MONOGRAM PLAY NOW UNDER WAY

Musical Comedy Given Under Auspices of Monogram Club to Be Staged March 11 and 12; Mrs. Hipp Directing Work.

Practice for the Musical Comedy to be given by the Monogram Club of the College on March 11th and 12th, has been going on since the first of January at a rapid pace, according to Art Matsu, Business Manager of the production and President of the Monogram Club.

Mrs. Hipp, instructor in Music, is the director of the comedy which is composed of a cast of some forty men including the Men's Glee Club which has kindly consented to lend its aid. The feminine parts will be played by men also, something which will add greatly to the humor of the event.

Matsu stated that although the cast and plot were not yet ready to be made public, the play is expected to be a great success.

Mrs. Hipp will use a number of ideas she acquired, during the summer, from Ned Wayburn the famous dancing professor. Several Broadway musical hits will also be used in the unraveling of the plot. The scenery used in the production will be the original work of some of the artistically inclined undergraduates of the college.

The cast will include the cream of the campus musical and comic talent.

CO-EDS DEFEAT RICHMOND TEAM

Indianettes Wallow Westhampton Sextette on Home Floor by 49-16 Count; Strong Guarding and Good Shooting Are Winners.

Captain Anna Wilkens' Indianettes journeyed to Richmond last Tuesday, and scored an overwhelming victory over the Westhampton Spiderettes to the tune of 49 to 16. The game was full of fight and pep, but the Mary's completely outclassed their opponents in all positions in punch and accuracy.

The fray started with one point chalked up from the floor by Stringfellow, but Westhampton immediately retaliated by a foul shot, and then the Indianettes let lose on the War Path Goals followed quickly, in spite of the resistance of the opponent's guards, and the first half ended with a score of 16 to 4.

Swift, accurate passing and excellent team work were the most noticeable and commendable features of the Green, Gold and Silver players, and much credit is due to the excellent defense of the guards, Sallie Cogle, Louise Thompkins, and Elizabeth Duke as substitute.

Bups Tanner, Lele Stringfellow and Lena De Shazo all lived up to the reputation of high pointers, Tanner making 4 field goals, Stringfellow 13 and De Shazo, 6. Richardson was the star for Westhampton for she scored the entire sixteen points to their credit, several of which were straight back shots.

ALUMNUS DIES

After a lingering illness of several months, Harvey Whitten Hastings, a member of the class of '24 from the College of William and Mary died at Blue Ridge Sanatorium February 11. He is survived by a large number of relatives.

Mr. Hastings while at William and Mary was well known for his work on the football gridiron and other campus activities. As a halfback, he achieved some fame both on the offensive and the defensive side of play, ending his football career as a star in the Richmond game of 1923. He first came to William and Mary from Norfolk in 1920.

His untimely passing is a distinct shock to both faculty and students who knew him while he was here.

FRAT STANDINGS ARE MADE PUBLIC

Kappa Alpha Leads Fraternities in Scholarship For First Semester With Kappa Sigs Close Second; Council Asks For Cup.

Kappa Alpha with an average of 81.33, led the fraternities in scholarship for the first semester of the present session, according to announcement issued from the office of K. J. Hoke, Dean of the College. Kappa Sigma was a close second with only a fraction of a point separating them from the Kappa Alpha. Seven of the eleven organization are credited with making a passing average in this, the first official report of scholarship standings of fraternities ever published.

Steps toward the publishing of averages was recently urged by representatives of one of the fraternities while the Inter-fraternity Council backed the move as being conducive to effective work in reaching higher scholastic attainment on the part of each fraternity. The Council at its last meeting voted to request the Greek letter organizations to offer a cup to the fraternity having the highest average for each year, the award to be presented at the beginning of the following year. To achieve permanent possession of the cup, a fraternity would have to win it for three successive years.

