W. T. HODGES IS DELEGATE AT EDU. MEET

William and Mary Represented by
Two Alumni at First State-Wide Conference on Higher Education Ever Held in Va.

DEAN NEWCOMB ATTENDS

Hodges Called Upon to Make Arrangements as Executive Secretary of Alumni Council of Va.
Composed of 20 Colleges

Dr. W. T. Hodges left for Richmond
Tuesday morning to make last minute
arrangements for the First State-wide Conference on Higher Education ever called in Virginia. This conference was called by the Alumni Council of Virginia with the cooperation of the Governor of the Commonwealth, who has officially commissioned 1500 delegates.

The Alumni Council is a joint organization of former students representing the twenty colleges of Virginia. Since its organization in 1923 it has been steadily working to acquaint the public with the name of higher education and with the present imperative needs of the colleges of Virginia. The Conference is its first major effort.

The Executive Committee of the Alumni Council is composed of Douglas Freeman, Editor of the News
Leader, Richmond, president, Robert
B. Tunstall, Norfolk, vice-president, Manfred Call, Richmond, secretary-treasurer, W. T. Hodges, Williamsburg, executive secretary, J. Ambler Johnston, Richmond, J. Lloyd New-comb, University, and E. Lee Trinkle, Roanoke.

William and Mary is the only college with more than one Alumnus on the Executive Committee of the Council. Dean J. Lloyd Newcomb of the University of Virginia Engineering school and Dr. W. T. Hodges were college mates here. About the same time they were college boys, Dr. Freeman was attending the University of Richmond. Dr. Call, the Medical College of Virginia, Mr. Johnston, the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and former Governor Trinkle, Hampden-Sidney College.

The Conference program was as follows:

First Session

(Wednesday, Feb. 9, 1927, at 3 P. M.)
Address of Welcome—Harry F. Byrd, Governor of Virginia.

ALUMNI MEET

The board of managers of the Alumni Association of William and Mary will meet here this month and decide upon a successor to J. Malcolm Bridges, who recently resigned his position as Executive Alumni Secretary, according to an announcement of
Dr. W. T. Hodges, Alumni Secretary.

The board will meet probably at the same time of the Richmond-William and Mary basketball.

MID-WINTERS TO START TONIGHT

Cotillion Club Announces That Dance
Will Begin Promptly at 9:30;

Weidmeyer's Orchestra Will Play for Second Formals
of Year

The Cotillion Club of William and Mary will give the first dance of the regular Mid-winters tonight to be followed by a dansant tomorrow afternoon and the final dance tomorrow night. Weidmeyer's Orchestra, of Huntington, West Virginia, will play for the dances.

The dances will begin promptly on time. On Friday night the first dance will begin at 9:30, and the usual introductory dances will be omitted. On Friday night there will be eight regular dances and two extras, the extras being waltzes. The dansant will start at four. The last dance will begin at 9:00 o'clock and the first dance will be announced at that time.

Blow Gymnasium will be attractively decorated in red and white and the general outline will consist of two arches, one of which will contain the orchestra and the other at the extreme end of the hall will overhang
the refreshment table.

The new arrangement in cards will serve to make the dances more peppy and this, coupled with the superb music of Weidmeyer's should serve to make Mid-winters the best dance in several years.

It is expected that many alumni will be back for the dances as many visitors cards have been secured from the vice-president of the Cotillion Club.

INDIANS LEAVE WEDNESDAY FOR FOUR DAY TRIP

William and Mary Courtmen Will Play Four Large Institutions in District of Columbia on Second Road Journey.

FORM IS GROWING BETTER

Showing Against Stevens Tech Gives
New Heart to Team and to Its Supporters; Expect to Win
Most of Battles.

With nine games behind them, Tas-ker's Indians hit the road Wednesday for a four game trip in and around Washington, D. C. On successive nights they meet George Washington University, Georgetown University,
Catholic University and St. John's College.

Jimmy Lemon the G. W. mentor has produced a team this year that is ranking well in the District and has played good, although not phenomenal ball consistently against the majority of its opponents. The Colonial's attack is built around one "Shorty" Bland, flashy forward, who has been scoring on an average of more than

INDIANETTES TO TACKLE ADELPHI

Girl's Sexette Takes on Northern Team Tomorrow Night at Jefferson Hall in First Game of Season; Westhampton Tuesday

Coach Barksdale's Indianettes will pry the lid off the basketball season when they meet the Adelphi six in Jefferson gymnasium tomorrow night. This is the first game of a series of seven, three of which will be here and four away.

Adelphi was defeated by Savage last Saturday with a score of 40 to 18, which was the only school which succeeded in conquering the plucky Indianettes of last year.

The team is improving greatly in practices and it is still aiming for a no defeat record, which has not been attained since 1922. However, the William and Mary sextette has held a high place among the Virginia and Eastern teams during the preceding years.

The probable line up of players who will take the floor in the initial contest against Adelphi is as follows:

W. & M.	Po.	Adelphi
Lele Stringfellow	.....	May Buck
	F
Elizabeth Tanner	.....	Esther Ewart
	F
Jeanne Miles	.....	Catherin Augers
	C
Anna Wilkens	.....	Jessie Farquhar
	Sc
Louise Thompkins	.....	Catherine Callan
	G
Sallie Cogle	.....	Blanche Adler
	G

After three days rest the Barksdale and Roberts crew will journey to Richmond to combat Westhampton on Tuesday, February 15, and on the following Saturday, they will meet Sweetbriar here. New York University will come on Monday, February 21 to display their prowess.

