

Richmond Symphony Concert Is Postponed to Later Date

Orchestra Is Not Available for Jan. 7, and Other Dates During the Month Would Be too Near Vacation or Exams.

DR. MARSH IS CHAIRMAN

House Presidents in Dormitories, Fraternity and Sorority Houses to Sell Tickets.

The Richmond Symphony Orchestra concert which was to be given Tuesday, Jan. 7, has been postponed to a later date, according to Dr. C. F. Marsh, general chairman of all arrangements. It was impossible for the orchestra to appear on the date selected, and it was decided that any other time in January would be either too soon after the Christmas vacation or too near the examination period.

Last winter the orchestra was received here enthusiastically by a large and appreciative audience. It is estimated that there will be an even larger group in attendance at this performance.

The seating arrangement will be slightly changed from the system used the first time the orchestra played in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The center section will be given over to faculty and townspeople. The students will use the side aisle seats and the balcony.

The house presidents in the dorms and fraternity and sorority houses have charge of the sale. Tickets must be exchanged at the administration building for reserved seat tickets. All seats are reserved.

Student Activities Committee Makes Final Division of Funds

February Graduates Can Secure Annual by Paying Amount Equal to Echo Allotment.

COLONIAL ECHO 45%

A final division of the Student Activities Committee funds was made at the organization's fourth meeting of the year, Thursday, Dec. 12. The allotments for various student activities were as follows: Colonial Echo, 45%; Flat Hat, 15%; Literary Magazine, 20%; Men's Debate Council, 6%; Women's Debate Council, 6%; Men's Student Government, 3%; Women's Student Government Association, 3%; Incidentals, 4%.

The Committee also decided that the cost of an eighth page in the Colonial Echo should be $12.50, as in former years rather than $10, previously suggested.

No accounts, with the exception of the Women's Student Government Association (as they receive funds from other sources also), are to be run at the stores without the permission of Mr. Gibbs.

Those students who graduate in February, 1936, and who desire to secure the Colonial Echo, having paid their activities fee for the first semester, may be allowed to pay a sum equivalent to that portion of the fee allotted to the Colonial Echo and receive the publication.

Assistant business managers of the Colonial Echo are to receive no commission on their sale of advertisements.

A schedule of expenses for persons traveling in the interests of College organizations was adopted:

Meals per d-y, $2; hotel per day, $3.50; incidentals per day, 50c. Travel by train at the published railroad rate plus Pullman. When the point of destination cannot be reached by train or bus, the taxi fare must be approved by the financial advisor before any remuneration can be made. Travel by automobile shall be at the published railroad rate plus Pullman, but not more than two persons may be allowed such expenses by traveling in the same automobile.

In addition, it is imperative that a budget be presented to the financial advisor for approval before any trip can be undertaken.

No more meetings will be held by the Committee until after the Christmas holidays.

New Requirements Made For Sorority Initiation

Changes Made in Local Constitution to Take Into Consideration New Grading System.

AVERAGE OF 2 NECESSARY

Members of the Panhellenic Council met Monday, Dec. 2, to adopt a number of changes in the local constitution, which were made necessary by the new grading system of the college. The following requirements for sorority initiation are now in force:

*1. A girl shall be in college one semester, shall pass all her work for that term and make an average of 2 for that semester.

*2. If a girl has failed to make her work for the first semester she may be initiated at midsemester if she has passed everything at that date and has made an average of 3.

3. Any work taken for college degrees shall be counted for initiation and pledging.

*4. A transfer from a four year class college may be initiated on transfer work after having made an average of 3 at midsemester for the first semester.

5. Transfers from junior colleges shall be considered as freshmen.

6. Faculty students shall be eligible for membership (*Phrases that were changed.)

Grades will be calculated on the basis of A—6; B—5; C—4; D and F—0. In making up averages the number of hours credit in a particular subject is to be multiplied by the number of grade points for each hour, and the total number of grade points divided by the total number of hours work.

Under last year's rules, a girl could not be initiated except at the end of a semester. To be initiated, a girl must have passed all her work and made an average of 83 or above.

A session of the Council Monday, Dec. 16, at the Gamma Phi Beta House initiated a series of special meetings which are to take place every three weeks, in addition to the regular business meetings. The program at this time included a report on sections of the National Panhellenic Constitution and a review of an article from Banta's Greek Exchange.

Story of Restoration Is In Architectural Record

A detailed record of the progress of the work of restoring certain colonial areas of Williamsburg to their 18th century appearance has appeared in the current issue of "The Architectural Record" which devotes the entire issue to Williamsburg. Since the local work has been of particular interest to architects throughout the world, the publication has given particular attention to, not only the historical angle of the restoration work, but has included nearly a hundred illustrations showing the details of the project.

Photographs taken by F. S. Lincoln of New York illustrate the buildings already restored. Those who have had a part in the work, including its originator and sponsor, Dr. W. A. R. Goodwin and John D. Rockefeller Jr., respectively, the architects, Perry, Shaw and Hepburn, the contractors, Todd and Brown, landscape architects, A. A. Shurcliff, advisory board and others, are included in the list of photographs.

A general article entitled "The Historical Background" introduces the reader to the subject. Other articles are "The Restoration of Colonial Williamsburg," by Fiske Kimball, director of the Pennsylvania Museum of Art and one of the advisory board of architects, "Notes on the Architecture" by William Graves Perry, one of the architects, "City Plan and Landscaping Problems" by Arthur A. Shurcliff, landscape architect, and "Paints, Furniture and Furnishings" by Mrs. Susan Higginson Nash, who has been in charge of interior decoration for the restoration. The remainder of the issue of 150 pages is devoted to illustrations of the work.

