

Monticello Sep^r 6th 1804

I will not apologise for requesting you to read the enclosed, and return it to me. Permit me to assure you that nothing like a charge of ostentatious, or ill timed offers of assistance found its way into my letter to my Sister - her Imagination subverts her peace, and destroys her health - God grant she may be separated from that insidious Girl M. W. who has been trained to Artifice from her very infancy - The three members, of my poor Mother's family, alluded to, are W^m Harriet, and John - with^{out} having breathed the subject of my Distress to any one, my future residence is ascertained - I shall certainly return to Bizarre and remain there untill my brother can sell his Patrimony, part of which, he says, is justly mine, and shall be settled on me immediately after the bargain is closed - My plans are decisive - I shall end my days in peace, and solitude - The spot I have in view is near Dean Bizarre -

Adieu my beloved (my kind, benevolent) Friend - pardon all the liberties I have taken with you I hope never to impose on your unequalled goodness again - Heaven bless you most cordially prays your grateful and affectionate A. C. D. -

Providence Sept. 6. 1807

With out apology for repeating you to read the enclosed and return it to me. I should be glad to see you that nothing like a change of situation, or the times of absence from the way into my letter to my sister - her situation in relation to

Nancy Randolph

Sept. 6. 1807.

answered Sept. 14.

I enclosed the letter

she sent me.

from that individual first Mr. W. who has been the Lecturer from her very infancy - The three from Boston's family, alluded to one Dr. W. with having brooked the subject of my letter my future residence is uncertain - I shall to Europe and remain there until my health his testimony, part of which, however, is justly shall be settled on me immediately after the closed - My plans are decided - I shall not press, and I think - the only thing I have them my beloved (my kind, benevolent friend - I send all the letters I have written I hope never to improve or your unwearied I have left you most cordially yours your grateful and affectionate L. C. W.