Students Elect All But 2 Honor Posts

All Men Students Re-Elect Thursday For Honor Council

A re-election for sophomore members of the Men's Honor Council will be held this coming Thursday, April 23, from 12 p. m. to 6 p. m. on College Corner, with the library steps substituting in case of rain.

The re-election was made necessary because of an error on the ballots concerning the number of sophomores to be elected to the Men's Honor Council.

Two sophomore representatives will be elected from the following list of candidates: Marshall Acuff, Paul Bankes, Gil Bartlett, Paul Berghaus, Bruce Garside, John Heald, Tom Johnson, Don Lloyd, Gary McGee, Ken Shlakman and Bruce Thomson.

All men students, including seniors and graduate students, are requested to vote.

Exeter Scholarship

Sunday, April 26, is the deadline for submitting applications for the 1959 University of Exeter Scholarship. All applications should be submitted to Dr. W. G. Guy, chairman of the department of Chemistry. This is an exchange plan by which William and Mary sends a student to Exeter and vice-versa for an academic year.

Ballots Show Results Of Election Winners

by Barbara Bowie

Ballots checked with the names of winners, posted in dormitories Thursday night revealed results of voting for Student Assembly and Men's Honor Council positions.

Sophomores elected to the student Assembly are Elena Ruddy, Nancy Carol Taylor, and Karen Zimmerman; assemblywomen, and Paul Berghaus, John Black, and Lynn Shaw; assemblymen.

Assemblywomen from the junior class are Sue Lovern, Julie Morgan, and Maureen Rumazza. Don Farrell, Pete Siegenthaler, and Charlie White will serve as assemblymen.

Elected to the assembly from the class of 1960 are Joy Ammon, Debby McMahon, Audrey Murray, Paul Dinsmore, Benny Dulaski, and Bill Whitten.

The newly elected assemblymen, together with class officers and student assembly officers, elected in March, will meet with the present assembly early in May for a joint meeting and induction service.

Junior representatives to the Men's Honor Council are Bill Darrow, Fred Denny, and Ron Monark. Seniors elected are Glenn Cayward, Ralph Crutchfield, and Tom Farrington.

The newly elected Council will meet Thursday night to elect its chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary. The chairman and vice-chairman must be from the senior class, and the secretary must be one of the junior representatives.

Pick Up Pictures

Candidates, with the exception of those running for sophomore to Men's Honor Council, may pick up the pictures used for the election bulletin board in the student government box in the registrar's office. Those pictures will be posted for the run-off election and may be claimed by the candidates after Thursday.

Matinee Showing To Climax Season For W&M Theatre

A sparkling Shakespearean comedy, All's Well That Ends Well, marks the close of the current William and Mary Theatre season on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 22-25. The performances will begin at 8 p. m. on the first three days, and a matinee will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

David Little portrays Bertram, the Count of Rousillon, a young man of much charm who is the object of Helena's trickery to win his love. The countess of Rousillon, Bertram's mother, is played by Ann Daingerfield.

Helena, played by Martha Miller, is Bertram's "sweet disaster," Bertram's worthless follower, Parolles, is played by Douglas-Scott Goheen, and Scott Mannion portrays the King of France.

Romantic Setting

The settings for this year's annual Shakespearean production are the romantic European playgrounds of Rousillon, Paris, Florence, and Marseilles.

Directed by Howard Scammon, the play has a cast of 27 students. Russell Hastings is set designer and Albert Haak is technical director.

This presentation marks the 33rd Shakespearean production given by the William and Mary Theater.

Dr. Morton Plans to Stay Just as Busy After 40 Years of Teaching at W&M

by Jo Ann Dotson

Dr. Richard L. Morton, professor and chairman of the department of history, plans retirement starting July 1, after serving the College for 40 years.

Looking forward to his retirement, Dr. Morton expects to remain just as busy as he has been in the past. "I have some research that I plan to complete in the next several years, as well as writing a two volume history of Virginia in the 17th century," he said.

"My 40 years at William and Mary have indeed been enjoyable ones, but I am also anticipating a recess," Dr. Morton commented.

Born in Prince Edward County in 1889, Dr. Morton received his bachelor's degree from Hampton - Sydney College in 1910. He holds master of arts degrees from the University of Virginia, where he became a member of Phi Beta Kappa in 1915 and Harvard University, and received a Ph.D. from Virginia.

In 1919 Dr. Morton began his career at the College, becoming professor of history, and chairman of the department in 1921. From 1944-7 Dr. Morton was chairman of the Division of Social Sciences, and chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee from 1957-9.

Writing

Outside the classroom, writing and editing have primarily occupied his time. In 1956 Dr. Morton brought out a new edition of Hugh Jones' "The Present State of Virginia." In addition, he is the author of "Virginia Since 1861," a six volume "History of Virginia," "Struggle Against Tyranny, Virginia, 1677-99" and served as editor and organizer of the Third Series of "The William and Mary

Qualified Experts Discuss Epidemic Striking Students

As a result of the illness which rampaged through the William and Mary campus the night of Tuesday, April 14, the following qualified men and women were contacted to make statements as to their views in this matter.

Dr. R. D. DeBord, the college physician, first described the illness by saying that, on a whole, students awoke between 2 and 4 a. m. on Wednesday morning with severe abdominal cramps followed by profuse diarrhea. Between 250 and 300 students reported to the infirmary Wednesday with the preceding symptoms.

As to his research and findings in the matter, Dr. DeBord made the following statement:

Food Not Available

"I went to the cafeteria to investigate the food to discover if it could have caused the sickness. I was not able to come to any definite conclusions because Tuesday's food had already been thrown away."

Dr. DeBord also called in Mr. Wood of the Williamsburg Health Department who also found he could make no definite con-

Dabney to Speak at Installation

Virginius Dabney will address the new Phi Beta Kappa initiates at their installation Tuesday, April 28 at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. Everyone is invited to attend.

Dabney is editor of the Richmond Times Dispatch. He was born at University, Virginia on February 8, 1901 and received his A. B. and A. M. there in 1920 and 1921. He has also received a D. Litt (honorary) from the University of Richmond in 1940 and an LLD from Lynchburg College and the College of William and Mary in 1944.

He was a teacher of French at Episcopal High School during 1921-22, a reporter for the Richmond News Leader from 1922-28, a member of the editorial staff of the Richmond Times-Dispatch from 1928-34, chief editorial writer for the Times-Dispatch from 1934-36 and has been editor of that paper since 1936.

Mr. Dabney spent six months in Central Europe in 1934 under a grant from Oberlaender Trust.

He was lecturer on the "New South" at Princeton University during 1939-40.

Prize Winner

Dabney is the winner of the Lee Editorial Award of The Virginia Press Association and the Lee School of Journalism at Washington and Lee University for "distinguished editorial writing during the year 1937." He was also awarded the Pulitzer Prize for editorial writing in 1947 and the Sigma Delta Chi National Editorial Award in 1948 and 1952.

Authority on Classical Archaeology To Speak Here Thursday on Eleusis

George Emmanuel Mylonas, one of the world's leading authorities on classical art and archaeology, will speak on "Eleusis, Its Sanctuary and Its Cemetery" April 23, in Washington 100 at 8 p. m.

Mylonas, decorated by King of Paul of Greece for his discoveries in the field of archaeology, was director of excavations at Eleusis, a village in eastern Greece which is the site of a sacred pre-historic and proto-historic city.

Presently he is chairman of the department of art and archaeology at Washington University in St. Louis, and he has previously taught at the International College in his native Smyrna, Turkey; at the University of Athens; the American School of Classical Studies in Athens; the University of Chicago; and the University of Illinois.