William & Mary May Become Member of Southern Conference

Furman, The Citadel, Davidson, William and Mary Have Inside Track for Membership Into Conference.

DECISION FEB. 7 OR 8

Some Schools May Change Minds About Entering if Athletic Standards Are Changed.

(By Associated Press)
Those half-dozen schools which have been standing on the outside, looking on the inside of the Southern Conference, have at least one message to cheer the long-buoyed and oft-exploded hopes of their delegates at a meeting of the Southern Conference members held in Richmond last week.

It was a strong recommendation for an increase in membership from the committee on colleges delivered to the executive committee just before adjournment of the two-day session.

Action Is Deferred
The recommendation was deferred for action until the conference reconvenes in Richmond Feb. 7-8. At this time a definite answer—one way or other—will be given those seeking admittance.

Postponement of action was caused in part by the program launched by Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, calling for a revision of athletic standards in the conference.

"Some of the schools now seeking admission may change their minds if some of these proposals are adopted," a delegate close to the situation remarked.

Schools previously looked upon as those with the best chance of getting into the conference at this session were the University of Richmond and William and Mary in Virginia; Davidson and Wake Forest in North Carolina; Furman and The Citadel in South Carolina.

This list probably will be shaved to four by the next meeting.

Provided Increase
Last year, at its meeting in Richmond, the conference provided for an expansion to increase membership from 10 to 16 teams.

A majority vote only is necessary to admit new members.

Deferment of this and the other principal moot question of the meeting, that of athletic subsidization, to the February meeting were principal developments the first day of the meeting.

Unmistakable signs of growing opposition to the plan of Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina and prominent educator to place athletics under the severest supervision were noticed as the coaches and other visitors chatted in the lobby on the last day.

Needs Adjustment
The fact that several visiting presidents did not concur in whole or part with some of Dr. Graham's ideas was understood to have brought about the delay for adjustment of differences. Little, if any chance of the program being adopted in full was seen.

There were reports to the effect

F.H.C. Society Initiates Six Men Last Thursday

Initiation of the new members of the F.H.C. Society took place at Squirrel's Point on Thursday, Dec. 12. The following men were initiated: Warne Robinson, Peter Hansen, Harold Gouldman, Roger Child, Carl Mitsold, and John Trueheart.

Because of an unavoidable error, John Trueheart's name was omitted from last week's Flat Hat in the list of men bid by the F.H.C. Society.

A program was announced by Charles Taylor, chairman of the program committee, which included the following points—(1) the F.H.C. Society will have permanent headquarters on the campus, either in the Wren Building or Brafferton Hall; (2) an open meeting will be held annually on the date of the founding of the society, which falls in November; and (3) the intention of the society to make a study of the traditions of the college for permanent record.

The society also made plans for its annual banquet, which will come this year some time after Christmas.

President Boatwright Of Richmond College Apologizes for Attack

Letters Between Mason, Ryland And Bryan, Boatwright Settle Whole Matter of Painting Stadium and Buildings.

RYLAND PAYS VISIT

Bryan Refuses Offer of Richmond to Pay for Damage to College.

Correspondence between Dr. F. W. Boatwright and John Stewart Bryan, presidents of the University of Richmond and the College of William and Mary, regarding an invasion of Williamsburg by a group of students from the Richmond institution before the annual Thanksgiving day football game was released by the College of William and Mary last week. Dr. Boatwright enclosed a letter from Charles H. Ryland, president of the University Student Government Association, apologizing for the defacing of William and Mary College buildings, and offering payment for damage done to the Indians' new stadium.

Ryland made a visit to Williamsburg on Sunday, Dec. 9, and apologized to William and Mary's student body president, George Mason, and his letter confirmed the visit and apology. In his letter, Mr. Ryland said: "We feel strongly that acts of this nature can be carried to an unhealthy extreme and pledge ourselves to keeping, in any way we can, our Thanksgiving rivalry on a friendly basis."

The letters follow:

Dear Mr. Mason:
This will confirm our conference of yesterday, December 9. The Richmond College student senate is very much concerned over the painting done by Richmond College students to the William and Mary College buildings, especially to the new stadium.

We wish to apologize for such acts of vandalism and to assure you that it in no way expressed the opinion of the campus generally or had the backing of student leaders or student opinion. It was the result merely of hasty and ill-advised planning on the part of a few thoughtless students.

The senate feels that the least it can do will be to bear the cost of correcting the damage done and ask that we be advised as to the amount. We feel strongly that acts of this nature can be carried to an unhealthy extreme and pledge ourselves to keeping, in any way we can, our Thanksgiving rivalry on a friendly basis.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES H. RYLAND

Dear President Bryan:
Herewith I enclose copy of letter written by the president of student government at Richmond College to the president of student government at the College of William and Mary and delivered in person several days ago. I understand that the committee of our students sought also to present a copy of this letter to you, but that you were out of the city.

I believe this letter of our students correctly expresses the feelings of representative students of the University of Richmond. The acts of vandalism for which apology is made were committed in the face of earnest and publicly expressed desire on the part of both student leaders and college officials that our students should refrain from any conduct likely to mar the cordial relations existing between our institutions.

Preparations Are Completed For President's Xmas Party

Music Department Gives Program for Christmas

Services Held in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on Sunday Afternoon Called Best in Decade.

SUPERVISED BY SMALL

The music department of the College of William and Mary Sunday afternoon presented what is considered as probably the best Christmas service ever given at the college, certainly in the past decade. Although the program was under the supervision of Prof. George M. Small, credit for the excellent service is also due to Robert M. Griffey and his assistants.

Mr. Griffey took over Mr. Small's duties three weeks ago when the latter became ill and brought the organizations participating in the program to near perfection.

