990 (8 days)

The time of your life awaits you on this Caribbean cruise sailing aboard the S.S. Norway on June 2, 1990, for St. Maarten, St. John and St. Thomas — three idyllic ports of call in the undisturbed Caribbean PLUS a bonus day on the beach on the Norwegian Cruise Line's private "Pleasure Island" in the Bahamas. Seven days of round-the-clock activities, excellent food, fun and friendship await you. The cruise rate has a bargain group discount and even includes round-trip airfare from your home area. Space is limited. Your deposits of $200 per person to the Alumni Office will hold your room on-board one of the world's most magnificent cruise ships.

Cost: From $1300 per person (double occupancy), including airfare.

ALASKAN PASSAGE July 28-August 9, 1990 (13 days)

Commence your travels of the north in Fairbanks, Alaska, home of the University of Alaska, its renowned museum and the Trans-Alaska Pipeline.

The luxury dome cars of the "Midnight Sun Express" will transport you to the majestic mountains and rare wildlife of Denali Park. Each of the train's cars once ran the Milwaukee railroad before their beautiful restoration in the spirit of Europe's fabled "Train Blue." You'll continue to Anchorage to visit the museums and admire the jewelry, furs and superb seafood.

Then you will sail the Inner Passage for seven days. Prince William Sound eases along the three-mile wide face of the magnificent Columbia Glacier. Pass within feet of the cobalt blue icebergs, often dotted with seals, and watch the 13 glaciers at the College Fjord where they melt into the sea. Moor at Skagway and walk wooden sidewalks past storefronts changed little since its days as gateway to the Yukon for the Klondike Gold Rush in 1898. The notorious Red Dog Saloon of Juneau and the stream of salmon swimming right through the middle of town in Ketchikan are yet two more sights along this unforgettable journey. Finally sail under the Lion's Gate Bridge and into the Vancouver harbor to conclude your northern adventure.

Cost: Approximately $2,399 from Fairbanks.

WINGS OVER THE NILE ADVENTURE

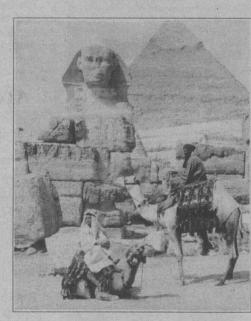

November 1990 (14 days)

Discover the tombs and treasures of ancient Cairo, Egypt, overlooking the Nile River, for five nights at the elegant Semiramis Inter-Continental. Then, motorcoach to the seaside resort of Alexandria, Egypt, once one of the three centers of the Christian world, where you will spend two nights. Next, board your deluxe Sheraton Boat in Luxor for a four-night cruise of the Nile River to Esna, Edfu, Kom Ombo, Aswan and Abu Simbel, and back to Cairo for one night.

The Wings Over the Nile Adventure is a first-ever itinerary, available nowhere else, and exclusive to INTRAV Travel Company. Highlights include a special fly-over of the Suez Canal, with a day visit to 1,400-year-old St. Catherine's Monastery, luxurious hotels, meals and sightseeing included during the cruise, an expert Egyptologist accompanying you throughout, plus special cocktail parties and memorable theme dinners to enhance this unique travel experience.

23187. Phone (804) 229-1693

Cost: Approximately $3,599 from New York.

CASTLES OF IRELAND

October 1990 (10 days)

Celebrated guests have stayed at Ashford Castle for the last 800 years. For the first part of your Celtic journey, enjoy this castle, the lake and grounds and use it as a base for exploring the majestic scenery of Conne-

Next, travel to Shannonside, visiting Galway en route to stay in Dromoland Castle. After two days surveying County Clare and the awesome cliffs of Moher, you will have the option to spend your last night in splendor at a medieval banquet in Bunratty/Knappoque Castle.

The Ring of Kerry with its spectacular contrasts of majestic mountains and dramatic coastline await you during the excursion from Limerick to Killarney.

Gain the gift of eloquence kissing the stone at Blarney and finish your voyage at Dublin's Trinity College where you will be surrounded by traditional pubs and fabulous shops.

Cost: Approximately $2,395 from New York.

Name	Class Year
Address
City, State, 2	ZIP
Daytime Tele	ephone ()
I'm intereste	ed in further information, as it becomes available, on the following tours: Peru, February 6-18, 1990
	Caribbean Cruise, June 2-9, 1990
	Alaskan Passage, July 28-August 9, 1990
	Oberammergau Passion Play, August 1990
	Castles of Ireland, October 1990
	Wings over the Nile Adventure, November 1990
Send to: Alu	umni Travel Program, Society of the Alumni, P.O. Box GO, Williamsburg, V	A

The Chicago Chapter held a well-attended meeting at the Union League Club on April 23. Special guest was Dr. Thaddeus W. Tate, director of William and Mary's Commonwealth Center for the Study of American Culture. Chapter members honored George Sweetnam '39 and his wife, Hanne, for their dedication and commitment to the chapter. Newly elected president Beth Stoneburg '75 (left) and outgoing president Karen Przypyszny '80 presented the awards.

The Metropolitan Washington, D.C., Chapter reported two memorable events earlier this year. On May 7 members enjoyed a private tour of Mount Vernon followed by the annual spring dinner and election of new board members at the Mount Vernon Inn in Alexandria. In photo, Cindy Huddleston '83 and Dan Dopp '62 visit with entertainer Myles Hanby. On June 4 members claimed title to the "D.C. Metro Area Virginia Alumni Club Softball Championship" when they competed against alumni from the University of Virginia and Virginia Tech. Softball enthusiasts should contact Ed Walinsky '76, Annandale, for details on future games.

Chapters Show Strides Society Expresses Thanks for Alumni Information In Growth, Activities

ith 40 chapters located in Virginia, across the nation and in Great Britain, regional representation and networking among alumni is ever increasing. More than 20,000 alumni are represented by chapters in Virginia and an additional 11,000 are involved in chapters outside Virginia.

Just this spring, three new chapters were chartered: Dade/Monroe in Florida, the Rocky Mountain Chapter in Denver, and Northern Delaware. Bill Strum, president of the new Northern Delaware Chapter said, "We were thrilled to have over one third of all the alumni in the area come for our chartering! It demonstrates incredible support for our alma mater in this area."

The Northern Delaware charter was presented to more than 60 alumni on June 22 at Winterthur's Chandler Farms, the home of William and Mary President Emeritus Thomas A. Graves and his wife, Zoe.

Also exciting news is the number of interest groups that have sprung up around the country. An interest group consists of 20 or more alumni in a currently unrepresented area who have not yet adopted a constitution and bylaws, held two events in one year, nor elected officers and petitioned for an official chapter charter. Ten interest groups are presently in the formative stages of becoming new alumni chapters in Phoenix, Tampa, Louisville, Detroit, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Charleston, Dallas/Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Furthermore, our alumni network is becoming ever larger with individual contacts who have requested alumni directories to start new chapters in Iowa, Alabama, West Virginia, Maine, South Carolina, Tennessee and Brussels, Belgium!

If you are in an area not presently represented by a chapter and would like to start an interest group with other area alumni, please contact Rick Overy, assistant director for alumni affairs responsible for chapter development, at (804) 229-1693.

If you live in an area with an established chapter, attend an event and get involved. It is a great chance to see old friends, meet other alumni and support your Alma Mater.

Board members shared their pride in the newly chartered North Florida Chapter at a celebration on March 31. From left are Linda Singleton Starrett '71, third vice president; Aline M. Traylor '43, board member at large; Douglas F. Shaffer '86 M.B.A., treasurer; Sally Swoope Horner '62, secretary; Mary Louise Shannon '67 M.Ed., first vice president; David E. Curling '64, president; and W. Barry Adams, executive vice president, Society of the

Chapter Notes

CLEVELAND

September 2

Soccer Tailgate. Akron Zip Soccer Classic. University of Akron, inside stadium. 6 p.m. Adults $3; children $2. Bring your own food. Contact: Greg Althans (216) 781-3700; or Rick Veres (216) 892-1889.

The Dade-Monroe Chapter in Florida received its charter at an organizational meeting on May 17. Jack Little, chapter president, is holding the framed charter.

ROANOKE

September 16

William and Mary vs. Virginia Military Institute Pre-Game Party on the VMI parade ground. 12 - 2 p.m. Hot Dogs, beer, soft drinks. $5. Contact: Karen Ramsey (703) 977-7121.

FLORIDA GOLD COAST

September 17

End-of-Summer Picnic. Patch Reef Park. 11 a.m.- 5 p.m. $5. Covered dish. Contact: Agnes Eggleston, 1921 S.W. 52nd Terrace, Plantation, FL 33317.

NEW JERSEY

September 23

William and Mary vs. Princeton Pre-Game Tailgate Reception. 11 a.m.-1 p.m. BYOB. Reserved parking if RSVP by Sept. 1 to Kevin Barnes (201) 969-2035.

Post-Game Reception at the Hyatt Regency. $2 admittance. Cash bar and munchies. Contact: Kevin Barnes (201) 969-

GREATER METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON

September 23

September 30

William and Mary vs. Princeton and William and Mary vs. University of Virginia.

Anyone interested in group travel and/or tickets, please contact Keith Tomlinson at (703) 978-3676 prior to Sept. 10.

DALLAS/FORT WORTH

Rangers vs. White Sox Baseball Party at Arlington Stadium. $6 members, $8 non-members includes beverages and ticket price. Contact: Kim Hundley (214) 541-9775 or Paul Jost (214)

LYNCHBURG

September 28

Dinner honoring Aubrey Mason with President and Mrs. Verkuil. The Piedmont Club. 6 p.m. $15. Contact: Ellen White (804) 237-1478.

CHARLOTTESVILLE

September 30

William and Mary vs. University of Virginia Pre-Game Party. 5-7 p.m. behind the Visitors Section of the Stadium. Hot Dogs, beer, soft drinks. $5. Contact: John Baldino (804) 823-

NORFOLK/VIRGINIA BEACH

October 14

William and Mary vs. Boston University Oyster Bowl Post-Game Party. 4 - 6 p.m. at the ODU Webb Center. $5. Hot dogs, beer, soft drinks. Contact: Mike Ware (804) 340-4966.

PHILADELPHIA

October 21

William and Mary vs. Villanova Pre-Game Party. 12 - 2 p.m. Villanova Stadium. $3. Beer, wine, soft drinks provided. Contact: Karen Tomlinson (215) 278-0962.

The Society of the Alumni thanks everyone who has written with information and leads on alumni listed as "missing" in the June issue of the Alumni Gazette. A second column in the June issue listed alumni who had been reported deceased. The Society was happy to learn that at least one individual, Jack Victor Place '54, '57 M.L.T., B.C.L., is alive, well and living in Roanoke, Va. Amused by the erroneous report, Place wrote: "Having never before seen my name in an obituary column, I am at a loss as to the appropriate manner in which to respond. Whether it should be in the form of a request for a retraction, a correction, or perhaps a second opinion..." The Gazette regrets the misinformation that led to the error.

Archives Seeks Memorabilia from Alumni

The College Archives at Swem Library is constantly interested in donations of memorabilia from alumni when they were students at William and Mary. Individuals are asked to search their attics for duc caps, magazines, photographs, play programs, newspapers and other items from their student days. Materials are used for displays and exhibits in the Zollinger Museum (one is currently being organized for the Class of 1944, this year's 45th reunion class) and for research purposes. If you're planning to attend Homecoming this year, you may bring your contributions with you or you may mail them to: Kay Domine, University Archives, Swem Library, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, VA 23186.

The Northern Delaware Chapter chartering was hosted by President Emeritus and Mrs. Thomas A. Graves on June 22. From left are Zoe Graves; Rick Overy, assistant director of alumni affairs, Society of the Alumni; Tom Graves; and Bill Strum, chapter president.

Theatre Reunion Part of Homecoming Festivities

In addition to class reunions and other traditional events, this year's Homecoming will feature a reunion of all theatre majors and participants in "The Common Glory" outdoor drama held for many years in the Lake Matoaka amphitheater. The reunion will pay special tribute to Professor Emeritus Howard Scammon '34.

Phi Beta Kappa Hall, home of William and Mary's theatre and speech department, will play host to the reunion on Saturday evening, Nov. 4. The festivities begin with a champagne reception at 7 p.m. followed by a roast and salute at 8 p.m. to guest of honor Scammon. An on-stage deli buffet, typical of the style dinner that followed many performances, will be served at 9 p.m.

The evening promises a number of surprises, including special music written by Anna Belle Koenig Nimmo '45, Patty Hartleben Granville '68 and Bill Brooke '68. John Reese '62 and Mamie Ruth Hitchens '69 are arranging a scene from "The Common Glory." John Brooks '67 is serving as overall coordinator for the reunion with assistance from Christopher Boll, chair of the theatre and speech department, and the Society of the Alumni.

Special sponsor tickets for $100 each will offer priority seating and will help fund an Althea Hunt-Howard Scammon Endowment. Regular tickets are $25 each.

To reserve your spot, please complete the registration form that appears in the special Homecoming supplement found in the center of this Gazette. The deadline for signing up is

Class Notes

28 Mary Land Gill 1658 Berkeley Ave. Petersburg, VA 23805

The May Alumni Gazette had an excellent account of Olde Guarde Day, so you who didn't attend know what you missed. It was a grand occasion which was enjoyed by 14 members of our class along with two husbands and four wives. Those present were: Virginia Vaiden Bowen and husband William, Dorothy Broughton Brennan, Melvin (Meb) Davis, Mary Land Gill, Ellen Cate Jordan Glasscock, Arthur Gordon and wife Nannie, Hayden Gwaltney, Page Drinke Hogan and husband Martin, Edwin L. Lamberth and wife Dorothy, E. Cariton Macon, Malvern H. Omohundro Jr. and wife Elizabeth, William (Bill) Thompson, Ruth James Turner, George R. Whitley and wife Edna.

Ruth James Turner, who lives in Atlanta, was among those traveling the greatest distance for the event.

According to her brother who lives near me, Brooks Johnson Parker is not well and consequently couldn't be with us on Olde Guarde Day.

In May Ellen Jordan Glasscock and I treated ourselves to a three-week tour of Portugal, Spain and Morocco. It was fascinating and I recommend a trip to that part of the world for those interested in history, beautiful scenery, contrasts of culture, etc.

None of you sent me any news, not a single line since the last class report. Please write a letter, a note, a card.

The next Olde Guarde event will be the luncheon at Homecoming on Friday, Nov. 3, so plan to be there. The Homecoming insert in this issue contains full details and a registration form.

Betty W. Lanier 17 Corling St. Petersburg, VA 23803

As usual, your reporter had a great time at Olde Guarde Day. It is always a pleasure to see and talk with the "old faithfuls" who appear year after year. The following classmates and their spouses were present: Harold Ashby and Frances, Mary Edgar Calcotte, T. S. Dalton and Lillian, Sam Hurley and Elizabeth, Richard Jones, Mary Spears and Selden, Ed Trice and Bernice, Frances Griffin Waters, William Savage and Mitzi.

A phone call from Lucy Boswell Crymble relayed good news. Her daughter, a Randolph-Macon graduate of some years back, has just been honored by the college, which has bestowed upon her membership in Phi Beta Kappa. After her family had grown up she returned to college for her master's and Ph.D. in engineering and is now teaching in a college in middle Florida. We send Lucy and her daughter our congratulations.

We are saddened by the deaths of two of our classmates, Laura Colvin Harrison and James Edward Bradford, the husband of Dot Langford Bradford. We send their families our deepest sympathy.

We would like to have news from some of you whom we haven't heard from in some time. Just a card with the latest about your family or your activities will be gratefully received by your reporters and your readers.

32

Josephine Habel Bradshaw 509 College Ave. Blackstone, VA 23824

The good news from the Class of '32 is that 18 of the class came back for Olde Guarde Day: Dr. Alfred Armstrong and Martha Armstrong, Virginia Beazley Byram, Dr. Ralph Carbone and Jean Carbone, W. Brooks George and Elizabeth, Mildred Steinhardt Jones, Mildred Layne, Arthur McLawhon and Hebe, William E. Renn, Simmons B. Savage Jr. and Patricia, Dr. Vernon Tillar and Frances, Gordon T. Winfield and Doris.

Jack Tuthill and his wife, Erma, are living in Washington where he is busy writing and lecturing. He is a former American ambassador and is still interested in athletics.

I am sure you have all heard of the death of Otis Douglas. Last year Otis and his wife, Eleanor, were attacked by a man demanding money for drugs. Otis was critically wounded by a shotgun blast and died in April. Anyone caring to donate to a living memorial may send a check payable to the Endowment Association for the Otis Douglas Memorial. Mail it to Robert S. Dutro, Box 1693, Williamsburg, VA 23187.

34

Cecil C. Harper 100 Rose Hill Road Richmond, VA 23229

The class of '34 met on Olde Guarde Day April 12 at the College. This was the eighth annual Olde Guarde Day for all alumni who graduated 50 years or more ago. We registered and attended a reception with lively music and refreshments.

W. Barry Adams, executive vice president, Society of the Alumni, welcomed us followed by President Paul R. Verkuil.

The William and Mary concert band entertained us before the buffet luncheon. Lota Spence Reid '33, chairman, reported on the Olde Guarde Council. Just to return and reunite with such lovely people is a reward. Just a few who were there: the Pope Twins, (Sarah and Edith), Ruffin Winfree, Clara Knight, Harriet Beales, Helen Singer Dau, Joseph Turner and her grandson Matt Austin.

Following the luncheon, members of the class of '34 met in the Wightman Cup Room for champagne and light refreshments. Our class picture was taken. Thirty-four were present, ladies 24 and men 10. In1984 we had 98 attending.

Emil Johnson, chairman of our continuing class gift committee, reported on our contributions to date. The class voted in favor of Emil's recommendation to give a rare book to Swem Library. It will be the Domesday Book, history of land and land titles in England from 1066 to 1086.

36

Helen Cynthia Rose Westminster-Canterbury 1600 Westbrook Avenue Apt. 107 Richmond, VA 23227

George Mason Jr. of Colonial Beach, Va., received a law degree from Marshall-Wythe School of Law in 1938. In 1939 George married Katherine Allen Smoot of Williamsburg, and they had two children: Katherine Byrd Mason and George Mason III. Katherine M. Dunn has two children and lives in Wilmington, N.C. George Mason III received a law degree from Marshall-Wythe School of Law in 1975. He has two children and practices law with his father at Colonial Beach.

Emily Gresham Sneed McGuire lives in Fairfax City, Va., having had seven children including an architect, a lawyer's wife and homemaker, a photographer, an opera singer and a Mercedes representative as well as eight grandchildren. In June they all rendezvoused on Buzzard's Bay. Because Emily's husband planned naval bases around the world before retirement, traveling now holds no attraction.

Dorothy May Toulon Smith is off for a visit with her son's family in Anchorage, Alaska, where she will see her 7-month-old granddaughter. Dorothy's oldest granddaughter is a freshman at William and Mary and she has another named Dorothy!

Esther Beebe Spengeman, like the rest of us in the class of '36, went through the cold world of the Depression. Esther went to secretarial school which led to 38 years of work in different capacities at a local state teacher's college. Interested in dramatics and especially musicals, she met Carl and a 47-year marriage began in 1940 with years of Florida vacations during school breaks.

Esther's national sorority publication listed her as "deceased" through a "computer error" a while ago and she's happy to have this opportunity to tell her sisters (many of them lifelong friends) that she's still around at 160 Gordonhurst Ave., Upper Montclair, NJ 07043.

By the way, the semester tuition fee then was $75. Esther hopes her classmates remember the years at William and Mary with the joy that she does.

Florence Baker Silberstein continues to live in Boulder, Colo., enjoying it except when it snows in April. This year she and her husband enjoyed Portugal and the Yucatan Peninsula plus a trip via the Bermuda Queen from New Orleans.

In May they will visit family in Virginia and two friends in Richmond: Margaret Thompson Wellford, married to McDonald Wellford, attorney at law, and mother of four children and six grandchildren. And Helen Cynthia Rose, formerly supervisor of art education in Richmond for 25 years, and who went around the world twice on the QE2 at retirement.

Dr. Irvin Jaslow retired from orthopedic surgery 10 years ago (after three heart attacks and by-pass surgery). He claims that he doesn't have any spare time — boating, bowling, bridge and golf keep him too busy.

Both of his daughters are married. His son is also married, has three children and now runs Irwin's practice.

Mary Jean Roth Kuhn vacationed in Caracas in February. She expected two weeks of touring, but the day after her arrival the president declared martial law. She described the sounds of gunfire and trucks bristling with young black-booted soldiers. The plaza in front of the hotel remained full of soldiers and they forced her to show identification. Needless to say, she ate all of her meals in the hotel. After a week, the 6 p.m.-6 a.m. curfew was mainained in effect but the tension had eased a bit. Despite the turmoil, Mary claims the worst part of the trip really was attempting a phone call to the U.S. She returned north to the Eastern air strike and observed that at 2 a.m. the Cleveland airport can look beautiful. "How fortunate we are to live in this country. I shall stay close to home for some time."

Jane Speakman Hauge
D105 Willow Valley Manor
Lancaster, PA 17602

Olde Guarde Day in April was a festive affair, and I'm sorry more of you couldn't attend. Bert Capps Sheeran, one of our class's two delegates to Olde Guarde Council (Bob Simpson is the other one), was in charge of the program, and it surely evoked our college spirit to hear the Concert Band and the Choir and watch those agile cheerleaders. Unless we missed someone, these are the '38-ers who were there: Mildred Albee Babb, Margaret Brett Honn and Reese, Bill Murray and Grace, Bob and Bert Sheeran, Bob Simpson and Alice, Nick and I.

Bert Sheeran was the subject of a feature article in the Newport News Daily Press in March. The article notes something we already know, that she is "an enthusiast of tennis and the College of William and Mary, which has been attended by three generations of her family." The first generation was her father, who received the Alumni Medallion in the 1950s, then Bert and Bob, and finally their daughter Marion Markham '60 and son Robert Jr. '67. To the reporter who asked about her five-year goal, Bert's answer was "To keep on doing what I'm doing." Way to go, Bert!