Mylonas is president of the Archaeological Institute of America; vice-president of the Society for Byzantine Studies; and vice chairman of the managing committee of the American School of Classical Studies in Athens.

Social Notes on Campus

by Erin Horrocks

Spring has sprung, the grass is riz, wonder where frat parties is? Well, it seems that people would much rather be run over by soap box cars, thrown in the lake, bitten by moths in a gunny-sack, crushed by mobs of dancers, and generally have an uproariously good time at the IFC Block Party. There was still enough left of the weekend, however, for some of the Greeks to entertain.

Saturday the 18th, the Pegis Club celebrated the coming of Spring with a banquet at the Motor Lodge and a formal dance at the Colony Room.

Pi Beta Phi went Latin American Friday night with its annual spring hop. Senoritas and dashing caballeros rumbaed and cha-chaed all night to the music of the Frets.

The Chamberlin Hotel at Old Point Comfort rocked on its foundations on April 11. The Sigma Pis were at it again with their annual Orchid Ball. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the new sweetheart, Mary Beth Curran, a Kappa Alpha Theta.

Scotland Wharf was the scene of another rollicking party. On April 11 and 12 the Phi Mus packed up and left for a big Cabin party.

Kappa Sigma steps into the limelight with eight new brothers. Recently initiated were Phil Albright, Bill George, Jim Guidiness, Wayne Lowery, Wood Lay, Glynn Morris, Don Whitesell, and Charlie Woolum.

The Gamma Phi Betas made the newspapers last week. The William and Mary Alpha Chi chapter was named most efficient chapter in its province.

Oh, you take the high road and Mike Alembick, Exeter Scholar, will take the low road, and he'll be in Edinburgh, Scotland, before us. He's touring the countryside with Professor Engle's (of the Business Administration Department) brother-in-law in a jeep.

clusions since the food was not available for testing.

Dr. DeBord, however, went on to make the following statement:

"The suddenness with which the disease struck and the large number of students affected seem to indicate the illness came from something eaten. The oddity in this case stems from the fact that so many students were struck at the same time, from 2 to 4 in the morning."

Possible Virus

Miss Grace Blank, associate professor of biology, made the following suggestion:

"Basing my suggestion on similar epidemics and the symptoms involved, the illness could have been a virus disease often spread by the respiratory tract. This disease spreads very slowly for awhile, then suddenly breaks out in an explosive epidemic. The illness is not at all serious and lasts, for the most part, about 24 hours, with a chance of possible recurrence.

"The symptoms of this virus are very similar to food poison. During the war this disease was extremely prevalent throughout the world and was often feared to be food poisoning. To make a positive decision on the cause of the present illness, however, I would have to isolate and examine the virus present among the students."

Miss Blank is a bacteriologist and one of the nation's foremost authorities on the disease described.

No Comment

Miss Rebecca Tinker, head of the cafeteria, had no comment.

Mr. Hugh H. Sisson, Bursar, stated:

"I have investigated this matter from several different sources, and I have not been able to determine what caused this upset."

IFC Members Agree to Sponsor Foster Child, Scholarship Project

by Al Volkman

Inter-fraternity Council members agreed to establish an IFC scholarship and sponsor a foster child at their April 28 meeting.

Both resolutions introduced by Bob Squatrigulia, chairman of the projects committee were passed unanimously by all present. The scholarship will be $50 or $100 per semester and shall be awarded to a fraternity man on the basis of academic standing, financial need and moral character.

The sponsoring of a foster child will involve contributing to the financial support of the child in a home away from an institution.

Jaycee Report

The Jaycee Committee of the IFC headed by Al Athern reported that he and his committee are working in close cooperation with the local Jaycees to sponsor an automobile rodeo in the near future and to aid in the management of a teen age tennis tournament to be held on the Campus.

Voting on acceptance of Epsilon Tau Brotherhood of Tau Epsilon Phi was postponed until a later date.

New Rush Rules

Dean Durrett heard complaints and some suggestions by the fraternity interests. Durrett pointed out that use of the Holiday Inn for social events would not be allowed until it had gained acceptance as an established in Williamsburg. He also promised that the administration would have some new Rush rules worked up before the end of the spring semester. These rules would postpone the formerly early rush.

New Rules

It was passed also to include Physical Education in the passing of 9 hours and maintenance of a 1.5 average to pledge.

Co-op Committee Passes on Proposal For By-Law Change

Members of the General Co-operative Committee approved three proposed amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws of the Student Government at a short meeting Thursday afternoon in the Chapman House.

At the meeting, attended by the newly elected members of the Senate, members of the committee recommended that the proposals be forwarded to President Chandler for consideration and approval.

The first amendment would make the secretary-treasurer of the student body the recording and corresponding secretary-treasurer of the Assembly and the Senate.

How the Students Hurt Themselves

In reviewing the events of the past two weeks we feel that the following four points should be kept in mind:

1. Each of the events demonstrated to the faculty and administration that at least a part of the student body is not capable of mature judgment and must be dealt with as immature people.
2. Each event gives people outside of the College a mental picture of the average student here as undependable and irresponsible.
3. Each of the events hurts even the students who were not involved because of the impression they leave of the student body as a whole.
4. Each event hurts the name of the College of William and Mary, and in so doing hurts us, the students at the College. It hurts us because it is we who upon graduation will say, "We are from William and Mary," and we are helping to form the impression that this statement will make. What kind of an impression do you want this to be?

While there may be no inherent evil in a panty raid, there is inherent danger because of the mob action to which it can lead. This was evidenced by the events of Thursday night two weeks ago. Since this occurred on a week night, perhaps the average student finds the work here too easy and has too much time on his hands. May we never see mob action on this campus again because pent-up emotions can be released in other ways.

It is our feeling that the vandalism that hit the campus the following Saturday night was a direct effect of the attitude stimulated by the panty raid. Destruction of state property is not a prank concerning the College, but it is an offense against the state of Virginia, and as such is subject to the criminal laws of Virginia.

Then last Saturday night a food riot was staged in the cafeteria. While the end, improvement of the cafeteria, is justified, the means are not justified. This newspaper asked for letters concerning any complaints that students have about the cafeteria, but none were written, leading us to believe that there were none. This week after the riot, letters are forthcoming. If the students have legitimate complaints, let them come to light so that something constructive can be done, not destructive. W.E.C.

The Honor System Revisited

Walking across campus the other day, we found ourselves face-to-face with a brand-new sign. "Keep off the Grass," it said, "Honor Offense."

We exaggerate, of course; no such sign has yet appeared. But with reference to recent developments in the Honor System, we begin to expect one any day. According to the Honor Councils, food theft in the cafeteria will from now on be designated an honor offense. Anyone taking an extra portion of food without permission or payment is therefore liable to an honor trial and expulsion. We feel that this is a highly questionable extension of the Honor System.

We are fortunate in the possession of an operative Honor System; and we use the word "operative" to emphasize the fact that there is a formal system. In principle, an honor "system" is superfluous. The honor pledge which every student signs is an ethical statement whose significance depends entirely upon the person who makes it; for the honorable, it is a formality, and, for the dishonorable, a farce. Honor in the fullest sense is an individual matter, and in this sense an honor "system" is meaningless. However, honor on the individual level differs in degree, if not in principle, from honor as applied to the daily life of a community of some two thousand people. On such a practical scale, the concept must be limited by a certain definition and organization; thus the Honor System, of which we are justly proud. However, even within its theoretical framework, we run into questions of definition and degree. What constitutes an honor offense, and what sort of treatment does such an offense justify? Borderline cases are bound to arise, and we feel that one of them is the recent extension of the Honor System's protection to the cafeteria.

