The curios of inherited tradition
Inspire generations of toiling . . .
Always days of dismal drudgery
But somehow, all-in-all
Pleasure most often prevails.

Constant anxiety and expectancy
Lead from attempt to completion . . .
There's rigorous induction, naturally
In preparation for responsibility;
Experience speaks sternly but is usually right!
Insignificants grow in importance
The spare moment is always precious—
In all of the decisions
There is one illuminated goal
That must be grasped no matter what expense.

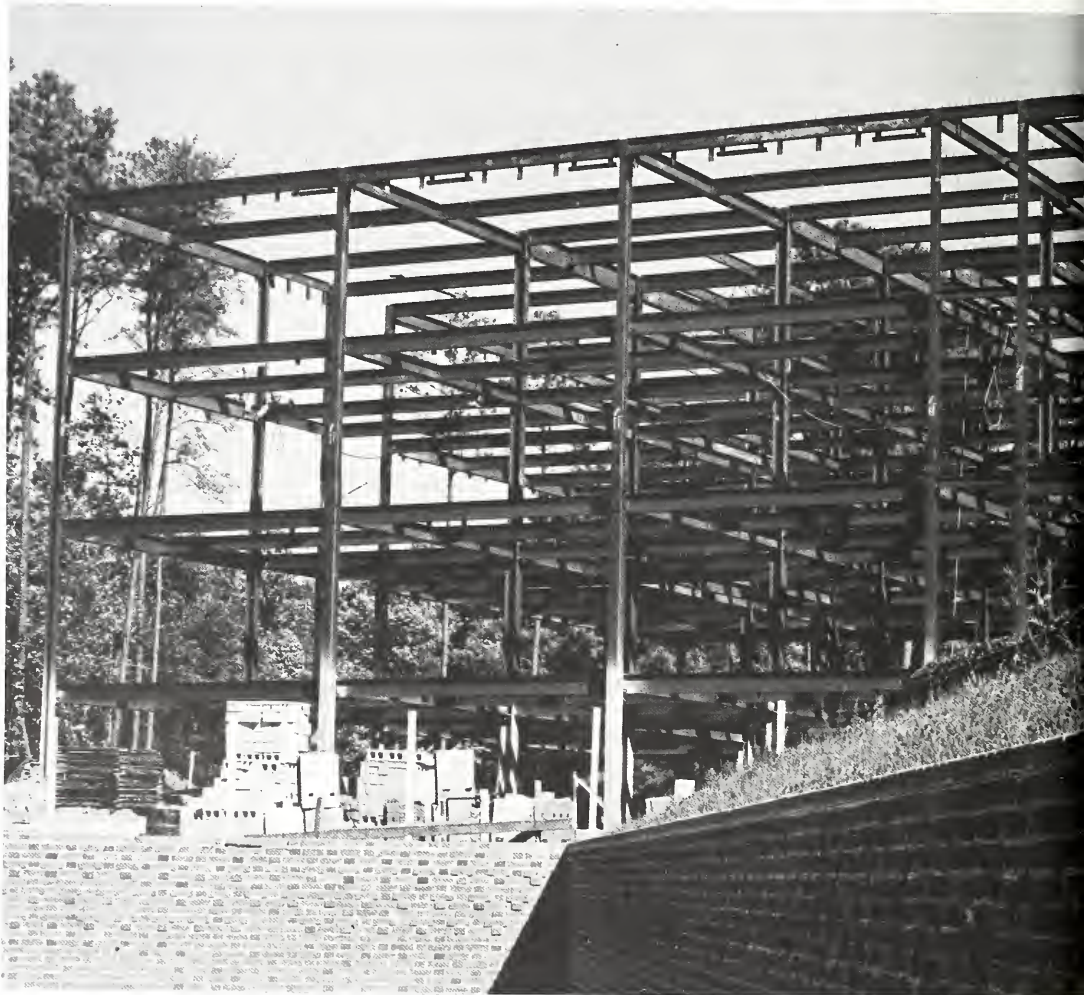

The world gently passes by . . .
Seasons changing—growth and destruction—
Symbolically spirit takes its forms;
The process of belonging
Becomes general acceptance
Which vents its vigor
In contributions to the whole.
Pride rears up on its haunches
To tear down transient opponents
And leave the view unblemished for posterity.

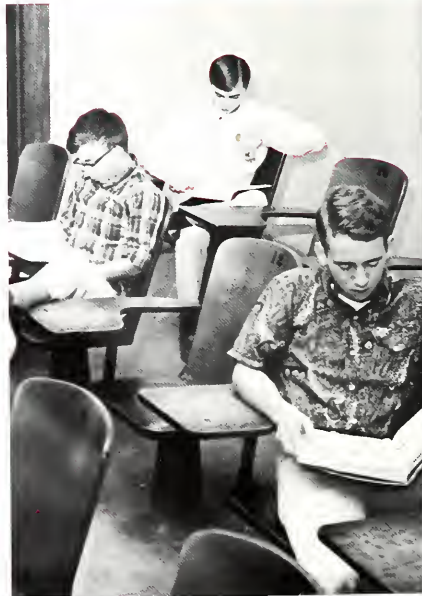

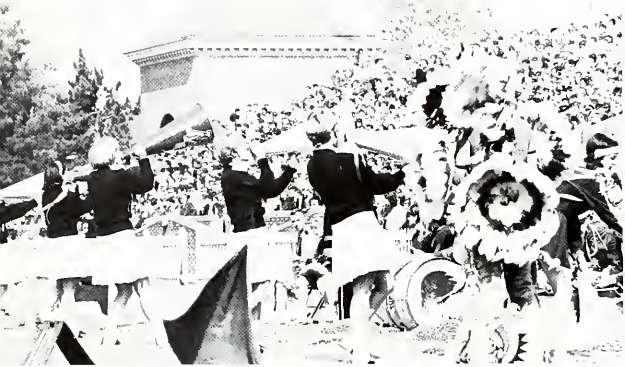

Unbeknownst to the casual observer
The exchange of ideas and dictates
Becomes reevaluation of long term understandings.
New guidance sought and found . . .
New direction to the strivings . . .
Self-discipline becomes essential
Yet, there is time to enrich
Understanding on a purely human basis;
To meet with peers in friendly environs
Developing each individual facet totally.

Adding our voices as cheers to victory,
Our wit and craft as amplifiers of spirit,
We entered the wide doors of social life
Where our shadows have cast
Four years of impressions on us and others.