LAST CHANCE

Photographers for the Colonial Echo are here for their last time yesterday, today and tomorrow.
They will take pictures of the faculty members not scheduled on the previous trips and of several fraternity houses. Group and single pictures will be taken of the basketball and track teams.

It is urged that all students who have not had previous pictures taken for the Annual make appointments with them on this last trip to William and Mary.

THOMAS PLEADS FOR EDUCATION

Secretary of League For Industrial Democracy Tells Student Education
is Only Hope to Abolish Poverty
and War in Fact.

Education is the greatest factor in the world today to banish poverty and war, according to views expressed by Honorable Norman Thomas, nationally and internationally known economist in an address delivered here last week. As it is today neither has been abolished he said, and he added that the only way such a state of happiness could be attained is through making the most of the advantages offered in a college education.

The vital question, according to Mr.
Thomas, is what can be done to preserve peace between the great mass of people and the more powerful element as well as between the stronger and the weaker countries. This, he said, can be solved through education alone and this should be the fundamental purpose of a college education. Taking his subject as "Education, What For", from a purely economic and business point of view he impressed his audience by saying success is education, education is knowledge, knowledge is power, and power is money. With this analysis of the subject he developed into the primary purposes and advantages of education.
He declared education is learning to appreciate life, the beautiful things of life the poetry, music, art science, and wonders of life. Education is purely a personal thing, a matter of concern to every individual.

Coming to things practical he made the startling statement that there is enough mechanical force in the world today to abolish all poverty. "We are

BRAVES WIN TWO BATTLES AND DROP ONE

Tasker's Indian Tribe Score Impressive Victories Over Lynchburg and Touted Stevens Tech Only to Lose
to Emory and Henry Wasps.

HAD A REAL STING

Southwesterners Outplay William and Mary in All Departments; Roanoke Game Last Night Cancelled by Magic City Team.

Two victories and one defeat marked the initial home series of the William and Mary basketball team. The Indians triumphed over Lynchburg College and Stevens Tech, while Emory and Henry returned home victorious over the local five.

Scores for the three games follow:
W. & M. 26; Lynchburg 18.
W. & M. 30; Stevens 23.
W. & M. 23; E. & H. 34.

In the affair with Lynchburg, Tasker's tribe hopped into the lead
during the first two minutes of play and were never headed after that.
Lynchburg approached them during the second half with 14 points to the locals' 17 after the first half had ended 17 to 8 in William and Mary's favor, but then seemed to lose their push.

As usual Snyder was high point
man for the Geen, Gold and Silver, gathering in eight of the 26 tallies.
Riley, Lynchburg center led for the westerners with three field goals and two fouls.

The shooting of Snyder and Kent, forwards was the main feature and the thing responsible for the Indians victory over Stevens. This pair scored 26 points between them.

Stevens, rated as one of the best in New Jersey, seemed to be somewhat off form Saturday night, and the Braves, ever increasing in confidence
after the Richmond, Randolph-Macon and Lynchburg games took every break and made the most of it.

Aschoff and Meinhold were the big guns in the Jerseyite attack. The former chalked up four field goals
while the latter with deadly accuracy rang in two more and four of the free throw variety.

There can be but one explanation of the Emory and Henry game. The Indians were clearly outplayed in all departments of play. Credit can be given to no particular wasp for there was not a man out of the five who did

College Plays Host to Convention of Va. Student Volunteer Movement

Nearly all the colleges of the state, both for men and for women will send delegates to the state conference of the Student Volunteer Movement of America to which William and Mary will be host from February 25th to the 27th.

In 1889 the Student Volunteer Movement was initiated as a student missionary enterprise by an earnest group of Princeton Students. Among the founders and early promoters of the organization were Robert E.

Speer, Robert Wilder and John R.
Mott. Since then with a continual existence of little more than a quarter of a century this organization has been directly responsible for sending fourteen hundred students into foreign lands as medical, educational,
and evangelistic missionaries.

The object of his movement is to create in the student life at the various colleges interest in other countries, interest in international relationships, interest in mission work.

Fast Squad Picked by Chandler to Meet Spider Relay Team Tomorrow

Kirby Davis, Donlan, Campbell and Baggett will make up the William and Mary freshman relay team that will run against the first year representatives of the University of Richmond
tomorrow night at the Grey's Armory in the capital city, according to an announcement made by Track Coach Joseph C. Chandler. This race will make up a part of the 1927 South Atlantic games.

Campbell and Baggett are well known in local athletic circles on account of their cross country work last fall. Donlan, a February man comes here from Trenton, N. J. with a good record among athletic clubs and other institutions. Davis, a brother to the last year track captain at Washington and Lee, has developed well since his training on the local indoor track.

In addition to the relay, Coach
Chandler is sending three men, Campbell, Baggett and Gresham in the 1500 open meter race.

