

Alumni Gazette

SOCIETY OF THE ALUMNI • COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

It Didn't Miss a Beat: Homecoming '94 strikes a chord with alumni

By Paul Pegher

And the beat does go on at William and Mary as thousands of alumni and friends returned to campus for Homecoming '94 to challenge their intellects in the classroom and reaffirm a special bond with old friends and their alma mater. The highlight of the glorious autumn weekend was the Academic Festival, headlined by Margaret Thatcher, the College's 21st chancellor.

"It's marvelous to be back. We don't have a homecoming in Britain, so I had to come here for it," Lady Thatcher said before a capacity crowd of 800 alumni and guests who packed Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall for a question-and-answer session with the former British prime minister.

Lady Thatcher responded to questions on everything from political campaigns in the United States to the preservation and expansion of NATO.

"Lady Thatcher is just a remarkable person who has so much insight that it seems like she can identify any problem and get right to its core," said Yvette Hickey Anthony '51. "I don't know when I've attended anything that was so stimulating. I deeply appreciated the opportunity to be there."

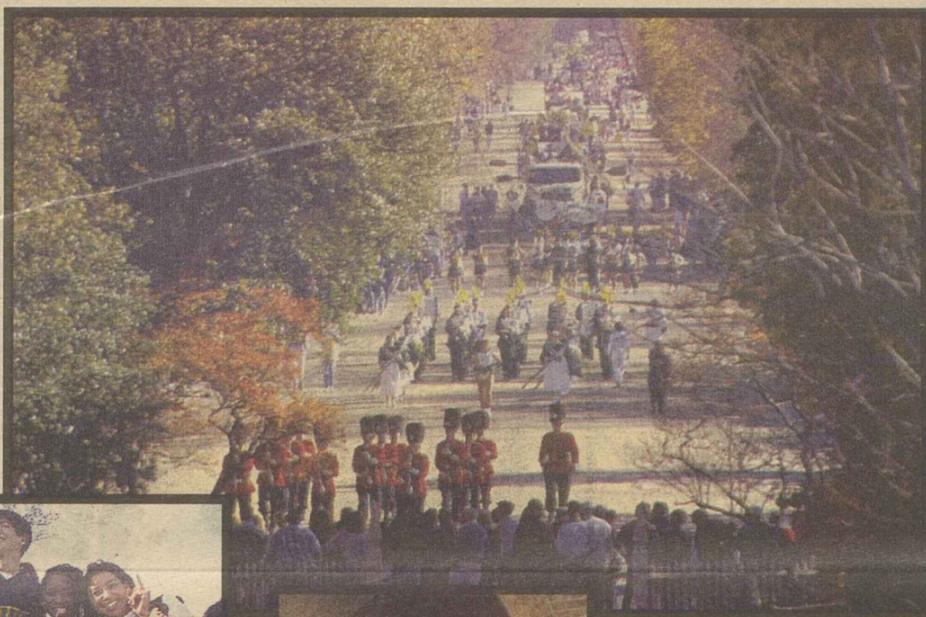

In classroom settings across campus, alumni discussed the national interest in Virginia politics, studied the brain's influence on human behavior and deliberated the role of the contemporary family, as part of the more than 20 Academic Festival topics offered by professors and guest lecturers.

"The Academic Festival is an excellent idea because it adds substance to the entire Homecoming experience," said Susan Arnot-Heaney '79. "It gives alumni a connection to the College as it is today."

Guest lecturer Sarah Kemp Brady '64, chair of the Center to Prevent Handgun Violence and Handgun Control Inc., discussed her views on the progress and future of the gun control movement in the United States. Brady played an instrumental role in the 1993 passage of the Brady Law, which requires a national waiting period and background checks for those who wish to purchase guns. Brady said further legislation would "do the same for guns that we did for cars," calling for gun owners to be licensed and trained on gun use and safety and for the state-level registration of all gun purchases.

It's marvelous to be back," Lady Thatcher tells a capacity crowd of alumni and guests during their conversation with the College chancellor and former prime minister of Great Britain. "We don't have a homecoming in Britain, so I had to come here for it."

Cheerleaders celebrate the Tribe's 17-0 victory over the University of Maine Black Bears.

One alumna made her contribution to the weekend's festivities not from a lectern, but from the sky. Sandy Taylor Wambach '81 was joined by three other skydivers as she presented the game ball on the 50-yard line, with parachute in tow, just prior to kickoff. That same football was then used in a 17-0 Tribe win over the University of Maine Black Bears before a near-capacity crowd.

Wambach, who began skydiving her sophomore year, was ecstatic as she walked off the field. "While I was a student, I always wanted to jump somewhere on campus, like the Sunken Garden or the football field, but we were never allowed. So this actually fulfills a 15 year-old dream of mine," she said.

The spotlight also fell on three more alumni during the weekend. Joe Koons '68, John H. Randolph '64 and Austin L. Roberts III '69 were the recipients of Alumni Medallions at the Homecoming Ball. Unfortunately, Koons was unable to attend due to his daughter, Teresa's, illness, but his medallion was honorably accepted by his oldest daughter, Joyce Koons Field '90. Field said that her father's deep love for his family was paralleled by a love for William and Mary.

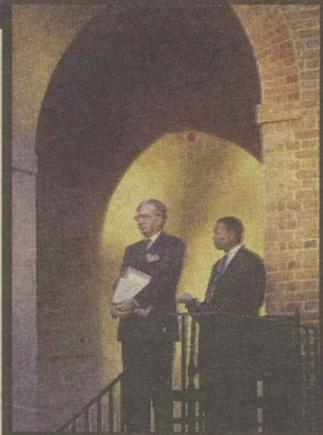

Randolph could not attend because of his own illness, but his son, John Randolph Jr., and daughter, Katherine Witherpoon, accepted his award for him. In remarks read by his son, Randolph said, "If we can assume that education, in the truest sense of the word, is a voyage of discovery, then William and Mary has been, over the past 35 years, the greatest amalgamating force of my own personal values."

In a moving tribute to Randolph, his fellow "boys" of Kappa Alpha in attendance sang "In Eighteen Hundred and Sixty-five." They also serenaded Randolph's wife, Maynard Williams Randolph '64, with the "Kappa Alpha Sweetheart Song."

To complement the Alumni Medallion, the Alumni Service Award was introduced this year to recognize individuals who have worked in outstanding support of alumni groups. Six of the seven 1994 Alumni Service Awards were presented during the weekend. Marilyn Miller Entwistle '44 and Charlotte T Etgen '59 were awarded at the Alumni Admissions Network Reception; Raymond R. Goodhart '65 at the Association of 1775's Mess Hall Breakfast; James J. Seu '53 at the Order of the White Jacket Banquet; Elizabeth C. Young-Kirksey '83 at the Hulon Willis Association and Black Student Organization Reception, and Thaddeus R. Shelly III M.B.A. '84 was recognized by the M.B.A. Alumni Association.

As the sun's last rays appropriately fell on the walls of the Wren Courtyard Friday afternoon, the annual Sunset Ceremony paid respect to 244 members of the College family who passed away this year. Speaking before the William and Mary President Timothy J. Sullivan '66 and The Rev. Douglas Anthony Slaughter '79 reflect on 244 fallen members of the William and Mary family during the Sunset Ceremony.

Choir, the Queen's Guard and a host of alumni and friends, President Timothy J. Sullivan '66 said, "We do these friends honor by remembering them in the spirit of cheerfulness of what they've given to us and in hope that we can continue in the tradition they helped preserve."

In the tradition of William and Mary Homecomings, reunions and celebrations were lively and plentiful throughout the weekend, from the Homecoming Ball to the Luncheon-on-the-Lawn to dozens of dinner/dances and receptions. Members of the Classes of 1949, 1954, 1959, 1964, 1969, 1974, 1979, 1984 and 1989 reunited in large numbers to catch up on the years. At its 25th Reunion, the Class of 1969 presented the College with a $183,765 Class gift, setting a new 25th Reunion gift participation rate record of 33.3 percent.

Of course, what would Homecoming be without a parade? Thousands lined Duke of Gloucester Street and Richmond Strike up the band! The Homecoming parade, with this year's theme the Beat Goes On, marches down Duke of Gloucester Street.

Homecoming was a time for reflection and celebration. Of sweet memories, and bittersweet goodbyes to departed friends.

Road to enjoy the 65th Annual Homecoming Parade, led by Grand Marshals Barbara Berkeley Ukrop '61 and James E. Ukrop '60. Kappa Delta and Sigma Pi, the William and Mary Choir and Circle K rode off with prizes for the best floats while the fine-tuned talents of the Menchville High School Marching Band earned the best musical entry award.

For young and old, the celebration of Homecoming '94, "The Beat Goes On," was a grand welcome to the College's fourth century. Similar sentiments were shared across the generations.

According to the seasoned perspective of Rolfe Kennard '24, the William and Mary title-holder with 71 consecutive Homecomings, "it's a lot bigger than 70 years ago, but it's just as fun! I just love the College and nobody's going to keep me away from William and Mary as long as I can get there!"

"It was nice to enjoy William and Mary without the stress of being a student," said Janet West '94, "I was reminded of how much I miss the College, but, in a small way, it was nice to feel like I was missed too."

inside

3 SHEPPARD W. MCKENNEY '61—Strategic Plan
"This is not a time to temporize; this is a time to move ahead"

ROLFE KENNARD '24—Snapshots of Homecoming 5
"Nobody's going to keep me away from William and Mary as long as I can get there."

8 BRIAN HYDE—Seniors race to track title
"I go out with a goal to win every race. I have confidence that I can run with anybody out there."

CHARLIE WOOLLUM—Better year ahead 8
"It's like being down by 20; you can't catch up in five minutes."

10 TIM SULLIVAN—Preserving Matoaka
"Lake Matoaka and the College Woods are as much a part of William and Mary as the Wren Building."

The Alumni Gazette is published six times a year and William & Mary Magazine two times a year by the Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary. Address correspondence, Class Notes and Vital Statistics (births, marriages and obituaries) to Alumni Gazette, P.O. Box 2100, Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100. Telephone (804) 221-1842.

Executive Publisher	W. Barry Adams
Editor	S. Dean Olson
Managing Editor	Lisa Riess
Editorial Assistant	Paul A. Pegher
Editorial Interns	Emily Jones '95, Shannon Kreps '95
Design	June Skalak
Photography	C. James Gleason
Composition	Sylvia Colston
Director of Alumni Affairs	Sherri Givens Holland '86
Director of Alumni Records and Information Systems	Betsy Dolan Quinzio '84
Director of Society Services	Paula Hicks Mooradian M.B.A. '92
Associate Director (Alumni Affairs)	Kristi Thornton
Associate Director (Alumni Affairs)	Matthew L. Brandon '92
Associate Director (Alumni Affairs)	Karen A. Wright '92
Associate Director (Alumni Records)	Karl J. Otto

BOARD OF DIRECTORS
Rebecca Beach Smith '71, J.D.'79, President
Alvin P. Anderson '70, J.D.'72, Vice President
H. Mason Sizemore Jr. '63, Secretary
Joseph J. Ellis '65, Treasurer
Joanna L. Ashworth '84
Clyde E. Culp '65
Constance Warren Desaulniers '75
Barbara Pate Glacel '70
Pamera D. Hairston '81, J.D.'84
Anne Nenzel Lambert '35
Joseph W. Montgomery '74
Jacquelyn Good Legg '60
Henry T. Tucker Jr. '72
Sunshine Trumbo Williams '44
Carol Achenbach Wright '49

Society of the Alumni
Norfolk, Va.
Williamsburg, Va.
Seattle, Wash.
Holyoke, Mass.
Charlotte, N.C.
Lexington, Ky.
Williamsburg, Va.
Burke, Va.
Arlington, Va.
Williamsburg, Va.
Williamsburg, Va.
Newport News, Va.
Richmond, Va.
Norfolk, Va.
Kilmarnock, Va.

Ringling far and near Home improvement

By Barry Adams

Bricks. Draperies. Wallpaper. Color charts. Carpeting. Site plans. Wood trim. Carpets.

A grand foyer. Terraces and courtyards. Grand entrance. Leadership Hall. Kitchen appliances. Parking.

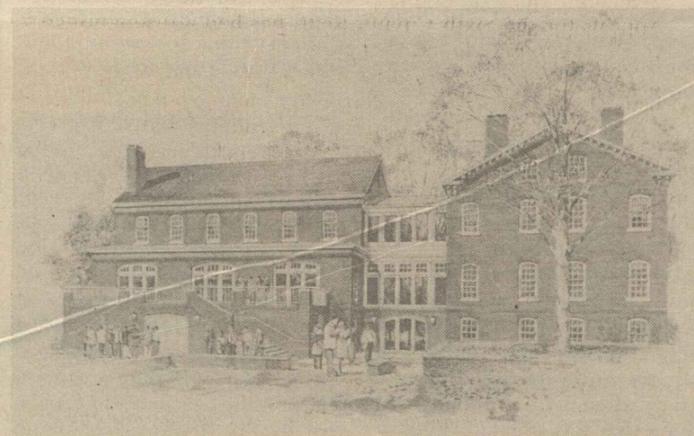

Hardly typical topics at a Society Board of Directors meeting, but reality has set in. The move to expand the Alumni House into an Alumni Center is homeward bound. Construction could be just a few months away.

With overwhelming approval of the final design concepts submitted to the board by John Paul Hanbury of the architectural firm of Hanbury, Evans, Newill, Vlatts, the Society is focusing on completing the preliminary leadership phases of a campaign. A campaign to complete a 30-year dream. A campaign that is a clear investment as well as statement in William and Mary's future.

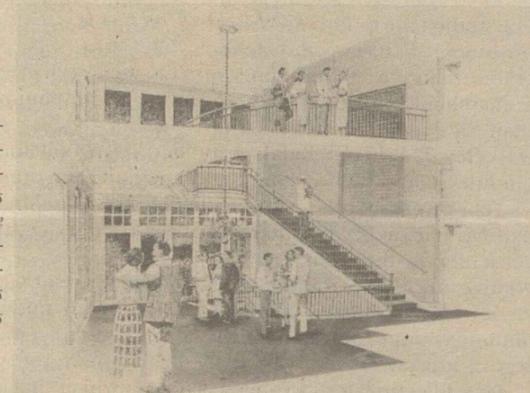

The following are artist conceptions of the design as approved by the board. In the coming months you will hear and learn more about the efforts quietly underway to build an expanded home for the College's nearly 70,000 alumni and friends.

This old house will retain its stately charm, elegance and warmth. A circle of activity that extends across the country and around the globe.

View of the planned Alumni Center looking north from Zable Stadium. An outside terrace with an adjoining plaza and courtyard will accommodate nearly a thousand for outdoor activities. The classes of 1940, '44 and '45 patio moves to the north side for use by groups of up to 100.

Looking south toward Zable Stadium from the second floor, this drawing depicts the Class of 1944 Gallery area and includes the Society's Circle of Friends plaque.

Leadership Hall, designed to accommodate approximately 120 for an intimate dinner or nearly 300 for a reception, will include a marble firebrace and the names of alumni, friends, classes and organizations

Commentary

Strategic Plan Approved by Board of Visitors

By Ray Betzner

The Strategic Plan, the document that will set the College's course into its fourth century, was approved in November by the Board of Visitors.

Rector James Murray Jr. '74 praised the College for taking a historic step, comparable to another strategic planning effort conducted in 1779 when the College was faced "with a curriculum that was heavy on religion and light on science."

At the time, following a three-year running battle with the General Assembly that failed to result in changes, the College initiated its own restructuring plan, authored by Thomas Jefferson.

The board's action in November ended a planning process started more than a year ago and sets the stage for implementation of the plan. The plan is expected to be in effect for the next five years.

Among the actions in the Strategic Plan are:

- Enroll an entering class of 1,290 beginning in the fall of 1996, an increase of 50 students over the current class size. An interim increase to 1,275 is recommended for the fall of 1995.

- Maintain excellence in the undergraduate program by allocating resources to implement the new curriculum.

- Encourage departments, programs and schools that share a common interest in broad areas of intellectual inquiry to work together in clusters.

- Phase out master's programs in English, government, mathematics and sociology in arts and sciences; the master's in museum education; the master's in taxation and the management track in the undergraduate program in the School of Business; the master's of laws in taxation in the Marshall-Wythe School of Law; and two specialist programs in education.

- Phase out the Commonwealth Center for Study of American Culture.

- Eliminate the Office of Continuing Education and Special Programs and explore new options for continuing education.

- Make $2.1 million in administrative cuts over the next three years. Reallocate funds to academic programs and support.

- Invest in the support of the people—faculty, staff and students—who comprise the campus community. This includes advancing faculty salaries to the 75th percentile of state peer institutions.

- Take steps to diversify further the faculty and student body, and create a hospitable environment.

- Invest in information technology infrastructure to improve communications on and off campus. An expanded Earl Gregg Swem Library and a bigger law library are also recommended, although funding for these expansions would need to be identified.

- Make a commitment to service to the Commonwealth and the nation through involvement in public service, cooperation with the public schools and contributions to economic development.

- Require an immediate 10 percent reduction in administrative expenses in athletics. Downsize programs to 23 sports by dropping wrestling and fencing. Limit the percentage increase in student athletic fees to the percentage increase in tuition.

Board member concerns at the November meeting focused on two segments of the plan: a proposal to phase out several master's degree and professional programs and reductions in the athletics budget.

For example, James Vergara Jr. '69 suggested that the master's programs "go on probation" like the dance and chemistry programs. He said some master's programs, like government, are not found at many other public colleges or universities in the state and should be given a chance to prove their merit to William and Mary.

Edward Grimsley '51 agreed and said saving those programs where there is a direct relationship between a master's degree and future employment seemed like "a trade school mentality."

Provost Gillian Cell, who chaired the Strategic Planning Committee, said the master's programs to be phased out were not selected because they were not quality programs.

"The issue is not the quality of any one program, but whether they agree with where the institution is going," said Cell. "The College's resources are spread too thin and a tighter focus would help the remaining programs become nationally competitive."

Board member Shepard W. McKenney '61 agreed for the need to make tough choices, saying, "This is not a time to temporize; this is a time to move ahead."

Other board members were worried that making the athletic department cut 10 percent out of its administrative costs is too harsh. They noted that—unlike academic departments—athletics will not have the opportunity to recover up to 50 percent of the reduction.

Athletic Director John Randolph '64 explained that the reductions are needed to make sure the department does not run a deficit in future years. He said athletics is committed to increasing its private fund-raising efforts and expects there will be little long-term damage to the quality of the program.

Broder to speak at Charter Day

David Broder, The Washington Post columnist whose work appears in more than 300 papers across the country, will be the principal speaker for Charter Day, Feb. 4, at William and Mary.

Broder received the Pulitzer Prize for Distinguished Commentary in 1973 and has been an associate editor of The Washington Post since 1975. His books include The Party's Over: The Failure of Politics in America and The Republican Establishment: The Present and Future of the G.O.P.

Broder's most recent book is The Man Who Would Be President: Dan Quayle, written in 1992 and co-authored by Bob Woodward.

A reporter since 1953, Broder has covered national politics since 1955, when he joined Congressional Quarterly.

Also at Charter Day, the College will bestow an honorary degree on Damon J. Keith, circuit judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. Keith has had a distinguished 24-year career on the federal bench.

On Thursday evening of Charter Day Weekend, Swem Savories, a benefit for Swem Library, will be held from 6 to 8 p.m., followed by the Student Advancement Association's annual Voices of the Future concert in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Eleven premier local restaurants will serve their specialties at Swem Savories. Tickets may be obtained by sending $25 to Swem Savories, College of William and Mary, P.O. Box 8795, Williamsburg, VA 23185-8795. Tickets for the concert, which cost $5, can be reserved by calling 804/221-2051.

Broder

dialogue

Dialogue is a column for your letters, faxes, phone calls and e-mail messages to the Alumni Gazette. It's your opportunity to debate, discuss, compliment, expand upon, amend and remember William and Mary. So, call us at 804/221-1703 and leave your recorded message, fax us at 804/221-1186, e-mail us at gazett@mail.wm.edu, or write us in care of the Managing Editor, Lisa Riess, at the address at left. All editorials must be submitted with your name and may be edited for clarity, length and editorial content. While we may not have room to publish all comments, you can be sure the Alumni Society will respond in your behalf.

I read with great interest and enjoyment the recent article entitled "College retires Vic Raschi's Number", which appeared in the Summer 1994 issue of the William and Mary Magazine.

My dad, Eli W. Rafal, graduated from William and Mary in February 1949, the same time as Mr. Raschi. (They) stood next to each other as they waited for their diplomas, and Dad remembers chatting with the amicable Mr. Raschi. Though aware of Mr. Raschi's major league status, he did not realize the heights to which Mr. Raschi would ascend in the baseball world.

Ironically, it was 44 years later while reading an article (on pitching greats) I had written for Baseball Digest that my dad truly understood the place his friend had carved out. When I wrote my article I had no idea my dad ever knew Vic Raschi. It seems things have come full circle. In 1949, my dad shared the stage with a man destined for greatness and 44 years later I wrote an article in which that greatness was made fully clear to my dad for the first time. My dad sends his regards to the class of 1949. —Sam Rafal

When we got home from church Sunday, my son called me to come into the living room and stand by him, keeping my eyes shut until he told me to open them. He turned me around so I faced a hall mirror. When I was told to open my eyes, I saw myself standing with a ribbon around my neck and to my surprise read "The Olde Guard—The College of William and Mary, 1693" I am trying hard to find the words to thank you. I shall surely show it off every chance I get. It is truly appreciated. —Mary Parker Old '25

Congratulations to (the Alumni Society) on the great job you did in organizing and putting together a wonderful Homecoming weekend for the many who returned. I want to commend and congratulate you on making it a joyful time. Many folks went home with a wonderful, good feeling for the College and for those who worked hard to make it a reality. —Robert S. Dutro, Esq. J.D. '69

Increase your Gift to William and Mary by Giving Securities

When you are considering a gift to William and Mary, it may be to your advantage not to write a check. Put away your checkbook and consider a gift of marketable securities that have increased in value. A gift of appreciated securities will result in:

- a federal income tax deduction based on the full fair market value of the security if it has been held long term
- avoiding capital gains taxes on the increase in value of the stock.

Best of all you will have the satisfaction of supporting William and Mary.

Write for our free booklet "Giving Appreciated Securities to William and Mary" or call 804/221-1004. There is no obligation.

Robert S. Dutro, Esq.
Director of Estate Planning
Martha M. Ingles, CFP
Associate Director for Estate Planning
College of William and Mary
P.O. Box 1693
Development Office
Williamsburg, Virginia 23187

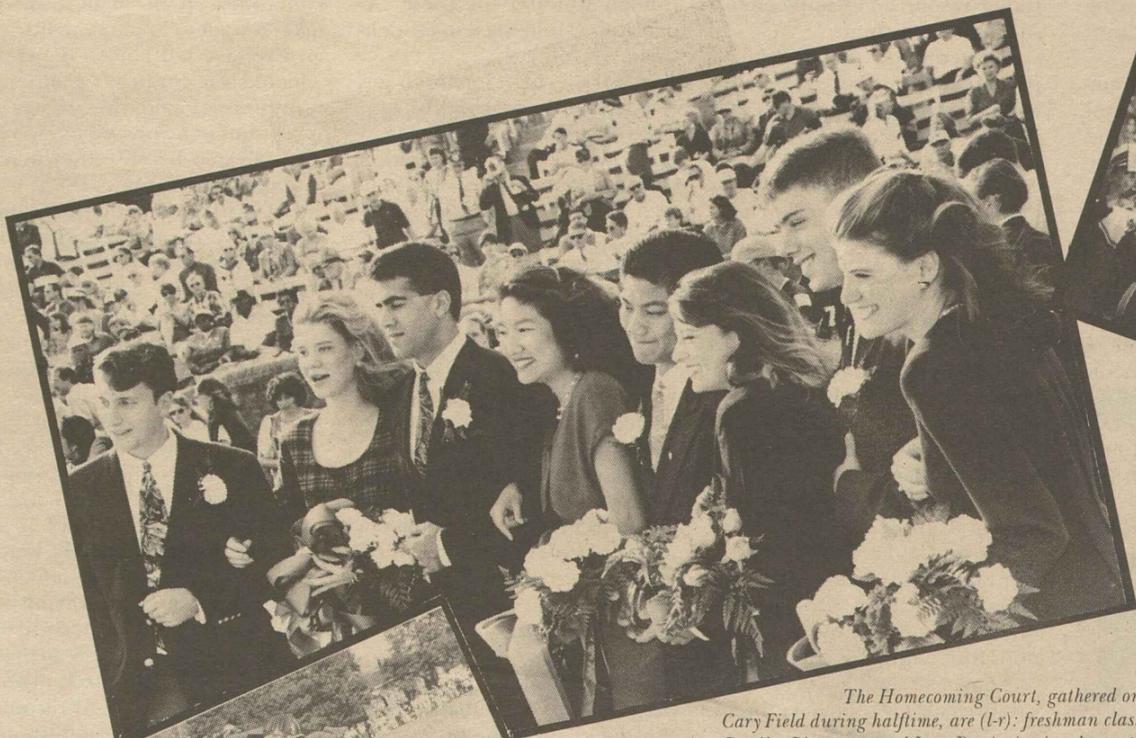

I may be interested in making a gift of appreciated securities to William and Mary. Please send details.

Name _____ Class _____

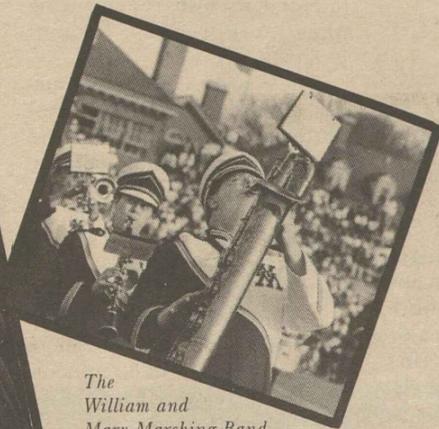

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Phone _____

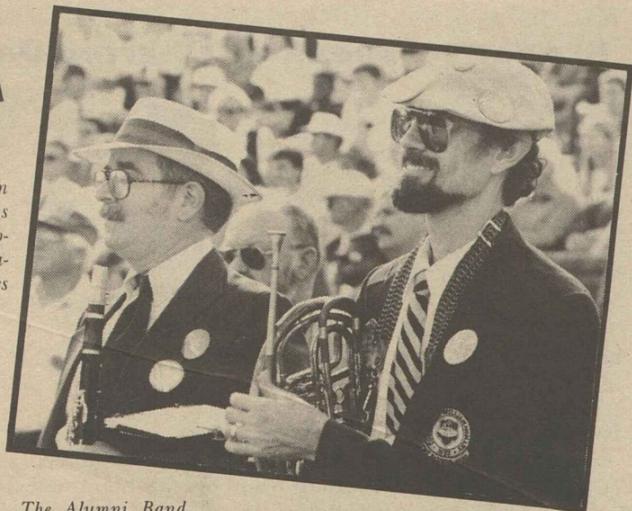

The Homecoming Court, gathered on Cary Field during halftime, are (l-r): freshman class representatives Bradley Bitlerman and Joan Davis; junior class representatives Vikas Chawla and Michelle Kang; senior class representatives Terris Ko and Jessica Mario, and sophomore class representatives Matthew Couch and Michele Busby.

The William and Mary Marching Band — blowin' it out at halftime!

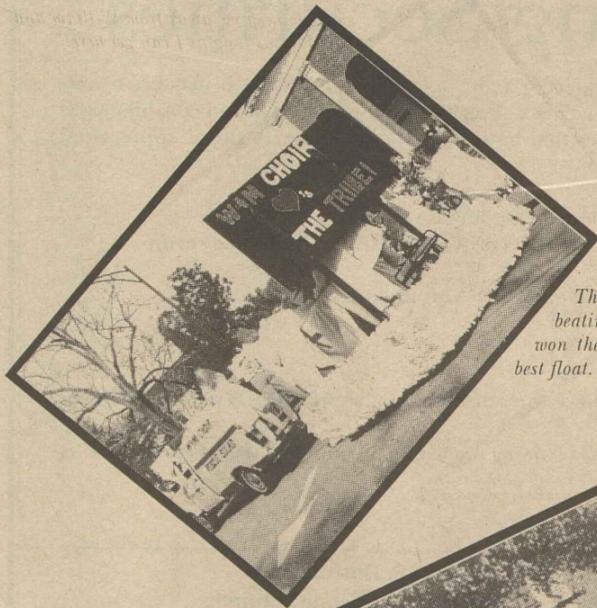

Sandy Taylor Wambach '81 dropped in on Zable Stadium just in time to present the game ball for kickoff.