In principle, we agree that stealing is stealing, whether it involves extra food in the cafeteria or extra money in someone else's room. This is a definition carried to its logical conclusion. As such, we feel that it is too rigid for practice. The concept of honor itself is adapted to practical application; and so, we feel, must be the breaches of honor. We feel that the extension of the Honor Code to the cafeteria is unfair, impractical, and detrimental to the Honor System. It is unfair insofar as the cafeteria can be considered a commercial organization. If it needs a police system to protect its property, it should certainly establish one. But to call upon the Honor Code for protection is in a sense an evasion of commercial responsibility. If the cafeteria is unable to meet its budget as a result of food thefts, the situation should be remedied by closer checking or additional proctoring — but not by using the Honor System as a club. The application of the Honor System to the cafeteria is also rather impractical. Who is expected to witness, or proffer charges? Trials would obviously become farcical.

A system intended to promote the highest degree of personal integrity in decisive situations has been reduced to absurdity. In our opinion, the day that a student is expelled for appropriating a ten-cent carton of milk will be the day that the Honor System loses its significance.

Requests Made of Operation

To the Editor:

Since 1931 there has existed on this campus an organization usually called the Philosophy Club. This organization has been sometimes formal and sometimes informal, as the members who met to discuss matters of philosophic nature when they deemed such meetings appropriate. The criterion for membership in this organization has been some degree of interest in the pursuit of the purpose stated above. Officers for this organization have been appointed, elected, or otherwise instated at times and by various means which were deemed appropriate and necessary by the members. Funds for this organization have been assessed, contributed, or otherwise accumulated by such means and at such times as the members considered necessary and appropriate.

This is a correct account of the manner in which this organization has operated since at least 1931. The present members of this organization request that the Philosophy Club be allowed to continue to operate in the same way that it has done since 1931.

Yours respectfully,
The Philosophy Club

Proposes Campus Conservation

To the Editor:

Since we all know it is fruitless and utterly absurd (not to mention its wasteful expense) to plant grass seed year after year in the trampled paths or time-savers, it might be wise to plant nice healthy, wholesome vegetables in these places and serve them in the cafe. The rows could be planted in such a manner as to provide short-cut paths for those in a hurry. This would undoubtedly kill two birds with one stone.

Through Opaque Glass

To the Editor:

Wednesday was one of the prettiest days of the year. Yet, I wonder how many freshmen and sophomores know that. It was difficult to tell what the weather was like, looking through the opaque glass of the several rather full restrooms around our fine campus.

Who or what was responsible for the negligence that cost so many the joy of such a pretty day? What assurance have we that another fine day will not be spoiled in the same way?

'System of Honor' Shows Lack

To the Editor:

The Honor Councils of the College should be commended for their stand against theft in the cafeteria. This step should be proof that the students of the College desire to apply this, the greatest of our priorities, to all phases of our campus life. On page fourteen of the College Catalogue, the article on the Honor System states that the Honor Code "assumes that every student is deeply concerned with the strict observance of these principles, for his own sake, for the sake of his fellow students, and for the sake of the College."

In keeping with this precept, it is important that we remember that our honor system was a gift by the faculty and administration to the students of the College. Why is it then that a student was refused a dessert by a cafeteria supervisor when he informed her that he had forgotten his when he came through the line. Did she not trust his honor? It seems that the cafeteria must feel that the system is a gift to them. The honor system entails the principle that since the students are honorable they should be completely trusted. The case mentioned in regard to the cafeteria is a minor one, but it shows something lacking in our "system of honor."

Possibly the cafeteria committee of the Student Government could look into this matter. Yours sincerely, Shore Robertson.

ON THE RECORD

"We have enough religion to make us hate, but not enough to make us love one another."

JONATHAN SWIFT

Religion can be a guiding light, a spiritual force, the door which, once opened, reveals truth, or it can be a hollow shell left vulnerable for the penetration and manipulation of men.

For every Paul Tillich, John Haynes Holmes, and Fulton Sheen, there is a corresponding Father Coughlin, Abba Hillel Silver, and Gerald L. K. Smith. For every man of God there is a man who uses God for his own ends—in every religious group there is that fringe which espouses a political cause in the name of religion, and which hides behind religion in this espousal.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union hides behind religion, behind the term "Christian," in supporting a ban on alcohol which is political and social, and which does little to cast light on man's relationship with God.

Those Jews who support Zionism are entering the arena of international affairs under the guise of religion. They display the Israeli flag, the flag of a sovereign foreign country, in their temples — they pressure the government on its behalf, and when challenged for these activities they claim that it is their religion — and those who oppose them are, thus, "anti-Semitic." They are hiding behind their religion in a clearly political area, although in many respects they seem to have forsaken its spiritual message.

The Roman Catholic Church wants state aid for church schools, it wants to ban for all readers and viewers the books and movies it considers objectionable for its own members. When these stands are opposed as un-democratic those who stand against them are called "anti-Catholic." But is it "anti-Catholic" to want free access to John O'Hara, James Joyce, and Ernest Hemingway? Is it bigotry to want to see a movie about Martin Luther? Once again these people are hiding behind their religion and seem afraid to debate the issues on the public affairs platforms where they belong.

Many evil deeds have been committed in the name of God — the inquisitions, the persecutions, the wars, and the burning of books. The Bible is rarely read and church edicts take its place as moral law. But in America all issues are matters for public discussion and no man — Protestant, Catholic, or Jew — can use his church as his shield where political issues are concerned.

America is great because America is different. Here all men can pray as they please, and vote as they choose. But no man can hide behind the apron-strings of a church when he wants to discuss politics. When we give to God what ought to go to Caesar one or the other will, no doubt become quite disturbed. When this occurs your society becomes weak and disjointed — and eventually it will collapse.

Works on Governors and Campaigns

W&M Boasts Historical Authors

by Al Kennedy

This year appears to be a rather active one, insofar as the History Department at the college is concerned. Earlier in this academic period Dr. Ludwell Johnson's work, The Red River Campaign, was published by the Johns Hopkins University Press, and more recently the FLAT HAT was informed by Dr. James M. Smith of the Institute of Early American History and Culture that Dr. William W. Abbott, an associate professor in the History Department, has successfully had his work, The Royal Governors of Georgia, published by the University of North Carolina Press for the Institute of Early American History and Culture.

The Institute is a joint venture of the College and Colonial Williamsburg, Inc. It regularly issues the William and Mary Quarterly, of which Dr. Abbot is the book review editor.

Georgia: 1754-1776

Dr. Abbot, a native Georgian, is currently on a one-year leave of absence teaching at Northwestern University in Illinois. He began a study of political developments in Georgia in the years before the formation of the federal union.

It has already received favorable comment from Dr. Wesley Frank Craven, the noted Princeton historian, who stated: "Abbot's book is unusually well written; it has sophistication, pace, and a sense of proportion. He has a fine regard for balance and style. This is a first class study."

Clear and Detailed The Royal Governors of Georgia, speculates the noted historian John R. Alden," is decidedly superior. The narrative is clear and detailed, and the estimates of people and forces in Georgia are judicious. It makes a very real contribution to colonial as well as Georgia history."

The first royal governor, as illustrated by the work, was appointed in 1754 and the last one departed in 1776. It must be remembered that Georgia was founded by Oglethorpe in 1733 as an entrepreneurial venture.

On Campus with Max Sholman (By the Author of "Rally Round the Flag, Boys!" and "Barefoot Boy with Cheek.")

VIVE LE POPCORN!