English Proves Jonah to Freshmen During First Semester; Men Passed 68.3 Per Cent of Their Term's Work

The record of the 191 men whom the Freshmen Advisory Committee has had under its care for the last semester now stands complete. The record reveals that the 191 men passed 68.3 per cent of all the work they carried, while 71 of these, or 37.1 per cent of the list passed all of their work. English again proved to be the subject in which the freshmen has the most trouble since a total of 96 men of the 191 failed to pass it. The number of those failing in other subjects was forty-two out of 158 in mathematics, twenty-two out of ninety-one in chemistry, twenty out of sixty-four in biology, twenty-two out of seventy-one in history, eleven out of fifty-eight in government, eight out of forty-four in French, and seven out of eighteen in Spanish.

The seventy-one men making all of their work with their averages are as follows:

- Lawrence Morscher, 96.75; N. E. Halpern, 94.6; Henry C. Keister, 94.5; William Halpern, 94.2; Robert Arthur, 93.75; Garrett S. Parsons, 93.4; Geo. J. Class, 93; Bernard Rabinowitz, 91.75; A. E. Board of Managers To Choose Executive Secretary As Successor to Mac Bridges; Board Will Meet in Near Future.

When asked about the successor of J. Malcolm Bridges in the Alumni office, Dr. W. T. Hodges, Secretary-Treasurer of the William and Mary Alumni Corporation, stated that Judge Lester Hooker, president of the Corporation, would call a meeting of the Board of Managers in the near future for the purpose of making provision for the continuance of the Alumni office.

The members of the Board of Managers are Judge Lester Hooker, '07, Richmond, Channing M. Hall, '08, Williamsburg, Frank Armistead, '09, Williamsburg, Dr. W. T. Hodges, '02, Williamsburg, Frank Armitied, '09, Williamsburg, James Hurt, '09, Norfolk, James E. Wilkins, '98, Newport News, Miss Cornelia S. Adair, '23, Richmond, Miss Lucy Mason Holt, '24.

STITT WILSON HEARD BY 3600

Prominent Lecturer Delivers Series of Talks on "Education" Before Packed Houses; Possesses Magnetic Appeal and Ability

It is a difficult task to sum up the work of the Hon. J. Stitt Wilson in his series of six lectures here last week. Whether it was in fits of laughter at his stories of Daniel in the lion's den or under the spell of his magnetic appeal to their best selves, in either case everyone followed him. Students came in increasing numbers. Approximately thirty-six hundred attended in all. The direct manner, the inimitable humor, the profound searching of deep things in men's hearts, the scholarly learning and broad vision of the speaker were constant appeals to all listeners.

The general theme of his six lectures was "Education." They followed a progressive development, so that one lecture ran into the next one without a break. To reproduce them here separately would conflict with the harmony which was inherently there. Dr. Wilson began with the infinite implications in the education and development of a human soul. A duck can be taught so much and then its learning stops. Most of its life is instinctive. A dog can learn more; yet its life is largely instinctive. But man has capacities undreamed of. Education seeks to bring these out; it adds nothing to one's life nor plasters something on it. It draws a life out as a flower. Education may be divided into three spheres: that of the hand, that of the head, and that of the heart. The field with largest possibilities is the education of the heart. This means more than skill with the hand, or cleverness with the mind. It means character,—qualities such as courage, sympathy, kindness, magnanimity. These do not come by mere wishing, but by education as definitely as education of the hand with the tool. And character is not merely a department. It shoots thru our entire lives. It colors everything. It is the most vital problem to be met.

Spencer Lane, Prominent Alumnus, Dies in Rich'd

Spencer Lane, who ended his student days at William and Mary in 1897 died suddenly in Richmond last Monday afternoon. In his death the College loses a truly loyal alumnus, the city of Williamsburg loses one of its foremost business men, and many alumni of all years since 1897 lose a warm and genial friend.

Mr. Lane's interest in his Fraternity, Kappa Alpha and in the athletic teams of the College continued unabated through the years. He was long a familiar figure at Alumni gatherings.

His aged father, Captain L. W. Lane Sr.; one brother, Col. L. W. Lane, Jr.; three sisters, Mrs. H. D. Cole, Williamsburg, Mrs. E. T. Lamb, Norfolk; and Mrs. M. G. Peachy, Williamsburg; his widow, who was Miss Mackie Young of Hampton; and a son, Spencer Lane, Jr., survive him.

Enrollment Reaches 1071 as Registration Closes

Matriculation of students for the second semester is practically finished with the total enrollment since September standing at 1071, or well above the thousand mark. Seventy-one of this number are new students entering for the first time. These more than fill the vacancies left by the fifty-five who were "shipped" for failure to make the required amount of work during the first semester.

Just A Word About Sports

By "DAUBA"

At the Stevens Tech game last week, one of the members of an old William and Mary basket-ball team remarked to us on the differences in the rules of the game existing now and what they were at the time when he was engaged in the good old sport. The "old timer" was none other than the Hon. Ashton Dovell, all round athlete and incidentally wearer of the "W & M" in four branches of collegiate sport, and some of the reminiscences that he related were most interesting. Playing in the building which now houses the business, government, and law departments of the college, it was an easy thing to toss a basket from the opponent's end of the floor. The coaches instructions were to get rid of the ball and always toss it towards your own goal. A man who was good at forward passing was assured a place on the team, and a good combination in this phase of the game meant many a victory for the home team. Fouls were unknown and you were "in" until you got knocked out. They were undoubtedly "the you were "in" until you got knocked out. They were undoubtedly "the

The clever passing of the Stevens quint was very noticeable last Saturday night in their game with the Taskerites. Their shifty foot work and their ability to "get rid of the ball" did credit to the guiding mentors of the aggregation. Not that we wish to discredit the Indian's work, for we feel that by praising a conquered team, we only add glory to the name of the conquerors. The student body was proud of the showing that the locals made against the strong New Jersey bunch and showed it when the Hoboken boys threatened a rally during the last few minutes of the game.