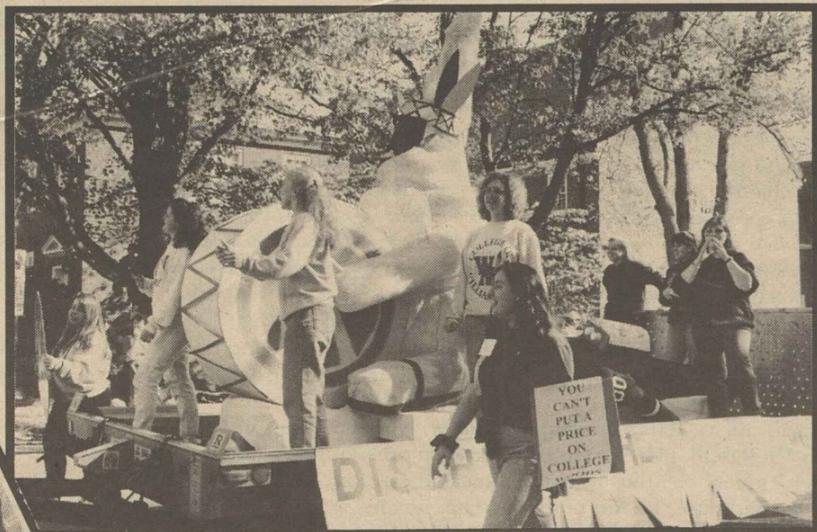

The Alumni Band — A Homecoming favorite for the past 26 years!

and the beat goes on

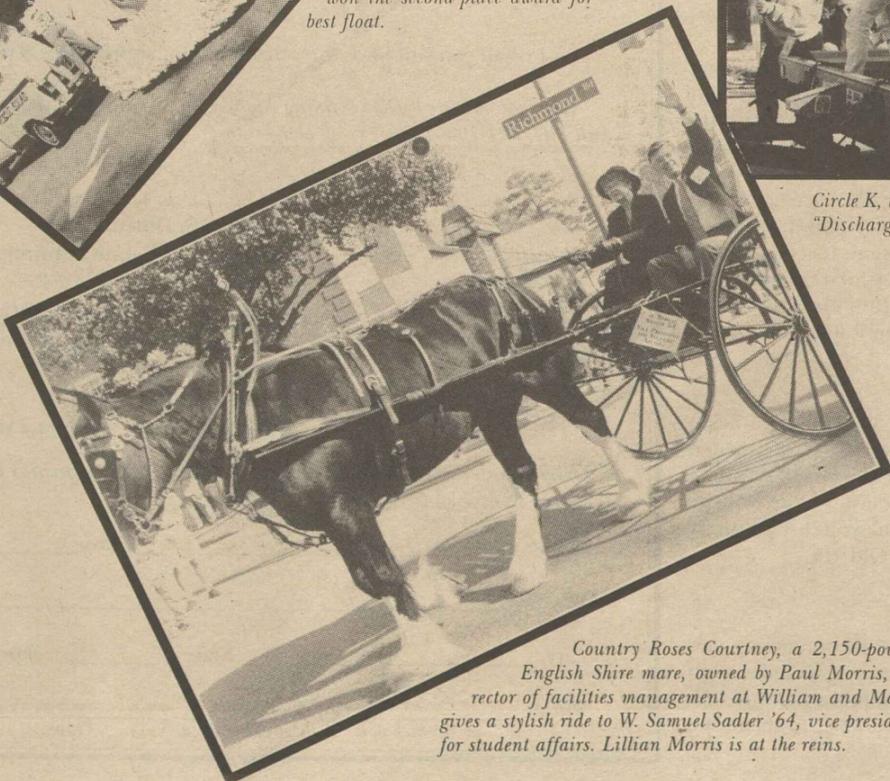

PHOTOS BY C. JAMES GLEASON

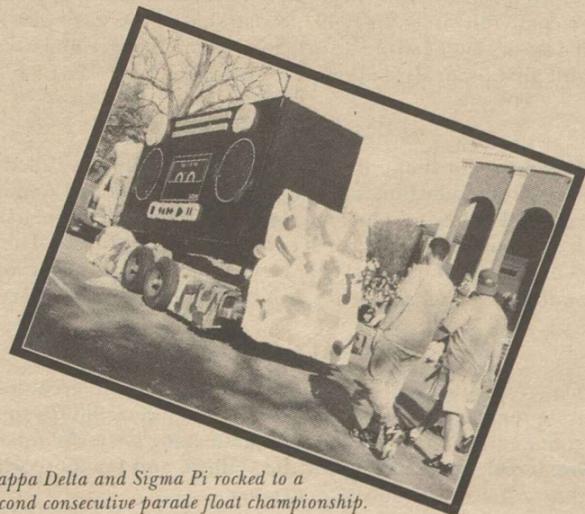

The William and Mary Choir sent their beating hearts out to the Tribe and won the second-place award for best float.

Circle K, third-place winner for best float, and the Energizer Bunny called on the Tribe to "Discharge the Maine Volt."

Country Roses Courtney, a 2,150-pound English Shire mare, owned by Paul Morris, director of facilities management at William and Mary, gives a stylish ride to W. Samuel Sadler '64, vice president for student affairs. Lillian Morris is at the reins.

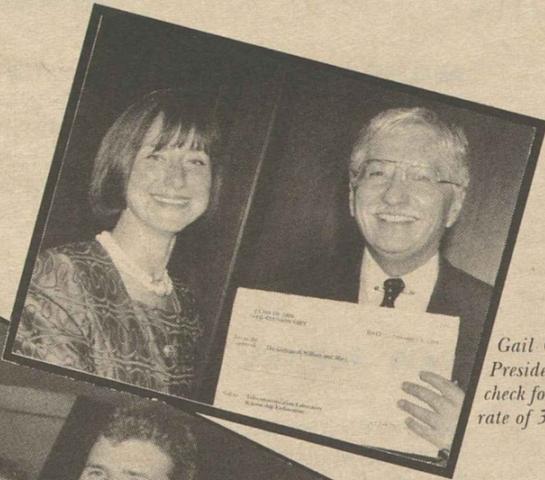

Kappa Delta and Sigma Pi rocked to a second consecutive parade float championship.

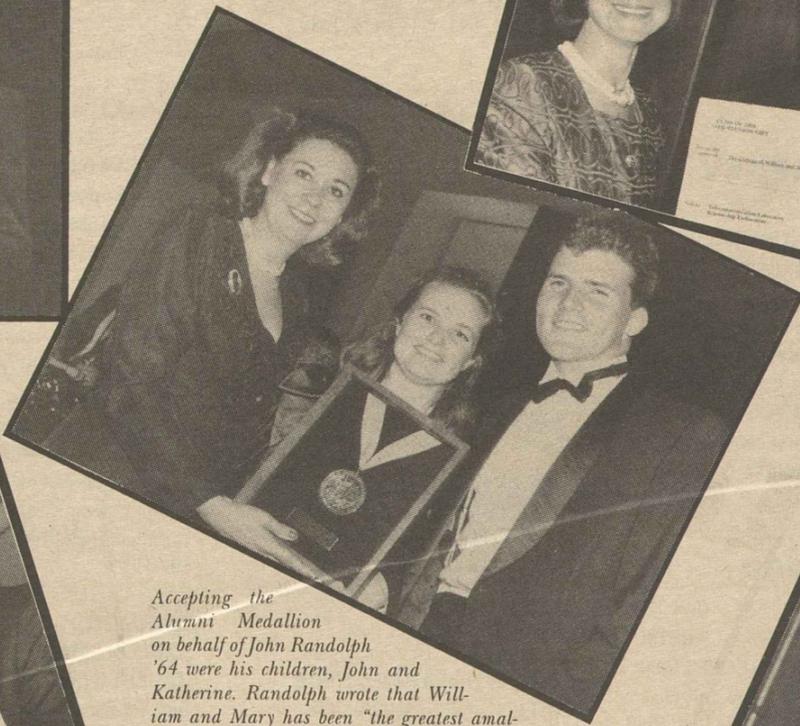

Homecoming 1994

Theresa Thompson '67, receives the Board of Directors Trophy from Joseph J. Ellis '65 for the best all-around support of the Annual Fund.

Gail Gibson Kohlhagen '69 presents to President Sullivan the 25th Class Reunion check for $183,715—a record participation rate of 33.3 percent.

Accepting the Alumni Medallion on behalf of John Randolph '64 were his children, John and Katherine. Randolph wrote that William and Mary has been "the greatest amalgamating force of my own personal values."

Society of the Alumni President Rebecca Beach Smith '71, J.D. '79 presents Austin Roberts III '69 with the Alumni Medallion at the Homecoming Ball.

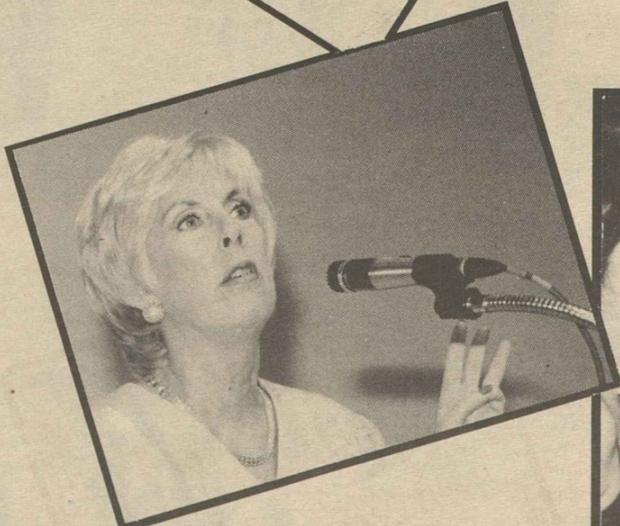

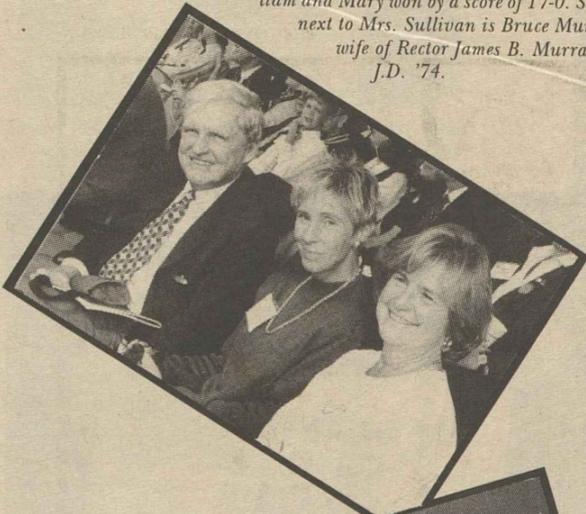

Joyce Koons Field '90 accepts the Alumni Medallion for her father, Joe Koons '68.

Mark McCormack '51 joined Ann Klare Sullivan '66, center, in the President's Box for the Homecoming football game against Maine, which William and Mary won by a score of 17-0. Seated next to Mrs. Sullivan is Bruce Murray, wife of Rector James B. Murray Jr. J.D. '74.

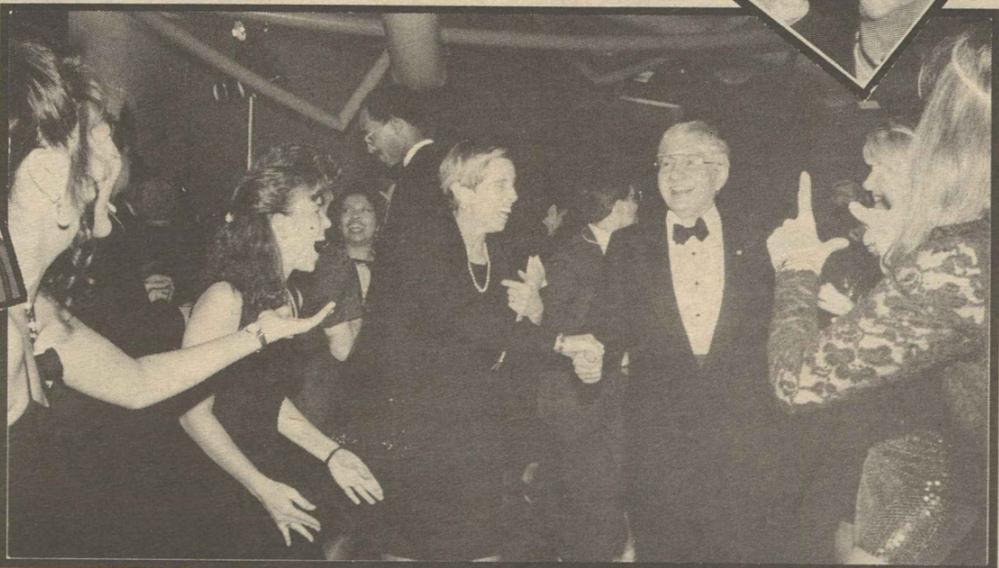

Laughing it up at the Olde Guard Luncheon were (l-r) Lucille Eldridge Harkless '39, Adele Crane, Fran Davis Metheny '39 and Richard Crane '39.

Rolfe Kennard '24, title-holder of W&M Homecomings, upped his streak to 71 consecutive returns. Says Kennard, "Nobody's going to keep me away from William and Mary as long as I can get here!"

Sarah Kemp Brady '64 spoke about handgun control at one of the more than 20 educational programs offered by faculty and alumni as part of the Academic Festival held during Homecoming.

Ann Klare Sullivan '66 and President Timothy J. Sullivan '66 kick down with members of the Student Alumni Liaison Council at the Homecoming Ball.

Alumni Society today

Upcoming chapter events

GEORGIA

ATLANTA — CAREER RECEPTION

Jan. 4. Oglethorpe University. 7:30 p.m. Contact: Bill Lott '93, 404/641-0942.

FLORIDA

CENTRAL FLORIDA — HOLIDAY PARTY

Dec. 14. Home of James Gudinas '63 and Karen Zimmerman Gudinas '62, 430 Thomez Court, Lake Mary. 7 p.m. Bring a dish to share. Contact: Karen Zimmerman Gudinas, 407/323-7422.

ILLINOIS

CHICAGO — PRO HOCKEY OUTING

Feb. 4. Chicago Wolves vs. Detroit Vipers. Time and cost TBA. Contact: Nancy Bushy '92, 708/696-2154.

LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS — W&M MEN'S BASKETBALL

Dec. 20. Pre-game event with Coach Charlie Woollum '64. Location, time and cost TBA. Contact: John Morton, Jr. '58, 504/488-7739.

MASSACHUSETTS

BOSTON — CAREER EXPLORATION RECEPTION

Jan. 10. Location, time and cost TBA. Contact: Matthew Brandon '92, 804/221-1183.

NEW JERSEY

NORTHERN NEW JERSEY — SUPER BOWL PARTY FUND-RAISER

Jan. 28. Home of Cyrus and Susan Schott Karr '76, 61 Woodland Road, Chatham. 5:30 p.m. to end of game. $7.50 per person. Contact: Susan Schott Karr, 201/701-0229.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK CITY — CAREER EXPLORATION RECEPTION

Jan. 9. Location, time and cost TBA. Contact: Hotline, 212/969-8200.

VIRGINIA

GREATER METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON, D.C. — AFTERNOON AT THE NUTCRACKER SUITE BALLET

Dec. 10. Warner Theater, 13th and E Streets NW. 2 p.m. $27/person. Contact: Debbie Growitz '89, 202/895-1730 or 703/671-6814.

GREATER METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON, D.C. — CAREER RECEPTION

Jan. 5. Location, time and cost TBA. Contact: Maggie Margiotta '88, 703/841-3511 or 202/862-2180.

GREATER METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON, D.C. — BASKETBALL TAILGATER

Jan. 14. Location, time and cost TBA. Tailgater in conjunction with W&M vs. American University basketball game. Contact: Jonathan Legg '90, 202/452-4000.

GREATER METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON, D.C. — BASKETBALL TAILGATER

Jan. 30. Location, time and cost TBA. Tailgater in conjunction with W&M vs. George Mason University basketball game. Contact: Jonathan Legg '90, 202/452-4000.

LOWER NORTHERN NECK — VALENTINE'S PARTY FOR GOLDEN ALUMNI

Feb. 14. Location and time TBA. Contact: Carol Achenbach Wright '49, 804/435-0829.

LYNCHBURG/CENTRAL VIRGINIA — CHOIR CONCERT

Jan. 28. Churches for Urban Ministry Annual College Choir Concert featuring William & Mary Choir and Virginia State University Choir. Court Street Baptist Church, 6th and Court Streets, Lynchburg. 7 p.m. $8 for adults, $4 for children 12 and under. Contact: Bob Bailey '80, 804/384-1557 or Heidi Kunz Bullock '80, 804/528-9360.

RICHMOND - HOLIDAY YULE LOG PARTY

Dec. 8. Home of Mary and Howard Busbee '65, B.C.L. '67, M.L.T. '68, 101 Brookschase Lane, Richmond. 6:30—9 p.m. $15 per person for dues-payers, $20 per person for all others. Contact: Harold Martin '79, 804/697-1933.

RICHMOND — CAREER EXPLORATION RECEPTION

Jan. 10. Dumbarton Public Library. 6 p.m. No cost. Contact: Rob Billingsley '76, 804/740-2970.

SOUTH HAMPTON ROADS — STUDENT CAREER RECEPTION

Jan. 9. Norfolk Academy, Wesleyan Drive, Virginia Beach. 7 p.m. Contact: Tom Johnson '85, 804/451-2000 or 804/874-7795.

WILLIAMSBURG — BASKETBALL PRE-GAME RECEPTION

Jan. 21. William and Mary Hall, 6:30—7:30 p.m. Contact: Hotline, 804/221-1528.

WILLIAMSBURG — ANNUAL TAVERN DINNER

Feb. 17. Chownings Tavern, Time TBA. Contact: Hotline: 804/221-1528.

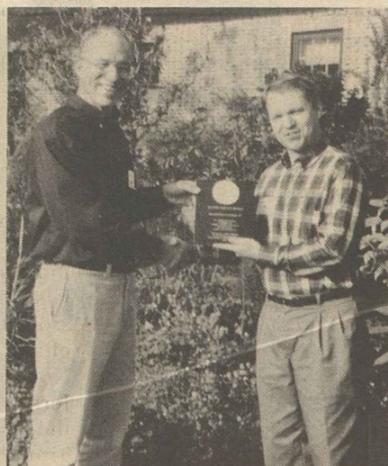

Service & Chapter Awards Presented at Homecoming

Jim Seu '53, left, received his Alumni Service Award from Society board member Connie Desaulniers '75, on behalf of OWJ for his frequent support of students through scholarship donations, professional counsel and employment in his Colonial Restaurant.

Thaddeus R. Shelly III M. B. A. '84, right, receives the Alumni Service award from Alfred N. Page, dean of the School of Business Administration, for his intense commitment to building a strong relationship between alumni and administration.

Charlotte Tolley Elgen '59, center, receives the Alumni Service Award from Virginia Carey '71, Ed.S. '93, dean of admission, and Barry Adams, executive vice president of the Society of the Alumni, for her devoted service to the Houston chapter of the Alumni Admission Network.

Matthew C. Ames '80, president of the Association of 1775, presents the Alumni Service Award to R. Robert Goodhart '65 for his dedication to the College of William and Mary through his ongoing support of 1775 and alumni activities, including the newly chartered Botetourt Alumni Chapter.

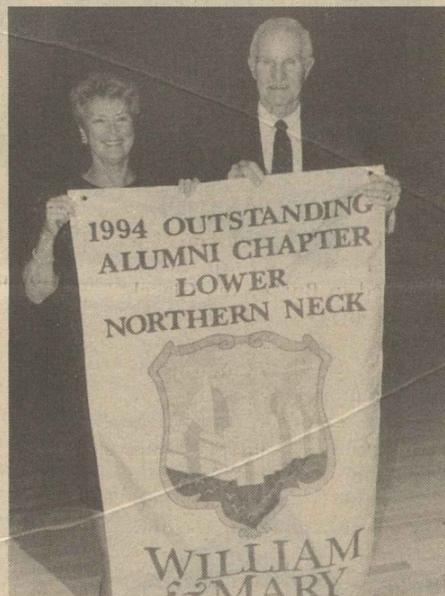

Accepting the Outstanding Chapter award for the Greater Metropolitan Washington, D.C., chapter are officers (l-r) Maggie Margiotta '88, Justina Johnson Head '84, Shannon L. Watson '89 and Frances Newton Harwood '63.

Marilyn Miller Entwisle '44, right, receives the Alumni Service Award from Virginia Carey '71, Ed.S. '93, dean of admission, and Barry Adams, executive vice president of the Society of the Alumni, for her outstanding commitment to the Office of Admission and the Society.

Elizabeth C. Young-Kirksey '83, right, received an Alumni Service Award from Society board member Pamera Hairston '81, J.D. '84 for her active leadership in alumni activities, most extensively the Hulon Willis Association.

Carol Achenbach Wright '49 and president Mel Wright '47 accept the 1994 Outstanding Chapter award for the Lower Northern Neck chapter.

Alumni Society today

Five Members Elected to Society of the Alumni Board

Five members have been elected in annual voting for the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni. Three new members will join the board, and two will retain their seats as incumbents.

Glacel

Barbara Pate Glacel '70 of Burke, Va., and Sunshine Trumbo Williams '44 of Norfolk, Va. were re-elected to second three-year terms. The new board members are Howard J. Busbee '65, B.C.L. '67, M.L.T. '68 of Richmond, James R. Kaplan '57 of Wayne, N.J., and Patrick J. Walsh '66 of Skillman, N.J.

Barbara Pate Glacel has served on the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni since 1992. She is a member of the Finance and Operations Committee and co-chairs the Society's Strategic Planning Committee, an effort to focus the Society's mission following the Tercentenary celebration and approaching the 21st century. Glacel also is a member of the President's Council. The CEO of VIMA International—The Leadership Group, headquartered in Burke, Va., Glacel consults in executive development, organizational design and team-building. Her alumni activities have included participation in the Greater Metropolitan Washington, D.C., and San Francisco alumni chapters. Active in the Alumni Career Advisory Service, Career Exploration Day and Career Speakers Series, Glacel also has served as class agent for the Class of 1970. She and her husband, Bob, have three daughters, including Jennifer, a freshman at the College.

Sunny Trumbo Williams, who has served on the Board of Directors since April 1992, currently serves on the Alumni Service Committee. The former head of the art department at Maury High School, Williams helped to organize the docent program at the Chrysler Museum. She also was the first woman to be named to the Norfolk Arts Commission, a post she held for 19 years. An active member of the Norfolk Alumni Chapter, Williams has chaired or co-chaired her class reunion committee five times, and co-chaired her 50th reunion last May. She served as a class reporter for more than a decade, and as a member of the executive board of the President's House Committee, she has helped to coordinate several successful fundraising campaigns. As the parent of two William and Mary students, Williams has served on the Parents Association. She and her husband, Rolf, live in Norfolk.

Williams

Howard J. Busbee is a tax partner and past regional tax director at Coopers & Lybrand, where he has worked since 1968. He is currently a member of the Richmond Business Tax Council and is the trustee committee chair to the Georgia Federal Tax conference, where he has served as a member since 1981. He previously served as state vice president and treasurer of the Georgia Society of CPAs and as president of the Atlanta Estate Planning Council and the Atlanta Tax Forum. At William and Mary, he is a member of the President's Council, Business Dean's Council, Law Dean's Council and has served on the Campaign for the Fourth Century. In addition to serving as the chair of the Finance Committee and Telethons for the 25th Class Reunion, Busbee has been actively involved in the Atlanta and Richmond alumni chapters, the William and Mary Law School Foundation and the William and Mary Tax Conference.

James R. Kaplan is the owner and president of Cornell Dubilier Electronics Inc., a multinational company and a leading manufacturer of electronic components. Following graduation, Kaplan served in the Army for four years and then joined the leveraged buyout and purchased the company from Reliance Electric. Presently, Kaplan is on the Board of Governors and is a vice president of the Electronic Industries Association. As an alumnus, Kaplan is a trustee of the William and Mary Endowment Association, was chair of the Northern New Jersey area for the New York Regional Campaign, is on the President's Council and is a trustee of the Athletic Educational Foundation. He and his wife, Jane Thompson Kaplan '56, served as class agent for the Annual Fund. They have three children, including James Peter Kaplan M.B.A. '92.

Kaplan

Busbee

Patrick J. Walsh is the senior vice president and director of human resources at Merrill Lynch & Co. Inc., where he has worked for the past 25 years. He is a member of the Executive Management Committee of Merrill Lynch and a board member of the Merrill Lynch Foundation. Walsh's previous positions at Merrill Lynch include account executive, resident vice president and first vice president. He also is a member of the board of directors of the Children's Home Society of New Jersey and chair of the Investment Committee. As an alumnus, Walsh chaired the Class of '66 25th reunion class gift committee and was a class agent for the Annual Fund. He is a member of the President's Council and has worked for the Regional Campaign in New Jersey. He has a twin brother, Art '66, J.D. '73. He and his wife, Margaret Conn Walsh '66, have four children, including Kevin J.D. '92.

Walsh

Board Reports on Campaign

More than $1.9 million in gifts and commitments have been received thus far in the first phase of a $3.5 million fundraising campaign for the Alumni House Expansion, said treasurer and committee chair Joe Ellis in a report to alumni at the Alumni Society's fall meeting.

The Society Board also is representing strong support, with a 100 percent show of gifts and commitments toward the project. The plans represent the first time the house has undergone an expansion in its close to 125-year history. The Alumni House is host to nearly 16,000 alumni, guests and friends of the College each year.

In other action and information, the board:

- reported that the Class of 1955 received the Class of '25 trophy, established to annually recognize the class with the most outstanding increase in total giving over the previous year. The class recognized an increase of 100 percent—from $25,180 in 1993 to $50,258 in 1994;
- reported that the Class of 1941 earned the Class of '54 trophy for the best percentage of participation—77 percent—among its members;
- presented the Board of Directors award for best all-around support of the annual fund to Theresa Thompson '67;
- presented Outstanding Chapter awards to the Greater Washington, D.C., and Lower Northern Neck alumni chapters;
- presented the Baltimore/Annapolis award, which honors the outstanding individual with efforts or contributions to the annual fund, to Bob Hazen '41.
- presented highlights and accomplishments from 1994 which included: the Society's Grand Gold Medal for overall programming from the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE); publication awards for the William and Mary Magazine and the William and Mary Cookbook; the addition of the Alumni Band Organization as a sponsored constituent group; and charters for two new chapters, South of the James and the Botetourt alumni chapters.

Vote: Your Board is Your Choice

All alumni are encouraged to submit names in consideration for next year's election for the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni. Information and supporting materials regarding each nominee should be submitted on a nomination form, available by writing Alumni Board of Directors, P.O. Box 2100, Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100, or by calling 804/221-1165.

Nominations must be received by March 1, 1995. Although this is the final deadline, early nominations are encouraged in order to allow ample time for contacting each nominee and compiling background information for the Nominating Committee.

The Nominating Committee will meet in early spring to review suggested nominees.

The committee will nominate two individuals to each of the five board vacancies that will occur in 1996. The slate will be published in the June issue of the Alumni Gazette, and the election will be held next fall. All alumni who contribute to a recognized fund of the College will be eligible to vote.

Student Host Program Set for March

Is your son or daughter interested in following in your footsteps? The Student Alumni Liaison Council of the Society of the Alumni is hosting the sixth annual Student Host Program for children of alumni, March 30-31. The program, open to high school juniors and seniors interested in attending William and Mary, depicts life on campus.

Participants will spend one day and one night at the College during the spring semester, attending class, touring the campus and exploring university life. They will be housed with members of the Student Alumni Liaison Council.

The program, sponsored by the Society of the Alumni, is free. Participants are responsible for covering their own meals, transportation to the campus and any incidentals.

The Student Host Program is offered on a first-come, first-served basis. Applications will not be accepted after March 2, 1995. For more information or to request an application, call 804/221-1173.

REUNION CLASS DIRECTORIES

Quantities are limited and available only for the class years listed. Please enclose a check for $12.00 per directory plus $2.00 for shipping and handling or charge to your MasterCard or VISA. Phone orders may be placed by calling (804) 221-1163.

ORDERS MUST BE RECEIVED BY JANUARY 31, 1995.

- YES! Please send ___ 1949 Class Directory(ies)
 YES! Please send ___ 1954 Class Directory(ies)
 YES! Please send ___ 1959 Class Directory(ies)
 YES! Please send ___ 1969 Class Directory(ies)
 YES! Please send ___ 1979 Class Directory(ies)
 YES! Please send ___ 1989 Class Directory(ies)

MAIL TO: Class Directory, Society of the Alumni
 P.O. Box 2100, Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100

Name: _____

Address: _____

City/State/Zip: _____

Daytime Phone: _____

Check enclosed: $ _____
 (Please make payable to the Society of the Alumni)

Card No.: _____ Exp. Date _____

TRIBE FINISHES 8-3

A victory over Richmond, 21-20, gave the Tribe football team an 8-3 overall record.

Quarterback Shawn Knight set a new career I-AA passing efficiency record, finishing with 380 completions in 580 attempts (over 65 percent) for 5,705 yards and 46 touchdowns. In games Knight started and played without injury, the Tribe compiled a 25-3 record over the last three seasons.

Junior tailback Troy Keen rushed for 1,175 yards, third highest total in W&M history.

.....

EXCITING SOCCER SEASON

Both the men's and the women's soccer teams ended their exciting and largely victorious 1994 campaigns in post-season competition; each was ranked among the top 20 teams in the nation in the Intercollegiate Soccer Association of America Coaches Poll.

The women finished their 17-4, 6-0 CAA, season with a 2-1 loss to Notre Dame in the Central Region final of the NCAA Tournament. Finishing with a school record for wins in a season, the Tribe was ranked 5th nationally in the post-season ISAA poll. Also this season, junior Natalie Neaton broke school records for career scores (138 points), career goals (62), season scores (63 points) and season goals (28). For the second straight year, Coach John Daly was named CAA Coach of the Year.

