FIRST HONOR LIST FOR STUDENTS HERE ISSUED

Administration. Following Policy of Many Colleges. Issues Honor List of Students for First Time—Two Hundred and Fifty-Six on Paper

DEPUTATES ARE WELL RECEIVED

Local Team Scores Hit in Broadcast From Station WTAR at Norfolk

Even an automobile wreck barely an hour before they were scheduled to broadcast failed to prevent the William and Mary Y. M. C. A. deputates team from scoring a hit when they broadcast from station WTAR, Norfolk, Sunday. The program, which was heard as far as Panama, was hailed by press and radio fans as one of the most successful ever broadcast from Norfolk.

The wreck occurred when the automobile bearing the deputations team to the Norfolk ferry was struck and badly damaged. The occupants were shaken up but none were injured. The machine was left at Newport News and the men proceeded to the Norfolk studio.

The program, under the direction of George T. Morecock, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., included addresses by LeRoy Ober, president of the association, and D. Arthur Kelsey, Jr., head of deputations work, and musical numbers and novelties by other members of the group.

Mr. Ober spoke on "Faith" and Mr. Kelsey on "The Beautiful Country of the Psalms." All the members on the program were showered with congratulations, and a flood of encore requests poured in by telephone and telegraph on "Bill" Lawrence. Mr. Lawrence sang several solos to his own accompaniment. William L. Scott of Portsmouth and Melvin Shreves sang tenor and baritone solos, and Robert Price played violin selections. Edward Morris also played the violin, and Mr. Kelsey accompanied the violinists and soloists on the piano.

Acknowledgement of the program came from Panama in the form of a cablegram from Scott's parents, who listened in on a powerful radio station in the canal zone.

The President's honor list on which are recorded the names of the honor students, that is the students who have an average of 85 per cent or better for the month is now being published. About 20 per cent of the entire student body is recorded for the past month. Out of the total number of twelve hundred and eighty-seven students two hundred and fifty-six have had their names published on this list.

The object of this policy is to make public the names of the students who are doing the best work in their studies, because, it is reasoned, the names of those who are deficient are published and it is only fair to publish the names of those who merit it.

It is expected that by this method those whose names do not appear on the board will be stimulated to follow the examples of the more energetic of their college mates.

From now on the list will be made public after the monthly grades have been turned over to the registrar for distribution, and, the energetic students will have a chance to see that the administration recognizes their meritorious work.

To get on the honor list means more than the gratification of the student's desire—it means that he or she is reaping the due reward of his or her efforts and it should be the desire of all the students to get it, it was pointed out.

It has been the practice of the administration for several years to issue a probation list of students failing to pass six hours work, but this is the first to be issued for the honor students.

Harriet Smith Is Named Associate Editor of Mag.

Harriet Smith of Ashland, Va., has been appointed associate member of the William and Mary Literary Magazine. Miss Smith has been a regular contributor to the magazine for two years. She is also a member of the Flat Hat staff, and is a member of the sophomore class.

MINUS MARY II SCHEDULED FOR PRESENTATION ON NEXT WEEK-END

With the production dates only a week away, preparation for Minus Mary II, men's musical comedy, is proceeding at top speed. Under the direction of Miss Kathleen Hipp, final arrangements are going forward for dress rehearsal this week. The show will be presented next Friday and Saturday in Phi Beta Kappa hall.

Indications according to members of the staff are that Minus Mary II will be just as successful as Minus Mary, last year's production. Numerous novelty scenes and dances are being arranged, and elaborate costuming has been prepared.

The leading parts will be played by three "couples," including Jack

White, boy; Rawlings Williams, girl; Bill Scott, boy; Jack Van Putten, girl; Milton Shreves, boy, and Hayden Russell, girl.

The plot is laid on shipboard where the hero, tiring of ordinary life, has shipped as radio operator. The story concerns his love affair for a college girl on a world tour, a shipwreck and an invention.

Miss Doris Clark is in charge of the costumes and is working up some novel effects. The girls are coming to the boy's aid and are providing all of the girls with costumes as they did last year. Again they will sacrifice some of their fair tresses to make the boys look their parts.

INDIAN DEBATE TEAM LEAVES FOR MIDWEST

Four Contests Scheduled for Trip That Will Extend to Missouri

GETTYSBURG HERE MONDAY

Thompson and Bolton Go West; Elliott Lambeth and Kelsey to Do Duty at Home

William and Mary's prowess in debating is being upheld by two different teams this week, one at home and one traveling in the mid-west. While the traveling team is clashing with other colleges in Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri, the home team is preparing to defend its laurels in a contest with Gettysburg college, Monday night. Both teams are debating the question, "Resolved, that the United States should not protect her foreign investments except after formal declaration of war."

The traveling team left Williamsburg Wednesday, and Wednesday night debated at Hampden-Sidney college. Last night they met Emory an Henry. Today the debaters journeyed farther west and tonight are scheduled to clash with Lincoln Memorial university at Harrogate, Tenn.

Tomorrow night the Indians meet Centre college, in Kentucky, and Sunday will travel southwestward into Missouri for the meet with Westminster college at Fulton, Mo. The team will return to Williamsburg Wednesday, after an absence of a week.

The team that will represent Gettysburg college here Monday night is on a trip similar to that of the Indian debaters, William and Mary being one of seven schools on their schedule. They will clash with the local team composed of D. Arthur Kelsey, Jr., Edwin Lambeth and William H. Elliott. The traveling Indians are William B. Bolton and M. Weldon Thompson. The debate Monday night will be in Phi Beta Kappa hall.

EDWARD D. FALES, JR. ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF FLAT HAT

With this issue of the Flat Hat, announcement is made of the appointment of Edward D. Fales, Jr., of Albany, N. Y. to the position of Associate Editor. This place became vacant several weeks ago, when M. Weldon Thompson, who then held it resigned.

Mr. Fales has been on the news staff of the Flat Hat since September. For two years before coming to William and Mary, he worked with the Albany Knickerbocker Press. He has also been associate editor of the Pennsylvania at the University of Pennsylvania.

Ralph D. Hinman, of Lower Marlboro, Md., will take the reportorial place vacated by Mr. Fales.

