Dear Sir

Want of affection and gratitude can never prevent my addressing you - but, want of leisure has done - D - to - O - a second Glenalevon in some points and worse in others - bored my old French couple to quit this part of the world lest the wife should expose his former wicked concubinage publicly - They suited me she had a tremendous temper to be sure - and was very immoral, but, she was the only tolerable female servant I ever saw in this country - her husband is a quiet creature - they quitted four weeks ago and immediately embarked in ^{an} Albany sloop never to return, after being most of their lives time from

Give my love to Aunt Lucy Tell her son is more amiable than any thing in human shape and she must make him very agreeable to become him -

The man they had bound him to - The boy boasted of their sudden wealth, all this was arranged in my absence -

Give my best love to Mrs. Tucker and dear Polly if she is with you - and when I fail to write, rest assured it is from my numberless occupations and perplexities I acknowledged your letter the day after it arrived -

God bless you all -
Your unalterably and tenderly attached