The other day as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil, (Marlboro, incidentally, has the best tinfoil, which is not surprising when you consider that they have the best cigarettes, which is not surprising when you consider that they take the best filters and put them together with the best tobaccos and rush them to your tobacco counter, fresh and firm and loaded with smoking pleasure). The other day, I say, as I was walking down the street picking up tinfoil, (I have, incidentally, the second largest ball of tinfoil in our family. My brother Eleanor's is bigger—more than four miles in diameter—but, of course, he is taller than I). The other day, as I was saying, while walking down the street picking up tinfoil, I passed a campus and right beside it, a movie theatre which specialized in showing foreign films. Most campuses have foreign movie theatres close by, because foreign movies are full of culture, art, and esoterica, and where is culture more rife, art more rampant, and esoterica more endemic than on a campus?

Nowhere; that's where.

I hope you have all been taking advantage of your local foreign film theatre. Here you will find no simple-minded Hollywood products, marked by treacly sentimentality and machine-made bravura. Here you will find life itself—in all its grimness, its poverty, its naked, raw passion!

Have you, for instance, seen the recent French import, Le Crayon de Mon Oncle ("The Kneecap"), a savage and uncompromising story of a man named Claude, whose consuming ambition is to get a job as a meter reader with the Paris water department? But he is unable, alas, to afford the flashlight one needs for this position. His wife, Bon-Bon, sells her hair to a wigmaker and buys him a flashlight. Then, alas, Claude discovers that one also requires a leatherette bow tie. This time his two young daughters, Caramel and Nougat, sell their hair to a wigmaker. So now Claude has his leatherette bow tie, but now, alas, his flashlight battery is burned out and the whole family, alas, is bald.

Or have you seen the latest Italian masterpiece, La Donna E Mobile (I Ache All Over), a heart-shattering tale of a boy and his dog? Malvolio, a Venetian lad of nine, loves his little dog with every fibre of his being. He has one great dream: to enter the dog in the annual Venetian dog show. But this, alas, requires an entrance fee, and Malvolio, alas, is penniless. However, he saves and scrimps and steals and finally gets enough together to enter the dog in the show. The dog, alas, comes in twenty-third. Malvolio sells him to a vivisectionist.

Or have you seen the new Japanese triumph, Kibutzi-San (The Radish), a pulse-stirring historical romance about Yamoto, a poor farmer, and his daughter Ethel who are accosted by a warlord one morning on their way to market? The warlord cuts Yamoto in half with his samurai sword and runs off with Ethel. When Yamoto recovers, he seeks out Ethel's fiancé, Red Buttons, and together they find the warlord and kill him. But, alas, the warlord was also a sorcerer and he whimsically turned Ethel into a whooping crane. Loyal Red Buttons takes Ethel home where he feeds her fish heads for twenty years and keeps hoping she'll turn back into a woman. She never does. Alas.

Eight Amendments Proposed

WSCGA Drafts Constitution Changes

Eight changes have been proposed for the Constitution of the Women's Student Cooperative Government Association.

The first change deals with page 23, Article 6, Section 2, (11 c) "Four trials before the Judicial Council will necessitate a letter on the woman student's permanent record, and all subsequent infractions of social rules will be referred to the Disciplinary Committee."

The second change concerns page 27, article 6. "It shall be the duty of the House president (H) to report to the house-mother the result of any trial in her dormitory."

The third is page 40, article 14, section 3. "Late permissions will be revoked until all dues and fines, House and Student Government, have been paid to the treasurer."

Fourth is page 20, article 5, section 3, K. "To serve as the vice chairman of the Student Assembly Senate."

Fifth is page 42, article 18. "Women students are held not only to the letter, but to the spirit of the rules of the WSCGA."

Sixth is page 29, article 7. "A student who has been suspended or expelled for a violation of the Honor Code, or who has been sent away on an expulsion or suspension offense, or who has left college under suspicion of a breach of the Honor Code, may not return as a visitor to the College dormitories, except with the permission of the proper administrative authorities of the College."

Seventh is page 29, article 7. "All major decisions of the Honor Council shall be reported to the President of the College, Dean of Women, Dean of Students and Asst. Dean of Women."

Squad Spirit Rises: Team Effort Evident

W&M Varsity, Freshmen Trackmen Conquer UR

Chandler, Jefferson Top Two in Swim With Pi Phi Third

Chandler dormitory came out on top in the womens' intramural swimming competition in Blow Pool last Tuesday night. Jefferson placed second, followed closely by Pi Beta Phi.

Kappa Kappa Gamma and Chi Omega completed the top five teams. Kappa Alpha Theta placed sixth while Landrum and Delta Delta Delta tied for seventh.

Out of the more than 60 participants, the individual winners and runners-up were: 20 yard free style, Dee Ann Angel, Chi Omega; followed by Mary Welsh, Kappa Alpha Theta; 40 yard back crawl, Paula Lauritzen, Theta, first; Marion Sheeran, Kappa Kappa Gamma, second; 40 yard breast stroke, Tish Griffin, Pi Phi, and Shiras Elliott, Chandler, runner-up.

Other finishers were: 60 yard medley relay, Dee Ann Angel, Ebbie Reams, and Ruth Shoemaker of Chi Omega, followed closely by the Chandler team; in the 80 yard free style relay Dot Young, Nancy Johnson, Dorsey Hill, and Mary Margaret Dameron put Chandler in first. Kappa placed second.

Pat Chastain of Jefferson and Mary Margaret Dameron of Chandler were winner and runner-up respectively in the diving competition. Dorsey Hill of Chandler won both the 60 yard individual medley and the 40 yard free style competition. She was followed by Pat Chastain of Jefferson in the latter race and by Tish Griffin of Pi Phi in the individual medley.

The swimming meet was handled by student manager Patty Jo Divers assisted by Tish Griffin.

Practice for the intramural softball competition between the sororities and the girls' dorms will begin soon.

Jerry Quandt breaks into smile just before he hit the finishing line for a victory in the mile run in last Tuesday's track meet with the University of Richmond on Cary Field.

Coach Harry Groves' well-stocked track squad continued its rout of Virginia track competition on Tuesday with a 93-38 smash of the University of Richmond.

The meet was highlighted by tremendous team effort with many of the thinclads competing in events other than their specialties.

Bracken Sets Record

The freshman squad added their third win of the year, drubbing the Spider yearlings 89-32. On the way to the victory the first-year-men won every event except one. Running times were hampered by a stiff wind, but shot putter Pete Bracken found the wind no trouble as he heaved the shot to a new freshman record of 45 feet 10 inches. Pete also won the discus with a heave of 118 feet 7 inches.

The varsity squad scored 9-0 sweeps in the 440, high jump and broad jump. Led by smooth running Bill Davis, hurdler Warren Joblin and Nick St. George completed the sweep of the quarter. Teammates Bob Storm and Dan Walker tied for first

by Mike McCall

The Kappa Alpha team of Tommy Martin and Dave Edmunds dethroned the faculty's team of Bill Chambers and Milt Drewer to gain the handball doubles championship.

Chambers and Drewer won the first game by an eleven point margin, 21-10. In this game Martin and Edmunds were not returning the smashing serves of the faculty team. In the second and third games the KA's tried very few kills and let their opponents make the mistakes.

Martin and Edmunds got stronger as the games progressed. They won the final two games by identical scores, 21-14. During the tournament they took on three tough faculty teams. They were: Gill and Mark, Derringer and Agee, and Brewer and Chambers. They also beat Sigma Nu's Brusko and Plumer and Kappa Sig's Davidson and Bottoms. The champions played extremely well as a team and made very few mistakes.

Badminton

Another week of badminton competition has gone by with the field being cut in half again: Tom Farrington, Kappa Sig, champion for the past two years, won his match over Bill Thatch, Pi Lamb, without much trouble.