NINE TAPPED BY O. D. K. AT SPRING INIATION

Dr. K. J. Hoke of Faculty, J. E. Capps, Alumnus, and Burke, Caffee, Clarke, Bolton, Green, James, and Simpkins, Students, Honored by Eta Circle

Spring initiation of the Eta Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa at the College of William and Mary were held here Wednesday night when seven students, an alumnus, and a member of William and Mary's faculty were admitted to membership in the local chapter of the national honor society.

Dr. K. J. Hoke, Dean of William and Mary and one of the leaders in educational work in the state, was the faculty member honored, while J. Edgar Capps, of Norfolk was the alumnus, and the student list includes Willard N. James, of Irvington, Va.; Nathan M. Caffee, of Norfolk; William B. Bolton, of Fries, Va.; T. G. Burke, of Hampton, Va.; F. O. Clarke, of Church Road, Va.; J. B. Green, of Surry, Va.; and E. P. Simpkins, of Richmond, Va.

Election to membership is limited to students who have attained leadership in scholarship, athletics, social life, literary work, or forensics, including debating and dramatics. The organization is founded to bring together faculty members and students for discussion of campus problems, and for the recognition of leadership.

Dr. Hoke has been outstanding in educational work and has been responsible for the organization of William and Mary's work in education. At present he is a member of the commission surveying Florida's educational system. As alumnus member the organization chose Mr. Capps, of Norfolk, Phi Beta Kappa from the class of 1910, a leading member of the committee of athletic control at William and Mary and an active member of the alumni organization.

Editors of two literary publications were honored, Willard James, of Irvington, editing the Flat Hat, student weekly, and J. B. Green the annual. Besides literary activity, James is manager of the tennis team and Green is a member of the varsity track team.

William B. Bolton has served two years with the intercollegiate debate team and in addition has managed this season's wrestling team. Literary work with dramatics and membership on the Y. M. C. A. cabinet won Caffee his election. T. G. Burke is secretary of the William and Mary Cotillion Club and a former football player.

CHANGE DATE FOR SAILING

William and Mary European Tour to Leave June 16 Instead of June 19

The date of the sailing of the William and Mary Study Tour in Europe has been changed from June 19 to June 16. The group will go over and return on the "Leviathan" instead of the "George Washington" as was announced. By this schedule the party will have the advantage of staying almost a week longer in Europe. There will be no additional charge.

Dr. J. D. Carter, the assistant director and who is acting head of the Department of Romance Languages at this college in the absence of A. G. Williams, the director, who is now attending lectures at Sorbonne University, has announced that the college will be glad to include those who wish merely to go and return with the group. Arrangements can be made without any increase in price for those wanting to return on the same steamship lines at a later date.

Mr. Williams has already made reservations in a comfortable hotel near the University and conveniently situated in the very heart of Paris. He says that those desiring to do so may secure room and board in good French families, but it is necessary that these rooms and board as well as berths on the Leviathan be assigned in order of registration.

Students are urged to send in their reservation fee before the first of April so that berths can be assigned for all in the same part of the ship. A three day trip into the beautiful chateau district above the Loire has been included in the tour, it is announced.

Additional information can be secured from Dr. Carter at his office in Citizenship building.

Davidson College is to have the fraternity houses a little nearer the campus. The Trustees of that institution have arranged for the construction of Fraternity Court near the campus for the building of fraternity houses.

MRS. BIGGER'S "EVENING IN OLE VIRGINIA" HERE THIS EVENING

"An Evening in Ole Virginia," written and directed by Mrs. Ruby Vaughan Bigger of Richmond, will be presented in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall tonight, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. The play will be in two parts. The first part will consist of tableaux while the second part will consist of singing, dancing, and instrumental music. In the first part Mrs. Bigger will read the story as the tableaux are presented. Miss Polly Venable will have the leading tableaux role.

Characters in the play will be portrayed by students and towns-people and a number of professor's children will participate. Tryouts for the cast were held this past week.

Miss Eva Atkinson is in charge of the selection of the students who will take parts and Mrs. Kathleen Hipp, Miss Aithea Hunt, Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, and Mr. George Brooks are assisting in the production. Miss Katherine Rhodes is in charge of selling tickets.

GERMAN CLUB HOLDS DANCE

Spring Co-Eds Here Friday Night
Prove to be Snappy
Affair

The annual spring co-ed dance was held as scheduled Friday night, from 8:30 o'clock to 1 o'clock in Jefferson gymnasium.

The German Club decoration committee dressed Jefferson gymnasium up in cool spring shades, lavender and green, blocking them attractively to form the ceiling and the orchestra background. Bedouin Orchestra of Richmond furnished their snappy jazz music. The usual eighteen card dances were replaced by eight, including encores. At the end of the card dances, intermission was held. Following the intermission, the dance was a break affair.

The G. G. G. and K.O.B. ribbon societies did not decorate their "cozy corners" as usual, but the corners were arranged attractively with pillows and seats. The two rival societies agreed not to hold a figure as has been done at previous dances.

The G. G. G. women's guests wore small white carnations surrounded with green on their lapels. The K. O. B.'s held an elimination dance. Polly Venable and George Synon being the winning couple. Miss Venable received a shoulder corsage.

Many alumni returned for the dance, and many visitors, both men and women, came from nearby cities, and from various colleges and universities in the state.

THOUSAND ATTEND
C. S. P. CONVENTION

Van Wormer, James and Etheridge
Represent Local Publications at National Meeting

D. K. Van Wormer represented the William and Mary Literary Magazine and W. N. James and John Etheridge represented the Flat Hat at Columbia Scholastic Press Association which met at New York Friday and Saturday.

Over 1000 editors and business managers from the larger high schools, preparatory schools and colleges in the eastern part of the state were present at the convention held under the auspices of Columbia University. Features for all departments were conducted by the convention.

Among the prominent speakers at the convention were Dr. John H. Finley, editor of the New York Times, and speaker at William and Mary at the Phi Beta Kappa services here at the dedication of the Memorial Hall; Dean Hawkes of Columbia University and several journalists connected with the New York papers.