INDIANS WILL MEET R. M. AND RICH. U. HERE

William and Mary Basketeers Will Play Two Contests on Local Court in Finishing Up Season; Richmond Presents Strong Team.

INDIANS HAVE PLAYED BOTH

Green, Gold, and Silver Has Defeated Randolph-Macon and Lost By Narrow Margin to Richmond When These Two Teams Were Met Early in Season.

With two games left on the schedule the William and Mary basketball season will close next week. The local five will collide with Randolph-Macon here on Tuesday night and Richmond College here on Saturday night.

It was against these two outfits that the Indians came out of the haze in which they were drifting the first part of the season and started playing real basketball. Randolph-Macon was the first to suffer defeat at their hands, while the wearers of the Green, Gold and Silver held Richmond to an 18-20 score after the Spiders had run away with everything that they had met up to that time.

Richmond still undoubtedly has the strongest team in the state having won the first 11 games that they played, but the Indians cheered by their first showing against the hated rivals are in high hopes of adding to their winning list against Dobson's crowd.

Randolph-Macon has not had a very successful season this year, and the locals expect to repeat their victory over the Methodists.

With the entire team in good condition Tasker in all probability will send his usual line-up of Snyder, Kent, Davis, Todd, and Taylor against both opponents.

Just A Word About Sports

By "DAUBA"

It seems that the Indianettes are destined to continue the formidable record that they have maintained for the past few seasons. Stringfellow, the freshman forward, bid fair to fill the shoes of "Sliz" Love who for several seasons was a great factor in the Indianette's success, and the promise she has shown should ease Coach Barksdale's mind considerably regarding the vacancies at forward from last year. Last year the fair basketeers only lost one encounter and supporters are pulling for another year of even greater success.

The freshman relay team brought home the bacon from Richmond Saturday night and congratulations are in order for the plucky run they made against the Spider Rats. This foursome will develop into a great team ere their careers as collegians have been completed. Tomorrow they are tackling new foes and at the same time the varsity quartette will encounter the Four Horsemen of Richmond University for the South Atlantic Collegiate championship. May the old boys become inspired by the youngsters to great things.

Spring days with them the sounds of horsehide against leather and ash. Taskers tossers are getting daily workouts on Cary Field and the old field is the scene of great excitement and commotion. After two or three days of general work, about half of the youngsters were entrusted to the care of John Todd, and both squads are getting intensive preliminary work.

In an intellectual bull-session this week, a promising young satirist brought up the following discussion: Right on the heels of the break between Harvard and Princeton due to rough football comes a claim by the Crimson that the Boston police in their recent scramble used "rough tactics" in executing their duty. The final decision was that next year the so-called "Big Three" would be constituted of Yale, Harvard, and Vassar. We welcome this bit of opinion as the first fruits of our "open forum" invitation. May more pot pourri of the same nature and calibre follow. It's a wonderful opportunity to see yourself in print.

We wonder what has happened to intra-mural sports. The horse-shoe pitching contest which was looked forward to so keenly by ye editorial staff, seems to have gone through. It seems that we won't have the opportunity to use the advantage that we gained through sixteen or seventeen years of practice. We do not fear the outcome for one of the office boys was considered to be right good at the barn-yard game back in the little town from whence he hailed, but to disclose his name would be exposing Flat Hat secrets for we intend to present him as a great surprise in the spring tournament.

New Forward Makes 15 Field Goals Out of 26 Scored by Entire Team; New Material on Squad Makes Good Showing.

An overwhelming victory marked the opening game of the William and Mary Indianettes' home series. Excellent team work and fine playing were clearly the cause of the triumph which ended with the score of 49-21. What Captain Anna Wilkens and Coach Barksdale have done to accomplish this drive and accuracy is not known; but after ringing up the first points, the team scored quickly and repeatedly, ending the first half at 3 to 6.