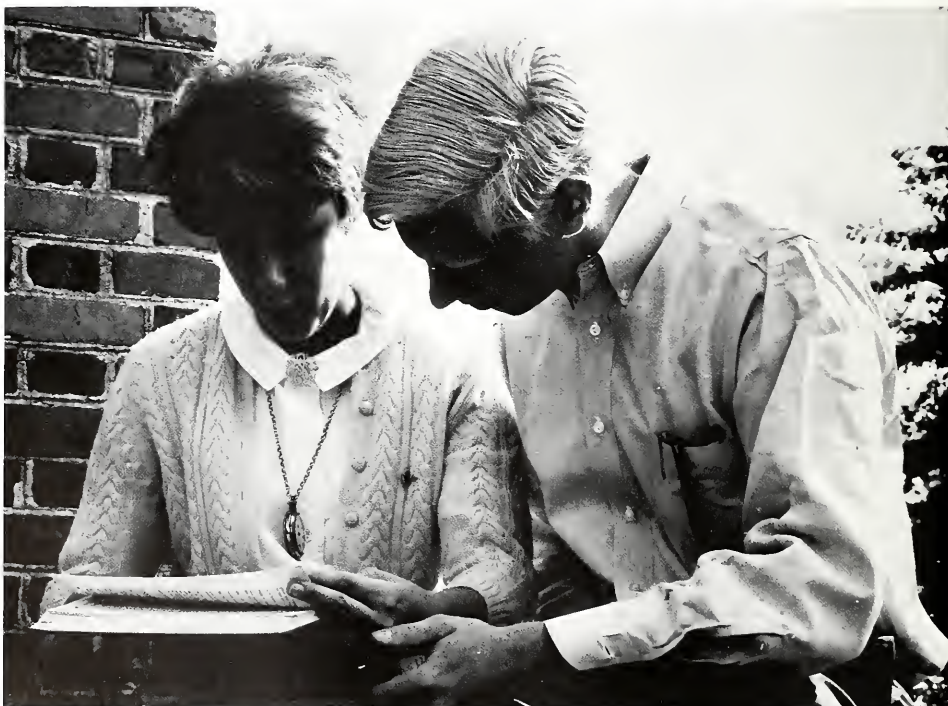

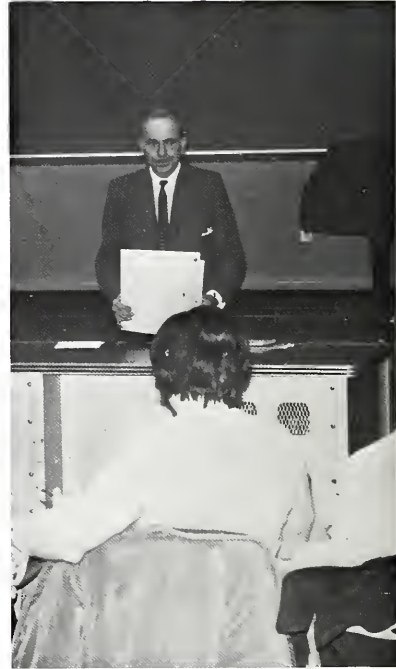

Amidst the joys of amateur amusement
The professionals came.
The mellowed tones of the Lettermen,
Rhythm in the form of Warren Covington,
Dionne Warwick's soft sound
Contrasted with Chuck Berry's vibrations,
The Four Tops, reverberant and friendly—
In an atmosphere of frenzied melancholy.

Amongst the hours of credit study
There are those times of obvious utility.
Craftsmanship in production,
The use of sense extenders,
New forms of structural creation
Satisfy that extra need for Visual accomplishment.

Pencil and paper at quick disposal
We noted all the pertinents,
Finishing at the last minute,
Enjoying our successes.
We listened, half understanding,
Pondering and solving all new puzzles.

A pleasant monotony, always new and old.
Not exactly candlelight suppers
Or softly romantic nature trails,
But gentle darkness is our realm
Of Campus activities and peaceful meditation.
Nature at her best and worst—was ours.

We made ourselves at home in dorms
Entering with all our necessities,
Belonging through our actions,
Participating in communal life
With all its wild diversity—
Resulting in the patience derived from sharing.

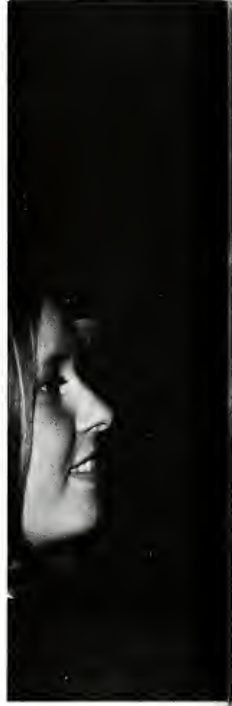

Our goodwill televised to distant kin,
Sisterhood with all its joys exemplified,
The spirit of the season interpreted,
And conviviality marking custom with close dorm companions,
All meant Yuletide.

The snow and ice came with autumn's end
Covering the branches like ground glass prisms.
We played the out-of-doors games in snow
And enjoyed the colored lights of winter's world.
The season brought us to the common work of observing tradition.

We were not secluded in our stone boxes—
Ballet came to visit, and our own chords thrived.
Penetrating the exterior in our daily work.
Joining with friends for quiet leisure
Or listening to new ideas or approaches,
Our ties to home were strengthened
By understanding of the world around us.

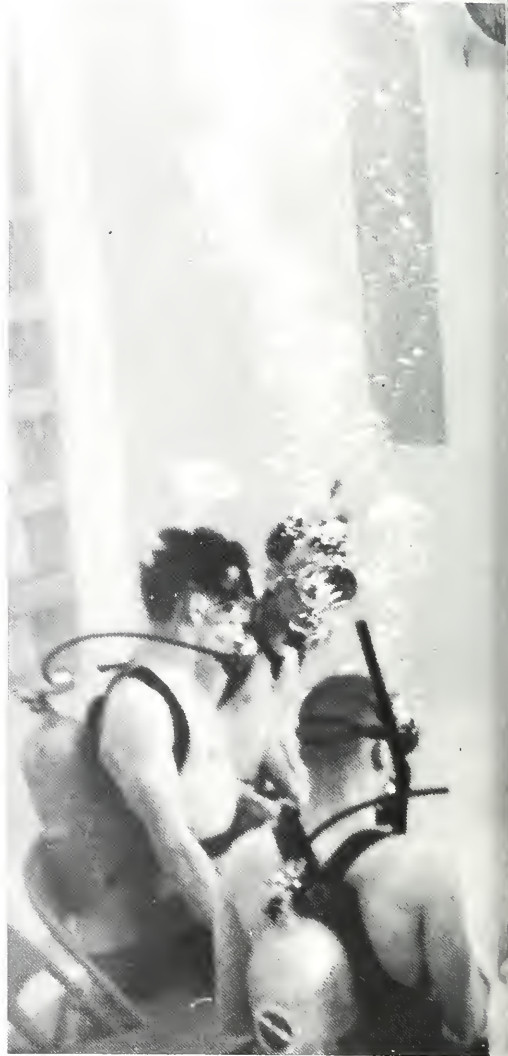

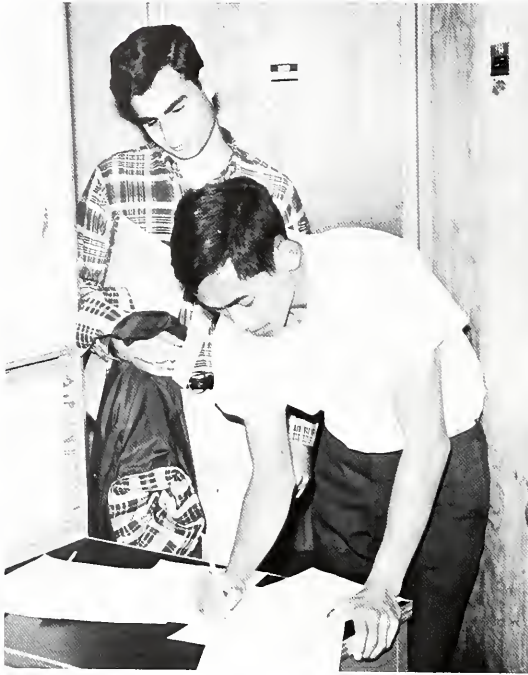

Music, drama, radio and speech
All housed in Phi Beta Hall, ten years old.
From the bare minimums, we produced
Enactment of fiction, through coordination.
Practice and skill combined for entertainment.

