Indians Meet Spiders In Blow Gym Tonight

Richmond, Conqueror of Wake Forest, Has Just Returned From Northern Trip; Large Crowd Expected to Witness a Bitter Struggle.

The Indians' second clash of the new year will be with their ancient rivals, the Spiders of Richmond College, and will take place tonight in Blow gymnasium at 8 o'clock. Both quintets are reported to be in the best of condition, and the game promises to be one of the closest yet witnessed on the home court.

While the Indians were very successful in annexing three of the four games already played, at the time of writing Richmond won all but two, having lost to George Washington and Maryland. The Spiders did not begin practice until after the holidays, but in that short time they have developed into a fast aggregation. Both William and Mary and Richmond defeated Virginia Medical College, but, while the Indians were forced down in defeat against Wake Forest, the Spiders were more fortunate, and won by a goodly margin. Seniors Give Tea In Y Room on Sunday

Conducted under the auspices of the Senior Class, a tea will be given in the Y. M. C. A. room from four until six Sunday afternoon, at which time the members of the Senior Class will entertain the members of the faculty and undergraduates. Louise Sale, who is vice-president of the Senior Class, will act as hostess.

This is the first time that any class has attempted to give a tea. The class is working in conjunction with the social committee of the "Y." It is thought that the other classes will follow the example set by the Seniors and give a series of Sunday afternoon teas during the year.

Dormitory Schedule Opens After Exams

Immediately following the examinations basketball teams are to be organized in the various boys' dormitories. A schedule has already been worked out for four teams, one each representing Monroe Hall, Taliaferro, Ewell and Ewell Annex, and Boundary and the Institute. Each team will play at least one game a week until the end of the season, after the league starts.

Students in the above mentioned dormitories who are interested in basketball should get together and organize themselves into teams in order that practice may begin as soon as the second semester begins in February. The girls have just completed a successful season of inter-dormitory basketball, and it is hoped that the interest of the men students will be even better than that of the co-eds.

New Rivals to Face Taskerites on Court

St. John's Will Oppose Indians on Home Court Tomorrow Night; High Point College, a New-comer, to Be Met on Monday Night.

Among the several colleges that William and Mary has met for the first time in its history, St. John's and High Point colleges may be listed as this year's court additions. The Indians will meet St. John's on the home floor tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock. St. John's, it is understood, has a good team this year, although they were defeated by St. Mary's Juniors last Friday by the score of 25-20. This game marks the second of the series of home games played by the Indians just prior to examinations.

High Point College has been attempting an ambitious schedule thus far, the encounter with William and Mary Monday night being only one of the games with larger colleges on her scheduled trip through Virginia. With prospects for an unusually good team this year, High Point has games scheduled with the Richmond Blues, Medical College and Randolph-Macon, in addition to William and Mary. They were defeated in a rather close game

First Rifle Match Set For Saturday

Meet With City College of New York Will Be Conducted by Telegraph; Others With But One Exception Will Be On Local Range.

The William and Mary rifle team has just completed its formation and will participate in its first preliminary match Saturday afternoon, at 2:30, on the local range, when it meets the team of the City College of New York. The match will be conducted over wire and the Western Union Telegraph Company has run a special line to the grounds in preparation for the match. The meet should prove an interesting one from the standpoint of both its nature and the method employed.

The regular intercollegiate schedule will begin in February and with one exception will be conducted on the local range. The present members of the team are: Knight, Henly, Bristo, Shotwell, Porter, Clevenger, Fien, Perry and Bozarth.

Goodwin in Wash., D. C.

Dr. W. A. Goodwin has left for Washington, D. C., where he will remain during January and February, looking after the interests of the College. Although he will be in Washington the greater part of the next two months, he will spend week-ends at home. On account of the long periods he will be absent from College he will not attempt to meet any of his classes.

Thirteen Seniors To Get Their Degrees

Thirteen Seniors will receive their degrees at the end of this semester, according to an announcement of the Office of the Registrar.

The following students will receive degrees: Anna Huff, Mary Custis Foster, Ruby Sharpe, Leah James, Rosena Bowers and Tommie Bland receiving Bachelor of Arts degrees; and Marceline Thierry, Elizabeth Kent, Harriet Johns, Bettie Kneeland, Donald Lee Goodwin, Herbert Alkire, Melvin Thorpe, and James T. Culbertson receiving Bachelor of Science degrees.