The third invasion of Indiandom by the Red Techmen was their Waterloo. Each of their other two visits has resulted in victory and only on this, the third trip here, have the Taskerites been able to take their measure and hang their scalps among the other Indian trophies. The Northerners always have a good quint and the Braves deserve considerable credit for their victory over them.

When the "Red" of the Stevens and the "Green" of William and Mary jugged out on the floor, some nimble-witted youth remarked that Christmas seemed to be on hand again. Bill Christian, sports editor of the Richmond News-Leader, once suggested that if William and Mary ever met V. M. I. smoked glasses would be at a premium. Which we believe is just about true.

An unusual basket was scored by Kent last Saturday night when the fleshy forward dropped one neatly through the skeins from a tip-off when the ball was up. He came within a little of repeating later in the game and we understand that twice on the last trip he accomplished the peculiar feat.

We take this opportunity to extend an invitation to every Flat Hat reader to let us hear from them regarding any reform or suggestion they would like to make in regards to athletics at William and Mary. We will welcome any such suggestions or criticisms and promise that each will be treated with consideration and respect. We desire that you make this column your open forum, whether you be student, alumnus, opponent, friend, or enemy. Just address, or hand your opinions to the Sports Department of the Flat Hat.

WOMEN CONSIDER CHANGES IN GOV.

Sophomore Membership on Women's Student Council Discussed; Brinker, Whitehead, and Floyd Nominated Next Year's President.

Nomination of officers for the next year and consideration of changes in the constitution formed the main business of the monthly meeting of the Women's Student Government Association held last Monday in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

A recommendation by the Honor Council to the effect that the Constitution be amended to allow Sophomores membership on the Honor Council although not possessing a vote was read and considered. This would give them orientation training on the Council.

It was voted that the Secretary of the Student Government write a letter of thanks to Dr. Chandler for the improvements made in the Dining Hall. Nominations for the various officers of the student Government were made. The three persons receiving the highest number of votes for an office will be voted on by ballot which it is hoped will be published in the Flat Hat at a later date.

Those nominated for office are: for President, Page Drinker, Laura Whitehead, and Virginia Floyd; for Vice-President, V. Elizabeth Duke, Polly Hines, and Minge Perkins; for Treasurer, Lelia Stringfellow and Elizabeth Vaiden.

BRAVES WIN TWO BATTLES AND DROP ONE

not score as many as two goals.

After the half ended with the Methodists leading 19-7, William and Mary picked up considerably and approached within five points of the leaders. Snyder, after being under close guard for the first half, broke through the defense and scored ten points in short order. It was a futile rally, however, for in a maze of wonderful field shots, intermixed by several touts, the Wasps drew away from their opponents and had the game cinched five minutes before play was over.

The fourth game of the series scheduled with Roanoke College for last night was cancelled on account of the Roanoke captain's father's death.

PAPOOSES BEAT RICH. BOYS CLUB

Freshmen, Led by Captain Mike Meister, Road Here Struggling to Boys' Club After Making Poor Start

Captain Mike Meister led his Freshmen to another victory last Saturday night against the strong Boys' Club quint of Richmond. Neither team displayed very much pep in the first half of the game, both of them making a great number of bad passes and missing several "snow-birds." However, a few minutes before the first period ended the Boys' Club seemed to get new life and when the gun was fired, the score stood 16-14 in their favor.

It has not been discovered what the two coaches gave their respective teams between the halves, but one thing is certain, that both came back with more drive and accuracy. The second period started off with a rush, Captain Meister leading the attack with a field goal and followed closely by a beautiful shot from mid-floor by Dunbar. Once the little Indians took the war-path nothing could stop them and they ran wild up and down the floor. A few points were also accounted for by the Richmond quint but the close guarding of Scammon held the visitors to nine points in the second half. This defeat is a great set-back to the invaders since this is the first time they have been defeated by the William and Mary Frosh in a good many years. It will be remembered that this is the same quint that won about sixty consecutive games without suffering a single defeat, all of which is conclusive that the Freshmen have added one more worthy scalp to their growing collection.

COLLEGE CHEERS APPEAR IN BOOK

"Just Yells" Includes Yells Made by Lloyd Williams and Instructions to Rooters Here; Book is Valuable to Cheer Leaders

Something new and interesting in the field of college athletic cheering has appeared recently in the form of a handbook for cheer leaders, entitled, "Just Yells," published by Willis N. Bugbee Co., of Syracuse, and edited by George M. York and H. H. Clark. The book is particularly interesting to students of William and Mary because of the fact that Lloyd H. Williams, assistant cheer leader was one of the contributors.

"Just Yells" features the instructions to rooters at William and Mary, a passage which appears regularly in the "Y" Handbook, better known perhaps as the "Duc Bible". Among the representative yells there appear two from this institution, neither of which are the stock cheers but which were originated by Williams. These are being printed elsewhere with the hope that the student body will learn them and be thoroughly prepared to use them at the next games.

