The Board of Visitors, the governing body of the College of William and Mary, is appointed by the Governor of Virginia. There are ten members serving on the Board, plus the Superintendent of Public Instruction, an ex officio member. They hold this office for a period of four years, with five new members being appointed every two years, permitting an overlapping in terms.

The chairman or rector of the Board presides over the meetings which are held three times a year. The rector may call any additional meetings which may be necessary. James W. Robertson served as Rector of the Board of Visitors for this year.

I H E  STUDENT  G OVERNMENT

The student organization at William and Mary which, in the words of this years president, Hike Abdella, "tries as much as possible to give the students a chance at self-expression and self-government to a degree, and accomplish constructive measures in order to serve the student body and the college of William and Mary, " is the Student Government.

The Student Government is divided into three important parts. At the top is the General Co-operative Committee, consistino of representatives from the faculty, administration, and student body. In the middle lies the Senate which is a group of ten persons including as its president the vice-president of the student body. The other members of the Senate are: The president of the student body, the presidents of the four classes, chairmen of the three divisions of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association, and chairman of the men's honor council. The third and most important group is the Student Assembly composed of three men and three women representatives from each class, besides one graduate-student delegate. The Assembly is then further subdivided into standing committees. Reports of the affairs of the Student Government were made weekly in the "Flat Hat' to further aid communication with the students.
Each year, the Student Government takes an important part in the annual orientation program. They foster organized group discussions and a series of introductory dances, all of which served to help make the adjustment of the new students more painless

The major proiect of the Student Government this year was the production of Student Government Week in Febru. ary. This began with a general student meeting in Blow Gymnasium and followed with a dance weekend, consisting of a dance on Saturday niaht and a band concert on Sunday afternoon starring Stan Rubin and his "Tigertown Five." Career Day this year was incorporated into Student Government Week, and was enlarged to make it of interest to all classes in the school. The entire week may be written off as one of the most successful operations of the school year, and proves that a strong and effective Student Government will always make its place felt on campus.

This year's Student Government, under the more than capable leadership of Hike Abdella was certainly a strong and effective one, and for this reason it has earned the respect and admiration of the entire student body.

Stewart Sell, Chairman

The first honor system in the United States was founded at William and Mary in 1779. Today, it is still an active force at the College, preserving honor through the individual responsibility of each student.

Besides fulfilling its primary purpose of holding trials when necessary, the Honor Council also serves by sitting at the polls during elections, and in counting the ballots cast.

During Orientation Week, the members of the Honor Council greeted the Freshmen and transfers with news of the existence, purpose, and function of the Honor System, and continued during the rest of the year to educate the student body by passing out an explanation of trial procedure and the rights of the accused, thus acquainting the student with his rights and limitations under the law.

Members of the 1955-1956 Honor Council were Stewart Sell, Chairman: James Mclnnes, Vice-Chairman; Bradley Lesher, Secretary; Mason Swann, Senior Member; Rodney Elliot and Alexander Fakadej, Junior Members: Denys Grant and Azhar Ali, Sophomore Members.

The faculty ao'visor for this outstanding campus group is Dudley W. Woodbridge, Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

Carolyn Suber, Chairman

On the belief that every student, upon reaching college age possesses honesty and integrity, the students of the College of William and Mary founded the first Honor System in 1779. Since this date, many other colleges and universities have adopted similar systems. The system has played an integral role in colleqe life.

The Women's Honor Council, a branch of the Women's Student Cooperative Government Association, investigates alleged infractions of the Honor Code, holds trials when warranted, and recommends penalties for violations committed by the women students of the College of William and Mary.

The council works in cooperation with the Men's Honor Council on matters concernina both men and women students including orienting new students, standardizing rules of procedure and definition of terms, and sitting at the polls and counting ballots of student government elections. Before the semester examinations, the members aive informal talks in the women's dormitories, reminding the students of their responsibility to the Honor Code and of the importance of keeping their pledge.

Members of the Honor Council for the year 1955-56 were: Carolyn Suber, chairman; Victoria Stone, vice-chairman; Zona Mae Fairbanks, secretary; Brenda Korns, senior member; Donna Kay Smith, iunior member; and Lyda Daggett and Gretchen Sedam, sophomore members.

The Women Students' Cooperative Government Association, better known as W.S.C.G.A., was organized to further self-government and student responsibility in the management of women students' affairs. To these ends the Association is divided into three Councils: the Executive Council, the Judicial Council and the Honor Council. The success of the three councils depends upon each member's assumption of responsibility and cooperation in the spirit and ideals of the organization.

The purpose of the Judicial Council, this year under the capable leadership of Joan Marsh, is to maintain and formulate the social rules of the women students at William and Mary. The Council consists of a chairman, secretary, representative from each class, representative-at-large and the presidents of each women's dormitory. A Judicial supper was held in April to discuss proposed rule changes with the advisors, Dr. Fowler, Dr. Guy, and Dr. Taylor. On the social side, the Council gave the annual Housemothers' tea in October, this year in honor of the new Assistant Dean of Women.

The Executive Council is that branch which is responsible for the handling of all official business of the Association and also for holding the business meetings in Blow Gym, where service projects, social rules and campus announcements are presented. In addition to its other duties, the Executive Council handles informal meetings for new students, day student affairs and the awarding of two $$ 100$ scholarships to deserving women students. This year under the enthusiastic leadership of Barbara Luhring, the Council instituted a system of committees in order to have a greater participation of the women students in student government.

The three campus publications, the COLONIAL ECHO, the Flat Hat, and the Royalist, are the voices through which the students of the College can express their views and learn of the activities at William and Mary. Thus, it is important that these publications have leaders that are competent and well informed on the undertones of student life.

The editors of the three publications are chosen each year by the Publications Committee of the Student Government. In December, the Committee reviews candidates for editorships on the Flat Hat, the campus newspaper. After a personal interview with each candidate, the committee selected the Editor and the Business Manager. Later in the Spring, the same procedure was followed in the selection of positions on the COLONIAL ECHO and the Royalist. Candidates were selected by the staffs and the Committee then considered and elected those best qualified for the positions. The Editors and Business Managers of the publications must maintain a 1.4 quality-point average in order to qualify for an editorship.

The 1955-56 Publications Committee was composed of Dick Rowlett, Chairman of the Committee: Alice Mott, Editor of the Royalist, and acting secretary: Guy Allen, Editor of the COLONIAL ECHO; Johanna Hyde, editor of the Flat Hat; and James Abdella, President of the Student Government. Mr. Charles E. Anderson and Mr. Alexander Kallos served as Faculty Advisors to the Committee.

This year, the Publications Committee has tried to formulate certain standards for selection of the several editorships, including grade requirements for the paid positions of the three publications. Standard for material suitable for publications were also formulated. The rights and opinions of the Editors were still recognized by the Committee, and individual policy was left up to them.

The Publications Committee has always had an interest in maintaining and improving relationships between the staffs of the publications and the Administration. Through conferences with the Administration, the Committee sought to better existing relationships.

of the campus, Sally proved to be one of the 'Flat Hat's most valuable assets. Her key men were Copy Editor Andy Powell and star freshman reporter, James LeFon.

Rusty Dietrich, struggling with headlines for long hours every Sunday, was one of the youngest and, according to Jo, most loyal junior editors.

Feature Editor Margie Muller waged a continuous search for "angles" behind the campus news. Sports Editors George McDaniels during the fiirst semester, and Hilly Zebine the second semester of the editorial year, carried sparkling athletic coverage and smiled at Jo's standing order to keep unsubstantiated editorial comment out of the sports column.

Business Manager Randy Hall, Advertising Manager Marcia Page, and Circulation Manager Clare Vincent, kept the money coming in and the paper going out.

Photographers Richard Raybold and Peter Clark, and cartoonist Dave Ferriday kept the pages lively. Dave's subtle cartoons sometimes went over the heads of the student body, but a glance at the editorial usually clarified their very sharp point.

Memorable moments in the "Flat Hat" career of these unique personalities included the "Special Monday Edition" which Jo designed to carry two ruckus scoops. The "chape-rone-No Beer" edict by the College Board of Visitors and an exclusive interview on the protest resignation of faculty member Dr. Douglass Adair were two of the front page stories. Jo and student body president Ron Drake were the only two people who knew that the issue, conceived on Sunday and distributed on Monday, was coming out.