Tickets were given to the delegates to the Columbia varsity show. On Friday evening the delegates were visitors to the Herald Tribune offices and saw a newspaper go to press.

Problems facing the editors and managers were discussed. Among the major problems discussed were the proportion of advertising matter to be used in the papers, the use of syndicated material in the papers, the size of the papers and many other practical problems.

Awards were made the best papers in each class by the judges. The William and Mary publications were not entered in time for the competition for prizes. They were, however, displayed with the other publications at Columbia.

So your gossiping hating landlady committed suicide?

Yes she thought there were too many roomers about her.

TO OFFER PLAY

"Everyman," Old Miracle Play Will Be Presented Here March 31
In PBK Hall

"Everyman" a miracle by an unknown author of the sixteenth century, will be presented in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall here on March 31 under the direction of the Gibbons Club. G. E. Brooks of the local faculty is in charge.

The cast is as follows: Messenger—Hildreth Harrison, Death—John Butler, God—Gordon Campbell, Everyman—D. Arthur Keisey, Cousin—Hannah Margolis, Kindred—Everett Mason, Good—Nathan Caffee, Good Deeds—Florence Harrington, Knowledge—Margaret Deffin, Confession—R. Ellsworth Hinman, Beauty—Eva Atkinson, Strength—Irella Lawson, Discretion—Louise Rice, Five Wits—Virginia Paul, Angel—Barbara Schultz, Other Angels—Esther Lowe and Mildred Barrett, Doctor—Caleb Cushing. The play represents the life of the religious experience of "everyman" and shows how he permits avarice, selfishness, and indifference separate him from God. God therefore sends his messenger, Death, to summon everyman to the Judgment Bar at which summoning Everyman is frightened and calls upon his earthly interests to help him but he calls in vain.

The play is deep and speculative in nature and makes people think. The proceeds are to go to the Gibbons Club for their part in the erection of the stone wall around the college campus.

PRESENT PLAYS PRIVATELY HERE

Advanced Play Production Class
Offers Three Minut
Dramas

Advanced students of play production, working under the leadership of Miss Althea Hunt, Associate Professor of Dramatics, presented privately as a class exercise Wednesday, the first play produced under student direction.

The first of the three plays produced was "Overtones." This play was directed by Miss Hunt herself, and the characters were taken by members of the beginning play production group. The second play given was "Enter the Hero," under the direction of Miss Virginia Paul. Miss Paul has played in a number of plays on the campus, taking an unusually difficult role here recently in the character of Til in "The Giant's Stair." The cast of "Enter the Hero" was made up of members of the Dramatic Club who have already done dramatic work on the campus, the leads being played by Truman Welling and Polly Venable.

The third of the three one-act plays was "The Valiant," under the direction of M. Weldon Thompson. Mr. Thompson has already played in "The Valiant," in the character of the Warden, and thus was better prepared to work with the play. The leads in this play were taken by Nathan Caffee and Phyllis Logan, both members of the local Dramatic Club, supported by S. G. Staples and Mr. Thompson.

The purpose of the plays were merely for a class exercise, the production of them being entirely private. There are several other similar plays in process of production, and these plays will be given in a similar manner when completed. The best of three given during this month will be presented to the public at a public performance sometime early in April.

Art Club Posters

It has been called to the attention of the Flat Hat recently that the posters designed and made by the Art Club to advertise lectures, plays, and features are being removed from the bulletin boards almost as soon as they are posted. Such vandalism should stop. Why a student should feel it is perfectly proper for him to appropriate these things for his own room, or possibly to destroy is more than we can see.

One should remember that these posters represent hours of labor and are very artistically done and are placed on the boards for a definite purpose. Furthermore they are not public property. Such an attitude of gross selfishness is hard to conceive of. We never could understand why the student gets the attitude that whatever he desires he is justified in acquiring. Why this period when moral restraints are completely forgotten?

Some few of the students do not seem to have the principles of the Honor System clearly in mind. To these few the code is law and they must remember that this code must be obeyed. The Flat Hat suggests a review of them by some of the students.

Continuation of the Fee System

It is to be hoped that the Board of Visitors will act favorably on the resolutions passed by the joint meeting of student body last Friday night. The fact that the students voted almost unanimously in favor of continuation of the fees is proof that they believe them justified.

We believe that it will be impossible for the publications to exist without this subsidy from the students. It is to be feared that the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. would suffer immediate extinction. The publications might be able to exist by selling subscriptions, but this system would be very unsatisfactory. Take for instance the students living in fraternity houses; not all of the men there would subscribe to the papers and yet would have ready access to them. This, of course, is perfectly proper, but it makes the existence of a publication that must depend largely on subscriptions for its life almost impossible.

The Literary Magazine can depend very little on advertising and could not publish the present creditable product without the subsidy. The Colonial Echo would have to solicit buyers before it could go ahead with its work and the consequence is that the managers would be left with many copies for their personal use.

The greatest benefit of the fee is to the athletic department, which at present is not self-supporting. With the introduction next year of a large coaching force more capital will be needed. It is expected that after a year or two this department will be self-supporting. Next year, however, will be a hard one for the committee. The freshmen rule will weaken the teams next fall and it will take a season to accustom the college to this change. It is expected that under the new system with the graduate manager that the committee will not have to be subsidized to such an extent by the students in future years.

It is to be hoped that William and Mary will meet the teams of the big four in the next few years. If they do the contests will prove big drawing cards and the outlook for local athletics will be much brighter. But the committee surely needs the financial aid from the students to carry it over the transition period.

The students seem to realize these facts in their voting, and acted very unselfishly. The Flat Hat hopes that the Board of Visitors of the College and Dr. J. A. C. Chandler will regard the matter in the same light and will act accordingly.

The Y. M. C. A. Deputation Team is to be congratulated on its recent broadcasting program. Praise from over the south was awarded them in their efforts. They have done good work and have afforded a new line of development for the college. As yet the college has been on the air a very few times. The Flat Hat hopes that they will keep up the good work.