Orchestra Opens Concert

The program was opened by the concert orchestra which played "Prelude" (L'Arlesienne Suite No. 1) by George Bizet and "Menuet" (E flat Major Symphony) by Mozart. Following these, the Choral Union composed of approximately 100 voices, sang "Shepherd! Shake off Your Drowsy Sleep" by Besancon Carol, "Good Christian Men, Rejoice"—Traditional, and "Come, All Ye Faithful" by J. Reading.

Miss Josephine Murrell, a graduate in voice from Randolph Macon in Lynchburg, sang two Christmas carols, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Cantique de Noel." Miss Murrell has been assisting this year in the music department here. She is director of the Women's Glee Club.

The program continued with Miss Murrell, Mr. William Marden and the Glee Club singing "Gesu Bambino" by Pietro Yon. The Women's Glee Club rendered "First Noel" and "Silent Night."

Shows Improvement

The orchestra shows a great deal of improvement over last year. In addition to more players, this year the orchestra has added a set of tympani which adds to its performance. The rendition of "Le Cygne" by Camille Saint-Saens was the best number of the orchestra, it appearing in the middle of the program.

The two final sections of the program were given by the Chapel Choir and the entire Choral Union. The former sang "Bring a Torch, Jeanette Isabella," "Sleep of the Child Jesus" and the "Carol of the Birds." The Choral Union ended the inspiring program by blending their voices in "Glory Now Unto God," "Glory O Father" and "Raise Now on High," all by Saint-Saens.

The whole program showed tireless effort on both the part of the singers and the directors. The audience seemed to appreciate it in its entirety. The vocal work was especially good, the Choral Union doing exceptionally fine work in every instance.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the students of the New York metropolitan area in Washington 200 tonight at 7:15 o'clock to discuss the party which will be held at the Hotel Lexington Dec. 28.

President's Party Precedes Pupils' Hasty Homeward Happy Holiday Hop

Merry Christmas, my goode olde friendes (a la the Christmas cards).

This greeting perhaps seems a bit previous but just think, exactly one week from today you will be asleep in your wee trundle beds waiting for Santa Claus and his umpteenth reindeer just a minute, I'm on the wrong train of thought—exactly one week from today will be Christmas Eve and you will be by that time a total wreck instead of the partial one that will have left school Saturday (morning we hope), but e'en though merely a shadow of your former self you will be glowing with those oldtime spirits (of the vintage 1919 if you're lucky) and a great content will lie within you.

To go slightly less into the near but too-distant future we shall discuss more or less the Christmas party . . . Ah-h! It will probably be a less discussion than more for the simple reason that the Christmas party of last year is sufficient explanation in itself. And was that an affair . . . Costumes, pageants, a dance and food . . . ! And so they say—'twill be the same this gay season. And so we say again, Merry Christmas, people, and a Happy New Year . . . and what's more, we really mean it—in either the old-fashioned or the new-fashioned way.

NOTICE

Several students have not called for their proofs for the Colonial Echo. These proofs as well as all that have not yet been returned to Warne Robinson by 4:00 p.m. Wednesday of this week will not be used in this year's Echo. A three dollar fee for all unreturned proofs will be charged. The business manager will be in his office Wednesday afternoon to collect unreturned proofs.

CLUB NOTES

Debate Council

Try-outs for Women's Debate Council will be held tonight at seven o'clock in Washington 300. All those trying out will speak for three or four minutes on "The Aspect of College Life I Dislike Most."

Euclid Club

A short meeting of the Euclid Club was held last week at which Roy Prince gave a very interesting talk on the photoelectric cell and its use. Initiation will be held at the first meeting following Christmas vacation.

The French Club and the Alliance Francaise wish to thank the students of the college and the people of Williamsburg for their support of the French movie "La Maternelle," given on Saturday afternoon. Thanks are also extended to Tom McCaskey for his cooperation in presenting the picture, at which 632 people were present.

Beta Alpha Psi

Beta Alpha Psi held a meeting on Friday, Dec. 13, at which time Robert Wallace was initiated. A business meeting was held following the initiation.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary educational fraternity, held a social meeting last Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Dr. Leonard. Mr. Kendrew, who is head architect for the Restoration, gave an interesting talk on Christmas Costumes in old Williamsburg.

Chi Delta Phi

Last week Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary fraternity bid eight new girls. The new members are Jane Steele, Mary Alice Barnes, Harriet Morden, Mary Willis O'Farrell, Eleanor Turner, Peggy Prickett, Nelia Beverly, and Helen Frame.

A meeting will be held at the Pi Beta Phi House on Wednesday, Dec. 18, at 4:30 o'clock. The sponsor, Mrs. G. G. Clark, will be present to welcome the new members.

In order not to interfere with preparations for the Christmas Party, Miss Hunt has announced that try-outs for the next play will be postponed until after the Christmas holidays.

Thomas Dew Economics Club Mary Elizabeth Allison was the speaker at the meeting of the Thomas Dew Economics Club last Tuesday afternoon. Her topic was "Share-croppers." The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 7, in the Y.W.C.A. room. At this time, a new president will be installed for the coming semester.

J. Leslie Hall Literary Society

The question: "Should the college own the book store?" was discussed at the meeting of the J. Leslie Hall Literary Society on Friday, Dec. 13. Alice Allen led the argument for the affirmative side; Frances Garrett for the negative side. By a popular vote of 34-17, the latter was victorious.

Mr. Glenwood Clark will be the speaker at the meeting tomorrow night in Washington 200. The group will convene at ten o'clock.

Y.W.C.A.