Traditional memories of the staffers were harried nerves, misplaced ads, fights with the administration, all-night stands, the "boys" at the "Virginia Gazette," cut classes, flunked tests, the cold, grim office, and the unending plea for more work of a higher quality.

The addition in September of paid publications' adviser Miss Virginia Tyree, was unanimously acclaimed by the "Flat Hat" staff as a "good thing.

The unique aspects of the year were given by the personalities and the political turmoil at the College. The three "top brass" gave a sigh of relief in January at the close of their hectic reign. They could well afford to retire happily, for they had worked hard and the result was stellar.

THE COLONIALECHO

Here we go again, folks, on our annual tour of the famous COLONIAL ECHO. You may think that you've heard all about it, but it changes every year, and this year we flatter ourselves to think that it's better than ever. One glance at the unequaled splendor and glory of this matchless work of art should convince you that Guy Allen and his staff of Yearbook-worms deserve a big round of applause, but to fully appreciate this fine book, more than a short glance will be necessary. Thats what I'm here for-to give you the special tour of the ECHO , so that all of its beauties will become more obvious to your less prejudiced eye.

Speaking about esthetics, we may as well begin with the Art staff and the logical start of our tourthe cover. The design which you have probably noticed on your way in is a masterpiece in its own way. This, as well as the other art work in the yearbook, and the posters which have decorated the campus with news of the doings of the COLONIAL ECHO, have been the work of Nan Andrews and her crayonwielding cohorts of the Art Staff.

As we move on, we cannot fail to notice the many samples of professional-looking photography which adorn the yearbook all the way through. For this, Dick Raybold, Photography Editor, is responsible, along with Guy Allen and Pete Clark, who battled against Williamsburg's inclement weather to catch William and Mary at its work and play.

Under the headings of "Freshmen," "Sophomores," "Juniors," and "Seniors" you'll find your friends, looking more or less like their usual selves, as they smile fixedly off into the distance. Having arranged for these to be taken, Kathy Christian, Class Editor, soon found that her job included categorizing these names, and matching them to the sometimes unrelated-looking faces.

Carolyn Meachum had much the same trouble with her Organizations, as she tried to maneuver whole groups of people into appearing for their pictures at the same time.

Tom Burke, trying to get the Fraternity Section together, had many enjoyable moments struggling to match each picture with the right fraternity, but due to the decline of lodge-hopping, his problem was somewhat alleviated, and any onlooker could find him happily ogling some of the more informally posed shots.

The "Flat Hat" and the COLONIAL ECHO as next-door neighbors, have had a mad race all year to see which one could produce the messiest office. The ECHO took great strides towards winning this contest during the time that Julie Bleick and her chuckling Feature Staff were in possession of the floor-space, cramming it with pictures, wallpaper, and little sample drawings. Her other great contribution to the yearbook, of course, is more obvious to the casual reader-the jovial Feature section.

To Mac McDaniel and his Sports Staff went the dubious honor of chronicling the sports activities of the Big Green. Although he may have enjoyed covering the women's sporting events, his happiest moments may well have been those spent attempting to pose his athletes in mid-air.

Betsy Swaine, in her work as Copy Editor, was fortunate to have on her staff a group of budding Mickey Spillanes who ferreted out the necessary information and wrote it in characteristic style.

The "Angels" who helped to put this show on the road were procured by Earl Call and his Wall-Street Business Staff, who had probably the most timeconsuming job on the staff.

Elaine Pratt, the Associate Editor, put all of her yearbook experience to work in assembling the ECHO. Guy Allen, Editor-in-Chief, did a wonderful job of coordinating the work of the various staffs, and in the entertaining of Mr. Benson on his jaunts up this way.

Together, these separate elements add up to what is, for us at least, the 'best yearbook ever." Our enjoyment in putting it out, we hope, will be exceeded only by your enjoyment in reading it.

Among the many honored traditions of the College of William and Mary, the founding of the first chapter of Phi Beta Kappa is among the most cherished. On December 5th of 1776, a year which is noted for several other events as well, the Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was established on this campus and since that time. Phi Beta Kappa has risen to become foremost of all existing honor societies.

Preceding the 179th Anniversary Meeting, commemorating the founding of the chapter, the annnual initiation ceremonies were held in the Apollo Room of the remains of the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall and twelve students and one alumnus were welcomed into the society. Following the initiation ceremonies, the new initiates and their guests attended a banquet at the King's Arms Tavern. On the evening of December 5 th, the annual Anniversary Meeting was held in Blow gymnasium to commemorate the Anniversary and to welcome the newly-initiated members. Henry Allen Moe, Secretary General of the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation was the principal speaker, and John Holmes, Phi Beta Kappa poet of 1955, presented "The Poet in the Classroom," a selection of poems from his works. Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, President of the national chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, presided over the exercise. Dr. Fraser Neiman, Associate Professor of English, welcomed the new initiates, and William H. Williams, newly-elected member of Phi Beta Kappa, delivered the responses on behalf of the new initiates.

In accordance with its program of encouraging high intellectual standards throughout the country, the national chapter of Phi Beta Kappa awards a one-thousand-dollar prize for the best book on literary criticism, and publishes the "American Scholar," a quarterly magazine.

John Stuart Bryan, previous President of the College of William and Mary, founded the President's Aides in 1935. Their purpose was to serve as personal aides to the President in receiving and entertaining guests and to escort his official party at all convocations. President Bryan also designed a special medal bearing the College seal to be given to each aide. In 1948, President John E. Pomfret included women aides in his selection, thus establishing a precedent which has carried down to today. He believed that this action would provide a wider and more democratic representation.

Ten students holding the following offices are automatically appointed as aides: President of the Student Body. Presidents of the Junior and Senior Classes, Chairmen of Men's and Women's Honor Councils, President of the Executive Committee of the Woman Students' Cooperative Government Association, Chairman of the Judicial Committee, President of Omicron Delta Kappa, President of Mortar Board, and Editor of Flat Hat. In addition, two memembers-at-large are selected from among the student leaders.

The President's Aides are outstanding students in the various phases of college life who act as personal assistants to the president, and are appointed by the President and his wife. The Aides for the 1955-56 session are: Hykel James Abdella. Chief Aide: Richard Walton Calvert, Johanna Augusta Hyde, Victoria C. Stone, Carolyn Bailey Suber, Barbara Ann Luhring, Randolph Lee Hall, Jr., Stewart Sell, Joan Kathryn Marsh, Josephine Ann Napolino, James LaVerne McGinnis.

PRESIDENT'SA|DES

Omicron Delta Kappa, founded at Washington and Lee University on December 3. 1914, is the National Leadership Honor Fraternity. Eta Circle was established at William and Mary on May 27, 1921. Its members are selected in recognition of eminence in extracurricular activities. The purpose of the fraternity is to acknowledge high achievement and efficiency in collegiate activities, to bring together representative men from all phases of college life for cooperation in worthwhile endeavor, and to unite members of the faculty and student body on the basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Members are elected for their participation in two, and proficiency in one of the following fields: Scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications, speech, music, and the dramatic arts. Members of the faculty, as well as members of the student body, are tapped at the annual Mortarboard-O.D.K. Convocation in the Spring.

The members who carried on O.D.K.'s activities, the major one being the annual Leadership Forum, were: Hike Abdella, Randy Hall, Bill Williams, Rod Elliott, Tom Burke, Stewart Sell, Dick Rowlett, Henry Kaplan, Jim McInnes, and Professors W. Melville Jones, R. Wayne Kernodle, J. Wilfred Lambert, H. Wescott Cunningham, and William H. McBurney.

MORTAR BOARD

First Row: V. Stone. L. Mortashed, J. Outten. Second Row: L. Will, C. Suber.

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Mortar Board, traditionally recognizes Senior women outstanding in leadership and scholarship on the campus. In the past, the three purposes of Mortar Board-leadership, scholarship, and service in activities--have been equally stressed, but this year, in accordance with the theme of the 16 th National Tri-annual Convention held at Michigan State University this summer, the program has been planned so that the emphasis fell on scholarship.