Miss Thierry will accept a position as instructor of mathematics at the New York University. Miss Kent and Miss Foster will enter Columbia University for further study.

Six Debaters Chosen For Inter-Collegiates

Extra Men Required to Meet Strong Schedule Arranged by Debate Council for Spring; Five Big Debates at Home.

Six men were named to represent William and Mary in intercollegiate debate Monday night following trials held in Phoenix Hall, under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Debate Council. The men selected by the judges were: W. F. Marston, of Woodstock; R. E. B. Stewart, Jr., of Portsmouth; F. O. Adam, Jr., of Hampton; L. L. Born, of New York City; W. H. Elliott, of Norfolk, and M. C. Andrews, of Newport News.

Although not so many men tried out for the team as had been expected, the council feels that the College will be ably represented by the men chosen. Two men, Adam and Stewart, are veterans of the team, while Marston was representative from this College to the State oratorical contest last year.

An interesting angle of the try-outs was that the Phoenix and Philomathean literary societies each placed three men on the team. Last year, the Philomatheans had two regular debaters and an alternate on the team, while the Phoenix was represented by two men.

The Debate Council has outlined for this spring the hardest schedule ever to be undertaken by a William and Mary team. Two trips will be made, one to Roanoke and the other into North Carolina for a series of three matches, including those with Wake Forest, Davidson and North Carolina State. The council is also bringing to Williamsburg some of the best collegiate teams in the country, including Pittsburgh, Gettysburg, Arizona and Oregon State. Roanoke will also come here at the same time the local team is in Salem.

College Enrollment Will Exceed 1100

Sixty New Students Will Enter With Beginning of Second Semester, According to Registrar; Majority Will Be Women.

According to recent reports from the office of the registrar the present enrollment of 1,048 will be augmented with the opening of the second semester by approximately sixty new students, making a total enrollment of over eleven hundred students.

Of the students who will matriculate next semester, the larger portion will be girls, since more provisions have been made for the accommodation of co-eds since the opening of the first semester. Several co-eds were unable to matriculate during the first semester on account of the fact that they could not obtain rooms in the dormitories.

Not only has the expansion of the College of William and Mary in the past five years been in the number of students that have matriculated, but also in the number of States that have been represented. Statistics from the registrar's office show that at the beginning of the first semester twenty-seven States and two foreign countries were represented. The foreign countries represented were France and China, while North Dakota, Texas, Oklahoma and the Atlantic seaboard, from Maine to Florida, marked the extremities of the States represented. It is not known by college officials as yet how many new States will be represented in the enrollment for the second semester, but it is thought that new landmarks in the expansion of the college will be noted among the matriculants.

The student body at present is the largest in the history of the college, exceeding the enrollment of last year by over one hundred students.

Art Matsu Elected Pres. Monogram Club

At a meeting of the members of the Monogram Club Monday night, the following officers were elected: President, Art Matsu; vice-president, Wince Irwin; secretary and treasurer, Howard Cain.

Snuck Elliott, who has successfully directed the minstrels for the past two years, was re-elected director for this year. The first minstrel given by the co-eds of William and Mary last year was also directed by Snuck.

In addition to the discussion given the minstrel and the election of officers, plans were discussed relative to continuing the Saturday night dances that were conducted under the auspices of the club last year.

The club also decided to hold regular meetings every other Wednesday night at the Monogram room in the Blow gymnasium. Every Wednesday has been declared Monogram Day and holders of the W. and M. are urged to wear their letters on this day.

Dr. Pollard Honored By Civic Federation

Dean of Marshall-Wythe School of Government Made Member of National Council on Political Education.

Dr. John Garland Pollard has been selected by the National Civic Federation as a member of the National Council on Political Education.

Judge A. B. Parker, of New York, who was the Democratic nominee for President in 1904, is chairman of the council of which Dr. Pollard is a member. Judge Parker is also president of the federation, which numbers among its officers the former Secretary of State, Elihu Root; former Secretary of the Treasury, Franklin MacVeagh, and Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University.

The organization will hold its next meeting at the Biltmore hotel in New York City, on January 28 and 29.