The responsibilities of student government,
Gathering in common interest groups,
Expressing ourselves through publications,
A common purpose, a common goal,
Excelling individually, together.

Activity on the fraternity scene
From the Big Green to Matoaka Shelter,
From the lodges to the court and back—
The dissipation of tension through congestion.
Parties swing to the beat
Of a weekend study break.

We frolicked with sportsmanship
In sideline enthusiasm, the same spirit
As mass participation, and individual achievement.
Intramurals, Greek games, and friendly rivalry
Provided leaders and suspense-filled spectators.

We honored anniversaries
And spoke bright words of dedication.
Reception in its formality engendered
Casual parties of relaxing conversation
In the lodges and houses of the Campus.

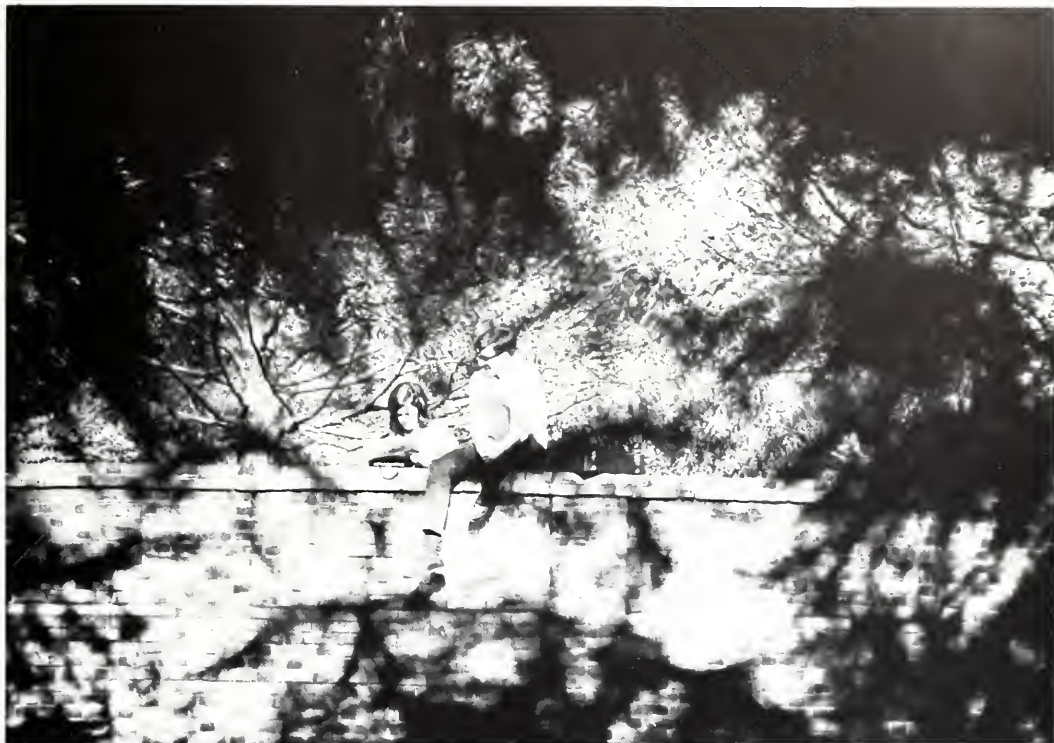

And at the end of four years,
We have long lasting friendships to show—
Familiar scenes and symbols
Looking forward from our memories
With more material gain than a roll of parchment.

Moments of thought on nature's carpets,
Soft foliated shade on quiet talks,
The restful sounds of Spring's sentinels,
Times of lazy activity then and again;
Alone, together—developing comprehension
Through long and close association.
Always, seldom—a life for always
Encapsulated in our minds.

ROYALTY

Both Students and Celebrities Cast Votes To Select Winners

A special tradition at William and Mary is the annual Miss William and Mary Contest sponsored by the Colonial Echo. From the twenty-seven girls nominated by all the women's dormitories, sororities, and fraternities, the student body elected five finalists. A change in tradition occurred when four celebrities accepted our invitation to help select Miss William and Mary. Each one was sent the formal photographs of the five finalists and was asked to name his first three choices for the title. Thus the winner was determined.

Two days of campus voting decide the contest's five finalists.

THE BOARD OF VISITORS

As the governing body of the College, the Board of Visitors fulfilled its responsibilities by maintaining College property, approving the budget, setting tuition rates and admission requirements, appointing administration and faculty members, and establishing policies for the two-year colleges—Richard Bland in Petersburg and Christopher Newport in Newport News. Seven new Board members took their seats this year, on appointment by the Governor, to serve four-year terms without compensation. W. Brooks George of Richmond became Rector of the Board at its May, 1966, meeting. Governor Mills E. Godwin appointed two non-resident Visitors at the College as provided in legislation enacted by the 1966 General Assembly.

THE PRESIDENT

Dr. Davis Y. Paschall, in his seventh year as President of the College, witnessed and coordinated the continued development of William and Mary, its academic and physical growth. An alumnus of the College and a former State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Paschall worked with Governor Mills E. Godwin and other educators as Virginia launched a system of community colleges. At Charter Day Convocation in February, the President received the Thomas Jefferson Award for his contributions to the College and the community.

FACULTY

Construction Progresses on Life Science Building for BIOLOGY

The Department of Biology was strengthened by the addition of three new members of the faculty, two of whom have Ph.D.'s. Dr. Ian P. Callard and Dr. John B. Morrill received research grants in the fields of mental health and endocrinology. Dr. Garnett Brooks, assisted by Mr. Robert Gatten during the summer months, was active in helping with the Smithsonian Institution's biological survey of the island of Dominica.

BUSINESS Conducts Local Research and Consultations

This year the Business Administration Department inaugurated a substantial Master's Degree Program. Studies such as "Hampton's Waterfront Redevelopment" and "Williamsburg and Virginia Business Indices" are only a part of the extra activities done by the department. Four faculty members published research on fisheries and travel trade which were added to the Swem Library files.

Mr. John R. Matthews graphs production curves for his Economics class.

ECONOMICS Faculty Members Publish Independent Studies

Faculty members of the Department of Economics were actively engaged in local and international studies. Dr. Kee Choi spent this past summer pursuing his study of "Patterns and Processes of Japanese Economic Development Between 1868-1900" at the Center for East Asian Studies at Harvard. Mr. John R. Matthews, Jr., represented William and Mary at the Virginia Conference on World Trade which was held in October in Richmond. Dr. Leonard G. Schifrin, Chairman of the Department, was appointed Advisor in Economics to the Grolier Company, publisher of Encyclopedia International.