In the CAA Tournament at W&M's Anheuser-Busch Field, the men's team defeated UNC-Wilmington and George Mason, but then lost to James Madison in the championship round. The Tribe set a school record for 67 goals in a season and were ranked 14th in the post-season ISAA poll. Coach Al Albert was named CAA Coach of the Year after leading the Tribe to a 18-3-1, 6-0-1 CAA, record.

.....

WELCOME TO THE CLUB

The College of William and Mary will induct five alumni, one former coach and the 1978-79 women's tennis team into the Athletic Hall of Fame at this year's awards dinner, Saturday, April 8, 1995, at 6 p.m. at Fort Magruder in Williamsburg. The former Tribe athletes are: Charles Albertson '67, football; Betty Coumbe '48, tennis; Michael W. Flood '84, soccer; Dudley M. Jensen, former swimming coach; Steve McNamee '81, football; Jim Shields '80, cross country/track; and the 1978-79 women's tennis team: Elizabeth Galloway '79, Susan Howard Guinn '80, Leslie Lewandowski '80, Chris Mast '82, Amy Moll Newman '79, Mary Catherine Murano Pellissier '81, Alisa Lamm Stevens '80 and Lynn Russell Taylor '79. For more information or to R.S.V.P., call Jean Beall at 804/221-3350.

Seniors lead harriers to titles and beyond

By Paul Pegher

The men's and women's cross country teams raced to Colonial Athletic Association championships this year, each led by a senior All-American who displayed a strong preference for the front of the line.

Brian Hyde managed an undefeated regular season while Marcie Homan took individual firsts in all but one of her regular season competitions and earned her fifth All-American certificate. Both harriers won individual CAA titles as they led their teams to victory at the Oct. 29 CAA championships at William and Mary. At the subsequent regional meets, Hyde placed second, by one second, as his squad finished fourth overall, and Homan finished third, leading a team placement of fifth. At the NCAA Championships in Fayetteville, Ark., Homan placed 10th—one position higher than her 1993 finish. Despite leg cramps, Hyde placed 51st at the NCAAs, missing the All-America pace by three spots.

While both Homan and Hyde met with considerable success this season, they have done so through different perspectives on competition.

"I go out with a goal to win every race," said Hyde, who has always prided himself on his competitive fire. "I have confidence that I can run with anybody out there."

The Kentwood, Mich., native doesn't come by this confidence without reason. In addition to capturing the '94 CAA title, Hyde won the same honors in 1992, placed fifth in the '92 indoor mile (earning All-East status) and earned an All-American certificate for fifth place in the '93 NCAA indoor 3,000 meters.

Hyde is motivated by two things: the competition—"The more intense it is, the better. Frankly, I wish every race was nationals."—and earning respect for his team. "I came to William and Mary to be a part of a building process. I want people to be concerned every time we enter a meet. I want them to feel like they have to be at the top of their game because William and Mary is competing."

Marcie Homan shares Hyde's sentiments for team success; she has contributed much to her squad's four consecutive CAA titles. Like Hyde, she enjoys tough competition but is more motivated by personal breakthroughs rather than overall performance.

"I've never really looked at myself as one of the best, even though this year I found a little more self-confidence," Homan explained. "I think it's more fun just to go out and compete and see how I do."

All humility aside, many view Homan as one of the nation's elite distance runners. Her list of achievements testifies to her reputation. After winning her first All-American certificate in 1993 in the outdoor 5,000 meters, she earned three more during her junior year—one for each season. She placed 11th at the 1993 NCAA Cross Country Championships, seventh in the indoor 5,000 meters, and third in the outdoor 5,000 meters. She was All-East in cross country, indoor 3,000 meters (where she was ECAC champion) and outdoor 3,000 meters. She also was Penn Relays Champion in the 5,000 with a time of 16:04.63—a national season's best in that event.

Continuous victories are characteristic of Homan's career at William and Mary, yet they do not compare to individual breakthroughs for the Springfield, Pa., native. "The All-American certificate I received my sophomore year was nowhere near as exciting as qualifying for nationals at the Penn Relays that same year," she said. "I watched the Penn Relays every year of high school and dreamed of competing there, but I never expected to qualify for nationals there."

Two years later, Homan still aims for the personal milestones rather than preserving her "nationally elite" status. "If I'm up there running with other great runners, then that's excitement enough for me. My real motivation, though, comes from knowing there's potential for other breakthroughs to happen."

Women's cross country coach Pat Van Rossum believes that this humility, combined with a firm resolve to improve, make Homan the runner she is. "Maintaining a humble perspective on what she's done keeps Marcie on edge," Van Rossum said. "She knows she has to constantly work hard to stay as good as she is, and by doing so she sets a tremendous example for the rest of the team."

Brian Hyde

Marcie Homan

Woollum sees better year for Tribe

By Bob Jeffrey '74

For Charlie Woollum '62, rebuilding the William and Mary men's basketball program requires patience and diligence.

"It's like being down by twenty. You can't catch up in five minutes," said Woollum.

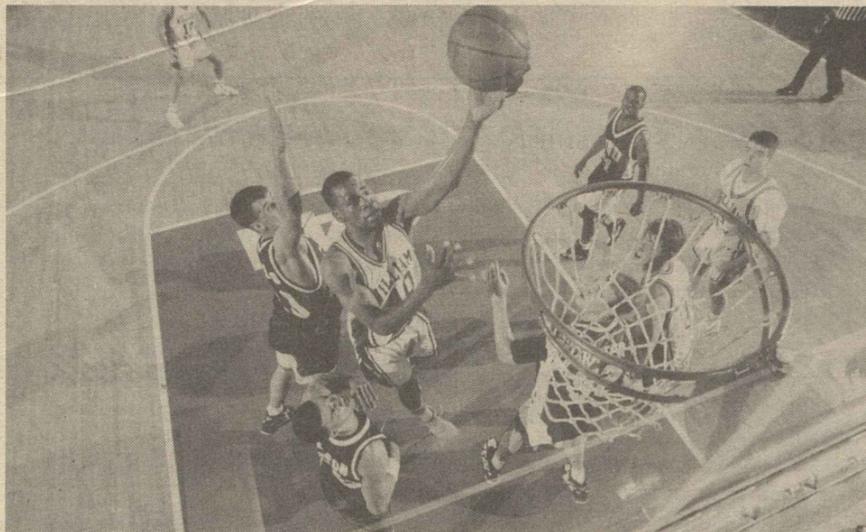

Woollum, a veteran coach who amassed over 300 wins in 19 seasons at Bucknell, is trying to reestablish confidence in a team that went 4-23 last season.

Despite two opening season losses, the new Tribe coach is guardedly optimistic about the first steps.

A hint of the results of the early season hard work was evident in a 93-82 exhibition game win over the Court Authority, a team of ex-college stars based in Richmond. Court Authority had previously topped CAA favorites Old Dominion and James Madison.

Another reason for optimism is that the top six players from last season are back. Kurt Small, who has averaged 15.7 points per game in each of the last two seasons; Carl Parker, who, at 6'6," has explosive quickness and a vertical leap measured at 34; floor general David Cox, a senior who will handle the point, as he has for the past two seasons; Matt Verkey, a junior guard, who was named the team's most valuable player last season, and David Culley, 6'9", who finished second in the CAA in rebounding with 9.0 caroms a contest and led the league in blocked shots.

Culley's emergence was augmented by the development of fellow center Steve Purpura during the second half of last season. Purpura, a 6'9," 270 lb. senior, had exhibited little more than bulk prior to midseason. Then suddenly he came alive over the final 13 games, averaging over 12 points and 8 rebounds, including a 23-point outing against James Madison.

KEN WHITE PHOTO

Coach Woollum will count on players like 6' 6" forward Carl Parker to turn around the fortunes of the Tribe basketball team.

The combination of Parker, Culley and Purpura gives the Tribe depth inside and opens the way for the squad's proven three-point shooters. Woollum favors an uptempo game and doesn't mind players taking open shots.

"We've got certain guys who can knock those shots down. We want them to feel confident enough to know that if they're open, they can take the shot," he said.

Shaka Arnold, a 6'6" guard/forward, and Chris Hall should also see more action this season.

Woollum also has brought in a dynamic trio of freshmen who should make immediate contributions. Chris Horne is a 6'4" guard who has shown the ability to come in and score immediately. He has an excellent outside shot as well as tremendous leaping ability. Terry Fitzgibbons is the team's tallest player at 6'10," and has the strength to hold his place on the blocks. Backing up Cox at the point is Terence Jennings.

The schedule features 11 home contests, including a Feb. 11 date with the Running Rebels of the University of Nevada at Las Vegas. The Tribe will play a tough lineup on the road, including Bradley, N.C. State and Virginia Tech.

College Clips

A compendium of College news and academic achievements

STUDENTS, ALUMNI, CITY UNITE FOR COLLEGE WOODS

Lake Matoaka and the College Woods appear to be off the endangered list thanks to a rally of support from alumni, students, local legislators and the College community. The lake and surrounding woods weren't facing an environmental threat as much as a legislative one when a report by the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Commission included them among several state properties up for re-evaluation.

Lake Matoaka

The JLARC report said the College Woods and Lake Matoaka should either be declared a natural heritage preserve and handed over to the Department of Natural Resources or become surplus property for possible sale to raise funds for prison construction.

The College uses the woods and lake for classes in biology, geology, kinesiology and military science.

"They are as much a part of William and Mary as the Wren Building," said Timothy J. Sullivan '66, president of the College.

The report prompted action on a number of fronts including:

- A student postcard drive that drew 14,000 cards that were sent to key members of the General Assembly. Many alumni signed the cards during Homecoming, and students collected and delivered them to the legislators.

- The Williamsburg City Council passed a resolution backing retention of the property by the College. Council said the area is "a living laboratory at the College of William and Mary and a precious natural resource for the City of Williamsburg." Council added that it wants the College to keep the land "now and in the future for the purposes of preservation."

- Local legislators have said they believe the College land is not likely to be sold. President Sullivan discussed the JLARC report with Sens. Hunter B. Andrews '42 and

'28

Mary L. Gill
1658 Berkeley Ave.
Petersburg, VA 23805-2810

A nice letter from Julius Caplan arrived this week. After graduating from William and Mary, he attended the Medical College of Virginia where he received his medical degree. Following three years of residency in obstetrics and gynecology, he returned to his native city of Portsmouth, Va., where he had a successful and enjoyable practice for 45 years. Now retired, he and his wife are enjoying good health and their family. They are truly blessed! They have two sons, a daughter and four grandsons. The older son has been a general surgeon for 25 years; their younger son is employed in a medical laboratory; their daughter has a doctorate in education and their grandsons are now in college. They are to be congratulated on having a fine and very successful family.

Julius ended his letter with: "My best wishes for good health and happiness for all the Class of '28."

Sorry, no other classmates answered the appeal for news. Please take time to write or phone. Note the address above. The phone number is 804/732-9320. Your classmates would like to know how you are, what you have done, are doing, plan to do and news about your family.

Homecoming will have passed when you read this, but I hope I will have seen some of you at the Olde Guard Luncheon.

Best wishes to all for a wonderful holiday season and a happy 1995.

'30

Edward Fales
Edward Fales Studio
54 Lime Rock Station Road
Falls Village, CT 06031

'32

Josephine Habel Bradshaw
509 College Ave.,
Blackstone, VA 23824-2429

'34

Cecil C. Harper
Westminster-Canterbury
1600 Westbrook Ave., Apt 220 ILU
Richmond, VA 23227-3316

My last letter told the story of the brothers in Theta Delta Chi raiding the refrigerator at night. I said Donald Gordon, a brother and treasurer, put a chain with a lock around the refrigerator. One night shortly thereafter, the brothers raided the refrigerator again by removing the hinges, eating the remainder of the turkey, and placing the rest of the carcass and bones in Donald's bed.

The story is true, but Donald called long distance and said he was not involved. I am correcting the error and now claim that it was Sam Elliot '36 who placed the chain on the refrigerator and received the turkey bones in his bed.

Donald is living the good life now. Although officially retired, he is a part-time professor at a junior college in Maryland. He and his wife have just returned from a lovely trip to Europe.

Norman MacLeod, who retired from his position as assistant treasurer for the Ford Foundation, recently wrote to say that he is doing well after having open-heart surgery in March. Even though he's back at his golf game, he "can't stray too far from home" and wishes he could have made it back for Homecoming. Norman's travels have taken him to India, Pakistan, Indonesia, Burma, the Philippines, Hong Kong, France, Germany, Scotland and England. He has a granddaughter from Oxford, England, who is now studying engineering at King's Point Academy in New York and is considering a W&M law degree.

Our class needs to be more active. The best way is to write me at the address above, or call me at 804/264-6363. My problem in making the class letter interesting is the time table. For example, this letter had to be at the Alumni House by October 28 to be printed in the Alumni Gazette.

You should be proud of William and Mary. In U.S. News & World Report's annual ranking of the nation's best colleges and universities, William and Mary ranked 29th. Each school receives its rank based on the composite score it earns in such categories as mean SAT/ACT scores, alumni giving rate and faculty/student ratio.

For comparison, some other Virginia schools ranked as follows: U.Va. (17th), Va. Tech (113th) and Virginia Commonwealth University (168th).

'36

Eleanor Hooker Boisseau
9103-F Derbyshire Road
Richmond, VA 23229

Hi, Classmates,

I hope everyone enjoyed Homecoming! The campus is so beautiful, with the new University Center, the renovation of the many dorms and sorority houses; Williamsburg is always so picturesque. I could hardly wait for the opportunity to have a conversation with Margaret The Lady, Thatcher, Chancellor of the College, or to attend the many other events. The one I especially enjoy is the Olde Guard Luncheon, where I sit with old friends and hear all their news.

I received such a nice letter from Mary Jean Roth Kuhn. She lives at 33874 Lake Road, Avon Lake, OH 44012, in case you need her address. I enjoyed seeing her at our 50th reunion.

I also heard from a young man, George Volkert '83, who wrote me about his grandmother Delphine Jones (married to Edward Samuel Jones '36), who died in Atlanta on July 3 of a blood clot in the brain. She influenced his decision to attend W&M. Her sister Sarah Jones Mitchell '30 now lives in an Orlando, Fla., nursing home. If you need any more information, call George Volkert in Atlanta, at 404/872-6228.

I have enjoyed the fall, attending the football games with my son, J. Sanford Boisseau '72, and his two elder daughters, who are 12 and 10 years old. They both love

Class notes

W&M and hope to one day go there. I tell them to keep up the good grades. The 10-year-old went to soccer camp there last summer and enjoyed it so much that she wants to go back next summer.

I must tell you one more bit of news about my husband, Edward '35. A beautiful playroom has been furnished and dedicated in his memory at the Children's Hospital. The family is so pleased, and I want to thank many of you who sent contributions there.

Please send me your news, or call me at 800/741-1452. We all want to hear from you.

'38

Jane Speakman Hauge
211 Willow Valley Square, #D-105
Lancaster, PA 17602-4861

Wilbur Morton's welcome (and unsolicited!) letter arrived too late for inclusion in the September Alumni Gazette but is still newsworthy: "My daughter Sheila Caldwell and I attended graduation ceremonies at the University of Utah at Salt Lake City on June 10. My daughter, Mrs. Phyllis M. Ryan, received her doctorate from the Graduate School of Education. Her husband, Dr. Michael P. Ryan, attended the ceremonies with us. He has his doctorate in theoretical physics. The couple teach at the National Autonomous University of Mexico. ... While in Salt Lake City, we visited the beautiful mountains nearby and took a cable car ride to the top of one of the mountains for a gorgeous view of the area. We then went to Park City, a large winter sports center for skiing and other outdoor activities."

The Hon. Robert L. Simpson Sr. not only responded to my plea for news, he sent it UPS Next-Day Service! He writes: "Millie and I recently returned after a two-week cruise from New York to Quebec and Montreal, with nine port visits. Notable were the Ste. Anne de Beaupre and the famed biblical scene cyclorama near Quebec City. I learned, too, that the Plains of Abraham, the site of a 1759 battle, were named for Abraham Martin, a riverboat pilot of Scotch ancestry who once owned the area. I had always thought the name was biblical in origin. In August '93, we had the enjoyment of a 10-day Alaska cruise with a California group. The waterway passage and glaciers were sights to behold. ... On the home front, our granddaughter Anne-Darby Simpson Rush '87 (William and Mary Tri Delt) and her husband, Bill, of Washington and Lee, blessed us with our first great-grandchild, a blue-eyed and beautiful blond girl (like her mother) named Elizabeth Darby Rush. We have a grandson, James Baskerville Simpson, in his second year at the College. He is a member of my fraternity, Theta Delta Chi, and we had much pleasure at a family gathering in presenting him with my fraternity pin (which Millie kept hidden away), much to my delight. ... I continue enjoying golf and being active in community matters, such as the local hospital board."

Without doubt, Helene Stein Vogt must be named our most faithful class member. She writes: "It is always so nice to see many '38ers at our yearly Homecomings. I've missed only three in 56 years. ... Ed and I continue to enjoy our many visits to countries around the world. What an education! Of course, we also enjoy our home in Florida with all the great weather compared to our native state of New Jersey. We have just returned from our annual month-of-September stay in the Hawaiian Islands. That is always a great pleasure—except when hurricanes cause havoc. ... We miss our good friend Ruth Merkle Tucker, who passed away last year. We spent many happy times with her in Florida and in Hawaii."

Here's an update on Bob and Bert Capps Sheeran after their disastrous incident last spring and Bob's subsequent stroke: Bert reports that Bob's spirits are good, but his legs are not working well despite therapy and additional exercises. When I spoke with her in late October, they had managed to attend one football game but had missed more than they like to. They were hoping to get to Homecoming festivities and the Olde Guard Luncheon. Hurrah for their can-do spirit! Ted McGowan called them after reading their news in the last Alumni Gazette, and they'd love to hear from all of you.

Our long-time friendships mean more every year, don't they? So, let's keep in touch. Y'all write!

'40

Barbara Clawson Henderson
P.O. Box 186
Irvington, VA 22480-0816

News is very scarce this issue, so I'm most grateful to Stanley Ebb for his thoughtful note to me and the copy of an article from The Navy Supply Corps Newsletter of July/August 1994, which was sent to him by a mutual friend of his and Vance Fowler's. Stan thought this story about Vance during the attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, was a nice way to remember Vance, who was such an outstanding member of our class.

Here is the story:

"Ensign Vance Fowler, Disbursing Officer, USS West Virginia, moored in Battleship Row, had conducted a large payday on Saturday. He had duty Sunday morning and was about to balance his cash book. He was scheduled to be relieved at 1200 hours and was looking forward to a round of golf at the Oahu Country Club that afternoon.

"Back on Battleship Row, Vance Fowler's initial instinct when the first torpedo hit the West Virginia was to go to his battle station three decks below, but it was already being evacuated as water was rushing through a huge hole. Fowler then went to the disbursing office and retrieved his cash book and a few other records. The West Virginia was already listing at least five degrees when he reached the quarterdeck. The battle raged around him and the explosion that ripped apart the battleship Arizona, moored only 75 yards behind the West Virginia, knocked Fowler off his feet. He slid into the water.

"Luck was with the young officer despite the frightening experience of sliding overboard. Another torpedo struck the ship immediately below the disbursing office. Had Fowler still been in the office, he would have been killed.

"He climbed back aboard the West Virginia and was hit by numerous fireballs about the size of golf balls. Fowler soon realized that they were not balls of flaming steel but pieces of powder bags from the Arizona's exploding magazines. A 1,500-pound bomb entered the turret fewer than 10 feet from where he was crouched, but it was a dud and failed to detonate.

Class notes

"The order was given to abandon ship, and Fowler went over the side into a life raft, clutching his cash book. There were no paddles in the raft, so the other occupants used their hands to propel the raft toward a motor launch. Vance Fowler dug in with his carefully preserved cash book. They raced to reach safety in the launch before a rapidly advancing burning oil slick or bullets from strafing Japanese aircraft reached them first. Fortunately, they made it."

Thank you, Stan, for writing me, and I hope to hear from you again soon.

This has been a very busy fall in our family. On Sept. 23, our youngest (No. 9) grandchild, 9 months old, was christened at St. Stephen's church in Richmond, and the following morning her cousin, our oldest granddaughter, 26, was married at the same church! It was such a great weekend having our entire family together for two such happy events.

On Oct. 20, Frank and I attended the fall dinner of the Lower Northern Neck Alumni Chapter, held at our local country club. Barry Adams and Jim Ukrop '60 spoke to us about the proposed addition to the Alumni House. In the large crowd that attended were Jack and Ann Terrell Garrett, Leah and T. Waller, and Jo Lee and William Henry Edwards '41.

While writing this, we were in the midst of packing to head north to Keene, N.H., to see our son and his family, with visits to friends en route. Consequently, we weren't able to make Homecoming this year. We'll surely count on it next year for our 55th — can you believe it?

DO please let me hear from YOU!

'42

Ginger Sterne Herndon
1163 Winged Foot Circle East
Winter Springs, FL 32708-4204

Bill Way, who I enjoyed seeing at our 50th reunion, sent me a nice note and some wonderful articles from the Tri-County Sunday News of DuBois, Pa. Bill, who was a lieutenant junior grade in the U.S. Navy at the time of the D-Day invasion on June 6, 1944, enlarged some photos from his album for the local historical society celebration. The articles and pictures in the newspaper show Bill as a young diver who was on a salvage ship during the invasion. His job was to plunge into the murky waters to inspect ships damaged by the rough seas or German-planted mines. He and his fellow shipmates on the USS ATR-2, a Navy tug rescue boat, worked hard to keep the lanes to the beaches clear. His pictures and description of his first sight of death and of the tragic scenes of war are so poignant that all of us who lived through World War II have to sigh and remember. He stated that the real heroes didn't come back, and he quoted a nurse who served in Vietnam he recently heard speak: "War is not God's fault. It is man's. It is what man does to man." What memories we classmates of '42 share—memories of loyalty and commitment to our heritage of freedom.

Betty Craighead Stousland writes that she and Mike '41 met some W&M alums on their Panama Canal trip in January. In May, the Stouslands visited their son Michael '76 in Albuquerque, N.M.

Betty sent an article from the Cincinnati Enquirer that told of Charles E. Scripps' retirement as chairman of the Scripps newspapers, now merged with the subsidiary Scripps Howard Broadcasting. The Scripps family had run the company for 116 years. Charles, who had led the business since 1953, is the last family member to head the famous media conglomerate.

One very rainy October week at Big Canoe, Ga., did end in a surprise visit to the only town in the state left unscathed by Sherman's March to the Sea. Madison retains the charm and grace of antebellum days.

While visiting Cecily, Alaska, Emalee Ewing Durbin discovered that the town featured on television's Northern Exposure looks very authentic, but the buildings familiar to viewers are occupied by businesses and people from Roslyn, Wash.

Keep the news coming. We'll be with our godson and his mother in Saint Maries, Idaho, for Christmas.

'44

The Rev. John Paul Carter
221 Tennessee Avenue
Sewanee, TN 37375-2020

As I write on Oct. 12, we are having the first raw, damp, gray day of autumn. Before this, it was glowing and basking. I hope the Florida contingent of the class will not get too smug as the winter advances. Those of us who experience four seasons have riches that can't be bargained away!

Follow-up note on our 50th Reunion last May. Ann Washington Beard has written that our Bill Morris, who manages always to cover the globe, led our class into William and Mary Hall for the Commencement exercises. He also carried the mace in our graduation procession in 1944! Since then, Bill wrote to say that he was just in the right place at the right time last May, and that there was no design or plan in it at all. "By luck and the grace of God and the way the line broke," he says, and adds, "Pure luck! It's obviously what Jung calls 'an acausal synchronicity.'"

Ann reports that all is well at her home in Georgetown, Texas, not far from the campus of Southwestern University.

Since we have seen him, Bill has garnered additional honors, most recently from the University of South Korea and from the School of Dentistry of Loyola University, for his scholarship in the field of dental jurisprudence.

It was nice to see our Don Ream mentioned in the William and Mary Magazine article on the history of the Carr Cup and its recipients. Since 1917, the award has recognized "that senior who most nearly personifies the ideals of the true William and Mary man or woman."

Dave McNamara wrote me a note of sympathy on the recent death of my mother.

Fran Pendleton Elliot reports from Winchester, Mass., that all is well with her, and that she is much occupied with her church affairs, and with her family. In February, she will return to the College for the meeting of the President's Council.

Fran says that the daughter of Fran Loesch Brunner '45 has moved into her neighborhood and they will meet soon. She also hopes to be able to meet soon with Martha Eddy Hassell, who lives on Cape Cod, Mass. Perhaps they can manage a luncheon together in Boston.

Becky Koehler Hilbert had been hoping to have a gathering of her Kappa Delta contemporaries this past October in Allentown, Pa., but the duties of everyone involved prevented its happening. They are going to try again. If they can bring it off, Scarlett Pettigrew Stainton, who lives in Lancaster, Pa., may be able to join them.

Some of you will remember that Ann Smith Goldston had an unlucky fall after our reunion banquet. Her hip was broken, but since she is a physician, she was able to stabilize it and, with the help of her daughter, to return home to the Mayo Clinic for the necessary surgery. All went well. The hip replacement is working fine, and she is mobile. Smitty and her husband own a house in Virginia Beach and so are able to visit Williamsburg frequently.

The listing of "Unconfirmed Deaths" in the last Alumni Gazette reported Edward Marshall Butterfield and Bernice Miree Mehfelt Loewer. If any of you have further news of these friends, be sure to let me have it.

If you made pledges for our class gift, the largest ever given to the College, be sure to keep them current.

Don't forget to send me news, news and more news. My next deadline is Jan. 13, 1995.

'46

Barbara Nycum Moore
172 Riverview Drive
Surry, VA 23883

My most sincere apologies for having missed my deadline for the last newsletter for you 46ers. Virginia Ratcliffe and I returned from a wonderful holiday in Italy and Switzerland in early June, and I felt a bit puny. At her insistence, a doctor's visit was the next priority, which led to a diagnosis of pneumonia that kept me on the inactive list for a while. Thankfully, I'm up and again going full steam.

And I did have some news to relate that, although it is old, will still be new to most of you. An unsolicited letter from Olive-Anne Hasty Shelor in Thousand Oaks, Calif., revealed her activities. She and her husband, Roy '49, traveled to Roanoke, Va., in June and enjoyed a mini-reunion with Beverly Bose Deans and her husband, Fred '50. From there, they went to Kilmarnock, Va., and called on Carol Achenbach Wright '49 and Mel '47 in their lovely home near the Chesapeake Bay.

Jene Carr Dent was also among the guests in the Wright home for the occasion. As reported in the last Gazette, the Shelors attended the Alumni College and received one of the awards for the participants traveling the greatest distance. Shorty reported the occasion a great adventure. Also attending were Joanne Armstrong Dondero and her husband, Andy; Charlie and Fran Buttler Parsons and Mary Dickson Phipps Shryock. On their return, the Shelors drove through West Point, Va., and stopped for a visit with Thomas Whitmore '49 at his car dealership there. I do applaud your sharing your news and taking the time to write and call as well. Thank you — and hopefully more of you will do likewise.

An especially nice, long newsy letter from Betty Marie Ellett Lile was also to have been a part of my last report, so again apologies for late reporting. The letter contained sad news of her brother Ned's death in College Station, Texas, but also happy news of the marriage of her son in April. Betty even included a newspaper account of the event. She is still most active with numerous volunteer activities, including the big fund-raiser, Bolo Bash '94, for Baptist Medical System Foundation. This function netted $36,000, and plans are already underway for next year's Bash. She was awarded an honorary doctorate of humanities from her deceased husband's alma mater, Ouachita Baptist University in Arkadelphia, Ark., because of all her efforts and the good causes with which she is involved. Congratulations, Betty! She also mentioned hearing frequently from Edith Harwood Smith, with whom I had lost contact. Thank you, Betty, for sharing Edie's address in answer to my request.

It was a real treat having a response from Edie, who brought me up to date on her children and grandchildren. She lives in a convalescent center in Wayne, N.J., and I am so happy to be back in touch.

I hear regularly from Ellen Irvin Newberry, who keeps very busy with many and varied activities. And Alice White Tomlinson writes frequently, and she and Whit are currently anticipating a move to Wiscasset, Maine, which she reports is closer to the airports in Portland where she can meet her friends who come a visiting!

Williamsburg still holds a definite attraction for me, and through the Christopher Wren Association, an organization for life-long learning, I take classes (non-credit, just for fun), attend functions and take trips. Through the association I learned hosts were needed for Japanese guests attending a grass roots seminar sponsored by the Manjiro Society. I volunteered and, with the help of a friend, entertained a farmer for the weekend. We showed him the best of our area, and, although communication was sadly lacking, we enjoyed a most interesting experience.

Some of you may know of Elderhostel and have participated in its programs — yes? I have scheduled two in October and November in Texas, to be accompanied by Virginia Ratcliffe, Lucille McCormick Endler '45 and Jean Taylor Delahanty '45. If any of you have taken advantage of Elderhostel, let me know your opinions — a good way to solicit some news from you. I was gone during Homecoming, so I missed seeing any of you who came. Please, someone, write to me with news of the event.

Keep in mind, our 50th is on the horizon — surely you all have the date circled on your mental calendars and will be in Williamsburg in May '96.