The Indianettes clearly outplayed the Yankees from beginning to end, in all departments of play, and almost all the substitutes were placed in the game before the finish. Credit must be given to all position, for everyone displayed exceptional ability. Lele Stringfellow, the star forward of the group, promises to equal "Sliz" Love of last year, making 15 field goals out of the total 26.

"Bups" Tanner, Lele's running mate, scored four field goals and as substitutes, Lena De Shazo scored five, and Frankie Roberts 2.

Freshman Relay Team Runs Off With Young Richmond Rats at Gray's Armory; Showing Considered Good.

William and Mary's Freshmen Relay team journeyed to Richmond last Saturday night where they met and defeated the young Spiders of Richmond University.

Donolon, a man who came here in February with an excellent prep school record and who has been displaying an unusual amount of ability on the track, led off and managed to edge out just a small lead on his last lap. The baton was next passed to Davis who jumped away from his man on the start and gradually pulled away until there was about a half lap between him and his opponent.

Campbell took the stick with this advantage and kept up the lead. This is another man who has been showing up remarkably well both in Cross-country during the fall and indoors now. He also came here from Maury High with a good record and from all indications he is certainly going to live up to it. It was left to Baggett to finish up the race and this he did in fast time, breaking the tape about 10 seconds ahead of the Richmond man.

With such bright prospects in the Freshman class the opportunity for a cracking good track team this spring is fairly certain. Coach Chandler is working hard on his Freshmen and the flashy start which they have made is only a sample of the work which they will do when given a chance.

FRESHMAN FIVE
SCORE ANOTHER

Little Indians Down Benedictine Quint by 33-21 Score; Captain Meister and Dunbar Lead Attack on Richmond Boys.

Another demonstration of the smooth working combination of the William and Mary Freshmen quintet was witnessed in Blow Gymnasium last Monday night when the strong Benedictine five from Richmond was forced to bow before the superior strength of their opponents. This made up in some way for the trouncing handed the Frosh by the same team last year.

As usual Captain Meister led the attack with several long shots as well as one or two difficult ones from the side lines. The game started off with first blood being drawn by the visitors when they grabbed the ball from center and dribbled through for a field goal. A few more points were rung up before the little Indians finally settled down and took the offensive themselves. When the whistle sounded at the end of the first half the freshmen were leading by about ten points.

CO-EDS MEET
SWEETBRIER
N. Y. U. HERE

"Fighting Indianettes" Play Third Game of Season Here Tomorrow Night Against Sweetbrier College; Win Expected.

LOCALS WON LAST YEAR

New York University Team Comes Here With Fine Record; Defeated N. Y. Co-eds by Large Margin.

William and Mary's fighting Indianettes will play the third game of the series with Sweetbrier in Jefferson Gymnasium tomorrow night at 7:30, and will meet the New York University six Monday night, on the local court also. The success of the former games have given the wearers of the Green, Gold and Silver high hopes of another brilliant victory.

The Sweetbrier sextette of last year were such fast, clean players and such good sports, that the William and Mary team is looking forward to an exciting game this year with plenty of drive and speed. The 1926 fray was hard fought and players well matched but Coach Barksdale's squad was well piloted and finished victorious by a margin of ten points. Because of the fact that there were only two or three fouls in the entire game it proved to be a most unusual contest.

Sweetbrier is again the proud possessor of her star guard and side center of last year, Miss Bebe Gilchrist and Dan Boone. The team only played three games with other schools last year, but the inter-class spirit is so strong that many girls are out for basketball and there is plenty of practice.

The Mary's of Williamsburg have gained considerable strength and experience from the benefit of the two past games, and they have increased in confidence greatly since the second fray.

Following the Sweetbrier affair the Indianettes will collide with New York University. The Yankee team of this year is larger and more experienced than last year and has a large reserve list of players. In their first game of the season, the Violets overwhelmed the New York Agricultural College with a score of 60 to 9.

