

Dec. 21, 1813

My beloved Friend

A letter from Judy announced to me your present affliction - often have I wished to attempt expressing my feelings - alas! I know not what to say on the subject. Permit me to declare that my gratitude and affection for you can never diminish True - the state of New York with regard to domestics debarred me the possibility of writing - Present me tenderly to Mrs. Tucker -

Yours most truly
A.C. Morris

Judge Tucker Esq

103

1813
Dec 21

My beloved Friend
I have received your letter from New York and am glad to hear that you are well and happy. I have not time to write you more at present but will do so again soon. I am ever your affectionate friend
D. J. Morris

My beloved Friend
I have received your letter from New York and am glad to hear that you are well and happy.
I have not time to write you more at present but will do so again soon. I am ever your affectionate friend
D. J. Morris

Nanny Morris
Dec. 21. 1813
ans. D. Jan. 10. 1814

20 Paid
Judge Tucker
Williamsburg
Virginia
Dec 21