The book contains, in addition to yells and songs, various methods of constructing cheers and of securing the greatest amount of pep from cheering sections at athletic contests. Included, too, are a number of pictures and illustrations which are very valuable to cheer leaders.

Oceana Nearly Spills Dope on Excited Frosh Reserves

William and Mary Freshmen kept up their winning streak by turning back the quint from Oceana High School in one of the most spectacular games witnessed here in a long time, Starting off with a rush in the first half, the little Indians rang up goal after goal until it seemed as though the visitors would be completely snowed under.

However, here is where the real fire-works began. Leading off with a field goal in the second period they played circles around the duc second team which had been sent in at the beginning of the second half. Slowly but surely they crept up on the Frosh until the score finally stood almost even. Coach Todd then sent his first string in again and they rallied to hold the opponents to a 36-27 score.

What Price Extensions?

For a number of years the College of William and Mary has been conducting in various cities of the state in close proximity to Williamsburg a number of extension schools, in which college courses are taught by members of the regular faculty. At first these classes were not put on such a large scale but a point has been reached now when even an impersonal observer can see some serious defects in the system.

Extensions of college courses to these communities have their advantages, it is true. They put the college before a large number of people in the state. They give persons who are unable to attend college regularly a chance to take advantage of regular courses. They serve in the end to let a large mass of people understand the full value of a college course.

But are these advantages enough to justify the result which is being worked upon the regular faculty of the college and also upon the legal student body? We believe not and in making this statement we expect to set forth a complete summary of the situation.

Several members of the faculty are forced to be away from college and their homes two and even three nights a week. In order to avoid this, instructors in various departments are shifted about to divide the load, and courses are arranged to fit in with extension tours. These men return to college tired not only in mind but frequently in body and the results are not hard to see. They are not permitted time for research and study on courses which they are to teach. It is a recognized fact that no course can be taught without sufficient preparation. Review of text books is not enough. If it were there would be no need for professors. Hence, it is a very unusual man who can bear the burden of two or three extensions a week and at the same time keep up with his study and research. To put it clearly, they cannot give their best when a large portion of their time is taken up with outside work.

Then, too, the regular pay student of the college must be considered. If instructors cannot have a sufficient time for research and study on courses they are to teach, how can their students gain the best instruction? Thorough instruction in courses is to be expected but is it being given under the present system? We believe not and we also believe that many of the extension professors will be willing to admit that they are handicapped both in research, study, and instruction.

The final question then is: Are students getting what they pay for and what the state pays for in the form of complete instruction in courses pursued? We do not believe that full justice can be done under the present system. But what can be done about it? There would be no object in criticizing if there were no remedy to suggest, and so we offer some suggestions for what they are worth.

Under the present circumstances it would not be advisable to discontinue the extensions but it would be advisable to change methods. In the first place, if the duties of a large number of off-campus classes are too exacting, these classes should be reduced in number and a minimum load put upon the faculty members. In the second place, if this is not possible, there ought to be faculty members whose duties are confined wholly to extension classes.

Fault finding is not our sole purpose but we do believe it our duty to point out defects when they are unjust and when there is also a remedy, which there certainly is in this case.

"Work on New Lighting System to Begin at Once"—Headline. The regular periodic digging-up of the campus will now begin in prospect of turning up something overlooked before. The only bright spot outside of those to be lighted is the fact that this will be a beautiful place for us to return to as alumni.

We notice that the girls have expressed thanks for improvements in the dining hall. We also wonder if the men have noticed any improvements affecting themselves.

PHILOMATHEANS INSTALL SIX MEN

President Elliott Outlines New Policy in Installation Speech; Epominando, Stewart and Bill Lawrence Entertain.

Philomathean Literary Society held its first meeting of the new semester last Friday evening in Philomathean Hall, the main event of the evening being the installation of new officers who had been elected at the last meeting of the society in the old semester. The president, Bill Elliott, who was installed at the last meeting, presided, and the following men were installed: vice-president, Upton B. Thomas Jr.; secretary, Randolph Vaiden; treasurer, D. K. Van Wormer; Sergeant-at-arms, Oscar Cordel; and literary critic, D. K. Van Wormer.

After the installation, the president made a most enjoyable speech, in which he outlined in no uncertain terms his plans for the semester. He intimated that the Philomathean Society had not been so active in the past few months, but that with every man in the society doing his share toward the activities of the society, this condition could, and would, soon be remedied. After a few words from several other members of the society along the same line as that of Mr. Elliott, the meeting was turned into a social.

Included in the enjoyable entertainment which followed was an excellent rendition by John Epominando of Poe's Annabel Lee. Mr. Epominando has been heard on several occasions, and his entertainment has been very popular with students who have heard him, both because of his finished speech and voice, and his accent. Bob Stewart played several selections on the Hawaiian guitar, followed by some popular songs by Bill Lawrence. Plentiful refreshments were then served, consisting of soft drinks, sandwiches, and smokes.

Tonight at seven in Philomathean Hall, the society will hold its usual meeting. An interesting program has been prepared, and all men students are cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Swan To Give Lectures Here On Hygiene Next Week

Dr. Eugene Swan, of the American Social Hygiene Association will speak at the College of William and Mary next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The time and place of these lectures will be announced later.