"LORD BOTETOURT SAYS"

By Bill

Did you go to the Coeds? Well, never mind, there are just lots and lots of others who didn't. It was some affair, and how! Ever since Christmas, the girls have been living simply only to reap true feminine revenge on some snooty gentlemen, but also to have the satisfaction of showing the boys just how to give a dance. And these handsome profs who turn a deaf ear to the cynical cry of "Dill-picker!"—which is heard ever and anon as some fair maid shoots like a star to break them, and are proud of their rush, almost as proud as any one of us would be if he were, say, Mayor of Williamsburg! The orchestra! Well, those boys—Oh, suppose we don't say any more about that, but they did perpetuate pep. The decorations! Well, we understand that the "Beaux-Artes" Ball Bunch in Paris want a copy of the scheme. Much credit is really and honestly due to the promoters of the dance and a hearty wish is general that the coeds be allowed to have dances oftener.

Not all athletes, contrary to public opinion, are heroes only upon the field. A little incident Sunday showed their human side, the same sort of side which was shown by a well-known movie actor and a film-producer recently—but we are not talking about that one fight which Barrymore lost because possibly it was staged off-stage. Big Bill Scott of Portsmouth, familiar and popular man-about-campus, reacted like a true boy scout to a sudden and most unexpected situation. A Newport News street-car, strange though it may seem, actually ran into an automobile. The latter was driven by that stormy ethical whirlwind, Leroy Ober, of the deputation team, representing the local chapter of the Y. M. C. A. It was a crisis of a most critical sort, as some other very fine men were aboard, and as the car whirled around in a spasm of doubt as to where to land, he, brave Bill Scott, Bill Scott of the Freshman class, etc., saved the sheet-music, jeopardizing his million-dollar form, the future of his team, and the lives of a dozen coeds, in the effort—Let's give him a hand, fellows—all together now!

In conclusion, we would like to say that a meeting of the shades on the banks of the Styx, Thomas Jefferson in a conversation with his old friends, Rousseau and Voltaire, said:

"Have you heard what that cynical dog, Cerberus, has been saying?" "Cut out the alliterative punning," broke in Ed Poe, who had just been reading his Raven for imperfections in sound. "No," replied the Franks in chorus.

Tom toyed with his Flat Hat Club symbol for a moment and said, "You know when I was a student there, George Wythe was always suggesting this probation idea but as it restricted freedom, I wouldn't let them do it."

But as the Frenchmen who had set Tom off on his freedom bunk had long since realized its impracticability, they politely excused themselves and walked out on the veranda where they joined Martin Luther and a couple of popes who were playing a few hands of "Black Jack!"

Well, guess we'd better sign off now. Twelve thirty!

At the University of North Carolina a new method of teaching English is being tried. This plan has been tried by Princeton and has proven to be very successful there. It is, in brief, the division of the class into six separate groups. One group each day meets with the professor and discusses a certain amount of required material. For these meetings each member is required to write a theme of some length and present it before the group.

AMONG THE ALUMNI

By John B. Green

We often wonder why William and Mary, a school with over a thousand students, has not instituted the practice of class reunions. At the majority of institutions; yes, even those of our own, these affairs are the high-spots in the life of the "Old Grads." With her growth and her wealth of traditions the College offers every inducement to class organization among the alumni, and the varied forms of entertainment always available around the college promises that the occasions can be made of interest other than that resulting in a good old "get-together." Wouldn't you like to meet with your old class mates again here under the same trees and on the same walks where you mingled in youth, and find out how the old world had served and prospered them?

This column offers its service as a medium for instituting such celebrations and will be glad to aid any group in calling together its old members for meeting. How about finals? We guarantee that it would almost make you a boy (or girl) again to get the old "finals" spirit on once more and to have your old friends here with you to celebrate.

Who will be the first to start such a movement? Think up some of the members of your class whom you could call on to aid you and start the ball rolling. The Alumni office will line you up with ones whose addresses you have forgotten. The class which has the first reunion should be set down as being the class which has done the most concretely evident good for the college.

We regret exceedingly the death of Bernard T. Doyle, which occurred on last Sunday at his home in McKenney. Mr. Doyle was a loyal alumnus, having attended the college in the sessions of 1890-91 and 1892-93, and proved his love for his Alma Mater by sending three sons to take their places as loyal sons of William and Mary. One of these, Robert Doyle, is at the present time a student here.

Mr. Doyle for years has been in the mercantile business in McKenney and was very prominent throughout that section as a business man and one of public affairs.

We extend to the family the sympathy of the student body and of the Flat Hat.

Announcement has been made by the President of Dartmouth College that beginning with 1928 there will be no more fall entrance examinations to the college.

The action was taken, it was declared, because the average high school graduate is fully prepared for college entrance. If he is not he will be given the necessary deficiencies to work off while in college. Hereafter entrance to Dartmouth will be gained by certificate of the regular college board examinations.

At the University of Maryland next year there will be no captain of the football team until after the schedule is completed. The coach will appoint a man as temporary captain before each game and at the end of the season the varsity squad will elect the captain purely as an honor. This action was taken because of the influence of fraternity politics.

THE OPEN FORUM

Editor the Flat Hat,

My Dear Sir:

Time was when retiring, and sedate college youths, wont to devote much of their time to philosophic speculation, and absorbing habits of study could go to the Library and peacefully exercise the intellect without interruption. Alas! those days have been relegated to the limbo of used-to-bes, and fortunately or unfortunately are bemoaned only by spectated college professors, and a few students who are out of fashion.

Now times have changed, and co-ed pulchritude has usurped the throne that books used to hold sway over, and it seems that the collegians are very much pleased with the new ruler. I had a hard assignment to do the other night, by the way it was in Philosophy, and repaired early to the library. Soon, however, the queen and her retinue arrived and devotion began. Whispered sweetnesses, and disconcerting inanities lulled my mind from the cradle of Philosophy to more material things.

I began to feel uncomfortable, and I judge, much like "Si" in the big city. I felt resentful at the curious glances thrown at my bespattered book. Those glances seemed to signify "why you nut, what do you think this is anyway, a library?" A lone co-ed sauntered in and sat down by me. She began to talk, and I began to prick forward my ears. Glances came more kindly and approvingly now. Comprehension came. I had almost fell from social grace by trying to study in the library. Students of this college please take a tip from my experience, and do not ever under any circumstances, be so unmindful of social etiquette as to pick up a book in the Library.