In response to the death of Otis Douglas '32, our classmate Ted McGowan organized a memorial to this star and coach of football at the College in the '30s. The memorial is in the form of an endowed scholarship for a student athlete from Virginia. Thank you for being the catalyst, Ted.

In the March Alumni Gazette did you notice in the picture of the Los Angeles W&M alumni chapter that our classmate Doris Froehner Joslyn was right on the front line as a member of the committee at "A Day at the Races"? At our 50th reunion Doris read a paragraph that I have wanted to share with all of you:

"Where Are the Years?

"The joyous years of childhood - carefree and light as a passing cloud, bright as the blossoms of spring, years when faith is unmarred by doubt . . . Where are the sparkling years of youth - unbounded energy, ceaseless activity and dreams of achievement, when nothing is impossible? . . . Where are the earnest years of maturity - the years of hard work, of heavy responsibilities, unceasing endeavor, years of striving for success and demanding decisions?... Where are the years? They are gone, you say? They have receded into the past, lost to us forever. Nay, they are not lost nor have they fled. They are still with us. They are character, principles, ideals; they are the component parts of our life today. They are what you are . . . Where are the years? You are the years."

Wasn't that an inspiring article in the June Alumni Gazette about commencement and Glenn Close? Her words as quoted in the article evoke my feelings about the College: "an indestructible, visceral connection to this place — a connection which is vital and real and which has sustained me through good times and bad." A moving tribute indeed from a gracious and talented lady.

Mrs. Franklin D.
Henderson
(Barbara Clawson)
Box 186
Irvington, VA 22480

I'm grateful to Ann Garrett for passing along to me a letter and clippings from Rosa Long. On April 22, designated as Girl Scout Leaders' Day, Rosa was honored for her lifelong Girl Scout activities and received a 60-year pin for her work in Washington, Richmond, and, since 1945, in Buffalo, N.Y. She has served as council president for the Buffalo and Erie County Council and received many awards, including the Golden Eaglet, a service award of the highest honor — but most important to her it has given her "a way of understanding life."

Rosa says she keeps busy with the Girl Scout historical display (a whole room with six show cases) in the Amherst Historical Society; the Episcopal Church Home and the Diocesan House and Grounds Committee — plus the Geology Society at the Museum of Science, "where we have classes every Saturday followed by field trips."

Rosa spent a week in May in Santa Fe, N.M., visiting her youngest, Bob. It was her first visit there. Congratulations, Rosa, on Carol S. Disque, an assistant professor in the School of Applied Behavioral Sciences and Educational Leadership at Ohio University, has been named associate dean of student affairs at William and Mary. Since 1986, she has taught and advised master's and doctoral students in higher education and college student personnel. At William and Mary, she will be responsible for academic support services, including the administration of undergraduate academic regulations, orientation activities, study skills, the judicial and honor systems and general counseling and support services. She is a magna cum laude graduate of Duke University with M.Ed. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Virginia. She began her new duties on Aug. 1.

The School of Business Administration has added a new program to its graduate studies. Beginning in August, the school began offering a graduate program leading to a Master of Science in Taxation degree (M.S.T.). "The M.S.T. program was created to provide an important graduate degree to the accounting profession," said Henry E. Mallue, associate dean for administration, who anticipates an entering class of about 15 students. He said the program is a natural outgrowth of the College's nationally recognized undergraduate program in accounting and will be designed to give tax practitioners an opportunity to enhance skills and knowledge in the areas of tax law, practice and procedure.

Musicians who are members of the Williamsburg Brass Trio, which played at the dedication of the addition to Ewell Hall in May, were identified incorrectly in the June Alumni Gazette as being members of the Richmond Symphony. Actually, the trio, which consists of David Wick, John Bourque and Charles Smith IV, are all members of the Virginia Symphony, which is based in Hampton Roads. Wick and Smith are also on the applied music faculty at William and Mary. The Gazette regrets the error.

your wonderfully active life.

I received a brief note from Ruth Ann Mahood, along with a snapshot taken around 1939. Ruth Ann said she fractured her back while visiting Williamsburg in March. She was hospitalized there two weeks, then transferred by ambulance to Milford, Del., for another two weeks. She commented it was an "unpleasant spring." I'd say that's the understatement of the year!

Chuck Gondak '41 and his wife, Tillie, came from California to the Tides Inn for a golfing stay in late May, and Bill (we call him Henry now) Edwards '41 and Jo Lee invited several of us over for cocktails to welcome the Gondaks. It was a real treat to see Chuck again and to meet his lovely wife. Others there were Margie (Hoskins) '39 and Red Bloxom '37 and Jack and Ann Garrett.

Our local W&M alumni chapter (of the Lower Northern Neck) has gotten off the ground and we've had our first of two yearly meetings with about 80 attending.

Dinny Wetter, her daughter, Barbara, and Barbara's mother-in-law flew to Korea to join Barbara's husband who is stationed there. While there they did considerable sightseeing.

Jack and Ann Garrett attended Alumni College '89, "Exploring the Chesapeake Bay," along with Jack Purtill, Ann Louise Clark and Nancy Guptill Searle '43 and about 60 others.

Bob Lansburgh has retired from his importing business in Dallas, and he and Helen are looking forward to spending more time together. Bob has promised Helen that he "isn't going to rearrange her pantry."

I received a note from Jo Burpeau Reichel '39 asking for information on Charles Baltimore '39. I was no help as his name draws a blank. Can anyone send me any data to pass along to Jo?

My next deadline is Oct. 23 for the December issue. It would surely be nice to hear from some of you so I'd have some news to pass along.

42

Betty Craighead Stousland 107 E. Central Ave. Oxford, OH 45056

I am so happy to have more news of classmates for this issue. Please, everyone use this example for yourselves and send me news and more news. Yes, we are all interested in hearing from you.

Eleanor Ely Mackey Ferguson and her husband John have recently moved into a Quaker life-care community where as "first" residents they are pioneering. Eleanor does volunteer library work and aerobic swimming while her husband is writing a book about Quaker influence on politics. Her address is: Foxdale Village, H 122, 500 East Marylyn Ave., State College, PA 16801.

Mary Ruth Black Dowling received last fall a Thanks II badge from the Girl Scouts of Central Maryland in appreciation for all her work on their behalf. In addition, she was inducted into the Maryland Senior Citizens Hall of Fame for her contributions in the field of human services. I applaud Mary Ruth for her time given to her community that these honors represent. She has had to undergo three operations, but is doing well now. Recently, she had lunch with Annette Warren Sirmon.

The ever-faithful and ever traveling Emalee Ewing Durbin sent Durbin's

Dispatches from Corvallis to Texas to Florida to Virginia to Arizona. While away in March their house was burglarized as well as vandalized, but after recovering and installing a security system they were on the road again to Albuquerque, Los Alamos, Arizona and Virginia. The State Department of Library, Archives and Public Records of Arizona in conjunction with the Arizona State Library Association honored Emalee and others who had been prominent in library and media professions in the 1940s, '50s, '60s, and '70s at a reception and reunion. Emalee's list of activities in library work is impressive and I salute Emalee Durbin, Arizona Library Pioneer! Hope to hear from all of you — soon!

John Paul Carter Rt. 1, Box 209 Sewanee, TN 37375

Come one, come all! Join us for the 45th Reunion, Nov. 2-5. The main events will begin on Nov. 3, but there will be the annual banquet of the Order of the White Jacket on the 2nd, as well as other special events. You'll find all the details plus a registration form in this issue.

There is lots of good class news to share with you. Ann Dobie Peebles has been named a Virginia Cultural Laureate for her contributions to the Commonwealth. Winfred "Wink" Jester writes that he is living in Virginia Beach, retired from the FBI after 30 years of service, the greater part spent in Newark, N.J. Once back in Virginia, he sold real estate, taught history and government at the Tidewater Community College, and now works part-time as a private investigator. He says, "I can honestly say that I have enjoyed my working years and the only experience that was not too great was . . . the 104th Infantry Division in Europe during World War II." He has acquired two master's degrees. His youngest son, Curtis, is a 1977 graduate of the College. He goes frequently to Wil-

Dave McNamara has heard recently from Nancy Keen Norman '45; he would particularly like to hear from Bill Albert, presently listed as living in Califon, N.J.

Vicki Woodward Patterson, West Newton, Mass., says W&M keeps impinging on her life. For example, two years ago, she ran into Dr. Frazer Neiman in the fishing museum at Pemaquid, Maine. She spends most summers in England, studying 18th and 19th century literature, often at Cambridge. She travels back and forth on the QE2 because she developed a fear of flying while in South America. Her daughter is an actress. "Besides my daughter, I have a husband recently retired, three sons, and a grandson of 6 months who had been to the Red Sox games at the age of 4 months . . . Because I have not seen a soul since I graduated, to me you are all 20 years

Jim and Ann Harnsberger continue to travel between Hot Springs and the Kilmarnock area. When there is time, they set out to visit friends in their van.

Dick Thomas, Wyoming, Mich., now retired after years as a chemist, continues his work as a consultant in industrial chemistry. He is very active in Trinity Methodist Church, sings in a costumed madrigal choir. His wife has served two terms as county commissioner. They have four children and seven grandchildren. He would especially like to hear from Grayson Clary '43.

Fran Pendleton Elliott, Winchester,

Mass., says she was the oldest alumna present at the presentation of the charter for the Boston alumni chapter last fall. She served as a hostess when the W&M Choir gave a concert in Boston last March. Her husband continues his teaching at MIT and his worldwide lecturing and consulting as a metallurgist.

Prickett Carter Saunders, St. Louis, reports that her husband, though retired, taught two courses at Washington University until they moved back to Pensacola, Fla., in May. She reports that a year ago she ran into Peggy Horn in the Boston Airport, "I hadn't seen her since graduation, and had no reason to associate her with that area, but recognized her nevertheless. She's changed remarkably little."

This past April, Pam Pauley Chinnis led a conference on women's ministries at the seminary in Austin, Texas. She is a member of the worldwide Anglican Consultative Council, a steering and strategy committee for the whole Anglican Communion. Ruth Higgins Wilson sent a postcard saying she is making plans to attend the reunion but (at the time she wrote in May) she was still awaiting the registration materials.

Elaine McDowell Fuerst reports from Guam, where she and her husband retired from teaching at the university there a year ago, to say that alumni materials had been addressed to her in "Agana, Africa!" Her current address is Dr. Elaine Fuerst, P.O. Box 5395, University of Guam Station, Mangilao, Guam 96923. All friends should write, and they should visit: "Our home overlooks the Pacific; our yard is vibrant with colorful bougainvillea and other tropical flowers; and the ocean invites with great diving and snorkeling."

Marge Retzke Gibbs sent a card from Scotland, where she and Wayne were taking part in an International Caravan Association tour — minivans, seven couples from the U.S., one from New Zealand, one from England and 12 from Canada. They were expecting to go down to Yorkshire, home of the Gibbs ancestors.

Ted Bailey has retired and moved to Williamsburg (133 Leon Ave.), where he goes jogging in the morning along Duke of Gloucester St. He served in various places in Maryland from 1958 to 1975, and then went to Tappahannock where he was rector until his retirement at the end of 1988. He has taken services occasionally at Ware Parish in Gloucester and there sees Scotty '43 and Ceci '46 Cunningham. Ted and Gunde have recently traveled to visit their daughter who teaches at the University of New Hampshire.

Jack Bellis reports on the Reunion Survey (sent by the Alumni Office to all reunion class members) that he continues his practice as a psychiatrist in Hamden, Conn. He has three grown children, all sons. He remembers most his service as editor-in-chief of The Flat Hat, and as a president's aide.

Ralph Lipfert, who began with our class but went on to the Naval Academy, is married to Gloria Hall, also of our class. They have a son and a daughter... and the daughter, Jean Lipfert Netherton, graduated from W&M in 1976. Ralph is a retired Navy captain. His hobby is collecting weights and scales, especially those used for weighing money and precious metals. Gloria served as a research chemist and as an operations analyst for the COMSAT Corp.

Bill Morris remains in Morgantown, W.Va., where he teaches in the school of law of West Virginia University.

George Rafey is retired in Hopewell, Va. He owned a night club, and currently serves as president of the American Druze Society, which represents the ancient religion of the people of mid-Syria. He also served for five years as commissioner of the Housing Authority, and for 15 as a trustee of the VFW. His eldest son, Ban Rafey, graduated from W&M in 1975. Of his college years, George describes himself as "the best pool player on campus."

Edith Burkard Thompson, Drexel-Park, Pa., serves as secretary for the Philadelphia area alumni chapter, and has a grown son and daughter. She has served as an attendance officer and court representative for the School District of Philadelphia. Her husband is an attorney. She focuses her charitable works on Meals on Wheels, the thrift shop of the Lankenau Hospital, and church activities.

Ann Swenen White, St. Petersburg, Fla., transferred from W&M to Vanderbilt for her bachelor's degree, and later got an M.A.T. from there. For 30 years, she served as a teacher in St. Pete. Her hobbies are miniature furniture and quilting. She has one grown son. Sadly, Ann and Edie will not be coming to the reunion, but Rafey, Bill Morris, Gloria and Ralph, Fran and Jack will all be coming.

Joan and I will also be there. We had a wonderful winter vacation in Costa Rica, where we spent most of our time at Monteverde, in the highlands along the continental divide. There is a large cloud forest reserve there to which come scientists and interested amateurs from all over the world. We learned a lot from them and met some fascinating people.

Mrs. Allison G. Moore (Barbara Nycum) Rt. 2, Box 161 Waverly, VA 23890

Today's (June 30th) weather calls for the lyrics to "Summertime, and the living is easy. . . ." However there are no musical notes on my typewriter, a matter I shall try to correct on future machines!

Birthday cards from a few friends last month were a welcome sight in my mailbox: greetings from Virginia Ratcliffe, Pris Fuller Downs and Ellen Irvin Newberry, whose list of activities for the summer left me breathless! Hearty thanks to each of you for the nice thoughts.

And speaking of birthdays, Nancy Grube Williams told me of the surprise party held at a nearby country club to celebrate her mother's 90th birthday. A reception was attended by 92 friends, and a family dinner by 17, after which Mrs. Grube announced she believed she would head for the 100 mark! That's the spirit.

Grubie and I always enjoy a good visit by phone when one of these deadlines approaches, and this time was no exception. En route to a few days off in the Florida sunshine, she stopped in Atlanta for a visit with Mary De Vol and Frank Bulloch. Mary has been in the two million dollar club in the real estate business there for several years. Quite a feat, Mary. Congrats from all of us. The Bullochs have a boat at Lake Lanier where they spend their weekends and spare time. While in Florida, Grubie had the pleasure of seeing two classmates in Stuart: Marcia Levering and George Balzereit and Eleanor Herman and Fred Pustay. Marcia is a volunteer at the local hospital and they enjoy a good game of tennis most any time. Ellie on

FIRST CSX PROFESSOR NAMED

Donald E. Campbell, professor of economics at the University of Toronto, has been named the CSX Professor of Economics and Public Policy at William and Mary. Campbell, who begins his new position in January, is well known for his work in social choice theory, theory of taxation and the theory of government regulation. A native of Canada, he received his undergraduate degree with honors from Queen's University in Kingston and his Ph.D. from Princeton University. He has been a member of the University of Toronto faculty since 1970. In addition, he has been visiting scholar at Stanford's Graduate School of Business, visiting professor at U.E.R. Scientifique de Luminy in France, visiting fellow at Nuffield College, Oxford University in England and a visiting professor at Bar-Ilan University in Israel. The CSX Professorship is an endowed faculty position established in March 1988 with funds from a gift of $2 million from the CSX Corp. The gift also funds similar positions in marine science and applied science.

ALUMNA NAMED MARKETING DIRECTOR

Denise Adams McDonald '77 has been named director of marketing and public relations for Thomas Jefferson's Poplar Forest in Forest, Va., just southwest of Lynchburg. Poplar Forest is the vacation home that Jefferson built in 1806 to escape the constant flow of visitors at Monticello. A nonprofit organization bought the estate from private owners in 1984 in order to preserve it as a museum for the public. McDonald previously served as director of marketing and public relations for the Richmond Symphony and as a staff member in the Press Bureau at Colonial Williamsburg.

the other hand can be found on the golf course. Either sport is great — keep it up!

Pam Pauly Chinnis has recently returned from Cypress where she attended an international meeting of the Anglican Conference. She reported the island of Cypress to be perfectly beautiful. Pam and her mother are currently visiting Anne Vineyard Roach and her mother (who will be 100 in January) in Memphis.

I close with the same old refrain: PLEASE write this old reporter with a bit of news about YOU.

48

Lucy Venable Jones Murphy P.O. Box 58 West Point, VA 22513

50

M. Winston Jones Lata (Mrs. Alfred J. Lata) 930 Wellington Road Lawrence, KS 66049

52

Taffy Lay Davis 138 Junefield Drive Cincinnati, OH 45218

54

Peggy Johnson 2315 Danbury Road Greensboro, NC 27408

I was happy to note in the June Gazette that at the recent commencement, classmate Mary Maples Dunn received an honorary doctor of humane letters "in recognition of your many contributions to academe and your long-standing commitment to excellence in scholarship, teaching and academic leadership." Regular readers of this column will recall that we wrote of some of Mary's accomplishments when she assumed the presidency of Smith College. Congratulations!

You should have all received correspondence about our reunion on Homecoming Weekend, Nov. 3-5. Reunion surveys were sent and I hope you have completed and returned yours. If not, please do so. Both the Alumni Office and your classmates want to keep up with you! Our class reunion headquarters will be the Kingsmill Conference Center and you will find complete information in this issue of the Gazette. Our neverforgotten, former class reporter, Marge Huff Brown, who now lives in Kingsmill, is serving as chairman of our reunion committee. Please make plans now to attend so we can have a BIG 35th!

I pass on, a bit belatedly, news that Peggy Wells Stiles received the 1988 runner-up's Grant for a Contemporary Novel in Progress from the Society of Children's Book Writers for her manuscript "Kate of Still Waters." I telephoned this into the Alumni Office for the last issue, but since it didn't appear in our column I hope it didn't land in someone else's!

Do keep letters and cards coming. I hope to see many of you at Homecoming!

Mary W. Warren RD 1, Box 945 White Stone, VA 22578

Bernard M. Byrne has established a scholarship fund at Trinity College in the name of his late wife, Julia Ann Conrad Byrne. Contributions may be sent in her name in care of Trinity College, 125 Michigan Ave., N.E., Washington, D.C. 20017.

Don and Champ Summerson Hyatt were on a busman's holiday at the Tides Inn in April. They were gearing up for their third year at the Summerfield Inn in lovely, old Abingdon, Va. The season runs from April 1 through Oct. 31, though they will welcome you during the "off" season, by advance arrangement. It's an ideal spot for those of you interested in the Barter Theater. The resident miniature schnauzer, Pepper, loves people but doesn't wish to share the spotlight with other pets.

Peter Neufeld

58 410 West 53rd St. Apt. 132 New York, NY 10019

"Oh, hi Polly Ann! Sorry. Forgot. Polly. What? Well, gee, I don't know. Yeah, I know I live in New York and everyone comes through here. But honestly — oh, you think I'd do a good job? A terrific job? Better than Neil Hock? Well. . . ."

Heard from Alice Perry Linker. She and husband live in Salem, Ore. They've gotten together with two other former reporters and have started two weekly community newspapers. Puts in 50-60 hours weekly as news reporter. (And some of our class is wimping out looking for condos in Happy Valley?)

Denys Grant says he's seen Walt Brodie a couple of times. Walt is in partnership with another guy in the vacuum cleaner business. They have a total of four stores between Fredericksburg and Richmond. Denys is with Virginia Power, working with their employee assistance program, which I gather has to do with giving support in one form or another to people going through times of crisis in their lives.

Bobbie '61 and Jim Ukrop '60 were in New York in May with their sons Ted and Scott celebrating Ted's graduation from DePauw and Scott's from the Darden School of Business at UVA. I joined them and Louise McCray for pre-dinner cocktails at their hotel.

Louise recently lost her husband, Bill McCray, of our class. At his service I saw all the men who were in their wedding party. The group included Bob Thomas, Edward "Bud" Mooney, Harry Cornell and Don Snyder '59.

Speaking of Bob Thomas, he and his wife Lynda McCray Thomas just became first-time grandparents of Jennifer Blair Ciucevich, compliments of daughter Debbie and son-in-law Robert. Robert is the image of Bob in his 20s, but with a better sense of humor. Shortly thereafter came first grandson William Heath Donovan, via second daughter Karen and husband Carey. He and Linda will spend the summer flying on alternate weekends to North Carolina and Virginia.

Heard from Ginny Fleshman Gada and husband Preston who just finished a wonderful 10-day vacation in Budapest and Vienna.

Stu Bennett '59 will want to read that his ex-roomie Tony Wilson '59 is doing fine following hip replacement at the University of Pennsylvania hospital. I saw him walk around his bed twice the day after surgery. He will be back playing golf before the summer's over.

Bob Anchell '57 and Leonora are living in Florida. The Anchells have son David in third year of Florida State preparing to be a math teacher. Daughter Carla is in high school, and Andrew is a medic at Fort Knox. Bob is currently the president of two corporations having to do with the real estate profession. He's looking forward to giving up one of them so he can concentrate on his own real estate business. He recently spoke to Ron Masnik '57 who is a banker in Seattle. Ron is newly married with a 1-year-old baby to join his older children.

Was backstage a couple months ago at a show I'm working on. Stagedoor flies open and there beaming in the doorway is Pat

Show Your True Colors . . .

When You Use the William & Mary Society of the Alumni MasterCard

In conjunction with Signet Bank, the Society of the Alumni is pleased to offer an exclusive MasterCard bearing a beautifully rendered full-color photograph of the Wren Building. Special features of this special card include:

Waiver of the first year's annual membership fee (regularly $18).

Attractive tiered interest rates offering a lower annual percentage rate as your monthly purchase balance becomes greater. The rate ranges from 15.9 to 17.7 percent.

Bonus services, including free access checks, free credit card registration of all your cards and travel accident insurance.