In other action Marshall Acupp, Lambda Chi, overcame Chuck Sanders, Sigma Nu. Maurice Tomilson, beat John Jhorr, Theta Delt, in a three game series. Dick Neely, Pi Lamb, decided Danny Livermore, Sigma Nu, while Dick Sanders, Kappa Sig, won over Gil Bartlett, Pi Lamb. Bobby Brown, SAE, and Bruce Hobbs, PiKA, won their matches by forfeit.

Bill Smith, Pi Lamb, beat

Mike Pokorny, SAE, and Jim Ukrop, SAE, overcame Bill Dodd, Lambda Chi. Jeff Udell, Pi Lamb, won his match with

Dave Bottoms, Kappa Sig. Carl Wannan defeated Jack White, Sigma Nu, to gain points for PiKA. Bob Evanovich, SAE, won over Ron Monark, Lambda Chi. Charlie Gobrecht, Kappa Sig, defeated George Dresser, Pegis Club. Doc Comegys, Sigma Nu, advanced another round by beating Dick Norsworthy, Sigma Pi.

Bill Darrow, Kappa Sig, won his match with Dan Sheehan, Lambda Chi. John Severin, Pi Lamb, defeated Chuck Hassett, Sigma Nu. Nat Withers, Sigma Nu, remained in contention by beating Bob Wachs of Pi Lamb. Steve Edwards, Kappa Sig, beat Billy Jones, SAE, and Ken Kransberg, Pi Lamb, overcame Tony Spallone, PiKA.

Edmunds

in the high jump at five feet ten inches. Ray Varga secured the third.

Varsity Sweeps Three Events

Dave Edmunds, Bill Coe and John Lacey provided strength in the broad jump. Edmunds' winning jump was 19 feet 2 1/2 inches.

In the mile, Jerry Quandt took over from a slow pack to win by 80 yards in 4:46. Quandt returned to run one leg of the mile relay. Jerry's 220 time on the way to his quarter was 25 flat, faster than the distance man has ever covered the distance.

Half mile honors went to first-year-man, Jack White. Jack's time was 2:05.1. Bob DeTombe, seldom-running Co-Captain, fin-

Big Green Linksmen Edged by VPI After Beating Norfolk Division, 24-3

The varsity golf team smashed the Norfolk division 24-3, and then was edged by VPI 5-4 in matches last week. Against Norfolk William and Mary, Jim Barret was medalist with a 73 which helped the Tribe average 76 strokes per man for the contest. Ken Rice, despite a fine 75, was held to a tie in the number two match.

Tim Timberlake hit 16 greens in regulation, but he had a 76 due to five three putt greens. Number five man Chip Ingram also turned in a fine 76.

Playing without the services of number two man Rice, the Tribe was just edged by VPI, one of the powers of the conference. The deciding factor was a one down loss in the third best ball match on the 20th hole. Jeff Stafford played his first match for the Tribe in the number six position.

Freshman Win

The freshman squad opened its season successfully by smashing Wilson High of Norfolk 19-2, and then by doing the same to Hampton, 16 1/2-1 1/2. Jeff Graham was the medalist in both matches firing a 79 in the rain against Wilson and a brilliant 73 against Hampton.

Micky Baughman was the second low scorer in both matches with an 80 and a 77. Despite 35 degree weather and rain the squad averaged 81 ished third. DeTombe tripped in the meet, running the half, mile and two mile.

Taking over a wide lead, Co-Captain Bill McCuen jogged through the tape in the two mile with a winning time of 10:49.1. Warren Joblin, capped a full afternoon by taking the low hurdles. In a new roll Warren ran and placed in the high hurdles also.

Lambda Chi Wins Three Games In Week of High Scoring Contests

by Jeff Udell

Last week the intramural softball league saw its second full week of competition. Lambda Chi enjoyed a successful week winning three games without a loss. They scored a total of 57 runs in three games, while smashing Epsilon Tau 23-4, the Pegis Club 18-6, and defeating Kappa Alpha 16-11. Mike Lashley picked up one of the wins, and Howie Hill the other two.

PiKA won two and lost one last week. They were defeated by Sigma Pi 19-11, but smashed Theta Delta Chi 17-2 and the Jolly Rogers 25-3. Against the Jolly Rogers PiKA scored 10 runs in the first inning on the strength of eight hits, which included two home runs. Every man on PiKA's squad scored at least once in the first inning.

Jolly Rogers 1-2

The Jolly Rogers were 1-2 on the week because in their second outing they defeated the Pegis Club 16-9. Lauren Kardatzki paced the winners going three for four at the plate and getting on the fourth time on an error. After two innings the score was tied at six all but in the last four innings the Jolly Rogers exploded for fourteen runs.

They were edged by Phi Kappa Tau 16-15 although the Jolly Rogers scored six runs in the last inning. Kardatzke was again outstanding going three for five.

Kappa Sigma, still looking like one of the real powerhouses of the league, smashed Theta Delta Chi 36-9. Dave Bottoms got the win with fine hitting to back him up. His team scored 11 runs in the last inning. Dave Gatti smashed a home run for the winners in the first inning.

Superbas Split

The Superbas split on the week defeating Pi Lambda Phi 15-8 and being edged by Sigma Nu 9-7. Against Sigma Nu they scored four runs in the last frame but it wasn't enough to overtake the Numen. Sigma Nu scored seven of its nine runs in the sixth inning. Lenny Rubal was the winner and Dave Brownell the loser.

Brownell picked up the win against Pi Lamb and had fine support especially from shortstop Gil McNair who scored four times for the Superbas.

SAE Splits

Sigma Alpha Epsilon split on the week losing to the Faculty 8-4 and edging Epsilon Tau 8-7. They had to score five runs in the last inning to beat Epsilon Tau who led throughout the contest. Jon Stephenson scored three times for SAE.

The Faculty's four runs in the second inning was the margin of victory for them over SAE. Sigma Alpha Epsilon scored three of its four runs in the first inning and Joe Agee got the win for the Faculty.

Hillel, Lutheran Win In Volleyball League Sponsored by SRU

Balfour Hillel and the Lutheran Union posted victories in the opening week of the Student Religious Union sponsored Volleyball League. The games were played on the court behind the Baptist Student Union.

With Jerry Temes setting up Bernie Goldstien and Dave Kurland, Hillel defeated Wesley Foundation. The Lutheran Union was victorious over Westminster Fellowship. This week's schedule has Canterbury vs. Newman on Wednesday evening and Baptist Student Union vs. Westminster.

Seven Teams Entered

The League is a follow up of a successful bowling league also sponsored by the Student Religious Union. The S.R.U. consists of the eight different religious groups on campus. Seven of them are entered in the volleyball league.

Carol Ridgeway, Barret Second, has been put in charge of the league and is being assisted by Dave Diehr, Bryan East First. A trophy will be awarded to the winner of this event at the end of the year when other S.R.U. winners receive theirs.

THE SPORTS FAN

by Fran Recchuiti
Flat Hat Sports Editor

Last Saturday night we were accosted by an old acquaintance, Dick Grizzard, who in no uncertain words let us know which fraternity was going to win the intramural championship. Grizzard went on to expound how the Sigma Nu softball team was going to the track team, to be presented by the Numen, was unbeatable, pick up all the chips in that phase of competition. He added that according to Dick, Sigma Nu cannot be beaten. Later we accosted brother Jack Grizzard, who was a little more uncertain about his fraternity's chances. Jack still thought Sigma Nu would win but he figured on a closer race than brother Dick. We still feel that Sigma Nu could absorb too much of a loss in badminton and golf to make it a runaway.