The Hampton Junior Quartet entertained with negro spirituals at the regular meeting of the Y.W.C.A. held Friday, Dec. 13. The meeting was open to the entire student body and the audience was large and receptive, an encore being demanded for almost every number.

Methodist Young People

Dr. Fred B. Fisher will speak at the Methodist Young People's meeting at 10 o'clock, Jan. 5. He will also deliver a sermon in the main auditorium of the church at 11 o'clock. He has had wide experience in missionary work having been Indian Minister 1904-1906 and Bishop 1920-30. For the past five years Dr. Fisher has been pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church in Ann Arbor, Mich. During the summer of 1935 he traveled in Russia, China, and Japan. Among his many interesting books is "That Strange Little Brown Man—Gandhi."

Library to Lend Books Over Christmas Holiday

The following arrangements have been worked out for student use of library books during the Christmas holidays:

Special permission will be given for the borrowing of books from the circulation desk on December 19, 20, and 21. As many as three books may be taken by a student for the period of the holidays. All books so taken must be returned on January 3 and no books will be renewed on that date. Failure to return a book on January 3 will result in a fine of $.25 per book and $.05 per hour that the library is open thereafter until the book is returned.

Books may be taken over the holidays from the Reserve room only by written permission of the professor. Two books may be taken from this room by a student. These books may be taken out on Friday, December 20, and will be due between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m. on Friday, January 3. A fine of $.25 per book will be charged for failure to return the book by this time and $.05 per hour will be charged for each hour thereafter.

SUN YAT-SEN'S DAUGHTER AT UNIVERSITY OF HAWAII

HONOLULU, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Half a century after her father, the late Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, Chinese revolutionary leader, studied principles of republican government while living here. Miss Sally Y. Sun is enrolled at the University of Hawaii.

The demure young girl, who speaks perfect English, came here upon graduation from the True Light school in Canton. It is her first visit.

Dr. Sun, "father of the Chinese republic," lived in Hawaii with his widowed mother in the 80's. Later he led revolutionary forces against the Manchus, who then ruled China, and was elected first provisional president of the new government in 1911. He died in 1925.

Railroads Aid Argentine Cotton BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Government seed is being shipped free to northern Argentina by railroads cooperating with the effort to boost the country's cotton crop. Production this year of 250,000 bales was a record for Argentina.

LATE SPORTS

The Phi Kappa Taus increased their lead in the interfraternity basketball league last night by defeating the Theta Delta Chi 15-8. The Pi Kappa Alphas beat the Pi Lambda Phi 13-8.

The Tri Deltis won the intersport badminton tournament last night by defeating the Kappa Alpha Thetas.

DUKE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE DURHAM, N. C.

Four terms of eleven weeks are given each year. These may be taken consecutively (graduation in three years) or three terms may be taken each year (graduation in four years). The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and at least two years of college work, including the subjects specified for Grade A Medical Schools. Catalogues and application forms may be obtained from the Dean.

The Stooze

While you are in the mood for throwing this year's calendar away you'd better put a reminder on the new one that try-outs for the next play are going to be held the week after we get back. Just because you didn't get that part last time is no reason why you shouldn't get one this time. Chances are that you didn't suit the part; anyway, this is a good chance to start or continue your dramatic career on campus. In case you haven't heard, it is to be an eighteenth century play that was given in Williamsburg. We had hoped that we might be able to announce the title but so many other things have come up to take time that it had to be postponed until after the holidays.

It just occurred to me. I overheard a student criticizing the custom of presenting these old plays every year. Rather than give my own opinion, let me quote from a conversation I had with a professor not long ago. He said that campus dramatics could not and should not attempt to compete with the movies or the legitimate stage . . . but it could contribute a great deal by bringing to the campus old plays by some lesser known authors . . . plays that might not otherwise be seen, and which were really good and amusing. So you see there are two sides to be considered . . . why not have both and keep a well rounded program for the season and keep everyone happy.

Are you all set for some surprise talent at the party on Friday night? From all I gather there will be plenty of new acts which are said to include plenty of action.

After ordering some two hundred colonial costumes for the party, Miss Hunt is probably having eighteenth century nightmares. I understand that she had ordered all that one customer had or could make so if by chance you notice something that looks early Grecian or late Egyptian, you will know why . . . I don't know why you can't solve your problems like one of the fraternal orders intends to—79c, I believe it is—maybe you have already ordered another uniform—we will soon find out.

Sam Elliott should be shown no mercy in his absence from the recent Dramatic Club meeting—on second thought maybe he should; those sandwiches were mighty tasty and that tea—well I swear I never spilled a drop—well, maybe one or two.

This is my last chance to wish you all a grand Christmas—have fun, be careful, and don't take those books home as you planned to—you won't look at them, anyway.

WILLIAM AND MARY HAS CHANCE FOR ENTERING SOUTHERN CONFERENCE

(Continued from Page 1) that two South Carolina schools, Furman and The Citadel, Davidson in North Carolina and William and Mary in Virginia had the inside track to membership.

On this basis, the membership of the enlarged conference from a standpoint of schools would be divided thusly:

Virginia (5); South Carolina (4); North Carolina (4); Maryland 1.

Others in Doubt

The status of the University of Richmond remained in doubt, although no sort of definite action has been taken. There was talk of admitting three schools at the next meeting and taking on the other three at the next December meeting if the larger conference proves satisfactory.

Two movements, one to admit Georgetown and Western Maryland to the conference and the other to rejoin the Southeastern, making one conference, died in their infancy.

The ban on radio broadcasting was lifted in a morning vote, 5 to 3, leaving the matter up to member colleges.