ROBB TALKS ON 'GAS' WARFARE

Local Chemistry Professor Delivers Address Here on Tuesday Evening

Dr. R. G. Robb, head of the department of Chemistry, gave an interesting lecture of the chemistry warfare in the William Barton Rogers Science Hall Tuesday evening in a lecture hall. The lecture was given by lantern slides showing the various uses to which it is being put in modern war.

In the first part of the lecture he showed the construction of the gas mask from the time of its first appearance until the latest development of the mask which is so perfected as to stand the effects of all kinds of gas except carbon monoxide but as this latter gas is entirely impractical in warfare the mask is practically perfect.

"The container of the mask usually holds soda, lime, or activated charcoal," Dr. Robb pointed out. "This neutralizes the effect of the gas."

He then, by the use of the lantern, showed the method of making a cloud attack with the cylindrical projectors. In order to utilize the gas in this manner it is necessary that a wind in the right direction be blowing, Dr. Robb said.

Another and better method of discharging gas at the enemy is by the use of the Stokes trench mortar which consists of a cylindrical tube at the bottom of which is a spike, it was pointed out. The gas shell is dropped in the tube and slides to the bottom and when the spike hits the detonator of the shell the discharge takes place.

"This has the advantage over the projector method," the speaker continued, "insofar as it is not necessary that a wind be blowing. Then again gas may be spread from an aeroplane but the chief use to which aeroplanes are put is the laying of smokescreens. Tanks also employ gas in order to conceal their movement from enemy artillery and machine guns. So they let out smoke which fools the enemy artillery who fire at this smoke while the tanks are well to the rear of it. Then when the enemy gets tired of firing and wasting shells the tanks attack."

"Besides employing gas and smoke for the use of the army it is used extensively in the navy for the protection of the capital ships. The aeroplane and destroyers lay the smoke screens while the gas is projected in shells."

MANLESS DANCE FOR APRIL 7TH

Usual "Struggle" for Women Alone Scheduled for Early Next Month

The annual Manless dance is scheduled for April 7, the Saturday night before Easter Sunday and the end of Lent. It will be held in the Jefferson gymnasium and true to custom the dance will be formal, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, and cards will be used. There will be twelve dances, seven before intermission which is planned for 10:15. It has been hinted that intermission parties are to be as popular without the men as any that were given this year.

All males are excluded from this event, even from the balcony, and the only men who will be present will be those in the orchestra.

The important business of decorating the gym will soon be placed in the hands of several capable women who will artistically and effectively contrive the ingenious "cosy corners" and in other ways beautify the gym.

AWARDS OFFERED BY J. W. CAMPBELL

Prominent New Yorker Offers Scholarship of $6,000 to "Floating University" Students

Mr. John W. Campbell has offered a fund of $6,000 to be divided among the three students, either men or women, of the "Floating University" who accomplish the greatest service in furthering international friendships on the trip. $3,000 will be given to the most outstanding student—$2,000 to the second—and $1,000 to the third. The selection will be made by a committee of three, consisting of the President of the Faculty, the Director of Education and the head of the Staff in Journalism.

The Committee will judge the accomplishment of entrants on the basis of the following points:

- Promotion of general friendliness and cooperation among all foreign students;
- Interpretation of the United States—the government and the people;
- Pronounced understanding of foreign students—their country—government and special problems;
- Specific projects put through to promote mutual understanding.

Mr. Campbell's idea in making this offer is to impress students with the feeling of responsibility in furthering international relations with foreign students and associations with whom they come in contact, and at the same time interpret to them what our country stands for.

Princeton University will this year award three scholarships to students graduating in June. Two of them are offered by Mrs. Edgar Palmer amounting to $2,500 each. The object is to afford their recipients an opportunity to broaden themselves by travel, by study, by life among foreign peoples, and to mingle as much as possible with the people of other nationalities.

The third fellowship is offered to Princeton Seniors only, by a friend of the "Floating University" and will amount to $2,500, covering the entire expenses of the eight months' trip around the world, leaving New York October 6, 1928.

There are no conditions attached to this offer but the request is made that it be awarded to the student who would be most benefited by studying international relations or foreign service.

The three awards will be made by a Committee consisting of Dean Radcliffe Heermance of the Princeton faculty, Stephen R. Sheldon of St. Louis, Mo., L. Stockwell Jadwin of New York City, and H. Chapman Rose of Columbus, Ohio.

Matsu's Fishmen Meet Catholic U. Tonight and Delaware Monday

SPORTS COLUMN
By Barton D. Pattie
Editor The Flat Hat

Those who attended the wrestling match in Blow Gym Saturday evening witnessed a mat encounter full of the unusual. The outstanding features were two "knockouts," the first coming when Kunt Taylor using the reverse double arm lock stopped circulation so that his opponent was unable to move after the hold was released. The second occurred in the last bout of the evening when Goldstein of the Norfolk "Y" in trying a backward twist throw, missed his hold throwing Ducky Crigler from the mat, severely stunning him for a few moments. Earl Garret put up a remarkable fight to win over an experienced opponent who outweighed him more than 13 pounds. Another feature of the contest which caused favorable comment among the spectators was the clean competition and excellent sportsmanship shown in the bout between Enfeld and Jackson.

Bill King, freshman basketball star at Randolph-Macon College, was elected Captain of the Yellow Jacket five for next year. It is very seldom that a freshman is elected captain of a varsity sport in college athletics, however, we are reminded of Koppisch, giant football player at Columbia several years ago, who was elected to captaincy in his freshman year and held that position until his graduation four years later.

Captain Ed Justis of the first William and Mary swimming team will have some real competition in his favorite backstroke at the University of Delaware on Monday. His opponent will be the Eastern Intercollegiate champion in this event.

Baseball practice was retarded during the early part of this week due to the muddy condition of Cary Field and lectures in Blow Gym have supplemented the usual outdoor workouts. The Indians will be several weeks ahead of their opponents from the North who visit here early in April in outdoor work. Newspaper reports show that Holy Cross, Dartmouth, Boston College, Yale and Syracuse have been unable to work out on the diamond as yet due to unfavorable weather conditions. Extensive work has been in progress in the cages, however, and only a short time will be required to get in shape once there is a change in the weather.