Balances may be transferred from your existing cards to your William & Mary card by obtaining a cash advance.

 ${\it Please send me \ an \ application for \ the \ William \ \& \ Mary \ Society \ of \ the \ Alumni \ Master Card:}$

Name		Class Year
Address_
City	State	_	Zip

JEAN CANOLES BRUCE '49 HEADS PLANNING COUNCIL IN NORFOLK

Jean Canoles Bruce '49, former president of the Society of the Alumni, has been named executive director of the Planning Council, the largest not-for-profit human services planning and development organization in the mid-Atlantic states. The Planning Council, which serves the greater Hampton Roads community with a home office located in Norfolk, provides information and referral regarding all human services in planning districts 17 through 22. It administers the Child Care Food Program for the Department of Agriculture in two states, the Child Care Resource and Referral Program, and contracts with the Department of Defense to operate the Navy Family Service Centers in Norfolk, Virginia Beach and on the Peninsula. Mrs. Bruce has been with the Planning Council since 1968.

UNC-GREENSBORO HONORS ROBERT GATTEN JR.

Robert Gatten Jr. '66, '68 M.S., (left) a professor and head of the department of biology at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, received a Research Excellence Award at the institution's annual honors convocation this spring. The award carries a $2,000 check. Gatten, whose research in comparative physiology spans nearly two decades, has examined the dynamics of anaerobic and aerobic metabolism in amphibians and reptiles and is accredited with clarifying the role of these two forms of metabolism in different activity patterns of animals. Gatten received his Ph.D. in zoology from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor in 1973.

GUS GRIFFIN PROMOTED

Augustus "Gus" Griffin '82, '87 M.B.A. has been promoted by Brown-Forman Beverage Co. to sales analyst. He is based in Louisville, Ky. Griffin joined the company in 1987 and most recently was market supervisor for the wine and spirits specialty division in Kentucky. Brown-Forman Beverage Co., a division of Brown-Forman Corp., Louisville, Ky., markets more than 20 brands of wines and spirits, including Jack Daniel's Tennessee Whiskey, Canadian Mist Canadian Whiskey, Southern Comfort and Korbel California Champagnes.

Amole Megale and husband Joe '52 out celebrating his 60th. He looks just great. Damn. Met their son Chris who works for the Perry Ellis Co. in New York City.

Spoke to Ad Atkins. Teaching in Greenville, Del. Youngest son still at home with her. And she is amazed that her two oldest, David and Ellen, have actually decided to share an apartment, which happily is only 10 blocks away from her.

Harry Cornell and wife Janet have five children and live in Valhalla. He is deputy controller for American Brands Inc. and enjoys golf, tennis and skiing in his free time. Happily he didn't mention that your reporter totally fouled up an evening for him and his family by messing up on getting him tickets to a show. But we're still talking. Right, Harry? . . . Harry?

And from Paige Cubbison. Spent most of this summer on a trip that included Jordan and Jerusalem. Lives in Miami, which she loves, and has been professor of history at Miami Dade Community College for 23 years. Interesting note that her description of teaching — "rewarding, frustrating, exhausting" — echos the same feelings Ad Atkins had in our 30th Re-Echo. Three sons. Oldest is a product analyst for UNISYS in Atlanta. Next is assistant projects manager for construction company in Miami and youngest is senior at University of Florida. Oldest son and his wife have presented her with her first grandchild, Catherine.

Correction. All those who volunteered to aid Tom Lightner in the fund drive should contact him, not me, at 56 Fairfax Drive, Ft. Belvoir, VA 22060, 703-781-4182.

OK. Each issue I'm going to list some names that I want to hear from for the following issue. No significance to the choices. Pure impulse on my part. I figure if I want to hear from them, so do you. Bill Mitchell, Larry Beamer, Bobbie Clarke, Bobbie Ramsey, Chad Henry, Melissa Smith, Dick Sanders. And as I threatened at Homecoming, if I don't get enough information, the next column will be all about how Bob Thomas spit-polishes his plane.

60 62 Mary Ellen (Meci) Carlson Coffey 14101 Manorvale Road Rockville, MD 20853

Mrs. James R. Henry (Nancy A. Sinclair) 1096 Meadowbrook Drive Bedford, VA 24523

Edgar W. (Ed) Kirby III has been promoted to senior vice president of NCNB National Bank of Greenville, N.C. Ed is also president of the Pitt County United Way and is vice chairman for economic development for the Pitt-Greenville Chamber of Commerce. He is chairman of the Expansion Steering Committee of the Greenville Museums of Art. Ed earned his MBA degree from the University of Virginia's Darden School of Business. He is married to the former Jamie McGuire of Pulaski, Va. They have two children.

My son, Ryan, just returned from 10 days in Moscow and Leningrad. He went with 12 students from Virginia Episcopal School where he will be a sophomore. I will be teaching next year in a new middle school being formed in Bedford City. I am very excited about being on the ground floor of this new adventure. This summer is a busy one with attending a UVA course on The Middle School, doing a math workshop for the Appomattox County school system, a month's vacation to Florida and the islands, the opening of a new satellite library in Bedford County where I am a library trustee, and having a preservation workshop for the people in the city and county of Bedford.

You need to send those letters and postcards to me letting me know that you are out there somewhere. I have been willing to print your news, but I have to have some news from you to print. I know you are busy but you can spare five minutes! I will eagerly await your cards and letters!

Joanne Arnett Tutschek (Mrs. C. Philip Tutschek) 80 Melrose Rd. Mountain Lakes, NJ 07046

Beth Chiles Svee and her husband Dick moved to Santa Clara, Calif., in February 1987 and Beth became the city librarian for the City of Santa Clara. They purchased an 1885 Queen Anne "fixer-upper" and Dick has been busy doing extensive renovations. Beth is an hour south of San Francisco and five minutes from San Jose, so both airports are quite accessible and she would love to see former classmates if they're traveling in the area.

Dick Kern is executive vice president of Central Carolina Wholesales Inc. in Greensboro, N.C. He and his wife Sharon Cosminsky '66 have two sons. Dick enjoys softball and golf and he notes his William and Mary memories are strong of playing for Lou Holtz before he was famous.

Carol Evans Miller is now in Brussels where she is manager of project control for the European operations of Computer Sciences Corp. Carol remarried in October to Myron Miller, whose son graduated from William and Mary last year. Carol has been working extensively in Frankfurt, Germany, but hoped, as of this spring, to be spending more time in Brussels.

Bruce Taggart lives in Reston, Va., and is with BDM Corp., a firm which specializes in computer programming for defense.

Robert Gaston is a partner in the law firm of Gaston, Durrance & Fairbanks in Montpelier, Vt. He has three children.

I had a wonderful letter from Marg Holland Knutson, who is planning to attendour reunion. She had a major change in her life in that she moved to De Witt, Mich., in August 1987 so that her husband John could accept the position of chief financial officer at Jackson National Life Insurance Co. in Lansing. Before 1987, Marg was counsel at Norton Co. in Worcester, Mass., had finally finished remodeling her 70-year-old Worcester house and was spending weekends on their 22 acres in Troy, Maine. The move prompted a major life-style change for her, in that they decided that Marg would stay at home and work on the old farmhouse, red barn. chicken coop and 40 acres they purchased within 20 minutes of John's job. She reports that she has never worked harder, cutting trails and gardening, and overseeing the activities of Shani, 12, in 8th grade and Eric, 10, in 5th grade. She is also the Cub Scout den mother.

Marg's letter really struck a chord with me, in that with our 25th reunion approaching, how many of us have recently or will soon have made a major change in the direction we have headed for 25 years. Greg '62 and Patt Evans '63 recently became grandparents of twin boys — yes, grandparents! Phil and Mary Van Kirk have no children at home, Larissa having graduated from the College and Greg at Miami of Ohio. They are adjusting to that major change.

I, too, have a cycle ending, in that my son Spencer will enter the University of Pennsylvania in September and I have a new job as manager of communications for Merrill Lynch Capital Markets, still in New York City.

Philip and I look forward to our reunion in November and seeing many of you and learning of your lives and changes — but most of all, I look forward to recapturing the fun and friendships of the early 60s — if but for "a moment in time."

Nancy Rhodenhizer
Henderson
13 Flax Mill Road
Newport News, VA 23602

Katharine Hoffman Doman, retail banking officer with Sovran Bank, has been elected personal banker with the Abingdon, Va., office. She will maintain a portfolio of current banking clients as well as develop new business for the Abingdon office. Katharine was manager of the Green Run office in Virginia Beach before her move to Abingdon.

R. Craig Snyder, a well-known Arlington artist, held an acrylic artwork exhibit this spring for the Petersburg Area Art League. His paintings are in the permanent collections of the City Gallery, Washington; the Ariel Gallery, Soho, N.Y., and the Leon Loard Gallery, Montgomery, Ala. Craig is now retired. He was previously employed by the National Science Foundation, NASA, and the U.S. Treasury Department.

Robert Willey, president and CEO of Red River Commodities Inc., Fargo, N.D., participated in a Japanese trade mission in May with approximately 15 other North Dakota business leaders and organizations. Bob joined Red River Commodities Inc., a processor of confection sunflower and specialty grains, in 1983.

I hope you have had a pleasant summer. In two days after writing this article (June 24), Arthur, Julie (18 years), Michael (14 years) and I will go to Hawaii for two weeks. We are all excited about this trip and hope it will be a fun and memorable and memorable family vacation — and not one such as Chevy Chase would take!

Sandra Abicht
Simmermon
1145 Rockbridge Avenue
Norfolk, VA 23508

Cynthia Trice Lowery received a graduate degree from Old Dominion University. She has taught in the Virginia Beach and Chesapeake school systems since graduation from the College. She and her husband John have two daughters, Samantha and Sterling, who attend Great Bridge High School. John is stationed in Korea with the Air Force.

J. Michael Johnson is a Navy commander with the Carrier Air Wing-Three, Naval Air Station, Oceana in Virginia Beach.

Marsha K. Carter, a consulting teacher at Crenshaw Elementary School in Chesterfield County, Va., is the Virginia recipient of a Christa McAuliffe Fellowship Award. The award funded by the U.S. Department of Education, recognizes outstanding teachers. Consulting teachers collaborate with classroom teachers to find ways to work with children who have learning or behavior problems while the children remain in the classroom. Marsha and husband Reid have two boys. One is in high school and the other in middle school.

Thanks to Marsha, Mike and Ed Trice '30, Cynthia's father, for sending in the above information. The next deadline is Oct. 23. I hope to hear from you before then.

Randy Pearson Van Dam (Mrs. T. Thomas Van Dam) 215 Myrtle Street Haworth, NJ 07641

I hope you all read the article in the May Alumni Gazette, "Virginia Kerns '70 — A Role Model for Women." Ginny, who has had a very interesting and challenging career as a cultural anthropologist, received the Thomas Jefferson Teaching Award at the College's Charter Day ceremonies in February for her outstanding accomplishments as a professor of anthropology at William and Mary. In Pittsburgh, Leslie Wild is development director for Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (Western Pa. Chapter). Before this position, she worked part time as a substitute high school English teacher, then as a surgical assistant for a dermatologist in between having babies and raising youngsters. When the youngest started school, Leslie took a position in the English department at Wheeling Jesuit College in Wheeling, W.Va., as a freshman composition instructor. She proposed, organized and was made director of the Academic Resource Center, a peer and faculty-staffed voluntary support program for resourceful students with enough insight to admit they need extra help. The center's programs expanded as Leslie made the teaching more peer-oriented. She was particularly proud of a pilot program patterned after one at Brown University in which a senior affiliated with a content area course for the semester as its writing fellow. In her present position as development director, Leslie writes and speaks constantly, as well as plans and implements fund-raising events. She and Carl Frankovitch are no longer married. Their three children, Marden, 16, Nick, 14, and Allyn, 12, are helping Leslie enjoy the teen-age years again. ... "vicariously," as she put it.

From July 1988 to July 1989, Mike Campana was on sabbatical leave from the Desert Research Institute, Reno, Nev., as a visiting professor of earth sciences at the University of California - Santa Cruz. He returned to the institute in July for one month as he will take on a faculty position in the department of geology at University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. Assuming the new position, Mike will help establish a graduate program in hydrogeology.

To celebrate our 40th birthday this year, Tom and I took the four children (9-1/2,

HUGHES HONORS'86 ALUMNUS

Patrick T. McGrath '86 is among 47 medical students $across \, the \, country \, to \, receive \, training \, fellowships \, under \, a \, new$ program begun by the Howard Hughes Medical Institute of Bethesda, Md. McGrath is a second year medical student at Vanderbilt University who received his B.S. in biology from William and Mary, where his honors included Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma national freshmen honor societies, Phi Sigma national biology honor society and the Maryland State Scholarship Award. His fellowship mentor will be Ronald Charles Desrosiers, associate professor, Division of Microbiology and Molecular Genetics, New England Regional Primate Research Center at Harvard Medical School. The $20,000 fellowship provides a stipend of $12,300, a research allowance of $4,000 and an allowance to the fellowship institution of $3,700. A Hughes official describes the fellowship recipients as "a remarkably talented group of young men and women.'

TOURNAMENT RAISES $34,000 FOR ATHLETICS

The seventh annual Shearson Lehman Hutton-William and Mary Pro-Am golf tournament raised more than $34,000 for Tribe athletics, with 21 professionals and 84 amateur golf players participating at the Golden Horseshoe golf course in Williamsburg. In the accompanying photograph Joe Plumeri '66, senior executive vice president of Shearson Lehman Hutton, is shown with Herbert Stein, professional golfer Cindy Rarick, Evan Katz and Allan Strange.

6-1/2, 3 1/2 and 1) to the Grand Tetons, Yellowstone, and a week at Nine Quarter Circle Ranch, Gallatin Gateway, Mont. June was a perfect time of year. Wildflowers were profuse, wildlife abounded, rivers and creeks raged with runoff from the snowpacks, snowcapped mountains in every vista, horseback riding was challenging and the Taylor Fork River provided us with rainbow trout for breakfast!! Can't wait to go back!!

Diana Deane Carr was elected president of the Ruth Jackson Society (national women's orthopedic society) at its 1989 Las Vegas Meeting. Diana began with the class of 1971 and graduated with our class, earning her master's degree in 1971. Diana is an orthopedic surgeon in Bartow, Fla.

My next deadline is early October for the December issue.

Peggy Corso Gould 13906 Edgecomb Court Centreville, VA 22020

Mary Miley Theobald 5 Countryside Court Richmond, VA 23229

You may remember in the last issue I said I had mailed out several dozen post-cards to classmates whose names were chosen at random from my master list, asking for news about themselves or other class of '74 friends. Well, the response was underwhelming — no one answered. Anybody have any innovative ideas on flushing out information?

Luckily I did chance to receive a couple of letters, so this month's issue will have something after all. Christopher Baker, M.D. is completing a fourth year radiological residency at Bridgeport Hospital in Connecticut. This July he'll take a fellowship in ultrasound and MRI at Boston University Hospital. He and his wife Annette, a recent graduate of Yale's master's program as a pediatric clinical nurse specialist, have a 3-year-old son, Colin.

Dessie Paul Kambanides and her husband Savvas and their 9-year-old son Paul have seen some major changes this past year. Dessie and her husband gave up their office jobs in Washington, sold their home in Annandale, and moved back to Hampton, her hometown, to open a seafood restaurant. Fisherman's Cave, located at 2000 North Armistead Ave. on the corner of Mercury Blvd. and Armistead, has been in operation since last July. They find restaurant work a different world, one that requires you to work seven days a week, 12 hours a day, but they enjoy it and are pleased to be closer to home and to W&M. Occasionally they see friends at the restaurant: not long ago Cathy Foster Walsh was in with her husband Ken ('73) and son John, age 7.

Hays Thomas Watkins III (Tom) and his wife Wendy just had a new baby, Hays Thomas Watkins IV (to be called Hays). Little Hays has two older sisters, Catherine and Caroline, ages 6 and 4, who are most eager to mother their new brother. The Watkins live in Lake Forest near Chicago.

Also in Chicago is Beth Stoneburg, a benefit communication consultant with William M. Mercer Meidinger Hansen. Beth is active in the local W&M alumni chapter, serving as secretary for five years and as chapter president this year. Her hobbies include backpacking, jogging and travel, a good combination for hiking the Appalachian Trail which she recently completed

William "Rip" Scherer and his wife Michelle Ragone '72 are living in Tucson, Ariz., where he is the assistant football coach for the University of Arizona. They have two children, Scott, 10, and Melanie, 7. Rip regrets that, being a football coach with a game that weekend, he'll not be able to attend our 15th reunion, but claims he'll be there in spirit!

Bert Wilson left Blue Cross of Virginia after 12 years to start his own health care consulting business two years ago. He and a partner own Atlantic Business Group and Bert's the vice president. Bert and his wife Linda have two children, Marcy, 12, and Angela, 7. He plays as much tournament golf as he can in his spare time, and is beginning a second term as president of the Central Region Basketball Officials Association for high school basketball in Virginia.

In Arlington, Va., Karen Yannello is an attorney with the Department of Defense's Office of the General Counsel. As senior attorney she provides legal advice to the department's Inspector General. Her favorite pastime is traveling and there have been some great trips in the last few years to France, Japan, the Caribbean, Australia and New Zealand.

W&M GALA held a New York reception honoring Christopher Bram, author of Hold Tight and Surprising Myself.

I'm sorry to end with such sad news, but I learned one of our classmates, Lemuel S. Tucker, died of cancer June 16 in a Richmond hospital. Some of us remember Lem from the football team; he played for four years while on athletic scholarship. After W&M he received his master's degree in divinity from Westminster Seminary in Philadelphia and joined Voice of Calvary Ministries, a non-profit Christian community development corporation based in Jackson, Miss. As CEO, Lem supervised the daily operations of the ministry's projects: a health care center, a thrift store chain, a real estate firm, a youth leadership training program, and an international Christian community development insti-

A few days ago I received a letter from Shari Shank Kidd of Chapel Hill, N.C., about Lem's death. Shari and her husband Reggie '73 kept in close contact with Lem and she wrote that "in the mid-'70s when Reggie and I were struggling and starving our way through graduate school, material assistance appeared several times anonymously. We later found out that it had been Lem, a struggling, starving graduate student himself" who was helping them out. Shari adds that she has known few people who were "loved as much or as dearly as Lem was loved by those who knew him. His life was one of self-sacrifice — his aim was to serve Christ." His death will sadden many in the W&M community.

Robert S. Cavaliere 3807 Keith Ave. Fairfax, VA 22030

News is sparse, hope everyone has had a fun-filled summer.

Paul Jost, that ex-purveyor of dormitory room-sized refrigerators, is now into real estate in a big way. Paul and another W&M grad, David Hill, have formed a corporation, called Citadel Management Corp., to take advantage of the distressed real estate market in Texas. The company buys properties from the FSLIC. In 1989 they have bought two apartment complexes totaling 746 apartments. And while they were at it, they decided to buy a savings and loan too.

Dave Nagle has recently joined the Richmond office of the law firm of Hagel, Thomas, Fiske, Beckhorn & Hanes, P.C. as an associate in the firm's business/tax section. Dave received his J.D. from the University of Richmond in 1981 and his LL.M. in labor law from the Georgetown University Law Center in 1983.

Gayle Yamada has been appointed director of cultural programming at public TV station KQED in San Francisco. According to the A.C. Nielsen data, the station is one of the nation's most watched public TV stations and its budget for the production of local cultural programs is the largest in public television. Gayle started in broadcasting in 1977 and has earned a master's degree in international communications from the University of Florida along the way

My next deadline is October 23; please write before then.

Margaret A. Bowen 8713 Rolando Drive Richmond, VA 23229

Paul Schmidt and his wife, Diane, are living in Anchorage, Alaska, where Paul is the deputy assistant regional director for the fish and wildlife service. They have a 2-year-old daughter, Katherine. In his letter, Paul described a world of exciting outdoor activities and indicated that he has many stories to tell of his adventures in Alaska. He will be happy to share the details with you when you come for a visit!

Henri Cole sends greetings from Yaddo, a writers' retreat in upstate New York. New York City has been his home for the past eight years, during which time he has taught at Columbia and Yale. In July, Henri will travel to southern France to write poetry for a year. Check your local book stores in December for Henri's second collection, The Zoo Wheel of Knowledge, published by Alfred A. Knopf.

Mary Grayson Segars writes from Hartsville, S.C., where she and husband Al live with their two sons. Al is a veterinarian and Mary does a great deal of artwork on a commission basis for private citizens and businesses. She recently has been taking courses in horticulture to enhance one of her favorite pastimes, gardening.

Chip Delano and his wife, Mary Ann, welcomed a new addition to their family in March. Philip James was born on March16. Chip is an attorney in Richmond with Sands, Anderson, Marks & Miller. Mary Ann is the marketing coordinator at Coopers & Lybrand.

Navy Lt. Elizabeth Train is stationed in San Diego, where she reported to the Commander, Naval Surface Force, in April. She joined the Navy in 1983 and later received a master of science degree from the Defense Intelligence College in Washington, D.C.

Dave O'Neill sends his thanks to the townspeople and classmates who helped him get started and achieve his final degree at William and Mary. In '87, Dave received his Ph.D. in materials science from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He married Kris Jensen and, together, they relocated to Albuquerque, N.M., where Dave has been working at Scandia National Laboratories. His work has centered on understanding the basic physics of metallic materials. In August, they will be moving to St. Paul, Minn., where Dave will begin a new position with 3M in its corporate research laboratories. Dave also sends news on the marriage of Michael and Julia Mason, Jan. 28. They are now living in Yukon, Okla.

Your letters are greatly appreciated. Keep them coming! Those who wrote for this issue indicated how much they enjoy reading about their classmates. In our next issue I may even tell you some of my own news!

Pam Lunny
749 Boston Ave.
Bridgeport, CT 06610

Now that the summer of 1989 is drawing to a close, I hope that we all can look back on the summer with many happy memories of fun in the sun and other enjoyable adventures. Time is marching on just too swiftly — many a time, I feel as if I'm being left in the dust! Before you know it, we will be planning our 10th reunion! To be honest, that's a bit of a scary thought, although at the same time, intriguing.