'48

Ann Potterfield Gregory
104 William Claiborne
Williamsburg, VA 23185-6535

I am sitting here on a warm sunny afternoon in mid-October hoping your autumn has been as glorious as ours here in Williamsburg. The foliage has been a breathtaking array of colors, and I wonder, "Does it get more beautiful each year, or do we appreciate it more?" It doesn't really matter as long as we can enjoy it.

Do you remember my mentioning in the last letter that Jay McOuat Hyle had made a remarkable recovery and was planning a trip? Well, she and her daughters took the trip to Alaska, and in July she wrote that they had a wonderful cruise, the views of the mountains and glaciers were spectacular and they enjoyed "every pampered moment on the ship." Jay also reported that brother-in-law Howard Hyle is still traveling Thomas Norment '73 J.D., along with Dels. Alan A. Diamonstein and George W. Grayson, a professor of government at William and Mary. "As a result of these efforts, we feel hopeful that this matter will not follow a legislative course," said President Sullivan.

The Governor's Commission on Conversion of State-Owned Property will report later this month on what land should be sold to pay for prison construction.

VICK APPOINTED DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

Deborah S. Vick, associate director of development and director of corporate and foundation relations at the College, has been named director of development by the Board of Visitors.

Vick worked at the College initially for five years as the associate dean for development and alumni affairs at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

Vick began her fundraising career as assistant director of corporate and foundation relations for the Washington Center, a non-profit organization that places college students in full-time internships in Washington, D.C. She is an honor graduate from Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Ore., where she received her bachelor's degree in public policy studies. Vick earned both her master's and doctoral degrees in education and human development from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn.

CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT HAS THE RIGHT MIX FOR NATIONAL RANKING

William and Mary ranks sixth in the nation for the number of students who earn bachelor's degrees in a certified American Chemical Society (ACS) program, according to an annual survey just released by the ACS. The ACS also ranked the College 19th in the nation for the total number of students who earn bachelor's degrees in chemistry.

"Certified" chemistry graduates have completed a rigorous chemistry curriculum outlined by the society at an ACS-approved institution.

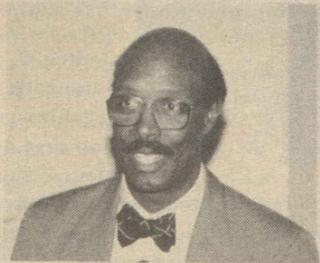

The society conducts the survey each year to rank 601 U.S. colleges and universities according to the total number of chemistry degrees, both certified and non-certified, awarded at the bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degree levels.

These statistics reflect the 1992-93 academic year, the most recent ranking. William and Mary has ranked high among national leaders in both categories for the past several years.

Stephen K. Knudson, chair of the chemistry department, said the College attracts a large number of students who have a broad interest in science. "Many of them choose to major in chemistry because we offer a quality program that continues to be recognized nationally," he said.

BLACK STUDENT ORGANIZATION CELEBRATES ITS PAST AND PRESENT

Several past presidents, including founding president Warren W. Buck III M.S. '70, Ph.D. '76, attended the 25th anniversary celebration of the Black Student Organization (BSO) at Homecoming '94. Speaking at the celebration, Dr. Buck, a professor of physics at Hampton University, described the original purpose of the organization: "To promote Black thought and Black awareness in the College community."

First BSO president Warren W. Buck

Since 1969, BSO membership has grown from 32 founding members to more than 100 today. Its purpose, however—to provide African American students with a "place where they could talk and help each other,"—has remained relatively constant.

Meeting twice a month, BSO members plan social, cultural and community service events.

In addition to the 25th anniversary celebration, other Homecoming festivities sponsored by the BSO included a Step Show, the second annual International Fashion Show and a church service.

Through multicultural awareness programs, such as Black History Month, the BSO has organized cultural events and brought notable black speakers, such as writer Nikki Giovanni and all over Europe for his consulting firm.

Ed Griffin and wife Rose haven't spent too much time at home this past summer. First they sent messages from Scandinavia (Stockholm, Sweden, being their favorite city) then in September from Colorado and Utah where they visited national parks. I love getting those picturesque cards they so thoughtfully send, and my grandchildren look forward to the foreign stamps.

Sometimes when I'm struggling with thoughts to share with you, I wonder if anyone really bothers to read the column. Well, lo and behold, I discovered that even those not of the Class of '48 scan the page. It was heartwarming to receive a letter from Frank Raflo '40 responding to my last notes. It seems that my cousin, Elizabeth (Sis) Potterfield Leonard '33 taught Frank when he was a student at Leesburg (Va.) High School, and her husband was his tennis partner.

Lucy Jones Murphy and I chatted on the phone the other evening. She and Bill were well and were preparing to travel to Philadelphia to visit their grandson during parents' weekend. Lucy reports that their Lower Northern Neck chapter of the Alumni Society is quite active and that she and Bill thoroughly enjoy being part of it.

Lou Hoitsma and Audrey Allein Hoitsma '49 have returned to Williamsburg from their summer home in New Hampshire. They recently bought a new house here, so I'm sure they are busy getting settled.

It's always nice to welcome new neighbors but especially so if they are graduates of William and Mary. Our newest neighbors here on William Claiborne are Keith Taylor '66 and his wife, Carolee. Keith is the economic development director for James City County. They have three sons and formerly lived in Fairfax County, Va.

I'm doing all the necessary things one does preparing for winter. The order for firewood has been delivered; the winter rye planted several weeks ago is beginning to emerge; and that huge bag of daffodil bulbs filling the refrigerator is waiting to be planted on a chilly November day.

I do hope I'll hear from some of you either at Homecoming or during the Christmas holidays. I dearly love getting mail!

'50

Society of the Alumni
P.O. Box 2100
Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100

The Alumni Society learned that, on June 16, Tom Joynes received the CNA Distinguished Service Award from the College News Association of Virginia and the District of Columbia for his many contributions during his 35 years at the Virginia Military Institute. Tom started his career at VMI as sports publicity director—just one day after graduating from the College—and eventually held the positions of athletic business manager, sports information director, assistant director of athletics, director of intercollegiate athletics and public information director.

Tom told the Lexington, Va., News Gazette, "They wanted me to wear a uniform. Sure, I told them, but only if I could wear my Army corporal uniform. They dropped the idea."

The CNA Distinguished Service Award honors "public relations officials who have made particular meritorious contributions to the area of college/university news media relations."

Also this summer, Bill Burnette celebrated the 50th anniversary of receiving his pilot's license. On the anniversary date, Bill, who lives in Norfolk, Va., flew a plane to First Blight Airport at the Wright Brothers Memorial in North Carolina, where modern aviation began. He was met there by his sons, Michael and Billy, who are pilots also. Bill acquired his pilot's license even before his driver's license.

The Society of the Alumni is looking for someone to continue the dedicated service of class reporter, most recently filled by Bill Low. Many thanks to Mr. Low for his commitment and dedication in this role. The reporter would submit a column three times per year, and the Society forwards news to the reporter whenever any is available. The position is an excellent way to strengthen and re-establish ties with classmates. For more information, write to Lisa Riess, Director of Alumni Communications, P.O. Box 2100, Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100, or call 804/221-1167. We will help you get started!

'52

Ed Wisbauer
St. Mary's Episcopal Rectory
7 Warner Lane
Lake Ronkonkoma, N.Y. 11779-2109

William and Mary is a place where God works invisibly, making all things new, forming, reforming, shaping and renewing us and, through us, each other, surprising those who never expected spring to come during their winter. Homecoming is one more scenario on that recurring spiral of renewal that began when we first entered this place of education and mutual transformation.

In 1990, shortly after my wife died, I met Carol Achenbach '49 and Mel Wright '47 at the Alumni Society Dinner Dance. With several children, their respective spouses died, breaking many hearts. They met at a W&M Football Team Cheerleaders reunion, began dating, fell in love and were married. That night, they spoke of their new spring and the hope of renewal. When they greeted me this year, I shared with them my spring: Doreen Annie McTavish Pibworth Zackary, an English lady whom my children have been calling "Acky" since childhood, and I were engaged at winter's end. We plan to be married in '95. Doreen loves W&M, looks forward to Homecoming, and many of you have loved her into the family. Thank you.

John Munger '53 and his ever-joyous sweetheart Lee Granger Munger '53, having spent many years in education, are now fine-tuning their focus on the homeless in Illinois. Everything the Mungers learned at W&M will transform lives.

We visited our swimming coach Howard Smith '43 and his hospitable wife, Betty. She has successfully undergone surgery and is on her way to recovery. Howard and Betty have touched nearly a thousand students across the nation with their letters of hope, encouragement and renewal. Jane '67 and Jim Kaplan '67 attest that the Smiths continue to influence and shape our characters by their extraordinary goodness and concern for students.

We were able to dine with Jim Anthony '52 at Berret's and break bread again at the OWJ annual banquet. Jim never says no to the College and our classmates. As a charter member, his work for OWJ was recognized at the banquet, where he received the award of lifetime membership. At midfield during halftime, you know it, he was tossing the baton again, taking us all back to the '50s when we first saw him thrilling the crowds with his dexterity. It is in OWJ where Jim and people like Jimmy Seu '53 (who received the Alumni Service Award for many years of providing work and counsel for students in his Colonial Restaurant) where we see God working at W&M shaping and transforming lives.

The OWJ dinner was visited by President Tim Sullivan '66, who continued to make himself accessible among the crowds there and at the Homecoming Ball, where he spoke movingly of the recipients of the Alumni Medallion and the future of W&M. Our perception of Tim is that he is not only a university president, development chief and preserver of the traditions of W&M; his warmth reveals the concerns of one who is a wise and concerned shepherd of this flock with a journey to share with us. Next visit to campus, catch a glimpse of him stopping to speak with students.

At OWJ, we learned from Jim Smith '51, one of W&M's great linemen and close friend of the late Hilly Wilson '51, that Hilly's wife, Anne Steuart Wilson '51, is moving steadily into sunnier days. The gathering gave us an opportunity to see Dickie Lewis '52, whose exploits on the field as one of our greatest quarterbacks still bring images of the Big Green tearing up the Southern Conference. Dick has been successful in his law practice and lives in Alexandria, Va. He has more homes than I have altar boys. He has been recently elected to the position of board of directors of the Greater Metropolitan Washington, D.C., chapter of the Society of the Alumni. Dick will be giving his time and talents to the College as a volunteer to coordinate fellow alumni, plan events and manage the general business of the group. The perfect slot for a quarterback. The D.C. chapter was recently named Outstanding Chapter for 1993-94 by the Society of the Alumni's board of directors.

The OWJ party was a Who's Who of those who made a difference and continue to touch lives with their gifts: Coach Smith and Betty, George Hughes '49, one of the scholar athletes who went on to play pro football for the Pittsburgh Steelers for five years. Did you know that George played in the Pro Bowl from '52 to '54 and coached the Ottawa Rough Riders from '74 to '81? Between playing and coaching, George served on the Norfolk school board from '60 to '69 and the city council from '69 to '74.

Filling out the list of notables from the Tribe's Big Green at OWJ were George Gibbs '49, who played with Hughes under the fabled Rube McCray, and his beautiful wife, Marian "Huffy" Gibbs '51, who made me forget Esther Williams when I was a mere lad; Dickie Lewis; Mel Wright, with bride Carol; Jim Smith and his wife, Barbara Schwartz '53, who I met for the first time; Randy Davis '50 and his wife, Sue Hines Davis '50; Tommy Martin, a former captain of the team who belongs to '52 but because of the Korean War ended up with '54, and his wife, Katherine '52. He is now retired from the FBI but still on special assignment for the Bureau. Katherine works with children and the courts in Radford. Dickie said that Ted Filer '52 would be attending the game, as usual, but I missed him. (How could anyone miss Filer?)

One of the highlights of OWJ for me was having a short chat with "Bud" Metheny '40. He first gave me his autograph outside Yankee Stadium when he was playing right field for the Bronx Bombers during World War II. Bud had been ill, but he is bouncing back and is still a vital player in selecting hard-working students for scholarships from OWJ. Thanks for your autograph once again on Thursday evening, Bud. You are still turning winters into spring for many young students.

There isn't a place you go during Homecoming where you don't run into John Dayton '50 and his very engaging wife, Julie—two who know the meaning of renewal and beautiful new beginnings. John, who retired (or had he?) as development officer for the College, is still an important connection if you wish to make a financial act of gratitude for all that W&M has done for you. John's life has been as identified with

Class notes

W&M as Jim Kelly '51 and his wife, Bev Simonton '53. Jim's role at the College has been something like an archdeacon, serving, communicating and informing presidents of W&M; with the finesse of a cathedral dean at high mass, he has never upstaged any of his bosses.

Friday's Academic Festival, back by popular demand this second year was, from what I heard, very successful. Lady Thatcher, Chancellor of the College, packed them in somewhere around 800, and handled challenging questions ranging from comparisons of British and American political campaigns to the European Common Market, NATO expansion and inclusion of Eastern European nations. She carefully ruled "off sides" issues that are strictly America's business. Everyone spoke of her amazing grasp of history and geo-politics.

"Left Brain—Right Brain" with Professor John Lavach was crowded, stimulating, interesting and eye-opening. Memories of Professor James Miller lecturing on Plato in the same room brought back my initial steps toward the newspaper business and, eventually, the priesthood.

"Women's Rights in the Marital Context," produced by Professors Kay Kindred and Susan Grover, demonstrated that women's rights are still in the middle ages as statutes from a wide range of states indicate that women are considered, at worst, property, and, at best, only items over which decent men maintain stewardship.

Sarah Kemp Brady '64 took the right-to-bear-arms issue into the practical arena of criminal acts to solve domestic problems and secure income. She has introduced practical statutes for registration of all gun dealers, weapons, ammunition and an important piece: the limitation of the number of weapons a person may buy at one time. Her stats on children, schools guns and death were alarming. She received a strong ovation at the close.

Those of you who enjoy dancing should take comfort that this year the Homecoming Ball benefited from the big-band sound of the Kings of Swing, who demonstrated that they not only play current sophisticated rock, but are strong in the Glenn Miller, Dorsey, Goodman, Cole Porter tradition. The dance floor at the new University Center was full throughout the evening. Two of those who danced almost every number were Cabbie Tennis '54 and his wife, Hyde.

Saturday's Homecoming Parade brought cheers, laughter and various degrees of astonishment. Originality, hilarity, high-jinks comedy and self-effacing buffoonery entertained the sun-drenched crowds along Duke of Gloucester and Richmond Road. Hundreds followed the schedule for class pictures on the Alumni House lawn where, to the credit of the Alumni Society House team led by Barry Adams and Sherri Givens Holland '86, we enjoyed the finest luncheon in memory: generous helpings of beef brisket, turkey, a mouth-watering variety of imaginative salad dressings, rich green lettuce, onions, tomatoes and mushrooms and a variety of drinks. There was no skimping and many returned for "seconds"...it was excellent!

The Luncheon-on-the-Lawn is, as is the Post-game Tailgater, the best event to move about, meet old friends, and watch the years disappear in moments as smiling faces recognize one another. What began before the game was continued at the Tailgater into the evening. Flood lights from the Alumni House brought moving shadows and illumination to faces we had not seen earlier. I cannot recall a happier gathering before and after the game than this year. Hearty laughter, solid embraces and a flood of vignettes, many of which began with "remember when," erased the years.

We spent time with those who shared the best of our youth as we were being formed by one another. I was happy to see Jim Duff '54 again after many years. He has retired from Connecticut, as has Jim Smith, and settled in Williamsburg, keeping his hand in as a manufacturers rep. Also present was a dear old friend, Bill Strum '52 and his wife, Ann Davis Strum '54, both looking better for their life at Rehoboth Beach, Del. No Homecoming is complete without Bernie Wittkamp '52, because no one tells a story the way he does. He is an internist in Richmond with privileges at MCV. He and his genial wife, Darrell, seldom miss Homecoming. If you recall, it was Bernie and Bob Hux '52, a surgeon in Florida (and another comedian) who gave me my first no-charge pre-op consultation in the men's room of the Muscarelle Museum at Homecoming last year!

The gracious lady of our Class of '52, Jackie Jones Meyers and her husband, Avery, joined us on the lawn and introduced us to Alice Rice Cottingham '51. Almost "out of nowhere" appeared Howard "Sunny" Straughan '52, retired vice president of South East Savings Bank in Miami, now living in Kilmarnock, Va., within 30 minutes of our old friend Wendell Haynie '52 who did graduate work in pharmacology at MCV and owns a pharmacy in Reedville, Va., a beautiful small town we hope to visit next year.

There are classmates in the W&M family who are drawing on Grace to overcome... Jim Hall '52 and his wife, Lillian '55, whose 2-year-old granddaughter lost her fight to leukemia in October. Ann Callihan Hines '55, whose husband, well-known Tribe place kicker in the '50s, Quinby Hines '55, died during emergency heart surgery at U.Va. Hospital in Charlottesville only a few months ago, and Page Beck Gills '53 whose husband, Russ '53, died two years ago. Our prayers go with you and your loved ones. Although his widow was not with us, we learned earlier that Tommy Boys '52, one of W&M's winningest tennis players, died this past year in Florida. The last time I saw Tommy was at a party near the Forest Hills Tennis Club. He loved W&M, was a great competitor and will be remembered for his praise of his competitors.

Coach Dudley Jensen, professor of kiniseology and one of our swimming coaches in the '50s, has undergone the amputation of his leg below the knee. Want to meet a fella who truly walks by Grace? Meet Dudley. Courage, perseverance and endurance of subsequent painful operations to correct post-op problems is a brief profile of one who taught us to swim when we believed we had nothing left. As the years unfolded, I learned it was not swimming that was uppermost to Dudley...he and Howard were building character for the long haul. Dudley is living out the belief that Grace leads to courage and transformation.

The last fella I want to mention is one of the most authentically true and good persons I know... Eddie Extract '51. He continues to be loving, gentle, honest, strong, funny and very bright. He has had some tough breaks in his life, and after finding Miss Wonderful, his dear wife, Christine, died suddenly in September. Eddie, there is a spring.

Thank you all for sharing so much with me and, through this column, with our classmates. Homecoming is all about drawing on the Grace we experienced at W&M and allowing it to continue to transform us as life moves on. Homecoming is sharing that recurring spiral of transformation with each other and smiling at how much we have gradually become more and more a family.

Thank you Alumni House staffers Cathy Forbes and Elizabeth MacLeish. Without you going the extra miles communicating with us and anticipating our needs, there would not have been the happy faces we met at Homecoming.

the Rev. Al Sharpton, to the College.

On various cultural projects, the BSO also works with other groups on campus such as Essence, the Student Association, and model United Nations, as well as similar black student organizations at other universities.

The BSO is in the process of expanding its mission statement, which will emphasize the importance of community service. Currently, BSO members are actively involved in the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program and also volunteer at the Gore Child Care Center. For Thanksgiving, the organization worked with the Salvation Army to collect donations of food for the needy.

Proceeds from the Homecoming Step Show went to the Petersburg Children's Home, Avalon and the Black Child Development Institute.—Petra Seimbuchel '94

VIRGINIA SUPREME COURT JUSTICE NAMED CARTER LOWANCE FELLOW

Justice Elizabeth Birmingham Lacy, the first woman to sit on the Virginia Supreme Court, has been named the 1994-95 Carter O. Lowance Fellow at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

The Carter O. Lowance Public Service Fellowship, named for a former aide and adviser to six Virginia governors, is designed to permit an outstanding person in public life to be in residence for several days in the law school. Justice Lacy will visit the law school Jan. 17-19, 1995.

"Justice Lacy's career—a model of commitment to public service—exemplifies the citizen-lawyer we hope our students will become," said Thomas G. Krattenmaker, dean of the law school, in announcing her appointment. "Not only is she an active and thoughtful jurist, she also participates in important activities of the American Bar Association and the Virginia State Bar. Her experience in government and her commitment to legal education make her a perfect choice to be our Carter Lowance Fellow this year."

Previous Fellows include Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist, former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Lewis W. Powell Jr. and television commentator Roger H. Mudd.

Prior to joining the Supreme Court in 1989, Lacy served as a commissioner of

Traditions, Myths & Memories Final 100 Copies For Sale

Only 100 copies are left for sale of this collector's edition of Traditions, Myths & Memories: 1693-1993, which was published especially for the Tercentenary of the College of William and Mary. This book will not be reprinted! If you would like a copy, please place your order immediately.

Send $35 either by check or credit card. Include $4.00 for shipping and handling for each order. Virginia residents must add $1.58 sales tax. Send your check made payable to the Society of the Alumni Gift Shop, P. O. Box 2100, Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100. Credit card orders must include the card number, expiration date and signature.

ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY

Please reserve _____ copies of Traditions, Myths & Memories, 1693-1993 for shipment immediately. I understand my credit card will be charged $35.00 per book, plus $4.00 per address for shipping. Sales tax for Virginia residents is $1.58 per book.

ORDERED BY:	SHIP TO (only if different):
Name _____	_____
Address _____	_____
City, State, Zip _____	_____
Please charge my <input type="checkbox"/> MasterCard <input type="checkbox"/> VISA	Signature _____
Account number _____	Expiration Date _____

'54

Bob Neuville
64 Evergreen Drive
North Caldwell, NJ 07006-4622

The Class of '54 is still alive and kicking. I hope to be able to submit a column three times a year to the Alumni Gazette, but I'll need your help. Please let us know how you're doing, especially those of you from whom we haven't heard in a while.

Lynn and I have just returned from a trip to Hong Kong and China, where we visited our oldest son and his wife, who are residents of Hong Kong. It was a wonderful trip.

The honor of being the first person to write to me as class reporter belongs to Bill Twomey. Bill is living in Tallahassee, Fla. After his retirement he became involved with Florida's International Volunteer Corps and has been working in the Caribbean and Central America, focusing on the needs of disabled people. He reports that they have had considerable success.

Warren Weiss and his wife, Jane, recently hosted a reunion of Pi Lambda Phi fraternity members of the '50s. Among those present were Al Gross, who made the trip from Williamsburg, and Walter Trent, who came down from Vermont.

It was a joy to see Marge Huff Brown, Terry Hamilton Carter, Carol Raymond DeSamper, Luther Kiger and Jim Duff and to work with them on the reunion committee. The ladies are as lovely as they were in our college days, and the men haven't changed a bit. Am I the only one getting older?

In case some of you don't recognize me when you see me, I must report that I am no longer the 129-pound weakling that I was during our college days. I'm now a 190-pound weakling. I've also gotten a lot taller; my scalp now protrudes at least three inches above my hairline.

Keep those cards and letters coming.

'56

Society of the Alumni
P.O. Box 2100
Williamsburg, VA 23187-8795

The Society of the Alumni has received the unfortunate news of the death of Mary W. Warren '56, Class Reporter. The Society extends its deepest sympathies to Mary's family and friends. If another member of the Class of '56 would like to continue the dedicated service of class reporter Mary so faithfully performed for 15 years, please contact the Society at 804/221-1164.

the Virginia State Corporation Commission and as Secretary of the Commonwealth. She is an active participant in the ABA's Central and East European Law Initiative and in the Education of Lawyers Section of the Virginia State Bar.

NEW SYSTEM WILL REGISTER WITH STUDENTS

One of the most comprehensive, interactive class registration systems of its kind will go into effect at William and Mary next April.

The system, based on a model developed by the school's computer center, should make the registration process easier, less time-consuming and more certain for students.

In the spring when students sign up for fall classes, they will be able to register for their classes through any of a number of computer terminals around campus and find out instantaneously whether they have been admitted to a class.

"One of the greatest benefits of this system is the assurance students will get from knowing that the courses they pre-registered for will be the courses that they'll get," said Virginia Carey '71, chair of the 30-member faculty and staff Student Registration Module Advisory Group that developed the system. "We believe we have designed a system that will allow students to experience a true registration, rather than pre-registration."

Under the new system, students will know their schedules virtually instantaneously, whether they register electronically on their own or through a faculty member during an advising session.

Integrating course requirements with students' academic records, the new registration system allows only those students who fit a course's criteria to register for it. The current pre-registration system has no safeguards to prevent enrollment by students who did not meet the necessary pre-requisites.

NEW REGISTRAR FINDS WILLIAM AND MARY AN IDEAL MATCH

Monica Augustin has been appointed university registrar at William and Mary, succeeding William Savely who retired earlier this year.

A California native, Augustin arrived at William and Mary from Pomona

'58

Peter Neufeld
410 West 53rd St., Apt. 132
New York, NY 10019-5629

I've been perusing old photos from our days at W&M—thanks to all of you for the contributions from your scrapbooks. Received photos from six of you, and the champ was Nan Maurer Rosenbaum with 11 pictures. Here's a cross-section of everything I received:

One photo showed Neil Hock being congratulated for receiving a commission in the Army. He is surrounded by five grinning military crew cuts that belonged to Bill Rush and Bill McCray, Jim Rosenbaum, Denys Grant and Bob Hardage. Neil was smiling, too. That's a first.

Also, a Theta pledge picture from November '54 that caught 14 of you in the Theta living room. I'll just mention the four that were appropriately dressed for 1954 (i.e. wore pearls): Nan, Ginny Kendall, Gail Morgan, and Beth Meyer.

In the formal photo of the Military Ball court, it's easy to see who was dating whom that year. To my knowledge at least four of the couples are married to each other.

Another picture showed Dick Clay, surrounded by fraternity brothers, in Harris Tweed, crew neck sweater, chinos, gym socks and unshined loafers, sitting at the piano in the lodge.

One picture features four suite-mates in their senior year: Polly Ann Stadel Wrinkle in hair curlers; Cammie Day brushing her hair; Adelaide Atkins, with her trademark Peter Pan haircut, staring vacantly into a carton; and Ruth Peterson Barton staring lovingly at all of them while she knits. (Ruth?)

Other photos feature: Ralph Northrop in the doorway of his dorm room in large boxer briefs and nothing else (different dorm than Polly Ann's); Ma Ficklin looking watchfully over the lobby of Monroe Dorm; Vern Keesee, wearing a raincoat more rumpled than Columbo's, looking wistfully over a printout of his grades; Diane Montague, Ann Pflugstang, Bobbi Ramsey, sitting on the cannon.

And on to the '90s. Just heard that Denys Grant was president of The Order of the White Jacket for 1993. Jim Pittman's watercolors and acrylic abstract paintings were recently featured in an exhibition at the 20th Century Gallery in Williamsburg. Beverly Wilson Palmer and a co-worker have received grants totaling $125,000 to complete a two-volume book of the papers and correspondence of Thaddeus Stevens. Bevo—dinner at the Corner Greeks?

What do Ann Walker Elliott, Sue Davis Addington, Bob Doughtie, Tony Wilson and Bill Mitchell have in common? None of them was home when I called scavenging for news. However I did strike pay dirt with other calls. Barbara Clarke Cox and husband Ernie '59 recently went on a white-water rafting junket. Betsy Stafford Elliott and husband Frank ran into Alice Osborn, Louise Green, Yvonne Beattie and Nancy Fehn at an alumni gathering. I interrupted Bob Bradley while he was downing some Cabernet Sauvignon. Probably celebrating the architectural projects he's got going in Poland, Germany and Australia. So when do we start on the vodka?

Your reporter's life continues to change. I volunteer at six different AIDS support organizations. One I'm deeply involved with is Miracle House, an organization that exists to give emotional support to parents coming to New York for the first time to take care of their children when they become ill. The call for help from the child to the parents is frequently the first awareness the parents have that their child (usually a son) is ill and, in most cases, homosexual. We set them up in apartments, get them used to the city and function as a liaison between parents and children at the hospital.

My next deadline is Jan. 13. Please get in touch with me.

'60

Mary Ellen Carlson Coffey
P.O. Box 12086
Silver Spring, MD 20908

'62

Mrs. James R. Henry
(Nancy A. Sinclair)
1096 Meadowbrook Drive
Bedford, VA 24523-3020

Sandra Hancock Martin wrote to say that she spent time in Virginia this summer visiting her dad and son in Richmond. Then she went to Williamsburg and Chincoteague, Va., before returning home to New Jersey.

Sue Oakley Nelson and her husband, Larry, were in Seattle attending an American Association of Medical Colleges meeting. While in the area they had the opportunity to visit with Pat Wade Temple and her husband, Nick. Pat and Nick own a dinner train called "The Spirit of Washington." One of their sons runs the dinner train end of the business. Pat did all the decorating in the cars. The brochure that Sue included was delightful. If ever any alum is in the Seattle area, this looks like something that definitely would be of interest.

Doug Morton lives in Denver, Colo. Doug is in the printing business. He is also serving as president of the President's Council this year for the College. His daughter Christine Patricia Morton graduated from the College in 1990.

The Henrys are fine. We now figure that all three of us will graduate in the same year if we are lucky. Ryan is a junior at the College and is a history major. He plans on going to graduate school. Jim and I are on the down side of our master's degrees. I attended Homecoming and enjoyed it very much.

Please call me at 703/586-9242, or write. I am in desperate need of news!

Class notes

'64

Ginnie Peirce Volkman
2400 Daphne Lane
Alexandria, Va 22306-2551

What a gloriously beautiful fall weekend we had for Homecoming '94 and our 30th Class Reunion. Nobody could believe the unseasonably warm temperatures, blue sky, fluffy white cloud days. It was the icing on the cake for an already happy return to our alma mater.