In 1955-56, led by President Victoria Stone, Mortar Board followed its program of service to the College by offering tutoring services, supplying the women's dormitories with subscriptions of "Time" and "Life," and by selling refreshments at the two William and Mary plays. To encourage academics, Mortar Board offered a one-thousand-dollar scholarship to be awarded each Spring.

To finance these activities, Mortar Board sponsored several fund-raising projects such as the Mortar Board Used Furniture Sale in the fall, three concert trips to Richmond during the school year, and the sale of ice cream at the Colonial Festival in the Spring.

The hard-working members of Mortar Board for this year have been: Victoria Stone, Lois Mortashed, Lois Vill, Josephine Napolino, Joyce Outten and Carolyn Suber. They have been joined in their endeavors by the local alumnae: Mrs. Boydson Baird, Miss Martha Barksdale, Miss Grace Blank, Miss Emily Calkins, Mrs. T. S. Cox, Mrs. Harold Fowler, Mrs. William G. Guy, Miss Emily Hall, Mrs. W. B. Harman, Miss Althea Hunt, Mrs. James Kelly, Mrs. Charles Marsh, Miss Mildred Matier, and Miss Rebecca Tinker.

At the annual Spring Honors Convocation, the undergraduate Mortar Board mem. bers "tapped" the outstanding Junior girls to replace them in carrying on the traditions of Mortar Board.

WILLIAM AND MARY CHOIR AND CHORUS

The William and Mary Choir, rapidly becoming one of the better-known college choirs in the country, spent another eventful year under the able direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr, who came to William and Mary in 1947. The major events of the season included the choir's two concerts given annually in the Winter and in the Spring. This year, the choir presented Handel's "Messiah" as their production in December. Soloists were Glenna Baily, Victoria Stone, Lavinia Pretz, Jeanne Armstrong, and Ed Watkins. Besides their many concert trips, which included journeys to West Point, Craddock, Glouchester, Richmond, and the Western portion of Virginia, the choir has been very active in Williamsburg. They presented several local programs, and sang at Bruton Parish Church, as well as at college furictions such as convocations and chapel services. The choir will lona be remembered by those who will graduate for their rendition of the William and Mary Hymn and the Alma Mater at the various convocations throughout the years.

Each year some of the choir members are fortunate enough to be chosen to sing under the direction of Dr. Fehr in the "Common Glory" held at Lake Matoaka. The long-playing RCA Victor recording which was published by the choir last year was the fourth in a series of records by this organization.

The many fine performances of the William and Mary Choir have more than justified the hours of practicing put in by the individual members as well as the pride which the College has in its Choir.

Not to be outdone in the least, the William and Mary Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Fehr, more popularly known as "Pappy" have again this year attained a high mark in the world of vocal music. The one hundred and fifty women who compose this group sang in many of the chapel services and presented two concerts during the college year.

The traditional concert given just before Christ mas holidays in the Methodist Church gave the girls an opportunity to impress their fellow students and the college community with the fact that their diligent practice had not been in vain. To a full house of eager listeners, the chorus presented several familiar Christmas numbers and in conjunction with the choir, presented the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah" by Handel. A performance of such high calibre shall not soon be forgotten.

The Spring Concert was held with the same musical excellence evident to all who attended. The chorus not only provided musical entertainment for various colleqe functions but stressed the enjoyment which could be found by working and singing together. It is unnecessary to say that membership in the chorus was considered to be a privilege by the whole college community, and a most enjoyable extra-curricular activity by all of its members.

The college is justly proud of the high achievements of both the Choir and the Chorus and, of course, of "Pappy," who has been the guiding light in their training.

WILLIAM AND MARY

As Irvin Berlin aptly put it, 'There's No Business Like Show Business," and this would be received with cheers of agreement among the members of William and Mary's active Theate group. They worked untiringly throughout the year to present a series of widely diversified plays which pay tribute to their talent

The theater's first effort of the season was Frederick Knott's 'Dial $M$ for Murder," a thriller of the spine-tingling variety. For the cast of this English play. Henry Woolf, this year's Exeter Exchange Student was a "natural," and he clearly demonstrated his acting ability in this part. Linda Lavin. Richard Thompson, and Donald Smith were fortunate choices to play the remaining major characters in this memorable play
"Antigone," a popular tragedy by Jean Anouilh, was the second offering. This play was based on a background knowledge of mythology and literature, but was still very much appreciated by the student-audience. Diane Hamel played the lead role, which will never be forgotten by those who viewed her performance. She was backed up by a well-chosen cast consisting of Gray Bromleign, Bobbie Lee Rankin, Dorothy Guthrie, Peter Rowe, and Martin Reymert, all of which served to put the high drama of "Antigone" across to the audience.

theatre

The theater group traveled down to the Caribbean for the setting of its third play, "Home Is Tomorrow," by J. B. Priestly. For this play, Miss Hunt sought out new talent with a linguistic versatility to play the many-nationality roles which the work demands. Henry Woolf again did a fine job in one of the leading roles, and Michael Hanft, Richard Thompson, Diane Stevens, and Phyllis Davis .To produce the desired effect of a combination of the civilized outer world and the dense jungle, the setting and lighting devices took on a more-thanordinary importance.

Every year the theater presents as its final offering, one of William Shakespeares classic masterpieces. This year was no exception, as the theater group rounded off another outstanding year by presenting "As You Like $1 t$," which, following in the tradition of "Hamlet" and "Twelfth Night," was performed in characteristically fine style.

Miss Althea Hunt, the director of the William and Mary theater, and the major reason for the prominence and outstanding performance of this group, has thus added another year to her roster of thoughtfully-chosen, well-directed plays, and to the enjoyment of the student body as a whole, and of the theater group in particular.

The hard-working officers of the Backdrop Club who were responsible for the inner workings of the Club as well as of the Show made up a roster of the most enthusiastic and talented students to be found on this campus. Dick. Fensterer, the author of last year's Show, served as President. In addition, Dick Thompson as Director, Mary Warren as Business Manager, Martin Reymert as Designer, Dee Beeton as Technical Director, Bob Mackey as Lighting Director, Dot Guthrie as Choreographer, Calire Vincent and Nancy Obert as Costumers and Ed Watkins as Musical Director all contrib. uted their various abilities to making $1955-56$ season one of the most successful in Backdrop Club and Varsity Show history.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

When, in 1947, the Reserve Officers Training Corps was estabfished at William and Mary, it was a field artillery unit. Now in the 1955-56 season, the Department of Military Science and Tactics has a general military curriculum. Also in the $1947-48$ session a total of 37 men were taking the offered course; today there are 206 enrolled. The purpose of the Reserve Officers Training Corps is to produce college-trained officers for the Regular Army and the Army Reserve, as commissioned second lieutenants. The cadets have their preference as to the branch of service they many enter, unless there is a special need for men in a certain division.
The course consists of two phases, each taking two years: The first is for freshmen and sophomores and is a basic study, the second is more advanced and is provided for juniors and seniors who have been chosen for their scholastic ability. Students who finish the four years are presented with a certificate of Completion.

Twice a weak, the cadets meet in classes and on Wednesday afternoon there is a two-hour drill period. Battalion Commander Ralph L. Bedford, III, and the cadet officers supervise the drill. The Sunken Gardens was the setting for a number of reviews.
At the Honors Convocation in the fall Colonel Carson presented citations to six members of the Corps for outstanding achievement. This year Thomas Burke, Henry R. Dressel, Richard A. Gatehouse. William F. Marfizo, John W. Shumate, and Edward A. Watkins, Jr. received the annual award.
Among the activities of the Corps are the Annual Military Ball and participation in the Homecoming parade and half-time functions of the Homecoming football game. The Corps also has a rifle team that enters matches with other colleges and a drill team that goes to Winchester to attend the App Blossom Festival. Advanced course students attend a summer training camp of six weeks, usually between the students' junior and senior years.
The faculty advisors are: Colonel Carlson Major Kaufman and Captain Fuqua. The Batialion Staff includes: Ralph L. Bedford. III, Douglas L. Henley, Thomas Burke, Jr., Richard A. Gatehouse, Wi Siam J. ## TAU KAPPA ALPHA

Tau Kappa Alpha, the National Honorary Debating Fraternity, was founded at William and Mary this year, and has already become prominent in both campus and national activities. Besides working closely with the Debate Council to sponsor the Mar-shall-Wythe Tournament, they helped to organize campus debates and programs throughout Virginia. Despite the youth of this organization, its members have been highly recognized on the national debating scene. Pat Riley was elected President of the Virginia Region of T.K.A. Mr. Donald McConkey, the Debate Council's inspirational director, was elected Regional Governor of Tau Kappa Alpha, and Henry Kaplan was honored by receiving the post of Regional Secretary-Treasurer.