Spud Bloxson, speedy second baseman and leadoff batsman, has been suffering from an attack of appendicitis, but is now out and his appearance on Cary Field is expected soon.

Baseball candidates at W. & L. number more than 175, which means that nearly one out of four members of the student body are aspirants for the nine. Spring football, baseball and

WILLIAM AND MARY TENNIS TEAM SCHEDULED TO PLAY THIRTEEN MATCHES DURING COMING SEASON; PLAY TO START HERE ON APRIL 7TH

The tennis schedule just released by Manager W. N. James includes 13 meets for the Indian netmen. The season opens here against the William and Mary faculty on April 7. Two other opponents will be met here in April, Randolph-Macon College and Roanoke College.

On May 2, the team will embark on the feature trip of the season, playing Hampden-Sidney, Lynchburg College, Roanoke College and Washington and Lee in four consecutive days. The second trip comes on May 18, when the Indian racquetters journey to Ashland to meet Randolph-Macon and return to Richmond for a match with the Spiders the next day.

The tennis record last year was the best ever made by a William and Mary net team. Only one match was dropped in ten starts. The Indians defeated such teams as V. P. I., Roanoke, Lynchburg and Richmond, the lone setback coming at the hands of the strong Hampden-Sidney aggregation.

Prospects for another winning combination this spring is excellent. Captain Terry Crossfield with an average of .800 and Manager James, who averaged .855 in matches last year, will represent William and Mary again this year on the courts. Howard captain of the 1927 team and LeRoy Ober are the other letter men back in school.

A number of freshmen have been showing real ability in preliminary matches and there should be a wealth of available material to fill the vacancy left open by the failure of Rhinestine to return to college.

CLYDE HOLMES NOW COMPILING W. & M. ATHLETIC TEAMS HISTORY

The first history of William and Mary's athletic record is being prepared by Clyde Holmes of Williamsburg, and will be published within a few weeks. Mr. Holmes has traced the sport history of the college back to 1893, when football first made its appearance in Williamsburg.

The work will be the result of two years of research which has yielded track have three-fourths of the Hampden-Sidney students working out each afternoon. On Cary Field we counted a combined total of less than 100 men out for baseball and track. A very shameful showing when we consider that there are about 700 men in college.

photographs of all the football teams the college has produced. The author encountered considerable difficulty in compiling sport scores because of inadequate records, but by communicating with various alumni formerly prominent in college athletics had obtained a list that is practically complete. Two months more will be necessary to finish the work, it is estimated.

Schedule for 1928 follows:

- April 7 W. and M. Faculty, here.
- April 14, Randolph-Macon, here.
- April 28, Richmond College, here.
- May 2, Hampden-Sidney, there.
- May 3, Lynchburg College, there.
- May 4, Roanoke College (pending), there.
- May 5, Washington and Lee (pending), there.
- May 10, Bridgewater College, here.
- May 11, Lynchburg College, here.
- May 12, Hampden-Sidney, here.
- May 15, George Washington U., here.
- May 18, Randolph-Macon, there.
- May 19, Richmond College, there.

CALL FOR MANAGERS

All men who wish to go out for tennis managers will report to W. N. James on the tennis courts Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock P. M. A minor letter is awarded to the manager of tennis. The manager must be a senior. The work will be divided among those going out and each assistant will be assigned an afternoon to be on the courts.

Trip North Marks First Undertaken By William and Mary Swimmers

INDIANS GET FOUR WINS

Catholic U. Reported Weak, Though Locals Expect Tough Going In Delaware

The William and Mary swimming team embarks today on its first northern trip, meeting the Catholic University tonight at Washington, D. C. and the University of Delaware on Monday.

The Indian Natadors have shown up well in previous meets here this season, winning in easy style from Fort Monroe swimmers 42-17 and later from Richmond "Y" by a wide margin. The Catholic University tankmen have not made a very impressive record thus far and all indications are that the Indians have a good chance to annex another swimmer. In the University of Delaware, however, Coach Matsu's men will meet an unusually strong tank outfit and local pool fans will watch with interest the result of the Indians' encounter with the experienced Delawareans. This meet will bring the 1928 season to a close.

In both meets William and Mary will be represented by practically the same team used against Fort Monroe and the Richmond Y. M. C. A. Captain Ed Justis will take care of the diving and the back-stroke. He is reputed to be one of the best in the state in this latter event. Phillips, Murphy, Van Putten and Butler will be entered in the 100-yard free style, 40-yard free style and 220-yard free style. Covington and Wood are the local breast stroke artists. The Indian relay team will probably be composed of Van Putten, Murphy, Butler and Phillips, swimming in the order named.

The team has developed wonderfully under the tutelage of Coach Art Matsu and it is possible that new records may be established while on this trip.

GAME LAST OF SEASON

George Washington Bringing Here What Is Said to Be Powerful Outfit

Tomorrow evening in Jefferson gym the Indianette basketball team will stack up against the George Washington sextette in the last game of the season. Old rivals of the local Co-eds, the Colonials promise to be foes worthy of the best fighting tactics the Varsity can produce. This year George Washington has played some of the fastest teams in the East and gained victories. Their defense, it is reported, is especially good.

Strenuous daily practice periods have been held in preparation for tomorrow's contest and Coach Bardsdale states that the team is in splendid condition. There will be probably little change in the Indianette line up, De Shazo, Tanner, Will-ins, Sinclair, Burke and Winn, holding down their usual positions.

Last year the W. and M. girls romped away with the one sided victory of 31 to 13 over the Colonials, gaining the lead in the second half and bewildering their opponents with their speed and guarding. This season the teams are about equally matched in experience and skill and a hotly contested game is to be expected.

Motion Pictures Will Be Used In William and Mary Baseball Training

At last visual education has begun to play a practical part in activities of the College of William and Mary. On Saturday last Lloyd H. He photographed closeups, slow motion, and rapid motion pictures and these will be exhibited in the Blow Gymnasium for the purpose of instructing the players on the team and those who go out for it.