I have news of only a few Indians this month, which leads me to wonder if the postman is not making his appointed rounds or if my dog, Sonny, has developed a voracious appetite for mail.

It's great to get letters from alums all across the country — one can be sure that W&M Indians are not afraid of new adventures and challenges!

John Hassell is enjoying the sunny clime of the West Coast. He has been living in California for at least the last four or five years, presently in Santa Clara. Until 1985, John was governmental affairs representative for Caterpillar Inc., based in Sacramento. At that point, John left Caterpillar and joined the FMC Corporation as ublic affairs manager. His main responsibility was maintaining and enhancing state and local government relations. This past spring, John was named real estate project manager for the company's ground systems division in Santa Clara and San Jose. John will oversee, as program manager, the division's real estate development Lawyers Title Insurance Corp. recently named Marilyn Springfield to the position of compensation administrator at the company's national headquarters in Richmond. Before joining Lawyers Title, Marilyn was personnel officer for a Tidewater area financial institution and an account executive in corporate sales. She has also found time for graduate course work at Virginia Commonwealth University and the University of Richmond. Marilyn is a member of the American Association of Personnel Administrators and is certified as a Senior Professional in Human Resources.

John McCoy completed his Ph.D. in materials science at the University of Virginia last May. After graduation, John packed up and moved to Knoxville, Tenn., where he is working for American Matrix Inc. John was named program manager for metal matrix composites at the company

NEW IEAHC DIRECTOR NAMED

Jean Butenhoff Lee, a member of the history faculty at the University of Wisconsin, has been named director of the Institute of Early American History and Culture, which is sponsored jointly by the College and Colonial Williamsburg. Lee, who assumed her position July 1, succeeded Thaddeus W. Tate Jr., William E. Pullen Professor of History, who retired from the post after 17 years to direct the College's new Commonwealth Center for the Study of American Culture. A graduate of Carroll College in Wisconsin, Dr. Lee holds her M.A. from the University of Nebraska and a Ph.D. from the University of Virginia. She has taught at the universities of Virginia, Alabama and Utah, as well as William and Mary and Wisconsin. She is a widely published author whose works include a forthcoming book, Revolution Along the Tobacco Coast: Charles County, Maryland, 1750-1800, which will be published by the institute.

HOWE NAMED BANK VICE PRESIDENT

Katharine C. Howe '82 has been named vice president of the retail banking division for American Security Bank in Washington, D.C. As vice president and zone manager, Howe oversees the operation, management and development of 14 of American Security's 30 retail branches. Prior to joining American Security, she was a commercial account manager and assistant vice president at Crestar Bank. She began her banking career in 1982 as a management associate, serving in a variety of retail positions. Howe earned an M.B.A. in finance at George Washington University. She served on the Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce "Say Yes" Membership Campaign as a co-chairperson and top-producer.

and he seems to be enjoying his new position immensely.

The Windy City has been home for Steve Arata and Lisa Goff since the fall of 1982. Steve and Lisa were married in May 1982 in Billsburg in the Wren Chapel and shortly thereafter relocated to Chicago.

Steve wrote of a fascinating trip that he and Lisa took in connection with Lisa's coverage of the opening of a trade office for the weekly newsmagazine, Crain's Chicago Business. A large group of business, labor and political leaders traveled to Moscow to commemorate the first step in the State of Illinois' plan to broaden both trade and cultural relations with the people of the Soviet Union. Gov. James Thompson opened the state's trade office in Moscow. What a fantastic assignment to be able to attend and report on such an event! Steve and Lisa were able to visit Leningrad as well. Needless to say, they had a tremendous trip. Upon their return, Lisa was promoted to assistant managing editor and will be additionally responsible for developing and editing feature-length articles.

Steve has also been, and will continue to be, extremely busy. Having recently completed his doctorate in English, just this fall, probably a month or so ago, Steve assumed his position on the faculty of the University of Chicago in the English department. Definitely a top-notch school!

Congratulations to all who wrote on your promotions and accomplishments, and to you, and everyone else, best wishes for continued success!

I eagerly await word of your latest endeavors and of the happy occasions of your life. Please, even if it's just a quick note on a postcard, be sure to drop me a line to keep us up-to-date! Until we meet again, enjoy and take care.

82

Rebecca Lewis Saunders 171 Otter Slide Lane Kitty Hawk, NC 27949

Summer greetings to all of you! I have enjoyed visiting with some alums who have vacationed here. Danny McCoig '81 and Lisa (Tipton) '83 and their daughter Molly have a cottage in Nag's Head so we get together when they're in town. Danny pastors Milden Presbyterian in Sharps, Va., and Lisa works nearby with a CPA firm.

Bill Camp '81 visited in Manteo, N.C., with Glenn Hopkins '81 and Kathy (Harding) '83 and their two children (Mallory, 3-1/2, and Aaron Wayne, 7 mos.) Bill is still happily living on Long Island serving as a museum curator and expects his first book (a historical work) to be published this fall—congrats! Kathy recently passed her real estate licensing exam—yea!

I got a chance to visit my old roommate Heather Quinn when I was up near Philadelphia for a wedding. Heather is living a split life right now, working for the University of Delaware part of the week, and on loan to a government agency in D.C. the rest of the week! She's debating her next geological job pursuit, after having this opportunity to work within the private sector and with the government.

Darlene (Pastore) and David Etheridge are content with small town life in Snow Hill, N.C., where David pastors Snow Hill Presbyterian. They have a 2-year-old son Calvin, and Darlene works with a CPA firm in Goldsboro. Darlene writes that her brother David Pastore '85 and his wife

Sharon (Burks) '86 live here in Kill Devil Hills — perhaps our paths will cross on this bleak beach outpost! (Ha! We're now sporting a 5-lane highway down most of the beach — quite a change from what I remember when coming here for Beach Week!)

Cindy (Blain) Bettinger and husband David (a VCU alum) both graduated from MCV Medical School this past May. Cindy will start her residency in family practice in Chesterfield, Va. (where they live) and David will be starting surgery at MCV. Cindy's old roommate Anne (Benton) Madden and husband Jim live in the West End of Richmond, and Anne works at Circuit City.

Another classmate who completed graduate studies this year is Sarah Armbrister, who received her MBA from Virginia Tech. She has accepted a position with the school as corporate audit manager to related corporations of Virginia Tech. As I understand, she married a Virginia Tech alum this summer. And she was selected as an Outstanding Young Woman of America, an honor based on high qualities of character seen through involvements and successes in community, professional and academic endeavors. Congrats in all areas!

William Barnes is an investment broker at the Williamsburg office of Wheat First Securities and has earned his Certified Financial Planner designation through a program offered by the College of Financial Planning in Denver. The curriculum covered six subject areas pertinent to personal financial management. Now, if I had something to invest I'd know who to call!

Some updates on out-of-country alums. Corey (Gieseche) Wetzel and her husband have been in Seoul, Korea, for a year and expect to be there several more. Her husband is with the U.S. Embassy, and Corey works part-time as an economic consultant at Hanil Bank in the international banking department. Their 2-1/2-year-old son Charlie keeps her hopping and they are expecting a new addition to the family next January. Corey says they like living there, have been able to do some fun sightseeing, and attended several Olympic events last fall.

Christian Andree and wife Evelyn (Stanten) both work for IBM in England, and both received promotions this year -Evelyn works as a senior accountant, and Christian is in manufacturing management. They're happily settled on the South coast in Waterlooville, Hampshire and would love to see any alums who happen to be in England. With five weeks of vacation each year, they have had the opportunity to ski in the Alps twice this year and once in Austria last October on a glacier! This November they're planning a round-theworld trip, touching down in Hong Kong, Bali, Darwin (Crocodile Dundee country) and Sydney, Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, Hawaii and Los Angeles. Needless to say, they feel things are going well, and are looking forward to watching England play Australia at cricket this summer!

New baby announcements! Mary (Haydon) Morse '81 added a baby boy to her family which also includes a young daughter. Lisa Zanetti and Rob Kravitz are overjoyed with their firstborn daughter (a Valentine's day baby!). They have lived in Silver Spring, Md., for three years in an older home which has provided them with many renovation projects, and Rob has cultivated a wonderful garden which provides fresh ingredients for him to perfect his culinary talents. Lisa returned to her job as an international trade analyst with the U.S. International Trade Commission a government group she's found wonderfully personable and not bureaucratic. Rob is working for a California-based engineering firm, Earth Technology Corp., as an environmental scientist. The division he works for in Alexandria specializes in environmental cleanup, a job which fits well with his interests. Lisa says if they sound blissfully happy, well, they are! I must quote from Lisa's coffee mug, which any working mom (at home or otherwise) can relate to: "Working women are just laboratory rats in a scientific experiment designed to prove that sleep is not necessary to life." Amen! My husband comments that our household is often busier in the middle of the night than during the day. My only comment: Wait til No. 3 arrives

Thanks for all the terrific letters! Enjoy the rest of your summer and drop me a note (or call if you vacation on the Outer Banks) and fill me in on your news!

Joanna Lee Ashworth
301 West Tenth St.
The Poplar Building
Apartment No. 301
Charlotte, NC 28202

Hello, fellow fifth reunioners! I am looking forward to seeing all of you at Homecoming. Be sure to send in your reservation forms early — a fun time will be had by all!

It will take me a little bit longer to get to Williamsburg this fall because I have moved to Charlotte, N.C. I have left the political life behind in Washington to work as assistant vice president and special events director for First Union National Bank of North Carolina. Charlotte is a beautiful city, as well as dynamic and very friendly. I have a huge apartment with a view of downtown and I can walk to work! If you find yourself in the Charlotte airport waiting for a Piedmont (i.e., USAir) plane, feel free to give me a buzz with some news.

Since I moved here in April, I have run into many W&M friends. Bob Kunkle '64 is president of the W&M chapter here. He just recently celebrated his entry into the quarter-century club with IBM. I get together with Dana and Tom Hearn '83 often. Dana and I work in the same building. She is a lawyer with Petree, Stockton and Robinson, and Tom is in administration at Charlotte Memorial Hospital.

We all had dinner with Alison and Greg Miller a couple of weeks ago. Alison and Greg were driving through Charlotte on their way to Gainesville, Fla., their new home. Greg will be doing his residency there and Alison transferred with CSX Corp. and will be commuting to Orlando.

Ali gave me some good scoop for the column. George Foreman is working for General Binding Corp. and Lynn Helms Foreman started her residency at MCV in psychiatry in late July. Kathy Woodcock '85 is working in sales for Roche labs. Monica Johnson is engaged and has plans for a July wedding. Kelly Huffman '85 has become engaged to Danny Chen '83 and has moved to Connecticut. Kelly is working as a counselor for the Travelers Insurance. Janet Lawson '86 has become engaged as well.

I ran into Paul Solotario '81, who works with First Union. Michael Watson

'72, who works with Domingo Gonzalez Architectural Lighting Design in New York, has been helping me with a project here in Charlotte. We discovered we were both W&M grads during one of our recent meetings! Hope Solomon has moved here as well and is a research assistant for Marketwise, a market research company. I have also visited with Colleen McKee'86, who is working for First Union and Tad Geschickter '85 who is with Procter and Gamble. Tad had some fun stories about the famous Tide stock car. Since I moved to Charlotte, I have become acquainted with the sport of stock car racing, barbeque and the Charlotte Hornets!

Although I have been in Charlotte for over three months, I have not spent many weekends here. It must be the year of the wedding! Kevin Davis'87 and Aimee Bellaria'87 tied the knot on April 15. Another Northern Virginia PIKA wedding was that of Dan Head '85 to Justina "J.J." Johnson on June 24. Lori Bucchius, Margie Mulhall who has just bought a snazzy new Plymouth Laser and is working for the American Physics Association, and Susan Fryer served as bridesmaids and Henry Plaster'85 was the perfect groomsman, except for the crooked carnation.

I hear that Henry planned one wild bachelor's party — rumors are flying! Henry is doing well working for Congressman Fred Upton. Henry is just a partyin' kind of guy because he and his girlfriend, Christy, came down to Charlotte for my surprise birthday party in early June. Henry is one mean croquet player.

Dan and J.J.'s wedding attracted guests from far and wide. I was not the only guest from Charlotte. Rob Coble '85 traveled up from here as well. He is working for Peat Marwick. Brad Angevine is in the midst of moving to New York, but made a special trip and served as a reader during the ceremony.

Bobby and Judy Harris came up from Williamsburg, where Bobby has just completed his first year of law school. Anne St. Clair, Rob and Lori Heaslip, Linda and Kord Basnight, Alison Hawley, Keith Tomlinson '81, Doug Neil '86, Bart Edmunds '85, Kevin and Aimee Davis '87, Adam Anthony '87, Laura Head '87, David Brand and Anne Golwen '83 joined in the celebration. David and Anne were getting ready for their wedding the following weekend. After the reception, Dan and J. J. Head scooted off to Bermuda for their honeymoon.

The following weekend, I was off to Memphis for Anne Golwen '83 and David Brand's July 1st wedding, which was one of the most festive events I have attended in a long time. The Golwen and Brand clans made big plans for all of the guests, including a group trip to Graceland on the big day!

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Peabody Hotel, home of the famous marching ducks and the dinner started with cocktails while watching the web-footed creatures make their way on the red carpet from the beautiful fountain in the main lobby up to their duck palace on the roof. After the dinner, we all escaped to Beale Street for some real Memphis blues.

The wedding was an evening candle-light ceremony. Karen Kolecki '83, Linda Cottle '83, Anne St. Clair, Susan Brand '87 and Debbie Brand '81 served as bridesmaids. Anne is busy with her 5-month-old son, Hunter, Linda is working for Close Up and Karen is working at

PROFESSOR BRUCE MCCULLY

Professor Bruce T. McCully, professor of history emeritus, died in July in Williamsburg after a long illness. Professor McCully taught at William and Mary from 1940 until his retirement in 1974. He also served as chairman of the department of history. A graduate of Rutgers, Dr. McCully received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University and taught at Columbia and Princeton before joining William and Mary. He was the author of a pioneering work on India titled English Education and the Origins of Indian Nationalism. In a resolution adopted by the Board of Visitors, Dr. McCully was described as "a dedicated teacher and scholar" and a "professional educator in the highest sense of the word with uncompromising academic standards.'

ALUMNUS NAMED REYNOLDS COUNSEL

Ronald F. Bianchi '76 has been appointed associate counsel for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. in Winston-Salem, N.C. He previously was manager, litigation support for RJR. Before joining RJR, he was employed as an attorney/management consultant with Advanced Technology Inc. in Reston, Va. Prior to that he was an attorney for the Department of Justice.

GEIGY HONORS MBA GRADUATE

Jeffrey Miller '87 M.B.A. (left) has been awarded the Circle of Excellence Award by Geigy Pharmaceuticals of Summit, N.Y. The honor goes to members of the field force with outstanding sales records and to individuals who have made extraordinary contributions to the success of the organization. A division of CIBA-GEIGY, the company is engaged in the discovery, development, manufacture and marketing of pharmaceutical products.

Fairfax Hospital and is busy planning her own wedding to take place in Cherry Hill, N.J., Aug. 26, to Bill Browning, who works at the American Bankers Association. (Although Bill went to UNC, we have voted to adopt him.) They are planning to honeymoon in Greece — ooh la la! John Golwen '86 served as an usher and Anne's father, Howard Golwen '56, escorted the beautiful bride down the aisle.

John has just completed his first year at Washington & Lee law school and is spending the summer in Memphis clerking for Martin, Tate, Morrow. Mr. Golwen is a senior vice president at First American Bank and really had a good time with the many visiting W&M folks. Ann Quinn Ritko '83 and I both did readings at the

Despite the rainstorm, everyone made it to the reception and partied until the wee hours. I haven't danced that much since the sorority dance back at W&M! The event was complete with fried catfish to munch on — mmmm. Becky Rogers '83, who is working for the Minority Senate Committee on Education was there to join in on the fun, with her fiancee, Michael Voslow. They plan an October wedding. Bob "Booty" and Beth Laverty '83 were on hand and they are expecting their first child, due in late fall. Booty is doing well at E Systems. Rusty Quinn '81 came down from the Big Apple where he is working for Moody's. Kim and Greg Hundley came from Dallas. Marty Cross '86 joined in the party and Greg Park'83 flew in from Atlanta, where he is working with Citicorp. Mark Forde'83 ventured from Richmond, where he has just completed law school. He will be traveling over to Europe for the month of August and will then settle in the nation's capital, to work for the law firm of Morgan, Lewis. After the gala, Anne and David escaped to Bermuda (they probably passed J. J. and Dan in the airport) and returned a week later to their condo in Arlington. Anne is working for Global U.S.A. and David is enrolled in the graduate biology program at Georgetown.

At the wedding, Mark Forde '83 told me about another nuptial event, that of George Cruser and Lynn Kennedy, on May 27. Lynn is a graduate of Penn State and I hear that she made over $125 on the dollar dance with the bride! George and Lynn traveled to France for their honeymoon. George is working for Hewlett-Packard.

Melanie Moore writes that she is engaged to be married on September 30. She recently vacationed in Nag's Head with some old W&M chums, Chris Wood '83, Steve Brown '83, Laurie Brown, Mike Meagher and Matt Bradley '83. Chris and Steve married in June and will live in Ann Arbor. Laurie is making the world safe for affordable housing in Boston. Matt just finished law school and Mike is returning to Europe to open another wicker store.

Here's evidence that you all are keeping up with your classmates — Mark Dobbin's '82 mother read in the '84 column that Laura Groom had recently moved to Denver and was looking for some W&M buddies nearby. She suggested that Mark call Laura and the rest is history! Laura and Mark were married in Cherry Hill, N.J., on June 17. They will be living in Atlanta, where Mark is working for the Athlete's Foot in its home office. Laura also notes that she hopes to get in touch with

Lynn Turnage Sawyer — if you have any news on Lynn's whereabouts, please drop me a line

John Hutcheson writes that he graduated in May 1988, from the Louisiana State University Law Center. He then joined the law firm of Ostby & Nealon in Old Town Alexandria. He looks forward to seeing many of you at our fifth year reunion.

I heard from Courtney Reid, who is in her second year at Yale Divinity School studying for her master of divinity. She will receive her degree in December. She has really enjoyed her time at Yale and has been involved in many activities, including campaigning for the Democrats! She plans an August wedding in Richmond to a fellow Yale divinity student, Rick King. Katie Johnson '83 will serve as maid of honor and Cyndy Nash Huddleston '83 will be a bridesmaid. Cyndy is an officer in the Metro D.C. W&M alumni chapter and is enjoying her work at Georgetown. Rick and Courtney will stay in New Haven for at least six months after the wedding. Rick is presently seeking a call from a church in the United Church of Christ.

They were recently in New York for a going-away party for Laura Zinni, who will be traveling in Italy for three months and will attend Stanford Business School in the fall. The party was at Jim and Suzie (Sweetster) Connors' home, and a good time was had by all. W&M alums attending included Katie Winter Gray '82 and her husband, Stewart, Karen Vandecastle '81, Margaret Eklind, Mark Linnaugh, Tim Meell and Alicia Rubi, who is off to Madrid to work for Citibank. Courtney also mentioned that she recently heard from Polly Roberts, who is working for the State Department in Honduras. Courtney will see you all at Homecoming.

Rick Overy '86 joined the ranks of the married on June 3rd in Colorado. Rick married Julie Rautio and honeymooned in Guatemala. The new couple returned to Williamsburg, where Rick is the new assistant director of alumni affairs in charge of chapters.

Bill Joyner sent me a nice letter. He is currently finishing his first year in the master's degree program at the Juilliard School in New York, majoring in voice. Bill graduated from Catholic University last May with a bachelor of music in voice performance. This summer, he is serving as an apprentice in the Young Artists Program at Glimmerglass Opera, in Cooperstown, N.Y. Bill's long-range goal is to establish a career as an opera singer. Next year he will be taking auditions for various apprenticeships with opera companies, here and abroad.

Bill often sees Mike Lorch '85 for dinner or a ball game. He caught a Mets game with Rich Sullivan '86, who is finishing his second year at Yale Law School. Bill also ran into Janice Harrup '86 at Newark Airport — Janice is married now and is enjoying success with a paper company.

Bill writes about another fun wedding, that of Chris Kontos and Demetra Yeapanis '85, last January. W&M attendants were Mike Kontos '83, Howie Horowitz — who was planning his June wedding in Wilmington, Del. — Will Gimpel, Charlie Kendrick '82, Alison Sellin '85 and Fraser Hudgins. Fraser has completed his law degree in Richmond and has moved back to Washington to work for the law firm of McChesney, Duncan & Dale.

Fraser is serving as our class reunion chairman, so make your plans now! W&M guests included Mary Kach '85, Mike and Jane Knott Powell, Melanie McVickar '83, Mike Shuler '83, Jane Butler '86, Chris Megale '85, Jeff McQuilken '85, Alison and Greg Miller, John Reynolds '86, and Courtney Joyner '87. The highlight of the wedding was the Greek dancing — a blast!

Bill went to another noteworthy social event, a reception for New York area Theta Delts and gathered info on these W&M buddies: Dennis and Alison Shea are living in New Jersey, where Dennis is nearly finished with his Ph.D. in economics at Rutgers. Alison is doing well with an insurance firm. Will Gimpel is at Columbia studying international relations. Pete Ferre '85, Tom Blackwood '86 and Scott Flynn '87 rounded out the party.

Big news from down South: The Marchbanks have a new addition to their family! Barbie Jerome Marchbank writes that their son, Duncan, was born on Mar. 4. Her husband, Rob, is president and general manager of Ferguson Underground Supply, a division of Ferguson Enterprises.

Rob travels about the Sunshine State quite a bit and racks up those frequent flyer miles! Barbie and Rob used some of those miles to travel up to D.C. for Mike and Jane Powell's '85 wedding and for Christmas as well. On their last visit, with Duncan in April, they visited with Jane and Mike, and their new addition, Jeffrey Michael Powell, born on March 8. Rob and Barbie are enjoying Boca Raton and often see John Rhein '82, his wife Traci, and their little girl, Tara. Rob and John work together—they were roommates in college—some things never change!!

