Dear Sir

My Heart will not permit me to remain long without expressing its grateful and affectionate remembrance of you and yours - We were lately on a visit to some Friends in the City and I have not been very well since - colds are common among us. Thank God my good husband is in excellent health - so is our lovely Darling - The former tenders you his most respectful regards and the latter sends you a kiss -

From Sister Virginia I learn that your Cary neighbors have left the dear old Village - this I deem a great loss to Tucker green - I presume Madam Dunbarton's roses continue to bloom near you - I cordially wish happiness to all your circle and shall ever cherish friendly regards toward each member -

My old Friend at Mackay Mills has just written that she intends visiting me this Summer - I shall rejoice to return her former hospitality - My Domestic Duties and attachments together with those grateful affections which warm my Heart fill it with as much happiness as falls to the lot of any one - and more than many enjoy -

Present me cordially to Mr. Tucker and Polly - I often think of Charles -

Adieu, dear Sir - I shall remember you with the utmost affection and esteem until I cease to feel at all -

Yours Truly

Ann C. Morris