The slow motion camera will show the errors as well as the good plays and this education through the eye will enable the player to combine the theoretical with the practical of baseball more easily.

TO DIRECT HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS

Play Production Class Here Assists Williamsburg High School Group

Advanced play production, under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt, is rapidly becoming a pure project course, although text study is held at the regular class hours also. The newest project started by the students of this course is the production of two one-act plays in the Williamsburg High School. These two plays are to be under the general direction of Miss Althea Hunt, with individual student directors for each of the plays.

The two plays to be produced are "Rosalie," a little French comedy of social life, and "Grandma Pulls the String," an American domestic comedy. The first play is to be under the direction of Miss Martha Gresham, while the latter is to be directed by M. Weldon Thompson.

Casts for the plays have practically been completed, and actual rehearsals will probably start within a few days now, production being scheduled for sometime in April.

Officers elected at the previous meeting were: James M. Robertson, President; Vice-President, David S. Moore; Secretary, Milton Stribling; and Treasurer, F. A. Gessford.

WILLIAM AND MARY WESTLING TEAM ENDS SEASON WITH AVERAGE OF .667 TO CREDIT NORFOLK Y NECK TWISTERS LAST VICTIMS

Saturday night the William and Mary Wrestling Team closed its season with a victory over the Norfolk Y. This was the second victory of the year over the Norfolk aggregation and incidentally with the same score.

Owing to an illness the Norfolk Y was unable to present a participant in the 115-lb. class and the match was forfeited to the Indians.

The most interesting bouts of the evening were the ones between Diebert and Lillianfield and between Crigler and Goldstein. The bout between the first two was a nip and tuck affair and finally was won by Lillianfield in an extra period with a time advantage of 59 seconds. The bout between Crigler and Goldstein was the closest of the evening and was won by the latter with a time advantage of 2-5 of a second.

Wrestling at William and Mary was established as a minor sport this year. The first team was led by Captain Spud Bloxsom and had a good season. No colleges were met this year but teams from the Norfolk and Richmond Y.'s made up of former college men were met. The team scored .667 for the season.

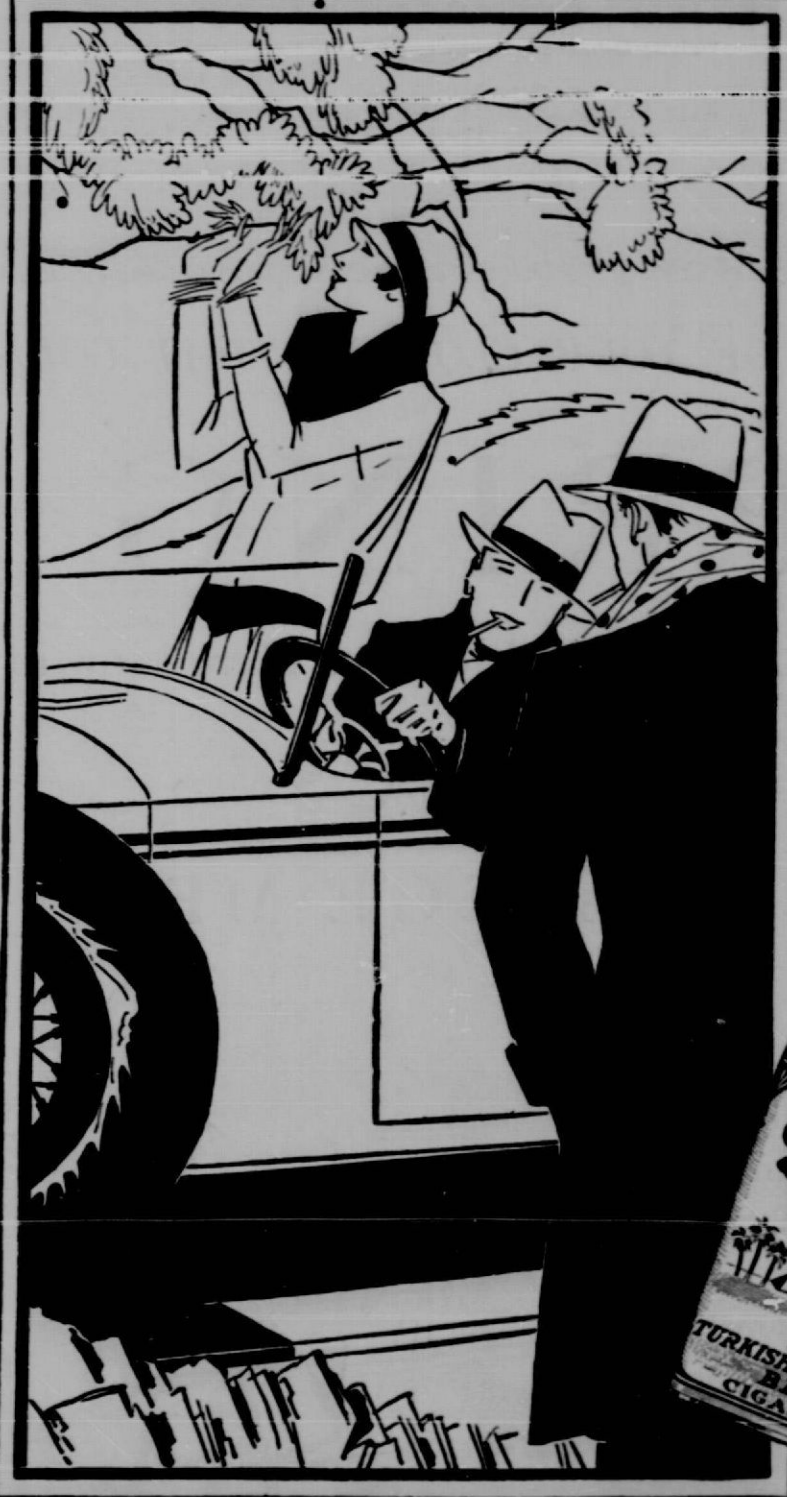

The first meet was with the Norfolk Y. and resulted in a victory for the local lads 14-9. The next was with the Richmond Y. and was lost to them 19-8. The last meet was with the Norfolk Y. and again resulted in a victory for the same score.