The Student Religious Union has come up with the latest in campus competition. Harry Alwine is in charge of putting together a bridge tournament, but the only requirement is that competitors represent religious organizations. This could probably be the greatest back to religion movement since Billy Graham. So all you bridge fanatics who inhabit the wigwag; stay up until wee hours of the morning in the girls' dorms, and disrupt the life in Bryan lounge, run right out and sign up in your respective denominations for the coming "world series" in bridge. This should be a good challenge to your capacities.

The athletics performed at the IFC Block Party on Saturday proved to be very injurious. The participants in the sack race were really mauled. One girl reported to the infirmary because she thought she had a broken arm. A fellow dorm resident has iodine all over the left side of his body and swears that he has a fractured foot. A suggestion that we'd like to make for next year is to have contact of one form or another—it's safer that way.

Plaudits go to Pete Bracken who puts on a show as a shot putter for the freshman track team. Every time he heaves the 16 pound weight it seems to go further. Pete usually attracts a pretty good crowd for his heaves, and he usually breaks a record every time he throws.

While on the subject of track, Harry Groves still has the only undefeated team in spring competition.

As you have probably already noticed Tony Wilson returned to his typewriter this week after spending many Happy Hours around the campus, all around the campus. We're glad to have him aboard again and hope you enjoy him as much as we do.

Heims, Kranzberg Continue Winning

Mike Heims and Ken Kranzberg kept pace with each other by winning both their singles encounters this week. Both have a record of 2 wins and one loss in Southern Conference Tennis play.

In spite of these victories the netmen lost 5-4 to Richmond and 6-3 to VMI. The Indians picked up only one other singles victory and that by Jerry King.

The freshman team suffered their first setback at the Hands of Ft. Eustis 9-0, but then defeated Warwick High School 9-0.

Golf . . .

against Wilson. Graham swept all three points in his match by wide margins. Number one man Chip Lillich won 2 1/2-1/2. Baughman swept his match and Nick Brown won 2-1. Jeff Udell won 2 1/2-1/2, winning his overall match eight and seven.

Against Hampton Graham and Lillich had little trouble sweeping all three points in their matches. The team averaged 79 against Hampton. Graham toured the back nine in a one under par 36.

The squad's next match is against Norfolk William and Mary's varsity and should prove to be a lot closer than the previous two matches.

EXTRA POINTS

by Tony Wilson

One of the biggest guessing games currently in circulation around the campus concerns head basketball mentor Bill Chambers. Everybody knows, Chambers has completed two years at W&M and has received high respect and praise for his coaching ability. Not long ago, it was reported by Daily Press sports editor Charles Karmosky that coach Chambers was the leading candidate for the coaching vacancy at Duke University. Mr. Karmosky is full of that respect and it is the hope here to set people straight on the Chambers-Duke U. relationship.

Actually, Chambers was one of the first men to be considered for the job — but not necessarily first in demand. You might say he was the "lead-off" candidate! This Duke position, which offers limited opportunity for reaching basketball heights, is flooded with applications from all over the country. Bill McCann of UVA and Chuck Noe of VPI are two, to name a few, who are known to be interested. Chambers is then — just one of many possible candidates.

Advantages At Duke

If offered, will he accept the Duke position? Chambers does not commit himself on this but he does suggest the many advantages at the Duke institution might offer. At Duke the facilities are better, the pay greater, scholarships are larger, and of most importance — there is the opportunity for a coach to move up with the competition in ACC play. Thus the athletic facilities and higher personnel at Duke would naturally present a tempting challenge to any coach who desires to progress in his field.

The Case For W&M

In weighing the advantages and disadvantages at W&M, Chambers expressed a strong loyalty to his alma mater; "as long as I remain here by goal will always attempt to further and improve the athletic program." It is evident that he intends to wait for Duke to make an offer before his decision can be reached. And even if he does receive the bid, it is possible that Chambers will remain at W&M. He said, "the personal relationships of the school are another factor to judge, — and I am well-satisfied at W&M."

However, at W&M I can see at least one glaring disadvantage that will always block the path of any enterprising and resourceful coach. That is the incompatibility of higher educational aims with the prospects of a big time athletic program. The present and future tightening of academic standards hinders a team in so far as getting athletes in — and then keeping them. At Duke the conflict is not so acute. Other hindrances at W&M lie in the nature of a liberal arts institution — lacking the technical selling-point of a larger school, and the meager facilities (small gym, etc.) which hardly allow athletics to pay their own way.

The Limits of W&M

Thus a basketball (or football) team at W&M can only be "so good." They are operating within limits which make big time athletics impossible. William and Mary can have good and exciting teams only within the limits of second level competition and surprise occasions — no consistent powerhouses.

I wouldn't be surprised if Duke does make the offer to Chambers, and even though he has not expressed it, I wouldn't be surprised if he takes it. One thing for sure; — if the Duke berth is available the decision will be his own.

W&M Baseball Braves Held to Two Hits As Va. Tech's Bill May Cops 5-1 Victory

by Richie Snyder

Virginia Tech pitcher Bill May turned in one of the finest pitching performances of the year Friday afternoon on the Reservation as VPI downed the Indians 5-1. Singles by Bob Stoy in the eighth and Tom Martin in the ninth inning prevented the Tribe from being no-hit victims.

Rightfielder Bob Stoy connects for a single in last Friday's game to break up the no-hitter by VPI's Bill May.

It wasn't until the fifth inning that the Indians had a base runner. Tom Secules reached first on an error and with one out Stoy was safe on a fielder's choice. Wayne Lowry then struck out and Gordon Johnston flied to right to kill a potential rally.

The Tribe, trailing 5-0, finally tallied in the eighth when Stoy singled and Joe Dodd walked followed by a passed ball and a fielder's choice. The Indians had their best chance to get back into the ball game in this inning. When Gobbler backstop, Al Sebest allowed a passed ball, Stoy and Dodd advanced to third and second respectively. Johnston tapped a roller to short but Joe Dodd running to third and trying to harrass the shortstop, was tagged out on a fielder's choice. Stoy scored the lone Indian tally on this play. With one out and Johnston on first, Brown struck out and Norm Caplan flied to center. Tom Martin hit a one out single in the ninth, but Tom Secules hit into a game ending double play.

Starter Bill Becker breezed through the first three innings before giving up three big runs in the fourth.

W&M Victorious in Lacrosse, Tennis As Briscoe, Floyd Are Outstanding

On Friday afternoon the Squaws posted their second victory of the lacrosse season by defeating Westhampton, 4-2. Their slate now reads two wins and no losses.

Marge Briscoe led the scorers with three goals. Added to her four compiled in the Sweetbriar game, she now has a total of seven tallies. Dorsey Hill contributed the remaining goal. Hill also scored four in the Sweetbriar contest. This brings her total to five goals.

Briscoe, Boggs Outstanding

Briscoe was the outstanding offensive player. Nancy Boggs at point position performed a magnificent job defensively. Her skillful maneuvering and body checking were outstanding.

W & M led the scoring throughout the entire game. At half-time the score book read W & M, 2; Westhampton, 0.

This coming weekend the Virginia Lacrosse Tournament will be held at Hollins College. At this tournament Virginia first and second teams are chosen to represent the state in the national tournament.

Last year Miss Grace E. Matz, physical education instructor at the Reservation, was selected to be on the Virginia first team.

Tennis Team Victorious

The women's varsity tennis team traveled to Greensboro, N. C., on Saturday, and they defeated the Women's College of North Carolina, three matches to one.

Donna Floyd, playing first singles, won her match by the scores of 6-1 and 6-0. Fran Davis in the second singles won 6-4 and 6-4. Melinda Green lost the third singles match 4-6, 6-1, 3-6.