INtERCOLIEGIATE

DEBATE COUNCIL

During the second semester, the Debate Council served as hosts at the annual Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament. Twenty-six schools from all over the nation attended the two-day affair with West Point Military Academy copping first place. Other teams placing high were St. Joseph's, Penn State, Georgetown, Pittsburgh, and Dartmouth. William and Mary, serving as hosts, did not enter. One of the highlights of the affair was a costumed debate on the Stamp Act of 1765 which was presented in the Colonial capitol.

The Debate Council appeared headed to the most successful season in its history when it opened the season by finishing first in the South Carolina Forensics Tournament. This was quickly followed by another first-place finish in the Virginia Regional Tau Kappa Alpha Meet. The activities of the first semester concluded with a second-place finish in the Mor-ris-Harvey Forensic Meet.

It may seem that the activities of the first semester couldn't be improved upon, but the Debate Council lived up to its stellar beginning throughout the year. Opening the second semester, the Debate Council sponsored the Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament, and went on to compete in a rugged schedule of debating activities. On the roster for the second semester were the National Invitational Tournament, the National Elimination Tournament at West Point, the Florida State Meet at Tallahassee, the Cherry Blossom Festival at Washington, the NorthSouth Meet in Morgantown (at which William and Mary took second place), the National Tau Kappa Alpha Meet in New York, and the Eastern Forensics Meet at Hamilton College.

In addition to this round of debating tournaments, the Debate Council presented several campus discussion programs, debates throughout the state before various civic and school groups, and television appearances. The Council also sponsored a series of programs over WRVA entitled "William and Mary Speaks."

Outstanding individual performers of the council were Jim Mounie. Steve Oakes, and Pat Riley, who won awards in all first-semester tournaments that William and Mary entered. Pat Riley, Gretchen Sedam, Ron Masnik, and Dick Bunyan served as officers for the Council this year.

The William and Mary Band this year has a right to blow its own horn. During football season, the fiffy-seven gleaming pieces in the marching band were an exciting spectacle as they paced off their skillful formations at halftime periods. At the games at Navy, Duke, N.C. State, and Richmond, the lively music under the able direction of Mr. Charles Varner inspired every William and Mary Indian to cheer wholeheartedly for the Big Green.

In addition to its marching band, William and Mary boasts a concert band and a college dance band. The concert band presented several indoor concerts during the first semester, and in the Spring, it moved outside to teature a series of evening concerts in the attractive setting of the Wren Lawn. The dance band, while it played for informal college dances, has the provision of an educational process for students interested in this type of musical experience as its main purpose.

In order to attract superior Virginia musicians to the college, band scholarships are again being awarded this year on the basis of musicianship and scholarship. With this added attraction of scholarships, the Band's prospects for 1957 look bright, and next year it will probably be blowing its horn again-but this time it should be a bigger and better one.

The athletic year of $1955-56$ at William and Mary was a mixture of both success and failure, jubilation and disappointment with a bitter football season, an exciting basketball championship, fine track teams and other squads that ranged from fair to middling.

Operating under a financial handicap, Athletic Director

Blow Gymnasium

John Freeman managed to continue an upward trend in the overall William and Mary athletic picture in his fouth year of guiding the school's athletic fortunes.

Freeman mentored the Big Green football team for the fourth time and encountered rough going as the undermanned Tribe lost seven of nine contests, four of them by one touchdown.

PAFPY GOOCH Athletic Business Manager

Cross-country and track in general had their best season in many years, coached by Gil Joyner and Harry Groves. The team of x-country boys annexed the Southern Conference championship, while the indoor and outdoor thinclads had successful years.

Coach Boyd Baird, in his fourth year, won his first Big Six Championship and led W&M to a fine season after dire pre-season forecasts. The swimming team was coached again by Dudley Jensen while the fortunes of the baseball team rested in the capable hands of Eric Tipton, in his 16 th year at $W & M$. Dr. Wayne Kernodle handled a good tennis team and Dickie Lewis was at the helm of the golfers.

As the year drew to a close, there was a feeling that better days lay ahead for the school. A strengthening of the Educational Foundation, rumors of playing Virginia again and a seemingly revitalized student, alum. ni and administration interest and support of athletics give rise to hopes of brighter days ahead.

WILLIAM AND MARY 0; NAVY 7

A rain-soaked crowd of some 15,000 saw Jackie Freeman's charged up Indians make what turned out to be their best showing of the year as they narrowly missed an upset of the 1955 Sugar Bowl Champions, Navy.

The Middies opened the scoring early in the first period when All-American George Walsh passed 35 yards for a Midshipman tally. From then on it was all William and Mary, led by Bob Lusk, Charlie Sidwell and freshman quarterback Tom Secules, making his college debut.

Perhaps W\&M's big moment came in the third quarter when the Big Green drove down to Navy's $\varepsilon$-yard line, mainly on the running of Sidwell and Brown Oliver. However, a Secules to Sidwell pass in the end zone was batted down to end the Tribe's only big threat of the day.

Defensive honors went to tackle Bob Lusk of the Indians, who was easily the outstanding player of the game, constantly thwarting the Middies' famed option play with daring tackles. Who could foretell the dire season that lay ahead?

WILLIAM AND MARY 7; VIRGINIA TECH 14

Rain for the second week in a row spoiled William and Mary's home opener, but 12,200 fans turned out to see the Tribe lose for the first time in 15 years to the Techmen from Blacksburg. The score was 14-7.

Perhaps the most galling fact of the game was that W&M led 7-0 after the first half of play, looking like the vastly superior team. However, two quick V.P.I. strikes in the second half reversed the situation and the final result. Both Gobbler touchdowns came as the results of long pass plays, one an interception.

The Big Green found the promised land when halfback Charlie Sidwell plunged over from the one after Doug Henley had recovered a Gobbler fumble. Tom Secules played an excellent first half, completing 7 of 9 passes. Co-Captain Bill Marfizo also played well. Everyone felt that this loss was the turning point of the season.

WILLIAM AND MARY7; DUKE47

Gloom descended upon Tribe followers and Duke stadium both as the Indians experienced their worst day of the year, a whopping 47-7 defeat by powerful Duke. A steady rain fell for the third week in a row, this time on 17,000 happy Blue Devil followers.

Fumbles proved to be the failing point for the Tribe, as the nub-fingered Indians set up a majority of the Duke scores. Pass interceptions also plagued the Big Green.

Bright light for the Tribe in this sea of darkness was the play of end Walt Brodie, beginning to develop into a great player. Brodie set up the Tribe touchdown by receiving an Al Grieco pass for a 67 -yard play. Two plays later the same Brodie made a sensational diving catch of a Grieco pass in the end zone for the Indian score.

Mountaineers score first of six TD's at Morgantown

WILLIAM AND MARY 13; WEST VIRGINIA 39

Bright sunshine and 22,000 people greeted the William and Mary men at Morgantown, W. Va. but the result was all too familiar as the ranked Mountaineers rolled to a $39-13$ victory over a fighting Big Green eleven.

Of some solace to Big Green followers was the fine play of W&M, and in particular co-captain Al Grieco, in the final half when the men of Jackie Freemen outscored the big West Virginians by 13 to 7

Grieco was responsible for both scores. He took a third quarter West Virginia punt and streaked 55 yards for William and Mary's first touchdown. Late in the game little Al passed to end Jack Lewis who lateraled off to Jay Sanner for the score. In all, the play covered 14 yards. However, all this came too late to counter the early barrage of Freddy Wyant and The Mountaineers.

An unfortunate knee injury early in the game put spunky halfback Jack Yohe out for the remainder of the season. His fine play was to be badly missed.