Dr. Swan is well-known on the campus here, having spoken once last year to the men of the College. This visit was considered a great success. He is highly recommended as a man with a reputation of excellent work in the field of Social Hygiene. He is known all over the country as a man who always wins the admiration of his audiences. For twenty years he has been a physician in active city practice. During the war Dr. Swan was a major in the Medical Corps. He is active in Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout work. It is a matter of interest that he is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Here and There among the Exchanges of the Flat Hat

In a recent game between Texas College and Baylor University, a battle-royal started among the spectators. Through some happy inspiration the Texas band played "The Star-Spangled Banner," and immediately everyone came to attention. In spite of the fact that some of the spectators were standing on their heads when they came to attention, the day was saved and peace was restored.

"Please flunk me," fifty students asked their instructors. "We humbly petition you professors that we be flunked in all courses we are now taking!" These words were drawn up by a member of the Weekly staff to prove that Pitt students think less and write more.

The students were asked to sign a petition "for a greater University, and a lower tuition." Of 52 students asked to sign the trick petition, 50 agreed without questioning or reading it.

Freshmen "coeds," who were heavily dog-collared, padlocked and leashed, were recently paraded in front of the main building at Tulane University by the upperclassmen.

A recent issue of the College Chronicle, the weekly student publication of North Central College, of Illinois, was published exclusively by the Freshmen. It contained twelve pages, half of which were printed on green, and the other half on white paper in green ink. The issue revealed considerable ingenuity on the part of the Yearlings who number about two hundred and are letting the other classes know they are there.

The point system has been established at Juniata. This decision follows the ratification of a resolution passed with a few amendments by a vote of the joint Student Associations. This new system will limit all extra curricular activities. Another item of interest is the fact that satisfactory work on the press club has been made a prerequisite for membership on the Juniata staff.

Lehigh University has received a gift of $1,000,000 by James Ward Packard for the erection of an electrical and mechanical laboratory. Mr. Packard, the originator of the Packard automobile, graduated from Lehigh in 1884, and makes this gift without any conditions except that it is to be the finest plant of its kind in existence.

(By New Student Service)—Inglewood Union High School has sent letters to the president of every college and university in southern California announcing that the institution will tolerate no more rushing of high school students by college agents, alumni, or coaches. Cases were cited in which students who wished to take up forestry and lumbering were compelled by force of argument alone to attend a college which made no pretense of giving the desired courses.

Members of the National Federation of Philippino Students, numbering about five thousand, have signed a pledge to teach at least one illiterate adult every year. The textbooks are in preparation for use in the campaign.

LIBRARY NOTES

Mr. David I. Bushnell, Jr., of Washington, D. C., has presented to the library one of the original printed proclamations, posted on the streets of London in 1689 announcing the accession of King William and Queen Mary to the throne of England. Copies of the proclamation are exceedingly rare and it is most fitting that one be placed near the portraits of King William and Queen Mary in the library of the college which bears their name and which owes its founding to their generosity.

A beautiful portrait, in miniature, handsomely framed, of Richard Bland Lee, one of the fifty founders of the Phi Beta Kappa, has been presented to the library by his great-granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth C. Lee, of Towson, Maryland.

Lee attended the College of William and Mary during the time of the Revolution. He was a member of the College Company which was frequently called out for emergency service. He was a member of the first second and third congresses of the U. S. He died in 1827.

The library is indebted to Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gunther of Norfolk, Virginia for the gift of two portraits, one of General Robert E. Lee and the other of Stonewall Jackson, each of which is four and a half feet by three and a half feet in size. The library has long been in need of a portrait of these eminent Virginians and such a gracious gift is appreciable not only by the college of William and Mary but by all Virginians.

ents of the University of Chicago, it was disclosed in a survey made by the Y. M. C. A. A total of 4,045 named their beliefs and 1,069 stated they had no preference. Confucianism, Buddhism, Friends, Latter Day Saints, Nestorianism, the Ethical Culture Society and the Salvation Army were listed as having members in college.

Henry Ford has recently received the degree of Doctor of Engineering from the University of Michigan. The degree, the only one ever accepted by a Detroit manufacturer, was in "recognition of his material contribution to social welfare and his constructive imagination in the field of industry."

At Berkeley Divinity School in Connecticut, the entire student body participates at odd moments in manual tasks to earn money, whatever their means. All that is earned is put into a common purse, from which each draws according to his individual needs. The professors also contribute all they can earn aside from their salaries. Each student does that particular manual work to which he is best suited.

Lawrence Hughes, a student at Evansville (Indiana) College, lays claim to a new sort of collegiate championship. He claims the dishwashing championship of Evansville College earning the title by washing himself through college. He has washed approximately 36,000 dishes in one college and in doing so has broken but eight. Added to this accomplishment is the further information that he can clear tables, wash and dry 110 dishes and put them away in forty-five minutes.

SOCIETY

Alpha Club and Eta Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa entertained Dr. J. Stitt Wilson at tea in the "Y" Room, last Friday afternoon. The faculty and student body were invited.

Dr. Wilson honored the guests with an address, his subject being, "Finding truth; finding the universe and finding God." Noma Fuqua sang several selections with Mrs. Hipp accompanying her at the piano.