As the game with the Aggies turned out to be little more than a hard work-out for the Yankees, according to the New York Times, they have considerable confidence and strength. Their star guard of the 1926 season, Miss Theresa Guffanti, is back again this year and will captain the outfit through the coming season.

Four Girls Win Places on
Varsity Debate Team of '27

Try-outs for the Women's Varsity Debate Team were held Tuesday night, February 15. The subject for the debate was "Resolved that Women's Participation in Public Life has Justified the Nineteenth Amendment." The winning contestants were Ophelia Harrell, Katherine Topping, Miriam Silberger, and Caroline Borders—alternate. These new members, together with Minnie Rob Phaup and Pat Riley, old members who will resume their work, will comprise the Women's Debate Team for 1927-28.

Miriam Silberger, the manager of the team, has arranged an interesting program for this year, including a debate with the University of West Virginia and double debates with Westhampton College and Duke University.

Harvey Whitten Hastings

Elsewhere in this issue appears the announcement of the death of Harvey Whitten Hastings, former student of the college, and one of the outstanding athletes to represent the institution in recent years. Hastings was respected by the entire student body during his years in college. He was known for a representative man and an excellent athlete. That he should pass away in the very flower of youth is an extreme blow to his family, his friends, and to his former college mates. The Flat Hat takes this opportunity of expressing its sincere sympathy to all who knew Hastings and its own regret for his untimely death.

From Over-organization, Deliver Us!

It is now time that the Flat Hat should publish its annual editorial against over-organization on the college campus and in compliance with this custom we venture to set forth our views on the subject. We were surprised almost beyond belief the other day to learn that there are over fifty honorary organizations at William and Mary. If anyone has a doubt as to the statement, let them merely try to hold a meeting of this or that and find out how many possible conflicts there may arise. The result will be worse than startling. It will be heart-rending and tear-provoking to say the least. In short we are suffering with a severe case of "organizationitis" which is bound to lead to chaos sometime if that point has not already been reached.

Investigation will show that there is an organization for nearly everything under the sun which concerns college students here. Honorary fraternities and clubs have been formed for this and that until we wonder when the fraternity for the introduction of bigger and better fraternities will be founded. It can not be far off at the present rate. And what are they all for? Let us see.

There are possibly a dozen of these organizations which really do something or at least attempt to do something. We will grant that much. But every student knows that the majority of these honorary clubs and fraternities exist solely for the purpose of electing new members or holding "blackballing parties," as popular language would dictate. They charge an initiation fee for the support of a national organization, conducted by the "grand umpty-ump" for no one knows what purpose. A student joins and thereby receives permission to wear a key, a pin, or whatnot, signifying that there has been another fish hooked and that he is minus five, ten, or fifteen dollars, which he might have spent for something else. He also possesses a beautiful engraved diploma or certificate to this effect.

Fundamentally, the whole fault lies in the fact that, though a few organizations are desirable, there are dozens of them, overlapping in their fields of endeavor. The sad part of it is that they all elect the same people to membership and these in turn are without the nerve to limit their activities. We are so bold as to say that a very large per cent of the members of the honorary fraternities and clubs on the campus are confined to a very small group in the student body. If the truth were really known, it would probably be appalling. We wish it were. There should be some investigation made and that brings us to the suggestion:

In order to end this vast chaos of "organized anarchy" in organization there should be definite steps taken by the organizations now in existence to come to some agreement. Where two or more organizations overlap in jurisdiction they should either disband or unite under one head for a common purpose. In some cases it may be possible for one organization to cover several related fields. There should be an Honorary Interfraternity Council which directly supervises all honorary organizations and clubs and passes upon all petitions for establishment here of new ones.

We feel that there is nothing terribly radical in this proposal. The time is fast coming when some action will have to be taken and it would be far better if it could come from within. Now that the cat has been let out for the ninth time, who or what will take the lead? The laborers are in demand and the harvest is certainly ripe unto rottenness.