Joe and Linda Carroll report a new addition as well, John Francis (Jack), born on Valentine's Day. Joe and Linda have moved to Lynchburg, so any of you Lynchburg alums, please give them a call. Joe has a new job for a transportation services company called Jamco, Inc. As you can imagine, Linda has her hands full at home.

Kathy Hecker Frakes '86 has her hands full with her newborn, Paul, but other big news in the Frakes family is that Pat Frakes '86 has made captain from first lieutenant. Kathy and Pat will be returning to Georgia from Germany next February.

Marv Shaw '83 wrote me a wonderful letter and said that the W&M Dewey Beach House is in action for the sixth summer in a row. The beachcombers include Margaret McGovern, Mary Obata, who is in her first year at UVA law school, Bob Hallman '82, Tracy Baynard, Ruthanne Fuqua and Liz O'Brien '85. Marv talked with Kevin McGahren '83, who just completed his first year of MBA school at Northwestern in Chicago. After a summer of work, Kevin heads to Holland to study for the fall semester.

Amy Marcos has a wedding in the works, too. I stayed with Amy out in San Francisco and she gave me all of the wedding plans. She is planning to move to Miami in September, and she and Jay have an April 1990 date for the wedding. Amy is staying busy out in San Francisco and serves as president of the W&M alumni chapter there.

I had the privilege to attend the marriage of Jeff Bishop and Betsy White on May 6. Jeff was all smiles! They were married in McLean and I visited with Doug Yaemans, Patti James '86, Brad Ange-vine, Mike Cousins and Jeff and Jenny Deal at the reception. Jeff and Jenny are expecting their first child in October. The new Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bishop took off for a two-week honeymoon in Hawaii. I wish I could have seen Jeff trying the hula!

Be sure to mark these fifth-year reunion events on your Homecoming calendar: Saturday, there will be a post-game reunion party in the courtyard of the Royce Hotel from 4-6 p.m., and on Sunday morning, we'll gather for a continental breakfast at the Patrick Henry Inn from 8-9 a.m.

Hope to see you and be sure to bring all of your news!!

Kristen M. White 3492 Martha Custis Drive Alexandria, VA 22302

Greetings from hot and muggy Washington. And how are things with all of you? Do hope you are all doing well in this, our third year as alums.

They say June is the month for brides, and so it was that I found myself at the lovely wedding of Shannon Pastorino '87 and Mike Lewis, who were married here in Washington at St. Ann's Church. The bride looked beautiful (of course) and the groom was equally handsome. Bridesmaids included Carol Holmes (about to embark on her second year at Marshall-Wythe), Kathy Curtis (yes, she's still teaching third grade and loving it. . . I think) and Susan Johnson.

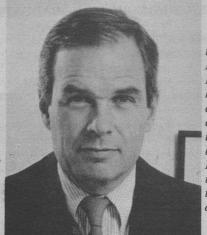

Groomsmen Kevin Lynch (working for Associated Press), Peter Glenshaw (working here at Georgetown University and hoping to begin his master's shortly), Andrew Walpole (he and wife Sharon'87 are teaching at Cushing Academy in Massachusetts where he is also working in admissions), and best man Mark Decker (he's making macroeconomic projections at the Congressional Budget Office — don't ask me, I hated econ) rounded out the wedding party.

The reception was held on the Spirit of Washington and was attended by many W&M alums, including Ellen and Doug Brinkley, Cathy Moser (she works with Mike at Georgetown's National Biomedical Research Foundation), John Byrum (still influencing legislation in Herb Bateman's office on the Hill), Jill Stebbing, Alex Cochran (who flew in from Germany for the occasion), and Alec Murphy (who's working in the defense contracting industry). A fun time was had by all. The happy couple honeymooned in St. Croix, Virgin Islands, and will be moving in early September to their new abode in Santa Cruz, Calif., where Mike will be studying for a doctorate in molecular biology. Congrats and best wishes to you both!

There were a number of '86 alums at the engagement party of Tricia Banks '87 this past June. Tricia (she's still at Woodie's and doing quite well there) and Scott Russell will tie the knot this September. A multitude of alums turned out at the Washington Golf and Country Club here in Arlington to help Tricia celebrate her upcoming nuptials

Guests from the Class of '86 included John Kammeier, Jim Blackwell, Chantal Emerson and Adam Hogge (Chantal and Adam will be married in November—congratulations!), and Chris Lindsey (living with Chantal and teaching in the President Paul R. Verkuil '61 was one of eight American legal experts, including U.S. Supreme Court justices Sandra Day O'Connor and Anthony Kennedy, who participated in July in the 1989 Anglo-American Legal Exchange in England. Verkuil said the idea of the exchange, which has been held every four years for the past 25 years, is to give a small group of judges and lawyers an opportunity to examine the strengths and weaknesses of each country's system of law. This was the second time Verkuil had been involved in the legal exchange. During his first trip in 1985, the U.S. delegation was led by former Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, now chancellor of William and Mary. In September, the British delegation will come to William and Mary where both delegations will sit in judgment as a free speech case is argued at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law under the direction of Rodney A. Smolla, director of the Institute of Bill of Rights Law.

SCHOLARSHIP HONORS 1988 ALUMNUS

The John Lee Vahradian Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established at the College in memory of Vahradian, a member of the class of 1988, who died in an accident in Washington, D.C., on March 11, 1989. At the time of his death he was working as a management consultant for Arthur Andersen. At William and Mary he was a member of the swim team, serving as co-captain during 1988, and he belonged to Sigma Chi fraternity. Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may send checks payable to the Endowment Association to: John Lee Vahradian Memorial Scholarship Fund, Endowment Association, P. O. Box 1693, Williamsburg, VA 23187.

Richmond area). The Class of '87 was well represented by Rusty and Julie Andrews, Karen Colmie Heckelman, T. J. Holland, Mike Kimsey and Walt Welham. Tom Johnson '85 was there, too, representing his class. It was quite an evening of fun and dancing. I don't think I've danced that much since college!

By the time you receive this, Susan Ochs Dugas will be living in Houston, having been transferred by Exxon. She'll be working in the Market Investment Program there. In case you were wondering about the added last name, Susan was married this past April to Richard Dugas. The happy couple has built a house in the Woodlands area of Houston.

Sherri Givens Holland wrote to announce that she and husband Mark are the proud parents of a son born in February. Sherri also writes that Jan Hearth was married to John Kucklick in late May. Jan graduated from UNC-Wilmington with a master's in marine biology and is working as a biologist in South Carolina. Congratulations and good luck to all of you!

Sherri was not the only one having a baby this past February. Pam Wilgenbusch Fridley wrote to say that she and husband Rick had a baby girl, whom they named Elizabeth Anne. Hope y'all are finally getting some sleep!

Ellen and Doug Brinkley hosted a lovely party in late May in honor of Susie Brinkley '88 and John Means '88 who plan to tie the knot this October. John works for Coca-Cola, oops, I mean Pepsi, in Richmond while Susie is currently honing her teaching skills in Baltimore.

Enjoying the fruits of Ellen's exquisite cooking skills (and my punch) were Meg Williams, Regina Femminella (she'll be studying in Mexico come August), Lina Lukens, Allison Brown '87 (starting her second year at Rutgers Law School), Micah Yarbrough (he'll be at Rutgers in August, too, but as a first year), Kevin Ward, Sarah Shea, Mike Sapnar '88 (working for Continental Insurance in New York), Robin Freedman (ever the Queen of Aerobics at Body by Gilda here in D.C., she's in sales at Businessland as well) and a host of other guests. The weather was perfect and the party a resounding success!

Libby King is working at Strat-X International Corp. in Cambridge, Mass., setting up marketing seminars.

Saw Lars Okeson one recent Sunday in June as he cut me off in traffic in front of Landmark on Duke Street. Don't try to deny it - your license plates give you away!

Gordon Ward is leaving his job at The New York Times (where he has utilized his econ degree to write the Data Bank column for the Sunday Business section) to start classes at Carnegie-Mellon's School of Urban and Public Affairs. Gordon is planning to earn a master's in management and urban planning and economic development. Thanks for the note, Gordon, and much luck to you!

Cathy Creekmore is working here in Washington for the American Architectural Foundation and doing well. Lynn Hale is on the home stretch at Catholic University. By the time you read this she'll have earned her master's in library science and landed a job in Richmond where fiance Billy is an architect. Lynn and Billy plan to tie the knot in late October.

Visited Julie Wallace Dunn and husband Tom '87 in Charlotte, N.C., this past April. (While I was there, Matt Ramsey stopped in for a visit on his way back from the Karen Dudley Memorial Triathalon in the Burg — he's just been promoted at MCI and reports that roommate Rob Bass is doing well, too. It was great to see you, Matt!)

Julie and Tom recommend marriage and both are thriving in their jobs. Julie is still with Procter and Gamble (thank God where would I be without all that Tide detergent?) and Tom is working his tail off at Price-Waterhouse. Miss you both and wish you were closer!

Susan Zanetti is still in paralegaldom here in D.C. She and roomie Debbie Zanfagna recently moved into a new place and are enjoying it. Debbie is still consulting for Price-Waterhouse. Speaking of which, Price-Waterhouse has sent Angela Campbell to Lincoln, Maine! She reports that she really likes the northeast, enjoys the peace and quiet and lives in a really cute Victorian house.

Just received word that Maria Reyher and Van Meredith were married last winter on Long Island. The wedding party included '86ers Kevin Lynch and Mark Hudson. Maria and Van are now living in Alexandria. Congrats!

Congratulations are in order for Susan and Ben Brake, both of whom were accepted at the University of Virginia's Darden School of Business and have enrolled for this fall. Look them up if you are ever in the land of the Wahoos! While there you can also visit Susan Doyle, who will start her graduate program in special education there this fall. And maybe you'll run into John Fielding, who'll be a first year at U.Va. law in August.

Steve Richards and Dan Weber, it's August now. Are you still freezing?

Lisa Von Eschen sent a newsy letter. She writes that Susan Bowen was married in February to Lt. Kevin Brofford. The couple honeymooned in Germany and are now living in Pensacola, Fla. Matron of honor Debbie Woodland Smith flew up from Atlanta, where she's a computer programmer for HBO. Bridesmaid Anne Fallon came from Long Island, where she's living the hectic life of retail as manager of the Children's Palace.

Also witnessing the occasion were Christy Hagar, Laura Chase Medvene, Terri Erwin, Kathy MacGregor, Lucinda Snyder and Mark Whitehurst (congrats are in order for Lucinda and Mark, who tied the knot this past May. Hope all is going well for you in Richmond!) Lisa says the wedding (a true Navy affair complete with swords and all!) was beautiful. Best wishes, Susan and Kevin! As for Lisa, she's finished her first year at NYU's Law School and is clerking this summer at an L.A. firm. Sounds great!

To all of you who finished up at grad school in 1989, congratulations! Kelly Doyle has graduated from U.Va. law and will be working at Brown & Wood in New York City come fall. Karen Robertson and Bob Pontz, I'm assuming you've finished up U.Va. as well. Jay McLeod received his J.D. degree from the University of Michigan and will be working for Vorys, Sater, Seymour & Pease in Columbus, Ohio.

Debra Creasy wrote to say that she too earned her J.D. in May. She is now off to the University of Denver to work on an L.L.M. in taxation. Dave Fox just graduated from NYU's law school this past May. Ginny Cook finished up at Marshall-Wythe and is moving to Arizona, and Jim Pratt just earned his law degree from the University of Chicago. Good luck to all of you!

The Baltimore/Annapolis alumni chapter sponsored the first of what will surely become an annual cruise in Baltimore. W&Mers enjoying ocean breezes and Calypso music aboard the Clipper City included most of the Brinkley clan: Doug and Ellen, (okay, you two, that's three times you've been mentioned in this column) Jim and Dana (I won't spill the beans on your ages) and Susie '88.

Fellow Lodge 2ers Robin Freedman and Regina Femminella were there, as were Kathy Curtis and Mark Decker. Julie Anderson '87 has moved to Rockville and continues to work for Maryland National Bank. Class of '88ers Mike Diegle, Terry DiSpenzio and a multitude of alums too many to mention rounded out the passenger list. We certainly enjoyed ourselves!

Christine Ferguson has been promoted at AT&T and assumed her new duties in July. She tells me that her former roommates Debbie McDaniel and Pam Tiffany are joining the ranks of grad school bound W&M'ers. Debbie will be at either MIT or Wharton (gee, some choice!) this fall while Pam had to choose between our alma mater and C'ville to do grad work in education (she picked W&M - good choice, Mark Dewey dropped me a line to say he's left NBC in New York and is now the weekend anchor and weekday reporter for the CBS station in Greenville, Miss. When will we see you subbing for Dan Rather, Mark? Mark also tells me that Mark Stewart is now an assistant vice president for private banking at Sovran Bank's Arlington office.

For those of you who don't know it, Jaimalito's here in Washington Harbour is the place to be on Friday evenings. I ran into both Ken Rogich and Scott Repke there one Friday this summer. Ken is using his accounting skills in the area of financial planning and lives here in Alexandria. Ken recently sailed from Massachusetts to Bermuda (or was it Bermuda to Massachusetts?) — how'd it go? Scott Repke has earned a promotion and is moving to Philadelphia shortly. Congrats, Scott!

Add Kent Schaum and Kathy Redmond '87 to the list of couples planning to walk down the aisle in the near future.

Anne Jarrell and Greg '85 LoCasale are the proud owners of a new house in Maplewood, N.J. Yes, it's a real house, with a backyard and everything! No more apartment living for these two! Bet you both are excited and enjoying life as homeowners.

Brian Kane wrote from Brookline, Mass., where he is pursuing a doctorate in astronomy at Boston University. Brian is engaged (isn't everyone?) and reports that he is truly enjoying life in Boston.

Sutton Stephens is currently in Tunisia working for the Peace Corps. Sounds like a fascinating experience!

Last, but certainly not least, I spoke with Tom Noble recently. He's still with Saatchi & Saatchi's advertising division in New York and doing well there. Tom is moving into an apartment in the Big Apple this summer and will soon learn what it means to be rent-poor!

As for me, I'm still the litigation section's legal assistant here at Heron, Burchette, Ruckert & Rothwell in Georgetown. My boss has been leading the investigation of Pete Rose, so you can just imagine how busy I am! (Things have been hectic, but oh so interesting and quite exciting, to say the least!) I am really enjoying my job, stress notwithstanding!

The law school situation looks less than bright, though I have yet to hear from a number of schools. However, I figure that things will work out as they are meant to (at least that's what mom and dad keep telling me!) Promise that y'all will keep writing and filling me in on your whereabouts. Hope to hear from and/or see all of you soon!

Suzy Hoube 35 Pine Street Watertown, CT 06795

I hope all is going well with each of you. Thanks to everyone who has written.

Congratulations to Martha Newton. who has been selected "Outstanding First Year Teacher Of The Year" by the Hanover County Public School System in Hanover County, Va. She has also been nominated by the Hanover School System for the Sallie Mae First Year Teacher Award, which recognizes 100 first year elementary and secondary teachers nationwide. Martha is a second grade teacher at the Battlefield Park Elementary School in eastern Hanover County.

Anson Christian '89 wrote with news of Tim McEvoy and Steve Lewis. Just when Cambridge, England, thought it had recovered from our 1987 invasion, Tim and Steve made a return trip to visit some of our old haunts.

Anson also writes that Connie Bruce and Andrew McRobert '87 were married in Norfolk, Va., in May. The wedding was attended by Bob Miller, Tina Burgess, Stuart West, Bill Gill, Tina Voerman, Mark McWilliams and Andrea Hill. Eric Doninger is getting his master's degree at the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana. He has been accepted to study architecture next year at the University of Paris in Versailles. He also says that if anyone traveling through his area should stop by or give him a call and say Monica Taylor wrote from Lancaster, Pa., where she is working for a law firm. She just finished her first year of law school at good 'ole W&M and sounds terrific.

Jill Purdy is attending Penn State, working on her Ph.D. in management and organization. Jill hopes to become a college professor and is working hard doing research and being a T.A. for grad students. She hopes to be teaching her own undergraduate class by spring.

Hello to Bill Hertz, who recently took the GMATs at W&M and hopes to start taking classes in the fall. Good Luck!

Shellie Holubek is working on a project for the National Science Foundation & National Institute of Health in Washington, and is learning quite a bit about the amount of money the two agencies and

PASCHALL TAKES NEW POSITION

Elizabeth W. Paschall'64, director for annual support at William and Mary, has been named director of the Women's Resource Center at the University of Richmond, where she assumed her new duties on Aug. 1. The center was founded in 1976 to help women explore their values, skills and job choices, although 25 percent of the center's clientele now consists of men. Its mainstay is a 12-week life-planning seminar with additional courses, workshops and support groups on topics such as personal growth, career paths and the legal, financial and emotional aftermath of divorce. Last year, the center served 7,000 people. Ms. Paschall, who also holds a master's degree from William and Mary, taught at Hampton Roads Academy before joining the Society of the Alumni in 1982 as director of chapter programs. In 1985, she became associate director for annual support and in 1987 director for annual support in the Office of University Advancement.

GOTTWALD NAMED ETHYL TREASURER

The board of directors of Ethyl Corp. has elected Bruce C. Gottwald Jr. '84 M.B.A. treasurer of the corporation. Gottwald joined Ethyl in 1981 as a marketing analyst in the plastics group. In 1984 he became a financial analyst in the finance department and later served as a product development analyst with Ethyl's subsidiary, First Colony Life Insurance Co., Lynchburg, Va.

others provide to the research and development activities at U.S. universities. She is also involved with the Variety Club, a nationwide service organization that provides support for limb-deficient children. Moreover, she is working with Judith Jones (mother of Jessica '87) on organizing a Junior Variety branch for our age "kids." If anyone is interested in getting involved just give Shellie a call. (She's in the D.C. telephone book).

Some other news from Shellie: Maria Santucci made the Law Review at Villanova and was 18th in her class.

Sally Andrews is an assistant branch manager with Sovran Bank.

John Chesen has been working with the Smithsonian.

Debbie Harris is still a claims representative with State Farm Insurance and has just moved in with Sue Wilson and Sue Campbell.

Julie Slade is now an engineer for Virginia Power.

Hello to Mark Aldrich, who has just ended a national tour of The Mystery of Edwin Drood and is spending the summer performing at the Seaside Music Theater in Daytona Beach. (Rough life, eh?)

Mark writes of some of our classmates: Eric Hoy is alive and well and living in Richmond.

Kirby Knight is attending seminary in Louisville, Ky., working toward his degree as a music minister. He has just become the music minister at a church outside of his city.

David Burke and Laura Carson have finished their year of work at the Actors Theatre of Louisville and are ready to head on to bigger and better things.

Godfrey Simmons is appearing in "Bluesman" at the Source Theatre in downtown D.C. and has gotten great reviews. (Way to go, Godfrey!)

Becky Edwards is a candidate for an Amnesty International office and appears to be headed for graduate school in the fall.

Barb Pedersen is doing well at law school in Chicago.

Park Berkley is working as an internal auditor for Best Products in Richmond. The job affords him the opportunity to travel about 50 percent of the time. Paul sends some more Class of '88 news'

Alan Wilson is about to complete a year as a management trainee at First American Bank. He lives in Alexandria.

Robbie Gilbert recently started a training program at EDS, a computer systems design subsidiary of General Motors. Robbie will live in Mansfield, Ohio, for the first six months and then move to Dallas for the next six.

Kim Gupton works for a savings and loan association in Raleigh, N.C.

Julie Jansen is working on her master's in education at Kent State.

Terri Mead works at Bacon Street, a hotline and help service for battered women in Williamsburg. She also volunteers her time for the Covenant Players.

Brad Lenox works for Price Waterhouse in the Boston area and lives in Quincy, Mass.

Kelly McDonald is an accountant for Peat Marwick in Norfolk, Va.

Sandy Heezen writes to us from London, where she is living with Lori Zeeman and Cathy ("C.B.") Boston'87, and working for the Association of International Bond Dealers as a liaison executive in corporate communications and the TRAX System Administration. Lori is working for British Airways as a senior campaign executive, and Cathy works at the University of London in the overseas laws department. Sandy says she is having an "absolutely brilliant time" and would appreciate some mail! (Write to me if you want her address.)

Beth Ballenger has been assigned as a teacher in Santa Cruz, Bolivia, through the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board's journeymen program. Journeymen work two years alongside career missionaries, sharing duties that can be accomplished in English and freeing missionaries to carry out more crucial assignments.

Emily Deck writes that last October she spent some time in Edinburgh, and had a great time. Kirsten Schmidt, who is awaiting news from graduate schools, and Emily traveled to St. Andrews to see Richard Goldie (who spent a year, '86-'87, at W&M). Kirsten and Emily then caught a train to London and Emily says they acted like "total tourons," visiting all the tourist spots, wearing sparkling white tennis shoes, and swilling Rolling Rock beers at the Hard Rock Cafe. Emily has accepted a job with the House Armed Services Committee. She'll be staying with Kathy Gramling, Dave Berg and Tegan Holtzman for a couple of weeks.

Navy Ensign Michael W. Studeman has been commissioned in his present rank upon graduation from Officer Candidate School.

And last, but I hope not least, I am spending the summer in yes, Syracuse, N.Y., working for Syracuse Stage. Weather Flash: It has finally gotten warm (make that HOT) in Central New York!

Again thanks to everyone who wrote with news. Take care and keep in touch

Vital Statistics

MARRIAGES

Robert W. Conkey '44 and Carol M. Dreikorn, March 18, 1989.

Mel Wright '47 and Margaret Carol Taylor '49, April 15, 1989.

Joel Eriksen '62 and Meredith Kattke, June 24, 1989. Donald Ray Robertson '64 and Joan Allison Gardner, May 27, 1989.

Joel N. Zaba '66 and Diane Michelle

Rahnema, Aug. 21, 1988. Sue Huber'69 and James Lynch, June 21, 1986.

Robert W. Jeffrey '74 and Nancy L. Woodward '84, May 6, 1989.

