My dearest Friend

n. d.
[Morris] A [Inne] C [ary] R [andolph]

At length a channel was opened to my industry - First after Drudgery and a consciousness of earning what I have, enable me to sustain the mortifications attached to servitude At first my mind sunk entirely - superintending a house always filled with company - and a tribe of French servants - Recollecting Mr port - Haymarket - etc made me thank God for placing me in servitude - Tell Virginia (with my love) that my Brother's last kind offering viz 50$ released me altogether from those debts caused by my being kept so many months in Newport on enormous board and interest I forwarded the whole immediately - when the receipt comes I shall send it to Jefferson - any farther gift from my brother will be returned as I now work for my living - Mr. Pollock says he wrote her that Judy and Tack sent me money - I call God to witness I have not received a cent from either - Adieu dearest Sir - My tender love awaits you and yours - Thank God I no longer depend, for bread, on those who delight to tell me they are very poor -

Your own affectionate A. C. T.

My dear friend At length a channel was found to my industry - Best after long travelling I have made me to find my mind was not in vain ing a horse which I filled with a bundle of French muskets - Foot - I was ordered - etc made to placing me in a vessel - with my love, that my pocket in 100 released me altogether caused by my being kept in in transport in various parts for several days - I was receipt comes I shall send it any further gift from my returned as I was soon for to the better hope he will take out my money - I shall will. I have not received a been desired for - my your and yours - opening for good, in those we they are very poor - You are affectionately
J. C. S.