The team shows great promise as several good men were discovered. Garrard won all three of his bouts, two by falls and one by forfeit. Captain Bloxsom, Enfield, and Garrett also won two bouts each by time advantage. Bloxsom was ill at the last meet and was not able to participate.

"No. Your daughter asked for a half-pound of grated cheese and a half-pound of soap flakes. This is the cheese."

An old, old man one day met a young, young woman. Each was attracted by the oddity of the other's employment.

"What on earth are you doing?" asked the young, young woman.

"I'm trying to life myself over this fence by my bootstraps," replied the old, old man. "I've been trying for years to accomplish it and I'm almost discouraged. Now, what, if you don't mind, are you doing?"

"I'm trying to drape this skirt so as to cover my knees," said the young,

"Shake!" said the old, old man, extending his hand. "Your job's harder than mine."—Elks Magazine.

DARTMOUTH STUDENT SAYS NO ON PHI BETA KAPPA

Hanover, N. H. (by New Student) Blaming for his action a faulty marking system rather than genuine intellectual ability, and Phi Beta Kappa for lending its support to such a measure by electing its members on a basis of grades, Charles Allen Eastman, 23, refused election to the Dartmouth chapter of the honorary scholastic society.

Dartmouth has been taken aback, because for years the senior class have without exception voted the Phi Beta Kappa key a more desirable prize than the "D" for participation in athletics. Eastman is an athlete, having played on the soccer team for two years. He is a member of a campus scholastic society of high standing, but when the golden key was tendered him, he turned his back.

There was nothing spectacular or sensational in Eastman's refusal, which probably accounts for the absence of widespread publicity such as followed a similar act at the University of Kansas two years ago. Eastman, in a letter of explanation to The Dartmouth, suggested that Phi Beta Kappa is not keeping pace with changes within the college. It continues, he said, to lean heavily on grades based on quizzes and examinations, measures which the University itself is discouraging.

If Acceptances Were True

Mr. Harold Applebottom regrets that the eight hour working day observed by The Long Hang Whang Lang Laundry Company makes it impossible for him to get his only shirt back in time to accept the kind invitation of Kappa Chi Alpha for dinner Thursday, June ninth.

Doctor—If this doesn't cure you, come back and I'll give you something that will.

Patient—Couldn't you give it to me now, Doctor?

"Here's a dime, son; get yourself an ice-cream soda at the corner saloon, then stop at the drug store and bring your old man home.

"There's mother's ashes in the jar on the mantelpiece."

"So your mother is with the angels!"

"No, sir; she's just too lazy to look for an ash tray."

Vodivillian—Did she inherit her beauty?

Paul—How was that party last night?

Al—Nip and tuck all night long.

Paul—What do you mean, "nip and tuck"?

Al—Well, first I had one nip, and then I tuck another.

RUSSELL LECTURE CAUSES BIG STIR AT WISCONSIN U.

Madison, Wis. (By New Student Service).—On the front of Bascom Hall, at the University of Wisconsin, a tablet commemorates the gift of the class of 1910, bearing the following inscription:

"Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere we believe that the great state University of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found."

The inscription was taken from a report of the board of regents, in 1894, following an historic controversy on academic freedom that resulted from the espousal of economic "heresies" by Dr. Richard T. Ely.

During the University's recent imbroglio following the cancellation of Mrs. Bertrand Russell's lecture, a black funeral plaque was found hanging on the famous "free speech" tablet. On it was the legend:

"Mrs. Bertrand Russell—?"

This was not mere horseshy, or a jest, to judge from undergraduate opinion expressed following the suppression—and still being expressed. The net result of the Madison episode so far as students at Wisconsin and elsewhere are concerned, is the feeling that the University generally credited with being the bulwark of academic freedom in the United States, failed when put to the test.

The Daily Cardinal, which editorially decried President Frank's censorship, published numerous letters from undergraduates and graduates, which almost without exception mourned the passing of "liberal Wisconsin." In this feeling they were joined by students and editors in other colleges who asked, in effect, "if this is Wisconsin, what may we expect elsewhere?"

E. L. Meyer, columnist for the Madison Capital Times, who, ably supported by that newspaper, led the defenders of Mrs. Russell, wrote of numerous student acquaintances who had come to Wisconsin because of its famed liberalism, because they had heard of the "Wisconsin spirit" and "Wisconsin idea." He said:

"And now—"

"They have met me, singly and in groups, during this past week, incredulity and dejection written on their faces. One youth, I swear, broke down and wept.

"I can't tell you how this Russell episode has affected me," he said. "The whole bottom of my belief in the University and in Wisconsin has dropped out. I have enjoyed my work here; there is inspiration in the air. But now, over night, I have become cynical, questioning the fine professions of our leaders who falter and fail at the test. It is, I tell you, the deepest shock I have ever experienced in my life. I am considering resigning from the University because its significance, for me, has become meaningless."

Another student, writing in the Cardinal, said:

"I came to this university from a distant state solely because I felt that it was the most liberal institution in this country. When I find liberalism and freedom being carelessly cast aside by our president and dean of men, it seems that I might just as well have gone to Podunk Normal, where I could be sure that there would be no liberalism, and so would never expect it."

An alumnus wrote that the University "has lost something of its prestige in the nation as a liberal institution. It has long been a notion that the right of peaceful assemblage and of free speech was more of an actuality in Wisconsin than in most other states."

That Mrs. Russell did speak, that

NO DEBATE AT PHOENIX MEET

An address by past-president R. R. Jones featured the program at the weekly meeting of the Phoenix Literary Society Friday night. Mr. Jones gave an interesting and amusing talk received by those present. After a rather hot discussion it was decided to award diplomas to all those who take an active part in the society for a period of two years.

This evening's program includes a discussion of current events by Bartlett Burgwyn, an oration by J. W. Chambers, a reading by G. C. Cox, and a declamation by Emmett G. Frizzell. Instead of the usual debate, George J. House will discuss some vital subject of the present day.

Before the initiation the Circle held a public meeting in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall to announce the new members. Dean William L.
