Foreword

William and Mary is the sound of a learned man's words and the sight of a sincere smile. It is a temporary home, a place for study and thought, and a major influence on the lives of each of its students. The wisdom of almost three centuries of existence gives to the College an atmosphere which stimulates intellectual and social growth. The faculty and administration guide our scholastic efforts by setting forth facts and provocative ideas for our consideration. Extra-curricular activities provide us with the opportunity to put our knowledge to practical use, while social groups and dormitory life develop our sense of loyalty and our capacity for friendship.

The visitor to William and Mary sees and hears only the external symbols of our expanding knowledge and understanding. The babble of French students at lunch in the Wigwam shows our perception of the need for knowledge of other countries. Our appreciation of the arts was developed along with the new painting at "Corner Greeks." The smell of sulphur or formaldehyde gives evidence of our concern for scientific progress. While our traditions and colonial setting make history a living, vital thing. During the relative quiet of the night, the squeak of a white mouse in the psychology lab reminds us that we do not yet know ourselves.

All of these sights and sounds are mingled with the band's marching song at a football game or the quiet initiation of an honorary fraternity. The dimmed lights rise on a new play by the theatre group, or the music of a dance band floats from the ballroom. In the glow of a candle, a fraternity serenades its sweetheart, and we know that some of the relationships formed at William and Mary will never end.

In these symbols we witness our individual growth of intellect and personality, while we learn to appreciate the quality of our school. Every day of our present lives as students brings closer the realization that William and Mary is a unique combination of the song of the past and a vision of the future.

“BENEATH THY TREES”

Sights...

Those sights beloved to man remain ever in the vision of his memory. When, in years to come, reminiscences of William and Mary form an integral part of our thoughts on early adulthood, we shall remember . . . The crisp, clear autumn . . . golden and russet leaves that overshadowed patterned walks and carved an unforgettable picture in our hearts. The first snow of winter . . . reflected diamond-white in the glow of candlelight from Wren Building windows. The library . . . shafted rays of sunlight that cast their shadows over long shelves of books that formed a major part of our learning experience at William and Mary. The dormitory . . . a small, inadequate room immeasurably dear, because here we grew—we learned, we talked, we thought, we dreamed . . .

Sounds...

At William and Mary we talked, we laughed, we cheered; we whispered, shouted, sighed, groaned—and we listened. In our memory certain sounds will continue to ring out through the years, and time will serve only to sweeten their clarity. In retrospect we shall hear again and again . . . The five o'clock chimes tolling the end of another meaningful day on campus . . . The exulted shouts and disappointed groans telling of another football game hard-fought . . . Whispered words of love, more beautiful to us because even then they foretold unforgettable words yet to be spoken . . . the William and Mary choir with voices raised in concert . . . the Wren clock striking another hour, another class . . . the male blend of fraternity songs reverberating in frosty or balmy air.

Voices raised in song, in laughter, in argument, in high-pitched conversation . . . Voices lowered in shared confidences, in whisperings, in soft crying . . . The sounds of the emotions, the places, the people—the unforgettable parts of William and Mary.

CHEERS FOR THE INDIANS

...at William and Mary

The sights and sounds of our college lives will long remain a vivid part of the memories of each student. The sunken gardens on a foggy morning, the smile of a close friend, the sidelong glance of a sweetheart, numbers on a blackboard, and the pomp of the robed seniors and faculty at Convocation will be seen in our minds with declining clarity as the years pass. We shall hear the voice of a favorite professor, the heavy sound of sorrow or concentration, the rollicking noise of a party, and the sweet quiet of the tender moments. All of these memories and many more will linger for a while and then slowly fade. That is why the COLONIAL ECHO staff preserves here the sights and sounds of William and Mary which will always be meaningful to each of us.

Administration

Chancellor

The newly developed office of Chancellor of the Colleges of William and Mary was created to insure a wider administrative authority over the parent college in Williamsburg, its Norfolk Division, and the Richmond Professional Institute. Alvin Duke Chandler left his duties as president of the College, and assumed the office of Chancellor. Chancellor Chandler's office will soon be the center of administrative activity for the two new junior colleges, to be opened in Newport News and Petersburg this coming Fall.

President

Davis Y. Pascall, in his first year at William and Mary, has already established himself as an outstanding administrator. By making appearances at student functions, President Pascall has become a well-known campus figure.

Because of his position as an alumnus of William and Mary, the President possesses an interest in both the student body and William and Mary tradition. Both President Pascall and Mrs. Pascall, also an alumna of the College, have received the growing respect and admiration of every student and faculty member at William and Mary.

BOARD OF VISITORS

The governing body of the College of William and Mary was increased in 1960 to include 15 members in order to accommodate for the new junior colleges in Petersburg and Newport News. These members are appointed by the Governor of Virginia and confirmed by the General Assembly to serve on the Board of Visitors for terms of four years. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction serves a continuous term as ex officio member as long as he remains in the office of Superintendent.

With the establishment of the two new divisions, in addition to the three existing divisions, a president was appointed for each of the five units. The president reports to the Chancellor Alvin Duke Chandler who, in turn, reports to the Board of Visitors.

The Board of Visitors includes six standing committees which execute their respective functions and contribute to the function of the Board as a whole. The Executive Committee, directed by James M. Robertson, Rector, assumes the responsibility of exercising powers and conducting business in the absence of the Board. The Finance Committee, under the direction of T. Edward Temple, makes recommendations concerning direction and control of finance. The Education Committee, also directed by James M. Robertson, considers and makes recommendations to the Board on matters affecting educational policies and the instructional organization of the five units comprising the College. The Divisions Committee, under the direction of Edward P. Simpkins, Jr., makes recommendations to the Board concerning administration and financial operation of the Richmond Professional Institute, Norfolk, Petersburg, and Newport News divisions. The Buildings and Grounds Committee, directed by Dr. J. Asa Shield, makes recommendations to the Board on matters concerning college buildings and grounds of all units. Names submitted for consideration for an Honorary Degree from the College are referred to the Committee on Honorary Degrees for its consideration and recommendations.

In addition to acting as a whole on the recommendations of these committees, the Board of Visitors appoints the presidents, all professors, teachers, and agents of the College.

ACADEMIC COVERAGE

Learning, the vital process of our college lives, is evident on the campus in the dog-eared pages of a library book and in the discussion over a seminar table. A well-trained and interested faculty and the hard work of the students are the forces which mold our minds. The study and the enthusiastic guidance of each professor give to William and Mary its high academic standing and to the students, the wisdom and knowledge which they will carry throughout life.

Sight and sounds—those precious memories which will remain with us throughout life are the result of being a part of the friendly atmosphere which exists on the beautiful campus of William and Mary. The natural friendliness which is apparent on the campus and in the classroom is shared by the students together with the faculty and administration. In the interest of intellectual development, the faculty and administration seek to guide and assist the students through their experience, human understanding, and knowledge. They participate in many student activities and thus inspire a closer relationship with the students. They, above all, are responsible for making valuable our memories of William and Mary.

At "Corner Greeks," the Class of 1961 met to plan its last year at William and Mary. Full social events included a party at Matoaka Lake; a dance, co-sponsored with the Class of 1962; and a tea given by President and Mrs. Paschall. Fall Honors' Convocation brought the first chance to wear the coveted black robes. During second semester, the Seniors marched in the Charter Day Convocation, in addition to sponsoring a Sadie Hawkins Dance. There was one last meeting before the class picnic, Class Day, and the Senior party.

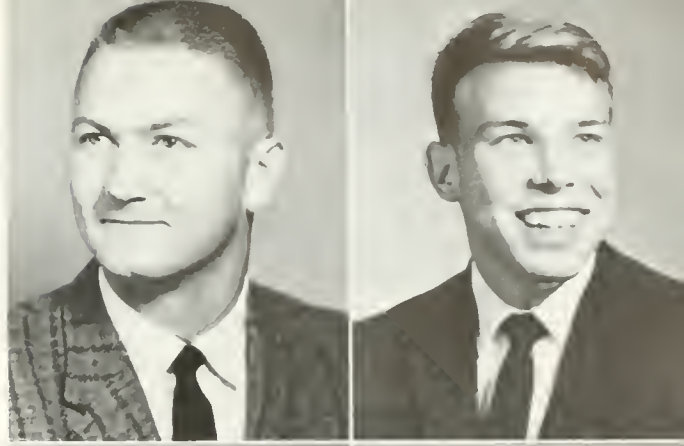

Then came graduation, and the fond farewells increased the realization that outstanding leadership and group enthusiasm have made the contributions of this class worthy ones. More important, the Class of 1961 as a unit has left its fine imprint on the life of each of its members.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

JUNIOR ASSEMBLYWOMEN

V. YODER, E. RUDDY, P. NASH

The Junior Class adopted as its aim this year to aid the Student Government in its endeavor to promote school spirit. In view of this goal, individual members of the class have contributed their time and efforts to Student Government activities as well as to individual class projects. John Black, President, assumed responsibility for special events sponsored by the Student Government, including bus trips to concerts and the Dave Brubeck progressive jazz concert in March; and Elena Ruddy, Assemblywoman, worked with a program in the College Radio Station WCWM entitled "Student Government Speaks."

The highlights of social activity were the annual tea given for the Juniors by President and Mrs. Paschall and the Junior Class Weekend, which featured a very successful dance.

The highlight of the activity of the sophomore class was the successful execution of Duc Week, a period especially set aside to initiate the freshmen. The greenness of the freshmen was made even more apparent by the very stylish and becoming green beanies which the sophomore class compelled them to purchase and wear during this time. Duc Week not only provides many humorous situations and amusing incidents, but also serves to inspire a feeling of unity within the freshmen class.

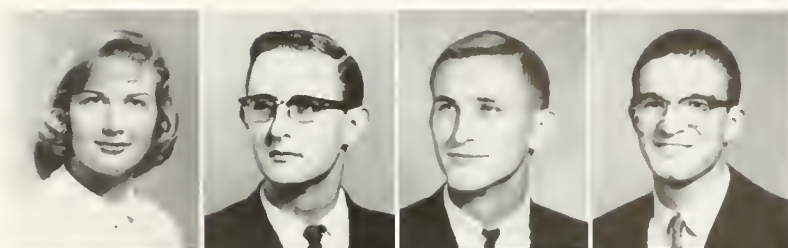

With the profit from the sale of freshmen beanies, the sophomore class made a contribution toward the William and Mary pony and helped the freshman class give a Christmas dance.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

FRESHMAN ASSEMBLY

M. BRADBURY, P. RUDDY, J. HOUSE, D. HUNTER

Blown in with Hurricane Donna, the freshman class faced tedious but informative welcomes and the tortures of a grueling Duc Week. However, Rolf Svendsen, the sophomore class president, can well attest to the freshmen's ability to cope with these odds.

After a battle of posters and slogans against competition as keen as that of the concurrent Nixon-Kennedy election, John Mark won the freshman class presidential race.

Then the new class officers conducted some necessary business negotiations with the sophomores to finance their Christmas Dance which initiated the holiday festivities. Other activities planned for the rest of the year were class meetings, collection of dues, and participation in student government projects.

Organizations

ORGANIZATIONS INTRODUCTION

Name tags announce the candidates for freshman office, posters advertise visiting speakers and club meetings, a ticket to a choir concert is sold, or a new story is submitted to The Royalist. These are the sights which give evidence of the work of William and Mary organizations. In the autumn air, a cheer for the football team reverberates, a potential Olivier rehearses for a play, or a new idea is torn apart and reconstructed by a discussion group. These are the sounds which demonstrate the development of the college student in all phases of life.

The various organizations of William and Mary are designed to extend the learning of the students as well as to contribute to the social life of the campus. Not only does learning come from books but it is also the result of interaction with one's own community, of profound consideration of the ideas of learned men, and of participation in constructive activities. Student organizations attempt to provide an opportunity for all these facets of learning and an outlet for creativity. More than this, they help us to develop respect for our school, our group, and ourselves.

STUDENT

DAVID BOTTOMS
President of the Student Body

The Student Government serves as a forum to which problems and suggestions are submitted. The government of the student body is organized in three sections: the thirteen-member Senate; the Student Assembly, composed of class officers and the other Senate members; and the General Cooperative Committee.

The Student Government sponsors the student tutoring system, Homecoming, the Colonial Festival, jazz concerts, and trips of cultural events. The "Coat-and-Tie-Day" was inaugurated this year to promote enthusiasm.

MEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

FRED DENNY
Chairman, Men's Honor Council

In cooperation with the Women's Honor Council, the Men's Honor Council conducts a program of orienting freshman students to the honor system and code of William and Mary. New students learn the basic ideas and rules of the system in a discussion of the system and its application on the campus.

The Honor Councils annually assist the Student Government in their elections by helping to count ballots.

In honor cases, council members gather all the possible information concerning the case, call in character witnesses, and from these determine the innocence or guilt and the suggested penalty. Monthly theft reports are made and filled which often enable the council to trace the offenders.