The main events of the weekend began on Friday with the Academic Festival, highlighted by "A Conversation with Lady Thatcher" in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The College Chancellor was forthright and refreshing in answering spontaneous questions from alumni about NATO, the European Community, U.S. health care, Ireland and future peace in the United Kingdom, Central Europe and Hong Kong, rights and responsibilities of public officials, militant fanaticism in the Middle East, the Anglo-American Alliance, even the recent political dissatisfaction in the United States and a comment that any discussion about Oliver North was "off sides." When asked about the state of the House of Windsor, she commented that she had no doubt that "it will survive a long time."

On Friday afternoon was the ever popular concert by the William and Mary Choir and their stirring rendition of Shenandoah. Also on Friday in the Commonwealth Auditorium of the recently dedicated University Center, our own Sarah Kemp Brady spoke about the progress and future of the gun control movement and the recent passages of the Brady Law and the Assault Weapons Ban.

Friday evening was the Homecoming Ball where our own John Randolph was awarded the Alumni Medallion from the Society of the Alumni. John was not present for the event, but the honor was graciously received by his wife, Maynard Williams Randolph, and his children. On Saturday evening our class reunion dinner chairmen Phil Van Kirk and Joanne Arnett Tutschek again saluted John for this honor and our class prayers and warm wishes were conveyed to John and his family.

Also Friday evening was the Kappa Alpha Theta Class of '64 reunion dinner at Christiana Campbell's. All but a few of the class returned and a warm and hilarious time was shared by everyone. Joanne Tutschek came with husband Philip and daughter Elizabeth. Joanne is vice president, director of debt and equity, marketing and communications for Merrill Lynch in New York City. Joanne served as assistant chair for our class reunion committee this year. Philip is a manufacturer's representative, and Elizabeth is 12 years old, in middle school and very active in soccer, swimming, dancing and playing the flute in her school band. Joanne's son, Spencer, is a law student at Tulane. The Tutscheks live in Mountain Lakes, N.J. From Richmond came Marcia Balard Scott. Marcia is a training coordinator of good manufacturing practices with Whitehall Robins. She has a precocious and active 8-year-old son, David. Gretchen Scherer Israel has recently moved to Taneytown, Md. Gretchen is a French teacher and an educational consultant. Her husband, Fielder, is a chaplain at the Fairhaven Retirement Community in Sykesville. Son Andrew is a junior at Sewanee University of the South and son Stuart is in middle school. Claudy Tucker Barnes and Tom came up from Virginia Beach where they teach and were joined by Ginny Hester Wooddell, member of our freshman class. Ginny is an antiques show coordinator and travels nationwide, but lives in Colorado Springs. Coming a good distance from San Diego, Calif., was Melissa Hall Griffin and husband Don. This was Melissa's first reunion. She has been busy with family and maintaining property. Don, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, is now retired from the Navy and is an engineer with Hughes Aircraft. Also back for her first reunion was Karen Patrick Martin and husband Ralph. He is a '64 graduate of the Naval Academy, also retired and works for a waste management company in Knoxville, Tenn. Karen and Ralph have three daughters, 28, 25 and 14. They are expecting their first grandchild soon. Also from a distance was Sue Trice Fieglein and husband Mike of Galveston, Texas. Sue teaches high school math and computer science. Mike is a lawyer and also starting another business to retire on. Their son, Hank, is a systems analyst and lives in Centerville, Va. Daughter Ashley is 23 and a Theta at Stanford, and son Alex is a sophomore at Texas A&M. From Kansas City, Mo., Nancy Ratz Viets and her husband Mark returned after many times since they have a condo at Kingsmill. Nancy has been traveling and maintaining family; Mark is an architect. From Chapel Hill, N.C., Patty Vaught was the surprise of the evening. Back for her first reunion, she has recently bought a house and is a librarian for the University of North Carolina.

Rounding out the Theta reunion were the more local gals. Ann Lyon Ackiss and Tom headed north from Virginia Beach. Ann is an elementary school teacher and Tom an architect; they have two daughters. From northern Virginia, Bobbie Mulcahey Frazier is a French teacher at Fairfax High School and is heading toward her 30th year teaching in Fairfax County public Schools. Judy Davis Johnson is from Arlington and is in her 28th year working for the Agency for International Development and travels a lot overseas. Judy has a son at the Naval Academy and her daughter is a senior in high school and preparing for college. Maxine Steinbach lives in Reston and is on the board of directors of her cluster as the landscaping chair. She works for the division of child support in Fairfax County. Her son, Mike, graduated from Virginia Tech, daughter Marcia graduated from U.Va. and son Andy is in the Marines and attending college. Pam Wandell Fleming '65 returned with husband Bill. Pam and Bill live in Gaithersburg, Md. They have two daughters who have graduated from college. Pam is vice president of marketing for C-SPAN and was recently recognized as one of the leading women in the cable television industry. Bill is head of the program management office with the Defense Intelligence Agency.

Class notes

Other Theta not able to attend the reunion dinner were Cam Walker from Williamsburg, who teaches American history at the College. Cam's husband of two years, Tony Esler, teaches in the same department, but European history. Michaelle Hatcher Taylor has been a music teacher for 30 years and has worked with all ages in Lincoln County Schools in North Carolina; she is presently working with grades K-5 in Denver, N.C. She and husband, Robert, live on Lake Norman just north of Charlotte and do a lot of boating and water sports.

The Kappa Kappa Gammas had their reunion Saturday. Carol Evans Miller, who also served on our class reunion committee, trekked in from Okemos, Mich. Carol has recently made a career change and is now studying accounting. After a master's in business, Carol was manager for project control for Computer Sciences Corporation's European Headquarters in Brussels. Her husband, Myron, is a business consultant at Michigan State University. Carol serves as president of Friends of the Greater Lansing Symphony and also works in an art gallery. Carol mentioned a trip to Mission Bay, Calif., to visit Melissa Hall Griffin where they both roller-bladed on the board walk. She said, "How about these two old ladies!" Betty Smith Krikorian came in from Belmont, Maine, where she is currently associate director for the Morin Center for Banking and Financial Law Studies, Boston University School of Law. She also teaches, writes and researches and advises over 50 international LL.M. candidates. Betty is the author of Fiduciary Standards in Pensions and Trust Fund Management, already in its second edition. Betty has two sons: Ben, 23, and David, 14. She is recently separated from her husband of 23 years. Shauneen Cruise Hutchinson and Bill Hutchinson were in from Greenville, Del. Shauneen is general counsel for Helicaon, a construction company; she also serves on the Delaware Board of Bar Examiners and National Conference of Bar Examiners. Bill is assistant counsel for ICI Americas. They have three daughters: Sarah, 26, works for MBNA; Katie, 24, teaches high school French; and Molly, 16, is a junior in high school. Shauneen and Bill love to play golf, tennis, and ski; they have recently bought a second home in Snowbird, Utah; she says to come visit. Cynthia Harris Cashore and husband Richard flew in from La Jolla, Calif., for her second reunion since graduation, having returned for the Tercentenary celebration last year. Cynthia works for the human resources branch of the Department of the Navy; she is active in Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae activities. Fran Edwards Manuel and Bob Manuel came in from Maitland, Fla. Fran is teaching fifth grade and Bob still works for Proctor and Gamble in military sales. Their son, Austin, graduated from the College in 1988, and Mindy and Carey from Stetson in '90 and '91. They recently visited Linda Shepherd White and Bob in Norfolk, Va. Bob just had back surgery and couldn't make it back for our reunion as planned. Best wishes for a quick recovery, Bob. Ann Jett Henderson lives in Columbia, Md., and is district manager for Manpower Temporary Services for several Maryland offices. She has two sons; her youngest attends Miami University in Ohio. Beverly Ritchel Bach lives in Herndon, Va., and is an attorney for Shoun, Smith and Bach, P.C., specializing in family law. She has three children, Bruce and Barbara, already College graduates, and Eric, a sophomore at the University of Mississippi. Her husband, F. Bruce Bach, is chief judge of the Circuit Court in Fairfax County.

Last September, Fran and Bob Manuel also saw Jim Bennett where he lives in San Antonio, Texas. Jim wrote of his hopes to attend Homecoming, but a recent divorce and the sale of his house kept him busy all fall. Jim retired in 1990 from 26 years of service in the Army and has been working since as administrator for the department of orthopedics at the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio. Jim has two daughters; one recently had a son and the other is a sophomore at Tarleton, a Texas state school. Jim invites anyone coming to San Antonio to call and visit and he'll show you his city.

All weekend our class hospitality suite was open at the Williamsburg Hilton. Working hard on behalf of the class was Kay Bonner Drews and her husband, Ken, who served as bartender most of the weekend. Kay is currently deputy general counsel for the Defense Finance and Accounting Services. Kay and Ken are building a new house on the Potomac River just east of Fredericksburg, just in time to offer more room for their soon-expected first grandchild. Besides Ken, Joe Barnes was our bartender Friday night. Joe heads a CPA firm in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.—an international practice with affiliates in 35 countries and the leading U.S. firm in environmental accounting. Joe and wife Bonnie '63 have a daughter, Kim, who is a R.N. and a medical consultant for an Atlanta law firm, and a son, Joe III, who is a graphic artist in high tech animation. And keeping everyone company at the bar was Art Cecil, a mutual fund analyst for T. Rowe Associates. We all enjoyed reminiscing over old times.

Saturday morning dawned like spring—warm and sunny. The usual chain of events proceeded with the President's breakfast in the Wren yard, followed by the Homecoming parade down Duke of Gloucester Street, the official class photo at 11:45, and the luncheon at the Alumni House. Our group moved like a 6-year-olds' soccer game, en masse from one place to the next, scattering only briefly to say hello to old acquaintances. At 1:00 the Homecoming game was underway against the University of Maine. It didn't take us long to score the first points and we continued on to victory, 17-0.

Saturday evening was our class dinner/dance at the Williamsburg Hilton. Phil Van Kirk, Don Beck, and Carol Evans Miller had borrowed some old furniture from a local junk dealer to decorate with the ambiance of a lodge party ... certainly nothing fancy; and we all felt right at home and casual. Phil made a XXX illuminated sign symbolizing generic Greek letters and our 30-year reunion as well; some of us decided it meant triple-X rated! Phil, who is a business consultant for Ernst & Young, has found that sign-making might get him through retirement when the time comes. His wife, Mary Van Lear '67, isn't so sure! We all had a marvelous time talking and dancing the night away to the sounds of our D.J., Bubba Crone, from Richmond, who Vee Jones Davis had arranged. Vee is a substitute teacher in Henrico County and lives with husband Guy who is a high school activities director. We all agreed that the stars of the dance floor for the evening were Charline Gurley Walsh and husband Ken. They danced every dance and remembered every step from the Peppermint Twist to the old-time jitterbug and every ballroom dance known. They were great. The evening wound down at midnight, but our spirit went on as we continued our partying back at the hospitality suite until the wee hours. Even Sunday morning at 7 a.m., Kay and Ken were up and serving a light breakfast to bid us all farewell. Nobody wanted to say good-bye. But we finally headed home having come from all over the U.S., even from as far away as Spain!

In the next issue this spring I'll be filling you in on all those who came to Homecoming that were not mentioned this time (due to lack of time and space), including our classmate from Spain. In the meantime, I would love to hear from all of you who weren't able to return for Homecoming. I hope you will include me on your holiday mailing list with all your year's news. Thank you and may all of you have a very happy holiday season.

'66

Sharon Cosminsky Kern
708 Coleridge Drive
Greensboro, NC 27410-4612

With Homecoming last month, I am reminded of how special all of our college friends are in our lives. For one thing, we've all turned 50 together, something you can't say about other groups in your lives. I hope you didn't forget to use your AARP cards for discounts at Williamsburg hotels!

Pat Patterson Riley sent me a wonderful letter, with an extortion accusation, since I had listed her in the last column as a person I had contacted for news. Pat decided to get an early start on her family Christmas newsletter as she was writing—what an inventive idea. Pat's last Gazette report was 10 years ago when she and Tom had just changed their lifestyle—Tom going from a dentistry career to full-time farmer (in Summerville, S.C.), and Pat expecting child number five. The transition has been accomplished, and now the family stays busy with Pat teaching a kindergarten class. She also works with a class of at-risk 4-year-olds and at-risk families and children through state, district and school programs. Their children are: Paige, who works with, and is married to, a neurobiologist at the medical school at Emory University. (Paige became an instant mother of two, and Pat is a step-grandmother.); Smith, a first-year dental student in Charleston; Beth, a freshman in U.Va.'s School of Architecture; and Sarah, a very lively fourth grader.

Pat recently saw Betty Kent Swayne Hills. Her husband, Roy, is rector of an Episcopal church in Conway, S.C., where Betty is a teacher. They have two daughters; one is a freshman at the College of Charleston, and one is a senior in high school. Pat also reported keeping up with Linda Helfrich Keown, who lives in Richmond and had a daughter attending the College of Charleston last year. Pat included the newspaper obituary for Randy Bell '67, who had recently been elected a justice of the South Carolina Supreme Court. Pat echoes all of our sadness on reading about Sally Smith Millard's death in the last Alumni Gazette.

Pat also mentioned running into a work associate of John Tudor's, and within a month I received a newsy note from John. John is assistant superintendent of Sumter City Schools in Sumter, S.C. He has been in Sumter since 1992, having previously worked for the State Department of Education for 14 years. John received his doctorate from the University of South Carolina in 1984 and still serves as an adjunct professor of educational administration at the university. John sees Tom Todd '64 each summer. Tom is with the Department of Education in Washington and stays in touch with Bill and Connie Hudson Harris.

Tom '65 and Martha Wessells Steger live in Chesterfield, Va., where Tom has a solo law practice. Their children are scattered: Michael has just begun the master of fine arts program at Hunter College in New York City, and Katy is a senior biology major at the University of Alaska in Anchorage. Martha writes that she is director of promotion and media development for the Virginia Division of Tourism and has served a two-year term as president of Virginia Press Women, a 200-member statewide organization of women and men in communications. Martha has also been elected secretary of the Atlantic-Caribbean Chapter of the Society of American Travel Writers and has been named to the press and public relations committee of the Travel Industry Association of America. Right after I received Martha's letter, a friend told me about a trip she had planned to Virginia and what a great tourism department they had—kudos to you, Martha.

Nino Allen Shipp's daughter, Hester, is a junior music major at the College and has given Nino a great excuse to visit Williamsburg after a 20-year absence. In August, she managed a special visit with Howard Scammon '34. Nino lives in Memphis, Tenn., with her architect husband, Charles, and eighth-grade son, Charles. Nino promised a visit to Graceland to any visiting alumni!

Bonnie Muddiman Newlon is the county administrator in Cumberland County, Va. She has one daughter, Melanie, who is working toward a B.F.A. at the Corcoran School of Art in Washington. Bonnie received her master's degree at Georgetown University.

From the Society of the Alumni comes news that Robert Bland had been named to the board of directors of Williamsburg Community Hospital and Health Services. He is an attorney with Phillips, Bartlett and Bland, and he has served two terms on the Williamsburg Social Service Board and the Williamsburg-James City County School Board. For 10 years, Robert was an active member of the board for the Bacon Street substance abuse center.

I heard from Robin Reighley '63, who has retired from the Navy but not the seas. He lives in San Diego and works on Chevron tankers on the West Coast. Robin and Sue have two daughters, Stephanie, 20, and Jennifer, 27.

From our Greensboro paper, I have two items on Bob and Florence Fraser Gatten '68. As I mentioned in an earlier column, Bob is very active in the Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation Inc. and is now serving as president of that organization. The foundation is dedicated to the study of the Lewis and Clark Expedition. In a completely different mode, their daughter, Elizabeth, is planning a December wedding. She is a summa cum laude graduate of Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, Texas, College, a liberal arts institution in Southern California with a rich academic tradition similar to the College's.

In the course of working on her doctorate in higher education, which she continues to pursue, Augustin took a course on the history of higher education in America. This academic experience has helped her better appreciate the significance of the College's heritage and the Sir Christopher Wren Building, she said.

Augustin will draw on her computer experience as Pomona's registrar to implement a new student registration system at the College next semester.

Over the next several months, Augustin and her staff of 13 and others around the campus involved in the project will focus on ironing out the fine details. Ensuring easy accessibility to the on-line student registration system for all student constituencies is one of Augustin's top priorities.

In the long term, she has set her sights on the development of a more comprehensive Student Information System, which will largely be the responsibility of the registrar's office.

JUSTICE O'CONNOR SPEAKS AT WILLIAM AND MARY

Having to read an estimated 1,500 pages of legal material a day is just one of the many grueling demands placed on justices of the Supreme Court of the United States. Speaking recently at William and Mary under the auspices of the Judges Forum sponsored by the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, Sandra Day O'Connor offered a glimpse of what it's like to sit on the highest court in the United States.

"The job description for it [a Supreme Court Justice] can be written very simply," O'Connor said. "We decide which cases to take for review. We do our homework to resolve those cases, and we write opinions."

Selecting approximately 100 cases for review out of 7,000 petitions which the court will receive this year consumes the majority of the justices' time, O'Connor said.

Justice O'Connor with third-year law student Martha McGlothlin, president of the Marshall-Wythe Speaker's Forum.

O'Connor cited the death penalty area as the most unsatisfactory part of her work at the court. The current process requires petitions for stay of executions to be quickly reviewed late at night or early morning, "not a good time for studying and reflection," she said.

"You have to ask, 'Why does it have to be this way? Why can't we see each one of these [cases] and with adequate representation so that all the issues of federal law are properly brought out and considered in the normal course of events?'"

Suggesting the current review process is undermining confidence in the system, O'Connor shares the hope of Chief Justice William Rehnquist that Congress will revamp review procedures for death penalty cases.

OLSON APPOINTED EDITOR OF WILLIAM AND MARY NEWS

Poul E. Olson has been named the editor of the William and Mary News, the administration/faculty newspaper at the College.

Olson has been acting editor of the News since December 1993. From September 1992 to June 1993, he also served as graduate assistant to the newspaper.

Olson holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Virginia and has completed all of the classwork for an M.A. in history at William and Mary. At U.Va., he was a senior news reporter for the University Journal daily newspaper, and a news intern for WVIR-TV in Charlottesville.

Last year, Olson worked in the College's Tercentenary office as assistant to the director. He has also been employed part time at the Virginia Institute of Marine Science as editor of Waterfront News, a publication of the Virginia Sea Grant College program.

Olson succeeds Barbara Ball, founding editor of the News, who retired last year.

with a degree in interdisciplinary studies—elementary education, and she teaches English and reading in a middle school.

Also in Greensboro, Denny Taylor Kelly is a program director for Boys and Girls Club of America and on the board of directors for Youth Focus, a non-profit agency that offers services for children at risk, ages 7 to 17. Denny's son, Graham, played in the U.S. Summer Olympics in the Gold Medal Team Handball competition. He works in Atlanta on the Olympic Committee.

On a recent trip to Williamsburg, I talked with Jake Smith who was named a York County, Va., juvenile and domestic judge on April 1. Jake graduated from Marshall-Wythe in 1974, after spending four years in the Navy. He is married to the former Ginger Graef '69, and they have two daughters: Jaclyn, a high school sophomore and Allyson, an eighth grader. The Smith family lives in Poquoson, Va.

I talked to Mike Griffin '64 who is with the Richmond city schools. He and his wife, Sandra, have two daughters and a son with varied careers (surveyor, teacher, life insurance representative). Mike played baseball at W&M.

Charlotte Elder Marriott's '64 son, Evan, is pursuing a modeling career in New York and is in an advertisement in an upcoming issue of GQ Magazine.

I think that Pat Patterson spoke for all of us with this statement: "The irony of things is that, if I have any news to report, I have no time to report it. Though my news is probably very similar to that of many of our classmates during this rite-of-passage year—the big 5-0, empty nest, reading glasses, etc.—accomplishing that news surely is time consuming." Thanks for writing Pat, and I hope you encourage others to do so.

'68

Sandra Abicht Simmermon
1145 Rockbridge Ave.
Norfolk, VA 23508-1417

'70

Randy Pearson Van Dam
(Mrs. T. Thomas Van Dam)
215 Myrtle St.
Haworth, NJ 07641-1137

Linda Beerbower Burke, director of taxes and tax counsel of Aluminum Company of America in Pittsburgh, has been elected president of Tax Executives Institute Inc. (TEI), effective last August. TEI is the primary association of corporate tax executives in North America and represents more than 5,000 members, who are employed in executive, administrative or managerial tax positions in over 3,400 U.S. and Canadian firms. The Institute has 47 chapters located throughout the U.S. and Canada. Linda previously served the institute as senior vice president, secretary, vice president of Region VI, chair of the IRS Administrative Affairs Committee, and a member of the executive committee, having been a member of TEI since 1978.

From Doylestown, Pa., Scott Liddle writes that he has finally settled into "a real life and a real address" and added the vital statistic that his first child, a son, William Alexander, was born February 25, 1993. He sent news of Tom Doughty, whose first child, Thomas Edward, was born March 6, 1994.

Oh this is a brief, brief column. I will spare you the "where are you nows" if you promise to update us all with holiday notes! Have a healthy, happy and warm holiday season! I look forward to your news by my next deadline, Jan. 13, 1995!

'72

Peggy Corso Gould
13906 Edgecomb Court
Centreville, VA 22020-1716

'74

Mary Miley Theobald
5 Countryside Court
Richmond, VA 23229-7905

Although you will read this long after Homecoming, this issue's deadline fell a week before the big event. So our next Gazette will contain updates on a lot more classmates—everything I can gather over Homecoming weekend. Those of you who couldn't make it to our 20th reunion, penance is one postcard to me with some news of yourself (or any other classmate).

Welcome back to Richmond, Randy! The Rev. Randall M. Mathis is the new pastor at Bethlehem Baptist Church in Richmond. Since he graduated, Randy has had several careers, first as a biology teacher at Henrico High School (1976-1980), next as the owner of a portrait studio and now as a minister. He and his wife, Lynne, sold their home and business in 1990 and moved to Fort Worth, Texas, so Randy could attend Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Randy graduated with a master of divinity degree in May 1994 and received a call to be the pastor at a Richmond church this summer. Randy and Lynne have three children: Benjamin, 13; Sarah, 11; and Maury, 9. Lynne teaches third grade in Chesterfield County.

Wendy and Tom Watkins and their three children have been living in Tokyo since August. Tom will be there for about three years as president of Dainabot, an Abbott Laboratories affiliate that is a joint venture with a Japanese pharmaceutical company. He actually wears two hats; the other is vice president and general manager of the Asia-Pacific Abbott Diagnostic Division. Tom flies home to Chicago every three months or so and travels regularly to other Asian cities. The children attend an international school in Tokyo where about half the students are Japanese. Wendy says the traffic in Tokyo is not to be believed!

The new media specialist/librarian at Middlesex High School in Urbanna, Va., is Ellen Busick Crews. Formerly a librarian in the York County school system for 19 years, Wendy received her master's from Old Dominion University.

Class notes

Robert Moncrief has been named director of music at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church in Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich. Formerly director of music at the Rye, N.Y. Presbyterian Church for 17 years, Bob made the move to Michigan this fall. Bob graduated from Yale with majors in organ and voice performance, has a master of music (organ and sacred music) from Yale and his bachelor's, natch, from W&M. He is active in the American Guild of Organists, serving as dean of Westchester Chapter (1991-1993) and regional coordinator (1989-91).

James C. Rees has been appointed resident director of Mount Vernon. Formerly associate director, he becomes the ninth resident director of George Washington's historic home, the oldest national historic preservation project in America. After graduating from W&M with a degree in English, Jim got a master's in public administration from (appropriately enough) George Washington University. His checkered career path includes stints as a newspaper reporter and photographer in Newport News, Va., and several jobs at W&M, among them managing editor of the William and Mary Magazine and director of annual giving, public information and capital support. In 1982, he joined the staff of the National Trust for Historic Preservation. He just completed a term as president of the Virginia Association of Museums. And no, the resident director does not reside among the antiques in the hallowed halls of Mount Vernon! Jim lives a short commute away in the district.

'76

Robert S. Cavaliere
3807 Keith Ave.
Fairfax, VA 22030-3117

The lone correspondent this time is Dr. Tim Melester, who has a good memory for middle names, at least for mine. Tim has lived in New York City for 15 years. He is an associate professor of surgery at New York Medical College and chief of education at St. Vincent's Hospital. He shares a Manhattan apartment, two dogs and a weekend house in the country with playwright Craig Lucas. Tim is active in human rights, gay issues and AIDS education, and he dabbles in theater and gardening in his spare time. Good to hear from you, Dr. Tim, and thank you for rescuing this edition of the column.

My next column is due Jan. 13, 1995; please send me your holiday news. We turned 40 this year—hope you are aging well. Take care and enjoy the holidays.

'78

Margaret Bowen
8713 Rolando Drive
Richmond, VA 23229-5626

I hope many of you were able to enjoy Homecoming this year. I had to be in Chicago, so I missed the opportunity to catch up with and get news for our column from those of you who were able to attend. Life has been hectic lately with the transition to my new job with Reynolds. This summer I accepted a promotion to become corporate compensation manager. We are in a very busy time with many initiatives, including '95 budgets, in the review and finalization stages. I was going to say, "At least I don't have to travel as much as I did in the last job," but as you can see I opened with the fact that I had to be out of town during Homecoming! It seems that ever yone I talk with these days is leading a very hectic life—how about all of you? Take a few moments and drop me a postcard or a note with something for our column before my next deadline in early January.

Even amid all of the deadlines at work, I was able to get away a little early one weekend in October and visit Robin Markwith Sleeth and her family in New Jersey. It

Order Form for Class Reunion Photos

Class reunion photographs, taken during Homecoming weekend, are reprinted on these pages. Photos are 8" x 12", color. Cost: $15.00 each, including postage and handling.

Photos for the classes of 1954, 1964, 1974 and 1984 appear in this issue. Photos for the classes of '49, '59, '69, '79 and '89 will appear in the next issue in January. If you have already placed your order, you will receive your photo before the end of this year. Orders placed on this form will be filled in February 1995.

Name _____ Class Year _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Check photo(s) ordered

_____ 1949	_____ 1954	_____ 1959
_____ 1964	_____ 1969	_____ 1974
_____ 1979	_____ 1984	_____ 1989

No. Copies _____ x $15.00 each = _____ Total

Enclosed is a check for $ _____ made payable to Society of the Alumni. Mail to: Reunion Photographs, Society of the Alumni, P.O. Box 2100, Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100.

Order Deadline: January 31, 1995

Class notes

was great to see her children before they completely grow up! Robin has found the "ideal" job in inside sales with Precision Automation. She has the challenge of satisfying customers and contributing to the success of the organization as well as a work schedule that is flexible to allow for time with her family. We always talk about how easy it is to let time slip between calls, letters and visits. We were both wondering about Wanda Davis Blevins, Frances Farmer Waller and Margie Weber Lindgren as well as many of our other W&M friends. How are you guys doing these days?

We received word that Susan Blakeslee has appeared in the Hollywood theater production of Forbidden Broadway for several years. As reported in the May Hollywood Holline, "Glenn Close was front and center at Hollywood's Tiffany Theatre to catch Forbidden Broadway 1994, the hilarious spoof that skewers her performance in Sunset Boulevard. Perhaps the two William and Mary alumnae were able to meet after the performance!

Congratulations to William Donovan Cutchins and his summer bride, Tammy Jo Campbell. Following a honeymoon in Maui, they returned to Aiken, S.C., where he is employed by Science Applications International Corporation.

Happiest holiday wishes to everyone in the Class of 1978! Write or leave me a voice mail message at my office: 804/281-3807!

'80

Pam Lunny
749 Boston Avenue
Bridgeport, CT 06610

I hope all who went to Homecoming had a fabulous time. Remember that next year will be our 15th! Be sure to make a mental note on your calendar. Just a couple of quick news clips. I'm running low on news so please remember to send me a note.

We have a couple of future Indians to welcome into the world! Margaret Willson Stubbs and husband Brian have been busy with their new bundle of joy, Sean Prentis, who was born in May. Sean joins an older brother and sister. All reports are that everyone is having a ball with Sean! Ginger Harvey Martin is the proud mom of Samuel Wells Martin who was born in May 1993.

Kathy Dobbs is enjoying the life of a newlywed. Kathy and Bill Erskine were married in May and had a wonderful honeymoon in Scotland. They are now living in Falls Church where Bill is a computer network manager for a local utility and Kathy is a managing attorney at the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office.

I've heard a lot of news recently of exciting vacations. Ruth Cupery Mead and her husband, Jim, spent two weeks this summer backpacking through the mountains of Wyoming. They live in Apex, North Carolina where Ruth is a project manager at Radian Corp., an environmental consulting firm, dealing primarily with control of hazardous air pollutants. Much of their spare time is spent in the great outdoors while white-water canoeing or gardening.

Last bit of news comes from Doug Slater and his wife, Cathy Allen '79, while they were in the process of leaving Rochester, N.Y., on their way to Moscow with a stop in North Carolina. Cathy and Doug will be medical directors of a project there through the World Medical Mission. They experienced a similar mission in Kenya approximately eight years ago. The entire family, including Nathaniel, 8, Emily, 6 and Maria, 5, are looking forward to the trip, which is for an initial term of 18 months. Doug relayed news of Cathy's completion of her chief residency year in dermatology at the University of Rochester, and her awards of a summer scholarship from the British Academy of Dermatology, an Upjohn Young Investigator grant, and the publishing of an article in the New England Journal of Medicine.