School of EDUCATION Offers Diagnostic Aid at Reading Center

Due to the expansion of the Department of Education, the undergraduate and graduate curricula were expanded and improved to meet progressive educational needs. Mr. F. J. Patrick Riley, Jr., addressed numerous conferences and groups throughout the year, including the Virginia State Convention of Physical and Vocational Therapists. The Reading Center began diagnostic services in late spring and operated two summer reading programs in conjunction with graduate reading courses.

GOVERNMENT Readies Plans For Master's Program in Fall

The Department of Government continued to expand in an effort to improve the quality of education for undergraduates. A Master's Degree in Government is planned for September, 1967. Dr. Jack D. Edwards returned to the College this year as Associate Professor of Government after a year as Assistant Professor at Grinnell College. Dr. Edwards originally joined the Faculty of William and Mary in 1962. Also new this year was Assistant Professor Clyde V. House, who served as Assistant Supervisor of Conferences and Institutes for the University of Michigan, 1959-1963.

HISTORY Features Lectures and Debates, Plans Ph. D. Program

In addition to its general history courses, the History Department offered a special Honors Study, a Master of Arts Degree, and planned a Ph.D. for the fall of 1967. The Department and Colonial Williamsburg, Inc., co-sponsored the Institute of Early American History and Culture, which, along with the libraries of the College and Colonial Williamsburg, offered an excellent collection of primary and secondary source materials for colonial and early U.S. history. ANCIENT LANGUAGES Professor Pens Latin Verses for Presentation to Governor

Dr. Lewis W. Leadbeater conjugates a regular Greek verb for a beginning class.

Ancient Languages offered courses in Greek, Latin, Classical Civilization, and Honors Study. Dr. Lewis W. Leadbeater received New York University's 1966 Founder's Day Award for "high academic achievement in the field of Classics." Dr. Alexander P. MacGregor composed two Latin verses which Dr. Paschall presented to the Governor as "quint-essence," required by the College Charter.

LANGUAGES Conventions

The Modern Language Department offered courses in French, German, Italian, Russian, Spanish, and a special Honors Study in Modern Languages. The Department actively represented the College at various language conventions. In November five department members attended the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Convention in Charlotte, North Carolina. Dr. Pierre C. Oustinoff was elected chairman of the Slavic Section of the SAMLA for 1966-67, and two attended the Richmond meeting of the Modern Language Association of Virginia, for which Dr. James W. Coke has served on the Executive Council from 1965 to 1967. Seven new members joined the Department in the fall.

Library Renovation Begins for Marshall-Wythe School of LAW

Renovation of the Old Library to house the Marshall-Wythe School of Law began in January. Two professional conferences were sponsored in the second semester. The first, February 19-25, was the Concentrated Course in Government Contracts. The second, on May 5, was the Third Annual Symposium on Space Law. Norris Darrell, president of the American Law Institute, received the first Marshall-Wythe School of Law Bronze Medallion.

February's icy weather temporarily halted work on the Old Library.

Prof Chairs MATHEMATICS Association Sectional Meeting

Joining the Department of Mathematics this year were four Ph.D.'s. Dr. Thomas L. Reynolds served as chairman of the Maryland-Washington, D. C.-Virginia sectional meeting of the Mathematics Association of America for the academic year 1966-67. Other members of the department represented the College at various teaching conferences held to acquaint them with the latest teaching methods and mathematical theories. Professors G. T. Rublein and J. C. Sanwal received research grants for this year.

The Men's Physical Education Department emphasized "Body Fitness as a Complement of Mental Fitness." Each semester the Department conducted programs in collegiate and intramural athletics, sponsored conferences on various aspects of physical activity, and administered postural examinations to required classes. This year the Department was host to the Annual Virginia High School Track and Baseball Clinics. Through such activities the Physical Education Department helped to contribute to the physical, mental, social, and emotional development of the individual.

WOMEN'S P.E. Department Aids Proficiency in Four Areas

The Department of Physical Education for Women aimed for the development of each girl's physical as well as mental capacity. Four main areas of sport and exercise were stressed: swimming, dancing, team sports, and individual sports. In November, Miss Caroline Haussermann, coach of the women's hockey team, played on the team representing the southeastern section of the United States at the national tournament in St. Louis, Missouri.

PHILOSOPHY Treats Nonsense, Faith, and Hannah Arendt

Faculty members of the Department of Philosophy were busy in advancing knowledge in all areas of philosophical study. Mr. Glenn A. Pearce participated in the Faculty Lecture Series, speaking on "Nonsense." Dr. John Lachs' book, Animal Faith and Spiritual Life, went to the publisher. Dr. James J. Leach participated in a rousing debate, "Who's Afraid of Hannah Arendt?" with Dr. Dietrich Orlow of the History Department. In October, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Department*

The Department of Home Economics, housed in Washington Hall, has been strengthened in recent years by the addition of modern laboratory equipment. New and advanced courses in interior design, menu planning, and tailoring were made possible by the new equipment. The Department aimed at offering courses which will aid college students in their daily lives.

MILITARY SCIENCE Department Holds Annual Field Day

The U.S. Army voluntary military program at the College, the Reserve Officers' Training Corps, allowed young men to fulfill their military obligation and created a more capable national defense. The general Military Science course gave the student a college level program of military subjects, trained him in basic infantry weapons and procedure, and provided him with an opportunity to perfect his leadership technique by practical application. This year, Lt. Col. Glen L. Shivel, Capt. Richard B. LaFrance, and Capt. Roy D. Hunnicut joined the ROTC staff, and in February Col. Lewis G. Wetherell replaced Lt. Col. Julian L. Hogan as Head of the Department.

Members Clevie Youngblood and Judy Bretana sell mums at Homecoming to boost Mortar Board's scholarship fund.

The purpose of ODK is to recognize and foster outstanding achievements in scholarship, student government, athletics, publications and the arts. Major activities of the year are the Leadership Forum, the traditional Yule Log Ceremony, which is done in conjunction with Mortar Board, an essay contest, and the sponsorship of a national scholarship. Two highlights of this year were the tapping of President Paschall for honorary membership in the organization and an address by Dr. Walter Judd, keynote speaker of the Republican convention in 1960.

ODK members enjoy the fellowship of an informal luncheon at a local restaurant.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA Rewards High Scholarship

Alpha Lambda Delta is the national honorary organization for women who attain a 2.5 academic average in their freshman year. The William and Mary chapter, chartered in 1961, strives to encourage superior scholastic attainment. The members assisted Mortar Board in the selling of Mums at Homecoming and serve as available tutors for freshmen women. New initiates are honored at a spring banquet.

Academic Achievement Fostered by PHI ETA SIGMA

Phi Eta Sigma is a national honorary fraternity for freshmen and sophomore men which provides recognition of, and encouragement for, scholastic excellence at an early stage. This year the fraternity sponsored a Scholarship Information Evening to inform interested students of the various scholastic opportunities which are available.

As the women's international music organization, Delta Omicron seeks to promote musical activities on campus. At its bimonthly meetings William and Mary's Delta Tau Chapter plans such events as student recitals and campus sings. The society also sponsors special musical productions such as this year's "H.M.S. Pinafore" produced in conjunction with Phi Mu Alpha.