Serving under chairman Fred Denny were Pete Schirmeier, vice chairman; Tom Johnson, secretary; Shore Robertson, senior representative; Paul Berghaus and Lynn Shaw, junior representatives; Tom Bosserman and Jerry Van Voorhis, sophomore representatives.

WOMEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

Members of the Women's Honor Council discussed more thoroughly this year the honor code and system of operation for the purpose of learning constructive suggestions and emphasizing the idea that the Honor Council is to uphold honor and demonstrate the importance of a functional honor system, instead of merely to punish offenders of the code.

When a student enters the college, he automatically is accepting the responsibility of upholding the honor system and seeing that his fellow students do likewise. The student officially accepts his responsibility by signing the pledge at the end of Orientation week of his freshman year.

Maureen Harvey served as chairman of the Women's Honor Council this year. Kay Davenport was vice chairman and Shiras Elliot, secretary. Parti Pound and Par Foutz represented the sophomore class, Nancy Carol Taylor and Ginny Yoder the junior class, and Gay Whitlock the senior class.

WOMEN STUDENTS' COOPERATIVE

BETH HUMRICKHOUSE
Chairman, Executive Council

To provide valuable experience in self-government . . . This is the prime objective of the Women's Student Cooperative Government Association, which is the coordinating body of all women students. It is divided into three departments—the Executive Council, the Judicial Council, and the Honor Council—whose duties embody the purpose of the organization, "to represent and further the best interests of the women students, to regulate their conduct under the authority of the College, and to promote responsibility and a high sense of honor."

Heading WSCGA, the Executive Council handles all official business and coordinates the activities of the Association.

The Judicial Council, as its name implies, upholds the social rules and maintains good conduct among the women students. It deals with violations of these rules by giving penalties proportional to the violation.

The Honor Council, through lectures, articles in College publications, and individual instruction, has the responsibility of seeing that the standards of the Honor Code are upheld. It is this council which deals with any violations of the Honor Code and, in cooperation with the faculty and administration, decides upon proper punishment for such violations.

Other aspects of WSCGA as a functioning body include publication of the WSCGA handbook for all women students; selection of orientation sponsors for incoming freshmen;

PHI BETA KAPPA

Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest Greek Letter fraternity, was founded on December 5, 1776, at the College of William and Mary. For over a century and a half, election to Phi Beta Kappa has been a recognition of well employed intellectual capacities. An excellent scholastic record is the primary requirement for membership in Phi Beta Kappa. The original chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, which met in the Apollo Room of the Raleigh Tavern, included such notables as John Marshall, who later became Chief Justice of the United States. Membership in the society increased until 1781, when the chapter became inactive due to the closing of the College with the approach of Cornwallis' army. Revived in 1851, and again in 1893, the chapter has since been in continuous existence. Today, Phi Beta Kappa has a living membership of 155,000 and 164 active chapters.

The Alpha Chapter of Virginia welcomed as its visiting scholar Dr. Ross Lee Finney, resident professor at the University of Michigan. Dr.

Finney addressed the student body at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Auditorium on "Music in a Liberal Arts Education."

On December 5, Phi Beta Kappa held its one hundred and eighty-fourth anniversary celebration. W. Stirling King, president of Alpha of Virginia, presided over the celebration. The new initiates were presented by Dr. J. T. Baldwin, vice president of the Chapter. William W. Abbott welcomed the students. Howard M. Scammon, director of the William and Mary Theatre, played the organ music for the processional and recessional. Carlos H. Baker, from Alpha of New Hampshire, addressed the initiates on "Designing Fiction." Poems were read by Adrienne Cecile Rich from Iota of Massachusetts. The celebration was followed by a reception for the initiates and their friends.

Early in May, Phi Beta Kappa held its Spring Celebration. An address was given by a prominent speaker, and the new initiates presented were K. Davenport, M. Fuller, and R. Wachs.

PRESIDENT'S AIDES

At the annual Autumn Convocation, the President of the college presented his official Aides for the ensuing year. The group consists of the presidents of the junior and senior classes; the chairmen of the Men's and Women's Honor Councils; the presidents of the WSCGA Executive and Judicial Councils; the president of Omicron Delta Kappa; the president of Mortar Board; and the Editor-in-Chief of the Flat Hat. The president of the student body acts as Chief Aide. In addition, the President and his wife may also select two members-at-large.

Serving as a link between the student body and the administration, the group escorts the President's official party at all convocations and other school functions throughout the school year. The position is honorary as the group does not function as an organized club. There are, however, frequent meetings to insure a relationship of mutual understanding between the administrators of the college and the student body as represented by the Aides.

The distinguished students attaining this venerable position are each awarded a gold medal designed by the founder of the President's Aides, John Stuart Bryan, in 1935.

Omicron Delta Kappa, a Men's National Honorary Fraternity, was founded in 1914. In 1921, the Eta Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa was established at the College of William and Mary. It endeavors to unite the faculty members and the student body through mutual interests, and to recognize high achievement in college activities. Members are rapped during both the Fall and the Spring Honors Convocations. The membership is chosen from the junior and senior classes on the basis of outstanding achievement in scholarship, athletics, social and religious activities, publications, drama, music, and other cultural activities. This fall, the new members included Bill Clayton, Tom Johnson, Dave Diehr, Lynn Shaw, Don Farrell, and Bob Wachs.

Under the supervision of the officers and advisors, ODK successfully furthered its purpose of emphasizing leadership. It presented an award to the outstanding man from the freshman and sophomore classes combined. ODK sponsored in the spring a Leadership Forum for the purpose of discussing the various aspects and problems of leadership. This forum was attended by representatives of all the campus organizations. The forum was divided into separate meetings for the president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer of each organization. At the general meeting preceding this, Dean Lambert familiarized the officers with the services provided for the clubs by the College.

In fulfilling this purpose, the members directed their attention toward two areas of college life—scholarship and activities. Under scholarship, Mortar Board organized freshmen seminars and recognized the sophomore woman with the highest scholastic standing. It provided a scholarship of $100.00 based on need, scholarship, and service. This scholarship was financed by dues, the china and silver displays, and the sale of mums.

Likewise, Mortar Board concentrated on activities. In order, to promote a better faculty-student relationship, Mortar Board sponsored faculty teas. This society, in conjunction with Omicron Delta Kappa, presented the traditional Yule Log Ceremony.

Not only does Mortar Board try to promote service, leadership, and scholarship on this campus among the women students, but also the members themselves are lasting examples of their ideals in practice.

Mortar Board, a National Senior Women's Honor Society, was founded nationally in 1918, and on the campus of William and Mary in 1928. The Virginia Gamma chapter taps at Spring Honors Convocation, selecting its members from the Junior class on the basis of applied leadership and scholarship. Scholastically, each new initiate must have an over-all grade average which is higher than the over-all average of the women students.

Mortar Board has strived to achieve its purpose of promoting college loyalty and encouraging leadership and scholarship among the women students.

ORIENTATION SPONSORS

Each spring, former sponsors select a new group of orientation sponsors on the basis of scholarship, character, and leadership. A four-week program of intensive training under the direction of Dr. Cannon, head of the counseling department, supplements their natural abilities.

The purpose of the group is to aid the ensuing freshman class in their transition from high school to college life. The training sessions prepare them to answer any questions which may confront them concerning the academic and social facets of school life. The deans of the college, department heads, and representatives of the Interfraternity and Pan-Hellenic councils present school policies and regulations which govern William and Mary students.

The following September, each sponsor is assigned six to ten in-coming freshmen to guide through the tests and tribulations of Orientation Week as well as throughout the coming year. With this introduction to the town and campus, freshmen are quickly absorbed into the college community.

PI DELTA EPSILON

Pi Delta Epsilon is the largest national collegiate journalism fraternity. Its purpose is to promote high professional and ethical standards for the campus publications and radio station. Members are elected twice yearly from undergraduates, faculty, and alumni who have made outstanding contributions to journalism.

This year, Pi Delta Epsilon sponsored a publications forum for incoming students and co-sponsored the Spring Publications Banquet. Two projects were to develop a means of evaluating performance of staff members and to investigate the possibilities of starting a humor magazine.

OFFICERS

LEE SYKES. . . . . President
MARGIE BARNHART. . . . . Secretary

The Student Publications Committee strives to maintain a high degree of excellence for William and Mary publications. The Committee does so by bringing together members of the various campus publications to discuss improvements and new methods for obtaining the standard of excellence necessary in such publications. This year, the Committee has tried to provide an effective liaison between the Student Government and the publications on campus. The Committee was comprised this year of the following members: Lee Sykes, chairman appointed by the president of the student body with the approval of the Assembly; Margaret Barnhart, the editor of the COLONIAL ECHO; Al Volkmann, editor of the Flat Hat; and Dorcas Brown, editor of the Royalist. The faculty advisors, one elected biennially by the Assembly and the other biennially by the Students' Activities Fee Committee, are Dr. Alexander Kallos and Dr. Cecil McCulley, respectively. The president of the student body, Dave Bottoms, was also a member.

The Student Publications Committee employs several different methods to insure the standard of excellence. During mid-spring, this body elects the editor, the business manager, the advertising manager, and the circulation manager of the Flat Hat; the editor and the business manager of the COLONIAL ECHO; the editor-in-chief and the art editor of the Royalist; and the editor-in-chief and the managing editor of the Seminar. The committee also supervises membership elections and appointments on the various staffs.

The Student Publications Committee lacks the authority of censorship and of controlling the editorial policy of the publications. Instead, it makes suggestions which are, in turn, considered by the publication in question.

The staff heads of the various publications are provided salaries fixed by the Students' Activities Fee Committee. Those entitled are the editor-in-chief, managing editor, business manager, advertising manager, and circulation manager of the Flat Hat; the editor-in-chief and the business manager of the COLONIAL ECHO; the editor-in-chief and the art editor of the Royalist; and the editor-in-chief and the managing editor of the Seminar. An overall 1.4 average or a 1.4 average in the previous semester is required to hold one of these salaried positions.

WILLIAM AND MARY THEATRE

The thirty-fifth season of the William and Mary Theatre was devoted to the production and presentation of a rich variety of plays for the entertainment of the college and its inhabitants as well as for the entire Williamsburg community.

Under the able direction of Mr. Howard Scammon, the 1960-61 year opened in October with the presentation of The Diary of Ann Frank, remembered not only for its excellent performance, but also for the realistic and complicated set which served for every act of the play. Shortly thereafter, the Rogers and Hart musical Babes in Arms was staged.

The New Year brought two more outstanding productions to the William and Mary stage when the Theatre presented Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit, followed in early spring by Shakespeare's light drama Midsummer Night's Dream.

In addition to these four superb productions the Theatre was able to present the Canadian Players — a professional touring group — and their production of George Bernard Shaw's Saint Joan.

Club Production; "Finians Rainbow"

Officers: President J. Reese, Secretary J. Raab, Treasurer C. Fleece, Director H. Hill

The Backdrop Club presents each Spring a student-produced musical. This year, under the direction of Howard Hill, technical direction of Homer Hite, and scene design of Carol Keys, the club presented the "golden" musical, Finians Rainbow.

The members hope to do an original show next year and feel that an all-student production will present opportunities to students without previous experience in theatre work.

THETA ALPHA PHI

Theta Alpha Phi, the Honorary Dramatics Fraternity, was established at William and Mary to recognize those students who have made outstanding contributions to any phase of dramatics work. Members are elected twice a year and must be sophomores or higher, must have participated in four or more William and Mary Theatre productions and must have played a major role, either backstage or on stage, in at least two of these productions.

WCWM, the College radio station, began official operation in June, 1959, under the advisorship of Mr. Charles Woodliff. The members of the radio station endeavor to select music which will bring pleasure to their entire listening audience, the townspeople of Williamsburg as well as the College students. In accordance with this goal, the various musical programs include jazz, popular music, folk singing, and classical music. WCWM also serves the communities by making public service announcements and announcements pertaining to College activities.

Delta Omicron is the international honorary music fraternity for women. The fraternity was founded in 1906 to inspire closer friendship among music students, to develop character and leadership, to encourage high scholarship, and to stimulate greater growth in musical performance. The group attempts to further musical appreciation among members of the organization and other students who are interested in music. All students majoring or minoring in music are eligible to become members.

WILLIAM AND

Under the direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr, better known to William and Mary students as "Pappy," the Choir has established a reputation that is surpassed by few singing groups of its kind in the country. The Choir is selected from those students with exceptional voices and provides an outlet for musical ability in addition to contributing to the enjoyment of the college community.

In addition to concerts, the Choir enriches convocation exercises with renditions of the hymn and alma mater. The group opened its concert season this year with two concerts in the Williamsburg area. The first was given at the convention of the Capital District Meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Williamsburg Lodge. Following this appearance the Choir went to the Williamsburg Motor House where they performed for the convention of the Associated Press Managing Editors.

The annual Christmas Concert was held on December 13 and 14, providing a glowing send-off for the holidays ahead. Another concert was presented in the spring, and the traditional Choir trip climaxed a very successful year.