The Epworth League will entertain the Methodist students of the college at a Valentine Party tonight according to announcement. The party will be given in the Social Hall of the Methodist Church.

The Kappa Alpha Thetas served tea to their friends on Sunday afternoon, February 6, from four until six.

Dr. J. Stitt Wilson was entertained at tea, on February 2, by Dr. and the Misses Irwin at their home in Chandler Court. Faculty members and the student body were invited to meet Dr. Wilson.

Pledges of Chi Omega gave the initiated members a bridge party at the Chi Omega house on Friday evening, February 4. The home was artistically decorated in Cardinal and Straw. Elizabeth Jennings, making the highest score, received a box of stationery engraved with the Chi Omega seal.

Alpha Zeta Chapter of Kappa Alpha was guest of the Hampton Roads Alumni Chapter of K. A. on Thursday night at the Hampton Club. The men from the local Chapter were entertained at a banquet at the club which was followed by a dance.

Mr. John Weymouth, of Hampton, was toastmaster at the banquet and toasts from the chapter here were given as well as toasts from the older men. Notably among these last were Colonel Copeland of the Newport News publications.

About twenty men from Williamsburg attended the banquet and dance. Among these were: M. F. Hastings; R. B. Turnbull; J. B. Green, W. N. James, R. S. Barrett, M. T. O'Ferrall, J. G. Ayres, A. S. Thompson, J. M. Hurt, H. T. Davies, J. J. Davies, T. C. Hardy, Walter Nalls, Hobson Sandidge, W. H. Morrow, Mac Bridgforth, John Lewis, Mr. E. M. Gwathmey, Mr. T. J. Stubbs, Mr. Abbott C. Martin and Rev. John Bentley.

Miss Gladys Elizabeth Eason, of Roanoke, Virginia was married to Mr. Nolly Shelton of the same city, on January 28th. The ceremony took place at Elizabeth City, North Carolina.

Mrs. Shelton is a sophomore at William and Mary College and Mr. Shelton attended Roanoke College during 1925 and 1926. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shelton are students of William and Mary this semester.

Miss Katherine Smith of King and Queen spent the weekend on the campus.

BANQUET FOR DR. WILSON COLORFUL

Sixty-five Members of Faculty and Guests Attend Banquet Given in Honor of Famous Lecturer; Presents Problems Clearly

The Faculty Banquet Wednesday night of last week given in honor of Dr. J. Stitt Wilson was a colorful affair. Sixty five guests, including members of the faculty with their wives and some out of town visitors, attended this unique function of the year. The tables were gorgeously decorated in green gold and silver by means of masses of flowers, greens, favors, candles and lights. Few social functions will rival this during the year.

Mr. H. C. Krebs was toastmaster of the occasion and introduced the various representatives from other colleges. President Chandler spoke on the significance of such an occasion as representing an intelligent interest on the part of the faculty in religious education. He accorded the guest of honor, Dr. Wilson, a warm welcome in the name of the college. Dr. Goodwin did the same for the faculty.

Dr. Wilson, in his address, which followed, explained his pleasure in returning to William and Mary and his reason for coming. In a masterful way, he reviewed the baffling problems that confront the world today and which demand high leadership; poverty, war, industrial imperialism, religious fanaticism, race pride. Looking critically at the present situation, he said, that neither the church nor the state were turning out the leadership which could cope with the situation. This must come from the colleges. His object, therefore, in coming here was to bring to the door of the student world, the tremendous task they face in producing from among their constituency courageous leaders in all fields of action. The college walls contain the pick of the nation. If they are not schooled in courage by facing, in their college days, the bewildering and confusing problems ahead, they can never be wise leaders.

"LORD BOTETOURT SAYS—"

By "Bill"

Probably the most perplexing, not to say annoying, thing which confronts the bewildered freshman after he has stepped across the threshold of the college is the ever-increasing number of priorities which the college seems to have. Now everyone indulges in revelling in the golden past of this ancient institution and would not be so vulgar as to cast any smirch upon the fair escutcheon emblazoned with names so immortal and illustrious, but if this research into her past goes on, it will be no surprise if it doesn't disclose that Columbus' idea in coming to America wasn't to find a better route to India at all but to establish a department of Spanish in "ye college of William and Mary in Virginia".

Even the churches in the town have adopted fraternity songs to attract the students; Last Sunday a congregation was heard singing, "I am Alpha and Omega." No doubt they were looking for pledges.

In a recent murder case, the accused stated that he had shot the doctor because the latter wouldn't leave his wife alone. Why didn't he just send the doctor an orchard? It would have been at least more fruitful.

Had Browning only been fond of bananas, this trouble over "peaches" would never have happened at all.

practically to the doors of his audience in his presentation of the confusion in the industrial, social, and religious fields about fundamental things. It is up to the college student to inform himself about them and make a part of his knowledge. If he would call himself truly educated in the highest sense, the student must determine "to assume personal responsibility for human welfare." Especially in the field of religion where old standards have been discarded, great leaders are needed to reconstruct. Any fool can deny or doubt. But a wise man must build. The meaning of the church, dogmas, the Bible are all in doubt but never remain so if the highest values are to be conserved. This gain is the logical field of the student.