Walt Whitman Club Organized By Class

A new organization is reported to have made its appearance on the campus. In some of the American Literature classes those students who admire Walt Whitman have organized the "Walt Whitman Club." The object of this club is a better understanding of this popular American author. The members are endeavoring to foster free thinking, and to perpetrate the ideals of their eccentric leader. It is the belief that Whitman's continual optimism, his wanderlust and his love for the spectacular was the impetus which gave the original idea for the formation of this organization.

Dear Sir—After taking four boxes of your corn flakes, I find my corns are much better. Yours truly, History Club Regrets Death Former Pres.

The last regular meeting of the William and Mary History Club was held last Friday evening in the Science Hall. At this meeting the following resolutions were drawn up as a tribute to Miss Katherine Kerr, who was president of the Club in 1924-25: "It is with sincere sorrow and regret that we, the members of the History Club of the College of William and Mary, have learned of the death of Katherine Kerr, of Hamilton, Virginia, the first president of our Club.

We, her friends and fellow students, have lost in Katherine Kerr a worthy member and a lovable friend. We are proud of her record and we are richer for the memory of her life among us. We extend to her grieving family our deepest sympathy."

Miss Powell Offers Vocational Guidance

Course in Social and Vocational Orientation Will be Given as Sociology 304; Dr. Peters Will Teach First Two Weeks

The attention of the women students of the upper classes (Seniors, Juniors, and a number of Sophomores to be limited) is called to the course on Social and Vocational Orientation to be given this next semester and to be known as Sociology 304.

The course will deal with the social changes in the family, in industry, and in education, laying special stress on the changing position of woman. Starting with a study of primitive times and passing in rapid survey through the Hebrew, Greek, and Roman periods, through the Middle Ages and the Industrial Revolution, with its manifold influences on society, the course will make a thorough study of the social and economic problems of the present time as they relate to women. Such a course, it is believed, will give the student both knowledge and view point from which to see more clearly her place in modern society and make a wise choice of a life work.

The course was planned by Dr. Peters, of Goucher College, who will lecture during the first two weeks. After these two weeks the course will be under the direction of Miss Powell, assisted by members of the faculty.

The course meet three hours a week with three semester credits. Class hours will be Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 12 o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. To Print College Directory

Supplement to Student Handbook Being Edited by Maynard Cassady; Will Contain Much Valuable Personal Information.

Under the management of the Y. M. C. A., a directory containing the names and addresses of all the college students and members of the faculty is being published. This will be in printed form and will be a supplement to the Handbook. It will contain the names of all the students, classified according to their classes with their home and college addresses and church affiliation. The office hours of the various members of the administration as well as many other details of general interest will be included in this very useful little book.

The cost of publication will be entirely covered by advertising, so that copies of the directory may be distributed among the students free of charge.

Mr. Cassady, who is in charge of the editing of the booklet, states that he expects to have copies ready for distribution in the immediate future. He also said that any student whose college address has not been registered with the dean's office should notify him immediately, so that the addresses may be correctly inserted in the directory.

Several Changes In Basketball Schedule

Virginia Trip Fails to Materialize, But Indians Will Take Road in February, Playing Several Strong Teams Near National Capital.

A number of changes have been necessary in the basketball schedule as published in The Flat Hat before the Christmas holidays. The proposed trip through Virginia, during which games were to be played with Hampden-Sidney, Lynchburg and Roanoke, has not materialized. The Indians will make the Northern trip, however, and will take the road about the middle of February for a week's trip to Washington, when they will play a series of games with institutions in and near that city. In addition to the games already scheduled, games with University of Richmond and Randolph-Macon College have been arranged for.

Following is the completed schedule:

- January 16—St. John's, here.
- January 18—High Point College, here.
- January 30—Randolph-Macon, here.

INDIAN SPORTS

BETWEEN BASKETS

The Indian cagers are taking the floor tonight against their ancient rivals whose team consists of exactly the men who defeated them in both games last year. They are going into the game and are going to try to wipe out those two losses by coming out victors. We hope that the students in the College will show the same amount of spirit that was in evidence last year, for on this will depend in large measure the result of the game.

It is understood that track mentors Siersema and Chandler have several very agreeable surprises in store for us when the completed track schedule is ready for publication. Just what these surprises are could not be learned just now, but they are supposed to be unusual—in track circles at least.