STORY OF RESTORATION TOLD BY ARCHITECT'S RECORD

(Continued from page 1) Problems confronting the architects in their work and how these were met are described in detail. Drawings of many of the local buildings are included, as well as descriptions of the buildings. One interesting layout includes two pages showing colors used in painting woodwork in several restorations. The colors used were determined from scrapings as well as from descriptions in a number of old records.

Dr. Swem Publishes "Historical Index"

Dr. E. G. Swem, librarian of the college, has recently completed the "Historical Index of Virginia," a result of years of careful research.

Some conception of the labor involved in its compilation may be obtained from the size of this work. It contains about 440 entries and about 1,320,000 page references. Eight large sets, comprising 120 volumes and containing 50,000 pages, are indexed; the "Calendar of Virginia State Papers," "Hening's Statutes," the "Lower Norfolk County Antiquary," the "Virginia Historical Register," "Tyler's Quarterly," The "Virginia Magazine of History," and the "William and Mary Quarterly" (series 1 and 2).

The "Index" is condensed into two large volumes, arranged alphabetically, and is a widely inclusive analysis of the scattered materials relating to Virginia and Virginians for the past three hundred years. Particular attention has been paid to the Revolutionary and Colonial periods, furnishing a glimpse into the domestic and social life of those times.

The materials have been compiled from original diaries and letters, official records, and from many other sources and much of the extensive information offered can be obtained only from this work. It is provided with an elaborate system of cross-references and copious notes valuable for the specific knowledge supplied the reader, who could only have obtained it otherwise by prolonged research.

Dr. Swem is also editor of the William and Mary Quarterly and compiler of the Bibliography of Virginia (published in the Bulletin of the Virginia State Library).

All students who have not yet returned the Christmas Seals which were sent some time ago please send them to Mrs. Vernon L. Nunn, Williamsburg, Virginia.

funds, to pay for all repairs, and I trust the repair work may prove entirely successful.

While I deeply regret this occurrence, I am inclined to think that our students have seen this affair in its true light and will be more than ever inclined to conduct our athletic relationships with the College of William and Mary on a high plane.

Sincerely yours,
F. W. BOATWRIGHT

Dear Dr. Boatwright:

I thank you for your most welcome letter of December 10, enclosing a handsome statement from Mr. Charles H. Ryland, president of the Student Government Association of Richmond College, of the University of Richmond.

I wish very much that I might have been present on the campus when President Ryland paid his formal visit and had I known that he was planning to come, nothing would have prevented me from being present.

It has been unfortunate for many years that college students have felt that defacement of property was humorous or indicative of their true spirit, but I am perfectly convinced in my own mind that these acts really indicate thoughtlessness, and should not be appraised at their face value. I look forward to the fact that whatever methods the University of Richmond or William and Mary may take for dramatizing their interest in their alma mater that the students of neither body will in the future do anything which would call for regret. It is needless for me to say how much I appreciate the spirit of true sportsmanship that exists between our two institutions, and I join your hope that this incident will strengthen and in no way weaken that attitude.

As to the matter of paying for the damage, William and Mary has already arranged for that, and though we greatly appreciate the spirit that prompted Mr. Ryland to make this offer, we much prefer that the whole matter be allowed to drop with perfect good will on both sides.

Believe me, my dear Dr. Boatwright, with kindest regards and sentiments of my personal esteem,
Cordially yours,

MEDICAL COLLEGE TEAM MEETS INDIANS IN LAST GAME BEFORE HOLIDAYS

CAGERS TO MEET MEDICAL COLLEGE TEAM WEDNESDAY

Sawbones Boast of Many Former State Star Performers; Bo Hanna in Lineup.

By SPIKE MOORE William and Mary's Indian basketballers will receive their second test of the season here tomorrow night when they entertain Medical College of Virginia in Blow Gymnasium...

Coached by Dr. Otis Oliver, brother of the Indians' Larry Oliver, the Medical College has a team of veterans back for the current cage campaign which may easily match William and Mary man for man in versatility.

Former Indian Player Doyle is a former All-American football player from West Virginia and also has shown plenty of class in previous seasons on the basketball court.

William and Mary looked good at times against the Maroons last Saturday and whatever mistakes the team may have made must be attributed to the earliness of the season.

Captain Hutzy Blaker, Tom Crist, Ralph Elmore, Fred Casagrande, and Joe Flickinger will again be the likely starting five in this second game.

Wayne Harper, Larry Oliver, and George Bunch played good ball during the time that they were in the Roanoke game with a substitute team and stamped themselves as reliable reserve strength in future games.

The game tomorrow night will have no bearing on the Virginia title race but a defeat for the Indians would, naturally, not add any prestige to their hopes for the most successful basketball season in history.

Injured Alustiza Inspires Indians

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 17.—(AP)—A teammate out of football may provide sufficient inspiration for the Stanford Indians to overcome their Rose Bowl "jinx" and avenge previous defeats at Pasadena next New Year's Day.

He is Frank Alustiza, the Basque blocking back and a regular for three seasons until Alustiza suffered an eye injury in Stanford's lone defeat this fall at the hands of U. C. L. A. by a 7-6 score.

No less an authority than Bobby Grayson, the Indians' star fullback, said the team won the "big game" from California and the Rose Bowl selection for the third year in succession "for Frankie."

Alustiza's teammates have had assembled a movie reel featuring action by him from films of all their previous games. It was a gift to him. Let Grayson tell the rest of it:

"Thea 'the old man' (Coach Thornhill) pulled the smartest thing he ever did. He showed us those pictures the night before the big game. We saw some great blocking, and we made up our minds we'd go out and do the same thing. And we did."