MARY CHOIR

WILLIAM AND MARY CHORUS

The William and Mary Chorus, composed of approximately sixty voices, plays an important role in the musical program of the college. Under the direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr, the Chorus participated actively in concerts and school functions throughout the year.

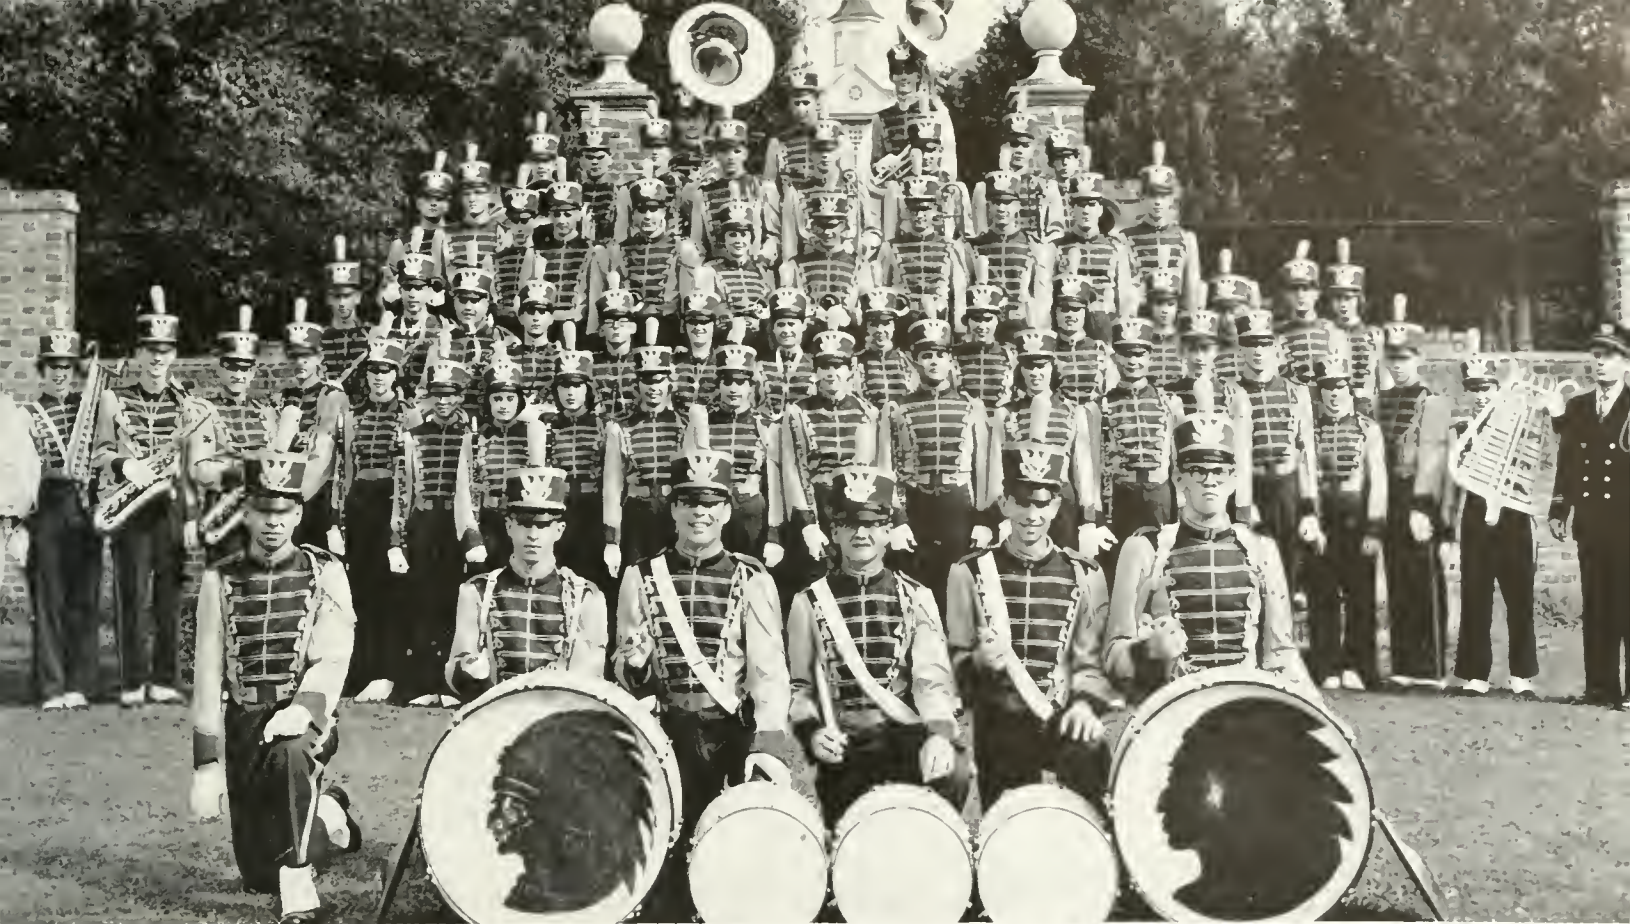

The members of the Chorus are selected at the beginning of the year from auditions of interested freshmen and upperclassmen. Qualities such as pitch, the ability to read music, and voice strength are sought. Membership in the Chorus is a privilege and one of the most enjoyable extracurricular activities at William and Mary. To the girls in the Chorus it means hard work and satisfaction spiced with fun and fellowship. To the rest of the student body it means strains of enjoyable music floating from the open windows of Ewell for two hours every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon providing a welcome diversion from the steady humdrum of busy campus life. For the members of the Chorus, in addition to giving them the opportunity to participate in choral singing, the Chorus prepares them for the coveted honor of becoming a member of the William and Mary Choir.

The Chorus is not limited to certain kinds of music, but has a wide and varied repertoire ranging from the sedate classical to more modern and lighter forms of entertainment. Joining with the Choir to present the annual Christmas Concert on December 13 and 14, the Chorus provided an inspirational and enjoyable experience with their "Carol of the Bells" and five Polish Christmas carols. In the spring, with the cooperation of the band, the Chorus filled the balmy night air with melodious strains at the outdoor concerts on the Wren Building lawn.

BAND

The William and Mary Indian Band performs as a marching band during the fall football season and as a concert band in the winter and spring. The marching band plays for home football games and travels to away games when they are held at places which will be of interest to the band members. Band shows are based on themes of current interest, featuring precision drills and animated formations. This season two of the shows presented were a tribute to Oscar Hammerstein and a program on the presidential campaign. After football season, the marching band put away its colorful green, gold and grey uniforms and began preparation for its concert season. Each spring a formal concert is presented in Phi Beta Kappa auditorium. Three informal concerts are given on Wren Porch on the last three Wednesdays of the school year. This spring a concert tour is planned following spring vacation. The itinerary for the trip includes concerts in Northern Virginia and New York.

The band is made up of co-ed membership and is an all college organization. It is one of the largest and most colorful voluntary student organizations on campus. Mr. Charles R. Varner, a graduate of Northwestern University, has directed the William and Mary band for eight years.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis, the honorary dance group at William and Mary, strives to give its members creative experience in dance and to develop new methods of dance interpretation.

This Spring, Orchesis presented a program divided into three categories: jazz, mythical folk dances, and abstract interpretation. All sets and costumes were designed by the members of Orchesis, who also developed original dance patterns based on piano music.

The girls write, choreograph, and select the music for their annual spring show. This year's theme was "Holidays —from New Year's to Christmas."

CHEERLEADERS

Bringing their usual pep and liveliness, the cheerleaders are always a welcome sight at Indian sporting events. This year brought a change in technique to the squad. Leaving the responsibility of leading cheers to the girls, the boys concentrated on learning and performing gymnastic stunts. It is hoped that this change of emphasis will set a prerequisite for boys interested in trying out and bring greater variety to the already varied program of the Indian cheerleaders.

An outstanding addition to the squad this year was the Indian pony Wampo. Present at all home football games and in Richmond and Norfolk, Wampo helped the Indian dancers—another new attraction—in their efforts to drive away the evil spirits and spur the Indian team on to victory.

PEP CLUB

To promote greater school spirit among the students of William and Mary was the purpose of the 1960-61 Pep Club under the efficient and effective leadership of Bill Smith.

The initial pep rally of the year was highlighted, in addition to cheers and yells, by the introduction of the football players. President Paschall addressed several of the home game rallies which were well attended by an enthusiastic student body. Buses were chartered for away games to insure a chance for all interested to attend. In addition the Pep Club sponsored dances as a special benefit for freshmen. In the spring a banquet was held.

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club was founded in 1914. College men who have earned their varsity letter in any inter-collegiate sport, which is sanctioned by the College, are eligible for membership in the club.

The purposes of the organization are three-fold. Their main interest is to further the intramural and athletic programs for college men. Secondly, they promote sportsman-like conduct on and off the campus. Thirdly, they work to further the interests of athletic functions in general.

Each year the club sponsors the program for the selection of the "Basketball Queen" at the University of Richmond game, played at William and Mary in February. Each sorority nominates a representative and penny votes are cast to choose the queen. During the Spring the club, in cooperation with the Student Government, sponsors its annual "Keep off the Grass" campaign and a dance.

WILLIAM AND MARY

With a wealth of returning material and a fabled Rocket-T formation William and Mary football fortune on the Reservation was rising as the opening of the 1960 gridiron campaign rolled around last September.

Boasting 17 lettermen from a 4-6 season of a year ago, Coach Milt Drewer readied his charges for the opening Cary Field battle against the Southern Conference champs-to-be, the Keydets of Virginia Military.

That first afternoon was a bright one. Slugging toe-to-toe with the best of the SC, the Indians viciously held their own for three quarters before yielding 33-21 before the right arm of SC Player of the Year, Howard Dyer. In the freewheeling, wide-open first half that featured the weirdest and most startling play of the season, Bob Stoy's 10-yard keeper gave the Indians a 7-0 edge over the heavily favored Keydets.

Behind 21-14 in the waning minutes of the first half, halfback Jim Porach electrified the W&M partisans by stealing the pigskin from a VM1 back and racing 85 yards to knot the score at 21-all. Depth caught up with the determined Indians in the fourth canto, but it was a promising inaugural.

and Mary's Indians experienced few misfires and literally blasted the University of Virginia's Cavaliers clear out of Norfolk's Foreman Field. The final countdown came to 41-21 as Coach Milt Drewer's charges piled up a 20-0 lead and coasted to victory.

In helping the ACC crew to tie the longest losing streak in major college history, the Drewermen moved at will in a wild-woolly offensive display that saw the Indians bolt to first place in the Southern Conference offensive standings.

Game plaudits for the first Indian win went to quarterback Dan Barton, who zoomed 156 yards that evening to latch onto the most valuable player award for the tilt.

Also hitting paydirt were fullback H. C. Thaxton on a 36-yard romp, soph Stan Penkunas, halfback Roger Hale, end Joe Poist, and quarterback Bob Stoy. In grinding out 352 yards and 41 points, the Tribe amassed their offensive highs for the season to nail down their first 1960 gridiron victory.

Football games are not supposed to be won on one play, but that's exactly what happened when the Tribe scalped the George Washington

Colonials before a Cary Field crowd. Sluggish for an offensive machine that had registered 62 tallies in two outings, the starting eleven watched as the W&M second unit struck with lightning to overcome a 9-0 GW lead. In the turning point of the game, Bob Stoy heaved a 45-yarder which Jon Stephenson snagged in miraculous fashion.

Undaunted by its second team label, the Tribe reserves again churned toward the promised land in a drive that netted the clincher. A 33-yard burst by Penkunas provided the main impetus in the drive that counted the 19-9 Indian win.

Along the line Loye Bechtold, Bob Soleau, and John Gravely led the hard-charging Tribe in holding the Colonials to a mere 95 yards overland.

The high-flying Indians invaded South Carolina in quest of a 3-1 slate at the expense of the Furman Paladins. Trailing 18-8 against an inspired host team, the Tribe rallied behind the running of Roger Hale to forge ahead, 23-21, in the waning minutes. Then came the decisive turning point. After playing a vital role in the comeback, a harassed Cal Cox threw widely, and Furman intercepted to initiate its winning touchdown. Hale's escapades and the stellar performances of Bechtold, Wayne Woolwine, Dave Gatti, and Eric Erdossy were lost in the unexpected 25-23 setback.

Amidst the pomp and ceremony of Homecoming 1960, Tribe fortunes fared no better against Virginia Tech which applied the old axiom that the best offense is a solid defense. Outweighed 30 pounds per man up front, the Tribe marched to the VPI six-yard line to open the second half. Thaxton sparked this lone Indian surge which the staunch visitors thwarted before attacking on a pair of late scores for the 27-0 decision.