That's all the news for now—be sure to send me a note. Enjoy the holidays!

'82

Nancy Conlon Herzog
20 Jennifer Drive
Wrentham, MA 02093-1051

I hope that all of you are doing well and that those who attended Homecoming had a terrific time!

Attorney Gary Hammersmith wrote that in August he was named a member of the law firm Hebb & Gitlin in Hartford, Conn. Gary's practice includes corporate finance and securities. He and his wife, Kim, have two sons: Jeffrey, 3, and Gregory, 1.

I also heard from Catherine Gartner Chapin-Bishop, who is living in Northampton, Mass., and involved in a variety of pursuits. Having recently received an LICSW designation, Cat has accepted a part-time position as a therapist engaged in homicide bereavement counseling under a special grant from the Massachusetts Office of Victims' Assistance. She divides the rest of her time between a private practice in psychotherapy and a new role as a minister in the local Neo-Pagan community. Cat lives in a group house with her daughter Hillary Chapin, now 7; husband Peter Bishop, an Oberlin College graduate and a nutritionist; and Peter's 96-year-old grandmother, Nora. Needless to say, Catherine reports that she is "never bored."

In June, Barbara Heath, director of archaeology at the Corporation for Jefferson's Poplar Forest, presented a lecture on "Rediscovering the Lost Landscape of Jefferson's Poplar Forest" at the Stratford Hall Plantation. Barbara has been conducting research at Poplar Forest since 1992. After graduating from W&M, she earned her master's and doctoral degrees from the University of Pennsylvania.

Renata Manzo welcomed a daughter, Audrey Lorraine Scruggs, who was born on April 30. Thanks to the Family Leave Act, Renata was able to delay returning to work at Reynolds Metals in Richmond, where she practices environmental law, until late July. Her husband, Billy Scruggs, continues as the executive chef for the Federal Reserve Bank.

Billy Barnes, a four-year letter winner on the W&M basketball team and the 16th highest all-time scorer in Tribe history (1,031 points), continues to sink baskets in the 'Burg, most recently in the A Division of the city's Summer Three-On-Three Basketball League. At last report, his team—The Backfin—had a hold on the division lead.

I hope to hear from more of you soon. Until then, take care.

'84

Alison Horrocks Miller M.B.A. '88
1401A New River Inlet Road
North Topsail Beach
Sneads Ferry, NC 28460
(910)/328-1259

Greetings from coastal North Carolina! We relocated from Florida a year ago and will be here while my husband, Greg Miller, serves as an obstetrician/gynecologist at the Naval Hospital at Camp Lejeune. One of the benefits of our move has been proximity to family and many of our William and Mary friends. Dr. Karin Hillenbrand '85, who is one of Greg's former medical school classmates, is a pediatrician here at the Naval Hospital. Recently, I saw Hilarie Hicks on the local evening news promoting the Chrysanthemum Festival at Tryon Palace in New Bern, N.C., where she is the curator.

Laurie Raymond Benson visited us in September with her adorable 2-year-old daughter, Kimberly. Laurie and her husband, Chris, recently moved to Radcliff, Ky., where Chris is an obstetrician/gynecologist at the Army Hospital at Fort Knox. Prior to moving, Laurie worked as a guidance counselor at a middle school in El Paso, Texas.

Tom '82 and Dana Disque Hearn '82 visited in September with their 5-month-old son, Patton. Tom, Dana and Patton live in Charlotte, N.C., where Tom has started a medical information systems business, and Dana practices law.

Meg Hunter Scott and husband Bill also celebrated the birth of a son this spring. John was born on April 4 and joins Will, 4, and Michael, 3. Bill, Meg and their sons live in Greensboro, N.C., where Bill practices law.

Meg and Bill Scott attended the wedding of Suzanne Sweeney to Harry Miller on Oct. 1, 1994, in Las Vegas, Nev. Other William and Mary alumni in attendance included Mary Obata Forde and her husband, Mark '83, Paul Boykas '83, Greg Paddock '83, Bruce Holmes '83, Bert '83 and Vida Ugnicius Laureano '85, and Doug McDonald '81 and his wife, Margaret Kerfoot. Suzanne and her husband reside in Greenfield, Ind.

Susan Frier Wilsie and her husband, Ron, celebrated the birth of their son, Ronald James III, in August 1994. Ronald joins his sister, Cady. Susan and her family live in Alexandria, Va.

Betsy Pendleton Crockett '85 and her husband, Jim J.D. '81, also welcomed a new son into their family recently. John Strother Crockett was born on Sept. 7. Betsy and her husband reside in Richmond.

Dr. Christopher Kontos and wife Demetra Yeapanis Kontos '85 gave birth to a son, Michael Hermes, on Aug. 12, 1994. The Kontos family resides in Durham, N.C., where Chris is doing a fellowship in cardiology at Duke University.

Julie Zydron Griggs and her husband, Gene, are new parents also. They gave birth to Paul William on July 18, 1994. Julie received her law degree from U. Va. in 1987 and she and Gene are both partners at Smith, Helm, Mullis & Moore in Charlotte.

Dr. Lynne Helms Foreman and husband George recently moved to Chester, Va., where Lynne practices child psychiatry at the Army Hospital at Fort Lee, and George works in medical supply sales. Lynne and George gave birth to their second son, Blake William on Aug. 13, 1994. Blake joins Alex, who is 5 years old.

I recently heard from Liz Somers Ottaway, who is a portfolio manager at Woodbridge Capital Management. John Ottaway III is senior vice president and management director at J. Walter Thompson. They reside in Grosse Pointe Woods, Mich.

Capt. Greg Wagner and wife Debra Sides Wagner '82 celebrated the birth of their son, Brian Gregory, on March 14, 1994. Greg and Debbie recently moved to a Maryland suburb of Washington, D.C., where Greg is chief of plans for the Defense Courier Service at Fort George G. Meade, and Debbie is a staff writer for the Maryland Gazette.

Greg writes that Capt. Steve Johnson '83, M.B.A. '85 lives in nearby Crystal City and works with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in the Tech Review and Modernization Office.

Mollye Greene Rhea and husband Randy celebrated the birth of their daughter, Connelly, born on April 12, 1994. Connelly joins her brother Tanner, who is 4 years old. Mollye and her husband live in Atlanta, where she works as director of leisure marketing programs for the North American region for Holiday Inn Worldwide.

Michelle Albert Vachris and husband Scott wrote of the birth of their son, Kyle. The Vachris family recently moved to Virginia Beach. Michelle is a professor of economics at Christopher Newport University in Newport News, and Scott is an assistant Commonwealth's attorney in Portsmouth.

Before leaving northern Virginia, Scott and Michelle hosted a gathering attended by many fellow William and Mary alumni, including Sheila McDonnell Bates and her husband, Brian '83, Brad '83 and Melanie Perper Love '85, William and Julia Powell Musto, Steve '83 and Diane Hoekstra Tuttle, Kim Duffy-Gill, Catherine Dehoney '83, Desiree DiMauro '85, Matt Bradley '83 and Ed Perez '85.

Debbie Taylor Jamison and husband Greg have relocated to sunny Albuquerque, N.M. Greg and Debbie celebrated the birth of their second son, Michael Gregory, who was born on May 23, 1994 and joins his brother, Patrick, 5. Debbie who worked in materials management for GTE prior to their move, is staying home with the children, while Greg is employed as a research scientist at Sandia National Laboratories. Greg completed his doctorate in chemistry at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in September 1992.

Douglas C. Schmidt completed his doctorate in computer science at the University of California, Irvine, and has joined the computer science faculty at Washington University in St. Louis. Doug's e-mail address is schmidt@cs.wustl.edu, and he says he'd love to hear from fellow alumni via the "information superhighway!"

Serge Kovalski wrote a fascinating letter from Washington, D.C., where he is a staff writer with The Washington Post. After graduate studies in French literature and history at the Sorbonne in Paris, Serge traveled extensively throughout Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia in the mid-1980s. After returning to the United States, Serge worked at the Miami News and the New York Daily News before joining the staff of The Washington Post in March 1993. Serge was married to his wife, Michelle, in October 1992, and the two reside in Georgetown, Md.

Jeffrey G. Lenhart '84, J.D. '87, an attorney with the Harrisonburg, Va., firm of Wharton, Aldizer and Weaver, recently received a master of laws degree in taxation from Georgetown University Law Center. He specializes in tax and business law and estate planning.

Julianne DeLoatch and Harold Alan Guller were married on July 4, 1994, in Richmond. Julianne and her husband reside in Richmond, where she is employed by the

NEW LAW COULD BE TAXING

News of an impending change in the tax code regarding gifts of appreciated property has caused some donors confusion, but in the long run will have no effect on William and Mary, says the College's office of development.

The change, which reduces the tax deduction for appreciated property gifts, applies only to private foundations, not colleges, hospitals or other charitable organizations.

"The good news for our donors is that they can continue to deduct gifts of securities and other appreciated property at the full fair market value," according to Lee G. Walsh '75, director of capital support. "For colleges and other non-profit organizations, these benefits are not scheduled to expire in 1995 nor any time thereafter," Walsh added.

For those giving appreciated property held more than 12 months, donors avoid capital gains tax in addition to receiving a charitable deduction.

According to Walsh, a gift of appreciated securities is nearly always an attractive alternative to cash, from the donor's standpoint. "This is because the net cost of making a gift of appreciated property is less than it is for gifts of cash, when you factor in the capital gains tax savings," Walsh explained.

Donors can always replace the contributed securities in their portfolios using the cash they would have otherwise given to the College, he pointed out. "This gives the donors a stepped-up basis in the new securities, thereby reducing future capital gains in these shares should they be sold later."

For more information, donors can call Walsh at 804/221-1002 or write for a free copy of the booklet, "Giving Appreciated Securities to William and Mary," to P.O. Box 8975, Williamsburg, Virginia 23187.

CORRECTION

The October issue of the Alumni Gazette inaccurately reported that William and Mary became the first college in Virginia to admit women in 1918. While W&M was the first senior Virginia institution to go co-ed, other women's colleges, including Hollins College, Mary Baldwin, Randolph-Macon and Sweet Briar, existed prior to that time. The error occurred in reporting.

AlumNews

CHINNIS ANSWERS HIGH CALLING

Pamela P. Chinnis '46 is the first female president of the House of Deputies in the Episcopal Church. Chinnis, who was elected by acclamation to a second three-year term, is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the College and the recipient of honorary doctorates from several seminaries and colleges. Chinnis has been a lay leader at virtually every level of the Episcopal Church and has marked several firsts in her vocation. She was the first female senior warden at the Church of the Epiphany in Washington, D.C. She was one of only four Anglicans to testify before the 1983 Eloff Commission of Inquiry in South Africa, on behalf of Bishop Tutu and the South African Council of Churches. She served as a member of the Anglican Consultative Council from 1987-1993, and has served on the board of the National Council of Churches since 1988.

IN SICKNESS AND HEALTH

Harriet Fishburne '87 has always put her family first, so when she decided to embark on a medical career after raising her children, her family was literally beside her every step of the way.

Fishburne enrolled at William and Mary to complete undergraduate work she began 20 years earlier at Salem College in North Carolina. While at William and Mary, she once walked into a classroom at the beginning of the semester and learned that her son, Cary '90, was taking the same class.

The two later attended the University of Virginia Medical School during overlapping periods. Perhaps not-so-coincidentally, Cary Sr. worked with U.Va.'s Department of Student Health at that same time.

In September, Fishburne teamed up with her husband to serve on the medical staff of Riverside Walter Reid Hospital. She is a pediatrician and an associate at Gloucester (Va.) Pediatrics, and he is an emergency room doctor.

ALUMNA DARES TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Carri Lynn George '81 has been named the new executive director for Disabled Ability Resource Environment (DARE). George joined DARE in 1984 as the advo-

University of Virginia Health Services Foundation.

Valerie Pandak married Richard Mark Anderson in July at the Wren Chapel. Valerie is senior provider relations representative with the Travelers Insurance Companies in Richmond and resides in Midlothian, Va.

Judith Lightfoot Clarke and Nicholas Martin-Smith were married on May 28, 1994, in Roanoke, Va. Judith's honor attendants were Nancy Love Williams and Rebecca Russell '85. Judith and Nicholas are both actors and reside in Manhattan.

SoYoung Lee '92 writes that Chun-sung Cho received his law degree at NYU and practices at Kim and Chang, Seoul's largest international law firm.

Two of our classmates have been elected to positions in their local chapters of the Society of the Alumni. Justina Johnson Head was elected to the board of directors of the Greater Metropolitan Washington, D.C., chapter, and Lee Ann Robinson Sugarman was elected secretary/treasurer of the Baltimore/Annapolis chapter. In their positions, Justina and Lee Ann will be giving of their time and talents to the College to coordinate the efforts of fellow alumni, plan events and manage the general business of the Society of the Alumni chapters.

I hope that many of you were able to attend the Class of 1984 10th reunion celebrated at Homecoming in November. It was a great time to renew friendships, remember college experiences and enjoy a fall weekend in Williamsburg!

It is with pleasure that I am assuming the duties of Class of '84 Alumni Gazette reporter. I'm sure you will join me in thanking Joanna Lee Ashworth for the tremendous job she has done as our class reporter for the last 10 years. Many classmates, as well as alumni from other graduating classes, have told me how much they appreciated Joanna's informative column over the years. With your help, I will try to carry on the fine tradition that Joanna has started. (My next deadline is Jan. 13, 1995, for the February issue.)

Best of wishes to all of you and your families for a joyous holiday season and a happy new year.

'86

Kristen M. White
3492 Martha Custis Drive
Alexandria, VA 22302-2118

Hello to all! Hard to believe 1995 is right around the corner. Hope life is treating all of you kindly. As always, I've received lots of mail, so please read on!

Tracy Edler Leduc wrote from sunny Florida, where she has given up her job as an insurance adjuster for USAA to start law school at Stetson College of Law in St. Petersburg. Tracy tells me that Lynn Putnam has left her job in Chase Manhattan's Electronic Funds Transfer division to start law school at Florida State, while Paula Warrick is finishing her doctorate in art history in Washington, D.C. Tracy also mentioned that Cary Stuart Body (who was at W&M with us before transferring to University of Delaware) is married and gave birth to a son, Tad, this past June. Thanks for writing, Tracy!

Angie Castle Broaddus reports that all is well in Fort Campbell, Ky., where she lives with husband Matthew, daughter Elizabeth Grace, and son Daniel Colson. Armed with a master's in education and certified as a secondary math teacher, Angie is now teaching developmental math classes at Austin Peay State University.

Congratulations to Liz Tobin Williams and husband Ian, who are expecting a new addition to their family next February. Liz tells me that Ian recently earned his doctorate in epidemiology from Johns Hopkins and is now working for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta. Liz just finished her M.B.A. and plans to join Ian in Atlanta shortly.

Maria Reyher Meredith writes that she and husband Van are expecting a baby in January. Van earned his master's degree in computer science from George Washington University and is now working for E-Systems Melpar Divisions. Maria got her master's in information systems from Marymount University and is with MCL. Congrats!

Newlywed Emily Early Kehrberg wrote from Chicago, where she continues to work for American Express as a project manager. Emily and husband Craig were married this past May. Angie Castle Broaddus tells me the Atlanta wedding was lovely and the bride beautiful; Angie's daughter Elise was a flower girl, and Angie sang what I hear was a moving rendition of "Ave Maria." Katherine MacGregor Treser was the matron of honor. Congrats!

Class notes

Debbie Perry Whalen '87 wrote from Meridian, Miss., where she and husband Dan have been living since their 1992 wedding. Dan continues to work as a naval flight instructor, and Debbie is working part time as a health care benefits coordinator and insurance agent. Debbie reports that Julie Miller Engleman and husband Russell welcomed son David into the world last September. Congratulations! Jeanne Cherundolo McPhillips is working on her M.B.A. at Wharton, while Annie Dieffenbach '88 is finishing her final year at U.Va.'s medical school. Thanks for writing, Debbie!

Jennifer Finn Duffy dropped me a line from Virginia Beach, where she continues as a financial consultant with Merrill Lynch. She writes that Jimbo McCarthy received his law degree from St. John's University and is working in Merrill Lynch's legal department in Manhattan. As this goes to print, Jimbo and wife Gail are about to welcome a new addition to their family. Congrats in advance! Also with Merrill is Charles Carson, a financial consultant in the Norfolk, Va., office. Jen tells me that fellow Yates pal Ann Shufflebarger earned her master's from W&M and is now a reading specialist in the Virginia Beach public school system. Sharon Callahan Coates lives in Marlton, N.J., and works for Advanta Corporation as a financial analyst. Congrats to Colleen Seaquist Rafsol, who tied the knot in the summer of 1993 on Long Island, N.Y. Jen tells me the wedding guests included Laurie White Wrigley (living in Derwood, Md.; daughters Devon and Tori are reportedly adorable!) and Pam Bitto Watts (working in Alexandria and finishing her law degree at George Mason). Thanks for the letter, Jen!

Tommy Myers Jr. is growing fast and becoming cuter by the minute! Tommy was christened in early September, and proud parents Christine Ferguson Myers and Tom hosted a lovely party to celebrate the occasion. Godmother Kelly Doyle (working in Manhattan for Jacob, Medinger, Finnegan & Hart), Liz Tobin Williams, Pam Tiffany (still teaching in Chesterfield County, Va.), new home owners Heidi Reihansperger Fielding and husband John (who were recently featured in the real estate section of The Washington Post), Leslie Lautenslager '85, new parents Teri Dale Dungan '88 and husband Tom '88 (Tom Jr. was born in mid-September) and I were among those who enjoyed the delicious spread catered by Richard Hulme, who is now managing the Alexandria branch of Sutton Place Gourmet. A great time was had by all, and little Tommy was an angel.

Lesin Liskey Dippold dropped me a line from Richmond, where she, husband George '87, and children Georgie and Madeline moved last year after three years in Harrisonburg, Va. George loves his job as a computer programmer at Circuit City, while Lesin is doing family day care for several friends' children. Lesin tells me that they visited lots of friends in the metropolitan Washington area this summer, including Rich and Pam Wilgenbusch Fridley and children Elizabeth, Carolyn and Paul at their new home in Annandale; Regan Pickett Rendleman '87 and husband John '87, who welcomed daughter Vivien Christie into the world this summer; and Scott '85 (a lawyer here in D.C.) and Julie Carlson Herlihy '85 and their children, Christopher and Megan, in Vienna, Va. Lesin has also seen Anna Grimsley Ashworth, husband Alan '85 and children Caitlin and Jonathan, and she tells me that Laura Walsh MacDougall, husband Gary, and 3-year-old son Ryan have moved into a new home in Weymouth, Mass. Finally, Lesin writes that Robin Morris Currey and husband Greg recently welcomed their third child into the family, while Kelly Starrs and husband Joe (who were married in June of 1993) gave birth to their first bundle of joy in September. Congrats to all!

Julie Withrow sent a great postcard from Missoula, Mont., where she works as a controller for a bio-tech company while attending grad school in forestry at the University of Montana. Julie reports that the skiing, kayaking and mountain biking are great and encourages any W&Mers visiting Montana to look her up!

Terry Ayotte spent the past summer working in London as a volunteer in a recreation program for children and young adults with disabilities, and she reports that the experience was tremendously rewarding. Before heading back to the states, she spent time in Paris with Jennifer Reidenbach Searle and husband Bob, who were enjoying a European jaunt while Jen "recovered" from taking the bar exam (she passed) after graduating from Georgetown Law. Jen and Bob are now living in Boston while Bob gets his M.B.A. from Dartmouth. Terry added that before she left on her big trip, she attended the weddings of Beth Butler and Mike Ryan, and Rhonda Jett and Mike Grisius (who recently bought a new home here in Vienna, Va.), where she saw Jon and Ann Santilli Levi, Kathy Moser, Bud and Teri Lattanze Gordon (proud parents of daughter Amanda Jane), Jim and Christine Valkenburg Kanuch, and Kathy Curtis Decker (who reports that she and husband Mark are truly enjoying Oregon). Finally, Terry wrote that last April brought the arrival of Casey Hope McDonagh (daughter of Meredith Barkey McDonagh '87 and husband Tom '87) and Madison Melton (Pam Krulitz Melton and husband Tracy '85 are the proud parents.). Now back in Alexandria, Terry is working as a preschool special education teacher in Fairfax County and loves her job. Many thanks for writing, Terry!

Class notes

Margret Harned Martin wrote to let me know that she was married in May of 1993 to Gordon Martin, an attorney here at the Washington, D.C. office of Hogan & Hartson. Margret earned her master's in international relations from Georgetown and is now working as government relations manager for the American Orthotic and Prosthetic Association (Julie Gaydos '90 is there too!). Margret writes that Henry Phillips is anticipating a sibling—Kitty Penney Phillips and husband Dan are expecting a new arrival in January. Amy Flint joins those of us living here in Alexandria; she is still with the Army and is working at the Corps of Engineers while getting her master's in criminal justice at night. Kathy Welch Groll and husband Bill (a lawyer with Cleary, Gottlieb in New York) recently purchased a home in Armonk, N.Y.; Kathy continues to work as a bond trader in Manhattan. Jane Church has started a new job at Hogan & Hartson's Virginia office in the field of high-tech law; she recently enjoyed a two-week hiking trip from Chamonix, France, to Zermatt, Switzerland, with friends. Sounds fun! Many thanks for the letter, Margret!

Congratulations to Marlon Mattis '85 and wife Marcie Harrison Mattis '85 who recently welcomed son Samuel Harrison into the world. Any luck finding a new home? Hope so!

Our own Sherri Givens Holland is the new director of alumni affairs at our alma mater! She tells me that Annie Schwartz Thorne was recently elected to the board of directors of the Greater Metropolitan Washington, D.C., chapter of the Society of the Alumni.

Jim Wright and Jennie Webb (a U.Va. grad) tied the knot last April in Cedar Bluff, Va. Groomsmen included Derek Koolman '88. Jim earned his Ph.D. in anatomy from MCV-VCU; he and Jennie are both third-year medical students there. Congrats!

Amy Barta Wall was recently awarded a house officer appointment at Wake Forest's Bowman Gray School of Medicine, where she'll train in ophthalmology. Amy earned her M.D. in May and was honored with an achievement award for the senior who embodies the concept of the "Total Physician." Impressive!

Mark Dewey earned his M.B.A. from U.Va.'s Darden School of Business in May and is now a media account manager for America Online.

Congratulations to Khaki Crowwhite (what a beautiful bride) and Scott Richter who were married in September in Richmond. The wedding party included attendant Cathy Caputo Livingstone, bridesmaid Tara Fredrickson Elliott, and groomsmen Joe Jackson, Griffin Fernandez '87 (now living in Charlottesville, Va.), Will Allison and Scott Elliott (living in Memphis, Tenn.). Scott recently received his J.D. from the University of Wisconsin, and is now working at Elias, Matz, Tiernan and Herrick in Washington, D.C. After a reception at the Jefferson Hotel in Richmond, the beautiful bride and her groom honeymooned in Italy and are now happily ensconced here in D.C. Congratulations!

Susan Zanetti Harrison reports that son Will is lots of fun and a great baby! Sue continues to teach fourth grade in Fredericksburg, Va. Elena Hall Grissom is growing rapidly; parents Ed and Elizabeth Flamm Grissom are enjoying every minute! Jack Calamita is one adorable little baby; parents Paul '87 and Julia Anderson Calamita '87 continue to do well in Richmond.

James Parkman Shuler has a new sibling! Holliday Langford Shuler was born this past summer, and Jane Butler Shuler tells me she is an angel! Liese Cochran Mosher '87 reports that Holliday is a beautiful baby. And, of course, Jack Brinkley is nothing short of adorable (not to mention oh-so-personable) and keeps parents Doug and Ellen Thompson Brinkley very busy!

As for my "where-are-you-now" query, what are you up to Bobby Zaccagnino, Gaynor Ibbotson, Scott Douglas and Nancy Young? I'd love to hear from you! Please write and let me know how you've been.

Finally, it is with great sadness that I report the death of Pat McGrath, who passed away in July after a long illness. I'm sure I speak for many of us when I say that Pat was a super guy—always lots of fun and a wonderful friend to many. I hope you'll keep him and his family in your thoughts and prayers.

That's all for now. My next deadline is Jan. 13, 1995, so please send any and all bits of news before then! Many thanks, as always, to all of you who have written with news. I appreciate every card and letter and hope to receive many more! Until the next issue of the Alumni Gazette, stay happy and healthy, take care of yourselves, and keep in touch.

'88

Suzy Houbé
465 West 23rd Street, Apt. 10-H
New York, NY 10011

Hello to everyone! I hope that your fall is going well. Thanks to those folks who wrote to let us know what's up. Here it is:

News from the Alumni House:

Jill Trott was recently appointed special programs coordinator at Gettysburg College in Pennsylvania. Jill will manage and coordinate the scheduling, development and execution of events sponsored by the college relations division.

Carl Peoples received his M.B.A. from the Darden School at the University of Virginia in May. Carl is assistant vice president of the Wachovia Bank of Georgia in Atlanta.

Mark Kotzer also received his M.B.A. from the Darden School in May.

Keith Reagan is now a financial consultant for Merrill Lynch in its Busch Corporate Center in Williamsburg. Keith is also the president of the Williamsburg chapter of the Society of the Alumni and serves as a volunteer coordinator for the March of Dimes.

On the subject of alumni chapters, Maggie Margiotta was elected president of the Greater Metropolitan Washington, D.C., chapter, which, by the way, was named Outstanding Chapter for 1993-94 by the Society's Board of Directors.

In addition, Lauren Bunkelman Hurlbrink has been elected as vice president of the Baltimore/Annapolis chapter.

Sebastiana Gagliano Springmann wrote to say that she has been elected to the board of the Williamsburg chapter of the Society of the Alumni. Sebastiana is a dentist in general practice in the 'Burg.

Charles Kulp is a management consultant in central Virginia, counseling over 250 businesses a year. He is the founding director of the Central Virginia Small Business Development Center, where he has provided management counseling, training and referral services to nine counties.

SoYoung Lee '92 wrote to say that Hong-Ki Moon is working as a manager at Daewoo Electronics, one of Korea's largest companies, after completing his M.A. at Yonsei University in Seoul.

From the wedding book:

Dianne Kemp married Robert Torreson on May 21 in Richmond. Dianne, who graduated from the University of Virginia Law School, works in the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice in Washington, D.C.

Tom Lewis married Meggan Beth Mitchell on June 26 in Williamsburg. Tom is an assistant football coach for our own Tribe.

William Crawford married Elizabeth Steele in Petersburg, N.C., on Aug. 6. Elizabeth is teaching fourth grade at St. Timothy's Episcopal School in Raleigh, N.C., and William is commercial vice president at Centura Bank, also in Raleigh.

Todd Beach married Laura Wellborn in Richmond in May. Todd is pursuing his master's degree at Northern Arizona University.

Adam Beck married Maureen Fuller on June 25 in Philadelphia. Adam works for Arthur Andersen & Company.

Becky Architzel Cutler wrote to say that she eloped with Jim Curler of Middlefield, Conn., to St. John in the Virgin Islands. The couple were married on the beach at dawn on August 24. Becky says that she is now working with animals at the Mystic Marinelife Aquarium in Mystic, Conn.

Jane Garrett Briggs wrote to say that she and husband Charles welcomed first child Mary Fairbank Briggs into the family January 31, 1994.

Cheryl Toth wrote to say that she and husband Bill Newbolt are living in Athens, Ga., where Cheryl completed her course work for her doctorate in industrial/organizational psychology at the University of Georgia. Cheryl spent her summer doing some consulting work, and getting ready for a new class she is teaching. She also said that Melanie Newfield is working hard for Coca-Cola and living in Baton Rouge, La.

Where in the World Are They?—Has anyone heard from Erik Gustafson, Joel Collier or Bonnie McDonald? Please write and let us know what they (or you) are up to!

As for me, I am finally a one-job woman! I am still the executive administrator for the Society of Stage Directors and Choreographers, the national labor union for directors and choreographers working in theatre, film and television. After four years, I left Manhattan Theatre Club last month in hopes of recovering some lost weekends ... and my sanity. I am, however, writing again, albeit part time, and looking to market my hard-earned creative and management skills in other, hopefully greener, pastures.

I have actually entered the computer age, and can be reached via electronic mail at 73667.1535@Compuser.com, for those of you who have an aversion to the old-fashioned way, so WRITE! Have a safe and happy holiday season. Take care and KEEP IN TOUCH!

'90

Stephanie Goila Padgett
1803 Windhill Terrace
Cincinnati, OH 45255

Greetings classmates! I'm now the proud mother of John Michael Padgett who was born on Sept. 22 at 10:11 p.m. after 16 hours of labor. He is a real joy, and we're enjoying adjusting to our new role as parents.

Kris Price joined me in motherhood. Her daughter Jenna was born on Dec. 23, 1993. Kris and her husband recently moved to a new home in Roanoke and hope to add another member to their family in the coming year.

Jennifer Burgess Welham and Jodi Boyce Seitz '89 will both be joining the mommy club. Jodi is practicing her parenting skills cacy/outreach coordinator and later became the outreach/information and referral coordinator where she developed workshops for women with disabilities. George also serves as a consultant for the peer technical assistance network of the National Council of Independent Living and the legislative subcommittee for the directors association of Texas Centers for Independent Living. She is a founding member and board member of the Area Network on Disabilities and Aging and a member of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community coalition. George also has served on the state task force to develop a state-wide information and referral system for health and human services.