"LORD BOTETOURT SAYS—"

By "Bill"

Into the dull routine of ordinary college life where there seems to be an endless round of classes and other equally charming features, came the Mid-winter dances, bringing with them a desired break in the monotony of life in general. Everything conspired to make the dances a success, which they unquestionably were in every way. The music, decorations, the crowd, and the chaperones were ideal. There was actually real pep and one really enjoyed himself, which is quite different from the usual formal dance. Then there was the usual band of the usual alumni, trying to look prosperous and wearing a look of out-in-the-world sophistication. Nevertheless, we were glad to welcome them back. The members of the Cotillion Club are to be congratulated warmly for their work in making the dances such a success.

The girls are determined to make their contribution to the college's high athletic standards as evidenced by their overwhelming victory last Saturday night in basketball. If they keep up this sort of thing, they had better let them take over the men's schedule. Doubtless, they could handle it easily with a little rearrangement of the rules and a few special instructions to Sally and Lele.

The "Student Prince" seems to have had a profound impression on the college boys, some of them have gone so far as to buy those Heidelberg hats like those worn by the prince and his fellow — "Saxons" Doubtless, they will be carrying steins soon and so increase the sale of Bevo.

Literary Magazine Has Several Honors Bestowed

The William and Mary Literary Magazine has received a certificate of distinguished rating from the National College Press Congress Award for 1926-27, in the national college publications contest, according to an announcement from Frank S. Hopkins, editor-in-chief of the magazine. The N. C. P. A. is an organization established at the University of Illinois.

Two other honors have been conferred upon the magazine recently in having "Lost Gold," a short story by Samuel G. Staples, which appeared in the January 1926 issue, reprinted in the American College Quill Pen Quarterly, for December 1926, and by having "Unrest," a poem by Ellen Graves, reprinted in the exchange department of the Boston College Stylus.

Alpha Kappa Psi Business Frat Initiates Seven Men

Seven men were initiated into the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, national commercial fraternity Tuesday, February 15. The day was filled with various "goatship" duties and was followed by the initiation and banquet at the Pocahontas Tea Room that evening.

Throughout the morning all pledges were attired in tuxedos, which was abandoned in favor of appropriate garb for a flour and molasses battle at 4 o'clock.

At the initiation, Dr. W. M. Hamilton and Professor A. E. Nilsson were the speakers. These two men spoke on subjects along the line in which the fraternity is interested.

Those initiated Tuesday evening were F. A. Gessford, K. L. Beatty, R. L. Brewer, Carlton Macon, James Robertson, C. H. Marston and A. S. Thompson.

ECHO DEDICATED TO COL. BUILDERS

1927 Colonial Echo Will Be Dedicated to James Blair, Benjamin S. Ewell and Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, Presidents.

The Colonial Echo of this year, which is expected to be the best college annual that has ever been put out here or in the state, will be dedicated to the builders of William and Mary, the old and the new according to F. James Barnes, Editor-in-Chief. The three most outstanding men known as the builders of this old traditional and new institution are, First Commissary Blair, founder of William and Mary, Colonel Benjamin S. Ewell, saviour of William and Mary in the post Civil War Period and Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, builder of the new Flat Hat and Mary.

The Colonial Echo Vote which was taken last week, though not as complete as it should have been and even though the ballots have not been counted, was fairly representative of the student body, it is announced. It is urged by the staff, since there are no poll taxes, that all students make the best of their chance to vote.

The Ballots brought to the fore some startling information which may be a surprise for the students as a whole.

The mail man and Doc Billups ran neck and neck for most popular man.

While the greenest Duc-Duccess race is even more close than the first, and it is believed by some, the closest in William and Mary history.

Results of these votes will be announced in the Colonial Echo which will appear about May 15 or 20, according to the recent statement of the Editor-in-Chief.