With a 2-4 record, the Tribe travelled South to play Florida State and Tulane in successive weeks. Opening minutes proved fatal on each occasion as both outfits scored early and often and then held off late scoring bids by the once mighty Indian offense. After eleven scoreless quarters, Tribe quarterback Bob Stoy flipped to Hale who lateralled to fullback Buck Gale who completed the 35-yard jaunt to paydirt for the only Tribe score in the 40-8 shellacking against the Green Wave. The final tally against FSU read 22-0, in the host team's favor.

Frustration marked the Tribe return to SC play at Charleston, South Carolina, against a Citadel combination then in the thick of the loop title chase. The early nullification of Dan Barton's 35-yard scoring sortie set the pattern for the entire contest as the Indians proceeded to drop a touchdown pass and generally outplay the Bulldogs, only to lose a 14-0 decision. To illustrate the defensive prowess of the Tribe forward wall, the Carolina outfit didn't penetrate the W&M 27-yard line in the second half.

The W&M second-half wonders did it again against the Vanderbilt Commodores, displaying too-late superiority after the hosts registered 22 points before intermission. Pacing the Tribe attack which fared better than that of a 2-7 ball club, Dan Barton sneaked across for the Indian tally during the second half domination that also featured the pass-catching of end Joe Poist. Pitted against a hot-and-cold Richmond aggregation, the indians ruled as favorites in the season finale for the annual Thanksgiving Day festival. Time ran out on a W&M scoring bid at halftime; Cal Cox and Ron Jones combined for the game's most exciting play, a 45-yard pass, and late-season find Bud Porter clinched the SC punting crown, but otherwise it was a lacklustre curtain for the hardluck charges of Coach Milt Drewer who finished with a 2-8 slate.

Underlying the seven game slide that rocked Reservation fandom was an onslaught of injuries to key personnel throughout the campaign. The loss of starting tackle Wayne Barber in the opener set the trend that was to snowball before the Richmond finale. Perhaps the cruelest blow came in the VPI affair when the leading ground gainer H. C. Thaxton suffered a dislocated shoulder that hampered him the remainder of the season. All members of the starting crew were either operating below par or else sidelined completely at one time or another. In retrospect, the opening VMI battle, the win over the Colonials who rallied to finish second in the conference, and the unforgettable scoring fireworks against Virginia were the highlights that survived the wreckage of the hardluck campaign.

Typical of the hard-driving aggressiveness that upset mighty Virginia Tech at Blow Gym, junior Kenny Roberts displays perfect form in penetrating a porous VPI defense.

Having established W&M as a perennial SC power during his five-year tenure, Coach Bill Chambers added another winning season to his outstanding cage reputation.

Combining jumping ability and finger-tip mastery, 6'6" Kirk Gooding dumps an errant Indian shot back through the hoop with graceful ease.

Fancy Henry Corns lays up an over-the-shoulder shot against Hampden-Sydney as Jeff Cohen (52) and Kirk Gooding (34) maneuver for rebounding position.

Ironically, the runner-up William and Mary Indians, rather than the tourney titlists, the George Washington Colonials, will be the team long remembered as THE team in the Southern Conference tournament of 1961. For the Tribe astounded league and national cage fans with a spectacular 88-76 humiliation of the nationally-ranked West Virginia Mountaineers. During the highlight of the W&M sports year, big Jeff Cohen poured through 38 points and guards Kenny Roberts and Roger Bergey broke the famed "zone press" to feature what Coach Bill Chambers lauded as a "tremendous team victory."

Capping a moderately successful season that saw the Reservation crew post a 14-10 overall and 9-6 league ledger, the Indians outlasted Furman, 86-81, in a triple overtime chiller in the preface to the Mountie Massacre. In the finale, the Chambersmen exerted a game, but tired, effort before bowing to the tourney-hot Colonials.

Cohen, bellwether of the attack, pocketed a fist-full of honors in closing out his illustrious tenure, including the coveted Southern Conference player of the year. With a 23.9 scoring average and an 17.7 rebound mark as credits, Jeff earned berths on the SC, and All-Big Five

One of the best drivers in the SC, guard Kenny Roberts glides through for two as Furman hotshot Jerry Smith tries to draw a charging foul.

Outmaneuvering a defender in mid-air, sophomore Bob Harris rams home a two-pointer in friendly Blow Gym.

all-star teams plus an All-America honorable mention. Cohen is only the sixth Virginia player in history to break 2,000 points in his career.

Rallying Bev Vaughan, who rebounded from an early season illness, sparked the Indians in the late-goings and collected a deceptive 13.5 points per game in concluding his four years as Cohen's prominent partner. SC honorable mention guard Roberts (10.3) teamed with soph Bergey (10.3) to comprise a slick backcourt duo. Foul-hampered Kirk Gooding (9.1) drew top defensive assignments plus hauling down 10.9 caroms per outing to augment Cohen's board efforts.

ating 7 of 7 fielders, hot-handed n Dickerson came off the bench personally spark the Tribesmen to 85-80 verdict against the GW Colonials.

With the accuracy that made him the best Tribe marksman, backcourt operator Roger Bergey connects on his favorite shot, which tore apart many a collapsing zone aimed at Cohen.

Senior Bev Vaughan connects on his pet drive from the right side against the formidable Furman club that was to put up an extended fight in the league tournament.

Following an auspicious debut, a 113-75 swamping of Hamden-Sydney that set a new W&M single-game scoring mark, the Bev Vaughan-less Indians experienced rough sledding in the early goings. With three sophs in the starting line-up, the Indians succumbed to Tennessee and West Virginia in overtime marathons before upping their record at the Christmas break.

After West Virginia barely averted a second successive scalping at the Norfolk Arena, the Chambers charges prepared for the home headliner of every campaign, the grudge battle with Virginia Tech. Solidly avenging an overtime loss of the year before, the Cohen-sparked Indians treated a packed house to the win that proved decisive in the Tribe's first Big Five title since 1956. Enjoying the usual Blow Gym invisibility, the Indians won 7 against no losses before the home crowd.

The spectacle of the season came with the Richmond finale. A stupendous standing ovation climaxed the evening that saw the Indians clinch the Big Five title and fourth-place in the SC, Cohen shattered the School individual scoring mark with a sensational 49-point show, and the Tribe trampled the century mark for the second time during the campaign.

TRACK AND

Predicted to maintain the Indian tradition par excellence, the current thinclad edition of Coach Harry Groves figured to be a solid first division contingent in the increasingly stellar Southern Conference dogfight this spring.

As to where among the first four teams the Indians place was a matter of question, but Groves was confident his lads would give the other frontrunners, the Citadel, Furman, and Virginia Military, a tugged struggle.

With thirteen well-seasoned veterans returning headed by Co-captains Jerry Saunders and Dale Bickert, the tribe appeared to possess its greatest strength in the irrespective events, the hurdles and the sprints. The 1958 outdoor and the 1959 indoor hurdles kingpin, Saunders, joined school record holder in a one-two punch rated the best in the conference. Diedrich, a junior, swept both honors during the past year's activities. Already this year, the Diedrich-Saunders combination finished one-two in the indoor meet at VMI.

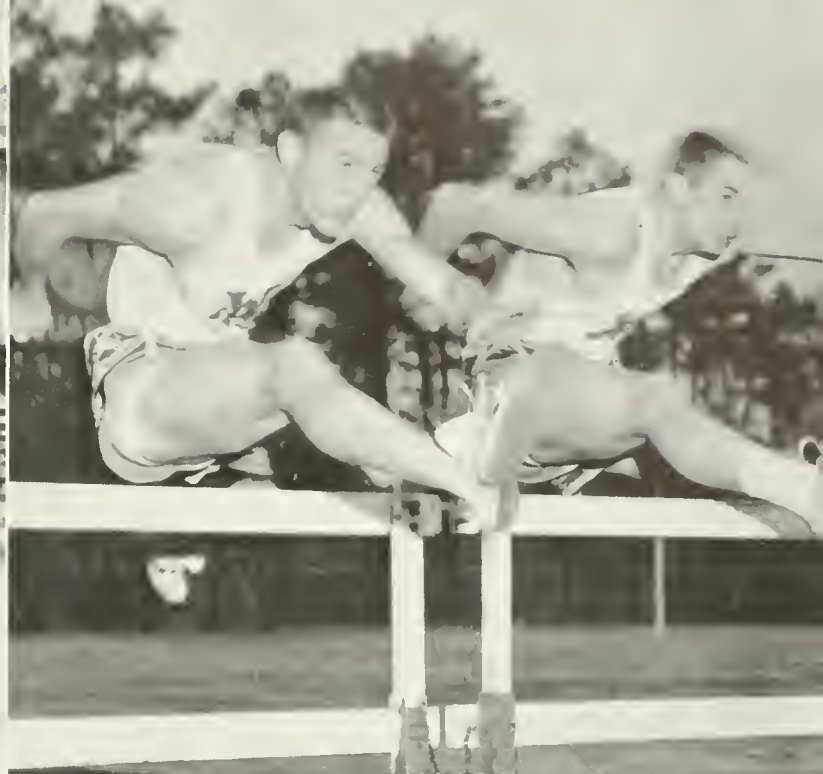

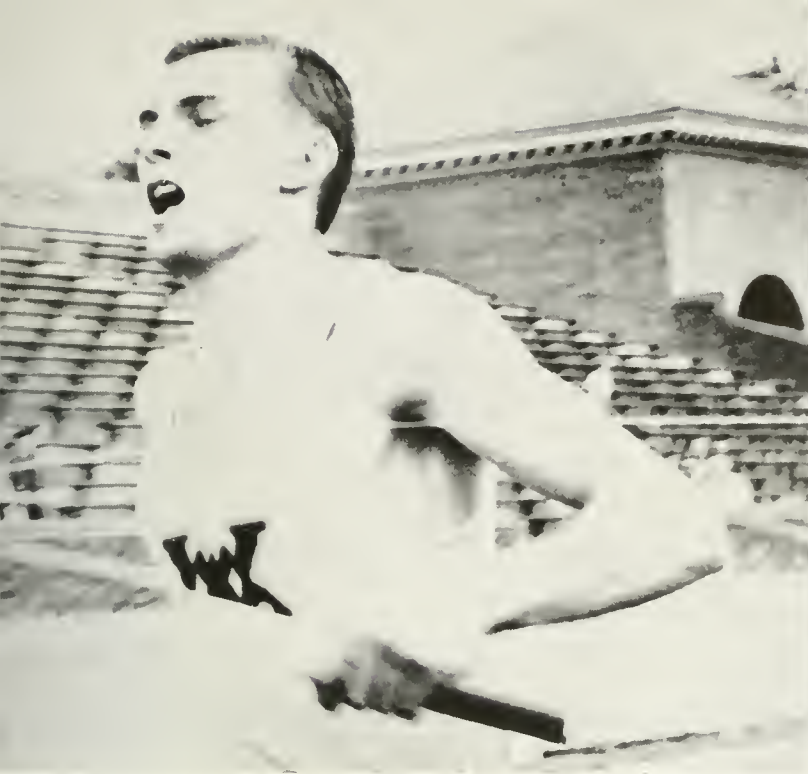

In the spring competition, Bickert rated among the cream of the league's fast-stepping crop by the virtue of his pair of seconds in the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the loop meet in 1960. Junior speedster, John Bahm, lends Bickert strong support in addition to Aubrey Goldberg, up from a crack frosh outfit. Bahm will double during the regular season and see action in the hop-step-and-jump event which was augmented to the SC meet program only last year. The record holder in this innovation returned to the Reservation in the person of Bart Partsch who will also compete in the broad jump.

in the 440, while the versatile Davis also enters the half-mile affair. Keith Larson represented the Indian threat in the mile with mates, Tom Palmer and Ray Caldwell, handling the chores in the 2-mile department.

Veteran basketeer Bev Vaughan high jumped for the Grovemen this spring and was joined by soph Bill Jefferies, who consistently cleared 6 feet as a freshman. Vaughan and Doug Hinkle comprise the javelin-throwing division, while weightmen, Kirk Gooding and Stacey McMarlin, both hurl the discus and putt the shot. Senior Eric Erdossy supplements this duo in the discus event. A senior-soph pair, Herm Schmidt and Dale Thoma, participate in the pole vault with broad jumpers Hinkel, the team's most versatile performer, and Partch, rounding out Grove's 1961 aggregation.

After opening on March 28 against a strong Princeton club, the Tribe played host to VPI, University of Virginia, and Richmond in addition to participation in the Quantico and Penn Relays, the SC and State competition, and an away encounter with powerful Virginia Military.

Looking to the future, the Indian coach hesitates to mention that William and Mary may return to its former loop domination in 1962 via the propulsion of a dozen frosh harriers who won the State and SC cross-country titles plus the State indoor meet. "These freshmen coupled with a strong returning nucleus promise to make 1962 a promising track year on the Reservation."

Top Right: Undoubtedly one of the finest one-two punches in the South, Co-captain Jerry Saunders and junior Bob Diedrich were favored to repeat their hurdles domination of the SC this year.

Middle: After unleashing a discus toss, senior weightman Stacey McMarlin strains to watch the outcome of his effort.