If the men students will enter into the spirit of the dormitory basketball plans, some good games can be expected. The inter-dormitory leagues are a part of the extensive program being attempted by the department of physical education in the hope of arousing greater interest in intra-mural sports. There are stores of good basketball players in the different dormitories who have not engaged in any form of athletics at William and Mary thus far.

Wake Forest has undoubtedly the best team that has invaded William and Mary for some time. While the Indians put up a splendid fight and suffered several setbacks, the Deacons outplayed them in many respects. Rats Kahn's injury proved most untimely, and this, added to the efficiency of the visitors, was in some measure responsible for the unwelcome defeat suffered by the Indians.

Another new phase of athletics that has come to our attention is the shoot to be held tomorrow afternoon between the William and Mary and City College of New York rifle teams. The match itself is not the most impressive, but it is the fact that the Northerners are going to stay at home and shoot and telegraph each shot to the Indian marksmen. The Indians are going to do the same thing. We hope that the results will warrant bringing the next rifle team to the College.

Earned Monograms Only For Co-eds

No Girl May Wear Monogram She Has Not Earned; Only William and Mary Letters Allowed Under Ruling of the Monogram Club.

Announcement is made by the Women's Monogram Club of a new ruling made at the last meeting in regard to the wearing of monograms by the co-eds at William and Mary. According to this statement, no monograms are to be worn by women at the College except William and Mary's W. and M. No woman is to wear a monogram, either man's or woman's, except one which she earned herself.

The ruling is designed to standardize monograms and the method of wearing them. An effort will be made to make the letter mean more to those who have them and to raise the standards of attainment for those who have not yet won their insignia.

Wake Forest Quintet Defeats Indians 37-19

Dazzling Floor Work and Shooting of Deacons Takes Taskerites Off Their Feet; James Proves Whole Team Himself.

The Indian quint suffered their first defeat of the season last Thursday night in Blow gymnasium, when the fast team from Wake Forest gained a 37-19 decision over them. The game was one of the fastest played on the local court in several years. The clever passing of the Deacons and their powerful offense kept the William and Mary boys at a safe distance while the uncanny caging ability of James accounted for the winning points. His tossing netted 22 of the visitors' total 37 points.

The Deacons took the lead at the beginning of the contest and held it throughout the remainder of the game. The Indians did not play up to their usual standard and did not seem able to hang to the ball. Christo and Kahn fought valiantly, but could not break away from the swift guards of their opponents to much advantage, and the Indian guards could not check the great work of James and his teammates.

The end of the first half found William and Mary trailing in a 21-8 score. The second period imbued the Indians with new life and pep. They fought stubbornly and accumulated eleven points, but the final whistle found them still greatly lacking in counters.

Christo and Kahn played well for the Indians, but Wallick showed his worth on several occasions. For the visitors, James was the outstanding star, with Ellington and Woodward running him a close second.

The line-up:
 W. & M. Po. W. F.
 Kahn..... FEllington
 Christo..... FJames
 Davis..... CWoodward
 St. Clair..... GOber (C.)
 Marshall (C.)..... GVickers

Summary—Field goals: James, 10; Kahn, 2; Christo, 2; Ellington, 2; Marshall, Young, Woodward and Ober. Foul goals: Christo, 5; Ellington, 3; Woodward, 3; Kahn, Young, Vickers.

Frosh Undertaking Heaviest Schedule

Coach John Todd Has Arranged for at Least Fifteen Home Games and Five on the Road; Boys' Club Here Saturday.

Coach Todd and his freshmen basketballers are undertaking the longest and most difficult schedule ever attempted by the first-year men here. The plans call for fifteen games settled and one pending on the home court, and five on the road. Their play since the holidays has resulted in a .500 percentage with one lost to Maury and one won at Newport News. Next week the Papooses are hosts of the Boys' Club of Richmond and Fort Eustis. Coach Todd expects his cohorts to make a good showing against both of these teams, and very likely they will come through with two more victories added to their list.

The schedule as announced by Coach Todd is as follows:

- January 16—Boys, Club of Richmond, here.
- January 19—Fort Eustis, here.
- January 29—John Marshall High school, here.
- January 30—Naval Base, here.
- February 3—John Marshall, there.
- February 4—Benedictine, there.
- February 5—St. Christopher's, there.
- February 6—Farmville High school, here.
- February 12—Benedictine, here.
- February 16—Grace Sunday school of Richmond, here.
- February 18—Presbyterian Sunday school, here.
- February 20—Pace Memorial Sunday school, here.
- February 27—Suffolk, here.
- Pending, February 23—DeMolay of Norfolk, here.