Dramatic Club Completes Program For First Term

The William and Mary Dramatic Club formed this year with the members of Theta Alpha Phi as a nucleus, has been exceedingly active during the last semester for such a young organization. Under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt and Bill Morrow, president of the organization, it has completed a very fine program including a theatre party to the Richmond Academy of Music to see "The Green Hat," by Michael Arlen starring Charlotte Walker and Norman Hackett.

Later they entertained at the Kappa Alpha House where Dr. Frank Pratt read to an enthusiastic audience, "The Enemy" by Channing Pollock, the well-known Austrian dramatist.

"From the Soup to the Souory," "The Flower of Yeddo," and "At the Rising of the Moon," three one-act plays, were presented in early November. In late November, George Rianhard, professional make-up man from Richmond, gave a demonstration before the club, the Little Theatre League and the college on stage make-up.

However the greatest activity of the Club during the semester was the producing in Phi Beta Kappa Hall in late December of Lewis Reach's "The Goose Hangs High." For the splendid production of this play alone the Dramatic Club has received a position on the campus hardly ever dreamed of before, a position worthy only of the best of clubs on any campus.

Thus, through its extensive efforts, the Dramatic Club has taken its place at William and Mary among the foremost of College activities, and much can be expected from the club in the future.

DE MOLAY ORDER HOLD INITIATION

Nathan M. Caffee and John G. Ayres Are Given Degrees by Visiting Norfolk Demolay Degree Team.

On Saturday night, February 12, the William and Mary De Molay club were hosts to about twenty-five members of the Norfolk Chapter of the Order of De Molay at the Williamsburg Masonic Hall. The visiting De-Molays came to Williamsburg for the purpose of putting the De Molay degrees on two candidates in college. The reason for coming here rather than giving the work in Norfolk as is usual was in order that Masons in Williamsburg and vicinity could see the work. This was the first time that the De Molay degrees had been put on in Williamsburg, and many of the Masons did not know what the order really was.

The Order of De molay was organized in Kansas City, Mo., in 1919, by Frank S. Land and Louis Lawyer. Mr. Land is now the Grand Scribe of the national organization. The purpose of the order is the promotion of better citizenship to boys and young men, and to teach fidelity, courtesy, patriotism, cleanliness, courage, reverence, and filial love. Membership is restricted to those between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one. The organization is sponsored by the Masonic fraternity. At the present time there are over four hundred thousand members in the Order of De Molay, and there are chapters in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, France, Belgium, Italy, and several other foreign countries. In the state of Virginia there are six chapters, namely Richmond, Norfolk, Roanoke, Danville, Lynchburg, and Alexandria.

The William and Mary De Molay Club is not in any sense a chapter of the Order of De Molay, but is a club formed of members of the Order who have come to William and Mary from the various chapters in the country. The purpose of the local club is to further the ideals of the Order of De Molay, and to bring together members of the order from the different chapters who may be here at school. The men initiated in the Order of De Molay on Saturday night are John G. Ayers and Nathan M. Caffee.

After the initiation, light refreshments were served to all present by the William and Mary De Molay Club and a short social session was held, at the end of which most of the visiting De Molays were taken up to the dance at the Blow Gymnasium.

Social Hygiene Topic of Dr. Swann's Lectures Here

Dr. Eugene Swann, of the American Social Hygiene Association, a well-known campus lecturer, having won the admiration of large audiences of William and Mary men on two preceding visits to the College addressed a series of lectures to an ever increasing audience of men of the college, on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights, in the Phi Beta Kappa, the general subject being Social Hygiene and the Education of the Sub-conscious Mind. Other lectures were given to women.

This visit of Dr. Swann's, the third in two years marked the greatest success of the three. The men, learning of the charming personality of Dr. Swann united in hearing the masterful way in which he handled the problems confronting the country in the field of Social Hygiene.

FRAT INITIATES ARMY OFFICERS

Chi Beta, Honorary Scientific Fraternity, Holds Initiation and Banquet at Colonial: Five Fort Eustis Men Honored.