F. Thomas Carmine '76, '81 M.B.A. and Linda L. Little, April 8, 1989.

Clarke Franke '76 and Barbara Leigh Sanders, Sept. 18, 1988.

Kathleen E. Paynter '79 and Keith S. Kallapos, April 26, 1986.

Sara Lee Major '81 and Wyman H. Schultz, April 8, 1989.

Cynthia G. Rolen '81 and Douglas L. Furth, April 22, 1989.
Sandra Serena Seidel '81 and Thomas

John Harrington, June 10, 1989. Sarah Gaye Armbrister '82 and Johnny

Neal Beamer, June 10, 1989. Mark Cabell Dobbin '82 and Laura Elizabeth Groom '84, June 17, 1989.

Gregory Scott Ferguson '82 and Laura Lennon Monfalcone '83, May 27, 1989. Patricia Finn '82 and Bruce D. Rappa-

Patricia Finn '82 and Bruce D. Rappaport, Nov. 26, 1988.

Margaret Anne Maxie '82 and Edward J. Fey, April 29, 1989. Anne Hilliard Golwen '83 and David

Douglass Brand '84, July 1, 1989.

Thomas Linwood Faris '83 and Margaret Ann Theriault, April 15, 1989.

Chris Wood '83 and Steve Brown '83, June 3, 1989.

Jeffrey D. Bishop '84 and Betsy White, May 6, 1989.

George E. Cruser Jr. '84 and Lynn Kennedy, May 27, 1989. Graydon Bruce Fisher '84 and Victoria

Spoor, May 15, 1989. Julie Anne Goldstein '84 and John Thomas Mallory, Jan. 21, 1989. Justina "J.J." Johnson '84 and Daniel Martin Head Jr. '85, June 24, 1989.

David Clifton Noftsinger '84 M.B.A. and Sue Ellen Hicks, April 29, 1989.

Shari Ellen Ozmore '84 and Brian Keith Humphries, May 24, 1986.

David Christopher Ribar'84 and Catherine Avery Moon'86, Oct. 1, 1988.

Melanie Anne Johnson '85 and James E. Clark, March 11, 1989. Elizabeth Radday '85 and Richard Spencer Starr, Feb. 4, 1989.

David Troy Boroughs '86 and Amy

Lynne Keith, May 27, 1989.

Mary Lynn Bowles '86 and Robert Nevins Fothergill Jr. '87, May 27, 189. Leigh Ann Geoffroy '86 and Wayne Patrick Cluff, May 21, 1989. Janet Hall Hearth'86 and John Robert Kucklick, May 27, 1989.

Kimberly Paige Roberts '86 and Terry Don Buyer '86, May 20, 1989.

Patrick K. Smith '86 and Kimberly Denise Smith, Aug. 20, 1988. Aimee J. Bellaria '87 and Kevin Davis

Aimee J. Bellaria '87 and Kevin Davis '87, April 15, 1989. Kevin John Burke '87 J.D. and Stephanie Rene Anderson, April 29, 1989. Lorraine Connally '87 and Robert Eaton, May 20, 1989. Lezlie Lane Farrell '87 and Richard Brian Anderson '87, June 3, 1989. Karin Jean Gillies '87 and Timothy William DeRusha, May 27, 1989. Matthew P. Harrison '87 and Catherine Anne Ashley '88, June 24, 1989.

Lee Foster McCraw '87 and Kevin Scott

Leavitt, June 24, 1989.

Marcie Oberndorf '87 and Marty Kelso

'87, April 1, 1989.

Donna Lynn Smith '87 and John Hill

Savage II '87, June 24, 1989.
Connie Yvonne Newman '88 and Alan F.

Edwards Jr. '88, June 5, 1989. Richard D. T. Overy '88 and Julie Kay Rautio, June 3, 1989.

Raymond Harvey Suttle Jr. '88 J.D. and Jennifer Nannette Aley, June 17, 1989.

Deborah Lynn Sutton '88 and Paul Joseph McVicker, June 10, 1989.

Paula Diane Travers '88 and Steven David Stromberg, Aug. 13, 1988.

BIRTHS

To: Al Wergley '69 and Dianne Murphy (Wergley) '79, second child, second son, Brad Michael, April 23, 1989.

To: Robert A. Johnston '70, '78 M.E.D. and Marie Jacobson (Johnston) '78, third child, second son, Thomas Matkins II, Nov. 18, 1988.

To: Steve Harvith, fifth child, a son, Daniel, June 12, 1989.

To: Margie Hughes (Anderson) '73 and David Anderson '73, two daughters, Karin Elisabeth, Feb. 7, 1987, and Johanna Beatrice, March 3, 1989. To: Elizabeth Shank (Hollis) '74 and

John L. Hollis '74, third child, first son, John M., April 1989. To: Laurie Smith (Dowdeswell) '74, first child, a daughter, Shana Elizabeth, April 1, 1989.

To: Tom Watkins '74, third child, a son, Hays Thomas IV, May 31, 1989.

To: William H. "Andy" Andrews Jr. '75 and Carolyn Leigh Brinkley (Andrews) '76, third child, third son, Gary Douglas, Sept. 23. 1988.

To: Ann P. Morris '76 and James M. Johnson '76 M.B.A., second child, a daughter, Leah Catherine, May 16, 1989.

To: Robert Scott Benson '77 and Audrey Pinkham (Benson) '79, first child, a son, Gregory Scott Pinkham Benson, May 5, 1989.

To: Melissa Anne Eastman '77, '78 M.E.D. and Michael Peter Fox '77, first child, Kathleen Eastman Fox, May 28, 1989.

To: April Wells (LeClair) '77 and Gary D. LeClair '77, third daughter, Eleanor Kelly, June 15, 1989.

To: Pam Myers (Waymack) '77 and Mark H. Waymack '77, a daughter, Anna Fore, May 14, 1989.

To: Paul Edward Sando'77 and Barbara Head (Sando)'78, first child, a son, John Nelson, April 7, 1989.

To: Susan Shank (Patterson) '77, a daughter, Katherine Joyce, Dec. 19, 1988.
To: Terri Lizabeth Shelton '77, first child, a son, John Tyler Anastopoulos, April 10, 1989.

To: Anne Marty (Smith) '77 and David E.

Smith '77, second child, first daughter, Allison Mackenzie, April 8, 1988.

To: Robert B. Delano Jr. '78, '81 J.D. and

Mary Ann Sanderford (Delano) '82, first child, Philip James, March 16, 1989. To: Sheryl Lukasik (Bass) '78 and Robert Lebo Bass '78, second child, second daughter, Kimberly Ann, Feb. 27, 1989. To: Diane Beard (Wilcox)'79, a daugh-

CONFERENCE EXAMINES PRESIDENTIAL PROCESS

The Public Policy Program at William and Mary will sponsor a conference Nov. 9-11 on "Picking the President: Is There a Better Way?" Several nationally prominent speakers will participate in the two-day event, including Sen. Charles Robb of Virginia, Paul Kirk and Frank Fahrenkopf, former chairs of the Democratic and Republican parties, journalists David Broder of the Washington Post, Kevin Phillips of National Public Radio, Ken Bode of NBC News, Mark Shields of the Washington Post and David Gergen of U.S. News and World Report; Thomas Mann of The Brookings Institution, and political analyst John P. Sears, former campaign manager for Ronald Reagan. The participants will discuss the role of political parties, the role of the media, electoral turnout and the electorate and elites.

THOMPSON PROMOTED AT UNITED TELEPHONE OF NEW JERSEY

Robert E. (Bob) Thompson '77 has been named vice president and general manger of United Telephone Co. of New Jersey. He will assume overall responsibility for the New Jersey operation of United Telephone's Eastern Group and direct reporting responsibility for customer and network service operations in United's northern and central New Jersey area. Thompson has been with United Telephone System since 1985. He held prior positions with Bell Atlantic, AT&T and Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. He and his wife, Nancy, have two children.

ter, Alexandra Frances, Feb. 22, 1988.

To: Steven C. Binari '79 and Lynn Whitmarsh (Binari) '80, second child, second daughter, Laura Anne, May 18, 1989.

To: Linda Bresee (McLaughlin) '79, second child, second son, John Ryan, May 5, 1989.

To: James T. Carter '79 and Nancy Nafzinger (Carter) '80, second child, first daughter, Rebecca Jean, March 16, 1989. To: Nelda Diane Casper (Clelland) '79, a son, Douglas Monroe, April 30, 1989.

To: Kathy Hirschi (Lowe) '79 and

Scott C. Lowe '79, first child, Jessica Carole, Oct. 22, 1987.

To: Bruce H. Matson '79, '83 J.D. and

To: Bruce H. Matson '79, '83 J.D., and Cheryl Miante (Matson) '79, first child, a daughter, Brooke Campbell, April 17, 1989.

To: Kathleen Paynter (Kallapos) '79, first child, a son, Sean Cameron, June 1, 1989.

To: Hugh T. Stallworth '79 M.B.A., second child, second daughter, Rebekah Lee, Nov. 4, 1988.

To: Donna Hixon Smith '80 M.A., '84 J.D., first child, James Nicholas Gates Smith, Sept. 27, 1988.

To: Bill Weiser '80 and Sarah Peyton Weiser '80, a daughter, Caroline Peyton, Feb. 24, 1989.

To: Carol Shannon (Willis) '80, first child, a son, David Parker Jr., Nov. 9, 1988. To: Nancy Barbee (Candeto) '81, first child, a son, Jason Michael, Jan. 30, 1989. To: Mary Haydon (Morse) '81, second child, first son, Michael Anthony, May 10, 1989.

To: James R. Riley '81 and Elizabeth Fournier (Riley) '82, first child, a son, James Edward "Ned," Jan. 30, 1989.

To: Glen Hopkins '82 and Katherine Harding (Hopkins) '83, second child, first son, Aaron Wayne, Dec. 28, 1988.

To: Keith Sinclair Dalton '82, a son, Sean Sinclair, Dec. 23, 1988.

To: Robert Hugh Marchbank '82 and Barbara Jerome (Marchbank) '84, a son, Duncan Ira Jerome, March 4, 1989.

To: Robert Stephen Baum '82, '88 M.B.A. and Kimberly Haller (Baum) '79, second child, first son, Aron Robert, April 28, 1989.

To: Lisa Zanetti '82 and Rob Kravitz '82, first child, a daughter, Rebecca Allison, Feb. 14, 1989.

To: Suzy Halboth (Graham) '83 and John Graham '83, first child, a son, Matthew, Nov. 6, 1988. To: Linda Ritter (Carroll) '84 and Joe

T. Carroll '84, a son, John Francis, Feb. 14, 1989.

To: Penelope Ward Kyle '87 M.B.A., and Charles L. Menges '74, first child, a son, Kyle Ward Menges, Jan. 11, 1989.

OBITUARIES

JOHN BOYD BENTLEY '19 of Hampton, Va., died June 12, 1989. A member of Phi Beta Kappa at the College, he also attended Virginia Theological Seminary, Alexandria, and received a doctorate in sacred theology from General Theological Seminary, New York City. During World War I, he served in France. From 1921-25 he lived in Alaska as a missionary. After a year as the headmaster of Charlotte Hull School in Maryland, he served as assistant rector of Bruton Parish Church in Williamsburg from 1926-30. He returned to Alaska in 1931, assuming successive posts as archdeacon of the Yukon, suffragan bishop, and bishop of Alaska until his retirement in 1964. During this time period, he also worked for the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church as vice president and director of overseas development. In this post he played important roles in establishing the Episcopal Seminary of the Caribbean, Puerto Rico and Saint Andrew's Seminary in Mexico City. Following his retirement, he worked on researching and compiling an index of burials for Hampton churches, including St. John's Episcopal. Bishop Bentley donated his papers and research to Swem Library. Survivors include three nieces.

FLORENCE MAE HARRIS (CURTIS) '22 of Newport News, Va., died Jan. 23, 1989. While at the College she was the first woman student government president. Survivors include a daughter and a brother.

LOIS H. ROBINSON '24 of Hampton, Va., died July 17, 1988. She owned and operated Wythe Gift Shop until her retirement in 1963. Several nieces and nephews survive, including Lois Mary Erdman '56 and Richard Central Erdman '67.

GEORGE MAXWELL LANIER '29 B.S. of Sarasota, Fla., died April 14, 1989. While a student he was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, the Glee Club and the track team. Formerly a resident of Williamsburg, he worked for 34 years as a self-employed real estate broker. From 1961 until 1973, he served as city manager of Longboat Key, Fla. Active in community affairs, he was past president of the James City County (Va.) Volunteer Fire Department, past master of the Williamsburg Masonic Lodge and past president of the Williamsburg Rotary Club. Among survivors are his wife, Martha, two daughters and a sister, Thelma Keene '32.

DOROTHY RUTH HALE (STAPLES) '30 of Southern Pines, N. C., died June 2, 1989. While a student at the College she was a member of the J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society.

IRMA HALL (TUCKER) '31 of Richmond, Va., died April 3, 1989. She received a teaching degree from William and Mary and went on to serve as a principal in Mathews County public schools. Later, she joined the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and became food service director, supervising dinner for theater-goers. Survivors include her daughter, a son and three sisters.

THOMAS GLENN MCCASKEY '31 A.B., '35 M.A. of Williamsburg, Va., died April 11, 1989. After earning his bachelor's degree in English from William and Mary, he received a master's in history. As a student, he was active as a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, Beta Theta Pi, the Flat Hat and Colonial Echo staffs, Glee Club, choir and William and Mary Theater. In 1930, he joined the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation and became instrumental both in building the Virginia travel industry and in attracting tourism to Williamsburg. He remained with the foundation until 1973 when he retired as vice president and director of development. He then began a second career as a consultant to tourist attractions and historic preservations across America and overseas. Among the organizations benefiting from his expertise were Gettysburg, Sleepy Hollow, the LBJ Ranch, the White House, James River plantations, Woodrow Wilson's birthplace, Gunston Hall and the War Memorial Museum in Newport News. In 1968, he received the Virginia Travel Council's highest honor, the Virginia Travel Award. He was a member of the Rotary Club, past chairman of the United Fund and trustee and senior warden of Bruton Parish Church. He was former president of the Williamsburg Chamber of Commerce. In 1972 he was awarded the Alumni Medallion by the Society of the Alumni. He was a Navy veteran of World War II. Among survivers are his wife, Leah '34, a son Glen '63, and a sister.

ROLAND PRICE BEAZLEY '33 of Montpelier, Va., died in September 1986. He was a rural letter carrier. Among survivors are a daughter, Linda Beazley Van Pelt '68

JAMES HEMENWAY LITTLEPAGE '33 A.B., of Arlington, Va., died May 28, 1989. As an undergraduate he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and wrote the senior class history in the 1933 Colonial Echo. He attended Harvard law school and received his law degree from George Washington University in 1936. He specialized in patent, trademark and copyright law during his career and was a partner in the firm of Littlepage & Webner at the time of his death. He served with the Navy for several years following World War II. Among survivors are his wife, Mabel '34, two daughters and a stepdaughter, Joan Griffith Gamble '60.

RUTH KILMON DUER(DEMONTIER) '35 of Onancock, Va., died June 16, 1989. She was a charter member of the Eastern Shore Yacht and Country Club. Survivors include her husband, Roger, a daughter, a son, John Henry Duer III '58, and a grandson, John Henry Duer IV '78.

MARGARET HILDEBRANT (MACDONALD) '35 A.B., of Williamsburg, Va., died May 20, 1989. While a student at William and Mary she was a member of the J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, International Relations Club and Chi Omega sorority. She was active in several community organizations including the Williamsburg Chamber Music Society, the Williamsburg Wednesday Morning Music Club and the Williamsburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She formerly worked for the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation as an information clerk. Survivors include her husband, Frank '36, three daughters, a sister and a brother, William Lambert Hildebrant Jr.

NICHOLAS ATWELL SHEARON '35 B.S. of Myrtle Beach, S. C., died April 23, 1989. As a student he was a member of Beta Alpha Psi, Sigma Nu fraternity and Alpha Kappa Psi. He was general auditor for the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation, responsible for auditing, budgeting and income tax work. A retired lieutenant commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve, he led a specially trained outfit through the initial assault phases of five invasions during World War II. Later he became the first permanent officer in charge of a newly established personnel accounting office in the Bureau of Naval Personnel. For 21 years until his retirement, he was director of a division in Oak Ridge, Tenn., often called the "Atomic City." Active in several associations and community organizations, he was former president of Oak Ridge Rotary Club and past chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission's United Fund Drive. In recognition of his work in Oak Ridge, he received a Superior Performance Award. Survivors include his wife, Ruth '35, a son, a daughter and a sister.

JOSEPH WILLIAMS TAYLOR '35 of Ardmore, Pa., died Oct. 15, 1987. While a student he was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and the Anthropology Club. He was in the U. S. Coast Guard for three years and was a retired insurance underwriter. Survivors include a brother.

LESLIE de GROVE POTTER JR. '38 of Brooklyn, N.Y., died March 22, 1989. He retired from Texas Transport Corp. as a sales account executive. He is survived by his wife, Helen.

LESTER ARNAULD WILSON JR. '38 B.S. of Charlottesville, Va., died Feb. 23, 1989. An accomplished obstetrician and gynecologist, he received his medical degree at the Medical School of South Carolina. He served an internship in the Canal Zone, remaining there during World War II as a captain in the U.S. Army Medical Corp. He completed his residency at Duke University. In 1951, Dr. Wilson joined the University of Virginia as an assistant professor in obstetrics and gynecology. He was later appointed a full professor and remained at the university until his retirement in 1986. In addition to teaching, he continued a busy practice and held leadership positions in a variey of national professional organizations. The Lester A. Wilson Jr. Professorship has been established in his honor at the University of Virginia. At William and Mary he was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is survived by his wife, Lillian, two daughters, two sons and a brother.

ARTHUR "TIM" BRIGGS HANSON '39 A.B., '40 B.C.L. of Potomac, Md., died July 1, 1989. While attending the College he was a president's aide and a member of Chi Psi fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa, the F.H.C. Society and various other organizations. During World War II, he served with the Marine Corps and earned three Bronze Stars and the Legion of Merit. He retired from the Marine Corps Reserves as a major general in 1974. Following the war he joined the Washington, D.C., law firm of Hanson, O'Brien, Birnie and Butler. An authority on First Admendment law, he was the author of "Hanson on Libel and Related Torts." He served as general counsel of the American Newspaper Publishers Association for 19 years and the National Geographic Society for 15 years. He additionally served on the Society's board of trustees. An active participant in Republican politics in Maryland, he was vice president and member of the executive committee of the Republican Heritage Foundation. In 1955 he was awarded the Alumni Medallion by the Society of the Alumni, and in 1974 received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the College. He served on the board of directors of the Alumni Society. He was past president and board member of the William and Mary Law School Association. He was an emeritus member of the Endowment Association. Yachting remained a hobby; he participated in four trans-Atlantic races as well as numerous local regattas. Survivors include his wife, Jane '42, two daughters and two brothers, including William Vernon Hanson '44.

VINCENT PARKER JR. '42 of Portsmouth, Va., died May 27, 1989. After

MONARK HEADS MITCHELL

Ronald J. Monark '61 (right) has been named president and chief executive officer of Mitchell International Inc., an $80 million automotive information subsidiary of the Thomson Corp. Monark has been serving as executive vice president and chief operating officer of Mitchell. He was vice president and general manager of Mitchell from 1971-77 when the company was owned by Cordura, a Los Angeles-based holding company. He then joined the Morgan Yacht Division of Beatrice Foods as executive vice president. In 1986 Monark led a small investor group which purchased KLM Automotive Publishing Inc., San Diego, from ATE Enterprises Inc., where he was president for seven years. He then served as president and chief executive officer of KLM until it was purchased by Mitchell in January of this year. Monark's extensive management background also includes five years as a management consultant with McKinsey & Company and Peat, Marwick Mitchell. While at William and Mary, he was named to Phi Beta Kappa. He holds an M.B.A. from the University of Chicago. He has served on several industry commissions and task forces, including the National Chamber Foundation's project to evaluate U.S. needs in the year 2000.

OGLESBYJOINS NATIONAL BOARD

James M. Oglesby, '68 M.A., principal of Parkway Elementary School in Virginia Beach, was elected to the 12-member board of directors of the National Association of Elementary School Principals (NAESP). As director of NAESP's zone 3, Oglesby becomes the regional representative for Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Maryland, the District of Columbia and the Department of State schools overseas. He will serve a three-year term. Oglesby spent 14 years as a classroom teacher in Virginia and abroad and has been a principal for 19 years. He has a long history of dedication to civic and professional affairs, including serving as president of both the Virginia and Virginia Beach elementary principals associations and vice president of the Department of Elementary Principals of Norfolk/Virginia Beach.

graduation from the College he served in the Army Air Corps during World War II and then graduated from the University of Virginia Law School. He was president of Cooper and Davis law firm in Portsmouth as well as one of the founders of the law firm of Cooper, Spong and Davis. He was a member of numerous professional and civic organizations. He was past president of the Portsmouth-Norfolk County Bar Association. He was a graduate of the Judge Advocate-General School and a member of the wills, trusts and estates committee of the Virginia State Bar. He served on the boards of architectural review of the city of Portsmouth, the Salvation Army, the American Red Cross and the Tidewater Estate Planning Council. Survivors include his wife, Joyce, two daughters and two sons.

CARLOS ARBRA LOOP '41 M.A. of Newport News, Va., died June 23, 1987. He was an Episcopal minister and a graduate of the School of Theology, University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn. Survivors include his wife, Lucille, and a son.

LEON MURPHREY WOOTTEN '43 A.B. of Harpers Ferry, W. Va., died Feb. 26, 1987. He is survived by a sister.

DOROTHY LEE NELSON '44 of Madison, N.J., died Jan. 8, 1987. She had formerly worked for the Virginia Travel Office in Richmond and at the time of her death was banquet manager for Hanover House. Survivors include a sister, Mary Beatrice Nelson Judge '45.

FRANCES TICE (CLAYTOR) '44 of Norfolk, Va., died June 19, 1989. After attending William and Mary she graduated from Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N. J. While touring with the choir she sang under Italian conductor Arturo Toscanini. She was active in community and church activities. Survivors include her husband, Robert, a daughter, two sons and two brothers.