PHI MU ALPHA Assists in Production of HMS Pinafore

The Nu Sigma Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia was established at William and Mary in 1965. Its purpose is to promote interest and achievement in the various aspects of professional music. Through its activities the club sought to foster a true brotherhood of musicians. Most of this organization's members are not music majors, merely interested students with musical abilities. This year, one of the highlights of the season was Phi Mu Alpha's sponsorship of the production "H.M.S. Pinafore."

ETA SIGMA PHI Honors Linguists

Eta Sigma Phi is a national honorary fraternity founded in 1919 at the University of Chicago. Its purpose is to create further interest in the study of Latin and Greek. This year, the activities of Eta Sigma Phi included a reception for ancient language students in the fall, the official pledging and initiation of new members, and a lecture by Dr. J. W. Jones on his year in Italy.

CHI DELTA PHI Recognizes Writers

The women's national honorary literary fraternity, Chi Delta Phi, has as its goal the stimulation of interest, appreciation, and participation in creative writing on campus. Recognition is accorded to original works of William and Mary faculty and students in the form of bimonthly readings and group discussions. Many members were honored by the publication of their works in the organization's literary magazine—the Litterateur. The members of Chi Delta Phi were also instrumental in establishing the new men's honorary literary fraternity by providing them with advice and counseling.

Forensic Fraternity Honors Debaters

Promoting intercollegiate debate and general forensics competition, the nine active and six honorary members of Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha participated in the National DSR-TKA Tournament at Butler University in March. The organization strives to recognize speaking accomplishments of outstanding student participants in the Intercollegiate Forensic Competition as well as to encourage effective, intelligent and responsible speech.

THETA ALPHA PHI Cultivates Artistic and Dramatic Interests

Membership in Theta Alpha Phi signifies distinguished performance in the theater arts—on and back stage. This chapter of the national honorary fraternity of the theater arts serves its members and the community through a program designed to stimulate creative and artistic achievement by the cooperation and understanding of the various theater arts and crafts.

Front Row: Christine Sturges secretary; Mr. Howard Scammon; Mr. Russell Hastings; Mr. Albert Haak; Kathi Kaufer. Second

Row: Mr. James Perry, Jr.; Joyce Hill, historian; Jere Rapp, president; Susan Szadokierski, vice-president; Mr. Stephen Paledes.

KAPPA DELTA PI's Activities Include Banquets and Speakers

Established at William and Mary in 1927, the Alpha Xi chapter of Kappa Delta Pi serves as an honorary fraternity for those undergraduate and graduate students who demonstrate interest and ability in the field of education. Initiation ceremonies, involving banquets and guest speakers, highlighted their calendar this year.

Mary Alan Brown, vice-president; Mary Stedman, president; Judy Bretana, treasurer. Advisors are Mrs. Thelma Wenger and Mr. J. Jenkins.

PSI CHI Advances Field of Psychology Through Scholarship

A chapter of the national psychology fraternity, Psi Chi was founded to advance the science of psychology and to encourage, stimulate, and maintain the scholarship of the individual members in all fields, but particularly in psychology. This year Psi Chi worked jointly with the Psychology Club in planning activities. Top psychology students were tapped in the fall and spring.

Phi Alpha Delta is a national honorary law fraternity. Its members are chosen from the student body of the Marshall-Wythe Law School on the basis of academic achievement. Among the many highlights in the Phi Alpha Delta year were: a speech by Coach Marv Levy on the game of football; a trip to Richmond to visit the facilities of the Virginia State Penitentiary; and a guest speech by Justice Lanson of the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

Renown Lawyers Speak at PHI DELTA PHI's Meetings

The oldest law fraternity in existence, Phi Delta Phi serves, above all else, to introduce law students to members of the legal profession. In addition, the fraternity strives to promote higher standards of professional ethics and culture. Monthly dinner meetings, with outstanding personalities in the legal profession serving as speakers, highlighted the year's social activities. Legal field trips to Washington, D. C., were sponsored at various times during the year by Phi Delta Phi.

SIGMA PI SIGMA Honors Physicists

Sigma Pi Sigma, the national honorary fraternity for physics, provides a forum for the study, discussion, and advancement of ideas amongst its members. Membership is restricted to those who have shown high scholarship and promise of achievement in the various areas of physics. Among the many programs of Sigma Pi Sigma's year were lectures by faculty members and other nationally recognized scientists, and fall and spring inductions of members.

PI DELTA PHI Membership Encompasses Campus Community

Pi Delta Phi, the French honorary fraternity, is dedicated to the encouragement of the knowledge and appreciation of French culture within the college community. The Beta Epsilon chapter was founded at William and Mary in 1952. Since 1964, membership has not been limited to those specializing in French. Hence the Beta Epsilon chapter has witnessed considerable growth in the past few years. The formal initiation, a highlight of the year, was held in the spring.

Spanish Honorary Recognizes Merit

Sigma Delta Pi, a national honorary fraternity, has as its purpose the recognition of those students who have demonstrated outstanding achievement in the study of Spanish literature and language. By nature exclusive, its membership stands at eight.

SCABBARD AND BLADE Trains Juniors for Summer Camp

Scabbard and Blade is the national honorary military fraternity. Its members are chosen by the organization officers with the consent of the ROTC cadre. The men of Scabbard and Blade are picked by virtue of their leadership and outstanding abilities in the ROTC. These men, during the past year, held cocktail parties, helped in the preparations for the Military Ball, and set up a special series of training classes for the juniors who will be going to summer camp in the next few months.

All Facets of College Life at William and Mary

A constant reminder in pictures and words of the academic year's activities, the Colonial Echo strove to provide the most complete coverage possible of all college programs and events during the 1966-1967 session. The eyes of the Echo focused in on classes, organizations, and academics while capturing the spirit behind all functions both on the campus and in the community. These aspects were emphasized in the enlarged Introductory Section, compiled by Jane Brower, Carol Jones, Nikki Waklerlin, and Steve Ziglar.

FLAT HAT Strives Toward Responsible Reporting

The Flat Hat, a weekly newspaper published by the students, was more widely read than ever before. With a general expansion of local news coverage, the Flat Hat commented often on state and national issues, such as the Governor's Conference on Education, the NSA-CIA controversy and the draft lottery. The eighty member volunteer staff worked to create an air of professionalism necessary in the practice of good journalism. A new addition to the paper this year was a Collegiate Press Service article run serially entitled "Viet Nam: The Simple War." Further additions included cartoons by Hugh Haynie, Class of '50, and by Ed Newton.

REVIEW Presents Broad and Varied Range of Contributions

Published biannually, the William and Mary Review serves the multi-purpose of "providing a means for students and faculty to publish their work," and "to foster an interest in both creative writing and creativity in the visual arts." In preparation for publication, the Review holds two annual art shows in spring and fall, as well as soliciting all year round for literary works. There is also an exchange system that has been established through which the Review receives copies of literary magazines from other colleges.

CHEERLEADERS Decorate Training Tables for Athletes

In cheering the Indians and the "junior" Indians on to victory, the varsity and freshman cheerleaders are the active force promoting school spirit throughout the year. The girls organized the Pep Rallies, decorated the training tables, held tryouts in the spring and cheered at all of the games. Their combined efforts, enthusiasm, and spirit were frequently rewarded with Indian victories.