William and Mary Chapter of the Chi Beta Phi National Scientific Fraternity held their annual initiation and banquet Wednesday evening, February 9, at the Colonial Hotel. This affair was supposed to have taken place during the past fall, but owing to several delays it was postponed until this time. All members of the club were present, as well as the faculty members in the club.

The most unusual feature of the initiation was the taking into the fraternity of five army officers from Fort Eustis. This is a departure from the custom which has formerly been followed by the honorary organizations on the campus, which has been to restrict membership in the local chapter to either active students in college or faculty members. The officers to be initiated were Major Octave DeCarre, a graduate of Cornell; Captain Henry H. Behrens, a graduate of Yale and Cornell; Captain Arne Sorum, a graduate of the University of Minnesota; Captain William D. Cleary, a graduate of St. Flannans College (Ireland) and College des Irlandais (France); and Lieutenant Arthur L. Lavery, a graduate of the University of Vermont. Captain Thomas P. Walsh, a graduate of the University of Virginia and of the College of William and Mary, was elected to honorary membership several months ago. This is the first time in the history of William and Mary that army officers not attached in some capacity with the college have been honored with membership in any of the honorary or professional fraternities on the campus. The only student initiated on Wednesday was Julius Caplan.

Immediately after the ceremonies was over, a banquet was held. Randolph Turnbull acted as toastmaster in the absence of Professor W. A. Hamilton. Speeches were made at the banquet by Dr. Donald W. Davis and Captain W. D. Cleary of Fort Eustis.

Geiger Speaks to Hood Students on Honor System

Dr. J. R. Geiger, head of the Department of Psychology and Philosophy addressed the student body of Hood College, Fredericksburg, Maryland, last Wednesday on the Honor System. This is the first time that a representative of the college has spoken at the Maryland school, and the occasion is noteworthy in that Dr. Geiger is probably the foremost authority on the Honor System as it exists today.

Dr. Geiger delivered a series of lectures in Petersburg last week on Religious Education.

PHOENIX SOCIETY HAS DISCUSSION

Meeting Given Over Largely to Discussion Over Suggestion by Dr. Swem Concerning Contribution to Library.

Phoenix Literary Society held its usual meeting last Friday night in Phoenix Hall. Owing to the many other meetings on the campus at the same time, the attendance was smaller than usual. The program consisted of a Declamation by L. L. Born. The society spent some time discussing the suggestion made by Dr. E. C. Swem that the two societies contribute a certain amount each year in order that the library may purchase book plates. Nothing definite was decided, and the matter was carried over to the next meeting of the society.

A debate had been scheduled on the subject, "Resolved, that Great Britain's policy toward the Chinese is justified." Since only two of the four debaters were present, this question was carried over until February 25, and the same men have been asked to debate at that time. The subject of the society's annual banquet was discussed briefly, and it was decided that this year the banquet would be limited to active members, the term active members to be determined at the next meeting of the society, which will be tonight in Phoenix Hall at seven o'clock. A good program has been planned and all members and friends are urged to be present.

Irwin's Speech Recorded in Wash. and Lee Bulletin

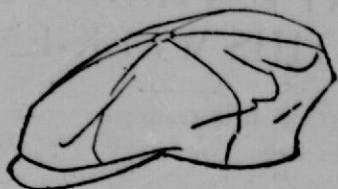

Recently the Washington and Lee University Bulletin has appeared with an address on Rev. William MacCutchan Morrison, D. D., delivered by Rev. L. W. Irwin, D. D., in Lee Chapel, Washington and Lee University, on June 7, 1926.

In his address Dr. Irwin first speaks of the influence of missionaries on the civilization of the world, especially their contributions to geography, science, language, and literature. Then narrowing his theme he speaks upon the life of William MacCutchan Morrison and his work at Luebo, Africa, which he has divided into three parts, linguist and translator, champion of the oppressed, and missionary executive.

