

Saint George Tucker

I have long felt assured that the power of residing two or three months with my very dear Mr. Tucker's family would produce a salutary and permanent effect on me: Such is my native temperament I never omit an opportunity of regaining some portion of that serenity which has so frequently been interrupted by the overwhelming tide of party spirit —

I trust this dreary weather will not injure your health believe me my heart palpitated with joy to see you look so well — Truly do I sympathize with my beloved Mr. Tucker — I shall be ready at any moment to revisit dear Williamsburg — Heaven bless you — Your A. L. M.

Vertical handwritten text on the right side of the paper, possibly a date or recipient's name.

Main body of handwritten text, oriented vertically on the right side of the paper. The text is faint and difficult to decipher due to the paper's age and the way it is folded.