Nationwide Audience Views CHOIR's Television Program

Each year increases the demands upon the William and Mary Choir as an ambassador of goodwill from the college to audiences in Virginia and throughout the Eastern Seaboard. This year, in addition to participating in fall convocation, Charter Day, and graduation, and presenting the two annual choir concerts at Christmas and in the spring, the choir co-operated with Colonial Williamsburg to present two special concerts for the Christmas Colonial Week-ends. They also taped a television program which was viewed from coast to coast.

CHORUS Adds to Prestige of College's Musical Organizations

The William and Mary Chorus is composed of nearly eighty girls who give up their afternoons in an endeavor to maintain the fine reputation of choral music held by the College. The girls prepare two concerts for the College, one during each semester, enabling the student body to gain a greater appreciation of different types of music.

The William and Mary chorus adds its lovely music to the college Christmas festivities.

COUNCIL Sponsors Colonial Debates for 24 High Schools

Every Monday afternoon at four the eighteen members of the Debate Council meet to train students for participating in and understanding intercollegiate debate. PEP CLUB Activities Point Way to Revival of School Spirits Changing apathy to enthusiasm for athletic events on campus was the goal of the Pep Club. Its twenty-five members encouraged school spirit by backing up the cheerleaders, supporting athletic teams, and publicizing events. This year the club sponsored fraternity yells at pep rallies, provided transportation to away games, organized the freshman reception honoring their class athletes, decorated Cary Field and Blow Gym, and auctioned off the football players to earn money for the College's Educational Foundation.

NEWMAN CLUB Transfers Sunday Mass to Wren Chapel

The purpose of the Newman Club is three-fold: religious, educational, and social. Their goal is to promote faith through these means by working as a Christian community. Many interested students participated in the varied range of activities: three provincial conventions, weekly discussion groups, helping at Eastern State, and starting a community kindergarten.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL Tries New Rush Schedule

Rush, though of primary importance, was not the extent of Panhel's activities this year. The Council held two fashion shows and china and silver displays to add to its scholarship fund. In the fall a tea was held in honor of the three new housemothers on sorority court.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL Sees Houses Begun

Serving as liaison between the administration and the fraternities, the Interfraternity Council coordinates housing, house and ground rules, and rush.

This year their aim was to eliminate non-functioning rush rules, and to make fraternity housing a reality. Both goals were accomplished.

William and Mary Ties for Southern Conference Crown

Despite failure to equal the 1965 mark, William and Mary's Big Green managed to share the Southern Conference crown with East Carolina. In Coach Marv Levy's third season, the tribe notched a 5-4-1 mark for its second winning season in a row.

After a frustrating opener with East Carolina, which ended in a tie that haunted the Tribe's campaign, the Indians scored Conference victories against George Washington, Citadel, V.M.I., and Richmond, while losing to West Virginia. The non-conference schedule saw a win over Villanova and losses to Navy, Virginia Tech, and television opponent Boston College.

Indian fans saw records fall all season with Chuck Albertson setting marks for pass receptions and Dan Darragh for number of attempts and completions both in a single game and for the season. Topping the aerial circus with his touchdown receptions, Ned Carr pulled down ten for a consecutive game mark.

Tribe performers were honored by selection as Players of the Week and on the Conference Team. Dan Darragh, Terry O'Toole, Adin Brown, Chuck Albertson, Joe Neilson, Marty Fuller and Ned Carr took weekly awards. Four men, Adin Brown, Joe Neilson, Chuck Albertson, and Bob Gadkowski made the Conference first unit, and Ned Carr, Dan Darragh, Randy Glesenkamp, Ed Herring, and Buck Buchanan were second team selections.

William and Mary Cross Country: Number One in the South

The 1966 version of William and Mary's Cross Country squad achieved the top ranking in Southern cross country. Dominating the regional championships, as well as dual meet opponents, the Indians closed the season by taking eighteenth at the N.C.A.A. National Championship. With team captain, Joe Philpott—the only senior on the squad, the Indians were supposed to have faced a rebuilding year, but outstanding performances by Terry Donnelly and George Davis gave the Indians their best season in years. Finishing with a four and two dual meet record, which included wins over powerful teams from Virginia, Quantico, V.M.I. and Western Kentucky, the season was marred by narrow losses to tough squads from Georgetown and Annapolis.

In regional competition, the Tribe overpowered its opponents in the N.C.A.A. Region Three meet, the State meet, and the Southern Conference meet, with record margins of victory. Five members of the seven man squad, Terry Donnelly, George Davis, Chop Jordan, Juris Luzins and Dick Widell, were named to the Conference All Star team in an unprecedented vote by Conference coaches.

At the National Championship, William and Mary's young team gained experience that will serve it well next year, finishing eighteenth.

With victories over Evansville, Davidson, and Richmond among their most impressive games, the Indians responded to the first-year coaching of Warren Mitchell in fine style, ending with the best record of the past four seasons, 14-11, and a third place in the Southern Conference.

This season also saw the Tribe hit the century mark for the first time in many years as they dumped Hampden-Sydney 100-78.

Ben Pomeroy repeated as All-Conference, and was runner up for Player of the Year, while Mitchell was barely nosed out for Coach of the Year honors. Ron Panneton became the first player since Jeff Cohen to average more than twenty points per game.

William and Mary's winter track teams picked up where they left off last season by successfully defending their State and Conference crowns, winning in both meets by overwhelming margins.

The Tribe's trackmen also performed well in invitational competition at Chesterfield, V.M.I., Delaware, the Philadelphia Enquirer Relays and the U. S. Track and Field Federation meet. Splitting in dual meet competition, the Indians overwhelmed East Carolina while losing narrowly to Ohio State.

Among the track standouts in the winter campaign were Terry Donnelly, Conference and State title holder in the 880 and the mile; Doug Griffith, holder of the State and Conference hurdling crown; Nick Byrne, who swept the shot crown at both the state and conference meets, plus George Davis, Marshall Stone, Ed Witt and freshman Bruce Dallas.

Depth-Shy Swimmers Post Good Dual Record;

The varsity swim team, short on depth this season, posted a solid 5-7 dual meet record. The twelve swimmers were sparked by senior captains Bob West and Bill Atkinson, as well as juniors Keith Mauer and George Bear. Development keyed the year as two sophs, butterflyer Keith Hamack and diver Bob Henderson earned letters. The squad's returnees, along with men from the unbeaten frosh squad, should show solid improvement next season.

Nick Orrick, whose versatility made him invaluable to the team, paced the Indian gymnasts as they posted a four and four record.

Backing up the team's seniors, several sophomores played roles that argue well for the team's future. Among the under-class standouts were Morris Spurling, Herminio Cuervo and Jimmy Runyan.

Frosh Undefeated in Dual Meet Campaign

The wrestling program at the College, a recent addition to the athletic department, produced its first Southern Conference champion this year—sophomore Scott Curzi in the 177 pound class. Curzi, who went into the tournament with an eight and two record, won all three of his matches to take the first place trophy.

Coach Dick Besnier, although not having a winning record in dual meet competition with a two and seven mark, noted that four of the matches were lost due to weight forfeits.

Tying only one dual match, the frosh, who are counted on to add much to future Tribe wrestling squads, were led by three undefeated men, Jeff Thiel and Ron Stewart, who posted perfect marks, and George Miller, who was tied once.