Manu Layne and Meci Carlson defeated the doubles team of WCUNC by the scores of 6-2, 5-7, and 6-3.

continued back toward his early season form with a winning toss of 129 feet 8 inches. The mile relay of Coe, St. George, Quandt and White pulled from behind on the second lap to easily win.

Diederich

The freshman meet had three double winners: Bracken, John Bahm and Bob Diederich. Bahm swept both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Diederich followed by winning the high and low hurdles.

Two events were swept 9-0: the broad jump and the 880. Roger Hale leaped 20 feet 4 inches for the winning distance in the field event. George Bassett led Durman Arrington and Dave Hume across the line in the half mile. Keith Larson continued to dominate mile competition. Bert Parth annexed the high jump at 5 feet 7 inches.

W&M Choir Departs for Annual Tour Including Stops in 3 States This Year

A bus bulging with baggage, equipment and choristers will depart tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m. as the William and Mary Choir starts its annual tour. This year's itinerary includes stops in Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

First stop will be the Drexel Hill Junior High School Auditorium, just outside Philadelphia on Thursday night. The following morning the choir will present an assembly program at the Haverford High School. The second concert will be given Friday night in New York City's Gramercy Park Hotel, and the final performance is slated for Saturday night in the New England Mutual Building Auditorium in Boston.

Television

While in Philadelphia, the choir will make a video tape for WFIL television.

According to Dr. Carl A. Fehr, director of the choir, 40 singers, 20 male and 20 female voices, will make the trip.

Included on the program for the concerts will be works by Bach, Poulenc, and Verdi; a number of folk songs; and operatic selections from "Cavalleria Rusticana", "Die Meistersinger," and "Boris Godunov."

The William and Mary Choir was organized by Dr. Fehr when he joined the faculty in 1945.

Suggests Changes

To the Editor:

Recent occurrences at the College have led us to make an observation which is so obvious as to hardly bear repeating; namely, that certain attitudes and policies of the administration toward student behavior are producing the very consequences which they are intended to prevent. We refer, in particular, to the recently-announced policy of holding spectators at any disturbances equally responsible with the participants, the WSCGA regulations, the indifferent attitude toward the conditions in the cafeteria, the insistence on administrative permission for student group activity, and so forth.

This letter is written not with the intent of satire or instructive criticism, but as a suggestion to the administration that they take time to reflect upon the probable effects, both short and long-range, of reinforcing the very restriction towards which a significant number of the student body already feel resentment. A moment's reflection is sometimes worth more than the appearance of an official with a flashlight. The short-range effects of current policy have already been felt; the long-range consequences may be felt in the shortage of funds from alumni. It is at least worthy of consideration.

With the hope that the fruits of our effort are not left to rot in the basket labelled "Insignificant Student Responses to Matters of Official Business," we remain

Yours respectfully,

Students Say

To the Editor:

At various times throughout the year, students have written you, giving their opinions of the condition of the food in the cafeteria. After each of these letters, the president of the student body has severely lashed out at those who express their feelings. It is, in our opinion, never wrong or "small" to lodge legitimate complaints against some thing or organization which is in such a visible need of revision.

It is with this in mind that we submit this letter to you.

The point brought up in past letters that there is an over abundance of starches in the food, as well as a surplus of strange concoctions has great merit. Such things as pineapple cooked with carrots, or prunes filled with peanut butter offer sufficient evidence. In addition, the food seems to be unnecessarily greasy; so much, in fact, that several of us have suffered from upset stomachs on more than one occasion.

The pitifully small portions are the chief concern of nearly everyone we have talked to. A majority of the people in our dormitory go out nearly every evening for snacks. Why? Because the cafeteria simply does not offer most people an adequate amount of food.

Within the last few days, the honor councils have put up signs saying it is an honor offense to take extra food without permission. It is true that people have been taking extra portions of food. The question is why have they been doing it? It seems to us that if people thought that they were getting full value for their board fee, they would not be so prone to want to break the rules and take extra food. An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth is the sentiment we have heard expressed on the subject.

Should the school not be eligible for federal aid, then would it be possible for the school to raise the price of the semester's board, say, fifty dollars and increase the size of individual portions? If this were done, the students would not find the extra snacks they buy so necessary.

AUTOMOBILE GUEST LIABILITY

Joe College was driving down Richmond Road when he spotted his friend Wally Doakes walking in the same direction. Wally called out, "hey Joe, how about a ride to Jones's?" Joe being a good friend said "sure hop in." And off they went.

On the way, Joe, drove into a parked car and Wally's leg and arm were broken. Now Wally wants to know if Joe or Joe's insurance company is liable for the injuries he sustained.

In some states there would be such a liability, but not in Virginia. Under a Virginia law, which is often called the "guest statute," the driver is not liable unless he is grossly negligent or has shown a wilful and wanton disregard of safety and property.

If Joe had a collision with another car and the driver of the other car was at fault, then Wally would have a cause of action against the driver of the car. Even if Joe was negligent and the other driver was also negligent, he may have a good cause of action against the other driver, if you show that he (the other driver) caused your injury, but still not against Joe unless it can be shown that he was grossly negligent.