FROM MONEY TO MUSINGS

After six years of tallying balance sheets, bank executive Terry Healy '85 decided to put his pen to a more lyrical end—with a different kind of payoff. Healy recently published his first book of poems, Tidewater Musings. As Healy's comfort in the corporate world decreased, he became more involved in charity work and decided to donate all proceeds of the book to the Hope House Foundation, a Norfolk-based halfway house support organization.

In addition to writing poetry, Healy also performs general business consulting services as CEO of Proen P.C., "to pay the bills."

"To keep sane," he is an associate professor/lecturer of philosophy and art history at Paul D. Camp Community College. Healy and his wife, Mary Ryland Healy '85, plan to establish a magazine review and children's books publishing company in Smithfield, Va., where they reside.

Terry and Mary are first vice-president and treasurer, respectively, of the newly founded South of the James chapter of the Society of the Alumni.

Get Yours Today!

It's the only card sponsored by the Society of the Alumni of the College of William and Mary.

Call, 1-800-847-7378, to apply today.
Use priority code NEYK when calling.

MasterCard® is a federally registered service mark of MasterCard International Inc., used pursuant to license.
Visa® is a federally registered service mark of Visa U.S.A. Inc., used pursuant to license.
©1994 MBNA America Bank, N.A.

NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT—A NEW W&M TRADITION?

One alumnus will step down from the position of Ninth Judicial Circuit judge, but three more alumni aspire to fill the vacancy and continue the William and Mary tradition.

Judge G. Duane Holloway '55 is planning to retire after 14 years on the bench. In 1980, he was in private practice when the General Assembly chose him for a newly created judgeship, to handle the growing number of cases.

Interested in continuing in Holloway's footsteps are Merlin Renne J.D. '75, Prentis Smiley Jr. J.D. '64 Michael L. Wood '72. Renne has been the York General District Court Judge since 1990. After graduating from Marshall-Wythe, he became a York County assistant Commonwealth's attorney and ran a private practice in civil law. Smiley has been in private practice for 30 years and was Holloway's law partner until he assumed his judgeship. Wood completed his undergraduate work at the College, earned his law degree from the University of Texas and was admitted to the bar in 1976.

READY FOR THE WEEKEND

Joyce Jones '81 was named by the Washington Post as the deputy editor of the newspaper's Weekend magazine. Previously, Jones was with the Orlando Sentinel and served as the associate editor of the Sentinel's Sunday magazine, Florida, for five years. During Jones' tenure Florida won several awards from the Sunday Magazine Editors Association and the American Association of Sunday and Feature Editors. Jones has also worked for The Mecklenburg Sun and the News & Record in Greensboro, N.C. and earned a master of arts degree in journalism from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1984.

MORSE NAMED INTERNATIONAL PKA PRESIDENT

F. Anderson Morse '79, senior vice president of the Riggs National Bank of Washington, D.C., was named international president of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity for 1994 to 1996. Morse founded the house corporation at William and Mary's Pi Kappa Alpha Chapter and has been instrumental in the creation of several scholarships for that organization.

on her first-grade class in Chesapeake. She has also recently completed her master's in education.

Still have lots of marriages to announce as well. Kathryn Lewis wed Jeff Buzzoni '91 on June 11 in the Wren Chapel. Kathryn is the assistant director of the program for the Exceptionally Gifted at Mary Baldwin College. Jeff is an assistant copy editor for the Michie Company. Pamela Schwartz Clark, Lona Carwile '92, and Christien Murawski '91 were all in the wedding party. Pam is a teacher in Chicago. Lona worked with Kathryn at Mary Baldwin until Lona recently began her master's in English at W&M. Christien is also back in the 'Burg.

Other guests at Kathryn and Jeff's wedding include Darin Bloomquist '91, Jack Cummings, Shelby Davis, Jennifer Dundas '92, Wendy Weichel '91, Jennifer Mobley '94, Jen Hockensmith '94, Yuri Lowenthal '93 (all the way from Japan), Pete Johnson '91, Jane Kotapish '93, and Andrew Zawacki '94.

Pamela Schwartz also attended the Lewis-Buzzoni nuptials, which were one week after her marriage to fellow Cincinnatian Peter Clark in Napa Valley, Calif. Pam works at the Beasley Academic Center of the Chicago public schools. Pete works for Dean Witter.

Laura Friedman wrote of her Oct. 1 marriage to Davie Wartel. Bridesmaids included Kathy Handron Brucknew '89 and Julie Shepherd Emery '89. Ody Granados '84 (who introduced the couple), Pete Cocolis, Brian Kroll, Kathleen Radford, Sandie Poteat Shofran, Jennifer Saunders Grossnickle, and Kathy Flinger all attended the ceremonies.

Laura wrote that Pete just finished dental school and is living in Charlottesville, Va. Brian earned his master's from University of Richmond and is living in Falls Church, Va. Sandie will finish her doctorate from N.C. State this spring. Kathy Flinger will be going back to school to earn her teaching certificate.

In addition to her own wedding, Laura was in Julie Shepherd Emery's ceremony in June and Kathy Handron Bruckner's marriage in July. Julie was married in Boston and is still teaching in Howard County. Kristin Kier '89 also served as a bridesmaid.

The Handron-Bruckner nuptials took place in Gloversville, N.Y. Kathy and her husband, John, are living in Midlothian, Va., where she teaches secondary English.

Laura also writes that she has spoken with Sara Seitz who is living outside Winston-Salem, N.C., and recruits for Wachovia Bank.

Laura and Dave are currently living in Saint John, Canada, for Dave's job. They hope to be moving back to the States this spring. Thanks for the update, Laura!

Lisa Flechner and Robert Salsberry married on July 9 in the Wren Chapel. Lisa is a senior C.P.A. at Shaeffer & Assoc. in Allentown, Pa. Robert is the assistant director of housing and residence life at Muhlenberg College.

Laurie Gentile and Clifton Bell wed on Aug. 6 in Newport News, Va. Laurie is working on her master's of special education at the College. Clifton is a hydrologist at the U.S. Geological Survey in Richmond.

Elisabeth Rogers married Andrew Flynn on July 9 in Richmond. Elisabeth started work in the Chesterfield County schools after receiving her master's from J.M.U.

Mary Pearson and Kevin Gremer celebrated their nuptials on June 18 in Richmond. Mary is a management recruiter with Signet Bank in Richmond.

Bridget Falls and Leroy Davis exchanged vows on May 7. The bride is a marketing director for Failes and Associates. The couple lives in Virginia Beach.

Holly Guest and Norman Jones '91 were married in the Wren Chapel on May 29. Holly is a corporate attorney for Hamilton Beach Proctor-Silex Inc. in Richmond. Norman is a plant technician at LG&E Westmoreland in Hopewell, Va.

Lane Schonour and Sara Jane Dressler '91 wed on July 30. Sara Jane works for the Fairfax County public schools. Lane works for Riggs National Bank.

Celia Klimock and Andrew Bavier exchanged vows on July 30 in Williamsburg. Celia works at the Center for Development Policy in Alexandria. Andrew attends the University of Arizona.

Amy Suzanne McCoy '92 and Christopher Bergstedt married on July 9, 1994. Amy works for the Virginia Beach public schools. Christopher is a U.S. Wildlife Officer.

Henry Wood and Angela Young married this fall. Angela is a C.P.A. with Young, Nicholas, Mills & Co. in Culpeper, Va. Henry is a C.P.A. with Drunagel, Johnson, Rutherford & Wilkins in Warrenton.

Christopher Wilson and Kimberly Ayres will wed in April. Would love to hear any details on the wedding. Please drop me a note.

Julie Gaydos dropped me a note from her hotel in Atlanta. Julie is working for the Orthotics and Prosthetics National Office in D.C. She is in charge of the Paralympics Initiative, which is sponsoring the 1996 Paralympics for the physically challenged athletes. Margret Harned '86 also works at the office. She and Julie continue their running tradition by jogging around D.C. after work.

While working in Atlanta, Julie had dinner with Mark Peters who is working for Georgia Pacific. She also keeps in touch with Deb Ansbacher who is still in London (reportedly missing her beau, Joe).

Louis and Kristine Long Nelson have moved to Newark, Del. Louis is back in school studying more architecture. Kristine has moved from the academic world to the corporate circle working for a credit card company.

Julie keeps busy teaching aerobics (she even met her boyfriend, Rob, at the gym!). She completed her first biathlon this spring. Unfortunately she was hit by a car while training on her bike. She survived that incident with only a few cuts and bruises, but two weeks later she was rear-ended by a drunk driver. That accident has left her with chronic pain despite much P.T. Julie says she's avoiding airplanes after her luck! Hope you feel better, and thanks for the update.

Former jump!-mate John Franklin dropped me a card from his home in northern Virginia. John has moved up from collecting graffiti on bathroom walls to working with the American Society for Training and Development. He previously worked as publications and advertising assistant for the American Statistical Association.

Living in Old Town Alexandria, John sometimes lunches with Jay Busbee, Jeanine Burgess Gilson, and hubby Joe. John's enjoying bachelor life living with the guys—what lengths to go to to avoid housecleaning!

Speaking of former jump! staffers, did anyone else catch Patton Oswalt '91 in the late-October episode of Seinfeld? He played a video store clerk who had to deal with an irate George. Hope to see more of Patton on the tube!

Class notes

Now for those who haven't been seen. Lt. James Vizzard and his Lodge 2 housemates are looking for Todd Federici who was last known to be in Somalia. If anyone knows the whereabouts of Todd, please write to James at HHB IAD Divarty, Unit 23705, Box 73, APO, AE 09034.

Other military news — Catherine Burkhardt was promoted to a Naval lieutenant this summer while serving at the Naval Legal Service Office in Treasure Island, San Francisco.

Thanks to all who have taken the time to write. Please note my address—I will not receive letters sent to any prior addresses. A good way to update me is to add my name to your holiday card list. Best wishes to everyone at this joyous time of year!

'92

Melissa Cales
4204 Sloan Square
Atlanta, GA 30329

Hi y'all! Another long-awaited edition of the 1992 Class Notes is here. I hope everyone who went had a blast at Homecoming last month. I was very disappointed I had to miss it, so I will have to rely on everyone else to drop me a line and let me know what went on. I did, however, manage to squeeze some time between classes, job interviews and law review staff requirements to dig up some interesting facts about a few of our classmates.

Cynthia Smerdzinski and Rachel Kalison sent me a postcard from their travels across Europe last summer. The pair managed to cover the continent, making stops in Paris, Munich, Nice, Prague and Florence, among other places. Cynthia had the summer off from her job teaching eighth-grade English, and Rachel had managed to take a month off from Ernst & Young in Atlanta.

SoYoung Lee is another alumnus carrying the W&M tradition across the globe. SoYoung works at the U.S. embassy in Seoul. She has managed to do a great job of keeping up with many of the W&M alumni in that part of the world. She wrote earlier this year to encourage anyone headed in her direction to contact her. Cuong Huynh '93 and Vanessa Estella '94 are among those who have visited SoYoung in the past year.

A number of people used their summer vacations to take their honeymoons. Among the summer weddings was that of Doug DiRuggiero and Karen McDade '94. Karen and Doug were married July 30 in Decatur, Ga. They are now living in Chapel Hill, N.C., where Doug works at the University of North Carolina School of Medicine doing research. Karen started her job as a high school math teacher in Chapel Hill this fall.

Cheryl Bowling and husband Andrew Cotsimopoulos live in nearby Greensboro, N.C. Cheryl and Andrew were married in September with fellow alums Karen Laslo and Nancy Hsu as members of the bridal party. Cheryl has been employed as the human resources administrator with Fuji Foods Inc. in Greensboro since September 1992.

David Faddis and Catherine Wittan '94 were married in the Wren Chapel in August. David is pursuing his Ph.D. in polymer science at the University of Akron in Ohio. Catherine works at Ohio Savings Bank in Akron.

Mike Fratantoni and Karen Broyles also took time off from their graduate studies to get married last summer. They were married June 18 in the Wren Chapel. Karen is still at the Eastern Virginia Medical School and Mike is at Johns Hopkins getting his Ph.D. in economics.

Lynn Tunnell and Derek Dickinson tied the knot recently. They were married in the Wren Chapel on August 6. (I think our class has had a monopoly on weddings in the Wren since graduation!) Lynn is in her second year of law school at Villanova and is on the staff of the Villanova Law Review. Derek is in his first year of law school.

A Williamsburg wedding not in the Wren Chapel: Danielle Desaulniers and William Shepherd were married June 26 at Bruton Parish and are now living in Hyde Park, N.Y.

Traci Meakem and Kevan Vanek '89 also took advantage of an alternative location. The couple was married in Bethesda, Md., in June. Traci started law school this fall at Boston University, and Kevan is attending the New England Conservatory. They both live in Boston.

Lori Stevens is also in Boston working as the assistant director of alumni relations and annual giving at Bentley College. I understand Lori gets to see a great deal of Becky Lampert '91, currently in her second year at Harvard Law School. Becky recently got engaged and is planning her wedding for next summer.

Tanya Renee Myers and Christopher Beck '93 are also planning their upcoming nuptials. The pair plan to be married next May. Tanya is currently at Indiana University pursuing her master's degree in chemistry but will work at Triangle Labs of Atlanta in Georgia following graduation. Christopher is a graduate student at the University of Georgia.

Catherine Sanderson is another fellow Georgia resident. She has spent many of the past several months juggling her job as a campaign coordinator for Jim Friday, a local congressional candidate, and her job as a mother. Catherine sent me a short note over the summer mentioning her baby boy, Austin, who was born January 31, 1993. Catherine also informed me that Larissa Korde started medical school this fall, and that Heather Picard, who is in Minnesota, was getting married sometime this fall.

Mac Duis and Sandy Small Duis also dropped me a quick note last summer to let me know that things were still going well for them as they approached their second anniversary in August. They are living in Muncie, Ind., while Sandy pursues her Ph.D. in school psychology at Ball State University, but hope to move closer to home to get permanent jobs. Mac, who got his master's in educational administration last year, is teaching history and coaching basketball at Hamilton Southeastern Junior High School just outside of Indianapolis.

James Miller has completed his post-graduate studies, too. James received his M.B.A. from the Darden School at U.Va. last May and is now employed as a financial officer with Bank One in Columbus, Ohio.

Ensign Stephen Kellam finished up his advanced studies graduating from Officer

Class notes

Indoctrination School in September.

Some of you have just made the plunge to return to school, and some plan to in the near future. I recently spoke to Dottie Foote who moved down to Atlanta in August. She is in her first year at Emory University's School of Public Health.

Kelly Plumley also started school again this fall. She is pursuing her M.B.A. at William and Mary's business school. Kelly lives with Deirdre Benel, who is in her second year of the M.B.A. program.

Also back in the 'Burg are Karen Wright and Matthew Brandon, who were named associate directors of alumni affairs for the Society of the Alumni last July. In addition to his administrative duties, Matt will serve as the Society's liaison to the Young Guard Council, and Karen includes organizing home football game tailgaters among her responsibilities.

Many of the people I have managed to keep up with live nearby in Richmond. Jeff Davis is surviving his first year of dental school at MCV. He especially enjoyed his introductory course in gross anatomy in August.

Jenny Shepherd and Mary McKee '93 are also living in Richmond. Jenny works in the sales and marketing department of the Valentine Museum, where she coordinates on-site events. Mary works at the Richmond Children's Museum.

Another hot spot for W&M grads is, of course, Washington D.C. Kat Reis sent me a short note giving me the run down on some of her fellow Washingtonians. Kat is currently pursuing her interest in art as an intern at The Phillips Collection. She told me that Tara Greco is also in the D.C. area. Tara works in the community relations department of the Washington Bullets, coordinating player appearances among other duties. While managing a player appearance at the White House, Tara ran into Karin Abramson who coordinates the White House internship program.

Sarah Bikofsky is also in the district. Sarah is in her third year of law school at American University. She and Andy Sugarman '93 got engaged earlier this year.

On a totally different subject, for all of you who have been getting those pesky little reminders of class gift pledges and who have wondered how things are progressing on that front, Laura Flippin gave me an update earlier in the fall. So far, we have actually collected $25,000 of the over $60,000 pledged, which has funded the gift to the career services center and part of the amount allocated to the library. Once the library gift has been fully funded the remaining dollars collected will be used to fund the landscaping project near the new University Center. I will try to keep everyone updated on the progress of the gift in future Class Notes. By the way, if you never got around to pledging during our senior year, you can still make donations to the gift. Just contact W&M's development office at 804/221-1006 to get details.

Another good cause to consider donating money to is a recent scholarship fund that has been established in memory of two fellow alumni, John Davis and Douglas Williams '85. The alumni of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity have established the fund in coordination with the Fourth Annual Lambda Chi Alpha Golf Tournament, which will be held in August 1995 at Ford's Colony. Proceeds from the tournament will benefit the scholarship fund. For more information about the golf tournament or about making a contribution to the scholarship fund, contact Eric Weber, Event Chairman, 425 E. 65th Street, Apt. 11, New York, NY 10022; W: 212/949-1344, H: 212/249-8838, or make a check payable to the Endowment Association of the College of W&M, c/o John Davis/Doug Williams Fund, and mail it to the Endowment Association, P.O. Box 1693, Williamsburg, VA 23187-1693.

'94

Terese M. Wilcox
1207 Scotland Terrace
Newport News, VA 23606-2832

Hopefully you all made it to your first Homecoming as alumni. I tried to see as many people as possible so that I could get the real "skinny" on the Class of 1994.

I received several letters over the past month or so and want to thank everyone for keeping in touch with me. Please keep the news coming!

2nd Lt. Matt Fine sent a lengthy letter filled with information about many of you. Matt writes from Fort Benning, Ga., where he is serving as a newly commissioned officer in the United States Army. Joining Matt as second lieutenants in the U.S. Army are Heather Miller, currently stationed in Germany; Kirby Brendsel, at Military Intelligence School in Fort Huachuca, Ariz.; and Julie Williams, at Ford Gordan Signal Corps School.

Marcus Snow is at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., in engineering school and engaged to be married to Amanda Perkins in December. They will reside in Germany where Marcus will be stationed. Other W&M grads serving as second lieutenants are Steve Rosenkranz, at Field Artillery school in Fort Sill, Okla. (scheduled to be stationed at Fort Hood, Texas, this February), and Matt Abbruzzese, Brian Bailey and Matt Fine, who are in the Infantry School in Fort Benning, aspiring to become airborne rangers within the next couple of months or so. Abbruzzese will be stationed in Germany, Brian in Korea, and Fine in Fort Campbell, Ky.

More from Matt: Steve Mahoney now studies for his graduate degree in chemistry at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Rob Peace is at Notre Dame working toward a graduate degree in religion. John Diehl works in Sterling, Va., with an environmental science firm, and Sky Cline has settled in the far-off land of Guinea, West Africa, to work for a mission there. Leila Emmanuel is studying for a graduate degree in public policy, and Abby Smith is working toward a graduate degree in hospital administration at UNC-Chapel Hill. Jean Rowe Woods is in law school at the University of Georgia, and Steve Boyd is working toward his physics graduate degree at Old Dominion University in Norfolk. Thanks for the update, Matt.

Lisa Kahle is having a great time. She is attending the Chase School of Law at the University of Northern Kentucky. She recently celebrated her brother's wedding as maid of honor. She also enjoys being just 30 minutes from her new home in Loveland, Ohio. I've seen a lot of Anastasia Makris. She's here in Newport News working for General Medical Corporation in its purchasing department. She really likes it so far. Anastasia tells me John "Chuckie" Evans and Frank Marcoccio are living and working in Breckenridge, Colo., and waiting for the ski season.

I also understand that Michelle Fadely is teaching sixth grade in Edinburg, Va., Jen Greeson is working for a marketing firm in Washington, D.C., and Kyllie Spencer has been truckin' in Washington, D.C. She's working for American Truckers lobbying firm. J.J. Kovak has started veterinary school in Boston and really enjoys it.

Courtney Travis is working for ... is it Nationwide Insurance in Richmond? And, I'm wondering how you are doing, Courtney. How about you Ryan Kouster?

On Aug. 20, Chris Greenwell left to serve in the Peace Corps for two years in Madagascar. Sara Gottlieb wrote and said she's working on a doctorate in biological oceanography at the University of Maryland with a Sea Grant Fellowship. She has recently become engaged to another doctoral student in the electric engineering program at the University of Maryland. To answer your question, Sara, I get all my news from people who write to keep me informed. So, keep the news coming!

Whitney Kuwahara sent news of herself and some other classmates. She now interns at the American embassy in Paris and will be there until January. Dar Shey works for Arthur Andersen in Washington, D.C. Julie Lasso also works in D.C. She trekked across the country after graduation. What are you doing in D.C., Julie? Rachel Newton has the ideal educational environment as she studies medicine in Hawaii. Mike Gyr is in law school at the University of Texas-Austin. Ryan Roberge sailed around the Atlantic near Maine on the Stephan Taber, one of the oldest windjammers in New England. Whitney, thanks for the news.

Tracy Barrett was awarded a graduate associateship at Ohio State University in the department of East Asian languages and literatures for 1994-95. Congrats and good luck!

I received a letter from SoYoung Lee '92 with news of some classmates in Seoul. Among the many alumni she sent news of were a few classmates from '94. So's brother Ho-Seung Lee is home in Seoul working with his father. Kelly Overmayer is also in Seoul as her father works at the U.S. embassy there. She has been teaching English at a private institute. She also saw Chong A. Daley and recognized that she expects to see many other William and Mary alumni while enjoying visits from classmates like Vanessa Estella. So encourages all of you to travel to Seoul if you have the opportunity before the 600th birthday celebration of Seoul concludes.

Back in the United States, Melissa Preston is interning with the Old Bridge Observer as a part of her goal to become a foreign correspondent in Russia. Ashley Harwell works in Va. Gov. George Allen's office. She plans to go to law school at U.Va.

Catherine Clifford continues to enjoy her position in D.C., with Chapel Hill's congressman, David Price. Rhonda Barksdale is studying as a grad student for a master of arts degree at the College. She received full tuition and a stipend for this academic year. In her efforts as a student, she is also working as a graduate assistant. Rhonda plans to attend medical school upon completion of the program in August 1995.

Laura Eubank was inducted into Gold Key National Honor Society. This honor recognizes her as ranking in the top 15 percent of the class of '94.

On to weddings and engagements. And believe me, the list is impressive. Kerry Ryan and Billy Bryant were married on Aug. 5. Billy is now in grad school at W&M and they are living in Williamsburg. Donnetta Haskell is engaged to Roger Philman Lawyer II '93. Their Wren Chapel wedding is scheduled for June 24, 1995. Donnetta works for the department of medical assistance services with the Commonwealth of Virginia, and Roger teaches in the Trenton school system. Belinda Evans and Sam Paul Cohen M.B.A. '93 married on Aug. 5. Belinda is now in the graduate school of education at the College and Sam is employed as an engineer at Newport News Shipbuilding.

Jennifer Bocrle married Joseph Seal on Sept. 17. Jennifer now works at Jones, Blechman, Woltz & Kelly, P.C., while her husband serves as a law enforcement specialist in the Air Force. They reside in York County, Va. Katherine McBryde Pearson and Steven Wright married on Aug. 13. Katherine is employed by Coopers & Lybrand in Norfolk. They reside in Chesapeake.

Susan Ritenour and Scott Barker were married on June 4. They both attend graduate school at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Mich. Erlita Caimol and Jeffrey Shively were married on June 18. Erlita is an accountant in Washington, D.C., and her husband works with the Henley Park Hotel. He is a graduate of Northwestern and the Culinary Institute of America.

Amalia Guzman and Dale Castle were married on July 23. They now live in Chapel Hill where Dale is employed as a computer consultant at the University of North Carolina. Shannon Miller and Thomas Pope were married on June 25. They now attend Eastern Virginia Medical school and live in Norfolk.

Janice Sanford and Samuel George were married on May 28. Samuel is employed by EM&R of Richmond and the two reside in Colonial Heights. Jill Glover and Andrew Bauserman III '91, M.Ed. '94 were married on May 22 at the Wren Chapel. Jill works as a faculty secretary in the education school at W&M and her husband, Andrew, is a physics teacher at Hampton Roads Academy in Newport News.

Ashley Wittan and Dave Faddis '92 were married on Aug. 7 at the Wren Chapel. The two reside in Akron, Ohio, where Ashley is employed by Ohio Savings bank, and Dave works toward his doctorate in polymer science at the University of Akron. Edgar Wade Whitehead and Robbie Laura Gibson were married on June 18. The two reside in Williamsburg where Mrs. Whitehead is employed by Marriott Management Services. Congratulations to you all and best wishes!

I am still really loving my job with Ferguson Enterprises, and have realized via e-mail that Matt Behnke is employed as a management trainee for Ferguson. Are there any other '94 grads at Ferguson? I find myself traveling a lot on the weekends and rarely have a dull moment here in Newport News, believe it or not! I have never been happier in my life and look forward to the new challenges that face me each day.

All of you, please keep me updated on your lives and successes. Have a safe and happy holiday season and good luck with everything.

FILLING A TALL ORDER

Heidi Campbell-Robinson '78 is the new executive director for the Michael Jordan Foundation of the Carolinas, a non-profit organization devoted to children's causes. After graduating from the College, Campbell-Robinson earned a master of theology degree from Duke University. As a certified psychotherapist and ordained minister, Campbell-Robinson has 11 years experience in the non-profit sector. Recently she worked with the United Methodist Church specializing in counseling, community relations and organizational management. Her previous experience includes positions on the staffs of Virginia Senator John Warner and the U.S. Embassy in Bonn, Germany.

APPLYING PUBLIC POLICY IN THE BURG

Phil Rodenberg M.A. '94 has been named assistant to the city manager of Williamsburg from a pool of 26 candidates. His new duties will include preparing recommendations for the City Council and assisting with council goals. In addition, Rodenberg will serve as the city's liaison to the General Assembly, will write resolutions and ordinances and will represent the city manager at committee meetings and other functions.

Rodenberg formerly worked in Washington, D.C., as a lobbyist for a trade association and a committee staffer in the House of Representatives. After receiving his master's in public policy, Rodenberg interned with the city and helped install a city-wide performance measurement system and wrote the City Council Policy and Procedures Manual.

ROWLING HONORED AS MAGISTRATE

Susan V. Rowling '84 was presented with the Personal Achievement Award at the Virginia Fall Magistrate's Conference. This honor is presented annually to the magistrate in Virginia in recognition and appreciation for contributions and achievements during the year. Rowling has served as a magistrate for the city of Chesapeake for nine years. The Virginia Magistrate system has 465 magistrates, who serve as impartial officers by issuing warrants and setting bonds on individuals who have been charged.

SIX ELECTED AS TRUSTEES TO ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION

This year four alumni and two friends of the College were elected as trustees to the Endowment Association. Elected to two-year terms are: William C. Allison '53, Ming E. Chang '55, Kay Rouse Lark '76, Betty Shabazz, Robert F. Sharpe Sr. and Olinda Elliott Simon '63.

William C. Allison '53 retired in 1990 as manager of the Boston office and senior vice president of Aubrey G. Lanston & Co., specialists in U.S. government and agency securities. While a student, Allison was a member of the French Club, the track team, the Philosophy Club, and the Political Science Club. He also was the president of Pi Kappa Alpha and a member of the Interfraternity Council. Allison served as president of the Boston Alumni Chapter for several years and was regional chairman during the Campaign for the College. He also has served as a class agent. Allison and his wife, Barbara '53, have four children, including Karen '86. The Allisons have established the William C. and Barbara B. Allison Library Endowment at the College.

Ming E. Chang '56 was inspector general of the Department of the Navy prior to his retirement. When he was given command of the frigate U.S.S. Rathburne in 1972, Admiral Chang was believed to be the first Asian-American naval officer of naturalized U.S. citizenship to become skipper of a major U.S. warship. While a student at the College, Chang was a member of the Choir, the Honor Council, Lambda Chi Alpha, and the Baptist Student Union. Chang and his wife, Charlotte, have two children. Chang is a member of the Order of the White Jacket.