Although he is still recuperating from a successful operation, Alustiza, seated in an automobile which was run into the stadium, witnessed the 13-0 drubbing his mates hung on California. And he expects to be on hand at Pasadena to urge them to a Rose Bowl triumph.

By BILL THOMAS Joe Marino, of Jamaica, N. Y., stellar guard for the past two years, was elected captain of the 1936 William and Mary football team at the meeting of the 3-3-3 committee last Wednesday afternoon.

Because of his great work in captaining the Indian eleven after an early season injury had shelved Captain Stumpy Bryant, Ned LeGrande, veteran tackle of Lynchburg, was elected by the committee as co-captain of the '35 team.

President Bryan delivered the main address of the evening, lauding the Indian eleven on their great play in the Richmond game and stating that "William and Mary athletes fight because they have something to fight for."

Interfraternity Loop Schedule in Second Week of Competition; Three Other Teams Unbeaten.

Phi Kappa Tau, Phi Alpha, and Lambda Chi Alpha swung into early leads during the first week of interfraternity basketball play, each team winning two and losing none.

The best game of the week saw the Phi Tau five stave off a furious last period attack to edge Alpha Phi Delta 19-15.

Phi Alpha stamped itself as a team to be reckoned with by trouncing the Kappa Alpha team 25-13 in their only start.

INDIAN POW-WOW

By Spike Moore

THE way that this interfraternity basketball tournament is now shaping up, it looks like a play-off between the Phi Kappa Taus and the S.A. E.'s.

Bud Matheny's Phi Tau quint, ragged and uncertain at the start of the tournament, has recently been strengthened by the addition of George Blake, Jimmy Pye, and Harry Holmes.

In League A Preacher Franklin's S.A.E. cagers have everything required of a good fraternity team—a tall center, speed, and a fair amount of skill in shooting.

A battle between the Phi Taus and the S.A.E.'s will be well worth seeing. Their brand of ball is not at all "country" in its style.

I am particularly anxious to see the William and Mary girls' basketball team in action, in that I would like to observe just how much better a college sextet is than a good high school team.

Although I have seen a couple of state teacher teams play, I am not yet convinced that college teams of girls are as far superior to high school teams as are boys' college basketball teams to the same sex in high school.

Girls' basketball teams invariably employ the identical manner of shooting baskets and I have seen very few girls who had the knack of whipping in snowbirds on the run.

Maybe my conception of girls' basketball is all wet. If so, I stand to be corrected on the subject.

STATE SCHOLARSHIPS

A report made by Dr. William Stauffer, state economist, to Governor Peery urges the abolition of the granting of scholarships to out-of-state students. Dr. Stauffer claims that the whole system of State scholarship aid should be drastically revised, as at present the State contributes $133,110 to the education of students from other states... Perhaps some change should be made in this system, but there is another side to the question.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

In this, the last issue before Christmas, the Flat Hat extends best wishes to the student body for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. During the coming week many parties are being held, culminating in the Grand Ball in Phi Beta Kappa Hall Friday night. Last year's party was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever staged at the College...

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD

Personal prediction: Within two years nearly all the major colleges will be openly paying their football players for their services. It probably will mean a complete realignment of the amateur-professional relationship... Whenever controversy begins over any new thing, you can generally be sure that thing has begun to amount to something.

Students of national defense will be interested in the statement of Colonel C. A. Chapman, head of the coast artillery unit of the University of Illinois R.O.T.C.

He declares it is probably much more frightening to think of an air raid than to experience one.

The armed aerial forces of the whole world are not big enough to raze either New York or Chicago, he said in an interview. He believes anti-aircraft gunnery would destroy a bombing flight before it could ever get into action.

Student pacifists who seek lowered military expenses should be even more fortified to learn that in the opinion of many experts no nation nor any combination of nations could ever effectively invade this country—with one exception.

That exception is a union of England and Japan against America. And that, of course, is about as likely as a brotherly game of chess between Josef Stalin and Morgan.

Somebody's definition: "An alumnus is a graduate who knows precisely how the football team should be run."

Before closing, let us make note of that fact that the sports editor of the University of Minnesota Daily picked his All Big Ten Team the other day and eleven out of eleven were Minnesota players. That's loyalty!

If you're contemplating applying for a job as a special agent, don't worry much about getting shot. In the past 10 years only about a half dozen men have been killed in the line of duty. In the same period a great many more young men were killed playing football.

You can teach an old dog new tricks, say Stanford University psychologists. Age has little to do with learning, and one can learn almost as easily at 50 as at 20.

SEEING and HEARING

The basketball game in which our boys displayed beautiful form and the dance in which the Co-eds did likewise were the highlights of the past week. From all appearances everybody had a swell time at both, especially at the dance which was just a preliminary to the coming gala affair Friday night.

Flash! Chic Walker has all and pinned his jewel on our All-Campus Quarterback... May Fielder. Another Flash! Last week's column remarked that Alec Dempster and Dot Harris were still a lovely pair, but no sooner had the paper been out when they made an important division.

Lou Plummer and Micky Roth attracted attention at the S.A.E. dance Thursday night when the orchestra played "Happy Birthday" to Lou. Ask Bruno if he is still carrying around his satchel... anyway it's hard to get along without it.

It has been talked around that Mary Mackey asked Tommy Dowler if he was a pledge while they were gliding at the S.P.E. dance last week... also is Lil just a chaperon. Heard that Josephine Burpo (Bryant's ex) was rooting hard for Red Krank at one of the inter-fraternity basketball games.

Willy Cahall can't stay away from the Tri Delt house very long... he's out to put a tag on the lovely Ann Price. Now D.D. (Dapper Dan) Edmundson, after a brief sojourn is twinging again with D.D. (Dimple Darling) Allen... knew he couldn't stay away very long.