The address while short, is interesting and gives a comprehensive picture of the mission worker in foreign fields.

Me and the joy-friend... Prince Albert

WHEN my father was in college, "Put that in your pipe and smoke it!" was considered snappy conversation. I'm ready to take this old line literally when the talk centers around Prince Albert. Because P. A. makes two of what I like in a pipe.

All wise-cracking aside, P. A. is the money when it comes to deep-down satisfaction in a smoke. It's got everything! Cool as the trail of the ice-man across the kitchen. Sweet as vacation. Fragrant as a pine forest.

Think up your own similes. You'll write them all in the column headed "Superlative Degree" when you learn the joys of a jimmy-pipe and Prince Albert. If you don't know this grand old smoke, come around to my room and I'll give you a load.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

of discriminating students at William and Mary.

Dr. Egbert W. Smith, head of the Southern Presbyterian Missions, will give the opening address of the conference. Dr. Smith has just returned from Mexico where he studied for three months the trouble between the church and state. His other travels have taken him to every part of the globe, and he can speak with authority and conviction on many phases of recent world events. He is an orator of unusual ability.

South America will be represented by Mr. B. H. Hunnicutt and Dr. M. G. White of Brazil. Mr. Hunnicutt operates the only up-to-date agricultural college in Brazil today. The Brazilian Government recognized the superior type of work being done by his mission school, by asking Mr. Hunnicutt to supervise the nation-wide effort to produce greater crops. Later at the end of the Great War, he was asked to take over one of the State Agricultural Colleges and supply it with teachers which he was unable to do for lack of qualified teachers. He comes here as an international authority on agricultural missions. Dr. White is an evangelist missionary from Brazil. He will illustrate his lecture Saturday night by a set of stereopticon slides of his own selection.

Mr. Dwight M. Chalmers will lead the devotional portions of the program. He comes fresh from college, where he carried all honors from that of valedictorian and basketball captain to director of religious activities at Davidson College. Other speakers are Dr. L. B. Wolf, missionary to India for twenty-five years and chairman of the Lutheran Mission Board; Rev. J. C. Crane, educational leader in Korea and one of the founders of the Virginia Volunteer Union; Dr. C. P. Sheffey, medical missionary for the Methodist Church in the Congo, Mr. H. M. Crim, from the British Soudan, and Dr. J. P. Woods, medical missionary to China. Dr. Woods has pioneered in medical missions in that country and while on the field he is responsible for one million and a half of people.

Dr. J. L. Cunningham, president of Scarritt College, will represent the Methodist Board. Miss Louise Rounds from New York will represent the National Student Volunteer movement, and Mr. J. B. Bentley of Williamsburg, assistant rector at Bruton Parish, will represent the Episcopal Board. Mr. Bentley was three years in Anvik, Alaska.

Young Tells of Relation Between Physics and Biology

At the meeting of the Clayton-Grimes Biology Club held last Tuesday, Dr. R. C. Young, head of the department of Physics, spoke on Physical Biology. Dr. Young mentioned and discussed the different points of contact between Physics and Biology. An interesting experiment described in his talk is that of destroying the blood corpuscles of fish by transmission of sound waves of great frequency to them through the water.

Dr. Young also discussed the amplification of sound and predicted that in twenty years, microbes that now resist detection by the most powerful microscopes, can be recognized by the sounds they make.

The subject for the next meeting of the Biology Club is Anthropology, it is announced by the secretary.

Here's Good Advice on Quality Clothes!

A little worldly wisdom helps in clothes buying. In selecting suits most students consider only the outside of a garment. Examine the inside too! Look at the kind and quality of body and sleeve linings, the bottoms, etc. Take a peep under coat collar, turn the pockets inside out.

Look for these points of good tailoring, which make for longevity.

We have yet to hear of an examination for value LONDONTOWN Clothing won't pass.