Ducs Divide Honors On First Road Trip

Maury Hands John Todd's Charges Hard Blow, But Papooses Prove Bad Medicine for Newport News High School.

The Freshman quint's first trip of the season resulted in one victory and one defeat. Last Friday night they invaded the stronghold of Maury at Norfolk, but the Commodores proved too much for them and succeeded in gaining a 49-13 verdict over the Papooses. The combination of William and Scott played a big part in the victory. Armentrout was high scorer for the Freshmen, with a total of six points.

The following night the Frosh received a taste of victory when they defeated the Newport News High school quint, 31-29. The end of the game found the score tied, but in the extra period Snyder tossed a basket for two points and the victory. This trip marked the beginning of the Frosh regular schedule and gave them a percentage of .500 in games won and lost for the post-holiday season.

CRITICISM, JUST AND UNJUST

Since the defeat of the Indians at the hands of the fast quint from Wake Forest last Thursday night, much criticism has been circulated on the campus concerning the conduct of the game and the team in general. This may or may not have a foundation in fact; the result is the same, a weakening of the morale of both the team and the student body.

Such criticism, to say the least, is premature. The William and Mary team has not had an opportunity to show whether it is good, mediocre, or poor. Further, if the quint had played a whole season of bad games—and it can hardly be said that the game last week did not have its redeeming features—the Student Body can not be justified in deserting its representatives on short notice, for the students are responsible in any one of several ways for the team that represents them in the field or on the floor.

In some few places criticism of this unjust variety runs away with the reason of those who attempt to use it, and the measure of a man's urbanity seems to be his ability to knock. There is little constructive value in the statements heard for it is not in their authors.

Above all others students, who should have learned the value of co-operation and the force of obligation, should refrain from criticism based on inadequate facts. More confidence should be placed in the men who compose the teams and those who are training them. A glance at the record of their accomplishments will, we believe, justify this action.

FAILURES OF THE HONOR SYSTEM

During the past few weeks, colleges and universities throughout the country have been shocked by the news that the students of a Northern college of high standing have voted to abolish the Honor System. The reason given is that the system failed and has proved unsatisfactory for the past five years. Why? That is a question that has not been answered, to our knowledge.

One hundred and forty-seven years ago there was founded at the College of William and Mary a new element in student life. This college became a pioneer in a movement which, in the succeeding generations, has left its impress upon the graduates of countless institutions of higher learning and has established a new standard for student honor, for it was here that the Honor System began. Today, with the vast number of problems which present themselves in student life of the nation, the Honor System is being attacked as "old-fashioned" and no longer practical. "Why," asked someone, "was the system unsuccessful at college X—?" "Oh, it's out-of-date and a back number. Hardly any Northern schools have it any more," was the response. It has also been said that, but for the fact that it was established here, William and Mary would abandon the Honor System. We refuse to believe the charge against Northern schools even as we refute that against our own.

Is honor a thing of the past, something out-of-date and a back number? We do not think so, and the success of the system in Southern colleges and universities bears this out. The Honor System, to the schools of the South, is a very part of their existence, an indispensable thing in their lives. To put the Honor System "on trial" is an irony beyond compare. It is a reflection upon the students of any institution which would think of doing that, something of which they ought to be ashamed.

In our opinion, it was not the Honor System that failed at college X—It was the students who failed, and they have been blind enough not to see it. The Honor System is something intangible, something we can not place our hands upon and say: "Here is a standard for student life." It can not fail, because it is only the expression of qualities within a student body. It is within each student. To put it "on trial" is to put ourselves on trial. The students of that college put themselves on trial, were weighed in the balance and found wanting of honor. Where there is no sense of honor among students there can be no Honor System. Wherever the system has been brought into existence with the spirit which gave it birth at William and Mary, it has continued. To question the system is foolish, for in doing so we are merely doubting our individual sense of honor. An honor system at any institution, therefore, is the general average of character possessed by its students.

To summarize, the Honor System is the embodiment of all that is good, fair and noble in student life. It is the standard of honor, the expression of character possessed by the students of a college or of a university. To say that it has "failed" at an institution is a reflection upon the students connected with it, a charge against every student within its walls. If the honor system "fails" in our colleges and universities it will mean that personal honor has died within our hearts and minds. And then—may God help the students of America.

