Dr John Austin

Dear Sir The horse I got of your brother belonging to you has weak eyes & is likely to go blind if he is used hard, I bought him for a sound horse your brother told me he believed him to be such so I did not examine his eyes, I can prove he sold him to me for a sound horse, you must take him back again I will put the horse in the same order I got him in, and allow you five dollars for the time & service he has rendered me since I have had him, if you do not accede to my proposition I will deliver the horse back to your brother & see for my money