Bottom: In the midst of an Indian roll, Bev Vaughan is in the process of clearing 6 feet, an accomplishment not infrequent for the Tribe mainstay.

SWIMMING

With a clutch victory over the Little Eight champs from the Norfolk Division, the 1960-1961 swimming team achieved their finest season record in over a decade with a 6-5 slate. Freestylers Dave Kurland and Chris Herr spear-headed the mermen in their mission to earn Coach Dudley Jensen his first winning season in 10 years at the aquatic helm.

The foursome of Glenn Mann, Dave Comegys, Herr, and Kurland plus the 400-yard freestyle relay quartet of Turk Despard, Mort Aulls, Herr, and Kurland were the protagonists who turned breaking records into a pleasant monotony for team followers. Mann claimed the individual medley standard; Comegys, the 200-yard backstroke; Kurland, the 50- and 100-yard freestyles; Herr, the 220- and 440-yard freestyles.

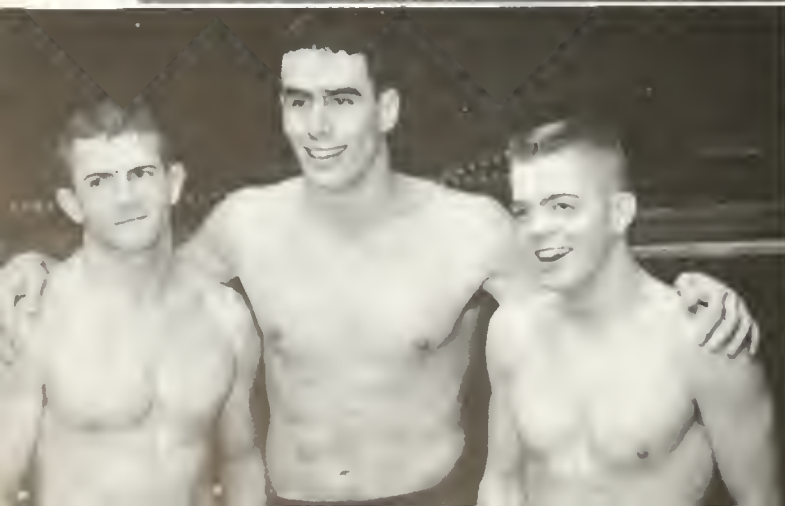

Saving its best until last, the relay team smashed the SC record to win the lone Tribe gold medal in the loop tournament hosted by the Indians at Fort Eustis in early March.

Top: The performers that compiled the best Indian team record in a decade were: Front row—Co-captains Dave Kurland and Dave Diehr. Second row—Glenn Mann, Turk Despard, Chris Herr, Bill Morrell, Bill May, Mort Aulls, and Dave Comegys. Third row—Coach Dudley Jensen (standing), manager Leo Mitekeviev, Bob Kirby, Bob Mitchell, Dave Buckle, Bruce Heckman, Tom Vice, and manager John Curran

Middle: Chris Herr continued his fantastic assault on W & M records that began last year with his first varsity appearance. A junior, Herr holds the 220 and 440 school marks.

Bottom Left: Smiling triumphantly after copping a meet, Dave Comegys, Dave Kurland, and Chris Herr all broke School swimming records to star in the Indians' continual pool improvement

Bottom Right: Executing a beautiful back dive for the Jensenmen, Bill Smith teamed with Jay Nickel for a board duo that returns next season.

RIFLE TEAM

The emergence of a once-beaten "ROTC" team marked the 1960-61 streamlining of the rifle competition at W & M. The replacement of last year's varsity with three different contingents not only allowed greater participation but also paid dividends in the all-important won-loss column. Under the guidance of Sergeant-first-class Raymond Patrick, who was in his first year at the helm, the ROTC riflemen shot down nine straight foes before stumbling for the first time. Although their 8-month campaign did not end until May, their current 10-1 ledger represented the finest credentials of any previous Indian firing crew.

Lynn Shaw out-gunned his mates during the season with a 283 average to gain the distinction of being the club's marksman.

Top Right: A consistent season performer, soph Tom Farrington returns with the entire team next year in what promises to be a highly successful campaign for the team with a year's experience under their belts.

Middle, Top: Bartlett, Shaw, and Farrington examine target.

Middle, Left: Chief engineer in the expansion of the William and Mary riflery program, Sergeant first class Raymond Patrick guided the three teams to vastly-improved showings in his first year as coach.

Bottom: The sophomore quartet of Tom Eastham, Ed Sullivan, Tom Siciliano, and Tom Farrington will play a prominent role in Tribe fortunes in Patrick's second year at the helm.

BASEBALL

A squad of unknown quality took the field for the William and Mary Indians in their home opener against Washington and Lee on April 6. Seeking to improve on last year's 6-15 slate, Coach Agee spent most of the pre-season drills attempting to determine a starting lineup from a largely inexperienced team.

Of the approximate 35 candidates for the baseball varsity, only six lettermen returned to bolster the current diamond crew. Tryouts were wide open since these half dozen performers all played either outfield or a battery position.

In the pitching department, the Tribe appears to be strongest with veteran righthanders Bruce Hobbs and Dave Fiscella available for action in addition to highly-touted first-year men, John Findley and Bruce O'Hara. Between them, Hobbs and Fiscella accounted for two-thirds of the 1960 wins.

Behind the plate, returnees Dick Coyle and Marty Nosal are slated for heavy action with Coyle destined to be Agee's versatility man and possibly playing first or third base. With three lettering outfielders back, the flychasing corps appeared set but the Paul Berghaus-Bob Irby-Bob Stoy triumvirate was disrupted when Irby was switched into the keystone position. Berghaus was the second leading hitter on last year's contingent, while Stoy was sidelined for the campaign by a knee injury. Dave Long appears to have the inside track on the remaining outfield slot.

Around the highly unsettled infield, starting spots were a toss-up since no veterans, except Irby, figured to see infield service. At first base, Dave Roye and John Gravely will square off, while across the diamond at the hot corner, Guy Harley and Bill Savage are vying for the post. Filling the big shoes at shortstop was Jay Nickel.

Facing a 19-game schedule highlighted by home-and-home engagements with all Southern Conference schools, Agee could only speculate as to the team's prospects. "We've got only 6 lettermen and are a predominately sophomore team," concluded the Tribe mentor shaking his head with spring training enthusiasm despite the uncertainty of the season that lies ahead for the W & M nine.

Top: Key to the Tribe's 1961 showing was the pitching quartet of John Findley, Bruce Hobbs, Dave Fiscella, and Bruce O'Hara

Middle: Coach Joe Agee gives batting tips to outfielders Bob Stoy and Paul Berghaus who comprise two-thirds of the W & M flychasing corps

CROSS COUNTRY

The Big Three of Captain Keith Larson, Bill Davis, and Tom Palmer paced the William and Mary cross country crew to another winning campaign under the astute guidance of Coach Harry Groves, who boasts three Southern Conference championships during his stay on the Reservation.

Despite the general consensus around the SC that the Indians were going to be weak, the Indians trounced the University of Richmond in their first meet and proceeded to knock off Roanoke College and the University of Virginia to more than balance losses to Virginia Military and Virginia Tech.

Heated competition among the Tribe trio continually increased their respective times and even pushed sophomore Palmer to the point where he was bettering the upperclass pair. Exemplary of the team's balance, each captured a first in the opening three meets of the fall, while Larson and Davis led the Tribesmen in the Southern Conference gathering.

In addition to the successful opener, the Grovesmen fared well in special meets by copping a second in the Virginia AAU session and a third in the Virginia Collegiate meet, both of which were dominated by Virginia Military.

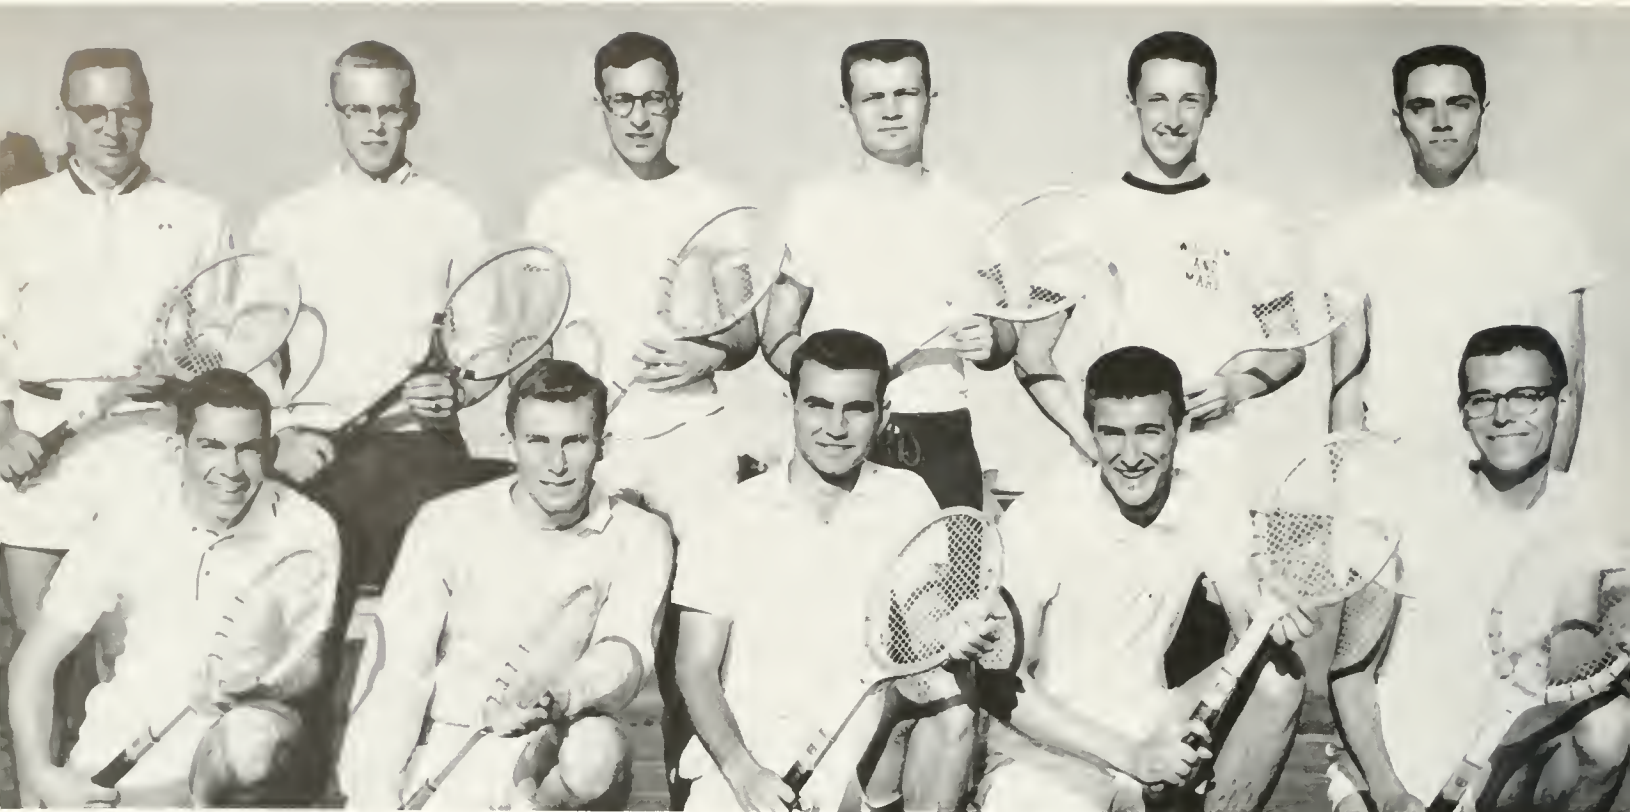

A firm believer in Grantland Rice's stress on "how you played the game," Groves was more than pleased with the improved performances of his supporting cast of Ray Caldwell, Marry O'Donnell, Fran Recchutti, and Marty Aronauer, all of whom brought their clockings down considerably. In his first year of cross country, Caldwell's progress was especially remarkable.

Looking to next fall, the Indians will lose only Bill Davis from this year's constantly-improving squad. Coupled with the SC-winning frosh crew, the Indians should be more than able to meet the predicted stronger conference competition.

Crucial in the plans for 1961 will be the graduation of the freshmen who churned through seven foes during their perfect season and also the State AAU Junior, The State Collegiate, and the Southern Conference titles with the relative ease that marks a championship combination.

An all-around athlete who captured the State DAU Decathlon title, senior Bill Davis provided steady pointage in closing his sparkling running career on the Reservation. A steadily improving soph, Tom Palmer was besting veterans Davis and Palmer at the season's close and figures prominently in the 1961-62 plans. Captain Keith Larson completed another outstanding autumn on the hill'n'dale crew, leading the Tribe to a respectable record in what was to be an "off year". Coach Harry Groves' talented frosh include, Front Row: Charlie Cook, Ned Showalter, Bruce Taggart, Bill Cleveland, Jim Holdren. Second Row: Frank Browne, Jerry Gimmel, Dave Weber, Dick MacNamee, Bob Lawson, Al Insley, Manager Jerry Uhl. Varsity performers are, Front Row: Coach Groves, Keith Larson. Second Row: Manager Bob Holden, Marty O'Donnell, Marty Aronauer, Bill Davis, Tom Palmer, Manager Jerry Uhl.