Cutest Couple of the Week Blake Newton and Carol McCoy Jimmy Knox went a-skiing Saturday night with "our" one and only Mops Connoley... and it's around that Roger would like to hear some childish talk from her.

Noticed Roger Mapp in the Shop the other day pricing compacts. Hope Ginger likes it.

See that Ranny Rowe cut in on Smeltzer's time Sunday afternoon with Peggy Layman... and Bill Henneford did the same at Saturday night's shuffle... also Chet Lang has turned his eyes to the cute brunette, Sally Price after Bud began to ankle with Peggy too much.

Most in Love of the Week Bill Fitch and Jane Lewis Orchids to Creighton McCutcheon for his good taste in socializing with Ginger (Beautiful Eyes) Rasbach. Understand that the K.A. and Phi Mu pledges had a grand time at their sweetie dinner, etc., up on the hill.

Can anybody think of a better way to get a big time band down here than to have the Cotillion and the German Clubs go in on it together?... if so don't keep it secret... and those who don't particularly enjoy seeing their names mixed up in this column (those who can't take it) can write a note to the "Dirt Column" c/o this paper.

Flicker Flashes

(The students whose names appear below see "Metropolitan" free!)

METROPOLITAN (20 Century-Fox) Lawrence Tibbett, Alice Brady, Virginia Bruce. Costing over half-million dollars this much-heralded "single" is important mainly for the vibrant voice and prepossessing personality of Lawrence Tibbett. Once turned down by a Los Angeles Glee Club because his voice was considered unfit, Mr. Tibbett accomplishes the feat of holding this show on his shoulders with much enthusiasm and self-confidence, bounding from one aria to another in a crescendo of triumph that leaves no doubt of his ability to surmount any vocal hazards he may encounter. Fred Eidsness. In a casual plot which recounts the ups and downs of opera and its makers the interludes of his superb singing make "Metropolitan" well worth one's time. The song rendered by Virginia Bruce was sung by another, the facial and mouth expressions being mimicked so faithfully by the lovely Virginia that it is practically impossible to detect that the sound is dubbed in. Baritone Tibbett begins his singing program with "On the Road to Mandalay," then "De Glory Road." From that moment in the story you know that struggling "Tommy Renwick" (Tibbett) will knock 'em dead, and you wonder at the obtuseness of any impresario who wouldn't give him a starring role. Bob Griffey. You realize, though, that the story must have some complications, so we prepare to hear "Amonasro" from "Aida." In pursuing the charted course the producers have utilized three of the most popular and effective baritone arias: the Largo from the "Barber of Seville"; the Toreador Song from "Carmen"; and the Prologue of "Pagliacci." Coming steadily up to his story-triumph, Mr. Tibbett sings all these with a wealth of tone and artistic gusto.

HANDS ACROSS THE TABLE (Paramount) Carole Lombard, Fred MacMurray, Ruth Donnelly. Jane Peters who is known to youse-guys as Carole Lombard is now called Hollywood's best-dressed-dame, paints her dog's toenails into the bargain. Got her real start from ex-husband Bill Powell, and was taught her acting p's and q's by John the Barrymore. Margaret Vass. Now in this pix, she turns in her best performance since she was with the Hollywood Hamlet in "Twentieth Century." and Fred MacMurray is more lively and smoother than he has been up to this date. The plot which gives a new twist to the old dope, has the two blithe stars both swearing to marry money and not love. Ruth Personius. They caper through with such smart humor, so many deft and sharp character touches, and with such abundance. (Continued on Page 9)

DORMITORY AND SORORITY NEWS

FASHIONS FOR CO-EDS

Your commentators have been out Christmas shopping all day, and in case you may have been tied up with quizzes all week and in a rather desperate situation as to what to take home for "them," we suggest the following Williamsburg specials.

Casey's have everything from soup to nuts. We noticed first a table full of stationery in all sorts of attractive folders and boxes, any size you prefer. Also there were very nice desk sets and writing pads. There is a complete line of toilet goods, which you can always rely upon—sets of Yardley, Dorothy Grey, Coty and all the others. And manicure sets are a good solution. If you like nick-nacks as well as we do, you must look over that table with everything on it from clever roll-top cigarette boxes to darling laundry sets including a miniature iron, clothesline, and clothespins. There are vanity boxes, and tricky dresser lamps. But the men will prefer their tie clips, initial belt buckles and traveling kits.

If the family would like a typically Williamsburg gift the little gift shop on the Duke of Gloucester street is the place to go. They have lovely things. The selection of Williamsburg, Va., and colonial literature especially interested me. They aren't the usual guide book material, but are legends and excerpts from other days and the present, very well put together into a good volume. The perfect gift for an interested parent. I also liked the lovely hand woven scarfs and table pieces. The colors are very delicate and the material is as fine as silk. Some artist, Swan, I think, has done himself proud on etchings of the town and college. These are beautiful and really worthwhile gifts. There are the usual odds and ends. Very clever little straw figures and such, if you are sure of the recipient's taste. Emphasis is being placed on Jamestown pottery of which there is a wide variety, and on brass candlesticks, ash trays, and similar household and apartment necessities. I'm sure you will be amply repaid for a trip down there—it is really fascinating and gives one the Christmas spirit.

Do you realize that the wrappings of Christmas presents can enhance them immeasurably? The stores are full of awfully pretty paper, fancy and colored and plain—and every imaginable kind of ribbon. Try using your ingenuity at devising new bows and intricate ribbon effects. Tie the ribbon across the corners as on candy boxes. I understand that Celophane wrappings are very popular, and even a colored telephone wrapping over fancy paper.

And in closing the column wishes you a very happy and fashionable holiday.