WILLIAM AND MARY 0; GEORGE WASHINGTON 16

The friendly confines of Cary Stadium proved to be unfriendly to William and Mary as a smail crowd looked on in bright sunshine and amazement as the Indians reeled to their fifth defeat in a row by $16-0$ to improved George Washington. It was the first loss to G.W. since 1932.

For three quarters the game was a scoreless stalemate, with both teams "blowing" good opportunities to tally. William and Mary cameclosest at one time when they reached the Colonial five-yard marker. However, W&M failed to make a fourth down and inches to go situation, and the threat went by the boards.

Most fans had settled for a scoreless tie when G.W. scored 16 fast points in the final period. Two touchdowns and a field goal proved to be the undoing of the Tribe.

Charlie Sidwell played a good game for the Indians, twice returning Colonial kickoffs for long, exciting runs. Walt Brodie gave a preview of things to come with a fine game.

Secules tallies for Indians in Homecoming victory

WILLIAM AND MARY 20; VIRGINIA MILITARY INSITIUTE 13

Homecoming at Cary Field proved to be the necessary tonic for the Indians, as they snapped their losing streak with a fired up 20-1 3 licking of V.M.I.'s Keydets. A crowd of some 11,000 whooped the Tribe home from behind.

The Big Green trailed by 13-7 early in the third quarter when a goal line stand seemed to get W&M to explode. After stopping the VMI threat on the one, the team tied the game up, the big play being a Tom Secules to Junior Duff pass. Secules went the last few yards. W&M won it in the fourth quarter when another Secules to Duff pass set up the score. Charlie Sidwell plunged for the final yards.

Big hero of the team victory was end Walt Brodie of the Indians, who was named Southern Conference "Lineman of the Week" for his great end play, especially on defense. Six times the AllSouthern end threw Keydet signal-caller Billy Ne braska for losses that totaled 42 yards.
It was a happy Homecoming on the Reserva tion, but it was to be the last winning weekend of the fall as rough games lie ahead.

WILLIAM AND MARY 7; WAKE FOREST 13

Heavy disappointment greeted the Indians the next weekend as the charged-up Tribe traveled down to Wake Forest to meet the always rugged Deamon Deacons. When the dust had settled the Big Green had dropped a controversial 13-7 decision.

Leading by $7-6$ late in the fourth quarter, Tom Secules flipped a pass to Jay Sanner, who bobbled the toss and let it slip to the ground. A Wake Forest man carelessly picked up the ball and the official amazed everyone by awarding the ball to the Deacons. From there the North Carolinians marched some 35 yards for the winning touchdown.

William and Mary had taken a $7-6$ lead in the second period when fullback Doug Henley plunged over from the one. This score was set up on a 34 -yard pass from Secules to Walt Brodie. it was a long ride back to Williamsburg!

There's no stopping him!
(This picture is not from the $N \mathrm{NC}$. State game)

WILLIAM AND MARY 21; NORTH CAROLINA STATE 28

The Indians put on one of their best offensive shows of the season, sparked by Charlie Sidwell and Doug Henley, but still managed to lose their fourth game by one touchdown, 28-21 to the Wolfpack before 9,000 at Raleigh.

Sidwell pulled the season's most sensational play for the Tribe. With W&M trailing by 28-14, Charlie took a 'Pack punt on his own five and streaked 95 yards for a touchdown. It was the second score of the night for the Big Green back. Douq Henley had almost singlehandedly accounted for the first Indian score of the night when he ripped some 45 yards in two plays to paydirt.

However, this game was not in the cards for the Tribe. W&M was behind all the way in the game by 14-0, 14-7, 2!-7, 21-14 and 28-14. Only R.ichmond remained.

Duff deflects Spider pass as Richmond receiver is grounded

WILLIAM AND MARY 6; RICHMOND 6

A scrappy W&M team brought back fair glimpses of the "Iron Indians" of 1953, as the team fought back a strong Richmond team in the second half to salvage a $6-6$ tie and keep the Spiders winless against the Big Green since 1938 in this ancient rivalry.

Richmond tollied first in this bitter struggle, recovering a blocked W&M kick in the end zone. However, the fighting Indians snapped back to march down to the UR one-yard line where Tom Secules pushed over into the end zone on fourth down.

It was all Richmond in the second half as the Spiders recorded four first downs within the W&M 20 only to be halted by a fighting Big Green line led by Billy Riley, Bill Marfizo and Lou Corbett. Charlie Sidwell intercepted two Richmond passes late in the game, the last one with 30 seconds to go and narrowly missed going all the way.

TO THE HAPPY HUNTING GROUNDS

The end of the 1955 football season on the Reservation marked the end of the trail for ten graduating seniors. Many of these left a lasting mark on Big Green grid his tory. Probably foremost among the departing warriors was Bob Lusk. Besides garnering All-State and All-Conference laurels, Lusk was prominently mentioned among the na tion's top tackles and linebackers. He was drafted by the Detroit Lions as sixth choice.

Next come the long and the short of it. Co-captains Bill Marfizo and Al Grieco. Marfizo played stellar ball for three seasons at the pivot slot, while diminutive A sparkled as a halfback and signal caller. Big Doug Henley came into his own at the halfway mark and the "Rampagin' Redhead" was the Tribe's most effective runner the rest of the way.

Big Chet Waksmunski also hangs up his cleats after three impressive seasons. Although plagued by injuries his last two seasons, big "Waxy" will be well remembered for his play on the "Iron Indians." Another "Iron Indian' member who will be missed is Aubrey Fitzgerald. Switched from guard to end the Waynesboro competitor never recaptured his sophomore brilliance, however.
Two returning servicemen, Lou Corbett and Jack Lewis, will be hard to replace after good seasons. Corbett was a tower of strength in the center of the line, while Lewis was plagued by leg troubles throughout the campaign. Another terminal guardian, Bill Riley is listed for departure at the close of the school year. Bili was a steady performer for three seasons. The most injury prone of al the senior was Steve Nagy. Nudge never stopped hustling despite a serious knee ailment which limited him to sporadic duty throughout four campaigns. All ten of these boys and the spirit they typify wil be sorely missed next season.

BASKETBALL, 1956

One of the most successful hoop campaigns in years came to a close with the Tribe replacing Richmond as Big Six champs by virtue of a sensational one-hander in the last two seconds by the Indians' diminutive guard Bill Ouseley. Hence, the last shot of the season was the biggest one as far as Indian fans were concerned. Over-all the team compiled a brilliant 12-14 record in spite of topflight competition and no big man for rebounding chores.

The season opened as the nationally-ranked George Washington Colonials grabbed a hard-fought 81-75 decision here in Blow Gym behind a 36 -point outburst by All-American Joe Holup. Then followed a heartbreaking 52-51 loss to mighty Maryland. The Tribe outshot the home-standing Terrapins from the floor, but reboundina was the big difference. Returning home the men of Coach Boyd Baird got into the win column by grabbing an unimpressive 76-69 tilt from a hustling Hampden-Sydney quintet.

The Richmond Invitational followed after a Christmas vacation and the Indians bowed in impressively by trimming Rhode Island State $100-72$. In the semi-finals the Tribe led going into the third period against the archrival Spiders from Richmond before running into the "Arena Jinx" and losing 72-60. A loss to Seton Hall followed by an 80-55 count. Still on the road the Tribe went to Knoxville and dropped the University of Tennessee by a 93-83 score. The next night the game Indian five met the nation's seven-ranked Vanderbilt Commodores and dropped a narrow 89-80 game after two overtime periods and holding a lead throughout the entire second half.

Returning home and to the Southern Conference wars the Indians went on the warpath late to capture a $79-70$ win behind Paul Furlong's outstanding defensive job on the General's Dom Flora and Ouseley's set shots. The next night the nation's leading scorer Darrel Floyd of Furman pitched in 34, but the Tribe won any way behind Dick Savage's 27 point display. Then came another unproductive trip to the Richmond Arena. The Indians fell behind early and never threatened as the Spiders raced to an easy 75-53 win.
The Indians rallied gamely, however, and took their next two away Conference games by beating the pesky VPI Gobblers, 66-57, and VMI 81-72. Then the Tribe invaded Raleigh for a game with the nation's number three ieam, North Carolina State. Savage topped all scorers with 27 points, but the Wolfpack emerged on the long end of a 90-7। count. A three day road trip followed with a victory over Davidson 85-75 and losses to Furman 109. 85 and North Carolina 115-63 with the Tarheels Lenny Rosenbluth getting 45 in inter-Conference warfare.