THE OLD GRAD

A Column Devoted Exclusively to William and Mary Alumni

J. MALCOLM BRIDGES,
 Alumni Secretary

An alumni publication in the form of a quarterly has been recently proposed for the William and Mary Alumni Office, and bids are now being received on the proposed bulletin.

According to present plans, the first of the bulletins will appear before June, 1926. The publication was authorized at the recent meeting of the Board of Managers of the Alumni Association, held in the Alumni Office Saturday, January 9.

D. E. (Bucky) Denton, now coaching Hopewell High school teams, reports a successful court season thus far, with four games won out of as many played.

Robert Calkins '25, connected with the Food Research Department of Stanford University, California, reported in a letter of this week that the students in attendance at his university were very much delighted in Alabama's triumph over Washington in the recent East-West football game. Prior to the Alabama game, the latter team defeated Stanford for the Pacific coast championship.

The success of Alabama, incidentally, raises the South another step higher in the athletic world, and gives the Southern college an enviable position among the best that the football world offers for 1925-26.

Have you ever eaten the apple of your eye?

Notice!

To fill vacancies resulting from resignations a contest will be held for reporters on the staff of The Flat Hat beginning with the first issue of next semester. The contest is open to both ducs and upperclassmen. One man and one woman reporter will be chosen.

All students interested will meet in The Flat Hat office, first floor of the Citizenship Building, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Y. W. C. A. Conducting Quiet Hour Services

Realizing the need for a regular period of solitude in which the students may have time to take a brief thought of their lives, the Y. W. C. A. has instituted a quiet hour service for this purpose. Services are held in the College chapel every Tuesday afternoon, from 4:30 until 5:00 o'clock. The only light used is that supplied by candles and quiet is maintained except for soft music played by the best musicians in college. The effect is said to be most refreshing. All students, both men and women, are invited to attend the services.

President of Hampden- Sidney A Visitor Here

Dr. J. D. Eggleston, president of Hampden-Sidney College, was the guest of Mr. E. G. Swem while visiting the College of William and Mary Monday and Tuesday. While here he visited the old home site of the Eggleston family three miles from Williamsburg. The land of his site was granted to his ancestor, Richard Eggleston, in 1640. Dr. Eggleston also visited Toano, where he hoped to complete some genealogical work. He left Wednesday for his home in Hampden-Sidney.

The Dining Hall

As The Student Sees It
(By Collegian)

(Note—This is the third of a series of articles by Collegian dealing with student life and the campus in general as the student sees it.)

The dining hall is the place where everyone goes to eat, but where they are always disappointed. The vanguard of the unfortunates condemned to go there usually gathers at each entrance about ten minutes before the bell in order to work up an appetite by pushing and shoving and wondering if the S. O. S. (Same Old Stuff) will taste any different.

When the doors are finally opened, the herd charges through, carrying all before them and knocking down anyone who happens to be dumb enough to get in the way. They then throw their coats on the racks where they can be able to find them upon their departure after only a half hour search.

Of course, after much mad scramble to empty all the dishes on the table before the rest get there, the students wait for grace to be said. This is done presumably as an apology for the food which no one accepts and, consequently, by the time Amen is reached, two-thirds of the male aggregation have begun to balance peas on their knives.

For breakfast there are the usual scrambled eggs of the pre-Noah variety, luke-warm dishwater colored with mud and given the compliment of "coffee," not to forget the half-cooked oat meal and well-diluted milk. Murphies and cast-iron meat are the order for dinner. Knives slipping off steaks have caused a serious mortality rate among the plates. It is also reported that meat thrown to the campus canine brigade has caused a decided lowering of the dog population.

Hot rolls, butter and water constitute the menu for supper, which apparently is mainly instituted for the purpose of tiding the student over until breakfast. The rolls left over are cunningly saved for a couple of days and then inserted into something that goes by the name of pudding or given as an antidote for the tomatoes used at dinner time.

After the excuses dished out at meal-time had failed to work, the dining hall executive secured the college orchestra to play in order to take the student's mind off what he was trying manfully to get down. But this ruse worked too well and now it seems that the jazz hounds have been fired for making the appetites of the inmates too healthy. It is always along about this time that they begin to feed a little extra in order to hoodwink the student into signing up for another term of the stuff. It was after a few of these breakfasts that someone was led to write, "Many are called, but few get up."