TENNIS

A court revival promised to occur this season on the Reservation as Tribe net prospects soared to a peak that had not been foretold since the days of Vic Sexias and the W&M tennis dynasty.

Junior Art Vandroff captains a senior-less starting five that should have shouldered the bulk of the team burden during the campaign. With a total of seven returnees from last year's squad that placed fourth in the SC tournament, the Tribesmen were a really veteran crew. Football aide Dave Nusz assumed the net reins for the first year, replacing the departed Bob Gill.

With the arrival of two hotshot sophomore prospects, Vandroff and sidekick Tom Fridinger were fighting for their lives, so to speak. Challenging the captain's right to first singles, standout Steve Parker was a definite choice for the second slot.

Junior Fridinger found himself in the paradoxical position of going undefeated in fourth singles play and finishing second among his peers in the SC only to return to that same position this year. Another graduate of last year's frosh team, Chico Herrick, immediately nailed down number three singles.

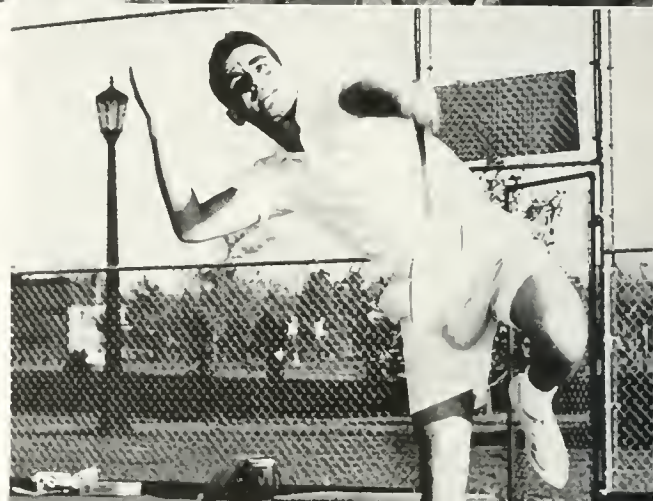

Behind Remy Arnoff, the solid fifth starter, the outfit possesses strong depth personified in seniors Jim Gandy and Jim Caserta and sophs Chuck Rice, Jim Delaney, and Keith Blomstrom.

"We've got a fired-up team," remarked Nusz as his boys went through early workouts. "They realize that they're considerably stronger than last year's fourth-place team and that defending champs George Washington experienced definite graduation losses. As long as the boys maintain their current spirit, who knows?"

Middle: Captain Art Vandroff faced stiff competition from rising sophs Steve Parker and Chico Herrick in attempting to gain the number one singles spot

Bottom: Tom Fridinger, second best fourth-singles player in the SC last year, returns a shot during a spring drill doubles session with junior Remy Aronoff

GOLF

After a highly successful 1960 record, the 1961 golf team expects a banner year. Beaten only by a strong Navy sextet, the W&M linksmen hope to better last year's 10-1-1 slate. Boasting the return of seniors Chip Ingram and Dave Mance, the Tribe has depth all down the line with a host of promising sophomores up from the powerful freshman squad.

With lettermen Mickey Baughman and Jeff Udell along with Bill Kucewicz, Jeff Stafford and Jeff Graham as returnees, the squad had as many as 17 vying for six positions.

Mance and Ingram, who appears to be one of the top golfers in the area, co-captain the team. Both seniors averaged in the middle seventies their junior years and expect to lower the averages in their final campaign on the Williamsburg Inn Course.

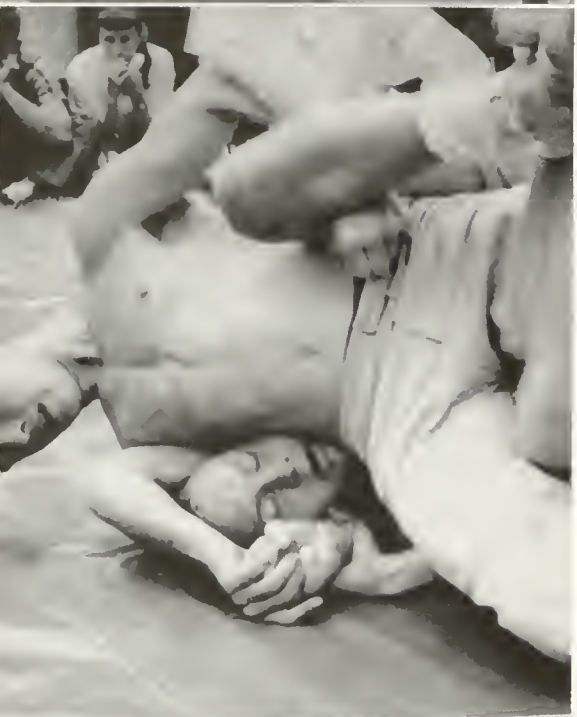

After a successful one year service as golf mentor, football assistant coach Jack Prater left the Reservation to join the VPI coaching staff. Filling the void was personable Ed Derringe, also an assistant football coach.

After a 72-hole qualifying round the squad was picked and team competition began early in April. The Tribe hosted West Virginia, George Washington, University of Virginia, Navy, Norfolk W&M, VPI, VMI, and Washington and Lee while visiting the University of North Carolina and Washington and Lee.

Top: A veteran from New York, Co-captain Dave Mance proved the Tribe's top returning performer from last year and looked forward for a big year in SC play. Middle: The other Co-captain from Pennsylvania, Chip Ingram figures to battle Mance for the top spot on the 1961 golf aggregation after a fine junior showing. Bottom: The 1961 golf contingent included: Joe Cunningham, Chip Reeside, Doug Rielkopf, Dan Dickerson, Chip Ingram, Pro George Tinsley, Dave Mance, Tom Haley, Jud Franklin, and Jeff Udell

MEN'S

Improving on a third place in 1959, KA's Mac Lillywhite performed as a paragon in place-kicking, converting 60 of 60 to edge teammate Bill Lehner and Theta Delt's Jim Robinson who missed long tries. Independent Bob Causey nabbed a fourth with 58 of 60 attempts.

As usual, the tennis and horseshoe competitions were dominated by the independents although Sigma Nu and Theta Delt grabbed the respective championships in the fraternity fight. Behind Phi Beta Kappa, Charles Rice whipped Peter Mabbott, 6-1, 7-5 after halting a late rally to pull the match out. Tied for third were independents Charles McEwen and Ackley Melson. Meanwhile, reigning horseshoe king Hunter Tardy was racing to his second straight crown by edging Bill Overacre in a battle of independents. Lone fraternity representatives in either tourney, Sig Ep's George Dresser and Theta Delt's Steve Parker advanced to the semi-finals with the latter failing to successfully defend his 1959 title.

Unprecedented in intramural history, Sigma Nu's Nat Withers sank 37 of 40 foul shots to clinch his third charity shooting contest. Jeff Udell of Pi Lamb out-dueled KA's E. J. Bowen for the runner-up slot, while Granger Roper of Kappa Sig rounded out the tip quartet.

At the Christmas break which saw Sigma Nu outdistancing second place Theta Delt by 60 points, PiKA garnered the volleyball honors in a whirlwind finish that featured Pi Lamb, Sigma Pi, and the future champs in a post-season play-off. PiKA defeated both challengers to dismiss any doubts about who was the best team. In the independent play, Old Dominion 2-3 escaped unscathed in 10 outings before bowing to the frat champs in straight games.

Top Left: SAE's Art Lloyd leaps mightily into the air to return Sigma Pi's Dave McDougal's shot in early stages of a hotly-contested volleyball race. The trophy was won by PiKA in a play-off.

Middle: Theta Delt's Kent Delano and Jim Cobrane tangle in bogus wrestling match, that is representative of the way fraternities become all wrapped up in the mat competition won by Sigma Nu.

INTRAMURALS

Simultaneously, Lambda Chi was coasting through 11 matches to claim the bowling supremacy over twice-beaten Sig Ep. Pi Lamb's Steve Segal copped individual keglers with a 107 average to best KA's E. J. Bowen and K-Klobbers' Paul Gordon who shared second with 105 marks.

Sigma Nu and the independents combined talents to dominate the annual grunt 'n groan spectacle at the Blow Gym. Ed Jean (177), Whitey Golden (157), and Lenny Dunford (137) paced the Numen who extended their lead to 147 points via the wrestling monopoly.

Off to a roaring start in the fraternity struggle for the all-points trophy, by capturing the football title. Sigma Nu stands a heavy favorite to waltz to its third consecutive intramural championship with its usual second semester domination of the spring sports.

In a triangular tussle for the coveted gridiron title Lambda Chi and Kappa Alpha jumped off to an early lead, meeting in an exciting battle of the unbeatens that was won by Lambda Chi, 20-13. However, Sigma Nu unsuspectedly gained momentum after a 7-7 tie inflicted by PiKA to defeat the other two prime contenders. The decisive tilt was the Numen versus Lambda Chi affair in which the champs-to-be capitalized on early breaks and held off a late Lambda Chi rally for the game and the title with a 9-0-1 record. on the independent-fraternity headliner the Numen easily prevailed over the Legal Beagles 26-14 for the College Championship.

Heading the all-star team selections was Dave Fiscella, Numen sparkplug at quarterback named to both the offensive and defensive squads. Others honored by double-duty assignments were Lambda Chi's Dick Coyle and KA's Mac Lillywhite. Rounding out the offensive dream team were Bill Coe and Bill Whitten of Lambda Chi and Bruce Hobbs of PiKA.

Top Right: Mickey Baughman seems to be playing footsie with Sigma Pi first baseman, Jim Hunter, following an unsuccessful attempt to catch the SAE runner napping off first base, during the softball season.

Middle: Guy Harley (30) eludes Jeff Graham of OD to a lay-up during Monroe's 52-43 conquest in independent play. (Inset) Nat Withers displays form that netted him a third straight free throw championship.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The 1960-61 Women's Athletic Association was started with the annual WAA freshmen orientation picnic and has continued throughout the year to support the women's intramural and inter-collegiate program. The three committees that run this organization are the Managers Board, the Joint Committee, and the Intramural Committee.

Reya Rhine was chosen president; Donna Floyd, point recorder; and Donna Nunn, secretary. Dot Young was student head of Intramurals while Susan Griggs presided as head of the Managers Board.

Any woman registered at the College of William and Mary is a member of the WAA. Members can earn the 500 or 1000 point awards or a letter in a varsity or junior varsity sport. The number of points accumulated are carefully tallied and at the end of the year the awards are given to the deserving individuals.

HOCKEY

After a rather slow start the Squaws finished the 1960 season successfully at the Tidewater Tournament. The slate consisted of one win, two losses, and one tie, but the team defeated the strong Westhampton team and tied the Petersburg club in the tournament. The other teams encountered were the Norfolk Division of William and Mary, Mary Washington, Richmond Club, and the Little Colonels.

Miss Joan Pattison coached both teams through a most enjoyable season. The varsity ranks consisted of all new members except for letterman Donna Nunn and Captain Shiras Elliot. The freshmen were a majority on both teams. A freshman, Judy Bryan, was the only member chosen to represent the William and Mary Squaws on the Tidewater Team.

BASKETBALL

The varsity basketball team was captained by forward, Donna Nunn; the other forwards were Lynn Kirk, Jenny Berry, and Linda Walker. The guards were Eleanor Hartman, Judy Bryan, and Susie Spindle. A large junior varsity which consisted almost entirely of freshmen backed up the varsity.

The season opened with a sparkling victory over the strong RPI team. This was the first in the past few years. Other teams encountered were Mary Washington, Longwood, Westhampton, Bridgewater, Swarthmore, Notre Dame of Maryland, and the Medical College of Virginia.

VARSITY TENNIS

Captained by fifth-ranked nationally Donna Floyd, the team had a fairly successful season. The teams encountered were Longwood, Richmond Professional Institute, Westhampton, Sweet Briar, Mary Washington, and Suffolk. The season was high-lighted by Donna's defending her title at the Middle States Tournament.

LACROSSE

Under the coaching of Miss Pattison, the team schedule included the regular colleges of Westhampton, Hollins, and Sweetbriar and was expanded considerably to include other new teams. The season was culminated with the Virginia State Tournament held at Westhampton.

The original chapter of KA was founded in 1865 at Washington and Lee under the guidance of Robert E. Lee. The Alpha Zeta chapter was established at William and Mary in 1890, and since then has been continually active longer than any fraternity on campus. KA demonstrated its spirit and versatility this year by having outstanding leaders in many activities; for example, Pete Schirmeier was president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, member of the Men's Honor Council, and a staff officer in ROTC; Shep McKenney was a William and Mary debater. On the gridiron co-captain Wayne Woolwine (second team, All-Southern Conference) was a stellar performer. The basketball team could not have done without the aggressive playing of starting guard Kenny Roberts and the same must be said of Ronnie Kilmon's slick job on the baseball diamond.