B A S K E I B ALL

Back in Conference competition the Indians proved unhospitable to a visiting VMI five 82-71. Then the Tribe took on West Virginia in Norfolk. All five Indian starters hit double figures but the irrepressible "Hot Rod" Hundley tallied 32 points in the second half as the Mountaineers won going away 105-90. Then George Washington eresed the touring Bairdmen 81-69. Again on the road W&L getting a 37 point performance from Dom Flora keat the Tribe 70-57. Back home the friendly confines of Elow Gym prived a balm to the injured warriors as they beat back a belated VPI surge by a 79.74 count behind the late-game he roics of Jim Kaplan
A trip to Morgantown proved unproductive as West Viroinia took their second straight victory by a 97-88 margin despite the fact that Savage outscored Hundley 27-24.

With only two home Conference aames left the Indians erased visiting Davidson 77-67 and got ready for the

SEASON

Bio Six championship clash with Richmond. Both teams had lost two going into the final game. The Tribe fell behind early and lost Savage on fouls early in the second half. The phenomenal free-throw shooting of Bob Hoitsma, who hit 15 for 16 kept the Bairdmen in the game in the early stages, and Kaplan again came through late to finally tie the score at 77-77. Then with two seconds left Ouseley let fly with "the shot heard round the campus" and the three-time Big Six champs from Richmond had succumbed to the tune of 79-77.

In the first game of the Southern Conference tourney the "Arena jinx" plus a hot-handed Richmond five handed the newly crowned champs at 79-62 revenge lacing.

Prospects for next year are bright with only Captain Savage and reserve center Bill Person due to graduate Both Hoitsma and Furlong, who return, were among the ration's top ten in field goal percentage as was the entire team average. Kaplan, Ouseley, and center Harry Cornell also brighten next year's prospects.

CROSS COUNTRY

William and Mary's completely Freshmen dominated hill and dale team closed out the most successful season in history by eking out a narrow 41.40 victory to gra's Southern Conference laurels out of the jaws of the Davidson Wildcats.

Paced by the "Hackensack Comet, " Bob DeTombe who grabbed off first place in the final Conference meet as well as individual wins against VMI, W&L and West Virginia, the Gil Joyner-Harry Groves coached harriers rolled to a season marked by only one setback and that ty a narrow margin.

Following close behind DeTombe was pint-sized Dick Curry, the tiny runner with the great big heart. Curry continually chased DeTombe and finished fifth in the Conference meet. Other Freshmen sensations were David Youngblade, Gil McNair and Dave Campana. Campana eprinted in the last 200 yards to pass two stragglers and give the Indians the crucial points they needed to win the Southern Conference meet.
Other team members were Dave Little, the team's only sophomore, and of course Bill McCuen, the Freshman phenom who finished consistently in the first ten. The big mahogany and gold trophy that adorns the athletic office forbodes much ill to Southern Conference foes for years to come, what with all six Freshmen and Little returning next season more experienced and a year older. Hat's off to the Conference Champs!

SWIMMING

William and Mary's swimming team after getting off to a slow start managed to even its seasonal slate at 4-4. The mermen, boasting a 'Duke's Mixture' of freshmen and veterans, lost all of their Southern Conference meets, but fared exceptionally well against non-conference opponents.

Coach Dudley Jensen's tankmen fell before VMI, VPI, Washington and Lee, and Georgetown University. Victories were registered at the expense of Randolph-Macon Catholic University, Lynchburg College and the Norfolk Division.

Stu Sell, a distance freestyler from Pittsburgh, captained this year's W&M swimming entry. Sell, one of the top point getters on the team, ranked with the best 200 and 440 yard freestylers in the State.
Other Indian mermen included dash men Fritz Trinler and Jan Heykoop, frequently referred to as the "Flying Dutchmen'"; freestylers Bruce Finch, Jeff Dixon, John Tarver, and Maury Tomlinson; breast and backstrokers, Sid Mook and Carl Wannen; and divers Don Dew and Joe Watson.

Swimming outlook for next season looms very bright on the Reservation. Sell is the only varsity tankman Jensen Icses through graduation. Wannen, Tarver. Finch and Heykeep, all first year men, will be back with an additional $y \in a r$ of experience and a new class should produce prospects to add depth to a potentially good aggregation.

BASEBALL

Coach Eric Tipton of the Indians looks forward to further improvement after a 1955 season that was among the best in the last several years. The Tribe captured eight decisions while dropping nine, a fine advance from the 4-12 of the previous year.

Spearheading the advance was a fairly steady pitching corps composed of Ron Gardner, Terry Slaughter, Tony Jaffe and spot utility man Al Grieco. In only one loss did The Tribe lose by more than three runs.

Highlighting the season were several fine wins: a gritty 7.5 victory over Navy as Grieco pitched his first college game; a thrilling $14-13$ triumph against VMI, with CoCaptains Wayne Begore and Roger Groettum sparking last-ditch ten-run rally; Slaughter's five hit shutout of Randolph-Macon; a ten-strikeout performance by Gardner 10-2, over W&L with Monk Knight collecting three hits: and Ed Jones' two-out single in the ninth to win 6-5 from G.W.

Leading hitter on the team was Monk Knight with . 320 to land a spot on the Southern Conference team at third kase along with Begore of W&M at second. Groettum batted .522 but missed half the season because of an iniury. Others to play for the Tipton men were Bob Hardage at short, Walt Forbes at first. Phil Secules behind the plate, and Larry Peccatiello, John Cayward, Larry Fones, and Ed Shine patrolled the outfield.

The 1956 season will see William and Mary playing a rugged 20 game schedule, including non-conference games with Yale, Vermont, Dartmouth and Navy. Three doubleheaders in eight days with West Virginia, Davidson and Furman complicate the schedule. Hardage, Secules, Peccatiello, Cayward, Gardner, Grieco, Slaughter, Shine and Jones all return. Coach Tipton will probab'y build his team around these veterans, with Doug Henley, Harvey Winnick, Tom Secules, Smokey Sherman and Elliott Schaubach all competing.

T E N N I S

Relatively unnocited in recent years, the tennis team has had better than average success against Southern Conference competition. While, in general, many of the varsity teams at William and Mary have had their ups-anddowns tennis has continually managed to hold its own. For the past three seasons the team has achieved a winning record, the latter two years coming in second in the SC tournament.

Captained by Tom Reel the 1955 club earned respeet cy barely losing the SC tourney to Davidson. The regular campaign $\log$ was $6-5$ with three matches rained out. which were all with teams that were beaten in the tournament.

Playing in the number one position was Ed Phillips, who compiled a $6-5$ record against the best our opponents could throw against us. Phillips also reached the semi-finals in singles in the tourney and played in the finals in doubles with Reel. Playing in the number two slot Reel posted a fine $7-4$ mark against all comers during the regular season and reached the quarter-finals in the tournament. Freshman, Toby Perry, third ranked W&M netman, also registered a $7-4$ seasonal log. Rounding out the top six were veteran Joe Reynolds, Mason Swann, and Jeff Dixon.

All six lettermen from last year's squad return this Spring. In addition, Irv Blacher, Bob Doughtie, Ken Kranzberg and John Peterson will add the necessary depth io this potential Southern Conference championship arriay captained by Reynolds.

Several of Coach Wayne R. Kernodles top performers hit the tournament circuit last summer. Phillips was invited to the Mid-Atlantics, Roanoke Invitational, Virginia State, Peninsula Invitational, Tidewater Tournament and the Richmond City tourney. Competing against top calibre amateur players he advanced to the quarter-finals in every tournament in which he participated.

Reel won the Kenwood Country Club's men's doubles championship and advanced to the quarter-final round in singles in the National Capitol Parks Tournament before he was toppled by the eventual winner of the tounney. Perry played number one for the Cleveland Junior Davis Cup team was undefeated in state competition. And Reynolds won the Danville City Tournament last summer.

The Indian racquetmen opened the current campaign here on March 26 with Williams Col'ege. Fourteen dual matches are carded including six Southern Confere:ce tiffs. The SC tourney is scheduled in Williamsburg on Iwlay 3 , 4, and 5 .