The dining hall is the best friend that the Greeks have if they only knew it, for the crowd usually goes down to see Angelo and George after each session in the chow hall.

So, as the campus nut says, it's all right to take your meals in the dining hall, but go somewhere else when you want something to eat.

Athletic Association Awards Hockey Points

Members of Varsity Which Played Sweetbriar Given 100 Points;
Class Players Awarded 75;
Others 50 for Participation.

side; Sallie Cogle, right wing; Ellen Moody, center half; Harriet Zimmerman, left half; Pauline Hines, right half; Bessie Harwood, left fullback; Gertrude Hoffman, right fullback. The substitutes, who also receive 100 points, are Olive Thomas, Ernestine Greenwood, Alice Chewing and Christine Winburne.

Seventy-five points were given to the members of the class teams. Those receiving these points are: Dorothy Brown, Ann Fiddler, Annetta Gwaltney, Mary Land, May Laudenslager, Mildred Lewis, Frances Lord, Rosa Mountcastle, May McDaniel, May Reilly, Lesta Russell, Frances Saunders, Miriam Silberger, Elizabeth Smucker, Rachel Thomas, Virginia

Turner and Lena Waldrop.

Those who received the 50 points for participation are Lucille Bywaters, Lillian Cassell, Peggy Eacho, Lois Evans, Mary Farmer, H. Gwaltney, Alice Leach, Gene Miles, Gladys Prause, May Slempe and Lucy Williams.

"Dauber may be a great artist," said the sweet young thing, "but he certainly has a queer way of painting his pictures."

"Why, how is that?"

"Well, when I visited him and asked him about his work, he told me he painted his best pictures on an empty stomach."

When the runners are bunched on the track—and suddenly Chuck, your own superman half-miler, spurts ahead on the finish and wins—have a Camel!

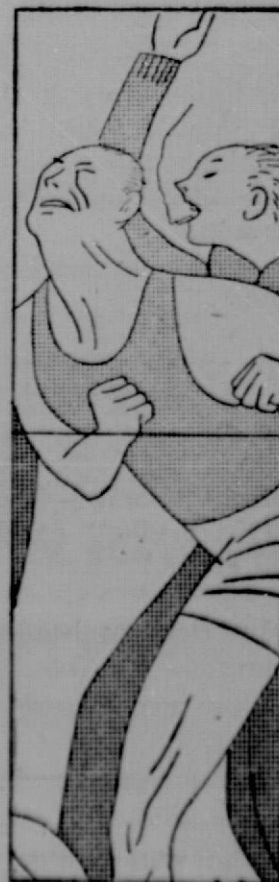

WHEN the lithe half-milers are fighting for the lead. And your own dauntless champion suddenly soars ahead and wins—have a Camel!

For you'll never find another friend so attuned to your triumphs as Camel. Camels are made of the choicest tobaccos grown—they never disappoint your taste. Camels annihilated cigarette after-taste. Regardless of price, you'll never buy better tobaccos, or blending, or flavor than you get in Camels.

So this year when the old school's men go through for victory after victory—taste then the smoke that's choice of the world's victorious.

Have a Camel!

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skilful blending. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No better cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

A Glimpse Into the College World

Here and There Among the Exchanges of The Flat Hat

Oklahoma A. and M. College recently celebrated with a shirt-tail parade through the streets of Stillwater. At the head of the procession, bare-headed and shirt-tail a-flop, strode President Knapp, jubilant as the greenest freshman.

The annual convention of football coaches met in New York on December 28. Many proposals for changes in rules were made but the convention passed a resolution that no changes be effected.

During Christmas holidays the houses of Delta Sigma and Delta Kappa Epsilon at Lafayette were badly damaged by water which leaked from frozen pipes. They had nothing on W. & M., did they?

Scientists have found that marathon runners and other athletes who eat sugar and candy before exertion come through their races in better condition than those who run "unsweetened."

Students at Pennsylvania State College have joined the crusade against compulsory chapel. Their disapproval was expressed by a vote of 1,709 to 315.

The University of Pennsylvania has on its freshman team a man who is married, is a pastor, and has two children.

The first college football game in the United States was played by Harvard and Yale fifty years ago.