EDWARD PATRICK KIERNAN JR. '49 A.B. of Norfolk, Va., died Aug. 13, 1978. He is survived by his wife.

MILDRED RENNIGER (STEELE) '49 A.B. of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., died Feb. 4, 1984. She was a preschool teacher. While a student she was in Delta Delta Delta sorority, the Music Club, Spanish Club, William and Mary Theater, German Club, Backdrop Club, International Relations Club and on the Flat Hat staff. Survivors include two daughters and two sons.

A. J. "VIC" VICKERS '51 of Smithville, Texas, died July 10, 1988. A retired Air Force pilot, rancher and insurance agent, he participated in World War II, the Berlin Airlift and the Korean and Vietnam wars. He retired from the Air Force after 30 years service, receiving numerous citations including two Distinguished Flying Crosses. He was active in numerous social and civic organizations. Surviving are his wife, Betty, three sons, three daughters, a sister and a brother.

PAUL TULANE ATKINSON JR. '52 M.Ed. of Windsor, Va., died Dec. 14, 1988. He received his bachelor's degree in education from Hampden-Sydney College where he was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He was a longtime Virginia educator and a retired director of instruction for the Isle of Wight County school system. He previously served as superintendent of schools for Amelia and Caroline counties. He was an Air Force veteran of World War II. Survivors include his wife, Lois, a daughter, three sons, his mother, a sister and a brother.

MADISON PARKER JR. '52 A.B. of Como, N.C., died April 21, 1989. As a student at the College he was a member of the Audubon Society and Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He retired as sanitation supervisor for Hertford-Gates County Health Department. He was a member and past president of Como Ruritan Club. He was an Army veteran of World War II. Survivors include his wife, Patsy, a daughter and a sister.

ROBERT JAMES STONE '52 B.S. of Aston, Pa., died April 3, 1988. He was a professor and chairman of the civil engineering department at Temple University. In addition to his bachelor's degree in mathematics from William and Mary, he earned a bachelor's degree in civil engineering from Swarthmore College, a master's degree in engineering from the University of Michigan and a Ph.D. from Oklahoma State University. Among honors bestowed on him were: Chi Epsilon, Oklahoma State University; Tau Beta Pi, Drexel University; Outstanding Teacher Award of the Alumni Association of the College of Engineering Technology, Temple University; Engineer of the Year Award, 1979, and the Christian R. and Mary F. Lindback Foundation Award for Distinguished Teaching, Temple University, 1982. While attending William and Mary he was a champion swimmer and captain of the swim team. He was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, the Monogram Club and the track team. He was an active member of many professional organizations. Surviving are his wife, Ellen, two sons and a daughter.

JAMES HENRY BOOTH JR. '56 M.Ed. of Chesapeake, Va., died June 29, 1979. He earned a bachelor's degree from Elon College and was a member of Kappa Delta Pi.

EDGAR JOEL GLADSTONE '54 B.S., of Stamford, Conn., died March 15, 1989. A physics major at the College, he also received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and a master of business administration degree from the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania. He received honors, including membership in Eta Kappa Nu and Tau Beta Pi. He was a member of Pi Lambda Phi fraternity. He was vice president of the Gartner Group Inc., a Stamford market research and consulting firm. He is survived by his wife, Carole, and three sons.

JULIA ANN CONRAD (BYRNE) '56 of Vienna, Va., died March 21, 1989. She graduated from the Education for Parish Service Program at Trinity College in Washington, D.C., and was working toward a bachelor's degree in theology at the school when she died. An active member of a number of church and community groups, she founded and participated in the Ecumenical Dialogue Group Experiment, an exchange group of different faiths and members of different congregations and parishes in Northern Virginia. She received the Trinity College Medal posthumously. Survivors include her husband, Bernard, four sons, a daughter, her mother and two brothers.

R. JOY SCHLAPPRIZZI (THUN-STROM) '56 A.B. of Bridgeton, Mo., died April 3, 1989. While at the College she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, William and Mary Theatre, Eta Sigma Phi, Backdrop Club, lacrosse team, choir and Christian Science Club. She was a parttime librarian. Survivors include her husband, Len, two daughters and her father.

HULON LAVAUGHAN WILLIS SR. '56 M.Ed. of Ettrick, Va., died June 1989. He earned a bachelor's degree from Virginia State University and was a retired professor of health and physical education and director of campus police and security at the university. He was a member of Kappa Delta Pi honorary and a founder of the VSU chapter. Among other organizations and honors, he was a member of the American Police Academy Hall of Fame, the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame, the VSU Sports Hall of Fame and the National Association of Black Law Enforcement Executives. He was a veteran of World War II. Among alumni activities, he was a member of the alumni admissions network and a participant in the STEP program for minority students at William and Mary. He was the first black alumnus of William and Mary. Surviving are his wife, Alyce, a son, Hulon Jr. '76 and a daughter, Kimberly '80.

CLAY SCOTT BAILEY '58 A.B. of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, died July 26, 1975. As an undergraduate he served as vice president and president of Sigma Nu fraternity.

PAULA LOOMIS MARGOLF (WHITAKER) '59 A.B. of Dade City, Fla., died Dec. 13, 1988. She was a professor of human services at St. Petersburg Junior College. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, she also belonged to Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Phi Delta Kappa, the Flat Hat staff, and she played on the women's field hockey and basketball teams. She was on the board of directors of the Upper Pinellas Association for Retarded Children and a member of the U.S. Pony Club and Clearwater Pony Club. Survivors include her husband, Jeff, a daughter and her mother.

CAROL SLAVENS BEERY (SMITH) '60 A.B. of Seabrook, Texas, died June 15, 1989. She earned a master's degree in humanities from the University of Houston and further continued her education with travels to England, France and Mexico. While a student at the College she sang in both the choir and the chorus. Throughout her life she showed a love of theatre and participated in community plays as an actress, stage manager and general manager. Survivors include her husband, Frank, a son, a daughter, her mother, and a sister, Nancy Beery Thomas '57.

ROGER ADOLPH BUSCH '63 A.B. of Colts Neck, N.J., died April 25, 1989. As a student at the College he was a member of the Newman Club, the Pep Club and the Political Science Club. He received a bachelor's degree in architecture from the Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1967. He was an architect with Robert A. Schwartz Associates in New York at the time of his death. Among survivors are his parents and a sister.

LEONARD LANFORD GRAVES JR. '68 B.A., '71 J.D. of Hampton, Va., died May 5, 1989. As a student, he was features editor of the Flat Hat and a member of the Accounting Club. A CPA, he taught accounting at William and Mary. He was city manager in Botswana, South Africa while serving in the Peace Corps from 1972 to 1975. Later he served as assistant commonwealth attorney in Hampton until 1982. He was active in church and civic organizations. Survivors include his parents, Leonard '35 and Anne Thompson Graves '38; six sisters, Joan Graves Brobst '70, Elizabeth Graves Gillet '75, May Graves O'Leary '78, Anne Graves Matson '73, Pattie Graves Peverell '71, Lillian Graves Weber '85 and two aunts, May Thompson Wellford '36, and Joan Thompson Hicks-Cosmos '38.

CONSTANCE RUSH PEGUES '69 M.Ed. of Virginia Beach, Va., died Jan. 23, 1989. She received her bachelor's degree from Coker College in Hartsville, S.C., and her master's degree in guidance counseling from William and Mary. In 1974 she retired from her career as a math teacher and guidance counselor in Norfolk area schools. She was a member of the National Retired Teachers Association and the Norfolk Education Association. She formerly served as vice president of the Virginia Beach Republican Women's Club. Survivors include her husband, John, a daughter, a son and two sisters.

WILLIAM TAYLER VROOMAN JR. '70 M.B.A. of Williamsburg, Va., died April 18, 1989. He was a graduate of Richmond Professional Institute (now Virginia Commonwealth University). In 1959 joined the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation as a research associate, later becoming a contract entertainer. As a popular and wellknown balladeer, he served for many years as a goodwill ambassador for Colonial Williamsburg, making appearances throughout the United States and performing at locations such as the White House. He was a former director of the Williamsburg Madrigal Singers and a member of the National Press Club. He is survived by three sons, his father and a sister.

MARY KATHERINE HARRIS (SNEAD) '73 B.A. of Suffolk, Va., died June 21, 1989. While a student at the College she served as rush chairman of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She received her degree in elementary education and taught in the Virginia Beach public schools for nine years. She was co-owner of Harris Tire Service in Suffolk. Survivors include her husband, Phillip, a daughter, her parents and two sisters.

LEMUEL SIMPSON TUCKER '74 B.A. of Jackson, Miss., died June 16, 1989. As a student he was active in sports and played football for four years. He received his master's of divinity degree from the Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia in 1977. In 1980 and 1984 he was selected as one of the Outstanding Young Men of America. He served on various national, state and local boards. He lectured at many colleges and universities and authored articles published in various magazines and newspapers across the country. In 1977 he joined Voice of Calvary Ministries, a non-profit Christian community development corporation based in Jackson. He received successive promotions until he was named president in 1981. Survivors include his wife, Eleanor, his mother and a brother, Henry '72.

WILLIAM E. TYSON '76 M.Ed. of Newport News, Va., died March 13, 1987. He was an applied psychologist. Survivors include his wife, Josephine.

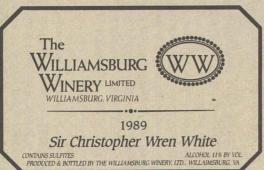

The Society of the Alumni is pleased to announce the release of . . .

"Sir Christopher Wren White," a special release of The Williamsburg Winery, is a light, gentle, refreshing wine which will be available in late November 1989. Blending traditional quality value with superlative technology, the Winery, through a special arrangement with the Society of the Alumni, is reserving this wine exclusively for alumni and friends of the College of William and Mary.

The Williamsburg Winery, located just two miles from the College on a 300-acre farm overlooking the James River and College Creek, is on the site of the 20th land patent of record in the United States. Established in 1984 with just a few test acres of vines, the award-winning Winery now encompasses more than 30 acres of vineyards and offers tours and tastings in its facility.

"Sir Christopher Wren White" is offered by mail in case, half-case and quartercase orders. Individual bottles may be purchased in person at The Williamsburg Winery.

All sales are strictly prohibited to anyone under 21 years of age.

Name					Class	Year
Street Ad	dress
City, State	e, Zip
	Гelephone: ()
Quantity	Description	Price (includes sales tax)	Subtotal	Shipping Per Unit	Total Shipping	Total
	Case (12 bottles)	$87.78		$6.00
	Half-Case (6 bottles)	43.89		4.00
	Quarter-Case (3 bottles)	21.95		4.00
	f Payment: Check E. Charge VISA	MasterCard		e to The William
	re					Month/Year

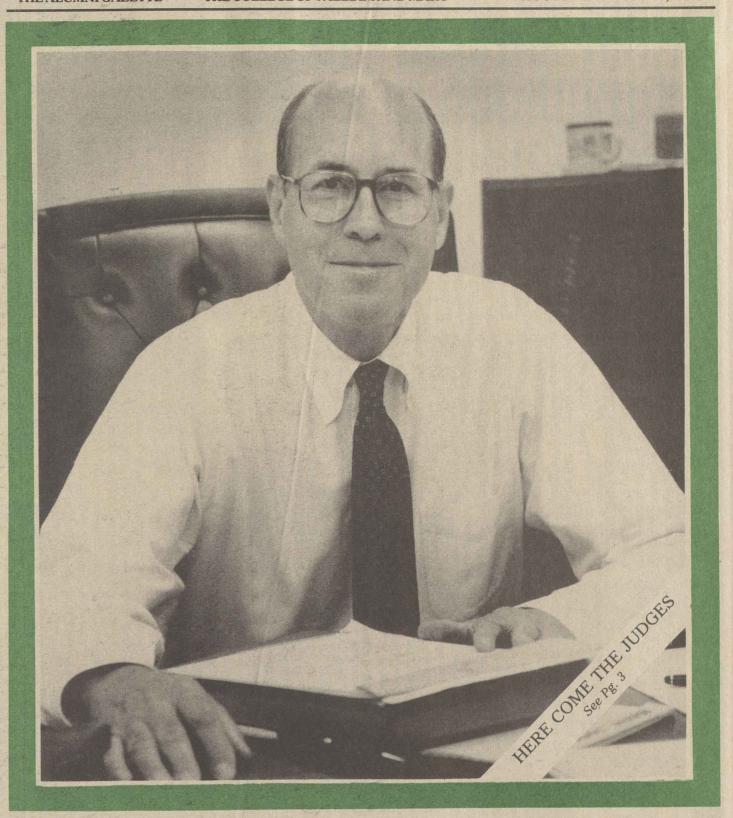

Society of the Alumni P.O. Box GO, Williamsburg, VA 23187 Non-Profit Organization U.S. Postage Paid Permit No. 1390 Richmond, VA

Alumni Gazette

THE ALUMNI GAZETTE

THE COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

AUGUST 1989 VOL. 57, NO. 2

Registration and Schedule

Everything you need to plan a memorable Homecoming weekend — "The Best of Times" — is included in this special publication. All paid events are first-come, first-served, so please mail your reservations early. The deadline for returning your registration form to the Alumni Office is October 18.

General Information

Reservations/Deadlines: This publication includes a reservation form for all Homecoming events. In order for the Alumni Office to plan properly, all reservations must be made on a pre-paid basis. Following the processing of your reserva-tions, confirmations will be mailed. There is a $2.00 per person registration fee which should be added to your total for event reservations. Your reservation form and payment should be returned to the Alumni Office no later than Oc-

Cancellations: May be made with full refund before October 31; no refunds after this date.

Accommodations: Room reservations should be made directly with the hotels. The following hotels have general availability for non-reunion alumni; be sure to state that you are reserving rooms for W&M Homecoming for a reduced rate. All hotel reservations should be made by October 1, 1989, to guarantee reduced rates.

Days Inn Downtown	(804) 229-4020	$43.00
Patrick Henry Inn	(804) 229-9540	$49.00
Quality Suites	(804) 229-6800	$55.00-$65.00
Williamsburg Hotel	1-800-446-9244	Prices vary - and Motel		Not subject to
Association		reduced rates

For reunion classes, please refer to the listing under Class

Babysitting/Child Care: All hotels have babysitting services available. Contact your hotel for details.

Parking: Parking is available at William and Mary Hall for all events. The Alumni House will not be able to honor football parking passes during the Homecoming weekend. For Further Information: If you have additional questions, please call the Alumni Office at (804) 229-1693 Monday-Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (EST).

Event Information

ALL ALUMNI EVENTS

Registration: Registration will take place under the tent on the Alumni House front lawn. All tickets for paid events may be picked up at the ticket desk in the tent. The official Homecoming Schedule will be available at that time, and Alumni Society merchandise will also be on sale. Thursday 3 - 6 p.m., Friday 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., Saturday 8 a.m. - 6 p.m., Sunday 8 a.m. -12 noon.

Alumni Children Interviews: Interviews available by appointment only. Contact Admissions Office, Ewell Hall(804) 253-4223, Friday 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

All Alumni Golf Tournament: The Golden Horseshoe of Colonial Williamsburg will host the annual All Alumni Golf Tournament. Prizes will be awarded. Space is limited to 144 players, so sign up early! Shotgun start is at 10 a.m. on Friday. $55.00 per person covers green fees and cart rental. Sandy Kelly All Alumni Tennis Tournament: The 12th annual tennis tournament in memory of Sandy Kelly '77 will be held at Adair Tennis Courts. Play will be mixed doubles with prizes awarded to the A and B Flight winners. The cost courtside. Parking will be available at the Common Glory parking lot. Friday. Schedules distributed at 10 a.m. Campus Tours: The Student Alumni Council will escort alumni on special guided tours. Friday, beginning at the Alumni House. Bus Tour - 10 a.m. Walking Tour - 1:30 p.m.

is $10.00 per person and includes a luncheon served

Band, Choir and Orchestra Concerts: Special performances by the William and Mary Band, Choir and Orchestra on Friday 3 p.m., Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Sunset Ceremony: All alumni, guests, faculty and staff are invited to attend the Sunset Ceremony honoring members of the College community who have passed away during the preceding year. The memorial includes a traditional military review by the Queen's Guard. Friday 4:30 p.m.,

Wren Courtyard. (Rain location-Wren Chapel) Society of the Alumni Annual Meeting: Come to a brief session to hear an update on business matters of the Society.

Friday 5:45 p.m., Williamsburg Lodge Auditorium. Annual Dinner/Dance: All alumni and guests are invited to the annual dinner of the Society of the Alumni which begins with a cocktail hour. This special evening will include the uncorking of our official Sir Christopher Wren's White Wine and the presentation of the Alumni Medallion Awards. A cash bar will be available throughout the evening. Friday, cocktails 6:15 p.m., Williamsburg Lodge-North Gallery; dinner and dance at 7 p.m., music by the Sounds of Music, program at 8 p.m., Williamsburg Lodge-Virginia Room. $36.00 per person.

Alumni Campus Run: The Annual Campus Run follows a 2-1/2 mile course beginning at the Alumni House and proceeding throughout both Old and New Campus with a finish line at the Wren Yard. Saturday 8 a.m., Alumni House. Participants should be present by 7:45 a.m.
Alumni Continental Breakfast: All alumni and guests are invited to a continental breakfast in the Wren Yard before the 60th Annual Homecoming Parade. Saturday 8 - 9:30 a.m., Wren Yard (rain location, William and Mary Hall— Concourse Level) $5.00 per person.

Homecoming Parade: The 60th Annual Homecoming Parade will celebrate "The Best of Times" featuring honored alumni, campus floats and local bands. The parade follows its traditional route, beginning at the Capitol, continuing up Duke of Gloucester Street and ending at Cary Field. Satur-

Luncheon-on-the-Lawn: Come to the Alumni House Lawn and enjoy the famous Surry House brunswick stew and ham rolls. Class photographs will be taken (see master schedule for exact times). Saturday 11 a.m. - 1 p.m., Alumni House Lawn. (Rain location-William and Mary Hall Arena) $7.00

Football Game: Cheer on the Tribe as they take on the Buccaneers from East Tennessee State University. The halftime show will feature the Alumni Band, the William and Mary Marching Band and the Tribe Dancers. Saturday 1 p.m., Cary Field. Please note: Football tickets must be ordered directly from the athletic ticket office. Costs: Sideline-$12.00; End Zone-$7.00. Please add $2.00 to your total order for postage and handling. State your class year for seats with other members of your class. Checks must be made payable to WMAA. Mail to: Athletic Office, P.O. Box 399, Williamsburg, VA 23187. For further information, please call the athletic ticket office at (804) 253-4492.

Tailgater Celebration: Continue the celebration of "The Best of Times" after the game on the Alumni House Lawn. Live music by the William and Mary Jazz Band. Refreshments available. Saturday, post-game, Alumni House Patio and Lawn. $5.00 per person.

Alumni Champagne Brunch: End the weekend with a delicious champagne brunch with fellow alumni at the Royce Hotel, Colony Room. Sunday 10 - 11:30 a.m., $13.50 per

REUNION EVENTS

OWJ: Annual business meeting Thursday at 2:30 p.m. Alumni House. Cocktails (cash bar) Thursday 6 p.m. followed by dinner at 7:45 p.m., $19.00 per person, in Trinkle

Olde Guarde Reception and Luncheon: This annual luncheon will take place near campus at the Royce Hotel, Empire Ballroom. A cash bar and entertainment will be provided. Friday, reception - 12 noon, luncheon - 12:45 p.m., Royce Hotel. $12.50 per person.

Young Guarde Post-game Party: A post-game party for the classes of 1985-1989 and their guests will be located at the Alumni House on the North Lawn. Music and refreshments will be provided in the admission cost. All individuals must be 21 years of age and have a valid ID. Saturday, post-game until 6 p.m., Alumni House Lawn, $5.00 per person.

Theatre Reunion: All theatre majors and former participants in William and Mary Theatre and the Common Glory outdoor drama are invited to return to Phi Beta Kappa Hall for a champagne reception, a roast of Professor Emeritus Howard Scammon and an on-stage dinner buffet. Saturday, reception - 7 p.m., Howard Scammon Salute - 8 p.m., on-stage deli buffet dinner - 9:30 p.m., Phi Beta Kappa Hall. $25.00 per person. Special Sponsor tickets $100.00 per person. Proceeds will go toward the Althea Hunt-Howard Scammon Endowment Fund.

Howard Scammon '34,

guest of honor at theatre

reunion.

MBA Alumni: MBA Alumni Continental Breakfast, Friday 9 a.m., Tyler Hall 2nd floor. MBA Career Alumni Panels, Friday 9:30 a.m., Tyler Hall. Alumni luncheon, Friday 12:15 p.m., Royce Hotel, Westminster Ballroom. Faculty lectures, Friday 2 - 4 p.m., Tyler Hall. Cocktail Reception, cash bar, election of MBAA officers, Friday 6:30 p.m., place TBA. Tailgate picnic sponsored by the MBA Student Association, Saturday 11 a.m. between Tyler and James Blair halls. Class Headquarters: Cascades and Williamsburg Lodge. Reservations should be made using the form provided in previous

EMBA Alumni: Hospitality Suite, Friday 5 - 8 p.m., Kingsmill, Suite No. TBA. Cocktail Party, Classes of 1987, 1988 and 1989, Saturday 5 - 6:30 p.m., Kingsmill, Suite No. TBA. Dinner/Dance, Saturday 7 p.m. to 1 a.m., Hilton Hotel. Golf, Sunday 10 a.m., Kingsmill. Contact Kathy Dunn for further

Law Alumni: Marshall-Wythe Kick-Off Brunch, Saturday 10:45 a.m. - 12:45 p.m., Law School Lobby, $12.00 adults, $6.00 children under 12, free for children under 4. Marshall-Wythe Victory BBQ, cash bar will be available. Proceeds to benefit Marshall-Wythe's Law Review and Moot Court, Saturday 4:30 - 6:30 p.m., Law School Lobby, $13.00 adults, $7.00 children under 12. Reservations may be made through Office of Alumni Affairs, Marshall-Wythe School of Law, (804) 463-4886.