A great appeal was made to develop one's own individuality, seek one's own truth, fight one's own battles, rather than stand in cliques and follow the crowd. Unless a man can find God himself, he cannot find him. The education of the heart demands ultimate and inescapable personal responsibility. And that is not possible without keeping ourselves in touch with world developments, with the deep problems of humanity, being "intellectually avid," seeking, fighting for truth and right at any cost. And to truly educate one's heart, create clean and high character, one must have a technique as definite as class-room study.

In brief, then, the true education is of infinite possibilities, it is never finished. It moves on higher planes as one moves it from the education of the hand to that of the mind, from that of the mind to that of the spirit whose fruits are "love, joy, peace, longsuffering," and so forth. And ultimately, spirit must influence, color and actually re-create all other activities of life.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Activities of the Y. W. C. A. during the past two weeks have centered largely around the visit of Dr. J. Stitt Wilson to the college. The Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. cooperated in the production of an extra issue of the Flat Hat in the interest of Dr. Wilson and the type of work he represents. The devotional meeting Wednesday night conducted by Frances Riley was in preparation for his coming. The organization was also active in entertaining Dr. Wilson while here.

Miss Ann Wiggin, Secretary of the National Committee on Friendly Relations with Foreign Students was recently the guest of the Y. W. C. A. Cabina, in the interest of the Student Friendship Fund. Miss Katherine Butler, student secretary of the Southern Division of the Y. W. C. A. was here the past Monday and Tuesday.

Frances Gordon attended the Girl Reserve meetings of the Regional Conference held in Richmond the past weekend. Miss Gordon has charge of the Girls' Reserve Club at the Williamsburg High School.

 the only kind of animals who commit wholesale suicide and strife on account of personal quarrels and squabbles. Men think they are patriotic when they are afraid of other nations or when other nations are afraid of them, but these are sometimes the ones who squeal the loudest when income tax is collected to be used in the promoting of education." Such statements as these indicate the ability and wide knowledge of Mr. Thomas.
 Honorable Norman Thomas has served for years as secretary of the League of Industrial Democracy with his headquarters in New York City. He was a successful secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, and was editor of a labor newspaper. He is a native of Marion, Ohio.

Theatre Rumor Proves To Be Little More Than That

The story which has been circulated by a certain nation-wide news syndicate concerning the erection of a theater on the site of the first theater in America, according to college authorities, has practically no basis of fact. The article states that New York theatrical interests would at least partly finance the project, which was to consist in the erection of a modern theater as a memorial to those who first brought the drama to this country. It went on to tell some of the history of the theater in Williamsburg and of the man who founded it.
 It was also stated in the article that the College of William and Mary was to donate the ground upon which the memorial theater was to be built. College authorities, however, state that there is no truth in the statement and that the project is not under consideration at all.

 ten points a game up to the present time this season.
 If comparative scores indicate anything in the court game, the Indian should have a good chance of triumphing as the Washington boys defeated Lynchburg by a margin of only a goal or two while the local outfit looked like a million dollars against the Christians.
 Georgetown, whom William and Mary collides with the following evening has been greatly handicapped this season on account of having but one letter man, Nork, forward, back in the fold. Coach John O'Reilly has produced results, however, with new men and the graduates from the freshman class of ball last season. Again the only basis for comparison between the two teams is Lynchburg, which lost to Georgetown by a 24-18 score.
 Catholic University, the next on the program is about the strongest around Washington. The team has won consistently throughout the season, one of their most recent triumphs being against Stevens Tech while the latter were South.

PHOENIX HOLDS SMOKER FRIDAY

Installation of Officers Second Semester Is Feature of Phoenix Program; Bill Lawrence Furnishes Musical Treat.
 Phoenix Literary Society held its first meeting of the new semester on last Friday evening in Phoenix Hall. No program had been arranged, as the principle business was the installation of the officers for the new term. These officers were elected at the last meeting of the old semester, and at the same meeting the newly elected president, Harold Ramsey, was installed.
 The officers installed last Friday night are William Bolton, vice-president; Edward Hill, secretary; R. R. Jones, treasurer; Clarence Bussinger, chaplain; T. H. Nuckols, sergeant-at-arms; and Stanley Fien, literary critic.
 After the installation, President Ramsey spoke briefly, giving a short outline of his policy and his plans for this semester. Professor Harwood L. Childs then spoke on the importance and value of the debate, and of general literary work to the student in college. The meeting was then turned into an informal smoker. Bill Lawrence played and sang several selections, after which plentiful refreshments in the form of ice cream, cake, cigars, and cigarettes, were served.
 Tonight in Phoenix Hall at seven o'clock, the society will meet for its regular program, and any new men in college who have not yet joined a literary society are cordially invited to attend, as are all others on the campus.

St. John's, the closing number on the bill has shown but little promise this season and should be easy for the Indians. While in Richmond recently, the Maryland outfit lost to the Medical College of Virginia, Randolph-Macon and the University of Richmond.
 The local five, who have been playing excellent ball recently after a ball start at the beginning of the season, leaves with the expectation of at least an even break while in the capital city. Victory over such a team as Stevens Tech put a confidence in the men that had not been shown previously to this time and the outlook is for excellent ball the rest of the season.

Snyder, Kent, Davis, Todd and Taylor or Wallick will carry the burden of the playing in all probability. Following the return to Williamsburg, Tasker's tribe will meet Randolph-Macon here February 22 and Richmond, February 26.