PLAQUE PLACED ON HOUSE OF "LAWRENCE OF ARABIA"

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The family of the late "Lawrence of Arabia," Aircraftman T. E. Shaw as he was known after changing his name by deed poll, have had a memorial plaque placed on a tiny house here where he once lived.

The house is in a district favored by vaudeville actors. Shaw rented a back room.

His former landlady, Mrs. Fanny Hatcher, readily agreed to accept the gold-lettered plaque which reads:

"In this house lived T. E. Shaw, Lawrence of Arabia; July, 1933—November, 1934."

If You Plan Gift Books, Look These Over First

Books pack so easily, and although unwrapped they sometimes tear even the best hung stocking, they always can be left lying underneath, on the floor.

For father, who can't golf much this weather anyway, you might enliven Christmas with some of these: "It Can't Happen Here" (Sinclair Lewis) if he's not read it; "American Messiahs" or "Our Lords and Masters" (unofficial observer) if he likes smart comment on world affairs; Harry Elmer Barnes' "History of Western Civilization" if he's serious; "I Write as I Please" if he's interested in Russia.

For Mother, "Lions Starve in Naples" (Johan Fabricius) if she likes laughing with a lump in her throat; "Europa" (Robert Briffault) if she tries to keep up with the Joneses; Josephine Johnson's "Winter Orchard" if she likes autumnal colorings; "Of Time and the River" (Thomas Wolfe) if she isn't busy; "Forgive Adam" (Michael Foster) if she is.

Red Meat For Bill
For Big Brother Bill, who likes reasonably red meat: "We Are Betrayed" (Vardis Fisher) for his intense moods; "Tortilla Flat" for his unbuttoned moods; "Personal History" (Vincent Sheean), being himself when young and maybe later; "Honey in the Horn" (H. L. Davis) for just any time.

For Sister Patricia, "King Lehr and the Gilded Age" (Elizabeth Drexel Lehr) to show how futile is "Society"; "A Musical Companion" (John Erskine) to prepare her for her symphony concerts; "The Murder of My Aunt" (Richard Hull) to amuse her; "Vein of Iron" by Ellen Glasgow to show what a girl can do.

For Bobby and Betty, who are very young: "The Turf-Cutter's Donkey" (Patricia Lynch) to teach them Ireland; "Adventures in Puddle Muddle" by Mary Graham Bonner and William Kolliker, to amuse them; "The Bear Twins" (Inez Hogan) ditto; "Bold Blades of Donegal" (Seumas MacManus) for the days when they feel energetic, and it's raining.

To Itch for Mexico
For Uncle Murgatroyd, who has a sense of humor, b'gosh, and likes to travel: "Life With Father," by Clarence Day, to show what might have happened to him had he married; "Bright Mexico" (Larry Baretto) to make him itch for Mexico; "The Jury" by Gerald Bullet, because it's a grand crime yarn; "Gilbert and Sul-

DEMOCRATS SURE OF SENATE CONTROL UNTIL '41 AT LEAST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Democratic leaders of the senate laughed up their sleeves at the statement of William E. Hodges, treasurer of the Republican national committee from 1924-28, that he did not favor his party "fighting merely for the return to power" in 1936.

There's hardly any need for him to concern himself over such a proposition, they say, for it's a mathematical impossibility for G.O.P. to gain complete control of the government next year.

Suppose there is a complete swing from the "new deal" in 1936 and the Republicans capture both the presidency and the house of representatives. The Democrats still will control the senate, can't possibly be dislodged before 1941, and many believe it will be 1943 before their grip can be shaken loose.

This means, unless the Democrats in the senate are split hopelessly, that they would have at least a veto power over legislation and can control the confirmation of nominations and ratification of treaties—two highly important prerogatives of that body.

Panama M.P.'s Get Relic Billies

COLON, R. P., Dec. 17.—(AP)—Five old French railroad ties made of lingoa wood, excavated near Fort de Lesseps, local headquarters of the United States army, are being fashioned into "billies" for the military police. The ties, 50 years old, were perfectly preserved.

The New Professors

(This is the ninth in a series of articles designed to acquaint the students with our new professors.)

M. Armand Reimeringer, the new French instructor, is of medium height, thin, has a dark complexion and straight black hair. He likes Williamsburg and the college, and finds our students "very friendly." The American student, he says, has more time for sports and social activities than the French student has. In the way of sports, M. Reimeringer enjoys fencing, tennis and swimming. He plays the piano, modern French music being his choice.

After receiving his A.B. in France, M. Reimeringer attended Baccles College in England, Facchetti College in Italy, the University of Frankfurt in Germany, and the University of Paris. He has visited in Spain and Russia, and came to the United States three months ago, when he visited New York and Washington before coming here. He is now attending lectures as well as teaching a class in French conversation, and hopes to receive his A.B. from William and Mary this year. Next year he will begin working on his masters at Harvard or at Oxford.

 ant verge that the film rises to superb entertainment, of the same type as "Thin Man" and "It Happened One Night." The picture spills over with laughs. It is also tender and deliciously touching as the aristocratic loafer and the mercenary manicurist discover, to their undisguised chagrin, that they were meant for each other.

MOONLIGHT ON THE PRAIRIE
 (Warners) Dick Foran, George E. Stone, Sheila Mannors. Labeled as the "First of the New Warner Westerns" this brings forth a likely western favorite in the pleasant person of Dick Foran (last seen as an upper-classman in "Shipmates Forever" and now set as the Singing Cowboy. J. L. Belknap. With a wholesome smile, Foran acts, sings, and rides well, but the script is the usual hash of widows and schemes and ranches and magnificent scenes of landscape.