W&M GALA: Weekend Hospitality Suite beginning Friday 5 p.m. GALA Annual Homecoming Cocktail Reception, Saturday 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. preceded at 8:30 p.m. by the Annual Meeting; and GALA's Annual Homecoming Brunch, Sunday 12 noon. All events at the George Washington Inn. Room reservations may be requested directly through the hotel at (804) 220-1410 where a block of rooms is being held. For further information, contact W&M GALA, P.O. Box 15141, Washington, DC 20003, or call (202) 544-4148 evenings or Black Alumni Steering Committee: Black Alumni Steering Committee Meeting, Saturday, place and time TBA. Black Alumni Reception, Saturday, 5 - 7 p.m. Trinkle Hall; Black Student Organization Homecoming Dance, Saturday 9 p.m. - 1 a.m., place and cost TBA. Black Alumni Breakfast Buffet, Sunday 2 - 4 a.m. Hospitality Suite at the Econo Lodge. Group headquarters: Econo Lodge Convention Center on By Pass Road. Room reservations may be requested directly through the hotel at (804) 220-2800 where a block of rooms is being held. For more information, contact Elizabeth Young at (804) 329-1192 or (804) 786-5560.

Alumni Band: The Alumni Band, celebrating its 20th anniversary, will again participate in the Homecoming Parade and provide halftime entertainment. Practice will be held Saturday, 10:30 a.m., Cary Field followed by the annual meeting and lunch, 11:30 a.m., Royce Hotel. For more information, contact Jim Anthony at (804) 253-0321.

CLASS EVENTS

Classes of 1936, 1937 and 1938: Hospitality Suite, BYOL, open Friday 5 p.m. and Saturday post-game. Days Inn Downtown, Room 253. $5.00 per person. Class headquarters: Days Inn Downtown

Class of 1939: Hospitality Suite, BYOL. Hours: Friday 3 p.m., Saturday 8 a.m. and post-game, Sunday 8 a.m., Motor House, Room 5110 and 5111. $14.00 per person for all four events. Class headquarters: Motor House

Classes of 1940 and 1941: Hospitality Suite Hours: Friday 3 p.m., Saturday post-game with informal supper, Sunday 8 a.m., Days Inn Downtown, Commonwealth Room. $26.00 per person ($14.50 for Saturday only). Class headquaters: Days Inn Downtown.

Class of 1944: Hospitality Suite, offering tea, cash bar, continental breakfast: Friday 2:30 - 6 p.m., Saturday 10:30 a.m. 6 p.m., Sunday 8 - 10 a.m., Royce Hotel, William and Mary Parlor, $10.00 per person unlimited use. Cocktail reception hosted by the Friends of the Library, Saturday 6:30 p.m.,

Cont. on P. 3.

Schedule of Events

Thursday, November 2

3-6 p.m. Registration and Ticket Pickup Tent, Alumni House front lawn.
2:30 p.m. OWJ Annual Business Meeting Alumni House
4 p.m. Class of 1964 Hospitality Suite Royce Hotel, Governor's Suite 422 Midnight
6 p.m. OWJ Cocktails & Dinner (7:45)* Trinkle Hall

Friday, November 3

Royce Hotel, Governor's Suite 422 7 a.m. - Noon Class of 1964 Hospitality Suite By appointment only, contact Admissions Office at 804-253-4223. 8a.m.-4p.m. Alumni Children Interviews Registration and Ticket Pickup Tent, Alumni House front lawn 8a.m.-5p.m. MBA Alumni Continental Breakfast Tyler Hall, second floor 9 a.m. 9:30 a.m. MBA Alumni Career Panels Tyler Hall Alumni Golf Tournament Golden Horseshoe Golf Course 10 a.m. 12th Annual Sandy Kelly '77 Adair Tennis Courts 10 a.m. Tennis Tournament Campus Bus Tour 10 a.m. Begins at Alumni House Class of 1964 Campus Tour Begins at Alumni House 11 a.m. 11:30 a.m Class of 1964 Box Luncheon Alumni House Patio Royce Hotel, Empire Room Noon Olde Guarde Luncheon Reception (cash bar) Noon, Luncheon 12:45 MBA Alumni Luncheon 12:15 p.m. Royce Hotel, Westminster Ballroom Class of 1964 Seminars Place TBA 1-3 p.m. Begins at Alumni House and ends 1:30 p.m. Campus Walking Tour at Wren Building 2-4 p.m. MBA Alumni Faculty Lectures Tyler Hall 2:30-6 p.m. Class of 1944 Hospitality Suite* Royce Hotel, William and Mary Parlor Class of 1939 Hospitality Suite† Motor House, Room 5110 and 5111 3 p.m 3 p.m. Class of 1940-41 Hospitality Suite† Days Inn Downtown, Commonwealth Room 3 p.m. William and Mary Band, Choir and Orchestra Concerts Phi Beta Kappa Hall 4-7 p.m. Class of 1959 Hospitality Suite Royce Hotel, Berkeley Room 4 p.m. -Midnight Class of 1964 Hospitality Suite Royce Hotel, Governor's Suite 422 4:30 p.m. Sunset Ceremony Wren Courtyard. Rain location Wren Chapel 5-8p.m. EMBA Hospitality Suite Kingsmill, Suite No. TBA Classes of 1936, 1937 and 1938 5 p.m. Hospitality Suite—BYOL Days Inn Downtown, Room 253 GALA Hospitality Suite 5 p.m. George Washington Inn 5:45 p.m. Society of the Alumni Annual Meeting Williamsburg Lodge Auditorium Class of 1974 and 1979 6 p.m. Hospitality Suite Holiday Inn Downtown 6:15 p.m. All Alumni Cocktail Party* Williamsburg Lodge, North Gallery MBA Alumni Cocktail Reception* 6:30 p.m. Place TBA Election of MBAA officers 7 p.m. Society of the Alumni Annual Williamsburg Lodge, Virginia Room Dinner and Dance 9:30 - 11 p.m. Class of 1959 Hospitality Suite* Royce Hotel, Berkeley Room

Saturday, November 4

12:45 p.m.

Class of 1964 Hospitality Suite 7a.m. - 1 p.m. Royce Hotel, Governor's Suite 422 7-11 a.m. Class of 1974 Breakfast Holiday Inn Downtown, Dining Room Class of 1979 Breakfast 7-11 a.m Holiday Inn Downtown, Dining Room 7:45 a.m. Alumni Campus Run Starts at Alumni House and ends at Wren Building. Participants meet at Alumni House. 8a.m. - 6p.m. Registration and Ticket Pickup Tent, Alumni House front lawn 8-9:30 a.m. Continental Breakfast Wren Yard. Rain location - William and Mary Hall, concourse level. 8 a.m. Class of 1939 Hospitality Suite† Motor House, Room 5110 and 5111 Royce Hotel, Berkeley Room Class of 1959 Continental Breakfast 8-9 a.m. Duke of Gloucester Street and 9:30 a.m. 60th Annual Homecoming Parade Richmond Road 10:30 a.m. Alumni Band Practice Cary Field 10:30 a.m. -Class of 1944 Hospitality Suite* Royce Hotel, William and Mary Parlor 6 p.m. 10:45 a.m. -

Law School Lobby

Marshall-Wythe Kick-Off Brunch

Alumni House Lawn. Rain location -11 a.m. - 1 p.m. Surry House Luncheon-on-the Lawn William and Mary Hall arena. Class Photographs Alumni House Lawn. Rain location 11:15 a.m. -William and Mary Hall arena. 12:55 p.m. Class of 1944-11:15 a.m. Class of 1949-11:25 a.m. Class of 1954-11:35 a.m. Class of 1959-11:45 a.m. Class of 1964-11:55 p.m. Class of 1969-12:05 p.m. Class of 1974-12:15 p.m. Class of 1979-12:25 p.m. Class of 1984-12:35 p.m. Young Guarde-12:45 p.m. Royce Hotel 11:30 a.m. Alumni Band Luncheon Football game - W&M vs. East 1 p.m. Tennessee State University Cary Field Post-Game Tailgater Celebration Alumni House south lawn 6 p.m Post-Game Alumni House north lawn Young Guarde Party -6 p.m. Classes of 1936, 1937 and 1938 Post-Game Hospitality Suite† Days Inn Downtown, Room 253 Class of 1939 Hospitality Suite† Motor House, Room 5110 and 5111 Post-Game Classes of 1940 and 1941 Post-Game Hospitality Suite and Informal Supper Days Inn Downtown, Commonwealth Room Post-Game -6:30 p.m. Class of 1959 Hospitality Suite Royce Hotel, Berkeley Room Post-Game Class of 1954 Cocktails* Kingsmill Conference Center, 7 p.m. Moody's Tavern Class of 1984 Wine and Beer Reception Royce Hotel, Courtyard 4-6 p.m. Law School Lobby 4:30-6:30 p.m. Marshall-Wythe Victory Barbecue 5-6:30 p.m. Classes of 1987, 1988, 1989 EMBA Alumni Cocktail Party Kingsmill, Suite No. TBA Black Alumni Reception Trinkle Hall 5-7 p.m. Class of 1969* Cascades Restaurant, Cascades Room 5-8p.m. 5:30-7 p.m. Class of 1949 Hospitality Suite† Kingsmill, Suite No. TBA Swem Library, Botetourt Gallery Class of 1944 Cocktails 6:30 p.m. 7 p.m. - 1 a.m. EMBA Alumni Dinner/Dance Hilton Hotel 7 p.m. Theatre Reunion Phi Beta Kappa Hall Class of 1954 Cocktail Hour and Dinner* Kingsmill Conference Center 7 p.m. Class of 1959 Cocktail Hour and Dinner* Royce Hotel, Westminster B 7 p.m. Class of 1964 Cocktails* Royce Hotel, Empire Foyer 7 p.m. Class of 1974 cash bar opens. 7 p.m. Party, 8 p.m. - 12 midnight Holiday Inn Downtown, Pool Dome Class of 1979 cash bar opens. 7 p.m. Party, 8 p.m. - 12 midnight Holiday Inn Downtown, Pool Dome Class of 1949 Cocktail Hour and Dinner* Kingsmill, Suite No. TBA 7 p.m. Class of 1944 Dinner 8 p.m. Royce Hotel, Westminster A 8 p.m. - 1 a.m. Class of 1964 Dinner/Dance Royce Hotel, Empire Ballroom George Washington Inn 8:30 p.m. W&M GALA Annual Meeting 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. W&M GALA Cocktail Reception George Washington Inn Black Student Organization Dance Place TBA 9 p.m. - 1 a.m.

MBA Alumni Tailgate Picnic

Between Tyler and James Blair halls

Sunday, November 5

† BYOL

2-4 a.m.	Black Alumni Breakfast Buffet	Econo Lodge Convention Center, Hospitality Suite
7-10 a.m.	Class of 1964 Hospitality Suite	Royce Hotel, Governor's Suite 422
7-11 a.m.	Class of 1974 Breakfast	Holiday Inn Downtown, Dining Room
7-11 a.m.	Class of 1979 Breakfast	Holiday Inn Downtown, Dining Room
8 a.m Noon	Registration tent and Gift Shoppe open.	Tent, Alumni House front lawn.
8 a.m.	Class of 1939 Hospitality Suite†	Motor House, Room 5110 and 5111
8 a.m.	Classes of 1940-1941 Hospitality Suite	Days Inn Downtown, Commonwealth Room
8-9 a.m.	Class of 1984 Continental Breakfast	Patrick Henry Inn, Ballroom
8-10 a.m.	Class of 1944 Hospitality Suite, Continental Breakfast	Royce Hotel, William and Mary Parlor
8-10 a.m.	Class of 1959 Hospitality Suite	Royce Hotel, Berkeley Room
10 a.m.	EMBA Golf	Kingsmill
10-11:30 a.m.	All Alumni Champagne Brunch	Royce Hotel, Colony Room
Noon .	W&M GALA Brunch	George Washington Inn
	以上,其一位,并不是一个人
* Cash Rar

Cont. from P. 1

Swem Library, Botetourt Gallery. Class dinner, Saturday 8 p.m., Royce Hotel, Westminster A, $28.00 per person. Class headquarters: Royce Hotel. Room reservations should be made using the form provided in previous class mailings. Room reservation deadline -October 1.

Class of 1949: Hospitality Suite, BYOL, Saturday 5:30 - 7 p.m., Kingsmill. Cocktail Hour (cash bar), Saturday 7 p.m. followed by dinner at 8 p.m., Kingsmill. $30.00 per person for all events. Class Headquarters: Kingsmill. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel using the forms provided in previous class mailings. Room reservation deadline - October 1. In addition, individuals staying at Kingsmill may use the Kingsmill golf facilities, and a request for teetimes should be made on the hotel reservation form.

Class of 1954: Cocktails, Saturday post-game - 7 p.m., Kingsmill Conference Center, Moody's Tavern. Cocktail Hour (cash bar), Saturday 7 p.m. followed by dinner at 8 p.m., Kingsmill. $32.00 per person. Class headquarters: Kingsmill. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel using the form provided in previous class mailings. Room reservation deadline - October 1.

Class of 1959: Hospitality Suite, Royce Hotel, Berkeley Room. Hours: Friday 4-7 p.m. and 9:30-11:30 p.m., Saturday 8-9 a.m. and post-game until 6:30 p.m., Sunday 8-10 a.m., $15 per person. A cocktail hour (cash bar), Saturday 7 p.m. followed by dinner at 8 p.m., Royce Hotel, Westminster B, $30 per person. Class headquarters: Royce Hotel. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel using the form provided in previous class mailings. Room reservation deadline - October 1.

Class of 1964: 25th Reunion Celebration. Hospitality Suite offering beer, wine, snacks and continental breakfast: Thursday 4 p.m. - 12 midnight; Friday 7 a.m. - 12 noon, 4 p.m. - 12 midnight; Saturday 7 a.m. - 1 p.m.; Sunday, 7 - 10 a.m., Royce Hotel, Governor's Suite 422. $15.00 per person for unlimited use. '64 Campus Tour, Friday 11 a.m., Alumni House. '64 Box Lunch, Friday 11:30 a.m., Alumni House, $8.00 per person. '64 Seminars, Friday 1 - 3 p.m., place TBA. 1964 Flat Hat Reunion Lunch, Saturday 11:45 a.m., Royce Hotel. $10.00 per person. Cocktail party, cash bar 7 - 8 p.m., Royce Hotel, Empire Foyer, followed by dinner/dance, gift presentation, music by the Rhondells, Saturday 8 p.m. - 1 a.m., Royce Hotel, Empire Ballroom, $40.00 per person. A special invitation is extended to the classes of 1963 and 1965 to attend the '64 Dinner/Dance. Class headquarters: Royce Hotel. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel using the form provided in previous mailings. Room reservation deadline - October 1.

Class of 1969: Class party, cash bar, Saturday 5 - 8 p.m., Cascades Restaurant, Cascades Room, $14.00 per person. Class headquarters: Motor House, Cascades Wing. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel using form provided in previous mailings. Room reservation deadline - October 1.

Class of 1974: Hospitality Suite with beer, snacks, sodas, Friday 6 p.m., Holiday Inn Downtown, $3.00 per person. Breakfast Buffet, Saturday and Sunday 7-11 a.m., Holiday Inn Downtown - dining room, $6.50 per person each day. Class party, Saturday, cash bar from 7 p.m., heavy hors d'oeuvres from 8 p.m. and DJ starting at 9 p.m., Holiday Inn Downtown, Pool Dome, $17.50 per person. Class headquarters: Holiday Inn Downtown. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel using the form provided in previous class mailings. Room reservation deadline - October 1.

Class of 1979: Hospitality Suite with beer, snacks, sodas, Friday 6 p.m. Holiday Inn Downtown, $3.00 per person.

Breakfast Buffet, Saturday and Sunday 7-11 a.m., Holiday Inn Downtown - dining room, $6.50 per person each day. Class party, Saturday, cash bar from 7 p.m., heavy hors d'oeuvres from 8 p.m. and DJ starting at 9 p.m., Holiday Inn Downtown, Pool Dome, $17.50 per person. Class headquarters: Holiday Inn Downtown. Room reservations should be made directly with the hotel using the forms provided in previous class mailings. Room reservation deadline - October 1

Class of 1984: Wine and Beer Reception, Saturday 4 - 6 p.m., Royce Hotel, Courtyard, $7.00 per person. Continental Breakfast, Sunday 8 - 9 a.m., Patrick Henry Inn - Ballroom, $5.00 per person. Class headquarters: Patrick Henry Inn. Room reservations must be made directly with the hotel using the form provided in previous class mailings. Room reservation deadline -October 1.

Homecoming Mementoes

Homecoming T-shirts: The official Homecoming '89 T-shirt featuring "The Best of Times" logo is available in teal with white and gold accents or in white with teal and gold accents, 100% cotton in M,L and XL adult sizes. $13.00 each includes shipping, handling and tax. See Registration Form, Section V.

Class Photographs: Photographs of all reunion classes will be taken Saturday during Luncheon-on-the-Lawn at the Alumni House. The 8" x 12" color photographs cost $12.00 each including postage and handling and will be shipped to alumni after Homecoming weekend. Advance orders are encouraged. See Registration Form, Section V.

	♦ Regis	tration Form •	Clip nere
Litar No. 3	independing blemens		The second secon
	Class Year	Spouse/Guest	Class Year(If W&M)
ity	State	Zip
elephone: Home ()	w	ork ()
I. Golf and Tenni	s Tournament Parti	icipants, please complete:	The second secon icipants, please complete: Tennis Registrant	Class Ability A/B
olf Registrant	Class Handicap
olf Registrant	Class Handicap Class Handicap	Tennis Registrant	Class Ability A/B

III. All Alumni Events

	No. Persons		Cost Per Person	Total
Friday Golf Tournament		x	$55.00	=
Friday Tennis Tournament		x	10.00	=
Friday Dinner/Dance		x	36.00	=
Saturday Continental Breakfast		x	5.00	=
Saturday Luncheon-on-the-Lawn		x	7.00	=
Saturday Post-Game Tailgater	week to be	x	5.00	=
Sunday Brunch		x	13.50	=
			Sul	ototal

IV. Reunion Events

	No. Persons		Cost Per Person	Total
OWJ Cocktails & Dinner
(Cash Bar) (Thursday)		x	$19.00	=
Olde Guarde Luncheon
(Cash Bar) (Friday)		x	12.50
Young Guarde Post-Game Party
(Saturday)		X	5.00
Theatre Reunion
Reception & Deli Buffet (Saturday)		x	25.00	= 100 1000
Special Sponsor Tickets		x	100.00
Class of 1936, 1937,1938
Hospitality Suite-BYOL (Friday & Saturday)	-	x	5.00	=
(Filday & Saturday)			C	ont. on back.

Non-Profit Organization U.S. Postage P A I D Permit No. 1390 Richmond

Homecoming Parade 1949 - Pi Kappa Alpha 60th Annual Homecoming Parade Saturday, 9:30 a.m.

"The Sea Gull - 1973" Theatre Reunion Saturday, 7 p.m. Phi Beta Kappa Hall

Society of the Alumni P. O. Box GO Williamsburg, VA 23187

Schedule of Events and Registration Form Inside!

Registration Form (continued)

Class of 1939 Hospitality Suite-BYOL	No. Persons	Cost Per Person x 14.00	Total	V. Homecoming Mementos
				No. Cost Total
Class of 1940, 1941 Hospitality Suite				is really and the second of th
(Friday, Saturday, Sunday)		x 26.00	=	Class Photo
Hospitality Suite				Class Year x $12.00 =
(Saturday only)		x 14.50	=	T. C lass of 1944				T-Shirt x 13.00 =
Hospitality Suite-Cash Bar				White M L XL
(Friday, Saturday, Sunday)		x 10.00	· =	TealMLXL
Dinner (Saturday)		x 28.00	=
lass of 1949	-			Subtotal
Hospitality Suite-BYOL and				CONTRACTOR OF STREET
Dinner (Saturday)		x 30.00	=	。这些块块的"多"。 对于 "以来", 其中"为"。 中华,以后,以后,其
Class of 1954				Manager and American Section 1997 (1997)
Dinner (Saturday)		x 32.00	=	VI. Payment
1000 A (Mar)				most market market to lass of 1959 Hospitality Suite				Subtotal
(Friday, Saturday, Sunday)		x 15.00	tentidizeki	Subiotal
Cocktails & Dinner (Saturday)		x 30.00		III. All Alumni Events
lass of 1964				IV. Reunion Events
Hospitality Suite
(Thursday - Sunday)	5 5	x 15.00	=	V. Homecoming Mementos
Box Luncheon (Friday)		x 8.00	=	Registration fee:No. registrants x $2.00 =
Flat Hat Lunch Dinner/Dance-Cash Bar (Saturday)		x 10.00 x 40.00
(Saturday)	ALC DES	10.00		Grand Total $
Class of 1969				METHOD OF PAYMENT
Class Party-Cash Bar (Saturday)		x 14.00		The same of the sa
lass of 1974				CHECK Check No (Payable to Society of the Alumni)
Hospitality Suite (Friday)		x 3.00	= 136	CHARGEVISA MasterCard
Buffet Breakfast (Saturday) Poolside Party-Cash Bar (Saturday)		x 6.50		1 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2
Buffet Breakfast (Sunday)		x 17.50 x 6.50		Account No Expires:/ month/year
			nt Labragio e SE	Signature
lass of 1979		Anne in Charle		and having model in the second
Hospitality Suite (Friday) Buffet Breakfast (Saturday)		x 3.00 x 6.50		For office use only
Poolside Party-Cash Bar (Saturday)		x 6.50 x 17.50	= 2000 1010
Buffet Breakfast (Sunday)		x 6.50	=	TD/89 AC RN
lass of 1984				305
Wine and Beer Reception (Saturday)		x 7.00
Continental Breakfast (Sunday)		x 5.00		Please return this form no later than October 18, 1989, to: Homecoming 19
				Society of the Alumni, P. O. Box GO, Williamsburg, VA 23187. Your confirmat