Under the tutelage of new coach Dickie Lewis William and Marys linksmen chalked up a fine 9.2 won and loss record last spring. The Indians toppled Colgate, one of the best teams in the East, as well as Washington and Lee, the Southern Conference champions. Losses were sustained at the hands of Dartmouth and VPI.

Tribe golfers compiled a 6-1 SC log which was only good enough for third place in the ten-team aggregation. Walt Lawrence copped the individual laurels, but the team finished third in the Big Six.

Seven players from last year's aggregation are not on rand this spring. Lewis' team will miss the services of Bill Wray, Mike Cestone, Jim Mark, Pete Freeauf, Jerry Murchison, Carlton Wilde and Tom S'aw.

Lewis faces quite a rebuilding job with only Spafford Timberlake, Bud Gaeta, Bruce Rummage and Lawrence returning. Rummage, a veteran golfer, is a senior, but Timberlake, Lawrence and Gaeta will provide the nucleus for future teams.

The 1956 golf card includes 10 matches with eight Southern Conference tiffs slated. The conference tourney is at Danville and the Virginia Invitational is scheduled for Hot Springs.

Under the excellent tutlage of Coach Gil Joyner and assistant coaches Harry Groves and "Neepie" Miller, a highly spirited William and Mary track team completed its most successfull season in post war years last Spring.
Sparked by the sensationa! running of Walt ' Shane Fillman, the team compiled a 6 -I dual meet record, finished fourth in the Southern Conference and third in the Big Six.
The real highlight on the 55 campaign was the fact that three school records were broken and a fourth was tied. Fillman, in addition to begin the team's top point getter, smashed the 220 low hurdles mark, covering the distance in 23.6 seconds. John Mahoney established a new high jump record with a 6 2 $1 / 2^{\prime}$ effort. Al Stringer, Nell Hock, George Royer and Bob McClintock shattered the old mile relay standard with a 3:27.7 performance. And McClintock tied the old W\&M 440 yard dash record at 49.8 .

This year's track outlook is extremely optimistic since the team lost only four men. Captain and miler Leo Schutte, Southern Conference javlin champion and Exeter exchange student Don Wright, high jump record holder John Mahoney and miler Dick Shively are the only thinclads not around this Spring.

Jack Yohe, Fillman and Stringer are the tri-captains of this year's entry which meets five SC teams in dua meets, three non-conference opponents, and the Quantico Marines. Coach Joyner's forces will also part'cipate in the Quantico Invitational Meet, the Penn Relays in Pni'ade'phia and both the Big Six and Southern Conference tourneys.

Freeauf with SAE trophy

Paced by the able direction of Dudley Jensen, Men's Intramural Director, defending champion SAE and nine other fraternities got off in one of the most vigorous and closest races in years. At the three-quarter mark the outcome was still very much in doubt with SAE, Sigma Pi, KA, PiKA and Lambda Chi all closely bunched and two or three others within striking distance. The season got off with a bang as Tony Yurko of SAE and PiKA's Bob Northcott kicked 180 conversions in a row to tie for the place-kicking crown. Stu Sell was third.

In touch football the two year reign of PiKA came to a dramatic end when KA's Mickey Simpson electrified a large crowd by carrying a kickoff back 78 yards in the last minute to give them a $12-6$ victory in a playoff game. It was PiKA's first loss in 34 games and the KA's added another feather to their cap by burying the Independent champs, US, by a horrendous 55-0 count.

the following champions: 130—Norm Wong: 137-Jim Lewis; 147—Dave Edmunds; 157—Mickey Simpson; 167Rod Elliott; 177-Tom Kanas; 191 —Bill Levine and Unlim-ited-Ray Chiesa, were crowned. KA grabbed meet laurels by accumulating 21 points to second place Pi Lamb's 15 and despite the fact that the runner-ups claimed three individual champions.

The late-starting Pi Lamb bowling team also rolled to an impressive bowling victory by beating out SAE and PiKA by a substantial margin. Kenny Wong of Pi Lamb topped all the keglers in average. In volleyball a very close league saw the sky-scraping Lambda Chi six paced by Big Bob Smith take a narrow victory over Pi Lamb. Smith and his mates dropped only one game en route to the throne and participated in the State volleyball championships in Richmond.

Basketball laurels went to the "iron men" of PiKA and the Confederates, who nudged the Arabs for the Independent crown by a narrow 41-38 tally to climax a great lete season splurge. PiKA finished one game ahead of Kappa Sig, Lambda Chi and Sigma Pi in one of the closest and best races in years. The Fraternity All-Stars handed the Independent stars a sound shellacking in the annual post-season clash by a 64-43 score with John Jensen pacing an extremely well-balanced attack with 12 points. Del Wilson, Sigma Pi's willowy center led the Fraternity league scorers while Charlie Sidwell topped the Independent league. PiKA went on to grab the school title by erasing the Confederates.

In ping-pong the defending champion from Pi Lamb, Mike Savvides, retained his throne by beating off the challenge of PiKA's Lynn Llewellyn. The final match was the hardest for the Pi Lamb whiz who was head and shoulders above the field. In Handball, Bob Lusk, the burly Lambda Chi horseshoes king, will clash with Sigma Nu's Gene 'topkins for first place honors in one of the closest races in years.

Sigma Nu will try to defend their track laurels later in the year as will the SAE softball nine. Golf champion Wayne Begor has graduated leaving a wide open field, as have the Badminton finalists, Charlie Morrow and Carl Geig. A very close race to the finish looms with Lambda Chi nursing a slim lead going into the final four events.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

At Matoaka Lake early in the fall, the Women's Athletic Association opened the $1955-56$ season with its annual freshman orientation picnic. Spontaneous singing launched the program, which was highlighted by short talks concerning women's varsity and intramural sports. The occasion drew to a climax with the buffet supper prepared by the college cafeteria. From the time of the picnic to the close of the year, women engaged in sports activities varying from hockey to ping-pong.

Journeying to Pennsylvania and other states for away games, the varsity teams improved their skill in bridge and harmonizing as well as in their respective sports. Although the Squaws were not consistently victorious, they always showed enthusiasm and team spirit, which enabled them to get enjoyment and relaxation from their experiences, a major aim in sports for women.

Girls from all over the campus, representing both dormitories and sororities, entered into the intramurals. Many laughs came from Jefferson Gymnasium as hot competition got underway for the intramural trophy, which is awarded to the team with the most points, accumulated throughout the year. Supporting the favorite team was an excellent excuse for abandoning the books.

When a girl arrives on campus, she is automatically a member of the WAA. This entitles her to play varsity or intramural sports as she chooses. The WAA is governed by the Joint Committee, a group composed of faculty and students, whose duty it is to take care of all financial matters and help out in any way possible. The Joint Committee determines the policies of the association and exercises supervision over all its departments.

Presiding over the WAA this year was Brenda Korns, an efficient executive and capable athlete. Working with Brenda on the Joint Committee were Alice Matthews, Ginny Wachob, Sue Whaley, and Jane Wood.

Alice, as point recorder, kept track of ail team and individual points, a tedious job, but one done most accurately by her. Ginny, secretary of WAA, notified the members of Joint Committee for all meetings, and took minutes during these meetings.

Sue's duties as student head of intramurals involved planning and carrying out the intramural program. Working with the intramural representatives, she recorded the results of intramural competition.

As secretary of Managers Board, Jane Wood kept minutes of the meetings and assisted Brenda, who presided over the board.

The competent officers of WAA led the association to a successful and enjoyable year.

Due to bad weather conditions, many hockey games were cancelled. The over-all record for the Squaws showed more losses than wins. During the season they encountered Longwood for two games, and Westhampton for two, but the climax came when William & Mary was victorious in the Virginia Field Hockey Tidewater Tournament, celekrating its 25 th year. Having the tournament here this year was an honor. A banquet was held for the girls, some of whom came from Mary Washington and the Richmond Club.

Veterans who played their final season were Dodie Diggs, Sue Pope, Brenda Korns, Dolores Mannion, and Sue Whaley. Linda Schrader, Ginny Wachob, Hil Albiez, Pat Clark, and Harriet Ripple were the returning players, while Jo Anne Robinson, Carey Adams, Anne Kirby, and Josie Toth were freshman named to the squad.