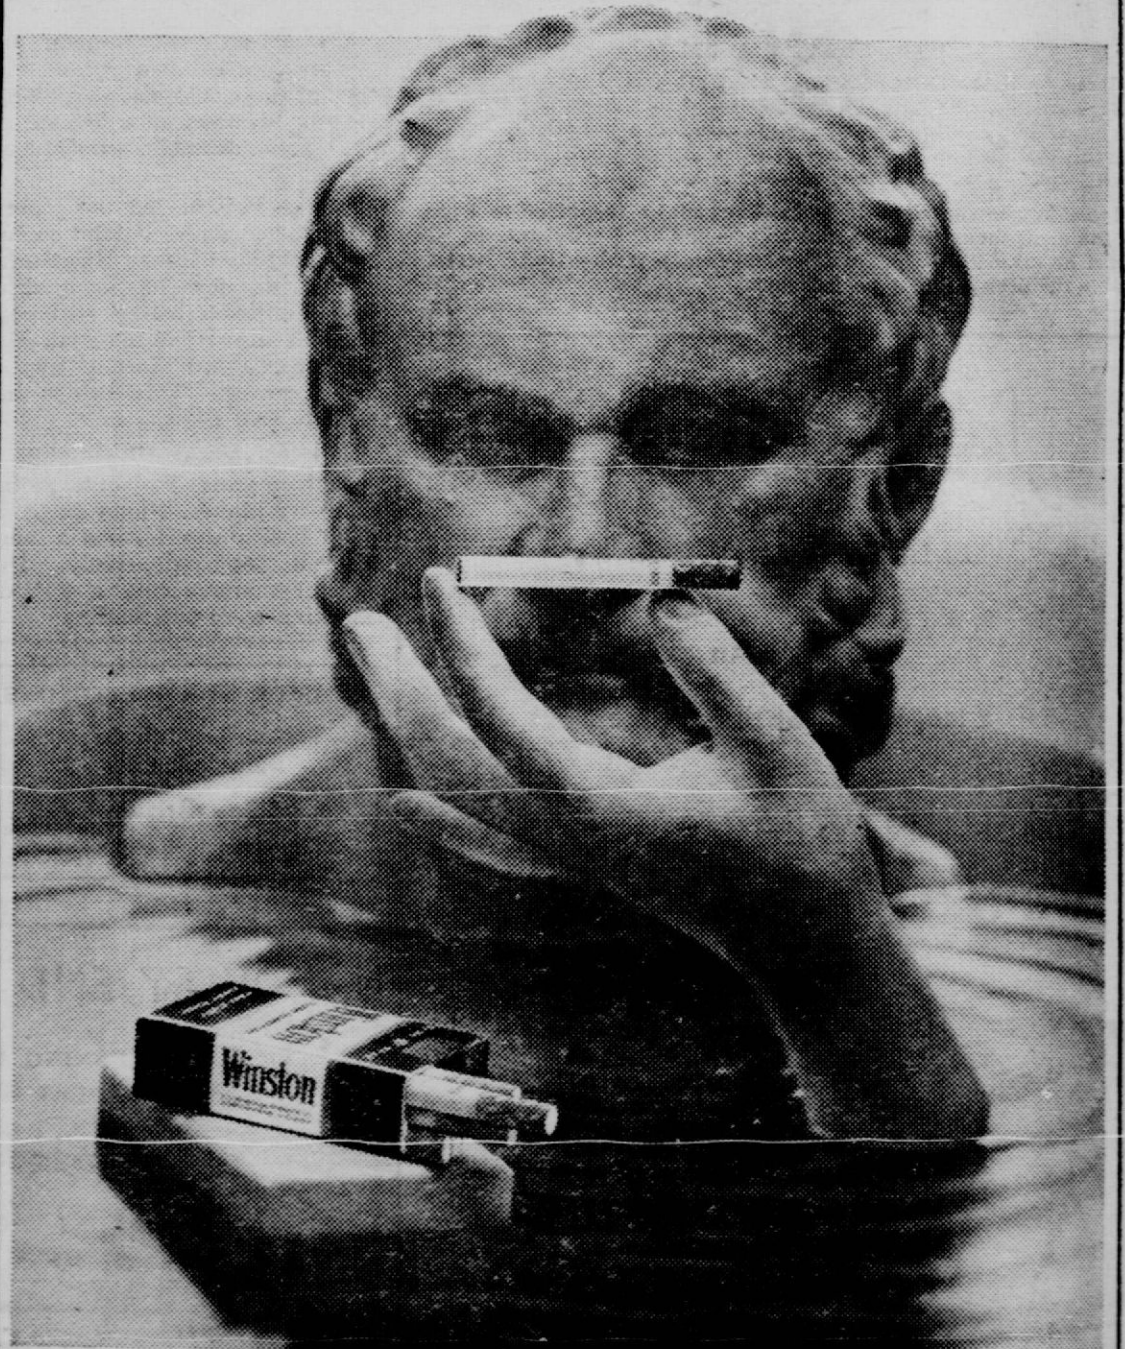

It has been held that one who shares in the expenses of a trip is still a guest under this statute. So, if Joe was driving home to Norfolk and Wally went along and paid the tunnel fare for both of them, under the Virginia statute, Wally would still be a guest.

makes another great discovery...

It's what's up front that counts

You can reproduce the experiment. It's easy as π . (Yes, you can do it in the bathtub.) Assuming that you have first visited your friendly tobacconist, simply light your first Winston and smoke it. Reasoning backwards, the discovery proceeds as follows: first, you will notice a delightful flavor, in the class of fresh coffee or of bread baking. Obviously, such flavor cannot come from the filter. Therefore, it's what's up front that counts: Winston's Filter-Blend. The tobaccos are selected for flavor and mildness, then specialy processed for filter smoking. This extra step is the real difference between Winston and all other filter cigarettes. Besides, it's why Winston is America's best-selling filter cigarette.

"Eureka! Winston tastes good... like a cigarette should!"

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson will be the keynote speaker at the annual prelude to Independence Day Ceremonies in Williamsburg May 15. The celebration opens a six-week commemoration of important events in 1776 that culminated in the passage of the Declaration of Independence on July 4. Previous speakers at the May 15 ceremony have been Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Columbia University President Grayson Kirk, President Eisenhower, and U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Discussing "The Soviet Union's Economic and Political Penetration Into Latin America" Dr. Clifford F. Owen, associate professor of Economics, concluded that the relationships between Latin America and the Soviet Union do not imply sympathy to world communism. They are mainly trying to stimulate their economies he told the Economics Club.

A synchronized swimming clinic sponsored by the William and Mary Mermettes was conducted here Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18. About 20 girls from Longwood, Norfolk Division, and Radford attended. Discussion groups were held, films were shown, and the swimmers were coached on various stunts. The girls were also aided in writing numbers.

If Wally felt that Joe's negligence was gross in nature then it would be up to Wally's attorney to prove it in court. If they could not prove Joe's wanton disregard for safety, then the court would have to go along with the assumption that Joe was not liable for Wally's injuries and that Wally would have to pay for the medical bills himself.

The theory of the "guest law" is that Joe had no obligation to do Wally a favor by giving him a ride, so then he should not be responsible for Wally's welfare unless he is grossly negligent in causing Wally's injuries. This is a good feeling in placing responsibility, but let me leave you with one seed for future thought; Does such responsibility have to be so removed in a state where insurance is compulsory? If a man is forced to buy insurance, then why not make his insurance company responsible to everyone that he hurts.

The money they spend for snacks could be applied to the increased price of the board. The example of Harvard will give concrete substantiation to our point.

Harvard charges $250 per semester. They serve a greater amount of meat per week, and all students are allowed seconds. Would it be so difficult to follow this example?

We would like it to be clearly understood that this letter is not intended to be "in poor taste," or be unduly disparaging toward any particular individual or group. It merely represents the opinions and suggestions of the undersigned, and is submitted in the interest of making constructive suggestions for the improvement of the school.

Police Official Lohman to Speak On Topic of Violence And Society

by Allan C. Brownfeld

Joseph D. Lohman, a police official who has also been a college professor, will speak on "Violence and Society" at the next meeting of the Marshal-Wythe Symposium Friday in Washington 200.

Until he was elected to the post of treasurer of the state of Illinois, Lohman was sherrif of Cook County, where Chicago is located, and since 1947 has been a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago.

A graduate of the Universities of Denver and Wisconsin, Lohman, who is 48, has been a specialist in the fields of criminology and labor management. He is a founder and member of the faculty of the Southern Policy Institute of Louisville, Kentucky, and has been a consultant to police departments in Louisville, New Orleans, Washington, D. C., and a number of other cities.

Among his published writings

Lohman

Interpreted as Honor Offense

Honor Council Posts Rules on Extra Food

by Jo Ann Dotson

Monday, April 13, announcements were posted in the cafeteria by the chairmen of the Honor Council stating that the stealing of milk and other food would be interpreted as an honor offense.

Although the loaning of cafeteria cards is not a violation of the Honor Code, under the new regulation taking extra food in the cafeteria will come under the jurisdiction of the Honor Council.

Not Satisfactory

This step was taken after Miss Tinker complained about students taking extra cartons of milk. Bruiser Camp, chairman of the Men's Honor Council, said that he realized that there has been some talk among students about the posting of the new announcements. "I do feel, however," he said, "that the situation at present is not satisfactory and something will have to be worked out."

Glenn Cayward, a junior member of the Council and recently elected senior member, commented, "It will be up to the newly elected Honor Councils to work out some equitable means of dealing with this recent extension of the Honor Code."

Notice

The notice as it appeared on the walls and in other prominent places in the Cafe reads as follows: "The taking of extra food without the permission of the person in charge of the cafeteria is stealing which is a violation of the honor code." Signed Junius W. Camp and Roberta Schrom, Chairman of the Men's and Women's Honor Councils.

Scholarships

Scholarship application blanks for the 1959-60 Session are now available in the Office of Student Aid. Students who wish to apply for scholarship aid for the first time or for renewal of aid should see Mr. John C. Bright, Director of Student Aid.

Applications for the 1959-60 Session must be completed and returned to Mr. Bright by May 1, 1959.