Socially, parties both at the lodge and at Gloucester flooded the year with times to remember. Christmas highlights were the Black and White Ball and the Christmas serenade when a jovial Sanra Claus distributed candy canes to all the good girls on campus. As every year, the zenith in the social calendar was reached with the fourteenth annual Southern Ball and parade. KA's sweetheart was Lorna Bowen who became Mrs. Nick St. George on Christmas Eve.

KAPPA SIGMA

"A freshman came to college and thought he'd join a frat. But first he took a look around to see where he was at . . ."

He discovered Kappa Sigma, found that its mother chapter was founded at the University of Virginia, and that Nu chapter of William and Mary was founded in 1890. This history interested him, but he was far more interested in the works of the brothers, themselves.

In this direction he discovered Dave Bottoms was President of the Student Body, and Perry Ellis supported him as Vice President. He turned to see how Kappa Sig's fared in varsity circles. In basketball, brothers Kirk Gooding, Henry Corns, Bev Vaughn, Dan Dickerson, Charlie Woolum, and Bob Harris were representatives. In football, brothers Dave Gatti, Bob Soleau, Dan Driscoll, Chuck Puskar, John Sifka, and Bob Irby were representatives. In swimming: Jay Nickel and Mort Aulls. In track: Vaughn, Gooding, and Corns; and in Baseball: Ted Freeman and Bob Irby.

He also learned that Dave Bottoms was Battle Group Executive Officer in ROTC, that Bottoms and Freeman were members of Scabbard and Blade.

But, he asked, do they excell in a social sense? Then he heard of Kappa Sig's Rathskeller Party, Beatnik party, pledge-brother dinner, Administration-Faculty reception, the annual Virginia Beach Weekend, and several other parties. He learned that Julie Morgan Darrow was Sweetheart, and agreed that Kappa Sig taste was excellent. Perhaps the most important fact he learned was that Individuality and Diversification were the two personal assets the brothers held foremost. He was impressed!

"And just because he was the best the school had ever seen, the colors that he wore past Rush were scarlet, white, and green."

Kappa Sigma colors, of course.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The last fraternity lodge on the right side of the row is filled with a bunch of proud and happy men. Their chests are swelled with pride for a good reason, for their fraternity is currently in possession of the AIFC Outstanding Fraternity Award, given for the first time at William and Mary to Lambda Chi Alpha.

The Epsilon Alpha Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha was established on this campus in 1927, to become the 102nd chapter of the general fraternity.

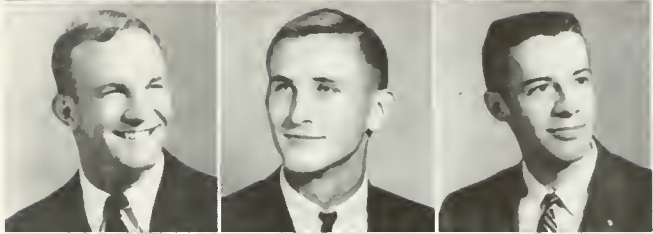

As the Outstanding Fraternity Award indicates, the brothers of Lambda Chi have contributed heavily to student leadership here at W&M. Among those active in fields of student activity are: Ron Monark, Phi Beta Kappa, ODK, and ROTC Battle Group Commander; Charles White, vice-president of ODK, Head Orientation Group Leader, President of the Young Democrats Club; Shore Robertson, Men's Honor Council, Senior Assemblyman, vice-president of the Political Science Club, and Dorm President; Bill Smith, President of the Pep Club and W&M Indian; Tom Bosserman, Men's Honor Council; Bill Clayton, ODK; and Marshall Acuff, Student Government Ticket Manager.

Scholastically, Lambda Chi Alpha has won the Scholarship trophy for attaining the highest academic average for the past four semesters. As for social activities, well, this lodge always has at least one spectacular per weekend. In addition, an unforgettable time is had by all at the Richmond Lambda Chi State Ball and at the Virginia Beach Weekend. The crowning of Sue Meara as the fraternity sweetheart at the formal and the annual Christmas Reading for the faculty and administration round out another successful year full of good times for the Lambda Chi's.

"No not again," people are saying all over campus; "the Phi Tau's have come through as the swing'n'est fraternity for the ??? who knows how many years in a row." These boys must really know how to give a party. This group of "way out cats" stem from the original chapter of Phi Kappa Tau which was founded at Miami University of Ohio in 1906. Alpha Theta Chapter was established here on the campus of William and Mary in 1926.

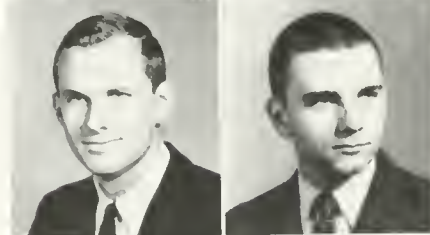

Lest people get the wrong impression, Phi Tau is well represented in campus and community life. Don Farrell, serving an unprecedented fourth term as student assemblyman, was initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa honorary fraternity. Dan Link also served on the Student Government and was a Scoutmaster of a local Boy Scout Troop in the community. Represented in the band were Andrew and Mike Gremedas, Warren Haley, and Dan Link. Once again the Phi Tau's were in evidence on the track team with top men like Keith Larson, Tom Palmer, Dave Long, and Herm Schmidt heading the list. Phi Tau also placed high in the first annual Alumni Interfraternity Council rating of the fraternities on campus.

Combo parties were common occurrences throughout the year with Kathy Lawler, our fraternity sweetheart, always in attendance. Completing the social year were the weekend excursions to Virginia Beach where everyone had a rocking time.

Pi Kappa Alpha was established at the University of Virginia in 1868, with Gamma Chapter emerging in 1871. Although largely a southern fraternity in earlier years, PIKA now ranks sixth in total number of chapters nationally with some 130 chapters.

PIKA is well represented athletically, with Loye "Rhino" Bechtold playing varsity football; Bruce Hobbs, a pitcher, on the baseball squad, and Gary Collier and Tom Vice, members of the swimming team. In addition PIKA captured the volleyball trophy in intramural competition, and always ranks high in the all-point competition.

Social highlights of the year include the annual Christmas Party, Founders Day, and a Pre-Historic Party, in addition to the various sorority, costume, theme and combo parties held throughout the year.

PIKA is well represented in many activities on campus this year. Among these include Bill Burnside and "Rhino" Bechtold, Scabbard and Blade; Don Pons, President of the Sociology Club; John Black, President of the Junior Class.

The entire brotherhood of PIKA is proud of the accomplishments of the past year, and hopes it will continue to flourish during the ensuing years.

Pi Lambda Phi, a non-sectarian social fraternity, was founded at Yale in 1895, and the Virginia Psi Chapter was established at the College of William and Mary in 1929. Pi Lamb tries at all times to stand by its ideals and chooses men on their merit alone— not allowing considerations of race and creed to interfere with their choice. As a result, Pi Lamb is composed of a diversified brotherhood, gaining its strength from the varied backgrounds and interests of its members.

The brotherhood shows its interests through its many campus activities— Lynn Shaw and Jerry Van Voorhis, members of the Honor Council; Lynn Shaw and Bob Wachs, ODK; Paul Verkuil, Vice President of the Interfraternity Council, Scabbard and Blade; Ray Spellman, President of the Student Religious Union; Bob Wachs, President of Theta Alpha Phi; Jerry Van Voorhis, Business Manager of the Flat Hat. Athletically we have Dave Kurland, Co-Captain of the Swimming Team; Glen Mann, Swimming Team; Art Vandroff, Tennis Team; Fran Recchuiti, Varsity Rifle Team. Pi Lamb has been either first or second in athletics among the fraternities for the past five years.

Socially, Pi Lamb has held many fine parties. Outstanding have been our Winter Formal, at which Linnea Barnes was chosen sweetheart; our Parent—Alumni Weekend and our annual Virginia Beach weekend.

Number One Fraternity Row, where the partying Sons of Minerva hold forth each weekend, specializes in being the "firstest with the mostest." Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the first social fraternity to be founded in the South (1856) and the second to be established at William and Mary, being established here in 1857. It now has the largest membership of any fraternity in the nation.

Members who were active in the chapter and in campus affairs were: John Dunlap, Best Pledge, or, Most Likely to Party; Phil McLaughlin, COLONIAL ECHO Fraternity Editor; Gene Murray, voted Outstanding Intramural Softball and Basketball Player; Distinguished Military Students, Mike Pokorny and Wayne Barber; Old Dominion Residence Counselor, "Skeets" Mink; and Roger Amole, the Marlboro Man. Gene Murray was the Winston Man. Varsity Football Players were H. C. Thaxton, Mike Pokorny, Ronnie Williams, Wayne Barber, Jon Stevenson, Red Wright, Frank Govern, and Jim Green.

In the fall semester the brothers pledged Al White. Bobbie Berkeley still reigned as SAE Sweetheart, pending the Sweetheart Dance late in the spring semester. A buffet in the Lodge was held Saturday afternoon of Homecoming Weekend for returning SAE Alumni. The Brothers held their annual Christmas serenade on December 8, after which they were hosted by the Sisters of Delta Delta Delta.

SIGMA NU

Sigma Nu was founded at Virginia Military Institute in 1869. The Epsilon Iota Chapter at William and Mary was established in 1922.

Thirteen members of our brotherhood were starters on this year's varsity football team. Leading these Nu men was co-captain Jim Porach.

In basketball, we also had Co-Captain Jeff Cohen leading the Indians to victory. Jeff is an All-American from Los Angeles, California. Among our other athletic leaders, such men as Dave Fiscella, co-captain of the baseball team, added to rounding our interest in athletics.

The coveted all-sports trophy was received for the third and final time last year by our chapter of Sigma Nu.

Brother Wayne Cheek is the only student on campus who is a member of the National Honorary Athletic Fraternity.

Sigma Nu is well represented in many other fields outside of athletics. The presidents of the Varsity Club and the Biology Club were Bob Stoy and Ira Lebenson, respectively. We were represented in other various organizations such as the Phoenix Society, Political Science Club, and the Math Club.

Gracing Sigma Nu's social calendar was the annual Christmas serenade and the White Rose and White Star Formal which was climaxed by the crowning of our sweetheart, Judy Trimm. Occasional week-end parties helped make an arduous year more enjoyable.

Our officers this year were: president, Mike McCall; vice president, Fred Coddling; secretary, Guy Overacre; and treasurer, Ira Lebenson.

Tom Johnson is secretary of the Honor Council, secretary of the Inter-Fraternity Council, and a member of ODK. Roger Earls, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. This year's editor of the Flat Hat is Al Volkmann a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, and president of the VIPA. Bill Nicolai is vice president of the Senior Class as well as the Newman Club. Alpha Eta Chapter of Sigma Pi was established on the William and Mary campus in 1931, having been founded at Indiana's Vincennes University in 1897. Sigma Pi continues to be the only national fraternity to use the exclusive Greek Cross. This year Alpha Eta held the honor of being host chapter to the National Sigma Pi Convention here in Williamsburg.

Many of the brothers may be found in responsible positions. President Bill Bolton served as Tyler's Dorm Manager, as did Pete Siegenthaler, also President of the Senior Class, for Madison. Aiding Pete in Student Government was Kent Delano, Vice President of the Sophomore Class. In addition, Don Lloyd acted as Chief Announcer for WCWM, Jim Cochran was a Merit Scholar, and became the 157-pound intramural wrestling champion, Jim Truxell edited the Methodist bulletin "WESQUIRE," and while other individuals were participating in varsity sports, the brothers wrapped up the fraternity softball trophy.

Socially, Sigma Pi's successful year has been crammed right through to the memorable Christmas Dance. Included were: Pledge-Brother Banquet and football game; Supper Club; Christmas and Spring Serenades; annual Orchid Ball Weekend where Mary Beth Curran was recrowned Sweetheart of Sigma Pi; Jamestown Beach Party; and the sixteenth annual Christmas party for needy orphans with Tri Delt.

THETA DELTA CHI

Sweetheart Beth Humrickhouse christened the good ship Theta Delta in September, 1960, and the "drunken . . . crew," with tenny pumps on, prepared for another year of hearty sailing. Founded at Union College in 1847, Theta Delta Chi is the eleventh oldest secret fraternity, and the first fraternity to appear on the campus of William and Mary.

President Frank Silcox captained the crew and commanded such notorious sailors as Paul Berghaus, Men's Honor Council; Don DuVall, Junior Assemblyman; Rolf Svendsen, Sophomore Class President; Keith Blomstrom, Sophomore Assemblyman; Tom Scott, Gerry File, Bill Shuler, Arnold Jones, Ronnie Jones, Footballers; Dave Mance, captain of the golf team; and in case of stormy seas, Joe Ayers and Turk Despard, swimming team members.