Development of Frosh and ROTC Rifle Teams Boosts Future

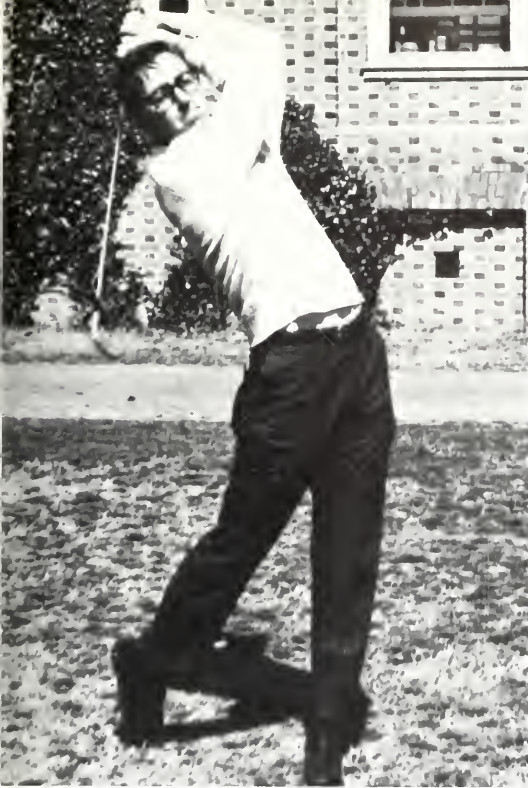

Keynoting the rifle program at the College in 1966-67 was the development of a new ROTC rifle team in addition to the varsity and freshmen squads. Under the direction of first-year coach Captain Richard Lafrance, the three teams performed credibly, with developments in the frosh and ROTC units giving rise to hopes for stronger performances from the varsity.

Captained by seniors Rick Babcock and Ron Botto, the varsity put in a solid year, notching a five and five dual meet record. The team also placed sixth in the Southern Conference championships while taking second in the Virginia State League.

The freshmen unit, led by John Boles and Thomas Routh, completed the dual meet season with a four and one mark. The Kent Swanson-led ROTC team finished its campaign of postal meets with an overall eight and two record.

New Frosh Golf Team Adds Depth and Builds for Future

In a year following a rise to second place in the Southern Conference, the varsity golf squad faced a rebuilding program. The team, coached by Joe Agee, faced one of its toughest schedules in years with only three returning lettermen, seniors John Kyle and Bill Binns, and junior Carl Christensen.

Highlighting the season for the Tribe golfers was an early spring swing through the south with matches against Mercer, Georgia Tech, Oglethorpe and Georgia State. The year ended with the State championship match at Hot Springs, and the Southern Conference tournament at Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

Coach Agee put his emphasis on development by adding a five man freshmen unit, the first in many years, of Bill Benham, John Morello, Bob Beason, Fred Hinton and Steve Isaacs.

The 1967 baseball season was one of the best the Indians have ever posted on the Reservation. The Tribe relied on the pitching strength of transfer Jay Newton and senior Tom Trautman, and the hitting of Chuck Albertson, Randy Glesenkamp, and Jim Rama as the team improved tremendously over last year's 12-15 record. By mid-season, the Indians had won as many games as they did all last year.

The thirty-six game schedule included fifteen Conference matches, as well as exhibitions with the Italian Olympic team, the nationally ranked Florida State Seminoles, and the Syracuse Chiefs of the Triple-A International League. This year's team was stronger in all departments, boasting conference leaders in individual statistics.

Six Man Pitching Corps, Versatility Keys to Freshmen Season

Allen fires a strike.

The 1967 William and Mary freshmen baseball team began its twelve-game schedule with a fourteen man roster. Coach Ed Jones noted that despite its size, it was as strong as any team in past years. The six man pitching staff, headed by southpaw Al Wohlleben and right handers Eddie Allen and Jack Pulling, was the key to the squad's success.

Versatility also played an important role, as several team members played two positions during the campaign. The team's ranks are expected to provide the varsity with more players than those of previous years.

Tennis Team Faces Building Year with One Returning Letterman

William and Mary's 1967 tennis squad entered its campaign hoping to capitalize on strength in the middle positions in order to retain its third place in the conference which it held last year. With only one returning letterman, captain Robert Blair, the team was made up of four sophomores, two juniors and one senior. However, Coach MacLaughlin expected that the group would produce one of the best seasons in recent William and Mary tennis history.

Team Defends State and Conference Crowns

As the strongest team in William and Mary's recent history, the 1967 outdoor track squad defended its Conference and State titles in an effort to sweep all the regional crowns available to it.

After opening the season with a solid victory over Springfield, Tribe athletes performed in events such as the American University Relays—where they set two records, the Colonial Relays, the Penn Relays, and the North Carolina Relays, as well as in dual meets with VMI, Miami of Ohio, and Quantico.

Led by senior co-captains John Lampe and Mike Holland, the squad was the most versatile, and undoubtedly the deepest ever to be at William and Mary. Track events were in the hands of men such as George Davis, Chop Jordan, Dick Widell, Terry Donnelly, Phil Dillard, Fred Anspach, Juris Luzins, Doug Griffith, and Mark Decot, while Nick Byrne, Dick Conway, and Marshall Stone led the team in field events.

Under the direction of Mr. Ed Jones, William and Mary's intramural program for men continued to be a major source of extra-curricular entertainment in the 1966-67 session. Highlighting the fall season was Theta Delt's victory in the football championship, while the fraternity's bowlers copped the bowling title. Kappa Sig notched a perfect record to win the basketball crown, while a team from Sig Ep battled its way to the volleyball title. Athletes from Sig Ep won most of the individual championships to give their fraternity a solid leg on the overall championship.

Run by the W.A.A., women's athletics at William and Mary included a round of intramural competition as well as the regular varsity and junior varsity sports. Besides sponsoring an intramural program which included hockey, swimming, basketball, and volleyball, the W.A.A. gave a freshmen picnic in the fall to introduce girls to the athletic programs, and an awards dessert in the spring. Visits by touring hockey and lacrosse teams under the auspices of the W.A.A. highlighted the year.

Varsity, Intramurals, Fill Women's Sports Year

Varsity hockey action.

One and one is . . . ?

Five of Women's Hockey Team Chosen to First All-State Team

Despite posting an average 4-3-2 record in 1966, the women's varsity hockey team played well enough, in the view of its coach, Miss Caroline Haussermann, to hold its own in competition from any other part of the country. The nucleus of this year's squad is expected to return to form an even stronger team next season.

Five individuals, Mary Hurn, Susan Baskerville, Jo Carol Sale, Kathy O'Flaherty and captain Clevie Youngblood were chosen for the All-State first team, while two others, Dee Dee Helfrich and Jean Lusardi, made the second unit. Jo Carol Sale was chosen to go on to the Southeast Tournament second team. Highlighting the season was a visit by the United States First Women's Hockey Team and by the reserve team for an exhibition.

Women's Varsity Basketball Team Posts 3-2 Overall Record

Despite having three games cancelled by snow, the women's varsity basketball team posted a commendable 3-2 record. Hurt by the irregular scheduling, the team missed games necessary for development of its full potential.