I Bowled 69!

Fall faded into winter and brought with it basketbal season. This year Miss Martha Barksdale worked hard and long with the basketball team to develop new players to replace the old ones. Several players were lost through injuries, but led faithfully by co-captains, Carol Simmerman and Jan Charbonnet, the Squaws wound up the sea-

Highlights of the season were the opening game, which ended in a one point victory over Sweetbriar, and a three day trip, which included two stops, Baltimore and Philadelphia. In Baltimore the team clashed with Notra Dame, winning both games. Traveling on to Swathmore, the Squaws met their match losing one game and tying the second.
Judy Fruland, a freshman, led the team for scoring honors followed by Sue Davis and Jan Charbonnet. Carol Simmerman and Alice Matthews excelled at the guard Freshmen selected to the squad were Carey Adams, Evelyn Avery, Dottie Bird, Kathy Brubaker, Joan English, Helen Hillman, Manu Layne, Gloria Marquis, June Roberts, Jo Ann Robinson, and Kathy Watson.

Touche! . . . and the fencing season got underway again. Returning veterans who will not be here next year, were Laura Lou Lawson, Lyla Ruben, Barbara Lynn, and Gail Mulcahy, captain. Other fencers for this spunky team were Carol Redman, Rosiland Jannuzi, Nancy Norton, Dorothy Teaford, and Mary Dykeman.

The aggressive Goucher team beat both the first and second teams early in the season. Against Madison the first team lost, but a victory was scored by the second team. Other matches were with the Tri-Weapon Club and International Center, with good exhibition by all.

The Lacrosse team started off its season with a clinic at Sweetbriar. There the girls learned many of the fine points of the game, and developed skill in this fascinating

Towards the end of the school year the tennis team saw a lot of action. Included in the schedule were Sweetbriar, Westhampton, and Longwood. To climax the season the team traveled to Philadelphia to participate in the Middle Atlantic States Tournament, a thrilling experience for all involved. Orchesis, the Modern Dance Club of William and Mary, offers tudents interested in the dance a chance to furtiner their interest n a more advanced level than can be found in a gym class. Tryoufs Far new members are held each Fall. This year, the tryouts followed an open house given to welcome the freshmen. Entertainment was brcvided in the form of a dance choreographed by president Dot Guthrie. Miss Gladys Warren, the Club's faculty director, has he ped the members with basic rules of choreography.

The members presented a television prograr in February and made a pi grimage to the Women's College 0: the University of North Carolina to attend a master class in dance, early in the Spring. At the weekly meetings, the members hold general discussions, warmups, and practice in choreography.
The highlights of the club's year was the annual Dance Concert presented in the Spring. The dances which comprise this concert are choreographed, directed, and danced by the Orchesis members. The numbers this year ranged from "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" to classical ballet, and were all ind cative of the particular interests and talents of their authors.

In attempting to form in its members a sense of the appreciation of dance as a form of art. Orchesis provides them with valuable experience in the development of their abilities in, and feeling for the dance.

The Mermettes

MERMETTES

Mermettes is an organization composed of women students chosen for their interest in, and ability for, swimming. Tryouts are held in the Fall, at which time the new members are selected. Then the members begin practicing. They practice all year to perfect the water show which they present every March.
Not only do the girls practice for months working with water skills and synchronized swimming, but they also plan the entire show themselves. It takes much practice and patience to learn to work together in the water, and the cooperation of each girl is essential. The girls, in this manner, learn to put together an entire show. They become acquainted with the ways and means of lighting a water show and the techniques involved in nautigraphing each number.

This year's show had 'Colorama as its theme. The girls performed various numbers associating different colors with each ballet scheme, and reflecting the mood each color seems to suggest. Starting with the "Brave Bulls" water ballet, featuring red, and ending with a circus number, representing all colors, the water show was one of the most popular functions of the year.
Sylvia Crooker is the president of the Mermettes this year. Other officers are: Sue Davis as Secretary-Treasurer, and Arline Johnson as Water Show Director. Miss Gloria Bryant supplied the group with her aquatic abilities in the capacity of Faculty Adviser.

W O M E N'S

Women's intramurals are designed specifically for the love of sports, and all women students are encouraged to participate.

Three cups are annually awarded in the spring to the sorority or dormitory which acquires the highest number of points. These cups are awarded to the entrant placing first in the first team league, second team league, and third team league.

Tennis, the opening sport of the year, launched the intrainural program which Miss Scott and Sue Whaley directed. This sport was managed by Margot Ketchum. After a great many matches, Kappa emerged victorious in the first taam play with Chandler second and a tie between Ludwell Green and Ludwell Silver for third place. In the second team play, Chandler topped the list while Gamma Phi won top honors for third team play.

Jeflerson splashed to first team honors in the swimming meet, while Ludwell Silver again hit a tie, this time with Iri Delt for second place in the first team league. Further fabulations by Dolores Mannion revealed second team's first place going to Tri Delt while Gamma Phi again won the third team's top sport.

Manager Judy Bell and her assistants, Mary Ann Harney and Irene Ernst, set up a round robin tournament for baisketball. In spite of the breaks for Chrisimas and Exams, Jefferson emerged victorious after a tight battle with Barrett dormitory, the runner up. However, Barrett's second team succeeded in topping Jefferson for first place in this league. Once again Gamma Phi received first place for the third teams.

Volleyball, under the able direction of Mary Talmage ran a one team competition. This is the only team sport which has a single team from each sorority and dormitory. Pi Phi won first place with Barrett and Ludwell Green close behind.

In the bowling Liz Hight won top honors followed by Lynn Bennett, Nancy Simmons, and Phoebe Hoff. Others in the top ten were Betty Jane Keel, Betty Root, Pat Clark, Virginia Knight, Pat Ayers, and Margaret Ann Graves.

Mary Lou Hunt managed the tournament and entered these ten in the telegraphic tournament.

Individual sports included archery, managed by Sandra Cromiveil, badminton under Sue Taylor, fencing under Gail Mulachy, and ping-pong managed by Lynn Miller. These sports give points to the individual toward point awards, but not to any organization. It is a good way to earn intramural points.

Carol Simmerman organized the softball teams and tournament. Last year's results indicated that the winning of places in this competition may be the deciding factor in determining the winners of the cups.

C H E E R L E A D E R S

The cheerleading squad this year was out front at all possible times, leading the student body in cheers and putting life into the stands. They were able to attend most of the football games during the fall season and had the opportunity to travel with the team to be present at the games in North Carolina and Maryland.

Pep rallies, occasional bonfires, and "snake-lines" were promoted by the squad in the sunken gardens in front of the College on Jockey Corner, the night before the games. The cheerleaders also helped to plan the half-time entertainment. and led the students in cheers before games.

Every year in the Spring, the groans of pain emitted from many sore-muscled William and Mary women are sure signs that cheerleading tryouts are being held. At this time, new members are elected to the squad to fill the vacancies left by graduating members.
This year's squad included Bill Armbruster as Captain, and Janie Hutton, Julie Mudge, Kay Wirth, Tim Cochran, Jack Herring, Charlie Jones, and Vern Arvin. Alice Matthews and Fay Jones served as alternates. The two girls who romped around the field in Indian costumes could be identified as Ann Shoosmith and Carla Rodehaver. Once again the cheerleading squad acted as an agent in organizing and stimulating school spirit among the students.

The Varsity Club is a men's organization that was founded at William and Mary in 1914. Membership is obtained by earning a letter in varsity sports.
The purpose of the Varsity Club is to further the interest of athletics. to promote sportsmanlike conduct on and off the campus and to encourage intramural athletics in the college. Their motto, "Win without boasting, lose without excuses," is a very fitting dec aration
Meetings are held every other week on Tuesdays and at these gather ings the organization plans their activities and projects. Among them are ushering at basketball games and the annual Mermettes water show Thev also are in charge of electing the basketball queen and sponsor a dance in the Fall and plan a picnic for the Spring.
Two larger projects of the organization are: The petition for a room in one of the new buildings the college is planning, and the fixing of the old score boards and placement of them in the little gym to be used for intramural activities. President Bill Marfizo said if the room could be obtained it would be used for meetings and as a place where the alumni could meet.
There are now 45 members in the club.