The homecoming weekend was a big one for Theta Delta, winning first place in the float contest and honoring many alumni at the Founder's Day Banquet. Through the fall, the weekends flew by, accented with several "lemon sour" parties, and the pre-Christmas festivities of the Annual Egg Nog Party, the tree trimming party, and the Mystic Suds Regatta with Sigma Pi.

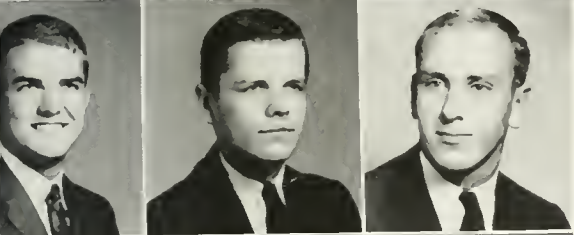

After Christmas the Theta Deltas kept up the pace with the Sweetheart Dance, Pledge Brother Beer Party (held off campus), Spring Weekend, and numerous sorority blasts.

Something new for Theta Delta Chi this year was the formation and initiation of the Theta Delta Chi Forum, a bi-weekly scholarly discourse with faculty members and community leaders. Dr. Talbot Selby, Dr. Alexander Kallos, Dr. William Abbott, got the forum off to a good start, and the brothers' interest in these discussions was further stimulated by Rev. Charles Sheerin, Dean H. Westcott Cunningham, and Dr. William Guy. These meetings, the brothers felt, helped to develop a more well-rounded fraternity man—the aim of Theta Delta Chi.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Inter-Fraternity Council is composed of the president and a second representative from each of the eleven fraternities at William and Mary. The fraternity presidents are also classified as members of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

The officers of the IFC, with the exception of the vice president, who must be chosen from among the fraternity presidents, are elected from the eleven representatives and hold office for a one year period.

The purpose of the IFC is to encourage interest in scholarship and athletics in the fraternity men of the college and to promote a cordial relationship among the fraternities. The IFC also attempts to maintain a good relationship between the students of the college and the residents of Williamsburg.

The Council establishes the rules governing general fraternity action and rushing. Each year the IFC publishes a booklet to inform the students of the rules and procedures of rush.

This year the IFC sponsored the annual Block Party and undertook several service projects.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The primary purpose of the Pan-Hellenic Council is to improve cooperation between the sororities on campus and to act as a liaison between the administration and the sororities. It is a representative body, made up of two girls elected by the individual sororities and a president. The Council works closely with the Inter-Fraternity Council in sponsoring certain activities throughout the year.

Rush is regulated by the Council and a program is set up by which the freshmen are acquainted with the sorority system at William and Mary. In addition the Pan-Hellenic Council sponsors a scholarship trophy and two yearly scholarships in an effort to promote better scholarship among sorority women.

The local Pan-Hellenic Council is affiliated nationally with the National Pan-Hellenic Council which consists of delegates from each of the national sororities.

Alpha Chi's Celebrate Diamond Jubilee

The 1960-61 year found Alpha Chi Omega celebrating its Diamond Jubilee. Six new girls were pledged in informal rush, and shortly after we celebrated our Founder's Day and Homecoming both on October 15. Highlights of the fall semester were a visit by the province president, a faculty tea, and a visit by the National Field Secretary.

Christmas vacation provided us with a breather, but not before we had held our two annual Christmas functions: a dance at the Williamsburg Motor House; and a party for underprivileged children given jointly with the Kappa Sigma Fraternity. At vacation end, we returned to make preparations for exams and formal rush.

Spring came and with it came informal rush and the Pledge Presentation Dance. Finally graduation culminated an altogether successful seventy-fifth year for the Alpha Chi's.

Omega Horseshoe Brings Luck to the Chi Omegas in 1960-61

The beginning of the year saw the Chi Omegas as a lucky group of girls with the acceptance of four new pledges in fall rush. Luck remained with the Chi Omegas throughout the fall, and brought them through the Homecoming parade on a wedding cake float, which captured third place.

On the social side, fall rendered the Chi Omegas very lucky in having two most successful teas; one for housemothers, the other for faculty.

Christmas saw the Chi Omegas fully in the Christmas spirit and luck was still with them. After an annual Owl Hoot, Santa visited the house with presents for all. To share the luck of their horseshoe the Chi Omegas gave a party for underprivileged children, sent a package to their foster child in Germany, and gave a basket to a needy family.

February saw the beginning of formal rush and the lucky Chi Omegas warmly welcomed their new pledges. The end of winter brought on a round of fraternity parties for the lucky sisters, which were enjoyed by all.

Spring saw the Chi Omegas excitedly preparing for the White Carnation Ball. The pledges were presented, the dance was a big success, and each Chi Omega considered herself very lucky to have been a part of such a gala affair.

The end of the year came all too soon and at their Senior Banquet, the Chi Omegas bade farewell to each other and to this, their luckiest year of all.

Delta Dream Daze

We Tri Deltas caught a first glimpse of our dreamy, new kitchen when we arrived at William and Mary in September. It was a perfect start to a perfect year. With no days to be lost, hammers and saws were pulled out for another Homecoming float. What a nightmare building it, but taking first place put us into a daze! We spent one of our most delightful evenings when President and Mrs. Paschall joined us for dinner. We had yummy desserts with the Pi Phi's and Thetas and stopped for a moment on Thanksgiving Eve to pay tribute to Tri Delta predecessors with a Founders Day Banquet. The daze and days of Christmas spirit were filled by Santa at our Pine Party, a Christmas Formal, and our Orphan Party with Sigma Pi. Through the year Delta's dream men provided us with many carefree afternoons at their famous fraternity parties.

Rush, Rush, Rush our pledge class was a real dream! In its honor we held our annual Spring Pledge Dinner-Dance. Our social and scholastic efforts were met in a Faculty Garden Party in the Spring. We Tri Deltas relived our dream daze at the Pansy Breakfast, and soon after we bade the Senior D D D's a fond farewell.

1960-l-derful

Returning to school in the fall, Gamma Phi's were greeted by their new housemother, Mrs. Gladys Mersfelder, and by the news that they were first in scholarship for the preceding semester.

"Parties make the world go round" might well have been the theme for the first semester. There were float-building parties, fraternity parties, serenades, "yard parties" to turn the front yard desert into an oasis, and a faculty tea honoring the new housemother. Christmas brought more festivities: a tree-trimming party and a party with SPE for underprivileged children, complete with a Sig Ep Santa!

Five girls were pledged in informal rush and presented at the Christmas Dance. During rush in February the enthusiastic chorus of "We're Gamma Phi's" could be heard across campus. The new pledges were welcomed into the group with a chapter dinner and later with a Big and Little Sister party.

In March the Gamma Phi's journeyed to College Park, Maryland, where they joined other chapters for a province conference.

The Spring dinner-dance was held at the Williamsburg Lodge, and the new Gamma Phi Dream Guy was chosen. Next came the annual chapter picnic at the Dell and a beach party at Jamestown.

The Senior Banquet was held at the Lodge in May with the pledges entertaining with imitations of the seniors. Each Gamma Phi looked back on the friendship and fun she had experienced this year in Gamma Phi Beta and forward to years which promise to be even better!

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

"So, ring out three cheers for Theta,
For we love her as you know . . ."

The Thetas had much to shout about when Jane Miller, Sue Oakley, and Dianne Laferriere were pledged in the fall—and even more when Susan Griggs joined the group of actives in a fall initiation.

Thetas gathered round in October to stuff much chicken wire and do much painting for the Homecoming float, a huge gaming board. Usual Theta spirit was evident as everyone pitched in to finish the work—while the Theta's handy phonograph played in the background.

A very successful Fall Dance was held at the Williamsburg Lodge after which the sorority gathered at the House for a slumber party. Other activities included the annual Faculty Tea and a get-together with Tri-Delta for coffee and desert. Spring brought renewed Theta spirit with a class of new Freshmen pledges and the annual Theta weekend. To end the year, a picnic was held as a send-off for the departing Seniors.

Even as time came for the Thetas to go their separate ways, one could still hear coming from the Theta House, "Give me that old Theta spirit, it's good enough for me!"

Tradition With New Ideas

The sorority year started early with the traditional back-to-school buffet held the first week of school. Soon we started work on our home-coming float, "Tech 'em and Pluck 'em." The preparations were extensive but fun for all KD's.

The fall would never be complete without a Founder's Day celebration and Faculty coffee.

This year the new experience of an extended open rush pledged five girls to the Norman shield.

Tradition again let us enjoy a Christmas tree trimming party and using our special KD Christmas seals. In January we presented our new pledges at the Diamond Ball.

Formal rush, a busy time for everyone, was followed closely by plans for a house corporation, again something new in this Kappa Delta year.

March saw the Benefit Bridge for our National Philanthropy, the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond; and April, the Senior Banquet. Our Mother's Day Tea in May was followed by our spring dance and week end.

Throughout the year the KD's had many pajama parties and fraternity parties. In addition we enjoyed extra-curricular activities and were kept busy by the duties of campus offices.

Our new social service project gave us the gratifying experience of receiving letters from the little Italian boy whom we adopted through the Foster Parents Plan.

This year was indeed one of tradition, but equally one of new activities for Kappa Delta.

The Kappa Nana Dog

Once upon a time there was a great brick house on the corner, the meeting place of sixty-five girls. I remember well all the merriment and laughter which I overheard while I lay stretched out on the bed all year. Little did they know their little Kappa "Nana Dog" was listening. Come with me now into the "never, never land" of Kappa, and I will tell of the many adventures of the K.K.G.'s.

Returning to school early in September, the Kappas enthusiastically began studying and partying. Although the honors and activities are too numerous to list, Kappa was represented in every phase of campus life.

Plans for the Homecoming Float were immediately begun, and with some frantic last minute work, the alarm clock was finished. Before they knew it, Christmas was here, and the festivities began with their annual Christmas party and breakfast, and their traditional party with Pi Lambda Phi for underprivileged children. The "Monmouth Duo," a joint dance with Pi Phi, was the highlight of January and their last fling before exams.

Exams whizzed by and second semester was ushered in with the hectic work and excitement of formal rush. With spring approaching, they began planning for their Pledge Presentation dance, the Senior Banquet, the Fleur-de-lis Party, and visits to Dunbar. The many fraternity parties, informal get-togethers with other sororities, and formal teas for faculty and alums completed a wonderful year for Kappa.

And so ends the story of Kappa land for the year 1960-1961, a year filled with many memories never to be forgotten. I will be back next year to report from my "lookout" the many activities they are already planning.

Best Year Ever in Our Phi Mu Castle

A wonderful year for the Phi Mu's began when they returned in September to hear the news that President Gay Whitlock had received the honor of being selected Carnation Queen at National Convention. As the year progressed the girls came to think of their house as a real Phi Mu Castle.

Anxious to show off new china, carpeting, dining room tables and chairs, a sofa, and other new furnishings, the Phi Mus entertained alumnae at a brunch on Homecoming week end and a Christmas tea. Open houses after home football games allowed other guests to see the house. Entering into the holiday spirit, they entertained the Interfraternity Council at a Thanksgiving buffet dinner and enjoyed an afternoon Christmas tree-trimming party. The new pledge class of six began its activities with a pizza party for other pledge classes.

Yard parties gave the Phi Mus an opportunity to plant shrubs and paint, and the weeks before Homecoming found the girls busy building turkeys for the float. The spring semester found the Phi Mus gathered at the house for a parent-faculty tea, a smarty party honoring our best scholars, and a luncheon for graduates and their parents.

The night of October 1 found our house deserted as last spring's pledge class of twenty six was presented by Field Secretary Liz DeBeaugrine at a dance in the Student Center. A week later came initiation after which the Phi Mus attended church and ate dinner at the Lodge.

Social service projects, rush, fraternity parties, intramurals, and other activities helped to keep us busy throughout the year.

Lest We Forget . . .

- . . . our return in the fall to the campus loaded with suitcases and tales of our summer escapades,
- . . . October, a month filled with much activity, informal rush which brought seven new pledges and a slumber party in their honor, the night Joan was tapped into Phi Beta Kappa, Homecoming, how could we forget Homecoming, when we Pi Phi's watched our float bearing the slogan, "The Odds are Against You, Tech," tumble into second place, and our Maureen was named Homecoming Queen,
- . . . our socials, spaghetti dinners, initiation, and the 7 o'clock breakfast honoring our new initiates,
- . . . December, when so much excitement kept us in a whirl, the Christmas Open House, caroling at Dunbar, and our own chapter party where we echoed Merry Christmas,
- . . . The Monmouth Duo, where Pi Phi and Kappa relived their founding,
- . . . February, when formal rush brought more excitement and new pledges who joined in the fun that spring had to offer,
- . . . Spring, when the Pi Phi's thoughts turned to the Founders' Day Luncheon, our hay ride, serenades, and the spring formal highlighting our pledges and their escorts.