CHANGED.

This resolution stuff is all the bunk, I used to be a man,—but now I'm sunk.
My flask and humidors are in my trunk,
I've got a pain, my head aches; I feel punk.

I have no appetite for daily bread,
It seems to me I might as well be dead;
My friends all offer smokes,—or drinks instead—
I yelp, "No, thanks!" (And that's not all I said.)

I know I'm sick; my head will prob'ly burst;
I'm burning up; I know I'll die of thirst,
That smell of cigarettes has done its worst,—
I'm not the man I was the thirty-first. —E. G.

Miller was the outstanding player in the game with Wake Forest last week, and now the Spiders are quite optimistic over their coming encounter with William and Mary. The Rich-monders have just returned from a Northern trip. In addition to defeating the Medicos, the Indians have also beaten Fortress Monroe and Union Theological Seminary. The Indians have been doing some unusually good playing as a result of Coach Tasker's able guidance.

University of Richmond brings a team here tonight composed of five veterans, all of whom played on the team last year. The reserves include players that are reported to be just as good. With the team of 1926 showing unusual ability, the Indians should give the visitors a hard fight. Moreover, the Indians are going into the game with the expressed intention of erasing their two former defeats, if possible. It is hoped that "Rats" cap the team tonight.

Probable line-up:

W. & M.	Po.	Richmond.
Christo.....	F.....	Peterson
Kahn.....	F.....	Ragozzino
Davis.....	C.....	DeMotte
Marshall (Capt.)	G.....	Miller (Capt.)
Wallick.....	G.....	Spose

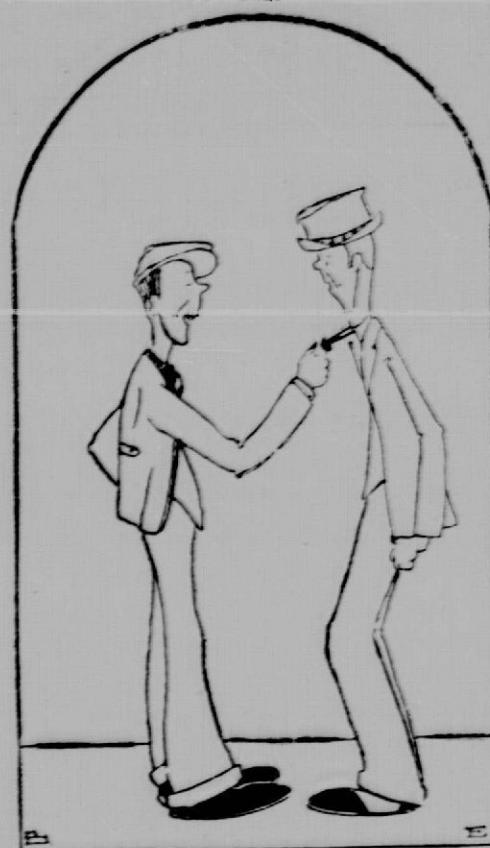

Kahn's injury will not seriously handi-

"You say you haven't had anything to eat today?" asked the lady of the house.

"Lady, the only thing I've swallowed today is an insult," retorted the sensitive tramp.

Carte du Jour

Yes, it's true that she'll know you paid just five calling cards for her Parker Lady Duo-fold, but do you really think she thinks the nonentity costs more? Then you'd better look farther.

Have you seen the new Finchley William Tell bow ties?
No—what are they like?
Oh, just pull back the bow and hit the apple.

I love to recline on the length of my spine
 And gaze at the clouds and the sky—
 To lie on the grass while the slow hours pass
 And ponder the "wherefore" and "why."

Hark! Like the clear clarion note of a bell her voice breaks in upon my half-conscious dreams, calling me back from the drowsy dawn, spurring

Abolition of Co-eds Subject For Debate

The Public Speaking class, catalogued as Government 303, taught by Mr. H. L. Childs, has chosen a very interesting and much discussed question for one of their debates to be held Tuesday afternoon, January 19, at 2 o'clock. The subject for debate is: "Resolved, That Co-Education Should Be Abolished at the College of William and Mary." The debaters are L. W. P'Anson and Carl Andrews on the affirmative, and S. E. Howie and Cornelius de Witt on the negative.

A spirited debate is expected, as these debaters all believe that they are on the right side of the argument.
