

James Monroe

William Brown Esq.

Cashier of the Bank of

Charleston

Sir

I did not know that Mr Brown's bill had become due, nor indeed at what time it became due. I have ^{but} funds intended for this object, which will require some days to command, without loss to me. This sacrifice however shall be made, unless you may without any inconvenience or impropriety whatever, allow me the necessary time for the purpose. I will see you personally in a day or two. In the mean time, you may calculate with absolute certainty on my placing with you the money, in your hands, in a week from this date, or sooner if you require it.

With great respect I am Sir your very obt servant

James Monroe

Washington Aug^t 5. 1814

11

I have no doubt that the
 and because of, and indeed at that time because of. I have found it necessary to this
 - it, that it was necessary to without life to me. This teaching to words, which are very more a matter of fact, than nothing but for the fact. I
 - which is a part of the my interest with the subject in and for the way, in your from this day, or even if
 with great interest
 my interest in Baltimore
 Washington July 2, 1814

I have no doubt that the
 and because of, and indeed at that time
 because of. I have found it necessary to this
 - it, that it was necessary to
 without life to me. This teaching
 to words, which are very
 more a matter of fact, than
 nothing but for the fact. I
 - which is a part of the
 my interest with the subject in
 and for the way, in your
 from this day, or even if
 with great interest
 my interest in
 Baltimore
 Washington July 2, 1814