Coach Marion Reeder noted a definite improvement in terms of team play, as well as in individual performances. The improvement was seen in coordinated play that had been lacking in previous seasons. Keying the Squaw's offense were co-captain Jean Lusardi, Trish Frasier, Kay Barrett and Billie Tinsley, while co-captain Clevie Youngblood and Lynn McLeod led the defensive unit.

The junior varsity, which also posted a 3-2 overall record, was plagued by snow as well, but has some solid performers for next year's team.

Players Number One and Two Go to Year-End Tournaments

William and Mary's women's tennis team faced a campaign of matches with squads from other Virginia schools, as well as two post season tournaments. Coached by Mrs. Mildred West, the team practiced on the last of the old clay courts.

Highlighting the season for the number one and number two players were the Middle States Intercollegiate Tournament at Bryn Mawr, and the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Tournament at Mary Baldwin. The dual match schedule included teams from Westhampton, Suffolk, Longwood, and Sweetbriar.

Donnie Chancellor, team captain, played in the number one spot, followed by co-captain Susan Baskerville, Joanie Graves and Lu Givens.

Girls Swimming Team Sweeps to Third Straight Unbeaten Season

With a legacy of two straight unbeaten seasons, the women's swimming team met both old and new opponents and continued the winning record. Six veterans and four outstanding freshmen helped the team to win every meet by at least twenty points while breaking school records constantly.

Sparked by Linda Freeman, Becki McColpin, and Suzanne Bolton, the girls encountered no real opposition, even from the powerful Roanoke, Lynchburg and Westhampton squads. In spite of the loss of Gail Littlefield at mid-season, team versatility made up the difference as Linda Haase, Linda Lotz, Lou Cooper, and Trish Hiegel filled in with good form. Other solid performers included Nancy Holland, Carol Brunson and Linda Beerbower. Under coach Mildred West, the team laid claim to the unofficial State Collegiate Women's Championship.

Trish Hiegel and Suzanne Bolton leave the blocks for a 1-2 sweep in the freestyle.

Great Britain-Irish Touring Team Highlights Lacrosse Year

The 1967 women's lacrosse team looked forward to bettering the four and one mark set last session. Coached by Miss Caroline Haussermann and Miss Patricia Crowe, the team hoped to combine experience and depth to produce a winning year.

With thirty players on the squad, led by senior Jean Lusardi and several sophomores from the frosh, the team hoped to overcome the loss of some of the graduated players on last year's team. Over the run of the season, Hollins College provided the strongest opposition.

Highlighting the year in lacrosse was a three day visit by the Great Britain-Irish Touring Team.

W.A.A., Led by Linda Sheffield, Rewrites Constitution

The Women's Athletic Association, chief coordinator of women's athletics on campus, existed in a state of transition throughout the 1966-1967 sessions, undergoing an extensive change which will lead to a complete reorganization of the entire women's athletic system. Under the leadership of Linda Sheffield, the group formulated a new constitution for presentation to the Student Association. With the constitutional change, the women students looked forward to the promise of greater autonomy in future years.

As a result of the talents of over one hundred staff members, this yearbook is our effort to present an accurate, complete and meaningful account of the 1966-67 school year. Our emphasis has been on presenting you, a student of the College of William and Mary, in all your many facets of college life. The 1967 Colonial Echo is, thus, our attempt to provide you with a pictorial and printed narrative of your memories—to capture feelings of excitement, anxiety, joy, frustration, pleasure, sorrow—to retell times of study, fun, relaxation—to share moods of seriousness, warmth, frivolity. It is sincerely hoped that you will feel that we, the yearbook staff acting as your representatives, have successfully fulfilled our goal and have done our best for you.

On this page, it is my opportunity to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to those students who have volunteered this year to help produce the 1967 Echo. I am grateful to them for not only the time they gave, but also for the genuine interest they have in producing a good yearbook. The help and personal concern each one has contributed combined to create an unique result. To the group, I am greatly indebted, and to each one who did an outstanding job, I would like to say a special thank you. On the top of my list is Florence Fraser, my associate editor. She has been a great aid to me, not only with the mechanics, but also in offering meaningful advice and loyal support. The extent of the coverage in this book would not have been possible without the constant efforts of the photography staff—Editor Tom Cory, Torrey Froscher, Al Littlejohn, Al Wollenben, Susan Lohwasser, and Dick Hoffman. These people hold the key in helping a yearbook come to life. To Business Manager Bea Peca, appreciation is expressed for a job well done—accurately and efficiently—from soliciting patrons to distribution.

Florence and I worked along with talented Editorial Board members Jane Brower, Carol Jones, Nikki Wak-erlin, and Steve Ziglar in compiling the enlarged opening section with you, the student, as our theme. For this section, as well as the entire book, Layout Editor Betty Wade Wyatt led her staff in doing an excellent job, using new styles and patterns. Another special component for a page is the copy, and Literary Editor Selman Welt and staff contributed their best in this aspect. Selman especially did a fine job conveying the ideas pictured on our opening pages.

A yearbook is organized in sections by the various areas of college involvement with each section being headed by a junior editor. Our coverage of the Greek system was guided by Dickey Barron in a sincerely dedicated and able manner. Peder Shea assisted Dickey especially in compiling the fraternity pages. Organizations Editor Jo Lynne Stancil produced a complete and well-ordered section giving comprehensive coverage to our campus activities. Both men's and women's sports were reported accurately and interestingly by Editor Pat Butler. Co-Class Editors Janice Hunt and Merle Markwith successfully led a large staff in organizing the important section which contains your individual pictures. Our administration and faculty were well-represented by the staff led by Don Roberts. Junior Editor Mary Stedman did an excellent and conscientious job in compiling our new section entitled "Royalty." One section which is often consulted is composed of student, administration, faculty, and organizations indices. These lists were carefully prepared by the Index staff and Editor Margie Randall. The entire book is submitted in typewritten form to our publishers and a special staff is responsible for this aspect. Mildred Royall organized and capably led an active staff for this purpose.

An ambitious and talented staff cannot produce a yearbook alone. The 1967 Colonial Echo is grateful to several people for their special interest and help during the year. Dean of Students J. Wilfred Lambert's concern for the Echo is appreciated, and a special thanks goes to Mrs. David R. Corley, his secretary, for her help in typing the College calendar for us each week. The advice of Dr. Alexander Kallos and Dr. Cecil M. McCulley throughout the year has been most helpful. We appreciate the cooperation of Col. Warren J. Green in housing our office in the Campus Center. Registrar Dudley M. Jensen has been a needed assistance in helping us obtain the IBM lists for business and indexing purposes. We also are indebted to Mr. W. T. Reece for his constant work in managing our financial needs. Mr. Thomas L. Williams, photographer, has been a great help, and we are sincerely grateful for his cooperation and efforts. The class portraits were ably provided by Colonna Studios. We are also quite grateful for a thorough job done by Taylor Publishing Company, represented by Pete Peterson, Danny DeFalco, Norm Dowdy, and Mac Upshaw, in actually making our ideas a reality.

And in my closing statement, I would like to express a very sincere thanks to those who have offered advice and encouragement to me personally throughout the year. The 1967 Colonial Echo is completed and belongs to you, the student body. To those who had a part in its production, I thank you.

A final symbol light and tall.
The seasons change,
We come and go,
It remains a changing, unalterable.