Since 1984, Kay Rouse Lark '76 has been personal assistant to actress Glenn Close '74. As an undergraduate, she was a member of Kappa Delta, Circle K, the Backdrop Club, and William

Marriages

Carol Randolph Gramer '76 and John Albert Belmonte, Jan. 1, 1994.
Pattie Jean Brockwell '79 and Stephen Joseph Jesus, July 17, 1994.
Elizabeth Anne Bailey '80 and Gregory Allen Bramham, May 29, 1994.
Virginia Frances Kirby '80 and Thomas Pollock, Nov. 6, 1993.
Ellyn Bain Pearson '82 and Robert Bradley Mullis, Aug. 13, 1994.
Angela Paige Huffman '83 and James Malcolm Stewart, Aug. 27, 1994.
Susan Gayle Blake '85 and Scott Alan Beller, Aug. 7, 1994.
Douglas Ralph Updegrove '85 and Jennifer Lynne Beale, June 25, 1994.
Catherine Leslie Crosswhite '86 and Scott Hayes Richter '86, Sept. 10, 1994.
Rebecca June Architzel '88 and James A. Cutler, Aug. 24, 1994.
Richard Adam Beck Jr. '88 and Maureen Elizabeth Fuller, June 25, 1994.
Bill H Crawford IV '88 and Elizabeth Adams Steele, Aug. 6, 1994.
Lisa Beth Flechner '90 and Robert Scott Salsberry '90, July 9, 1994.
Laurie Ann Gentile '90 and Clifton Forbes Bell '90, Aug. 6, 1994.
Holly Joy Guest '90 and Norman Andrew Jones '91, May 29, 1994.
Celia Veronica Klimock '90 and Andrew Charles Bavier '90, July 30, 1994.
Kathryn Marie Lewis '90 and Jeffrey Alan Buzzoni '91, June 11, 1994.
Sarah Jane Dressler '91 and Phillip Lane Schonour '90, July 30, 1994.
Mona Dee Hargrove '91 and Bryan Douglas Foster '93, Sept. 13, 1994.
Stephanie Christine Braxton '91 and Carl Edward Peoples '88, June 1994.
David Fox Roose '91 and Amy Sigman, July 2, 1994.
Kimberly Ann Apollony '92 and Gian Paolo Cappuzzo, Aug. 21, 1994.
Sharon Doreen Atha '92 and Matthew Glenn Williams '91, April 23, 1994.
Cheryl Ann Bowling '92 and Andrew T. Cotsimopoulos, Sept. 17, 1994.
Karen Ruth Broyles '92 and Michael Charles Fratantoni '92, June 18, 1994.
Amy Suzanne McCoy '92 and Christopher D. Bergstedt, July 9, 1994.
John Ballard Syer Jr. '92 MBA and Elizabeth Diane Vaughan, Sept. 24, 1994.
Lynn Burton Tunnell '92 and Derek Ward Dickinson '92, Sept. 13, 1994.
Mary Carol Fleming '93 and Timothy Archer Beatty, July 30, 1994.
Kimberly Lynn McInnis '93 and Tyrone Kaprice Shelton '90, July 2, 1994.
Kecia Mincey, MAEd '93 and Christopher Charles Greene, Aug. 6, 1994.
Carrie Elizabeth Pauley '93 and Gary Richard Kirk, Aug. 20, 1994.
L. Monique Pittman, MA '93 and Paul D. Smith Jr., June 12, 1994.
Constance Lynn Wise '93 and Michael Kenneth Masella '93, July 2, 1994.
Jennifer Renee Boeric '94 and Joseph Edward Seal, Sept. 17, 1994.
Lois Valerie Dick '94 M.A.Ed. and Mark Preston Ballman, Aug. 6, 1994.
Belinda Kaye Evans '94 and Sam Paul Cohen '93, Aug. 5, 1994.
Katherine McBryde Pearson '94 and Steven Paul Wright, Aug. 13, 1994.
Susan Lynn Ritenour '94 and Scott Barker, June 4, 1994.
Kerry Lynn Ryan '94 and William Stephen Bryant '94, Aug. 5, 1994.
Robert Charles Scott '94 and Laura Eileen Hall, Aug. 6, 1994.
Catherine Ashley Wittan '94 and David Brian Faddis '92, Aug. 7, 1994.

Births

TO: David N. Bottoms Jr. '61, second child, first son, Elliott Maxwell, May 1, 1994.
TO: Michael B. Chesson '69, second child, first daughter, Virginia Woodward, Aug. 9, 1994.
TO: Thomas Edward Doughty '70, '73 J.D., first child, a son, Thomas Edward Jr., March 6, 1994.
TO: Scott Randall Liddle '70, first child, a son, William Alexander, Feb. 25, 1993.
TO: Linda Etheridge Mendenhall '72, first child, a daughter, Laura Deane, Aug. 9, 1994.
TO: Donald A. Purdy Jr. '73, first child, a daughter, Alexandra Jane, June 30, 1994.
TO: Willie Patterson Sordillo '73, first child, a daughter, Nina Louise, Aug. 25, 1994.
TO: Mallory Davis Horbal '76 and Steven Alan Horbal '75, second child, second son, James Wythe, March 29, 1994.
TO: Vanessa Popa Nordlund '76, first child, a son, Zachary Michael, Feb. 19, 1994.
TO: Jane Hartsfield Seelaus '77, second child, second son, Jeffrey Paul, April 29, 1994.
TO: Jonathan Samuel Horovitz '79, second child, second daughter, Megan Dowd, Dec. 13, 1992.
TO: Virginia Harvey Martin '80, first child, a son, Samuel Wells, May 30, 1993.
TO: Margaret Willson Stubbs '80, third child, second son, Sean Prentis, May 26, 1994.
TO: Ellen Hopper Allen '81 and Robert Shaw Allen Jr. '81, first children, twins, Elizabeth Anne and Daniel James, Sept. 2, 1994.
TO: Sharon Bowen Grogan '81 and David E. Grogan '81, second child, second daughter, Chelsea McClain, Nov. 24, 1992.
TO: Janet Gaudlitz Perowski '81 and Kevin John Perowski '81, first child, a son, Scott Kevin, June 2, 1994.
TO: Catherine Winter Gray '82, first child, a son, Carter Standish, Aug. 28, 1994.
TO: Jeb Jeutter '82, second child, second daughter, Kathryn Bailey, Aug. 30, 1994.
TO: Margaret Maher Krause '82, first child, a son, Matthew Lincoln, Aug. 9, 1994.
TO: Paula Fehnel Moore '82, second child, first son, Andrew, Feb. 19, 1994.
TO: Mary Manson Sweigart '82, '84 M.A., second child, second son, Aug. 15, 1994.
TO: Donna Duka Hurwitt '83 and Frederick Steven Hurwitt '83, second child, first daughter, Mary Amanda, July 20, 1994.
TO: Sherri Sell Phillips '83 and Howard Lee "Bud" Phillips III '82, second child, second daughter, Alexandra Grace, July 30, 1994.
TO: Diane Hoekstra Tuttle '84 and Steven Ashley Tuttle '83, first child, a daughter, Grace Meredith, Oct. 7, 1992.
TO: Kelly Lawler Cleary '85, second child, second daughter, Summers Berneice, June 11, 1994.
TO: Mary Ryland Healy '85 and Terence William Healy '85, first child, a daughter, Rachel Kay, March 22, 1994.
TO: Marcie Harrison Mattis '85 and Marlon Mattis '85, first child, a son, Samuel

Vital statistics

Harrison, March 19, 1994.

TO: Joan Folzenlogen Peterson '85 and Paul Eric Peterson '85, second child, second daughter, Heidi Suzannah, Jan. 1, 1994.
TO: Robert Scott Ukrop '85, second child, first son, Edward Berkeley, Aug. 27, 1994.
TO: Rebecca Barnes Theuer '86 and Stephen Richard Theuer '86 third child, first son, William Alexander, Aug. 25, 1994.
TO: Jane Garrett Briggs '88, first child, a daughter, Mary Fairbank, Jan. 31, 1994.
TO: Carol Haynie Cummings '92 and Michael W. Cummings '93, first child, a daughter, Taylor Anne, June 2, 1994.

Obituaries

HENRY HARRISON SIMMS '17 of Orange, Va., died Sept. 23, 1994. He had a long career in education, having spent 37 years at Ohio State University after teaching for two years at Washington and Lee University. He was a visiting professor in various universities, including Virginia, Southern California and South Carolina, and was employed by the War Department for 15 months during World War II as chief of the training section of the domestic historical branch of the Army Air Forces. His specialty in history led him to belong to a number of historical organizations, among them the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, The Southern Historical Association and the Virginia Historical Society, as well as the Orange County Historical Society. He wrote several books and articles dealing with the theme of North-South sectionalism. Among his books are The Life of John Taylor: The Story of a Brilliant Leader in the Early Virginia States Rights Schools and A Decade of Sectional Controversy, 1851-1861. He was a lifetime member of Macedonia Christian Church in Orange County. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of William and Mary, he belonged to the Audubon Society, the Phoenix Literary Society, the Men's Honor Council and the Student Association. In 1921, he earned a master's degree from the University of Virginia and, in 1929, a doctoral degree from Columbia University. He served briefly during World War I, rising to the rank of master sergeant. Surviving are a niece and three nephews.

MAY KING RALEY '23 of Suffolk, died Sept. 4, 1994. She taught languages in Suffolk High School for several years. A member of Oxford United Methodist Church, she was the matriarch of the only family on the James River in Isle of Wight County still retaining original land granted before 1650. She is survived by two daughters, including Martha Railey Mundy '62, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

HELEN GOODWYN YOUNG '27 of Henderson, N.C., died July 31, 1994. She was active in the Church of the Holy Innocents, the Episcopal Church Women, Old Bute Chapter of Daughters of The American Revolution and United Daughters of The Confederacy. Survivors include two sons, a daughter, eight grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

NORMAN HUFF JOHNSON JR. '28 of New York City, died July 30, 1994. As an undergraduate, he joined Kappa Alpha fraternity and played tennis.

OSCAR BURCH '29 of Robersonville, N.C., died Nov. 9, 1992. He was a retired president of Southeastern Tobacco Company. Surviving are a son, a daughter, four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

DOROTHY GLENN SHOOK '30 of Las Cruces, N.M., died Nov. 2, 1993. She was a retired secondary schoolteacher. Among survivors are a daughter and several grandchildren.

CLARENCE WALDO JOHNSTON '31, '38 M.A. of Indiana, Pa., died July 29, 1994. Prior to his retirement, he had been employed as an elementary principal in the Indiana Area School District. He was a member of Graystone Presbyterian Church, and a life member of Pollock Lodge 502 F. & A.M. of Tarentum (Pa.), Coudersport Consistory, PSEA, AARP and a former member of the Kiwanis Club of Indiana. During his undergraduate years, he belonged to Beta Gamma Sigma business fraternity and joined the track team. While earning his master's degree at the College, he helped recruit football players. He is survived by his wife, Catherine Sample Johnston '31, a son, a daughter and five grandchildren.

ARTHUR HOUSE STAINBACK '32 of Asheville, N.C., died Sept. 28, 1994. He established the Florida Baptist Theological College in Graceville, Fla. He was associated with Hartford Theological Seminary and New Brunswick Seminary, and was the author of the Dictionary of Illustrations & Outlines. He was member of Alpha Kappa Delta sociology fraternity at William and Mary, and he earned a master's degree from New York University in 1950. Among survivors is his wife, Jean LeRoy Stainback '32.

ALICE EDWARDS HALL '33 of Newark, Del., died Sept. 10, 1994. A homemaker for many years, she was also program director of the Newark YWCA from 1959 to 1967. In addition, she established a series of classes and art exhibits by local artists. She belonged to the American Association of University Women and the National Society of Colonial Dames of America, the Daughters of Colonial Wars and St. Thomas Episcopal Church, where she was co-chairwoman of the annual antique show for several years. She was the former president of Newark Elementary School Parent-Teachers Association and also district coordinator of Wilmington Area Girl Scouts Council in the late 1950s. While at the College, she joined Chi Omega sorority. Two daughters and four grandchildren survive her.

RUTH BUTT BRUNO '35 of Virginia Beach, died Sept. 7, 1994. She was a retired schoolteacher for the City of Norfolk. She was a member of St. Gregory's Catholic Church in Virginia Beach, and a former member of the Junior Womens Club of Norfolk. Surviving are five daughters, three sons, 15 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

VIRGINIA WILLIFORD BRUNER '36 of Richmond, died Sept. 14, 1994. A member of First Baptist Church, she was a homemaker for many years. She is survived by a son, a grandchild and four brothers.

SARA HUNT SHIELDS '37 of Poquoson, Va., died Oct. 21, 1993. She was a retired schoolteacher for the Hampton school system. Among survivors are her husband, Jerry Shields '37, a son and a daughter.

OSSIE LANFORD TIPTON '37 of Roanoke, died Aug. 29, 1994. She served in public education in Virginia for 43 years and retired as supervisor of elementary education with the Prince William County school system. She was a member of Grace United Methodist Church in Manassas. While at William and Mary she was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma. She is survived by a daughter, two grandchildren, two great-grandchildren.

Vital statistics

dren, a brother and two sisters, including Carrie B. Lanford '31.

WILLIAM METCALFE MURRAY '38 of Orange, Va., died Aug. 12, 1994. He was a retired dentist and a Navy veteran of World War II, where he was a lieutenant commander in the 7th Marine Division. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the College, he also ran track, participated in W&M Theater and joined the Botetourt Biological Society. In 1941, he earned his D.D.S. degree from the Medical College of Virginia, graduating first in his class. Survivors include his wife, Grace, two sons, two daughters, a brother, six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

WYNNE ALLEN STEVENS JR. '39 of Lively, Va., died Sept. 5, 1994. He was a retired Navy captain who taught at the National War College. Having enlisted in the Navy following his graduation, he was assigned to sea duty in 1942 and, during the next three years, participated in amphibious assaults in North Africa, Sicily, southern France, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. He also commanded a destroyer during the Korean War and a guided missile cruiser during the Vietnam War. His last duty station was in the Washington area, where he was assigned to the National War College. In 1949, he earned a law degree from George Washington University. At William and Mary, he belonged to Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Surviving are his wife, Phyllis Hornsby Stevens '39, a son and a daughter.

CARLTON SCARBOROUGH STUBLEN JR. '39 of Portsmouth, died Sept. 7, 1994. He worked for Sears Roebuck & Co. as a division manager. As a William and Mary student, he was a member of the Economics Club, the Men's Honor Council, the international relations club and the Asia House. He also played tennis and joined Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

WILLARD HUGHES MARABLE '42 of Norfolk, died Sept. 21, 1994. A retired CPA, he was an owner/partner in Craven Green & Co. A member of Park Place United Methodist Church, he also belonged to the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and was a former member of Virginia Club and the Norfolk Optimist Club. As an undergraduate, he was active in the anthropology club and played tennis. He also joined Kappa Sigma fraternity. Survivors include his wife, Dorothy, two daughters, a son and five grandchildren.

PAUL deSCHWEINITZ COUCH '43 of Winston-Salem, N.C., died July 24, 1994. He was a retired Moravian minister, having graduated from the Moravian Theological Seminary in 1952 and serving Moravian churches in Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania. Prior to entering the ministry, he served with the Finance Corps of the U.S. Army during World War II and also was employed by the Western Electric Co. in Chicago and Allentown, Pa. A member of the 1940-41 cross country track team at William and Mary, he also belonged to Kappa Alpha fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa. In addition, he participated in W&M Theater and was a class officer. He is survived by his wife, Marian, three daughters, two sons, four grandchildren, two brothers and one sister.

JOHN EUGENE KIDD SR. '43 of Nashville, Tenn., died March 3, 1994. A retired hospital administrator, he was president emeritus of the Baptist Hospital in Nashville, having served as president of the facility from 1970 to 1982. In that position, he oversaw the growth of the hospital to middle Tennessee's largest health care facility. As president emeritus, he oversaw a $50 million expansion and modernization program. In 1984, a new wing of the hospital was named the Gene Kidd Building in his honor. During World War II, he served in administrative capacities at various military hospitals as a U.S. Air Force Captain. Subsequently, he served as administrator of Phoebe-Putney Memorial Hospital in Albany, Ga., for eight years before joining the staff of Baptist Hospital. A past chairman of the American College of Hospital Administrators, he also served as president of the Georgia Hospital Association, the Southeastern Hospital Conference and the Tennessee Hospital Association, where he received a distinguished service award. Named to Who's Who in the South, he was also a former vice president of the Tennessee Baptist Convention. Among survivors are his wife, Marilyn, a daughter and a brother, William Casper Kidd '50.

HELEN FOSTER HUDGINS '44 of Gloucester, Va., died Aug. 29, 1994. As an Air Force wife, she devoted numerous hours to volunteer work with the American Red Cross as well as many other charities. She was an active participant in the Langley Officers' Wives Club and an avid supporter of the Gloucester Animal Shelter. While at the College, she joined the Asia House. Surviving are two sons and three grandchildren.

PEGGY EDWARDS LONG '46 of Jacksonville, Fla., died Sept. 7, 1994. A member of St. John's Episcopal Church and St. Ann's Guild of the church, she also was a member of the Hampton Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, the Hampton Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Colonial Dames of XVI Century, the Pembroke Garden Club, the Hampton Historical Society and the Bracket Club. Survivors include three sons, a daughter, seven grandchildren and an aunt.

BEVERLY HORNER BIGELOW '49 of Norwich, Vt., died Aug. 18, 1994. She was a homemaker for many years. During her William and Mary years, she belonged to Beta Gamma Sigma business fraternity, the Canterbury Club, the German Club, Pi Beta Phi sorority and the Backdrop Club. She also joined the swim team. Among survivors is her husband, Frederick.

CLARENCE EMORY CLARKE JR. '49 of Stony Creek, Va., died Sept. 22, 1994. He retired in 1982 as fleet salesman for International Harvester's motor truck division. During World War II, he served in the Marine Corps. At William and Mary, he belonged to Kappa Sigma fraternity. Surviving are his wife, Jean McCreight Clarke '47, a son, Carlton Stuart Clarke '72, two grandchildren, a brother and his mother.

MARTHA ANNE WILLIAMSON HALL '49 of Fincastle, Va., died Jan. 1, 1994. She was an elementary schoolteacher and reading specialist for several years in California, Guam and Taiwan. Upon retirement from teaching in 1983, she supervised student teachers at Fresno State University in Fresno, California until 1989. A member of the Episcopal Church, she was an active participant in Daughters of the King. As a College student, she joined the Canterbury Club, the Panhellenic Council, the YMCA and Gamma Phi Beta sorority. She is survived by her husband, Waverly Dean Hall '49, a daughter, a son, five grandchildren and a brother, John Taylor Williamson '50.

ALVIA EDISON TATE JR. '51 of Chesterfield, Va., died Sept. 10, 1994. He was the retired chairman of A.E. Tate Lumber Co., Inc. A veteran of the Korean War, he was a member of Bon Air Baptist Church, the South Richmond Rotary Club, a life member of the Chesterfield Jaycees and a member of the South Richmond Civitan Club. Survivors include his wife, Inez, four daughters, two sons and eleven grandchildren.

GEORGE WELDON PRICE JR. '56 of Portsmouth, died Sept. 12, 1994. A highly decorated veteran of the Vietnam Conflict, he was retired from the U.S. Army as a major. He was also retired from the St. Julien's Creek Ammunition Depot as a statistician, and had most recently worked at Coleman's Nursery. A former member of the Churchland Lions Club, he was a member of the Church of the Resurrection. As an undergraduate, he joined the anthropology club, the pep club and the Society of Scabbard & Blade. He also participated in intramurals, was active in R.O.T.C. and belonged to Kappa Alpha fraternity. Surviving are his wife, Mary Bisese Price '58, two daughters, three sons, his stepmother, two sisters, a brother, four grandchildren and two stepgrandchildren.

DONALD CARLYLE HALL '66 of Flushing, N.Y., died Sept. 19, 1994. At the time of his death, he was a teacher at The Windsor School in Flushing. From 1970-72, he was an English teacher at Christchurch School in Saluda, Va., and was named director of development in 1972. He also was director of alumni affairs and public relations. In 1972, the senior class at Christchurch dedicated The Tides, the school yearbook, to him. While at the College, he participated in Circle K and the student association. He also wrote for the Colonial Echo. Survivors include a sister and a brother.

SALLY FOSTER CROUCH '77 of Westport, Conn., died July 26, 1994. At the time of her death, she was president of SFC Enterprises, a consulting firm, and partner in Take 2 Entertainment, Inc., a company specializing in entertainment events. Before starting her own business, she worked for Bowery Savings Bank, General Foods and M&M Mars. While at William and Mary, she was a member of the Chorus and Choir, Delta Omicron and Sinfonicon, performing the "Ruddigore." She also was a soloist at Williamsburg Presbyterian Church and was house president of Delta Delta Delta sorority. As the owner of the historic Wright House in Westport, she helped revive the Wright Street Association and became its president. In that role she worked to preserve the integrity of her neighborhood in the face of commercial encroachment and to create harmony between the sometimes conflicting interests of the historic district and the larger community. She is survived by her parents, two brothers and a nephew.

RICHARD EDWARD POWELL JR. '86 of Newark, N.J., died Aug. 29, 1994. At the time of his death, he was a doctoral candidate and instructor at the University of Delaware, where he also earned a master's degree. He had a special interest in 18th century transportation. Among survivors are his parents, two sisters and his grandmother.

KATHLEEN RIPLEY M.Ed. '61 of Virginia Beach, died Sept. 24, 1994. Her career with Norfolk public schools began in 1956 and, the next year, she worked with the Norfolk Educational TV Experiment. In 1971, she wrote the Title Three Grant that created the "Talented Pupil Programs" and held positions as consultant, supervisor, senior coordinator and principal of the Stuart Gifted Center. After graduating from Northwestern University with a degree in speech and theatre in 1953, she entertained U.S. troops with the Armed Forces Special Services in France and Germany. She was one of the founding members of the National Association of Gifted Children, holding leadership roles at both the state and local levels. Also, she was one of the founding members and past chair of the Southeastern Virginia Council of Coordination of the Gifted, one of the founding members and past chair of the Tidewater Governor's School for the Performing Arts, a member of the Norfolk Gifted Advisory Council from 1971 to 1994, and a member of the Virginia Sigma Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, International Organization for Women in Education. Survivors include a daughter, Monique Leigh Thomas '85, a son and a brother.

JAMES WILLIAM HORNE III M.Ed. '62 of Hampton, died Sept. 24, 1994. He retired after teaching 30 years in the York County and Hampton city public schools. For many years, he worked as a volunteer at Sentara Hampton General Hospital and was an active member of the Hardy Fern Foundation as well as the Unity Church of Tidewater. In 1953, he earned a bachelor's degree from Virginia Military Institute. Among survivors are five first cousins and his companion, Andreas Dellis.

Tribe Classified

Vacation rentals

CONDO NEAR EVERYTHING. Campus vicinity. Fully equipped. Privacy suite plus 2 BR/DW/AC/TV/cable/phone/fireplace/balcony/pool/tennis. 2 baths. Sleeps 7. Alumni discount. 410/266/8523.

FLORIDA KEYS CONDO. 2 BR, 2-1/2 baths, pool, private beach, $550-$750 weekly. 812/476-1800.

ISLE OF PALMS, S.C. (near Charleston). Oceanfront, 3 BR beautiful home; sleeps 11. Alumni/owner rental discount. 919/484-3585.

LEGACY OF WILLIAMSBURG TAVERN. We're everything Historic Williamsburg is — quaint, quiet, charming, 6 fireplaces and across from William and Mary. Color brochure available. "Williamsburg at its finest." 800/962-4722.

LIBERTY ROSE, BED AND BREAKFAST. Restored hilltop estate... "the Pride of Williamsburg"... is decorated in the English Victorian Manor. Immaculate, romantic, beautiful! Delicious breakfasts. Color brochure. 800/545-1825.

SOUTH FLORIDA VACATIONERS. For a beautiful sailing experience, a private, luxurious sloop with captain. Day sails offshore, Intracoastal lights, overnights. Available from $200. 305/946-2956.

WILLIAMSBURG MANOR BED AND BREAKFAST. Restored to original elgance. Furnished with exquisite pieces. Accommodations with TV, AC, private bath. Adjacent to College - St. Bede's. Available for social functions, weddings, private parties, dinners and meetings. Full catering service by the Catering Service of Williamsburg. 804/220-8011 or 800/422-8011.

For information on how you can place an ad in the Tribe Classified or to purchase a display ad like the one below, contact the Office of Society Services, Society of the Alumni, P.O. Box 2100, Williamsburg, VA 23187-2100 or call 804/221-1170.

Shop now for the Holidays at the Alumni House gift shop.

Hours: 8 AM-5 PM, weekdays
500 Richmond Road or ask for our catalog
804/221-1170

and Mary Theatre. Her activities as an alumna include co-chairing the 1992 and 1994 New York Auctions, former board member of the New York alumni chapter, and member of the National Leadership Committee for the Alumni House Expansion. She is president of the Northern New Jersey alumni chapter and a board member of the Friends of the Library. Her husband, Andy Lark '79, is a member emeritus of the Endowment Association.

Betty Shabazz is director of communication and public relations at Medgar Evers College of the City University of New York. She earned a nursing degree from Brooklyn State Hospital School of Nursing, a bachelor's and master's in public health education and administration from Jersey City State College, and a doctorate in education from the University of Massachusetts. She is the widow of El-Hajj Malik El-Shabazz, better known as the civil rights leader "Malcom X." She has six children.

Robert F. Sharpe Sr. is the founder of the Robert F. Sharpe and Company Inc., a fundraising and consulting company in Memphis, Tenn. He also is the founder and director of the National Planned Giving Institute, which he gave to William and Mary in October of 1993. The revenues from the institute support the Robert F. Sharpe and Jane A. Sharpe Professorship in Philanthropy and American Institutions. Sharpe's career history includes more than 30 years experience in estate analysis, charitable estate planning and planned giving consultation. He and his wife, Jane, have four children.

While a student at William and Mary, Olinda Elliott Simon '63 was vice president of the psychology club, secretary of Psi Chi, and a member of the biology club, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and the Flat Hat staff. Simon did graduate work in psychology and received her doctorate from New York Law School. Prior to practicing law, she held various technical and management positions in the computer field, including coordinating the efforts to select and implement the Universal Product Code throughout the grocery industry. Simon and her husband, John '64, have four children.

Sweetheart's Weekend
February 17-19, 1995

Return to campus with your William & Mary sweetheart for a weekend of warm memories in celebration of Valentine's Day. The weekend package includes your choice of lodging at various Colonial Williamsburg accommodations, champagne upon arrival, a sweethearts' brunch at the Williamsburg Lodge, discounts on tickets to Colonial Williamsburg, basic admission to the Williamsburg Lodge's fitness center and shuttle transportation in and around the historic area.

Sponsored by the Society of the Alumni and Colonial Williamsburg

For more information, call 804-221-1173.

Society of the Alumni
P.O. Box 2100
Williamsburg, VA
23187-2100

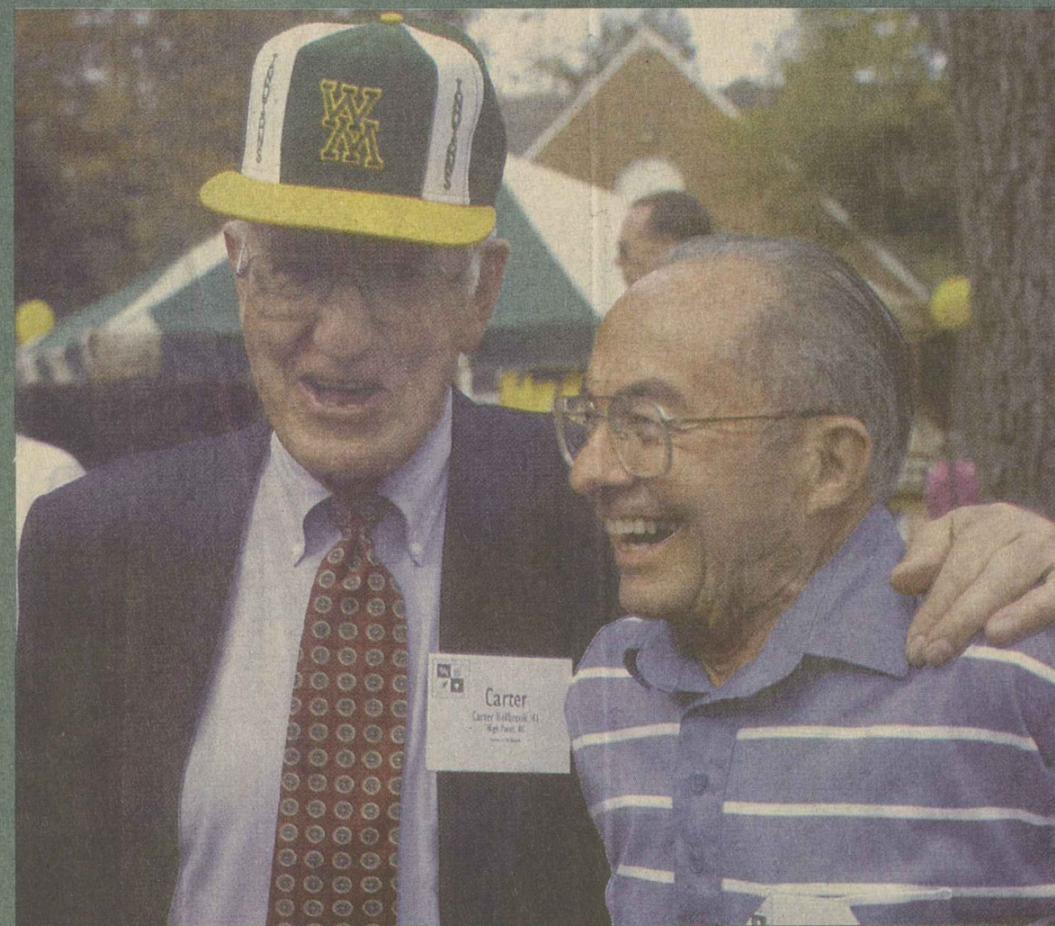

Address change requested

Non-Profit Organ.
U.S. Postage Paid
Permit No. 1390
Richmond, VA

DECEMBER 1994
VOLUME 62
NUMBER 4

Alumni Gazette

SOCIETY OF THE ALUMNI • COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

Welcome Home
A William & Mary Homecoming